CONSTANTINOPLE IS OCCUPIED BY THE ALLIED TROOPS

JUDGE FINDS THAT MAJORITY OF CHARGES AGAINST HAMILTON ASYLUM OFFICIALS UNFOUNDED

Recommendation Is Made As a Result of Investigation That Returned Soldiers Suffering From Nervous Diseases Should Not Be Sent To a Hospital For Insane If There Is Any Chance of Their Recovery.

Toronto, March 8.—All inmates, claiming with any show of reason, to be sane, should receive the right of examination by an expert.

Returned soldiers suffering from nervous disturbances should not be sent to an asylum while there is a chance of their recovering.

Male patients should not be required to dry themselves, after bathing, on sheets which have been slept on.

Non-criminal patients should be separated from the criminal ones.

In a report submitted to Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary, Judge Colin G. Snider of Wentworth County makes the above recommendations as the result of his investigation of conditions at the Ontario Hospital—formerly known as the Insane Asylum—at Hamilton.

Judge Snider, while finding that in isolated cases patients in the hospital were treated with violence by the attendants, states that such occurrences were far from frequent, and that, on the whole, discipline among the attendants was satisfactory. Complaints against the food served are dismissed as groundless, as are also the majority of a number of individual charges of violence which were investigated.

With his report, Judge Snider sends to the provincial secretary a list of recommendations made by the G. W. V. A. in connection with the administration of the hospital.

Management Is Good.

"No charge or complaint," says Judge Snider, "was made against the superintendent, the assistant superintendent or any of the physicians of the hospital. Your commissioner is satisfied that the administration and management of this hospital is good and worthy of the confidence of those who may have relatives there.

"No charge of misconduct other than violence toward patients, was made against any person engaged in any capacity in connection with the hospital. There were many charges alleging violent treatment of patients by certain named attendants and nurses. Your commissioner is quite satisfied that such acts of violence toward patients have not been at all of frequent occurrence. There undoubtedly have been some occurrences of violence, and it could not reasonably be expected that among 50 to 60 attendants selected from the usual run of young men who seek such employment, there would not be here and there one who would, in temper, strike a patient who attacked him violently.

"No serious injury was caused a patient in any case, and the discipline of the employees on the whole appears satisfactory. Several attendants who were taken on during the war were dismissed for drinking or for rough treatment of patients."

Food Is First-Class.

The food supplied in the institution, according to Judge Snider, was good, and the attendants eat the same food

CANADA ENTITLED TO LEAGUE VOTE, STATES NOTED U. S. LECTURER

Henry F. Munro in Address at Columbia University, Upholds Dominion's Stand.

GIVES GOOD REASONS

United States Has Greater Control Over Cuba Than Britain Has Here.

New York, March 8.—Henry F. Munro, lecturer on international law at Columbia University, came out in support of Canada's stand in regard to the league of nations in an address on "The United States and the Peace Treaty," delivered at the University on Saturday night.

After emphasizing the practical independence of the several parts of the British Empire as a compelling cause for their separate representation, Mr. Munro said:

"It does not follow that the British dominions will always vote with Great Britain, nor does it follow that Britain will always support her dominions. A striking instance of this was the decision in the Alaska boundary dispute in 1903, when Lord Alverstone, chief justice of England, voted with the American arbitrators as against the two Canadians.

"If we trace the rise and development of the so-called American protectorates in the Caribbean region, we find that the United States is possessed of much more authority in Cuba, Haiti, San Domingo, Panama and Nicaragua than is Great Britain over any of her dominions, and in international conferences of any kind would be likely to have much more influence over their votes than would Great Britain over those of the British dominions."

The two: "What we say is, if he doesn't love it, why does he stick to it like that?"

LEAVE RUSSIA TO FIGHT OUT HER OWN SALVATION

Victoria, B. C., March 8.—(By Canadian Press)—"Leave them alone and let them fight out their own salvation. This is the only solution of the Russian problem. The placing of a British force of 100,000 men in Russia would achieve absolutely nothing."

This is the opinion of Major-General Thord-Gray, of the late Russian army and formerly a distinguished officer in the British Expeditionary Forces, who arrived in Victoria Saturday morning on the Japanese liner, Suwamaru, on his way to New York and London. The general has reached this conclusion after his thrilling experiences in Central Russia and Siberia, where he led part of the Kolchak forces against the Bolsheviki in an effort to free the country. Two attempts to assassiate him were made.

TURKISH CAPITAL IS OCCUPIED BY ALLIED FORCES

Constantinople Is Headquarters of General D'Esperey.

ARMISTICE PROVISIONS

Are Being Carried Out by the Regiments of Allied Troops.

Paris, March 8.—Constantinople is actually occupied by Allied troops under provisions of the armistice, it is pointed out by the Petit Parisien this morning, which says that that city is the headquarters of Gen. Franchet d'Esperey, and there are in the city one division and one brigade of French troops, or about 15,000 or 16,000 men.

In addition there are in Constantinople one regiment of Italians and a battalion of British troops, and there are other British forces in the region of the Straits. A British division is spread over Anatolia between Scutari and Brusa, while the French have a division in Western Thrace, the newspaper says.

TURKS DECLARE THAT MASSACRE REPORTS MUCH EXAGGERATED

Constantinople, March 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Since the Marash massacre became publicly known there have been daily rumors of a movement against the Armenians elsewhere, to the great alarm of the Armenian population. The Turkish foreign office has issued a communication saying:

"Lately rumors have been printed in the Armenian journals concerning new Armenian massacres in Anatolia. It is officially declared that, excepting for clashes and brawls in the region of Marash between the Turks and Armenians, which were caused by acts of violence and massacre against Mussulmans, no movement has been made against the Armenians in any part of Anatolia.

"These reports have been spread for the purpose of prejudicing European public opinion and the peace conference against Turkey at a time when its destiny is being discussed."

NOTED AMERICANS WOULD PUT TURKS OUT OF CAPITAL

London, March 8.—Commenting upon unconfirmed reports that British troops and seamen have actually occupied Constantinople, the London Times says this morning:

"Cardinal Gibbons, James W. Gerard, former American ambassador at Berlin, and other notable Americans, demand that the Turk be expelled from Constantinople, and that Armenia, from Ararat to the sea, be given the fullest autonomy. This manifestation of the best American opinion will be exceedingly welcome to the Allies, but we do not observe that it contains any proposal for American assistance in carrying out the policy which is approved. Allied peoples will not hear of schemes which involve the sacrifice of more money and blood, except for objects which constrain them in conscience and honor to attain. They will not fight for concessions to communities or tribes, and international concession hunters are now very active in plans for carving up Asiatic Turkey according to their own desires."

PRESBYTERIANS NEAR OBJECTIVE.

Toronto, March 8.—The new objective of $5,000,000 set up by the Presbyterian forward movement is in a fair way of being reached. Up to noon today reports received at headquarters showed that $4,520,000 has already been subscribed, with a number of scattered congregations to make returns. These are chiefly in the western provinces.

WESTERN ONTARIO TOWN PLANNERS IN SESSION HERE

Delegates from Western Ontario cities and towns where town planning is being contemplated or carried out met at the city hall here today at 2 o'clock to consider the establishment of a housing association for the district.

Mayor E. S. Little welcomed the visitors, and an address of welcome was also made by E. R. Dennis, chairman of the local commission. Following this a round-table conference was held on the general question of housing.

Later today a draft constitution will be drawn up and if it is deemed expedient an association will be formed. It is felt that much more can be done by concerted action that by each town as a unit. The expediency of continuing house building programs in view of the rising prices will be discussed as well as the possibility of petitioning the government to continue the work on a wide scale. It has been intimated that the provincial government will not advance any further money for building purposes. The municipalities which have already adopted plans may urge modification of this decision, particularly as the new department is just getting in working order.

The visitors will be entertained at a luncheon tonight. Following this addresses will be given by representatives of the firm of Lucas, Eagen & Knowles of Sarnia, on house construction in Walkerville. This will be illustrated by lantern slides. Moving pictures may also be shown. Another round-table conference will be held at 8 p.m., at which an address will be given by J. A. Ellis.

JAMES C. ANDREWES CANADIAN EXPRESS AGENT FOR LONDON

Succeeds Late James Overend in Important Office.

POPULAR APPOINTMENT

Has Been President of Local Express Union for Past Four Years.

James C. Andrewes of this city has been appointed city agent of the Canadian Express Company, to succeed James Overend, who held the position for many years previous to his death last month. This announcement was made by the company this morning following a conference between Mr. Andrewes and the officials of the company in Toronto yesterday.

The new agent has been employed in the capacity of cashier in the company's office on Richmond street for the past ten years. For a few years previous to taking the position of cashier Mr. Andrewes was employed in other positions with the company, and he has the distinctinon of working his way from the bottom to the top through sheer ability.

Being but 35 years of age he will be one of the youngest agents in the employ of the company. While employed as cashier he made many friends for the company, as well as personal ones, by the obliging and efficient service which he at all times gave. Mr. Andrewes is held in high esteem by his fellow-employees, who all feel elated at his appointment. He has held the position of president of the union of expressmen since its formation in this city a few years ago, and aided in bringing about many improvements in the working conditions here.

The city of London is the busiest field of operation of this company in western, if not the whole of Ontario, being a great distributing as well as shipping and transfer point. The many branch lines of the G. T. R. as well as the Erie lines that run through the city, greatly increases the responsibility of the agent's position. Besides acting as agent for the Canadian Express he will act in the same capacity for the American Express Company, which works in conjunction with the Canadian Express locally.

Clifford Blackall, another employee of the same office, was promoted to the position of Canadian Express agent at Chatham two weeks ago.

REDS REPULSED IN NEW ATTACK AGAINST POLES

Russian Soviet Forces Launch Drive On Two Fronts.

WARNING RECEIVED

Bolsheviki Declared They Intended To Open an Offensive.

London, March 8.—Russian Soviet forces have launched attacks against the Poles and the Finns, on the western and northern fronts, according to advices received here. In both instances, it is said, they have been repulsed, and the Finns are reported to have launched a counter-attack which has pierced the Red lines.

Polish units holding the line running through the Pripet Marshes, south to Bonorusk, are said to have been under attack at two points, the Soviet armies advancing on the north and south sides of the marshes. Heavy Red detachments were recently reported to have assembled at Gomel, just east of the Pripet country, and it is presumed these have been hurled westward against the Polish line. In this connection, it is recalled the Poles last week rejected overtures for an armistice, pending peace negotiations, hoping the Bolsheviki would strengthen their lines, while they are protected by the provisions of the truce.

PUPILS' RECITAL.—A marked improvement was shown in the weekly pupils' recital held at the London Conservatory of Music last Saturday. The pupils who took part were: Margaret Rose, Willie Shearme, Margaret Milligan, Kenneth Milligan, Lorne Bottrill, Ruth Barbour, Eunice Thouless, Marian Sharpe, Agnes Harrison, Edythe Essex, Mildred Essex, Hazel Aikens, Helen Clarke, Margaret Cook, Barbara Daly, and Annie Wilmer. The teachers represented were: Miss Dorothy Munroe, Miss Florence Dewey, Chas. Percy, Miss Cleta Ford and Thomas Martin.

"Y" CLASSES FOR THE W. O. TOWNS

Armories To Be Used Wherever Possible.

ACTIVITIES EXTENDED

Watford, Petrolea and Forest Now Completely Organized, Says District Secretary.

Major F. Spry, senior supply and transport officer in Military District No. 1, acting on behalf of the department of militia and defence, has given permission to the Y. M. C. A. to use the Armories located in several of the smaller towns of the district as "Y" buildings, it was announced today by F. Poole, district secretary of the Y. M. C. A. This step was taken to facilitate the work of extending the activities of the association to the surrounding countries which are being organized by Mr. Poole.

Several weeks ago the work of extension was started by Mr. Poole, and as the result of his labors the county of Lambton, containing the towns of Watford, Petrolea and Forest, has been completely organized. Plans for the organizing of other counties are being prepared. Enthusiastic meetings were held in the three towns, and committees, consisting of some of the most prominent men were appointed to look after the work of the association.

The armories in Watford will be the first building to be taken over by the association, and a three-years' lease has been arranged for. Under the contract, the Y. M. C. A. is to have free use of the building, and will pay the insurance. The agreement can be terminated without notice at any time by either party.

It is planned to have rooms set aside for meeting and class purposes. While no gymnastic equipment will be installed drill classes and physical exercises will be conducted in the building. The work will be carried on chiefly among the boys and youth of the community. The great difficulty that has presented itself to Mr. Poole and to the different committees is the supplying of trained leaders from among the men.

In as many towns as possible the armories will be used. It was hoped that in several of the places the work could be carried on through the collegiate institutes.

Plans for a huge summer camp, which will be operated jointly by the many different associations in the district are being prepared. The camp is to be under the supervision of W. Pierce, general secretary of the Woodstock "Y." The location of the camp has not been definitely decided upon, but it will probably be situated on either the shores of Lake Huron or Erie, according to Mr. Poole. He hoped that the county organizations would be well represented. The committees in the different towns were to be asked to cooperate to bring this about.

SOUTH RUSSIA WILL BE ABLE TO EXPORT 1,500,000 TONS WHEAT

Rome, March 8.—Data secured by the international Institute of Agriculture here on conditions in the chief cereal-producing provinces of South Russia, which in normal times, provide the grain supplies of Northern Russia, indicate that the quantity of wheat available for export from South Russia in the season 1919-20 should reach at least 1,500,000 tons.

N. Y. WHITE WAY INUNDATED; WATER NEARLY TRAPS 3

New York, March 8.—New York's "white light" district was given a new thrill last night when a 20-inch water main burst in the vicinity of Times Square and flooded the streets for several blocks. Shops, cellars and subways were inundated, and traffic was tied up by the flow of water, which turned to ice.

Police reserves were called to check the curious throng of theatre-goers and others who flocked to the "flood zone." Several persons in a basement barber shop had a narrow escape from being trapped by the deluge. Three who were being shaved fled to the street hatless and coatless, with their faces covered with lather.

The broken main threw a huge geyser of water for more than a quarter of an hour before it was stopped by an emergency crew of repairmen.

Prussian Prince Assaults French Army Officers

Cousin of Ex-Kaiser Ordered Under Arrest by German Minister.

Berlin, March 8.—Gustav Noske, minister of defence, has ordered the arrest of Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia, cousin of Former Emperor William, and Baron von Platen for engaging in an assault upon Capt. Roughevin, a French officer, with the inter-allied mission in this city, at the Adlon Hotel, Saturday night.

The assault occurred in the dining-room, the prince and his friends hurling candles, crockery and other missiles at Capt. Roughevin and his party, who had refused to stand while the orchestra was playing "Deutschland uber Alles." Capt. Roughevin was beaten and his clothes were torn.

When the prince entered the Adlon for luncheon the following day, he was told by the head waiter that he could not be served, and that if he insisted upon taking a seat at a table the waiters would strike. Joachim thereupon left the building. It is believed the attitude of the waiters is due to a decision of their union, which is opposing the reactionaries.

It is not known here whether the French have taken any action as a consequence of the incident, but it is expected that it will lead to unpleasantness for the German Government.

DEMANDS INQUIRY.

London, March 8.—Gen. Maurice Nollet, the head of the French military mission in Berlin, has demanded an immediate audience with Foreign Minister Muller, to protest against the attack on the French party at the Hotel Adlon Saturday night by Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia and his friends, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Berlin today.

GERMAN ASSEMBLY TO CONSIDER NEW SYSTEM OF VOTING

Proportional Representation Plan May Be Introduced.

London, March 8.—The program of the German National Assembly this week includes the new imperial elections bill under which the system of proportional representation, with a transferrable vote, will be introduced, says the London Times Berlin correspondent.

"The system," the correspondent continues, "is based on one vote for each sixty thousand voters. An interesting new feature is the proposed suffrage for Germans resident abroad or absent in foreign lands. The world outside Germany forms the constituency in which every German resident abroad may vote. Consulates will act as polling centres. Germans abroad will be represented by as many members as the votes are divisible by sixty thousand, and the candidates with the most votes will be elected."

REFUGEES FLEE FROM RUSSIA, ONLY TO DIE ON BOARD OF SHIP

Steamer Navajo Buffeted For Days by Hurricane.

UPON BLACK SEA

Disease and Starvation Claim Many Victims.

Constantinople, March 8.—Cheated of his prey at Novorossisk, death pursued 800 refugees who had fled from that city on board the steamer Navajo at the approach of Russian soviet forces, and assumed the dread forms of disease and shipwreck, cold and starvation. It was only after a heroic struggle with the elements that the staunch craft arrived here with its cargo of emaciated and starving passengers.

Eighteen hours after the Navajo had left port, the vessel, which had been chartered by the American Red Cross to bring the fugitives out of Southern Russia, was struck by a blizzard which for two hours buffeted the ship and prevented it making hardly any headway. The ship was short of provisions and fuel, and in the midst of the storm it was found there was no foood on board, and that the bunkers were empty. Then for four days the Navajo drifted helpless, a mere derelict, in the middle of the Black Sea, while the hurricane raged.

Typhus appeared on board, and, lacking facilities for fighting the scourge, the refugees saw the bodies of scores of their shipmates consigned to the waters. Others, weakened by cold and privations before they came on board, succumbed to their sufferings. At last another refugee ship picked up the Navajo and managed to get a hawser aboard. She was then towed toward the Bosphorus. Hundreds of the passengers arrived here with their hands and feet frozen.

CANADIAN DOLLAR IS WORTH 87 1-2 CENTS ON MARKET TODAY

English Pound Sterling Takes Drop.

New York, March 8.—Preliminary quotations on demand bills for the English pound sterling today were $3.55, or 5¾ below Saturday's closing figures.

Later sterling declined to $3.54¼. Franc checks were quoted at the rate of 14.02 to the American dollar, off 25 centimes and lire checks at the rate of 18.22, off 35 centimes.

Marks were sold for 1.05 cents each. The value of the Canadian dollar declined in sympathy with the drop in sterling. The discount rates was quoted at 12½ per cent.

SIX NATIONS INDIANS TO OPPOSE BILL COMPELLING THEM TO VOTE

Will Fight Government Proposed Measure On the Grounds That Under a Treaty With Great Britain They Are Allies of the Empire and Not Subject to Canadian Law.

Brantford, March 8.—The proposal of the Dominion Government to bring in a bill providing for compulsory enfranchisement and education of the Indians of Canada, met with the opposition of the Six Nations, of whom some 5,000 are domiciled on the Grand River Reserve, near this city. They state that they have not been consulted in the matter, and it is believed that they will oppose the move being applied to them on the ground that they are not subjects of Canada, but, by treaty, allies of the British crown, and therefore subject only to the British crown. In this plan they successfully fought conscription during the war, though the proportion of Indian enlistments was very high. The Six Nations Indian council will meet this week, and the matter will come up. Inasmuch as the new legislation would abolish the present system of government by hereditary chiefs, limited to certain families, the representatives being named by the women, it is thought that the council at least will fight the proposed enactment, though many of the more educated Indians believe that they would benefit greatly by dropping their Indian rights and becoming Canadian citizens in the full sense of the word.

EGYPTIANS TEMPTED BY HIGH COTTON PRICES FAIL TO GROW ENOUGH FOOD FOR PEOPLE

London, March 8.—The food crisis in Egypt is due mainly to land owners, including the land-owning peasantry, increasing the area planted in cotton so as to take advantage of the soaring price of cotton, according to the Daily Mail's Cairo correspondent.

"Wheat and other cereals actually have been plowed up when approaching maturity in order to sow cotton," the correspondent continues, "and the cotton area is now nearly 25 per cent greater than before the war. Normally, Egypt practically feeds herself, but actually the present shortage of cereals there is greater danger of the famished people being driven to rioting.

"Gambling in cotton seed has been disastrously widespread among all classes. Mendacity and theft are rife. Nationalist agitators are persuading the peasants that their plight is due to the British. The outlook is difficult."

Men Becoming Weaker As They Let Women Rule

Cardinal O'Connell Says Man Should Show Authority in Home.

Boston, Mass., March 8.—Growing weakness on the part of the men in the country is developing a sinister feminism, Cardinal O'Connell told a gathering of men at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross last night. Man, as the head of the house, he said, should assert his proper authority in the home.

Failure to do this, the cardinal asserted, leads to a false feminism which, unless it is curbed in time, the cardinal said, will have disastrous results for humanity. "The women are becoming masculine, if you please, and the men are becoming effeminate. This is disorder."

ACCIDENT FORCES BRITISH AVIATOR TO ABANDON CAIRO TO CAPE FLIGHT

Halifax, N. S., March 8. — The Halifax Herald says that, due to an accident, Major Herbert Brackley has been forced to give up participation in the great Cape to Cairo air race. A message to the Halifax Herald from the Handley-Page firm, London, England, announces this fact. Major Brackley was last reported leading, having left Cairo and well on his way to the Cape, some 5,000 miles away.

NEW ENGLANDERS ARE "DIGGING OUT" AFTER STORM OF SATURDAY

Tie-Up in Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire Is Worst in Years.

Boston, Mass, March 8.—Railroad, industrials and community volunteers combined again today to restore the passenger and freight transportation facilities that were cut off in Northern New England by the storm on Saturday. A "digging-out" holiday was proclaimed in several cities and scores of industries diverted the energies of their employees to the swinging of picks and shovels over railroad ties. Great snowbanks and the ice formed by the sudden drop in temperature after rain caused the most serious tie-up of the winter in many plares.

The situation in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont was the most serious in many years. Hundreds of passengers were marooned in small cities and towns where trains had been stalled since Saturday night, and in some places the feeding of these refugees became a serious problem.

ENTERTAINED BOYS.—Through the courtesy of the Forest City Dramatic Club, The Advertiser carrier boys were given a theatre party at the Majestic Theatre on Saturday afternoon. The play, "It Pays To Advertise," was staged by the club. The boys fully enjoyed the entertainment that was so kindly extended to them.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO FRAME POLICY FOR NEW LEGISLATION

Ontario Branch of Dominion Alliance in Convention this week.

Toronto, March 8.—By Canadian Press.—Concurrently with the opening of the first session of the Farmer-Labor Legislature of Ontario here this week, the provincial prohibition "parliament," otherwise known as the Ontario branch, Dominion Alliance, will hold its annual convention, and decide upon a policy for their demands on the Ontario Legislature and Dominion Parliament.

Many of the delegates to the alliance convention are in the city today, attending the preliminaries to the main sessions, which will commence tomorrow. There will be discussions on various aspects of law enforcement, and conclusion of arrangements for the big meetings tomorrow.

This convention will decide the important question as to whether or not the prohibition forces will ask the Ontario Legislature to bring on a vote in Ontario regarding the importation of liquors, and will also deal with the question of amendments to strengthen the Ontario temperance act.

$8,000,000 MORE WILL BE NEEDED FOR HOUSES THROUGHOUT ONTARIO

Hamilton Leads With Number of Residences Built.

Toronto, March 8.—In his report on the operations of the Ontario Housing Commission for the past seven months, J. A. Ellis, director of the bureau of municipal affairs, states that if the requirements of the various municipalities for 1920 are to be met, about $8,000,000 in addition to the present appropriation of over $10,000,000 will have to be voted for the purpose. In the last seven months the city of Hamilton leads the municipalities in the number of houses built, having erected 84 houses at an expenditure of $296,150. Oshawa is next with 74 houses, valued at $226,500. Ottawa is third, having built 56 houses, for which $201,000 was appropriated under the Ontario housing scheme.

LT.-COL. F. B. WARE APPOINTED ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL

Will Succeed Lt.-Col. Brown On Permanent Force Here.

Lieut.-Col. F. B. Ware, D. S. O., a well-known Londoner, has been appointed assistant adjutant-general to the permanent forces in this district, it was announced today. He is at present on the general staff at Ottawa.

He succeeds Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, who has held this position since 1916. He will continue the work until all the C. E. F. units of this district have been completely demobilized. Col. Ware will then take charge of the permanent work.

IRKUTSK SEIZED BY REBEL FORCE

Prisoners in Jail There To Be Tried by Reds.

London, March 8.—Irkutsk, the recent seat of the Kolchak Government, which was seized last month by insurrectionary troops, who were reported to have executed Admiral Kolchak, is now in the hands of the Bolshevik army, troops of the Red army having entered, it is announced in a wireless message from Moscow. Several members of the former Kolchak ministry and many active counter-revolutionists who were imprisoned in Irkutsk being transferred to Omsk, where they will be delivered to the judgment of a revolutionary tribunal, the dispatch adds.

TEMPORARY FREIGHT SHEDS ARE TO BE ERECTED AT ONCE

G. T. R. Loses No Time in Cleaning Up Debris.

ALL RECORDS LOST

Therefore It Will Be Impossible To Estimate Damage At Disastrous Fire.

Plans for the erection of a temporary freight sheds, to take the place of those destroyed in the fire of Sunday morning, were made today, when C. G. Bowker, superintendent of the Ontario lines of the Grand Trunk, and G. A. Mitchell, superintendent of bridges and buildings, arrived in the city. While the embers were still smouldering this morning the removing of the debris was proceeded with, and the construction of the temporary building will be commenced immediately. In all probability work will get under way by the end of the week and within a month officials of the road expect to have a building erected which will be capable of handling the freight during the months of reconstruction on a permanent building.

While the Grand Trunk is not accepting any freight today, tomorrow will again see business being proceeded with. The freight accepted from local shippers will be stored in freight cars on the sheds' siding prior to being shipped. The office staff will take up its quarters in old coaches, with seats

A GOLFING RECORD.

Palm Beach, Fla., March 8.—A golf record that Walter J. Travis and others said was without parallel in their knowledge, was made on the Palm Beach links by John W. Gammons of Providence, R. I. Gammons made a round of eighteen holes using only eighteen putts, an average of one putt to each hole. He used two putts on the fifth green, and on the fourth his approach shot ran in for a two.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 18; lowest, 5.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 13; lowest, 6.

CHURCH INDIRECTLY HELPS BUSINESS OF CITY AS A WHOLE

Rev. T. G. Roy Says It Is a Material Help To Any Community.

The Rev. T. G. Roy, speaking on "What the Community Owes the Church," last night at the Talbot Street Baptist Church, said there were a great many in the community of a church who had no use for it. They said the church was unnecessary, and that they did not derive any benefit from the church.

The church, like the cities, was out for increased production, said Mr. Roy. The cities were all looking for new factories to come to town to enlarge the production of the district. The church helped production in an indirect way. Mr. Roy stated that the church was working and had always worked against liquor. He said that a man who drank heavily had between ten and twenty years cut off his life. There were on an average, said Mr. Roy, ten men in each church community who were heavy drinkers. If the church could save these men from drinking it was adding a hundred years of production to the community.

The church also established a business basis, said Mr. Roy, in the line of credit. Credit was based on character, and the character of a man depended greatly on the church. Thus a man was helped along in his everyday business life by the church, if he were a steady person in his community.

Mr. Roy stated that the church touched the family life as well as the business life, and the people profited by it. The church, he said, established an independent credit basis in the family as well as in business life.

At the end of his sermon Mr. Roy made an appeal for the men to throw themselves into the work of the church, as it helped the community all through. This, he said, would be as great a benefit to them as to the other members of the church.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

As I had not the time given me at the council meeting to present my reason why I am opposed "to placing in the London Bill a clause asking the Legislature to grant an application from the council to submit commission form of civic government" as arranged "for fourteen years representatives to the city council were chosen by the popular vote of the people." That it proved to be unsatisfactory was clearly shown by the immease petitions presented to the council in 1915 asking that a vote of the citizens be taken on a return to the ward system. The petition was granted and the vote taken which carried by a huge majority. Now the council without even being asked by the people are again asking the government for a special legislation for a single municipality. Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton and other centres are making no such application for any such form of government once it is passed. Strange that the council of London are the prime movers on such a question; it must show a weakness somewhere." Ward representation does not leave the door open for dissatisfaction. No fairer conditions could possibly exist.

Will anyone attempt to say the utilities commission department could be conducted any better than it is at the present time? Their system is a model "of business administration. Gentlemen who have given freely of their time without money and without price" have succeeded in forming business methods in the respective departments. It is proposed in the proposed change in the London Bill to place this department in the hands of the council "for this body to say what shall or what shall not be done; what is the use of a superintendent spending time formulating a policy" if the whole matter is to be discussed in the council and probably set aside. How many businessmen would offer a position like this giving their time to matters which come under the department and suggesting what they think would be in the best interests of the city, to have the matter all gone over again? What is wanted in my opinion is more co-operation between all of the departments of the city to insure success so that we may be able to instill into the minds of the people that confidence and good feeling which will make London what it is destined to be; a leading and progressive city. Up to the year, 1889, London was divided into seven wards, with 21 aldermen. If this number was needed 31 years ago, how much more so now? Ward 3 and 4 are larger both in area and population than when London had seven wards. London is now advancing rapidly in my opinion. It is only right and proper that all sections should be represented at the council board. This cannot be accomplished under commission government for representation will be chosen from congested districts. The council and the board of education are controlled under special acts of Parliament; to change means confusion unless universally adopted throughout the province, and I have my doubts that any government will enact such legislation different to what is already on the statute books, responsible municipal government under the municipal act. The amount of money expended in drafting this proposed form of government every year should be discontinued as our money can be put to better advantage.

MISS HILDA KEENE RESIGNS FROM S. A. C.

Miss Minnie Craig Likely Her Successor.

MONTHLY REPORT

Shows S. A. C. Doing Exceptionally Fine Work For Returned Men.

At the meeting of the soldiers' aid commission executive committee Friday afternoon, the resignation of Miss Hilda Keene was accepted. Miss Keene has been working with the welfare department for a period of one year, and through her winning disposition has made many friends while carrying out her work.

Miss Keene was forced to resign on account of illness, which it is believed was caused by her untiring efforts in bringing relief to the needy. Miss Minnie Craig, daughter of S. H. Craig of Dufferin avenue, will probably be Miss Keene's successor. Miss Craig is a qualified social worker, and a nurse. She had experience overseas as a nurse, having served in France with the Canadian hospitals, and is at present on the staff of Bellevue Hospital, New York.

The committee recommended that another helper be put on the strength of the welfare department, as the work is too heavy for one person. This was noticed last month, especially when they had a large number of influenza cases to look after, as well as the regular cases.

The question of a summer camp was brought up, but nothing definite was decided on. Port Stanley was the place recommended for the camp. This camp will be for the use of children who have been under the care of the welfare department this winter.

Brig.-Gen. Panet, G. O. C., M. D. 1, will give all the aid that he can, in furthering the summer camp for the children. Just what the general will do is not known as yet.

The monthly report showed that there were 84 men who applied for positions, 22 of whom were given work. Forty-seven were referred to the Government employment bureau, 9 were recommended for training with the S. C. R., and 6 were referred to the S. C. R. for medical treatment.

The welfare department handled 81 cases during the month of February, 13 of them being new. One hundred and ninety-two calls were made during the month. Relief in the form of groceries, clothing and bedding was given 33 people and $26.30 was expended in miscellaneous relief.

Besides these cases of relief, a British soldier was given help in establishing a home on his arrival from England, by providing sufficient furniture for himself and family.

The reception committee met two parties of returned men, all of whom were from outside points.

The chaplains' council carried out 37 visits to men in their homes, and made fifty calls at the hospitals, visiting 78 men there.

The special fund made 93 advancements during the month, amounting to $5,611.90. One hundred and one repayments were made during the month, amounting to $3,671.76. The books show the number of accounts as 233. The outstanding balance is $14,283.36. The total number of advances made up to February 29 were 2,848, the total amount advanced being $79,408.19.

The receipts of the general fund were $2,708.89. Of this amount $1,408.99 came from the head office of the S. A. C., $1,000 from the county of Middlesex and $300 from the Canadian Red Cross.

The disbursements for the month amount to $515.98, some $450 being paid out in salaries, $54.98 in office expenses, and $11 on small items. Number one committee of the city council has decided to appropriate $3,000 for the work of the commission for this year.

The relief fund shows subscriptions amounting to $506.13. Of this amount $55.10 was spent in supplying food, coal, clothing and delicacies for the sick.

Some 1,031 men used the office during the month, and 286 dependents, making a total of 1,317 people who have had business with the office for the month. This is slightly lower than the January number. The influenza epidemic is said to be responsible for the falling off in the use made of the office.

One hundred and sixty-nine cases were placed during the month, 173 were settled and 54 are being held, to await developments.

The number of London men on the files at present is 3,700. With the Middlesex men added to the list, the number reaches 4,319. The total number for the district on the files amount to 14,5— Of this number 1,350 served with the 1st Battalion and 1,250 with the 18th.

The number of London men who have returned is growing as the files become more complete.

The exact figures are not known, but a great many affidavits were made out for men without birth certificates and marriage licenses, showing that they were entitled to allowances from the S. C. R.

MAN'S BODY UNCLAIMED

Relatives of Pneumonia Victim Are Not Known.

Hugh Cameron, a laborer, who was taken to Victoria Hospital a few days ago suffering from pneumonia, died there yesterday. The body has not been claimed, and is now in Ferguson's undertaking parlors awaiting the coming of relatives or friends who will arrange for the funeral. The dead man was apparently about 68 years of age.

THE UNITED WELFARE ORGANIZATION HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING

At a meeting held in London Chamber of Commerce on Saturday afternoon London's United Welfare Fund Association proceeded with its organization.

The object of the association will be to raise by a joint campaign held from time to time funds for the public welfare organizations of the city of London, supported wholly or in part by public subscriptions. Practically all of the welfare organizations of the city have become members of the association, the effect of which will be that instead of a dozen or more different appeals for funds during the year, citizens will be called upon only once to contribute a sum sufficient for the needs of all these organizations.

The first rule of the new association is that money shall be raised by the association for local welfare organizations, expending money locally only. Organizations in order to participate must have demonstrated their ability to work and serve through at least one year of independent existence, although exception to the latter part of this rule may be made by unanimous consent of the executive board.

The affiliated welfare organizations who expect to benefit as the result of this association's efforts covenant not to conduct separate or independent canvasses for funds unless specially authorized by the executive board.

Organizations belonging to the association also agree to submit to the executive board a statement of their receipts and disbursements for the past year, along with a budget for the ensuing year, and the executive board has the power to reduce or increase budgets submitted for maintenance or current account, and may refuse to admit expenditure for capital account for organizations in any one year.

The following principles are to be adopted generally in the city-wide canvass: Published scale of giving for all persons with income in excess of $2,000 a year, and for employees with less income, "one day's pay per year."

The designation of subscriptions to particular welfare organizations will be permitted, but strongly discouraged.

It is planned to supply subscribers to the united welfare fund with cards suitable for display in business premises or residences, bearing the words, "Subscribers to the United Welfare Fund of the City of London," and in smaller type: "Further appeals must be referred to the above organization before any other contribution will be made."

The chairmen of the various committees conferred as to the make-up of their respective committees, with the object of selecting the strongest organizations possible. Final selections have not been announced yet.

HOSPITAL TRUST TO MAKE AN EFFORT TO REDUCE ESTIMATES

Necessary Expenditures At Present Placed At Total of $272,915.

Estimates for the maintenance of Victoria Hospital during the coming year were discussed at a special meeting of the hospital trust on Saturday afternoon. The necessary expenditures at the institution were placed at $272,915, covering maintenance and special purposes, of which $8,000 will be used for the furnishing of the buildings recently vacated by the militia department.

Another meeting of the trust will be held on Tuesday, when an effort will be made to cut down the estimates.

Of the amount estimated for the year, the city would be called upon to provide $143,000, and the remainder would come from the Provincial Government, county of Middlesex and patients who are in a position to pay for treatment.

Mayor E. S. Little told the trust the the city council had figured on allowing 2½ mills for the upkeep of the hospital, but if the city must provide $143,000, it would be necessary to devote three mills to the institution. At the meeting Tuesday the trust will endeavor to cut down the estimates to within the 2½-mill limit.

PINK TEA HOSTESS NOT THE AIM OF YOUNG WOMANHOOD

"To be hostess of some pink tea or card party, or belle of a ball, should not be the aim of our young womanhood. The throne of honor for womanhood is in the home," said Rev. R. G. Peever, preaching on the "Influence and Responsibility of Young Women" in the First Methodist Church last evening.

"The influence of woman comes from her many and varied gifts, her beauty of form, tenderness of spirit and loveliness of character. This has been found out after so many women have spread their charm on the battlefields of Europe and in the hospitals. The women of our community set the moral standard of our community and the community ideals.

"Our women of today are possessed of an indescribable charm, which, if bartered, means they become bankrupt. Women, too, are man's greatest temptation and cause the downfall of many men. But women who know that their place is in the home, the caring and bringing up of a family—to be God-fearing and to set high ideals before them, are a power of God placed in the community. The more of these sort of women there are in a community the higher the standard of it will be," concluded Mr. Peever.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE

Firemen Take French Soap Chips for Delicious Toffey.

London's fire-fighting heroes, while engaged in extinguishing the blaze on Sunday afternoon at the Grand Trunk freight sheds, made a great find among the ruins. At least, they thought they had. The find was a box of candy. It was smoke-covered, but this made no difference to the firemen, who did not mind their interior being covered with smoke any more than their exterior. After the smoke exterior had been licked off the so-called candy, the fire-fighters received a cruel surprise, for it was not delicious candy which they had found, but French soap chips. The little dirty being hummed around the central fire hall today is "They're Forever Blowing Bubbles."

COMPANY WILL NOT MEET TEAMSTERS

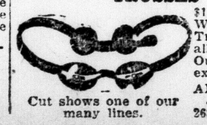

Refuses To Deal With Deputation From Union.

A deputation of four men, representing the teamsters of the city who are on strike in order to force their demand of a minimum wage of $100 a month, was refused an interview by W. McNaughton, agent for the Dominion Transportation Company, which is under contract to cart freight for the C. P. R., when it waited upon him on Saturday afternoon. Mr. McNaughton stated that his company refused to deal with the men as a union and would negotiate with no one but its own employees.

According to a number of the committee in charge of the strike the men were invited by the company to open negotiations on Saturday. Three employees of the company and one other member of the union were sent to Mr. McNaughton, but he refused to talk things over with the deputation. He informed the members of the deputation, who were his employees, however, that the company would pay no more than $80 a month and a bonus of $5 a month if no time were lost except through sickness. Nothing had been heard from the other companies up till last night.

L. C. I. MEMORIAL OF DAYS OF NOAH

So Says Principal Mooney of Collegiate, Addressing Rotarians.

London's Collegiate Institute was referred to as a memorial of the days when Noah built the Ark, by W. H. T. Mooney, principal of the school, during his address on "School Phases" before the London Rotary Club at noon today. Mr. Mooney dwelt at length upon the great need for more accommodation at the collegiate. The school is absolutely inadequate to accommodate the increasing attendance, Mr. Mooney said, and he believed it essential to provide proper facilities if the young man and woman is to be properly educated.

At the present time the assembly-room at the collegiate is a joke, the speaker continued. It would not accommodate the boys who are attending the school. This was an important matter, for by meeting in the assembly-room boys and girls learn the art of self-expression. The local collegiate was one of the largest of its kind in the Dominion, Mr. Mooney said, and if its progress is to continue better accommodation must be provided.

The London Collegiate brought to its present size by addition after addition is a memorial of a policy of foresight. In the days when the work was first commenced on the institution the members of the board of education must have failed utterly to see any future for the city of London. There are 1,300 pupils now attending the school, and the congestion which will follow the opening next September will be difficult to overcome unless some provision is made in the meantime.

Following Mr. Mooney's address, three of the boys from the Collegiate sang a parody on "Mickey," which they called "Mooney." This came as a surprise to the Rotarians. The boys were Alex. Beemer, Jack McCallum and George Boughner.

J. Fernley McKenzie of the Canadian Trade Commission to Scotland, told the Rotarians that he was anxious to get in touch with any local manufacturers who want to do business with that country.

The question of putting a team in the campaign for the Jewish war relief, which commences next week, was left with the executive.

MORE ROOM NEEDED IN ASKIN ST. SUNDAY SCHOOL

A proposal to extend the basement of the Sunday School of Askin Street Church and roofing it over for gymnasium purposes is exciting the enthusiasm of the young men of Askin Street Church, and is favored by some of the influential men in the congregation.

The gymnasium built on Theresa street some years ago is much too small and for a considerable time past the boys' clubs have been using the basement of the Sunday school for games in connection with their weekly meetings. The older men of the church have also been meeting weekly for the same purpose, and have had it brought home to them that there is need of providing better accommodation for the boys. If it is decided to extend the basement the frame building situated on Theresa street will be removed and sold.

HAD KIND FRIEND IN POLICE COURT

He Rushed Forward and Paid $200 Fine For Edward Leapierre.

Edward Leapierre, 462 Dundas street, on the Grand Trunk station platform at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, accepted a sealed bottle of whiskey from a friend who was en route from Montreal to Windsor, and for this reason was fined $200 and costs in police court this morning.

P. C. George Tomlin and P. C. William McCullough sighted the accused at the corner of Dundas and Clarence streets, and followed him to the corner of Queen's avenue and Waterloo street. Then Leapierre was searched and the bottle was found in the inside of his coat. The prisoner admitted that he had been followed and searched and that he had received the liquor while on the platform of the station.

As soon as he was fined, a friend from the audience rushed forward waving a roll of money and said: "I'll pay his fine. Let him go."

WILL HELP UKRAINIANS, PROVIDING SHIPMENTS ARE PROPERLY SUPERVISED

Ottawa, March 8.—The Ukrainian Red Cross Society of Canada concluded its two-day national convention here on Saturday. The chairman was Mr. M. Mihay of Toronto.

Mr. John Kovaliv of Hamilton said that in Hamilton the Ukrainians had been desirous of helping their countrymen in the Ukraine, but had hesitated owing to the fact that necessities shipped to that country did not always reach their destination, but they were quite willing and anxious to do something of the relief were properly organized, and assurance could be obtained from the British Government that the relief would be supervised to that end.

Mrs. Golenbiowski spoke in the same strain as regards the Ukrainians of Montreal.

A committee was appointed to draft an appeal to the British Government in regard to the complaint that during the five months of Austrian-Polish occupation of Eastern Galicia maladministration, starvation and disease have been rampant, and therefore it is requested that the British Government use its influence to have Galicia placed under Ukrainian government.

TOO CLOSE TO STOVE.—The fire department was called out at 1 o'clock this morning to the residence of Mrs. F. Pardy, 400 Dundas street, where some clothes became ignited by being hung too close to the stove. The damage is estimated at $10.

MET SATURDAY.—The arts section of the Arts and Science Club of Western University, at its meeting Saturday night, held a conference on methods in research. Among those contributing to the discussion were Dean Fox, Dr. Shanks, Professor Auden, Professor Tamblyn and Mr. Landon.

GOES TO WINDSOR.—Adjutant F. W. Martin of the Salvation Army left today for Windsor to make arrangements for the opening of the nurses' home, which has been built in connection with Grace Hospital. The official opening is expected to take place within a few days.

HE WAS "LIT."—For being in style a citizen was fined $13 in police court this morning. On Saturday night the town was lit up by the G. T. R. fire. The offender was "lit," too, but he became that way from drinking firewater. He said that if given another chance he would not be a slave to Dame Fashion any more.

MEET THIS AFTERNOON.—A meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. at 4:30 o'clock today of those interested in the Jewish relief fund campaign. The organizations that have taken an active interest in the campaign are: The Rotary Club, Ministerial Alliance, Canadian Club, Y. W. C. A., Red Cross, and the Commercial Travelers' Association.

APPEARS TUESDAY.—William Babcock of London Township will appear before Squire W. H. Chittick at the courthouse Tuesday morning charged with feeding garbage to his hogs, the garbage having been secured at a place other than the one at which the animals were fed. This is contrary to the animal contagion act. Abram Baker of the department of agriculture laid the information.

RECEIVES CABINET OF SILVER.—Mrs. Edward Schafer (formerly Miss Louise Forsyth), was presented with a cabinet of silver by officials and members of the city treasurer's and tax collectors' staffs at the city hall today. She has been a valued member of these two departments for some time, and her fellow-workers were pleased to take this opportunity to congratulate her on her marriage, which took place recently.

VEGETABLE GROWERS MEET.—The last winter meeting of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association was held in the department of agriculture offices, Talbot street, Saturday evening. A demonstration of amateur judging in several classes of vegetables was given. The younger members passed judgment on the varieties, while the older members pointed out mistakes that were made.

ONLY INQUISITIVE.—Arthur Taylor was fined $5 and costs in police court this morning for trespassing on the Grand Trunk property and the freight sheds during the progress of the fire on Saturday night. It was said that he was warned away from the sheds, but returned, and was put out of the ruins. On his second return the firemen complained to the police, and Taylor was arrested. "I was only inquisitive," the defendant explained.

AN EXPLANATION.—Joseph Cromwell of Epworth avenue wishes it known that he did not write a matrimonial bureau in Chicago or any place else with the object in view of securing a wife. Mr. Cromwell is of the opinion that someone wrote to Chicago, giving his name as a joke. The item was given local publicity when Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams received a letter from a Chicago girl, asking him to locate Mr. Cromwell for her.

WOULD PROHIBIT NETTING.—After the Drury banquet Thursday evening Squire W. H. Chittick, president of the London branch of the Ontario Forest, Fish and Game Protective Association, spoke to members of the provincial Parliament, including the premier himself, regarding the prohibiting of the netting of bass and pickerel in the Thames River. Those who were interviewed expressed themselves as being in sympathy with such action, and promised that it should be considered at Toronto.

WILL RUN SHIP TH'S SUMMER.—John H. Clark, president of the Cleveland Erieau Steamship Company, owner of the steamer Theodore Roosevelt, which plied during the later part of last summer between Port Stanley and Cleveland, visited the local chamber of commerce and several officials of the city today. He told of the preparations which were being made by his company for lake excursions next summer. The boat is undergoing renovation at Port Stanley at the present time. The first trip will be made on May 31.

RESERVES DECISION

Gordon Hammond Charged With Violating Wives' Maintenance Act.

Gordon F. Hammond, 185 Waterloo street, was charged in police court this morning with violating the wives' maintenance act, but the magistrate reserved his decision for a week. Dorothy Hammond, daughter of J. R. Shepherd of St. Thomas, was the complainant.

His wife swore, during examination by Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, that they had been married on April 21, 1919. They lived with his mother. The complainant was under the care of Dr. Charles Duncan of St. Thomas, but her husband objected to her going home, and wanted her to work like his mother.

On July 24 she went to the theatre with a man and his wife. She arrived home about 11:30 o'clock, and found the door locked. The mother-in-law had promised to leave the key outside for her, but she had not done so. In answer to the ringing of the bell the husband came to the door and swore at her.

At noon on the following day he packed up his clothes and she packed up hers. She went to St. Thomas. Her father sent a letter to Hammond who replied saying that he was willing that his wife should come back.

Shepherd had brought his daughter to London in December and met Hammond. The husband was asked what steps he intended to take to support his wife and a child which was born during that month. The reply was that he had nothing to say.

During cross-examination by W. R. Meredith, counsel for the defence, Mrs. Hammond said that during the three months that they had lived together her husband had given her but $2.45.

J. R. Shepherd said that his daughter had asked him to take her back to her husband.

Pearl Shepherd, a sister of the complainant said that Mrs. Hammond had been sickly for a long time.

Gordon Hammond denied that he only had given her $2.45. When he met her at the door on the evening that she was locked out, he asked her where she had been until that time of the night, and then they swore at each other.

In December Shepherd came to him and asked if he was prepared to take his wife into his house that night. He said that he was unprepared.

The root of the trouble, Hammond said, was that his wife had been accusing him of keeping company with "fast women." He was a cigarmaker and had to hurry back to work at noon. He claimed that she said that he was meeting these women at noon. Even when he went to union meetings the same accusation was made when he returned.

PURCHASE TRACTORS FOR WORK IN CITY

Proved Satisfactory Last Year So Two More Will Be Bought.

Two more tractors to replace teams in the city construction work will be purchased this year, according to present plans. After extensive tests a tractor was purchased last summer. It proved satisfactory in hauling loads of gravel and in laying pavements. This is thought to justify the purchase of additional machines.

Teamsters are demanding $13 a day and it is claimed if this increase is granted it will make the tractors that much more desirable.

Within a very short time the whole works department of the city may be motorized. Provision has been made in the estimates for two two and one-half-ton motor trucks for work in the street cleaning department. This will eliminate several teams. The upkeep of these, together with the wages of the drivers is expected to be $7,371 for the year.

JUST FLOATIN' ROUND

While the fire was raging in the Grand Trunk freight sheds early Sunday morning a member of the local police force approached Superintendent Charles Forrester of the Grand Trunk, who was watching the conflagration, and handed him a sheet of paper to which two other sheets were attached.

"This is to pay you up," said the constable, flashing his searchlight on the documents which proved to be two Grand Trunk checks for large amounts with stamps affixed ready for cashing.

"I found this blowing down Wellington street," said the friendly cop, "and there is a lot more junk blowing around there now."

"You do not call that junk do you?" queried the superintendent, as he rushed around the corner to retrieve the papers, straying from the burning freight office.

SEES CANADA RIVAL U. S. DAIRY INDUSTRY

Officials View Argentina Also As Possible Competitor.

Washington, March 7.—Canada and Argentina may soon prove serious competitors of the United States in the dairy industry, Government officials believe. The industry in both countries is in its infancy yet Canada is producing 70 per cent as much cheese and 12 per cent as much butter as the United States, while Argentina is producing 18 per cent as much cheese and seven per cent as much butter. Canada's butter exports were 41 per cent as large as those of the United States while her cheese exports greatly exceeded exports from the United States. Argentina's butter exports were double those of the United States and her cheese exports equalled 32 per cent of those of the United States.

It is generally believed, Government officials say, that Argentina and Canada are capable of extensive development of their industries and it is probable, therefore, that the United States may experience in the future particularly energetic competition. Argentina, 21 days distant from New York, they say, may not be thought of seriously at this time as a direct competitor in the domestic market, but indirectly Argentine butter may supplant Canadian butter in the English market, in which case Canadian butter would find a logical outlet in the United States.

Canada is in a better position today in the world's markets with her butter and cheese than is the United States, officials declare. Moreover, Canada's policy with her returned soldiers and immigrants towards land development is bringing results which eventually will mean larger production. In the United States available lands are scarce and all lands generally expensive. It is reasonable to believe, Government scientists say, that in the future production will not increase in proportion to the population, as the greater part of the really productive land is now utilized. Resumption of the importation of European butter is again giving real competition to our products.

CONVALESCING FROM INFLUENZA.

The bracing atmosphere found in Algonquin Park is just what is needed for those convalescing from influenza or those who are in need of a rest and recuperation. The Highland Inn offers comfortable accommodation at reasonable rates. Apply any Grand Trunk agent for descriptive booklet, or write Mr. N. T. Clarke, Manager, Highland Inn, Algonquin Park Station, Ont. b

PAINTERS STILL OUT

Painting and decorating is still practically at a standstill, according to the committee in charge of the painters' strike, which has been in progress in this city since a week ago today. No communication has been received by the men from the master painters, an organization of the boss painters, since the strike was proclaimed.

Four men were admitted to the union at a special meeting held on Saturday afternoon, and it is thought by the officials that nearly every employed member of the profession in the city is now a member of the union. Five more men were engaged by the T. Roberts Company, which is in charge of painting the Holeproof Hosiery building on Bathurst street this morning.

KITCHENER'S TAX RATE ESTIMATED AT 33 MILLS

KITCHENER, March 7.—It is expected that Kitchener's tax rate for 1920, which will be struck on Monday night, will be about 33 mills, according to an estimate given out here by Major Eden. The major declared that necessary equipment to the works department and the fire department would require two mills, while an additional mill is being asked for by the school board. The suburban roads commission are asking $17,000, an additional mill, but from what Mayor Eden says, there will be only one-half mill allowed by the commission.

FIRE DESTROYS LOBO RESIDENCE

Home of John Irwin Is Burned Early Sunday Morning.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Lobo, March 8.—Fire caused by a defective chimney completely destroyed the home of John Irwin of this place early Sunday morning and endangered the lives of himself and two children. Mrs. Irwin and the two other children of the family were away overnight on a visit. Mr. Irwin was awakened by the smoke and had barely time to make his escape with the children before the whole place was a mass of flames.

A general alarm was given and the neighbors responded quickly. They were unable to do much to check the fire and the dwelling was soon in ruins, as it was of frame construction.

The homeless family is being cared for by friends.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

R. BRIMBLECOMBE BURIED.

The funeral of the late William R. Brimblecombe, who died on Wednesday, took place from his late residence, 186 Wharncliffe road south, on Friday. Impressive services were conducted at the house by Rev. Mr. Ashby of St. Matthew's Church.

Interment was made in the family plot at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The pallbearers were Harry Scott, T. Fletcher, Herbert Boss, F. Preston, James Bone and Thomas Cole.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SAUNDERS.

The funeral of Mrs. Ada Saunders, who died on Friday, will be held on Tuesday afternoon from her residence, 5 York street. Rev. H. B. Ashby will conduct the services.

Mrs. Saunders, who had only been out of the hospital one day before her death, died very suddenly in her sleep; her young son, Percy, returning home from school and finding her dead. Mrs. Saunders was a daughter of William Vail, a pioneer of London. She is survived by her husband; one son, Percy; two sisters, Mrs. Shepherd of St. Thomas and Mrs. Chivarton of Charlton, and one brother, William Vail of St. Thomas.

DIED IN NEW YORK.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Miss Gladys Thompson in New York. Miss Thompson was a graduate nurse from an American hospital one year ago. She had been in New York helping to combat the influenza epidemic, contracting the disease herself. She was only 21 years of age.

Miss Thompson, with her father, George Thompson, formerly resided in this city. Miss Thompson is a granddaughter of Mrs. Polly Griffith of 61 Askin street. She is survived by her father and one brother. Burial was made in New York.

DIED AT LOBO.

William H. Brock, well known in this district, died at his home in Lobo yesterday after an illness of a few weeks, in his 76th year. Mr. Brock is survived by his widow and three sons, Harry of Detroit and Lorne and Clarence at home. The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2 o'clock from his residence in Lobo to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

MISS NELLIE IRWIN.

Miss Nellie Irwin, eldest daughter of Edward and the late Mrs. Anna Irwin, died yesterday at her home, 1174 King street, after a short illness, in her 32nd year. Miss Irwin is survived by her father, two brothers, Edward of this city and William of Toronto, and one sister, Josephine, at home.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning from her father's residence to St. Patrick's Church, where requiem high mass will be sung at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

FUNERAL OF MISS M. SCOTT.

The funeral of Miss M. Scott was held Sunday from her residence on the fourth concession of Delaware Township, to Delaware Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Headley conducted the services at the house and grave. The pall-bearers were Fred Scott, S. Scott, Alfred Scott, Geo Scott, Alex. Howlett and Gilbert Howlett.

DIED IN WINNIPEG.

Word of the death of Mrs. Vernon Crouch in Winnipeg on March 4 has been received by relatives and friends. Mr. Crouch formerly lived in this city and was employed at the Merchants' Bank. He was recently transferred to Winnipeg, and Mrs. Crouch accompanied him.

Mrs. Crouch is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pettie, four sisters, Mrs. Abbott of Detroit, Mrs. Scott of Toronto and Gladys and Maud and one brother. Interment will be made in Ensell Cemetery tomorrow.

MONEY FOR CHURCH

Cash Still Coming in for Egerton Street Edifice.

Interest in the erection of the Egerton Street Baptist Church is not confined to the Baptist denomination alone. This is evidenced by the fact that a prominent Jewish citizen recently called up Rev. A. C. Bingham and asked him if he would accept a contribution from a Jew. Mr. Bingham was somewhat surprised as well as delighted, and told him that he would. In due time a check for $10 reached Mr. Bingham.

The schools of the city have also become much interested in the rebuilding of the church. The Chesley avenue school has just completed a paper canvass of that district and sold the collection to a junk dealer for $70, which has been given to Mr. Bingham for the building fund. The Men's Brotherhood of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church have what is called a "Samaritan Fund," for which a collection is taken weekly. The last four weeks' collections have been given to the building fund, amounting to $28.05.

A member on hearing the total amount made it up to $30 out of his own pocket. Individuals are not lacking interest, not even the tiny people. One little boy, Willie Hadley, who has been saving coppers in a baking powder can, turned the whole contents over to Mr. Bingham, the amount being over the dollar mark.

A meeting was held by the teachers of St. George's School this morning, at which they decided to raise $100 for the Egerton Street Church. Principal Ed. Wyatt will be glad if any persons in the north end will give children of that school old paper and rubbers, which will be sold to help raise the stated amount.

HINDY IS BOOMED FOR PRESIDENCY OF GERMAN REPUBLIC

Berlin, March 8.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg's candidacy for the presidency of Germany is strongly urged in an appeal that has just been issued here. The appeal, according to the Morgen Post, is the outcome of an agreement between the German Nationalist party and the people's party. The Lokal Anzeiger claims to have knowledge that the field marshal would accept a nomination.

FOOD FOR POOR WENT TO HEARST, SAYS GOVERNOR

New York State Executive Accuses Newspaper Owner of Diverting War Supplies.

New York, March 8.—Gov. Smith, in a speech delivered here, reopened the campaign which was urged against William Randolph Hearst by many prominent citizens during the war. The governor, in a slashing attack, accused Hearst of diverting to his own use almost $1,000 worth of army food, which, he said, was intended to feed the poor of New York city.

"And I want to see some real newspaper ask him tomorrow whether he paid for it," said the governor, according to reports printed in the morning papers here.

The governor has bills before the assembly providing for municipal ownership, minimum wages, milk supply regulation and other reforms, but has been unable to get action on them. Speaking in regard to this legislation, he is quoted as having said:

Suggests Investigation.

"Where is Hearst? Where is this champion of the poor, this defender of the downtrodden? He is all of that when it suits his own political purposes, and at no other time. This millionaire ranch owner from California took nearly $1,000 worth of army food that was sent here to relieve the distress of the poor, and sent it to his own home. And I'd like one of the real newspapers tomorrow to ask him whether he paid for it."

Gov. Smith declared the Hearst newspapers were "unfair, unfaithful, dishonest and hypocritical." He pointed out that a special committee had been investigating unrest, Bolshevism and anarchy.

"Yet," he declared, "that committee has not yet started investigation of these newspapers, which have done more to create such unrest than any other agency."

FRENCH LABOR WILL NOT ALLOW BLOCKING OF EIGHT-HOUR LAW

Workers Will Not Relinquish Advantage Gained.

Paris, March 8.—French labor will not relinquish the advantage it has gained through the adoption of the eight-hour law, and no "backward step" will be permitted, says an open letter issued to the French Government and Parliament by the general federation of labor. Economists and Government officials have argued the law prevented the country from exerting its best efforts to increase production, and little has been done to enforce the provisions of the measure. Temporary suspension of the law has been urged, but it appears this step will be fought by labor organizations.

It is expected the proposed profit-sharing law will be reported out of committee in the Chamber of Deputies during the coming week. This measure, which seeks to give labor adequate pay, is primarily designed to interest workers in business and lessen the danger of disturbances. Those who are interested in the passage of the bill assert it will bring about intelligent co-operation and will be a substitute for the "vicious circle of increasing wages."

PROPERTY SALES AT PORT.

PORT STANLEY, March 8.—A great deal of real estate has changed hands here recently. Amongst the sales recorded being the brick residence, owned by Oscar Smith, on Colborne street, to Dr. George Jackson; the manse on George street, to F. C. Bartholomew; the McClary property on Bostwick and Hetty streets to Oscar Smith; the old Commercial House property, on Colborne and Hetty streets, to Walter Stacey; the Franklin House property, to T. Stevens, with the exception of the north portion, which has been purchased by Ed. Hoshal.

The local I. O. D E. realized the sum of $27.10 from a tea and food sale at their rooms on Friday. A boudoir cap donated by Mrs. W. Johnson, was raffled, and won by Miss Maud Payne, the money, $4, being the nucleus for the memorial hospital fund for Elgin County, to which the chapter will add from time to time.

that is supplied to the patients. In 1915 or 1916, the food allowance was cut down by the order of a Government dietitian, who inspected the hospital.

"In the worst cases investigated," the report continues, "the alleged acts of cruelty could only have been committed by men and women of the most brutal instincts, and could not possibly have been concealed from the chief officers. And very satisfactory corroboration of these charges are lacking. Admittedly, no complaint was made to any chief officer."

Individual complaints dealt with by the commissioner are:

Perry Lowerman, who claimed he had been confined in the hospital, although not insane. "Evidence showed clearly that the patient was insane," says the judge.

Frederick O. Park, who claimed to have been ill-treated by attendants. The commissioner expresses satisfaction that such was not the case.

Attendant Struck Patients.

Islay Chalmers Smith, formerly a patient in the hospital, who charged that he had seen one Alec Stewart, an attendant, strike patients. The judge finds that this charge was substantiated, and that William Glover, another attendant, also struck and kicked patients. None of these acts of violence were reported to the officers in charge.

Charlotte Holliday, who claimed to have been placed in the hospital as the result of a conspiracy. "There is no doubt but that she was insane, and that her testimony cannot be seriously considered," Judge Snider comments.

John Anderson, who charged that he had been knocked down by W. Beaumont, an attendant who has since been dismissed. This charge, Judge Snider finds to be true.

"The most serious matter attested to by Anderson," the report continues, "was brutal treatment alleged to have been accorded to a foreigner, who is now said to have gone back to Russia. It is one of the most extreme charges of brutal treatment which came before the knowledge of the G. W. V. A. It lacks corroboration, and is a case of mental derangement in which patients imagine they see and hear things which have no existence in fact."

Layman, the report declares, died a natural death from disease.

Compensation for a returned man, alleged to have been confined 26 days in the Hamilton jail before being sent to the asylum.

Judge Snider approves specifically some of the G. W. V. A. recommendations, particularly of protesting against confiscation of soldiers' gratuities, that calling for more exercise for patients, and that to provide greater protection against sane persons being committed to asylums. Some of the other recommendations, he states, are now in practice.

TEMPORARY FREIGHT

Impossible.

With the destruction of records, Superintendent C. F. Forrester stated today that it may be impossible to ever estimate exactly the extent of the damage. The freight officials have no way of learning just what freight was stored in the sheds, unless the ruins reveal the records, which they believe were totally destroyed. Superintendent Forrester stated that he believed $200,000 would cover the loss. The sheds, part of which were erected as a temporary building following the fire of about five years ago, were not worth a very large sum, owing to having been constructed of lumber. The greater part of the loss was in the contents of the sheds and the eight cars, which were valued at $60,000, without their contents.

Clearing Up.

In two places the fire was still burning this morning, but by 10.30 the firemen succeeded in getting at the blaze and extinguishing them. About 15 men were at work today clearing up the debris, while the London auxiliary removed the trucks of the destroyed cars. Acetylene torches were used to break the steel rods and beams from the debris, and the auxiliary loaded the trucks onto flat cars for removal to the east end carshops.

Superintendent Mitchell was unable to estimate the cost of erecting temporary structures, but they will be similar to the sheds destroyed. As soon as the debris is removed an effort will be made to secure the services of a large number of carpenters to rush the temporary building to completion.

Until the temporary sheds have been erected it is improbable that any freight for transfer at London will be accepted by the company. An effort will be made by the employment of additional employees to get the freight direct off cars to the local shippers to whom it is consigned, thus avoiding the possibility of the local yards becoming congested.

"I ADVISE EVERY SICK WOMAN"

To Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"I advise every suffering woman to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it has done me so much good. I had female weakness, inflammation, pains in my sides and painful periods. I suffered for six years and tried many remedies without benefit. The doctor said I must have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers, and since taking it I am cured and have a nice baby four months old. I feel like a new woman, and have recommended your medicine to my friends. I would be glad to have everybody know what your medicine did for me, and if any write to me I will answer all letters."—Mrs. MARY CALIGURE, 317 South Main St., Herkimer, N.Y.

Every woman at some period or other in her life may suffer from just such disturbances as Mrs. Caligure, and if there is no interested friend to advise, let this be a reminder that this famous root and herb remedy has been overcoming these ailments of women for more than 40 years.

If any complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years' experience is at your service.

A DANGER SIGNAL—TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

MRS. WILSON HAS GAINED 20 POUNDS

Friends Are Amazed at Her Recovery—Feels Like New Since Taking Tanlac.

"Since taking Tanlac I have gained twenty pounds in weight and all the neighbors are talking about my wonderful improvement," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Clare Wilson of 40 McSweeney avenue, Moncton, New Brunswick.

"It was about five years ago that my health failed," she continued, "and in spite of all I could do I grew worse and worse. Then in October, 1918, I had a bad case of the 'flu,' which left me in a most miserable and weakened condition. I had almost no appetite at all, and whenever I managed to eat a little of something it seemed to do me more harm than good. I had a heavy, distressing feeling all the time and I could hardly retain a thing on my stomach. My sleep was restless and often it was disturbed by horrible dreams and nightmares, and I was so nervous that even the children playing around the house upset me. I lost weight until I was scarcely more than a frame and I became so weak and rundown that I was almost a wreck.

"One day my husband brought me a bottle of Tanlac, but I had taken so many medicines without getting relief that I had become discouraged and he had to insist for some time before I consented to take it. And now I am certainly glad I tried it, for I began to improve right away. After taking five bottles I am in perfect health today, and my friends are simply amazed at my recovery. I can eat anything I please and digest it without the least trouble, and I don't have that distressing feeling after eating like I used to. My nerves are steady and I sleep sound every night; I have gained so much in weight and strength that I am really feeling like a different woman. Tanlac was certainly a blessing to me, and I am pleased to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

GOVERNMENT WHIPS TRYING TO FRIGHTEN LIBERALS INTO SPLIT

Saying King Amendment May Carry.

LIBERALS NOT WORRYING

Remain Deaf To Approaches of Union Regime—Do Not Fear Election.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, March 7.—Government whips are desperately endeavoring to make a breach in the Liberal ranks on the matter of the vote amendment to the address presented by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, calling for an appeal to the people just as soon as a franchise act has been passed, and interim supply has been voted.

It is being quietly represented to Opposition members that there is a "dancer" of the amendment being carried, and that in such case an election "which after all nobody wants," will be precipitated. Unless Opposition members "split" on the question, it is contended that the Government will be defeated.

To these approaches Liberals are deaf. Mr. King is absolutely conscientious in his stand that the present Parliament is not representative of the people, and that the present Government is neither responsible nor constitutional. He is not at all worried as to the results of an election from the purely party standpoint.

Not From Party Standpoint.

Neither are his followers, for the simple reason that they are not looking at the matter at all from the party standpoint. Should an election be precipitated, there are none so sure of re-election as those who sit at the left of Mr. Speaker.

On the other hand they are not much impressed by the representations of Government whips and canvassers to the effect that there is liable to be a heavy bolt on the amendment. Major Andrews of Centre Winnipeg has declared it his intention to vote for the amendment.

Fairly Safe Bet.

But it is a fairly safe bet that he will be the only former Government supporters, outside the members of the "farmers' party," who will do so. The prospect of a session or so more in the new quarters at $2,500 per session is much more attractive than the prospect of complete annihilation at the polls.

It is therefore safe to predict that there will be few "bolts" if any, from the Government side. It is quite as safe to predict that there will be none from the Liberal side on the King amendment.

ONTARIO WILL NEED ABOUT $7,000,000 FOR HYDRO SCHEMES

Expected To Go Ahead With Beck's Return.

TORONTO, March 8.—Seven million dollars will be required from the province and various municipalities of Ontario to carry out a series of hydro power schemes which are expected to go ahead now that Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, has returned from the old country. Much of this money will be needed for the proposed hydro radial road in Western Ontario and the development of new water powers in Eastern and Northern Ontario.

GERMAN FINANCIAL BARON IS RELEASED ON PAROLE IN UTAH

SALT LAKE, Utah, March 7.—Alvo von Alvensleben, German financial baron of the Pacific northwest before the war, and interned at Fort Douglas here since May, 1917, was granted a conditional parole yesterday, and it is expected he will leave for Seattle soon to gather together what may remain of the fortune he had invested in mines and timber lands in that region.

During the war von Alvensleben is declared to have been an active agent against Canada. He was a former lieutenant in the Germany army, but was expelled from that country because of a dispute with a superior officer. He claims that he is a cousin of the former Kaiser, which has never been proven, but it is believed much of the money he invested in the northwest was furnished by William of Hohenzollern.

Parole conditions did not stipulate that von Alvensleben return to Germany.

REDS OPEN DRIVE AGAINST POLES

LONDON, March 7.—Large forces of Bolsheviki have opened an offensive against the Poles on both sides of the Pripet region, says a dispatch to the Central News from Berlin.

The dispatch adds that the Poles report the enemy repulsed with heavy losses.

ILLICIT STILL

PARRY SOUND, March 7.—An illicit still was found in the possession of William Caskinet, a squatter on government lands, about three miles from this town, and the authorities who found the outfit and seized it stated that it had a capacity of about 50 gallons of "swamp whiskey" a day. Caskinet was fined $100 here on Saturday and four citizens of Parry Sound, whose names Caskinet gave to the police, were fined $50 each.

IMPOSSIBLE TO GROW ANYTHING, SETTLER AT KAPUSKASING STATES

Robert Rogers Tells Commission He "Tried Everything" Without Success.

KAPUSKASING, Ont., March 7.—Contrary to the expressed determination of yesterday the Kapuskasing commission did not hold sessions today. Instead, Chairman Nickle, with Commissioners Sharp and McLaren drove through the colony, going as far as Kitigan, five miles east, and paying visits to a number of the settlers. The intention, as the chairman states, was to gather at first hand information regarding the conditions in the homes of the pioneers, and to hear from the women established there their views on the general questions affecting the district. The trip was largely informal. Tomorrow the sittings will be resumed.

The proceedings, it is believed, will be completed by Tuesday. Yesterday afternoon's sitting came to an abrupt conclusion at 5 o'clock for lack of further witnesses, but there are still a number of settlers who desire to appear before the commission. To date, 48 have been heard, of whom the great majority have declared themselves dissatisfied with conditions and anxious to leave. Some would be willing to remain, and one of these thought a distinct aid to the colony would be the introduction of new blood into the entire department of lands, forests and mines. No evidence has yet been introduced on behalf of the Government by any member of the administrative staff here, the settlers having monopolized the proceedings.

Complain of Isolation.

In the tour of the homes visited today by the commission no evidence was obtained to indicate that anything the witnesses at the sessions had said was deceptive or exaggerated. The chief complaint of the women was the isolation and the lack of social life. The houses generally were warm, comfortable and well furnished, the settlers having brought their household effects with them to the north. There was nothing seen to suggest that the pioneers had been spendthrifts, but rather they had imagined that prosperity would come to the country with them, and that their plans, founded upon this idea, had failed to materialize because of conditions which they had not anticipated.

Could Not See Meat.

"You could not see the meat for maggots," William Musclow, a teamster, told the Kapuskasing commission on Saturday. Referring to the destruction of some beef at the settlement here after it had been left out in the hot sun for an indefinite period, Musclow said he had hauled 22 quarters of beef to the refrigerator from the station. Because he had not the full use of his left arm Musclow could not unload the meat, and he left it in the wagon, and notified Mr. Fanning, the assistant superintendent of the colony.

Musclow said he did not know how long the beef remained outside, but two days afterwards he was sent to the refrigerator for some beef, and he and some others had to take a few butcher knives and a couple of axes and cut off between fifty and sixty pounds from each of four quarters.

"When the meat fell on the floor it went away itself," said the witness, and he added that it was thrown away and burned.

Does Not Want To Stay.

Ben Chapman, formerly a machine fitter, said he had made expenses since coming here, but no more. He complained of getting "absolutely rotten eggs at the store." While he had understood that medical service was free, when he wanted money for sickness he had been refused by Mr. Sheppard.

It was impossible to grow anything in the country, according to Robert Rodgers, who said he had "tried everything" without success. Both he and his son-in-law, E. Taylor, wanted to get out one load of meat. Rodgers said they hauled "green and yellow" meat, and when he told the superintendent about it he was informed that he knew too much. Rodgers said Col. Innes had promised to plow fourteen acres of land which the witness had prepared for plowing, but had not done so.

Lost Much Money.

Rodgers alleged that there had been tampering with his own and his family time sheets, and claimed to have lost much money.

C. Feno testified that through the Government not living up to its own fire restrictions he lost his buildings and effects, valued at $1,400, which were burned on July 22 last, in a fire which had been smouldering for some time. Feno was very emphatic in his expressed desire to get out. Sam Fleming had faith in the country, and said he had grown good potatoes and oats last year. He had the best pulpwood in the district, he said. Fleming had a grievance against Miss Wright, the school teacher. He said he had to send two of his children to Bruce County because they were put out of school here.

Agreements Altered.

James Davis said he had brought $2,450 to the colony and had spent it all. He said agreements made in writing had been altered without his knowledge.

W. J. Gardner said he had been presented with a bill for $1,188.93 for a house estimated to cost $550, but "it did not make much difference, as I don't intend to pay it," he added.

G. W. Harrow, an Australian who fought at Gallipoli, said he was hurt in an accident at the colony barn, and his wages were stopped by the Government during the time he was incapacitated. He thought he should have been given light work, which was available, he claimed.

WILL TEST DRY LAW IN SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The constitutionality of the prohibition amendment and portions of the enforcement act will be argued tomorrow before the supreme court.

The question is involved in original proceedings brought by Rhode Island to have the amendment declared invalid and its enforcement enjoined as well as in appeals from Kentucky and Massachusetts, where federal courts have sustained constitutional prohibition.

As the court is permitting the cases to be heard ahead of their regular order, court officials expect an early decision. In view of previous decisions relative to prohibition little hope is held out for relief for the "wets."

WINDSOR BUTCHER KILLED IN STORE SATURDAY NIGHT

Police Have Little To Guide Them in Search For Murderer.

WINDSOR, March 7.—Morris Rappaport, 31 years old, proprietor of a small grocery and meat market, 152 Marion avenue, was shot to death in his store shortly before 11 o'clock last night by an unknown man who afterwards made his escape. Police believe robbery was the motive, as the till contained more than $30.

A huge meat cleaver which lay beside Rappaport's hand, when his wife found his body on the floor, indicated that the man may have made an effort to defend himself, but that the bandit fired before he could attack. The bullet was fired from a 32-calibre revolver and entered Rappaport's neck severing the jugular vein and passing downward into the lungs. The man bled to death in five minutes.

Neighbors report having seen a tall man wearing a long overcoat leave the store about the time of the shooting. This is the only clue the police have to the slayer. A postmortem performed this afternoon by Doctors McGauvin and Pepin proved conclusively that the bullet had been fired from a weapon held by a man of more than average height.

Rappaport came to Windsor two years ago from Toronto. Two uncles of the murdered man now reside there.

HEADS CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

OTTAWA, March 7.—Robert Colvin of Hamilton was again elected president of the Dominion Customs Officers' Association at the closing session of the annual meeting of that body in the Chateau Laurier on Saturday afternoon. J. F. Baillie of Toronto was elected member of the executive for Toronto.

If Thin, Nervous, Run Down, Depressed, This Will Help!

The wear and strain of life has tended in recent years to produce nervous debility in a large percentage of our population.

Thousands are affected with a feeling they can't exactly describe. They are always tired and droopy, lack ambition, have poor appetite, look pale and suffer from depressing headaches and insomnia.

This condition is full of peril. It is the stepping stone to invalidism, the beginning of a shattered constitution.

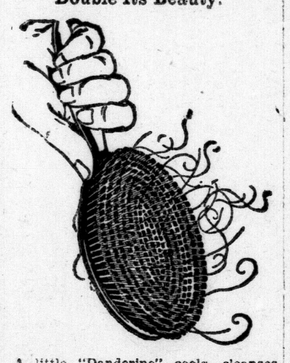

We advise everyone in this condition to take a good medicine at once and try to get well while yet there is time.

Probably no better advice can be given than to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which have become famous in restoring the sick to good health. A general toning up of the system at once takes place. The whole body is vitalized by rich and purer blood. The appetite is increased, food is digested and naturally strength rapidly increases. Headaches go because the bowels are regulated and all wastes are carried off.

There is no experiment about using Dr. Hamilton's Pills because they certainly restore the sick, as a trial will quickly prove. Just as good for the old as the young, and suitable to the needs of women and children. This grand family medicine should be in every home.

TWO VIEWS OF SCENE OF SUNDAY MORNING BLAZE

G.T.R. FREIGHT SHEDS DESTROYED BY FIRE IN EARLY SUNDAY HOURS

Eight Freight Cars Also Burned With Contents — Damage Will Exceed Quarter Million—Blaze Visible For Score of Miles Around City—Citizens Leave Beds To Watch Fire Fighters At Work.

Fire of unknown origin wrought complete destruction to the Grand Trunk freight sheds, York and Wellington streets, early Sunday morning, and also destroyed eight freight cars loaded with merchandise, which were on the sidetrack immediately south of the sheds. The damage will exceed $200,000, but officials of the Grand Trunk were unable to say on Sunday night just how great it would be.

The freight sheds were packed with freight, unloaded from cars Friday and Saturday, and H. MacDougall, the local agent, stated yesterday that it was an absolute impossibility to estimate the value of the freight. The eight cars destroyed cost approximately $80,000, and the contents would be worth several thousand dollars, according to the freight officials.

Fire Chief Aitken stated that the blaze was one of the most difficult to fight that he had encountered in his many years of service with the local department. When the firemen arrived on the scene the entire centre part of the building was a mass of flames. The alarm was received at midnight and ten minutes later the blaze was at its worst. The firemen had seven streams playing on the blaze a few minutes after their arrival but with a strong wind blowing, and owing to the pine packing cases in the building, the water had little effect on the fire.

Warehouse in Danger.

The firemen devoted most of their attention to keeping the flames from the bonded warehouse at the corner of Waterloo and York streets, at the east end of the sheds, while the G. T. R. yardmen moved forty cars from the sidetracks immediately south of the burning building.

Several firemen suffered from frostbites, and were forced to fight the blaze with their coats and hats covered with ice. In several instances the hose froze to the fire-fighters' coats, and icicles hung from the rims of their hats. The caking of the ice on the workers' coats made it difficult for them to handle the hose, while at times during the fight against the flames they had to take off their mitts, finding it impossible to work with the ice caked on them. It was due to this that some firemen had their fingers frozen. Others had their ears frostbitten, while a few, who were drenched with the water, suffered frost bites on their faces.

Acetylene Explodes.

Shortly after the arrival of the department two acetylene tanks, packed amongst other freight near the centre of the building exploded. This sent up a white blaze which was easily distinguished amid the other flames. The burning liquid flowed out onto the tracks, where the eight cars were already a mass of flames.

One car contained white lead, while another was loaded with red paint. When the flames reached these a great glare went up. The other cars contained cases of gentlemen's suits and sweaters, which were completely destroyed. The ironwork of the cars containing the paint and white lead was bent into various shapes by the terrific heat.

The blaze was under control by 3 o'clock and was practically extinguished when the relief shift came on duty at 7 o'clock. One stream was kept playing on the smouldering embers until noon.

Fire Chief Aitken stated that the pressure was never better at a fire in London, due, he believed, to the fact that the fire occurred on Sunday morning, when all industrial plants were shut off.

The yardmen found it impossible to move the eleven cars which were on the track immediately next to the sheds, but the cars on the other tracks, which were westbound, were moved to safety. About fifty cars were in danger when the blaze was first discovered. Three of the eleven were saved by the firemen.

Valuable Records Saved.

Valuable records in the office of the sheds were saved by the firemen, assisted by several policemen, who also saved a score of typewriters before the blaze reached the office. Other records were destroyed, however, and the freight officials expect to encounter considerable difficulty straightening out matters with shippers whose documents were lost.

The fire of Sunday morning is by no means the first that the London fire department has been called upon to fight at the G. T. R. freight sheds. About two years ago the west end of the building was destroyed with heavy loss, while in 1914 the entire building was gutted. The two previous fires were not nearly as difficult to fight as the one of Sunday morning, and in neither case were cars destroyed.

The reflection from the fire could be seen for a score of miles, and the local telephone office was bombarded with calls from surrounding towns and villages where the residents were anxious to know the nature of the blaze. Many Londoners who had retired for the night left their beds to witness the fire, with the result that a large crowd gathered in a short time.

Blanket Insurance.

The sheds, cars and freight are covered by a blanket insurance which may cover the entire loss. Only recently the officials of the Grand Trunk endeavored to have the insurance on the building increased, but whether or not the matter was put through by the officials at Montreal is not known by Superintendent C. F. Forrester of the London division.

That work will begin immediately on new buildings on the present site there appears to be no doubt in the minds of the London officials. No freight will be accepted today, but H. MacDougall, the agent, expects to be in a position to accept freight tomorrow. No freight will be accepted from other towns or cities in the district which would have to be transferred at London, pending the erection of temporary sheds.

It is likely that old freight cars will be placed on the sheds' sidings for the storage of freight prior to shipping and for receiving of incoming freight. Two or three old coaches will likely be fitted up, with the seats taken out, for the accommodation of the office staff while the temporary building is being constructed.

NIGHT COUGHS PREVENT SLEEP
WEAR OUT THE SYSTEM.

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night is very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

You will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy without an equal for curing coughs and colds, soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening and healing the breathing organs and fortifying them against serious pulmonary disease.

Mrs. Fred Fairburn, Copper Cliff, Ont., writes: "I caught a heavy cold, got a sore throat and had a terrible hacking cough that I could not get rid of. I could not sleep at night. I had tried quite a few remedies, but they did not seem to do me much good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. By the time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone.

"It seemed to loosen the cough right away so that I could spit up the phlegm that gathered in my throat, and also took that hot, raw, burning fever out of my bronchial tubes. I feel that Dr. Wood's has no equal."

MACLEAN MAY GO TO CANADIAN-VICKERS FIRM

OTTAWA, March 7.—It is understood that Hon. A. K. McLean, former minister without portfolio in the Union Government, will become chief counsel for the Canadian Vickers Company of Montreal.

Mr. McLean's name has been mentioned for several positions. It has been rumored that he would be appointed to a position on the exchequer court bench of Canada. It has further been dumored that he would succeed T. C. Boville as deputy minister of finance. The most reliable authorities, however, declare that he will go to Canadian-Vickers.

VENEREAL DISEASE WORSE ENEMY THAN BOOZE EVIL

Social Service Worker Addresses Men's Brotherhood.

T. D. McCullough, secretary of the social service council, addressed the Men's Brotherhood at King Street Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning on "Social Legislation." He outlined the work of the social service council, and told the listeners that without deepening of the spiritual life of man the stream of social life would dry up.

He touched on the question of minimum wages for girls and women and women's pensions. Dealing with the question of veneral diseases he said that an eminent Toronto doctor had stated that fourteen per cent of cases which came into his hospital could be traced to veneral disease through blood tests.

He hoped a bill would be passed by the Government to combat the enemy, which was worse than that which the prohibition forces had to combat. If the bill passed it would require everyone contemplating marriage to go under a medical test prior to the marriage license being issued.

Mr. McCullough was one of the representatives of the social service council, who interviewed Premier E. C. Drury with a request that certain questions be taken up at the next government session.

It was announced that next Sunday Prof. L. A. Wood would address the Men's Brotherhood along the same line that Mr. McCullough followed yesterday. It was also announced that Rev. Banks Nelson of Knox Church, Hamilton, would address the brotherhood on the Sinn Fein question shortly.

$100,000 FIRE AT SYDNEY.

Sydney, N. S., March 8.—Loss estimated at $100,000 was sustained by the Dominion Steel Corporation when their electrical warehouse was completely destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The fire is supposed to have originated from crossed electric wires.

MADE IN CANADA

The varnished boat puts its surface coating to strenuous tests and emphasizes what we can expect from varnish in our own homes.

That metal roof—what a life it leads if not given surface protection. Rust, leaks, ruined ceilings, expense, can all be charged to neglect of the roof's surface. Save the surface.

Post-Mortem

THIS drawing is from a photograph of a veranda post from which the paint has been allowed to wear off. Is it not eloquent?

This was a good post not so very long ago but it has now gone beyond redemption. Think of the trivial cost of the paint to protect the post and keep it sound.

Every crack in this post started from the outside. Those deep checks were at the first little checks. Once the surface was broken down, the damage was under way.

How much is similar deterioration under way on your property? Do you dare to say? Have you examined it or just taken for granted that its condition is sound? Have you examined the siding of your building? Have you inspected the eave troughs and other metal trim? Have you seen the roof lately—have you really looked at it in years? Are you watching the floors, and woodwork, and furniture, inside the house?

Your thoughtful answer to these questions we do not ask that you give us: give them to yourself. You owe it to yourself and to those who will inherit your property to ask these questions and answer them.

All over this country property is rotting, rusting, crumbling, wearing, which a surface coating of paint and varnish would save.

The most needless, useless, senseless, and most aggravating loss in the world is loss due to neglect on our own part. Isn't it so?

Save the surface and you save all.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is issued by the Canadian Save the Surface Campaign Committee, for the purpose of educating the public in the Preservative and Protective value of Paint, Varnish and Allied Products for the Conservation of Property, and has received the approval of the Canadian Trade Commission in the following words:

RESTORE RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT.

For a few years past The Advertiser has been asking for the restoration of responsible government.

We need it badly in the government of the Province of Ontario, and the sound commonsense possessed by the premier of the province gives good grounds to hope that when he is fairly in the saddle, he will not tolerate a government within the Government that bullies and threatens it if it does not get its own way. He will not let the tail wag the dog. He will not say put Hydro out of politics. He will say Hydro is public business and public business is politics. It belongs to the Government of the country, not the Government to it. It should be made a department of Government and take its place side by side with the other departments.

In the Dominion House of Commons, the leader of the Opposition, Mackenzie King, has asked for the restoration of responsible government, for an early election that will wipe out the stain of the war-time franchise act and let the people again govern.

Not long ago Mr. John Lewis, editor of Liberal publications, delivered an address in Montreal on "Freedom and Order." We quote the concluding part of it, which puts the point as well as it can be put. He said in concluding:

> The character of the Government is just what might have been expected from its origin. Men do not gather grapes from thorns and figs from thistles, and we have had an abundant crop of thorns and thistles. In its early days it was violent and tyrannical. It ignored Parliament and carried out its will by thousands of orders-in-council, one following another so rapidly that a skilled lawyer could hardly undertake to advise his client from day to day as to the state of the law. It passed orders of the most drastic kind even when Parliament was in session. It placed its arbitrary orders above the judgment of the courts and the sacred principles of British law.
>
> Today, we find it in the second page. It has rushed from one extreme to the other, from the extreme arrogance to the extreme of weakness. Having in its early stage exceeded its powers, it now seems incapable of using its legitimate powers. It wobbles and vacillates. Its weakness is the familiar story of those who do business with it, and the despair of its friends.
>
> The remedy is to get back to responsible government and representative government. We need a parliament fairly elected and representative in the country, and we need a government responsible to parliament and as nearly as possible representative of all sections of the people in Canada. If we are afraid of Bolshevism, the best safeguards against Bolshevism are freedom and order, and a restored respect for free institutions.
>
> I am far from contending that these institutions are perfect or incapable of improvement, or from censuring or discouraging those who would reform them. But I would seek to restore the confidence of the people in the deliberation of Parliament and the orderly processes of law, and to encourage the sentiment that the institutions of our country are in the real sense popular and democratic and founded upon the public will. I want every elector to feel that his duty is not only to obey the law, but to have his due share in making the law, and to choose those who make the laws and administer them. I want to see this a democratic country in the real sense—in which every man and woman will feel it to be his duty not only to cast his vote on election day once every few years, but to study public questions every day and put his whole heart and mind into the promotion of the welfare of the country.

THE TEACHER PROBLEM.

More than 100,000 teaching positions in the public schools of the United States are today either vacant or filled by teachers below the standard of qualification, according to figures just given out by the secretary of the National Education Association. At the same time the attendance at normal schools and other teacher-training institutions has dropped 20 per cent, which means that the situation is going to become worse in the immediate future. We may not be in quite as bad position in Canada at the present time, but we are heading that way and will only check the tendency by taking very seriously to heart the fact that the school teacher is under no obligation to sacrifice his or her life for the benefit of a community that wants its children to receive the best of education, but declines to pay the price.

At a time when the country needs not only leaders in education and research, but that the whole standard of education among the people should be raised, it is unfortunate that there should be forces at work to lower that standard. There has never been a period in history when education was so much lauded as during the last ten years, and never a time when school teachers were reduced to worse straits to make both ends meet. The lowered purchasing price of money has hit all classes, but as far as the teachers are concerned it has cut their salaries about half. In the war period the less was borne more or less uncomplainingly, but today there is only one solution as far as the individual teacher, either in the United States or Canada is concerned, and that is to get more money, or leave teaching for some other employment that will pay properly for service.

The National Education Association in the course of its inquiry found that the states in which salaries and standards were highest had the most nearly adequate supply of teachers. Thus California has a shortage of but 3½ per cent, Massachusetts of 4½ per cent, and Illinois of 7 per cent, while on the other hand, in some of the southern states as much as one-third of the schools are without teachers or manned by makeshifts. With regard to the supply of teachers for the future the National Education Association's figures are not encouraging. In 1916 there were in 78 normal schools in the United States, a total of 33,051 teachers in training. In 1919 these same schools had 26,134 enrolled, a falling off of nearly 7,000. When it is remembered that the demand for properly trained teachers is greater today than it was in 1916 this falling away becomes even more marked.

No community has the right to expect its teachers to carry on their work at personal sacrifice. Young men and women who want to make money should never go into teaching to accomplish the end. As a class school teachers are not the owners of fine automobiles, suburban villas or summer cottages at the seashore. They are not the patrons of the fashionable tailors or dressmakers. They do not spend their winters at Palm Beach or their summers at Newport. They do not own opera boxes, hold shares in country clubs, or find their names mentioned as among those present at society's functions. Instead they spend seven trying hours a day during a considerable part of the year in endeavoring to give the boys and girls—our boys and girls—knowledge, training and discipline that will make of them useful and industrious men and women. And their greatest reward probably comes late in life in the realization that boys and girls whose character they helped to shape, did fulfill the promise of earlier days and became useful men and women. There is always sufficient altruism in the teaching profession without the community seeking to impose still further upon the men and women who fulfill their most important function in our life as a people. It is time that as a nation we realized this.

MILITARY TRAINING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Our friends south of the line, at least in some of the States, are warmly discussing the pros and cons of military training as part of the course of physical training in the schools. Col. Griesbach and some others in this country are advocates of universal military training, so the question may become, if it is not already, a practical one for Canadians to answer.

General Wood, who is too broad-minded to be called a mere militarist, claims it as a virtue in military training that it teaches its recipients "to do things when told and as told and to do them with exactness." His opponents call unreasoning obedience a questionable virtue, if not a vice. They hold that it may become a soldier, but it does not become a free man to merit Tennyson's characterization:

> Theirs not to reason why,
> Theirs not to make reply,
> Theirs but to do and die.

Prof. E. C. Rowe, an eminent American psychologist, is willing, at least for argument's sake, to grant the claim that the American proved himself a model of soldierly virtues in the ranks, but points out that history proves that the soldier class returned to civil life does not show increased respect for authority, for civil law or for the ordinary social restraints. He asks: "What is the concrete evidence following the world's great wars? What of the respect (or lack of respect) for the rights of other people following the Thirty Years' War, the Napoleonic wars, and even the last war? In every one of these instances the evidence points to the conclusion that military training and military experience develop respect for force and for authority and rights backed by force, and that the returned soldier everywhere tends toward a primitive and elemental view of society in which force is dominant. Force 'to the hilt' was the dominating conception of military trained Prussia. And force 'to the hilt' is the dominating conception of nearly all professional soldiers, whether Prussian or not. It is not even necessary to go out of our own country to see the disrespect for rights and the exaggerated conception of force that follow large and rather extensive military training and military experience. It was so after the Civil War; it is now. Witness the rioting of recent months, the attacks upon theatres and conventions, the evidence adduced at the coroner's inquest at Centralia, Washington, and lastly the recent warning issued by their commander to the members of the American Legion."

The child or man habituated to blind, unreasoning obedience, is a rudderless craft, when released from authority and thrown on his own initiative. The kind of obedience recommended by General Wood is not the kind wanted in a democracy. What democracy wants is respect for law and constitutional procedure, not a worship of the command issued with the punch of autocracy. Perhaps the worst feature of all in military training for boys is the development of autocracy, and of its brutal spirit in the whole people.

THE CARDINAL.

A bit of flame in feathers,
Out in the garden grey,
Has set the pine trees singing
And charmed their gloom away.

The presence of the cardinal and his mate at the bird gatherings of one's garden seems to give the note of dignity and bestowed favor of honored guests. The cardinal has a haughtiness of beauty, a complacency as to his attractiveness, but an alluring charm withal. A wonderful bit of brilliance is he on the dark evergreens or flitting above the whiteness of the snow-covered lawns, and though he is so crimson in winter his plumage is still brighter in summer. He tells you, all so proudly, of the loveliness of his peerless little mate. Her body is tinted with lovely evading pastel shades, and to reflect loyally the glory of her mate, and proclaim her his; her beak is a bright crimson and her wings tinged with the same flaming hue. No wonder he sings as has been interpreted of him "Dear-Dear-Hear-He-ar-He-ar-Quick-Quick Hurry-Hurry-Hurry." He wants the whole listening world to know of what and whom he is singing.

Shy he must be because he does not come with his mate to the window feeding board unless he feels sure none but the birds are about. Nevertheless, several in London have had the thrill of watching him closely through field glasses, as he leisurely roamed from tree twigs to summer house, across to a neighboring fence and yard and back again to trees, and the wonder of his gorgeous coloring never allows his visits to become commonplace to even accustomed eyes.

There is a possibility of a flood this spring, but after experiencing fifteen weeks of zero winter and return of the flu there is no prospect that can scare us.

From Here and There

ONE SHOW YET UNSHOWN.

[New York Evening Sun.]

Chow, collie, wire-haired terrier, Airedale—every dog has not only his day in the grand canine jamboree, but his very special, separate exhibition. All his points are duly appreciated and advertised. To achieve glory he is not obliged to do anything. It is enough that he stands there like a living statue or promenades up and down like a prince who shows his genial democracy by walking about where all the crowd can see him.

Why is the most extraordinary of animals left without a show? Is it not enough to say that he is one. The fact that all the world's a stage, with performances going on every minute, admission free, bring your family and friends—the fact, we repeat, of the entertaining quality of all the creature's behavior, is irrelevant. As it is he must amuse and amaze as a by-product of some other profession. This is unfair.

We plead for a man-show, where this noble creature may be considered irrespective of any so-called achievement. He should be judged on points alone. Of course, the number of entries must be limited, so as to leave a certain number of spectators. But this could be very well arranged by ruling out all those curious survivals of another age, who insist on doing some kind of daily work. They could attend the show evenings and holidays on the payment of a large entrance fee.

But the real characteristic human type of this period, having little else to do, is in a position to devote himself whole-heartedly to such a demonstration. In fact, it is in a spirit of charity that we make the suggestion. He does not appear to know what he is here for, and we are telling him. It is to show himself, a man. Note the comma. The difference between the past and present ideals may be indicated by that mark. Read the sentence without it, and you revert to an almost unforgotten day.

FISHERMAN DO IT EVERYWHERE.

[Zanzibar Gazette.]

On Monday evening a native fisherman arrived in a ngalawa with a story that while fishing off Boydu Island, which lies between the Rufiji and Mafia, he hooked a huge fish which towed his ngalawa in a northerly direction. He states that for three days and nights his craft was dragged through the water until he sighted Kizimkazi, where, owing to lack of food and water he was forced to release the fish and proceed unhampered to Zanzibar. He describes the fish as a shark, and it is possible that he hooked a whale-shark of the kind found in the Mafia Channel.

THE BABU'S BEST.

[London Morning Post.]

The Babu certainly stands unsurpassed as a writer of really unctuous flattery when he is soliciting a favor. Few compliments could exceed that of the Bengalee who concluded a petition with the pious hope that "by the grace of God, a gentleman your highness much resembles," he might obtain his request.

JUDGE ARCHIBALD SAYS PAROLE SYSTEM IS GREAT SUCCESS.

[Montreal Herald.]

The Dominion Government has an official who is introducing new ideas in penology; in particular, the idea of restoring to society those members of it who have temporarily left it.

Judge Archibald, speaking in the pulpit of the Stewarton Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, a few days ago, pointed out that the parole system of dealing with prisoners had been a great success. He quoted figures to show that for the past twenty years in Canada 1,845 men had been released on parole, and that of these over 10,000 had redeemed themselves.

A person born with criminal instincts need not necessarily become a criminal. The right sort of environment may save him from indulging his criminal propensities and keep him a good citizen in spite of the handicaps with which he was born; also it is equally true, that it is not necessary that those who are mentally defective or sub-normal should become criminal. On the other hand the normal person is by no means exempt from the possibility of becoming criminal.

It has been demonstrated that the Canadian parole system is working harmoniously with the principles of law and order in every community, and that it has never been governed by any mawkish sentimentality. The administrator of justice realizes that the inmates of our institutions are prisoners under the law sentenced to confinement on account of crime, and to convert a penal institution into a place of recreation and amusement would be to pervert the purpose for which it was instituted.

The parole, as an ultimate test of a restored capacity for a permanent citizenship is of inestimable value to a community.

In re-entering society the paroled prisoner should not be placed in a false position, supported by concealment or deception, where a discovery of misrepresentation would add to any prejudice already existing in a community against a discharged convict. I have always found it best, in recommending men to positions to have the head of the firm, or some responsible person, understand fully that the man has been in trouble, and, as far as possible, give him the cause of his weakness.

There is nothing automatic in the operation of our system, as each case is considered on an individual merit or basis, and it cannot conflict with any remissions earned in the penitentiaries, which system applies to all prisoners whose conduct and industry merit consideration.

In Canada matters of clemency rest exclusively on the prerogative of the crown, and the governor-general is the vested authority for every parole or pardon issued.

It can be said, in view of clemency methods adopted in other countries, that all these systems acknowledge the principle of "a conditional liberty" to the citizen who has forfeited it by crime, and that a gradual restoration and rehabilitation is not only feasible, but it is expedient to the higher and best interests of the individual as well as the state. This is a system which strengthens the weak and fits them again for contact with society, and when they are sufficiently strong, restores them to full liberty and good citizenship.

The parole movement came into operation in Canada under the late Hon. David Mills, then minister of justice, in the year 1899. He was followed in office by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, now lieutenant-governor of the Province of Quebec, who not only took a deep interest in the movement, but placed it on a well-organized plan of operation. Following Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, the Hon. Sir A. B. Aylesworth came into office, whose executive ability, with his strong humanitarian convictions and judicial mind, paid much attention to the operation of this law, and the present minister of justice, the Hon. C. J. Doherty, assisted by the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, solicitor-general, have been working out this organization with splendid success. The solicitor-general occupies a unique position, having at his right hand the chief of the remission branch, Mr. J. D. Clarke, who is assisted by a staff of officers with years of experience in reviewing and compiling the cases in connection with the remission branch of the department of justice. The trial judges, magistrates, etc., the wardens of the penitentiaries, the superintendents of the reformatories, provincial prisons, etc., furnish confidential reports. In many criminal cases the parole officer investigates and arranges for the prisoner his first friend, and sees that every prisoner released on parol has a suitable and helpful counsellor.

An ex-prisoner of Kingston Penitentiary, who was released on parole some time before the war broke out, was given a commission from one of the Western Provinces. He was at the front from the outbreak of the war, and worked his way steadily until he was given command of a celebrated fighting battalion.

Another man who was paroled from a Canadian penitentiary and enlisted in a Canadian battalion, won the Military Medal and also the Bar of the Military Medal, and has been wounded four times. He is now a non-commissioned officer, and spoken well of by all his superiors.

Another one I mention was paroled from a Canadian institution, was promoted to a non-commissioned officer, and was later given a full commission. He won distinction in the heavy fighting at Courcelette.

Another ex-prisoner who had been paroled from a Canadian penitentiary, and had served with distinction for a year or more, was killed in action. The general informed me that his body was found forty yards in advance of any other member of that battalion.

I also cite the case of another ex-prisoner who was unable to pass the medical examination in Canada, but he paid his own way across to the continent to join the battalion of an officer who had formerly been a penitentiary officer, and this man served with great distinction in France. He was several times wounded, and has been promoted to sergeant, and recommended for a decoration.

LOVE OF THE WILD

BY ARCHIE P. McKISHNIE

He drew the young man towards the house, and half way across the yard Boy stoped and hurled a look down across the valley.

"Bill," he cried. "I told you I would wait till you come back, and now you're back I'm goin'."

"Boy," said Paisley, "he ain't there."

"Where's he gone?"

"He got away last night," said Paisley. "He was hurt bad. I guess old Joe did it. They carried him off, and he won't come back here again, Boy."

"Let me go," cried the young man, shaking himself free. "I don't care where he's gone, Bill, I'll follow him—and——"

He snatched up the rifle leaning against the ash-leach and dashed across toward the creek. Paisley followed more slowly. He came up as Boy was pushing his canoe into the ice-coated creek.

"The ducks are leavin' today, Boy," he said, "look at 'em. They've had a glad time here this season, I guess, take it all round. Look at 'em, Boy,—they don't seem to want to go very much, do they?"

Boy glanced up, then he stood erect in the boat and watched the detached flocks of frantic water fowl swerve and pitch and at last mingle in the greater flocks fading south. Sweetly and shrilly their strong wings beat the frosty air, the sound of their pinions now rising, now fading, and at last thundering as the great flocks dropped low as though to bid the old marsh feeding-ground a last good-by.

"They're goin', Bill," he remarked absently. "Even the little teal that were hatched right here in this ma'sh are goin'. Seems odd, don't it? I guess they know it's come winter."

"Seems like they know it has," answered Paisley, "and I'm thinkin' they're sorter promisin' this old dead ma'sh they'll come back when it's spring and nest again. 'Member the old grey duck's nest me and you found down near the otter-run, Boy? Gosh, I'd never believed an old ma duck could take on like that one did. Kept flyin' right in my face, and there her little ducklin's, just hatched, kept divin' in the water and pointin' their heads sideways like they were sicking her on to me and enjoyin' seein' me get a whalin'. By gum, my face was sore for more'n a week where her wings brushed it. And you—why you just stood there laughin' at me gettin' ahe whippin'."

Boy was smilin' now, his head lagging on his breast, his hands blue with the cold, clasping and unclasping the paddle.

"The little devils," he said softly, "the little devils. I don't suppose there is anythin' cuter than the little wild things of the ma'sh, Bill. I've been out springs with Davie, and you know how he can handle birds and things. I've seen baby snipe, baby rats, baby rails, and all the little babies of the ma'sh. They're all like them ducklin's. There's none of 'em scared and all of 'em sassy."

Paisley bent and pulled the skiff high up on the bank. He took Boy's arm in his and they went back along the walk together. And as they turned, the skies darkened and the snow began to fall in zigzag sheets that hid the flocks of migrating wild ducks, and the low song of their beating wings grew more muffled and at last died away altogether.

"There's somethin' I want to tell, you, Boy," said Paisley softly, when at last the companions sought the path to the house. "Me and Mary Ann is goin' to be married in the spring. I reckon you'll be glad to know it."

Boy did not lift his eyes from the ground.

"I sorter o' knowed all along you and Mary Ann would marry some day," he said. "And, Bill, I am glad—glad as I can be today."

The inner door of the McTavish home had been taken from its leather hinges to make an additional table for the guests assembled. Seated about that table were most of the fathers and mothers of Bushwhackers' Place. Fat, tousel-headed children ran and toddled and crept about the wide floor. The table was laden with all of the good things that the Bushwhackers weer accustomed to partake of. A couple of fragrant boiled hams, a great deal of corn bread, ried venison, fresh venison, cucumber pickles, boiled rice, a deep custard made in a milk pan by the deft hands of widow Ross, who now sat at the had of the table and dished it out proudly; strong tea and cream and maple sugar to make the rice palatable. In addition to these delicacies Peeler had brought along some smoked fish of his own special brand. Widow Ross had brought coffee—a rarity in those days, and each of the Bushwhackers had brought something eatable to swell the good cheer. It was a big spread, and the men and women there assembled were doing justice to it. If there was gloom the people were doing their best to dispel it. A lull fell on the place as Boy and Paisley entered and took their places at the table. Big McTavish helped them to meat and potatoes and then he began:

"We've been goin" on and summin up. Seems likely to us that Hallibut's gang will come back here right soon again, and we've been talkin' over what we'd better do. Hallibut's likely goin' to bring down a bigger force next time, we think. From what the widder tells us, there's no doubt that he burned his own boat. She says they woke her up about three in the mornin', and they were in a big hurry. She wanted to get up and dress Simpson's wounds, but they told her to mind her own business. She tried to see who was in the gang, but they kept in the dark. About half an hour after they had gone she seen the schooner burnin'. Now, it's just this way. Hallibut has an excuse to push us off here, as he wants to do, for, of course, he'll say we burned his boat and poor old Noah. And we, on the other hand, have an excuse to shoot Hallibut. But we mus'n't do anythin' rash, boys. We must be careful."

Boy looked about the room in search of Gloss. He did not see her and rightly divined that she was grieving, in some hidden place, over the death of her old friend.

He arose and passed unnoticed from the room. The sky was dark with storm clouds and the snow was falling. He took the path toward the grove and as he passed the leach no dog lifted his head and watched him. He entered the bush, but no dog followed him. That part lay behind. In the old play house, cold and dreary and dark, Boy found the girl.

"Gloss," he said and she answered without lifting her head.

"I couldn't help it, Boy. I had to come. I know I did wrong, and after what happened last night I know I should be careful. But, oh, Boy, I can't bear to think of it at all. It's terrible!"

Boy went over and sat on a corner of the stump table. He did not attempt to pacify her. He did not know how. He felt his impotency, and it made him miserable.

"Nobody will konw, nobody can know how good Noah has been to me," sobbed Gloss. "Oh, Boy, I don't know how I'll get along without him. I shut my eyes and I can see him there, and then I see him on that burnin' boat, and I see the fire all about him, reachin' it's red fingers for him. Oh," she gasped, "I can't bear it, Boy. I can't. I can't."

He lifted her up and bore her out to the snow-carpeted open. She had not mentioned Simpson's name. He was thankful for that. She clung to him, her warm breath biting his cheek and her hot tears eating his soul. And so he half carried, half led her back to the house.

"Go in and ly down," he said gently. She loosened her arms slowly, looking into his eyes, and when she had gone he leaned weakly against the wall.

The guests had finished dinner and Mrs. Declute was blocking the space between the table and the fireplace with her matronly figure and discourring on the probabilities of a hard, long winter.

"As I was tellin' Ander on our way over, just exactly four years ago today Mcses and Zaccheus was down with chicken-pox and David and lette Rebecca was gettin' the symptoms of it when it sot in dark and snowy like it is today. Winter took a tight hold for nigh three months. Wh, you remember there wa'nt no loggin' done that winter, and the wolves starved to death in the timber. Deer, too, and turkey, and I guess thar wa'nt no visitin' done much either, and give my life if thar was one dance in the whole Bushwhackers' Place. Why, it got cold and stayed cold, and Joseph, our cat, friz stiff on the ladder when he was climbin' to the loft in the barn. And every sign p'ints to jest sech another winter comin'."

"It looks as though winter was here to stay, all right," observed Peeler, "and we're like to have a hard one, too. The rats are buildin' deep and strong."

"My boy, Tom, he cut down a squirrel tree yesterday," declared Mrs. Ross, "and that squirrel had stored up feed for a long winter. Hope, though, we don't have one like that one o' four years ago. I had both ears and one toe friz that winter."

"Guess we all better get home," laughed Declute, "else we'll have to build some snowshoes to travel on."

"Yes," said Mrs. Peeler, "and I guess the cattle and sheep won't care about standin' out in this storm."

Gloss came out and sat at the table. Mary Ann Ross sat down near her, and Bill Paisley, stepping carefully through the babies, drew close enough to the girls to say:

"Didn't know that you intended to come over, Mary Ann."

"Ma thought we ought to come," said the girl.

"Did you hear them prohesyin' a long winter?" asked Paisley.

Mary Ann looked up and smiled.

"It can't be too long to suit me," she retorted.

"I wish it was spring right now" sighed Bill.

Gloss raised her head and looked inquiringly at the two.

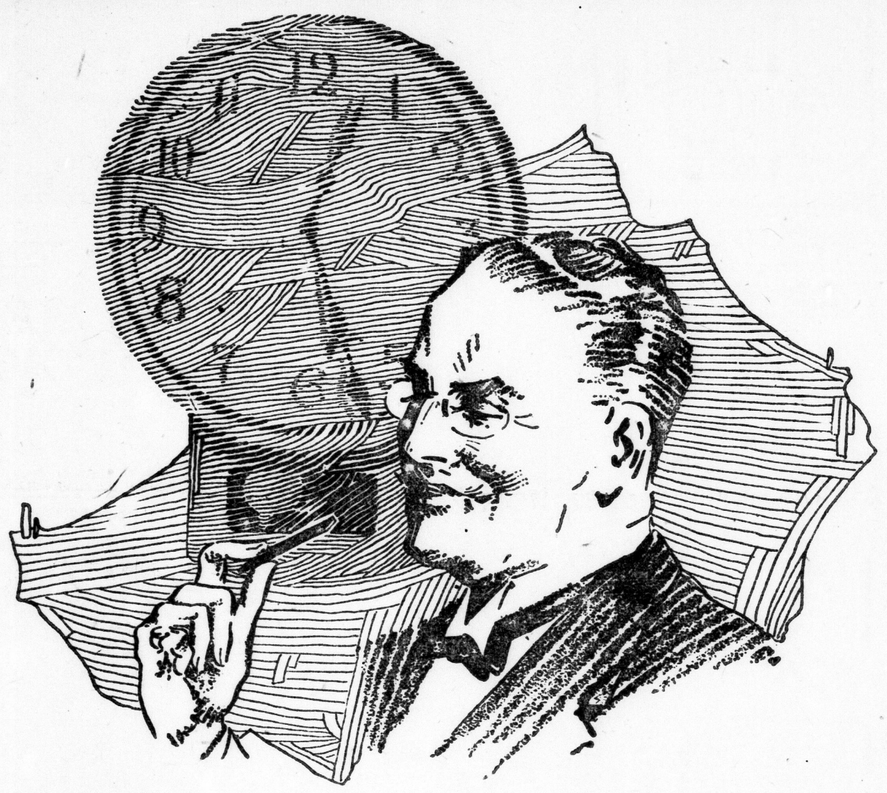

"Ask Mary Ann," said Paisley solemnly.

"Tell Gloss yourself, if you want to, baby," finished Mary Ann, hiding her face.

"Mary Ann is to be Mrs. William Paisley next spring," grinned Bill.

Gloss drew the blushing head over to her bosom.

I.O.D.E. PRIMARY CHAPTERS REPORT A BIG YEAR'S WORK TO THE MUNICIPAL OFFICERS

$2,084.09 Already Donated To Children's Memorial Hospital Fund by I. O. D. E. Chapters Alone.

A goodly number of I. O. D. E. women gathered in Cronyn Hall on Saturday afternoon to hear the reports of the various primary chapters throughout the city. And the enthusiasm displayed at the reading of these reports indicated that a most successful year has just been terminated. The only report of general interest was that read by Mrs. Cl. T. Campbell, treasurer of the Children's Memorial Hospital fund, which showed that a total of $2,084.09 has already been donated to that fund by the I. O. D. E. chapters alone.

Mrs. Arthur Smith, convener of the Children's Hospital committee, submitted an interesting suggestion to the meeting, which if taken up may result in the holding of a big auction sale in the city in aid of the hospital fund.

A vote of appreciation was extended to Mrs. Fred White, who has been acting in the capacity of regent of the Municipal Chapter during the absence of Mrs. Niven and Mrs. E. B. Smith, after which the meeting adjourned, and tea was served. Mrs. W. G. Coles, Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. Allen McLean, Mrs. Robert Reid and Mrs. MacDougall presided over the prettily-arranged tea tables, assisted by the members of the Treasure Chapter. Mrs. Cl. T. Campbell was in charge of the tea arrangements.

Abigail Becker.

This chapter devoted a large portion of its time to the making of garments for poor children in the city which were distributed by Miss Smith, the child welfare nurse. Concerts were given at Tecumseh Barracks and theatre parties for the convalescent men. Another work of the chapter was the donation of a Victrola to a ward at Wolseley Barracks Hospital. Other contributions were made to the educational war memorial, Sanatorium Aid, and the chapter expects to raise $1,000 to equip a cot in the new Sick Children's Hospital. The receipts for the year were $574.50, the expenditure $502.84, leaving a balance of $71.66. The report was presented by Mrs. Bicknell.

Trafalgar.

This report was presented by Mrs. Atkins and showed total receipts of $399.78. Quilts and clothing were sent during the year to the Children's Shelther, Bethesda Hospital and the Ronald Roy Gray Memorial Home. The chapter expects to raise $1,000 for the Memorial Children's Hospital fund.

7th Regiment.

This chapter is closely associated with the 7th Regiment and carries on a large portion of its work with the members of the regiment. During the year clothing has been given to poor families, to the Soldiers' Wives' League and to the Grenfel Mission, as well as treats to the soldiers at Byron and Tecumseh Hospitals. The total receipts were $679.79 and the disbursements $509.81. Mrs. Paull, who presented the report, also stated that the chapter intends to raise $1,000 for the Children's Hospital fund.

Lord Elgin.

Mrs. Higgins read this report, which showed that the funds of the chapter had been largely devoted to the Victorian Order, child welfare, educational war memorial, Byron Sanatorium, Dr. Grenfel Mission, Soldiers' Wives' League and the Children's Aid.

Overseas.

According to the report presented by Mrs. Galbraith, this chapter is ready to become very active in the raising of funds for the Children's Hospital, in spite of the fact that the return of their men folk from overseas and reconstruction of their families, has taken up their entire interest for some time past. Their energies during the past year were devoted to the entertainment of the men in hospitals, concerts, theatre parties, flowers and magazines being given them. The total amount of money raised during the year by band concerts, booths, euchres and rummage sales, was $1,326.46, and the balance on hand is $368.62.

Hugh Niven.

The report of the Hugh Niven Chapter, read by Mrs. Emmerson Nicholls, shows total receipts for the year amounting to $248.62. A number of patchwork quilts were completed by the chapter and sent to the Serbian Relief headquarters, Protestant Orphans' Home and the Children's Shelter.

C. E. F. Returned.

The work of this chapter is largely among the families of returned men, who are in poor circumstances. The members have made over 200 garments for children of these families as well as visited them and provided them with other necessities of life. Another part of their work has been the placing of flags and flowers on soldiers' graves. Their total receipts were $1,018.28, and their total expenditure in relief work $961.69, leaving a balance of $156.59. This report was presented by Mrs. Foster.

Princess Patricia.

Miss Eula White, reading the report of the Princess Patricia Chapter, stated that the total receipts for the year amounted to $1,161, and that their money and labor had been expended on behalf of the refugees in Belgium, Northern France and for the Grenfel Mission.

Isabel Hampden.

The receipts for the year were $515.12, being expended in soldiers' comforts for the men in hospital, the Grenfel Mission, Children's Hospital and Armenian Relief. Mrs. Ross Thomas presenting the report, also referred to the layettes made by the chapter to be distributed to needy families by Miss Smith, the children welfare nurse and infants' clothing given out at the time of the flu epidemic. This chapter has also assisted practically in the child welfare clinics in the city as well as visiting the Byron Sanatorium regularly. Their money was raised by euchres and a band concert, leaving them cash on hand of $128.

Senator Coffey.

This chapter was of great assistance to the Catholic Army hut during its existence between March and October of last year. It has also done splendid work visiting the military hospitals and giving treats and concerts to the men. The money raised during the year by card parties, band concerts, sale of home-cooking, etc., amounted to $383.36, and was expended in donations to Dr. Grenfel's Mission, Old People's Home, Y.M.C.A., Orphanage, educational war memorial and Sick Children's Hospital. The report was read by Mrs. Chase.

Sir George Ross.

Miss Ora White presented the report of the Sir George Ross Chapter, reporting total receipts of $491.96 and expenditure of $202.95. One interesting work of this chapter has been their undertaking to do the weekly darning for the Children's Shelter. They also have completed numerous socks, sweaters and sleeping suits for the men at Byron.

Campbell Becher.

This chapter has been most active during the year, raising a total of $813.70 and expending $743.27. During the entire war period the Campbell Becher Chapter has raised over $10,000, and they are now undertaking to equip a cot in the new children's hospital, which will cost $1,000. They have been faithful visitors at the Byron Sanatorium, taking treats to the men and putting on entertainments for them. The report was read by Mrs. F. J. Greenaway.

Sir John Carling.

Miss Jean Waugh presented the report of this chapter, which showed total receipts of $450.25, the money being raised by a dance and band concert. The chapter has also supported a library in one of the schoools in the West, and intends raising $1,000 to equip a cot in the new children's hospital.

Nicholas Wilson.

This is the educational chapter of the order, and has done splendid work towards promoting the I. O. D. E. educational war memorial scheme. In addition, the chapter held an oratorical contest among the students at the Collegiate Institute, and offered to the public excellent Shakespearian recitals by Gordon Craig.

SAYS MAN SHOULD REMEMBER HE IS FOOD-ON-LEGS AND EAT ACCORDINGLY

Advocates Greater Production of Milk and Less Beef in Country.

The following interesting article was written by Miss Jennie Fidlar of this city and appears in the current number of the Minnesota Health Journal:

"The secret of life is in the earth," says Dr. H. A. McCallum, "as all food comes from the earth."

"We are food-on-legs," says Dr. H. W. Hill, "since by food we grow, and we can control, to a large extent, body functions which determine health or lack of it."

No doubt we have gone about the "joy of living" in a half-hearted sort of way, too indifferent to care whether greater fullness of life as we know it here could be ours or not. Each has just indeed his own little business and felt quite virtuous about it, too. So long as one paid one's bills, was it anyone's concern whether the butcher's bill was twice as large as that of the milkman and grocer, or whether we ate cereal and fresh (not cooked) vegetables or fruit every day, or just whenever we happened to take the notion? "I don't like cereal"; "Ugh, I hate milk"; "I don't care much for vegetables," and we let it go at that. Kindness would have been the most unthought-of attribute possessed by the person who even suggested that "what to eat" was something more than a personal fancy.

What to Eat.

We know now that what to eat and how to get it are not only matters of national and international concern, but we are waking up to the fact that the knowledge of what to eat to maintain good health has become a lost art, if it has ever really been known. The ancient Greeks still rank highest in physical development in all the world's history. It may be that the ambrosia of their gods was a combination of foods in the proportion necessary to maintain vigor of mind and body, which in turn invites a healthy soul; or who knows but that nectar was nothing more nor less than the elusive element described by E. V. McCallum as "fat soluble A and water soluble B," the vitamines known to exist in living matter, viz., green vegetables and milk.

However, be that as it may, the eating habits of the world have received a severe jolt because of food scarcity, and before we settle down to old methods is a good time to consider fundamentals and ask "What is essential to sustain life?"

The regulation of the chloresterol intake in the shape of food especially for persons over 40 years of age will do a great deal to prevent the formation of big dangerous tumors (meaning cancer) sums up the experience of Dr. Georgina Luden of Mayo Clinic who has found that meat is rich in the cholesterol, only a certain amount of which is valuable to the body.

Controlling disease by diet is being tried by Allopath, Homeopath, Osteopath and Naturopath. In fact, the push emphasized more and more emphatically every day leads to the meadow and barnyard where the milch cows feed.

More Milk.

Dr. Graham Lusk says: "It would be highly desirable if the grain now fed to fatten beef were given to maintain herds of milch cows. Everything should be done to conservve our herds of cows for the increased supply of whole milk. A British commission has reported to parliament that it takes three times as much fodder to produce beef as it does to produce milk of the same food value. If no cows capable of giving milk in quantity were slaughtered, the country would be placed on a much better basis than at present. It would increase the dairy business, which is evidently a need of the times. It must be remembered that a well-nourished cow during a single year will give in the form of milk as much procein and two and one-half times the number of calories as are contained in her own body."

This is Dr. Lusk's advice to city people: "Let no family of five persons buy meat until that family has bought three quarts of milk, the cheapest protein food." In general, twice as much meat is used as is right, for to produce meat requires much fodder which might better be used in milk production. "Olive oil or cottonseed oil, taken with cabbage, lettuce or beet tops, is excellent food, in many ways imitating milk."

Matinee Day At Allen's In Aid of Hospital Fund

Hugh Niven Chapter to Get Proceeds of Every Ticket They Sell.

A unique way of raising money for the Children's Memorial Hospital is being undertaken by the Hugh Niven Chapter, I. O. D. E., who intend holding a matinee day at the Allen Theatre in the near future. The proceeds of every ticket sold by the chapter will go into the chapter funds and be devoted to the cause of the Sick Children's Hospital.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Every Little Bit Helps.

Dear Miss Grey,—Am inclosing stamped letter to Only an Orphan, and would be grateful if you would address and forward same. Here is 10 cents for the fund. I think it is the grandest idea. How would it do for anyone sending in any kind of a request for help to contribute the mite to swell the fund? Yours very sincerely. MRS. SUMMERS.

Ans.—If Only an Orphan will send in her address I will forward your letter. Your idea, re fund, is a good one, and the Pageites have responded already. Every little bit helps—and the object is so worthy.

Sends Songs.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have noticed in today's paper were Fleur-de-Lee wanted the words to "Star of the East." I have copied them for her and hope she can make them out.

I also saw where Lonesome wanted to correspond with a girl. Well, here I am. I would like him to write first. I will leave my address with you, Miss Grey, and you can forward it. Let him know immediately. SWEET SIXTEEN.

Ans.—If Fleur-De-Lee sends in stamped envelope, will send song. Will forward Lonesome's letter to you when it comes.

For Rainy Days.

Dear Miss Grey,—I find the Mail-Box very interesting and helpful, I have never called before, but wonder if you could tell me how to amuse kiddies on rainy days. They seem to get so pettish and restless on these days, I don't know how to amuse them.

Please send me the stocking-foot pattern. These hard times one feels they have to be economical. May I call again? A MOTHER OF THREE.

Ans.—A scrap book is an endless source of amusement, if kept for rainy days only. Every bright picture from magazines could be kept, along with paste and a pair of blunt scissors, in some particular corner of the play room, and on grey days when the kiddies cannot go out the scrap book will entertain them, so they will look forward to the gloomy days with pleasure. Pattern mailed, and do call again.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

TELL IT TO THE SOCIETY EDITOR.

Miss Gladys Elliott of St. Thomas was a week-end visitor with Miss Helen d'Avignon, Y. W. C. A. girls' work secretary.

The Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. D. E., is arranging for another delightful tea-dance, to be held in the Winter Garden on the afternoon of Saturday, April 10.

The "home hour" held at the Y. W. C. A., King street, on Sunday afternoon was again an undoubted success. Yesterday the hostesses were from the Talbot Street Baptist Church.

Mrs. J. A. E. Bradden, 240 St. George street, will receive for the first time since coming to London on Wednesday afternoon, March 10. Her mother, Mrs. Allan M. Denovan, will receive with her.

Miss Ida Thompson, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hiscox, Queen's avenue, and other friends for some weeks, has returned to her home, 200 Ferry avenue, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clemens, Chatham, announce the engagment of their eldest daughter, Irene, to John Presant, of Ridge Road West, the marriage to take place the latter part of March.

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, 26 Campbell street, on Thursday, March 4, in honor of a triple event. The engagement of Margaret, youngest daughter, to Mr. D. Stayte, was announced. Good wishes were extended to Mrs. A. Mayo and her little son, Kitchener, who are leaving for Indianapolis, Indiana, U. S. A., and to Mr. and Mrs. H. Steele, who are leaving for the old land in the near future. The family circle was made complete by the presence of Mr. George Smith from Cleveland. Friends from Brantford and a number of city friends were also present. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought the pleasant evening to a close.

CRABB—HANNAH.

Miss Ethel Hannah, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hannah, of Corfu, N. Y., formerly of Cayuga, were married very quietly at the Presbyterian manse, Corfu, on Thursday to Bert Crabb of Elba, N.Y. The bride was unattended, and wore a smart tailored navy blue suit. After a short trip to Rochester and other points Mr. and Mrs. Crabb will reside in Elba. The bride has many relatives and warm friends in Cayuga. Rev. Mr. Thomas performed the ceremony.

SHIPP—McLARTY.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James McLarty, Talbot road, Howard, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday, February 26, when their daughter, Neta Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Mr. Clayton William Shipp, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shipp, Palmyra, the Rev. T. L. Fowler of Ridgetown officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Ina Shipp, sister of the groom. Little Fern Simpson of Ridgetown, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl, and was the only attendant.

The bride looked lovely in her wedding gown of gorgette over ivory satin and wore the gift of the groom, a pearl sunburst. The groom's gift to the pianist was French ivory, and to the flower girl a signet ring. After the ceremony all repaired to the dining-room, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served to about thirty guests.

The bride's going away suit was of navy serge with black picture hat. Amids showers of confetti Mr. and Mrs. Shipp left on a short honeymoon for Toronto and points east. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, Talbot road.

Guests present from a distance were Mrs. A. R. Hall and Miss Winsey of Detroit; Mr. Harold Shipp, Pittsburg, Pa.; Miss Hazel Moore, Lakeside; Miss Bertha Bandeen, Rodney; Miss Rose, Chatham, and Miss Marguerite McDougall, Shedden.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

After a child passes his fourth birthday his mother should encourage him to use his fingers in drawing and coloring, but not on small designs, which may tire his eyes.

From using crayons a boy will soon go on to using water-colors, a box of which may be had for ten cents, and will give endless pleasure. He will color his blocks and spools and all sorts of things cut from magazines, and all the time will be learning about color and line, facts that will stand him in good stead all his life.

By sending for the Perry pictures, which are now a cent and a half each, a mother can gradually make her child familiar with the work of the best artists, and a child who has spent hours coloring Landseer's or Bonheur's splendid animals will have a conception of beauty and strength that will always be a wholesome stimulus to him.

Mothers should remember that a child who has had much practice with pencils and brushes before he goes to school, starts with an immense advantage upon his adventure of learning to read and write, for his hand and eyes are both well-trained, to obey his will.

If every child could have this free use of crayons and paints, much artistic talent that now goes undiscovered and undeveloped would enrich the world. But even for the child without talent, this kind of play, which costs so very little, means happy, wholesome hours, of incalculable benefit to himself and comfort for those around him.

BETTY AND HER FAMILY.
Part Six.

Now, the Wolf was a revengeful animal, and when Mr. Bear had chased him away from his prey, he made up his mind he would have one of Betty's plump puppies for his dinner some day. But, after Betty's first scare she made sure that her puppies played near the cave and whenever Mr. Bear was away she kept a close lookout for the Wolf. Mr. Bear didn't go very far away, either, for he felt the responsibility of the little family of dogs, and knew that the Wolf was just waiting his chance to carry some of them off.

One day the Wolf met Mr. Fox. Mr. Fox owed the Wolf a great debt, and lived in deadly fear of the cruel animal all the time. However, Mr. Fox was old and tough, and a much faster runner than the Wolf, so that cruel animal had left him in peace up to this day.

"Mr. Fox," said the Wolf, as he caught up to the fox, "if you don't want me to come and tear your house down, you had better do something for me."

"What is it?" asked Mr. Fox, trembling.

"Well, there is an old dog with a family of puppies living in Mr. Bear's cave, and I want you to coax one of those puppies away, so I can have it for my dinner," was the answer.

"Oh!" cried Mr. Fox in dismay, "I wouldn't dare go near Mr. Bear's cave. When he first came here, I went in there and stole some of his provisions. He caught me at it, and said if he ever caught me there again, I would surely die."

"You might just as well have Mr. Bear kill you as have me eat you instead of one of the puppies," said the evil wolf.

"Oh, dear me!" cried Mr. Fox. "What shall I do?"

"Match your cunning against Mr. Bear," the Wolf replied. "You are much more clever than he is."

Now, Mr. Fox was vain and conceited, as well as being a sly thief, so when the Wolf remarked on his cleverness he felt flattered.

"I'll try it," said Mr. Fox, after some hesitation. "Which pup do you want?"

"The fattest one of all, but if you can't get him try one of the others. There is a small pup that is very easily led into running away—they call him Tiny, I think. If you can't get the fat one, get him."

"I'll do my best," said Mr. Fox, as he trotted off.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is inclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

Save the Wrapper—X. Fishwives and Boils.

A boil is a little one-cylinder abscess. It is an infection of a hair-follicle or root hole with staphylococci. Staphylococci are germs commonly found on the surface of the cleanest skins, and capable of producing inflammation and formation of pus when they invade the tissues of the body. The hair follicle dips down through the true skin into the loose subcutaneous tissue, and the looseness thereof probably accounts for the tendency towards the accumulation of inflammatory exudate about the bottom of the root hole, which is to say a boil.

The first boil is a matter of ill luck. Some trifling abrasion, even a slight prolonged friction by a ragged collar or a rough or tight neckband, serves to open a portal of entrance for the staphylococci. But the second, third and teenth boils are matters of ignorance and maltreatment, as a general rule. The victim's fingers touch Boil One inquisitively, and thence convey a few million staphylococci to fresh ground for Boil Two. Or the dirty dressing (surgically unclean) is the medium for the transplantation. Or portions of clothing contaminated with the virulent staphylococci from Boil One (even before there is a visible discharge of pus) rub the neighboring skin and inoculate it repeatedly. Or the ideal culture medium for pus-producing germs—poultice material—serves the purpose of maintaining a more or less constant crop.

It is scarcely necessary to mention the infection-favoring possibilities of the various filthy substances which fishwives advise victims of boils to apply.

In short, the popular superstitions concerning the nature and treatment of a boil turn a tremendous amount of money into the pockets of physicians in the long run. I do not mean to imply that this has anything to do with the fact that now and then even a physician acquiesces in the poulticing of a boil.

A poultice, when properly made and applied, furnishes heat and moisture. A well-made flaxseed meal poultice should weigh at least a pound. It retains the heat longer than any canned imitation, though the canned stuff sometimes smells more mysterious. But heat and moisture are much more cleanly applied in the form of large hot moist compresses—cheesecloth in thick folds applied to the surface. Heat and moisture often relieve tension, burning, stinging and pain in an inflamed or infected skin. Cheesecloth doesn't encourage germ growth.

Misguided people sometimes try to cheer up the victims, along about the ninth boil, by assuring them they will be so much healthier when they have got all that "corruption out of the system." Sort of a hold-over superstition from the era of "laudable" pus. You know the surgeons of old were really disappointed if every wound, accidental or operative, did not become infected and produce a few quarts of pus.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Nasal Diphtheria.

Do children sometimes have nasal diphtheria? Please explain the symptoms. Is it fatal? How long does it last? (N. F. C.)

ANSWER—Yes. A purulent discharge from one nostril often signifies diphtheria in the nose. In some cases there are severe toxic symptoms as in throat diphtheria; in others the child is not very ill. If antitoxin is given in sufficiently large dose and early enough—from 10,000 to 40,000 units the first dose—recovery is usually prompt.

This Young Lady Has Wisdom.

I am a girl of eighteen and have four wisdom teeth growing. Is this unusual at my age, and why are they called wisdom teeth? I have not been bothered as yet. Will I? (L. F.)

ANSWER—The well developed adult jaws have four third molars, called wisdom teeth because they are cut when we are supposed to possess wisdom. But a tabulation by Talbot showed that 47 per cent of adults over 25 years of age in this country have from one to all four wisdom teeth unerupted—due either to insufficient use of our teeth for masticating natural or undenaturized foods, or, as Talbot suggested, to the evolution of the human jaw which is steadily receding behind the face line (Camper's angle). If you have cut all four third molars you will probably have no trouble. Trouble is often produced by impaction of a wisdom tooth which has never erupted.

The Cause of Worms.

Kindly tell me what is the cause of worms? What are the symptoms of worms? What is the cause of tapeworms? (B. H.)

ANSWER—Tapeworm infestation of man comes, in most cases in this country, from eating pork in which the larval form of the parasite is present. If the flesh is not thoroughly cooked the parasite survives, and in man's intestine develops to the adult tapeworm. The eggs (which are discoverable only by microscopic examination) leave the intestine in the excrement, and sooner or later pollute the ground or the food of the hog, are swallowed, develop into larvae, penetrate the hog's stomach, and lodge in the flesh, thus completing the cycle. Rarely man in this country is infested in a similar way with another kind of tapeworm, the broad or fish tapeworm. There are no characteristic symptoms produced by the presence of worms. Only a physician can correctly diagnose or treat the condition.

Olive Oil.

Please tell me what value olive oil has, how to take it and how long it would take to cure gallstones or gravel with it. (M. L. B.)

ANSWER—Olive oil is a laxative food, rather inferior to butter or meat fats in nutritive value. It is taken in salads, usually. It will not cure gall stones or gravel, although one or two doses of any oil produce what many people imagine are gall stones, but which are really mere masses of saponified oil. A large dose of any such oil sometimes does give temporary relief to pain, especially the pain produced by excessive hydrochloric acid.

Grandma Rolls.

By the way, I am a constant somersaulter. I am 51 years of age and a grandmother, but I find that by taking my "rolls before breakfast" I get away with it, as the boys say, a great deal better. (W. O. M.)

ANSWER—Which reminds me, thank you, that it would be interesting to know who the oldest roller may be. We start off at 51 today. Fifty-one is young. Who will raise the ante?

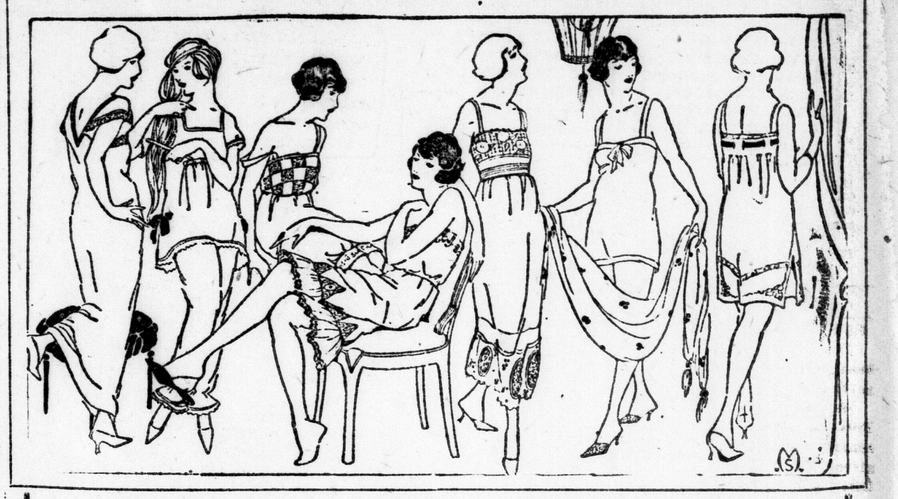

Sheer Stockings and Low Pumps.

Please state for the benefit of a class of girls whether it is injurious to health for young girls to wear low cut shoes and sheer silk stockings in cold weather. (Marion B. E.)

ANSWER—If the girls are really comfortable with their legs exposed to the wintry blasts it is certainly healthful. Anything like that is healthful provided it is comfortable. The less clothing we wear at any time, with consideration for physical (not mental) comfort, the more hygienic. All clothing is more or less unhygienic, and clothing is always unhealthful if it makes us too warm. It's no use, girls, I just can't say a word against it from the health point of view, but I have just got to add that silk stockings, "daring" dresses and gaudy rouge generally go with a vast vacuum in the bean. The moron type of young woman uses all of these poor tricks in the peculiar game of life.

Ottawa Team Wins N. H. A. Pro Title

Beat Canadiens 4--3 in Hard Struggle On Montreal Ice—Score Tied Three Times.

MONTREAL, March 7.—(By Canadian Press.)—Ottawa Senators, by defeating Canadiens Saturday night by a score of 4 to 3, after three minutes and twenty seconds overtime play, won the second half of the National Hockey League schedule for the season and the league honors for the year. This is the first time this has been done since the new rule was inaugurated.

Canadiens put a different lineup into the field and played a stronger game than any of the winter. The score was tied three times during the contest. The habitants used Corbeau on the defence, with Lalonde at his old position at centre. "Newsy" scored the first goal and kept Canadiens in the game at all stages. Ottawa played a brilliant game, but were specially strong in defence. They played in spurts and were content to check back if they missed the net, there being always four men on defence. The line-up:

Ottawa.		Canadiens.
Benedict	Goal	Vezina
S. Cleghorn	Point	Corbeau
Gerard		Cameron
Nighbor	Centre	Lalonde
Darragh	Wing	Pitre

Detroit Weber Sports Team Wants Easy Way To Honors

Refuses To Play Assumption College and Border City Stars Won't Meet Yanks.

WINDSOR, March 7.—"Anything to keep the cup in Detroit," is the policy that has evidently been adopted by the Webers Sports hockey team of that city, which was to have played off with Assumption College, Sandwich, for the right to contest the championship of the Windsor-Detroit Hockey League with the Border Cities Stars. The two Canadian teams have headed their respective divisions, throughout the season, Stars having won every game in which they participated, by a wide margin. Webers Sports have now refused to play Assumption College, and are demanding to meet the stars without the preliminaries. The Canadian teams, however, are determined to see play, and the Stars have refused to become a party to the scheme, with the result that the cup, with wide odds of becoming Canadian property were the games played, will remain across the border.

Pruault of Ottawa Takes Senior Ski-ing Honors

OTTAWA, March 7.—Arthur Pinault of the Ottawa Ski Club, holder of the Duke of Devonshire Challenge Trophy, carried off the senior championship Saturday afternoon in the Eastern Canada ski championships at the Rockcliffe jump. Pinault defeated Frank McKinnon, the hope of the Montreal Club, by a margin of one point, his superior style deciding the event in his favor. Paul Quesnel of the Cliffside Club, won the intermediate title over Lennox Moore of the Ottawa Club. Intermediate city champion.

TWO LONDON MEN ARE ELIGIBLE FOR THE BISLEY FINALS

Sgt. Lee and Corporal Smith of Toronto, Now Residing Here, Both Qualified.

London will be represented on the O. R. A. council this year by Major Murphy and Sergt. M. H. Lee, both members of the 7th Regiment and well-known marksmen.

It was decided that the quota of seven men from Ontario who are to shoot on the 1920 Bisley team would be decided by a competition to be held at the Long Branch ranges on May 21 and 22. Riflemen eligible for this competition will be the first forty in the Ottawa aggregate of last year's O. R. A. meeting. Four members of last year's Bisley team will also be eligible. The age limit is 45 years for all ranks below captain, excepting for overseas men. All competitors must be members of the active militia or ex-C. E. F. men. The short "M" Lee-Enfield rifle with open sights will be used and no slings will be allowed.

It is interesting to note that London will be represented by two marksmen at these Bisley trials. Sergt. M. H. Lee of 7th Regiment took nineteenth place in the Ottawa aggregate, with a score of 417 points. Corpl. J. W. Smith, recently arrived from Toronto to take up his permanent residence here, will also probably shoot as a member of the 7th Regiment. He took fourteenth place with a score of 418. Guelph will be represented by Capt. C. R. Crowe, Lieut. J. A. Steele and Pte. H. J. Lowry.

It is hoped that the rifle ranges at the Cove will be put in order in time to allow the local marksmen to practice for the Bisley trials.

O. R. A. and D. R. A. rifle shooting as a sport quite naturally deteriorated during the war, as so many devotees were on active service. Indications are that rifle shooting will once more resume its pre-war standard's this year, and the usual big annual events will be held at Toronto and Ottawa. Enthusiasts should make a point of getting in the game again this year, and help make the approaching season one of success for a sport which is of national importance.

LOCAL TEN-PINNERS FAIL TO LIFT THE M'CALLUM CUP

Saunders' Team Are 89 Pins Ahead in Three Games—Karrys and Smith Win Doubles.

The local W. O. B. A. maple experts journeyed to Toronto after the McCallum cup on Saturday, but had to return without it, and 89 pins down in three games, where total points were to count. The Saunders team are a well-balanced organization, but had the local five rolled the way they have been rolling in their league games all season, they should have back the silverware. Hunter, who has been rolling a good game all season, was off on the strange alleys apparently, his total for the night's work, 423, playing havoc in the point getting.

The scores were:

Varsity Basketballers Help To Fill McGill's Cup of Defeat

OTTAWA, March 7.—Saturday was a sad day for McGill in more ways than one. For not content with annexing the hockey honors, Varsity also downed McGill in basketball by a score of 30 to 23. Graham really won the game for Varsity by his close checking of Hay, the ace McGill forward. Coles, for Varsity, secured eleven points on fouls and four on two baskets.

The teams were:

Big Crowds of Stratford Fans To Go To Toronto With Midgets

STRATFORD, March 7.—Stratford hockey fans are preparing to invade Toronto in large numbers Tuesday night, when the Midgets go there for the final game in the junior series. They carry with them a one-goal lead, and the kids are determined to keep it.

A special train has been arranged for to bring the fans home after the game. The train will leave the Union Station at 11:30. Special cars are being attached to the regular afternoon train to accommodate the fans going down. It is expected that several hundred will go along.

Alerts Won Fast Game of Hockey From Forest City

The Alerts won a fast game of hockey from the Forest City Club team Saturday at the Westminster Rink by a score of 6 to 3.

London Curlers Hold Spiel Tonight; Ice Holding Well

Tory's Rink Won Saturday 'Spiel With Two Games and Seven Plus.

The London curlers are holding a bonspiel tonight and as ice is rather an uncertain quantity just now, it is expected that there will be a big turnout of members. The ice has been standing up well thus far, and for tonight the club ice-maker has promised some good curling sheets.

The usual Saturday afternoon bonspiel last week was won by A. Torey's rink with two games won and a plus of 7 shots. The members of the rink were: J. Hamilton, S. Taylor, H. Alked, T. Torey, skip.

ALL-STAR SENIORS GIVE SCHNARR BROS. FIRST BEATING 6—3

Kitchener Family Team Put Up Game Exhibition in Guelph.

GUELPH, March 7.—The fastest and best game of hockey played here this season was between the famous Schnarr Brothers of Kitchener, and an all-star O. H. A. senior team from Toronto, in which the latter won by a score of 6 to 3. This was the first defeat of the season for the Schnarr Brothers, and they deserve all sorts of credit for the splendid game they put up against a much superior team. For the winners McCaffery of Parkdale, was easily the star. He played a perfect defence, and his rushes were responsible for four of the six goals scored by his team. Stefenson of the Dentals, and Sutherford for Aura Lee, also played brilliant hockey. The Schnarrs all played well, their back-checking being a strong feature of their game. Crookes in goal for the All-Stars was in great form, and saved many goals by his great work. He was ruled off on one occasion for holding the puck. The players of both teams were delighted with Guelph's new hockey arena, declaring it to be the best sheet of ice they had played on this winter. There was a crowd of about 1,800 in attendance. Both teams scored a goal in the first period, and repeated in the second period. But in the final period the Toronto team broke away, and McCaffrey scored three goals in individual rushes in quick succession, while the Schnarrs got but one.

KITCHENER CONFIDENT OF CLASH WITH GRANITES

KITCHENER, March 7. — Local hockey fans are confident of the outcome of the play-off fixture with the Granites. The condition of the Kitchener sextet since the game and the fact that the locals did not work over hard in the second period on Friday night at the arena augurs a Kitchener victory Wednesday night.

BLUE AND WHITE TRIUMPH OVER M'GILL SEXTET

Intercollegiate Championship Goes To Varsity After Hard Contest At Ottawa.

OTTAWA, March 7. — Securing an early lead of three goals and by steady defence work wearing down a determined scoring rally, Toronto Varsity, on Saturday night at the arena, defeated McGill and won the inter-collegiate hockey championship, 5 to 4.

Not until the final whistle blew was the victory assured, and on several occasions Frank Shaughnessy's Montreal aggregation nearly tied it up. Only the steadiness of Langley in the nets for Varsity and Ramsay and McIntyre in front of him brought victory to the Blue and White.

Over five thousand spectators were in attendance, and the rooting of the followers of the teams on either side of the rink, respectively, proved a feature.

The game was clean, and penalties few, though the checking was hard. Two officials were on the job, T. Munro (of London) acting as assistant to Harry Pulford. The most serious offence was when Westman and Flanigan mixed it up, and were both banished.

The line-up:

Varsity.		McGill.
Langley	Goal	Clarke
Ramsay	Point	Heney
McIntyre	Cover	Cully

COAST CHAMPIONS WON'T PLAY ON TORONTO ICE

No Ice At Ottawa, Then No Game At Queen City, Say Coast Officials.

VANCOUVER, March 7.—The winning team in the Pacific Coast League will not play in Toronto. The suggestion of the Ottawa officials that in the event of the capital being without ice, for the world's series, the games be transferred to Toronto has not aroused any enthusiasm or support among coast hockey officials and fans, and it is not likely that the idea will be entertained. Officials here refuse to offer any comment other than remark that Vancouvers have not forgotten the treatment accorded them in 1918, and the rather poor handling of the series by officials of the Toronto Club.

BUT TORONTO CARES NOT.

TORONTO, March 7.—Announcement from Vancouver that the winners of the Pacific Coast League series will not consent to meet Ottawa in Toronto excites no interest here. There is too much good hockey on the cards. It is more doubtful if the Arena could be secured to stage the Stanley Cup games. On Tuesday, March 16, and Thursday, March 18, Sons of Ireland of Quebec, winners of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, meet Toronto Varsity, winners in the Inter-Collegiate League. The total goals scored in the two games decide this event. The winners are to play the winners in the O. H. A. on March 22, and March 24, in the semi-finals for the Allan Cup, and the finals for this trophy, with the western champions, are set for March 27 and 28. With such a program served up to them for the balance of this month, Toronto hockey fans can hardly spare time to think about the professional end of the game, and the baseball season is not far off.

Georges Carpentier Will Visit Principal Canadian Cities

NEW YORK, March 7.—Georges Carpentier, French heavyweight champion, will visit the principal cities of Canada while on his tour of this country under the management of Jack Curley. The tour will begin May 3, and will last ten weeks. It is possible that the Carpentier-Dempsey fight may be staged under Curley's auspices, if the big Californian gets his troubles with the United States Government settled in the meantime.

SMALL CROWD SEE ST. PATS WALLOP QUEBEC TEAM

Forbes in Goal and Matte, Former Tiger, Star in Season's Last Effort.

TORONTO, March 7.—With St. Patricks out of the running for the National Hockey League title this season the crowd that witnessed St. Patricks wallop Quebec here on Saturday night was comparatively small. The local team was much the better of the two and appeared to be able to score whenever they felt so inclined. The result was 11 to 2 in favor of St. Patricks.

Quebec left their goal-keeper, Brophy, in the ancient capital and Lockhart was loaned to them for the game by the local management. Lockhart didn't let friendship interfere with his play, and he made the Irish earn all of their counters. He was given poor protection, however, by the Quebec defence, and the local puck carriers, particularly Roach, invariably got to close quarters and gave Lockhart no chance to save. He let eleven get by, but he stopped about three times that many.

The good playing of Goaler Forbes and Mickey Roach were features of the game. The former Tiger star got a real chance owing to the absence of Culley Wilson, and he showed that he could out-guess the professional performers just as easily as he could the amateurs. He scored no less than five goals and checked back better than in any previous game this season.

Forbes was in his usual good form, and his showing proved a revelation to the visitors, few of whom had ever seen him in action. Joe Malone, goal-getter extraordinary, got around the local defence half a dozen times, but he was unable to register anything but surprise. Forbes is in his glory when the bombardment is at its fiercest, and he makes stops that appear miraculous by simply out-guessing the incoming forwards.

The line-up:

St. Patricks.		Quebec.
Forbes	Goal	Lockhart
Matte	Defence	Mummery
Randall	Defence	Carpenter
Roach	Centre	Malone

CANADIAN TEAM IN 6-DAY BIKE RACE AT N. Y.

Fourteen Teams Start in the Annual Event at Madison Square Garden.

New York, March 8.—The six-day bicycle race, commonly known as the "poor man's show," opened at Madison Square Garden one minute after midnight with fourteen teams competing. Goullet and Magin, last year's winners, were the favorites.

Among the entrants is a Canadian-American team, made up of Arthur Spencer and Peter Drobach.

WORLD IS BANKRUPT, ASSERTS BERNSTORFF

Asserts Germans Must Take Up Reins Dropped by Wilson.

Berlin, March 8.—German diplomacy must "take up the struggle at that point where President Wilson permitted it to slip away from him," said Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador at Washington, at a mass meeting of university students in a discussion of the nation's foreign policies.

Von Bernstorff declared that the president had merely touched upon the problem of negotiating a just peace, but failed to solve it, after being first to assert that the war was not to end in the creation of a new balance of power. He said:

"For us the question is:: Does the Versailles peace represent the fast and cruel orgy of a bygone era, or are we to experience new imperialistic catastrophes, whether the new diplomacy asserts itself or old methods prevail?"

Count von Bernstorff said he had warned against any attempt to achieve a revision of the treaty through negotiations with individual Entente powers. Such a procedure he characterized as a "dangerous illusion," which was calculated to expose Germany to the charge that she was intriguing.

"In punishing Germany," he said, "the Entente forgot to take cognizance of the economic conditions of the world at large. The vanquished are unable to pay the war costs of the victors; the whole world, with the exception of the United States, is bankrupt."

YANKEES STARTING SIX INNING PRACTICE GAMES

Jacksonville, Fla., March 8.—Commencing today, the Yankees will have six-inning games daily in order to get a team in shape to meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in the series of spring exhibition games beginning on Saturday.

In the practice games this week, the old plan of having the regulars play against the Cubs will not be adopted. Veteran pitchers will be on the team opposed to the one that will have the regular field. There are enough high-class pitchers of both styles to assure good pitching for both sides.

AGREE TO FINISH MATCH.

New York, March 8.—After long wrangling, Earl Caddock, the former wrestling champion, and Ed. ("Strangler") Lewis have agreed to meet in a finish match at Madison Square Garden on Monday, March 15. The result of this struggle will decide who is the proper man to challenge Joe Stecher for the world title.

NINE MEN OF PATS ARE CHARGED WITH ROBBING CANTEEN

Five in Cells At the Jail, Four Are Held At Carling Heights.

Five members of the Princess Patricias' Canadian Light Infantry are incarcerated at the county jail as a consequence of an investigation into a raid made on the Army Medical Corps canteen ten days ago. They are Pte. J. H. Hagans, Pte. E. Hughes, Pte. H. Weaver, Pte. E. Bray and Pte. C. P. Bird. Four other men are in custody at Carling Heights.

The object of their removal to the county institution was to place each man in a separate cell. At first it was the intention of the military authorities to bring the nine men to the jail, but there was not a sufficient number of vacant cells. The men were brought down in an ambulance under a heavy guard.

On Saturday the men will appear before a court-martial.

It is understood that a great deal of the stock of the canteen was stolen during the raid.

LONDON'S BUILDING ACTIVITIES SHOWN

A comprehensive survey of London's activities in the house-building line is contained in the first annual report issued by the provincial housing department. The work of all Ontario cities and towns which took up the project is also reviewed.

London's appropriation for building was $400,000. During 1919 loans totalling $56,770 were approved for houses, while $2,350 was loaned to buy land. None of this has been actually paid over to the city by the province.

London at the end of the year had erected 22 houses. Three of these were four-roomed frame dwellings with clapboard finish; five were five-roomed brick-veneer houses and six were six-roomed brick-veneer domiciles.

An illustration and plans of one house in each city is included in the report. The house erected for William Bird is shown for London. This is of frame clap-board finish and cost $1,940. It is a small, one-story bungalow, containing four rooms and a bathroom. It is a fair example of the minimum-sized house.

L. AND P. S. TEAMSTERS BACK AT WORK AGAIN

Agreement Signed With Officials at Noon Today.

Teamsters, employed by the Woollatt Transportation Company, which is under contract to haul freight for the L. and P. S. R., who joined the strike of the union teamsters on Friday, were ordered back to work at noon today by the officials of the union, as the result of an agreement which was signed by the company. The men joined the strike because it was claimed that the company was violating certain agreements which were made at the first of the week.

When the teamsters of the city decided on February 11 to proclaim a strike in order to enforce their demands for a minimum wage of $100 a month, the employees of the Woollatt Company agreed to join them. As the result of negotiations with the company an offer of a minimum wage of $90 a month was accepted under the condition that no freight rightly belonging to the other transportation companies should be picked up for the L. and P. S. R. It was the agreement affecting the picking up of freight that the men claimed was violated, and because of this they joined the strike on Friday.

The company signed a written agreement this morning not to accept any freight that before the strike was picked up by the other companies. The teamsters were given the right to refuse such goods from the firms of the city, and a promise was given that the company would back the men in their refusals.

Nothing further has been heard from the other companies since last Saturday.

Legal Queries Answered

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER—Can a man walking on foot, legally claim half the road when meeting a rig of one horse or team, or has he a right to step to one side until the rig passes?

ANS.—Yes. Each shall turn out to the right from the centre of the road allowing each vehicle one half of the road.

HYDRO—I bought property, and the former owner had a written agreement, giving the hydor commission the right to erect and maintain a sub-station on the property. Does this agreement still hold good with me, as owner? The station is not in use at present. The commission never had a deed drawn up of the land where the station stands. Please advise me what is the law of Canada in regard to such.

ANS.—You are bound by the agreement of the former owner of the property if you had notice of it at the time you purchased the property.

Tobogganing On Sunday Stopped

Ottawa Slides Closed When Toronto Officials of Alliance Interfere.

Ottawa, March 8.—Following an investigation by Toronto officials of the Lord's Day Alliance and Chief of Police Hamilton of the county police, Sunday tobogganing at Rockliffe Park has been ordered stopped, because the running of the slide is a breach of the Sunday observance act. The slide was closed yesterday, and will not be open on Sunday again this season. Last Sunday many thousands attended the slide.

The city of Ottawa has been under the vigilant eye of Toronto officials of the Alliance Association for a number of months. Several investigations have already been carried out regarding the various Sunday amusements in the capital.

The investigation into Sunday amusements at Ottawa is the third this season. On the two previous occasions officials of the alliance journeyed from Toronto to Ottawa to investigate the legality of the music and sacred concerts in the theatres here on Sundays.

TORONTO, March 6.—James Price, a one-legged man on crutches, was boarding a car to which he had transferred, last October, in Windsor, when the car started suddenly before he was fully aboard, throwing him to the ground. He sustained injuries for which he asked $5,000 against the S., W. and A. Railway. Mr. Justice Kelly has awarded him $2,000.

Millfeed—In carlots, delivered Montreal freights, bags included; bran, $45 per ton; shorts, $52 per ton; good feed flour, $3.60@3.75 per bag; middlings, not quoted.

LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, March 8.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,003. With a limited offering the cattle trade was again stronger, and prices are about equal to those of last Monday. Ten steers, averaging 1,070 lbs each, sold at $14 25, with four head of 1,300 lbs at $14, and a load of handy weight butchers at $13 75, with a pair of extra choice bulls at $12 75. The bulk of cattle sold at $11 50 per cwt. Heavy beef steers, $14 25; butcher steers, choice, $13 25@14; good, $12 50@13 25; medium, $10 50@11 50; common, $8@10; butcher heifers, choice, $12 50@13 25; medium, $11 50@12 50; common, $9@10 75; butcher cows, choice, $10 50@11 50; medium, $8 50@10; canners and cutters, $5 25@6 50; butcher bulls, good, $10 50@11 50; common, $8@9 50; feeding steers, good, $10 50@11 50; fair, $10@10 50; stockers, good, $9 50@10; fair, $8 50.

Calves—Receipts, 325. The calf market is about steady, with a few choice calves selling at $23. The bulk is selling at $18@21. Choice, $19@23; medium, $16@18 50; common, $11@15.

Sheep—Receipts, 97. The lamb and sheep market is easier. A few lambs sold at $21, and a few ewes at $14.

Hogs—Receipts, 945. The hog market is firm, with $19 25 being paid for fed and watered hogs. Selects, $19 25; light, $17 25; heavy, $18 25; sows, $14 25@16 25.

Montreal, March 8.—Cattle—Receipts, 615. With continued light offerings and a strong market, trading has been fairly brisk, and nearly all cattle are sold. A couple of small lots, averaging in one case 950 lbs per steer, and in the other 965, brought $13 50. Butcher steers, good, $12@13 50; medium, $11@12; common, $9 50@11; butcher heifers, choice, $11 50@13; medium, $9 50@11; common, $7 50@9; butcher cows, choice, $10@13; medium, $7@9 50; canners, $5 50; cutters, $6 50; butcher bulls, common, $8@9 50.

Calves—Receipts, 439. Veal calves are selling for $18@20 per cwt. Good veals, $18@20; medium, $15@17; grass, $8@9.

Sheep—Receipts, 68. The general quotations on the few sheep and lambs offered are $12 for fair sheep and $18 for lambs. Ewes, $11@12 50; lambs, good, $18; common, $16@17.

Hogs—Receipts, 681. Owing to the light receipts of hogs and the need of the stock for the local store trade, the market is higher. Selects and lights are selling in mixed lots for $20 50, weighed off cars. The market looks stronger. Selects, $20 50; sows, $16 50.

East Buffalo, N.Y., March 8.—Cattle—Receipts, 2,400; 25c to 50c higher; shipping steers, $13 50@15; butchers, $9@13; yearlings, $12 50@14; heifers, $6 50@11 50; cows, $4 25@10 50; bulls, $6@0 50; stockers and feeders, $6@10 25; fresh cows and springers, $65@175.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,000; 10c to 25c lower; heavy, $15 50@15 75; mixed, $16@15 25; yorkers, $16 25@6 35; light yorkers, $15 50@16 75; pigs, $15; roughs, $13 @13 25; stags, $8@10.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6,200; lambs 25c higher; lambs, $13@20 25; yearlings, $12@18; wethers, $15 50@16; ewes, $6@14 50; mixed sheep, $14 50 @15.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, March 8.—Oats opened unchanged to ⅛c higher for May at 97@97⅛c; July ¼c to ⅛c higher at 93@92⅞c.

May barley opened ¼c higher at $1 56, and unchanged for July at $1 48.

Flax opened 3½c higher for May and July at 52c and 42c respectively.

May rye opened unchanged at $1 89.

Chicago, March 8.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 45; July, $1 38½.

Oats—May, 83⅝c; July, 76½c.

Chicago, March 8.—Fresh strength showed itself in the corn market today as a result of evening up for the government report on farm reserves. Besides, receipts were light, and the forecast of warmer weather was taken as indication of a break-up of country roads. July and September deliveries rose to highest prices yet this season. Opening quotations, which varied from the same as Saturday's finish to ½c up, with May at $1 44⅝@1 45, and July at $1 38¼@1 38½, were followed by a slight sag and then by a sharp advance all around.

Commission houses were good buyers of oats, owing to the strength of corn. After opening unchanged to ¼c off, including July at 76c, the market scored moderate general gains.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 8.—Provisions reflected the upturns in the values of hogs and corn. Buying, however, was desultory.

OILS.

London, March 8.—Calcutta Linseed—March and April, £63.

Linseed Oil—127s.

Turpentine Spirits—217s 6d.

Rosin—American strained, 58s; type G, 64s.

Tallow—Australian, 109s.

COTTON.

Liverpool, March 8.—Cotton—Futures closed steady. March, 26.86d; April, 26.16d; May, 25.81d; June, 25.34d; July, 24.79d; August, 24.20d; September, 23.37d; October, 22.68d; November, 22.21d; December, 21.80d; January, 21.51d; February, 21.29d.

Sales to 11 a.m., 201,500 shares.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 8—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The week on the stock exchange bega nwith further reactions from recent high levels, General Motors, at an advance of 6 points, proving the only noteworthy exception. Among industrials, oils and rails declines extended from large fractions to 2½ points. Crucible and Republic Steels, Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch, Canadian Pacific and Rock Island reflected the most pressure. The large decrease in actual reserves reported by the clearing house last Saturday, and another setback in foreign exchange, probably contributed to the early reversal.

Noon.—General Motors continued to overshadow all other stocks during the dull forenoon, increasing its gain to 15 points at 274. Associated shares were irregular, although the rubber group strengthened with equipments and minor steels. Pressure upon high-priced oils relaxed for a time, but was renewed later in Mexican and Pan-American Petroleums. Leathers and Textiles displayed much of their recent heaviness, and rails were slightly lower. Initial offerings of call money at 8 per cent, and another moderate gold import from Canada, infused some activity at noon.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three-fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore, it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used, and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This, with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated, and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning, and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FREIGHT RATES ON OCEAN SHIPPING TO BE RAISED 50 P. C.

Cost of Bunker Coal Is Given As Cause For Contemplated Increase.

London, March 8.—Freight rates on ocean shipping from England would be increased at least 50 per cent by a movement now in progress, says the London Times, in order to meet the high cost of bunker coal here. Coal in the port of London this week will cost 55 shillings per ton, compared with 15 to 18 shillings before the war, the newspaper says. This coal can be secured by industrial plants in the United Kingdom for 40 shillings per ton.

"So heavy is the cost of coal that some owners assert they may have to seriously consider the question of laying up their ships," the newspaper states.

IRISH POLICE DEPOT ATTACKED BY 100 WELL-ARMED MEN

Officials Resist With Rifles and Grenades.

Limerick, March 8.—One hundred men, armed with rifles and high explosives, made an attack lasting an hour on a police barracks at Doon, near here, early this morning. The police resisted with rifles and hand grenades, and the attackers finally withdrew. None of the police were injured.

NEW CZAR SELECTED.

London, March 8.—Proclamations of a new czar in the Transcaspian province is reported in a wireless dispatch received here from Moscow.

A certain woman.

A CERTAIN woman did a number of sentences in the Reformatory and Prison. One day, during service, she declared that with the help of God she would lead a different life.

SHE is now happily married.

HER influence is of incalculable value in aiding and encouraging others to forsake lives of sin and walk in the Paths of Righteousness.

HUNDREDS of similar cases prove that the Prison Work of the Salvation Army has had most blessed results.

CAPITALIZATION

Preferred Stock - - - - - - - -	$1,000,000.00
Common Stock - - - - - - - -	$1,000,000.00

(No Bonds)

The following information is summarized from a letter from Mr. S. Messer, President of the Company:—

1. The Continental Oil Company, Limited, of Canada, the business and assets of which have been acquired by the North Star Oil & Refining Company, Limited, a Canadian corporation, has been in successful operation in the Prairie Provinces for the past eleven years.

2. The Company has no bond issue or other funded indebtedness outstanding nor any floating debt other than current accounts payable.

3. Earnings after the completion of a refinery for the production of refined oil, gasoline and lubricating oil, at Winnipeg, which refinery is expected to begin operations about the middle of the year are estimated to be initially at the rate of $150,000 to $160,000 annually, or equal to over twice the dividend upon the Preferred Stock. With the completion of other refineries, earnings are expected to materially increase.

4. The Company has affiliations with large and responsible producers in the United States which should ensure a continuous and constant supply of crude oil. In the event of the development of crude oil in commercial quantities in the Canadian West, the Company, with refineries at Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Calgary, will be in an advantageous position to manufacture from this crude, refined oil, gasoline and other petroleum products for the Western trade.

Applications, which should be accompanied with cheque for full payment, will be received only on the understanding that the right is reserved by us to allot all, a portion only, or none of the amount applied for. In the event of a partial allotment the balance, and if none be allotted the full amount forwarded, will be returned to the applicant.

It is intended that application be made to list these issues on the Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg Stock Exchanges.

Price: Par ($5.00 per share), carrying a Bonus of 40% in Common Stock.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

XXI.—The Forgotten Name.

"Jim! Oh, Jim, don't you know me?" I cried, stretching out both hands to catch him as he swayed. "It's I, Helene!"

He pushed my hands away, propping himself up in bed, so that his face was close to mine. There was no light of recognition in his eyes.

"A lie!" he muttered. "What—they said—about me—was—was—"

"Yes, dear?" I strained to catch his weak, muttering tones. "Tell me—what did they say?"

He flung his head back then, and laughed. It was a queer, hollow laugh—infinitely pathetic.

"Wha—whadda you care, anyhow?" The unnaturally bright eyes were fixed upon me. "You—you took their part!"

"No Jim," I cried, distraught. "I stick by you, I believe in you. I always shall believe. Tell me—tell me the trouble!"

"What they—they said about me was—a lie—an—infernal—lie!"

"Yes, yes—dear heart! What did they say?"

I wasn't frightened now. Those wild, dilated eyes—oh, in the old days they held an overpowering tenderness for me! Delirious or not, Jim—my Jim—wouldn't seek to harm me. Besides, in a moment such as this, I couldn't think about myself. What did an atom of humanity like myself—foolish, spoiled girl that I was—matter in comparison with my husband's peace of mind, his ultimate recovery? For—till Jim's mind was eased—the fever and delirium wouldn't leave him. I knew it.

I brought every scrap of will-power into play. I willed with all my strength that Jim should tell me the burden that was scaring his soul. My eyes met his—and didn't flinch or waver.

"The—the check," he muttered. Then followed a tangle of words I couldn't understand. For in his delirium he spoke incoherently.

"You mean you didn't forget the check?" I whispered to him, softly but quite distinctly, and praying that the question might really reach his fevered brain.

"A lie—a lie!" His voice rose on a high, shrill note. Immediately below the bandage on his forehead I could see the veins stand out. His lips trembled with emotion, after the manner of a hurt, proud child. For Jim—this poor, fever-racked Jim—was reduced by utter weakness to the period of uncontrolled childhood.

Reaching forward suddenly he caught my hand.

"The check—the check—what they said about me was a—a wicked lie!" His voice was cleared now. He gripped my hand so tightly that it hurt. "I—didn't—do—it."

"Of course you didn't! It was the work of someone else!" I soothed him as a mother would seek to soothe a frightened child. "Someone else did it—"

Jim nodded. His eyes were glowing darkly as though a strong light were shining from within.

"I know—who did—it!" His voice was feebler now, despite those brilliant eyes. Again I strained my ears to catch each syllable. "The man who forged the check—was—"

"Yes? Tell me, dear? Tell me his name!" I urged as I bent forward.

"His name is—is—" Jim swayed for an instant, then his grip on my hand relaxed, and he fell back on his pillows, utterly exhausted. His eyes closed.

A wave of anxiety and remorse swept over me. Instead of questioning poor Jim, I ought to have soothed him into silence, discouraged all exciting talk. But, oh! I truly had intended everything for the best!

He lay there, very white and still. I pressed my hand against his heart. With a sensation of intense relief I felt that it was beating steadily, if rather feebly!

Very softly, then, I moved my chair closer beside him. I took his limp left hand in mine and stroked it gently. A great nerve doctor once informed me that there is a kind of magnetism about my touch. His words came back to me, to comfort me. Oh, if I could but transmit the vital spark from my own healthy frame to Jim's!

With a light, sure, touch then did I stroke Jim's hand. . . .

After a time the dark eyes opened, and looked up at me. The wildness had gone out of them, and it seemed as though the light of reason had returned. Ah! how I hoped that that might be, for—as Jim's gaze met mine—he smiled at me!

Then the heavy eyelids fell. The breathing grew more regular. And in fifteen minutes Jim was sound asleep—a tranquil, health-restoring sleep, that was better than all the drugs or medicines in the world.

Two hours later Alice's old housekeeper relieved me at my post. She brought a message from her mistress that I was expected in the drawing-room for tea.

I left Jim with reluctance. I felt a queer, inexplicable jealousy of everyone who should come near him! Yes we women are strange creatures! I think our hearts will always rule our heads.

Tomorrow—A Reluctant Promise.

CANADIAN JUDGES ASK MORE SALARY

OTTAWA, March 7.—(By Canadian Press.)—Increased salaries for judges was the principal matter taken up at a meeting of the council of the Canadian Bar Association here yesterday afternoon. Composed of eminent counsel from every province in the Dominion, a deputation waited upon members of the Government and pointed out that there had been no increase in the stipend paid to judges during the last 35 or 40 years, notwithstanding the abnormal increases in the cost of living.

It was decided to invite Right Hon. Viscount Cave, one of the members of the judicial committee of the privy council and former home secretary in the Lloyd George administration, to deliver the annual address when the association meets in Ottawa on September 1, 2 and 3 next.

Mr. J. Ord resigned as honorary treasurer of the association and was succeeded by G. F. Henderson, K.C., Ottawa.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M.D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

When you get Indigestion

A few tablets of "Pape's Diapepsin" bring relief almost as soon as they reach the stomach.

"Pape's Diapepsin" by neutralizing the acidity of the stomach, instantly relieves the food souring and fermentation which causes the misery-making gases, heartburn, flatulence, fullness, or pain in stomach and intestines.

"Pape's Diapepsin" helps regulate disordered stomachs so favorite foods can be eaten without causing distress. Costs so little at drug stores.

Eyesight Dim?

If your eyesight is dim, your vision blurred; if your eyes ache, itch, burn or feel dry, get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets from your druggist, dissolve one in a fourth of a glass of water and use to bathe the eyes from two to four times a day. Bon-Opto has given stronger eyes, clearer, sharper vision and relief to thousands.

Note: Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens eyesight 50% in a week's time in many instances.

"Fighting Parson" Says Granting of $2,000 Gratuity is Necessary To Restore Morale of Veterans

Says Canada Can Afford To Meet This Demand—Dr. Stevenson Promises To Use His Influence To Get the Gratuity.

Speaking to an audience of a thousand returned soldiers at the Patricia Theatre on Sunday evening, Capt. J. F. Tupper, "The Fighting Parson," of Toronto, stated that as soon as the Government gave to the ex-soldiers the $2,000 gratuity then would the men recover their morale, and be satisfied that Canada had fulfilled her duty to them.

Several days before war was declared the padre had offered his services to the country in any capacity that it saw fit to place him. He was made recruiting officer and signed up 2,200 men. As they were "originals" of the first division a great many of them were still in France. Thus he thought it was his duty to appear on a public platform and fight to carry out their last wishes, namely, to see that their dependants were cared for by the Government.

Gadsby, a clever writer at Ottawa, had written an article arguing against the advisability of granting the increased gratuity. He had said that Canada was treating her returned men better than any other country, even better than the United States, which was a richer nation than the Dominion. Capt. Tupper declared that as Canadians did not wait to see what the United States would do before entering the war, the country should not wait to see what the country to the south and its rainbow regiment, known as the "wait-till-the-clouds-roll-by" boys, were going to do in the present instance.

The speaker believed that it would pay Canada as a country to grant the gratuity asked. There were many problems, inter-provincial and others, to face, and to them should not be added the returned-soldier problem.

One argument put up by those who were against giving the money was that the country could not afford the gift. It would take $800,000,000 to satisfy all. Capt. Tupper remarked that every year $200,000,000 was spent in the United States on luxuries. Canada was prosperous. The people had over-subscribed a $300,000,000 loan by $400,000,000. On May 31, 1914, there was $662,000,943 in savings in the banks. Within five years of that date this sum had been increased to $1,107,000,993. This was in addition to autos and other devices which had been purchased.

Dr. H. A. Stevenson informed those present that he would exercise whatever power he had to assist the men to get their gratuity. The Government at Toronto seemed to be disposed favorably towards giving the men their desire. If it was within their powers. There were many children who would not reap the benefit that their fathers would have secured for them because their parents were lying beneath the battlefields. These dependents should get the money that was due them. The Y. A. D. nurses should not be forgotten either.

Dr. Stevenson's brevity in dealing with the matter was due to the fact that he had recovered from influenza but a short time ago, and as a result his lungs were weak.

H. Marsh, Dominion organizer of the Grand Army of Canada, told the audience there must be unity of action on the part of the veterans, if they hoped to attain their goal. The crooked politician had not welcomed the return of the first boatload of invalids, as they knew this was the advance-guard of a great army of men who, if they applied the concerted action to peace-time affairs that they applied to their job overseas, there would be a change in the rule of the land.

Tools of Politicians.

These politicians were encouraging the forming of a number of soldiers' organizations and were working to keep the soldiers fighting among themselves. The veterans had been divided, although they should be ashamed that such a thing could be said. Some of the veterans who were being sent to conventions and conferences were not representing their comrades, but were working to further their own personal ambitions.

He flayed the Government for the way it had treated the men to date. In Toronto some of the veterans were saved from paupers' graves only through the work of their comrades. Some people were wondering why the man who fought overseas could not forget and settle down to work. Mr. Marsh said that the men would like to forget if they could, but that they carried marks that made it impossible for them to forget.

The Grand Army of Canada had succeeded in having pensions which were not satisfactory adjusted. In some amputation cases the board ordered the men to reappear in six months, as if by that time new limbs might have grown on them.

One woman whose husband had been killed in November, 1916, while serving with the 19th Battalion, had not been given a pension until a few months ago. She was told that her pension had been cut off because her husband was a deserter. He had overstayed his leave to the old country for a short time and was posted as a deserter. He had stayed over until he spent all his money and then had gone back. There was no one to report to when he arrived back, so he entered into the battle and was killed. Speaking of this man staying over his limit to spend the money Mr. Marsh said: "He knew that the R. A. M. C. would take it from him." (Laughter.)

In an editorial in a local paper it had been said that this man was three months too late. He assured the audience that this was not so.

Initiative Not Needed.

In the army the men had been taught that they were not supposed to use their brains, but were to fight hard and go as long as possible without their rations. Certain parties thought that because they did not depend on their own initiative while in the C. E. F. they would not use it in civil life.

Ninety per cent of the men who had not been in hospital during their overseas service were not 100 per cent efficient for their work in civilian life.

If the men did not get their gratuity now the next election would be fought on the gratuity question.

H. Wray, chairman of the evening, stated that the G. A. C. had a membership of 65,000, and that 322,000 former soldiers had signed the petitions.

Civic Committee Approves $434,000 Debenture Issue for Collegiate in South London

T. and L. Representatives To Have Access To Civic Contractors' Time-Sheets — Estimates Considered For Utilities, Market and City Relief.

Issue of $434,000 in debentures for a South London collegiate and public schools was recommended by No. 1 committee of the city council at a special meeting Saturday night. After a deputation from the board of education had explained the need of new buildings, Ald. F. B. Watkinson moved the issue of debentures, with the distinct understanding that the board would accept the responsibility for not submitting the proposition to the people.

A deputation from the Trades and Labor Council asked that union wages be paid on all city contracts and that a separate paysheet be open to inspection by a member of the city council and a duly appointed representative of the city council. They claimed that in the past contractors, although receiving the union rate of pay under their contract, were not paying this to their men.

The committee pointed out that already a fair-wage clause was inserted in every city contract, but agreed to add to this provision that the contractor must supply the city engineer with timesheets each week. The president of the Trades and Labor Council, on making application to the engineer, would be able to see these. If any private citizen desired the information he could obtain it through any of the aldermen.

Ald. Cameron Wilson thought the records should be available to any citizen at any time. The other aldermen, however, thought this might lead to much wasted time, as a few cranks might be continually bothering the department heads. They pointed out that it was only necessary to ask for the information through an alderman and it could be obtained.

Tenders on Town Hall.

On motion of Mayor Little, it was decided to call for tenders on the east end town hall. It is estimated that $1,668 would be required to keep the building in repair this year. The mayor did not think the expenditure was justified.

"I think we could sell it with provision that the fire hall and public library be taken care of until we could get new buildings," he said. The proposal will be discussed further at the next meeting of the council.

Estimates from the public utilities commission were considered. No discussion took place, as a joint meeting will be held with the commission for this purpose.

Estimates of the city's publicity department were presented by Gordon Philip. They totalled $2,500. The industrial bureau will require $1,500, $600 for traveling expenses, $250 for printing and advertising and $250 for incidentals. City Clerk Baker estimates that $2,600 would be required for receptions during the year as well.

Upkeep of the comfort station will require $2,790, while supplies will cost $485. If an additional comfort station is built in East London the upkeep of this will be $680. Market and weigh scales will require $975 for upkeep. No oiling will be done on the market this year, and no scales for trucks will be provided. These two eliminations will save $3,636. Street lighting will cost $33,180. An addition of 20 lights at $10 each was made.

City relief work will cost $28,166. This includes $14,000 to be paid to Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, $500 to St. Joseph's Hospital, $5,000 to the Aged People's Home, $4,200 to the Aged Men's Home, $1,500 to the Home for Incurables. Other grants to the Children's Shelter and similar institutions total $4,800.

It is estimated that $7,426 will be obtained from license fees on theatres, bowling alleys and similar places.

who are constantly using their eyes in their daily work, will find relief from eyestrain by calling at the Brown Optical Company, 223 Dundas street, and being properly fitted with glasses at a moderate cost.

HUSBAND ASKS FOR CUSTODY OF CHILD

Application Is Made To Court in Connection With Alimony Case.

R. Baress made application for the custody of his child at the weekly court at the courthouse on Saturday. This is in connection with an alimony case, which will be heard at the spring assizes on March 22, Chief Justice R. M. Meredith, who was presiding, adjourned the case and referred the application to the trial judge. W. C. Fitzgerald acted on behalf of all parties concerned.

In the matter of the William J. Thompson estate, there was a motion for advice and for construction of the will of the late W. J. Thompson, the question being whether the devisees of certain lands are entitled to have the lands free of mortgage, there being, as claimed by the executors, special circumstances with regard to the case. The devisees were ordered to take the land subject to the mortgage. T. G. Meredith, K.C., W. R. Meredith, George T. Walsh of Toronto and J. A. E. Braden acted for the various parties.

There was a deficiency of personal estate to pay the debts and legacies in the estate of John M. McGugan, who resided in Southwold Township. A question was raised as to whether the creditors were entitled to legacies bequeathed as well as to their claims as creditors. The will was construed and the questions answered, and, there being a deficiency of assets, the devisees must abate proportionately. J. H. Davidson of St. Thomas for the executors; R. G. Fisher, F. H. Graydon, E. W. M. Flock, A. A. Ingram and C. B. McClurg for other parties.

After hearing a motion for the sale of lands of an infant in the John H. Alda estate, the judge directed that the parties proceed under the estates act, and under the infants' act, but that the infant must appear before the judge as required by the statutes. The motion was adjourned for a week.

WINTER PICNIC HELD BY EPWORTH LEAGUE

Attendance Estimated At About Fifteen Hundred —"Y" Was Packed.

One of the largest and most successful winter picnics of the year was held Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. by the Epworth League. The exact number present is not known, but an estimate places it at about fifteen hundred. The building was packed, both upstairs and down.

A mock trial was the feature event of the evening. The court did something which is never done by legitimate courts. The trials were held several times, as the crowd was so large it could not be packed into the auditorium for one hearing. The sentences handed out by Judge C. Myrick, who acted in the place of C. E. German, were of a rather peculiar nature. The worst sentence was imposed on Mr. Coleman of the "Y." He was given the job of rolling a peanut across the floor of the gymnasium as a punishment for being late in getting to work, eating a large number of oranges, and leaving his latchkey at home.

Crown Attorney F. H. Westbury only allowed one case to get away from him. This was the case of Miss Edith Foster, who was charged with talking too much and interrupting a lecture at the Normal School. She was not at school on the day she was supposed to have caused the disturbance, so the judge allowed her out on suspended sentence.

The sports, under the directorship of David Allan, were a huge success. The only thing that marred them in any way was the huge crowd, which could not begin to get in to see them. The girls who missed a look at this display, put on a little sport line of their own and gave some of the boys a beating in a game of pool.

The churches were divided into north and south for the games. The ladies of the south won the hustleball contest and the men of the north the medicineball relay. R. A. Waud won the hat-trimming contest.

L. M. Houlding, of the boys' department, led the singing, and Robert Liddle, industrial secretary, looked after the general working of the night's program.

Refreshments were served to the crowd, which had to eat in relays. The dining room, which was filled in short order, had as many outside as there were in.

Three palmists were among the busiest people in the building during the evening. Great crowds were lined up in front of their doors as late as 10:30.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

"The Still Alarm" begins a four-day engagement at the Grand today. "The Still Alarm" will be shown in its original production with a carload of spectacular effects. In addition to a program of high-class B. F. Keith's vaudeville.

The headline vaudeville attraction will be the staged musical comedy, "Look Pleasant." Skipper, Kennedy and Reeves are in a funny singing comedians, who will be heard in an offering entitled "College Campus Capers." Other acts include Frank Jerome, "the Variety Vendor"; Otto and Sheridan, in a singing and piano offering, and The Rials, in their original novelty, "A Ring Flirtation." Kinograms, Topics of the Day, and the Pathe Review will be the added film features.

"THE PASSING SHOW."

The seventh annual revue from the Winter Garden, New York, "The Passing Show of 1918," under the direction of Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert, will be the attraction at the Grand Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. This new show is most brilliantly spectacular and bewilderingly amusing of any of the 26 extravaganzas produced at the Winter Garden. To fully understand the extent of this revue all one need know is that it is in two acts and twenty scenes. In the way of fun and jocularity the Winter Garden's "Passing Show" is of compounded mirth, a potent elexir, a revivifying essence, all the more important dramatic successes of the year are parodied and there is besides a huge conglomeration of song and dance—a gorgeous bargain in amusement.

AT LOEW'S.

Billie Burke's latest Paramount-Artcraft photoplay "The Misleading Widow," the film feature attraction at Loew's today, tomorrow and Wednesday. "The Misleading Widow" is a delightful story of a pretty widow, who financially embarrassed, announces the the death of her absent husband to collect his insurance. The "dead one," however, turns up with many funny complications. The vaudeville bill is an excellent one. The Musical Waylands in a jazzy melange of syncopation; Arthur De Voy & Co. in a novel and amusing little skit "The Peacemaker"; McLaughlin & Evans will introduce some lively dance interpretations from the Bowery, interspersed with songs and wit; Joe Taylor and May Francis, two "Ko-Ko Nuts," will no doubt create a riot with a conglomeration of nonsense and The Wyoming Trio of Western cowpunchers will offer a real western skit composed of native pastimes. Another Mack Sennett frolic, "Back to the Kitchen," and Loew's Weekly will complete meritorious bill of amusement.

"EYES OF YOUTH," AT THE ALLEN.

On the topmost pinnacle of the giant Himalayas, far above the clouds, where age-old glaciers defy mankind; veritably on the roof of the world, stand three wise men, from their souls radiating mystery, black art, necromancy. The earth dream reaches out to touch the stars and watch over the destinies of the earth. "Thou shalt be the first to go," says one unto the other; "for in thine eyes is youth. Therefore we make thee a messenger of our will. Many temptations will besee thee, but know that the more they feet shall bleed, the whiter shalt thy soul be." And setting forth this strange and young looking yogi launched his fateful will about a legion of souls. His God-given crystal showed to Gina the life she is to pursue. Happiness, misery, tragedy, plaudits and hisses she sees in the crystal; the heights of wealth, the depths of poverty, love, happiness, all and more depending on the path she will choose to tread.

Such is the opening theme of the pictures in "The Eyes of Youth," which is presented at the Allen today, tomorrow and Wednesday, starring Clara Kimball Young, who is supported by Milton Sills, Vincent Serrano, Pauline Stark, William Courtleigh and other popular stars.

"SPEEDY MEADE" AT THE MAJESTIC.

Katherine MacDonald, star of many productions, and Louis Bennison, the cowboy, who performs feats of strength and daring, are the two co-stars of the photoplay, "Speedy Meade," which is playing the Majestic today, tomorrow and Wednesday. Among the many added film attractions will be news, scenic and travel pictures, and a special comedy production.
