Later in the day it developed that the king had decided on a declaration of war against Bulgaria. The decision has not yet been announced publicly, as numerous details remain to be worked out. The king this morning discussed the mobilization problem minutely with Gen. Moschopoulos, chief of staff, and Gen. Yanakitas, former minister of war. BLOOD-AND-IRON HUNS. NOW WHINING, WILL BE FOUGHT TO A KNOCKOUT. SAYS MR. LLOYD GEORGE

The War Creed of David Lloyd George

No, there are, and will be, no quitters among the Allies!

This ghastliness must never be re-enacted on this earth, and one method at least of answering that end is the infliction of such punishment upon the perpetrators of this outrage against humanity that the temptation to emulate their exploits will be eliminated from the hearts of the evilminded amongst the rulers of men.

The fight must be to the finish—to a knockout.

The British are not disposed to stop because of the squealing done by the Germans.

for the infantry on the Somme front are reported by Paris today, the violent struggle is being kept up without cessation by the artillery. The Erench have been thrusting out forcefully east from Rancourt into the St. Pierrcevaast Wood, at which point, and at Bouchavesnes, to the south, they are almost in a direct line north of Peronne, against which the speedy development of their enveloping movement is now to be expected.

MEANWHILE ACTIVITY has been resumed at Verdun, the Germans again attacking east of the Meuse, between Thiaumont and Fleury. The assaults were repulsed by the French with heavy losses to the crown prince's troops, Paris declares. THE RUSSIANS HAVE resumed their violent attacks in Southern Volhynia and Galicia, but report a stubborn defence by the Austro-German armies, which are declared to be delaying the Russian advance by repeatedly counter-attacking. FROM MACEDONIA COME additional reports of a determined Bulgarian resistance to the Entente offensive in the region west of the Vardar. The repulse of Bulgarian attacks upon the French and Russians near Florina is reported by the French war office. The Bulgar ians have not resumed their attack on the Serbians at Kaimakcalan, in which they are reported to have met with extremely heavy losses without success in their attempts to dislodge the Serbian defenders. The British are increasing their artillery activ ity on the Struma front, near Jan-

THE GERMAN REICHSTAG meets today in Berlin for what promises to be possibly a short session, but nevertheless a stirring and important one. Germany Elected for Finish Fight, and Now British Are More Than Ever Determined to Give It to Him-The British Soldier a Game Good Soldier.

The following interview with David Lloyd George, the directing force behind Britain's armies, asserting that the war must go on to the finish"-"to a knockout"-is the first statement given by him to newspapers since he succeeded Lord Kitchener as secretary of state for war.

London, Eng., Sept. 28.—There is no end of the war in sight. Any step at this time by the United States, the Vatican or any other neutral in the direction of peace would be construed by Britain as an unneutral pro-German move, The United Press is able to make these statements on no less authority than that of the British Man of the Hour, Right Hon. David Lloyd George, secretary

FIGHT HAS ONLY BEGUN

"Britain has only begun to fight; the British Empire has invested thousnds of its best lives to purchase future immunity for civilization, and this inestment is too great to be thrown away," was the Welsh stateman's size-up of Lloyd George was asked to give the United Press, in the simplest possible nguage, the British attitude toward the recent peace talk.

"Simple language?" he said, with a half smile. Then he thought a moment. "Sporting terms are pretty well understood wherever English is spoken," he replied. "I am quite sure they will be understood in America

THE TRUE SPORTING SPIRIT.

"Weil, then, the British soldier is a good sportsman. He enlisted in this war in the sporting spirit-the best sense of that term. He went in to see fair play to a small nation trampled on by a bully. He is fighting for fair play in international dealings. "He has fought as a good sportsman, by the thousands. He has died chance, and hasn't always had that. When he couldn't get it he didn't quit. He played the game. He didn't squeal, and certainly he never asked anyone to squeal for him,

GERMANS ARE SQUEALING.

"Under the circumstances the British, now that the fortunes of the game have turned a bit, are not disposed to stop because of the squealing done by the Germans, or for the Germans, by probably well meaning but misguided sympathizers and humanitarians. For two years the British soldier had a bad time-no one knows as well as he what a bad time it was. He was sadly inferior in equipment and in training. He saw the Allied cause beaten all about the ring, but he didn't appeal to either the spectators or a referee to stop the fight on the ground that it was brutal, nor did he ask to have the rules changed. He took his punishment. Even when beaten like a dog he was a

THE BRITISH NEVER WINCED.

"When forced to take refuge in a trench, when too badly used up to carry he fight to the enemy, he hung on without whining, fought off every attack, bided his time, endured without winching, worked without flagging."

"And at this time under the conditions, what was the winning German do ng?" he asked. "Was he worrying over the terrible slaughter? No. He was talking of annexing Belgium and Poland as a result of his victory, and while he was remaking the map of Europe without the slightest regard for the wishes of its people, the British people were preparing to pay the price we knew must be paid for the time to get the army ready. A FIGHT TO A KNOCKOUT!

"Germany elected to make it a finish fight with England. The British soldier was ridiculed, held in contempt. Now we intended to see that Germany has her way. THE FIGHT MUST BE TO THE FINISH-TO Dropping his collquialisms, the half smile fading from his face, Lloyd George

"The whole world, including neutrals of the highest purposes, and humanitarians with the best motives, must know that there can be no outside interference at this stage. Britain asked no intervention when she was not prepared to fight.

MOST CRUEL THING WOULD BE TO STOP "But in the British determination to carry the fight to a decisive finish, ontinued in more serious vein.

there is something more than the natural demand for vengeance. THE IN HUMANITY. THE PITILESSNESS OF THE FIGHTING THAT MUST COME BEFORE A LASTING PEACE IS POSSIBLE, IS NOT COMPARABLE WITH THE CRUELTY THAT WOULD BE INVOLVED IN STOPPING THE WAR WHILE THERE REMAINS A POSSIBILITY OF CIVILIZATION AGAIN BE-ING MENACED FROM THE SAME QUARTER. Peace now or at any time before the final and complete elimination of this merace, is unthinkable. No man and no nation with the slightest understanding of the temper of this citizen army of Britons, which took its terrible hammering without a whine or grumble will attempt to call a halt now." "But how long do you figure this can and must go on?" Lloyd George was

NEITHER CLOCKS NOR CALENDARS FOR BRITAIN.

"There's neither clocks nor calendars in the British army today," was his quick reply. "Time is the least vital factor. Only the result counts-not the time consumed in achieving it.

"It took England twenty years to defeat Napoleon, aand the first fifteen of those years were black with British defeat. It will not take twenty years to win this war, but whatever time is required it will be done."

"But what of France, is there the same determination there to stick to the end, the same idea of fighting until peace terms can be dictated by Germany's enemies?" Lloyd George was asked.

WHAT A HEROIC FRENCH MOTHER SAID.

"The world at large has not yet begun to appreciate magnificence, the nobility, the wonder of France," he said. "I had the answer to your inquiry given me a few days ago by a noble French woman. She had given four sonsshe had one left to be given to France. In the course of my talk with her I asked if she didn't think the struggle had gone far enough. Her reply, without a moment's hesitation was 'the fight will never have gone far enough until we have made a repetition of this horror impossible.' That mother was voicing the (Continued on Page 4, Column 4.)

Observe the Style Difference in Our New Coats and Skirts

A Smart Group of New Arrivals

New coat models-many shown this week for the first time-exquisite models, with long, graceful, sweeping lines from the shoulder; collars that are ample and give protection as well as decoration; and most of them have cuffs that are almost a substitute for muffs. The materials are warm without being depressingly heavy, and are mostly quite new. One will surely welcome the season that brings the possibility of wearing such delightfully pretty coats as are shown in this store. Though we mention only a few, there are a host of others quite as attractive. Tweeds. Whitneys, etc., showing novelty checks, diagonals and serges, in raglan and kimono sleeve styles, smart collars form the trimming of many in wide cape and sailor styles, which close snugly when fastened; three-quarter and seven-eighth lengths, belted and full ripple Ladies' Coat in novelty tweed, grey and green broken plaid, belted style, velvet collar, seven-

A Most Attractive

Scarecrow

Once a farmer, harassed by the lack of success of his homemade scarecrows, decided to have a real one made by a figuremaker. It was a work of art, almost human enough to speak. Erected in the middle of the corn field, the birds eyed it with suspicion. But not for long, and then held a convention to discuss who and what their new friend might be. And when they found it without life every bird helped itself to the corn. There are corn fields, and other well-filled fields, so to speak, this time of year, and this store is a field filled with things for dress and the home—and not a scarecrow of a wrong price or a discourteous attendant to frighten anyone away.

The new separate skirts are marvelously attractive this season, in both silk and worsted fabrics the newest models are shown, and the sport influence is still evidenced in the smart checks, novelty stripes and black and white shepherd checks.

Roofing protects homes and other buildings from storms; successfully resists the attacks of rain, hail, sleet and snow: is unaffected by the sharp assaults of frost, and the withering fire of mid-summer sun. It even withstands the ravages of time. for CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it will out-last the period of guarantee. The long life of CERTAIN-TEED is due to the fact that it does not dry out, as ordinary roofing does. This is because it is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a blend of soft asphalts—the formula of the General's Board of Expert Chemists. This soft saturation is then covered with a coating of a harder blend of asphalts, which prevents the drvingout process, and keeps CERTAIN-TEED impervious to the elements for years after the harder, drier kinds of roofing have dried out and gone. CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

Tasks for Little Ones.

Miss Grey,-Some very good soldier friend's wife. And only too would I be her friend to help er, but I am now a long way from her. ut she thought she must obey her nother and as you will remember she was not of the marriageable age. She is to be pitied, don't you think? Here is a little help for "Country Twig." Take an old pair of overalls and rip them. Take paper and pin so it will not slip, then run it under the eedle of the sewing machine and it will make a good pattern.

If I may just say a little to "Duckie's Sister," about her lonesome boy. If there are nice children around so that she could have them come over and play with him, it would help him not o be so lonesome. Or get him a nice suppy or kitten; it will work wonders. A puppy is better than a kitten as it is not so easily offended and not so apt to bite or scratch as a cat. A real young pup is easier taught not to be cross with children and it will be a faithful friend. Don't be afraid to let him dirty his clothes by playing in dirt, for that is what boys like. Give him any corner to play in, and let him have any old thing to play with, so long as it does not harm him. He will be a boy only once, you know.

I have a little boy and he is as happy as can be, and that is exactly what I let him do. I show him how to play by himself. If you have any little job that he can do, such as picking up chips for mother, etc., let him do it. It is good for him and also teaches two years yet, but he just loves to do and such harmless jobs. Best wishes o all, A POOR MAN'S WIFE.

ALLIES ARE IRRESISTIBLE.

A dispatch from Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in Northern France, says: "The recent fighting illustrates how completely our army now has the upper hand. We are advancing with the deliberate calculation which is only possible to the side of irresistible strength. The German army in the west is now fighting a slow rear-guard action.

'The enemy gunfire also has been considerably less in volume than we had reason to anticipate from past experiences. I hear that a patrol, even the word cavalry is mentioned, has been forward into positions where down to a very few days ago no horseman could possibly have ventured.' something had gone wrong with her, and the report of her arrival has been greeted by the newspapers as paving the way for the establishment of a regular submarine service between Germany and the United States, and as answering the alleged taunt of Germany's enemies when the submarine Deutschland returned home from her voyage overseas, "you can't do it again."
