A Splendid Scenic Route For World's Excursionists

The battle of Lough is gaining momentum as each day passes. Nominations continue to pour into the Trip to London Editor in enormous numbers.

The rivalry amongst the women of Ontario is becoming very keen, each candidate is anxious to know as to the standing of her opponents.

Will you be at the top-of the list on Monday next? The first standing of the candidates will be published in the World of that day. It is needless to say that a successful beginning means much to the woman who is desirous of securing this wonderful opportunity. It is within your grasp. Will you take it?

The women of Ontario are becoming more impressed each day with the fact that the opportunity of a lifetime is being extended to them. It was said by a young lady, a day or so ago that this free trip to London was a mere dream. It is a dream of days of pleasure and joy, but it is a dream that possesses great and intense interest.

Impressions of Voyage. W. Y. Archibald, the well-known musician, who has crossed the ocean several times, was asked by The World yesterday to give some of his impressions of the voyage.

"But you are not long out of the harbor before you see a delightful order evolved from all this chaos, an order which continues until the end of your voyage."

"The chief advantage of going by the Canadian route is that you are in sight of land in comparatively smooth water for two days, so that you have time to become acclimatized to the boat and less likely to be seasick when you do get out into the open sea."

"Along the coast of Labrador, which Grenfell and Duncan are likely to immortalize, the scenery is perfectly beautiful. Magnificent icebergs in all sorts of wonderful shapes, and iridescent coloring, may be seen, while even before the picturesque shores of Quebec, with quaint old churches and ruins, are more than interesting."

"One out of ten you become rich in new experiences. Every person gets up early to see the magnificent sunrises, and as you stand there, looking out from the deck, the universe of sky and water, at the huge waves which seem higher than your ship, you realize that the vastness you are but an atom, and you are moved to wonder at the Creator of heaven and earth, land and sea, and all that in them is."

"I shall never forget one sunset I saw at sea, the finest thing I ever saw in my life. The clouds appeared to rise from the sea, like fairy castles. The sun behind them blurted them with beautiful tints of gold and purple and crimson. Wonderful, grotesque figures were formed in the sky, so that the whole effect was awe-inspiring; and over it all, on the water, the most beautiful phosphorescent light."

"If you are a good sailor, it is most interesting to stand in the stern of the boat and watch its graceful movement up and down the waves. There, too, you see the shoals of porpoises which often follow in a ship's wake, and the seals, and once in a long while a whale."

He snatched up a book from the table. "For God's sake, stop your damned grinning!" he cried, and made as if he would hurl the book at that grinning, obvious god, but the book dropped weekly from his hand and fell to the floor, fluttering its open leaves.

"Let me think what you like and do what they like!" he cried. And the woman gasped in her hiding-place, for these were the very words she had heard him use in her dream.

"It ought to be open," he said, in a different voice. "You left it open, didn't you? It ought to be open!" He tugged at the fastenings again, muttering uneasily, but his hands dropped and he turned about towards the woman who stood behind him. His face was almost contorted with anxiety.

"Let me," said Beatrice. "Let me, Showrenches open the bolts, and the two halves of the window swung inward, admitting a sudden, garish flood of daylight."

Buchanan staggered backward a step with a quick, hoarse cry, and caught his shaking hands up over his eyes. "But the man beside him with a gasping cry followed by a name—"Buchanan! Buchanan!"

III. THE MAN WITH THE BLUE EYES. Beatrice, who had drawn back and she pulled the bolt of the window, leaned forward again over Buchanan's shoulder. A mist stood on the turf between the window in the little patch of shade which was cast by an angle of the building. He had covered his eyes with one hand, and the other hand groped in the air. At his feet lay a short, strong implement of steel, not a sword, but a dagger, and he must have dropped this when the window above him was so suddenly thrown open.

THE PRIVY COUNCIL AND THE U. S. SUPREME COURT.

Commenting in Monday's issue on the judgment of the judicial committee of the privy council in the Street Railway appeals, The World contrasted the narrow and technical line of reasoning adopted by that court, with the wide and comprehensive outlook that characterizes the decisions of the supreme court of the United States.

When discussing the right reserved to the city to require the street railway company to lay down new lines and extend the tracks and street car service on such streets as might be from time to time recommended by the city engineer, Lord Collins, on behalf of the appellants, said: "To hold that the 14th clause enables the city corporation to compel the company to incur the expense of making a roadway in streets where, in the view of the latter, it cannot be worked to a profit, or beneficially introduced into their system, would be to adopt an interpretation so much out of harmony with the unambiguous provisions of other clauses, that their lordships ought not to do so, unless the wording is so plain as to leave no alternative."

Indeed, the dominant conception in the judgment of the privy council was that the street railway company had been called into being for the sole and exclusive purpose of securing the best monetary returns out of the public service, whose operation was entrusted to it. Not a line or word of the long opinion of Lord Collins indicates that the judges even consider the reasonableness of the company in imposing obligations designed to secure necessary extensions and efficient operation.

Very different is the decision rendered by the supreme court of the United States. The case before it arose out of an order granted by the railway commission of North Carolina, requiring the Atlantic Coast Line to make a certain trade connection, which would greatly accommodate the public. This the railway company opposed, on the ground that it would require a special train to a certain point, and that it could only be run at a loss, and the constitutional argument was offered that the company would thus be deprived of property without due process of law. The supreme court, however, had no difficulty in disposing of the objection. In the words of the summary given by The Journal of Commerce: "The substance of the decision of the court is that, so long as the effect is not to make the general business of the company unprofitable, but merely one detail of it, the action of the commission may be justified and cannot be invalidated on constitutional grounds."

The constitutional limit controlling the power to fix rates was not involved, the court says, but only an order directing a carrier to furnish a facility which is part of its general duty to furnish for the public convenience. It is 'the primal duty of a carrier to furnish adequate facilities to the public,' and this may be compelled, the 'some pecuniary loss from rendering such service may result, so long as the general earnings of the carrier are not so impaired as to deprive it of a reasonable profit on account of this particular requirement.' The appositeness of this argument to the case of a street railway is evident. That it is sound and in the public interest cannot be questioned. Had the judicial committee of the privy council held steadily before it the primal duty of the Toronto Street Railway to furnish adequate facilities, even though pecuniary loss might result from some particular requirement, the court would not have needed to ignore the express words of the agreement in order to allow their principle of monetary returns to prevail at the expense of the public interest. Canada cannot afford to have an ultimate court of appeal ignorant of local conditions, and not in touch with the demands of the people that their rights shall be respected by private companies holding their franchises.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT. At the annual meeting of the Association of Municipal Corporations in England, reference was made to the extraordinary expansion of local government during the last 37 years. Dr. Macnamara, the parliamentary secretary to the local government board, took this as his text and gave some interesting statistics regarding the number of local authorities. Of these, he said, the board took cognizance of over 25,000, and he acknowledged the obligation the country was under to the public-spirited men of every locality, who gave their labor and experience to the service of their own localities.

Local self-government is being more and more recognized as the true solution of the difficulties that attend centralized administration. More particularly is this the case in vast countries such as Canada, where local conditions are necessary to the best implementation of the law outside their own immediate neighborhood. No greater inflexibility could be conceived than would attend an attempt to supersede local self-government. Yet the tendency to do this is apparent and strong reluctance is shown to trust localities with the management of their own affairs.

The best interests of Canada demand that this movement be restricted and greater trust placed in the people, who are the final arbiters of governments and parliaments.

ROOSEVELT AND TAFT. More than one American president has been able to name his own successor. Others have been defeated for the nomination, or, if nominated, have failed of election. In 1876, General Grant desired a third term, but finding the deep-seated prejudice against a third term to be irresistible, threw his influence to 'Roscoe Conkling, who failed, however, to be nominated. In 1905, President Roosevelt found the Republican convention inclined to defy tradition and to risk his nomination. Recent developments, however, make it reasonably certain that he will not permit his name to be presented, and that, in the meantime, his great influence will be exerted to secure the nomination of Secretary Taft.

The secretary has many elements of strength. He is a big man, physically and mentally. As solicitor-general, circuit judge, Governor of the Philippines and secretary of war, he has rendered distinguished service, and approved himself entirely fit for any office in the gift of the people. He is, moreover, frank, cordial, democratic, possessing many elements of personal popularity.

In his contest for the nomination he is handicapped by the open hostility of many Republican politicians in Ohio. This opposition is led by Senator Foraker, who has been outspoken against the president, and who voted against the Roosevelt railway rate bill. Indeed it is a fair surmise that Mr. Taft will go before the convention with his own delegation divided. This is usually fatal to any candidate, although Grover Cleveland won easily in 1892 with the solid delegation from his own State of New York arrayed against him.

Another factor may be found in the half-forgotten fact that Mr. Taft, while a U. S. circuit judge, granted sweeping injunctions against the employees respecting a railway strike. These injunctions are now frequently resorted to, but Judge Taft had the misfortune to be the pioneer in granting them, and for years it was remembered against him by organized labor.

Another objection, in certain quarters, may be found in the fact that the secretary, while sharing the views of the president, differs from him most widely in temperament. His mind is of a judicial cast, and it is no secret that he would prefer to be chief justice rather than president. At present there is raging in the United States a demand for drastic economic reforms, and the people are inclined to side with the president in straining the constitution. There are those who feel that the president and congress are already too much thwarted by judicial restraint, and that Mr. Taft, as president, might have his zeal for reforms tempered by his respect for precedents.

There is no reason to doubt that the Democrats will appeal to the wave of unrest which all business men in New York feel. They will be advantaged if they can force the great corporations under the standard of the Republican party. It is unlikely that there will be a repetition of 1896, when free silver so frightened capital that William J. Bryan went down to defeat.

No wonder the Republicans wish to see Roosevelt. His policies and methods appeal to the people. The plain people, now thoroughly aroused against corporate aggression and predatory wealth, may refuse to trust the Republican leaders unless Theodore Roosevelt is placed at the head of their column.

Yet the third term tradition is deeply embedded in the hearts of the people. They fear that its violation would begin the overturn of their constitution. That, in spite of this, the demand for Mr. Roosevelt is so insistent, may indicate that they are

The opinion was expressed that the police were too ready to enforce laws, to the great demoralization of the service.

CITY TO ASK THE PUBLIC TO SUPPORT TUNNEL PLAN

Meeting of Interested Bodies to Be Held in Preparation for Visit to Ottawa.

With the date for the hearing at Ottawa of the applications of the railways for eastern entrances into Toronto only three weeks off, a public meeting is to be held within the next few days, when an effort will be made to agree upon an alternative common route to be submitted. A special meeting of the city council will then be held to authorize the choice of a route, and it will then be for the representatives of the city and of the interested bodies to appear before the acting minister of railways and urge that the route so chosen be accepted as a common entrance, in lieu of the separate routes proposed.

As was expected, the board of control yesterday, after consultation with Consulting Engineer C. E. Smith and City Engineer Rust, decided in favor of the tunnel route from east of Victoria Park to the Little Don Valley. It was agreed that such a route would do minimum damage to the property east of the city, but there is understood to be strong opposition by the railways to this particular plan, as it would involve a roundabout course in entering the city, and would provide for a 5.10 grade, whereas the special object of the railways is the obtaining of a 3.10 grade.

After the meeting the mayor said that the sentiment of the board was in favor of the tunnel route from a point 1 1/2 miles east of Victoria Park to Little Don Valley, the entrance to the city to be by way of the Don Valley. This route was agreed to be most in the interests of the city.

"If however, it is found impossible to get this route, No. 2 is the next choice," added the mayor.

The route in question provides for practically following the C. N. R. proposed route from the Don to easterly along Ashbridge's Marsh, until about Greenwood-avenue, crossing Eastern-avenue and Queen-street, by bridges, and proceeding northwards to the grounds. This route crosses Kingston-road by a bridge, and continues south through the Don to a point at Scarborough Heights, when it turns to the north.

The meeting also discussed arrangements for the meeting of the Hydro-Electric Commission to obtain advice as to procedure now that a policy of duplication of the Toronto Electric Light Company's plant has been decided on.

The railway commission will be asked by the city to order the Grand Trunk to build a subway under the railway track on Brock-avenue in return for conceding the company the right to add another track to the right of way between Parkdale and PARIS, May 1.—Before 9 o'clock idle laborers began concentrating at the Labor Exchange, near the Place de la Republique, where the most important meetings were scheduled to take place. ROME, May 1.—The police organized a public meeting here to-day, organized by the Socialists to commemorate May Day, at which Maxim Gorky had promised to speak. All the streets leading to the meeting were occupied by troops, but the thousands of workmen broke thru the cordons and held a meeting. Several Socialist deputies delivered fiery speeches, but Gorky did not appear.

A TORONTO FIRM IN THE WEST The Alkenhead Hardware Co. Are Opening a Branch in Winnipeg.

Mr. Thomas E. Alkenhead, president and general manager of Alkenhead Hardware, Limited, and Mr. A. L. Young, vice-president, have returned from Winnipeg, where the company are opening a branch of their already extensive hardware and contracting supply business.

For some years the western trade in these times has been growing very rapidly, and the company have felt that the time has come when it is not only advisable, but absolutely necessary, that they should carry stock in Winnipeg.

Commensal and central warehouse facilities have been secured, corner of Market and Louise-streets, with railway siding, where cars couple up to the shipping door, thus saving cartage charges.

Mr. W. G. Marston, present buyer for the company, will have charge of the Winnipeg business, and associated with him will be Mr. Morgan Smith, well known among architects and contractors as a competent, well-versed hardware man.

Alkenhead Hardware, Limited, do a very large business in hardware, based in Ottawa, Ontario, and it is not a matter of surprise that they have found it advisable to open a branch house in Winnipeg, which is, beyond a doubt, the distributing point for western business.

In conversation with our representative to-day, Mr. Alkenhead expressed himself very enthusiastically with regard to the condition of business as he found it in Winnipeg.

TWENTY WOMEN INJURED. Leaped From Building Which Was on Fire.

CHICAGO, May 1.—About 20 women were injured to-day at a fire which broke out in the building at 255 Wabash-avenue, the three upper floors of which were occupied by the Lotus Lunch Club, patronized by women.

When the flames were discovered, fully 200 women were in the place and a panic ensued. The women cut off several women in the front part of the building and about one-third of these leaped to the ground. The others were taken out by the firemen unhurt.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 1.—(Special.)—Edward Sears, mayor of St. John, announced meeting his intention to oppose Hon. William Pugsley for the federal house, provided there is no Conservative. Mr. Sears is a strong Liberal and claims he was promised the nomination.

"Nothing can stop me opposing Pugsley, if no Conservative runs," he said.

COUNTY MILK SCARGE DEALERS GO ELSEWHERE

Supply for City is Short—450 Producers Refused to Send in Yesterday.

The struggle between the York County farmers and the retail milk dealers of the city reached a decisive stage yesterday, when the members of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association to the number of about 450 out of about 600 refused to ship their milk to the city, and supplemented this by sending back empty cans.

Later in the day there was an informal meeting at the executive office at the Clyde Hotel, when notes were compared and a general review of the situation followed.

"We are dissatisfied with the outlook," said President Levi Amnis. "We have succeeded infinitely better than we thought, and it is only a question of a week or two when the dealers will concede our demands."

"We know just where we stand," said another member of the executive, "and we have agents who keep us posted on the situation."

Manager Potter of the City Dairy stated last night that a customer of that institution would be without milk this morning.

"We are not concerned with the farmers' keep their milk, sell it or do what they like with it. We are in the business and we are in it to stay."

At St. Peter's Church, on East Queen-street last night a hasty mass meeting of Toronto dairymen was held. About 400 in all were present, and it was decided to call a mass meeting of all the city dealers at the Retail Merchants' rooms this afternoon.

St. Peter's Sons will deliver half a supply to all customers and will also help out the smaller dealers. Speaking of the dealers' refusal to supply milk to the city, the speaker said that the Scarborough farmers did not report with their milk within the next 24 hours, they need not report at all.

They could not report at all, because the milk had been sent to the city. The dealers were sure to be disappointed.

Milk had been coming into the Price Dairy from Woodstock, Mount Albert and Caledon, and every customer would be served as usual.

"Why we got 1800 lbs. of milk from Indian River to-night," said the speaker, "is a very interesting question."

Still, from the Don-road, Markham-road and Kingston-road the supply dwindled yesterday from 18,000 gallons to 12,000 gallons, a loss of 40 per cent. in all 455 cans, less than one load.

Mr. LaFrange of Woburn, who usually draws in about 1250 lbs. of milk, yesterday with a buggy, bringing in one can.

At Locust Hill Station one can was loaded on the train, and consigned to the Osogood Dairy, but at noon had not reached its destination.

John Brown, a milkman, a member of the farmers' executive, and who is himself one of the largest producers, said last night that not a pint of milk had been sent to the city since the strike, more than half the usual supply.

Essexboro Township is next to Scarborough in the list of producers, and here the supply is cut in two.

The farmers stated yesterday that the statement that they were extending control the can situation is untrue. It is estimated the Scarborough farmers alone own 80 cans.

It was given out on reliable authority that the firm of S. Price & Sons had offered the Messrs. Resor of the Locust Hill Dairy 1000 lbs. of their milk, to take them over the famine. The offer was refused.

Two more members of the association have been named who are extending their plan to the city. They are Mr. J. H. Young, vice-president, and Mr. J. H. Young, vice-president, have returned from Winnipeg, where the company are opening a branch of their already extensive hardware and contracting supply business.

TIMBER LOOSE IN RIVER. Fifteen Thousand Cords Afloat and Loss Will Be Heavy.

QUEBEC, May 1.—High water and floating ice tore about 15,000 cords of pulp wood from booms at Echelin during the night, and the immense quantity of wood, valued at nearly $100,000, is in the river, a large amount of it being lost.

FLOODS FLOAT TIMBER. ST. JOHN, N. B., May 1.—(Special.)—From this city to Fredericton on the St. John River, a distance of over 80 miles, all the low wharves are submerged, the rain last night almost causing a flood. With three feet of snow now in the woods, aided by warm weather, this will, in a few days, cause a big freshet. Palmer's new wharf went under this morning.

It will have a beneficial effect on millions of feet of lumber standing at a great loss last year, and now coming out.

COBALT --- Miner of Experience Engages With the Foster --- COBALT

ACTIVITY SUBSIDES PRICES ABOUT STEADY

Less Outside Liquidation Leaves Mining Markets in the Hands of Traders.

World Office, Wednesday Evening, May 1. The dealings in the mining markets to-day were sharply curtailed from those of yesterday and several previous days. The sudden cessation in business was unaccounted for, except that offerings of actual stock were limited to-day and professional were left very largely to themselves. The difficulty of securing profits from one another on the floor of the exchange shortened up trading to a marked extent and caused almost a stagnation at certain times during the day. Attempts were made by way of various rumors to bring about further liquidation in Foster, but this was unsuccessful. The stock appeared to-day as much better, although traders suggested that it was forced. The news that a new captain of considerable experience has been engaged by Supt. Adler will help to restore confidence among holders of these shares, and to-day's trading in the stock appeared to indicate that something of this nature was known to be in effect. The price changes in the various issues were not noteworthy. Green-Meehan, despite the renewal of shipments, sold below 70, but the offerings of the stock were not plentiful at the low price. The market closed in a very apathetic mood and brokers were not imbued with the idea that activity will be a feature in the immediate future.

LONDON, May 1.—Premier Deakin concluded his speech at the Imperial conference this afternoon. Sir Joseph Ward, Dr. Jameson and Hon. F. R. Moor followed. It is understood Dr. Jameson strongly urged the case for a preference, but Ward and Moor adopted a conciliatory tone. No resolution was proposed.

Premier Bond of Newfoundland was presented with the freedom of London privately this morning.

One offered to buy her, and she was agreeable to the transfer, so was her husband. The woman wanted to see the sale was legal, and went with the deed of sale on a scrap of paper to the S.P.C.W. to see if it was all right. "It wasn't," said the S.P.C.W. "and looking for his ten dollars, watch and overcoat." The police refuse to give the names, but are expecting developments.

WHY LAURIER WAS SILENT.

Premier Deakin Concludes His Speech.

LONDON, May 1.—Premier Deakin concluded his speech at the Imperial conference this afternoon. Sir Joseph Ward, Dr. Jameson and Hon. F. R. Moor followed. It is understood Dr. Jameson strongly urged the case for a preference, but Ward and Moor adopted a conciliatory tone. No resolution was proposed.

Premier Bond of Newfoundland was presented with the freedom of London privately this morning.

The Pall Mall Gazette attributes Laurier's "inaction" at yesterday's conference to Canada's confidence in her future and the influence of French-Canadian feeling on the premier. It says "Festina lente" must be the motto of true Canadian statesmanship at present.

The Albert E. Reed Company, with 1400,000 capital, has been formed to carry on Newfoundland paper and pulp manufacture.

Dr. F. D. Price, Canada, spoke at the silver jubilee of the International Bible Reading Association.

HARD UP, SELLS HIS WIFE. S. P. C. W. Interferes and Police Step In.

MONTREAL, May 1.—A wife was sold here last week for $60, of which $10 was paid down, watch and overcoat handed over, and the balance of the cash was to be paid in 24 monthly instalments. But the sale was cancelled, for the S.P.C.W. interfered. The woman's husband was not supporting her, and she is young and attractive she had other admirers. One offered to buy her, and she was agreeable to the transfer, so was her husband. The woman wanted to see the sale was legal, and went with the deed of sale on a scrap of paper to the S.P.C.W. to see if it was all right. "It wasn't," said the S.P.C.W. "and looking for his ten dollars, watch and overcoat." The police refuse to give the names, but are expecting developments.

2-CENT FARE IN N. Y. STATE. Boards of Trade for It—Railroads Oppose It.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 1.—Practically all of the principal railroad systems of this state not already operating under a passenger rate of two cents a mile were represented at the hearing before the Senate Railroads Committee. The bill was introduced at the request of the United Commercial Travelers, and was supported by several representatives of that association. It was stated that the bill was endorsed by 42 chambers of commerce and boards of trade in the state.

COBALT, LARDER LAKE AND BILK LAKE MINING PROPERTIES STEADILY DEALT IN. 15 YEARS' EXPERIENCE IN NEW ONTARIO. I know of no safer investment in Real Estate than in Haileybury, the Queen City of the Temiskaming. Increased correspondence solicited.

CYRIL T. YOUNG, HAILEYBURY, ONTARIO.

Dr. Reddick Larder Lake Mines, Limited

(NO PERSONAL LIABILITY) Head Office: Room 45, Central Chambers, - Ottawa, Ont.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS: Lt.-Col. S. Maynard Rogers, President and Managing Director. Robert Stewart, M.P., Vice-President. Sir Frederick Borden, K.C.M.G., M.P., Ottawa. Col. Sam Hughes, M.P., Lindsay, Ont. Dr. Robert Reddick, Winchester, Ont. Charles W. Dimick, Boston, Mass., and John G. Forgie, Barrister, Pembroke, Ont. Directors: D. Smiley Sawyer, Ottawa, Ont., Secretary-Treasurer.

Dr. Reddick and his associates, Messrs. Hummel, Knott and Flynn, are the men who made Larder Lake famous, being the original discoverers of gold in the Larder Lake region, and after carefully prospecting, selected, staked and recorded what are universally acknowledged seven of the very best claims in this region. All of this work was done before the first fall of snow so that in purchasing this property we know that we have the best that could be procured in the Larder Lake region.

The claims all have a number of large quartz veins, showing values in Gold, Silver and Copper. Assays ranging from $3.40 in silver, and $122.00 to $1,868.00 in gold have been recorded.

It is acknowledged on all hands that our property is the heaviest mineralized in the country.

A gang of men have been at work since the 15th of February putting up the necessary buildings and taking in supplies, machinery, etc., and actual development will commence shortly.

To intending purchasers we would advise this as a good investment and would be pleased to receive a call from any who desire further information. We are offering $200,000 of the Treasury Stock at par value, $1 per share. For Prospectus and full information write the company.

 CLEVELAND: Snow's crop report indices an average winter wheat yield of 13 bushels per acre. The growing crop in 1906 in the United States was 21,000,000 acres.
 Kansas City special says: April has been the most disastrous to the growing crops in the history of Kansas. Warm weather during March gave an impetus to vegetation that made the premature growth of the crop a victim to the late frosts. A night of rain, sleet and snow was followed by a drop in the temperature to 30 at 8 o'clock this morning. All outstanding water was covered with a crust of ice.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

 els of grain, 90 tons of hay, 1 load of straw, with a few dressed hogs.

 50c. The drop in the price of barley is ton for timothy, and $10 to $12 per ton for mixed.

 Dressed Hogs—Prices easier at $9

BLOODY FIGHT BETWEEN SAILORS AND THE POLICE

Mariners Returning From Banquet
 Have Mix-Up—One of Them Seriously Injured.

SANTIAGO, May 1.—The conflict between police and sailors of the cruiser Tacoma here yesterday followed an orderly banquet, which was given at the Cafe Leon de Oro by a number of first-class seamen of the cruiser. At 1 in the morning the men separated, and 12 of them went to the Cafe Union in a reasonably sober condition. A police captain named Lay, who was in civilian clothes, had been watching the cafe all the evening, and immediately afterwards the police, with the intention of boarding the Tacoma. Captain Lay asserts that the seamen started the trouble with the police, and the police followed, but immediately afterwards the police changed with revolvers and machetes. Babin received an ugly cut on the arm, and was felled to the ground. Lay and all the policemen emptied their revolvers at them, at the same time attacking the crowd with their machetes. The crowd fled, and the police returned to the cruiser. The police captain named Mimico. MIMICO, May 1.—(Special.)—There was a blockade on the Mimico Division of the Toronto and York Railway this morning, which, while it did no particular damage, was responsible for a lot of annoyance and delay, and was directly traceable to the bad condition of the roads. A heavily loaded wagon belonging to Ritchie & Ramsey, in turning out to avoid a bad footing the line for an hour. The driver was thrown off, but escaped with a shaking up. The heavy rain of yesterday morning has thrown back the operations for the greater part of the week, and given building operations somewhat of a setback.

Why Spring Brings Weakness. Winter Weakens the System and Allows Diseases to Enter.

Great epidemics, such as fevers, infectious skin diseases and pestilence break out in the spring.

Winter shuts out fresh air from many homes, and only a few get even a little sunshine. The blood naturally grows thin, colorless and diseased—we tire easily, sleep poorly and have headaches.

In this condition we are easy prey to sickness and ill the hospitals and graveyards.

You must create resistance and strength. The blood must be purified, must be given power to expel the seeds of spring fever.
