Only 37 Cases of Small-pox in County

Interesting Survey of the Situation
by Dr. Desmond, Chairman
North'd Board of Health

The following interesting survey of the Small pox situation in Northumberland County has been submitted, by Dr. F. J. Desmond, Chairman of the County Board of Health, to the Provincial Board at Fredericton. The report shows that there is at present 37 cases of Smallpox in the County, the majority of these being in Nelson Parish, where one family of eleven all have the disease. The situation shows very marked improvement, and it will be only a short time before the County will be clear of the dreaded disease. The report in full was:

Newcastle, March 4th, 1918
To Dr. R. H. McGrath,
Sec. Provincial Board of Health,
Fredericton, N. B.

Dear Sir:

I herewith submit my report for the period covered from the 22nd day of January, the date of my appointment, to March 4th, 1918, for the Health District, No. 23, County of Northumberland.

I have had two meetings of the Board and got their consent to the principle that as vaccination is compulsory in this district, they would insist that all persons able to pay for vaccination be requested to do so but no person applying be refused vaccination. That section 80, No. 1, regarding Schools be strictly enforced. That supplies for persons quarantined be given through the Alms-house [commissioner] applications being made through one of the Councillors of the Parish. Instructions being given to the Doctors to vaccinate all persons who have been exposed to Smallpox, or coming in contact with the disease.

Report for the Parish of Alnwick—At Portage River, one house quarantined, 3 persons sick of Smallpox, 11 inmates, all not showing disease vaccinated, also persons known to have been in contact with the disease. As this building contained a general store, postoffice, and was a stopping house, I gave orders to close all business on the premises. Dr. Wallace is in charge of these cases. I have ordered him to make a house to house vaccination of the district, and see that all comply with the act. I might say that contagion in this case came from Inverness, Gloucester Co.

North Elm Parish—One family of four persons sick with Smallpox.

The lumber camps of Ritchie's, Burchill's and Sinclair's are now free from the disease. Have given strict orders that thorough washing and boiling of all clothing with use of disinfectants, and all having to take at least two antiseptic baths before being allowed to leave the camps, also recommend that families be vaccinated before men go to their homes. I have made a personal inspection of three cases reported from this Parish and in only one case found smallpox. He was living alone and he is now out of quarantine.

Blythville—One case at present in quarantine. In the upper part of this parish there has been one family of four persons who had the disease, now recovered. Many say that this outbreak was brought about by a school teacher who had visited her home in York County during the Christmas holidays and contracted it.

Chatham Parish—All the cases, but one recovered and quarantine lifted.

Gloucester Parish—Case reported from St. Margarets on Richibucto Road. Dr. Duffy in charge of case. One case at Lower Napan. Dr. McKeachie in charge of case. Both of these cases contracted the disease in Chatham.

Nelson Parish—Three houses under quarantine. One family of 11 persons all having had the disease, the other family with four persons down with the disease, and one person in the other house.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."

—Mrs. MARY BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

Fredericton Express Runs in Open Switch

An open switch was the cause of a bad smash-up in the Newcastle yard on Thursday night last, when The Fredericton Express ploughed into the rear of the Shunting engine, badly damaging its tender, as well as practically destroying the whole forward portion of the engine in the Fredericton Train. The exact cause of the accident is not known, but it is reported that the shunter was placing a car on the siding, when the Express was coming into the station and the brakeman, forgetting that the switch had been left open gave a clear signal to the driver on the express. When the express took the siding it was travelling at about ten miles an hour and that much damage was not done, or someone injured is considered about a miracle.

Weak, Nervous People

Such Sufferers Can Be Restored by Building Up the Blood

Nervous people who have not yet developed a disease that can be recognized and treated by the medical profession have the greatest trouble in finding relief. Irritation, headaches, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, all these discomforts make life miserable, but she endured rather than run a doctor's bill without definite hope of an improved condition.

Every sufferer should know the danger of such a condition to the nervous system. Nervous debility and even paralysis may result if the tone of the nerves is not restored.

The one big fact that brings hope and relief is that the nerves can be restored by building up the blood. It cannot be too often repeated that only through the blood can nourishment or medicine reach the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and quickly restore vitality and energy to a weak, nervous system. A nervous person who gives these pills a trial is almost certain to see good results, and what is more, the benefit will be lasting because the trouble is attacked at its root; building up the blood restores the nerve force. That is why people who occasionally take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong. Mrs. Wm McIntyre, Gananoque, Ont., says:—"For a number of years I was always tired and listless. The least noise would so startle me that I would tremble and shake; my heart would flutter, and I would feel as though I were choking. I was almost wholly unfitted for housework and almost a burden. I tried several medicines, but they did not help me in the least. One day I received a pamphlet describing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a trial. I am glad now that I did for after using eight boxes they have so strengthened and built up my run-down, nervous system that I can work with pleasure and feel refreshed after a night's sleep. I sincerely hope some similar sufferer may benefit by my experience.

If you are weak, nervous or feeling "out of sorts," give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and you will be surprised to see how quickly the nervousness will pass away and your former energy return. You can get these pills through your medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
For Stomach, Bowels, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Yellow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental depression, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—no laxative, no griping, no purging, no 12-hour fast for results.

Never was ship more eagerly sought than the Andromeda, yet never was ship more completely engulfed in the mysterious silence of the great sea. The days passed and the weeks, yet nothing was heard of her. She figured in the "overdue" list at Lloyd's, sharp eyed underwriters did "spec" in her, woebegone women began to haunt the Liverpool office for news of her and her sons, the sailors. Dickey wore Verity to a shadow, his former self by alternate pleadings and threats, but the Andromeda remained mute, and the fanciful letters from Iris became fewer and more fragmentary as David's imagination failed and his excuses grew thinner.

And the odd thing was that if David had only known it he could have saved himself all this heartburning and misery by looking through the dining room window on that Sunday afternoon when his prospects seemed to be so rosy. He never thought of that. He cursed every circumstance and person impartially and acutely, but he omitted from the satanic litany the one grisly prank of tree climbing that led Iris to spring out of sight amid the sheltering arms of an elm when her uncle and Captain Coke deemed the summer house a suitable place for "a rain talk as man to man."

CHAPTER II. WHEREIN THE ANDROMEDA BEGINS HER VOYAGE.

THE second officer of the Andromeda was pacing the deck, bridge with the slow alertness of responsibility. He would walk from port to starboard, glance forward and aft, peer at the wide crescent of the strait sea, stroll back to port and again scan ship and sea. Sometimes he halted in front of the binnacle lamp to make certain that the man at the wheel was keeping the course, south 15 west, set by Captain Coke shortly before midnight. His ears listened mechanically to the steady pulse beat of the propeller, but his mind dwelt on something far removed from his duties, though, to be sure, every poet who ever scribbled four lines of verse has found rhyme and reason in comparing women with stars and ships and the sea.

If Philip Hozier was no poet, he was a sailor, and sailors are notoriously lax in their adherence to the laws of the lover sex. But the only woman he could look for during many a year was a mermaid, though these sprites of the deep waters seem to be frequenting undiscovered haunts since mariners ceased to woo the wind. For all that, if perfect love was heart whole, there was no just cause or impediment why he should not admire a pretty girl when he saw one, and an exceedingly pretty girl had honored him with her company during a brief minute of the previous day.

He was superintending the safe disposal of the last batch of cotton goods in the forward hold when a young lady, accompanied by a dock laborer carrying a leather portmanteau, spoke to him from the quay.

"Is Captain Coke on board?" said she.

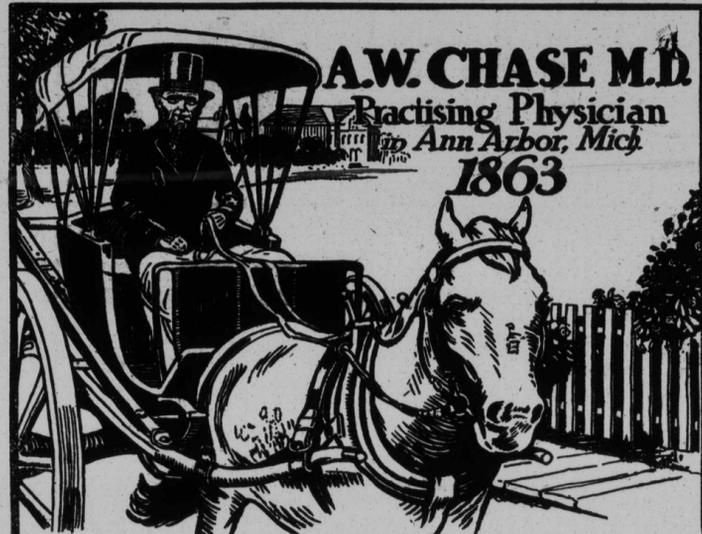

"No, madam," said he, lifting his cap with one hand.

"I am Mr. Verity's niece, and I wish to send this parcel to Montevideo. May I put it in some place where it will be safe? You are Mr. Hozier, I suppose?" said Iris, gazing with frank brown eyes into his frank blue ones. "Well, I will just pop the bag into Captain Coke's stateroom and leave this note with it. I have explained everything fully. I wrote a line in case he might be absent."

"All of which was so strictly accurate that it served its purpose admirably, though the said purpose, it is regrettable to state, was the misleading and utter bamboozling of Philip Hozier. Miss Iris Yorks knew quite well that Captain Coke was then cloistered with David Verity in Exchange buildings. She knew because she had watched him pass through the big swing doors of her uncle's office. She also knew, having made it her business to find out that in fifteen minutes or less the crew would muster in the fore-cabin for their midday meal. Not having heard a word of Hozier's free speech to the gentlemen of various nationalities at the bottom of the hold, she wondered why he was missing.

When Hozier was free to glance a second time at the cross rail Iris had vanished. He was annoyed. Evidently she did not wish to encounter any more of the ship's officers that morning.

A.W. CHASE M.D.
Practising Physician
Ann Arbor, Mich.
1863

"WHO IS THIS DR. CHASE?" we are sometimes asked by persons who know his medicines, but are not familiar with his interesting life story.

The boyhood days of Dr. A. W. Chase were spent in the vicinity of Buffalo, N.Y., and as he had early decided to be a medical doctor, he took the first opportunity of attendance at the University of Michigan, located at Ann Arbor.

After graduation he began the practice of medicine in Ann Arbor, Mich., and, at the time represented in the illustration, his reputation as a physician of exceptional skill had spread far beyond the confines of his State, and people came to him for treatment from many miles around.

As he was accustomed to travel across western Ontario to his native city of Buffalo he frequently stopped over at Canadian towns and cities for special consultation, and in this way made many friends in Canada.

The character and personality of Dr. Chase was such that to know him was to love him. He inspired confidence and respect, and made lasting friends wherever he went.

And thus it happened that when Dr. Chase placed his most successful prescriptions on the market, so that the people might obtain them more readily, they met with a reception in Canada as well as in the United States.

This letter from Mr. Parish will give you some idea of how Dr. Chase's Medicines became known throughout Canada.

Went to Dr. Chase in 1867
"In the year 1867 I was very bad with my kidneys. I could not work on account of my back being lame, sore and painful all the time. Though I carefully followed the directions of our family doctor he was unable to do me much good. At this time Dr. A. W. Chase was becoming known as an especially successful physician, and on the advice of my uncle, Charles Williams, I went to Dr. A. W. Chase at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and he gave me a box of his pills for kidney disease.

"You can scarcely imagine how much good they did me. They helped me so much that I went back to the doctor and bought a dozen boxes. In my mind there is not a medicine half so good as DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS for kidney trouble and headache. We always keep them in the house as a family medicine, and I would not think of using any other."—Mr. G. W. Parish, Sturgeon Bay, Ont.

Note that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box of his medicines.

Paris, as Seen by A Miramichi Boy

Paris, France,
January 1st 1918
Dearest Mother and Father,

Just a few lines to let you know I am getting along in this place. I got my pass for fourteen days and it is pretty near up now, but, at any rate, "I have seen a lot, and have enjoyed a good rest. Of all the large cities that I have been in, I think Paris has been the easiest for me to find my way around. I suppose it was because I had to get down to business, and find out for myself. I enquired of civilians a few times as to the correct direction and I was always steered the opposite, so I cut out asking questions and took my own course, and have been in almost every corner of the city and haven't got lost yet.

My pass came through the 17th Dec. and started for the rail head which was a long walk, from where we camped, and I was pretty nearly all in, when I reached it in time for the 11 a. m. train. We made a change at 2 p. m. and were delayed and consequently late for the express to Paris. At the next change 6 p. m., we got a slow train to Paris, but had no time to buy a bite to eat and we were hungry.

On this train we shared seats with a couple of French gentlemen going to Paris, and they had large lunch boxes filled with sausages, sandwiches, chicken and wine, and it was hard on the eyes to have to watch them eat and see nearly starved. I started to spill off all the French that I knew, which was not very much, but they could not be made understand. One of them started peeling apples and if it had not been for the peels falling on the dirty floor, I would have got after them. We reached Paris at 11.30. The M's had us all lined up on the platform to get our passes stamped but I was too tired to wait so I dug out for a near Hotel, where my bag and I got a good feed, and got between the sheets, which have a funny feeling after a person has almost forgotten that such things were ever made.

Next morning we looked up the pay master, got some money and got our passes changed for Paris. Instead of Versailles a town twelve miles away. Our next move was to the British Army and Navy leave club which is in the busy part of the city, part of Hotel Modern, which takes up a full block, on the big square, called Place De La Republique and where we found a home for away from home, this club does everything in the way of looking after comfort and welfare of a soldier on leave to Paris. They provide rooms, baths, billiards, games reading and writing, occasionally high class entertainments during the week, and meals served for a reasonable small sum. The serving and cooking is all handled by the Red Cross Ladies, who give their time and labor gratis, and they never seem to get tired. Oh, it is a God's Blessing just to see the pleasant faces. The cooking has that one time familiar taste about it, that reminds you of what mother used to do for you. Gee! I hate to even think of lining up at the cook house door with an old mess tin for bully beef and hard tack.

There are plenty of sight seeing parties. They are arranged every day, and the club provides a Lady Guide who takes the boys out on what ever trips they have booked for, and shows them the places of interest, also explaining the history. Paris is a beautiful city and it takes time to see around it and see all the places of interest. One trip which is the best of a days, is to Versailles about 12 miles out of the city. You can go by train. It is the places where Kings used to live. The New Castle was built by Louis XVI, remodelled by Louis XV, and used as a hunting club by Louis XVI. I cannot go into details about its splendor, for it would take too long, but I will give you a sort of rough outline, of the different rooms of interest.

The Coronation room, where the Kings and Queens were crowned. Chamber of Battles, this room is 100 yards long and shows paintings of all the old battles of olden days. Verger, supposed to be the best artist of those days, has splendid showings, of his art in this room. Then the Tapestry, different chambers used by Royal Families. 27 Princesses were born in one of these rooms, but hardly by one mother. Next is the Chamber of Peace, and I think it was in use at this time. Chamber of War and then the Chamber of Glories in which all Royalty is entertained. The King of Denmark was the last to be entertained in this room and that was only a few months before the war. The Kaiser's grand-father who was then King of Prussia was declared Emperor of all Germany in this room. Then we go to the Billiard and Dining rooms and also the Chapel. The grounds are one mass of fountains all built reaching to places. The trip takes you up the classiest Avenue in the world. It's miles long. In this avenue are found the station for arrival of Royalty, the Hotel the Prince of Wales, stops at when in the city, the large Palace where all the Allied Conferences are held and then into the large Parks. Returning we pass the Eiffel Tower and the big wheel, across the river Seine, and back through the city to the club. I forgot to mention one of the old carriages that I had the pleasure of seeing especially worthy of mention. It was built for the Coronation of Charles X. It weighed 7 tons and cost £40,000. Multiply that by $4.86 and you have it in $ and cs.

Another trip of mine is to take the underground to Concord Square, and you will see enormous large squares, with monuments representing all the large places in France. Then a visit to the Photograph Exhibition in a large hall dealing with the latest War Photos taken from all Allied fronts. A cinema is in connection showing war pictures. We pass Madeleine Cathedral, a beautiful building with 87 large pillars on the outside. We now come to the river Seine which we cross in a steamer and have a dandy view of both sides of the river. A place with a tower and steps leading up to it from the embankment has a sort of weird history about it. A certain lady lived there and if a person had an enemy that they wanted to do away with they would arrange for a party to be held and this person to be invited. Well wines and champagnes would be indulged in and finally the victim would be asked to take a stroll, on the steps, to look over the city and river, as it afforded a splendid view, and if he didn't fall, well, all it took was the push of the finger, and into the river below he went, and of course it was always proved accidental. We got off the steamer at Notre Dame Cathedral and had a look at that big church. Then we went over to the Zoo. I was disappointed, for the keeper said it was too cold to open the doors for a look at the Monkeys. They put me in mind of Soldiers; they were always scratching themselves. Of course I did not like it as well as Old Riverdale Zoo.

I was to Napoleon's Tomb and many shows. These places are the biggest and swiftest in the whole world. Among the many things I have seen at the show was a Cornet Player who certainly could play; he even played three cornets at the same time.

Xmas Day the club served 1400 dinners to soldiers on leave. I was there myself so you have an idea how busy they were. It was a miracle how they handled the crowd. We had Turkey and Plum pudding from 11.30 a. m. to 2.30 p. m. A concert and prayers from 3.30 to 3.30. From the Xmas Tree tickets with numbers were given, and free fountain pen and checker board. I have one more day and that is going to be spent in a very quiet sort of a lazy rest up for I expect I will need it before this winter is over. So I may as well have the first instalment now. I think I have pretty nearly made up for the things I missed writing. May God bless and keep us all and may this year be a year of untold joy, peace and strength and finish of this terrible war as soon as possible. Your loving son,

SAVE FOOD

In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food. It is not how much you eat, but much you assimilate, that does you good.

The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.

Only 37 Cases of Small-pox In County

Rogersville Parish—One case reported in this district. Dr. DeOlliqui in charge.

Blissfield and Ludlow Parishes—On Monday, Feb. 25th, I visited this section and at Doaktown met Dr. Wier and Ryan, and went over the situation. Saw three of the cases under quarantine, and examined two persons suspected of 'rouble, but found no evidence of Smallpox. From reports of the doctors and some of the citizens these Parishes are doing well and vaccination is nearly general. I am sorry that some communications to the Gleaner gave the impression that Smallpox was very prevalent in Doaktown, which is not so, and the situation is well in hand. There are now seven houses under quarantine with nine persons having the disease. Two lumber camps are under quarantine in this section; one case. I might say that most of the men in these camps have been vaccinated. I find that most of the trouble is caused by mild unreported cases, which not being properly looked after are sources of contagion to others.

Since assuming the duties of Chairman of the County Board of Health, I have released the following number of houses and persons from quarantine:

House	Persons
Quarantined	Had Smallpox
Nelson, 8 houses	31
Chatham, 7 houses	21
North Esk, 1 house	4
Blackville, 1 house	4
Blissfield and Ludlow, 12 houses	18
Lumber Camps, 7	43

Total 36 buildings 121 Persons
There has been three deaths, 2 of premature infants, and one mother after confinement.

Summary of present conditions of Smallpox in the County of Northumberland:

House	Cases of Smallpox
Quarantined
Alnwick, 1 house	3
North Esk 1 house	4
Blackville, 1 house	4
Gleng 2 houses	2
Nelson, 3 houses	16
Blissfield and Ludlow, 7 houses	9
Rogersville 1 house	1
Lumber Camp, 2	1

Totals 18 buildings 37 Persons
Respectfully submitted,
F. J. Desmond, M. D.
Chairman.

Muttering objections to herself to "remember that you're a lady," a tall, stately woman clothed in finest white went scurrying across the Parliament stidice of Hollywood, the other day, stuffing a fat cigar into her gold mesh bag as she went.

An overturned chair lay in her path and a well-meaning lack sent it flying out of the way, while at the same time the lady started powdering her nose. Not to keep you in suspense further—the "lady" was no other than Julia Blingie, the famous, former impersonator, hurrying to work on his second Paramount photoplay, "The Clever Mrs. Fairfax," which he is making under the capable direction of Donald Crisp, who also made his first production, "The Courtess Charm," which created a veritable sensation among film fans. The Clever Mrs. Fairfax will be shown at the Grand Bear on Friday and Saturday.

Much Routine Business Done—Maximum Allowance is now $40 a Month Children's Aid Society Urged

At the West Northumberland Patriotic Fund Meeting Tuesday, W. A. Park presided and considerable routine business was transacted. On the question of some children being neglected, H. H. Stewart, of the need of a Children's Aid Society, it was the duty of the public to see that all children were properly cared for and educated.

Mr. Stewart again discussed the following which had been brought up at the previous meeting: "That, in accordance with the recommendation recently received from the Canadian Patriotic Fund, Ottawa, the maximum allowance to soldiers' families be increased to $40 a month from March 1st." On the Treasurer's assurance that such became automatically the rule for all local funds since notice from Ottawa, and therefore the motion was unnecessary, the motion was dropped. Hereafter a maximum allowance here will be $40 a month.

A Great Lesson In "Damaged Goods"
Reviewed by Miss Fairweather in the St. John Standard
The picture "Damaged Goods" which has probably drawn more criticism and commendation than any other film ever exhibited in America opened an engagement in the Lyric Theatre to an assemblage of men that taxed the seating capacity of the house. As an amusement vehicle it is a failure; its theme is too sordid, its lesson too terrible. "Damaged Goods" is not suggestive; it leaves nothing to the imagination, but at the same time, the whole picture has an underlying moral so strong as to send those who see it away from the playhouse thinking more seriously than ever many of them thought before.
The story of "Damaged Goods" deals with a young man who takes his first drink at a bachelor supper given in celebration of his coming marriage. While under the influence of liquor he yields to the persuasion of a friend and they visit a resort of vice. His false step is followed by direful consequences, but heeding the advice of a reputable physician and relying rather upon the false pretension of a quack he goes through with the marriage ceremony with the girl of his choice. The result is that the fruit of the father's sin is visited upon his offspring. Every man and woman in St. John should see this picture.

ZAM-BUK IS NATURE'S REMEDY

The healthiest men and women in the world are found in the uncivilized races, knowing nothing of medical science. Why? Because these people are content with nature's own "healers." They use roots and herbs, solely, for their skin diseases and injuries.

Recognizing this truth, the proprietors of Zam-Buk compounded their great balm on nature's lines. Zam-Buk contains only healing herb-essences, but instead of using them in crude form, in Zam-Buk these essences are purified and concentrated.

Take Mother Nature's finest healing extracts. Add all that modern science can do in the way of concentrating, purifying and making antiseptic these essences, and the result is Zam-Buk.

Don't you believe that roots and herbs are the healers intended for man? If you do, you get these in Zam-Buk.

Don't you believe that antiseptic treatment of a wound or sore is necessary? Zam-Buk is antiseptic.

Don't you desire to stop the pain of a wound, cut or skin disease? Zam-Buk will do this as nothing else can.

Finally, don't you believe that personal experience is worth more than hearsay? If so, cut out this article. Write across it name of this paper and mail it to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, with 1c. stamp and we will send you a FREE TRIAL BOX.

GOVERNMENT HAS 70 MAJORITY

The vote of the soldiers gives the Government two of the four P. E. I. seats.

The standing of the parties now is as follows:

	Govt	Opp
Prince Edward Island	2	2
Nova Scotia	12	4
New Brunswick	7	4
Quebec	3	42
Ontario	74	8
Manitoba	14	1
Saskatchewan	16	0
Alberta	11	1
British Columbia	13	0
Total	153	52

Should the elections committee of the House of Commons overrule the objection to the soldiers' vote in the Yukon, which would mean the election of Dr. Thompson and should Nelson be carried by the government as is generally expected the government's majority will be 71.

GOLDIERS' VOCATIONAL WORK

During 1917 sixty courses were added by the vocational training branch of the Military Hospitals Commission to those available to returned, men needing vocational re-education before their discharge into civil life.

With the opening of this year 3,143 men were receiving instruction, not including the numbers 11 men taking occupational work who do not work regularly. Of the 3,143 there were 2,199 taking vocational training and 944 vocational training courses. The number of instructors had increased from 35 to 259 in this time.

Since the inauguration of the vocational work, 1,863 men have been granted vocational re-educational courses, varying according to their preparation or abilities from blacksmithing to courses leading to university degrees. Of these 133 have completed their courses, 186 have been discontinued or rejected, and 600 have been deferred until a future time due to the man's condition or other good reasons.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy, and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

ONE-TON TRUCK
"Made in Canada"

BUSINESS men everywhere who have hauling or delivering problems to consider—whether operating a wholesale business, a retail store, or a farm—will welcome the arrival of the Ford One-Ton Truck.

PRICE $750
F. O. B. FORD, ONT.
Supplied as chassis only

Heretofore, the Ford user who wanted to carry loads up to a ton found it necessary to get one of several special attachments or extensions which were on the market. Now the standard Ford truck is available—a car that can withstand the drudgeries of commercial use, and yet lacks superfluous weight, and is easily handled.

The truck differs from Ford passenger cars in that it is specially designed throughout in proper pattern and strength for heavy-duty service. It has a final drive of the worm gear type, so that all gears are enclosed. Rear wheels are equipped with solid tires. Front tires are pneumatic. Standard Ford motor, transmission and ignition.

The largest truck and automobile company in the British Empire, with an organization of more than 700 Canadian dealers stands back of every Ford truck purchased.
