HIT IT HARD.

Away back in the early thirties of the last century, a tall, lean, lanky laborer on a Mississippi flat-boat, after he had helped to unload his cargo at New Orleans, strolled through the city and found himself in the slave market. There he saw that evil in all its brutal shamelessness—ugly and merciless. He saw human beings put up on the auctioneer's block, and sold like cattle. He saw families torn asunder, women degraded, and the divine image in the human form insulted and abused. He knew that slavery was maintained by professedly good men, defended in the pulpit, and preserved by the legislature. But the man's soul revolted. He brushed aside the flimsy sophistries that surrounded the evil, and baring his head, he swore, "If ever I get a chance to hit that thing, by the Eternal God, I will hit it hard." And thirty years after that same man, Abraham Lincoln, had his chance, and hit hard, and human slavery died.

There is another slavery today in civilized society, an evil that has come down from ancient days, that appeals to man's appetite and passions, that is supported by social customs, recognized by the law, defended by good but mistaken men. It is an evil that wastes property, degrades men, and kills the soul. As much as human slavery ever did, just as much today does the drink evil disrupt families, debase manhood, destroy humanity. It is hard to kill entirely; perhaps during our lives it may not disappear. But there is a chance to hit it the severest blow it ever received in this fair province of ours. Will you hit it, and hit it hard?

Thousands of people have for years been calling for the chance to hit it. Mothers sorrowing over the disgrace and shame of their boys, have been praying for the chance. Fathers grieved for the wasted lives of their sons have been longing for it. Human wrecks, hoping little for themselves, have been calling for it. Christian men and women, hoping for the uplift of humanity, have been praying for it. What are you going to do now? Here is the opportunity. You may not kill the evil entirely, but you can hit, and hit it hard. Will you forget party, forget personal friendships, forget your admiration for this man or the other, forget everything but the fact that the enemy is before you, and strike hard?

REMEMBER.

ONE or two things, closely related, the honest voter has to keep firmly in mind as the time approaches for him to mark his ballot. First, the liquor interest is solid for Mr. Hanna, which proves the absurdity of the Government's "temperance" map of Ontario now circulating. Secondly, it is liquor money that is oiling the Tory wheels through the constituencies. Third, Mr. Rowell is a lifelong teetotaler, and will be not merely bound, but eager, to enforce the abolition of the bar.

Don't forget that Mr. Hanna has thwarted the temperance law in Huron County. Don't forget that while this Government gave way to Mr. Rowell's insistence for workmen's compensation, it had stood firm against his other, and even greater social measure, the abolition of the bar. Why? It intends to amend the life out of compensation if it gets the chance, but can't afford to break for a moment with its friends of the brewer, the tavern and the saloons. Whiskey is the life-blood of our Government. Even in darkest Russia an outcry has arisen of late against vodka as the motor power of the bureaucracy's machinery. Shall we not in Ontario take thought against a government that stands by and depends on the bar-room?

Remember that the bar is, and always has been, the mainspring of the liquor evil. It is far worse in these modern times of adulteration and populous cities than it ever was, in spite of restrictions on days and hours.

However difficult it may be sometimes to prohibit liquor-selling in shops and drug stores, no one sincerely expects any difficulty in stamping out the bar-room in civilized and well-policed communities. The savage effects of the liquor men against the proposal are proof of this.

Remember these things, and mark the ballot as a good citizen, as a philanthropist and reformer, as an honorable man.

Are the temperance people of this province to refuse to vote for temperance simply because a political party is in favor of it?

ARE YOU CONVINCED?

IF YOU have any doubt about how to vote on the liquor question, go into a book store and buy a copy of Jack London's "John Barleycorn." This is probably the most virile contribution to the temperance question in the twentieth century. It tells the miseries of a "booze-fighter's" life, and the author knows what he is talking about, for it is of his own life he writes. He frankly admits the horror of it all, the terrible influence upon his life. He tells of his inability to stop drinking. He "breaks out" even yet. Through it all, the manliness of the man calls out to women to do the work that men will not do. He asks them to wipe the curse from the face of the earth.

What a blessing it would be to all womankind if all womankind would use her influence to choke the awful thing.

A CONTINENT-WIDE MOVEMENT.

WITHIN a short time the open bar will have become an antique. The next generation will regard as curiosities the long mahogany and oak troughs at which men stood for hours to drink intoxicating liquors. There will be places of refreshment at which men will stop for a moment to secure a cooling drink, but public opinion will not soon allow the spectacle of debauchery which is permitted by the over-indulgence in alcoholic beverage.

One does not need to be opposed to drinking to see the signs of the change coming. The United States is fast becoming a "dry" community. Wherever women have secured the vote bars have been closed. Billy Sunday has gone into mining towns and in a few days has closed the bars by making the miners see the folly of their wasteful lives and their one-roomed shacks and their ill-clothed children. Almost every leading American magazine is battling with the question of rum.

Collier's Weekly has been conducting a fighting campaign for nation-wide prohibition. It displays its usual vigor, and if it is as successful as in other campaigns, every brewery and distillery in the United States will be closed. Everybody's Magazine is an ally in the fight on the traffic. Others have taken it up. Liquor must be wiped from the face of this continent.

Save the boy from the bar. Every mother and sister should use her strongest influence to banish the evil.

THE LIBERALS GOT IN LINE.

THE question before the electors is not as to whether the Liberal party has always been a consistent temperance party. There are men in the Liberal ranks who say that it has not been. There are others who claim its record is clean.

That sort of argument is beside the question. The only issue of the present campaign is the "Abolish the Bar" issue. There is not another great question over which the parties are split.

If a Liberal argues that the issue is his party's, he does not stand on safe ground. The issue of "Abolish the Bar" was made by the temperance party. There have been many Liberals who have not agreed with it; there are many who are fighting against it at the present time.

And the policy is only in politics insofar as it is opposed by the Conservative party. The Liberal party has got in line with temperance sentiment. The Conservative party is still holding out.

JUST AN INCIDENT.

A WELL-KNOWN London police court character stood in front of one of London's leading hotels. Addressing the crowd that gathered as he started speaking, he called out: "No wonder they want to abolish the bar! Look at me!"

An Advertiser reporter accepted the invitation and looked at the man. What did he reveal? A great giant's body, poorly clothed, with a button off his coat, and patches in his sleeves; a pair of dirty overalls, and no socks on his feet.

"I'd be a good citizen today, men. If it wasn't for liquor," he shouted. "It's made my life useless. I'm just a scavenger now, and that's all I'm good for."

A man on the curb smiled, and called aloud: "Come and have a drink," he cried to the man. And the erstwhile temperance lecturer went in.

It was not the fact that the man had spoken for temperance that was the vital thing in the incident. It was the man's weakness for liquor when the test came. If there had been no bar there, the man would not have fallen its victim again.

WORK FOR LAIDLAW.

THERE is a call for every Liberal, and for every friend of temperance in East Middlesex to come out and work for John Laidlaw. He is a Middlesex boy, born and reared in the riding. He has shown his intelligence and ability for legislative work by his service in the municipal bodies. He has shown his energy as a candidate by his unflinching zeal in the last by-election. He is a Liberal of good old Liberal stock, and should have the support of all Liberals. He is a clean man, of good character, who has consistently stood by the cause of temperance all his life, and should have the support of every friend of moral reform. He has an up-hill battle to fight, for the riding usually goes Conservative. But he can win it all those who profess to believe as he believes will come to his aid. This is more than a fight between political parties. It is a fight for a great principle. It is a fight for the home, and the woman, and the boy. It is a fight against a great evil. The Liberal party has taken up that fight, and has lost support by it, which was only to be expected. But it has taken up the cause, and no man who believes in that cause can afford to vote against it simply because a political party favors it. Laidlaw is the nominee of the temperance people of the riding as well as of the Liberals. If they all stand shoulder to shoulder he will be elected.

HEAVY ON CONSCIENCE.

IT cannot be truthfully said that the Conservative papers are controlled by the liquor interests. The men who own and conduct the party's paper are no more in sympathy with the liquor interests than the Liberal papers. That is why the Conservative papers are putting up a weak campaign.

Rowell will rout Rum!

WELCOME TO THOSE CABBAGES.

THAT 100-miles journey of a Leamington gardener's motor truck to the London market Saturday is a good sign. The gardener brought 100 dozen head of early cabbages to the local market, and within a short time the whole consignment had been sold. Further than that the Leamington man said that he had been treated hospitably, and that Londoners were good buyers. He will go back to Leamington and advertise the London market. The class of early vegetables grown in the semi-tropical district will not seriously interfere with growers in this district, and even if the Leamington men make a dead end on the local market there will be no serious results. Usually London has to pay high prices for imported cabbages at this season of the year.

If one man can come from Leamington and successfully sell his goods, others will come. The vegetables that went across the line will be kept for the London market, and Leamington people will become purchasers in this city. The Advertiser has written up the great county of Essex on several occasions recently, and Leamington is showing that when London takes an interest in that district there will be a reciprocity between the two communities. That's the community spirit that we in Western Ontario need.

The Bar or the Boy?

Down with rum rule!

Stevenson and Sobriety!

Premier Asquith was at last persuaded to recognize the suffragette union.

There is no church in London that is not committed against the bar-room.

The Whitney Government has done great things for the bar, but precious little for the barn.

The splendid rally around Rowell has put the Seven sleepers in a panic, and the worst is yet to come.

If Hanna is the friend of the temperance party let him get in line on "Abolish the Bar" before the 29th.

Dr. "Billy" Stevenson has nailed the Rowell colors to the mast. London must either vote for or against the bar.

We shudder when the cables inform us that White Wolf, the Chinese bandit, has slaughtered twenty thousand, men, women and children within a year, but John Barleycorn's yearly toll is ten times that number.

North Oxford is to have two Conservative candidates, and this on top of the trouble at West Peterboro, Northeast Toronto and Essex. And the Government has been telling us how smooth everything has been in their camp.

Some of the cheaper whiskey organs pretend that Mr. Rowell keeps up the bar at the Ontario Club! It is the Ontario Government, by whose fiat that bar exists, not the leader of the Opposition. Mr. Rowell will end it.

The statement appearing in Conservative papers to the effect that Rev. Mr. Fysh, a Methodist minister, had declared in favor of Mr. Hanna needs correction. Mr. Fysh has not been a Methodist minister for some time. He retired upon taking a position as organizer for the Orange order.

Whatever the result of the bribery charges made at Goderich, it cannot be said that the Liberal party endeavored to make party capital of the thing. The truth or falsity of the charges will be known before the election is decided, or should be. It is to be hoped that every effort will be made to either prove these charges or to disprove them before the day of polling.

LOST IN TRANSIT.

[London Citizen.]

On a visit to relatives who fruit-farm in Canada, she exclaimed: "What quantities of fruit! What on earth do you do with it all?" They thereupon trotted out what time-honored witticisms: "We eat what we can, and can what we can't." It went very well. Returned to England, at her very first afternoon tea she began, with a laugh: "Heard such a funny thing while I was in Canada. I asked them what they did with all their fruit; such quantities, 'my dear!' And they said: 'We eat what we can and bottle the rest.' I laughed till I cried."

CAMPAIGN COMMENT

WHICH?

[Windsor Record.]

Getting down to brass tacks, will it be party or principle you'll vote for?

PLEASE SHOW US.

[Kingston Whig.]

"Because," says C. A. Brower, Conservative candidate in East Elgin, "any man is opposed to Mr. Rowell's banish the bar policy it does not follow that he is opposed to the elimination of the bar."

Well, if Mr. Brower can tell how the bar is to be eliminated and not abolished he will show himself to be a wonderful fellow.

ROWELL'S SUCCESS SEEMS CERTAIN.

[Sarnia Observer.]

No campaign entered upon since the defeat of the Row Government has been so full of promise of success as the present one. Taken by surprise and as a consequence disadvantage, the rally around Rowell has been the most surprising event witnessed in this province.

The Liberal Temperance forces would not have time to secure candidates in more than half the constituencies in the province and that the Government would start off with a long list of elections by acclamation. Where contests would take place they calculated that the time being short, the Opposition would not be able to put up a strenuous fight. Then the dice were loaded in favor of the Liberal party by a shameful gerrymander of the constituencies. All these things tended to make the Government and its supporters feel confident of an easy victory. An amazing change has followed the issue of the election writs. Everywhere candidates in support of the Rowell cause have entered the field. The Arouser by the claret bottle bodies churches and province men have cast throughout the province and have cast their former political associations and have flocked to the Rowell standard to fight for social and moral reform by suppressing the bar-rooms. The cleavage of old political lines has been so pronounced that the campaign has assumed a new and strange appearance that is upsetting all calculations based upon former political tactics.

BAPTISTS URGED TO WIPE OUT THE BAR.

[Canadian Baptist.]

But one thing, above and beyond all the writing and talking and praying, we urge, that those who have the privilege of casting ballots do so in a way that will count for the abolition of the bar and club licenses. Writing and talking and praying will have their place in the end of the contest, but that cannot take the place of voting. And voting has been placed in the hands of men who are to determine the issue. However, much has been said and will be said in the way of speech and prayer, done in the way of speech and prayer, in the power of the men who are to cast the ballots. Hence, with all earnestness and modesty, we beseech every voter who reads our columns not only to speak and pray for the success of the Rowell policy, but also to mark his ballot in its favor. This may be asking a Liberal to cast his ballot for a Conservative; it may be asking a Conservative to cast his ballot for a Liberal. Be it so; the hour has struck when men who care for the best moral interests of society, who contend that the liquor traffic is Christianity's greatest menace, who know that the bar-room is the uproot of the drinking custom, if need be, should break away from traditional party lines and vote as they have talked and prayed.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

[Hamilton Times.]

Sir James Whitney, in his manifesto, took much credit to himself in connection with the passing of the workmen's compensation act. But the fact is that the why hatter Government refused for years to do anything in the matter until it was forced to move by the continual prodding of the Liberals, and when the measure was in the House the Government resisted every effort to make it more workable and a greater benefit to the working classes. Writing to the Bradford Express, Mr. William Proudfoot, K. C., of Centre Huron, says on this matter:

"When my bill came up for its second reading the Prime Minister asked me to withdraw it on the understanding that a commission would be appointed to investigate the matter, and that a bill would be introduced at the next session by the Government. A bill was not introduced at the next session, nor did the Government, in the speech or otherwise, make any reference to it. I brought the matter up again at the session. The Prime Minister practically said the same thing that he did the previous session. Nothing was done towards appointing a commission, until very shortly before the election in 1911. From that time on, of course, the matter has been, to a very great extent, in the hands of the commission. I do not see that the Government is entitled to any great credit for the present act. It was prepared by Sir William Meredith, and submitted not only to the Government, but the parties interested. The Government had very little to do with it. When it came up for discussion in the House it was practically impossible to get any changes made. Either Mr. Lucas or Mr. Hearst had charge of the bill, and when any particular point was discussed the minister who was then present, and had charge, would read from his brief, which was prepared either by Sir William or one of the law clerks. The ministers showed that they knew very little about it further than what was contained in the brief. The result was that it was impossible to get any changes made. When the bill was going through I moved an amendment in connection with what was known as first aid. I am satisfied that a bill, without providing first aid by a duly qualified medical man is very defective, not only from the standpoint of the workman, but also from the manufacturer's. The statistics show clearly that first aid is a very important matter."

It will thus be seen that as far back as 1908 Mr. Proudfoot introduced a bill in the House to provide compensation against accidents to workmen. But it was put off year after year by Mr. Whitney, who did not want such a measure in the House. Workmen will note that the Government refused Mr. Rowell's amendment providing first aid to injured workmen, and that the act is not yet in force and will not be this year should Whitney remain in power.

PRETTY STEEP PRICE.

[New York World.]

New York's deaths from street-accident killings alone are equal to the entire death rate of a suburban town of 15,000 or 20,000 people. Isn't that a pretty steep price to pay for careless driving and non-enforcement of the traffic laws?

THE PHYSICIAN'S ADVANTAGE.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]

"So," said the visitor, "you intend to become a physician when you grow up?"

"Yes, sir," said the youth.

"And why have you decided upon the medical profession?"

"Well, a doctor seems to be the only man who keeps on getting paid whether his work is satisfactory or not."

THE EARTH-LOVER.

[London Citizen.]

For this poor soul of mine I do not crave

A Paradise of saints when I am dead;

I only ask to know when o'er my head

The warm spring rain plashed softly

O'er my grave.

To hear the murmur of the distant wave

Or the birds' chorus when the dawn

Grew red,

To recognize at eve my loved one's tread.

(That sound would make my soul exceeding brave.)

When white clouds drifted over heaven's own blue,

And wandering winds stirred lightly through the flowers

Of purple heather in hot August hours,

Most happy should I be if I but knew

That man still lived and loved though I was gone

And in triumphal march the years passed on.

SHOULDN'T SAM RESIGN?

[Hamilton Herald.]

Major Leonard was dismissed from the militia because beer was found in the tent of the Sixth Field Battery, of which he was the commanding officer. He didn't know the beer was there, but he is held to be responsible. But why should not the responsibility be placed higher up? Hon. Col. Sam Hughes is Major Leonard's superior. Why shouldn't Col. Sam himself resign because of the discovery of the beer?

Songs We Used to Whistle and Sing

COME BACK TO ERIN.

Come back to Erin, Mavourneen, Mavourneen,
 Come back, Aroon, to the land of thy birth,
 Come with the shamrocks and spring-time, Mavourneen,
 And it's Killarney shall ring with our mirth.
 Sure when you left us, our beautiful darling,
 Little we thought of the lone winter days,
 Little we thought of the hush of the star shine,
 Over the mountain, the bluffs and the brays.

CHORUS.—
 Come back to Erin, Mavourneen, Mavourneen,
 Come back, Aroon, to the land of thy birth,
 Come with the shamrocks and spring-time, Mavourneen,
 And it's Killarney shall ring with our mirth.

Over the green sea, Mavourneen, Mavourneen,
 Long shone the white sail that bore thee away,
 Riding the white waves that fair summer mornin'
 Just like a May-flower afloat on the bay.
 Oh, but my heart sank when clouds came between us,
 Like a grey curtain the rain falling down;
 Hid from my sad eyes the path o'er the ocean,
 Far, far away, where my colleen had flown.

Oh, may the angels while wakin' or sleepin'
 Watch o'er my bird in the land far away,
 And it's my pray'rs will consign to their keepin',
 Care o' my jewel by night and by day.
 When by the fireside I watch the bright embers,
 Then all my heart flies away o'er the sea,
 Cravin' to know if my darlin' remembers,
 Or if her thot's may be crossin' to me.

THE FUTURE OUTLOOK OF RURAL LIFE IN ONTARIO

The Prize Essay in the Womens' Institute Contest Is Written by Mrs. John Dawes of Belmont

The future outlook of rural Ontario exceeds that of any other province in the Dominion of Canada, if not in the civilized world. With her unlimited natural resources, her healthful climate, sunshine, fertile soil, freedom of thought and speech, and her excellent transportation, both on land and water, it is not to be wondered at that the eyes of the world are centred on this fair province of ours. Ontario, by reason of her natural wealth of forest, field, waterfall and mine, is destined to become one of the greatest agricultural and manufacturing centres in the world. While today the farms nearly all comprise 100 acres, if we should fall asleep for 20 years, as did Rip Van Winkle, we would awaken to find the land subdivided into much smaller farms and producing ten times what they are today. The farmer of the past was content to plod along in his old accustomed way, but the future farmer will apply his labor in a scientific manner. In the dairying districts cows only will be kept that produce quantity and quality combined, netting their owners a reasonable entire twelve months instead of six or eight months as is the custom today, and the style of cow that a farmer would keep at all will be worth from $100 to $150 and $200, whereas the average price to date is $75. All calves will be raised to meet the growing demand for beef and dairy products. While Ontario is capable of growing grain, her exports will be beef, pork, dairy products and fruits. The Ontario apple is noted all over the world for its excellent flavor and keeping qualities, but while apples will still be grown, more time will be spent in the cultivation of smaller fruits, such as peaches, plums, grapes, cherries, strawberries, raspberries, thimbleberries, etc., and the growing of vegetables. The future farmer will set the price of his products the same as the manufacturers do theirs at present. With her natural cheap power Ontario will be the greatest manufacturing centre in the Dominion, and by reason of the many employees engaged in these factories, will create a greater home market which is the best in the world for poultry, eggs, and the smaller products of the farm. The outlook will be better prices for the farm products, more encouragement for the farmer—and who has a better right to encouragement and profit when it is he that garners from the soil the primal wealth of the nation? Ontario, situated as she is at the base of the greatest natural waterfall in the world, which generates electricity that will operate a system of radial railways, give power, light and heat to every rural home, light the highways—in fact, give conveniences enjoyed by our towns and cities, and convey to the farmer the produce in a state of freshness and sanitation far surpassing that of today, will give her population an advantage over any other province in the Dominion. The future will see the farmer milking cows, grinding grain, cutting feed, pumping water, heating and lighting buildings—all by electricity placed at his disposal at the actual cost, and that within reach of all. The farms that are equipped with all modern buildings and conveniences will command from $800 to $1,300 per acre—that is, if the farmer chooses to sell them at all.

2. When should olives be served at a meal—the same as pickles? From one of your many admirers.

Ans.—1. You might introduce the subject of church and charitable giving, and say that you would rather give your own collection. He should not be offended at this, but if he still insists upon providing it, better let the matter drop. No doubt you can find plenty of ways to dispose of your share in other church work or charities.

2. Yes.

Camphorated Chalk.

To Miss Grey's Mail Box.—Many thanks to Helper for information about the number of chapters in Infelco.

Miss Grey, do you think camphorated chalk is good to clean the teeth with? Thanking you for your advice and consideration in the past and present, yours sincerely, GERANIUM.

Ans.—It will not do any harm, but why not use some good dentifrice that is more pleasant to the palate?

Bernice's Budget.

Dear Miss Grey.—I am much interested in your column and would be much obliged if you could help me out this time.

1. What will take stains, caused from dandelion stems, out of a blue cotton voile dress?

2. Will anything remove water-glass which has become hardened around the edges of crocks?

3. Is it proper for a lady to speak to men who are sitting on a hotel veranda? Should she look at them at all when passing?

4. Are barrettes still in style for the hair?

5. Would it be hard for a person who knows how to play the piano and small organs to learn to play a pipe organ?

Ans.—1. This would be difficult to treat because of the danger of the color running or fading. To pour kerosene through the stains and then wash out at once in warm water will probably remove it. One authority recommends diluted alcohol. It is difficult to say which would be best.

2. I do not know of anything, unless it is a scouring with lye. This is sometimes efficacious.

3. On the principle that "a friend's friend anywhere," I think she should speak, or at least bow, to the men whom she knows. Of course, there is a happy line to draw in such cases, and this I leave to your own discretion.

4. If the hair is worn in the "three-bun" style, the barrette is not needed; for those who cling to the older method of dressing the hair, namely in a roll or large coil, the barrette is generally worn.

5. It would be necessary to take special lessons from an organist or competent teacher, but should not be particularly difficult if the pupil had mastered the other two instruments. At least, I should not think so, but it would be best to consult a higher authority.

ENLIGHTENED LONDON

Here's What An Old Country Paper Says About Us.

A recent issue of the Islington Daily Gazette, London, England, contains an interesting reference to London, Ontario, which is reproduced below:

"There is another London! This other London is more enlightened in some things than is our 'little village.' A veteran worker for suffrage, now in this country, is a friend of the writer's, and lives at London, Ontario, and has given the report of an address given by the London (Ontario) Suffrage Society by the Rev. W. Norwood, rector of the Bishop Cronyn Memorial Church, in November, 1913, at London. We make no apology for printing the address, and wish our readers and clergy could see things in the same light."

Then follows a complete report of the address given by Mr. Norwood, which was, no doubt, perused with exceeding interest by the Gazette's readers.

THE HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, JUNE 23, 1914.

The planets are rather encouraging to human endeavor today, according to astrology. While Mars is strongly benefic in aspect, both Neptune and Venus are mildly helpful to men and women.

It is a time to push big enterprises, especially those that are concerned with construction. Bridge building and all structural iron work are said to be subject to lucky influences.

Military operations of great significance are forecast for this date, which should mark a page in European history. The twenty-eighth will be a critical time in Asia as well as Europe.

The sway of Neptune is fortunate for journeys by sea and for success in all affairs connected with shipping.

Inspirational ideas should be stimulated under this rule. It is good for those who write poetry or music. Actors and singers also should be favored.

Women are likely to benefit today, according to astrology. All who have romance or love affairs should benefit. The stars give power to present the best traits of character and the most attractive characteristics to men.

Business interests should be furthered for all who are engaged in the learned professions.

Drought is indicated. Farmers in the extreme east and the south may suffer losses because of lack of rain this month.

Warning is given against scandals and gossip due to summer flirtations, which this season may be more prevalent than usual. There is a sign indicating many divorces in the autumn.

Owing to the fact that the moon and Saturn are in the fourth house at San Francisco mining interests in California may suffer.

Great losses will be sustained by western capitalists, the seers predict, but fortunes also will be made within the year.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be rather fortunate in the next few months. They have the augury of success in business.

Children born on this day should be exceedingly blessed with material things. They should rise rapidly in business or social life.

NEW WALKING SUITS TOPPED BY CAPES

B-I-T-S From Books

"Living with books is easy work. Living with people is not so easy. In books the author gives us only of his best, and when we are tired of his company, we can lay him aside. He can neither bore us, nor borrow from us. His ill-temper does not vex, or his cynicism discourage. His golden silence cannot be marred by impertinence. We may dislike him, but he will not retaliate. He may differ from him, but he will not wrangle."

SOME SMART KINKS FOR THE KIDDIES

Costless of fancy material over dresses of plain are fashionable for little girls.

Little girls are always at their best in simple frocks.

Rosebud trimming is always dainty for young girls.

Blue-and-white-stripe linen makes a smart one-piece dress for little girls.

Sleeves for kiddies are either very long or almost at shoulder length.

A distinctive feature seen on most dresses for girls is the cowboy collar.

Many little boleros of color will be seen at the seashore.

Much colored embroidery will be seen on dresses made of poplin, pique, and linen.

Many dresses have the new suspender effect.

For cool summer days, a coat of blue or white serge, unlined, is most convenient. This may be laundered.

THE ADVERTISER'S BIG DOUBLE SPORT PAGE

LONDON PITCHERS EASY FOR BEAVERS

Both Hammond and Steiger Hit Hard on Saturday.

TORONTO WINS BY 10 TO 6

Mike Mullin Makes His First Error in Twenty Games and it Costs London a Run.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
TORONTO, June 21.—The Beavers made it straight from the league leaders when they beat London again today 10 to 6 in a game marked by heavy hitting. Bobby Auld was on the mound for the locals, and while he was touched up at frequent intervals the Cockneys did not feast off his offerings half as much as the Lee aggregation did off Hammond and Steiger. The former started the game for the visitors, but was hammered out of the box in the sixth and Steiger took up the burden and threw on. He was also hit pretty hard.

Mullin's Record Broken.
Both teams made a number of errors, many of which were due to the grounds at the Motordrome, the infield having just been freshly sodded, while the outfield was heavy, owing to the recent rains. Mike Mullin, the London third sacker, who had played 19 games previous to today's without a boot, shattered his record when he let Harkin's grounder get through him in the fifth inning.

London scored in the first inning when Linneborn walked, Whitcraft sacrificed, and Lamy singled to centre. In the third the Londoners added another when Burrill dropped Snyder's long drive, and Linneborn was safe on Killilea's error. Whitcraft dropped a fly over the infield and Snyder scored.

Danford's Timely Double.
In the seventh, London scored again, when Snyder beat out a hit to short and scored on a double by Danford, who was hitting for Hammond. In the eighth two more runs were counted, when Mullin doubled with Reidy and Long on the sacks.

The Beavers got their first run in the second, when Danford singled, Schultz singled, in the third they tied the score, when singles by Trout and Isaacs scored. In the fourth, Danford sacrificed, Whitcraft's boot and a sacrifice fly by Or scored another. Another one came in the fifth, when Mullin let Harkin's grounder go through him, with Killilea on third and two out.

Toronto Scores Four.
The game was won in the sixth, when Burrill walked, Or doubled, Killilea and Trout singled and Snyder made a wild throw on Isaacs' hit, four runs counting. The last two runs came in the seventh when a single, another error by Whitcraft, a sacrifice infield out and a single all came in succession.

Lamy's one-hand catch of Schultz's drive in the third was the feature of the game. A crowd of about 1,500 witnessed the contest. President Stevely and Director Buzzell, of the London club, were among the spectators.

LOOSE PLAYS GAVE PIRATES THE GAME

Superbas Play Poorly in First Inning and Lose 4 to 3.

GIANTS DEFEATED REDS

Braves Won at Pitchers' Battle From Cardinals—Cubs Defeated Phillies.

BROOKLYN, June 20.—The Superbas played poorly behind Reulbach in the first inning and lost to Pittsburgh today, 4 to 3. Carey led off with a pop fly back of first base that Cutshaw and Daubert let drop between them. Mowrey singled. Ketchick was hit by a pitched ball. Mitchell doubled, three runs counting. Kelly's single and steal, a wild pitch and Cooper's single scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth. Scores:

LONDON WON SUNDAY GAME
BY RALLY IN NINTH INNING

Scored Six Runs Off Carter Crume Pitcher in That Inning—Osborne, the New Catcher, Played a Great Game.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., June 21.—The Carter-Crume were defeated here this afternoon by the London team, leaders of the Canadian league by the score of 7 to 4.

The game was nip and tuck up till the ninth the scoring standing one each. In that session the Bookmakers went to pieces and the leaguers scored six times giving them a lead that the Crumes could not over come in their half.

Beebe and Tyson were the opposing twirlers and both lost their bearings, London scoring six and the Crumes three.

Osborne, former Crume catcher, but now a member of the London team, played a great game for the visitors both at bat and in the field. Osborne was the only visitor that could really locate Tyson, who got a single and a double out of three trips to the plate.

BOLT WORKS CINCHES
SOCCER LEAGUE TITLE

By Defeating British Social Union Saturday They Have Good Margin at Top.

In the City Soccer League Saturday, the Bolt Works practically won the championship by beating the British Social Union by 2 to 0 in a fast game. The winners led at half time by the score of 1 to 0. Both teams having the edge on their opponents though, Pyatt, Watkins and Reid played a good game for the Bolt Works, while Richardson, Green and Brown started for the winners.

Only one game was played, as the Asylum forfeited to Leonard. It looks as though the other teams in the league have quit, owing to the safe lead the Bolt Works have in the race for championship.

GREENE-SWIFTS WON
FROM THORNDALE, 15-6

The Greene-Swift commercial league team went to Thorndale on Saturday afternoon and defeated the home team, Pitcher Hamilton holding Thorndale down to six hits. The score, Thorndale, 6 runs, 20 hits, 2 errors.

JOHNSON'S MIGHTY HIT
DEFEATED THE TIGERS

Cobb Will be Out of Game for Ten Days as Result of Fight.

NAPS WON FROM YANKEES

Chicago Batters Found Foster to Their Liking and Won 5 to 3.

DETROIT, June 21.—A mighty wallop by Walter Johnson, with the bases full, broke Washington's losing streak today and incidentally checked Johnson's row of defeats. Detroit lost 3 to 7, after winning three consecutive games from the Senators. Beecher was invincible until the fifth, when, with three men on bases, he hit Williams, forcing in Shanks. Then Johnson drove the ball far over the left field wall.

Cobb was not in uniform, and, according to the club physician, probably will be out of the game for ten days. An X-ray examination of his right hand proved his thumb was fractured. Cobb injured the member during a fight with a butcher's clerk here last night. Score:

Oh, you old jimmy pipe!

"Lead me to it" say millions of men since they've found out that Prince Albert tobacco can't bite the tongue and can't parch the throat.

"Lead me to it" you'll say just as quick as you invest in a tidy red tin and find out first-hand just why P. A. has become the largest selling pipe and cigarette tobacco in the United States.

Prince Albert the inter-national joy smoke brought thousands and thousands of old jimmy pipes out of the garrets. It has revolutionized pipe smoking! Today three men smoke a pipe where one smoked before.

That's because Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out the "grouch" and just lets in the sunshine! Never in your life have you hit such flavor and fragrance and freshness!

Play P. A. in a jimmy pipe or roll up the corkiest makin's cigarette you ever put fire to. It's all one and the same thing—just good for what ails your smokappetite! And it rolls up so dead easy. Being mighty fresh, it just stays put and doesn't blow away or run away like the dust-brands.

And, you know, today's the day!

Prince Albert is the largest seller in the United States. It is now being imported into Canada by wholesale dealers and is sold by all of the leading retail dealers. In one-eighth-lb. red tins.

Oh, you old jimmy pipe!

"Lead me to it" say millions of men since they've found out that Prince Albert tobacco can't bite the tongue and can't parch the throat.

"Lead me to it" you'll say just as quick as you invest in a tidy red tin and find out first-hand just why P. A. has become the largest selling pipe and cigarette tobacco in the United States.

PRINCE ALBERT
the inter-national joy smoke

brought thousands and thousands of old jimmy pipes out of the garrets. It has revolutionized pipe smoking! Today three men smoke a pipe where one smoked before.

That's because Prince Albert is made by a patented process that cuts out the "grouch" and just lets in the sunshine! Never in your life have you hit such flavor and fragrance and freshness!

Play P. A. in a jimmy pipe or roll up the corkiest makin's cigarette you ever put fire to. It's all one and the same thing—just good for what ails your smokappetite! And it rolls up so dead easy. Being mighty fresh, it just stays put and doesn't blow away or run away like the dust-brands.

And, you know, today's the day!

Prince Albert is the largest seller in the United States. It is now being imported into Canada by wholesale dealers and is sold by all of the leading retail dealers. In one-eighth-lb. red tins.

MANUFACTURER'S MEET PLEASES
LARGE CROWD IN QUEEN'S PARK

Splendid Program Provided Under Ideal Weather Conditions—Dellow Wins Marathon Race for Second Time—Vincent Adams Carries Off Individual Honors With Four Firsts.

The manufacturers' athletic meet, held in Queen's Park Saturday afternoon, lived up to its advance notices and provided a fine program of track events before a crowd numbering close to 2,000.

The meet was ideal for the occasion and the track in great shape. The large number of events were run off in apple-pie order and with speed that was pleasing to the spectators. All the events were well filled, and the competition for the prizes was of the keenest.

The twelve-mile modified marathon race proved a big attraction. It was won by Jimmie Dellow, the former St. Mary's lad, who won it last year also. Dellow ran a fine race and finished well ahead of Cook, of Stratford, who was second.

The five-mile race was won by Indian, led the first time around, and won the shield donated by J. S. Barnard and the shoes given by Johnston & Murray for the first runner passing these stores on the first lap.

Cook led on Second Lap. The positions were little changed on the second lap. Cook of Stratford, was leading by ten feet, with Phillips and Dellow running second, side by side. The leaders being a good half mile ahead of the tail-enders.

Starting down-town at Richmond and Carling streets, the runners circled an area bounded by Dundas street to Richmond street to Dundas street three times before going to the park, where they circled the track four times, finishing in front of the stand. Big crowds in the down-town section watched the runners as they passed. L. Phillips, the Muncy Indian, led the first time around, and won the shield donated by J. S. Barnard and the shoes given by Johnston & Murray for the first runner passing these stores on the first lap.

Cook led on Second Lap. The positions were little changed on the second lap. Cook of Stratford, was leading by ten feet, with Phillips and Dellow running second, side by side. The leaders being a good half mile ahead of the tail-enders.

TYRUS COBB WAS ARRESTED
WHILE ENGAGED IN A FIGHT

"Georgian Peach" Accused Butcher of Insulting His Better Half, and Result Cobb Will be Out of Game for Week.

DETROIT, Mich., June 21.—"Ty" Cobb, the famous centre fielder of the week,

Cobb injured his right hand during the scuffle. Cobb claimed that earlier in the day the butcher insulted Mrs. Cobb. Carpenter denied the charge but admitted that Cobb rushed into the butcher shop, made the allegation and then started to make trouble.

Cobb was allowed his liberty late tonight. No formal charge was made against him, but friends of the ball player said they understood that court proceedings might be instituted.

Cobb will be out of the game for a week.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

CURED A BAD ATTACK OF ECZEMA.

All skin diseases such as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples, and Itching Skin Eruptions, are always caused from the blood being in a bad condition, and it is impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can very easily do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich, and not only are the unsightly diseases removed, and a bright clean complexion produced, but the entire system is renovated and invigorated at the same time.

Mrs. G. A. Day, Somerville, N.B., writes: "Last spring I had a bad attack of Eczema. I tried several patent medicines as well as the medicine of a physician, but they seemed to make the disease worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I did so with the result that in two weeks time the sores began to disappear. I continued to take it until I had taken three bottles and they worked a complete cure."

Queen's Avenue Woman Tells Police Bracelets Have Been Stolen.

Mrs. Whiting, 138 Queen's avenue, reported to the police on Saturday night the loss of a pair of gold bracelets, valued highly as keepsakes. Mrs. Whiting could not account for their disappearance, and told the police that one night in the house, some time ago, had been sitting in the parlor when the family returned about half past nine o'clock. No one had been at home when he came and he had walked in himself. Mrs. Whiting told him she had no rooms and he went down the street to look elsewhere. A short time afterwards the bracelets were missed. Mrs. Whiting claims she left them in the house when she went out, and believes they are stolen, but the local police detectives are inclined to think they may have been missed. On being notified, the detectives traced the man down Queen's avenue from boarding house to boarding house, where he had called in search of rooms, but were unable to find him.

"At the Polls on the 29th inst. the Man Who Votes for the Abolition of the Bar Will Represent 100 Per Cent of a True Man's Brain and Soul."

"Let Us Not Allow Our Attention To Be Diverted From The Great Issue--The Abolition of the Bar."

Here Is One of the Most Remarkable Temperance Sermons Ever Delivered in London--It Was Preached at the First Methodist Church Yesterday, By Rev. Dr. Flanders.

In a stinging arraignment of the liquor traffic and the three-fifths clause, Rev. C. R. Flanders, of the First Methodist Church, last night preached one of the most remarkable temperance sermons ever heard in a London church. He called on Christian voters in no uncertain terms to go to the polls on June 29 and vote for the abolition of the bar. The attitude of the Methodist Church in espousing the cause of the abolition of the bar was shown in its true colors.

Mr. Flanders' sermon complete is as follows: "When the Methodist Church calls upon her ministers and people to rally for an intense attack upon the liquor traffic, no sensible man will misconstrue her motive. Only one ignorant or record or zealous and unscrupulous enough to create party prejudice would allow himself to intimate other than praiseworthy incitement and purpose. In her devotion to the kingdom of Christ she has from the beginning stood in the front ranks of the church militant, an inveterate foe to strong drink. No one who is acquainted with her history will presume to question this fact. If cupid could at any time amuse one might smile at the attempts to impugn the attitude of this church toward the present political struggle. Even more ridiculous would appear the canting presumption of some, in sympathy with the policy of the open bar, who would fain teach the pulpit of the day how to preach the Gospel with eyes shut to the greatest evil of the times. He who hated a hypocrite, learned to hate such: 'Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves. Ye shall know them by their fruits.'"

Against a Great Evil. "When a Methodist minister, obedient to the will of the authorities of the church and true to his own convictions, feels compelled to preach in favor of the abolition of the bar, it should be remembered that, as an honest man, he is working for the overthrow of a great evil and in no sense against any political party or leader. No reasonable man will deny to him a right to his own convictions and opinions touching the great political issues of the day. No just man will refuse him the privilege of forming such party affiliations as may appeal to his intelligence and conscience. But all men must recognize that it is the sublime duty of the Minister of the Lord Jesus, at all times and in all places, to seek first the Kingdom of Heaven and his righteousness, to subordinate all that he is and has to the furtherance of the Gospel, to glory only in the cross of Christ. And so true have the ministers of Methodism been to this ideal that they have won the confidence of all the people. In the history of the church the Methodist pulpit has never been content to stand in a political rostrum, nor a Methodist service into a political caucus.

Not a Question of Politics. "In view of all these facts, easily established, the reason, the only reason, for the intelligent man looking upon our church as a political machine or upon her clergymen as political agents, during the strife of these heated days, it will take something more than the frantic alarms and fantastic genuflections of the shrieking whippers-in of either party to stampede our intelligent people or divert them from their lower plane of action than that unto which they have devoted themselves for many years. Let us continue to believe in the perseverance of the saints.

The tumult and the shouting dies; The captains and the Kings depart; still stands thine ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart: Lord God of Hosts be with us yet Lest we forget, lest we forget, War Cry of Methodist Church. "Whatever is good in any party in principle and services we heartily commend in grateful appreciation, but I would remind you that the rallying cry that is ringing in the ears of all men favorable to temperance legislation and to the abolition of the bar, is the slogan of neither political party so truly as it is the old war cry of the Methodist Church. I am wondering if any one of you can remember the time when she has not stood for the total prohibition of the liquor traffic? I am sure not. And so today we are listening as a great people, unto whom the God of battles has given a great trust, and the voice that we would heed and obey above all others--the voice we cannot fail to hear if, respecting the ballot we hold in our hand, we earnestly pray as we anticipate the 29th of June: 'Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?'

An Opportunity Sought for Years. "We are facing a situation today which we have long anticipated and desired. Yea, more, if there is any power in prayer as we have prayed; any efficacy in the advocacy of the principles of temperance as we have advocated them; then we have been diligently co-operating for years to bring about the great opportunity which is now before us. As a matter of simple consistency, the course to be followed by each one of us is plain. A man prominent in the manufacturing industry of the city and engaged in Christian work, especially among the young, said to me yesterday: 'For years we Methodists have been praying, preaching and working against the liquor traffic. At last a great occasion has come to us to show our sincerity and the depth of our devotion to the cause. We show up as we ought to be, and our tongues will be shut up forever, and our tongues will be unloosed to sing the victories of right.'

How Would Jesus Vote? "This is a time when our loyalty to the Lord Jesus should have precedence above all other considerations. Not a Conservative and not a Liberal should we approach the great question of the hour, but as honest and devoted disciples of Christ. How would Jesus vote if He held my ballot? Is the only test to which you must ring true? 'Like a mighty army moves the church of God.' We are not divided; all one body.

A Waterloo. "Often in the history of a nation there come times--high and holy crises--when all political strife is effaced and all party distinctions are effaced in the presence of a great opportunity or to repel a common and malignant foe. At the Waterloo of English history there were no Grits or Tories, but in the long red line that successfully met and repelled the terrible onslaughts of the day every man was a British soldier, fighting for the glory of the flag. Their hearts beat as the heart of every man, as they stood shoulder to shoulder on the blood-red field. It is related of Admiral Nelson that on one occasion, when engaged in one of his great naval campaigns, he said to two of his officers quarrelling, 'Pointing to the enemy ship, he said: 'Look there; then shake hands and be friends.'

Party Men Must Lose Himself. "Ordinarily it may be alright for a man to be a true Conservative or a loyal Liberal, and for each to train with his party. But when a great Christian principle is at stake, the party politician must lose himself in the Christian discipline. To be an honest Grit or Tory, with the party, and to stand to his trust with unflinching fidelity and at any cost. A Christian discipline can never afford to be less than a Christian discipline. To be an honest Grit or Tory, with the party, and to stand to his trust with unflinching fidelity and at any cost.

Facing a Great Crisis. "We Christian men are face to face with a great crisis, which we ourselves have helped to precipitate, and for the right use of which God will surely call us to account. God expects each man to do his duty.

The crisis presses on us, Face to face with us it stands; With solemn lips it questions, Like the Sphinx in Egypt's sands, This day we fashion Destiny, The web of fate we spin; This day for all hereafter Choose we holiness or sin; Even now from stony Gerizim, Or Ebal's cloudy crown, We call the dew of blessing, Or the bolts of cursing down."

No Unrighteous Handicap. Incidentally, I would remind you for your encouragement, that all temperance workers will enter the approaching struggle without the limitations of an unrighteous handicap. For years we have been asking that we might be given British fair play, and accorded a fair field when we vote for temperance, and no favor. We have desired nothing more and should have been given nothing less. But we have been limited in our effectiveness because of a discrimination in favor of the liquor traffic, which must ever remain a foul blot upon the statute book of the country.

The right of franchise is sacred and inalienable. No man and no government has the right to poach upon my hereditary preserves--no man and no government has authority to monkey with the intrinsic value of my ballot.

The legislation that ordains that the vote of a Christian statesman, of the president of a university, of a general superintendent or bishop shall have the same value as that of the ignorant and tippling slave, who sweeps out the bar room and washes the glasses, must ever be a disgrace to the legislator who enacted it, and a foul blemish of our manhood.

Hundred Per Cent True. "I envy not the reputation of the platy which, no matter how high a price may be conceded to it in the history of Canadian legislation, must, through all the future, be overshadowed by the stigma of this outrageous and unrighteous infringement upon the rights and liberties of Canadian men. Let us exult in the combination of circumstances that assures us an equal chance. At the polls, the 29th inst, the man who votes for the abolition of the bar will represent 100 per cent of a true man's brain and soul--100 per cent of a true man's right of franchise in a land where all men are supposed to be free and equal.

Opportunity Within Reach. "A--The opportunity is now within the reach of Christian men of this province to banish a traffic which represents a great evil which more than any other force is working out the destruction of humanity and delaying the final regeneration of the race. It is, in a very significant sense, the nether millstone hanging round the neck of our nation and hindering progress at every point. It is the taskmaster of a devilish despotism that would keep men slaves in a bondage far more degrading than that of the mud-worshippers of Egypt, as they were toiled to make bricks without straw. Canada's greatest handicap to the attainment of an exalted and beneficent national life is undoubtedly the saloon, and no more patriotic act could be performed by a political leader or party than to free our young nation from the fearful incubus.

Safeguard the Boy. "B--The opportunity is now within the reach of us Christian men to safeguard the future of the Canadian boy. And that boy belongs to you and me. We are responsible for his existence. And we are responsible for making this a safe world for him to live in--a favorable world for him to win out in.

"We are told with grim iteration that unless we abolish the bar the boy will be lost. History certainly justifies the aphorism. Not the boy of the brewer, the wine-seller and the saloon-keeper, the means of which could be confined to these it would be bad enough and we would deeply deprecate it in spite of the more poetic justice that might be suggested in their destruction. Why should not the parents who enjoy the profits of the parent's deflection which is inevitable? If they cause their children to pass through the fire to Moloch the devotion to him, why should they object when the fervid blaze, which a vengeful Nemesis kindles, scorches and sears? There is a law as ancient as Sinai which applies to the business in which we engage, as it respects upon our children, and to this we should take heed--visiting the iniquities of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation."

Bar a Deadly Menace. "But the bar is a deadly menace to the boy of the church and Sunday school and of your home and mine, no matter how we may hate the traffic and fight it all our lives through. No boy is safe from its subtle attack; no girl is immune from the bitter consequences of its foul influences, which strike upon our children, and to this we should take heed--visiting the iniquities of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation."

Believe me, Christian fathers, you and I will live down for our last sleep with greater calm and complacency than otherwise if we can but have the assurance that the world in which we are leaving our children is forever freed from the menace of this foul fiend.

Think of Your Children. "Think of your children and of the world in which they must live their lives after your guiding hand has lost its cunning and your loving protection and help have become to them only as the memory of a sweet song, when you cast your ballot on the 29th. Your boy's destiny may turn on the nature of your ballot for I have noticed that a father's vote may put his boy into power or help to doom him to defeat and degradation. A young man drunk is often his father's vote walking around."

Partnership Lasted Too Long. "C--The opportunity is now within reach for you to give notice of a final dissolution of partnership which all too long has existed between the Christian citizens of Canada and the Liquor Traffic. For we are partners in this business and share in the profits. Let us never forget this and never cease feeling the shame of it until the reproach has been removed by us."

The Christians of this Province at least hold the balance of power. It used to be said that every third man in Ontario was a Methodist. If this was ever true then there was a time, when the Methodist held the balance of power in this Province. But when you have united all the Christian voters of the churches of all denominations there can be no doubt as to what must happen to the liquor traffic, when they move as one man against it."

Could Have Happened Long Ago. It would have happened long ago, if we had not been in the past more loyal to party than to Christ. And it will never happen until we are united, and subordinate all else to Christ and the progress of his Kingdom among men."

"Let us make no mistake on this point. The fact remains that in a very pitiful sense the Christian Church is responsible for the existence of the bar in Ontario. It exists because we permit it for we really could stamp it out if we made up our minds to do so. And so after all, when we talk about the Bar abolishing the Boy, we have really been talking a good deal of sentimental nonsense. Our parents' warnings, our Sunday School instructions and Christian Endeavorers, while our lips have been gasping in protest with the weakness of sinful flesh, have been allowing the Bar to abolish the Boy when we might stopped it once for all."

Voters Are Responsible. "We voters are responsible for the menace. We legislate it into a galvanized respectability. We put the soul of life under the ghastly ribs of death, and let the vampire snuff out the lives of our bright youths. We share in the spoils of the men who pay their money into the Christian treasuries for authority to debauch our boys, to degrade our homes and spread ruin all around. When we have indulged, periodically or spasmodically, in the expressions of horror because of the dire results of the traffic, which our backs, curl their lips in scorn of our inconsistency, note the unholiness with which we pocket and enjoy our share in the profits of the business and press their business with unrelenting enterprise worthy of a better cause.

A Day of Testing. "It is high time to call a halt to this unholy compromise on the part of the church of the living God. The last Monday in this month will be a day of testing. Once again the demand of the stern old Tishbite will ring through the consciences of men who are trying to face two ways at once--who are trying to pray with split tongues as they mumble, 'Good Lord,' and again 'Good Devil!'

How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow Him; if Baal, then follow him.' 'Ye cannot serve God and Mammon.' 'Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers seed: lest the fruit of thy seed which thou has sown, and the fruit of thy vineyard be defiled.' 'Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass together.' 'Thou shalt not wear a garment of divers sorts, as of woolen and linen together.' 'Come out from among them and be ye separate, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will be a father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and my daughters,' said the Lord of Hosts."

"Arm of the Lord, awake; awake; Thine own immortal strength put on; With terror clothed, hell's kingdom shake. And cast thy foes with fury down."

"Take Christ With You." "In conclusion, the sacred responsibility of each Christian disciple is to cultivate the spirit of Christ. It is sometimes said that men are Grits or Tories first and Christians second. Men may be, but Christians are the men who put Christ first at all time and at any cost; who are Christian disciples first, last and always. Take Christ with you into the polling booth as you take Him with you into the closet when you pray, and ask Him there if He would wish you to vote to abolish the bar.

The Supreme Question. "The supreme question of the hour to you after all, is not 'Shall we succeed in abolishing the bar?' but 'Shall we be true to God and conscience? That is the nearest and most important question to you and me. I verily believe that we are face to face with a great opportunity that for both the church and Canada spells DESTINY in large letters.

"He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat; He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat. Oh, be swift my soul, to answer Him, be jubilant my feet; Our God is marching on."

Attention Must Not Be Diverted. "Let us not allow our attention to be diverted from the great issue--the abolition of the bar. For once let our political affiliations be forgotten while we give precedence to a great moral appeal. After all, we are not so concerned about the order of its going on as we are that the bar should go. It is a matter of indifference to us which of the two great political parties conducts the obsequies or which of the two great political leaders read the burial service over the dead. But let the grave be deep, deep, deep, and let the chief mourner weep heartily, having no hope of a resurrection.

Fighting With God. "We are fighting to win, because we are fighting with God. Let us never forget this. The tides of Fundy are never known to fall. I have watched them through many a six hours and even retreat, in the end they overcame all opposition and filled the Atlantic to the brim, while all the tributary rivers and streams overflowed. So the tides of God never know defeat. 'The earth shall be filled with a knowledge of the glory of God as the waters cover the sea.'

Soon the bar will be abolished in Ontario--in Canada. I have faith in the loyalty of our Christian men. And the Christian men can settle the question if they will--and settle it right.

Serve Notice on Politicians. "If nothing more is accomplished the 29th will serve notice on all politicians and statesmen--and in no unmistakable terms--that from this time on until the end the temperance plank must be the chief plank in the platform of any party that hopes to win out in a struggle at the polls of this enlightened land. This church stands for the abolition of the bar. Yea, more--we stand for the total prohibition of the liquor traffic and believe that God will speed it speeding the RIGHT."

Preacher Suffragist IS DUCKED IN A LAKE
Crowd Objects to Interruptions of Lloyd George--Women Chased Away.

[Canadian Press.] LONDON, June 20.--A nearby artificial lake gave a big crowd an unique opportunity to vent their wrath on Suffragist interrupters of David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, who spoke at Denmark Hill, in the south of London, but chivalrous discrimination was employed as between the men and women disturbers, the women being chased off the grounds and the men being ducked in the lake. The Rt. Hon. James T. McNamara, a Radical member of the House of Commons, who presided, appealed to the assembled multitude to leave it entirely to the stewards to deal with the disturbers, but the request was disregarded. The man who fared worst was a German, said to be a member of Sylvia Penkworth's East End army. Undeterred by the fate that had befallen other disturbers, he demanded in stentorian tones to know why the Government had not given votes to women. His clerical garb seemed to produce the effect on the crowd that a red flag does on a mad bull. They rushed and carried him off his feet and pitched him headlong into the lake, from which, after frequent complete immersions, he was rescued in a half-drowned condition by a man in a boat.

"Tea and Coffee are just as harmful to children as alcohol is to grown-ups," says Dr. Charlotte Abbey, superintendent of the Women's Directory.

The reason why tea and coffee injure anybody is because these beverages contain the poisonous drug, caffeine (from 1½ to 3 grains to the cup) which physicians have long known affects the heart, stomach and liver.

Children especially, with their delicate nerves, are susceptible to the action of caffeine, and should never be allowed to have tea or coffee or any other beverage containing drugs.

Thousands of adults have found that their headaches, nervousness, indigestion and sleeplessness have vanished when a charge was made from tea and coffee to

June Weddings

MITCHELL-CROSS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PARIS, June 21.—A very pretty wedding took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart, when Miss Eva Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Cross, became the bride of Mr. T. Robert Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mitchell, of Brantford. Rev. Father Cassidy performed the ceremony. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and looked very pretty in a dress of white satin, with pink trimmings. She wore her mother's wedding veil, with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried white roses and lilies of the valley, tied with streamers of white ribbon. Miss Genevieve Doty, of Brantford, made a charming bridesmaid, being gowned in yellow satin with lace trimmings, and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Gordon Mitchell, of Brantford, and Miss Bella Cahill presided at the organ.

After the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, the table decorations being pink and white carnations. After a honeymoon trip to Toronto and Boston, the happy couple will take up their residence in Brantford.

CUNNINGHAM-CLARKE.

A quiet wedding took place Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Margaret Clarke, 15 Edward street, when her only daughter, Mildred, was married to Dr. Cunningham. The Rev. W. N. Walker conducted the ceremony in the presence of a few immediate relatives and friends.

Later in the afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Cunningham left for a trip to Bermuda.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Mrs. Fitzgerald Buried.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hessel Jane Fitzgerald was held from her residence, lot 7, concession 3, West Nisour Township, on Saturday afternoon June 20, at 2:30 o'clock, to Brown's Hill Cemetery. Service was conducted at the house and graveside by Rev. John Smith, of Dorchester. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Fitzgerald was Miss Quinn, and she was a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church.

The funeral was largely attended by Mrs. Fitzgerald's many friends, there being numerous floral tributes.

The pallbearers were six nephews: John Logan, William Quinn, Isaac Saul, George Saul, Robert Woods, William Woods.

Death of Miss Margaret Walde.

The many friends of Margaret S. Walde, only daughter of the late Alexander Walde, will regret to hear of her death at her home, Adelaide street north, Saturday, June 20. Miss Walde was a faithful worker in church circles of New St. James Presbyterian Church and in the Daughters of the Empire, Trafalgar Chapter. She was highly esteemed by all for her cheerful disposition and benevolent spirit. She will be deeply mourned by a mother and four brothers, Daniel, John and Russell, of London, and Frederick, of Tyler, Texas.

The funeral will be held from the home on Adelaide street north, Tuesday, at 2:30, to Webster's Cemetery, third concession, London Township.

Home Treatment for

Sallow, Wrinkled Skin

A. C. F. asks: "What should I do for my sallow complexion, and how can I get rid of my wrinkles?"

Sallowness is best removed by removing the skin itself. This is effectually accomplished by the use of ordinary mercurized wax, which causes the offensive outer skin gradually to peel off, in fine particles, scarcely noticeable to the naked eye. Within a week or so you will have an enviable complexion, the new skin exhibiting a healthy, youthful tint, incomparable with artificial coloring. Get an ounce of this wax at your drug store, apply at night like cold cream, only don't rub it in. Wash it off in the morning with warm water.

For your wrinkles try a solution of powdered salicylic acid, 1 oz. dissolved in 1 pint which hasel. Rub the face in this every morning for a while. The result will surprise you.—Beauty's Mirror.—Adv.

LONDON FIGHT WILL BE THREE-CORNERED

Labor Party Places Candidate in Field to Contest Local Riding.

JOHN D. JACOBS NAMED

Member of Molders' Union Secures Unanimous Support of Labor Convention.

London will have a three-cornered fight in the provincial elections, June 29, for a Labor candidate will be placed in the running.

Saturday night at a convention of delegates from local unions held in the Trades and Labor Council's Hall, John D. Jacobs, molder, was unanimously tendered the nomination of the Labor party.

James Hussey, president of the Labor Council, and E. Ingles were the only other nominees. Both withdrew.

The convention then placed itself on record as unanimously nominating Mr. Jacobs as its candidate.

Representatives of the Socialist-Democrat party were present at the convention to offer their support in backing a Labor man in the electoral fight. In announcing their desire to co-operate with the Labor Council, Delegate Sails, of the Socialists' delegation, stated that his delegation, although representing what was, after all, a political party, had the power to pledge assistance to the Labor men, should the candidate nominated meet with their approval.

Fighting Spirit of Convention.

When the convention had finally pushed its way through the preliminaries, in which both Liberal and Conservative candidates and parties came in for criticism, its movements were characterized by a fighting spirit. The program of nominating the candidate put through.

"Don't let's beat about the bush," urged Delegate Higgins, when the proceedings lagged somewhat. "We've little enough time to get out and make a telling fight. Let's use the time we have to advantage. Either we are going to nominate a candidate or we are not."

The question was raised at the outset by Delegate Jackson whether the council was in a position to finance the campaign.

After a discussion in which the majority of the council thought that there would be little difficulty in that direction, it was felt that funds would be forthcoming to handle the fight.

The running of the campaign was left with a committee.

From the sentiment expressed by the delegates from the different locals, the support tendered to the candidate will be enthusiastic and thorough. Car workers, through their delegates, expressed their intention of supporting their candidate to the last ditch. Boiler-makers declared their readiness to get behind a Labor man. The metal polishers were unanimous in their desire to support Labor interests. Broom-makers asserted their intention to lend their assistance to the cause. Other locals similarly placed their support of making a bid for honors in the provincial election by backing a union man.

Brewery Workers Opposed.

The support of the tailors is not certain. Through their representative, Joseph Dean, the convention was informed that after consideration, they had turned the proposition down flat in sympathy with the tailors were the brewery workers. They, too, did not favor the placing of a Labor candidate in the field.

Considerable discussion was evoked over the platform of the Trades and Labor Council. Representatives from the Socialist-Democrat party stated that if a platform existed they wanted it read very loudly and would be certain of their ground.

The council had no platform that would be adaptable to the occasion. A proposal that the platform drawn up by the Niagara Falls Union be adopted met with the approval of the convention after it was read.

Following is the committee which will have charge of the executive end of the campaign: Delegates L. M. Higgins, Francisco, Ingles, Sails, Templeton, Moran, Powell, Burleigh, Lane, Jackson and Stinson.
