

Last Edition.

London Advertiser.

VOL. XXXV., NO. 228.

LONDON, CANADA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 1898.

WHOLE NO. 10,889.

Amusements and Lectures

Advertisements under this heading, two cents per word, or ten cents per line, each insertion.

GRAND UNION PICNIC UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE CATHOLIC CLUB OF LONDON AND ST. THOMAS, THURSDAY, JULY 21. See programme of sports and games. Grand moonlight excursion in connection with band. Trains will leave as follows: London, 10:15 and 10:25 a.m.; 1:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m., 3:25 p.m. and 6:50 p.m. A train will also leave London at 6:25 a.m. Glenworth, 10:15 a.m., 2:30 p.m., 3:25 p.m., 6:50 p.m. Thomas, 10:15 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m., 3:25 p.m., 6:50 p.m. Fares, London and Glenworth, 35c; Thomas, 25c. Everybody welcome. John O'Donnell, President, London; W. R. Waterbury, President, St. Thomas.

50 CENTS DETROIT TO TOLEDO AND RETURN, VIA THE FAST STEAMER CITY OF TOLEDO, EVERY SUNDAY. Excursion rates Montreal and return, via the Pacific and Ocean, the people's favorite, from Toronto. F. R. Clarke, Richmond street, next Advertiser.

FREE HEALTH TALK TO WOMEN. Suffering women will be greatly benefited by attending a general free health talk to be given at Somerset Hall, tomorrow (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock.

KEEP KOOL—SULPHUR SPRINGS swimming pond. Hot and cold baths daily and evenings. Dundas street west. Phone 707.

VOICE CULTURE—EVA N. ROBLYN. Studio, Bell Piano Parlor. Residence, No. 390 Dundas street. Concert engagements. Tel. phone 1,773.

MUSIC AND DANCING—OUR ORCHESTRA has been engaged for parties and dances during the summer. Satisfaction guaranteed. Dayton & McCormick, 241 Oxford street.

Meetings.

O. O. F. INITIATION, DOMINION LODGE, No. 45, this (Wednesday) evening. Visitors invited. George E. Logan, N.G.; Thos. D. Hastings, R.S.

Domestics Wanted.

KITCHEN GIRL WANTED—APPLY Rose House.

KITCHEN GIRL WANTED AT ONCE— Mrs. John B. Jennings, Western Hotel, London South.

GOOD GENERAL SERVANT WANTED— References. Apply 98 Elmwood avenue, London South.

WANTED—GOOD GENERAL SERVANT in family of two. Apply 125 St. James street.

GOOD PLAIN COOK WANTED AT once. Apply Office Restaurant, D. Sars, proprietor.

Male Help Wanted.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN WITH GOOD references for responsible salaried position. Must have $250 as security. A. C., Advertiser office.

TEACHER WANTED FOR S. R. NO. 1 district, full term. State experience, credits to begin in Sept. Re-employment probable. Applications received by July 27. Angus McGowan, Glenora.

Female Help Wanted.

IRONERS WANTED—APPLY PARISHAN Steam Laundry.

FIVE IRONERS WANTED—AT DOMINION Laundry.

Real Estate.

FOR SALE—THE BEAUTIFUL RESI- dence, stable and grounds belonging to the estate of the late Arthur Wallace, situated on the corner of York and Melbourne streets, on King street, with right of way in rear. Apply on the premises or to Fraser & Fraser, Barristers, London.

HOUSE FOR SALE—A BARGAIN— Residence, No. 367 Queen's avenue, all modern new, furnace, bath, and all modern improvements. Must be sold. Can be inspected any afternoon. Apply on the premises. 6447

Lost and Found.

LOST—BLACK OPEN-FACE WATCH with chain attached. Reward at 312 Thames street.

Wanted.

HIGHEST PRICE PAID FOR GENTLE MEN'S out-of-fashion clothing. A. F. Sainsbury, 40 King street, Tel. phone 1,283. Wheels delivered. J. H. Cunningham, 778 Dundas street.

FURNITURE UNFURNISHED OR RE- paired by Wm. A. Gaze. Notify me or call at my shop, 412 Fall Mill street.

LONDON CARPET CLEANING WORKS— Carpets taken up and cleaned by latest process. Carpets altered, refitted and laid. All work promptly attended to. Estimates given on application. 407 King street, London, Ont. Telephone 250 or send a card.

Business Chances.

NEWSPAPER AND JOB PLANT FOR sale cheap. Times, Wines & Co., Ont. 3104

Bicycle Livery.

LARGE STOCK OF NEW HIGH GRADE Stearns wheels to rent, afternoon and evening, 36c; tandem, 75c. Telephone 1,283. Wheels delivered. J. H. Cunningham, 778 Dundas street.

Insurance.

A. NUDY—INSURANCE AGENT— Office over C.P.R. ticket office. Tel. phone 725.

Massage Treatment.

MISS SHUFF—GRADUATE OF DR. S W. Mitchell's Hospital for Nervous Diseases, Philadelphia. Massage and Swedish movements. 407 King street, London, Ont. Phone 302.

Dental Cards.

DR. REYNOLDS, DENTIST, SUCCESSOR to Dr. Swan. First-class house, Toronto University. 267 Dundas street. Phone 1,131.

DR. W. S. WESTLAND—DENTIST— Post-graduate in crown and bridge work, Chicago, Edge Block, Richmond street. Phone 960, residence 420.

DR. G. H. KENNEDY—DENTIST—SUC- CESSOR to the late Dr. Davis. Specialty preservation of natural teeth. 170 Dundas street. Phone 975.

J. ELLIOTT HOLMES, L.D.S.—ROOM 2—Dundas Block, Dundas and Clarence streets. Phone 307.

DR. L. H. DAWSON—DENTIST—CORNER Dundas and Life streets, East London.

DR. J. JEFFERY N. WOOD—DENTIST— Over Bunnings & Butler, Dundas street. Telephone 1,282.

L. McDONALD—DENTIST— Office, 1874 Dundas street, London. Telephone 702.

WOOLVERTON & BENTLEY—DENTISTS Outrigger & Lawrence, druggists. Telephone 288.

Just Right For July

Read these prices on Misses' and Children's Summer Foot-wear:

Misses' C. Tan Oxfords, worth 75c, now 50c.
Child's C. Tan Oxfords, worth 65c, now 45c.
Misses' Kid Oxfords, worth 85c, now 60c.
Child's Fine Dongola Strap Slipper, sizes 6 to 10½, Bell's make, regular 75c, now 50c.

We guarantee you a saving on every purchase you make from us.

J. P. COOK,
173 Dundas Street.

Articles For Sale.

ELECTRIC FAN MOTOR FOR SALE cheap. Apply Box 36, this office. 5417

NEW 100 MASSY-HARRIS BICYCLE for sale at a bargain. Address "Bike" this office. 6017

COLUMBIA BICYCLE—IN GOOD CON- dition. $25. Wm. Gurd & Co., 185 Dundas street.

DAMPHELT WORK OF EVERY DE- scription, clean and quick, at Advertiser Job Department.

ENAP-NEWCOMBE PIANO, 7½ OC- TAVES, only 4 years old, only $220; James & Co., 6 Adelaide street, only $200. Easy terms of payment. Heintzman & Co., 236 Dundas street.

CUSTOM PAPERS OF ALL KINDS AT WAYS on hand at Advertiser Job Department. You can have them in large or small quantities.

SHIPPING TAGS—AT CLOSING PRICES— Advertiser Job Department.

SECOND-HAND BICYCLES IN GOOD condition. Good chance to get a bargain. D. McKinnon & Co.

ENGINE FOR SALE—A BARGAIN— This is a very powerful engine, can be run at ninety revolutions in capital order, can be had at a very low figure. Address Engine, care Advertiser.

DOLOMAN, PORK SAUSAGE, HEAD- ham, Bacon, Butter, Eggs, lowest prices at Park's, corner Market Lane. Dressed hogs wanted.

SHEET RUBBER AND RUBBER HOSE in stock and low prices. Smith Bros., 255 Dundas street.

SUMMER WOOD AT THE SAW MILL on East London street, both in quality and quantity. Prompt delivery. Phone 1,315. G. Gillies & Son.

BASKETBALL AND BATS IN FACT, R. V. S. SAUNDERS, 650 Dundas street, East London.

MEDICAL BATTERIES REPAIRED IN a first-class manner and satisfaction. Prices moderate. The Ontario Electric Co., 141 King street.

KENNES, MASONIC TEMPLE, IS THE cheapest place to buy stoves or furniture. Large stock on hand.

CATALANO & SANSONE—FRESH BA- NANAS have commenced to arrive daily. Could give very low prices on quantities whole sale or retail; lemons and oranges also. 256 Dundas street.

Houses, Etc., To Let.

TO LET—BRICK HOUSE, MODERN IM- provements. Moderate rent. Apply 606 Talbot street.

STORE TO LET—23 DUNDAS STREET— with or without dwelling. Apply J. C. Treblelock, next door.

TO RENT—LARGE BRICK COTTAGE— 812 Colborne street, near Dufferin avenue. All modern conveniences. Apply to E. McDuff, Huxco building, Richmond street. 7417

TO LET—ON KING STREET, NEAR Colborne street, fine half double brick house. Apply 400 King street.

TO LET—412 PRINCESS AVENUE—CLOSE to Colborne, 4 bedrooms, double parlors, etc. Immediate possession. Very central. Rent low.

Jewelers.

SPECIAL ATTENTION TO REPAIRING— Jeweler, 340 Richmond street (up stairs) London, Ont.

Pawnbrokers.

PAWNBROKER—LEADS MONEY ON diamonds, watches, jewelry, etc. Business strictly confidential. Highest prices paid for cash. Apply to Joe Fox, 259 King street opposite fire hall.

Viati Treatment.

MRS. STEIN AT HOME SATURDAYS to ladies of the country. 311 Hyman street, London.

ARC LIGHT ELECTRIC PLANT

TENDERS for dynamos, lamps, poles, wiring and all necessary electrical plant for the full equipment of a 30 two-hundred candle power electric arc light plant, together with all the necessary engines, boilers, etc., required for the steam plant to operate the same will be received at this office up to Wednesday, August 3, 1898, where specifications and form of tender may be obtained.

ALD. SAMUEL STEVENS, City Engineer. Act. Ch. No. 3 Com. 512 xx

Of Household Furniture, on Friday.

NEIL COOPER will sell contents of cottage comprising in part parlor suite, carpets, sideboard, extension table, chairs, baseboard with oven, bedroom suites, springs, mattresses, coal stove, kitchen utensils, tubs, etc. Sale at 10:30. NEIL COOPER, Auctioneer.

Tenders for Sewer Work

TENDERS WILL BE RECEIVED AT this office (where plans and specifications may be seen) up to 5 o'clock on Thursday, July 29.

for the supplying and laying of about 3,300 feet of 24-inch cast-iron sewer pipe, and 300 feet of steel pipe 24-inch diameter, together with the construction of all siphon chambers, etc., shown on plans.

ALD. N. COOPER, ORMSBY GRAYDON, City Engineer. Ch. Sewer Com. City Engineer.

WILLIS CHIPMAN, Esq., C.E., Consulting Engineer. 512 xx

Satisfied Policyholders

From the Government Reports it is found that the insurance gained in Canada in 1897 was 34 per cent of the new business taken. The insurance gained by The Ontario Mutual Life was 49 per cent of its new business taken, a gain of 50 per cent above the average.

C. E. GERMAN, General Agent,
403 Richmond Street.

CASUALTY COLUMN

A Doctor Expires While Having Teeth Extracted.

Sad Death of a Former Hamilton Boy in Downingtown, Mich.—Would-be Suicide Took Poison and Shot Himself.

Montreal, July 20.—Madame Beaufelle, an old lady from Manchester, N. H., was killed yesterday while walking on the C. P. R. track in the east end by being struck by a suburban train.

DIED IN A DENTAL CHAIR.

Toronto, July 20.—Dr. Robert D. Moffatt, son of Rev. Dr. Moffatt, secretary of the Upper Canada Religious Book and Tract Society, died in a chair while having teeth extracted yesterday at the dental offices of Dr. Loughhead. As Dr. Moffatt had a number of teeth to be extracted he was placed under chloroform. After three teeth had been pulled he was coming back to consciousness and more chloroform was administered. He sank back into unconsciousness, and after the dentist had extracted several more teeth he noticed the patient was sinking. A number of doctors were summoned, but it was too late. Dr. Moffatt died in a short time. He was about 30 years of age, and had been married some years. Dr. Bray administered the chloroform during the operation, while Dr. Loughhead extracted the teeth.

DIED NEXT DAY.

Chatham, July 20.—Mrs. Randolph Meyers, Harvey street, underwent an operation on Sunday afternoon that was most successful, but she died next morning. She was 40 years of age, and had been married some years. She was a native of Chatham, and had been in the city for some years.

TOOK POISON AND SHOT HIMSELF.

Presque Isle, Ont., July 20.—John Marshall, North Kopeel, shot himself on Monday. He first took laudanum, then shot himself in the ear with a shotgun, and was followed to a pond. When caught he was under water. The doctor attending him thinks he may recover.

MRS. BETHUNE KILLED.

Port Hope, July 20.—In a runaway accident here Sunday evening, Mrs. Bethune, wife of Rev. Dr. Bethune, principal of Trinity College, was killed. The unfortunate lady jumped from a cab, falling on a heap of stones.

FELL DROWNED.

Brantford, Ont., July 20.—Arthur Harris, aged 19 years, employed in the mill at Brantford, was drowned in the Grand River on Monday night while bathing.

FELL DOWN STAIRS AND KILLED.

Sandwich, July 20.—Mrs. Timothy Parent, aged 72 years, a pioneer of Essex county, fell down stairs, a distance of fifteen feet. Her skull was crushed and death was almost instantaneous.

HAMILTON MAN DROWNED IN MICHIGAN.

Hamilton, July 20.—Word was received here of the death by drowning of Neil Neighbour, Jun., at Downingtown, Mich. Deceased was a son of Wm. Neighbour, formerly leader of the Germania Singing Society, and left here with his family about five years ago. He was about 20 years of age. He went out on his wheel on Saturday afternoon, and was drowned while in bathing.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

Hamilton, Ont., July 20.—A bottle containing a note was picked up on the shore of Lake Ontario, near Winona, on Monday, which clears up the mystery regarding the body of a well-dressed man found on Hamilton beach on June 16. The date of the note was: "Of Oakville, June 9, 1898." and said: "If anyone should find this, it is to tell them of the death of James A. Brown, Michigan avenue, Detroit, who committed suicide from sorrow, which was caused by the faithless conduct of Katie Green." The body of the man found some weeks ago was richly attired, but the pockets contained only a few American coins. The Detroit police have been communicated with.

Doctors Agreed.

Every doctor who has been shown the formula of Merrill's System Tonic has expressed great admiration for its scientific and medical ingenuity. It is a thorough blood purifier, a great muscle, blood and tissue builder, and an excellent and permanent cure for constipation. Fifty pleasant-to-take doses. Sold at W. T. Strong & Co.'s pharmacy.

The Fly is made of the right stuff.

CITY OF LONDON TAX NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE Tax Collector will be in his office, City Hall, on and after July 18, 1898, to receive taxes for 1898. To be entitled to full authorized discount, taxes must be paid by July 21, 1898.

GEO. W. HAYES, Collector.

New Danger Developing

Serious Friction Between Cubans and Americans.

Garcia's Men Growl Because They May Not Loot Santiago.

Uncle Sam Will Have 25,000 Prisoners to Transport.

The Outlook in Spain—Torn by Internal Factions—Three Parties Ready to Pounce on the Dynasty.

Influence in the Philippines would be regarded with intense dissatisfaction in Australia, and Secretary Chamberlain has been strongly urged to induce the imperial government to use every influence to prevent such an eventuality. He has replied that the British Government does not regard German interference in Manila as likely, because the German Government is anxious to avoid doing anything calculated to promote an Anglo-American entente. But while this was the inference drawn by the British Government, still England would follow events in Manila with a vigilant eye.

THE PEACE MOVEMENT LOSING GROUND.

Madrid, July 20.—The newspapers here say that a coalition is being organized between the different parties and against the government on account of the suspension of the constitution. The peace movement is losing ground, and the newspapers venture the supposition that a British squadron will be sent to the straits, but the suggestion is regarded as improbable.

Gloomy Outlook.

THE FUTURE OF SPAIN.

New York, July 20.—A special of the Press from Washington says: A prominent member of the diplomatic corps, who is in receipt of cable news daily from Cuba, Madrid, and from his own country, permitted today an interesting interview, in which he gave his views on the present policy and probable future of Spain. "It is true," he said, "that the Spanish cabinet wants peace, and peace it will have soon. But that peace will be even more disastrous to Spain than would be a continuation of the same time. There are now in the kingdom three different parties, one of which is bound to succeed, but that success necessarily means ruin to Spain."

"The first and most important factor in Spain's future is the Carlist party, and entirely antagonistic to the present dynasty. The motives of the members of the Carlist party appear purely selfish. The success of the Carlist party would be to the detriment of the country, for the people to decide. When the American army leaves I presume they will be turned over to you, but not until then."

Castillo, who came direct from Gen. Garcia's camp, did not attempt to conceal his chagrin.

CUT DOWN THE CUBAN FLAG.

The Herald's Santiago cable says, Sunday, while Admiral Sampson was discussing the removal of the harbor mines, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

"What kind of a flag is that?" shouted the commander of the squadron.

"Cuban flag, sir." The officer replied.

Admiral Sampson looked disgusted, but a man was soon up under the flagstaff. He cut down the Cuban ensign, and called the attention of the admiral's attention to a flag flying from the western battery.

Londoners Lost Again

Hamilton Won by a Score of 7 to 5.

Chatham Narrowly Escapes a Whitewashing.

Second Day of the Trotting at Detroit—Cricket, Tennis, and Other Sporting Events.

LONDON LOSES AGAIN.

The Hams proved anything else but salted meat for Crowe and the London team yesterday. The locals lost the game 6 to 7, and helped Hamilton to win their big lead for the pennant. The home team became badly tangled and not until the seventh inning was a run scored. In this inning Lohman was presented with a walk; Crowe's high fly was gathered in most efficiently by Deas. The sixth run was scored on a fly to Elton and died; Mohler hit to center and continued to second, while Lohman crossed the plate and cheered. Smith helped Mohler home by a long hit to left pasture, but was caught before he reached second base. The eighth was characterized by another goose egg. In the ninth Lohman again tried his luck at driving the ball into the river, and the third one, although called a strike, was so far wide of its mark that Conwell muffed it, but cut the batter off at first. Lohman went to third, and scored on Smith's three bagger over left field into the bushes, beyond the track. Laroque got a pass to first, and Smith scored on Keenan's hit. This was the extent of London's run-getting, in which they piled up 8 hits and 5 errors. In the sixth Carey disappointed the spectators, as the bases were full he was expected to help them home, and a safe hit of any kind would have tied the score. But he did not.

In the second the visitors scored their first run. Schall hit to Keenan, who threw wild to first, and while the ball burned the grass in the direction of the entrance gate, Schall cantered home. Phillips scored in the sixth. In the seventh Carey hit to left for a base, and scored on Congalton's long fly to center, which Carey let kiss the turf on the right. The sun, and Congalton completed the circuit of the bags. In the eighth three more runs were piled up, and Conwell made a nice punt and started for first bag; when just about his destination he was hit on the shoulder by Lohman in his effort to cut the runner off, and McKevitt scored. Dean scored on Frick's hit and Conwell on a scratch hit of Congalton to second base. Score:

LONDON.	A. R. H. B. P. O. A. E.
Meara, 1b.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Mohler, 2b.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Smith, 3b.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Keenan, 4b.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Carey, cf.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Ward, ss.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Lohman, c.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Crowe, p.	1 1 1 4 0 0
Totals.	8 5 7 27 9 5

HAMILTON.	A. R. H. B. P. O. A. E.
Hagerty, 3b.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Edon, 1b.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Congalton, cf.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Phillips, 2b.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Schall, 4b.	0 1 1 0 2 0
McKevitt, f.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Dean, 3b.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Conwell, c.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Frick, p.	0 1 1 0 2 0
Totals.	0 7 7 13 3 2

Stolen bases—Carey 2, Lohman 2, Meara, Mohler, Laroque, Keenan, Hagerty. Two base hit—Keenan. Three base hit—Smith. Home runs—Congalton. Bases on balls—By Crowe 3, by Frick 4. Sacrifice hits—Mohler, Lohman, Hagerty. Left on base—London 10, Hamilton 10. Wild pitch—Crowe 1, Frick 1. Umpire—Mr. Beal. Time—2:11.

NOTES OF THE GAME. In the seventh inning Hagerty interfered with Mohler as he started for home on Smith's hit, but he scored, to Hagerty's great disgust. All of the Hams crossed the rubber but Hagerty and Frick.

Frick had decidedly the best of Beal's decision on balls and strikes. A $5 fine occasionally might keep some of the kickers in their position in the field while the captain and umpire are talking. Beal's umpiring caused a good deal of dissatisfaction—and his decisions elicited many hisses from the grand stand.

LAWN TENNIS. THE NIAGARA TOURNAMENT. The Canadian tennis championships concluded Monday with the final match in the handicap singles between Leo Ware, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

TURF. BEL-AIR RACES. Montreal, Que., July 20.—There was a rather small attendance at the Bel-Air track yesterday, but there was some excellent racing. Summary:

Purse $250, 3-year-olds, 8 furlongs—J. W. Wilson's b. c. Pope Leo 1, J. Duggan's b. f. Violent 2, Miss F. J. Kittiman's ch. f. Josephine K. 3, E. W. Wares, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

TURF. BEL-AIR RACES. Montreal, Que., July 20.—There was a rather small attendance at the Bel-Air track yesterday, but there was some excellent racing. Summary:

Purse $250, 3-year-olds, 8 furlongs—J. W. Wilson's b. c. Pope Leo 1, J. Duggan's b. f. Violent 2, Miss F. J. Kittiman's ch. f. Josephine K. 3, E. W. Wares, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

TURF. BEL-AIR RACES. Montreal, Que., July 20.—There was a rather small attendance at the Bel-Air track yesterday, but there was some excellent racing. Summary:

Purse $250, 3-year-olds, 8 furlongs—J. W. Wilson's b. c. Pope Leo 1, J. Duggan's b. f. Violent 2, Miss F. J. Kittiman's ch. f. Josephine K. 3, E. W. Wares, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

TURF. BEL-AIR RACES. Montreal, Que., July 20.—There was a rather small attendance at the Bel-Air track yesterday, but there was some excellent racing. Summary:

Purse $250, 3-year-olds, 8 furlongs—J. W. Wilson's b. c. Pope Leo 1, J. Duggan's b. f. Violent 2, Miss F. J. Kittiman's ch. f. Josephine K. 3, E. W. Wares, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

TURF. BEL-AIR RACES. Montreal, Que., July 20.—There was a rather small attendance at the Bel-Air track yesterday, but there was some excellent racing. Summary:

Purse $250, 3-year-olds, 8 furlongs—J. W. Wilson's b. c. Pope Leo 1, J. Duggan's b. f. Violent 2, Miss F. J. Kittiman's ch. f. Josephine K. 3, E. W. Wares, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

TURF. BEL-AIR RACES. Montreal, Que., July 20.—There was a rather small attendance at the Bel-Air track yesterday, but there was some excellent racing. Summary:

Purse $250, 3-year-olds, 8 furlongs—J. W. Wilson's b. c. Pope Leo 1, J. Duggan's b. f. Violent 2, Miss F. J. Kittiman's ch. f. Josephine K. 3, E. W. Wares, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

TURF. BEL-AIR RACES. Montreal, Que., July 20.—There was a rather small attendance at the Bel-Air track yesterday, but there was some excellent racing. Summary:

Purse $250, 3-year-olds, 8 furlongs—J. W. Wilson's b. c. Pope Leo 1, J. Duggan's b. f. Violent 2, Miss F. J. Kittiman's ch. f. Josephine K. 3, E. W. Wares, of Harvard, who won the Canadian trophy on Saturday, and Caleb Whitbeck, of Harvard, and Rochester. Ware was the victor, winning on each game and had a very hard fight against the younger player, winning finally by three sets to one, the scores being 6-4, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

LACROSSE. MITCHELL VS. SEAFORTH. Mitchell, Ont., July 20.—At Mitchell the C. L. A. Huron district lacrosse match between Mitchell and Seaforth Juniors yesterday resulted in a victory for Mitchell for the home team, leaving the district at tie.

of dissatisfaction—and his decisions elicited many hisses from the grand stand.

ST. THOMAS VS. CHATHAM. St. Thomas, Ont., July 19.—The locals won the second and last game of the series from Chatham here yesterday.

The game was well contested and the play was fast. Robb pitched his first game for the locals, and was in fine form, only issuing one pass. Buser's clean home run to center field was one of the longest hits ever made on the diamond. Score:

ST. THOMAS.	A. R. H. B. P. O. A. E.
Batteries—Robb and Relief Van Gieson and Phelps. Umpire, Grim.
ST. THOMAS.	6 5 1
CHATHAM.	1 4 5
Totals.	11 9 6

EASTERN LEAGUE—TUESDAY.

At Ottawa—R. H. E.

Ottawa, 7 10 5

Buffalo, 1 6 4

Batteries—Gannon and Gannon; Brown and Diggins.

At Springfield—2 9 2

Syracuse, 1 2 4

Batteries—Pappalau and Nichols; Voorhees and Burrell.

NATIONAL LEAGUE—TUESDAY.

At Boston—R. H. E.

Pittsburg, 6 9 2

Boston, 8 10 2

Batteries—Gardner and Schriver; Lewis and Berger.

At New York—2 4 0

New York, 1 4 0

Louisville, 1 4 0

Batteries—Ruse and Grady; Cunningham and Kitzbridge.

At Washington—2 10 1

Washington, 2 10 1

Cleveland, 8 13 1

Batteries—Swalm, Weyhing and McGuire; Wilson and Creiger.

At Brooklyn—7 13 1

Brooklyn, 7 13 1

St. Louis, 1 8 1

Batteries—Dunn and Grim; Taylor and Clements.

FLYS.

Ed Crane, Ed Williamson and John Hatfield were the three longest throwers ever known on the baseball field.

Manager Irwin was offered a Catcher Zearlose and a cash consideration for Casey by New York, but he refused to make a deal.

The Toronto club is in a bad way. Taylor is just able to hobble around, while Gattins is on the bench with a bad ankle. Grey has an injured leg, but he remains in the game.

Pitcher McIlvane has been released by St. Thomas.

After a couple of years of Orlebe and a short and gloomy sojourn in Washington, Jack Doyle is with the New Yorks again.

Capt. Dahlen, of the Chicagoas, has made more errors than any shortstop in the league. Larry Corcoran has made the least.

Buffalo has recalled Shortstop Toman and Wilkesbarre has recalled Pitcher Odwell from the New Yorks.

Western League Umpire Bailey, formerly of the International, did not last year's season was released last year.

Successor being the veteran Bobby Caruthers.

McGann, who earlier in the season was doing the steadier work with the stick on the whole Baltimore team, has had a slump lately.

That great player, Al Johnson, is now handling the Patterson team, and whether he is all right or not is best attested by the fact that the team has won every game played under his general second basemen's captaincy—Sporting Life.

Tim Harg's Rough Riders is the latest name for the St. Louis Browns.

Anlie Latham has been released by New Britain and signed by Hartford.

Boston has the unique record of being shut out without a hit or a run twice this season. Hughes, of Baltimore, and Dunahue, of Philadelphia, did the trick.

Captain Delaney, of the Cortlands, played this way, of this city, is placed as the fastest third basemen now playing in the New York League. He is a brilliant fielder and a hard hitter.

Merced used to be the easiest thing in the league for the Orioles to beat. He pitched many games against them for several years and never won a game until just before the season closed last year. He succeeded in defeating them largely because the team was in a panic. That was a bad break, for it gave him confidence, and he has won every game he has pitched against the Orioles this year.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

CRICKET. ROSIDALE VS. MONTREAL. The match between the Montreal and Toronto-Rosidale cricket teams was concluded Tuesday, and resulted in a victory for Toronto by an innings and forty-five runs. Toronto in its first innings made 251 runs, and Montreal only managed to score 100 in its first innings.

A. F. Brown's ch. g. L. B. 3. Quack, Quack, Miss Alfontina, James Monroe, L. W. also ran. Time, 2:14.

Purse $250, 2-year-olds, 8 furlongs—T. P. Buckley's b. f. Deyo 1, J. J. McCarthy & Co. b. c. Helmdale 2, J. M. Johnson's b. f. Annette, 3, Ar. Agnol, Watercrest, Dogida, Ives, Horison, Seldenbach, The Bird, Fan Fan, also ran. Time, 1:56.

TROTTING AT DETROIT. Detroit, July 20.—The second day of the Blue Ribbon race was disappointing. The great Merchants' and Manufacturers' trotting stake, in which 17 starters were ready, and on which several thousand dollars were in the auction pools, was postponed on account of the muddy track, and only one event was finished in addition to the final heat of the 2:04 pace which had been left unfinished Monday. A crowd of about 5,000 people, who had anticipated seeing the $10,000 trotting stake, waited until 4:30 before Frank Bogash, Rubenstein and Bumps played the deciding heat. Summaries:

2:15 pace, purse $2,000.

1st Ind. Trotting, 2-year-olds, 8 furlongs—Harry Omer, g. g. 1, 3 1 3

Journeymen, b. h. 2, 5 2 3

2nd Ind. Trotting, 2-year-olds, 8 furlongs—Roda Farsand, b. m. 2, 2 2

Bowery Boy, b. g. 3, 2 2

Time, 2:14. 2:20, 2:18.

2nd Trotting, purse $2,000, unfinished.

Mattie Patterson, b. m. 2, 5 1 1

Judge Atlaw, br. h. 1, 2 2

Sisler, ch. m. 3, 5 2 3

Belle M., ch. m. 4, 7 2 6

Ellert, br. g. 5, 7 2

Castleton, br. m. 6, 1 4 4

Tudor Chimes, b. g. 8, 8 6

Time—2:16, 2:16, 2:16, 2:17.

BATTING RECORDS.

At Washington Park, Chicago—Tulla Fono, Al Fresco, Bannockburn, Hurly Bury, Marshall, Galahie.

At St. Louis, Kansas City, Imp. King Gold, Aunt Mary, Loving Cup, Mystery and Verity.

At Brighton Beach—Endavor, Ben Viking, Whistling Coon, Orion, Rare Perfume, Continental.

THE BEST SHOTS

Results of the Canada Military Rifle League Contest.

The four matches of the Canadian Military Rifle League have been fired. The standing of the leading teams:

By Corrupting Man's Physical Blood—Satan the Author of Eruptive Disease—Rev. Dr.
Talmage's Discourse.

month would take a glacial, and I was sure I was to go back further than to 21 years of age to make a fair start, for there are many things that I have done since that period. Yea, in order to get a fair start some would have to go back to the time when I was born, and corrected—yea, to the grandfather and the grandmother and have their life and their character and their life from bad hereditary influences which started 100 years ago. Well, if your father had been a good man again, and your father lived his life again, and you lived your life over again, and you covered up place this time, and you covered up place this time, would be a chance to give you a reasonable attempts at repairs. I begin to think it is better for each generation to have a chance to pass on to their generation to pass off and give another generation a chance. Besides that, if you have a chance to pass on to your generation, it would be a stale and stupid experience. The zest and spur and energy of life would be gone, and you would have never been along this road before, and everything new.

[illegible]

Out yonder is a man very old at 40 years of age at a time when he ought to be buoyant as the morning. He got bad habits on him very early and medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

---

Now the season is opened, don't lose

Cheer Summer Wood | Architect

Campbell & Chantler,
176 Bathurst St. Phone 347.

SOCIETY

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED BY V
H. Bartram, 99 Dundas street.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED A
Johnston's shoe store, 138 Dundas street

Hotel Cards.

Orders by mail receive prompt attention.

Department. TELCUMSEH HOUSE - LONDON, ONT.
Largest and best hotel in Western Ontario. No charge for baggage or sample room.
Rates, $2 and $2.50 per day. C. W. Davis, proprietor.

You

Want

Legal Cards.

LOVE & DIGNAN—BARRISTERS, ETC.
418 Talbot street, London, Francis Lane

The

Electric Co.,
141 King Street.

MODERATE PRICES.

J. H. A. BEATTIE—BARRISTER, ETC.
87½ Dundas street. Private funds loan on real estate at 5%.

---

W. E. LAIDLAW—BARRISTER—SOLICITOR, etc. Bank of Commerce

SCHOOL OF ELOCUTION,
374 Dundas street.
Reopens on MONDAY, SEPT. 5.
List of fees, etc., furnished on application.

J. T. WOLCOTT—ORGANIST FIRST
Methodist Church, teaches piano, organ and composition. 5 Prospect avenue.

DRS. MACARTHUR & THOMSON - 485 Dundas street. Phone 64. Dr. Thomson, corner Richmond and Oxford streets. Phone 330 Queen's avenue. Telephone, 1004.

DR. N. R. HENDERSON - CORNER
Queen's and Park avenues. Eys, ears, throat and nose only.

CUL. T. CAMPBELL - M. D. M. C. P. S. -

R. OVENS, M.D.—206 QUEEN'S AVENUE—
Eye, ear, nose and throat.

D. R. ENGLISH—OFFICE AND RESIDENCE

DENCE, northeast corner of Park and Queen's avenues. Hours, 11 to 3 and 6 to 8. Careful attention paid to diseases of digestive system. Telephone 592.

J. R. WOODRUFF—EYE, EAR, NOSE and throat. Hours, 12 to 4. No. 138, Queen's street. Telephone 592.

MILLEY'S LIVERY—NO. 642 DUNDAS street, East London, Ont. Telephone (6).

THOMAS TREBILCOCK—STAR LIVERY—433 Richmond street. Best hacks coupe and limousine.

London Advertiser.
ESTABLISHED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1853.
Managing Director and Editor, John Cameron
London, Wednesday, July 20, 1898.

Alliances.
We have heard very much lately about alliances, in connection with the talk of Anglo-American union, and may have come to the conclusion that for free peoples a real friendly feeling is of more importance than hard and fast treaties. Alliances are easily made by those who do not intend to be very much bound by them, and such alliances have a nasty habit of breaking down when they are most needed. Napoleon III. trusted in alliances, to this ruin. Alliances must rest on similarity of feeling, and community of feeling, if they are to be real and exert any lasting power.

British policy has, in the past, been very largely one of "splendid isolation" and "the free hand." Mr. Chamberlain thinks that this cannot now be maintained without the surrender of "certain natural ambitions," and this contention will very naturally cause much discussion. In Europe there are two great alliances, the "Drebind," consisting of Germany, Austria and Italy, and the Franco-Russian alliance, and these profess to have as their aim the maintenance of peace. It is well known that France did not feel equal to "splendid isolation," but was driven to secure a powerful ally through the feeling of bitter loneliness. But many of her own people find the union of a republic and a despotism unnatural, and think it likely that the advantages will be on the side of Russia. The Emperor William, who is just now the most prominent, if not the most powerful, figure in European politics, relies upon the Drebind, as against France, and yet makes private arrangements with the Czar. Speaking of the Chinese adventure, a German authority says "a direct letter from the Kaiser to the Czar finally cleared out of the way the last difficulties." This same monarch would like to drag the British fleet at the tail of his "Drebind."

It is not possible for Britain to join either the dual or the triple alliance, and one is inclined to be rather skeptical as to the use of these alliances, which keep Europe in the condition of a huge military encampment, and form "a concert" which could crush Greece, but could not coerce the Turk. In the game of bluff and intrigue which is constantly going on, by the very nature of things, the despotic government has the advantage in secrecy and rapidity of movement over a democratic government with a conscience. But very much of this scheming will in the end defeat itself, and openness and honesty will not be driven to the wall. The very nature of the British Empire is against these alliances for offense and defense, and her own interests are the best inducement to keep the peace. The conscience of her statesmen is opposed to making an open alliance with one nation and a secret treaty with another, while the work that she has to do in the world demands peace as the condition of progress. The result of all this is that, diplomatically, she is often in a "tight place," but her sons have confidence in the over-ruling Providence that has shaped her life, and believe that so long as she seeks the highest life of humanity, she can hold her own against the world.

She may have no material inducements to offer to the United States, but if that nation is going out into the world for humanity's sake, she will find her natural allies in those who speak the same language and breathe the same aspirations. A free people must rely mainly, then, on the goodness of its cause and the strength of its own right arm.

The World's Carrying Trade.
For more than a hundred years, too, the bulk of the world's carrying trade has been done by British shipowners and shipmasters, and this has added enormously to the nation's wealth. It is to the energy and industry of the British people and their genius for business, more than to any change in Britain's commercial policy, that the colossal wealth of the country is due.—Hamilton Herald.
British energy, industry and business genius, splendid as they are, would never have achieved such marvelous results unless Britain's trade policy had given those qualities their fullest exercise. Because of these characteristics, the mother country would still be greater than her European rivals, even if she had clung to her protectionist policies, but she would have been pre-eminent in a less degree. Particularly does this apply to her maritime supremacy. At one time it was threatened by the United States; the Stars and Stripes were thick in every sea,

In 1861, 72 per cent of American exports and 60 per cent of American imports were carried in American bottoms. Today only 8 per cent of American exports and 19 per cent of American imports are carried under the American flag. The decadence of the American merchant marine synchronized with the American high tariff. The same may be said of Canada. The command of the world's carrying trade, as the Herald says, has added enormously to Great Britain's wealth, and her free trade policy has been a big factor in creating it.

The Public Expenditure.
The Ottawa Government is fairly criticised for having added to the public expenditure. The increase has been chiefly applied to the deepening of the St. Lawrence Canal, the government of the Yukon, the extension of the Intercolonial Railway, and the subvention of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. Will the Opposition challenge the necessity for any of these works? Will it prove a single instance of corruption? The deepening of the St. Lawrence Canal and the completion of the Intercolonial system should have been undertaken by the last Government, but it was too busy squandering money on more questionable projects. The extension of the Intercolonial will greatly increase the earning powers of the road by giving it its proper terminus.—Montreal. The expenditure on the Yukon and on the Crow's Nest Railway was wholly unforeseen, and was made imperative through the sudden development of the gold fields. The Crow's Nest subsidy was not opposed by the Opposition. The Yukon will pay for itself.

When the present Administration disgraces itself and robs the country by such methods as attached to the St. Charles Branch Railway, the Little Rapids Lock, or the Cornwall Canal, or the Langevin Block, or the Connolly-McGreevy works, or the Curran Bridge, or the Fredericton Bridge, or the Cataract Railway, or the printing bureau contracts, or the scores of other public works which were private pulls, it will be kicked out of office by its present friends.

This will never happen. The country is now governed by honest men.

Double View of German Elections.

It is difficult for outsiders to follow the course of politics in such countries as France and Germany, where the situation is so complex and the number of parties so great.

In the case of Germany, this is rendered still more difficult by the fact that the emperor attracts so much attention to himself, and seems ready to carry "the mailed fist" into the region of home politics. One thing, however, comes out very clearly, and that is that the Socialist party is now immensely strong, and indeed much stronger in votes than in deputies. A German of high authority warns us that it would be quite false to consider this as a revolutionary sign for Germany. It is at least a sign of discontent with the present order of things, and must cause searchings of heart to those who rule the fatherland. Another outstanding feature is the apparent solidity of the Catholic Center. On this a keen French critic remarks "That one would say that papal Rome has conferred on the party which represents Catholic interests, in an empire three-fifths Protestant, something of the inviolability of the church and the permanence of the Eternal City. In the crumbling and decomposition of parties the Center becomes the pivot of imperial politics. The stone which Prince Bismarck rejected, when he built the edifice of the restored empire, has become the corner stone of this monument." Other two facts may be noted in the strange election; first, the scattering of votes, and the equal division of forces among the parties; out of 397 results, 180 had to be subjected to the second ballot. Second, the fact that Liberalism comes out with a crushing defeat, is a result which some trace to the unfaithfulness of this party to its own principles. The emperor with his usual cleverness caused the vote to be taken the day after the celebration of his tenth anniversary, but that does not seem to have cleared the air very much. The French critic thus sums up the result: "It is on the Center, then, that the formation of a majority depends. Without they can only beat the air. We see that if the question is serious it cannot fail to be very embarrassing. The empire of Germany—so much the better for itself and for Europe—has not yet set full sail for a war against democracy."

We in Canada have our difficulties, but our political life is simple compared with this. If the German people could be set upon an island, to solve their political problems, and thus relieved from the pressure of France and Russia, it is likely that the exceedingly clever emperor would have a still livelier time.

Spain, Italy, Servia, Belgium, France and Germany have their elections this year, and there is not one of them with which Canada need be anxious to exchange places.

Municipal Electric Lighting.
In Hamilton, as in London, a civic committee is gathering information on the subject of street electric lighting. Under the present system Hamilton pays exactly the same rate as London—$31.25 per arc light per year, or 25 cents per night. The company here has offered a rate of 23 cents per light per night, or $88.95 per year, providing the contract is renewed.

The Hamilton authorities have been communicating with Detroit, where the corporation owns and operates the street lighting plant. The Detroit commissioners report that the cost, under civic control, has decreased from $39.45 to $77.08 per year, which includes the interest on capital invested and the loss of taxes previously paid by the electric light companies. Next year is expected to show a still greater reduction.

The authorities here have been collecting statistics from a number of cities, and so far the information received is not very decisive. In some cities the cost of street lighting under civic control is much greater than London pays at present. In others it is less. Much depends on local conditions and on competent management. The committee here has called for tenders for the erection of a plant. This will aid the aldermen in estimating the necessary outlay on capital account. The sole interest of the ratepayers is in securing the best and cheapest service, whether by private or public control. They may be called upon to decide the question at the polls.

Mr. Whitney and his colleagues are overworking their megaphones.

Now that Watson's squadron is about to sail, Spain will miss Gibraltar more than ever.

Zola is the victim of another judicial fiasco. French justice and Spanish honor are two of a very strange kind.

A tariff war between Germany and the United States, which is talked of, would be very interesting. They are both used to the weapons.

The bicycle is becoming popular in China but the roads are the worst in heathendom. Better still to walk in Europe than to cycle in Cathay.

The American tars will remember the Maine with a vengeance if they ever bombard Havana. They will also remember that the harbor is well mined.

Asiatic coolies are being rushed into Hawaii by the sugar planters before the island comes under American dominion. This is one result of annexation that Uncle Sam takes no pride in.

Mr. Ewan, the Globe's correspondent at Santiago, describes the perspiratory plight of Gen. Shafter, who was in a state of chronic prostration through the heat. Mr. Ewan does not think a man who weighs over 300 pounds is suitable to lead a tropical expedition. There seems to be a good deal of weight in the argument.

The Republican party has been looked upon as the Conservative element in the United States, but the whirligig of time has worked a change. Both Bryan and Cleveland, representing the two wings of the Democratic party, have come out strongly against the new colonial policy. The question may supersede free silver as a campaign issue. If the financial heresy drops out of sight it will be a good thing for the republic.

The carnage of the present war has not been so terrible as the power of modern ordnance would suggest. The percentage of losses at Santiago was not so large as at any of the great battles of the civil war, although the weapons at Santiago were superior. The recent naval engagements also do not show a slaughter proportionate to that of the old "wooden walls." This is, perhaps, due to the very destructiveness of the modern warship. Ironclads, because of their terrific armament, cannot blaze away at each other as long as the old men-of-war could, nor can sailors grapple in a hand to hand fight with the enemy, as they used to do. The weaker ship these days must soon go to the shore or the bottom. The crew risks death as much by drowning as by shot or shell.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

NO MORE DREAMERS.
The Liberal Government of Canada has a habit of doing practical things in a practical way.—Hall's Chronicle.

A LITTLE SQUEAK.
And so Mr. Whitney has issued a "memorandum." It's a perusal reminds one of a little bantam answering the "chicken claret" of some lordly cochin.—Ottawa Free Press.

CIVILIZATION GETTING EVEN.
The new French premier proposes a scheme for taxation "based on the outward signs of wealth." Here is where civilization at last gets even with the hotel clerk.—Chicago Times-Herald.

INHUMAN TREATMENT.
With brutal lack of consideration, the Government has neglected to include gagging in the ration allowed the Spanish prisoners. When they get back to Europe we may expect to hear that the United States starved them.—Buffalo Express.

A VOICE FACE.
What a change this facing the prospect of an early meeting of the Legislature produces in the Tory organs and politicians! And after they have for months been professing to be eager to get at Hardy and show the public how he had been crushed!—Hamilton Times.

THEY STAND FOR FREEDOM.
The predominant and peculiar feature of Anglo-Saxon political institutions is the recognition of the right of the individual freeman to have a real voice in the government of his country. Two great nations, and two great States—wish to maintain and perpetuate this constitutional principle.—Toronto Telegram.

THE GOVERNMENT'S MAJORITY.
The assertion that the Hardy Government did not receive a majority of votes in the last election in Ontario, and was not, therefore, really returned to power by the people, is a misleading half-truth. According to the returns, the straight Liberal candidates received 215,647 votes, the straight Conservative candidates 208,458, and the Patrons and other Independents 9,905 votes. In the last Legislature the Patrons were generally found supporting the Government and Liberal candidates, and the Conservatives were generally found supporting the Opposition. It is plain that the votes cast for them must have been for the most part given in approval of their natural alliance with the Liberals. Apart from these, however, the Liberals had a plurality, though not a majority over all, and if they were not given the confidence of the people, still less were the Conservatives, whose support fell short of that of the Liberals by over seven thousand votes.—Montreal Witness.

THE CANADIAN COMMISSION.
The commission to represent the United States in the conference that has now opened at Quebec is a remarkably good one. Mr. John W. Foster and Mr. John A. Kasson are men who have had experience in foreign negotiations, and are assumed to be not much identified with domestic politics. Mr. Dingley has the subject of the tariff heavily upon his brain, especially in its bearing on Canadian trade, but his ability is recognized and his experience in public affairs has been large. He is a diplomatic, quiet, and in his general courtesy and tact of manner, Senator Gray, of Delaware, is the only Democrat there, but he is the ablest Democrat in Congress. Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, is a man who stands high in the legal profession, and who has shown a disposition to think for himself in considering important questions. He is a broad-minded person in his natural tendencies. In himself and in Senator Gray there is the best representation attainable of the two parties as they now are in public life.—Boston Herald.

LIGHT AND SHADE

TO WHATSON.
They tell us, Watson,
That your biz
Will likely take you
To Cadiz.

And if it does so,
Do not pause
Until you make
Cadiz Cadwals!
—New York Sun.

A NEW COUNTERSIGN.
"Let me in, dearie," he said rather unsteadily at 3:30 a.m.
"Repeat the sentence," Schley simply swiped Cervera off the sea, first," she replied from the upper window.—Philadelphia North American.

PROOF OF ITS QUALITY.
"I've a great story to tell you, boys," said a man to a group at the city hall. "I don't think any of you have heard me tell it before."
"Is it a really good one?" asked one of the party doubtfully.
"It certainly is."
"Then you never told it before," echoed the crowd.—Philadelphia Call.

WRECKING A ROMANCE.
They were swinging in a hammock, He and she, The gentle winds were sweetly blowing O'er the lea.

He was strong and brave and handsome, She was sweet, And he kept the hammock going With his feet.

Would you know the tale he told her, As they swung? Ah, it was the sweet, old story— They were young.

Even the leaves, it seemed, were bending Down to hear Those fair words that he was pouring In her ear.

Even the birds and gentle breezes Seemed to stay, Charmed by what that gallant lover Had to say.

Unto her it seemed a lovely Waking dream, But, at length, she left the hammock, With a scream.

In a trice her airy castle Was a wreck— She had found a caterpillar On her neck.

—Chicago News.
The fly is a bald-headed fact.

AFTER THE ROBBERY

Late Developments in the Napanee Bank Affair.

Burglars' Tools Discovered—Counsel Not Allowed to See Ponton—Another Bank Was in Danger.

Montreal, July 20.—Superintendent Dougherty, of the Pinkerton agency, says that the officers on the Napanee bank robbery case have found out beyond a doubt that if the arrests of Pare, Holden and the rest had not been arrested at once, another bank would have suffered in a similar manner. The plans were all made, and it was only because one of the conspirators was afraid that it had been postponed for a week or so. Pare is said to be about as ingenious and skillful a man of his class as ever existed. He was a man of regular habits, who never spent his money in riotous living or in gambling.
E. G. Porter, Ponton's counsel, has been refused access to his client, who has been remanded. Mr. Porter believes the detectives are "sweating" Ponton. Wilson and Wilson, of Napanee, have been retained by the prisoner to defend him, and they also were refused an interview, and have wired for authority. The trial is expected to take place on Thursday.
On Sunday morning, Chief Adams and the detectives visited the woodshed in the rear of the bank, where the entrance to the bank was effected, and there found a brace and several twist drills, and a burglar's jimmy. The tools were buried about six inches in the earth, and had evidently lain there all winter, as they were considerably rusted.

PONTON CHEERFUL.
Ponton is cheerful, and apparently has any amount of friends in town yet who are hopeful that he will come out all right, despite the very damaging stories which have been made public. In the face of a pending suit for $30,000 to be tried in September, and of the fact that such well-known professionals as most of the other prisoners could have been apprehended at any time after the bills were traced, or in the future, it would have been injudicious for the Dominion Bank to counsel the press arrests unless Ponton were definitely implicated by the evidence which they had secured.
It is likely that Ponton's suit, which is on the list for October sessions in September, will be traversed until after the criminal trial.

Napanee, Ont., July 20.—Mr. E. Gus Porter, barrister, who is Ponton's lawyer, was refused admission to the jail to visit Ponton. Porter at once telegraphed the attorney-general, and it is reported that the attorney-general replied, refusing Porter admission before Wednesday. Ex-Manager Baines and County Constable Sills have left for Boston to assist in his extradition to Canada. County Constable Sills left for Boston last night to identify Holden as one of the slick tramps he had arrested last August and brought before Magistrate Daily a few days prior to the robbery.

A PRACTICAL JOKE.
Napanee, July 20.—A practical joke that may have far-reaching consequences was played at Kingston on Monday night, when a man named Chambers, passing himself as Detective Dougherty, arrested Dr. Colton, proprietor of the Campbell House, Napanee. Some of the papers gave currency to this arrest as connected with the bank robbery, but this is ridiculous.
Mr. Colton does not know that the joke played on him has been printed, but will doubtless seek redress when he finds it out. Chief Adams expressed his opinion that it could be made hot for Chambers posing as Detective Dougherty. Mrs. Colton, the doctor's mother, is taking the matter much to heart.

WESTERN ONTARIO

Mr. Smith intends to erect an electric light plant at Tilbury at once. Bert Carney, a tramp, was sentenced to a year's imprisonment by John Selkirk, J.P., of Leamington.

Mrs. Timothy Parent, of Sandwich West, died on Monday from injuries received in a fall downstairs on Sunday. She was 70 years of age.

At a meeting held at Stratford, it was decided by the cheese and butter makers to hold their next convention at Listowel on Feb. 1 and 2, 1899.

The last cables that held the wreckage of the old suspension bridge above Niagara River at Lewiston have been broken and the wreckage has disappeared.

Tilbury public school passed 15 pupils out of 18. Eight for entrance and seven for leaving and three for entrance on leaving. A very creditable showing, indeed.

Billy Mogg, of West Lorne, who used to play left field for the old Lorne baseball club, one time champions of Elgin county, is playing good ball with the Chatham team in the International League.

The Ontario Fruit Growers' Association has made an investigation into the state of the fruit crop throughout Ontario, and in Essex, Kent and Lambton. While apples are pronounced poor, pears are said to be excellent, and peaches, plums and raspberries very good.

Tuesday morning there was an alarm of fire in a double frame house in Catherine street, St. Thomas, owned by the Osborne estate, and occupied by Miss May McKean and her sister. The damage was about $100. While the furniture was being removed some one stole a diamond ring, a band ring and a lady's gold chain.

Conrad Stitzinger, a farmer, about two miles from Delhi, was aroused early Sunday morning by a noise in his bedroom. On getting up he found a man in the house, who made his departure at once through the pantry window. Mr. Stitzinger captured him and notified a constable. He had his trial before P.M. Griffin Monday morning, and was sentenced to a year's imprisonment at Kingston.

Miss Eva Booth, daughter of Gen. Booth, and Canadian commissioner of the Salvation Army, spoke for an hour in the Windsor opera house Monday night to an audience of about 500. She has just returned from a trip to the Klondike, and the hardships she has undergone have had their effect on her health. She is making a tour of Western Ontario, accompanied by Col. Jacobs and Major Southall.
On Sunday, Annie Williams, the year and a half old daughter of Mr. George Williams, Ontario street, Brantford, was frightfully injured. She was playing out in the yard, when a horse that was tied to a clothes line kicked her, and would certainly have killed the child had not the mother rushed to the rescue. As it is the little one can hardly live. Her collar bone is broken, the spine fractured, and there is also serious internal injuries.

The appeal from the court of revision re the Goring mill property, Tilbury, a case which has created a good deal of interest in municipal circles was decided after a stubborn battle. Judge Finkle, of Woodstock, tried the case. Counsel for appellant wanted a reduction of $1,000, but was compelled to be content with a reduction of $500. The mill property was assessed for $2,000, but the judge considered that the property had somewhat deteriorated of late.

Pill Manufacturers Enraged.
The makers of all the various pills on the market are greatly troubled over the new medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. It is doing away with their business. System Tonic is not only a positive cure for Habitual Constipation, but a blood purifier and builder, as well as a tonic for every organ in the body, at Strong's drug store.

Neave's Food

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

"An excellent Food, admirably adapted to the wants of Infants and Young Persons, and being rich in Phosphates and Potash is of the greatest utility in supplying the bone-forming and other indispensable elements of food."
SIR CHAS. A. CAMERON, M.D.

McGILL UNIVERSITY, Montreal.

Session 1898-9.

Matriculation Examinations, preliminary to the various Courses of Study, will be held as under:

Faculty of Arts (including the Honorary Special Course for Women).....Thurs., 16th Sept.
Faculty of Science.....Tues., 6th Sept.
Faculty of Medicine and Veterinary Science.....Sat., 17th Sept.
The Revised Curriculum in the Faculty of Arts comprises courses in Classics, English, Modern Languages, History, Philosophy, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, Geology, and other sciences. These courses are open to PARTIAL STUDENTS without Matriculation.
Examinations for Twenty First Year Entrance Exhibitions in the Faculty of Arts, ranging from $50 to $200, will be held on the 16th of September, at Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Kingston, and other centers.
The McGill Normal School will be reopened on 1st September.
Particulars of Examinations, and copies of the Calendar, containing full information as to Conditions of Entrance, Courses of Study, Regulations for Degrees, Exhibitions and Scholarships, Fees, etc., may be obtained on application to
W. VAUGHAN, Secretary

Alma Ladies' College.

Opens for eighteenth year, SEPTEMBER 8TH 1898.

Parents should consider the great advantage to the mental, moral and social training of their daughters to be derived through a course in a residential, Christian school like Alma College, St. Thomas, Ont.
For full information address
Rev. R. I. Warner, M.A., Principal, 86a St. St.

Lee Hing Laundry

467 Richmond Street.

HINTON & RUMBALL

THE UNDERTAKERS.

360 Richmond Street.

Private residence, 48 Becher.

Telephone—Store 440; House, 458; 217.

WESTERN SCHOOL OF ART

Spencer Block, Dundas Street.

Only one class a week until further notice.

Saturday afternoon, 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock.

For circulars apply to J. H. GRIFFITHS, Principal.

Genuine English Rodgers A' Spoons And Forks

have stood the test for over half a century. We guarantee every piece to be hand-burnished, and to contain more pure silver to the dozen than any Canadian or American made plate.

Hobbs Hardware Co.

London, Ont.

Illustration of a spoon and fork.

It's All Very Fine

To argue that imitation is flattery, but it's the sort of flattery that the public are induced to take an imitation of

As it stands unrivaled and alone. Scaled lead packets only. By grocers everywhere. Never sold in bulk—25c. 50c. 100c. 250c. 500c. 1000c.

In the Net.

"I was afraid that you wouldn't come," Valeria said, "and I couldn't have stayed here another night, I am so impatient."

Miss Pendleton was serious and preoccupied, and had but little to say, except to excuse her delay. The few necessary preparations were made, the trunk was left to be sent for, and they went down to a cab that was waiting at the door. Valeria supporting herself partly on the banister, partly on Miss Pendleton's arm.

They drove through the street after street in silence. Two weeks to talk much in the house, Valeria was far too weak to make herself heard above the noise of the street, and her companion did not feel disposed to say anything. There were some familiar streets and others strange, and they seemed to go back and forth.

At length, when they had time to go from end to end of the city, Valeria said, "It seems to me that we are going in a very round-about way."

"Yes," Miss Pendleton replied impatiently, "the driver is taking the longest road he can, so as to make it cost more. They always do that."

At length the houses ceased abruptly. They drove up a rise between high walls, made a turn or two, and stopped at a high iron gate that barred their way. The gate was shut, but the porter waited inside.

And here a difficulty occurred. The porter would not admit them, not having received any orders to do so, and the vetturino refused to stay any longer without extra pay, which Miss Pendleton refused to give him.

There was a moment of perplexity; then the vetturino was dismissed, and Miss Pendleton begged Valeria to wait where she was while she should run to a house lower down for an order.

The cab disappeared, Miss Pendleton disappeared, and Valeria was left alone outside the gate with the porter looking on through the bars. The rain began to fall gently, the earth was wet, the air cold. It was past the middle of November, and had been in bed only three or four days before with fever and congestion of the lungs; and she could scarcely stand. Apparently, her health had been from first to last, but very little thought of.

A one side of the road there was a long chapel with closed blinds, and grass-grown stone steps leading up to it. Valeria seated herself on these steps, and waited. She began to grow afraid, not knowing where she was. She would surely be ill again if she stayed there much longer. And she could not sit up, either. She had already exerted herself too much that day, and she could scarcely keep herself from lying down on the cold, wet stones.

It was about fifteen minutes before Miss Pendleton appeared, accompanied by a young man in a black dress, and wearing a black veil over a white one. She was a sister of San Carlo, an order founded by San Carlo Borromeo to take care of the sick.

The two were running. They made some hasty excuses, the gate opened, and they entered. It was a beautiful garden, and the road it opened into ran between a wall and a high slope, and was bordered with trees and shrubs, and there were fountains, even now, and the banks were bright green. Vines hung over the gate, and wreathed a little bridge that crossed over it.

They did not follow the road. The nun took them up a steep path leading to the bridge, when they entered the continuation of a branch of the avenue from the gate. The rain was falling, and the way seemed long; but the sister held Valeria by the arm and helped her along.

At length they reached a house, and, passing under palm-branches that overshadowed the steps, entered a small garden enclosed in an angle of the casino. At the door another sister met them, took charge of Valeria, led her upstairs, and helped her to bed.

Miss Pendleton took leave at once, promising to come again soon. Supper was brought, and she ate a little, sitting up in bed, and served by the nun who had met her at the door. Then she leaned forward and looked out the window. Opposite was the castle of St. Angelo, with the Tiber coming boldly forward a short distance, then turning aside out of sight. Behind the castle were fields, and beyond the fields a long range of mountains, faintly rose now opposite the rainy sunset. They had not deceived her in saying that the place was beautiful. This is not your room," the sister said. "Yours is larger. It will be ready for you tomorrow."

Later, the sister came softly in again, and began setting the room in order again for the night. She closed the shutters, placed a little flask of violet-water on a stand beside the bed, and smoothed the pillows and cover.

Valeria did not speak, nor open her eyes, but she smiled. This was something like care, like charity. Those quiet motions were telling, and when the sister went out, Valeria scarcely knew. It seemed to her that she heard the click of a lock when the door closed. But she forgot it immediately, and soon fell asleep.

CHAPTER XXVII.

For nearly 48 hours Valeria lay and suffered herself to be taken care of without a thought. The sister and the doctor had discovered immediately the mistakes or the neglect in her treatment and had remedied them. The ideal of care for a convalescent.

There were long hours of quiet loneliness, but never any neglect. Now and then she raised herself in bed, and leaning forward, looked out at the castle, the river, the stretching fields, and the far-off mountains. Once she rose and went to the window to see that was beneath. There was a narrow courtyard and beyond that a steep-dropping succession of roofs, looking like a shell-strewn beach with the multitudinous tiny curves of their mossy-lichened tiles.

A black old stone-wall was visible at the left, with weeds and flowers set in the interstices. The house was evidently on the brink of a steep hillside. There were two stories in front, and here there appeared to be a balcony. On the left of the view was the Vatican.

The window was crossed by heavy bars of wood, so that she could not put her head out; but that did not surprise her, one sees bolts and barred windows everywhere in Italy, and though they are usually seen only on the ground floor, it was not strange to a stranger to see them on the fourth, especially in a house inhabited by nuns.

The attendants were as pleasing as the place. A pretty young nurse came and went, ready to do anything, and never doing too much. Sister Agnes came every few hours to visit her.

Sister Agnes had that charm which only a nun could possess. Closed in her convent in her early youth, she had preserved the simplicity of a child, while acquiring the strength of character and experience in her duties as a woman. She was rather small, and her face had a severe and melancholy cast, but her smile was transfiguring, with a sudden childlike sweetness, and her manner, ordinarily calm and even taciturn, had in conversation, a charming vivacity. She had the instinct of a nurse, the gentle authority, the quick touch, the ready supporting arms, the quick eye, the order and neatness. She divined what was wanting without waiting to be asked.

On the second morning Sister Agnes came to Valeria to her room, which had now been prepared for her. It was on the same floor, but looked out over the villa instead of the city.

Of Interest to Women.

The Shirt Waist.

"Never within the memory of man have the women been so well clothed, and economically as they are to-day. This change is due to the shirt waist."

"I am heartily glad to see that at last woman is beginning to have some regard for the financial condition of the family provider. She proves it by her present simplicity in dress."

Of course these remarks were made by a man. That man is a bachelor, and a paid shirt waist bill. A married man would know better than to make such a statement.

The shirt waist is certainly comfortable, so comfortable that it seems to be necessary to woman's existence, but it certainly is not economical.

It is a statement made by those whose resources are unlimited, simply because they have never thought of the question. It is a cold fact, just the same.

And it is costing more every day, now that the great mass of women are realizing that the shirt waist, the ascot or four-in-hand, and the high neck, must each be spotted. To begin, the shirt waists may cost as much or as little as you choose. The first cost is only the beginning. The average woman chooses a happy medium as to price. Then she must have a fresh waist every day, at least every other day. She must have fresh neckties and collars unlimited. Her laundry bill for this bit of dress that is considered so economical by the unsophisticated bachelor is likely to be 25 cents per day. One dollar per week is a low estimate. The home woman, who really wishes to economize, can wash her own waists. She has that advantage. The business woman has no such opportunity, so must meet her bills if she would enjoy the shirt waist. Possibly one reason why the shirt waist has so captivated the hearts of the women who are dwellers in cities is that cotton gowns and out of the question for general wear. They are too expensive for the masses.

The country maiden, on first becoming a part of the life of married man, she cannot live without a quantity of airy cotton gowns in summer. Soon the grim fact that this luxury, especially in soot cities, means unlimited laundry bills confronts her, and one by one she sorrowfully gives up the fripperies so dear to her heart.

Ye bachelors, beware! Marriage takes warning. Do not choose the shirt waist girl for economic reasons. If you do, sad will be your awakening.

Girl's Summer Dress.

For church and party wear there is, of course, great latitude allowed, but for play and general every-day wear very simple little frocks are considered good style, and there seems to be a great wish to have everything as practical as possible. Glimpses of dresses are not worn now by children older than 12, but many of the dresses are trimmed to look as though they were worn with a guimpe, having a square or a round yoke and a wide ruffle, just as a guimpe dress is finished around the neck and shoulders. Unless a girl is very tall for her age, plain skirts look the best; but if she is tall, the skirt could have ruffles on it.

Shirt waists are now part of every girl's wardrobe, and certainly they look much better on children than they do on older women who have the range of mountains, faintly rose now opposite the rainy sunset. They had not deceived her in saying that the place was beautiful. This is not your room," the sister said. "Yours is larger. It will be ready for you tomorrow."

Later, the sister came softly in again, and began setting the room in order again for the night. She closed the shutters, placed a little flask of violet-water on a stand beside the bed, and smoothed the pillows and cover.

Valeria did not speak, nor open her eyes, but she smiled. This was something like care, like charity. Those quiet motions were telling, and when the sister went out, Valeria scarcely knew. It seemed to her that she heard the click of a lock when the door closed. But she forgot it immediately, and soon fell asleep.

CHAPTER XXVII.

For nearly 48 hours Valeria lay and suffered herself to be taken care of without a thought. The sister and the doctor had discovered immediately the mistakes or the neglect in her treatment and had remedied them. The ideal of care for a convalescent.

There were long hours of quiet loneliness, but never any neglect. Now and then she raised herself in bed, and leaning forward, looked out at the castle, the river, the stretching fields, and the far-off mountains. Once she rose and went to the window to see that was beneath. There was a narrow courtyard and beyond that a steep-dropping succession of roofs, looking like a shell-strewn beach with the multitudinous tiny curves of their mossy-lichened tiles.

A black old stone-wall was visible at the left, with weeds and flowers set in the interstices. The house was evidently on the brink of a steep hillside. There were two stories in front, and here there appeared to be a balcony. On the left of the view was the Vatican.

The window was crossed by heavy bars of wood, so that she could not put her head out; but that did not surprise her, one sees bolts and barred windows everywhere in Italy, and though they are usually seen only on the ground floor, it was not strange to a stranger to see them on the fourth, especially in a house inhabited by nuns.

The attendants were as pleasing as the place. A pretty young nurse came and went, ready to do anything, and never doing too much. Sister Agnes came every few hours to visit her.

Sister Agnes had that charm which only a nun could possess. Closed in her convent in her early youth, she had preserved the simplicity of a child, while acquiring the strength of character and experience in her duties as a woman. She was rather small, and her face had a severe and melancholy cast, but her smile was transfiguring, with a sudden childlike sweetness, and her manner, ordinarily calm and even taciturn, had in conversation, a charming vivacity. She had the instinct of a nurse, the gentle authority, the quick touch, the ready supporting arms, the quick eye, the order and neatness. She divined what was wanting without waiting to be asked.

On the second morning Sister Agnes came to Valeria to her room, which had now been prepared for her. It was on the same floor, but looked out over the villa instead of the city.

Of Interest to Women.

The Shirt Waist.

"Never within the memory of man have the women been so well clothed, and economically as they are to-day. This change is due to the shirt waist."

"I am heartily glad to see that at last woman is beginning to have some regard for the financial condition of the family provider. She proves it by her present simplicity in dress."

Of course these remarks were made by a man. That man is a bachelor, and a paid shirt waist bill. A married man would know better than to make such a statement.

The shirt waist is certainly comfortable, so comfortable that it seems to be necessary to woman's existence, but it certainly is not economical.

It is a statement made by those whose resources are unlimited, simply because they have never thought of the question. It is a cold fact, just the same.

And it is costing more every day, now that the great mass of women are realizing that the shirt waist, the ascot or four-in-hand, and the high neck, must each be spotted. To begin, the shirt waists may cost as much or as little as you choose. The first cost is only the beginning. The average woman chooses a happy medium as to price. Then she must have a fresh waist every day, at least every other day. She must have fresh neckties and collars unlimited. Her laundry bill for this bit of dress that is considered so economical by the unsophisticated bachelor is likely to be 25 cents per day. One dollar per week is a low estimate. The home woman, who really wishes to economize, can wash her own waists. She has that advantage. The business woman has no such opportunity, so must meet her bills if she would enjoy the shirt waist. Possibly one reason why the shirt waist has so captivated the hearts of the women who are dwellers in cities is that cotton gowns and out of the question for general wear. They are too expensive for the masses.

The country maiden, on first becoming a part of the life of married man, she cannot live without a quantity of airy cotton gowns in summer. Soon the grim fact that this luxury, especially in soot cities, means unlimited laundry bills confronts her, and one by one she sorrowfully gives up the fripperies so dear to her heart.

Ye bachelors, beware! Marriage takes warning. Do not choose the shirt waist girl for economic reasons. If you do, sad will be your awakening.

Girl's Summer Dress.

For church and party wear there is, of course, great latitude allowed, but for play and general every-day wear very simple little frocks are considered good style, and there seems to be a great wish to have everything as practical as possible. Glimpses of dresses are not worn now by children older than 12, but many of the dresses are trimmed to look as though they were worn with a guimpe, having a square or a round yoke and a wide ruffle, just as a guimpe dress is finished around the neck and shoulders. Unless a girl is very tall for her age, plain skirts look the best; but if she is tall, the skirt could have ruffles on it.

Shirt waists are now part of every girl's wardrobe, and certainly they look much better on children than they do on older women who have the range of mountains, faintly rose now opposite the rainy sunset. They had not deceived her in saying that the place was beautiful. This is not your room," the sister said. "Yours is larger. It will be ready for you tomorrow."

Later, the sister came softly in again, and began setting the room in order again for the night. She closed the shutters, placed a little flask of violet-water on a stand beside the bed, and smoothed the pillows and cover.

Valeria did not speak, nor open her eyes, but she smiled. This was something like care, like charity. Those quiet motions were telling, and when the sister went out, Valeria scarcely knew. It seemed to her that she heard the click of a lock when the door closed. But she forgot it immediately, and soon fell asleep.

CHAPTER XXVII.

For nearly 48 hours Valeria lay and suffered herself to be taken care of without a thought. The sister and the doctor had discovered immediately the mistakes or the neglect in her treatment and had remedied them. The ideal of care for a convalescent.

There were long hours of quiet loneliness, but never any neglect. Now and then she raised herself in bed, and leaning forward, looked out at the castle, the river, the stretching fields, and the far-off mountains. Once she rose and went to the window to see that was beneath. There was a narrow courtyard and beyond that a steep-dropping succession of roofs, looking like a shell-strewn beach with the multitudinous tiny curves of their mossy-lichened tiles.

A black old stone-wall was visible at the left, with weeds and flowers set in the interstices. The house was evidently on the brink of a steep hillside. There were two stories in front, and here there appeared to be a balcony. On the left of the view was the Vatican.

The window was crossed by heavy bars of wood, so that she could not put her head out; but that did not surprise her, one sees bolts and barred windows everywhere in Italy, and though they are usually seen only on the ground floor, it was not strange to a stranger to see them on the fourth, especially in a house inhabited by nuns.

The attendants were as pleasing as the place. A pretty young nurse came and went, ready to do anything, and never doing too much. Sister Agnes came every few hours to visit her.

Sister Agnes had that charm which only a nun could possess. Closed in her convent in her early youth, she had preserved the simplicity of a child, while acquiring the strength of character and experience in her duties as a woman. She was rather small, and her face had a severe and melancholy cast, but her smile was transfiguring, with a sudden childlike sweetness, and her manner, ordinarily calm and even taciturn, had in conversation, a charming vivacity. She had the instinct of a nurse, the gentle authority, the quick touch, the ready supporting arms, the quick eye, the order and neatness. She divined what was wanting without waiting to be asked.

On the second morning Sister Agnes came to Valeria to her room, which had now been prepared for her. It was on the same floor, but looked out over the villa instead of the city.

Of Interest to Women.

The Shirt Waist.

"Never within the memory of man have the women been so well clothed, and economically as they are to-day. This change is due to the shirt waist."

"I am heartily glad to see that at last woman is beginning to have some regard for the financial condition of the family provider. She proves it by her present simplicity in dress."

Of course these remarks were made by a man. That man is a bachelor, and a paid shirt waist bill. A married man would know better than to make such a statement.

The shirt waist is certainly comfortable, so comfortable that it seems to be necessary to woman's existence, but it certainly is not economical.

It is a statement made by those whose resources are unlimited, simply because they have never thought of the question. It is a cold fact, just the same.

And it is costing more every day, now that the great mass of women are realizing that the shirt waist, the ascot or four-in-hand, and the high neck, must each be spotted. To begin, the shirt waists may cost as much or as little as you choose. The first cost is only the beginning. The average woman chooses a happy medium as to price. Then she must have a fresh waist every day, at least every other day. She must have fresh neckties and collars unlimited. Her laundry bill for this bit of dress that is considered so economical by the unsophisticated bachelor is likely to be 25 cents per day. One dollar per week is a low estimate. The home woman, who really wishes to economize, can wash her own waists. She has that advantage. The business woman has no such opportunity, so must meet her bills if she would enjoy the shirt waist. Possibly one reason why the shirt waist has so captivated the hearts of the women who are dwellers in cities is that cotton gowns and out of the question for general wear. They are too expensive for the masses.

The country maiden, on first becoming a part of the life of married man, she cannot live without a quantity of airy cotton gowns in summer. Soon the grim fact that this luxury, especially in soot cities, means unlimited laundry bills confronts her, and one by one she sorrowfully gives up the fripperies so dear to her heart.

Ye bachelors, beware! Marriage takes warning. Do not choose the shirt waist girl for economic reasons. If you do, sad will be your awakening.

range of mountains, faintly rose now opposite the rainy sunset. They had not deceived her in saying that the place was beautiful. This is not your room," the sister said. "Yours is larger. It will be ready for you tomorrow."

Later, the sister came softly in again, and began setting the room in order again for the night. She closed the shutters, placed a little flask of violet-water on a stand beside the bed, and smoothed the pillows and cover.

Valeria did not speak, nor open her eyes, but she smiled. This was something like care, like charity. Those quiet motions were telling, and when the sister went out, Valeria scarcely knew. It seemed to her that she heard the click of a lock when the door closed. But she forgot it immediately, and soon fell asleep.

CHAPTER XXVII.

For nearly 48 hours Valeria lay and suffered herself to be taken care of without a thought. The sister and the doctor had discovered immediately the mistakes or the neglect in her treatment and had remedied them. The ideal of care for a convalescent.

There were long hours of quiet loneliness, but never any neglect. Now and then she raised herself in bed, and leaning forward, looked out at the castle, the river, the stretching fields, and the far-off mountains. Once she rose and went to the window to see that was beneath. There was a narrow courtyard and beyond that a steep-dropping succession of roofs, looking like a shell-strewn beach with the multitudinous tiny curves of their mossy-lichened tiles.

A black old stone-wall was visible at the left, with weeds and flowers set in the interstices. The house was evidently on the brink of a steep hillside. There were two stories in front, and here there appeared to be a balcony. On the left of the view was the Vatican.

The window was crossed by heavy bars of wood, so that she could not put her head out; but that did not surprise her, one sees bolts and barred windows everywhere in Italy, and though they are usually seen only on the ground floor, it was not strange to a stranger to see them on the fourth, especially in a house inhabited by nuns.

The attendants were as pleasing as the place. A pretty young nurse came and went, ready to do anything, and never doing too much. Sister Agnes came every few hours to visit her.

Sister Agnes had that charm which only a nun could possess. Closed in her convent in her early youth, she had preserved the simplicity of a child, while acquiring the strength of character and experience in her duties as a woman. She was rather small, and her face had a severe and melancholy cast, but her smile was transfiguring, with a sudden childlike sweetness, and her manner, ordinarily calm and even taciturn, had in conversation, a charming vivacity. She had the instinct of a nurse, the gentle authority, the quick touch, the ready supporting arms, the quick eye, the order and neatness. She divined what was wanting without waiting to be asked.

On the second morning Sister Agnes came to Valeria to her room, which had now been prepared for her. It was on the same floor, but looked out over the villa instead of the city.

Of Interest to Women.

The Shirt Waist.

"Never within the memory of man have the women been so well clothed, and economically as they are to-day. This change is due to the shirt waist."

"I am heartily glad to see that at last woman is beginning to have some regard for the financial condition of the family provider. She proves it by her present simplicity in dress."

Of course these remarks were made by a man. That man is a bachelor, and a paid shirt waist bill. A married man would know better than to make such a statement.

The shirt waist is certainly comfortable, so comfortable that it seems to be necessary to woman's existence, but it certainly is not economical.

It is a statement made by those whose resources are unlimited, simply because they have never thought of the question. It is a cold fact, just the same.

And it is costing more every day, now that the great mass of women are realizing that the shirt waist, the ascot or four-in-hand, and the high neck, must each be spotted. To begin, the shirt waists may cost as much or as little as you choose. The first cost is only the beginning. The average woman chooses a happy medium as to price. Then she must have a fresh waist every day, at least every other day. She must have fresh neckties and collars unlimited. Her laundry bill for this bit of dress that is considered so economical by the unsophisticated bachelor is likely to be 25 cents per day. One dollar per week is a low estimate. The home woman, who really wishes to economize, can wash her own waists. She has that advantage. The business woman has no such opportunity, so must meet her bills if she would enjoy the shirt waist. Possibly one reason why the shirt waist has so captivated the hearts of the women who are dwellers in cities is that cotton gowns and out of the question for general wear. They are too expensive for the masses.

The country maiden, on first becoming a part of the life of married man, she cannot live without a quantity of airy cotton gowns in summer. Soon the grim fact that this luxury, especially in soot cities, means unlimited laundry bills confronts her, and one by one she sorrowfully gives up the fripperies so dear to her heart.

Ye bachelors, beware! Marriage takes warning. Do not choose the shirt waist girl for economic reasons. If you do, sad will be your awakening.

Girl's Summer Dress.

For church and party wear there is, of course, great latitude allowed, but for play and general every-day wear very simple little frocks are considered good style, and there seems to be a great wish to have everything as practical as possible. Glimpses of dresses are not worn now by children older than 12, but many of the dresses are trimmed to look as though they were worn with a guimpe, having a square or a round yoke and a wide ruffle, just as a guimpe dress is finished around the neck and shoulders. Unless a girl is very tall for her age, plain skirts look the best; but if she is tall, the skirt could have ruffles on it.

Shirt waists are now part of every girl's wardrobe, and certainly they look much better on children than they do on older women who have the range of mountains, faintly rose now opposite the rainy sunset. They had not deceived her in saying that the place was beautiful. This is not your room," the sister said. "Yours is larger. It will be ready for you tomorrow."

Later, the sister came softly in again, and began setting the room in order again for the night. She closed the shutters, placed a little flask of violet-water on a stand beside the bed, and smoothed the pillows and cover.

Valeria did not speak, nor open her eyes, but she smiled. This was something like care, like charity. Those quiet motions were telling, and when the sister went out, Valeria scarcely knew. It seemed to her that she heard the click of a lock when the door closed. But she forgot it immediately, and soon fell asleep.

CHAPTER XXVII.

For nearly 48 hours Valeria lay and suffered herself to be taken care of without a thought. The sister and the doctor had discovered immediately the mistakes or the neglect in her treatment and had remedied them. The ideal of care for a convalescent.

There were long hours of quiet loneliness, but never any neglect. Now and then she raised herself in bed, and leaning forward, looked out at the castle, the river, the stretching fields, and the far-off mountains. Once she rose and went to the window to see that was beneath. There was a narrow courtyard and beyond that a steep-dropping succession of roofs, looking like a shell-strewn beach with the multitudinous tiny curves of their mossy-lichened tiles.

A black old stone-wall was visible at the left, with weeds and flowers set in the interstices. The house was evidently on the brink of a steep hillside. There were two stories in front, and here there appeared to be a balcony. On the left of the view was the Vatican.

The window was crossed by heavy bars of wood, so that she could not put her head out; but that did not surprise her, one sees bolts and barred windows everywhere in Italy, and though they are usually seen only on the ground floor, it was not strange to a stranger to see them on the fourth, especially in a house inhabited by nuns.

The attendants were as pleasing as the place. A pretty young nurse came and went, ready to do anything, and never doing too much. Sister Agnes came every few hours to visit her.

Sister Agnes had that charm which only a nun could possess. Closed in her convent in her early youth, she had preserved the simplicity of a child, while acquiring the strength of character and experience in her duties as a woman. She was rather small, and her face had a severe and melancholy cast, but her smile was transfiguring, with a sudden childlike sweetness, and her manner, ordinarily calm and even taciturn, had in conversation, a charming vivacity. She had the instinct of a nurse, the gentle authority, the quick touch, the ready supporting arms, the quick eye, the order and neatness. She divined what was wanting without waiting to be asked.

On the second morning Sister Agnes came to Valeria to her room, which had now been prepared for her. It was on the same floor, but looked out over the villa instead of the city.

Of Interest to Women.

The Shirt Waist.

"Never within the memory of man have the women been so well clothed, and economically as they are to-day. This change is due to the shirt waist."

"I am heartily glad to see that at last woman is beginning to have some regard for the financial condition of the family provider. She proves it by her present simplicity in dress."

Of course these remarks were made by a man. That man is a bachelor, and a paid shirt waist bill. A married man would know better than to make such a statement.

The shirt waist is certainly comfortable, so comfortable that it seems to be necessary to woman's existence, but it certainly is not economical.

It is a statement made by those whose resources are unlimited, simply because they have never thought of the question. It is a cold fact, just the same.

And it is costing more every day, now that the great mass of women are realizing that the shirt waist, the ascot or four-in-hand, and the high neck, must each be spotted. To begin, the shirt waists may cost as much or as little as you choose. The first cost is only the beginning. The average woman chooses a happy medium as to price. Then she must have a fresh waist every day, at least every other day. She must have fresh neckties and collars unlimited. Her laundry bill for this bit of dress that is considered so economical by the unsophisticated bachelor is likely to be 25 cents per day. One dollar per week is a low estimate. The home woman, who really wishes to economize, can wash her own waists. She has that advantage. The business woman has no such opportunity, so must meet her bills if she would enjoy the shirt waist. Possibly one reason why the shirt waist has so captivated the hearts of the women who are dwellers in cities is that cotton gowns and out of the question for general wear. They are too expensive for the masses.

The country maiden, on first becoming a part of the life of married man, she cannot live without a quantity of airy cotton gowns in summer. Soon the grim fact that this luxury, especially in soot cities, means unlimited laundry bills confronts her, and one by one she sorrowfully gives up the fripperies so dear to her heart.

Ye bachelors, beware! Marriage takes warning. Do not choose the shirt waist girl for economic reasons. If you do, sad will be your awakening.

range of mountains, faintly rose now opposite the rainy sunset. They had not deceived her in saying that the place was beautiful. This is not your room," the sister said. "Yours is larger. It will be ready for you tomorrow."

Later, the sister came softly in again, and began setting the room in order again for the night. She closed the shutters, placed a little flask of violet-water on a stand beside the bed, and smoothed the pillows and cover.

Valeria did not speak, nor open her eyes, but she smiled. This was something like care, like charity. Those quiet motions were telling, and when the sister went out, Valeria scarcely knew. It seemed to her that she heard the click of a lock when the door closed. But she forgot it immediately, and soon fell asleep.

CHAPTER XXVII.

For nearly 48 hours Valeria lay and suffered herself to be taken care of without a thought. The sister and the doctor had discovered immediately the mistakes or the neglect in her treatment and had remedied them. The ideal of care for a convalescent.

There were long hours of quiet loneliness, but never any neglect. Now and then she raised herself in bed, and leaning forward, looked out at the

Do You Need Some Wall Paper?

Clean up, cheer up and brighten up the home with new Wall Paper. The sitting-room, dining-room and bedrooms will look and feel better to stay in. Borders to match any style of paper. A pleasure to show samples.

O. B. GRAVES,
222 Dundas Street.

Do You Fish?

Why buy trawls tackle when you can get the best so cheap at Brock's? We keep only first-class goods, and our prices are right.

W. A. BROCK,
192 Dundas St., London.

DR. S. J. CAMPBELL,
DENTIST, 430 PARK AVENUE,
Between Dundas and Queen's Ave. Phone 922.

R. K. COWAN,
BARRISTER, ETC.,
County Buildings, Court House Square

PLAIN OR ORNAMENTAL

Wall Papers can be selected from our stock, which is large and varied. If you cannot get what you want at our store you will not be able to buy it in the city.

H. & C. Colerick, 484 Richmond Street

UP TO THE TIMES.

Modern, progressive people always take advantage of modern methods. They are the successful people of the day. Among other things they use which is as far ahead of all other forms of illumination as anything can be. To learn all about it, telephone 922.

ELECTRIC LIGHT,

London Electric Co.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Feather and down cushions, 50 cents each. Large stock of goose feather pillows and cushions. Stoves bought and sold at the Feather Bed and Mattress Cleaning Factory. James F. Hunt & Sons, 593 Richmond street north. Telephone 997.

We have just opened out a fine line of furniture coverings, imported direct from England. All the latest shades and designs. The successful people of the day. Among other things they use

Long & Dyer, Wood Finishers.—Houses and offices oil finished. All kinds of wood finishing a specialty. Pianos highly polished. Furniture, etc., oiled and painted. Picture frames made to order. Notice we have removed from 290 1/2 Dundas street, to Turner's old carriage shop, Richmond street.

Look After Your Dogs.—This hot weather makes a specialty of treating the diseases of the dog. Office, 137 King street; residence and infirmary, corner of King and Wellington streets. R. C. Barnes, V.S., honor graduate, O. V. C., assistant. J. H. Tennant, veterinary surgeon. Telephone—House 275, office 585.

Excursion to Atlantic City—Via New York.—GOVERNMENT of the New York Central will give its Canadian patrons an opportunity of spending ten days at this famous sea bathing resort at the very low rate of $10 for the round trip from Suspension Bridge.

CALL on nearest ticket agent for further information, or address H. C. Parry, general agent, N. Y. C. and N. E. R., 308 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Shake in Your Shoes cures bad odor, sweaty and sore feet. 25 cents. 66 1/2

Don't use inferior bicycle oil. when you can get the best for 5 cents per bottle at Henry David's, 589 Richmond street, near Albert.

NEWFOUNDLAND

The Island's Affairs To Be Investigated
—Proposal to Fortify St. Johns.

St. John's, Nfld., July 20.—The special colonial delegation from Newfoundland, now in London, have succeeded in securing the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the internal resources of the colony and to institute a thorough inquiry into the condition of the population residing on the French treaty coast.

The British war office also favored fortifying St. John's. The colony is to be allowed representation before the joint commission to assemble at Quebec for a discussion and settlement of the issues between the United States and Canada.

Canada and Newfoundland will be represented there by Receiver-General Morine. General satisfaction is felt here over the results of the mission.

No other preparation has ever done so many people so much good as Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Great Kidney Medicine.

Meat Quality...

Is made the test in every animal we buy for the block. Each is of the purest of the right degree of fatness for delicious steaks, roasts and chops. There's a mighty big difference in meat. The meats we weigh out are cut from the choicest animals that money will buy or grain will fatten. Prices are cheaper than you pay for the common quality.

J. H. GATECLIFF,
297 Dundas Street.

Refrigerators,
Gas Stoves,
Blue Flame Oil Stoves,
Ice Cream Freezers
And Household Specialties.

We have a large and complete stock.

Stevely's, Richmond Street, Phone 458.

GENERALLY FAIR; COOLER TONIGHT.

Toronto, July 19, 11 p.m.—The low area which was over the Northwest Territories last night is moving quickly eastward, across the lake region, while high pressure is spreading towards Manitoba. Showers and thunderstorms have been fairly general today between Lake Superior and the Maritime Provinces. The weather has turned much cooler in Manitoba and the Territories. Minimum and maximum temperatures: Esquimaux, 50-70; Kamloops, 54-62; Calgary, 44-56; Qu'Appelle, 48-56; Winnipeg, 53-73; Port Arthur, 58-68; Toronto, 70-88; Parry Sound, 70-88; Ottawa, 66-82; Montreal, 70-88; Quebec, 64-86; Halifax, 64-70.

Probabilities for the lower lakes.—Fresh to strong westerly to north-westerly winds; generally fair. A few local thunderstorms in the day, turning cooler by night.

Local temperature.—The highest and lowest readings of the thermometer at the observatory yesterday were 83 and 69 above.

MIND YOU

Our reputation—our business—is built on "The Best of Everything in Flowers and Floral Accessories."

Cor. Dundas & Clarence. Gammage & Sons.

THE WATSON-JOHNSTON CO.
Importers of Fine Woollens

239 Dundas Street.

London Advertiser.

TELEPHONE NUMBERS:
107.....Business Offices
124.....Editorial Room
178.....Job Departments

A LOCAL BUDGET

—It is Dr. J. W. Orme, of this city (not Deane, as misprinted), who is taking charge of the practice of Dr. Campbell, of Zurich, during the absence of the latter on a pleasure trip.

—Hamilton Times: The store formerly occupied by Newport, King street east, will be opened again in a few days by Messrs. D. & R. McKay, of London, who will carry on a confectionery business.

—A correspondent writes: Mr. T. W. Peat, the popular mail carrier between London and Fernhill, has no doubt traveled a greater number of miles than any other in the service, and I doubt if there is another carrier in the Dominion whose contract beats this record: Six days a week, at the rate of 44 miles a day for 2 years, 2 months, and 14 days; the total of miles 35,448.

—A meeting of the Endeavorers of the Memorial Church was held on Monday evening in the schoolroom, when Rev. Canon Richardson, who returned a few days ago from the Christian Endeavor international convention at Nashville, Tenn., gave an interesting address, full of information on that subject. The address was on a noble one, and was listened to with great interest by those present.

—Ingersoll Chronicle: Many of our citizens will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Delevan McDermid, which took place at St. Joseph's Hospital, London, on Monday whence she had been conveyed to undergo an operation. Deceased was in the 37th year of her age. The funeral will take place from the residence of her sister, Mrs. L. J. Boulton, Dundas street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—The Bradford Courier says that Matthew Craig, the G. T. R. man who was so terribly injured by being struck on the head by a train at Paris on Saturday that he died from his injuries at the hospital, was 34 years of age. He was for several years a trusted employee of the G. T. R. at Bradford, and was very popular among his fellows. Craig was one of the few chosen to go to London when the show was removed from Bradford. He was a widower and leaves a little daughter, besides a loving mother, and a brother John, in Bradford. To the bereaved relatives sincere sympathy will go out.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good."

The Fly has come to the front. 341f

If you want a good, bright, cheerful light for the long nights get Lillywhite Oil. Ask your grocer for it. It's the best lamp oil now offered. We don't supply kerosene, gasoline, benzine, cylinder and machine oils at lowest prices. Phone 307—Empire Oil Co.

INDISPENS- ABLE!

Simply can't get on these hot days without cool, soft shirts. May exist, but with no degree of comfort.

Our dollar and dollar and a half Madras Shirts are the nicest, coolest and best soft shirts in town.

BOUGHNER,

Andersons

Going holidaying or going to remain at home? Well it doesn't matter which. You'll enjoy either by getting a supply of our most popular and useful goods. (Only best authors kept) and using our Dainty Stationery.

Croquet at Cost.

183 Dundas Street.

INVADED BY SCOTS

Fraser Heights Stormed by Wearers of the Tartan.

The Woods Resonant With the Skirl of the Bagpipes.

Fully 4,000 People Attend the Annual Picnic.

Presentation of an Address to Ex-
President J. D. Clarke, of St. Andrew's Society—Races and Dancing
Those Who Won Them.

Port Stanley was given over to the wearers of the tartan yesterday, and all day long Fraser Hill resounded with the skirl of the pipes and the beat of the drum. The annual picnic of the Scotchmen of London and St. Thomas was, as always, a day of great pleasure. Considering the many factors that conduce to the success of these outings, this was probably the best for years, in but one respect. The attendance was not as large as last year, but that can be accounted for by the fact that the good Scotch people of Westminster and of the country surrounding the Port would be loth to leave their homes and their families when a day is of such value to them. Their accustomed association was missed and the crowd was smaller than usual, otherwise the outing was perfect. The sun was hidden the greater part of the day, and a cool, refreshing breeze came steadily from the lake, a couple of showers just added spice to the day's programme and did not cause any great discomfort.

THE RACES.

There was no set programme until 3 p.m., when the races began on the course east of the dancing pavilion. The events were exciting and amusing. They lasted over an hour and attracted a large crowd. The winners were:

Boys' race, over 7 and under 10—E. Garside, 2 Albert Nicholson, 3 B. Carling, 4 S. McLeod.

Girls' race, over 7 and under 10—Mable Groves, 2 Greta Spry, 3 Ursula Corney, 4 Flo Hiscott.

Boys' race, over 10 and under 14—H. Burns, 2 C. McLeod, 3 W. Brown.

Girls' race, over 10 and under 14—Sadie Duncan, 2 Nellie Talling, 3 Christine Adams, 4 Margaret Brown.

Members' race—R. H. Ferguson, 2 Walter B. Laidlaw, 3 D. Black, 4 R. McPherson.

Shower for men, 100 yards—W. Devine, 2 F. Skinner, 3 H. E. Wismer.

Jockey race—W. Devine and F. Skinner, 2 John Allen and John MacGregor.

Committee men's race—W. B. Laidlaw, 2 R. K. Cowan.

The judges were Messrs. R. K. Cowan, George Taylor and J. W. McIntosh, and the starters, Bert McDonald, of London, and John Monroe, of St. Thomas.

THE DANCING.

When the races were concluded the dancing stand became the center of attraction. Several competitors stepped to the sound of the pipe played by Messrs. George Angus and Thomas McDonald. The various events were well executed, and the crowd frequently applauded vigorously. The judges were Messrs. Donald Ross, of Embro, and Robert Macpherson and Ed. Reid, of this city, and their awards were as follows:

Best dressed boy in Highland costume—Gurney Armstrong, St. Thomas.

Best dressed girl in Highland costume—Ina Kiddell, London.

Highland fling, for girls under 14—Susie McGill, 2 Ina Kiddell, 3 Freppa Armstrong.

Highland fling, boys under 14—Frankie Tucker, 2 Gurney Armstrong.

Highland fling, girls and boys over 14—W. Templeton, 2 and 3 Florence Small and Violet Le Claire (tie).

Sword dance, boys and girls over 14—W. Templeton, 2 Florence Small, 3 Shaun Trews, girls over 14 and under 18—Florence Small, 2 Violet Le Claire.

Sailors' hornpipe, in costume, boys and girls over 14—Florence Small, 2 Susie McGill.

Irish jig, in costume—J. Butts, 2 Susie McGill, 3 Florence Small.

The Reel of Tulloch was given by Misses Susie McGill and Florence Small and Messrs. W. Templeton and R. Macpherson as an exhibition dance.

OTHER SPORTS.

A quoiting match was won by R. Robertson, with J. Bell second, R. Erington third, and S. Mason fourth.

A tug-of-war between London and St. Thomas was declared a draw, after two attempts to get a fair pull. The teams were: London—John Milne (captain), Jack Crawford (animator), W. Haddon, John McDonald, Archie Nicholson, J. McArthur, M. Tierney, R. Robertson and John Barrett. St.

Thomas—E. Padden (anchor), W. Devine, G. W. Trumbull, W. Kimble, W. Flowers, D. McLean, Chas. McNeil and B. Campbell.

The prize for the oldest Scotchman on the grounds was given to Mr. Wm. Murray, of Westminster, who is 82 years of age.

THE DINNER.

At the Fraser House in the evening dinner was served. The attendance included many of the prominent workers of the society, among them being: President T. H. Purdon, Col. Macbeth, J. D. Clarke, James McSwain, J. W. McIntosh, George Taylor, Robt. Reid, senior, Judge Edward Elliott, Sheriff Cameron, Frank Love, J. W. Jones, L. Macpherson, J. Haddon, McDonald, W. Angus, Captain Williams and Andrew Denholm. The repast, of course, included a "haggis."

A toast list had been prepared, but the president announced that owing to the hour this would be dispensed with. One of the principal objects of the gathering was, however, the presentation of an address to Mr. J. D. Clarke, ex-president of the society. Mr. Clarke is about to leave the city, and Mr. J. D. Clarke, and all the members of the society would regret his going. As editor of The Advertiser, Mr. Clarke had used the columns of the paper in behalf of the society, and had always taken a deep interest in its work. The members of St. Andrew's Society would say in the words of Rip Van Winkle's toast, "Here's your good health, and that of your family, and may you live long and prosper." The speaker had long known Mr. Clarke, and knew him to possess qualities which were bound to lead to success wherever his lot might be cast.

Mr. Robert Reid, sen., a past president of the society, was called upon to read the address, which he prefaced by complimenting Mr. Clarke on being a thoroughly representative son of Scotland. His departure would mean a great loss to the society, but he was going another sphere of action, where one of the most ancient Scottish organizations in Canada existed, and when he arrived in Ottawa he would be heartily welcomed by the Scotchmen of that city. The address was as follows:

J. D. Clarke, Esq.: Dear Sir,—The members of the S. A. S. of the city of London, understanding that it is your intention to leave the city, and therefore withdraw from the membership of our society, feel that it is a duty we owe to you, in taking your departure to your new field of labor, to express to you our hope that success will attend you in the new field of labor which you have chosen for yourself, and to judge from the success which has marked your career while a citizen of London we have no fear, but believe that the same fortune will continue in the new field upon which you are entering. It is, however, as a member of S. A. S. for many years you have been among us, that your place will be most keenly felt, and your absence very hard to fill. Few of our past presidents have filled the position with equal ability. Your wide acquaintance with the history and literature of the native land marked you out as a Scotsman to the manor born. Not that your national instincts are of that narrow kind which see nothing good outside of the native land, but that your broad sympathies the world over, illustrating the truth so well put by the poet Tennyson, that "he is the best cosmopolitan who loves his native country best." We hope, sir, in the city to which you are in the meantime removing, that you will find the same kindred sympathies, and our brother Scots of Ottawa will give you a guide to the new field of labor.

Mr. Reid, Mr. W. Jones, the veteran treasurer, and Mr. James McSwain, who became the first secretary, with other old members, took the matter up, and craved my aid as a newspaper editor, and as a friend in the good work which they had in view. I readily assented, and the association which have been so well set forth in the address just read. Let me say in passing, that the society has uniformly prospered from that time until now. I have a profound regard for my native land, but those who have known me during my long sojourn in the Dominion need not be told that I have no narrow conceptions of the duties of citizenship. I have lived in Canada since I was in my teens, and have spent more than half of my life in this country. All my manhood associations have been Canadian. I have never hesitated to say that this is a country of which any man may be proud to be a citizen. It is a land where a man with a fertile brain and willing hands can make a living and enjoy the blessings of rule under British institutions, and in connection with the greatest empire that ever sun shone on. It matters not what his antecedents may have been, or to what country he belongs. You say, in this address, that I am no narrow admirer of the land of my nativity, and that the aid which I may have been able to give to the objects of the St. Andrew's Society are the result of broad and patriotic rather than contracted views of my duty as a citizen of Canada. In my interpretation of my conception of the aim of every true Canadian, no matter what his origin, I have always felt that these national anniversaries, and in providing for the relief of the needy and unfortunate, were our organizations be composed of persons of Scottish, English, Irish, French, German, or any other nationality that goes to aid in making up the great Canadian nation, we but cultivate those sentiments of patriotism and brotherly kindness, that constitute the national character, and that I have no misgivings as to my welcome in the national capital. I have been told that the St. Andrew's Society, established upwards of sixty years ago, has numbered, and still numbers in its members, ship many eminent men, and that it is strong and influential. You are kind enough to say that I may hope to find

Five Foolish Virgins

Forgot to trim their lamps, and so could not follow the bridegroom into the midnight marriage feast.

Postpone the buying of their Winter Blankets until the cold weather is here, and so lose the money they might save at Kingsmill's mid-summer bargain feast.

Cheapest Blanket in London, 88 inch pink borders, fast colors, during Summer Sale per pair..... $2.50

Carpet Warehouse—Kingsmill's

Carling Street.

Foolish House-Keepers

Carpet Warehouse—Kingsmill's

Carling Street.

Bike Hose

New Styles 50c-75c-$1

GRAHAM BROS.

159 Dundas Street.

SUMMER HOLIDAYS.

Those Who Are Spending Them in London—Londonsers Abroad.

Rev. Father Brady, of this city, visited Woodstock this week.

Miss Jennie Gibson, of Blythe, is taking a course as a trained nurse at London.

Miss Maud Evans, London, is the guest of Mrs. Mounter, Lorne avenue, Windsor.

Miss Minnie Mack and the Misses Dymes sailed via the Persian Tuesday for Montreal.

Mr. W. J. Stewart, of the Standard Bank, Brussels, is visiting friends at London and elsewhere.

Miss Mary Graham, of 649 Waterloo street, is visiting her friend, Miss Gertrude Burnett, of Toronto.

Lieut.-Col. A. E. Belcher, of the Lakeview town of Southampton, is on a visit to the city after many years' absence.

Mr. John Jones and Miss Laura Jones, of this city, are at present staying with Mrs. Lavery, at her home in Toronto.

Mr. R. S. Williamson, and son Alexander, of Idylwild, Guelph, are visiting Mrs. U. A. Buchner, at 129 Elmwood avenue.

Miss Marian McDonald, of London, is the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ewart, Thames street south, Ingersoll.

Master Scott and Miss Agnes Black, of Wroster, are at present visiting with their uncle, Mr. Murdoch McLenna, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and family, who have been visiting Mr. Roberts' sister, Mrs. Fawcett, of "Crowsnest" have returned to their home in Patterson, N. J.

Rev. S. J. Allin and sons, Cleve, and Clark, left Brussels this week on a holiday tour on their bicycles. After a few days at London, Mr. Allin and Cleve, go on to Sarnia, Detroit and Amherstburg, and Clark goes toward the rising sun, to visit relatives at Bowmanville.

GOLD GALORE

Klondike Clean-Up Estimated at $10,000,000.

Seattle, Wash., July 20.—The steamer Roanoke arrived from St. Michael yesterday afternoon with 240 passengers and a million and a half in gold, 10,000 ounces bulk of gold belonging to the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The schooner Samoa arrived from St. Michael's with 34 Klondikers, who brought with them from $300,000 to $500,000 in gold dust. The Samoa left St. Michael's July 6. Among her passengers was Thomas C. Austin, of New Whatcom, Wash., who states that the clean-up on Eldorado, Bonanza and Hunker Creeks this season will not be less than ten million dollars. This, together with about $5,000,000 of last season's output will be shipped out this year. He confirms previous reports that no important new discoveries have been made. When the Samoa left St. Michael there were many people who had decided not to go to Dawson and were waiting an opportunity to come back.

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 20.—Frank Phiscator, the Baroda gold king, of this county, has just arrived from the Klondike with $120,000 in gold nuggets. Last year, about this time, Mr. Phiscator came out of the Klondike with $100,000 in gold. He sold four of his best claims to an English syndicate for one million dollars. Early this spring he returned to the gold country and took the $120,000 from his remaining claim.

Shake in Your Shoes has cured thousands of feet. Will cure yours. 25 cents. 84f

In answering advertisements or in inquiring at a store respecting something advertised kindly mention that you saw the advertisement in this paper