BERLIN MAKES PEACE OFFER TO PETROGRAD

ANTI-CONSCRIPTION RIOTS AT MONTREAL LAST NIGHT

ENEMY TERMS OUTLINED IN PROGRAM OF SOCIALISTS

Refuse Indemnity For Belgium and Keep Alsace-Lorraine. WANT THE COLONIES BACK

Offer Return of Peace, International Arbitration and Disarmament.

Stockholm, June 16.—What may be considered to approximate the German Government's peace terms was outlined here today, when the German majority Socialists gave out their program for peace. The striking points of the plan were: No indemnity for Belgium, because "it would be difficult to determine which belligerents were responsible for damages on the various fronts and a one-sided liability would merely make an indemnity."

The Peace Terms.

Return of the German colonies, under the Socialist doctrine of "no annexations."

Retention by Germany of Alsace-Lorraine, "because they are nine-tenths German."

The German Socialists outline likewise insists on complete political and military independence of all nations. Belgium is to agree with her Austrian "comrades" regarding the future of Serbia and other Balkan nations.

Poland and Finland.

Poland's and Finland's future is to be left to determination of these provinces themselves. Certainly they shall be autonomous.

To Greece, Ireland, Egypt, Korea, Tripoli, Morocco and Thibet the German Socialists extended "greatest sympathy" and Socialists in those principalities were urged to work for independence.

After return of peace, the Germans would have "international arbitration and disarmament, except for defensive measures, and for short enlistment for a police army."

In giving out their outline the German Socialists urged that the general Socialist conference declare it was not willing to discuss the responsibility for the preventation of war, unless the Entente delegates insisted on this.

The German majority Socialists' program as outlined above differs somewhat from terms for peace which have generally, and semi-officially, been credited to the German Government. Germany has usually indicated its willingness to indemnify Belgium.

The German majority Socialists are headed by Philip Schiedemann and are ardent supporters of the Kaiser's Government.

PRESS OF GERMANY TOLD NOT TO WORRY ABOUT U. S. TROOPS

Americans Should Be Considered a Negligible Quantity.

STATES GENERAL STAFF

Make Usual Predictions of the Victory of Subs—Pershing Busy.

Copenhagen, June 16—Via London.—Representatives of the German press were told yesterday, at the regular weekly press conference in Berlin, that the arrival of American troops in noteworthy numbers in the European theatre was to be expected only in 1918. The general staff lecturer also took the ground that the American forces should be treated as a negligible quantity in the general reckoning, owing to the difficulties of finding sufficient tonnage for transportation and supply.

The suggestion was followed in numerous articles in the newspapers yesterday and this morning.

New French Offensive.

The newspaper representatives also were told that a new Russian offensive was highly improbable, but that artillery and aviation activity, and reconnoitering raids indicated a new French offensive was in preparation. The British also were certain to try their fortune again, but no surprises in offensive methods were expected from either the French or the British, and the only variant from the earlier offensives would be a change of geographical location.

Depending on Subs.

Germany's situation was described as absolutely secure, and German victory as certain, owing to the relentless working of the submarine.

The correspondents were told that the purpose of the air raids on England was to keep in the islands trained men of the aerial corps and guns for defence, and that the submarine warfare also served to weaken the British offensive by keeping from the front men and guns required to arm merchantmen.

Transparent.

Another transparent piece of propaganda for the purpose of encouraging the people is seen in the Bucharest story in regard to the Rumanian grain exports. These are described on some days as surpassing the requirements of 100,000,000 persons, an assurance which contrasts strongly with the official announcement recently made in regard to the necessity of reducing the amount of bread supplied in lieu of potatoes. Another misleading pen trick is to describe the average daily exports in May as exceeding those of May last year, when Rumania was at peace, ignoring the effect on Germany's foreign trade of Rumania's entrance into the war.

PERSHING IS BUSY.

Paris, June 16.—After three days as the guest of France, Major-Gen. Pershing today plunged into the work of making preparations for the arrival and disposition of the American military forces which he is to command. Early this morning he went to the new American army headquarters in the Rue de Constantine, near the Hotel des Invalides.

Gen. Pershing found in his mail numerous requests from Americans serving in the Allied ranks to be transferred to American Corps in France. He is guided strictly by the war department's decision not to request the transfer of Americans from the Foreign Legion or from the English or Canadian armies except for work in the American army as instructors or in other specified capacities. Consequently most of the Americans now serving with other armies will remain with them.

VON TIRP AND HINDY STILL "KIDDING" FOLKS TRIUMPH IS CERTAIN

Copenhagen, June 16.—Via London.—Admiral von Tirpitz and Field Marshal von Hindenburg have replied approvingly to telegrams of greeting from the Pan-German committee for a German peace at Essen. Von Tirpitz replied: "The submarines will reach their goal if we at home retain our nerve."

Von Hindenburg, who misses no opportunity of answering telegrams from meetings harangued by the junker committee, although it is openly in opposition to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, responded on this occasion with assurances that a complete victory and "a peace worthy of Germany's sacrifices and assuring the prosperity and growth of the country are within reach if the struggle is continued manfully."

The Tages Zeitung emphasizes the significance of these repeated Hindenburgian responses to the manifestations of the anti-Bethmann committee by effusively thanking the field marshal for his willingness to "strengthen the will to victory of the nation by his stirring replies."

CANADA'S SHIPYARDS TURNING OUT SCORES OF VESSELS TO HELP COMBAT SUBMARINES

Toronto, June 16.—That Canada is doing her part to combat the submarine menace, and also that there has been a wonderful development in shipbuilding in the dominion, is evidenced by some figures on the amount of shipbuilding going on in Canada at the present time, was announced by Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, who is here to lay. Perhaps the most remarkable achievement is the number of wooden sailing vessels, before the war thought to be obsolete, now being built. Now 57 of these vessels are under construction for Atlantic service.

On the east coast, Mr. Hazen stated, there are thirteen steamers being constructed. Two of them are cargo vessels of 9,400 tons each of steel construction.

On the Great Lakes 22 steamers are under way. One steamer of steel construction, will be of 7,360 tons. Some of the 57 wooden schoolers being built in the east are of a good size. Three of them will be over 1,000 tons.

7,143 Soldiers In Military Hospitals of the Dominion

Ottawa, June 16.—The military hospital commission's report shows that there were 7,143 members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force under medical treatment in the dominion on June 8, including out-patients. There had been an increase of 317 since May 30.

The new total is made up of 5,889 convalescents, 846 patients at sanatoria for tuberculosis, and 408 in other institutions, chiefly general hospitals at various centres.

LOOKS BRIGHT FOR LIBERALS IN SASK.; MARTIN IS STRONG

Premier Given Great Reception at Regina — Con. Papers Turn Over.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Regina, Sask., June 16.—On his return to Regina from an extensive speaking tour of the province, lasting several weeks, during which he visited almost every constituency and addressed over 60 meetings in large and small centres of population, Premier Martin was given the reception of his career at the biggest meeting of the campaign yet held in the auditorium of the city hall here last night.

One of the surprises of the campaign was sprung today when the Saskatoon Star and the Regina Post, both formerly Conservative, came out flat-footed today in favor of the return of the Martin Government in an identical editorial printed in bold type and spread over two full pages. These two papers review the whole record of the Government and Opposition, and strongly urge the return of the Liberal Government.

STRONG POSITION TAKEN BY CADORNA

Rome, June 16—Via London.—Italian forces have carried Corno Cavento, a strongly fortified Austrian position in the eastern Trentino, says the official statement issued today by the Italian war department.

JAP COMMISSION TO UNITED STATES OVER CHINESE SITUATION

Vancouver, B. C., June 16.—Private advices received here announce the appointment by the Japanese Government of Baron Ishil as the head of a commission to effect an understanding with the United States over the Chinese question.

BELGIUM'S MISSION REACHES THE STATES

An Atlantic Port, June 16.—Belgium's official mission to the United States arrived in this country today. It is headed by Baron Moncheur, former minister to the United States, and now chief of the political bureau of the Belgian foreign office at Havre.

WASHINGTON SEEKS TO SETTLE TROUBLE WITH THE RUSSIANS

Every Effort Made To Have United Front by Slavs.

PEASANTS ARE FOR WAR

Council of Soldiers and Workmen Represent Comparatively Few.

Washington, June 16.—Russia has become the pre-occupying question at the state department with the approach of the Russian mission to Washington, the beginning of negotiations by the American commission to Russia in Petrograd, and the continued reiteration of the demand of the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates for a statement of Allied peace terms. In the shiftings in Russia from day to day, officials find trouble in arriving at the trend of the situation and are eagerly grasping at all information.

Recent reports indicate that the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates is not so dominating a factor as is generally assumed. It represents not over five million people of Russia's 180,000,000. The Council is confined very largely to the industrial centres, whose voice is always the first heard and the loudest.

Peasants for War.

The peasants, according to these reports, comprise the vast majority of the population, and have voted overwhelmingly in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war. They have not as yet shown the slightest sympathy with the Radicals. The one great event for them has been the final establishment of local self-government, which they feel is directly due to the present leaders and which they fear might be lost by any change.

Moreover, the businessmen of Russia, it is pointed out, have recently voted practically unanimously, through what corresponds in Russia to the American Chamber of Commerce, for a vigorous prosecution of the war.

Nevertheless, the continued insistence by the Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates for a new declaration by the allies shows a lack of confidence or a misunderstanding which, it is realized, must be swept away before Russia can present a united front. Despite the recent American, British and French announcements this has not as yet been done, and some means will be sought to reach the Russian radical on its own grounds.

Great hope is felt that the Root mission may find that way by its presence on the spot.

GERMAN RAIDERS ARE REPULSED BY FRENCH

Paris, June 16.—The French repulsed several raids in the region of Hill 304 on the heights of the Meuse last night, according to an official statement from the war office this morning. The artillery fire around Craonne and Mont Carnillet was lively.

CONGRESS HURRYING FOOD BILL THROUGH

Washington, June 16. — Following President Wilson's request for immediate action on the food control bill, the measure was today reported to the Senate without committee recommendation and may be reached Monday.

BRITISH THROW OFF GERMAN ATTACK ON POSITION AT CANAL

The Enemy's Counter-Assault Proves a Complete Failure.

MORE HINDY LINE GONE

Haig's Troops Take Fresh Bite Northwest of Bullecourt.

London, June 16.—Repulse of a German attack on the positions captured by the British [illegible] of the Ypres-Comines Canal is announced by the war office. The statement follows:

"The positions we captured on Thursday evening south of the Ypres-Comines Canal were attacked by the enemy after heavy artillery preparation. A few Germans who succeeded in reaching our front trenches were at once killed or driven out, and the attack was completely repulsed at all points."

TAKE MORE HINDY LINE.

London, June 15.—The British forces today delivered an attack upon and captured further portions of the Hindenburg line northwest of Bullecourt, despite the resistance of the Germans, who suffered heavy casualties, according to the official communication issued tonight.

The statement reads:

"Early this morning we attacked and captured a further portion of a sector of the Hindenburg line still held by the enemy northwest of Bullecourt. The hostile garrison offered stubborn resistance and suffered heavy casualties. We took 43 prisoners.

"We also captured a few prisoners as the result of successful raids east of Loos (Canadian front), and in the neighborhood of the River Lys.

"Our own and the enemy artillery were active during the day north of the Scarpe and at a number of points between Armentieres and Ypres.

"Four German airplanes were brought down yesterday in air fighting, and three others were driven down out of control. Two of our machines failed to return."

In Flanders the British have extended their gains astride the Ypres-Comines Canal in the direction of Comines toward Warrington on the Franco-Belgian border.

STATES SEIZES ALL STEAMERS ON WAYS; TWO MILLION TONS

Washington, June 16. — Steel shipbuilders, called here yesterday by the shipping board and Major-General Goethals, chairman of the emergency fleet corporation, were told the Government would commandeer immediately all shipbuilding contracts. There is no present intention, they were told, to commandeer the yards themselves.

The Government has power to commandeer shipping and shipbuilding facilities under the war budget bill signed yesterday by President Wilson.

There is building in the steel yards of the country now nearly 2,000,000 tons of shipping, more than 1,000,000 of it for England.

Under an arrangement, reached between the American and British Governments, English tonnage, now building, will be turned over voluntarily to the United States.

The fleet corporation, charged with building the Government fleet, will see that steel is furnished in sufficient quantities to hurry construction for all ships on the yards. As soon as the yards are cleared of their present contracts the corporation will start them building the great fleet of standardized ships.

General Goethals estimates the country's yards can produce within the next eighteen months at least 3,000,000 tons of steel shipping, and perhaps more.

Steel building will be supplemented by wooden construction, although General Goethals expects to build a far less tonnage of wooden ships than was proposed originally by the shipping board.

SIR JOHN WILLISON RETIRES FROM NEWS

Toronto, June 16.—Sir John Willison authorizes the statement that he is resigning from the Daily News today. He has been editor-in-chief and managing director of that paper for the past fourteen years.

STOCKHOLM REPORTS GERMANS HAVE MADE OFFER OF PEACE TO RUSSIA THROUGH SWISS

Members of Switzerland's Council Said To Have Presented Terms of Teutons to New Russian Government.

GERMAN TERMS TO RUSSIA.

1. No Offensive While Pact Possible.
2. Financial Support For Russia.
3. No Interference With Internal Affairs.
4. Entente Cordiale Over Poland.
5. Restore Occupied Provinces.
6. Russia To Restore Austrian Provinces.

Stockholm, June 16, via London. — The Social Demokraten says Germany has made an offer of peace to Russia through a member of the Swiss Federal Council.

Various moves on the part of Germany and Austria since the Russian revolution to arrange a separate peace with Russia, have been reported, although not in the form of an offer directly by either government. A week ago the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates of Russia made public the fact that the German commander-in-chief on the eastern front had sent a wireless message inviting the Russian armies to a separate armistice to be followed by secret negotiations with the German leaders. This proposal was denounced by the council.

A BULGAR ATTEMPT.

Maxim Gorky, the Russian author, last month made it known that D. Rizow, the Bulgarian minister at Berlin, had attempted to inveigle him into secret peace negotiations. It was reported recently from Petrograd that two Austrian generals, ten other Austrian officers and fifteen privates had appeared in Kishinev, Russia, declaring that they were peace delegates. This report was denied in Vienna.

SENT IN CIPHER.

Stockholm, June 16.—The Social Demokraten today publishes the translation of a telegram said to have been sent in cipher from the political department of the Swiss Federal Council to E. Odier, the Swiss minister at Petrograd. It is dated at Berne June 5, and says:

"Hoffman, a member of the federal council, authorizes you to make to Grimm (a Russian Socialist professor who returned to Russia from Switzerland after the revolution), the following oral communication:

AIMING AT PEACE.

"'Germany will not undertake an offensive so long as an arrangement with Russia seems possible. After conversations with an important personage I am convinced that Germany aims at a peace with Russia honorable to both parties.

"'With intimate economic and commercial relations and financial support to place Russia once again on her feet.

"'No interference in the domestic affairs of Russia.

"'An Entente cordiale on Poland, Lithuania and Courland, in view of the relationship between the peoples.

"'Restitution of the occupied provinces, and Russia, on the other hand, to give back to Austria the provinces which she has been able to take.'"

THE WAR SITUATION

British troops are striking along almost the entire line they hold in Northern France, not with the terrific force which marked the victories of Arras and Messines but in a more or less tentative manner, giving weight to the belief that Field Marshal Haig is preparing to launch a mighty blow on a hitherto unprecedented scale. Two features of the fighting stand out with sharp significance: The first is the feebleness with which the Germans are reacting and the second is the surprising promptness with which Berlin admits retirements in various sectors.

Another Retreat?

The whole situation is entirely similar to that existing prior to the great "strategic retreat" of the Germans from the Somme. There is considerable evidence that Field Marshal von Hindenburg is planning another great withdrawal and that Field Marshal Haig is pressing him at all points in the hope of delivering a shattering blow if such a second "retreat to victory" materializes.

The Italians, having successfully maintained their advance in the face of the most formidable Austrian counter-attacks, are apparently preparing for a resumption of their offensive. Vienna reports that the Italian guns have opened with the greatest violence in Carinthia, indicating that Gen. Cadorna has chosen a new sector in which to deliver his next blow.

The scene of the bombardment is some 50 miles north of Gorizia, and an offensive in this region would support the reports that the Italian commander has far more ambitious plans than even the conquest of Trieste.

Tumult in Spain.

The upheaval caused by the great war, which has already dethroned two monarchs, now seems to menace the ancient throne of Spain. The utmost exertions of the Spanish censors have failed to completely suppress the reports of grave happenings in the peninsular kingdom. From what little is known the Spanish army is taking the lead in the revolutionary movement, which is further accelerated by the food scarcity and industrial unrest. Rumors of revolt have been current for several months, and at the end of May it was announced that the constitutional guarantees would be suspended while the Government prohibited all public manifestations in respect to international questions. This was followed by an outbreak at Barcelona on June 1, the seriousness of which was indicated by the fact that the soldiers aided with the revolters and imprisoned a number of their officers.

People Are Pro-Ally.

The exact part which the issues of the war play in the Spanish crisis is difficult to determine. The masses of the people have been generally credited with being strongly pro-ally in sentiment, while the aristocraty leaned toward the side of Germany. At the same time the demand for internal reform and other domestic questions have apparently had a leading role in the growing unrest.

No new developments have occurred in the Greek situation, but the triumphant return to Athens of Venizelos is predicted in England, a step almost certain to be followed by the definite alignment of Greece on the side of the Entente. The violence of German comments on the abdication of King Constantine shows how strongly the disappearance of the kaiser's royal ally has affected Berlin.

TRANSPORT WAS SUNK IN THE IONIAN SEA; ALL ON BOARD SAVED

Paris, June 16.—It is officially announced that the transport Annam was torpedoed in the Ionian Sea on June 11, while proceeding under escort. Bombs were at once thrown in the track of the submarine, which did not reappear. The Annam was taken in tow by one of the convoying ships, but sank in a few hours. There were no casualties.

The Annam was a vessel of 6,075 tons. She was built in 1899 in Copenhagen and was owned in Marseilles.

NICKNAMES FOR THE ARMY CHIEFS

Behind the British Lines in France, June 15.—(By the Associated Press).—Popularity is the forerunner of a nickname in the British army.

Soldiers still think of Lord Roberts as "Bobs," and of Kitchener always as "K" or "K. of K."

Sir Douglas Haig to the British private is never anything but "D. H."

Sir William Robertson, the chief of the staff, is always "Wullie."

General Sir Robert Whigham's army name is "Wigwam."

General Sir Robert Gough is "Goffy," and General Allenby is "The Bull."

No one ever thinks of General Rawlingson except as "Rilly."

General Maude rejoices in the title of "The Strafer."

MONTREAL MOB SMASH WINDOWS, ATTACK SOLDIER

Five Hundred Anti-Conscriptionists From Cote St. Paul Invade Verdun.

Montreal, June 16.—Rioting by those opposed to conscription was resumed in this locality last night when a crowd of five hundred men from Cote St. Paul, a Montreal suburb, entered Verdun, a nearby municipality, and paraded the streets. A wounded soldier was assaulted. One man was arrested for flourishing a revolver and was fined $25 in the police court this morning. A number of windows on the main street of the town were smashed.

Montreal, June 16.—Fools and demagogues though they might be, the Quebec anti-conscriptionists had scared the Government into delaying its military service bill and he was certain that there would not be conscription, declared Tancrede Marsil, addressing a large audience in Hochelaga last evening.

When Mr. Marsil referred to a French-Canadian editor who had told Toronto that Quebec would accept conscription if it came, some voices in the crowd called: "Guns, guns."

The speaker attacked Hon. Mr. Cochrane, minister of railways, for tearing up the railways of Canada, the rails so torn up still being at Three Rivers.

The city council of Lachine has adopted a resolution disapproving of the conscription measure introduced in the House of Commons by Sir Robert Borden on the ground that Parliament should not legislate on such a measure until the approval of the electors had been obtained.

FORTY-ONE KILLED IN ASHTON CRASH

London, June 15.—The casualties in the explosion in a munitions factory at Ashton-Under-Lyne on Wednesday were reported officially today as 41 killed and 130 injured. The announcement follows:

"The following casualties are reported in the Ashton-Under-Lyne explosion: 41 deaths, including 29 men, 3 women, 9 children; 130 injured, some seriously.

"It appears that the explosion resulted from a fire. A majority of the working people escaped, all the women having left before the explosion. The manager is amongst the dead."

SHIFT IN ADMIRALS.

Petrograd, Via London, June 15.—The newspapers report that Admiral Madimoff, commander of the Black Sea fleet, has left his post and will be replaced by Rear Admiral Verdervski. General Yudevitch, commander-in-chief in the Caucasus, has been replaced by General Prjevalsky.

Two officers and two men of the Austrian espionage bureau, have been arrested while visiting Russian lines in the guise of parlemetaires.

NO PUNCH LEFT IN FOE'S RANKS ON WEST FRONT

Rupprecht's Men Driven Into Action With Machine Guns.

LAGGARDS SLAUGHTERED

Nine German Divisions Decimated in Combat With French.

Paris, Friday, June 15.—The Matin's correspondent at the Flanders front telegraphs as follows:

Prince Rupprecht's troops enter a fight dejectedly and without a punch. Secret orders discovered show that behind each section marches an officer whose duty it is to shoot the laggards. This officer is supported by two machine guns which collaborate in the slaughter of the demoralized shirkers.

"The wounds of many of the German dead and the statements of prisoners prove that these guns are kept busy urging forward the waves of German troops into the hell of British fire.

Divisions Decimated.

"Fourteen enemy divisions participated in the last five days' fighting between Witschaete and Warneton. Nine divisions were decimated, and the other five hit hard. Finally four divisions were sent to the rear to rest, and were replaced by troops hastened from the Russian front."

The correspondent says: "Our British friends do things on a big scale and the Germans do also, for they have left twenty thousand dead on or under the ground and forty thousand more are out of business for a long time.

"A Bavarian in a letter home says: 'When the British mines exploded we thought hell had opened to receive us.'"

RUMANIAN OIL FIELD NOT YET RESTORED

Copenhagen, Via London, June 16.—In contrast to the recent semi-official statement that Rumanian oil production had been resumed on a normal basis the Berlin Vossische Zeitung, in an article on conditions in Rumania, says that while production has been resumed it will be some time before peace conditions are reached in the oil fields.

The question is one of high importance to Germany on account of the role which gasoline, lubricants and fuel oil play in the operations of the navy and in railroad transportation. Difficulties in both these directions have been due in no small measure to the lack of lubricants.

BIG HEART OF CITY TO THROB

Appeal for Tubercular Soldiers Will Be Made Next Week.

$57,300 IS SUM ASKED FOR

Anticipated That the Response Will Exceed Amount — What Money Goes For.

The big heart of London will have an opportunity this coming week to perform a service of the most patriotic character in providing the means whereby brave lads who went overseas, but were there stricken with lung trouble, may be brought back to health and strength and restored to their own. The public sympathy for these afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis has always been marked in this city; the building of the sanatorium is good proof of that. But today there is an added reason for exerting every effort to provide the facilities for healing because the patients for whose help the greater accommodation is planned are those who have made the greatest sacrifice on behalf of the Dominion.

$57,300 Is Sum Asked.

London citizens will be asked next week to contribute the sum of $57,300 to extend the accommodation at the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, so that 150 returned soldiers may be treated at one time. That is a small sum, after all, when it is considered that it means the restoration to health and usefulness of scores and scores of men who without it would have small chance of life. The investment that is made in the sanatorium will pay dividends of hundreds per cent in the work that men saved by its agency will perform in years to come.

The central committee has prepared a careful statement of the expenditure which must be made in order to bring the sanatorium to the required capacity. The chief expenditure is, of course, the permanent building for bed cases accommodating 85 patients, equipped with X-ray plant, bacteriological laboratory and small operating room. Furnished complete this will cost $145,000, and towards this there have already been grants of $25,000 each from the Military Hospitals Commission, the Ontario Government, and the London city council, with a further promise of $15,000 from the Red Cross for furnishings.

Pavilions for 30 Soldiers.

Three new pavilions and a building with dressing rooms will accommodate 30 soldiers, and cost furnished $6,200. The expenditure on the old sanatorium plant, kitchen, etc., with increased accommodation for employees, will cost $5,300, while doubling the size of the stables and poultry house will take $5,700 more. An equal amount will have to be spent in doubling the laundry capacity, while water supply and drains will take $4,400, and grading and roads will require $2,000. The total expenditure is $174,300, for which grants of $97,000 have already been received or promised. This leaves a balance of $77,300, of which Sir Adam Beck has promised to raise $20,000 in the surrounding district, and London is asked to provide the balance, $57,300. As this is less than one-third of the total cost of the enlarged plant, the demand cannot be regarded as heavy, and there are already indications that the amount asked for will be far exceeded.

SCENE AT ASSEMBLY NEVER TO BE FORGOTTEN

Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church and Rev. J. D. McCrae of Petrolea have returned from Montreal, where they attended the meeting of the General Assembly and visited with relatives. Speaking to The Advertiser, Dr. McCrae said: "It was in many respects the greatest and most successful General Assembly held since the union of 1875. All the debates and discussions were of a high order, and the spirit and temper in which they were carried on were of the finest. The absolute unanimity arrived at on the union question was as remarkable as it was unlooked for. The joy of the great gathering, when the unanimous standing vote took place, was unbounded, and the scene as the doxology was sung will never be forgotten by those present. On Sunday evening at the Hamilton Road Church, Dr. McCroe will speak on "Sidelights from the Great Assembly."

HURON CLERICUS MEETS ON MONDAY

Previous to the meeting of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron next week, the twelfth annual meeting will be held of "The Huron Clericus" on Monday in Cronyn Hall, winding up with the clerical breakfast at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at Smallman & Ingram's.

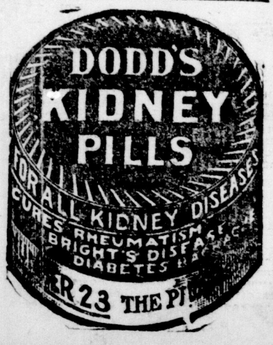

The first session will meet at 1:30 o'clock on Monday and will be devoted to a round-table conference on "The Holy Communion." Rev. J. A. Robinson will open the discussion with a paper on "The Sanctuary." Rev. R. J. Seton-Adamson will give suggestions in regard to "Preparation for the Holy Communion"; Rev. S. Hardy will lead a discussion on "The Communicants," and Rev. E. C. Jennings on "The Service."

The subject of "Social Service" will be discussed at the clerical breakfast, and three speakers of outstanding ability have been secured, Rev. J. B. Fotheringham, Rev. A. Carlisle and Rev. R. W. Norwood.

Rev. H. W. Snell is president of the Huron Clericus, and Rev. T. B. Howard secretary-treasurer.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS GIVING VALUABLE AID

The commercial travelers of the city have "taken hold" in the Sanatorium campaign, and in addition to placing a team in the field will render valuable assistance to the organizers of the "Big Heart" Sunday collection. The fact that this collection will be made on Sunday affords them opportunity to co-operate, as most of the travelers are away from home all week, and with a few exceptions have not been able to take part in the recent patriotic campaigns. The request for help in the Sanatorium campaign for an hour on Sunday morning, the 24th, has been well received, and in reply to a letter sent out to the younger businessmen of the city, the response of that commercial travelers has been very gratifying. Of the 300 collectors, over 200 have already volunteered, and the committee expect that a number of commercial travelers will send in their return cards during this week-end. The necessity for receiving the names as soon as possible is in order that instructions for the Sunday morning collection may be sent out.

FROM A YOUNG LONDONER IN KHAKI TO HIS BROTHER NOW IN "CIVIES"

Any doubt about the pressing need for more men is dispelled by a letter received recently by an eligible civilian from his brother, a young Londoner, serving with the Canadian forces in France. The soldier does not adopt an attitude of "Let the other fellow's brother do it," but writing from the firing line, after a winter's campaign and with full knowledge of the hardships and privations, makes a stirring appeal to his brother to get into khaki, and get into it quick.

The letter follows:

"My Dear Brother,—The 24th of May, and I take my pen in hand just to drop you a line. I have wondered so often if you ever thought of writing to me, and why you did not get my address. I have had the pleasure of meeting a lot of your schoolmates over here from the university, including one whom I believe was a room-mate of yours.

"Now, I don't want you to get sore at what I am going to say. It is just from brother to brother, man to man. Please try to look at it in that light. Honestly speaking, I wish you were not needed over here, but you are, and needed badly. I've been through a winter of it here, as you know, and it was not very pleasant, but, dear old top, it was not half so unpleasant as it will be in Canada after the war for those who did not voluntarily enlist. I only wish, old man, that you could stay at home (with honor), but you can't. There is too much at stake. This is too big a thing. Now that the United States is into it with conscription in force there, and there is going to be conscription in Canada, you have no idea yet what it is going to mean to you.

"Get into it before conscription. I've seen the way conscripts are treated in the Imperial, and besides, a conscript won't be treated the same after the war as a volunteer. I again say, you're needed.

"Do you know what we all live for out here? We live for the day we step off the train at home and march down the streets to the playing of bands, flying of flags. Do you remember when we were kids, and when the soldiers came home from the Boer war, and that funny feeling went up your back as they marched by with the bands playing and the cheering. All that will fully repay me, I can tell you. There are lots of us who won't be there, but I'll bet there is not one fellow (that is young fellow) who would change place with a civie at home. Think it over old man, seriously, I mean. Think of everything connected with it. Think of how proud your masters will be of you, your pals, dad, everybody. And when it is over you won't be sorry, I bet. I have thanked the Lord every night for giving me this chance. It has made a big change in me, and I see things I never would have seen otherwise. Good old dad has been so good to me it makes me ashamed when I think of it. But khaki has given many a man another chance more ways than one.

"There is a certain lieutenant over here who got in wrong with his people in England (his father has a title). He went to Canada and only the fact that he donned the khaki brought his family and himself together.

"Now don't be sore, old chap. I don't blame you, but do it now before conscription. Try the flying corps or the artillery, but get into it before it's too late. You won't be sorry. Let me hear from you, and if I can be of any assistance, say the word. And now, with much love. Always your affectionate

"BROTHER."

GOOD FRESH SOCKS MAKE BOYS IN FRANCE FEEL GOOD

London Lady Receives Grateful Letters From Two Soldiers Who Received Her Hosiery.

Two soldier lads at the front have written to Mrs. A. Roberts, 569 William street, thanking her for socks knitted by her, which they have received. "Just a line to acknowledge receipt of the socks," writes Pte. H. G. Balm, D Company, 1st Battalion. "Thanks very much, indeed. Believe me, they are a thing very much appreciated over here. They fit fine, too. I think Fritz is getting about fed up with the war, and I have an idea the Canadians will be home for Christmas dinner this year."

Signaller H. Leslie Kennedy, 25th Battery, 2nd Canadian Division, France, says: "I tell you we sure do appreciate a nice clean pair of socks after tramping around for weeks in the same pair. I am a signaller in the artillery, and have had the pleasure of going nearly four weeks with one pair of socks, and no chance to take them off. But it isn't so bad now, thanks to you who remember us by sending socks."

"I don't know whether you will be able to make this out or not, as I am in a pretty awkward position for writing. I am sitting in a hole with my knees near my chin, and am supposed to be on telephone duty. This phone business is about the most interesting branch of the army, especially the artillery part of it. It is a bit risky, I will admit. But when you figure it all out, like I do, 'you'll get it when your time comes.' It may be a peculiar thing to say, but I believe it's true. We have been here now nearly two years, and there are just four of us left out of a crew of 21, and I can say we have been lucky."

GOLD WRIST WATCH FOR MRS. FLANDERS

The June meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church was held this week at the home of Mrs. Alexander Harvey, 804 Talbot street, and took the form of a farewell for the retiring president, Mrs. Flanders, who is leaving in the immediate future for Winnipeg.

Mrs. John H. Chapman presided, and a pleasing feature of the afternoon was the presentation to Mrs. Flanders of a beautiful gold wrist watch. Mrs. Yorke Miller, who made the presentation on behalf of the W. M. S., voiced the deep regret of the members over the departure of Rev. Dr. Flanders, Mrs. Flanders and their family, warm appreciation of the service rendered to the society by Mrs. Flanders during her presidency, and good wishes for the future.

PEOPLE KNEW IT, DECLARES R. E. O. A.

The Real Estate Owners' Association last evening paid their respects to the recent exposure of conditions at the incinerator in the following resolution:

"Resolved, that in the opinion of this association, the recent investigation into the garbage system reveals what has long been known by the public, that the whole system is an expensive farce. An incinerator is not needed, as a few teams would keep the densely-populated portion of the city clean and at less than one-fifth the present cost. Give the voters another chance, and they will vote the present system out of existence."

TWO BIG FACTORIES NOW BEING ERECTED

Owen Sound Industries Will Have Commodious Homes Before Long.

OWEN SOUND, June 15.—The Northern Bolt and Wire Company has under construction a new building, 50x100 feet, adjoining its present plant, to be used for new machinery for the making of bolts. The building is fireproof and of concrete and corrugated iron.

Work on excavation for the new Keenan factory, to which the town loaned several thousand dollars in the winter, has been started. The new building will be 63x135 feet and three stories high, considerably larger than was at first planned. The building will be ready for occupation by September.

The steamer Meaford has been recently purchased by Captain Moles and M. Storey of Collingwood, and after completing some minor repairs will go on the Georgian Bay route.

Oliver C. Brown, a prominent resident, died at his residence here after a lengthy illness. He operated the lime kiln and works known by his name on the West Hill and was a successful businessman.

POLICEMEN WHO WENT TO FRANCE TO REJOIN FORCE

Sergt. Jim Oakley Takes Off Khaki for Blue.

BARNHILL RETURNING TOO

As Soon as Health Permits He Will Again Appear as Limb of Law.

On Monday next, Sergt. "Jim" Oakley, who returned home on February 15 last, after serving eighteen months with the 6th Field Battery, will again don the uniform of a patrolman and take his former place on the city police force.

Sergt. Oakley, along with other members of the force, joined the battery then stationed at Queen's Park in September, 1914, and proceeded overseas with that unit. He and Sergt.-Major John Barnhill, who will also return to the police force when he has sufficiently regained his health, arrived home at the same time, after a long experience in Belgium and France with the battery.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

AN EMPLOYEE'S STATEMENT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I am an employee at the incinerator, and I am sorry to think that any such reports have been published in the papers about the shanty and the "dusky maiden" being a frequent visitor to the shanty or anybody else, and, as the chief engineer states that he works during the day and the dusky maiden was no friend of his, I wish to say she is no friend of mine or any of the other employees. Speaking about the incinerator being in bad shape, dirt on the engines and pumps, and leaks in the pipes, it stands to reason that if the aldermen and city engineer had come to the chief engineer they would have got the whole information.

AN EMPLOYEE.

A BOMBING DEVICE.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Please would you answer the following through your valuable columns:

I have invented an improvement for exploding bombs, but since so doing I have read of a similar device invented by someone else. Would it be legal for to offer my invention to the Government in the face of such knowledge? Please could you tell me where to offer such, or where I could send this idea, so that it might be beneficial to the great cause, if proven a success? And oblige, PERPLEXED ONE.

Ans.—It would be quite legal to offer your device to the militia department. Lieut. Forbes, bombing officer for No. 1 District, would be able to tell our correspondent whether or not his device would be practical for use, and also give information as to the proper authority to whom the invention might be submitted.

RAILWAY BOARD WILL INVESTIGATE CLAIMS

Coming to Wheatley In Response to Fishermen's Pleas.

WHEATLEY, June 15.—Last evening Professor A. W. Roper of Winona Lake, Indiana, gave a piano recital in the Methodist Church. The affair was appreciated by the music lovers of the village. The proceeds were given to Red Cross funds. The young ladies of the Khaki Club acted as ushers and doorkeepers.

A large delegation of fishermen from this vicinity went to Toronto, and appeared before the railway commission on Wednesday, in an effort to get relief from the express service given by the Pere Marquette as a result of having one train a way each day. The railway board will meet at the Commercial Hotel here next Wednesday to go into this and other questions. It is hoped that something will be done to remedy the service.

Seaman Jack Cobby, who has served in the navy since the beginning of the war, and who was at the Dardanelles, expects to leave next Monday to resume his duties after a three-months' furlough.

A provincial bread inspector was in the village last week, and found conditions in the local bakery satisfactory.

REQUEST BORDEN TO URGE NEW MEASURE

North Wellington Conservatives Indorse Conscription Stand.

PALMERSTON, June 15.—The annual meeting of the North Wellington Conservative Association was held in Arthur today. J. A. Lambert, Mount Forest, president, and George A. Allen, Mount Forest, secretary-treasurer, were in charge. The convenors of municipalities were all reappointed, T. Edwards being named for Palmerston.

The meeting indorsed Premier Borden's conscription bill with the request to urge it speedily.

The speakers were: Col. Taylor, M. P. for New Westminster; R. Birmingham, of Toronto, and W. A. Clarke, the prsent member for North Wellington, who spoke on the needs of conscription

Mr. Birmingham thought that the franchise should be extended to the women of the Dominion as well as the province. It was decided to hold the annual meeting here.

MARY MAKES HER 22ND APPEARANCE IN POLICE COURT

Marriage Prevents Prosecution as an Indian.

WHISKY IN STOCKING

Labeled 'Sewing Machine Oil,' But It Did Not Deceive the Police.

Mary Reynolds, a young married woman of Indian parentage, appeared in the police court this morning, charged "that being an Indian she did have liquor in her possession contrary to law."

The case was dismissed as it was shown by her counsel that she was not an Indian within the meaning of section 14 of the Indian act, which states that any Indian woman who marries a white man then ceases to be of her original nationality.

She pleaded guilty to having liquor in her possession, but on the technicality introduced by her counsel escaped a fine.

"Sewing Machine Oil."

Mary was somewhat different from the Kitchener girl who was brought up yesterday and confessed that she had temperance wine in a bottle labeled Jamieson's Irish whisky. Mary on the other hand had her whisky in a small bottle labeled "sewing machine oil" and to make sure she wouldn't lose the bottle had it concealed in her stocking.

Chief Williams explained to the magistrate that her fondnes for "fire water" had resulted in her appearing in the court on 22 separate occasions. She was given a warning that to appear again would mean that a charge of vagrancy would be preferred, followed by a term in prison.

She held up her hand and made a promise to be good in the future.

Claiming that he had mistaken a married woman for a friend of his, the error on his part being attributable to too much whisky, a South London citizen pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct.

The woman's statements were to the effect that the citizen had halied her on Dundas street near Talbot last evening at 10 o'clock, and when she refused to reply he called her a vile name. She notified a patrolman, who arrested the man and landed him in the cells.

Offers an Apology.

This morning he gazed upon the complainant and said he was sorry, and offered an apology.

"I will fine you $10 and costs or ten days in jail," said Magistrate Graydon. "You had better be a little more discreet in the use of your language after this. It would be a fine state of affairs if this thing were allowed to occur and let a man escape with an apology. You are lucky to escape so easy." The fine was paid.

Another pleaded guilty to being drunk.

"It's been quite a while since I have been on a spree," he explained in pleading guilty.

"All right, then, $10 and costs," said the magistrate.

"I have the money downstairs," said the prisoner.

TWO LONDON CASES AT OSGOODE HALL

In the trial court at Osgoode Hall yesterday before Mr. Justice Masten judgment was given in the case of Struthers vs. Channedy, G. S. Gibbons for plaintiff; H. H. Davis for defendant. Action for a declaration that plaintiffs are entitled to a first lien upon leases and building on lands in question, and to set aside defendant's chattel mortgage.

Judgment: That assignment of lease to plaintiff Struthers is entitled to priority and there will be judgment declaring that the security of plaintiff has priority over security of defendant, and that plaintiff Martin in dealing with the estate should treat the defendant's security as separate.

The plaintiffs should have the general costs of the action, but there should be no costs to either part of that branch of the action which seeks to set aside defendant's security under the statute respecting assignments and preferences.

In the weekly high court at Toronto yesterday before Chief Justice Falconbridge, a motion for order to construe the will of Bridget Ryan was made by George S. Gibbons on behalf of the administrators. F. P. Betts for official guardian. Held that administrators are entitled to distribute fund among the heirs of James and Johanna Walsh per stirpes. Reference to master at London to ascertain who are entitled. Costs out of estate.

SUFFERED WITH HEART FOR TEN YEARS

Would Nearly Smother.

There is nothing that brings with it such fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The uncertain and irregular heart action causes the greatest distress of both mind and body.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in cases of such severity.

They strengthen and invigorate the heart, so that it beats strong and regular, and tone up the nervous system so that the cause of so much anxiety becomes a thing of the past.

Mrs. M. O. McCready, Wapalla, Sask., writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I feel that it is only right for me to let you know what your wonderful remedy has done for me, and in a very short time, too. I had suffered terribly with my heart for nearly ten years, could scarcely do any work, and would nearly smother at times. I had many remedies, some only relieving me for a time. I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt so much better that I kept on using them, and can truthfully say I feel like a new woman.

"I would advise anyone with heart trouble to use them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

How to Look Years Less Than Your Age

The most aged face will look years younger after the use of ordinary mercolized wax for from ten days to two weeks. This remarkable substance, because of its peculiar absorptive power, actually removes the thin veil of faded or withered outer cuticle, a little at a time. Gradually the fresher, more youthful skin underneath is revealed. This absorption process being a purely hygienic one, an entirely natural complexion is acquired—quite different from the artificial complexion, which appears anything but girlish, though often bearing painful evidence of childishness. An ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to rejuvenate any complexion. It is put on like cold cream at bedtime, and removed mornings with warm water.

To eradicate such age marks as wrinkles and furrows, make a wash lotion by dissolving one ounce of powdered saxolite in one-half pint witch hazel. This has wonderful astringent and tonic properties. It quickly effaces all kinds of wrinkles, no matter how caused, making the skin firm, smooth and young looking.—Advt.

GATES ORDERED FOR THAMESVILLE CROSSING

Victoria Street, Where Three Persons Were Killed, To Be Protected.

THAMESVILLE, June 15.—The Grand Trunk Railway must install gates at the Victoria street crossing in Thamesville, according to an order just issued by the board of commissioners. At a recent sitting of the commission in Chatham a request was made for the gates, as well as at the London street crossing. Both these crossings were declared by witnesses to be dangerous. At the Victoria crossing three persons were killed last winter.

The board has decided that 20 per cent of the cost of the gates shall be charged against the railway grade crossing fund, 10 per cent against Howard Township, 15 per cent against Thamesville, and 55 per cent against the G. T. R.

The cost of maintenance and operation is chargable 10 per cent to Howard Township, 15 per cent against Thamesville, and 75 per cent against the G. T. R.

Regarding the London road crossing the commission says that some time ago an order was issued changing the road to a right angle crossing with the railway line, and that a bell was ordered installed.

It was pointed out that the view of the tracks from the wagon road is better at this point than at Victoria street crossing.

HOME ON FURLOUGH.

The branches raised $500 to furnish a ward at Byron Sanatorium, the ward to be called the "East Lambton Women's Institute" ward. Last year the total membership was 470.

Mrs. (Dr.) Wilson, Parkhill, gave an interesting address on "Woman's Suffrage," and Mr. Farrell and Col. Keniward spoke for a short time in the interests of the county fall fairs. MUSIC IN THE HOME

Conducted by A. Minor.

When Widor Teaches Bach

By George G. Lethbridge.

The following delightfully intimate sketch of M. Carl M. Widor, the great French organist and composer, and his interpretation of Bach, has been specially written for the musical page of The Advertiser by a former pupil and great admirer of the French master, George G. Lethbridge, organist and choirmaster of the First Presbyterian Church. M. Widor's views on the playing of Bach should be of great interest to not only students, but teachers as well, who perhaps have been trained in quite a different school of interpretation.

A MINOR.

M. CARL M. WIDOR.

"The finest works for the organ since Bach have been composed by one of your Parisian organists, M. Carl M. Widor." This statement was made by Dr. Albert Schweitzer of Strassburg, the greatest authority on Bach chorales, in an address on "Music and Musicians" at the Salle Gaveau in Paris in 1911. Few men have acquired as great knowledge in different branches of learning as has Dr. Albert Schweitzer, doctor of philosophy, master of the conferences of the faculty of theology, and the greatest living authority on Bach chorales, besides being organist for the Bach concerts in Strassburg.

M. Carl M. Widor, born at Lyons in 1845, studied organ under Lemmens and composition under Fetis at Brussels; in 1869 was appointed organist of St. Sulpice Cathedral in Paris, and successor to Cesar Franck as professor of the organ department at the Paris Conservatory; also selected head of the departments of counterpoint, fugue composition and orchestration at the same institution.

On first meeting M. Widor, one is especially impressed with his quiet, gentlemanly, courteous manner, and cannot but feel at home with him at once, fully appreciating his kindly interest.

At his home, Rue des Saint Pere, after passing the concierge, one is directed across the court to his entrance. He answers the door himself, living alone in a splendid suite of rooms, including one large room with a fine teaching organ and concert grand piano. Here he does all his teaching. In the courts any morning at 10 o'clock he may be found with a small loaf of bread, feeding the birds; these have become so tame they will be fed out of his hand, and no lesson can proceed until he has had his little chat with the birds, at the same time entertaining his friends with interesting stories of his feathered associates.

Like all Frenchmen he has a peculiar affection for his native land and language, being a member of a society for the preservation of the purity of standard of the French language. As a teacher his ability is recognized in Paris by many cathedral appointments, including M. Verne, organist of Notre Dame Cathedral, whom I had the great pleasure of knowing through the kindness of M. Widor. The underlying principle of all his teaching is simplicity, as he himself expresses in "Bach, the Musician-Poet," by Widor and Schweitzer. "We have grown weary of conceptions wherein the player flaunts his personality by obscuring Bach," and here let me say Bach is the work taken up entirely in the lesson with the Widor symphonies for the modern school. The tempo is of supreme importance in the preludes and fugues of Bach. In his teaching he continually reminds one of hearing from the "hearer's standpoint," aiming at clearness and plasticity. No detail should be passed over no point should be lost. When the listener can hear all the notes he will feel that the tempo is correct. This, of course, takes into account the size of the building and the action of the organ. A player should err on the slow side, for Bach, on account of the action of the organs of his day, was compelled to play slower than we with our modern organs.

Phrasing is another most important part of the lesson. The idea kept before one's mind is the string quartet, phrasing for bow instruments, accents brought out by a more prolonged tone, and the treatment of the modulations. In this connection, also, the repeated notes in the same or appearing in another voice being of especial importance. To constantly strive to relax the rigidity of the organ tone by the aid of phrasing, which includes many details, viz.: Bach's phrasing for violin and organ-playing, repeated notes, the art of grouping and the sub-phrase within the legato, the lifted notes, the tenuto, playing chord progressions, and the ornaments.

In the branch of registration, the object is to keep to the organ tone used by, or was at the disposal of the great composer Bach himself. The use of the crescendo pedal is always discouraged, in fact, would never be permitted to be used; also the use of reed stops in Bach-playing, much care and consideration must be given to their use, many modern organs having reed stops of too flaring a tone. He advocated the need in organ builders spending more time on the construction and voicing of the reed section to produce the effects of the old organs, which are still in existence in the old countries of Europe, which were of a lighter, broader tone, thereby blending more perfectly with the foundation stops.

In the Cathedral Saint Sulpice, with its five-manual organ, the best in music may be heard any Sunday morning. This organ, originally built by Chicquot in 1871, was remodelled by Cavaille Coll in 1845, and again at a later date by these same organ builders, making it the finest in Paris and one of the best in all Europe.

M. Cavaille, Jr., who takes an especial interest in this organ, is seldom absent from a service at the organ bench with the organist. A great privilege of the Widor pulpit also is to be allowed with the famous organist-composer at the console, to watch him manipulate this splendid organ with its many scores of stops, and from whose keys nothing short of the highest standard of organ music may be heard.

In conclusion, let me quote from the Widor-Schweitzer work on Bach:

"The preludes and fugues of the master of St. Thomas reveal the realm of the sublime. This signifies that he who presides at the instrument must approach his task with a sanctified emotion, with something of the prophet's humility and consecration of spirit. If he has not penetrated to this arcanum, though his performance has the polish of perfection, that which lies in and beyond the tones will not be kindled to life. To himself and to the others, his playing of Bach will only be a deception.

As to the things that spring from the truth, the words of the scripture apply to the preludes and fugues of the masters, "The spirit giveth life."

ST. PAUL'S ORGANIST IS GOING OVERSEAS WITH A. M. C. UNIT

Mr. Killmaster Will Start Training Here Next Week.

WELL-KNOWN MUSICIAN

Has Done Splendid Work Since Coming Here From Toronto.

F. G. Killmaster, Mus. Bac., organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's Cathedral, with the Army Medical Corps and enters upon his course of training at the A. M. C. Training Depot No. 1, Carling Heights, early next week.

Mr. Killmaster is continuing his duties at St. Paul's Cathedral until his detachment leaves, probably in the course of two or three months.

While his absence will be keenly felt in musical circles, even those who must appreciate what he has been doing to promote musical interests during his residence here, heartily indorse the step he has taken and warmly approve the motives which have impelled him to step aside from a promising career to don khaki.

F. G. KILLMASTER.

Best known as a musician, Mr. Killmaster is by no means of one talent, abundant as that particular one may be. An honor graduate in arts as well as in music of Toronto University, as an undergraduate in arts he held the coveted Macdonald scholarship in philosophy and after graduation was attached for a time to the Maclean Publishing Company as editor of the Busy Man's Magazine.

He made his debut as a musician as assistant of Dr. Albert Ham, the distinguished organist of St. James Cathedral, Toronto, and for five years was organist and choirmaster of the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, during which time the choir achieved an enviable reputation and in time was regarded as one of the first, if not the leading Anglican choir of the Queen City.

Held the Chair.

For two years he held the chair of music at Upper Canada College and for six seasons was organist of the National Chorus, Toronto.

Among the honors which came to him while in Toronto was that of presiding at the organ in St. James Cathedral at the memorable coronation service on June 22, 1911, conducted by Dr. Ham.

Taking a keen interest in the Canadian Guild of Organists, he has found an outlet for his literary ability in the capacity as editor of the official organ, of which he is also treasurer.

Each year while in Toronto, Mr. Killmaster set himself the task of training his choir to present an oratorio of one of the great masters. It was to his credit as a musician and a conductor that it was said of these performances that they were noteworthy for their artistic success.

Perhaps the outstanding achievement of the choir of St. Paul's Cathedral under the direction of Mr. Killmaster was the presentation on Holy Thursday of this year of the sublime church cantata by John Sebastian Bach, "God's Time Is Best," given with a dignity and reverence that is unforgettable.

Choral Services.

The eminent fitness of the music and the religious feeling of its presentation have at all times been distinctive features of the choral services, special and otherwise, during Mr. Killmaster's regime as musical director of St. Paul's.

In order to get effects, he has never been tempted to sacrifice quality for quantity of tone. The singing of his choristers is musical and unstrained.

One of the greatest successes with which he has met has been in the training of boy choristers, some 25 in all, whose pure treble has added immeasurably to the effectiveness of mixed choir numbers. The boys have also achieved a reputation for themselves in concerts in London, St. Thomas and other centres.

A couple of years ago Mr. Killmaster made possible the hearing of music that formerly had been a sealed score, through the organization of the London Instrumental Trio, composed of Miss Florence Eggleston, violinst; Gladstone Paul, 'cellist, and himself, pianist. He also had an active part in the organization last fall of the first professional musicians' clubs, the London Organists' Club, organized under the wing of the Canadian Guild of Organists.

A series of Lenten recitals arranged by this artist attracted much attention this season.

Long Honor Roll.

The choir of St. Paul's Cathedral already has a long honor roll to its credit, and owing to this fact the results achieved by Mr. Killmaster and the standard maintained are all the more remarkable.

Several weeks ago Mr. Killmaster enlisted for home defence, with the intention of transferring to the overseas forces should it be found that he was standing up well physically under the strain of the training. When the home defence idea was given up by the Government, he immediately decided to enroll in the branch of the service in which he could measure up to the required standards.

Those who know him have not a doubt that he will give a good account of himself in service of the colors, just as he has done in whatever else he has undertaken.

BALFOUR SPEAKS OF U. S. PART IN BELGIAN RELIEF

First Public Appearance Since Returning to England.

London, June 15.—Arthur J. Balfour, foreign secretary, today signalized his first public appearance since he returned from the United States by a speech at the second annual meeting of the national committee for relief in Belgium, at the Mansion House.

In his address Mr. Balfour referred to the action of the United States in taking over the whole cost of the relief of Belgium, which was greeted with loud applause by several hundred persons most prominent in the relief work which has been carried on since the outbreak of the war and who have collected nearly two and a half million pounds for it.

In connection with the statement that the United States has taken over the entire cost of relief in Belgium, an announcement was made some time ago, by Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the relief commission, that through sympathetic arrangements made by President Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, the cost of relief in Belgium and Northern France, so far as it was feasible under present shipping conditions, would be borne for the next six months by the American Government. This action had been made possible, Mr. Hoover added, by a loan of $75,000,000 from the United States to the Governments of Belgium and France. The money would be advanced by the treasury in installments of $12,500,000 per month, of which $7,500,000 would be available for Belgian relief and $5,000,000 for relief in Northern France. After the termination of the six months' application might be made to the United States Government for further loans, Mr. Hoover said.

ONLY 28,000 CANADIANS ARE NOW AVAILABLE FOR REINFORCING PURPOSES

OTTAWA, June 15.—Sir Edward Kemp submitted to Parliament today a statement showing the numbers of the Canadian Expeditionary forces which are as follows: On the 4th of June, 1917, there were 136,400 troops all ranks in France; there were also 747 in the near east and 130 at St. Lucia. On the same date there were 108,736 troops all ranks in England, not counting those in hospitals and convalescent homes, but counting those on passage from Canada to England.

Of the foregoing total, however, only 28,000 men were immediately available for reinforcing purposes. On the 1st of June there were 17,353 Canadian expeditionary forces of all ranks in Canada.

A detailed summary of the strength of the Canadian forces in England on May 14 showed a total of 126,241, of whom 67,387 belonged to infantry reserve regiments and 6,822 to artillery. The list also includes about 17,000 men attached to the 5th Canadian Division headquarters, of whom 11,015 were infantry and 2,744 artillery. The Forestry corps numbered 5,304. Engineers 4,754, machine gunners 3,233, Army Service corps 4,636, and Army Medical corps 5,539. The total of officers was 7,981. Men in hospital numbered 17,628.

Hon. Charles Murphy urged that a detailed statement of casualties reclaimed and men struck off strength would be provided the House.

INCREASED FIGHTING ON RUSSIAN FRONTS

Vienna, Via London, June 16.—Increased fighting on the Russian front in East Galicia and Volhynia, is reported in the official statement issued by the war office on Friday. The statement follows:

"In East Galicia and Volhynia there is increased Russian fighting and activities continue at several points.

"Italian Theatre: There is nothing important to report from the Isonzo army. In Carinthia the enemy artillery fire has increased in the Plecken sector with the greatest violence. An attack upon our position at Monte Rombon was repulsed. Artillery fighting on the Sette Cumuni plateau has increased in violence."

FICTION RATIONS OF GERMANY STILL FURTHER REDUCED

Official Notification Betrays Failing Food Supply.

NO MORE POTATOES

2 1-2 Ounces of Bread for Each Ounce of Tubers, Says Tageblatt.

COPENHAGEN, June 15.—via London—Official admission of food difficulties in Germany, resulting from a shortage of potatoes and the inadequacy of grain stocks to afford a supplementary bread ration, is made in an announcement of the food control department. The announcement stated that five pound potato ration, which has long been only official fiction, will hereafter be abandoned and that while an attempt will be made to supply bread in the place of potatoes, the quantity must be reduced.

The Berliner Tageblatt after having made inquiries, reports that two, or at the highest three, pounds of potatoes weekly is all that can be supplied until new potatoes are available in mid-July and that instead of 140 grammes of bread, hitherto supplied as a substitute for each failing pound of potatoes, only seventy grammes or less than 2½ ounces can be furnished hereafter. The Tageblatt's statement regarding possible potato rations are interpretable as erring, if anything, on the optimistic side.

Prospects for the grain crop are becoming dark owing to the long continued drouth. A few showers fell the first of this month, but the amount of rainfall is quite inadequate, and for a fortnight the German weather reports from all parts of the empire have reported naught but cloudless, or slightly cloudy skies. There has been no precipitation or at most only an occasional and isolated millimetre of rainfall and high summer temperatures prevail. With such a season, the crop experts who a fortnight ago were saying that with plenty of rain an average crop could be expected, have of late discontinued discussion of an apparently unpleasant topic.

LISTOWEL CHEESEMEN ASKING INSPECTORS FOR WAREHOUSE HERE

Wire Minister of Agriculture to Change the Present Regulations.

LISTOWEL, June 15.—Vigorous objection to the new cheese regulations requiring that the inspection and weighing be made at Montreal, was general among the producers represented at the regular meeting of the Listowel Dairymen's Exchange today, and Secretary Blatchford was instructed to wire the following resolution, moved by James Donaldson and seconded by Hugh Richmond, to the minister of agriculture: "Whereas, according to the rules of the commission all cheese of from whatever section, are subjected to inspection and weighing in warehouses at Montreal, and, whereas, delay in inspection would be an injustice to the Western Ontario dairyman because of the long distance and possibility of deterioration in quality and depreciation in weight between the time cheese leaves the factory till its arrival in Montreal. Therefore, the producers of the Listowel Dairymen's Exchange vigorously protest and would most earnestly and respectfully urge the appointment of inspectors to grade and weigh all the cheese of Western Ontario at the warehouses of the dealers."

The secretary was also instructed to communicate to H. B. Morphy, M.P., the hearty thanks of the board for the support that he has given on behalf of the Western Ontario Dairymen.

There were boarded today 2,945 cheese, and the highest bid on the board was 20 7-8 cents, at which price some sales were made in the street. Buyers present were Messrs. Bellantyne, Booth, Biffin, Muir and Johnston.

OXFORD'S OFFICIAL PROTEST.

WOODSTOCK June 15.—At this afternoon's session of the county council a resolution was passed unanimously in protest to the rules laid down by the cheese commission for the grading and inspecting of all export cheese in Montreal. The resolution is to the minister of agriculture, and reads as follows:

"We, the members of the Oxford County Council assembled, wish to call your attention to the rules formulated by the cheese commission, and hereby same, calling for the inspection of all cheese at Montreal instead of being done at the different warehouses in the western part of the province as has been the rule heretofore, and we urge that the commission appoint an inspector to inspect and weigh all cheese for export shipped from all districts west of Toronto at some western point. As we know that the rules laid down by the commission will have a decidedly injurious effect on the production of cheese in Western Ontario, we trust this suggestion will meet with your approval."

British Air Fleet "Raises Hob" With Germans' Airdrome

LONDON, June 15.—"A squadron of British airplanes bombed the airdrome at St. Denis Westrem (Belgium), this morning," says an official statement issued tonight. "A large number of bombs were dropped on objectives. Very good shooting appears to have been made. Many direct hits were observed, from which dense columns of smoke arose. Our machines returned safely."

WEST SHORE CASE ENDS; JUDGMENT IS RESERVED

Municipalities Seek Accounting From Trust Company.

TORONTO, June 15.—In the non-jury assizes this afternoon Justice Sutherland reserved judgment in the action brought against the Toronto General Trust Company by Thomas Stathers and the municipalities of Goderich, Kincardine, Ashfield and Huron. The plaintiffs asked for an accounting of all the moneys expended by the Trust Company when acting as trustees in connection with the construction of the Ontario West Shore Railway between Goderich and Kincardine, of which John W. Moyes was the president.

E. Douglas Armour, K.C., counsel for the plaintiffs, argued that the Trust Company should have taken more care to see that the reports made out by the engineer concerning the progress of the road were correct. In reply, I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., said: "It wasn't assumed that Moyes should steal or that the engineer should be dishonest. The mortgage specifically says that the company was under no obligation except for gross negligence or bad faith."

GERMANY AND SLAVERY.

"THIS NATION cannot remain half-slave and half-free," declared Abraham Lincoln, in the greatest testing time that the republic of the United States had to that time known, and when he made that declaration he set before his countrymen a clear issue for the civil war. Those historic words, so often repeated since, might be quoted today as the watchword of the nations arrayed in opposition to a power that seeks to enslave not half the world, but all of the world, in its power. When the great mass of the American people grasp that idea they will see that the conflict into which they are being led is as "irrepressible" as that which loomed before them in 1860 over the domestic slavery issue.

One cannot but be struck with the likeness there is between the character of the southern slaveholders of the fifties and the Huns who went through Belgium in their pilgrimage of terror. The southern planters lived on the top of a volcano, and knew it. Southern legislation was a code of terror. There was constant dread of black insurrections. To inspire terror there was constant overwork, constant use of the lash, while murder and crimes quite as bad were common. Today we are witnessing a repetition of these crimes in Belgium. A slavery as ignoble as that of the Southern States is in force, a code of terror is used to repress an enslaved people, and men as brutal and heartless as the plantation drivers of the Carolinas lord it over Belgium.

"The culture of the nation which was aiming at teaching its kultur to England and France," says Andre Chevrillon in his new book, "was revealed as powerless to repress in itself those base instincts which bring men down to the level of the gorilla." The evidence which is before the world of what took place in Belgium in the early days of the war is quite enough to condemn the nation that directed it to world disgrace for a generation to come. What may have gone on in Belgium in the second and third year of the war we have less means of telling since the horrors go on behind doors locked and barred. There is a remarkable contrast afforded of the essential difference that exists between Prussianism and Puritanism, if the latter term may be used to express the spirit of the Anglo-Saxon and his allies. German culture, coldly scientific, aims at domination over others; Puritanism, or Anglo-Saxon culture, aims at the individual learning to control himself. Germany's ideal is a society directed by the state as an army is directed by its general. England's ideal is a society which is master of itself, and is restrained by its conscience. Germany's discipline is a system imposed from without by the superior on the inferior. England's discipline, springing from within, is that of the inner law, recognizing law because it desires order and willingly submits to it. These are the two contrasting systems that are today in mortal combat with the future of freedom and democracy at stake.

A SILENT MINISTER.

CANADA has a minister of militia, by name Sir Edward Kemp. It is as well to mention this fact since there are, doubtless, many who have forgotten his appointment as successor to Sir Sam Hughes, and have had no recent reminders of his existence. If Sir Sam were too talkative and self-assertive, Sir Edward surely errs on the other side, for he seems to have crept away silently into a hole, with no intention of ever emerging.

There is before the country a proposal to pass a conscription bill which Premier Borden has introduced, and it is natural to expect that the minister of militia would have a good deal to say on this question. He ought to know the exact facts about recruiting; where the voluntary system has succeeded and where it has failed; what has been done to assist it and what left undone. But never a word has Sir Edward vouchsafed on the subject, although he must have volumes of information as to what was not done.

It is strange that in the pro-conscription meetings that have been held neither Sir Edward nor others of his Ottawa colleagues have taken any part. The premier of Ontario and the leader of the Opposition have come out openly and stated their views, but the greater part of the Ottawa cabinet is silent. Yet we need hardly wonder at this when it is remembered how little interest the same cabinet appeared to take in voluntary recruiting. Practically no active encouragement was ever given by it on the public platform or in any other way. The army was left to build up itself, the men who were to do the fighting also having to look after the recruiting. Sir Edward may have mentioned the war and the Canadian forces at times, but few will remember anything he has said or done.

Wait, though. The minister of militia was credited, or debited, with having planned the Canadian defence force. Perhaps he did, but it might be unkind to dwell upon this mistake, so let it pass.

Leadership is what Canada needs, strong leadership. Instead, in various departments of the Government, there are apparently dummies, who take little or no interest in the affairs over which they are supposed to exercise some control. If the minister of militia wants conscription let him say so, and accept his share of the blame for the necessity of the measure, for certainly the Government which gave so little assistance to the working of the voluntary system is to blame for its failure to produce all the men that were required.

HARSH TREATMENT.

HAVING been seen drinking from a bottle on the street, a soldier and his fiancee from out of town were arrested by a patrolman on Thursday evening, and spent the night in the cells. On Friday morning they appeared in court, and were allowed to go without any charge being laid against them, as it was discovered the bottle contained nothing but some home-made wine, which the girl had brought as a treat. She had put this cordial in an old whisky bottle.

Instead of merely being "allowed to go," it would seem that the couple should have received at least the abject apology of those responsible for their night of incarceration. They had committed no crime, and there was surely every opportunity to have found out what was in the bottle before they were placed in the cells, since there was no attempt to hide it, and it was later produced in court. It was natural for the patrolman to suspect whisky when he saw the bottle, and few will blame him for making the arrest, but certainly there should be some investigation before condemning anyone to a night in jail.

The girl was young, only 17 years of age, and that night will probably have serious effects on her. It is an unpleasant and unnerving experience to be seized by the police in a strange city, and put behind the bars to spend hours of worry wondering whether belated justice will be done in the morning.

It is well that officers should be zealous in carrying out the law, but it is equally important that they should not be unjust.

BEGIN'S PATRIOTISM.

JOSEPH Begin, editor of La Croix, is out for the destruction of confederation. A Montreal dispatch says he comes out "boldly," but the word is misplaced, and should be changed to "ridiculously."

Why this desire to separate once again Upper and Lower Canada? Simply because it is proposed to force the young men of Quebec to do their share in protecting Canada side by side with their brother Canadians from other provinces. Begin says the measure "would send our sons and brothers to the European butchery like so many cattle." What a shame that his sons and brothers should have to do what others have been proud to do—fight for their lives and liberty! They are not wanted as cattle, but as men, although even cattle will fight to protect their mates and their offspring.

"How sweet it would be to live in a Lower Canada, separate from Upper Canada, yet subject as at present to the British crown. The qualities of our race would then develop normally on the banks of the beautiful St. Lawrence." Yes, and how sweet to bask in the sunlight and watch the thousands of real men going down that river on transports to protect Lower Canada as well as Upper Canada, safe in the knowledge that they need not risk their precious bodies in the "European butchery." How sweet for them to think of their kinsfolk across the sea dying for their country, their last breaths uttering the words: Vive la France. How sweet!

He would be subject as at present to the British crown, not because he has any affection for it, but it makes for safety, don't you know? No need to worry about anything while guarded by the British armies and navy; certainly no need to think of giving any assistance.

It is not a Lower Canada, but a land of the lotus that M. Begin wants. It is a land where he can eat of the stupefying flowers, dream lazy dreams of pleasure, relax all effort, hear nothing of self-sacrifice and know nothing which might unpleasantly affect his peace of mind. A person with such aims is not a good Canadian, a good Britisher or a good Frenchman. He does not represent Quebec any more than does his equally seditious compatriot Lavergne.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The excitement aroused by a few fire balloons over the city on Thursday night gives some idea of what would happen if real raiders appeared.

Conscription, yes, but not only of life. Premier Borden will have to antagonize some of his wealthy friends by laying hands on their money.

The British Government may buy the liquor trade. That will remove one great obstacle to curtailing manufacture—the opposition of the powerful brewery and distillery owners.

If Quebec Nationalists and anti-conscriptionists have to resort to terrorizing the members of Parliament in their efforts to defeat the measure, it shows that they know their attitude to be wrong.

It has been suspected that the Providence Journal had an agent in the German embassy who helped in exposing Hun plots, and now the editor confirms this. Mr. Rathom ought to have been a diplomat.

There may or may not be truth in the report that immigration officials at Windsor, sent there from Ottawa, have been insulting towards reputable businessmen. If there is it is high time they had impressed on them the limits of their duties, and the fact that they are supposed to be "civil servants."

JOHN JONES—HERO!

By Joan Rugby.

Mrs. Jones lifted a cool, unresponsive cheek to receive her husband's parting kiss.

"By, dear," he said, putting on his hat with one hand and taking out his watch with the other. Mrs. Jones knew what he was going to say next. He said it. "Five minutes. Guess I'm all right."

If he had not uttered those very words as he had every morning, except Sundays and holidays, for fifteen years, Mrs. Jones would have taken his temperature and sent for the doctor. Jones was very methodical, deadly methodical.

If Mr. Jones missed his train—although that rarely happened—it would have been not because he was late, but because the train was early; and if he came down to breakfast ten minutes ahead of time, it was not that Mr. Jones was early, but that the clock was slow and breakfast late. Mr. Jones was never wrong; he was never excited, nor in a hurry, nor out of humor, nor anything, for that matter, but plain John Jones. Even his name had to be John! If it had only been Florian, or Absalom or Ishkabiladad, or something!

Mrs. Jones sighed. It wasn't a sigh of regret, for she had nothing to regret. John was good to her, gave her enough money to run the house and buy the few clothes she needed for their uneventful life. The living room didn't need a new rug, the vacuum cleaner was as good as new, she didn't want an automobile, and her spring hat was becoming. But she sighed again, nevertheless. The trouble was that Mrs. Jones would have welcomed something to sigh for. If only something would happen! Anything!

She laid the paper aside and finished her coffee; but instead of clearing the table, she sat inert—one could hardly say thoughtful, for she had almost lost the power of thinking—so little ever happened to think about.

Every other woman she knew had something to keep her occupied. To be sure, it was trouble in some cases; but even trouble is better than an empty nothing. The Cribbses had a new baby every year and couldn't keep help; the Phelans had a brother who ran away with the bank's money and they had to sell their house to make it up; the Kirks had a fire; the McCreas had a fortune left them, and the Carters ran into a ditch with their car. Only the Joneses lacked these exciting experiences that made life interesting.

Mrs. Jones began to realize that something was very much wrong this morning. She was tired of washing the dishes and putting them away, only to get them out again for lunch; she was tired of darning John's little worn socks, tired of making apple tapioca pudding the way John liked it, tired of doing everything.

Finally she got up and went into the living room. There was John's chair with the deep hollow worn in the seat; there was the footstool he liked, his smoking stand, his humidor, the book he had been reading with the place carefully marked. Mrs. Jones looked at all these things with sudden revulsion and gave the stool a little kick out of the way. "John Jones, I'm sick and tired of everything," she said aloud, then started at the sound of her own voice. "What's wrong with me to be acting like this, I wonder! But I can't help it whatever it is."

Then she turned to a picture of her husband she kept on the top of her desk. "I'll tell you what's wrong, John Jones. I'm tired and sick of everything, and I'm tired of—of you. Yes, I am. I don't care, I can't help it. You're just the same all the time and I can't stand it. I know every word you're going to say before you say it. I know how you're going to knock the ashes out of your pipe. I know what shoe you're going to put on first. I know everything about you. If you'd only swear, or break something, or beat me, get run over or miss your train, or do anything except be perfect all the time, I—I think I'd like you again. But you won't. You'll go on being perfect till your dying day and I'll go crazy. I know I shall. Things were more interesting for awhile when the war started and there was so much to read about, but I've got used to that now, too. You didn't even get excited about the war. And there's another thing I haven't got. Most folks have somebody that's enlisted, but we haven't. That would be something to get excited about, perhaps."

The morning wore on and Mrs. Jones finally went about her work. The old apathy had replaced the turbulence of the early hours—but with a difference. Her resentment against her husband had come to stay and she was already planning a dozen ways to rid herself of the monotonous thrall that bound her.

"I could got to Aunt Mary's in the country after a month, but that wouldn't help much. It would be just the same when I came back. Or I could study to be a nurse, but John wouldn't let me, and, of course, now that I am married to him I guess he has a right to expect me to stay at home and keep house for him."

The surprise came when Mrs. Jones was in the kitchen rolling out the crust of a lemon custard pie.

Mr. Jones walked in—the only time in fifteen years he had come home before the 5:10 train in the afternoon. And with him came a uniform of khaki—for he had it on.

The rolling pin clattered to the floor and Mrs. Jones, with a smudge of flour on one pretty pink cheek, opened her mouth without uttering a sound.

Mr. Jones' eyes twinkled with amusement. "Salute your superior officer, Mrs. Jones," he commanded, coming near and turning his cheek for a kiss.

"Why, John, you—you're not going to war, are you?" Her face blanched and her voice trembled.

"Sure I am. I'm going to camp anyway. The commission came today. It is because of my experience in the Spanish war. I'm a major now. I am going to train the youngsters!"

"But aren't you afraid, John? You might be killed!"

"Afraid! Killed! Pooh! I won't; but if I am, what's the difference? We only live once. But don't worry, little girl, I'm not going to get hurt. What I want to know is, can we tear up here and store things, and will you come along? There's a place for you if you will, girlie." His voice was full of appeal.

Suddenly Mrs. Jones' face kindled with a fire that had been latent all these suppressed years. At last life had knocked at their door and her heart was full to bursting with pride, patriotism, and above all, love for this new and wonderful husband she had never known before.

"I'll go to the end of the world with you, dearest," she said happily, and her superior officer folded her tightly in his arms.

The Conscientious Objector Who Saw the Light at Last

[By Patrick MacGill, Author of "The Great Push," Etc.]

The two stretcher-bearers placed their burden on the ground outside the dressing-station. The leading bearer, a red-haired and heavily-wrinkled man, straightened his shoulders and wiped the sweat from his forehead.

"Well, thank the Lord that we're here, anyway," he muttered in a weary voice. "It's hard work luggin' them down from the firing line on a day as hot as this'n."

He looked at the limp figure which lay on the stretcher. The face of the wounded man was white and drawn, the eyes were closed, the hands lay slack and lifeless across the blood-stained tunic. . . . The M. O. came to the door of the dressing station, a cigarette in his mouth, a white apron 'round his waist. Up till now, the hour was noon, the day had been a quiet one, and cases had been few.

"Bring him in, men," said the M. O. to the stretcher-bearers. They brought the wounded soldier in and placed him on the floor. The doctor bent down, and with his scissors cut away all that remained of the tunic. A first field dressing had already been applied to the chest. It was there that the man was wounded. He groaned slightly as the doctor touched him.

A Conscientious Objector.

"The first sound he's made since he copped it," said the red-haired man. "The poor devil got his packet in the trench, and he flopped without a word. He's a good man, one of the best."

"A mate of yours?" asked the doctor.

"Yes," said the stretcher-bearer. "I've been friendly with him for some time. He's a C. O., sir."

"What?"

"A conscientious objector, sir. Doesn't believe in war; at least, he didn't believe in it when he came out here first. I was not a stretcher-bearer then—I've just taken on this job for a spell because I know a lot about first aid. But when this man came out I was doin' my bit with the rifle and bayonet. Well, when he came to France three months ago he told me that he was a C. O.

"'Reduced?' I asked him.

"'No, no, I'm a conscientious objector,' he says. 'I don't believe in war.'

"'Neither do I,' I says. 'That's why I'm out here, tryin' to put an end to it.'

"'That's what ye've read in the papers,' says he. 'It's not your own thoughts. You never think.'

Shows No Fear.

"He was standing on the firestep when he was speakin', with his head well up and payin' no heed whatsoever to the dirt that the Germans were flingin' over us. I was keepin' well under cover at the same time. If a man is to be judged by his behavior, there was nothing wrong with that fellow, as he stood there as cool as a cucumber, and the bullets whizzing 'round his head. 'Keep down,' I says to him, 'or you'll get your napper knocked off.'

"'Do you think that it's because I'm afraid of death that I object to war?' he says, leaning his elbow on the parapet, and lookin' at me.

"Well, I couldn't find an answer to make to him at that moment, and afterwards I was certain that, though he objected to war, he was not afraid of death.

"But he was a bit tryin' all the same, for the time. He never took much interest in the work of the bayonet or the action of a rifle. I tried to help him as much as I could, but it wasn't much use. 'I'm not made for this kind of work,' he often said to me. 'I'll never be a soldier.' And I came to believe him after a while, for he had nothin' that a soldier should have—except courage. . . . But I made a mistake.

The Change.

"'Twas when we were chasin' the Huns, and them retreatin' across France and destroyin' churches and villages and cuttin' down orchards, that I noticed a change comin' over the C. O. 'Twas one night, and we were stoppin' in a village where a lot of old men, old women and young children were left behind by Huns. And these poor people had more than enough to tell us about what the Boche had done there. 'Twas fit to drive us half-mad with anger. This C. O., knowing a bit of French, got their story from the people, and one evening he comes up to me, and in a shamefaced way he says: 'Could you show me a few of your tips with the bayonet?'

"'What's come over you?' I asks him.

"'Nothin',' he says, 'only these people have been tellin' me what they've suffered, and I've been lookin' at their homes and orchards, all that is left of them.'

"'So you've come 'round to my way of thinkin'?' I says, and he answers, 'I have, matey.'

"So I set to teach him as much as I knew, and it wasn't long till he was as good as myself with every trick of cold steel. And from then on he was one of the best. Bombin' or bayonet work and he hadn't an equal. See him clearin' a dugout of Germans and you'd go far enough and not see a finer sight.

"So you'll patch him up as well as you can, sir, won't you?" said the red-haired man, fixing his eyes on the doctor. "An army of C. O.s like him would do a lot to finish war and the Boche army for ever."

Why Germany Deliberately Drew America Into the War

[Percy Tate Griffith in the New York Herald.]

Equally in Europe as in America, the one question which all ask, and none answers, is why the German rulers forced America into this war. What had Germany to gain by adding this wealthy and powerful country to the foes by whom she was already so hard pressed?

The true reason has probably been known only to the imperial government and its counsellors, including possibly several but not all of its principal paid agents in this country.

Puzzling are the mazes and methods and motives of European diplomacy, singularly devious and frequently fatuous and futile are the German. It is important that Americans should learn of the reason their country was drawn by Germany into this foreign struggle, realize the meaning of the German attitude, and be on guard against what is being attempted.

The kaiser and his ministry forced peace-loving America to war as deliberately, as coolly, with the same calculation and for as selfish a purpose as Prussia, by a train of acts culminating in the publication by Bismarck of a garbled copy of the famous telegram of Ems, tricked Napoleon III. into the Franco-Prussian War.

That such an act makes its initiators as much the murderers of the Americans and Germans who will die in this war as they were of the myriads of French and Prussians who fell in that, is a matter of complete indifference to the Prussian mind.

The whole submarine campaign inaugurated or reinstituted February 1 last, the dishonorable violation thereby of the kaiser's word to America, the wanton killing thereafter of Americans to provoke this nation to a declaration of war, were all part of a settled, prearranged plan.

What is the method behind this apparent madness? Not simply, as has heretofore been suggested, that the German Government may find, in the addition of America to its foe, an excuse to its people for yielding. That would be too weak, too puerile, since obviously the entire blame would then fall on those who provoked America into the war. Clumsy as is the German diplomacy, it is more intricate, more complex, than that. More sinister is the motive, deeper and more hidden the reason. Here it is:

THE REASON.

By adding America to the Entente Allies—America, with her millions of Germans, German-Americans, pro-Germans, pacifists, German spokesmen in our Senate and House, with all this multitude of born, bought and boisterous pro-Germans—the Imperial Government has executed a move which it believes insures that German advocates and German interests will take part in the making of peace terms by the combined American and European Allies, to whom she will shortly surrender.

Germany dreams of a peace dictated by Germans on both sides of the contest.

Without America in this war, Germany, on the verge of collapse, faced a peace dictated by the aroused enemies who have for three years suffered terribly from the Teuton-started war, who have witnessed near at hand, and felt, her outrages upon the customs of civilized warfare, whose millions of dead and brutalized populations cry out from their graves for punishment of the Huns, enemies whose avowed purpose is to pull Germany's fangs forever in the final peace arrangements following her expected conquest. In such a condition, America could be of little help to her as a neutral. It was impossible that the Entente Allies would appoint our president a mediator of a peace that carried no retribution, no reparation.

But with America in the war, joined with the Allies, her navy engaged with the hitherto unconquered submarines, her flag raised in the trenches and on the battlefields of France, her seven billions of war fund placed at the back of the European Entente, America would be entitled to her share in the dictation of peace terms, would be powerful in the peace conferences, and among the hundred million Americans represented there would be the millions of "Germans" forming so large a part of our population, among the American makers of peace would be the Stones and La Follettes, and besides them all the pro-German forces and influences which infest our seat of Government, as did the Persian influences penetrate free Greece in the days when politically prominent Greek traitors lined their pockets with Persian gold.

SAW GOOD PROSPECTS.

It were idle for Germany to have hoped that any German influences would be at work in the councils of her European foes, but with America among them she had, she felt, good prospects. Germany's experience with American toleration of her injuries for three years, the knowledge of what pro-German forces were permitted or able to do in those years, her knowledge of the composition of our population, of the prominence in our business and political affairs of those of German blood and affiliations, have made her feel that, rightly handled, a convention or treaty of peace between her and enemies, including America, would be dictated by Germans on both sides of the Atlantic and of the treaty.

From the moment America uttered the idealistic thought of a peace without victory Germany knew that a peace could be better arranged with such a foe than with the European powers she had to face, planned to provoke America into this war, and did so by the one means impossible not to succeed.

Those who may doubt this need only examine the German procedure, both recent and present, for confirmation. Why else should Germany have so closely followed our president's words "peace without victory," his friendly attempts to interpret a common meeting point in the avowed aims of the contestants in the war by a deliberate blow at America? Since war was declared Germany has unofficially declared that she is not going to act against America; she has so far done nothing, gained nothing. Probably she will, but her course will doubtless be planned so as best to use America at the end. The Zimmermann fiasco anent a Japanese and Mexican alliance was obviously a stupid attempt to frighten us toward peace and matches in with the rest of the evidence.

Yet, as always, German diplomacy falls short of its mark. Ever it fails in virtue of its inability to think in the spirit of the other country. Ever it plans masked manoeuvres, seeks to pull the wool over the eyes of other nations, neutral or belligerent, and is typically Teutonically enraged when the utter self-concentration of its impulses, the casuistry and falsity of its statements, are so readily transparent to the world without.

FAILS AS USUAL.

Here, as usual, she fails again in her purpose. The Germany that was, when America said "peace without victory," was a Germany which, with all its horrible past, had still promised to abstain from submarine atrocities, from un-

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

A Bouquet for Us.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—We have taken The Advertiser for three or four years, and the most interesting page in it is the page for women. I have taken recipes from the page and had good success. Although I have no recipes or helpful hints to offer this time, I have dared to venture in the interesting page for help. Could you please answer these questions:

1. Could you tell me what will clean a white panama hat?

2. What will prevent patent slippers from cracking?

Hoping to see these in print soon, I remain, A LOVER OF THE FARM.

Ans.—1. Try sponging your hat with peroxide diluted with clear water. A small brush is good to use, and sponge the hat afterwards with a cloth dampened with water only.

2. Once a piece of patent leather begins to crack, nothing can be done to restore the finish. To give an occasional rubbing with a cloth and vaseline when the shoes are new helps to prevent the surface cracking.

Our Overseas Friends.

The following letter is sent for publication by "Brownie." The writer, she says, has suffered from both gas and shell shock, but is still in the trenches:

Dear Friend,—I received your long and interesting letter a few days ago, and was very pleased to hear from you again.

You seem to be doing your share all right in Thedford for the Red Cross, but, as I said before, I must be the unfortunate member who has not yet been recognized officially by our little bunch. It is rather hard to see other chaps come from getting their mail, sit down with boxes and letters, and here stand I with a dry eye (maybe), with no mail. It is different here, believe me, than in dear old Canada. A fellow knows that Canada is the best spot on earth after he has been out here for a few days.

It is rather delightful to know that the States are taking the matter so seriously, and it is hard to imagine what will happen to those fellows who came back from the States as slackers. Of course they will find someone who will give them a job in Canada, but if I had my way I would find them a job in some detention camp for the rest of their days.

Well, our boys sure did their bit at Vimy Ridge. Everything went off like clockwork, and our dear old pals, the artillery boys, whom every one of us have to thank, fired well and accurately, and made things easy for us; and even our dear old friends, the Red Cross men, were at a fellow's elbow when need would be.

A lot of hard things have been said about the "linseed poultice men," A. M. C., in Canada, but I must say they have proved themselves bricks out here. Many dear friends I have lost in the great advance and victory for the younger generation, but we are still here prepared to go even farther for our darling friends at home.

Now, you will perhaps grow tired of this. I'm tired writing on my knee—writing tables are few and far between. Do write me again soon, and if any ever wish to write to me they will always know it will be more than welcomed by your old friend.

Girlie's Kind Help.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sending recipe of war cake for "Fond of Crochet." Please may I have the bee design crochet yoke pattern, sent by her?

So many are asking for contests, I am sending you some we have had on social evenings this past winter.

1. What day did March 22, 1891, fall?
2. What do you think of my writing?
3. May I call again?

GIRLIE.

Ans.—What a lot of writing, "Girlie," you have had to do, to copy these contests. But I assure you they are more than welcome. I often wish the Pageites would exchange contests, games, etc., the same as they do patterns for crochet work. So yours is an excellent example. Shall use all the contests together under one heading.

The date you ask about came on a Sunday. (2). Your writing is neat and very legible. (3). Yes, indeed. The bee has been sent you. Don't make a mistake and get it in your bonnet!

To Raise Celery.

Dear Miss Grey,—Once more I venture into your columns, hoping you will excuse me for intruding. But when I think I can help in any way that I have had experience at, I am ready to teach someone else. I notice where the "Ambitious Mother" inquires about celery raising and keeping in winter. It will take a book to describe it thoroughly. I am a gardener and have been for twenty-two years, so here goes.

Plant seeds in hot bed in March. They take four weeks to germinate. Sow medium thick. When about two inches high transplant two inches apart in shallow boxes. When five to seven inches high, they are ready for the ground, which will be prepared as follows: Dig a trench one and half feet deep, fill with four inches stable manure, and then put two inches of dirt on top. Plant four to six inches apart, and mold up with dirt every week, hold tops while molding, so as dirt will not enter centre. Do not water tops as water will rust the stalks; water at the roots. Clergy grows best in black loam.

Keeping for winter.—Dig and leave roots on just the way they come out. Pack in dry sand, each bunch; put in cellar, and keep a dish of water near them all the time and celery will grow from the hearts. I have had nice tender celery in June by this process. Yours truly IRISH, SARNIA.

P.S.—Hoping to be of further help I will intrude again if permitted.

Ans.—We are only too pleased to have anyone with twenty years' experience take sufficient interest in us to write practical helps. By all means favor us with additional "intrusions."

Cannot Get 'Em Out.

Dear Miss Grey,—Like all others, I am coming to the Page with my troubles. My little girls got lice in their heads, and I cannot get rid of the nits. I saw in the Mail-Box where a reader sent in a way to kill them. Will you kindly print again, if not too much trouble?

2. Could you tell me what to do for dry hair that has no life?

TROUBLED MOTHER.

Ans.—It must be very provoking to have your little ones "catch" these troublesome things. I wonder if this was the method to which you refer: "Get ten cents' worth of quassia from the drug store (it looks like bits of wood), and make an infusion or tea with a quart of boiling water. Use some of it to wash the child's head, so that it gets well into the roots, and bottle the rest. Use a very fine comb every day and dampen occasionally with every day and dampen occasionally with the quassia until the child's head is clear." Also please note "Mrs. Gay's" advice—tincture of larkspur—in issue of a few days ago.

For the dry hair try this: Massage the scalp every other day with the finger tips dipped in a little pure vaseline. On alternate days, brush well for ten minutes, taking care to reach the scalp. The alternate treatment of massage and brushing should help liven the hair.

Here's Pte. Fatty.

Dear Miss Grey,—Once again I will take up my pen and try and give your readers a small account of my travels. I was transferred to the Bantam Battalion just about ten days before we left for England. We entrained at the Exhibition Park, Toronto, about 6 o'clock on the Friday night, and then we traveled on fairly steady until we got into New Brunswick Province, where we stayed about half a day. We then went on to Halifax, arriving there on the Tuesday afternoon. Our train journey was fairly pleasant, and we were well fed. We had a brief church service in the cars on the Sunday, which I very much enjoyed.

We got on the ship soon after we got to Halifax, and we sailed away on the Wednesday night. On Thursday morning we could not see any land and we did not sight land again until a week from the next Sunday. It is a very queer sensation seeing nothing but water, day after day, especially when submarines are liable to pop up at any minute. I am sure we should all be very thankful to God that so many of our Canadian boys have come safely across the seas. We had a very pleasant voyage, and we landed in England on the 29th of April. We then got on the train and proceeded to our first English camp, where we stayed in tents for a week. Then we moved to another camp, where we stayed another week. Then we moved to West Sandling, where we are now stationed in huts.

I often think of Canada and my Canadian friends now I am here, and I hope I may be spared to come back some sweet day by and bye. I find the discipline over here much stricter than it was in Canada. Our huts are very comfortable, and we are well fed. I am having my six day leave at home with my people now. You bet they are pleased to see me, as I had not seen them for three years. We had some very warm weather here when we first landed and our faces all peeled off and got very sore for a day or two.

England is looking very pretty just now, the trees all out in new leaf and the fruit trees in bloom and the wild flowers and the green, green grass. It all looks so nice and lovely, but I like Canada best. I wonder how the Pageites are agreeing just now. I hope they are having some useful discussions. Although the war has taken so many of England's men the people here are wonderfully cheerful. We have to keep our huts and everything in them very clean. It is quite a chore for me to do housework. I am not awful fond of washing dishes, etc. Of course if I was married I would help sometimes! The women and girls over here are doing a lot of men's work now. I think they are very brave. I have no doubt the girls and women on the farms in Canada are helping outside quite a bit this year. I hope that the war will be over by Christmas, but I want to go to the front before it ends. Our spare time is very scarce just now, and I guess it will get scarcer as we go along. I would sure like to see an Advertiser. I have not seen one for eight weeks. Well I guess I had better close for this time and if this letter finds its way into print I hope some kind reader will send me a copy of it. Wishing your page every success, I remain as usual. PTE. FATTY.

Ans.—As editor of this column, and the only one who has Pte. Fatty's address, I claim the privilege of sending him the issue containing his most newsy letter.

Yes, Pte. Fatty, the women and girls of Canada, both town and country, are, I think, trying to do what they can to help things along. In many of the cities women's gardening clubs are organized, and many a hitherto waste lot is being cultivated. On the farm, with "hired men" even unusually scarce, the women are helping in the fields to the best of their ability.

We hope to hear from you soon, friend Fatty.

Was On Sunday.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you kindly let me know, as soon as convenient, what day of the week the 18th of June, 1876, came on? And oblige, FERG.

Ans.—It's a pleasure I assure you. The date came on a Sunday.

An Encouraging Word.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am coming again to bother you. Have you any more soldier boys' addresses either in England or France who are lonely? I would love to have the address of a couple, perhaps I could send them an encouraging word or so. Thanking you, I remain, ENOUGH SAID.

Ans.—The address of two lonely lads has been sent you, with pleasure.

The Lambton Battalion.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am here again. See where someone asked some time ago for two songs, "Old Folks at Home" and "Gipsy's Warning," so am sending them, also the "Answer to the Gipsy's Warning." Thought perhaps they would like it, too.

See where "For the Allies" wanted to know where in England the 149th Lambton's Own Battalion is stationed. It is at Bramshott Camp; but it is not the 149th Battalion any more. It is the 25th Reserve Battalion now. The 118th and 149th Battalions were joined after landing in England.

I wish to thank "An Interested Reader" for the words of the song. I find I have forgotten the tune of the verses. Can you give me the name of the book it is in? I may be able to get one from some of my friends in the United States.

I am inclosing a letter I received from a young man who has been in the trenches for nearly two years. He has been laid up with gas once and shell shock once, but still at his post.

I see some have asked for addresses of soldiers who can not write. I will inclose one.

Ans.—Shall very glady send the songs to the inquirers, who will be pleased, I know. The letter you inclose is inserted under heading of "Friends Overseas." Would any letters from Pageites be welcome, I wonder?

Bale 400—Sixty pairs socks.

Bale 403—Forty-eight pairs socks, 11 hospital shirts, 3 pairs bed socks.

Bale 404—One hundred and thirty-two towels, 102 pillowcases.

The convener of the soldiers' comfort committee acknowledges the following contributions for the bales:

Lord Roberts Chapter—Eleven hospital shirts, 107 terry towels, 7 huck towels, 49 pillowcases, 10 pairs socks, 2 pairs bed socks, 5 grey flannel shirts, 8 suits pyjamas.

Trafalgar Chapter—Eleven pairs socks, 9 grey flannel shirts, 1 convalescent suit, 10 suits pyjamas.

Lord Elgin Chapter—One hundred pairs socks, 104 pillowcases, 16 towels, 3 suits pyjamas.

7th Regiment Chapter—One hundred and twenty-six towels, 6 pairs socks, 5 pillowcases, 5 suits pyjamas.

Campbell Becher Chapter—Thirty-two pairs socks, 6 suits pyjamas.

Abigail Becker Chapter—Twenty-eight pairs socks, 1 pair bed socks.

The Presbyterian Young People's Helping Society, St. Andrew's Church, Strathroy—Thirty-eight pairs socks.

The tendency during the hot weather will be to slacken up in the work of sewing for the soldiers. But this is really the time when we should be most active. The supplies that we send overseas in the shape of socks, shirts, pyjamas, etc., should be in the distributing depots early in the autumn, so that they can be sent out to the men for winter use. Owing to congestion at Canadian seaports and difficulties of transportation, it may take two or three months after a shipment leaves London, Canada, before it reaches London, England, so we must not wait until winter before we send our winter supplies. We must get them out at once if we expect them to be on hand when needed. Correspondence from the C. W. C. A. in England puts special emphasis on this fact; and we are urged to keep our work going steadily during the summer.

Acknowledging the receipt of a check for $50, the secretary of the Ontario Branch of the Secours Nationale says: "The various I. O. D. E. societies have been most generous, always helping the French through us; their total donations last year were over nine thousand dollars—one of the largest being the donation from London's flag tag day. This year we are not having a tag day here, but are sending out a little leaflet with an appeal for help. In this way we hope to reach many sympathetic and generous givers."

The secretary of the Lord Elgin Chapter reports the following as the result of the past month's work: Thirty-three bed shirts, 60 bandages, 68 pillowcases (sent to French hospital), 104 pillowcases, 16 towels, 3 suits pyjamas, 200 pairs socks knitted, 120 pairs purchased and sent direct to the front, 18 pairs sent to the boys who enlisted from the London Life Company.

Parnell Morris assisted by Mr. Hanna and pupils will give a musical recital in the Dundas Centre Methodist Church on Thursday evening, the 21st. Lovers of good music will spend an enjoyable hour, and their contribution, which will go to the soldiers' comfort fund of the Campbell Becher Chapter, will doubtless give enjoyment of another kind to the men in the trenches.

During July and August, the usual semi-weekly sewing meetings of the Lord Roberts Chapter will not be held. This does not mean, however, that the work of the members will slacken in any degree, each one will take with her to her home sufficient material to occupy her spare hours. As soon as made up, the finished articles will be sent to Mrs. Scandrett and there will thus be no unnecessary delay in having them packed and shipped overseas. Members of other chapters who will be out of town will doubtless follow this example.

CLASSY THOROUGHBREDS FOR LATONIA DERBY

Cudgel Favorite for $11,620 Purse—Midway Second Choice.

Cincinnati, June 16.—Six sterling 3-year-old thoroughbreds, each of them a frequent winner in 1917 to date, are carded to start in the 35th renewal of the historic Latonia Derby, valued at $11,620, at one and one-half miles at the Latonia, Ky., race track today.

If past performances are taken into consideration each of the six named to start can be counted on to put up a gruelling battle for the rich prize. Early in the day the indications were that the weather would be fair and the track fast.

Cudgel, who finished second in the Kentucky Handicap, and has shown great form in his workouts, ruled favorite in the betting early in the day, while Midway, with the credit of finishing third in the Kentucky Derby, was second choice. Liberty Loan is the representative of the east, and was assured of a lot of backing. The other horses were reported to have worked out at the Derby distance in fast time and were favored by many of the bettors.

BOWMAN MUG CARRIED OFF BY QUEEN CITY BOWLERS

Challenge Cup Removed From Guelph Custody Following Peculiar Game Yesterday.

GUELPH, June 15.—The Bowman challenge trophy which has been so successfully defended by the Guelph Lawn Bowling Club, since last summer took its departure this afternoon, and will rest for at least a time in the clubhouse of the Queen City Club of Toronto. A rink from that club skipped by J. S. Armitage, defeated R. H. Brydon's Guelph rink by a score of 22 to 17. The game was one of the most peculiar played here for some time. The local players got away to a good start and the close of the thirteenth end the score was 16 to 5. Queen City won the next end, and then changed from long to short ends, the result being that they won the next seven ends, and won the game with five shots to spare. The Guelph Club has put in another challenge for the trophy. The score:

BALTIMORE CALLS OFF ITS BIG DAMAGE SUIT

PHILADELPHIA, June 15. — The Baltimore club of the defunct Federal League today withdrew its anti-trust damage suit against organized baseball. The action of the Baltimore club in dropping the suit was taken, counsel said, because it was convinced that the "representatives of organized baseball" had not entered into a conspiracy to destroy the business of the Baltimore club. Nothing was said, in announcing the withdrawal, regarding the question of whether organized baseball was being operated in violation of the anti-trust laws.

The members of the national baseball commission and attorneys for the defendants said they were not surprised at the action of the Baltimore club. The court was informed there had been no organized baseball that the Baltimore club decided to withdraw the suit after its counsel had read the stenographic minutes of the peace meeting held in New York in December, 1915. These minutes, called for and placed in the record by the plaintiff, showed that the Federal League representatives at the meeting had stated that they officially represented the league and had authority to act.

THEY'RE THANKFUL!

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—President Johnson of the American League; Tener of the National League, and Chairman Herrmann of the National Commission, expressed their gratification at the outcome of the case. All said they knew nothing of the intention of the Baltimore Club to drop the suit until they entered the courtroom today. Mr. Johnson said he was not surprised at the result of the case, because there was no conspiracy to wreck the Baltimore Club.

"Baseball is clean, both in the playing of the game and in the administration of the affairs of the big leagues and the result of this suit confirms it," was the comment of Mr. Herrmann. "It's a vindication for organized baseball," said President Tener.

The suit was instituted in March, 1916. The Baltimore Club charged that the peace agreement between organized baseball and representatives of the Federal League, entered into in December, 1915, ignored the interests of the Baltimore club, and resulted in wrecking its business to the extent of $300,000, for which it asked triple damages under the anti-trust acts. It was alleged that organized baseball as at present constituted was monoplistic in its operations.

WHITE SOX INCREASE LEAD IN AMERICAN

Red Sox Unable to Hit Pitcher Williams.

WALTER JOHNSON WILD

Star Senator Twirler Passes Eight, Hits Veach Twice and Uncorks Wild Pitch.

BOSTON, June 15.—Chicago increased its margin of leadership in the American League race by shutting out Boston 8 to 0 today. Claude Williams, the Chicago southpaw, pitched a well-controlled game, allowing no hits until the eighth inning. Chicago bunted Shore out of the box in the fifth inning and immediately fell upon Pennock who relieved him, a double by Weaver with the bases filled, followed by a sacrifice fly and a single accounting for four runs. Score: R. H. E.
Chicago .....0 0 0 0 2 4 0 1 0 1—8 9 0
Boston .....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 4 3
Batteries—Williams and Schalk; Shore, Pennock, Bader and Agnew.

WALTER JOHNSON PROVES ERRATIC

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Detroit took the first game of the series from Washington today, 4 to 3. All the visitors' runs were directly traceable to the almost unprecedented wildness of Walter Johnson, who gave eight bases on balls, hit Veach twice, and made a wild pitch. Score: R. H. E.
Detroit .....0 0 1 0 2 0 1 0 0—4 5 2
Washington ..1 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0—3 7 2
Batteries—James, Boland and Stanage; Johnson and Ainsmith.

REBELS' ERRORS COST THEM GAME

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Seibold's pitching and hitting played a big part in the game which Philadelphia won from Cleveland today, 3 to 2. Seibold held his opponent to five hits. He scored a run after making a single and stealing second base, while he also drove in a run with a two-bagger. Score: R. H. E.
Cleveland ...1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—2 5 5
Philadelphia ..0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 x—3 7 2
Batteries—Coveleskie and O'Neill, Billings; Seibold and Schang.

PIPP'S HOME-RUN WINS FOR YANKS

NEW YORK, June 15.—Pipp's home run in the first inning with two runners on the bases added New York in securing a five to one victory over St. Louis here today.

The Yankees hit Hamilton hard throughout the game, but four double plays held down their score. St. Louis also bit Shawkey hard, but could not bunch its hits and was guilty of some stupid base running. Score: R. H. E.
St. Louis ....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—1 9 0
New York ...3 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 *—5 10 0
Batteries—Hamilton and Severold; Shawkey and Walters.

THREE I LEAGUE TO PLAY FULL SCHEDULE

CHICAGO, June 15.—Club owners of the Three-I League at a special meeting here today decided to continue the organization as at present constituted and to play the games provided in its season's schedule.

President H. W. Stahlhefer of the Central League advised the Three-I League that the Central League would attempt to go through the season. J. W. Bell, president of the western association, said the proposal to suspend after July 4, had been voted down by the clubs of his organization.

Practically all of the minor league presidents admitted, however, that prospects were not bright for success.

MT. CLEMENS RACES CLOSE

Cliffe Moquette Paces Best Mile in 2:11 1-4—To Bay City Next.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., June 15. —In spite of unfavorable conditions, there was a good attendance at the finish of the "short ship" meeting this afternoon, and the racing was up to the standard. The cold wind and frequent sprinkles operated against extreme time, but the average was good.

The best mile was paced by Cliff Moquette, winner of the 2:13 pace, in which the first heat was taken by Hal Rhea. That one broke in the second, ran a furlong and was distanced. Cliff Moquette coming to life and winning this, then going on and capturing the others, with the local gelding, Baronwood, the contender.

The stake feature for 2:18 pacers was somewhat of a romp for the Chatham mare. The 2:10 pace was somewhat of a surprise, Mary Peter showing excellent form and winning from behind in some eyelash finishes. Waynetta made the pace in two of them and lasted almost to the end. The Canadian mare grabbed her at the right time.

From here the horses will ship to Bay City, where a big meeting is to be held next week.

All the boys had a chance to skip a game, and some of the leads showed as much ability as the regulars. Fourteen rinks enjoyed the evening's sport.

BONAR LAW TO RESIGN AS CHANCELLOR OF EXCHEQUER AMONG CABINET CHANGES

LONDON, June 15.—It is rumored that Bonar Law will resign as chancellor of the exchequer almost immediately.

Several changes have taken place recently in the Lloyd George ministry, and many more are likely to occur in the near future.

Arthur Henderson is no longer a member of the war cabinet of five, it having apeared to his late colleagues that his presence in Petrograd is essential at this juncture in order that the view of the overwhelming majority of the British working classes on the war shall not be misrepresented. His place in the war cabinet has been taken by G. N. Barnes, formerly minister of pensions, and another solid Labor party stalwart, with a great outside reputation for sound and sane leadership of the workers.

Lord Devonport has stepped down from the food controllership—partly, no doubt, for reasons of health, and partly because the machinery which he set in motion was too deliberate to satisfy friendly critics.

Bonar Law May Resign.

It is likely that Bonar Law will resign the chancellorship of the exchequer almost at once. The strain now placed on him is intolerable. He is not only chancellor of the exchequer, but also a member of the war cabinet, and, in addition, leader of the House of Commons, in which last-named capacity he has to be in his place in Parliament during every important debate. Further, the misfortunes which have overtaken his two sons in the war and the serious illnesses of the two at home, have greatly aged him.

E. S. Montague, almost certainly, and H. L. Samuel, probably, are expected to join the Government soon. If either, or both, do so it will considerably strengthen the administration on the Liberal side, which it badly needs. It is just possible that Mr. Montagu, who was a successful financial secretary to the treasury in the Asquith coalition government, may become chancellor of the exchequer when Bonar Law resigns that office.

WILL BE FATAL POLICY TO PUT RETURNED MEN ON FARMS AT PRESENT

MONTREAL, June 15.—"The placing of returned soldiers on the land, under present conditions, will be a fatal policy," said Dr. T. R. Adams, of the conservation committee, of Ottawa, at the public health session of the Canadian Medical Association convention here today. The soldiers do not want to go on the land, he said, not so much because they object to farming, but under present conditions farming does not pay and most areas available for settlement are too remote for the markets.

Dr. Adams stated that the conservation commission had found that conditions in the slums of the cities were no worse than many of the rural districts. This was due largely to land speculation, he said.

The convention, which concluded tonight by a smoker given by the Montreal Medico-Chirurgical Society, was addressed today by a medical man, back from the front, and there was a discussion on the effects of shell shock, poisonous gas and trench nephritis.

DOMINION CROP REPORT WITH HARVEST PROSPECT

OTTAWA, June 15.—The census and statistics office has issued a preliminary estimate of the areas sown to grain crops this spring, with a report of their condition on May 31, as compiled from the returns of crop correspondents. The reports from the prairie provinces state that the spring there is very backward, and seeding is consequently late. At the end of May severe frosts cut down the growing wheat plant; but rapid recovery was anticipated. Rain was needed for the germination of the later sown crops and of wheat sown on stubble.

It is estimated from the reports of correspondents that the total area sown to wheat for 1917 is 13,450,250 acres, as compared with 14,897,000 acres, the area sown, and with 12,900,600 acres, the area harvested, in 1916. Thus, the area sown this year, whilst nearly 10 per cent less than the area sown for 1916, is about 4 per cent more than the area harvested for 1916.

Ontario's Big Decrease.

In arriving at these figures revised returns of the census of 1916 have been included for Manitoba; for Saskatchewan and Alberta similar revisions have not yet been completed. As compared with the areas sown for 1916, the returns this year indicate small increases under wheat in each of the Atlantic provinces and in British Columbia, and an increase of 25,000 acres in Quebec; but for each of the remaining provinces, decreases are reported to the extent of 154,000 acres in Ontario, 254,000 acres in Manitoba, 927,000 acres in Saskatchewan and 158,000 acres in Alberta.

The average condition on May 31, in per cent to the standard representing a full crop is for all wheat for Canada 84 per cent as compared with 90 per cent on May 31 last year, and with 91 per cent the average condition on the corresponding date for the seven years ended 1916.

More of Other Crops.

The decrease in the area sown to wheat this year is partly due to the curtailment of the seeding season by the lateness of the spring, and efforts were therefore apparently directed towards an increase in the areas sown to other crops. For oats, the acreage is 11,781,900 as compared with 11,376,346 acres, the area sown, and 9,875,346 acres, the area harvested last year. Barley is sown to 1,954,100 acres, as against 1,827,780 acres, the area sown and 1,681,180 acres, the area harvested in 1916. Rye has a sown area of 159,470 acres as compared with 147,176 acres in 1916; mixed grains, 558,250 acres, as compared with 410,726 acres; hay and clover 7,661,800 acres against 7,892,932 acres; and alfalfa 84,900 acres, against 89,472, acres.

LINGERING WEAKNESS FOLLOWING DISEASE

Banished by the Wonderful Tonic Powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

How often victims of disease such as la grippe, fevers, or contagious troubles are left weak, ailing and despondent after the disease itself has disappeared. They do not pick up strength as they ought; remain listless, tired and discouraged. The reason for this is that the blood has been impoverished by the ravage of the disease through which the victim has passed. Strength will not return until the blood has been enriched. The blood can be purified and enriched by no other medicine as quickly and as surely as by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—to enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves is the whole mission of these pills. Thousands have found them beneficial in bringing strength and energy after disease had left them weak and rundown. Miss Hannah Hamilton, Everett, Ont., says: "After an attack of la grippe I was so rundown and anaemic that I could scarcely walk. I had no color, no appetite, and constant headaches. The medicine I was taking was doing me no good and I had almost lost hope of getting better. I was asked to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and it was not long until I could feel that they were helping me, and after taking them for a couple of months I was completely cured. I now never fail to recommend these pills to anyone needing a blood builder."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

VERDICT SURPRISE IN MAPLETON CASE OVER DEAD INFANT

Open Verdict Is Returned by Coroner's Jury There Yesterday.

ST. THOMAS, June 14.—Somewhat sensational evidence and a verdict that surprised the crown authorities featured the inquest conducted at Mapleton today in the death of the baby, whose dead body was found in the home of George Williams on June 2.

The evidence of Dr. Cornett showed that Olive Williams, the 20-year-old daughter of George Williams, was a mother. The evidence of factory employees, where the girl was employed in St. Thomas, was that her condition had caused considerable gossip and that she had been absent from work on March 12, 13 and 14, and again on April 6 and 7. The medical evidence showed that the child had been dead about six weeks prior to the discovery of the body.

The jurors' finding was that the "young female whose body was found in the home of George Williams, died some six or eight weeks prior to June 2, through lack of proper attendance, where we are unable to say."

This finding, in view of the evidence previously given, has caused dissatisfaction to the coroner and Crown Attorney McCrimmon.

On cross-examination of the crown attorney as to whether she had been the mother of a child, the Williams girl's answer was: "I am not the mother of the dead baby."

This was her only answer.

The evidence of Drs. Tuffert and Cornett, who performed the post mortem on the body of the infant, was that the child was alive at birth. All organs were normal. Dr. Tuffert declared that death had come twenty minutes after birth.

The stench of the body caused its discovery in an unused closet off the kitchen, according to George Williams. Both he and his wife swore that they had no idea of their daughter's condition.

Dr. Cornett, who examined the girl on June 12, swore that she had been a mother.

Jeremiah Sullivan, office manager of the E. T. Wright Shoe Company, St. Thomas, where the girl was employed, swore that there was considerable talk in the factory over her condition. F. G. Viner, accountant at the same plant, testified to her absence in March and said her condition was common talk prior to that time, also her changed condition when she returned after being absent the three days.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

ST. THOMAS, June 15.—Pte. C. H. Le Barge of the 7th Details, London, was allowed to go on suspended sentence by Magistrate Maxwell today, on a charge of entering the offices of Dr. C. R. McKenzie, Southwick street, and Dr. C. E. B. Duncombe, Talbot street, and stealing a phial of morphine tablets and a $20 gold ring.

An officer of the 7th Regiment, London, appeared, and guaranteed to keep the man under strict surveillance, and if at any time a repetition of the offence was committed, he would be returned to Magistrate Maxwell's court for sentence. The officer stated that Le Barge was a good soldier.

Under the circumstances the magistrate decided to let him go. Le Barge said he was from Montreal, and had been addicted to the drug habit for three years.

REDUCING M. C. R. CREWS.

ST. THOMAS, June 15.—The railroads report a considerable drop in business. The M. C. R. reduced their crews today. Nine men in the train service and a dozen in the locomotive department are affected.

MILK TOO THIN.

ST. THOMAS, June 15.—Ten local milk vendors appeared before Magistrate Maxwell today, charged with selling milk less than 12 per cent total solids, of which less than 3½ per cent was butter fat. Inspector Shaw stated that he believed the milk was skimmed. The accused, however, pleaded that they believed their milk to be standard. The case was adjourned for one week.

POLITICS AGAIN FIGURE MORE THAN WAR SERVICE

OWEN SOUND, June 15.—Nelson B. Horton, one of the town assessors, has been appointed division court clerk here to succeed the late Allen Maitland. He is a well-known and capable official. There is considerable comment on the appointment, however, as a returned soldier, who is considered quite capable of filling the position, but who is a prominent Liberal worker, had applied for the position. The Returned Soldiers' Association here made an effort to secure the position, through the representations of its president, but the political leanings of the nominee were apparently too much for the Conservative member to pass over.

DISTRICT I. O. O. F. HELD AT WROXETER

Successful Meeting Conducted There With Big Representation on Thursday.

WROXETER, June 15.—A gala day in Oddfellowship was held in the hall on Thursday. In the evening, the district meeting was held with District Deputy McVittie of Blyth in the chair. There was a full delegation from each lodge of the I. O. O. F. in the district.

The report of the secretary-treasurer showed the finances and membership to be in a most healthy condition.

O. E. Augustine of Dungannon was elected district deputy grand master for the coming year. John Dodds of Wingham was re-elected district secretary.

In the afternoon a lodge of instruction was held in the town hall. More than 150 brethren were present. The initiatory degree was conferred on two candidates from Teeswater. The degree team did good work.

The Blyth lodge conferred the first and second degrees in fine style. The Seaforth brethren exemplified the third degree in the manner which has caused their reputation to extend over the entire district.

Deputy Grand Master Mann of Hamilton was present and made an address on Oddfellowship.

The Wroxeter brethren were hosts at lunch, at which Deputy Master Mann, Past Grand Master Popplestone of Blyth, and Rev. Mr. Abery of Londesboro responded to the toast list which concluded one of the most successful meetings ever held by the Wroxeter Oddfellows.

FIRST CONCERT GIVEN IN GALT'S PAVILION

GALT, June 15.—Despite threatening weather and the sudden change in the temperature, the Kiltie band gave its first concert of the season this evening at Jackson Park, in the new pavilion. There was a fair sized crowd on hand. The band was made good progress during the winter, and rendered an exceptionally good program. An added number to the program was a vocal solo, "Fair Hawaii," by Howard Henselwood.

371 Wellesley Street, Toronto, April 9, 1917.

Duplex Manufacturing Company, Barrie, Ont.

Gentlemen,—I bought one of your Duplex Hair-Cutting Machines and I wish to say that I have been a MASTER BARBER IN TORONTO OVER FORTY YEARS, and my experience since I bought is that it is a perfect tool. It requires no experience to use it. A woman can, in a few minutes, cut her children's hair BETTER THAN EIGHT OUT OF TEN BARBERS, and men while combing their hair can also cut it, saving time and money.

I am pleased that I have retired from business, because this machine will certainly have a great sale on account of its price, and will have an effect on the barber business. (Signed) JAMES MARREN.

This is only one letter out of dozens we have received from pleased users of the Duplex within the last few weeks. You, too, will be pleased if you get one. Get one for yourself at the wholesale price of $1.00. The price is going up to $1.50 immediately. Get a Duplex and send it to your friend, brother, or husband in the trenches. It will be more than welcome now that the warm weather is coming.

You Can't Go Wrong With a Duplex. The Slanting Teeth Won't Let You.

The Duplex is made of the very best quality steel and silver-plate. The blades are double-edged, oil-honed and double-tested. You can comb your hair any style you wish and the Duplex will cut it smoothly and evenly. It cuts while you comb. Cuts the front hair long and the back short. It will last a lifetime. Figure out how much you can save. The regular price of the Duplex is $1.50, but we will allow you 50c cash for this ad. Cut it out and send it to us with only $1.00 and we will send you the Duplex complete, attached to the comb, ready for instant use. Five minutes after you receive the Duplex you can have your hair cut better than it was ever cut before. We can only afford to make this liberal offer because we know that you will show the Duplex to your friends, and we will get dozens of orders from your district. Agents wanted.

SMOKING, DEVASTATED BAPAUME SHOWN AFTER THE HUNS LEFT

Remarkable War Film To Be Seen All Next Week at the Patricia Theatre.

Starting on Monday afternoon and continuously each and every day next week will be shown a remarkable war film at the Patricia Theatre.

This picture is more comprehensive than the Battle of the Somme film which, the first of the official series, was presented to a record attendance at the same theatre and under the same auspices last fall. It is also in a sense more important. It shows the result, while the former picture showed the beginning. In the interval between July 1, when the battle of the Somme opened, and March 18, when the British troops entered Bapaume—their objective, on July 1, when the advance commenced—a great deal of history has been made. Much of the story has been told in words in the newspapers. Now will be shown the illustrations—at least of the great events on the western British front.

These pictures show the spring activities of 1917. They identify many of the famous regiments, including Canadians and the Australians. Masses of men come marching into action so plainly photographed that their relatives may recognize them.

As for the tanks, says the London Daily Mail, these are the real tank pictures we have waited for; tanks at close quarters, in the thick of the fight; tanks splitting out fire; tanks doing incredible acrobatics, lurching across trench chasms, impending over sunken roads, and coming down into them with a crash which makes the beholder shiver for the occupants inside.

Human Glory Vivid.

All the mammoth, intricate mechanism, and all the wonderful human glory of the great war are vivid in these pictures. One beholds vast ammunition dumps, the unending stream of shells being forwarded with incredible swiftness of handling to the front to be hurled into the German lines; the parking of innumerable guns, and the awful fourteen days' bombardment which preceded the last attack. On the human side one beholds heroism at closer quarters than ever the motion picture camera has dared before. If an appeal to the country for men is needed to back up the men at the front, it is here—in the breath-quickening sight of those waves of British soldiers who are seen "going over the top" to get at the enemies of human liberty and civilization.

Smoking, ruined, devastated Bapaume is seen as our troops entered it after the barbarians had burnt and destroyed all they could ere they were forced to abandon the town. Skeleton churches, smoldering homes, streets still flaming, wreckage and damage—it looks as if a great holocaust had happened, a disaster wrought not by man or nature, but by a diabolical agency with the powers of man and nature betrayed into its hands.

These pictures are being presented in Canada by Messrs. Jule and Jay J. Allen, which means that the best possible setting and arrangement for their showing at the Patricia have been made. The film, consisting of 6,000 feet, will be run continuously all afternoon and evening, so that the public will be able to drop in at any time and see the complete picture in about an hour and a quarter.

SOME OF THE PICTURES COMING TO THE PATRICIA

"Two Men and a Woman" a Coming Attraction at the Patricia.

"Two Men and a Woman," a photoplay of unusual merit, will be seen at the Patricia Theatre soon. The following is a synopsis of the play:

Tony Merritt, the young ward of Bruce Donaldson, a former naval officer, falls in love with Ethel Walling, the daughter of Donaldson's neighbor, and asks Bruce to help him in his wooing.

Bruce and Ethel have loved each other for a long time, but have never spoken of it or admitted it to each other. Donaldson, through affection for his ward, thrusts aside his love for Ethel and asks her to accept Tony. Ethel, surprised at the requests, conceals her real feelings and accepts Tony, though her heart really belongs to Donaldson.

Yaki, a Japanese countess in the employ of a foreign government, is commissioned to obtain possession of the plans of a submarine bell which Donaldson has invented, and calls for aid upon a former comrade of Donaldson, who yields to her persuasions and obtains the plans in a manner which casts suspicion of the theft upon Tony.

Wanda, an adventuress, at one time had Tony among the victims of her wiles, and he had written letters to her which might interfere with his marriage, demands from Tony a large sum of money for the return of the letters, but he is unable to procure it, and she calls at his home to press her claim. Tony is absent, and Wanda is met by Donaldson, who learns her errand and endeavors to get the letters.

Wanda later discovers the love Bruce and Ethel bear for each other, and tells Tony of it. He, his better nature stirred to its depths, and realizing the sacrifice made by Donaldson, releases Ethel from her promise to him, and with the scene between Wanda and Donaldson at the house explained, Ethel and Donaldson are made happy.

Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle in "A Reckless Romeo" Coming to the Patricia.

Paramount Pictures Corporation has announced "A Reckless Romeo," the second of the series of two-reel comedies in which Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle is the star, and which Paramount is releasing to all exhibitors, irrespective of the present program system of releases of their five-reel features.

This picture will be seen at the Patricia Theatre on June 25, 26 and 27, and is claimed to be one of Arbuckle's best comedies.

So wonderful has been the success of the first comedy, "The Butcher Boy," and so great has been the clamoring for additional pictures of this class, that Paramount has decided to release the second picture one month after the first feature was shown.

Paramount has established in each of their 27 exchanges Arbuckle departments, which are handling these comedies separately from their feature program, and in every section of the country they have broken all previous records for contracts on a two-reel feature in the industry. While there were 153 prints on the first comedy, Paramount is preparing to have over 200 prints on the second production.

"A Reckless Romeo" is the most elaborate production that Mr. Arbuckle has ever produced. The interior settings are without a single doubt the most stupendous that have ever been used in a two-reel comedy, and there was nothing left undone by him in the production to make it the most attractive bit of work from an artistic standpoint that had ever been issued in connection with his name. Many of the exteriors were taken in Palisade Park, Fort Lee, when this amusement place was in full swing, and the exterior situations give "Fatty" the most wonderful opportunity of his life to "get away with murder," as he himself expressed it.

"Womanhood, the Glory of the Nation" To Be Seen at the Patricia Theatre Soon.

Bigger, better, more soul-inspiring than any patriotic photoplay that has ever been presented before is "Womanhood, the Glory of the Nation," which will be seen at the Patricia Theatre in the near future. This picture is the answer of the great heart of the people of the United States to the pacifists and anti-Americans. And it is not without its lesson for some in our own country. It is the reply which the American woman makes to those who would betray or despoil her flag. It portrays the three great loves of a woman's life—the love of a maid for a man, the love of a mother for her child, the love of a woman for her country. It is a clarion call to preparedness—yes, and to power behind preparedness. It awakens within the breast of every person who sees it the realization that the need of the hour is for a vastly increased armament, and for that true spirit of patriotism which, spreading from heart to heart, makes that wonderful unconquerable thing which we call national spirit. Among the tremendous scenes in this magnificent and spectacular production is one showing New York being bombed from the skies. The capital at Washington is the background for the scene containing several thousand people. Navy yards and munition factories are seen in full blast. A pacifist meeting turns into a riot. Zeppelins are witnessed in action. A whole navy is destroyed in a sea of burning oil. All this and much more is to be seen in "Womanhood." This photo-play is presented by the finest all-star cast that has ever been got together, headed by Alice Joyce and Harry Morey, and including Peggy Hyland, James Horrison, Naomi Childers, Joseph Kilgour, Mary Maurice, Walter McGrail, Templar Saxe, Edward Elkas, and Bobby Connelly.

SMILES PAY, SAYS NOTED SCREEN STAR.

A pleasant smile pays in more ways than I can say. How I wish every girl might realize just what it means way down deep every time she smiles. I think we would remember and smile oftener than we do.

There are ways and ways of smiling. One may smile and not have it mean a single thing, or one may smile and have a person feel it as deep as one's finger tips. Such a smile isn't easy, but what a compensation one may have for any trouble taken to learn it after the results are considered. So many people have told me how very hard it is for them to smile. But, in spite of everything, I have never heard any one give a smile anything but the praise it deserves.

SCREENLAND GOSSIP

"President Wilson of the Movies" is the title he gained around the Essanay studios. The man who is the counterpart of the nation's chief executive will make his screen debut in Bryant Washburn's next feature, "The Man Who Was Afraid." He enacts the part of the president in signing the call to arms. P. H. Westphal is his name. He was a hotel clerk in Lafayette, Ind., before his remarkable resemblance to President Wilson got him a job in the films.

The Russian art films have arrived in America, and the standard works of Tolstoy, Turgenieff, Dostoevsky, Pushkin, Gogol, Ostrovsky, Andreef and other prominent Slav authors will be seen in their picturized form for the first time outside of Russia, where the filmed versions of their novels and dramas have shared the popularity of the books and stage plays. At the same time, the screen acting of the leading Russian artists of the national theatres in Moscow and Petrograd will be exhibited in these same productions.

The Ideal Film Company has arranged for a screen version of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." It is announced that Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson is to have the part in which he appeared on the speaking stage.

Roscoe Arbuckle for his next comedy gathered into his studio twelve Hawaiian dancing girls in native costumes, a Hawaiian orchestra, a half-dozen cabaret performers, and a throng of Broadway tango experts.

Julian Eltinge, he of the fluffy lingerie and captivating smile, has decided to abandon his work as a female impersonator in musical comedy, for a time, at least. He is under contract to wear skirts for several films, but after that he declares he is through with petticoats—as apparel, of course—forever. If he decides to go back to the stage it will be as a light comedian—and in pants.

It is distressing to think to what lengths the scenario writers might have been driven to find ideas had it not been for the European war. However, the titanic conflict came along, with a menaced America, and all is well with the bright young men and women who turn out stories to order. One of the most recent of these concerns a foreign conspiracy to secure the secret of a newly-invented American military airplane. It is known as "Yankee Pluck," and has for its star Ethel Clayton.

Herbert Warren, the well-known leading man in legitimate and vaudeville productions, and the author of many successful vaudeville sketches, has been engaged as chief scenario writer for the Comique Film Corporation, the company formed to exploit Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle in comedy two-reelers. Another well-known actor in the scenario department is William Jefferson, son of Joseph Jefferson, of "Rip Van Winkle" fame, and beloved memory.

Jay Belasco, who appears with Billie Rhodes in Strand-Mutual comedies, appeared for two solid years at the London (England) Hippodrome, singing and dancing his way into the hearts of the public in "Hello, Ragtime," and "Hello, Tango." Jay can always get another engagement in London, where he is both known and liked, and English audiences do not readily forget their favorites.

To Be Seen at the Patricia Theatre on June 25-26-27.

MAJESTIC ATTRACTIONS FOR WEEK JUNE 18-23

Fannie Ward In "Unconquered," a Modern Society Drama.

Fanny Ward, the brilliant Lasky-Paramount star, who with each appearance on the screen adds fresh thousands to her hosts of admirers, will be seen at the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday, matinees only, in "Unconquered," a thrilling drama of modern society life, written especially for her by Beatrice C. DeMille and Leighton Osmun.

How the husband becomes infatuated with another woman and tricks the wife into a compromising situation, secures a divorce and the child, and how the child is finally won back by the mother offering to sacrifice her own life to a half-crazed negro, is presented in a most graphic and unusual manner.

As the young wife of the fun-loving, Miss Ward has an opportunity to display many of the most beatiful gowns from her wonderful wardrobe.

The cast supporting Miss Ward is one of unusual excellence, including such prominent artists as Jack Dean, Hobart Bosworth, Tully Marshall, Mabel Van Buren and little Billy Jacobs.

Alice Brady To Display Latest In Women's Clothes.

Remarkably effective scenes, splendid costuming, a thrilling story and superb acting characterize "The Hungry Heart," the newest World Picture Brady-Made, which will be seen at the Majestic Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, matinee only, with Miss Alice Brady in the leading role. Taken from the famous play, "Frou Frou," this entrancing offering is extremely effective. It tells a consistent, highly interesting story in a thoroughly pleasing manner. Miss Brady wears the very latest things in clothes in this great production, and for this reason the picture will be of more than ordinary interest to all women.

Kathlyn Williams With House Peters at Majestic.

Kathlyn Williams, the brilliant Morosco-Paramount star, will be seen at the Majestic today in a picturization of Willard Mack's thrilling story, "The Highway of Hope."

Miss Williams is introduced in the picture in a most unique and novel manner. At first all that is seen is a wooden stairway, then a cascade of water pours down the steps. This is followed by feet clad in heavy shoes, and gradually, scrubbing down step after step, Miss Williams appears. Her usually beautiful hair hangs in coarse strands about her face and down over her torn gingham dress. Later in the picture, after months of privation on the desert, Miss Williams is seen handsomely gowned and a capable business woman. Her wonderful transition from a drudge in a mining camp saloon to a beautiful woman of modern society is considered one of the finest examples of character portrayal ever seen on the screen. In the cast supporting Miss Williams and Mr. Peters are included Jim Farley and Harry De Vere.

Bessie Barriscale in "The Snarl."

Bessie Barriscale plays twin sisters in a new Triangle play, "The Snarl," produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince, which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

For continuous suspense and perfection of the mystifying dual role this play stands out as a screen gem. Miss Barriscale has never created finer character studies than the twin sisters, one of noble, inspirational charm and the other a frivolous creature without soul.

Charles Gunn is leading man for the star, and Howard Hickman, Aggie Herring, Thomas Guise and J. Barney Sherry form the supporting company. The production was directed by Raymond B. West, with art supervision by Robert Brunton.

Alice Joyce, Vitagraph Star, In "The Question."

"The Question," a Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, which will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, is the story of a woman, forced to decide between duty and convention, who declared for the former and defied gossip.

Dr. Rundel, a scientist, is devoting his life to the search for a new serum and is being aided in his work by John Stedman, a young chemist. Realizing that the pursuit may not be concluded in his own lifetime, he has decided to train Stedman so that he can carry on work. To this end he has made his will, leaving to Stedman all his money and the key to the formula, without which the younger man could not hope to find the much desired serum.

Dr. Rundel's only condition is that John devote all his time and energy to the work in hand, which means, automatically, that he shall not marry.

He breaks under the strain of his work and Martha's father, certain in his own mind that John never will succeed, urges Martha to marry a wealthy suitor named Cosgrove. She agrees. John collapses and she hurries to him. She realizes that he needs her and, torn by the question of love versus convention, she decided in favor of the former. She decides to remain with John regardless of the opinion of the world. She and John suffer from the scandal her act inspires and the end comes when she realizes that she is dragging John downwards by remaining with him.

She then offers to marry Cosgrove, but he offers her only a substitute. John intervenes during a terrible struggle between the girl and Cosgrove. The two men engage in combat.

At the Majestic Theatre Today.

"THE GREEN DOOR" BASED ON AN O. HENRY STORY

It is not often that a great metropolitan newspaper like the New York Times, in reviewing a photoplay performance, will neglect the big feature on the bill to devote all of its review to a two-reel offering. But this is just what happened when at its first public view at the Strand Theatre on Broadway "The Green Door" was given all attention. This is the General Film release which is to be seen at the Unique Theatre here today.

Says the Times: "The trouble with many films is that the director does not get an idea. 'The Green Door,' a photoplay exhibited at the Strand yesterday, illustrates this. It is based on O. Henry's story of that name, the story of the piano clerk who pursued romance and adventure in unromantic Manhattan until he found a real romance. The camera caught some of the O. Henry flavor, and the picture is so far superior to the majority of its kind that the suspicion arises that what the movies need is ideas.

"'The Green Door' was directed by Thomas R. Mills. It features Mildred Manning and Walter McGrail."

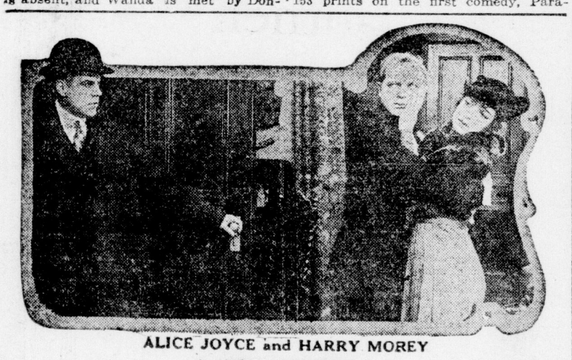

"East Is East," a Photoplay Starring Elizabeth Turner.

Florence Turner, in "East Is East," a five-act photoplay, will be seen at the Unique on Monday and Tuesday next. The story deals with the district in the squalid heart of East London, among the teeming millions striving to pick up a living, or rather existence, Victoria Alexandra Vickers, a typical East-End Cockney girl, bred in the slums, tossed about in the whirlpool of struggling human life, getting a living anyhow—sometimes as a factory hand, sometimes selling flowers at street corners, always poor, never knowing where the next meal is coming from, but, withal, preserving her natural cheeriness and her inborn decency of mind.

She is separated from the lover of former days, and before she finds herself happy once more in his arms, tense situations develop which give the beautiful star, Florence Turner, splendid opportunities for the powerful emotional acting which has made her famous.

BESSIE BARRISCALE, in "The Snarl," at the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday next. A realistic shipwreck shown in this picture.

FRANKLYN FARNUM AT PRINCESS IN "THE CLOCK"

Devotees of photoplays who recall Franklyn Farnum's appearance in a recent Bluebird, "The Man Who Took a Chance," will realize how perfectly he fits into the role of a light-hearted and dashing chap of good looks and immaculate manners, such as he will again have in "The Clock," announced as the "Bluebird Day" attraction at the Princess Theatre on Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Farnum will again have as his leading lady pretty Agnes Vernon, who enters into the spirit of her work with such zeal and entertaining effectiveness. "The Clock" reflects an exciting and momentous period in the career of a young man who starts off with an evident desire to turn night into day and sleep daytimes. Suddenly confronted with the necessity of making his own living, the girl he loves plays a trick upon him to urge along his reform, and succeeds in a most surprising manner and with astonishing results. "The Clock" is a comedy-drama of good purpose, fast moving, effective in its purpose of entertainment and qualifying fully as a purposeful picture of good intent.

STAR MANAGEMENT SECURES EXCLUSIVE PATHE SPECIALS

Arrangements have been completed by the management of the Star Theatre whereby this house has obtained exclusive Pathe film productions, which will be shown at this theatre commencing on Monday with a five-reel Gold Rooster special, "Her Beloved Enemy."

On Wednesday and Thursday the first two episodes of "The Mystery of the Double Cross," a wonderful serial in 30 parts, will be shown, and continued each week.

Story, cast, production and direction combine to make "Mystery of the Double Cross" the best mystery serial ever released.

A great mystery, a great love interest, clean from beginning to end, it embraces every attribute which we consider necessary to make a big motion picture. The "class" of the production makes it an attraction for the best houses in the country.

Molly Queen is seen as Philippa Brewster, the heroine.

It is the unanimous opinion of all who have seen this picture that the direction is the best that has ever been given to a serial. The outstanding characteristic of William Parke's direction are speed—something happens every minute—little touches which bring out the high lights of the situation, whether comedy or drama, and careful attention to every detail of each scene to make it not only technically satisfactory, but pleasing to the eye. Only a man of great experience

6,000 Feet of Film Recording Late Events Momentous for the Future of the World Red Hot From the Anvil of the Great War

THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE PICTURE OF MODERN WAR TO DATE---EVERY KIND OF WAR---WAR ON LAND, ON WATER, IN THE SKY, UNDER THE SEA

These pictures bring the war up to date as far as the retreat of the Germans to the Hindenburg Line, and show the British offensive of Spring of 1917.

This film is the absolutely authentic production of military camera operators working by direction of the British Government to produce a permanent pictorial record of the war.

Six Reels of Action, Containing Six Months of Struggle

Arrival of fresh troops from England for the spring offensive; final inspection and dispatch of different units to the battle line.	Trench raids and small attacks keep the Boche busy, while guns pound the enemy lines, and rifle, grenades and mortar bombs take toll.	The tanks sail forward into battle position gliding over ground rough or smooth like ships on land, while heavy munitions are rushed forward.	British battle planes rise to reconnoitre the German positions and drive away enemy observers of preparations for the great coming attack.	THE DAY — THE HOUR—three minutes more and then—THE MINUTE. The troops leap forward to the attack through the hail of bullets.	Victory! Germans surrender wholesale. The wounded. A scene as of heaven and earth crashed together. Ruins of Bapaume. Soldiers make merry.

SECRET SESSION IN AUSTRALIA TO TAKE UP RECRUIT ISSUE

Commonwealth's Customs Receipts Have Dropped Ten Millions.

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 15.—(via Reuter's Ottawa agency).—The federal treasurer announced in the House of Representatives today that for the fiscal year ending 30th June, the revenue of the Commonwealth would amount to £32,600,000, and that despite the surplus of three million pounds carried over from the previous year the surplus of revenue over expenditure on June 30 would be only £127,000. The public debt, he said, amounted to £166,000,000, including war loans totalling £129,000,000. The treasurer said it would be inexpedient to deal with the estimates for the coming year, or to indicate imperative measures necessary for the energetic prosecution of the war. The position was very difficult. Customs receipts were expected to show a falling off of some ten million pounds owing to the shrinkage of imports. Premier Hughes expressed the hope that the House would assist the Government to formulate a scheme to secure sufficient recruits for the overseas forces.

The Laborites objected to a secret session for this purpose.

Kaiser Tells Tino German Mailed Fist Will Restore Crown

"With Further Aid From Almighty God," Will Avenge Outrage.

BERNE, June 15, via London.—A telegram from Berlin says Emperor William has addressed the following message to one of the Greek diplomatic representatives abroad for transmission to former King Constantine:

"I have heard with wrath of the infamous outrage committed by our common enemies upon you and upon your dynasty. I assure you that your deprivation can be only temporary. The mailed fist of Germany, with further aid from Almighty God, will restore you to your throne, of which no man by right can rob you. The armies of Germany and Germany's allies will wreak vengeance on those who have dared so insolently to lay their criminal hands on you. We hope to welcome you in Germany at the earliest opportunity. A thousand cordial greetings from

"YOUR WILLIAM."

ONCE BITTEN, TWICE SHY

LONDON, June 15.—An admiralty communication was issued this evening concerning an allegation made in a German wireless dispatch charging inhumanity on the part of the British in failing to rescue more men of the crew of the German torpedoboat destroyer S-20, which was sunk by the British squadron in its attack on the German naval base at Ostend June 5.

The communication explains that the British officer engaged in the rescue found that the S-20 had her torpedo tube trained on his vessel, while three enemy seaplanes were overhead, which apparently were about to drop bombs. It says also that the British rescuing vessel was under fire from the shore batteries, and that the officer therefore ceased rescuing the Germans when seven of them had been picked up, as nothing further could be done, and grave risks already had been incurred for the sake of humanity.

SOME OF BEST PLANS HAVE BLOWN UP, BUT VICTORY IS CERTAIN

Chairman of Inter-Allied Conference Speaks.

IS HOPEFUL OF RUSSIA

Now Looks to U. S. to Make Good Wastage in Man Power.

LONDON, June 15.—Henry Franklin-Bouillon, member of the French Chamber of Deputies, and chairman of the inter-allied parliamentary conferences, who is arranging inter-parliamentary conferences of the Allies for this fall, speaking at the American Luncheon Club today, urged the vital need of the closet possible co-operation between the Allies in what he hoped would be the final push of the war. In his address, M. Franklin-Bouillon said:

"Although there is not the slightest doubt of the result of the war in our minds, we would be foolish to blind ourselves to the fact that we have got a long road to travel and must suffer much yet in the cause of final victory.

"It has been our misfortune that some of our best plans have miscarried, and we also have made some serious mistakes owing to the lack of co-operation and co-ordination. We must avoid such mistakes in the future. We must be prepared for the worst. We must be prepared for a situation in which we may not get all the assistance we expect from Russia, although everybody is still hopeful that what is best in New Russia will prevail.

"With us in France it has begun to be largely a question of man-power. France already has sacrificed her manhood and our allies have incurred similar losses—the glorious English army of the battlefields of the Somme, the glorious Belgian army in Flanders, and the glorious Rumanian army, which battled bare-handed against the mailed fist. The same is true of wonderful Russia, which has lost three million men.

"Now we must look to the United States to make good the wastage and to work in close harmony with Britain, France, and the glorious nations who have borne the brunt of the fighting for almost three years.

"We are joined to speak and work for Belgian relief, but the only true remedy for the wrongs of Belgium is the defeat of Germany."

GERMAN SPIES AT GIBRALTAR CAUSED LOSS OF U.S. SHIP

Captain of Barbara Tells of His Undoing on Reaching Home.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, June 15.—Capt. Frank Lauren of the American schooner Barbara, sunk by a German submarine May 24, while on a voyage from Port Arthur, Texas, for Spezia, reported on his arrival here today that spies at Gibraltar in some way had obtained information regarding the movements of his vessel and conveyed it to the commander of the U-boat by which he was attacked. One member of the crew was arrested at Gibraltar on Capt. Lauren's complaint and locked up. There was reason to believe, the captain said, that he had been in communication with German spies. It was known, he said, that the Barbara would proceed from Spezia to Gibraltar, and the member of the crew, whose name was not revealed, formally was charged by the Italian authorities with furnishing information to the enemy.

While approximately 70 miles from Cape Trafalgar, Capt. Lauren was startled by a shell that whizzed over the masts of the Barbara, and a moment later a submarine appeared close by. Mrs. Lauren, the captain's wife, got in a small boat with him and pulled up alongside the submarine and heard the German commander's orders for the crew to leave, as he was going to send the Barbara to the bottom. The men hardly had time to enter the boats before the submarine opened fire. The marksmanship was poor. After 27 shots had been fired, with the Barbara still afloat, the Germans went aboard and started fires fore and aft.

Capt. Lauren, his wife and crew had been adrift 24 hours when picked up by a Spanish brig and landed at Gibraltar.

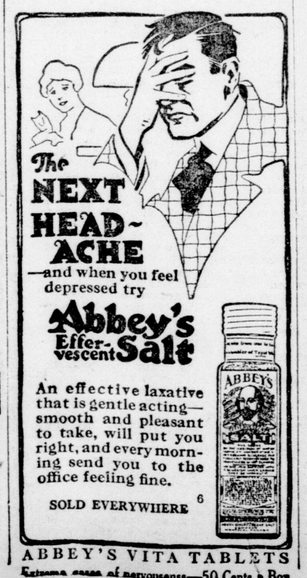

SUBMARINE BREMEN IS ADMITTED LOST WITH RICH CARGO

LONDON, June 15—(New York World dispatch).—The Nueste Nachrichten of Kiel, according to the Hague correspondent of the Daily Mail, at last admits the loss of the commercial submarine Bremen with its valuable cargo.

The newspaper says:

"The commercial submarine Bremen left Hamburg last August and since then, unfortunately, has not been heard of. She carried a large parcel of American securities. The owners of part of these shares have applied to the railways in question and have asked for duplicate shares, on the ground that the Bremen had been lost with her whole cargo.

"The railway companies have made out fresh papers after the deposit by the share owners of suitable guarantees."

The Studebaker Car

What You Get for Your Money

WHEN you buy a Studebaker SIX, you get the best work of one of the largest automobile manufacturers in the Dominion.

You get a Canadian built car which has been perfected by four years' experience with the same basic design. Each year improvements and refinements have made it a still better car.

These improvements and refinements are based on the experience of 300,000 Studebaker cars in the hands of owners in all parts of the world.

The Studebaker SIX is not an experiment—it is an evolution.

The Studebaker SIX is made of carefully selected materials developed, perfected and tested in the great Studebaker laboratories.

The workmanship in Studebaker cars is experienced, painstaking and carefully supervised. The inspections are rigid and exacting in the extreme.

What is true of the Studebaker SIX is also true of the Studebaker FOUR. Both cars are of the same basic design. Many of their parts are interchangeable—that is why it is possible for Studebaker to offer so good a car at so low a price.

The quality of Studebaker cars is evident in their finish and equipment.

Studebaker bodies are obviously substantial in construction. The crowned fenders are of heavy gauge steel.

The paint and varnish work is excellent. The upholstery is not only genuine leather, but high grade genuine leather. The cushions are soft and comfortable. The auxiliary seats are folding armchairs. The front seats are adjustable, and the right hand one reversible.

But the real proof of quality is durability. Studebaker cars stand up and give long, continuous service under the hardest usage.

Studebaker cars are guaranteed by the manufacturer for one year against defective workmanship and material. When you buy a Studebaker you get proved quality, proved economy and the guarantee of a great Canadian manufacturer.

Let us demonstrate to you the many points of Studebaker quality and economy,

U-BOATS BLOCKADING TWO SPANISH PORTS

Paris, June 16.—A semi-official note says that the German submarine U-52, which was towed into Cadiz on June 11, was operating outside that port. On June 12 a Norwegian steamer was torpedoed off Huelva, and a Russian sailer between Larache and Cadiz, which leads to the belief that a group of submarines has been sent to blockade the ports of Cadiz and Huelva.

FREE FIGHT PROMISED AT ANTI-CONSCRIPTION MEETING IN WINNIPEG

Police Do Not Want Responsibility This Afternoon.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, June 15.—Prospects of a free fight, if not voting, loom up here for Sunday afternoon. Winnipeg anti-conscriptionists will hold a public meeting at 3 o'clock on the market square, Ald. J. Queen announced today. The question of who will preserve order at the meeting is agitating the civic officials. Police heads assert it is up to the military authorities to prevent disorder, while the military officials are said to hold the belief that it is a job for the city police, as it is a civilian meeting.

Members of the Anti-Conscription League arranged the meeting at the Labor Temple tonight. R. A. Rigg, F. J. Dixon, members of the legislature, Controller A. W. Puttee and Ald. Queen will speak. All threaten to use fists and other weapons if disturbed. Army veterans announce they will be near at hand.

TURKEY HAS PROMISED SAFETY TO MISSIONARIES

Desires "In Everything To Act As Gentlemen."

BOSTON, June 15.—Assurances from the Turkish Government as to the safety of missionaries and mission property in that country were received by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions through the state department advices from the American ministers at Berne and Stockholm.

A statement given out by the board tonight said that the Swedish legation at Constantinople had learned from the Turkish foreign office that buildings of American institutions would not be occupied by the Turks and "that it desired in everything to act as gentlemen toward the missions." It was stated further that arrangements were being made for the missionaries traveling to the coast in groups. The colleges at Constantinople and Beirut are now open and at work again. Three of the American boards fifteen centres of work in Turkey, Harpoot, Talas and Brousa, are now abandoned and their staffs are at Constantinople or on the way to that city.

SEVIGNY CALLED A LIAR, PLUMP AND PLAINLY, IN HOUSE OF PARLT.

And Man Who Hurls Epithet Is Not Called to Order.

MINISTER GETS GRILLING

Would Reward Author of Seditious Matter With Government Job.

QUEBEC IS STORM CENTRE

Liberals Refuse to Vote Estimates to "Such a Minister."

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, June 15.—The youngest member of the Government, Albert Sevigny, today was the centre of one of the liveliest rackets that Parliament has seen since the naval debate. The attack upon him required a ruling by the acting chairman of committee, Richard Blain, backed up by the ruling of Speaker Rhodes, and he had to have the backing of the Government majority.

The old question of the loyalty and otherwise of the province of Quebec was the basis of the row. Mr. Blair was put out of the chair, and the authorized chairman, Mr. Rainville, was put in. Mr. Sevigny was called "a young liar" openly, and the man who used the words was not called to order.

Mr. Sevigny spent the afternoon and evening trying to get inland revenue estimates voted his department; but when the House adjourned the Opposition had not granted a dollar.

Warming Up, or a Blow-Off?

Tonight the House is wondering if this is a warming up for the compulsion debate next week, or a blow-off in anticipation of this debate.

A few minutes after the inland revenue estimates were called, Ernest Lapointe, the Liberal representative of Kamouraska, asked Mr. Sevigny a series of questions, and the minister's answer was that he had recommended the appointment, as accountant of his department, of Raoul Renault, editor of Le France Parleur, Quebec. He did not get the post because the civil service commission interfered.

Mr. Lapointe said that Renault had published violent articles against the recruiting of the 171st French-Canadian Regiment, "and strongly advised the people not to enlist." He sought to read some of the articles to the House, but was ruled out of order by Acting Speaker Blain, and this ruling was sustained on a vote after an appeal.

Sevigny Diplomacy.

When asked by Mr. Lapointe why he had sought the appointment of a man who had publically expressed such views as those of Renault, Hon. Mr. Sevigny said: "In my opinion, it was certainly regrettable to have in that paper, especially during this crisis, certain articles; and to put an end to that, I thought it would be a good thing to close the paper."

Then the storm broke.

"By giving him a Government job," said E. M. MacDonald.

"Not necessarily a good job," said Mr. Sevigny. "But at the same time it would be in the public interest if papers like La France Parleur or La Liberte (Tancrede Marcil's paper), or some other papers were closed at the present time."

Why Overlook Marcil?

"Is Marcil to get a Government job, too?" Mr. La Pointe asked.

"If I give him a job it will be in jail," said Mr. Sevigny. He added that he owed nothing to Renault; that he gave him the job only to close the paper. "I thought it would be a good thing if such a paper could be put out of existence in this crisis."

"So instead of putting him in jail you would reward him with a Government appointment," said Mr. MacDonald.

"Why not make Bourassa a deputy minister?" said A. K. MacLean.

Hon. Frank Oliver said that at Sault Ste. Marie a paper had been closed for its anti-recruiting utterances; in Quebec such utterances were rewarded.

"And we wonder that recruiting has not been larger in Quebec," said Mr. MacDonald.

It was at this point that Mr. Lapointe sought to read some of the Le France Parleur articles, and ruled out of order.

Storm Around Blain.

The ruling did not stop the row; and Mr. Blain was openly charged with having given an unfair ruling, and with having inaccurately reported the case to the speaker.

The speaker had to rule upo nwhat was before him. The division which sustained the speaker was a straight party one, and the ministers were jeered as they voted in defence of the minister who had confessed to recommending such an appointment.

After the vote, Mr. Blair got back into the chair, but Hon. Charles Marcil objected, saying that the regular chairman was in the chamber, and should take his place. Mr. Blain then left the chair in favor of Mr. Rainville, and the "free-for-all" really commenced.

"If it is the policy of the Government," said Mr. MacDonald, "to recommend for positions in the Government people who write articles seeking to discourage voluntary enlistment, it is a policy that deserves condemnation. If the ministers of the crown are thus putting a premium on the conduct of people who are urging the young men of Quebec not to enlist, that readily explains the state of recruiting in that province. This method of dealing with people who make seditious speeches and write seditious articles in the province of Quebec will put this Government in a very peculiar position before the people of this country."

Nationalist Has Repented.

Mr. Sevigny said that Renault was a qualified man, but that he had a personal difference with Sir William Price, who was recruiting. Lack of recruits from Quebec was due to speeches by such men as his late opponent, Mr. Cannon. Mr. Sevigny admitted that at one time he had made anti-British appeals himself, but he regretted having done so. "Since the war broke out I have done the best I could to secure Canada's participation."

Mr. Knowles said that anti-British appeals made five years ago might still be having an effect.

Mr. Sevigny said that in 1911 he had strongly opposed the naval policy, but had "never made appeals against Britain."

This statement was challenged by Mr. LaPointe, who said that he had heard Mr. Sevigny say on the platform: "The bill mentions the navy of his majesty. Who is his majesty? We have no majesty in Canada."

D. D. MacKenzie declared that the principles enunciated by Mr. Sevigny were startling, that "any man whose conduct was such as to make him a danger to the country—a firebrand—had to be given the King's money and the King's office in order to take him out of the way." He was not surprised, as the minister himself was a product of that line of action and owed his position in the cabinet to it.

The Trouble in Quebec.

Mr. LaPointe said that for years there had been an anti-British campaign in the province of Quebec, directed against Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on the ground that he was too British. Armand Lavergne, Tancrede Marsil and Mr. Sevigny were all engaged in this delightful task in 1911.

Hon. Charles Marcil said that the articles in Le France Parleur had not attacked recruiting generally, but had attacked the manner in which the militia department had treated French-Canadian regiments in the province of Quebec.

W. E. Knowles of Moose Jaw declared that Parliament should not vote a cent to a minister who followed the policy enunciated by Mr. Sevigny.

"If people are to be told that to get a fat Government job they have only to make a national peril of themselves, we are a laughing-stock in spending the people's money."

A second reason for refusing the money was that the minister declared that the Liberals of Quebec, more than half the people of that province, were disloyal. That was an insult to the people of Quebec to say that they are disloyal and desired to be opposed to Britain in this war.

Opposed to Such a Minister.

"He is a member of the Government whose influence makes toward disunity and discord, and faction in Canada. I am opposed, not only to giving this vote to this minister, but I am opposed to granting, joining or co-operating or concurring in any vote to this minister."

Mr. Sevigny angrily declared: "The great majority of the people are as loyal to the British Empire and the cause of the war, as he himself (Mr. Knowles), or anybody in his riding."

"You did not say that a minute ago," said Mr. Knowles.

Mr. Sevigny said that he had recently been attacked by Le Devoir. "And I am told that there was a meeting in Montreal last Sunday between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Henri Bourassa."

"You are a liar, that's what you are!" shouted E. M. MacDonald, and in the excitement he was not called to order.

"Well, that's what I am told," said Mr. Sevigny.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier was not in Montreal last Sunday. He was in Ottawa," said Mr. Kyte.

"Well, I said the interview was in Ottawa," said Mr. Sevigny.

Chorus of "Liar."

There was a chorus of "Liar!" from the Liberal side.

E. M. MacDonald, who had left the chamber, returned, and said that he had been authorized by Sir Wilfrid to state that he had no meeting with Henri Bourassa, and on the demand of Mr. MacDonald, Sevigny withdrew the statement.

Later in the night sitting A. K. MacLean, in calling for an explanation of an item of $54,600, found it was to pay additional preventive officers recently appointed. Mr. Sevigny explained that an error had been made previously in the estimates and a vote of $101,000 secured instead of $154,000. The Government had accordingly taken the $54,000 from the war funds.

This admission caused somewhat of a furore. Mr. MasLead demanded under what authority the war funds were touched, as the expenditure was not for war purposes, while Mr. MacDonald asked on whose authority other than a governor-general's warrant could war funds thus be taken. Mr. Sevigny thought the sum came from the sale of war stamps. Sir George Foster, and subsequently Sir Thomas White, defended the course on the ground that the extra preventive officers were needed by reason of war conditions.

BRITAIN VIEWS CHINA DIFFERENTLY FROM U.S.

LONDON, June 15.—Great Britain today dispatched to the United States a reply to a note addressed to the Allied powers, invtting them to associate themselves with the United States on the principles of the recent American note to China, which expressed regret at China's internal political difficulties and a hope that internal peace soon would be restored.

The British answer, which is of considerable length and carefully framed, expresses sympathy with the principles enunciated by the United States and a wish to do everything possible to conform with President Wilson's desires. But, it adds, that Great Britain naturally must view the situation from a slightly different standpoint than the United States and that she may not be able to do all that the president suggests.

The note, as prepared, fills three pages of foolscap, closely written, and probably contains between 700 and 800 words.

CANADIAN PUBLISHERS CONSIDER NEWSPRINT

Will Wait Upon Government Regarding High Price.

TORONTO, June 15.—The different sections of the Canadian Press Association have been holding meetings yesterday and today. Resolutions were proposed today in the three sections interested, limiting membership in the association to dailies and weeklies and ruling out trade and class magazines, of which there are at present 43 in the association. A vote will be taken on this question this afternoon.

Today the daily newspaper section passed a resolution inviting the weeklies to appoint two additional representatives to wait upon the Government in the matter of further negotiations regarding the price of newsprint.

The Big Chalmers
—the 7-passenger

WHEN the seven-passenger Chalmers made the famous all-day run through Chicago's dense traffic, Chalmers men everywhere were aroused. Now, every few days some new test is reported—further proof of the ease of driving and wide flexibility of the Chalmers.

These tests explain why so many women drive the Chalmers seven-passenger.

That run in CHICAGO, 24 hours, without a motor-stop on high gear, piled up 586 miles. The gasoline gave an average of 16.8 miles to the Imperial gallon. The test was made under American Automobile Association Supervision.

Then came DETROIT. A slow-speed traffic test. On high gear. Speed never over 3 miles per hour. Only 71.7 miles in 24 hours steady going. 12 miles to the Imperial gallon.

BOSTON made the test in a Sedan, 346.2 miles, 14 miles to the Imperial gallon.

In GRAND RAPIDS the mileage was 603. In MONTREAL, 590, with a 5-passenger.

In all cases only high gear was used.

The tests were made in stock Chalmers cars.

What stronger proof of the wide flexibility, fuel economy, perfect cooling could be desired? Test this car—the 7-passenger—the luxurious big Chalmers. Test its power reserves. Its ease of control.

Come in and drive it. Any time.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE CONSCRIPTION ISSUE.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Leaving the question of democracy out of the conscription question, it remains to be proven if it is practical and advisable at the present stage. That conscription is not democratic is as true as it is true that war is not democratic. It is of no use to try and clothe this principle in phrases and theories. Conscription is against any and all principles of democracy. But more so is war.

But when your neighbor arms himself to strike you and does strike you, when he is bent on destroying you, what is there left for you to do but fight back? It certainly is not democratic, but what else can you do?

There is no shadow of a doubt that this war has been prepared for years and brought about by Germany against nobody else but Britain. France, Russia and the rest of the warring nations, as only sideshows; that Germany's intentions originally were to strike England's commerce through France.

What was there left to be done for Britain but defend herself?

Canada might and might not be the prize which Germany wants, but Canada cannot take the chance, cannot and dare not afford to risk its free and democratic institutions. Whatever other arguments may be brought out, the fact will remain, that a victorious Germany would mean a victorious autocratic imperialism.

Canada has decided to step into this war to help Britain, because it realizes the danger to the world in general and Canadian people in particular.

That this war is differen… any other war in history is … It is a war of machiner… bility. This war … metal and food … Canada's part … quite evident … that if it … could supp…

… of Britain. Is it nearsightedness or petty politics?

Those in power have made mistakes; now they ask the other side to share the burden, to take the responsibility of their own blunders. This is not wise nor just. It is either that they have been right all along and need no coalition, or they have been wrong; then it is not coalition that they need but to consult the people.

And the people would have told them that they had been elected in time of peace, probably capable enough to handle the situation then, but in an extraordinary situation like this war we are not so sure if you are the right kind. As it is the people who are giving everything, paying for everything, it is for them to decide what and whom they want.

The time for the present Government has passed. It refuses to give the people the chance to have the say, covering its excuse with the mantle of patriotism. Patriotism means to help provide the best means for the happiness of the country. Did the present Government do it? They should ask the people this question and let the people answer it.

Is it a dangerous time for elections? No! In England they were not afraid to change the Government. In France they were not afraid to do the same, because they are wiser. They place the responsibility where it belongs, on the people. The people are the most interested in this struggle, and once they have had their say, the Government gained strength, and the facts show that Britain has gained so much by the change, and so did France.

Is the present Government afraid that the people will vote in favor of Germany, or is it afraid and unwilling to part with the power that it has? …it looking out for its own interests …he people's?

…hould the Government have …the first place, utilize the …overnment should have taken …land under control, pay the …crop …re

… conscription in Canada is nothing short of a crime.

Britain needs men! The United States is going to raise an army of 2,000,000 men. Our 50,000 more men will mean nothing on the battlefield, while they mean everything to us and the Allies at home. Can anybody with sense show the necessity of conscripting the last few men we have in Canada in face of the big army the United States is raising? Do we need conscription here, because the present Government, without considering the situation, has promised 500,000 men?

After the Government has made so many mistakes, does it still think that the people should have nothing to say in any important measure, or does the Government hate to part with the power, which means so much to itself, no matter how many unnecessary sacrifices the people have to bear? Or is it afraid of the verdict of the people?

"CONSTANTINE" THE ABDICATOR.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:

An article in the Globe of June 14 gives an interview with the late Constantine of Greece, in which he maintains his unwavering intention to abdicate his throne rather than "his people shall suffer from a devastating war—which will do nobody any good."

As a grandson of King Christian of Denmark, Constantine is true to the traditions of this lovable royal family which has produced the truest, sweetest, purest hearts and lives in Europe.

A nephew of our dowager Queen Alexandra, and of her sister, the dowager Queen of Russia, he has inherited those family traits which have made him beloved of his people.

In the diplomatic game he has gone under—but events will yet vindicate him, as also Asquith and Lord Grey—who refused to apply pressure in the wrong direction.

Had the Allies taken Constantine's advice re the Dardanelles expedition, much sacrifice of life and useless expenditure might have been averted.

Like the czar, his cousin, his tastes are natural, social and domestic.

The diplomatic jungle holds no attraction for them. This wholesale slaughter is abhorrent to them.

"I will go to my flowers," said the czar, when he abdicated. Constantine's …reference will naturally lead him in the …e direction.

HAD HEADACHE FOR TWO YEARS

A Barrie Man Tells of Persistent Headaches and Indigestion—Finally Found His Way to Good Health.

Barrie, Ont., April 17.—For two long years the writer of this letter was subject to severe headaches. The nervous system got run down, digestion failed and there was continued loss of weight.

The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food changed all this, and now with scores of other Barrie people, Mr. Nader is recommending the use of this food cure as the best means of building up the exhausted nervous system and curing headaches, indigestion and all the annoying symptoms of a rundown condition.

Mr. John Nader, 38 Penetang street, Barrie, Ont., writes:

"During the last two years I had an attack of indigestion, accompanied by severe headaches. I suffered from loss of appetite, and my system became rundown. I also lost considerably in weight. I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and as they helped me I continued this treatment for some time. My condition is now greatly improved, my headaches are gone and my health in general is much better. I can cheerfully recommend the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to those suffering from nervousness of any kind."

As a spring tonic and restorative to overcome tired, languid feelings and build up vitality at this time of year, there is nothing to be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

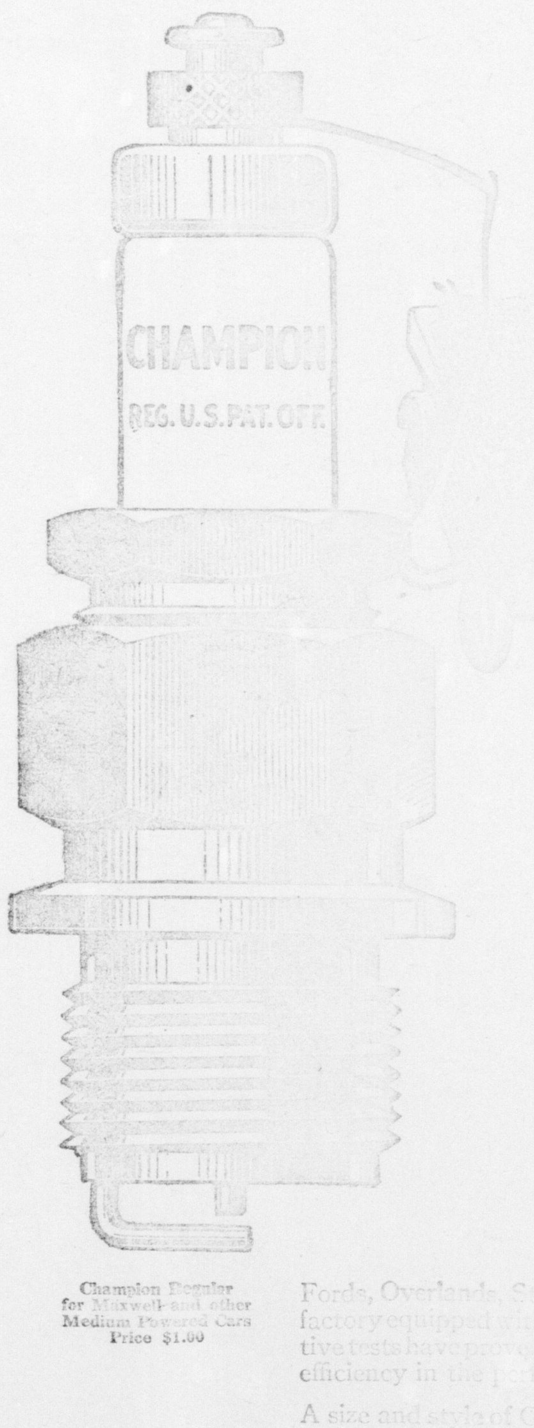

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations only disappoint.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callous from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

TROUBLE AT BORDER COMES TO HEAD IN CHARGES BY MAYOR

Immigration Officer Is Being Brought Up in Court for Language.

ANOTHER PROTEST WIRED

Actions of "Imported" Inspectors in Enforcing Law Called Scandalous.

WINDSOR, June 15.—Charged with using abusive language to Mayor Charles R. Tuson and threatening to eject him from head office of the Canadian immigration department here, Immigration Inspector J. G. Gardner of Ottawa will appear in police court tomorrow morning.

The mayor made complaint against Gardner today, following a visit to immigration office with Superintendent Varley of the Canadian Siroco Company on business.

When Mayor Tuson tried to explain the object of his call Gardner, it is alleged, shouted: "I don't care who the H—— you are. If you don't get out I'll throw you out."

Backing up resolutions passed by the border chamber of commerce yesterday, which protested against "foreign officers" being sent here from Ottawa to oversee observance of the regulations barring men of military age from leaving Canada, Mayor Tuson sent the following telegram today to Sir Robert Borden, premier:

Actions Called Scandalous.

"The council of the city of Windsor indorses resolution forwarded you yesterday by chamber of commerce regarding manner in which outside immigration officials are enforcing regulations at this port. Their actions are scandalous and uncalled for. Immediate remedy is urged."

Mayor Tuson alleges that several Windsor citizens have had their passports torn up in their faces by the men from Ottawa, who have ruled that passports cannot be held by "pleasure seekers." One of the Ottawa inspectors who has been telling commuteers that the order-in-council, if properly enforced, will keep much money from going to Detroit, is showing his consistency in this respect by staying at a Detroit hotel, it is said, although his work is on this side of the river.

Row, Inspector's Debut.

Another Ottawa officer arrived today, his first official act being to figure as one of the principals in a row in the immigration office at the ferry dock.

FORCE DELINQUENTS TO PAY OBLIGATION TO PATRIOTIC FUND

Stratford Committee Taking Drastic Measure on Ames' Advice.

STRATFORD, June 15. — Acting on advice from headquarters of the Canadian patriotic fund, action will be taken against persons who have failed to meet payments subscribed at the last campaign. The first of these were placed in the hands of the solicitor today and others will follow.

Upwards of 20 per cent of the amount subscribed at the last campaign remains uncollected, and the local committee has been making every effort to have the outstanding amounts cleaned up. Letters have been sent out on several occasions, and drafts were issued in some cases. These latter resulted in upwards of $900 being received, but there are quite a number who have made no effort to meet their obligation. Some, well able to pay, have not paid a dollar on the amount they agreed.

These facts were reported to headquarters, and Sir Herbert Ames, honorary secretary, had no hesitancy in instructing the local committee to take action against these in the name of the Canadian Patriotic Association.

It is not the desire of the committee to prosecute anyone whose altered circumstances makes payment impossible. Every facility for payment will be given, if the cases are brought to the attention of the officers, who will in turn forward them to the head office with a recommendation for consideration. Many of the delinquents, businessmen, when pressed for payment, put forth the claim that dependents of the patriotic fund owed them money, which they could not collect, and therefore refused to pay. The committee takes the position that this is a matter entirely between the individuals, and does not in any way lessen the obligations for payment of the sum promised.

Correspondence with other local branches show that as much as 96 per cent of the contributions have been collected in some places.

SMALLPOX OUTBREAK IN DOVER TOWNSHIP; BREAK QUARANTINE

Those Afflicted With Disease Said To Be Going to Chatham.

CHATHAM, June 15.—A serious outbreak of smallpox in Dover Township is reported, the contagious disease being said to be most prevalent in the vicinity of Big Point and Mitchell's Bay.

Reports which have reached Dr. T. L. McRitchie, the local medical officer of health, are to the effect that several persons who are afflicted with the contagion have been breaking quarantine and have come to the city. Dr. McRitchie is co-operating with Dr. Hall, medical health officer of Dover Township in an endeavor to stop this reported evasion of the quarantine law.

KENT [illegible] 4 1-19 MILLS.

CHATHAM, June 15.—The Kent County Council, at this afternoon's session, struck the county's tax rate at 4 1-19 mills on the dollar. This is a decided increase on last year's rate of 2 6-10 mills. This year's tax rate is divided as follows: General purposes, 1 82-100 mills; war tax, 1 mill; patriotic purposes, 2 47-100 mills. A grant of $72,000 to the patriotic fund at the January session is responsible for the increase in the tax rate.

Usual grants were made by the county council today, which include $500 to the Collegiate Institute at Ridgetown, continuation schools $100, and $50 to agricultural organizations of the county.

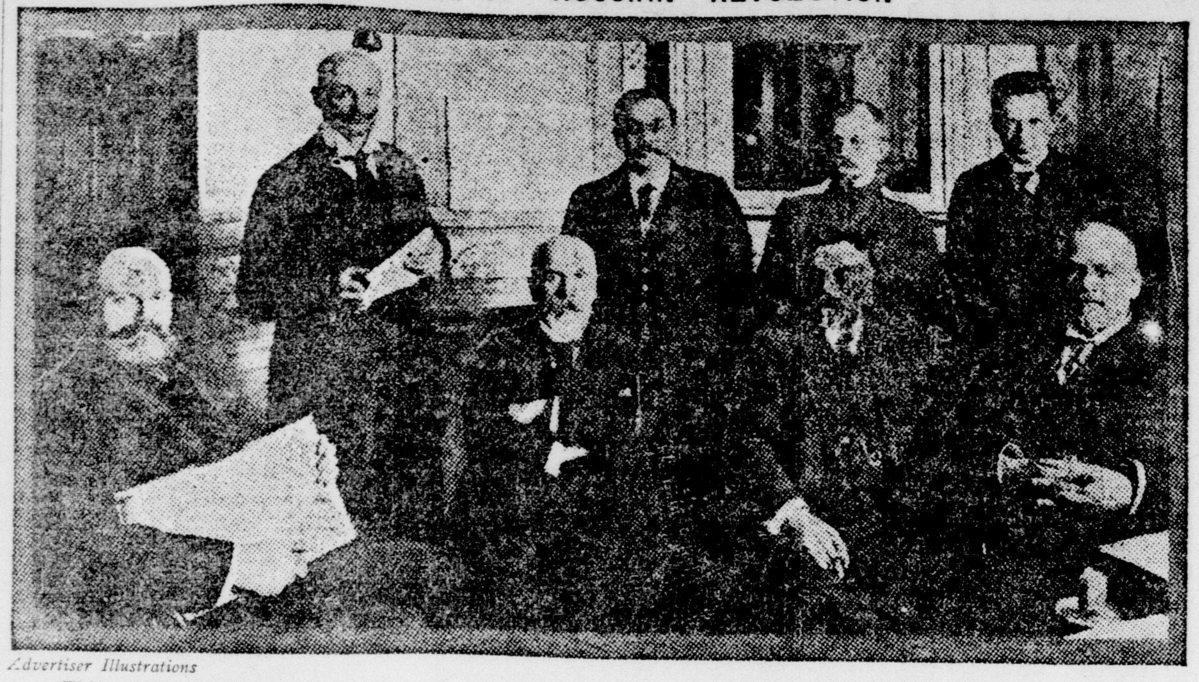

MRS. PRINGLE'S SUDDEN DEATH.

CHATHAM, June 15.—The death occurred suddenly this morning of Mrs. William Pringle, wife of William Pringle, manager of the local branch of the Merchants Bank. She was prominent in social circles and was an enthusiastic worker for the Red Cross Society, the Daughters of the Empire, the King's Daughters. She was a member of Christ Church (Anglican) and was president of the Ladies' Senior Guild. Besides the husband, the surviving relatives are three daughters, Mrs. Bevan, of Toronto; Mrs. Hamilton, of Detroit, and Miss Madeline, at home. Mrs. Pratt and Miss White, of Montreal, are sisters.

FLYING CORPS RECRUIT.

STRATFORD, June 15.—Among the latest recruits for the Royal Flying Corps is W. E. Ocock of Stratford.

MAKERS OF RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

Advertiser Illustrations

This group includes most of the most active leaders during and since the great days in Petrograd. The burly figure at the extreme right in the front row is M. Rodzianko, who has declined ministerial office, and as President dominates the Duma. Behind him is the new minister of war, the Republican Kerensky, who has leaped into prominence with his fervent eloquence, and has acted as wielder of the forces of the Duma and workmen's council. Beside him is Colonel Englehart, who organized and made possible the victory of the revolutionary military forces. Prince Lvoff, brother of the premier, is at the extreme left.

Financial, Market and Commercial Section

THE LOCAL MARKET

Butter and egg prices were slightly easier on the local market today. The attendance was fairly good, and there was a large amount of produce offered.

Pound rolls of dairy butter sold for 37c to 38c, retail, and for 35c to 36c, wholesale. Crock butter brought 36c a pound, retail, and 40c, wholesale. Store lots were sold for 33c and 34c a pound. Single dozens of eggs sold for 35c and 36c. There was a wide range of quotations on crate and basket lots. Buyers on the market offered from 32c to 34c a dozen for crate lots and 32c to 35c for basket lots. For large quantities some of the buyers paid only 30c a dozen.

There was no change in potatoes, although indications point to a slightly firmer price. Bags brought from $4 to $4.25. Seed potatoes brought from $3 to $4 a bag. The smaller vegetables were in demand. Radishes sold for 4c a bunch and green onions for 5c. Asparagus was firmer at 60c to 70c a dozen bunches. Spinach was unchanged at 25c a peck. New carrots were scarce and brought 10c a quart. Rhubarb had a good sale at 30c a dozen. Parsley brought 40c a dozen bunches. Seed plants were offered at 20c to 25c a box.

Oats were firmer at $2.20 to $2.25 a cwt., and 74c to 76c a bushel. Wheat was unchanged at $2.25 a bushel.

The poultry market was quiet, with chickens as the principal offering at $1.40 to $1.75 a pair.

Live hogs were unchanged at $14.50 a cwt., and fat sows brought only $12 a cwt. The lower prices which prevailed throughout the week for the larger animals made the market for small pigs slow. Prices remained unchanged at $12 to $15 a pair. Dressed hogs sold for $19 a cwt., and veal for $15 to $18. Beef sold for $14 to $18, and lamb for $20 to $22. Spring lambs brought from $10 to $12 each.

JULY OATS SOAR ON GREAT DEMAND

Increased Price Feature of Winnipeg Grain Market.

Winnipeg, June 15.—The market today was a quiet one. The only feature to the local market was the trade in July oats. Exporters wanted them, and prices went up to 70⅛c, and closed 69⅞c, or 1⅝c over yesterday's closing. October oats were 1c higher at the close. October wheat dropped 3c on a very dull market.

Weakness was on improved crop conditions, and to some extent, a holding-off policy to see what will be done as to trading in futures. In Winnipeg there was a feeling of wait and see what will be done by the new board of grain supervisors at their meeting, which is to be held Wednesday.

The cash situation was unchanged from Thursday, with increasingly liberal offers of wheat. There was a further active trade in oats, with a complete change in offerings, which were very light. The buying for the last few days has apparently cleaned up the surplus offerings for the present.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.60; No. 2 northern, $2.58; No. 3 northern, $2.54; No. 4, $2.41½; No. 5, $2.17; No. 6, $1.88; feed, $1.38.

Oats—No. 2 C. W., 70⅛c; No. 3 C. W., 68⅞c; No. 1 feed, 66⅞c; extra No. 1 feed, 69⅜c; No. 2 feed, 64⅞c.

Barley—No. 3, $1.31; No. 4, $1.26; rejected, $1.09; feed, $1.09.

TORONTO.

Toronto, June 15.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.60 @2.65, outside, according to location.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 77c.

Corn—American, No. 3 yellow, $1.81, on track, Toronto.

Rye—No. 2, $2.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, June 15.—The trade in grain today was quieter, but the market for oats was stronger, and prices advanced 1½c to 2c per bushel, in sympathy with other markets. Manitoba feed wheat was firm at $1.48, and tough feed grades at $1.42 per bushel, ex-store.

Corn—American No. 2 yellow, $1.75 @1.80.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 80@81c; Canadian western, No. 3, 78½@79½c; extra No. 1 feed, 78½@79½c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1.20@1.22.

Turpentine Spirits—54s.

Rosin—American strained, 32s 3d; type G, 32s 9d.

GRAIN.

Chicago, July 16.—Down-turns in the value of wheat continued today. The chief new bearish development was an estimate that 60,000,000 bushels were available in the United States for export before July 1, and for carrying over into the new crop year.

Opening prices, which ranged from 1c to 2c lower, with July at $2 21 and September at $1 94@1 95, were followed by a recovery, but then a fresh set-back.

London, June 16.—Bar silver, 39 1-16d per ounce.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 16.—Dealings in stocks today were of a mixed and indefinite character, activity being most conspicuous in specialties and unimportant rails. Extreme gains of 1 to almost 8 points were made by Savage Arms, Industrial Alcohol, Wilson Company, Virginia Iron and Brunswick Company. These were balanced by 1 to 2-point recessions in steels, oils, motors and papers, some of which were later retrieved. Investment rails registered no material changes. News of the day was mainly helpful, including record prices for raw products and more optimistic trade advices. The closing was irregular. Sales were estimated at 300,000 shares. Bonds yielded slightly, but the liberty issue changed hands in various amounts from par to a slight premium.

New York, June 16—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—Nominal changes were recorded at the irregular opening of today's market. The only noteworthy movement was the 2-point advance in Marine preferred. Trading was light and narrow.

10:30 a.m.—An advance of 2 points in Marine preferred and a decline of slightly more than a point in United States Steel were the contrasting features of today's early operations. Elsewhere, except for a 3½-point rise in Savage Arms, changes were limited to fractions. Equipments and the general run of war issues were irregular with metals and specialties, but coal shares continued strong. Trading was of the usual week-end professional character. There were numerous transactions in liberty bonds at premiums of of $2.50 to $5.50.

HOLIDAY ON 'CHANGE.

London, June 16.—The London stock and Liverpool cotton exchanges and the Paris bourse are closed today.

LIBERTY LOAN BIG FEATURE OF WEEK WITH WALL STREET

New York, June 17.—Two factors stood out in the week's operations on the stock exchange to the exclusion of all other considerations. These were the liberty loan, which closed yesterday to the accompaniment of a very large over-subscription, and the unexpected rise in call loans to 6 per cent, the maximum quotation of the year.

The latter development was almost altogether the result of the former enormous amounts of money having been tied up to pay for subscriptions to the $2,000,000,000 undertaking. Financial institutions were heavy losers to the local federal reserve bank, but this situation is susceptible of automatic readjustment in the near future.

Stock Dealings Light.

Dealings in stocks, while fairly large, were not up to the heavy daily transactions of recent weeks. Trading differed also in that much of the activity centred about minor rails and obscure specialties.

The enlarged dealings in some of the reorganized railroad shares were believed to presage important changes of control, especially in some of the soft coal properties. Improvement in other parts of the list was caused by more technical reasons, the recovery in motor issues, for instance, causing considerable short covering.

Foremost industrials, like Uited States Steel and the Bethlehem Steels registered highest prices in their history, their gains being coincident with another advance in the price schedule of fabricated Zealand iron. Coppers were responsive to similar trade conditions, together with other metals, including silver.

Russian exchange continued to decline to the new minimum of 22¾, but failed to exert more than a sentimental influence on remittances to the countries of the other Allies. Gold exports to Japan continued in fairly heavy volume, the movement having its basis on credits favorable to that country.

JUNE SESSIONS OF LAMBTON COURT ARE BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Plaintiff-Landlord Is Awarded Judgment in Final Case.

LAKE BEACH IS POPULAR

Sarnia's Summer Resort Attracting Many, and Promoters Optimistic.

SARNIA, June 15.—The June session of the Lambton County court closed here today with the case of Conklin and Dickson, in which the former, who was the lessor of a house to the latter, claimed $200 damages and costs for alleged neglect in allowing the plumbing in the house to freeze and burst, causing considerable damage. Judgment was awarded to the plaintiff with costs. A. Weir appeared for the plaintiff and J. R. Logan for the defendant.

NEW FERRY READY.

SARNIA, June 15.—The ferry "Sarnia" (City of Cheboygan), is now practically ready for operation and moved from its berth north of the White Star dock, Port Huron, this afternoon to the wharf of the ferry company in Black River. It was saluted by the ferry Omar D. Conger, as it made the inaugural trip since it has been overhauled. The local board of trade has been invited to be the guests of the company on the new ferry's first regular trip.

SUMMER RESORT POPULAR.

SARNIA, June 15.—Lake Huron Park, Sarnia's favorite summer resort, is now fairly well tenanted with summer resorters, and with favorable weather the caterers and property owners at the resort predict a successful season. A large percentage of the summer cottages are now occupied, and several new private summer dwellings have been erected by local capital. The Grand View, or Wisbeach Hotel, as it is sometimes known, has been leased by the Young Women's Christian Association, as has been previously announced, and will be used as a summer camp.

The Lake Huron Hotel is already accommodating a number of visitors, and a larger guest list is expected for the months of July and August. A large number of campers have staked their tents for the season, and have taken up their summer quarters. Various amusement devices have been installed as added attractions for the present season, and this in addition to the splendid bathing facilities and the twice weekly dances should make this resort more popular than ever.

The restrictions on traveling will have a certain effect on the local resort, but local promoters hope to overcome this. The curtailment of all European pleasure trips has forced the vacationists to seek their desired pleasure in their own and adjoining countries, and for the past two years the beaches and pleasure resorts on this continent have reaped the benefit, but since the advent of the United States into the conflict and the new and rigid immigration regulations which have been enforced, it is expected that travel and vacations will be somewhat decreased, but the local promoters are optimistic, and with the facilities which are afforded for reaching the resort and its central location and respects and country, they figure on a successful summer, if the weather is at all favorable.

MINISTER EXPRESSES SYMPATHY.

SARNIA, June 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lumley, Exmouth street, city, have received a personal letter of sympathy from Hon. A. E. Kemp, minister of militia and defence, respecting the death of Pte. R. H. Lumley, who succumbed to wounds received at Vimy Ridge. Pte. Lumley was 23 years of age, and went overseas with the 70th Battalion. He was a former resident of Forest and prior to his enlistment was employed at the Cleveland-Sarnia saw mills.

BIGGER CROPS, THOUGH LATE.

SARNIA, June 15.—Optimism still features the crop reports from the surrounding district for the week-end, the farming community being almost unanimous in expressing the opinion that with one or two exceptions the crop will be above the average, although late.

Small fruits and vegetables are progressing rapidly, and large shipments of the latter product are being made from this port at every sailing of the Northern Navigation Company steamers.

Grain, wheat, oats, etc., have recorded growth, and the only product which causes slight pessimism is the corn crop, although in some localities it has improved within the last two weeks. The apple crop is another source of worry to fruit growers, and present indications point to a small yield and it is not expected that the annual show of apples and fruits which has been staged by the Lambton Fruit and Vegetable Association in the past, will be held during the present year.

Generally speaking, the crop reports show improvement, and optimism prevails in most quarters.

JOINT SCHOOL PICNIC.

KINTORE, June 15.—S. S. No. 6, and S. S. No. 2, East Nissouri, intend holding their annual picnic at the home of John Henderson, on the 8th line, on Friday, June 29. There will be a baseball match between Kintore and some neighboring team, which will begin at 1:30 p.m. sharp, after which the races will be held.

CASE OF SILVER FOR FRANK JEWELL

Frank G. Jewell, former city auditor, was last evening presented with a very handsome case of silver by the city hall staff in recognition of his many years' unselfish service for the city. The presentation was made by City Clerk Sam Baker, who read the address. He pointed out that in the resignation of Mr. Jewell, London had lost one of the best officials who had ever served the city, and one whose fame and reputation extended far beyond the limits of the city. He was always kind and courteous, an ideal official, and a good friend. City Treasurer James S. Bell and others added their tribute.

Mr. Jewell made a feeling reply. He had enjoyed the most pleasant relations with the officials, and he regretted leaving. Many sentimental associations clung to the place, as his father before him had occupied the position of city auditor for many years. He thanked them for their kind remembrance, and declared that he would always take a kindly interest in the city and in its officials.

Every department was represented at the presentation.

CONSCRIPT WEALTH, RESOURCES AND MAN AND WOMAN POWER

Win the War Committee Indorses Important Resolution.

MUST OFFSET QUEBEC

Speakers in Favor of Enrolling Services of Every Available Man.

With the proviso that the wealth, resources, man and woman power of the country should be organized and utilized to win the war, the conscription measure of 1917 was indorsed unanimously at a joint meeting of the citizens' recruiting league and the local "win the war" committee yesterday afternoon. It was apparently the general opinion of the meeting something more would be required to win the war than enrolling the available men, and that it would be unreasonable to mobilize the men who were fit for service and to leave the remaining citizens of Canada without any restraint, and under no control as far as the welfare of the country was concerned.

The Resolution.

The resolution, which was identical with that passed by the Ontario section of the "win the war" party in Toronto on Thursday, was as follows:

"Resolved, that this meeting (1) indorses the general principles of the military service bill of 1917; (2) considers that in addition a further act is necessary for organizing and utilizing the wealth, resources and man and woman power of the country to win the war."

Major Hume Cronyn, who moved the resolution, which was seconded by Rev. Mr. Waller, did not, however, include in his motion the third clause of the Toronto resolution, which urged "that a way be found to conduct the affairs of the country during the war through a non-party government without the distraction of an election." Copies of the resolution will be sent to Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Include Resources.

Every speaker was in favor of enrolling the available man power of the country. A copy of a resolution passed by the Hamilton Recruiting League, which approved of the action of Premier Borden in bringing in a conscription measure, and expressed the hope that it be put into effect at the earliest possible moment, was read, with a request that the London body pass a similar resolution, but the members of the local bodies were apparently not satisfied with such a statement, but wished to make it plain that the resources of the country must be included in the measure.

Rev. J. G. Stuart spoke strongly in favor of a resolution supporting conscription. "Canada has done nobly, and she must not fall down now," he declared, stating that selective conscription was better than by ballot, which might take men who could ill be spared.

Dr. Waller, in supporting the resolution, stated that "it was not fair to conscript part of the community, and to let the rest drift on to do as they please." The selective conscription would provide for the exemption of certain individuals, but would not provide any means to direct their energies where they might be needed most.

To Offset Quebec.

Rev. Mr. Stuart was of the opinion that the consensus of opinion of the people of Western Ontario was needed to back up conscription, while it was being discussed in the House of Commons. Public meetings indorsing conscription had been held in other large cities, and such meetings were required to offset anti-conscription meetings in Quebec.

After some discussion as to whether it was too late to arrange for such a meeting here, it was decided that the president and secretary should communicate with Premier Hearst and N. W. Rowell to ascertain if they would be able to address a pro-conscription meeting here. If these two gentlemen can be secured, another meeting will be called to arrange further details.

Final Session.

The meeting was the final one as far as the Recruiting League is concerned and all the business of the league was wound up. Accounts to the amount of $707.08 were passed, which was well within the limit of $1,000 set by the city council to the expenditure for which the city would be liable. About $200 was spent in making lists of the men eligible for military service, and about $440 in advertising.

DESERTERS MUST GO BEFORE A BOARD

Deserters who surrender themselves to the military authorities must in the future go before a medical board to have their physical condition determined before any disposition is made of their case, according to a provision in mobilization camp orders.

Previously men who have given themselves up to the authorities were allowed to go to whatever unit they preferred, but, because they were pronounced fit on joining the army, they were not in every case required to appear before a medical board. It has been the experience of officers in charge of such cases that in nearly every case the man who deserts is unfit for service, and that the men who are fit do not desert as a rule. The new regulation is to enable the authorities to find out whether a man is fit, and if not, to make the proper disposition of his case, so that men will not be permitted to join units in which they are unfit to serve. Men are still to be allowed to go to any unit in keeping with their medical classification.

The regulation as printed in camp orders is as follows:

"In case a deserter from any C.E.F. unit voluntarily gives himself up to the military police, or reports himself to an officer, the assistant provost marshal or his representative or the officer concerned, will make a note of the man's original regimental number, name in full, unit from which he deserted, and then will have him present himself before a mobilization centre medical board. If the returned deserter is found fit, he may go to the unit of his choice, according to his medical classification, but if found unfit, the proceedings of his medical board must be completed immediately. In any event, full particulars must in all cases be reported at once to district headquarters, pending final dispostion."

WILL MAKE TESTS OF PAVEMENTS THAT ARE NOW BEING LAID

Board of Control To Probe Beck Charges of "Shoddy."

The board of control, at a special session held yesterday afternoon, decided to get some information as to the quality of the foundation laid for the pavement on Richmond street, and will have tests made. These tests will show the pressure that the concrete will stand, and will demonstrate whether or not tests made by Sir Adam Beck's experts from laboratory analyses will prove that the pavement is shoddy and unstable.

Mayor Stevenson wanted the work stopped at once, but the board decided to go ahead with the work and correct a few abuses. For instance, there will be longer time spent in mixing the concrete. The board was of the opinion that it should require a minute. The most of the concrete mixed took 30 seconds or more, although Sir Adam Beck saw some put down in 15 seconds.

City Engineer Brazier stated that not a foundation laid for pavements in five years had failed to stand the test. Some severe trials had been made of it, and he was confident that this would bear up, in spite of all that had been said. He suggested that certain portions of it be cut out, and sent to the University of Toronto for pressure tests. This would show the quality of it.

"That is the only way to test it," said Mr. Brazier. "If it will stand the pressure, then it is good concrete, no matter what anybody says. I am confident that it will."

Mr. Brazier would not designate the concrete to be taken, but asked the board to pick it out. This will be done some time today.

The outcome will demonstrate whether or not London is getting the worst of it on pavement construction.

Experts in the city declare that it will stand up under any tests that can be given to it, no matter if it is technically faulty.

REGISTRATION CARDS FOR WOMEN ARE BEING SENT OUT

Following the example of the British Government the Ontario Government has issued a woman's registration card for farm and national service. Cards have been sent to the presidents of Women's Institutes, which will be distributed broadcast throughout the farming community. In this way it is expected that many women may be of great help to the country, and aid materially in the production of foodstuffs. Cards may also be obtained from the Government labor bureau here in charge of Miss Ethel MacRobert.

The signature of the president and secretary must accompany application for help.

The application forms for help ask whether the women are required for housekeeping, cooking, milking, care of poultry, calves, gardening and fruit picking or other outside work. What wages will be paid, whether the employee would be willing to employ a woman with one or more children, the age limit and the number of women required.

The women's registration card asks the applicant's age, weight, height and occupation, and whether she can milk, harness horses, hoe, when she can begin, wages wanted, will she work in a cannery, farmhouse or in the fields, length of time that will be spent on the farm or any other form of national service that she would undertake.

DORCHESTER

DORCHESTER, June 15.—On account of the shippers at Hyman Hall wishing the Red Cross supplies sent in earlier this month, Dorchester's donation only included two weeks' work. The articles sent were 43 pairs of socks, 7 pairs of pyjamas, 36 day shirts and a large bundle of old linen.

There will not be any school for three days next week, while the entrance examinations are in progress. The teachers, Miss Ruby Wilson and Miss Cecil Morrison, have both been re-engaged for next year at an advance in salary of $50 each.

Miss Ida Young has resigned her duties as teacher of the Pine Knot school.

INJURED BY RUNAWAY.

AILSA CRAIG, June 15.—Rev. J. Whalen was badly injured while returning from Bunsley. His horse ran away and he was thrown out, injuring his knee badly. At present he is laid up and will be for a few days. The horse was caught in town at Reeve Morgan's. The harness and buggy were both damaged.

Hector McNeil suffered a paralytic stroke last evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman McMillan, and is at present in a critical condition.

RED CROSS BALL GAMES.

AILSA CRAIG, June 15.—The Young Ladies' Club is arranging to hold baseball games once a week during the summer months in aid of Red Cross and have several offers of teams, including London, Strathroy, Greysteads, Poplar Hill, Centralia and Lucan, the citizens may look forward to some first-class games, and as they are for Red Cross they should be well attended.

BOARD ARRANGING FOR BETTER SCHOOL GROUND

Hensall Trustees Award Contract for Leveling and Grading.

HENSALL, June 15.—A meeting of the McGregor Circle was held in Carmel Church on Thursday evening. There was a large attendance and a good literary and musical program carried out. Mrs. Charles A. McDonell presided over the meeting, and the opening part of the program was followed by an interesting address given by Mrs. Eaken of Kippen, wife of Rev. Dr. Eaken of that village, her subject being "Palestine," where she had resided for some time. She gave an entertaining account of life in the Holy Land, and the manners and customs of the people. At the close of the meeting she exhibited many articles of interest from Palestine, in the way of needlework and articles of dress. A hearty vote of thanks was moved by G. J. Sutherland, postmaster, and seconded by William Craig, to which Mrs. Eaken made a short reply.

The school board of the village has awarded the contract for levelling and grading the school grounds in an up-to-date manner. It will make it much more pleasant and safe for the children to play on.

Rev. Mr. Knight has returned from attending conference, and will occupy his pulpit on Sunday, the 17th.

The planing mills, which were closed down for a time on account of breakage in machinery, are now running again, pressed with orders and work.

Quite a number from Hensall and vicinity attended the box social at Hurondale school, the proceeds being in aid of the patriotic funds.

The Citizens' brass band is being reorganized on account of so many of the young men and players in it having gone overseas. Once more it will have creditable organization.

Alva Ingram has been transferred to the Molsons Bank at Exeter, and will shortly engage in his duties there.

MEETING ON MONDAY

Plympton Sunday School Convention Will Be Held at Camlachie.

CAMLACHIE, June 15.—About thirty neighbors met at the home of Sidney Wilkie, Lake Shore road, to present him with a club bag and gold cuff links, prior to his departure for the west.

Sam Bayley read the address, and Ollie Gillie made the presentation. Lunch was served, and a very pleasant evening was passed.

Mr. Wilkie has sold his farm to John Thomas of Sarnia, who moves at once.

A severe wind and electrical storm, accompanied by a downpour of rain, swept over these parts yesterday, doing but little damage.

Plympton Sunday School Association will meet at Camlachie on Monday next, in the afternoon, in the Methodist Church, and in the evening in the Presbyterian Church.

MARLATT—STONEMAN.

INGERSOLL, June 15.—The home of Mrs. Stoneman, corner of Duke and Charles streets, was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon, when her eldest daughter, Luella Belle, was united in marriage to Lorne Manson Marlatt of London. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. W. Hill in the presence of a number of guests, the near relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride, who wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley and was gowned in grey silk crepe, with touches of coral, was given away by her brother, H. P. Stoneman.

After the signing of the register a dainty buffet luncheon was served. The esteem in which the happy couple are held was indicated by the many gifts which they received. On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Marlatt will take up their residence on Duke street.

O-U Mechanical Starter For Ford Cars

Do not compare the O-U Starter to some other mechanical starter you may have seen, as, like other inventions, none are perfected at once. The inventor of the O-U Starter, "Mr. N. D. Munn," is a practical mechanic, and has had large experience in the automobile business, and has now devised in the O-U Starter a strictly safe and positive starter, which can be operated from the seat with ease by any lady or gentleman of normal strength. A positive Primer is a part of the O-U Starter, making a combination which eliminates any trouble of getting out of your car when starting it. There is nothing to disfigure the car, it being out of sight beneath the hood.

No danger of being hurt by back-fire, as the O-U Starter is so arranged that in case of back-fire the clutch is automatically released. While we do not claim the O-U Starter superior to the high-priced Electric Starters, it does the same work at a much less cost, and is especially suited for Ford Cars.

We have arranged to turn out one thousand Starters per week, all of which will be manufactured right here in London at the F. C. Westman Machine Shop, and all Starters sold in the City of London will be installed free at this plant. Call or send for our representative, who will be glad to give you a demonstration and explain to you the working of the O-U Starter.

PRICE, COMPLETE, WITH PRIMER INSTALLED ON CAR, IS $15.00.
