Indian Summer in the Maritime Provinces

(By Harold D. Buchanan in the Busy East for November.)

This is the month of Indian Summer, the glorious after glow that brings back the memories of days when Nature was working at her best producing the bounteous harvest of field, forest and sea.

Following the first snow of the season comes a day that changes the whole aspect of the landscape, a haze appears on the hills, a warm wind sighs through the valleys, bringing with it the ozone from the surrounding ocean—it is summer again for two weeks or more. Summer, with the exhilarating effects of spring produced by the light frosty nights.

Clear and bright days such as these bring back the vigour and elasticity of youth to the being with one foot in the grave. Nature feels it, man enjoys it. Neither California, Switzerland or the Riviera has such weather as this to offer. It is a joy to live, and a delight to revel in the enjoyment of the health that the very air seems charged with.

The tinkling cow-bell and the bleat of sheep on the hills as the morning sky brightens towards the sunrise reminds us of the last days of summer when the maples were gorgeous-tinted and whose bronzed leaves now cover the ground and block the tiny streamlets of the woods. The fields and clearings so lately dotted by sheaves—the scene of the harvester's busy toil—have given way to the plow, and the wealth of colour lavishly painted on the leaves of the trees.

Assuredly then the charm of Indian Summer must appeal to every one. It is the last call of Nature to men to enjoy "the earth and all that is in it."

To the mature it brings serious thoughts of "the sere and yellow leaf," but it appeals to each and all today as a season of Thanksgiving, as it did to the old Pilgrim fathers of Plymouth when they heaped up the fruits of the earth around their festive board this month three hundred years ago.

For peaceful homes, and healthful days, for all the blessings earth displays we owe Thee thankfulness and praise; Who givest all."

BRITISH MAIL AT NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 21.—A record consignment of mail from England, not excepting the great amount brought in at Christmas time, arrived in New York on one steamer today. There were 5,800 sacks weighing about 155 tons in all, which were brought by the Steamship Majestic. The consignment was so large that the steamer's mail room could not hold it all, and many sacks were stored in empty staterooms. The record is due to heavy weather which prevailed at Queenstown on November 9, making it impossible for the steamship Mauretania to collect her usual mail. The present consignment is the first arrival from England since November 12th.

Pure Breed Live Stock

To the Editor of the Monitor:

Sir,—In order to encourage the improvement of live stock in Canada, the Dominion Department of Agriculture is this year inaugurating a scheme for the distribution of pure bred male animals, which I think should particularly interest the enterprising stockraisers of Annapolis County. For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with the details of the scheme, will you permit me briefly to outline its practical features.

For the purpose of distribution the animals are classified as follows:—

Section (a) Stallions.
(b) Beef Bulls, Boars, Rams.
(c) Dairy Bulls, Boars, and Rams.

Within certain limitations a group of stock raisers organized into an association for the purpose, may secure from the department gratuitously the use of the animals mentioned in any one of the above sections but no such association can apply for sires in more than one section.

To procure an animal belonging to section (a) the members of the association must reach at least fifteen and the association in addition to caring for the animal must also pay for its insurance.

To procure animals mentioned in either of the other sections the membership of the association must be at least ten. In this case no charge for insurance is made.

It is not the intention of the department to place animals in a district where suitable male animals of the same class are already owned by private individuals.

The directors of the association shall decide, subject to the approval of the Live Stock Commissioner the man or men in whose charge the sires shall be kept.

Breeding privileges shall be restricted to members of the association and the service fees are to be made only sufficient to cover the cost of the care and management of the animals.

To take advantage of the scheme interested parties in a district when satisfied of sufficient local support to form an association, should apply to the Live Stock Commissioner at Ottawa. Whenever possible an officer of the Department will be sent to render assistance in organizing the association. The Live Stock Commissioner on application will furnish full information concerning the scheme.

The pure bred sires are purchased by the government exclusively in Canada and those for distribution in Nova Scotia as nearly as possible exclusively in this province. Mr. H. W. Corning, M. P. P., of Cheboggan, Yarmouth County, has been appointed by the government to purchase such animals in this province and our farmers who have good specimens of pure bred stock for sale may profitably correspond with him upon the subject.

Trusting that the policy of the department in this respect may have a beneficial effect upon the industry of stockraising, both in this county and elsewhere throughout the Dominion, I am,

Yours respectfully,
A. L. DAVIDSON,
Middleton, N. S., Nov. 17, 1913.

UNITED STATES FISHERMEN FOR YARMOUTH.

The Montreal Herald says: There is a possibility of the Gloucester, Mass. fishing fleet transferring its headquarters to Yarmouth, N. S., according to a statement made by Mr. A. E. Ellis, formerly manager of the Bank of British North America in Montreal, but now a resident of Yarmouth. As Ellis points out, if the transfer is made it will mean an important acquisition to the facilities of the Nova Scotia port.

The "free fish" policy of the United States Government is given as the reason for the contemplated change.

The wedding of Miss Wilson, the President's daughter, is the thirtieth wedding in the history of the White House, Washington. We hope Miss Wilson is not superstitious.

Fifty Million Dollars the Value of the American Raw Fur Collection.

A. B. Shubert, Inc., Chicago, U.S.A., the largest house in the world, dealing exclusively in American raw furs, in a letter to the editor says in part as follows:

"Fifty million dollars' worth of raw furs. Quite a large sum of money when you think of it. That was last year's production of the raw furs of the world, and American raw furs make up about two-thirds of the world's collection. Can you imagine fifty million dollars changing hands for American raw furs last season? Yet such is the case as near as can be estimated from the account books of the largest collectors. The merry old world still goes around, and the coming of winter brings on one more raw fur season. It is one of the oldest industries known to man, dating back many centuries, and in spite of the fact that millions of fur-bearing animals are killed off every year, in spite of the fact that rigid game laws are enacted to protect the fur bearers, the game is far from being extinct, and when the collections are smaller, the price goes up accordingly. It is wonderful the part that furs have played in the history of man. They have caused wars, led to the exploration of new lands and changed the maps of nations but more wonderful still are the varied fluctuations in the market. It is the greatest speculative game in the world. When the raw fur market is at its highest pitch, Wall Street fades away to nothing alongside of it, and so it is with the steel trust and the tobacco trust and the rest of our largest industries. Before people knew what steel or tobacco was, they were skinning animals for their fur, and still the game has not died out. In fact, this season promises more activity than ever in the fur business. Furs are an absolute necessity as they form the protective clothing of those whose occupation brings them in contact with the elements of winter. Furthermore, furs are extremely fashionable. Milady's wardrobe is not complete without one set of furs. Fur trimmings are more popular than ever and most of the outer garments for fall and winter have very beautiful fur trimmings. Ladies' hats, evening gowns and dresses are also being trimmed with fur.

Unveiling of Tablet to the Memory of Col. Desbarres

The Nova Scotia Historical Society unveiled a Tablet in St. George church, Halifax, on Nov. 12th, to the memory of the celebrated Col. Desbarres, who in the early history of this Province gave splendid services to the country. Below is the inscription which fairly well tells the story of his life. Archdeacon Armitage presided, and James F. MacDonald unveiled the Tablet and gave the address.

This Tablet Commemorates Col. Joseph Frederick Walle Desbarres, Cartographer, Engineer, Administrator, who served in this Garrison as Captain of the Royal American Regiment of Fort, 1756.

Won distinction at Louisbourg, 1758. Aide-de-Camp to General Wolfe at Quebec, 1759. Surveyor General of the North Atlantic Coast. Preceptor of Capt. Cook the Circumnavigator. Author of the Atlantic Neptune. Founder of Sydney, C. B. Lt.-Gov. of Cape Breton and of Prince Edward Island. Buried beneath this Church, Nov. 1, 1824, at the reputed age of 103 years.

Hon. W. S. Fielding sailed from Liverpool on the 21st inst by the Allan Liner Virginia on his return to Canada to assume the presidency of the Telegraph Publishing Company, Limited, of Montreal, and become editor in chief of The Montreal Daily Telegraph. Mr. Fielding's taking up his residence in Montreal will be the occasion of a great demonstration in his honor, the Montreal Reform Club having secured his consent to accept a banquet.

Lawrencetown's Electric Light System

Yesterday was another red letter day in the history of our neighboring town,—the progressive and enterprising town of Lawrencetown. The electric light system which has been in process of installation there the past few months, was completed on Monday and the current turned on for the first time on that evening, for a short time as a test.

Last evening, however, was the actual introduction of the electric light into Lawrencetown, and the town is justly proud of its lighting system. The plant is up-to-date in every particular from the power house to the least item that goes to make up an efficient system. It has been put in by the town at a cost of $5,000. There is a circuit of over four miles of wire. Over four hundred lights have already been installed in residences and places of business, and it is anticipated that this number will be raised to seven hundred as soon as the wiring can be done. A flat rate of $12.00 per year for five lights is charged, and one-half cent per night for each light over five. This is claimed to be the lowest rate charged in any town in the province.

The streets are lighted with 60-Watt tungsten lamps, placed at intervals of about two hundred feet. The dynamo has a capacity for one thousand lights.

Thus Lawrencetown has made another stride in the line of progress that makes it one of the up-to-date and growing towns of Nova Scotia.

A resident of Lawrencetown telephoned this office yesterday wishing the Monitor to say that Lawrencetown was the best lighted town in the province. We believe from all reports that it is.

Maritime Winter Fair

The thirteenth annual fair of the Maritime Provinces will be held at Amherst, December 8th to 11th.

The entries which have been received so far give every promise of being the largest in the history of the Fair.

As an Educational institution for those engaged in agricultural life, it stands alone in Eastern Canada, and should have the support of the Provinces.

A particularly strong program will be arranged, and some of the best speakers in Canada on live stock topics will give addresses each evening.

Low rates have been secured on all lines, and those who have never attended this Fair in the past should take the opportunity this year.

Amherst is now well equipped with excellent hotels and all can feel assured of good accommodation.

Providence Methodist Church Celebrates 43rd Anniversary

Appropriate Sermons Delivered by Dr. Jost and the Rev. William Brown

It has been just forty-three years since, under the superintendency of Rev. W. H. Hartz, (now Dr. Hartz) the Methodists of Bridgetown erected their present commodious and stately house of worship which so gracefully adorns the corner of Granville and Washington streets. This event was duly celebrated on Sunday and Monday last by a series of services most successfully carried out. Following a glad gathering of the Sunday School Dr. C. Jost conducted the morning service Sunday, and delivered an earnest and appropriate sermon having special reference to the work of the church as carried on by pioneer labourers, into whose heritage it has been the good fortune of the present generation to come. To prove herself all worthy of the faith and toil of her fathers the present-day church must, with ever increasing earnestness, prosecute her Heaven-born and divinely-imposed work.

The special preacher for the occasion was the Rev. Wm. Brown, now stationed upon the Aylesford circuit. Rev. Mr. Brown is not a stranger in Bridgetown, and one pleasant feature of his visit was to give to his numerous friends and admirers the joy once again of meeting an acquaintance of former days. Bentville and Granville appointments enjoyed Mr. Brown's ministrations at the morning and afternoon hours respectively, while at the evening service the town church was thronged with an expectant and sympathetic congregation. "The Obligations and Opportunities of the Church" gave the preacher an excellent and timely subject, and it is unnecessary to add that Mr. Brown presented his theme in a most brilliant manner. In his own inimitable way, by choice diction, appropriate metaphor and simile, and withal, under the spell of the Holy Spirit's power and direction the congregation was thrilled and eminently edified by the preacher's effort. Added to the recent anniversary sermons preached in this church Rev. Mr. Brown's is considered to have been one of special strength and beauty.

The anniversary exercises were carried over to Monday evening at which hour Mr. Brown related an account of his recent trip across the continent. A large audience greeted the lecturer who, for over two hours held their closest attention while in a very rapid and interesting manner he unfolded some of the incidents of his holiday trip. Following the lecture the congregation repaired to the social room of the church where a pleasant half hour was spent in conversation while at the same time justice was done to an excellent repast of reasonable dainties.

JUST MISSED ATTENDING HIS OWN FUNERAL.

Hamilton Man Believed to Have Been Lost in Great Storm Turns up at Home.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 20.—To walk into his home, where the members of his family were gathered about a casket that was supposed to contain his dead body, which had been cast up by the waters of Lake Huron, following the storm of last week, was the remarkable experience of John Thompson, 422 North John Street, last evening.

IDENTIFIED BODY.

On Monday Thomas Thompson received a message from his daughter, at Sarnia, that her brother John was aboard the steamer James Carruthers when it sank last week on Lake Huron. He at once left for Goderich, where a number of the bodies from the Carruthers had been washed ashore, and were in the morgue. He reached that place late at night, and was at once shown a number of bodies that lay there awaiting identification. He noticed that the toes on the foot of one of the corpses were crossed, as were his son's and decided to further examine it. On the arm was a tattoo mark with the initials "J. T." This was identical with one on his son's arm. On the nose was a mark similar to one his son bore, and besides this there was a similarity in the teeth. Lastly there was on the leg of the corpse a scar from a burn similar to a mark on his son's.

With so many remarkable marks of resemblance, in addition to the appearance of the body, both in stature and features, he was convinced that it was his son.

PREPARED FOR BURIAL.

Mr Thompson made arrangements for the conveyance of the body to this city, and it arrived Tuesday. After being prepared for burial it was taken home, and arrangements were made for its burial this morning.

About five o'clock last evening, John Thompson walked into his home after having read that he was dead, and looked at the remains that were supposed to be his.

The son informed the members of his family that he had read while in Toronto that he was reported dead, and did not reach this city until today.

He explained that he did not sail on the Carruthers, but left here on the Canada, which he left when she reached the Welland Canal.

The remains brought from Goderich were removed to undertaking rooms, and will likely be sent back to Goderich for identification.

ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE PUBLIC:— We have decided that on the 1st of November, 1913, we will commence A STRICTLY CASH BUSINESS. In many ways we regret to make this change, as custom has established the credit system and it has gone to such an extreme that in some instances it is thought to be almost impossible to do business without the furnishing of the extra capital for the convenience of our customers. The keenness of competition to-day created through the high cost of living and increased expenses of business, and the fact that other large houses are adopting the cash system in order to enable them to retail goods at lower prices, forces us to this decision. It may seem hard to some of our patrons to feel that the firm they have dealt with for years have taken this step, but we think that after a little consideration, even these friends will see the mutual benefit to be derived from a CASH SYSTEM. Under the credit system you are not only supporting your own family, but assisting to support those who are not willing to be self supporting, in addition to helping pay the book-keeping and interest on money at present tied up in unpaid accounts, etc. While under the cash system we will be able to keep a larger and more modern assortment of goods in stock AT PRICES THAT WILL APPEAL TO YOU. We trust that you may see your way clear to still continue your business with us, in any case do not withdraw your patronage without first giving us a few months trial. We will take all kinds of produce as cash, balancing each transaction as it occurs. Again thanking you for the many favors you have shown us from time to time in the past, and assuring you that we will endeavor to fill all your orders under the new system to the very best of our ability. The big mill of the Davison Lumber Company is closed down for a few weeks, but indications point to an unusually busy winter and spring in the lumber business. There are fifteen crews in the woods consisting of 700 to 800 men cutting for the company. Among the smaller lumbering operations I. B. Saunders has a contract with the D. L. Co. to cut a million feet or so at Lake Pleasant to be floated down the streams to the mills at Bridgewater. Millidge Charlton is to cut 2,000 railway ties, Ellison Grimm 10,000 and W. C. and Maynard Grimm 5,000 to 10,000. Ross, Bissler and Walker are to cut a couple of million feet of lumber at Lake Pleasant and McLearn Lumber Company of Liverpool, who are cutting at Halfway River, are to haul their hardwood to this railway station for shipment. Extensive changes are going on at the mills of the Davison Lumber Company at Hastings. A large warehouse and store are being completed. The purpose is to remove the Company's store from Crossburn to Hastings. An addition is also being built to the machine shops at Hastings to accommodate the car shops now at Crossburn. Hastings will thus become the mechanical headquarters of the Company railway. It is also rumored that Crossburn will be abandoned and a dozen or more cottages erected at Hastings. Still another rumor is that a railway will, before long, be started in the direction of Lake Pleasant to tap the Company's extensive forest areas in the vicinity.

BANK CLERK AT LUNENBURG

Harold Johnston Wounded by Accidental Discharge of a Revolver

Lunenburg, Nov. 20.—The community was astounded last night to learn that a shooting accident had occurred in the Bank of Montreal. Two of the juniors who are great friends were out shooting with revolvers, and returned before nightfall to the Bank of Montreal. One of the pistols was unloaded and the other had four cartridges in it. These two young fellows George Connell of the last named bank, and Harold Cohnstone of the Royal bank were fooling when the former took a revolver supposed to be the unloaded one and it went off, a bullet entering the side of young Johnston. The bullet penetrated his side about six inches below the heart and striking a rib took a downward course.

The injured boy was taken to the hospital where Dr. Forbes succeeded without much trouble in extracting the bullet. At first the injury was considered fatal, but the patient is resting easily and his medical attendant considers him out of danger. Mrs. Johnstone, mother of Harold Johnstone, arrived here from Pictou this morning, accompanied by her eldest son Jack, who is attending Dalhousie College. Much sympathy is expressed for young Johnstone, who is popular among a large circle of friends.

An oyster supper will be held in the Methodist vestry on Tuesday evening, the 25th inst.

Rev. H. R. Grant, of the Temperance Alliance, will lecture in Lawrencetown the evening of the 24th.

The ladies of the Methodist church are to commence their sewing circle for the winter. All are invited to Mrs. Augusta Morgan's on Thursday afternoon of this week.

The electric light plant is completed and the lights are to be turned on the evening of the 25th inst. The street lighting in connection with the plant or system is unusually good—a tungsten light being placed on every other post. The inception of the plan for this improvement, and its successful completion reflects great credit on all concerned in the management.

The schools in Lawrencetown are in splendid working order.

A recent visitor, an ex-teacher, spoke in glowing terms of the practical, advanced methods of teaching, saying that in his opinion it would be difficult to find their equals for efficiency. It would be interesting to have a competition test with some of the nearby schools—debate or written examination—in mathematics or literature.

ICEBERGS IN LANES OF THE LINERS.

New York, Nov. 21.—Icebergs have appeared in the lanes of west-bound Atlantic liners considerably earlier than usual. The captain of the Hamburg-American line steamship Pennsylvania reported to the United States hydrographic office here yesterday by wireless that he had sighted three such bergs. The message was transmitted through the Cunard liner Laconia bound for Boston. These bergs were in latitude 45.04 north and longitude 47.27 west, and were described as being 100 feet long and 30 feet high.

Another iceberg, 150 feet long and 50 feet high, was sighted by the captain of the steamship Bristol City, westbound from Bristol to New York, in latitude 45.45 and longitude 48.00. It is unusual for ice to be low at this time of the year, but the authorities do not regard the presence of the small icebergs as indicative of larger ones, and they are not considered dangerous to navigation.

"NA-DRU-CO DYSPESIA TABLETS

There is only one explanation for the numbers of enthusiastic letters that we receive praising Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and that is that these tablets certainly do cure any kind of stomach trouble.

Here is a typical letter from Miss Eliza Armstrong, Canso, N.S.: "It is with pleasure I write to inform you that your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets have proved of great value to me. I tried remedy after remedy but without any lasting good. Having heard mine I decided to give them a fair trial. They proved satisfactory in my case."

The remarkable success of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is such a success as can only come to an honest remedy compounded according to an exceptionally good formula, from pure ingredients, by expert chemists. If you are troubled with your stomach just ask your Druggist about Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, compounded by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, and sold throughout the Dominion at 50c. a box.

Sheep Roaming Wild along Nova Scotia Coast

(Truro News.)
The following letter was received at the Truro News a few days ago—
182 Leicester Court,
Detroit, Mich.

Editor Truro News:
I enclose you a clipping from the Detroit Free Press, stating as you will see, that there are wild sheep in Nova Scotia. Both my wife and I were born and brought up in Halifax County, N. S., and neither one of us ever heard of any such thing. We thought we would send it to you and see if you knew anything about them. Winter is starting here; we had quite a fall of snow yesterday and last night.
This is a beautiful city; but nothing is quite as nice to us as Nova Scotia. We watch for the Truro News regularly for news from the home land—the land we love the most.

choice silky character. Ragged looking old-timers grow to be, especially about the neck, but this is when maturity has been passed and old age is coming on. Otherwise they are tidy looking creatures, though their fleeces are prodigiously exaggerated. They are partly carnivorous, these sheep of the sea coast. At least an observant watcher will notice that they nose away at the soft spots of the beach after eel worms and mussels, and chewed clam shells are commonly to be met with on their pastures. But their regular food is dulce, eel grass and kelp.
In the winter they are apt to suffer. The spray dashes into the fleece and freezes there in cold weather. All along the high water marks the sea walls of ice form. Many sheep are drowned here while feeding on the seaweed. Were it not for the dangers of the winter season the sheep would become exceedingly numerous, for they breed quickly and not very many of them fall before the hunters.

Yours truly,
E. B. McCURDY.

The following is the article from the Detroit paper referred to by our correspondent, whom we thank very much for the clipping.

"Was the ordinary domestic sheep the original beach comber? Was it intended to browse upon seaweeds and the tangled flossam of the ocean? These questions are suggested by conditions on the east coast of the province of Nova Scotia.

Here is an archipelago of thousands of isles, wooded and rocky, their vegetation telling of the warmth of the waters of the sea have snatched from the Gulf Stream. Four hundred years ago the hardy French voyagers who first settled this part of Canada hailed these pretty islands with delight. They settled there before they would trust themselves upon the mainland, and there they turned their live stock—shaggy Breton ponies, hardy little Jerseylike cows and lanky sheep.

The sheep thrived where the cattle and the horses found the problem of existence difficult. Soon they paddled in the shallow waters of the outgoing tide in their desire to catch at the floating eel grass and bulbous kelp. Then the discovery came that swimming was not beyond their powers, and they need not remain prisoners on single islands when there were scores of others for them to visit.

So it came about that in Nova numbers of the islands, and straggling along the whole coast line became no man's flock having returned to a pristine wildness. Their former owners drifted inland and after some years the islands were left to their old-time solitude. The sheep could not be reclaimed and they were left to their own devices.

So it came about that in Nova Scotia, especially in Guysboro County there is today a breed of big sheep loaded down with heavy wool of as many years growth as they are old, perfectly wild, living on the sea coast. Swift on their feet, they are as alert to danger as their cousins, the mountain sheep of the Pacific Coast. They jump from cliffs of considerable height trusting to their heavy fleeces to save their bones from harm. They are ready on the instant to plunge into the waves and swim off to safety.

They are sure footed as antelopes, vigilant as chamois. This, too, despite the fact that they are always rolling in fat. The writer measured the length of the wool on one fair sized specimen not far from Ecum Secum and found the average to be from nine to thirteen inches of a

They form a curious habit of natural history just as they exist and suggest many things to the student of outdoor affairs. But it must be a matter of surprise that they have become accustomed to feed upon marine growths and thrive so gloriously, attaining to such noble size on the scanty resources of the north shore. What hardy strains of sheep for domestic purposes might be obtained by breeding from these wild creatures no one has tried to prove.

We are not particularly au fait on sheep, perhaps knowing about as much as a lamented Colchester politician who was thoroughly conversant with two varieties—the black ones and the white ones—so we referred the matter to Principal Cumming of the Nova Scotia College of Agriculture, and he wrote us as follows:—
PRINCIPAL CUMMING'S REPLY.

College of Agriculture,
Truro, N. S., Nov. 17, 1913.
Mr. W. D. Dimock,
Daily News, Truro.

Dear Mr. Dimock:
I am sending you under separate cover for your information, a series of articles on Sheep Raising, in which you will find two, one by Dr. F. E. Ellis, of Sherbrooke, and the other by S. P. Goudey, of Yarmouth, on the wild sheep referred to in the article you have enclosed.

In general I may say that there are a large number of wild sheep all along the shore and on the Islands from Yarmouth to Canso. All these are descendants of sheep originally owned by settlers in this part of the Province. In some places they are allowed to run wild and no attention is paid to breeding, etc., and you will see from what is stated, in the article I am sending you, where troubles have arisen.

There are several breeders along the coast who are now crossing these sheep with improved rams, such as the Shropshire, Oxford and Cheviot, and are getting very good results. One of the best ranches of this kind, that I know of, is conducted by Mr. Read, a nephew of Capt. McConnell, of Port Hillford, Guysboro Co., who has been very successful along this line.

If you do not find sufficient information in the articles which I am submitting, to you do not hesitate to advise me, for I have made a fairly careful study of this matter and have made reports upon it to companies who proposed establishing ranches. My advice in regard to this matter has always been that there was a splendid opportunity for the native fishermen, along this coast, to supplement their means of living by developing this resource. However, owing to the fact that the land is very rough and that there would be nothing to fall back on should the help fail, I have always hesitated to recommend large companies to invest their funds in this business.

Yours sincerely,
M. CUMMING.

INTERESTING FACTS IN CONNECTION WITH THESE WILD SHEEP.

We have perused with great interest the two articles referred to by Principal Cumming, a booklet entitled "The Sheep Industry in Nova Scotia," reprinted from the Report of the Secretary for Agriculture for the year 1907 by Dr. J. F. Ellis, M.P.P., and Mr. S. P. Goudey. These "wild sheep" exist in immense numbers and Dr. Ellis especially mentions that in a strip of coast in Guysboro County not more than forty miles there are fully 1000 of these sheep, living on kelp and sea weed.
The Detroit Free Press story is true to the letter; our thoughtful correspondent in that city has now learned that on the islands off the coast of his native Halifax County there roam and jump wildly about from rock to rock hundreds of "wild sheep" with an ancestry nearly four centuries old.

Missing the Main Point

The Daily Telegraph has an interview each day with "The Young Lady Across the Way." This young lady has an opinion on every subject referred to, and is always ready to express it, but, as will readily be seen, she misinterprets the main points.

She heard her father say he had been obliged to mortgage his property, but she guessed it didn't amount to much as it was only a second mortgage.
The editor remarked that every army officer he ever knew was anxious to get into an engagement, and she wanted to know if most of them were not married already.

Speaking of world politics, the editor said that our foreign relations were a source of considerable worry. She replied that no relation of hers had ever married a count or a duke. If such had been the case, no doubt she would be worried also.
Her father remarked that collections were better than they had been for some time, and she, for her part, was very pleased that people gave so liberally to the church.

Her dog being unwell, the editor asked why she did not call a veterinary surgeon. She replied she would rather call a younger man.

Talking about the price of silk, she did not wonder silk was so high, compared with woollens, because it must be so much harder to shear the little silkworms.

The remark being made that one of the baseball players had made five bingles in succession, she said a person could not be expected to be at his best every day.

The Editor remarking that he was about to take a vacation, she supposed it was easy to do so, because, no doubt, the paper had an exchange editor.

The remark being made that there was a good deal of log-rolling among the congressmen, she, for her part, thought they always played golf.

The editor insisting that every motorist should be required to use a muffler, she agreed that it would be wise to do so, although it might look a little old fashioned.

Her father was overheard to say that there was a revival in the stock exchange, she guessed it was needed pretty badly, and hoped they would stay converted.

She remarked that she had read in the papers that the Panama locks were filled with water, but she did hope it would all be drained off before it was time to open the canal.

One of her teachers advised the class always to look at the world through rose-colored spectacles, but, for her part, she would never wear such ugly things, eyeglasses were plenty had enough.

OUR FISHERIES GROWING IN VALUE.

An Increase of Thirty Per Cent in Season.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—The Marine Department reports an increase of about thirty per cent in the total value of the sea fish caught by Canadian fishermen during the past summer and autumn. For the first half of the fiscal year April to September, inclusive, the estimated value of the total catch of sea fish is nearly $15,000,000, as compared with $11,350,000 for the corresponding six months of last year. The lobster pack on the Atlantic coast for the season is estimated about ten per cent less than last year although the values shows an increase.

A foreign doctor has discovered a cure for seasickness. The pneumogastric nerve is held responsible for all the woes of mal-de-mer, and the doctor proposes to keep the nerve under control during a sea voyage by an injection of stropin. The inoculated person is thus enabled to enjoy the wildest combination of rolling and pitching.

NEW C. P. R. STEAMERS.

London, Nov. 13.—Next season the Atlantic service of the Canadian Pacific will be augmented by the addition of two new steamers, the Mis-senabe and the Metagama, which will make St. John their winter port of call. They will be of the one class cabin type. The contract is in the hands of the Barclay Curle Company of Glasgow and construction is well under way. The capacity of each will be 520 second-class passengers, 1,200 third-class and an approximate cargo capacity of 6,000 tons, while each will have a speed of 15 knots.

EAST INDIAN WINS NOBEL PRIZE FOR LITERATURE.

Stockholm, Nov. 13.—The Nobel prize for literature was awarded today to the British Indian poet, Rabindranath Tagore, the first time on record that this prize has been given anybody but a white person. The works of Tagore were scarcely known outside of British India until recently when some of them were translated into English.

The Tagore family is Hindu and belongs to the province of Bengal. Many of its members have devoted themselves to literature and the arts and some of them are in Indian civil service. Two of the most prominent are Maharajah, Sir Pradyot Kumar Tagore and Rajah, Sir Scourindro Mohun Tagore, the latter of whom was given the degree of doctor of music by the University of Philadelphia in 1875.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

The Dominion government has renewed the contract with the New Zealand Shipping Company for the steamer service between Canada, Australia and New Zealand. The summer port will be Montreal and the winter ports will be St. John and Halifax. The contract provides for monthly sailings direct from Canada to the Antipodes, but the return voyage may be made by any route. The subsidy is $140,000, and the tenure of the contract is two years.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1913.

Newfoundland, the tenth largest island in the world, is the oldest of the British possessions on this side of the Atlantic.

In a Charter issued by England in 1674, the very strange provision was made that no person was allowed to take up a residence on the island, within six miles of the coast, from Cape Race to Bonavista. And no vessel was permitted to bring from England any person with a view to his settlement in the Colony. The purpose of these restrictions was to preserve the coast for the convenience of fishermen from England during the fishing season. The island was to be regarded as a big ship moored near the fishing banks, and to be utilized as a place for drying nets and curing fish. And fishing is yet the great business for the Newfoundlanders. In 1912 the value of the products of the sea, reported from the Colony, was placed at eight millions of dollars.

Until late, fog has been connected with fish in the general thought of Newfoundland. But, the fog is largely confined to the Banks two hundred miles distant; and there is less fog on the island than in England. The proximity during the summer of icebergs, keeps the atmosphere cool and attracts many from warmer climates, and the weather in winter is very little more severe than in New York.

The internal resources of the island are being explored and appreciated.
On the east coast is Bell Island, in the vicinity of which there is almost inexhaustible deposit of valuable iron ore, estimated at more than forty millions of tons. A fleet of vessels is employed in bringing the ore to Sydney and New Gasgow, where it is manufactured into iron and steel and their products. The Newfoundland Lumber Company is doing a large business in the interior. The Harms-worths of whom Lord Northcliffe, a recent visitor to Canada, is a leader, are the proprietors of London Times,
The Daily Mail, and other papers, and are doing also a large business in the publication of books, and have leased a tract of land, covering about three thousand square miles, well stocked with lumber suitable for the manufacture of paper. At Smith's Falls there is an abundant water supply for their mills which are manufacturing more than one thousand tons of paper per week all of which is used in the publications to which reference has been made.

Prof. James Robertson, chairman of the Royal Commission of Education, Canada, recently visited Newfoundland at the request of the Premier, with a view to the investigation of the agricultural possibilities of the island. He reports the soil to be excellently adapted to root crops, and to be capable of raising a food supply adequate to the needs of the entire population.

The Reid Railway system with its branches is now six hundred and fifty-six miles in length and other branches are in contemplation. Thus the Ancient Colony is giving good promise of a greatly enlarged population, increased prosperity and a very influential place among the progeny of the Mother Country.

It has been proposed to take the bones of Columbus to the Panama-Pacific Exposition. But, the question is, where are the bones of Columbus? When the Spaniards evacuated Cuba, after the Spanish American War, they took, as they supposed, the bones of Columbus with them. But the son of Columbus, Don Diego, was buried by the side of his father in Havana, and now it is affirmed that the bones of the son were taken to Spain, instead of those of the father.

The reason for this belief is that Columbus carried in his person, to the day of his death, a bullet received in a skirmish with pirates before he went to America, and that this bullet has been found in the casket supposed to be that of the son, and that in this casket was also found a small silver plate which belonged to the casket of the father. Hence the unsolved question, Where are the bones of Columbus?

Annapolis County Favors Nova Scotia Temperance Act

A well attended and quite enthusiastic Temperance Convention was held in Warren's Hall, Bridgetown, yesterday afternoon, the 25th inst.
Among other business, the following communication from the last meeting of the District Division of the Sons of Temperance of Annapolis County was read.

That, whereas in the opinion of this District Division the Canada Temperance Act should be repealed, in favor of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act,

Therefore, resolved that we memorialize the Temperance Alliance of the County to take steps to that end.

And, after considerable discussion,
and explanations given by the Rev.
H. R. Grant, Secretary of the Nova Scotia Temperance Alliance, the following resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Resolved, that this Convention accepts the suggestion of the District Division of Annapolis County, and believes it to be desirable to take the steps recommended, to repeal the Canada Temperance in favor of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act.

It was also resolved that a General Convention of the Alliance and other Temperance workers be called to give further consideration to this matter, to be convened in Warren's Hall, Bridgetown, on Monday, the 26th of January, 1914.

The Rev. H. R. Grant kindly promised to make another visit to the County, particularly the Western part, immediately before the Convention and to be present at the Convention.

By order,
CRANSWICK JOST,
Secretary.

HYMENEAL

ROBBINS—YOUNG.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Young, Lower Granville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening last, when their second daughter Mabel Melvenis was united in marriage to Maurice Elison Robbins, of Nokomis, Sask.
Promptly at the hour of eight o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Hazel Anthony the bride leaning upon the arm of her father, entered the parlor, where the Rev. Mr. Nesh of Granville Ferry, conducted the marriage ceremony.

The bride was most becomingly attired in white silk with beaded garment studded with pearls, with the usual bridal veil. She carried a bou-quet of white chrysanthemums. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Bessie Young, who was becomingly attired in pale blue silk. Mr. Kenneth Young, brother of the bride, supported the groom. Following the marriage ceremony a sumptuous wedding lunch was served. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents, including china, silver, linen, glass, etc. The groom's gift to the bride was a set of furs.
They took the east bound train from Annapolis the day following for Bridgewater, and other points of interest.

The bride's travelling suit was cadet whipcord, white beaver hat with astrich trimmings. A host of friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs.
Robbins a long and happy wedded life.

to a close on Friday evening of this week when Dr. Cutten, President of known to require any special notification. On Friday evening, then, the public are cordially invited to the of the day. As usual, and in order to avoid any disturbance, an offering, made necessary to cover expenses, will be taken at the door. Chair will

Mr. Frank Nelson sent a bunch of Mayflowers to this office Monday, the 24th, which was picked by him on that date. They were in full bloom and very fragrant.

The ladies of the Baptist church intend serving a dinner in the Grand Central Hotel, Thursday, Dec. 11th, from 5 to 8 o'clock. A sale of Dolls, etc., will be held the same time by the young ladies of the church.

Eggs are a great scarcity in the Bridgetown market, as well as elsewhere. Unless conditions improve very soon many of us will have to go without our fruit cake and plum pudding for Christmas dinner.

As we will be unable to give the management of the Rink our personal attention this year, we have decided to offer same for sale at a figure that offers a good opportunity for any person to make it a profitable investment. For further particulars consult with A. R. Bishop or F. R. Beckwith.

Mr. Angus Ramey is building a house on the lot recently purchased from Mr. Wm. Chipman on the Driving Park road, and expects to have it ready for occupancy before Christmas. We are pleased to know that Mr. Ramey has decided to make Bridgetown his home, after an absence of some fifteen years.

The body of Henry Rippey, who fell from the railroad bridge at Bear River on Saturday and was drowned, was recovered Monday afternoon, and burial took place at Annapolis Royal yesterday afternoon. An account of the accident is given by our Bear River reporter on page six of this issue.

Mr. Lyman H. Outhouse moved his furniture this week from Triverton by the schooner Souvenir. Mr. Outhouse has rented Mrs. John Murdoch's house on Granville street and will bring his family here the first of the New Year, at which time he will take over the grocery business he recently purchased from Mr. J. E. Lloyd.

The stock of the Prince Edward Island Silver Black Fox Company of Nova Scotia, Limited, as advertised the past few weeks, has met with a ready sale. The stock will be closed to the public within a limited time. Prospectus of the company can be secured at the Secretary's office or will be mailed on application.

HENRY B. HICKS, Secty.-Treas.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, superintendent and matron at the County Home, in the loss of their youngest child, Hazel A. Myers, aged 3 years and 4 months. The little one had been a great sufferer for three weeks or more from tubercular meningitis, and passed away last Thursday afternoon, Nov. 20th. The remains were taken to Dartmouth on Friday for burial.

The C. P. R. are widening the roadbed about six feet each side of the track between the railway bridge and the Bridgetown station. A construction train has been hauling carloads of clay to this point for several days past. They are also relaying the track with a heavy eighty-five pound rail between Paradise and Bridgetown, sections where most needed receiving first attention before winter sets in.

The Monitor subscription list in Bear River has made a very substantial gain during the past ten days, its new subscribers in that section numbering close to one hundred. We appreciate the support the Monitor is receiving in Bear River and vicinity, and we hope to make each issue of interest and value to that section of the county. Bear River news and the offerings of its advertisers will be found each week on page six.

A subscriber to the Monitor lost quite a sum of money two weeks ago. He advertised his loss in this paper, and after waiting a week with no response he about gave up hope of ever recovering his money. But last Wednesday the Monitor had a note from Mr. Manning Nichols, who is the contractor in charge of the construction train of the C. P. R. working in this vicinity, wishing us to advertise the money he had found. It proved to be the money lost by our subscriber who considers it fortunate that his money had been found by an honest man.

The Liverpool Advance says: "We hear these days of abnormal efforts of nature—of ripe strawberries plucked in November, and of mayflowers gathered in full bloom almost on the eve of winter, but none of these things strike us as forcibly as the story which just comes to us with due and satisfactory authentication, of a pair of robins, that have a nest on the outskirts of the town, in which, a week ago, there were three little newly laid eggs."

Mr. George B. Hall of Yarmouth, and Edward A. Hicks of this town, are now in Prince Edward Island, in the interests of the Prince Edward Silver Black Fox Company. They have already bought up their options on the famous Tuplin Foxes, and will bring them back to be placed in the Company's ranch at Brookline, Yarmouth County. This will complete their stock for the present year and investors in this Company are assured of the best possible results.

Elkanah Cook, a young lad of nineteen years, living at North Range, Digby County, was killed on the 18th inst., by being caught beneath the driving wheels of a heavy locomotive. The moose hunting season closed on the 15th and the number that was brought out here for this season is thirty-five. Bear River ranks as one of the best starting points for moose hunting in Nova Scotia, as the hunting grounds are easy of access from here, for as soon as you arrive at Lake Jolly, which is only ten miles from the village, the canoeing commences and what portage's there are from there on are very short. It is simply a succession of lakes and stillwaters. It is said that the Weymouth River is fed by one hundred lakes, and a large majority of these beside hundreds of others, are in the hunting grounds reached from here. We also have an Indian Reserve on which live some of the best guides in the Province. Beside these there are a number of white guides who generally strike luck. The number of moose killed by parties from here in the few years past are as follows: 1905-33 cows and bulls; 1906-28 cows and bulls; 1907-25 cows and bulls; 1908-40 cows and bulls; 1909- the year that the game law came in force which prohibited the killing of cows, there were 26 bulls killed; 1910-15 bulls; 1911-26; 1912-32; 1913-35. This looks as if the law as it now stands was surely increasing the moose as the kill is larger every year without any cows being killed.

PORT WADE

November 24.

A number of our young men are about to undertake the lobster fishing industry.

Two masted schooner Luella, Capt. Scott, is lying at anchor here awaiting a chance out.

Mrs. James Snow returned last Wednesday, 19th, from the Kentville Sanatorium, looking and feeling much better of the change and rest.

Skipper D. Hayden, Pink Elmer, with assistants F. Mussels and J. McWhinnie, left Port Saturday, 22nd, on a trading trip across the Bay.

Mr. Henry Casey is building an ice house at Victoria Beach for the further prosecution of the fish business in which he and his sons are engaged.

People in this vicinity are looking to the woods this winter as there is little else to do. There will be quite large quantities of wood, piling, lumber, etc., got at this point.

"Back to the Land" is beginning to get hold of our farmers, who, not having succeeded at practical farming in the past, are now realizing that if the same indefatigable effort and unremitting toil were employed as in the past with the farming-fishing business, their success would be assured. The present market for farm products has never before been equalled.

WILL CONTINUE TO OPERATE MINES.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—At a special meeting of the shareholders of the Intercolonial Coal Mining Company, Limited, held this morning, the directors were authorized to continue the operation of the mine in Nova Scotia.

Financial arrangements, it was announced were about to be made but their nature was not stated. It was said, however, that the shareholders would meet on Dec. 4th, when it is expected the detailed proposition for the carrying on of the affairs of the company will be presented.

While no official statement was forthcoming at the close of the meeting, it was stated that the directors would decide themselves as to the best method of securing necessary financial assistance, as well as the amount which was considered necessary to carry on the business at the collieries. The meeting lasted for almost two hours.

The Intercolonial Coal Company owns the Drummond Colliery at Westville, N. S., which has a coal area of nine square miles, but operations have not been on a paying basis for some time past, owing to several unfortunate occurrences, including fires at the mines.

DIGBY CHICKENS IN POULTRY YARD.

The Funny Mistake Made by the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Glasgow.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—"What is a Digby chicken?" A trade commissioner in Great Britain has views upon the subject and has succeeded in slipping them into the weekly report of the trade and commerce department.

That publication, which of late has been greatly expanded and improved prints the following paragraph sent from Glasgow by J. R. Roe, for some years trade commissioner in Great Britain:—

"Some years ago an extensive trade in 'Digby chickens' was transacted with Nova Scotia, but apparently it has for some reason ceased. Inquiries made among poultry dealers reveal a desire to receive quotations from Canadian exporters. It offers are forwarded to this office in time for the Christmas trade they will be placed before probable purchasers. Turkeys are desired chiefly."

It is understood that 'Digby chickens' is a current term for a variety of herring cured at Digby, N. S.

INFLUX KEEPS UP.

Every ship arriving from Britain is booked with British immigrants up to the end of the year and all through the winter a steady pouring of British-born is to take place.

Figures up to the end of October show that 59,744 Britishers have arrived in Ontario since the beginning of the year, as compared with about 40,000 for the same period last year.

Most of those now arriving are the wives and children coming to join those who have made homes for them here.

HURLED HAMMERS AT JUDGE

London, Nov. 15.—Women hurled hammers at the Judge of the London Sessions Court at the Old Bailey today when he sentenced Miss Rachael Peace, a militant suffragette, to eighteen months imprisonment after she had been found guilty by the jury of setting fire and badly damaging a mansion at Hampton-on-Thames, near London, on Oct. 4.

A crowd of women had gathered in the courtroom and frequently interrupted the proceedings. On the pronouncement of the sentence they not only threw hammers at the judge, but smashed a number of windows and glass doors. Four of the disturbers were arrested after a hard struggle with the police.

The Home

A PLEA FOR HOME AUTHORITY.

The records of the Juvenile Court and the cases of daily occurrence in which children are concerned make one wonder if there is such a thing as home restraint any more. Have parents ceased entirely to exercise authority? It sometimes looks as if the boys' and the girls' will and wish were a law unto themselves and the only guide or ruling principle they recognized. It has been said that "this is the era of the child." In some respects it is a great deal too much the era of the child. There are two aspects of the new outlook towards children. No one will deny that a great advance has been made in the way children charged with wrongdoing are treated now. The time when children who had in any way broken a law were subject to the same forms of arrest, trial and punishment as befallen adult offenders already seems to have belonged to the dark ages, although it is not more than fifteen years since the juvenile court system first came into practice in America, and only about four years in our own city. A child who breaks the law is treated not as a criminal, but as a delinquent, in need of "counsel, protection, aid, and assistance," therefore the aim of the Children's Court is to bring such influence to bear upon every child appearing before it as to form a better character and direct into a better way of life. Up to a few years ago, a boy or girl who offended against the law and was arrested, was placed along with criminals until the time came for trial, when he might be sent to jail to finish his education. A totally different procedure is followed today. The fact of the theft or other misdemeanor is not the only thing taken into account but the child's case is studied in all its relationships. His family life, home training, special temptations, even his health, and mentality are investigated, and then he is given another chance under the supervision of the probation officer who so far as may be is to him or to her a "guide, philosopher and friend."

"MY ONLY MEDICINE"

Says Mrs. Corbett, Are "Fruit-a-tives" "They Keep Me In Perfect Health"

Mrs. ANNIE A. CORBETT
 AVON, ONT., May 14th, 1913.
 "I have used 'Fruit-a-tives' for indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I am highly pleased with 'Fruit-a-tives' and am not ashamed to have the facts published to the world. When I first started, about six years ago, to use them, I took four for a dose, but I cured myself of the above troubles and gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night. Before taking 'Fruit-a-tives' I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the disease as from these treatments. 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised with a letter in which someone recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were more than satisfactory and I have no hesitation in recommending them to any other person. They have done a world of good. I get satisfaction from them, and that is quite a lot!" ANNIE A. CORBETT.

Joker's Corner

"Is the minister through preachin' yet?" was once asked of a cannie auld Scotch lady. "O, aye," was the response, "he's through lang synè—but he's talkin' yet."

"Oh, Willie, Willie!" cried a teacher to a hopelessly dull pupil. "Whatever do you think your head is for?"

Willie, who evidently thought this another of the troublesome questions that teachers are always asking, pondered it deeply. "Please, miss," he replied at length, "to keep my collar on!"

Mark Twain once asked a neighbor if he might borrow a set of his books. The neighbor replied ungraciously that he was welcome to read them in his library, but he had a rule never to let his books leave his house. Some weeks later the same neighbor sent over to ask for the loan of Mark Twain's lawnmower.

"Certainly," said Mark, "but since I'm a rule never to let it leave my lawn, you'll be obliged to use it there."

A little girl had sent back her plate for turkey two or three times, and had been helped bountifully to all the other good things that go to make a grand dinner. Finally she was observed looking rather disconsolately at her unfinished dish of plum pudding. "What's the matter, Ethel?" asked Uncle John; "you look mournful." "That's the trouble," said Ethel; "I am more'n full." Then she wondered why everybody laughed.

Ten-year-old William came home one day in a regrettable state of disorder and a somewhat bruised face.

"O, Willie, Willie!" exclaimed his mother, shocked and grieved. "You have disobeyed me again! How often have I told you not to play with that naughty Johnson boy?"

"Mamma," said William, in utter disgust at this feminine reprimand, "do I look as if I had been playing with anybody?"

Seated comfortably in a railway carriage a commercial traveller found beside him a rather seditious looking gentleman with whom he sought to converse, and began by explaining what goods he sold, and in what large quantities he sold them.

"And you, my friend," he added, "what is your line?"

"Brains," answered his companion gruffly.

"Ah, brains, you say? That must be nice. You carry no samples, I see."

In a registration booth in San Francisco an old colored woman had just finished registering for the first time.

"Am you shore," she asked the clerk, "at I've done all I has to do?"

"Quite sure," replied the clerk; "you see it's very simple."

"I'd ought to knowed it," said the old woman. "If those fool men folks been doing it all dese years, I might 'a' knowed it was a powerful simple process."

Senator and Mrs. Cummins of Iowa went one evening to dine in a Washington restaurant where colored waiters were employed. Mrs. Cummins, after she had taken up the menu, found that she had left her glasses at home and therefore was unable to read. She handed the senator the card and asked him to order the dinner, but he found that he also had forgotten his glasses.

Then he handed the card to the waiter with the request:

"Will you please read the menu to me?"

The waiter bowed in a courtly manner and answered, in a low tone: "Deed, suh, I'd like to 'blige you, but I ain't got no educashun, neither"

Women who shine in society seldom shine in the kitchen. The beauty doctor demands spot cash for removing freckles. It's surprising how many friends you have when you don't need them. It's hard to love your neighbor as yourself if he keeps chickens while you are trying to raise a garden. We don't blame a hog for being a hog, but we blame a man for being one.

The woman who quarrels with her complexion is always ready to make up. When you have saved up enough money to invest in doubtful mining stocks—buy an overcoat. The way of the transgressor may be hard, and there are other ways that are not easy.

A BOY'S IMPRESSION OF LINCOLN IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

I, a lad going on fourteen years of age, called at the Executive Mansion in Washington and handed to the doorkeeper a card which I had caused to be written especially for use on what was for me a very great occasion by the expert "calligraphist," as he called himself, of Willard's Hotel. Beneath my name, which the card-writer had inscribed with elaborate if not altogether appropriate flourishes, I had appended in my own schoolboy hand-writing, "Nephew of Dr. Cornelius Rea Agnew." My uncle was well known to Mr. Lincoln and this use of his name doubtless facilitated my admission to the office of the private secretary to the President, where I found the chief magistrate of my country at a desk in conversation with a gentleman, the only other occupant of the room, who was, as I afterward learned, the minister of France. When I entered the office the President was seated in a curiously constructed armchair made after a design suggested by himself. The left arm of this unique piece of furniture began low and, rising in a spiral to form the back, terminated on the right side of the seat at the height of the shoulders of the person seated thereon. Mr. Lincoln had placed himself crosswise in this chair with his long legs hanging over its lower arm, his back supported by the higher side. When the attendant who had presented my card to the President, and had then ushered me into the secretary's office, closed the door behind me and I found myself actually in the presence of Abraham Lincoln, I had the grace to feel embarrassed, for I then realized that I, a mere schoolboy, was intruding upon the patience and good-nature of a very busy overworked man, the great and honored President of a country in the agony of a civil war. Noting my hesitation, Mr. Lincoln very gently said: "Come in, my son."

CANADA GETS $140,165 FROM NEW COMPANIES.

(Montreal Daily Telegraph)
 Ottawa, Nov. 18.—That the Dominion reaps a goodly revenue from the companies which seek Dominion incorporation is evidenced from the figures for the first seven months of the year ending October 31. Up to that date no less than $140,165.60 was paid into the Dominion treasury in the shape of fees for the issuance of Dominion letters patent, and supplementary Dominion letters patent. The fees are fixed according to the capitalization of the company, $50 being charged for the first $1,000 capitalization, and a sliding scale as the capitalization increases being the system, the amount per thousand, however, decreasing as the big figures are reached.

As compared with the revenue for the corresponding period last year, there is an apparent falling of the year. In 1912 the revenue for the first nine months was $175,187.90, an increase of $35,000 over this year.

This, however, was accounted for by a fee of $24,000 in June for the Brazilian Traction and Power Co., and by another large fee of $13,000 in April of 1912. These were exceptional in size of capitalization.

HICKS ON THE 1914 FORECAST.

In replying to a question about the outlook for the summer of 1914 astronomer Hicks has made the following forecast: "We believe that the agricultural outlook for next year and for several years to come, so far as seasonal rains are concerned is decidedly more hopeful than during the summer of 1913. We believe that farmers, stockmen and business men generally, can safely count on prosperous crop years for the next two or three to come. 'Fringes' of remaining drought will linger here and there, but upon the whole, look for bountiful yields."

school they have done their part. When the child is out of sight, his or she is out of mind. In one of the most saddening cases before the public within the last few weeks, the father of a little girl who met her death away from home confessed that she was sometimes absent without their knowing where she was. Some of us who are grown up now can remember the accounting that would have followed if we had absented ourselves until long after midnight without the knowledge and consent of our mothers. An inspector in one of our Courts recent where he was trying to persuade a girl who had run away from home and caused her people great anxiety, to go back home and be good, intimated that if she were his little girl he would try what the laying on of hands would do. Presumably the girl was rather large for such treatment, he meant that it would have been better for her if she had had a more rigorous bringing up. There are those who agree with the inspector—and Solomon—that a timely application of the rod of discipline is good for the wayward child. The aspect of the new outlook towards the child which finds expression in the idea that the child must not be corrected does not seem to have worked out particularly well. Judging from results. One reads on dangerous ground who would advocate the rod literally nowadays. In truth where the child is trained properly from the earliest possible moment—which nurses and doctors place at about two years—where the training is systematic, regular, and based on reason, there will be little need for the physical force argument. Still there are times when a visit with father to the woodshed might open Johnny's eyes to the enormity of his offence in smoking cigarettes or stealing nickels for the picture show, when other arguments fail. However, I do not wish to discuss the corporal punishment question here. What I do want to emphasize is the need for home training, and some of the old-time home authority. The former authority no doubt, was sometimes apt to err on the side of arbitrariness; the modern authority—if it can be so called—errs on the side of laxity, and with it seems to many, far more deplorable results. There is a happy medium in which the child's individuality is taken into account, and "government is by and with the consent of the governed." That is, the child is given to understand why or she should or should not do so-and-so. Also, the child is given an opportunity to explain his or her point of view. But—in the last resort, the governor and the governed.

And what of the numbers of young girls who find their way into the courts through going out "joy riding"—such a mis-nomer! Have these girls no mothers? Have they never, even in these days when dark doings are brought to the light, been told by father or mother how unsafe it is to talk to strangers on the streets? Above all, what are the parents thinking of to allow their young girls on the streets at night unaccompanied except by some one as irresponsible as themselves. Girls and boys, naturally, love brightness, and gaiety and the joys of life. Sometimes parents do not take this sufficiently into account, and leave their growing children to seek for pleasure beyond their kin, sometimes the home circumstances are such that children cannot have all the "good times" they want. But where these cannot be enjoyed under wholesome and proper influences home authority should prevent their being sought for on the street.—Mary Malvern.

PECULIAR WAY OF COOLING WATER

In central Nicaragua the native women cool water in one of the most peculiar ways imaginable. They take an eastern jar, fill it perhaps three-quarters full of water and when anybody wishes a cool drink, they grasp the jar by two leather handles and swing it through the air, as if it were an enormous dumb-bell. The centrifugal force of action prevents the water from flying out, and yet it is all the time moving rapidly within the jar. In a few moments the water is comparatively cool and is relished by the thirsty passer-by.—Walter K Putney, in "Onward."

Mrs. Fred Walker and children of Trail, B. C., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dodge and other relatives here. She will, we learn, stop until spring.

The frogs are croaking at night in the ponds—a very rare occurrence at this time of year. No doubt before the first of April we can all sing very feelingly "When Summer Comes Again," and glad when it does.

Your reporter was presented with a beautiful new dandelion blossom by Miss Frances Bent, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bent today. A great many blossoms of different kinds can be found in the pastures and fields, especially strawberries.

The young friends of Miss Lizzie Troop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Troop, was given a party by her grandmother, Mrs. E. P. Troop, on Tuesday evening of last week, the joyous event celebrating the 14th anniversary of her birth. The table decorations were chrysanthemums and myrtle, the birthday cake being lighted with fourteen wax tapers. The young friends were entertained by their teacher Miss Rhoda Bent, her aunt, Miss Genie Troop, and the Misses Cora and Muriel Parker. The guest of honor was her great aunt, Mrs. Phineas Walker.

The quietness of our community has been disturbed of late by the element of rowdiness. The special delight seems to be to scare women and children. The game has been carried even as far as to break windows. The boldness of the night walkers reached the climax when in the early part of Saturday evening they went on the property of a woman and discharged two shots, either from a gun or revolver. It is supposed that they were aimed at the watch dog. Perhaps a word of caution would not be out of the way. It is known who the parties are and if their nocturnal work is carried on much further they may have the pleasure of answering for their actions. It seems passing strange that after the day's work is done that people have to be disturbed by such annoyances.

CANADA WILL STOP WATERING OF STOCKS.

(Montreal Daily-Telegraph)

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—There will be a government bill this season to restrict the capitalization of stock companies. The practice of watering stock has been carried on in Canada during the past decade in such a way that many Canadian industries have been irrigated to the point of saturation.

The operations of promoters and amalgamators of Canadian companies have tended to discredit Canadian securities in the British money market, and also to increase the cost of living in Canada. In steel, coal, lumber, woollens, cotton, bread, and in almost everything else, including transportation and finance, the process has gone on. In more than one instance, a promoter has secured option on the chief companies in some industry.

He has issued bonds to the full amount of their tangible assets, and has then issued preferred stock and common stock. Then the public has been required to pay interest on the bonds, and dividends on common and preferred stock, for which usually there was nothing paid by the holders.

When the public has not paid, Canada's credit suffered in the money markets; when the public has paid it has suffered in pocket.

The bill will be brought in by the Hon. W. T. White, Finance Minister, who has had a large amount of experience in finance, and is understood to know all about stock watering and similar operations.

It is not intended to draw the bill so as to draw off any of the water in companies which are now operating, but will be designed to reduce the percentage of financial moisture in enterprises launched hereafter.

PREMIER BORDEN TO MEET PRESIDENT WILSON.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—It is stated in an authoritative quarter that when the Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden leaves Hot Springs, Virginia, a few weeks hence, he will proceed to Washington with the purpose of having a conference with President Wilson in regard to several matters affecting Canada and the United States.

It was originally planned that the Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, would go to Washington later on to discuss the fisheries agreement of a few years ago, which awaits the ratification of the United States Government, the Long Sault development project and other matters being dealt with by the International Waterways Commission.

Owing to the coming into force of the Wilson tariff, however, a new situation has been created, and it is stated that Mr. Borden has decided to go to Washington to deal with it himself. He realizes as a consequence of pressure which has been brought upon him by western members and others, that the Government must make some effort to deal with the problem of the cost of living.

It would not surprise Ottawa people if Mr. Borden suggests to President Wilson further tariff concessions to Canada in return for concessions to the United States, the general effect of which would be free trade in natural products.
