Gained Ground South of Framicourt and Elsewhere German Attacks Along the Vesle River Repulsed

HEAVY FIGHTING BETWEEN BRAISNE AND SOISSONS RESULTS IN CAPTURE OF MANY PRISONERS BY THE FRENCH DEFENDERS

British in Early Morning Attack Regain Lost Ground in Vicinity of Morlancourt—Line Astride Clarence River on Flanders Front, is Advanced

By Courier Leased Wire.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—French troops last night, in the Montdidier area, gained ground south of Framicourt and southeast of Montdidier, the war office announced today.

Along the Vesle the French continue to repulse German attacks, especially between Braisne and Soissons. The war office announces that 100 prisoners have been captured east of Braisne.

The Germans today made a local attack against the French position south of Auberive, in Champagne. They were repulsed.

French troops last night made further gains in the Montdidier region.

TEXT OF OFFICIAL STATEMENT

The statement reads: In the region of Montdidier our troops have made some local progress south of Framicourt and southeast of Mesnil-St. Georges, west of Montdidier.

Along the Vesle the French last night repulsed German attempts against La Grange Farm, west of Braisne, and occupied the station at Ciray Salsogne. We made 100 prisoners east of Braisne.

In Champagne a local attack was directed this morning against our position south of Auberive. It was thrown back.

BRITISH REGAIN GROUND

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Bulletin.—In an attack carried out this morning southwest of Morlancourt, the British regained the ground taken from them by the Germans yesterday, along the Bray-Corbic road, north of the Somme.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The British line astride the Clarence river, on the Flanders front has been advanced a short distance, says today's war office announcement. A few prisoners were taken during the course of the operation.

SITUATION TO-DAY

By the Associated Press.

Artillery duels and patrol actions continue along the Vesle front while the Allies and Germans make ready for future operations. Indications point to a resumption of fighting on this line within a few hours.

Whether the German Crown Prince will attempt a definite stand between the Vesle and the Aisne is not yet clear, but it seems apparent he is preparing for further efforts to check the Allied advance. His medium calibre guns are bombarding the Allied positions south of the Vesle intensely, and he has been making strong efforts to dislodge the French and American troops holding bridgeheads on the north bank. All his attempts, however, have met with failure.

It was to be expected that

FRESH BLOW AGAINST BRITISH PLANNED; HUN NAVY TO STRIKE IN CONJUNCTION WITH ARMY

Military Leaders Contemplating New Stroke to Restore Their Prestige in Germany; German Fleet to Give Before Long, It is Expected Battle

By Courier Leased Wire.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff, in order to maintain their prestige and stimulate the depressed morale at home, usually well informed observers here state, intend to strike a blow against the British front in conjunction with the German fleet. An order issued by the new chief of the German military staff, Admiral Scheer, is said to have expressed the wish of the fleet to attack the British naval forces.

Meanwhile, the lull on the Rheims-Soissons front continues. The Germans, it is believed here are putting their heavy artillery in place and digging themselves in with intention of defending the positions between the Vesle and the Aisne as long as possible. The Allies have only light forces north of the Vesle and are obliged to await their heavy guns before pressing the offensive if the Allied commanders judge it opportune to push home an attack on that sector.

Marie Hurin in the Echo De Paris says there is no hurry and declares the Allies have proof that the Germans are suffering seriously from the lack of effectiveness. Some observers believe that the Germans are regrouping their divisions in preparation for a broad defensive rather than early offensive.

SUBMARINE WAR STIRS HUN SEAMEN

Sailors at Wilhelmshaven Revolt Against Continued Campaign

UNREST SPREADING

By Courier Leased Wire.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Rumors of a revolt by German sailors at Wilhelmshaven in protest against continuation of the submarine war are in circulation according to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Amsterdam. It is reported that propagandists among the men incited sailors about to leave on submarine cruises to attack their officers and surrender their ships or seek an opportunity to sink them and get themselves interned in neutral ports. More than fifty submarines are said to have disappeared.

Twenty-three of the ring leaders of the revolt are reported to have been arrested and sentenced to death. Many others have been arrested at Kiel and elsewhere, it is added.

The correspondent who sends the reports admits the stories are conflicting and the facts difficult to ascertain. The men behind the movement, the accounts state are revolutionary sailors who for some time past have been conducting propaganda with the object of stopping the submarine war because of the increased dangers.

The recent resignation of Admiral Von Holtzendorf as chief of the naval staff is declared to have been connected with the scandal. Emperor William, it is added, has abandoned an intended visit to the fleet at Wilhelmshaven this week because of the ferment there.

BOLSHEVIK FORCES ROUTED BY ALLIES FROM ARCHANGEL

Volunteer Detachments of White Guards Give Aid to the Allied Forces—Soviet Leaders Arrested—Preached Doctrines of Entente Progress

By Courier Leased Wire.

KANDALASKA, Aug. 7.—Volunteer detachments of White Guards are giving aid to the Allied units pursuing the Bolshevik forces retreating southward from Archangel.

The new Archangel Government has arrested most of the Bolshevik leaders who had not fled. The Bolshevik Commissioner of War Zenkevich, was killed, otherwise the change in Government was virtually bloodless.

Before the Allied troops landed at Archangel the local Bolsheviks issued a proclamation to the troops urging violence toward Allied citizens.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Announcement of the landing of Allied troops at Archangel and of further successes for the Czech-Slovaks is made in a Russian Government wireless message received here. Describing the situation in the north and east, it says: "At Archangel British and French have landed. They are advancing along the railway. "Our staff is at Oderskaya (100 miles south of Archangel). "On the Czech-Slovak front after the fall of Samara and Ufa the Czechs have captured Novo Nikolavsk, Ekaterinburg and Simbirsk. On the Don we have retreated to Eyskopsk. We are sending reinforcements toward Kizna and Simbirsk. To-day the Czech-

ANOTHER SHORTENING OF WEST FRONT NEAR, IS THE BELIEF IN GERMANY

Huns May Be Preparing to Occupy More Favorable Positions, and also to Release Many Divisions Now Occupied on Firing Line—Changes are Impending

By Courier Leased Wire.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Indications are that the German high command is about ready to proceed with another shortening of the western front on a different sector than that between Soissons and Rheims, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Matin, quoting a Berlin dispatch to the press of Karlsruhe. This operation it is added, has in view not only the occupation of more favorable positions, but, more particularly the release of a considerable number of divisions.

TOOK SUPPLIES.

With the French Army in France, Aug. 7.—By the Associated Press.—The army of General Bortholet, whose operations had a marked effect in bringing about the retreat of the Crown Prince, across the Vesle by breaking down the eastern pivot of his line, southwest of Rheims, effected heavy captures of material during the fighting. In one wood alone 300,000 shells of heavy calibre were taken, in addition to immense quantities of other material.

The army's bag of prisoners exceeded 2,000.

Mangaia to British Troops.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—General Mangaia of the French forces in an order of the day addressed to the British divisions under his command on the Rheims-Soissons front says: "You reached the battle at its fiercest moment, when the enemy, defeated for the first time, brought up his best divisions, which were numerically superior to ours.

"You continued to advance, lost by foot, despite bitter resistance, you held the conquered ground notwithstanding the violence of his counter-attacks. Then on August 1, with your French comrades, you carried the height which the defenders had been ordered to hold at all costs. Failing to retake it, the enemy was compelled to retreat. Pursued and harassed, for twelve kilometres.

"All you English and Scottish troops, both young and veterans, have shown the magnificent qualities of your race—in courage and tenacity. You have won the admiration of your brothers in arms, and your country will be proud of you for you and your commanders in due large measure the victory we have just gained against the barbarous enemy of all free peoples.

"I am happy to have you under my command, and I thank you." Honors Merited.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—The honors bestowed by the Government on the victorious leaders in the second battle of the Marne—General Foch and General Petain—are acclaimed as most fitting by the press. General Foch has been made a marshal of France, while General Petain receives the military medal.

"The names of Foch and Petain," says the Petit Journal, "are inseparable and it is with wholehearted gratitude that the country bestows the highest awards upon them."

YANKS CROSSED VESLE

LONDON, Aug. 7.—How American patrols crossed the Vesle after the occupation of Fismes is told in a despatch from the correspondent of the Daily Mail on the American front dated Monday.

"The Germans have fortified a number of positions north of the Vesle and close to Fismes," he says. "Two of their divisions are in the line here and one of them is believed to be a strong one from the reserves of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. "Early this morning American parties waited the Vesle west of Fismes where it flows at a good pace. They were under machine gun fire from the lower slopes along the river and artillery fire from heights north to the rear. From the north side the Americans pushed on while their artillery shelled the German positions intensely. East of Fismes American patrols crossed the river to-day.

"At the taking of Fismes yesterday the Germans fought desperately in the streets for some time, but finally broke and ran. American machine gunners punishing them severely as they fled down the slopes to the Vesle. German snipers and machine gunners are still in houses in Fismes although the Americans have been there for 24 hours."

Zurich, Aug. 7.—The German hope of ending the war by a military decision before the arrival of the Americans was blasted by the recent allied offensive, the Socialist newspapers of Vienna points out in concluding a recent article on the military situation.

All the explanations and comments cannot alter the fact that the only visible sign of success, is on the Allied side. While it is admitted that this victory does not possess any decision, the Allies to-day have a chief whose name inspires confidence and whose ability is in no way inferior to that of Ludendorff or Von Hindenburg. Furthermore, the only hope of Germany to end the war in a military way before the Americans were in line, has disappeared as the result of this last French offensive.

Investigation by U. S. authorities discloses the fact that the armored cruiser San Diego, sunk off the American coast, struck a mine.

HEAT WAVES BEAT PAST U.S. RECORD

Official Thermometers Show Abnormally High Temperatures Attained

RELIEF IN TWO DAYS

Mercury Mounts in Washington to Almost Unbelievable Height

Washington, Aug. 6.—High record temperatures that have marked the heat waves during the all-time period of official observations in the northeastern quarter of the United States were broken today. Washington and Baltimore, by weather bureaus, reported a temperature of 104 degrees, a point not even approached by the mercury since 1851, an end reached then in Detroit, Mich., Harrisburg, Pa., and Toledo, O., with temperatures of 104, new records were established here also in Scranton, Pa., and Cleveland, O., which each officially registered 104.

These were the findings of the cool and moist instruments in the weather bureau's minarets. Instruments set clear to the baking pavements of city streets everywhere, showed the mercury mounting to heights officially unbelievable and 104.5 in the case of Pennsylvania avenue, in the national capital, one of the weather bureau's own instruments during the day marked 114 degrees.

Small hopes for immediate relief for the eastern territory was seen tonight by the experts who study the curving map lines and east the daily climatic horoscope. It was said, however, the heat should slowly abate during the next two days over most of the area now affected. The hot wave owes its existence, weather bureau officials said, to an area of low barometric pressure which has been moving languidly from west to east across the continent, staying just a little north of the normal track, and suffering no competition from other disturbances in the south. In consequence there has been a great and constant flow of the air currents up the continent from south to north, which have gathered the accumulated heat that many days of unbroken sunshine has left on the mid-continent territory.

Malvy will have the choice of the frontier by which he will leave France, and will be conducted thither by police inspectors. The former Minister forfeits his seat as a member of the Chamber of Deputies as a consequence of his condemnation. MAROOINED

The Goat Island caught the unwieldy craft and held it, saying the men succeeded in getting a line to the boat last night but the length of the rope was so great and the scow so low in the water that the life line sagged into the swift current and it was impossible to operate a breeches buoy.

The life savers abandoned their work at midnight. Searchlights were kept on the wreck and an electrical sign was rigged up showing the word "HELP" so that the men on the scow would know that they had not been abandoned.

This morning a second line was cast across the wreck from the roof of the power house where the shore end of the cable was anchored and with it the breeches buoy was hauled out by the two men. Lotberg helped Harris into the breeches and he was brought in. The weight of his body on the rope caused it to sag deep into the current and there was danger that the extra strain on the scow would tear it loose from its uncertain position on the rocks. Harris was badly fatigued when rescued.

"Lotberg made me come over first; I was all in," Harris said. The breeches buoy was hauled back to the scow by Lotberg and half an hour later he was safe ashore.

Harris was submerged for twenty seconds at a time while he was being brought in but Lotberg was able to keep his head above water at all times despite the heavy sag of the life line.

SHIP PUT UP FIGHT U-Boat Was Over 300 Feet Long and Carried Two Guns

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 7.—Capt. Thomas of the oil tanker Lux Blanca, which was sunk 35 miles southeast of here yesterday by a German submarine after nearly four hours of desperate fighting, has arrived in this city.

At noon yesterday the Lux Blanca was about thirty-five miles southwest by south of this port. She was proceeding along her course, when the vessel suddenly shook from stem to stern. She had been struck by a torpedo, and her hull was badly damaged.

At noon yesterday the Lux Blanca was about thirty-five miles southwest by south of this port. She was proceeding along her course, when the vessel suddenly shook from stem to stern.

Range Inadequate A few minutes afterwards the submarine was sighted five miles away. The single gun mounted upon the stern of the tanker fired several shots, but the range was inadequate.

Shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon she reappeared immediately astern of the Lux Blanca and commenced shelling her. The gunner on the attacked steamer responded, and for almost half an hour there was a lively artillery duel.

Life Boats Alined At 2 o'clock the ship at 3 o'clock. As they rowed frantically away, the shells were bursting in the water all around them.

INTERNAL SITUATION Somewhat Relieved—Plans Will be Carried Out to the Full

Tokio, Aug. 6.—Premier Count Teruchi, in a statement concerning allied action in Siberia, said the Japanese Government would take further military measures in case the position of the Czechoslovaks demanded that if the chaotic situation in Siberia continued the Government might find it necessary to adopt suitable military measures to combat the Austro-German menace in the Far East.

Count Teruchi stated that the present step had been taken in perfect accord with all the allies. He hoped, he said, that it would mark the beginning of a new era of peace and order in Siberia.

THE SITUATION.

Present indications are that the Germans have decided to retire across the Aisne, the larger gun not in use having been sent to the rear. It is evident that they are choosing the next point of resistance with great care and another tremendous struggle is then likely to be the outcome. Meanwhile the Allies continue to retain a firm hold on all that they have gained. Foch has raised to the rank of Marshal in just recognition of his splendid achievement in turning the splendid German march on Paris into something little less than a rout. He has certainly demonstrated himself to be a tactician of the very highest order and the improved position of the Allies can be very largely attributed to him and his initiative foresight.

A German drive took some advance trenches from the British above the Somme. Fierce fighting ensued and they were ejected. The news from Russia is commencing to assume a somewhat better aspect.

THE TROUBLE IN TORONTO.

All good citizens everywhere will deplore the condition of affairs in Toronto, which has rendered it necessary for the Mayor to read the Riot Act. The affair started with the wrecking of Greek restaurants because of the allegation that a returned soldier had been assaulted in one of them. Since then there have been other manifestations which did not have any direct incident on the rioting cause, and which tell only of a spirit of lawlessness which can always find expression in any community if the chance offers.

As the outcome of the first outbreak the President of the Greek community in the Queen City sent a protest to the Greek Ambassador at Washington and he in turn laid the matter before the British Ambassador there, who has telegraphed for "full information and facts regarding the riots." The matter thus takes on an international phase. The vast majority of the Greek people have always been friendly to the Allies and their country was alone misrepresented in this respect by the deposed King and his clique.

In so far as returned soldiers have been implicated the fact is undoubted that they represent only a modicum. The brave men who so nobly sprang to the cause of Empire and of human liberty have shown their true worth and the vast majority of them have established their loyal citizenship. They will not allow a few hot heads to jeopardize either their standing in the purposes of the G.W.V.A. As for the civilian demonstrators they are of a class who seem to think that the proper way to remedy grievances is by creating other grievances against the community and the State.

Law and order must be preserved in Toronto as elsewhere, and that precept is one which will win the sincere backing of all right thinking citizens of every class.

AN ATTACK ON THE KNITTERS

These seem to be the days for attacks upon everything—without doubt the high tension of the times has something to do with it—but few ever imagined that the army of women knitters would ever come under the ban of criticism. Such, however, has occurred in the States, Samuel S. Dale, a prominent resident of the textile district of New England, having forwarded the contention that the fair sex by hand knitting were wasting wool urgently needed for clothing for soldiers and civilians. He also affirmed that soldiers on active service had no use for sweaters.

In the latter regard the quoted Major Boehm, an officer connected with the American Legion, as saying that he never saw men on active service wearing sweaters.

One of the many letters of protest written by Sergeant Thomas M. Gourlay, is as follows:

"In my opinion, Mr. Dale has been misinformed. Where Major Boehm gets his information is beyond me. No Canadian soldier who has been on active service and who has been in touch with men in the trenches could possibly make such an error. If Major Boehm will look me up he will have the privilege of seeing an ex-soldier who has worn a sweater in France and Flanders, and who has seen many other soldiers wearing sweaters, as well as other hand-knitted articles.

I served twenty-five months as a private and sergeant in the Canadian army and have two brothers still serving. We are blessed with a good mother and many friends who kept us supplied with hand-knitted socks, etc. Factory and mixed goods are the cause of many sore feet, so my advice to the women of Brookline, Mass., and to any woman who has a relative or friend in active service, is to knit and keep on knitting until the war is ended."

Some American authorities seem to think that there will be a large surplus of wool after 1918 requirements are taken care of, but the Red Cross officials at Washington are not so sure about that, as indicated in a special dispatch to the New York Globe from its Washington correspondent, which reads:

"The Red Cross is not yet ready to make a formal statement on knitting, but its officials are unwilling to see the women of the country discouraged in this line of war work. However, they are going slow in their master of knitting a plea to women to knit just at this time, because they are not yet sure what the wool and yarn situation will be.

Not long ago officials of the Red Cross got together with the War Industries Board and discussed the wool supply. It was decided that priority should be given first to the supply of wool for the various articles of clothing and outfit needed for the army and navy and obtained by them through purchase. It was decided that the Red Cross should have second chance to procure wool, chiefly in the form of yarn. Thirdly, the public was to get whatever was left, if any.

Now, the wool situation is so uncertain that the Red Cross is not advised how much yarn will be apportioned to it. But for this fact, it would send out a call to women to knit as much as possible. For the present officials say they will not make such an appeal. If assured of a plentiful supply they will do so. However, they are as fully convinced as ever of the value of the women's work in knitting for war purposes.

Furthermore, they denied charges that hand-knit articles do not wear well, and declared that machine-made socks last only about a third as long as those made by hand.

It would be a serious mistake to have our chapters stop knitting, said an official of the Red Cross. Barring lack of enough wool, knitting by the women of America will go on."

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Shall the women stop knitting? Nil.

August seems determined to run the thing off in heats.

Lenine threatens to wage war against Japan. That's enough to make the men of Mikado lead take to the tall timbers.

Anyone who can give a chilling glance these days is at a premium.

The weather has evidently decided to line up with the rest of the dry brigade.

It is announced that Col. Henry Watterson is about to give up his position as editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal. He is now 72 years of age and has long been the foremost journalist across the border. "Mars Henry," as he is generally known, always had the habit of hitting out in a most vigorous and fearless style, and more recently his diatribes against the Hapsburgs and the Hohenzollerns have been as vitriolic as they have proved brilliant.

ENEMY EXPELLED.

By Courier Leased Wire
 With the British Army in France, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press).—After remaining for 24 hours in trenches they formerly occupied astride the Bray-Corble road, south-west of Morlancourt, the Germans were attacked and expelled this morning by the British, who captured a number of prisoners. It was from these positions that the enemy was driven about a week ago.

Early yesterday morning a strong enemy force attacked and managed to get possession of most of their old trenches, but their occupation of them was short lived. The positions are now firmly in the hands of the British, who launched their counter-attack at 4 o'clock this morning. Aside from this relatively small operation the front remains extraordinarily quiet.

SOUTHERN EDITOR RETIRES

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 7.—Control of the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, held by W. N. Healdeman and his sons and Henry Watterson since the foundation of the two papers, passes to-day into the hands of Judge Robert Worth Bingham of Louisville, according to a formal announcement in the Times this afternoon. Henry Watterson ends his active connection as editor of the Courier-Journal, but will continue to serve in an advisory capacity.

DIAMOND SHOALS LIGHT SHIP SUNK

U-Boat Shelled the Famous Craft Off Cape Hatteras, N. C. CREW LANDED SAFELY

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Washington, Aug. 7.—The Diamond Shoals light ship off Cape Hatteras, N. C., was shelled and sunk by an enemy submarine late yesterday, the navy department was today informed. The crew who took to their boats, have reached shore safely.

The submarine came within a half mile of shore, according to the brief report which reached the navy department.

The Diamond Shoals light is one of the most famous guides to navigation in the world and has been the subject of many a story in verse and prose. Such vessels usually are manned by Grey-Beards and are of such a type as to be utterly helpless in the face of an enemy attack.

The attacking submarine probably was the one that sunk the American tank steamer Jennings 100 miles off the Virginia coast several days ago. Her exploit in showing herself above water within a half mile of the Carolina coast, in an important shipping line, where innumerable patrol boats are supposed to be plying, is one of the most daring reconnoitring since the German raiders first made their appearance.

Your Problems Solved.

BY REV. T. S. LINSOTT, D. D. (All rights reserved)

Dr. Linscott in this column will help you solve your heart, conscience, religious, marital and social, financial and every other anxious care that perplexes you. If a personal answer is required, enclose a five cent stamp. No name will be published; if you prefer, sign your initials only, or use a pseudonym.

Christian—A church member wants to know if the desire for money and efforts to get it are not contrary to the true Christian life. No, if one desires it for noble purposes. The Bible exhortation is to be "diligent in business." Surely a selfish love of money and a miserly hoarding of money are contrary to the Christian spirit. But the man who is indifferent to money making can hardly be a Christian in this day when the demands for charity and benevolence are so great. Get every dollar you honestly can and put every dollar to a good use for yourself and the world.

A Sinner—You sign yourself "A Sinner," yet assure me you have attended church all your life, that you have no bad habits, but that God has recently shown you your heart, and no revealed your selfishness and the impurity of your motives that you despise yourself and can find no rest. Well, my friend, you are to be congratulated that God has thus dealt with you; He had wounded that He may heal, He has made you feel guilty in order to make you innocent. Jesus came to save sinners such as you, and you can depend that God has heard your prayers.

 says that nobody looking into the future can see an end to the war.

"For though it is that the end might come quickly," it adds, "it could only be an end of terror, as in Russia."

The Vorwarts, of Berlin says that events of recent days at last have shattered the illusion created by inspired optimists that Germany is invincible. It says: "The German people at last realize the colossal gravity of the situation. Let us have courage to admit that as long as the war is not ended it is not won and can be lost."

The principal north German organ of the Socialists, Burger Zeitung, of Bremen, says: "Black and dark is the hour. The sacrifices made by the people are immeasurable, and those of the fifth year of the war will be gigantic, but no refreshing breath of freedom and civic equality blows through the oppressive night of our discomfiture."

WERE BURNT OUT

A despatch from Kitchener says: Two homes at No. 15 Scott Street, more generally known as the Pentecostal Mission, were nearly destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. As it is, clothing and furnishings to the value of several hundred dollars were destroyed or damaged, and the residence severely damaged, and the cupboards, by the way, had just moved into the house, coming here from Brantford, and many of the furnishings and articles of apparel which were damaged, were packed, having just been shipped here.

Mayor McClymont, of Prince Rupert, was officially notified by the Grand Trunk Pacific that the contract for building five steel steamships here has been signed and that negotiations are in progress for the construction of an additional five.

CHAPTER CXXV
The Question

"Bob, dear, will you send Donald away to ward to keep the tears back. I said as I found them together in the library."

"Run away like a good little man," As I had said to you, I said to you, object. Daddy will play with you by and by."

He spoke so gently I had to swallow hard to keep the tears back. But tears had no part to play in my life at that time. I had exhausted their power years before.

"I used the same gentle tone he had used when speaking to David."

"Our year is nearly up, Bob."

He gave a start, showing how unexpected was what I had to say.

"Yes."

"I love you Bob as you know. I shall always love you. But I have loved many things the last year, one of them is my own selfishness. I love you so well that I will not stand in the way of your happiness. Do you understand, Bob? I am not asking you to stay—if you will be unhappy with me, or if you will find happiness elsewhere, I will leave his face. His hands twitched, as, without speaking, he took a cigar from his pocket and lighted it. "Will you answer me truly Bob?" I asked.

"What do you want to know?" his tone was so low I could scarcely catch the words. "I want to know if there is some one else—whom you—love?"

"The silence was so tense, so fraught with possibilities for me that I scarcely breathed.

"I will never let my wishes stand in your way—now, Bob." I went on when I could endure the silence no longer. "There was a time when I only thought of myself, my happiness. That time is past. Your happiness is in all respects the chief concern of my life."

"The time isn't up, Margaret. Why didn't you wait?"

"A few weeks. What difference would they make? No earthly power, I scarcely think a heavenly, can kindle a love once dead. A love whose fire has gone out. I am convinced that it is utterly futile to seek it in the ashes, gray and cold. A loveless marriage, even if only loveless on one side as is ours, is no marriage at all. It is almost unholy. It is only lately I have come to know this, Bob, only very lately. I know too, dear, that you never have loved me, that as Elsie said I caught you on the rebound, when your heart was sore from the loss of your mother. It is my fault that I didn't win your love then. I might have—perhaps. When I woke up, it was too late." I waited. Bob had bowed his head on his hands, he neither moved nor spoke.

"Will you answer my question now, Bob. Is there anyone else?"

"Yes—Margaret—there is." And his answer was almost a groan.

"How I wished he would raise his head. I wanted to look into his eyes, to know if the love-light caused by the thought of her—that other woman, lingered in them. But he still shaded them with his hand."

"May I ask who it is, Bob, or do I know? It is Charlotte Keating, isn't it?" I pronounced her name in a steady voice, although my heart was pounding, and my hands were like ice as I waited.

"You—Charlotte," he said, then raising his head he looked at me. "You must believe me Margaret when I say I had no intention of marrying another that it came to me gradually that I cared as I never supposed a man could care, before I was aware of my feelings. As I was so unselfish, such a wonderfully understanding companion that I had given my love before either knew I had done so. Then it was too late; although I too have tried, Margaret. I have seen you honestly tried to put this love from my life. But it has been useless. I have failed."

"Then dear we better end it. Why should all three suffer when one of us can make the other two happy. When the suffering of only one means the happiness of the majority."

"Don't, Margaret! you—I can't take advantage of your generosity. I will stay and we will be as happy as we can. We, and the boys."

"No, not even for the boys is it your duty, Bob. They will always be your boys—they won't object to your seeing them when you want to. I will bring them up the best I can. They must be left with me, dear. That much I demand."

A stifled groan was my only answer.

"Love, Bob, is a vagrant." I went on. "I tried to catch him and failed. It is not your fault. I cannot in fairness hold you any longer. Think it over Bob, then we'll talk about the details." And with a bitter pain in my heart I walked from the room.

Terrible Mortality Among Serbs.

Reuter's Agency has received from a Serbian source figures regarding the terrible losses sustained by the Serbian population of Bosnia.

In the three years, 1915, 1916 and 1917, there were 150,514 deaths of which 65,042 were those of children under ten years of age. Of these 12,867 were infants under a year old, 31,039 from one to five years, 19,122 from five to ten.

Whereas before the war there were from 25,000 to 30,000 births annually, the birth-rate has been so considerably reduced that in 1915 there were 4,648 more deaths than births. In 1916 the excess of deaths over births amounted to 17,711, and in the first half of 1917 to 7,556.

Neighborhood Borrowers.

All good neighbors like to borrow occasionally from each other, but what can one do when the neighbor who makes a practice of getting her supplies from you and never makes any return? "I once laughingly told my neighbor," she says, "that I wanted to wear my new hat to town before I had worn it myself, that I would lend her anything but my clothes. This borrower took her good-looking victim at her word, and among the list of things she soon borrowed were coffee, meal, flour, oil, vinegar, soap and pencils, which last were regarded as too small ever to bother about bringing back, while most of the other things were 'forgotten.'"

ARMY OF FIVE MILLION.

Washington, Aug. 7.—In urging enactment of the administration man power bill extending draft ages to from 18 to 45 years, General Marsh, Chief of Staff told the Senate Military committee that the war departs plan an army of approximately five million men to be raised as soon as possible. About July 30, General March said, the United States reached a decision to enlarge its military program to carry out the policies agreed upon at the recent inter-allied conference at Paris to bring the war to an early conclusion.

It is feared that they met with disaster.

WANTS TO CONTROL NEWS SENT OUT

British M. P. Criticizes Lord Beaverbrook's Propaganda

TIMES DEFENDS WORK

Says His Efforts Have Secured Great Results in Canada

London, Aug. 7.—The direction of the Ministry of Information was debated in the House of Commons on the allegation of the waste of money. Lord Beaverbrook, M.P., complained that Lord Beaverbrook wanted control of the news flash, all over the world, and contended that propaganda in foreign countries has been of little value. Baldwin, Financial Secretary, defended the Ministry and said Lord Beaverbrook would be glad to meet the members and discuss matters. Meanwhile he asked the House to recognize that Lord Beaverbrook had taken up a most delicate and thankless task, and hoped the members would not queer his work. The Times in an editorial says that Lord Beaverbrook has given the work of the Ministry coherence and energy in many parts of the world, notably in Canada, and the United States, and results are already visible. The Mail says that Lord Beaverbrook has been responsible for excellent work and several excellent appointments. The Daily News asks what value Lord Beaverbrook and his colleagues have: what are they capable of doing in the direction of interpreting the work of the Ministry to the world. Who is there in Britain or Canada who would be ready to take Lord Beaverbrook as a political guide?

STIR IN VANCOUVER LABOR CIRCLES

Movement on Foot to Eliminate the Radical Element

Vancouver, Aug. 7.—Delegates to the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council will resign in a body next Monday if a recommendation passed by the executive of the organization is heeded and a reorganization of union labor with the radical element eliminated as heads will result. A resolution calling upon the delegates to resign next Thursday was passed at a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night. It is to be held a new election on Aug. 29.

Representatives of all returned soldiers and veterans' organizations in Vancouver met last night and formed a permanent united veterans' council to handle the controversy between labor and returned soldiers.

A resolution was passed embodying the following questions to be submitted to organized labor in the city: "Do you think the executive of the Trades and Labor Council is right in ordering you to cease work from Friday noon to Saturday noon last on account of Goodwin?" "Are you in favor of the constitution of the Trades and Labor Council being amended in such a way that your own consent must be had before a similar action stopping work again is taken?"

CHATHAM GAS RATE RAISED

Chatham, Aug. 7.—Gas rates in the city have been raised to forty cents per thousand cubic feet, from which the customary discount of five cents is allowed, making a net rate of 35 cents. Local consumers were apprised of the advance when they received their July bills. The advance provided in the order of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board is effective, which fixes new rates at the highest domestic charge in the various municipalities.

SMALL WONDER HUMANS SWELTER

Record in Brantford Yesterday Was 102 1/2 in Shade

LONDON REACHED THE HIGHEST POINT WITH 106.

The official record at the Brantford Meteorological office yesterday was: Highest, 102 1/2 in the shade; lowest, 75.

OTHER PLACES

Detroit, Aug. 6.—All high temperature records of the local Weather Bureau were broken this afternoon, when an official reading atop a high office building showed a maximum of 106 at 3 o'clock. On the street the government kiosk registered 113.

Chatham, Aug. 6.—Today was the hottest of the year, when the official government thermometer at Turner's Bureau registered 106 at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The hottest preceding day was 103. Yesterday was 99.

Even 106 Safe For the Dry.

Windsor, Aug. 6.—Despite today's record-breaking temperature of 106, not a single case of heat prostration was registered at Hotel Dieu. Medical men ascribe this to low humidity and the small amount of alcoholic liquors now being sold. Ice-cold drinks, they assert, especially those containing a high percentage of alcohol, are responsible for the majority of the heat victims.

Hottest London Ever Known

London, Ont., Aug. 6.—The hottest day recorded in the history of the London Observatory was experienced today, the thermometer rising to 106. In July, 1911, 101.5 degrees was registered, but since that time there have been very few days in London to reach the 100 mark. At 6 o'clock in the evening a shower that lasted but a few minutes cooled the air slightly, but if more rain is not forthcoming before morning, it is feared that the crops of the district will be destroyed.

Highest in Seven Years

Toronto, Aug. 7.—The maximum temperature of 106 degrees reported from London yesterday is the highest official record for any point in Canada in the past seven years. It is also the highest ever reached in London, or probably for the western part of Ontario. It is perhaps the highest official temperature figure which has received wide circulation by telegraph. There are at least two records, however, two records surpassing it. On July 3, 1911, during the memorable heat wave that made the early part of that month intolerable. Stonecliffe in the Ottawa valley, where there is a meteorological station, reported a mixture of 109, and Medicine Hat reported 108 in July, 1886.

DECISION WILL NOT INTERRUPT WAR

Military Service Act Will be Enforced Despite Mr. Justice Monet

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—The judgment of Mr. Justice Monet, of the Superior Court, Montreal, in which he declared that the Dominion Parliament has no right to delegate to the Governor-in-Council power to suspend the right of habeas corpus in Canada, will in no way affect the administration of the Military Service Act. The Government will be governed only by the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, which established the validity of the order-in-Council cancelling certain exemptions. It has always been maintained by the Department of Justice that, as a matter of fact, the right of habeas corpus has never been annulled by order-in-Council. All that has been done is to remove one ground on which a writ of habeas corpus may be granted. In regard to all other matters, the law, if it is claimed, is in no manner affected by the order-in-Council passed in connection with the administration of the Military Service Act.

LONDON COUNCIL RETAINED FIREMAN

Decide Capt. Tozer Shall Remain Pending Probe by a Judge

CAPTAIN'S CHARGES

Alleges Lack of Capacity and Discipline in Department

London, Ont., Aug. 6.—The City Council tonight threw back on the hands of its special committee practically all of the recommendations in a report on fire department affairs. The councillors failed to sustain the dismissal of Captain Thomas Tozer, of No. 1 station, who had been charged by Chief Aitken to leave on June 2. The committee reported that the dismissal was in the interest of the department. Tozer, who did not join the union when the brigade was organized, claims that he was made the butt of attacks of all sorts, and in two documents he levels charges against the department. Meanwhile the council has concluded that Tozer shall be retained until a county judge passes on the affairs of the department. This action was taken on motion of Ald. Wilson.

RY. LABOR BOARD FORMED.

Bulletin, Montreal, Aug. 7.—A Railway Labor Board, the aim of which is not only to administer the McAdoo award of wages recently introduced in Canada, but to handle and settle all wage and other labor problems that may arise from time to time in the operation of Canadian lines, was formed this morning at a conference between the railway war board and representatives of the labor organizations of railway men. Conferences have been held from time to time of late, and this is the result.

GENERAL COURT-MARTIAL.

London, Ont., Aug. 6.—The first general court-martial ever held in London under the Military Act, the terms of which permit of the imposition of the death penalty in extreme cases, will be held here to-morrow. The offence is alleged to be classed in much the same category as desertion in the face of the enemy. A mitigating circumstance is that both men returned to camp voluntarily.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

London, Aug. 7.—British casualties reported in the week ended to-day totalled 9,366, compared with an aggregate of 13,893 reported in the previous week. These are divided as follows: Killed or died of wounds: Officers, 105; men, 1,609. Wounded or missing: Officers, 374; men, 7,778.

Fire Chief Brady has asked for an investigation into a fire on Lang street, Cobalt, which destroyed four stores.

MAJOR SHARP'S CASE IS A MYSTERY

Both Drowning and Suicide Theories Are Scouted by Friends

REGULATIONS FOR DEALERS IN COAL

Must Post Price List—May Allow Reasonable Charge for Salary

Kingston, Aug. 6.—There have been no developments respecting the disappearance of Major J. J. S. Sharp, Ottawa, 1641st Regiment, Cavalry Officer, the theory that he was drowned while bathing is not entertained by those who have been conducting the search for the body, and those who were intimately acquainted with him scout the idea of suicide. Further investigation will be made, as the authorities are not satisfied, and it is possible that a different line of action may develop when fuller information respecting Major Sharp's movements as Friday night have been received. Representations are being made to Ottawa to have a rigid investigation into the case. Major Sharp's total disappearance forms one of the most startling mysteries in the history of Kingston.

REGULATIONS FOR DEALERS IN COAL

Regulations regarding the importation, sale and delivery of coal have been issued by the Fuel Controller. Among other things, they require that every coal dealer shall post in a prominent place in his office a conspicuous typewritten or printed notice containing a list of prevailing retail prices of all classes and sizes of coal handled by him, including overhead charges to determine the price of coal, dealers are required to exercise moderation in the amount they include as their own salaries. In this connection the regulations state, "Salaries and expenses to officers or partners are not to be increased over those prevailing during the year 1914 at a greater rate than salaries in other lines have increased. A dealer may charge his business with his own salary but at reasonable rate only. Dealers conducting a retail as well as a wholesale business are required to apportion their overhead expenses and fixed charges to each branch and this apportionment must bear reasonable comparison with the average overhead expenses and fixed charges of dealers who are engaged entirely in retail or entirely in a wholesale business.

TORONTO'S MAYOR READS THE RIOT ACT TO-DAY

Decides Drastic Action is Necessary After Latest Disturbances in the Queen City—Police Were Again Compelled to Charge Crowds Which Threatened Trouble

Toronto, Aug. 7.—"To-morrow at noon I will read the Riot Act from the City Hall steps," said Mayor Church at midnight last night. "I will also issue a proclamation declaring all persons taking part in parades, meetings in parks, discussions on the streets, etc., as committing an indictable offence under the Act and liable to penalties up to life imprisonment.

"We are going to have law and order at all costs."

The reading of the Riot Act means that the military can be called upon without further preliminaries to aid the civil forces.

Disorder during which a number of returned soldiers, civilians and women felt the force of the police-men's batons, occurred last night on Court street and Yonge street, following the conclusion of a meeting in Queen's Park, at which drastic resolutions were passed regarding aliens, and also constables who struck returned soldiers and women on Saturday night.

The strains of "God Save the King" had not died away before a fight started near the stand, several men jumping on a young man in a Panama hat who had not removed it during the singing of the National Anthem. Members of the R.A.F. interceded, stating that the man was probably an American, who had not recognized the anthem, but had mistaken it for the American national song, which has the same tune.

led by a motor car containing a number of amputation cases, several thousand people, including returned men in uniform, returned across the street they forced a path, and then started to work in both directions. From both ends of the little street, the men and women rushed back, and inside of two minutes the street was clear, the police swinging right and left with their sticks. At 9.30 several straw hats were all that was left of the crowd.

Marched Up Yonge.
Remnants of the crowd marched along Adelaide street and up Yonge, and were kept on the move by the squads of police. Other squads went in front of the main crowd, and told women and motorists to get off the street. Throughout the whole of the disorders has been surprising to many the way the women, in some cases accompanied by young children, have remained on the streets during the trouble.

Charges between the police and the crowd occurred at Shuter, Wilton avenue and College street, and following some of the rushes by the police, large sticks were dropped on the sidewalk. Crowds were thrown on several occasions.

Several men, some of them returned soldiers, were beaten on Yonge street during these rushes. Near College and Yonge, a man was taken to the Spadina Military Hospital in Capt. Leo Scholes' motor.

Pte. Shulman said that he was struck on the arm by a constable whose number he has, was turned around and thrown to the pavement. After falling to the sidewalk he noticed that the constable was hitting him on the head with his baton. After recovering somewhat on the benches at College and Yonge he was removed in a motor car.

Ran After
The crowd was kept moving up and down Yonge street by police, who advised all women to go home. Around 10.30, catching sight of a single constable at Wood and Yonge streets, a crowd of thirty or forty rushed along Wood street and jumped aboard a passing Church street car which they thought the policeman had taken. The car was packed by the crowd, but the officer had eluded them, and they returned to Yonge street a few blocks north.

VICE PREMIER TO BECOME PRESIDENT

Real Struggle in China Will be Between Tuan Chi and Chang Soutin
By Courier Leased Wire.
Peking, Aug. 6.—At a conference held by the Generals of the Northern Chinese army it has been agreed to nominate Hsu Shi Chang, former Vice Premier, for the Presidency. The real struggle in the coming presidential election however, will be for the vice-president. If Chang is elected he will hold office only so long as permitted to do so by the military party and much depends on the character of the man who would be successor Tuan Chi-Jui, the Premier, is the most popular candidate, but Chang Soutin, Governor of Mukden Province, has high political ambitions.

Leng Kwo Chang is now president of China, his term of office expiring on Oct. 6 next. Hsu Shi Chang was prominent during the latter days of the Chinese Monarchy and is one of the leading Chinese statesmen.

SAYS RUSSIA WILL FINISH THE WAR

About to Renew Hostilities Against Germany, Says Hun Officer
By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, Aug. 6.—It is Russia which will finish the war, this is the declaration made to Dr. Hans Vorst by an officer of the Red Guard, according to an article by Dr. Vorst in the Berlin Tageblatt, portions of which have been received in Washington.

Never known to disappoint the Most Critical Tastes "SALADA"

A Tea-pot Test is better than a page of Advertisement.

Dr. Vorst is considered in Germany one of the best judges of Russian affairs and was sent to Russia by the Tageblatt to report conditions. Through conversations with Russians of all classes he came to the conclusion that the Soviet government is thoroughly detested. The Soviet government he declares is the oligarchy of terror and unrestrained. A merchant declared to Dr. Vorst: "The war with Germany is not over. A new government will be formed in Russia. It will decree a general mobilization and will drive the enemy out of all the territory that he occupies."

An Associated Press despatch from Kandalaska, Russian Lapland, on Aug. 3 reported the landing of an Allied detachment at Archangel after a revolution against the Bolsheviks had occurred there. The Soviet troops being driven from the city. Another Kandalaska message dated Sunday, Aug. 4 and received Monday Dr. Vorst in the Berlin Tageblatt, reported that American forces had participated in the landing and that the population of the city had received the troops with cheering.

HUNS LEVIES HEAVY.
By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Aug. 6.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuters)—Speaking in the House Lords Robert Cecil stated that the Germans had levied war contributions of 2,300,000,000 francs upon Belgium, besides enormous fines placed upon localities, firms and individuals. These monstrous exactions, he said must certainly be taken into account when peace terms were being arranged.

Civic Fuel Distribution

Commencing on or about August 19th a system of distribution will be put in operation whereby all coal reaching Brantford will be handled through the Fuel Commissioner's office. In order to overcome the inconvenience of having people come to the central office, a coupon system has been adopted. The plan is for all citizens to fill in the coupon and mail it to Fuel Commissioner. When all coupons have been received, same will be properly sorted. Orders issued and mailed back to customer. The system will continue throughout the winter months, or until such time as all homes are adequately supplied. We ask for a hearty co-operation of all citizens, as it is hoped to accomplish results without inconvenience to the public or the dealers.

Coupons will appear in The Courier and Expositor on August 2nd, 6th, 8th and 10th. Every citizen without coal should fill in and mail promptly.

Cut Out The Coupon AND MAIL TO FUEL COMMISSIONER, CITY HALL, BRANTFORD.

Write all particulars plainly, and do not make mis-statements. The government Fuel Regulations are very strict and a severe penalty will be imposed for attempted hoarding. The desire is that every home in Brantford should be provided with fuel. There is not an abundance, but if all co-operate, the situation can be handled.

FOOD SUPPLIES AFTER THE WAR

by after war conditions. Western Canada, despite its enviable record for grain crops, is pre-eminently a live stock country. In addition to having sufficient land suitable for the growing of grain crops to supply much of the needs of the world, the three prairie provinces: Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, are capable of supporting millions of cattle, sheep and hogs. Many of the settlers, however, have found it difficult to get a start, or have not been convinced of the possibilities of live stock, but these obstacles are being gradually overcome by the assistance of the provincial government, and such companies as the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Although still in an experimental stage the schemes that have been adopted in Manitoba and Alberta are proving very successful. Through its Department of Agriculture the Manitoba Government buys cows and sells them on credit to farmers. During the first year or so some 3,500 cows were supplied in this manner to farmers. Almost the whole of them went to one part of the province and the success of the scheme is seen in the fact that in these districts four new creameries and two cheese factories have been established. Besides, the creameries of Winnipeg also report larger shipments of milk and cream from this territory. At the present time the government is not able to deliver cows as fast as applications for them are received and has now orders on hand for about 5,000 animals—a fact which shows the popularity of the scheme.

The plan adopted by the Government of Alberta is somewhat different from that of Manitoba in its method of operation. It is embodied in an act of parliament, which, briefly stated, provides that any five or more farmers may make a joint, promissory note for an amount not to exceed five hundred dollars for each signer for a term of five years. The Provincial Treasurer guarantees the payment of these notes. The money thus borrowed must be invested in female cattle, except that the borrowers may if they choose invest not more than ten per cent. of their total amount in a pure bred bull. The cattle must be branded with the government brand, and, with their female progeny, remain the property of the government until the note is paid. The male progeny becomes the property of the purchaser immediately. This scheme has been in operation a little more than a year, and already more than seven thousand head of cows have been placed in the hands of farmers. Not only has the scheme enabled them to increase their incomes considerably and enhance the prosperity of the province, but it has also shown the possibilities of live stock in the country, with the result that they are being acquired in increasing numbers by farmers outside of the plan as well.

ANY movement that has for its object the encouragement of the live stock and allied industries is worthy of commendation at the present time. For many years after the conclusion of the war the people of Europe will be largely dependent upon the farmers of the Dominion of Canada for their meat and dairy supplies. The replenishment of the depleted herds of Europe will also cause a demand for live stock on the American continent such as has never been experienced before. It follows then that the farmer who is maintaining or increasing the number of his live stock at the present time is the one most likely to benefit among settlers on irrigated land in Canada. Their full value to the country will not be apparent for a number of years, but meanwhile their influence is demonstrating to the settler that the possibilities of live stock raising in Western Canada are equally as good, if not better even, than the growing of grain.

All these schemes are proving of great benefit to the settler in Western Canada. Their full value to the country will not be apparent for a number of years, but meanwhile their influence is demonstrating to the settler that the possibilities of live stock raising in Western Canada are equally as good, if not better even, than the growing of grain.

VOYAGE TO RANK WITH THAT OF COLUMBUS SOON TO BE MADE

Journey Through Skies by Airplane With Bombs to Drop on Berlin, is Near Than Most Realize—How it Will be Done

Washington, Aug. 7.—The most famous voyage in the history of the world was made just 426 years ago. Columbus sailed from Spain, touched the Portuguese coast, passed at the Azores, and then drove across the uncharted seas until his jolly boats nosed the sands of a new world.

Another voyage that will shine in history besides that of Columbus' almost surely reverse the route of the great discoverer—from the American continent to Newfoundland, say, to the Azores, thence to Portugal and finally to France.

But it will be made through the skies by airplane.

And if there is anything in prophecy based on science it will be made this year—before the leaves fly, possibly in September.

At least this is the settled opinion of Major-General William S. Bracker, controller-general of equipment of the British Air Council. General Bracker is now in Washington to help co-ordinate the effort of the Allies in the air. His position as to the flight across the Atlantic is simply this: That it must be done some time in the present war, that it is already possible to do it, and that therefore it should be done now.

Once the first flight is an accomplished fact, he sees steadily growing fleets of huge planes making the trip as a regular part of the independent aerial offensive by which it is hoped to bomb-spatter every industrial center in Germany.

General Bracker is not a man to instill doubt. He is a compound of confidence and caution. When he doesn't know he doesn't talk, and when he does talk he is careful to express himself definitely and in considered terms. His enthusiastic abides in energy and his convictions factor so far as America's participation was concerned. Airplanes which can't float across the ocean have to go by ship. Let's ship as many of them as we can. They are most useful and necessary. In addition, we manufacture planes which can fly across we are not only saving ships and increasing our output of planes but we are carrying to the battle front types of machines which will be most dangerous to the enemy.

"All I can say is that from the point of view of design we have machines to do the job now. We are not going into a technical discussion but I can tell you that absolutely. And they are machines which can be manufactured right here in the United States."

After a flight over the ocean, "Why here," he said, giving himself the impatient shake of the man of action. "We know perfectly well that within the next three or four years is going to develop just as rapidly as it has in the past more rapidly, I should say. We can't expect peace to-morrow. We've got to keep on preparing for a long war. And we've got to do this particular thing sooner or later. Let's take the bull by the horns and do it now. That's my whole point—attack the difficulties now."

"That brings up the whole question of time, General," he was reminded. "When you say you can't expect peace to-morrow, you mean you can't expect it to take place."

The cautious look came in to his face.

"Well, clearly," he explained, "there is much basic industrial work to be done here before these machines can be turned out. All types capable of making the flight are still in the experimental stage. You may have as much as three months delay over some of the difficulties that didn't strike you as a difficulty at all. Then there are other difficulties of preparation, the question of landing stages, the training of pilots. But it is certain they can be met. This is the question of the British Air Ministry."

"My own personal opinion is that it is possible now. If the flight is made this year, say in September, it will probably be made by a sea-plane. A sea-plane, though it carries a good deal of weight, it doesn't require much preparation as to landing stages. It uses the harbors offered by nature."

Weight-carriers needed. "But what we need over there are great weight-carrying machines to bomb Germany. I think that the next year, that is, within the next twelve months, we can get them over under their own power on an appreciable scale. By that time I mean enough to help out and count materially in the aerial offensive."

"How are you going to send them over?" General Bracker speaking, there are three routes—the northern, from Newfoundland to Greenland, thence to France by way of Ireland; the central, direct to Ireland and then to France; and the southern, by way of the Azores and Portugal. You can rule out the northern route on account of the weather. The central route is in many ways a most interesting one. I don't know what you could call the sky, a terra incognita, but the weather in certain parts of the mid-Atlantic is practically unknown. From the viewpoint of the weather the southern route is really the most attractive. It is steadier and easier to forecast. Given fair weather we will back our engines to do anything we expect."

Western Fair Attractions September 6th to 14th

The program of attractions for the Western Fair this year will be of special interest. The eight Slayman Ali-Arab Troupe will be one of the leading acts on the program. The Costa Troupe, the most wonderful aerial act ever presented, the McDonnell Trio, with a great bicycle act, the four readings of the most interesting and dramatic act in the world, the aerobatic act De Dio's animal act—without the price of admission if there were no others—Santo Brothers, the men who do their act away up in the air. Legends of the past will be in his bounding act, and various other artists will all appear before the Grand Stand twice daily. There will be an abundance of first class music by the band orchestra. The Slayman Pipe band have been engaged for the entire week, and Manley, the great singer and composer, will render his patriotic songs at each performance. Fireworks every night will be a part of the program. "The Show World Exposition Shows" will fill the midway with instructive, interesting and amusing shows. Constantine of Greece Knew Prussian Designs And He Proved a Coward

"I Have Never Seen Anything to Equal Tanlac," Says Toronto Machinist

Constantine of Greece, who visited his castle on the Island of Corfu, and while there he had an interview with the leaders of the pro-German party in Greece to ascertain the position that their country would take in the coming European war. This astounding piece of information is contained in Demetra Vaka's book, "In the Heart of German Intrigue," and it stands as another item of evidence, if any more evidence is required, that the German war lords had made deliberate preparations to launch the world war four years ago. The author does not secure her facts in a stream-lined manner. Dr. Streit and Gen. Doussman, the two leading spirits of the pro-German group, who controlled the pro-German policy of King Constantine, both admitted to her that it was the truth.

Demetra Vaka is a Greek by birth, but she has spent most of her life in the United States and is married to an American, Mr. Kenneth Brown. All through the early days of the war, Mrs. Brown, who still loves her native land, felt that the Greeks were in a state of confusion and misunderstanding, and she used her influence to re-educate King Constantine and

KING CONSTANTINE

Vanassos in order that the unhappy country, once consolidated, might play a heroic part in the struggle. Mr. and Mrs. Brown paid a visit to the Kaiser in Berlin, and he gave his blessing to their undertaking. It was only after many delays that the "Couple Brown," as the Greeks called them, arrived in Athens in March, 1917. Then began a battle of wits in which Mrs. Brown endeavored to find the truth about the situation in Greece. She was prejudiced in favor of King Constantine, and her first business was to interview all the leading royalists. She was prepared to find that they were acting in what they believed to be the best interests of Greece, but as she cross-examined them her faith in the possibility of a reconciliation between the two parties in the country gradually weakened.

At first Mrs. Brown liked King Constantine on account of his personal charm. Then she began to discover signs of restlessness and craftiness. As she learned more and more of his knavery, she began to fear that he was a coward, and came at last to the conclusion that cowardice was the keynote of his character. He wanted to be an autocrat, and at the same time he feared the Kaiser and the Prussians, especially after the Kaiser gave him a glimpse of the interests of Germany, and was the preparator of his character. He worked throughout the war entirely in the interests of Germany, and was the right-hand man of the Queen of Greece in her intrigues.

According to Mrs. Brown, the most able and most dangerous enemy of the Allies was Gen. Doussman. He was on the side of Germany because he believed in autocracy, and thought that a victory for the Teutons would strengthen King Constantine and put the power into the hands of the ruling classes. His ideal was to have Greece a powerful and wealthy autocracy, maintained on the ruins of the German Empire.

Mrs. Brown the Teutonic ideal of a unified Central Europe. He drew a mark around a part of Austria, and said: "This will be the Kingdom of Austria, with a Hapsburg for a king." He circled Bohemia. "This will be the Kingdom of Bohemia, with a king of its own; let us say, the second son of the Kaiser, or Bosnia, Herzegovina, Dalmatia and Croatia he enclosed together. "This will be the Slav kingdom, where all the Serbs will go to live, with, let us say, the fourth son of the Kaiser as its king." Roumania, Turkey and Hungary each formed a separate kingdom. The greater part of Serbia he enclosed with Bulgaria, while Greece was to have a small part of Serbia and Albania. All these kingdoms were to be in the same relation to the German Empire that Bavaria does, and each kingdom was to be developed into an up-to-date and efficient military nation.

Gen. Doussman even hinted that when the war first dreamed this dream, they believed that the United States, then a totally-unprepared nation, might be forced by Prussian methods to finance the scheme.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

WILLIAM WRIGHT GAINED 20 POUNDS

"I Have Never Seen Anything to Equal Tanlac," Says Toronto Machinist

"The best proof I can give that Tanlac was the right thing for me is the way it has relieved my trouble and built me up," said William Wright, a well known machinist for the Canadian Aeroplane Company, living at 46 Symington Avenue, Toronto, recently.

"I had suffered from stomach trouble for more than a year and had fallen of twenty-five pounds," he continued, "and five bottles of Tanlac has not only relieved me entirely, but I have actually gotten back twenty pounds of my lost weight, besides. Before I took it my appetite was very poor and my stomach was in such a bad fix that I couldn't eat anything without suffering terribly from indigestion. I had to give up eating the things I like best as they would hurt me so. I got so I would often skip my meals and what little I did eat I just had to force down. No matter what I ate it would sour and feel like a lump of lead in my stomach and I would belch up scur gas and undigested food for hours after every meal. I was right sick at my stomach all the time, always had a bad taste in my mouth and felt tired, sluggish and no account. I would get up in the mornings feeling so bad that I actually had to go to work. Any one may know how I was going down by the way I lost in weight."

"My wife and I had been reading what others had to say about Tanlac, so I decided to see what there was to it for me. Well, my appetite soon got better and before I finished my third bottle I could see a wonderful improvement in every way. I eat good, hearty meals and thoroughly enjoy them. My digestion is fine as is shown by the way I have increased in weight. My stomach trouble is a thing of the past with me and I am feeling just as well as I ever had. I have never been anything the matter with me. I notice now I always feel rested and ready for my work in the mornings. I don't have that downy, half dead feeling like I did before I took Tanlac. I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac as a medicine and I would certainly advise anyone to give it a trial."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson Drug Store, in Paris by Apps Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by A. Coemans, in Midport by William Reddie, in Onondaga by Nell McPhadden.

BREEDERS PAID VISIT TO BRANT

Niagara Peninsula Holstein Raisers Made a Trip Through County

Last week about twenty-five prominent Holstein breeders from the Niagara Peninsula motored through Brant and adjoining counties for the purpose of inspecting the better herds of Holstein cattle. In Brant three farms were visited, namely, Oak Park, Stock Farm, Brantford; Smith Dale Stock Farm, Scotland, and the farm of Edwin C. Chambers, Fairfield.

Although the cattle were somewhat thin, the visitors expressed themselves as highly pleased with the class of animals they saw. One striking instance of careful breeding was seen on the farm of Edwin C. Chambers, the entire herd numbering about twenty-one head, were all directly descended from the one cow who is still in the herd at the age of 13 years. This is rather a remarkable herd in that respect as the entire herd are of pretty much one type and all good performers.

Such excursions as this are very helpful to the farmers and should be encouraged more. By this means one is enabled to not only have a holiday, but also to see what the other fellow in the same business is doing.

The trip was arranged by Messrs. Filmer and Hanson of the Lincoln and Welland Agricultural Departments, respectively, and while in Brant County was under the direction of Mr. Schuyler.

LOSS OF APETITE is commonly gradual; one day after another is not under. It is one of the first signs of the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Sarsaparilla—the best of all tonics.
