CADETS AND THE RIFLE.

Editor World: The action of the three boy-soldiers, Lieut. Ross Shaver of the Dundas High School and Lieut. Hartney and Mackenzie of the Harbord-street Collegiate Institute Cadets, in traveling all the way to Ottawa to test their skill against the veterans of the Dominion Rifle Association, is a notable event in the history of military annals of Canada.

DECORATE FOR THE FAIR.

Editor World: What a pity the citizens do not do more in the way of decorating the city in honor of the fair. The downtown streets, at a touch of color up-town would not be unattractive, and a certain amount of pride in appearance, especially now that the city is filled with our cousins from across the border and from the country, would not be out of place.

POINTER FOR RAILWAY CO.

Editor World: In view of the fact that the city is crowded now with thousands of strangers who are not familiar with our street car service—and many of whom are passed on the streets every day by reason of not knowing on which side of a crossing to board a car—would it not be a good thing if each street car carried a conspicuous placard on the front side, reading "Cars stop on near side of crossing only," or words to that effect?

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

CONFERENCE YET FAR APART

WAGE QUESTION DIVIDES

Possibility That Car Men May Still Strike—Accident at Harvester Works.

Hamilton, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The conference this afternoon between the representatives of the Street Railway Employees' Union and the Cataract Power Company was not so much of the matter of fact variety as was expected. It was announced that the wages question would be taken up at the meeting, and the general opinion, judging from the tone of Traction Manager Greene's remarks the other day that the men would have no difficulty in obtaining the increases asked for.

When the meeting dissolved this evening, however, the union representatives admitted that the vital question, not being settled, and that the chances for a settlement were not any too rosy. Mr. Green said the other day that the company was not opposed to giving the men an increase, but from the few brief remarks dropped by the union representatives to-night the company representatives were not any too willing to take any action in that direction at the meeting this afternoon.

President Theaker of the local union, who was at the meeting, refused to make a statement further than that the question was discussed, but that no settlement was arrived at. He said at another meeting would be held in the morning.

When asked to-night whether or not he thought that there might still be a strike, Magnus Sinclair, Canadian representative of the International Union, replied to the effect that he would not be sure that there would not be one. He said the main question at issue had not been reached, and from the present indications it did not look as though matters were going to be arranged as easily as anticipated.

It is possible that W. D. Mahon, president of the International Union of Detroit, will leave for home tomorrow. Severely burned, George Chalkie, 163 North Carleton-street, an Australian employed at the International Harvester Company's Works, was severely burned while at work this afternoon. His left leg was badly injured. He was taken to the City Hospital.

Garment Workers' Visit. About 200 delegates to the Garment Workers' convention at Toronto, and their friends, came up from Toronto this afternoon and were entertained by District Council No. 14 at the Mountain View. Supper was served in the pavilion. J. H. Barnett, Toronto, a member of the international committee of the Iron Molders' Union, was present and made a brief address. Samuel Haines, international organizer, introduced the visitors. After enjoying the view from the mountain the delegates returned to Toronto on the Turbina.

Medical Health Officer Dr. Roberts is in a quandry as to how to proceed to carry out the recommendations of the provincial board of health with regard to abating the nuisances at Stroud's cattle byres. The doctor thinks that the proper way to conform with the wishes of the board would be to order the sheds to be torn down. George S. Kerr, solicitor for Mr. Stroud, threatens legal action in the courts if the health officers go too far in attempting to force him to improve his place.

The Winship Steamship Company of this city has been incorporated, with the following officers: R. O. Mackay, A. E. Mackay, John E. Milne, Duncan Brown and J. Jordan. Edward Gleason and John Bierman, who were brought from the Central Prison, where they served terms for pocket-picking, were committed to trial at the police court this morning for stealing two watches here last January.

The Toronto Daily and Sunday World delivered to any address in Hamilton from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Sunday, 10c per copy; Hamilton office, Royal Hotel Building, Phone 955. Martimas Cigars, 5 cents, to-day, at Billy Carroll's Opera House Cigar Store.

SCHOOL CHANGES.

Management Committee Has Lot of Business on Books To-Day. When the management committee of the board of education meet this afternoon for the first time since the holidays the members will find a mass of work. In the technical high school and the collegiate institutes many changes and appointments are in contemplation. Principal Packenham has recommended the appointment of Wm. Ward, M.A., to succeed the late Mr. Dandy on the commercial staff.

Miss Lawlor has asked to be transferred from Harbord to Jarvis-street Collegiate. Principal Embree is said to favor the exchange, and has also recommended the acceptance of the resignation of ex-Principal Manley to be together with the other teachers appointed in July.

A large number of transfers among the public school teachers are recommended by Principal Hughes, while the following teachers have been definitely appointed to these schools: E. Brown, formerly on the staff in Dufferin School; Miss M. H. Douglas, to Morse-street School; Miss E. M. Evans, to Ryerson School; Miss E. Campbell, to Sackville-street School; Miss M. B. Dickson, to Sackville-street School; Miss J. I. Irwin, to John-street School; Miss L. M. Madry, to Sackville-street School; Miss M. J. Richardson, to Borden-street School.

Notwithstanding the energy and push which have characterized the department presided over by Superintendent Bishop during the vacation season, a number of schools will not be in complete working order when school reopens on Tuesday morning. Palmerston and Dovercourt Schools, where six rooms are being added, will not be ready, while work on Kenilworth-avenue School has not been begun.

AT THE EXHIBITION

not only the consent but the active concurrence of other classes.

In the opinion of some, the high schools had been for years the favorites of the public schools that most needed attention.

"We must have consolidation of the school classes," declared the superintendent with conviction.

Value of Technical School. Chairman Shaw, principal of the technical school, declared the superintendent was also crying necessity for the development of the fifth book, or continuation class.

Rev. Father Rohleder, secretary-treasurer of the separate school board, opined that the farmer was disposed to hedge on the matter of school taxes.

The Ontario Agricultural College has a notable exhibit in the older art building. There are a number of examples of the metamorphoses of life.

The natural history department contains also what is really a magnificent collection of eggs, and many of them are not entered in competition.

"Are all beautiful things bad?" was a question raised by a visitor yesterday. The answer was in the affirmative.

The Guard's Band. It is probable that should the impressive parade of the Second Life Guards Band be sustained by their subsequent performances, they will bear away a higher reputation.

The music contributed by the Toronto Cadet Band and the Mimico School Noddy band was not expected to be on the same plane as that of the Second Life Guards, but it was good.

The following are the results of the judging in the large horse ring yesterday: Delivery or express horses (Judges, R. P. Carman and Orson McCulloch).

The King Edward Hotel Cup, golden for the best horse of the runabout class—Hugh S. Wilson's Dolly Dollars.

Pony in single harness, 11 hands and under—Graham, Renfrew Co.'s Tom Noddy.

Delivery or express horses (Judges, R. P. Carman and Orson McCulloch)—J. J. Fairweather's Hignote.

Delivery or express horses (Judges, R. P. Carman and Orson McCulloch)—J. J. Fairweather's Lady Minto.

POPULAR SCHOOL REFORMS FOR LABOR'S DISCUSSION

Resolutions Which Will Come Before Congress of British Trades Unionists.

Liverpool, Aug. 29.—Representatives of organized labor of Great Britain will assemble here Sept. 3 for the 39th annual Trades Union Congress, and will continue in session for five days.

The wonderful success of the national elections and the number of candidates of organized labor at the national elections and the number of problems, for which solution must be sought, along political lines, that are to come before the congress, give special importance to the session.

A proposal favors "the passage in Great Britain of a home-stead act, such as exists in the United States, exempting a reasonable amount of household goods from seizure." The dockers will present against the passage of "theological acts in the place of educational measures," and the state maintenance of school children; scientific physical education, with medical inspection and records of the physical development of all children attending the state schools; and skilled medical attendance for all children requiring same; a national system of control, free and secular from the primary school to the university; economic and technical education as an essential part of every child's education; for the best intellectual and technical training for teachers of the children of the people.

It is believed that a resolution declaring for the secularization of the schools will be carried by a heavy majority. There will also be resolutions against militarism and welcoming international arbitration; recognizing May 1 as Labor Day; favoring universal old age pensions; applying to both sexes at the age of 60 years, and to be at the rate of at least five shillings per week.

I have no longer cause for regret, for with my Bell Player Piano I can play anything and everything—and play in precisely the way that I think each composition ought to be interpreted.'

101 OFFICIALS IN A WEEK PAY FORFEIT FOR RUSSIA

Terrorists Were Busy and Depressions Numerous and Costly to Life and Property.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—Official statistics of the terrorism of last week show that 101 officials, gendarmes, police, etc., were killed; ninety-two were wounded; 291 private persons were killed or wounded; thirty-four spirit shops were plundered; private and individual institutions were robbed of $18,815, and state institutions of $4,891. There were over 150 armed attempts to rob banks, houses, etc.

The Liberal papers welcome the semi-official statement in behalf of the government, to the effect that it would be a great mistake to suppose that revolutionary terrorism will be met by terrorism on the part of the government, and adding that the cabinet intends to continue in the path of reform.

But the papers manifest their distrust of whether the ministry will be able to master the situation by the publication of the ukases providing for the distribution of land to the peasants. Some of the papers, however, hail the announcement as being a distinct concession from the position which the government took two months ago, when Premier Gorevsky returned a non-possimus to this demand on the part of parliament.

A Little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents, and he went to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them potent and safe for medicinal, alternative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of its ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and renders an objection to the use of an unknown or doubtful remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class by itself, being as it does upon every bottle wrapper the badge of honesty, in the full and true sense of the word.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, sick headache, biliousness, nervousness, and all other ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. It is a powerful purgative, and its use is not only safe, but it is pleasant. Sugar-coated and easy to take, it is a "one or three a dose."

He said that during his absence he was very much gratified to have heard in the papers, and also to have read from Americans whom he met, that there has been quite a revolution in opinion on economic questions in the United States.

Mr. Bryan said on the presidential question he had nothing to add to interviews on that subject given by him in London, and in his letter to ex-Senator Jones.

High Art in Piano Building. As shown in Gourelay Pianos. THE phenomenal success of the GOURLAY Pianos is but the natural result of the realization of a higher ideal in piano quality than ever before recorded in the history of Canadian piano-building. While their matchless tone-quality and constructional superiority have been first factors in the achievement of this success, still another reason is that the credit of making the piano-case reflect art in all its truest forms belongs to the manufacturers of the GOURLAY piano.

SPECIAL LEGISLATION. When a railway can be declared by the grace of the voices of the members of the federal parliament in the railway committee room assembled, to be "a work for the general advantage of Canada," then it may get a Dominion charter and give provincial public rights the merry ha-ha.

This comedy, viewed from the vantage point of the railway, or this tragedy, viewed from the disadvantage point of the people, has been played with ever-increasing frequency of recent years. The railways are the dramatists, the members of parliament the mummery and the people the paying audience.

The railway, with the brand of "for the general advantage of Canada," may slight the provincial authority, may disregard the rights of the people, resting secure in the friendship of a Dominion government given over to graft.

The Metropolitan Electric Railway, an Ontario road, can charge not more than two cents a mile. The International Railway, an Ontario road so far as its Canadian division is concerned, is allowed to charge fifteen cents for a ride of less than three miles, or five cents a mile. The former has a provincial charter and public rights sometimes are regarded; the latter has a Dominion charter, and the public rights are disregarded.

THE ST. LAWRENCE PILOTS. What's the matter with the St. Lawrence River pilots that they let so many of their big charges go ashore? Are they competent? Hon. Mr. Brodeur says the battleship, Dominion struck because of smoke from forest fires. Another time it is the narrow channel. There is more than suspicion that the pilot service has become inefficient, that it is in the hands of a close ring, and will stand a lot of new men of higher pilot knowledge.

DUBLIN INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION. During the summer of 1907 an international exhibition is to be held in Dublin. It will be located on Herbert Park, the gift of the Earl of Pembroke to the urban council, at the confluence of Clyde-road with Ballisbridge, and has a double object. First, to promote and foster the industries, arts and sciences of Ireland by a display of the products for which the country is famous, and of the products of partially developed industries, for which special facilities exist in the country.

INTERNATIONAL ACTION ON SPELLING REFORM. The simplified spelling movement continues to advance in a most remarkable way. The London papers are still discussing it and a cable informs us that many prominent men in England are not averse to the idea of reform so long as it is the outcome of agreement between the English-speaking countries.

In the same despatch Lord Strathcona is reported as expressing almost a similar view, namely, that any reform should be by concerted action on the part of the two great English-speaking peoples. Another paper suggests a conference between the two great nations that speak our tongue, and Goldwin Smith, in his scholarly way, says that any changes made ought to be made by expert hands.

We endorse all the above criticism; but we do not agree with the attacks that have been made on President Roosevelt. He did the very best possible thing to draw world-wide attention to our defective spelling, and the outcome of his forceful action will be to compel the very thing that the English papers are now suggesting, namely, a conference, and, if possible, the appointment of a joint commission of the highest class of scholars, or, as Professor Goldwin Smith calls them, "expert hands," to do the work.

The simplified spelling book, which has its headquarters at New York, but which now includes a splendid section of representative English philologists and dictionary experts, will, we have no doubt, be prepared to join in such a movement and to suppress itself in an international committee will take up the work. The great thing attained so far is that public opinion has been aroused, joint action is likely to follow, and after that the movement will take care of itself under reasonable guidance by the highest class of specialists in this department of education.

Our local contemporary, The Globe, has an excellent article in favor of spelling reform. It points out that the Italians a century ago, and the Germans thirty years ago, simplified their spelling to excellent purpose. The Globe also expresses the opinion that it would not be surprised if King Edward extended his sympathy to the movement.

The board in New York may have a lot of other surprises up its sleeve. A number of high-class magazines are ready to adopt the simplified spelling at an early date.

HOUSES FOR WORKINGMEN. The attention of our city rulers has been directed again, this time by the commissioner of industries, to the lack of houses for workingmen in Toronto. The major and his colleagues on the board of control are nibbling at a proposition, and then abandoning it, in the direction of the city undertaking to build houses.

We do not see how this can be done at this moment, but we do see how workingmen can be greatly assisted to build their own houses if they are given cheap land and cheap street railway fares, and in this latter direction we are glad to note a suggestion in The Globe of yesterday in favor of a three-cent all-day fare on the cars for this very purpose. It would be profitable at the same time to the railway company.

As The World has pointed out a hundred times, there are two thousand acres of cheap land immediately available for the erection of workingmen's houses on either side of Danforth-avenue, immediately east of the Don. All it requires to make this land available is a high level bridge from Bloor-street east across the Don ravine to Danforth-avenue. The best land over there is selling now at $20 a foot, but there is any amount of it that can be bought for $5 a foot, and as a matter of fact a considerable amount of it is being bought and workmen are erecting their own houses upon it.

A high level bridge would not cost more than $400,000, and if the mayor has any sympathy with housing the people, and he cannot justify the expenditure of public money in that direction, he can easily initiate the necessary legislation to build this viaduct, which will help to do the same thing in another way.

DOUBLE UP. There is no reason why the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern should not join together in building a common line to connect those two roads with Hudson Bay, and there is a newspaper story that comes from Winnipeg that says such an arrangement has already been made. Nor is there any reason why the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern should not have common terminals at Winnipeg, as they are likely to have, and no reason why they should not have a common line from Winnipeg to Port Arthur.

THE ST. LAWRENCE PILOTS. What's the matter with the St. Lawrence River pilots that they let so many of their big charges go ashore? Are they competent? Hon. Mr. Brodeur says the battleship, Dominion struck because of smoke from forest fires. Another time it is the narrow channel. Our Friend From Cannington Continues His Friendly Visits

THE NEW KHAN. A party named Bill McGlynn, to write for The World started yesterday. The funniest paper he put in the paper was a picture of Billy McGlynn.

To laugh at Mister McGlynn. Now really, it would be a sin: Of wit economical, He's certainly comical, And broadly his readers do grant. For the rich he don't care a penny; He calls them down with great dignity; While the poor he's assisted, In a page in The World, I know they will give him his grain.

Since Billy to write did begin, His fame and his fortune in wain, He's filled his paper with pleasure, Beyond any measure. Good luck to you, Billy McGlynn! —The Khan.

Billee Glynn spent another day with friends of the "fourth estate." He had a chat with Joe T. Clark of Toronto Saturday Night and W. J. Douglas, managing director of The Mail and Empire. He says: Joe Clark of The Saturday Night! When you meet him first you think of another Joe—Joe Mitchell Chapple of The National Magazine, Boston—for there is considerable likeness in the two heads. They are both joined to broad, thick shoulders, on a short, fat neck that admits of but little collar. He is both strikingly round—in a square in the face, and both being in an efficient way, and both being of unique characters, that seemed anyone would behold a stream of things. Joe Clark is about the height of Napoleon, without a military air. He has straight, sandy hair that seems to take its light from the inside, and the clean-shaven face holds no disguise. And, looking in the brown eyes, rather unkindly, but which will roll and never grew up. Joe never to his own standards; he is still at it, and always will be. He has a boy enthusiasm that is always with him, and he will always have a better than most people. But he couldn't be any other than he is. He is clever for that—too warmly clever—and it is his warmth and cleverness that makes him. But he neither flatters the one nor flatters the other. He has a matter—he knows, he does himself—but he knows quietly. Yet all the time he is looking at you, and he will tell you the best word to describe him, perhaps, is "wholesome." He is wholesome in the sense that he is a deep, deep man, who has satirized with a vengeance, and who has a great deal of intellectuality. Also, it is possible for that bullet head, with its strangely shaped hair, which has a peculiar eminence in the world; and you may be sure it will do it easily. For example, he is a part of Joe Clark—and not the least. He understands that a small man makes a fuss over small things, and does not believe in it. He represents the philosophy of a glad hand, with an intellectual grasp, and he has the wonderful gift of never boring you. You could talk him every day as you do bread and butter. On the other hand, he tries in his personality the exquisite flavor of the Bohemian, and you have a sense of smacking your lips after him. He is cheerfully serious and quiet, and while he is talking to you smokes a long pipe that must have been grown for his sake. Certain you would find that pipe anywhere, you would know it was his; and if your eyesight was good, you would read The Saturday Night from the room where he works, and there is a touch of the Bohemian about Joe. There is no ostentatious and fills in as a party of your liking for him. He seems to have been rescued from past to good-nature with the intellectual edge of the former retained. And his philosophy of life, perhaps, is sanity in the things of the heart. But he is whimsical, and the decoration enhances him. You would like to hear him make a stump speech, or give a toast. You would almost laugh before he began. Yet it would certainly be a good matter. That's Joe Clark, and there is only one.

On the third door of The Mail and Empire Building, I think it is, you find Arthur Wallis of the editorial staff. He receives you just as if he knew you all his life; and it takes but a few moments to create the same impression on your part—that you knew him. You do, too, for he conceals nothing. His personality is free candor; and when he tells you he is too matter-of-fact to even write a line of verse, you are inclined to think that it is not Arthur Wallis that is to blame, but the line. Even greater than his candor, perhaps, the part of it, is his modesty. In the matter of men, he claims to be nothing more than a mere smith. Yet he is considerably. And in the matter of thought and experience of life, a great deal. You can read that in the face if you have a mind. And from it has sprung the comradeship that makes the man and the Mail and Empire as well. For that comradeship, essentially true, grasps the heart-words of things and interprets them from a human standpoint. It is because Arthur Wallis is so human that you like talking to him. He stands for the common sense that is so uncommon; and you realize in him what a fine thing it is—more especially when you were never gifted that way yourself. Physically he is not handsome, and yet he is Arthur Wallis, which is better. The hair is gray, without even a wave, and the mustache brown, or almost so, having a stiff drop to it. The brow protrudes somewhat at either side in knobs, and the nose spreads out and lifts slightly toward the end, with the kind brown eyes—I think they were brown, but I was facing the light—beacons of welcome on either side, and overarched by rather fussy brows. The chin is good, but temperate. In body he is stout, without being corpulent, and of fair height. In profile the face is rather striking.

He tells you that he wrote shortly after Billy Maclean years ago, so he has a regard for The World. He speaks of the rest of the staff as if they were so many brothers, and you somehow feel that you are part of some aftermath of you. You might tell him anything that you would tell an old friend, and he would seem quite natural. The unnatural thing would be if he betrayed the confidence, and you would require proof to believe it. That's Arthur Wallis. He has little passion, and disclaims the great things in mentality it creates; but he has that which passion likes to rest—sympathy—and he has it sympathetically. But there is no gush to it. That is as far removed from him as Niagara. From the water that weakens about him, as potent as the shadow-language of the flames. With him you have a desire to linger, and when he shakes your hand, you are asking you to take again, you are mighty sure that you will.

The Mail and Empire building is the building of courtesy and style, and that is what distinguishes W. J. Douglas, the managing director, along with a simplicity that is like a new flavor to an always reliable dish. He is proud of The Mail and Empire, and because he is proud of himself, and because he is proud of his staff. And he speaks of "Kit" as the Bohemian. The room with its coolness and green carpet is something like an oasis, and when he leans back in the armchair, looking you straight in the face with a kindly, musing look, you notice he is somewhat corpulent. But it is a corpulence built on natural squariness. The head is rather small, but well-formed, and you are reminded that Julius Caesar wore only a six-and-seven-eighths. The hair is gray and so is the mustache, with a curve in its droop over a mouth and toward the chin which may be perhaps a little self-indulgent. But not enough to hurt the character. He would not change it—it is so very seldom. A slight drawl in his voice—that becomes musical—he speaks of solving the laborer's problem by raising the snows of war, for the twelve dollars a month; and you know he is sincere; that his is a real talk, and without effort. It is because he is not young that you like him so much. He is fatigued, and he has many children—the mass of them—the keynote of the whole character. Dr. Montague will change it—it is so very seldom. TO HIS PURRIERS H.R.H. Queen Alexandra, Princess of Wales. Winning the admiration of every visitor on showing of Sealskin Garments is truly a magnificent one.

To the casual sight-seeer this display is bound to be of interest. To the prespective purchaser it will be still more interesting because it affords a splendid opportunity to judge the workmanship and the quality of our Furs.

The styles—many of them—are exclusive with us, for, besides keeping in close touch with the fashion centres of Europe, our own designers are continually originating new styles.

Let us send you our Fur Catalog. Holt, Renfrew & Co., 5 King St. East.

WHAT'S IN THE WIND? Belleville Ontario: Among the notables on the streets to-day was a stout and good-looking gentleman, who was dressed in light grey from his cap to his footgear, and who wore pince-nez and a pleasant smile. He was in company with Mr. Corby, by whom he was introduced to a good many citizens, and whom he accompanied to the stores and offices of several Conservatives.

The stranger was the Hon. W. H. Montague, M. D., who was minister of agriculture in the short-lived administration of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and in the still shorter-lived administration of Sir Charles Tupper. Dr. Montague's chief chaperon did not call at The Intelligence office where the ex-premier is usually to be found. It was remarked, but perhaps the fact that the doctor was a leader in the historical strike in the cabinet in 1886 may account of that seeming discourtesy.

HARBOR COLLEGIATE BOYS WINS BULL'S EYE TIMES

Team Wins Cadets Match at D.R.A. Meet—Good Scoring in Strong Wind.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Conditions were not favorable for good scoring at the D.R.A. meeting to-day. The wind was strong and variable and the light shifty. In spite of this, however, an excellent standard of marksmanship was maintained, and in two cases, the Ross match and the Henshaw match, the winners won with better scores than last year. In the Ross match E. W. Short of the G.G.F.G., Ottawa, scored 34 as against 33 last year, while in the Henshaw match Corp. Freeborn of the 15th, Hamilton, won with 67, as against 65 last year.

The Cadets' Match attracted a great deal of interest. It is shot over 200 yards and is open to teams of five pupils from any schools having cadet corps, recognized by the D.O.C. of any military district in Canada. Every competitor must be under 18 years of age on the date of the competition.

The Harbord Cadets of Toronto entered a team, including a member from the Parkdale Collegiate Institute. The match committee allowed them to do so, making the concessions as they entered three men to the five of the other teams. Despite the tremendous handicap, however, the three Toronto men made good and managed to come out ahead by four points, a result that was greeted with enthusiasm by the whole body of the marksmen.

Leut. H. Hartney, a 17-year-old boy, hit the bull's-eye eight times, including the sighting shot, and won the individual prize. Congratulations from all sides were heaped on young prodigy. Leut. Hartney had done some good shooting in the first matches this year. He made 34 in the Tyro match, winning 34, and 53 in the MacDougall, winning 54. For two years the Toronto high schools have been practicing every Saturday at the ranges, and it would seem that their work was not in vain. Here is the prize-list:

- 48—H. Hartney, Harbord Cadets, 35.
- 35—J. Macklin, Harbord Cadets, 31.
- 35—Cadet J. F. Henderson, Parkdale C.I., 27.
- 35—Cadet W. Quinley, Ottawa Public School, 23.
- 34—Pte A. Wilson, Ottawa C. I., 22.
- 34—Team prizes—325, Harbord Collegiate Institute, 320, Ottawa Collegiate Institute, 315, Ottawa Public School, 310.

Ross Rapid Firing.

The St. Charles Ross rapid-firing competition had special conditions. Magazines were used and no sighting shots allowed. The special small targets appear seven times during the exposure being three seconds, followed by an interval of four seconds between the appearances. The match was shot in a very bright light and a bad wind, with the result that many old shots fell down. The winners were: 330, Pte W. Short, G.G.F.G., 34; 315, QMS W. Dymond, G.S.M., 32; 310 each—Sergt C. E. Phillips, 10th R. G., 30; Sergt H. Armstrong, 10th R. G., 30; Sergt Wm Kelly, 10th R. G., 29; Corp S. W. Noseworthy, 10th R. G., 28; 86 each—G. Chisholm, 48th, 28; Sergt G. M. Whitley, 2nd Queen's Own, 27, 45 each—Corp Bailey, 10th R. G., 26; Major M. Sprinks, 10th R. G., 25; Pte A. B. Mitchell, 48th, 25; Pte R. S. Mitchell, 48th, 25; Major Rennie, 2nd Queen's Own, 24, 44.50 each—Col. Sergt H. Roberts, 48th, 23; Staff Sergt A. Graham, 48th, 23; Corp R. Clarke, 10th R. G., 22; Sergt G. Brooks, 48th, 22; Staff Sergt H. Kerr, 48th, 22; Corp Wm Welsh, 10th R. G., 21; Leut. V. F. Keith, University of Toronto R. A., 21; Pte Latimer, 10th R. G., 21.

The weather was at its worst during the Henshaw match, of ten shots at 1000 yards with the result that old shots fell down by the score, as the following list will show:

- 320, Corp J. Freeborn, 15th, 47; 313, Sergt A. H. Stora, 13th, 46; 315, Pte D. McNaughton, 5th R. G., 46; Major M. S. Mercer, 2nd Queen's Own, 45; 38, Staff Sergt A. Keith, University of Toronto R. A., 33; Pte G. E. Gardner, 2nd Queen's Own, 33. The winner of the Henshaw match, Corp. Freeborn of the 15th, Hamilton, is a tyro. He is shooting this year at Rockcliffe for the first time. In 1902 his brother, Sergt. Freeborn, won the governor-general's prize, shooting also for the first time. Corp. Freeborn's score of 47 is considered exceptional.

The Harold L. Borden match, in memory of the son of the minister of militia, who fell in the Boer war, went to Pte. W. M. Eastcott of the 3rd Victoria of Montreal. He secured the cup, medalion and $20 with a score of 34. Other scores were: 315, Pte J. F. Clifford, 42nd, 33; 315, Sergt W. Cregan, R. C. G. A., 33; 310, Col. Sergt H. Roberts, 48th, 33; 30 each—Corp J. P. Dixon, 2nd Queen's Own, 32; QMS J. McVittie, 48th, 32; 35 each—Staff Sergt H. Kerr, 48th, 31; Pte J. Lesak, 2nd Queen's Own, 31; Staff Sergt W. D. FRONTIERS EXTENDING.

In a Generation Eastern Canada Will Be French Again.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, Aug. 29.—Ian C. Hannah, late president of King's College, Windsor, N.S., in dealing at Cambridge University summer meeting with the English conquest of French Canada, said it was one of the paradoxes of history that the British flag, there was no doubt they were born, and by just gradually extending their frontiers beyond the Province of Quebec, been practically making the whole of Eastern Canada French again, French, of course, under the British flag. There was no doubt whatever that in a generation Eastern Canada would be French again, with English communities in the towns.

LOCAL FRUIT MARKET.

Wednesday market was a heavy one and the result of the half-holiday was seen in the very heavy consignment of fruit held over for this morning's trade. Tomatoes were not very much in evidence and it appears to be the deliveries of an abundant large crop having been thoroughly dispersed. Some of the finest specimens seen on the market this season were consigned to Robert McBride, the Yonge-street grocer. Peaches took a decided downward dip yesterday and from selling as high as 75c, retailed at 60c a basket. Poorer grades sold from 25c to 30c. The afternoon receipts were without doubt the largest of the season so far and may be said to have inaugurated the season. Prices are nominally unchanged, save as stated in the matter of peaches.

A NEW YORK ENGINEER FOR THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC

P. W. Sothman Receives the Appointment as Chief of the Staff.

P. W. Sothman, at present consulting engineer of the City of New York, has been chosen by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission as chief engineer of the electrical staff of the commission, and under the general direction of Commissioner Cecil B. Smith.

He will be especially charged with constructing, estimating and supervising for the various municipalities which apply to the commission for electric power under the act.

The commission would have preferred a native Canadian, but Mr. Sothman has had a vast experience and is admirably qualified for the position, and being a newcomer he will be entirely free from any political bias or local prejudice.

He was born in Denmark in 1870 and graduated from the Institute of Technology at Charlottenberg, Germany. For seven years he was consulting engineer for the Siemens and Hartle Electrical Company in developing water power in Germany, Russia and South Africa. He went to New York in 1905.

VISITING PAINTERS.

300 Expected Here on Labor Day With Band of Their Own.

The painters and decorators held a large and enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night to complete arrangements for the reception of their guests, who will be in the city on Labor Day from Niagara Falls, N.Y., Niagara Falls, Ont.; St. Catharines, Brantford and Lockport, N.Y. A band of thirty pieces will accompany the Niagara Falls, N.Y., members, while the local brethren have secured the Grenadier Band. Victoria Hall has been secured for the day, and will be used as a local concert hall.

At a meeting of the Builders' Laborers' Union last night it was decided to engage the School Cadets' Band for the occasion, and a resolution of sympathy was passed with Walter Kemp, the street preacher, representing the industrial workers and pledging Kemp and the Industrial Workers their moral support.

RETAIL MERCHANTS EXECUTIVE BOARD IN SESSION.

The second annual convention of the Dominion board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada opened yesterday morning in the boardroom of the association at 21 West Richmond-street. The convention lasts for two days. The board is composed of five representatives from each of the provincial boards, and amongst those present were: President A. L. Green of Belleville, J. H. Beaudry and J. C. Watson of Montreal, B. W. Zieman of Preston, L. V. Marchessault of West Shefford, Que., M. Moyer and W. E. Rogers of Toronto, H. Ellis of Ottawa and Dominion Secretary B. M. Trower. It is expected that delegates will be riding on a street car. The report of the executive showed the great progress made during the past year in the increase in the membership of the association and the very substantial gain to the retail merchants of Canada in legislation. Many resolutions were passed providing for a more effective work during the coming official year. It was a matter for gratification that the members of the association the retail merchants throughout the Dominion were fast becoming a united body.

The election of officers will take place at this morning's session, and other general business transacted, after which the delegates will be entertained at luncheon by the directors of the National Exhibition.

After a while he was heard moaning, and when approached, said: "Oh, will you give me some emetics, please, but in vain. He had once before attempted his life in the same way.

A Great Big Bean Leaf.

What can be done with some recreation, and some pride in a bit of a garden is proven on the small lawn of Bert Clark's house, 1 Oak-street-place, where there are castor oil beans in a central bed, and a bush of beans, 4 feet long and 3 1/2 inches round. A 4-inch-long leaf taken from the plant yesterday and shown to The World is amongst a 50-foot circuit of nasturtiums 4 feet high, and it is a good example to all small householders in Toronto who only have the opportunities Mr. Clark has had.

HOW SHALL FARE BE PAID? PASSENGER WANTS TO KNOW

Refusing to Place it in Fare Box, He Has Twice Been Put Off Car.

Can a passenger on the street railway be obliged to place his fare in the "coffee pot," or is he entitled to transportation by simply tendering the fare to the conductor?

"Pro Bono Publico" raises the point in the following letter.

Editor World: I am a citizen of Toronto and pay taxes. Kindly put me right as to my rights under the following circumstances:

A friend of mine—a member of the family—was riding on a street car in Toronto, and in paying his fare, failed to get the ticket into the box. He tried to strike it down, when it broke off and was blown away. A second ticket was demanded of him and the car was not allowed to proceed until he had paid. This made me decide that it is not the passenger's business to be responsible for the fare after it leaves his hand. Acting on this view, I have been tendering my fare on the cars, but for some weeks have refused to put any fare in their collection boxes. On the 25th I was violently ejected from a car because I would not put my fare in the box, and again, was violently ejected from another car on the 29th.

Kindly let me have your views as to the right of the Toronto Railway Company to insist on the passenger putting the fare in the box.

"Pro Bono Publico."

Not Sovereign Perfumes, Limited.

Parker for a winding-up order against Sovereign Perfumes, Limited, which was for many years the leading vendor of collection, our instructions to conductors are to receive the fare in the box. It is a protection to themselves, to the passenger and to the company. The complainant now is the one man in a thousand who objects to this system. He should obey the company's rules or travel in some other way.

board was not intended for an ornament, but for use.

Weekly Sun: The Toronto World has published some extracts from the rules of practice and procedure adopted by the board recently appointed by the Ontario Government to control the operation of electric railways.

One of the rules laid down is that the board shall not hear any complaints during a summer vacation extending over July and August, or during the Christmas vacation, extending from Dec. 24 to Jan. 6.

A board that insists on having nearly three months' holidays out of the twelve, and that failed, until forced to action by newspaper exposure, to compel electric railways to reduce fares to the two-cent standard fixed by law, is not likely to prove of much public benefit. Mr. Whitney should endeavor to disabuse the minds of his appointees of the idea that public office is a private snap. The electric railway

NEW PASTOR'S FIRST SUNDAY SPENT IN THE CONGREGATION

Rev. George Jackson, Who Takes Pulpit at Sherbourne Street Methodist Church, Attended There as a Worshipper on Sunday Last.

Many attendants at the morning service at Sherbourne-street Methodist Church who have been looking forward to the arrival of their new pastor, Rev. George Jackson of Edinburgh, were not aware of the fact that he was even then worshipping in their midst.

Mr. Jackson arrived with his family on the Virginian at Montreal early Saturday morning and came thru the same day to Toronto. On Sunday he quietly attended the Sherbourne-street Methodist Church in the morning and the Metropolitan Church in the evening. He will preach at the Sherbourne-street Methodist Church on next Sunday, both at the morning and evening services.

Mr. Jackson is an unassuming gentleman of pleasing address and most cordially welcomed. The World reporter: "I am very glad to be in Toronto," he said; "it seems to be quite a stronghold of Methodism, and indeed I think that is true of Ontario. We are not very strong in Scotland, there are but three Methodist churches in all Edinburgh."

"I had been in Edinburgh for 18 years," he began my work there as a Wesleyan Methodist. But I have been twice in Canada before this, so I do not feel at all like a stranger. Something was said respecting the

BAD FIRE IN ESPLANADE.

About $15,000 Loss at Frankel Bros' Rag Warehouse.

A brisk blaze provided the east end sections of the fire department with an all-day job yesterday.

A spark from a passing engine is blamed by the proprietors, Frankel Bros., for having set fire to their rag warehouse, the old G.T.R. freight shed at the foot of Beetham-street at 10:30 p.m. yesterday. It got a good start, and when the firemen did arrive the pressure was very poor. It was not until Chief Thompson got the Berkeley and Lombard-street engines into action, giving four good streams, that the flames were held in check.

The contents of the warehouse, cotton and woolen rags in bales, had to be turned over and drenched, and it was not until 7 p.m. that the firemen left.

About three-quarters of the building was destroyed. It is owned by the G.T.R. and is valued at about $3000. Frankel Bros. estimate their loss at about $12,000; covered by insurance in the Atlas, Commercial Union, Home of New York and Hartford.

Chief Thompson will have enquiries made as to why the pressure was so inadequate. The surrounding property, such as freight cars, storehouses, and, not far away, the big gas tank, make the place a dangerous one.

Winnipeg's Day of Fate. The Manitoba Board of Fire Underwriters will meet in Winnipeg to-day to decide as to what shall be done to protect insurance companies in the downtown sections while the inadequate system of fire protection provided by the city has to be reckoned with.

TRUST COMPANY TO RESUME FUNDS NOT IN BAD SHAPE

Receiver of Wrecked Philadelphia Institution Optimistic as to Outlook.

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—At the conclusion of a protracted conference with the directors of the embarrassed Real Estate Trust Company this afternoon, Receiver Earle said that in his opinion the receivership will be only temporary, and that the bank will be able to resume business at an early day.

He said it would take several days before he will be able to make a definite statement. He spoke optimistically, and said he did not think the failure would prove to be as bad as it at first looked.

Regarding the condition of trusts in the custody of the company, Mr. Earle said: "While I have not had an opportunity to examine the books I have every reason to believe that all trust funds are intact."

Thus far there has been no hint that the securities deposited as collateral for loans were tampered with by the late President Hipple, or that trust funds were misapplied. The hoped-for view of Mr. Earle is shared by financial interests generally.

Church Funds Safe. Enquiry among the authorities of the Presbyterian Church and directors of the Real Estate Trust Company, as to the amount of church money involved in the failure, showed that the sum will be small compared with the large sums in the possession of the church.

John H. Converse, chairman of the trustees of the general assembly, and a stockholder in the Real Estate Trust Company, said to-day that the trustees had deposited the Real Estate Trust about $4000, which is involved in the failure. The remainder of the trustees' money, amounting to $962,369, is invested in mortgages, bonds and other securities.

The board of ministerial relief had $4000 on deposit when the company closed its doors, and the board of publication had a balance of only a few thousand dollars in the institution. The Women's Foreign Missionary Society has an account of several thousand dollars with the Trust Company.

President Hipple's Will. The will of the late President Hipple was executed July 1, 1906. Everything is left to his son, knowing that he will give one-half thereof unto his aunt, Sallie, if she be living.

The estate is valued as follows: Personal property, $100,000, and upward; real estate, $30,000. The son had a rough experience to-day when he emerged from the bank building. A mob made a rush for him. He was hustled into a carriage and taken away.

Least in See Ventures. Hipple was not known to have been a stock speculator, although financiers say he was one of the many who lost heavily in his stock investments. His company stock several months ago. Real estate investments seem to have engaged his attention almost exclusively.

Spectacular Figure. To-day the name of Adolph Segal is on the lips of everybody in Philadelphia. His rise from a tailor over a soap cauldron in a 10x12 cellar in West Philadelphia less than twenty years ago to a handler of millions of dollars has certainly been spectacular. Although he has figured for years as a builder of sugar refineries, railroads, apartment houses, handsome residences and modest homes for working men, little was known of his personality until the newspapers were read to-day. After building largely independent sugar refineries in Camden, N.J., across the Delaware River from Philadelphia, and selling it to the American Sugar Refining Company at an alleged profit of $700,000, he built another in the sugar district of this city along the river front. But as far as is known the second venture was never bought by the purchasers of the first, although the statement is made that those whose money is tied up in the structure receive per cent. on their investment from some source. The refinery has been idle since its erection—two or three years ago.

Segal has been the promoter of several enterprises in the state, outside of Philadelphia. It is said that the Real Estate Trust company has been involved in all of them to some extent. Built a Town for Nobody. A large big enterprise was a build-early Methodist missionaries in the Bay of Quinte district.

"That reminds me," he said, "I attended, some years ago, the Bay of Quinte Conference, preached at Nanapan and at Kingston."

Master Jackson, a sturdy, handsome boy of five, entered the room. "The mosquitoes seem to bother him a great deal," said his father.

The reporter expressed his surprise at there being any mosquitoes in Toronto.

"Well, I must admit," said Mr. Jackson, with a smile, "that I have never observed them except at night."

ing operation at Altoona, Pa. Segal secured a large plot of ground and planned the new Town of South Altoona in Canada, with about 600 houses, built in rows, city style. People refused to buy or rent them. After about 150 were erected the building operations ceased, leaving the foundations of a hundred or more exposed. Few of the completed dwellings were sold and few rented. Most of them are vacant to-day.

Segal is 46 years old, about 5 feet 10 inches tall. Directness and frankness of manner, a habit of going direct to the point of a proposition he had to present to a man, are said to have been the means of his success. He has made many friends and has spent money lavishly.

FLOWER SHOW AT GUELPH.

Ninth Annual Convention of Horticultural Association.

Guelph, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The ninth annual convention of the Canadian Horticultural Association is in progress at the Ontario Agricultural College. Over one hundred delegates are present.

In the absence of President G. C. Creelman, O. A. C., who was prevented from being present by the death of his brother, Alexander Creelman, the address of welcome was delivered by Prof. Reynolds, A. C. Wiltshire of Montreal responded.

The president, William Findley of Brampton dealt with the growth and development of horticulture in Canada, with attention to the work of the O. A. C. and other experimental stations.

Secretary Ewing's report showed that the principal questions was: How many members in good standing. Of these, 46 were in and around Montreal, 12 in the Toronto area, and 24 in other places in Canada. The reason so many were in Montreal was that the convention was last held there.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $23.91 on hand. A question-box was opened. One of the principal questions was: How many stock plants of geraniums should be kept to produce 4000 salable plants? E. D. Mepsted of Ottawa said 150 would be required; a Hamilton delegate said 200.

The floral exhibit was not as large as usual, but was a creditable one. Some fine specimens of foliage plants were on display. Certificates of merit were awarded to A. Gilchrist, Toronto; R. Brooks, Ferguson; J. Gammage, London, and W. Colvin, Galt.

Mr. Campbell showed a new specimen of gladiolus. He presented to a lecture by H. S. Arkell, B. A., and other addresses.

HURT WHILE BOWLING.

Son of Rev. Elmore Harris Operated on in Muskoka.

Windermere, Aug. 29.—About a month ago Frank Harris, son of Rev. Dr. Elmore Harris of Toronto, while playing with bowling balls, accidentally struck himself on the forehead. It did not trouble him again until about ten days ago, when he was taken sick.

Dr. Bruce of Toronto was sent for, and he, with Dr. Porter, operated on Harris this morning. They found a slight fracture of the skull, and Harris now lies in a critical condition at his summer residence here.

Divorce Damages Reduced. An application was made in the divorce court by Frank Percy Ashlin, who obtained a decree nisi with a verdict of $500 damages in June last, for permission to amend his petition, in which he asked for only $250 damages, so as to bring his claim up to the larger sum. Mr. Justice Bargarva, however, refused to grant the application, and reduced the verdict to $250.

Westminster's Sand Island. The contractors who removed the foundations of the old Aqueduct to make room for the Wesleyan Church House, found that the building was erected on a bed of sand. Westminster Abbey and the new Wesleyan Church House will, therefore, occupy a bed of sand, for the neighboring buildings stand on clay soil.

Laborer's Drink Bill. A laborer who was 32, 6d a week started at an inquest on one of his children at Lambeth yesterday that, as a rule, he had six glasses of beer a day and his wife had three. Their daily average expenditure on liquor was thus ninepence, or more than 16 per cent. of their income.

FUR STYLES

THRILLING TALE OF THE SEA.

Sailor's Body Taken by Wild Beasts. A thrilling account of periods adventures at sea was told at Cardiff by members of the British steamer Troutport, which stranded at Point de Paloma, South America.

The body of a man was found on the beach. The man was identified as Captain Laurie, the Troutport's master, sent two men to search for a light house ashore in the mountains. Five other men started for shore in a dinghy three days after the vessel stranded. The dinghy overturned, and three of its occupants who clung to it were eventually rescued. The chief engineer and Frank Okey, boatman, tried to swim to the shore.

"I was drawn back three times by the ebbling surf," said Okey, "but the next time I touched bottom I anchored myself by digging my fingers and feet in the sand. I managed in this way to hold on until the sea pulled me, but I had reached shore before the boat was carried away. I was afloat in a grave two feet deep, and buried with my hands near an old wooden wreck. The body of another man was found miles away some days later.

"During our first day on shore the captain was signaling to us continually and shouting thru his megaphones, but we could hear nothing, however, we understood a part of his signals, and that led to finding a bottle he had thrown overboard. It contained a message, giving us to look out for a case of provisions. We saw the box heaved into the sea, and watched it bobbing in the waves for a time. It came ashore eventually, and we found in it bottles of water, wine, some tea, biscuits, tobacco and matches. We saw the chief officer's grave was found torn open on the next day. Wild animals had stood a part of the body. No we buried a heavy piece of timber from the wreck.

"One of the sailors tried to reach us with a life-line on the following day, but he had to give up when he saw the sea was in an exhausted condition. There were then three of us on that desolate beach, and we stayed there three days and nights.

"Meantime tugs came up from Monte Video, and when the sea subsided somewhat we were rescued. The whole cargo of the Troutport, 4000 tons, was jettisoned, and the vessel was hoisted and towed to Rosario, where she was repaired."

A Million Immigrants. The total number of aliens who passed thru the Ellis Island immigrant station in New York during the fiscal year ended June 30 last was 285,215, an increase of over 100,000 as compared with 1905. They brought with them about $4,000,000.
