Discussing the question, one of the proprietors explains that the fault, if any, is not to be shouldered by them. The dairyman, he contends, is the one responsible. They buy the milk, he points out, from the milk dealer as being up to the standard and serves it accordingly. The proprietor of another popular restaurant declared that the method of the official in taking the sample of milk for test was not fair to the restaurant keepers. "We get our milk from the best dealer in the city," said from the best dealer in the city, said the speaker. ## Steady Betterment in Conditions At Home, Say Bowlers

Visitors Are Delighted With Canada and Canadian People -Hope to Have Opportunity to Reciprocate-See in Canada Country of Infinite Possibilities.

Just what the visiting bowlers from Britain think of London, Ontario, and of the London-Onters may be glowing or otherwise, but, at any rate, with typical British tact and polite appreciation, the visitors one and all declares themselves delighted with London and other Canadian cities, and they comment highly upon the Canadian hospitality and kindness they have experienced so far on their tour.

If it seems a bit out of place or infelicate for a Canadian interviewer to say "How do you like our town?" the Britishers, who, above all, a well-bred people, never appear to notice it. But one may well wonder at the depth of the good nature and good manners that have successfully borne up while running the gauntlet of such queries in Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton and Guelph. Had London been their port of arrival one might not have been so sure of the depth of their good nature and good-breeding, but in five other towns already they have mer and triumphed over such inevitable interviews.

Delighted With Canada.

"Canada appears a country of infinite possibilities, and, of course, a future development which I could not begin to picture," said John Struthers of Leicester, a city that is famous for its boots, hosiery, sewing threads and cottons. "We are delighted with Canada and with the people of Canada and the kindness and hospitality they have shown us. I only hope we shall soon have an opportunity of trying to reciprocate when your Canadian bowlers come over to visit us."

Social, labor and business conditions are now improving in England, Mr. Struthers states. No boom is anticipated, but a steady betterment of existing conditions is confidently looked for. The coal strike set things back a good deal, but no new strikes are expected for a long time. The defeat of the miners has taught other trade unionists to move more slowly and think twice before before they strike. The Lancashire mills, which at first went back to long hours, are now running only on short hours, but gradual time love is brought back to him, with the result that he goes to Sunny Italy seeking her out.

AT THE ALLEN.

"Conrad in Quest of His Youth," the picture presented at the Allen Theatre the forepart of this week, is a story dealing with a young man who, at the age of 30 or thereabouts, is under the impression that he is an old man, and tries by various ways to restore his youth. One day, while thinking of his past and trying to drown his sorrow in a book, he discovers one which an old sweetheart had presented. Thinking of renewing the old-time love he hunts her up, but discovers that as time has advanced she has grown old and fat, and is possessed of a very jealous husband and a large family. After leaving he seeks diversion in a restaurant, and while there memory of another old-time love is brought back to him, with the result that he goes to Sunny Italy seeking her out.

He discovers her at the same place where he had enjoyed her company in years gone by, and they begin to renew acquaintance again, but this affair turns to grief, and he returns to England. While traveling he comes to a "one-horse town," where he meets up with a show which has gone "on the rocks," and here he plays the hero's part, and, by assisting the players, meets the girl of his dreams. Needless to say, everything turns out as is expected.

Thomas Meighan plays the hero's part and Margaret Loomis is the leading lady. The picture on the whole is very delightful and is a good remedy for the blues.

Added to this feature attraction, a Snub Pollard comedy, "What a Whopper," dealing with a first-class fish story, is a real mirth-producer.

Meighen Crew Want To Hang On As Long As Possible

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—(Canadian Press.)—It was understood here this evening that further representations made to Right Hon. Arthur Meighen by leading members and supporters of the Government today were strongly against the staging of a general election this fall. Supporters of the Government urged, it was said, that the election should not be held until spring at the very earliest.

There was no other indication of just what decision the premier would reach, and it was thought probable that the final pronouncement would not be made for some days.

It is expected that the writ for the by-election in West York, Ontario, will be issued either tomorrow or Wednesday owing to the expiration of the time limit of six months since the seat was declared vacant.

Somebody mistook the Syrian for a Jew because people in rural districts of Ontario, for instance, used to picture the Jew as dark-colored people. The man has long since learned to readily distinguish between Jews and other Semitic races, but he still carries a personal and lsely-based prejudice against the Jews; or maybe it is the other way around, and he is prejudiced against Syrians, because in his childhood he confused them with Jewish junk-gatherers. ## WESTERN WHEAT YIELD TO TOTAL 248,423,000 BU.

Rust Has Done Considerable Damage in Prairie Provinces.

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—(Canadian Press).

—The Manitoba Free Press this morning estimates the wheat yield of the prairie provinces at 248,423,000 bushels in its eighteenth annual crop estimate, the acreage sown being shown as 17,461,000 acres.

acreage sown being shown as 17,461,000 acres.

In publishing the report, the newspaper calls attention to the fact that the 1921 crop has sustained more reverses than any previous crop included in the estimates and it has been the most difficult of all to estimate on, owing to the widely varying conditions in comparatively limited areas.

The yield of oats is estimated at 357,785,000 bushels (acreage 9,522,000); barley 41,334,000 bushels (1846,700); ffax, 6,039,000 bushels (751,000); rye, 10,885,500 bushels (558,000).

Heavy Rust Damage.

The acreages used for the estimates are those contained in the Dominion Government statistical bulletin of July last.

Viewed in the light of the promise up to the middle of June, the total result is disappointing not only as to yield, but as to grade of wheat, the newspaper says. Nevertheless there is no total failure in any of the provinces, though there are some districts of each province that have not produced bread and seed.
Rust has probably done the most damage, but sawfly, hail and heat have been responsible for heavy losses in many sections.

responsible for heavy losses in many sections.

With the single possibility of loss by frost to the very late crops in the northern sections or all the provinces, the crop is practically made and in Manitoba a very material portion of the threshing is done. Labor supply on the whole seems to be sufficient, for while some districts report a shortage at the moment, it is more a matter of adjustment than of actual scarcity, the report says.

SPANISH OFFENSIVE AGAINST TRIBESMEN

Madrid, Aug. 23.—The new Spanish offensive against the rebellious Rif tribesmen is expected to begin before the rainy season sets in, according to the latest dispatches from Meilila. It is said that the number of the Moors who began the recent attack, which resulted so disastrously to the Spaniards, was not more than 20,000 men, instead of 30,000, as previously believed.

Three hundred men carefully guided the craft from the hangar where it had been waiting suitable flying conditions.

The commander of the ground party megaphoned the order "cast off," and the 700-foot long silvery gas bag glided upward into the clear morning sky. If the conclusion of today's test should be successful, Commander Maxfield, with the concurrence of the naval department in Washington, will take over the craft. The next step will be the training of the crew in one or two fifteen or twenty hour flights, and then, barring unexpected difficulties, all will be ready for the jump-off toward America.

In a very short time there will be the announcement of the appointment of one of the west's most important leaders to the cabinet, but I cannot divulge the name yet."

Senator Bradbury stated that it is generally conceded that the Farmers will carry the west, and that Quebec will be solidly Liberal, but he refused to hazard an opinion on what the general result would be. "I am not averse to the Farmers getting into power," the senator declared, "but I see a danger in the attempt to promulgate policies which have been associated with E. W. Wood in Alberta. What we need is a good stable government to face the problems of today. If the Farmers can give that government, all well and good. They must, however, legislate for all the people and not for their own class."

The money was to have been used for the erection of a new factory and buying new machinery. The city was also asked for a free site. The campaign on the bylaw bas been a strenuous one, and the local papers came out against the bylaw, but the supporters of the bylaw used the local Opera House, and installed one of the company's big $10.000 organs, playing it afternoon and night, the collection for which went to returned soldiers out of work.

which went to returned soldiers out of work.

The great objection taken to the bylaw was the straight gift of $25,000 to the firm. The general feeling was in sympathy for aid for the Warren Company, but the high taxes and other conditions worked against the bylaw passing.

The vote by wards stood: St. Andrew's, for 111, against 100; St. David's for 143, against 119; St. John's, for 160, against 113; St. Patrick's, for 125, against 136; St. George's, for 166, against 236. Total, for 705; against 704.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The Meighen Government finds it a hard matter to make up its mind on the question of an election Naturally, the private members of the party, who know quite well that if returned at all they will be sitting in opposition next Parliament, are not nored of the idea of giving it up before it is absolutely necessary. On the other hand, there are no doubt some men who recognize that it is better to save even a little from the wreck than to have from high office, but not all of his cabinet feel that way about it.

It is interesting to recall the zeal with which the same Tories demanded an election in 1911, and had no desire whatever to wait then for the redistribution, that, as a matter of fact, did not come for a couple of years later. It is very doubtful if even a special session this fall could handle redistribution properly, and next year there must be an election, redistribution or no redistribution, since the present It is very clearly zeal for preserving their own skins rather than consideration for the west that prompts this call for delay. As a matter of fact, the Meighen Government would probably fare better without a redistributed west, if the results of provincial elections there this summer are indication of how the people there regard Toryism. That excuse has a rather suspicious sound to it, and the fact that the Meighen press all began to talk about it at the same time indicates that somebody at Ottawa pulled this particular string in the campaign that is being carried on to save a government that has already lasted too long.

A CALL FROM THE WEST.

The call of the Western live stock men for a conference at Ottawa for the purpose of considering what | North Oxford. steps are to be taken for dealing with the crisis which his arisen in the cattle industry owing to the United States tariff, is one which the Government cannot afford to ignore. Not only is the West affected, but the demoralising of the cattle industry in that direction will immediately react on the trade in Eastern Canada by the dumping of Western cattle on the

The most pressing remedy sought, and one which is calculated to save the situation this fall and enable farmers to await the turn in the market, is the provision of facilities for reasonably long-term credit, as was done in the United States this year, with immediate and most gratifying results. This is the main object underlying the request for a conference, and it is to be hoped that no time will be lost.

Figures issued from the Calgary stockyards show that during the first seven days in September, 1918, there were 3,383 head of cattle marketed at the yards. In the same week of 1919 there were 4,807 cattle marketed, and in the same week of 1920 there were 2,662

In 1919, during the first seven days of September,

$3.50 per hundred pounds for feeders, $5.25 for top steers, and $4 for cows.

The problem which at present faces the stock raiser is well illustrated by these figures. There is, however, consolation in the fact that the market wil come back-the leading authorties are agreed on this point-owing to the boomerang effect which the tariff is bound to have in reacting against the best interests of the United States by depleting their supply of stockers; but in the meantime it is highly and no more, that every other Russian thing that is demanded of fuel. It ssential that the Canadian bankers co-operate with is to receive. he farmers in tiding over the present emergency.

At the same time, it is up to the Government to see what can be done towards having the American markets reopened to Canada. There is, of course, the British market, but under present circumstances this cannot take the place of that of the United States. Nevertheless, it affords some relief, and the improvement of facilities for British shipments and provision for the feeding and finishing of cattle in the West are matters that call for urgent attention.

The pressing problem is, however, that of finance, and, as the Calgary Herald points out, it is the duty of the Government and large financial interests of this country to safeguard the raiser of the cattle from hav- and how they are to get back to their ing to sacrifice his breeding stock because he cannot hold it owing to lack of feed or funds. The stock raiser does not ask for philanthropy or a bonus. DEAD SEA APPLES. Notes of dread and alarm are being sounded from all parts of the Dominion by the emissaries of that strange party on paper, the National Liberals and Notes of dread and alarm are being sounded from Conservatives, and this S. Two outstanding expedients are being adopted by this expiring political saying that we have positively the largest fleet. The world will, we hope, be relieved by a mutual engagement everything go. The premier himself is probably in monstrosity in a last effort to prolong its checkered favor of an election, though it means his retirement career, one being the glorification of the head of the ruin doomed conglomeration, Right Hon. The hysteria which gives birth to such diseased to the nation through the twelve per cent wage cut will be very far-reaching in its effect, and there imaginings can only arise from the consciousness that it day approaches when the country will demand an account of the usurped stewardship which it knows has been prolonged by every artifice that political trickery can suggest. #### BRITISH TRADE.

[Calgary Herald.] Britain's trade extends to all quarters of the globe, and British businessmen are very keen upon keeping and extending their markets. But it is strange that they pay so little attention to the possibilities of the market in Canada. possibilities of the market in Canada.

It would tax the memory of any Canadian merchant to recall when, in any past day, such a discussion took place in the British Parliament as that which marked. Monday's session, when the members discussed ways and means of increasing British sales in this country. British manufacturers seem to have taken it for granted that they would get their share of Canadian trade. The total of British exports to Canada has been kept up less by their endeavors than by the preferential tariff and the energy of Canadian firms that send their buyers to the Old Country.

THE HAT TO TOP THE SUIT.

Discussing fashions with an authority who had just come down the gang-plank after a visit to the French market, he remarked that it was a mistake to emphasize any one period or influence, that everything was good; that is, everything is chic or pretty or in some way entitled to recognition, and that the women one encountered at the chic french rendezvous were the very essence of grace, charm and femininity, everything tending toward softness of line and grace of drapery.

With the longer skirts almost universally in use, large hats are affected and many of them are swathed in lace drapes or softened with "veils" of glycerine ostrich, the long, straight flues all but covering the face. This detail arrests our attention and is helpful; but, after all, our first consideration is the smart little trotteur hat which is to be worn with the tailor-made suit for the taileur is stronger than it has been for many moons, and this means, of course, that hand-blocked hats and hats of rather definite "out-of-line" will have their innings.

For several seasons now, hats have cocoa color.

NAUGHTY WEENIE.

Weenie was the weeniest puppy in his little family of fox terriers. Because he was so small he had been babied by his mother's master, and that made him conceited. He didn't obey his mother like other puppies. He laughed when his mother told him if he wouldn't behave he wouldn't get a nice home, and said: "Just wait and see!"

One day a nice lady came to buy a puppy. Weenie thought he would like her for his mistress, and was sure she would pick hlm. He jumped around and acted very silly so she would be sure to see hlm.

"What a strange puppy!" the lady said. "He is trying to show off. I think he is pretty, but I could never have a doggle like him. He would tear all my curtains and upset my home. I could never make him mind." Weenie was very disappointed when she chose his brother and took him home with her.

"She wasn't a nice lady, anyway," he told himself, but just the same he knew she was. He still misbehaved, and at last was the only puppy not sold. Once he was nearly sold to a man who said he liked a dog that acted up so he could whip it out of him, but the man looked so cross and Weenie was of rightened of him his mother's master said he would outgrow his foolish-ness.

After that he tried to be a better dog and listened to his mother's advice. Briger on Way to London With Broken Finger.

BAY CITY, Aug. 22.-London increased its lead over Bay City Monday by winning the first game of the series, 1 to 2, mainly through errors of the Wolf infield, although there was plenty of good hitting mixed in. The Wolves jumped into a two-run lead in the secand inning on singles by Kelly, Cuyler. Karpus and Collins, but thereafter Herbst was master of the situation. London did not come near the plate until the fourth when successive singles by Kuhn, Malmquest and Oakes put across the first counter. The tying run came in the sixth on singles by he same trio. Then in the eighth the the same trio. Then in the eight the Cockneys stepped out and won the game. With one down, Schaefer singled and went to third when Koehler booted Kuhn's grounder. Kuhn took a lead off first and was caught flatfooted, but started for second. First Baseman Kelly heaved the ball to centre field in an effort to catch him. Kuhn continued on to third and Schaefer scored. Malmquest walked and Kuhn was caught at the plate on Oakes' scored. Malmquest walked and Kuhn was caught at the plate on Oakes' fielder's choice. Then Vandyke singled scoring Malmquest, but Currie whiffed, ending the inning.

WITH THE BOWLERS FROM THE "AULD," OULD AND OLD SOD

"This is not a British bowling team, but a team of British bowlers," said one of the party, subtly defining the talent of the visitors, as it is representative of British bowling.

James Jackson of Larne, Ireland, and Charles Jones from Lloyd George's having bowled in the lowest-scored international singles game. He bowed to a Seotsman in a 17-16 battle at this year's international.

Even in the less strenuous game of bowls, the visitors display that sportsmanship which is one of the foundations of the empire. Every good shot yesterday made by the local bowlers readily received commendation.

And last night the local bowlers were ready to pay spontaneous tribute to the wonderful form of the visiting players. To some it was rather unexpected, no doubt, but what they saw they had to believe.

MOONEY GIBSON TO BE FIRST CANADIAN MANAGER TO WIN

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 23 .- The fol lowing appears on the sporting page of the Gleaner today: "If George Gibson, manager of the Pittsburg club, succeeds in landing the National League championship with the Pirates, as now seems almost a certainty, it will be the first time a Canadian has been manager of a team participating in a baseball world's series. Gibson, who figured in the world series in the past as catcher for the Pittsburg club when they last won the National League championship in 1909, is a native-born Canadian, his home city being London, Ontario, where he started his professional baseball career in the old Canadian League in 1899, before he joined the Montreal team in the then Eastern League, from which he went to the big show. It is a coincidence that one of his predecessors as catcher at Montreal was Pat Moran, who later was a great backstop in the big show, then become a successful manager and won the National League championship with the Philadelphia team and afterwards the tainted world series of 1919 with the Cincinnati Reds." in the past as catcher for the Pittsburg

Premier Hughes Discusses Imperial Problems at Farewell Banquet.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(By Canadian Press.)—A farewell luncheon to Premier W. M. Hughes of Australia who departs for home tomorrow, was given tonight by the British Empire League, at which Winston Churchill presided. After attributing to Premier Hughes' long expenience in public life, Mr. Churchill said the representatives of the four great dominions at the Imperial Conference all had considerable and in nearly every case, long public experience, Premier Meighen of Canada had sprung to the front in the great war by his viporous exertions in its prosecutions, and he was the youngest of those gathered there from a ministerial point of view. Premiers Hughes, Massey and Smuts were statesmen of long and ripe experience; men accustomed to affairs and to pursuing the same high political objects for the good of the empire.

For long periods of years the British Government, for their part, had been represented by the prints of the same states. M. Hughes of Australia, who de-

Premier Hughes, responding to the toast, said the Imperial Conference had been a memorable conference. It had done its work without a fanfare of trumpets and heating of drums, but had done work that would endure. Trade is Vital.

Continuing he said:

"We depend upon each other, not only for safety and security but for daily bread. The dominions and the people of these islands are bound by many ties, but by none more real and lasting than those of buyer and customer. The dominions are the best customers England has got and Great Britain is the best buyer in the world of the products of the dominions."

The Only Way.

After making reference to the evils of Bolshevism in Russia, Premier Hughes said to the workmen of England and Australia that there was only

ANOTHER WEEK ERE SPRINGBANK GAMES CASE BEFORE COURT

Operators Do Not Know Who Will Try Them—Goods

Another week must elapse before the six London men who are charged with operating games of chance at Springbank Park will know which court their fate is to be decided in or which magistrate will grace the bench. All six appeared in Squire W. H. Chittick's court Monday afternoon with their counsel, J. M. McEvoy, ready to proceed. Failing to come to terms with the crown as to the manner of procedure the case was adjourned seven days.

J. M. McEvoy announced that the defendants were willing to stand immediate trial under the Westminster Township bylaw. Acting Crown Attorney Douglas held out that the case in voived the forfeiture of all paraphernalia in event of accused being judged guilty. Counsel for the defence advised that he was unable to agree to any proposal to give up the property and contended that such was immaterial and unnecessary, as it was highly improbable, he stated, that once found guilty the owners of the various games in question would attempt to operate them fagain. Incidentally Squire Chittick explained that personally he was of a like opinion, but pointed out that the law was "thus and so," and he must be governed by what the crown advised.

The latter stoutly maintained that in lands in even do latter the property of the conference are as follows: Conveners, Henry Farncomb and Henry Marshall of the Proof Line road. Concession Six. Syd. Crockett. Edgar Webb. T. M. Talbot, G. W. Keayes, John B. Gray.

Squire Chittick advised that according to information received from the attorney-general's department, he and Capt. T. B. Robson were empowered and quite within their rights to proceed with the case immediately. As no agreement could be accomplished between the crown and the defendants, however, the squire will refer the problem to Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, and the latter may, if he deem it fitting, refer the case back to Squire Chittick to handle.

Many Interested.

As the fate of many other games of this nature hinges on this case it was natural that a big audience turned out at Monday's session. The majority evinced not a little disappointment that a decision was not rendered, while others received the adjournment as a hopeful sign.

"Haven't got a thing on them." was the Austic remark of one of the spectators passing out, "May as well throw the case out now as next week."

Provincial Officer Arthur H. Palmer has more than two truckloads of confiscated material, which he says must be retained by the authorities in event of the accused being found guilty. He explains that the provincial authorities in Toronto compel definite assurance that all property of convicted gamblers, etc., must be accounted for within the meaning of the criminal code.

The men charged are Geo. Thompson, Roy Leathorn, W. J. Blakely, John Eggett, George Cotton and Sid Bostny.

MISSING BOYS ARE FOUND BY REPORTER

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—After a search lasting one month, during which time almost the entire province was scoured. Raymond Mahoney, aged 13, and Gerald Shea, 15, both of this city, who have been missing since July 18, have been discovered, the former with a wealthy landowner at Oakpoint, about 20 miles above Ogdensburg, and the latter in an orphanage near Ogdensburg.

latter in an orphanage near Ogdensburg.

The two boys, who say they wanted to "see the country," first met with obstacles at Ogdensburg, where immigration authorities demanded to see their citizenship papers. Falling to produce these, they were placed in an orphanage, where a few days later Mahoney was adopted.

A newspaperman in Ogdensburg fully described the youthful Mahoney and sent his description to the Dominion police here, who got in touch with Mahoney's father, the discovery resulting.

CASE IS REMANDED.

MONTREAL, Aug. 22.—Judge Cusson today in the court of special sessions in a written judgment remanded the cases against Edouard and Arthur Berthiaume for alleged diverting of a sum of $120,000 from the funds of the estate of LaPresse Publishing Company for voluntary statement until Thursday next.

ONDON TOWNSHIP FARMERS JOIN IN HYDRO DISCUSSION

Power Practically Assured for District, Opinion Expressed

ENGINEERS EXPLAIN

Though Rates High.

Hydro-electric power for London Township ratepayers is practically assured, following a meeting held in the town hall, St. Johns, Monday night, when Engineers Wilson and Purcell of the hydro-electric power commission, Toronto, explained rates to approximately 130 prospective consumers present. In addition, these engineers answered queries, and as a following to the conference ten contracts between farmers and the township of London were signed, with the former agreeing to take hydro power.

Terms of the contracts call for a light farm electric service at approximately $86.74 per annum. This service includes light for farm buildings, power for small equipment, such as toaster, washer and small electric range, and three-horsepower single phase motor, provided that range and motor are not run simultaneously.

This sum, according to the engineers, is an estimated meter charge for farm service, computed from figures on other hydro supplied rural districts. Meters will be installed in London Township, the $86.74 being an estimate which includes $60.82 annual service charge for overhead and maintenance, with $25.92 average annual consumption estimated by meter.

Reeves Sign.

The contracts will be carried out, contingent to three consumers per mile signing up. The first person to sign a contract was W. G. Taylor, first deputy reeve of the township, while W. J. Fuller, second deputy reeve, was next to sign. Committees were appointed to sign up ratepayers of their respective districts with Henry Farncomb and Henry Marshall, both of the Proof Line road, as conveners.

That portion of the township between the city limits of London and the 5th concession was not dealt with at the conference, but will likely be supplied at a later date from the city. The districts covered Monday night were those between concessions five and seven, with other portions of the township and the farmers present shared his enthusiasm on the subject.
