Seven Years Afflicted

 Permanently cured
 by Gates' Nerve Ointment.
 Gates, Son & Co.
 Dear Sirs:
 As the result of an accident my hip was injured so as to cause a fever for which I was under treatment for seven years but could get nothing that did it much good.
 At last I obtained your Nerve Ointment which has made a complete cure and, I believe, had I not got it I would have been a crippled yet. I also know of two similar cases which your Ointment has cured, one of which was pronounced incurable by doctors in the States. My own cure is permanent as it is several years since it was effected.
 Yours sincerely,

THE Reason He Changed
 Situations.
 "Did you hear the reason why I left my old employer?" said a drummer the other day to a few friends. To this inquiry they all gathered around, fully expecting to hear a good story as "Tom" (familiarly called by his friends), tilted back in his chair.
 "I answered an advertisement about a new book 'Light of Life,' as the title struck me very forcibly, and I found it contained the story of the New Testament together with explanations of all the more difficult portions, thus being a complete Commentary. It also contains the complete lives of the Apostles; that this book was really two columns in one, embellished with some of the best illustrations I ever saw. The states of the Apostles were by the renowned sculptor, Thorvaldsen, these having been reproduced and published in connection with the Sixteen Blackhorns, Hofmann and Hahn engravings.
 Knowing that not a family in a thousand had the lives of the Apostles or a Commentary, and that this book would have an enormous sale, and as my old employer could not hold out sufficient inducement to equal the offer of two Bradley-Carleton Co. Limited, I concluded to give up 'drumming,' and took hold of 'Light of Life.' I assure you friends this change was the wisest I ever made, and I shall never regret it. If you want to make money easy and fast, write their Brantford House for a position like mine.

General Intelligence

SOME ANECDOTES OF INGERSOLL

Col. Ingersoll always appreciated a joke, even when he was the victim of it.
 One which he delighted to tell was about the duty which his wife attended to in his lecture. She never allowed herself to miss a lecture, and she always occupied a seat in a prominent box, let her husband had been speaking for minutes she would be lulled into sleep, and the result was that she was obliged to read in the morning newspapers next day the lecture she attended. Nobility she over slept while the Colonel talked.

Col. Ingersoll and a friend were talking one day about the duties of a Colonel. The friend remarked that he was not going to have an other shirt made for himself until he had a shirt on which was honest enough to give the woman who did the work the 1.50 each that he was willing to allow.

"I'm afraid I'll have to wait," said his friend. "Shirtmakers' fortunes are not built that way."
 "Then,"
 "Henceforth I wear no shirt until I have seen the woman who makes it, and she has told me herself that she got paid for her work."

In Ingersoll's early religious education the torments of hell played a large part.
 Until that year, at the time when he was a boy, he was so much of a sufferer from the torments of hell, that he was almost a drop of water.
 "I got up and went," said Col.
 Ingersoll, "knowing in my boyish heart that that was a lie. From that day I have never believed in the dogma of eternal punishment."

He was then less than nine years old.
 When his father having learned of his having left the meeting there was trouble for Robert. The trouble took place in the barn, and the instrument used was a strap in the Rev. Mr.
 Ingersoll's hands, after which there was prayer for the guidance of the erring boy. He went out smarting, but unconvinced.

Great as his local reputation as a party Col. Ingersoll had been 1879. It was not until last year, at the National Convention of the Republican party in Cincinnati, where he made the speech proposing James G. Blaine as a candidate for the nomination for the Presidency, that he won his supreme national fame.
 A sentence that especially caught the popular fancy was this: "Like an armed warrior, like a plumed knight, James G. Blaine marched down the halls of the American Congress and threw his shining lance full and fair against the brazen forehead of every defender of this country and maligner of its honor."

The phrase, the "plumed knight," was caught up by friend and foe alike and clung to Blaine until his death.
 One of the most exciting incidents in the life of Colonel Ingersoll, and perhaps the only time he has ever been in a crowd by his audience occurred in 1884, when he was nominated for President, and after an especially brilliant effort he was elected. The proceedings of the convention had been extended by reason of the fact that the mention of Blaine's name had made it impossible for the delegates to agree upon a nominee.

Upon the evening of the second day of the balloting the managers decided to take the ballot and then adjourn. The auditorium was packed to the ceiling by an immense audience, many of whom had paid a high price for the occasion, and they wanted something for their money.
 There were loud cries for speeches, and finally Col. Ingersoll consented to talk. He made one of the most brilliant speeches of his life, relating the kind of man the Republican convention should nominate for President, and after an especially brilliant effort he said: "And the man who fills all these conditions, patriot, scholar and statesman, is General Greham."

Instantly the place became a pandemonium.
 The friends of the rival candidates felt that an improper advantage had been taken of them and they howled, refusing to allow the Colonel to speak. The convention was adjourned for some time to quell the disturbance and finally left the platform deserted.

Col. Ingersoll regarded Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables" as the greatest single literary achievement in history. He was also a great admirer of Dickens, though that author's last comments on American customs and habits so enraged Col. Ingersoll that he declined the invitation to meet the Englishman on the occasion of his last visit to New York, and ever afterward regretted it. He was something of an art critic and was passionately devoted to Wagner's music. In fact he used to say that, outside of his own house, the German opera was the joy of his life.
 He had a wide acquaintance among stage folk, and was one of those who helped Julia Marlowe to her success. Every actor who ever knew the Colonel declared that he would have made one of the great actors of the age had he turned his talents in that direction.

In connection with the manner of Ingersoll's death, it is recalled that when discussing his last moments, he always expressed the hope that his life would suddenly be snuffed out, and that was the manner of his taking off.

BUNCO'S BRAIN NO GUIDE.
 "WOLCOTT, N. Y., July 24.—A proposition looking man, who gave his name as F. H. Ridgeway, and who said he was a promoter, called upon Farmer John Orr early this week with an alleged letter of introduction from Orr's Philadelphia brother, and offered to buy a supposed parcel of land which had been owned by John Orr; the eighty acres of course to be sold for $100,000.

He stayed over night, and in the morning was driven out by the farmer to the spring which he wanted to examine. He stayed but a little time looking at the spring, but closely inspected some rocks that were near by.

Apparently satisfied, his terms, $100,000, were accepted. He gave a check for $5,000 and said he would go to Philadelphia and return with the balance.

 Subsequently another stranger appeared on the scene, and without any preliminaries asked Orr what he would take for his 80 acre farm. Orr replied that he had already sold it to a man named Ridgeway for $10,000.

The stranger became greatly excited and said: "Ridgeway is trying to cheat you out of your money. He has sold the farm for $10,000, and he will work the rest of the year for you. He is a scoundrel, and he is trying to cheat you out of your money." The stranger and Orr then started out among the neighbors to borrow the necessary money to pay the balance of the farm. The neighbors were presented half the expense, as soon as he could get to Philadelphia to draw the money from the bank. Meanwhile, as security to Orr, he handed him a bundle of securities of a supposed value far in excess of the $10,000.

Orr raised $4,000 of the sum from one of the neighbors, and while in the neighbor's house, becoming unsatisfied, he found the contents to be nothing but pieces of old newspapers.
 He then returned to the house and found the rest of the bundle of securities to be nothing but pieces of old newspapers.
 to be nothing but pieces of old newspapers.

YOUNG MOTHERS.
 Cramp is the terror of thousands of young mothers because its outbreak is so agonizing and frequently fatal. Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure acts like magic in cases of Cramp. It has never been known to fail. The worst cases are relieved immediately. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00.

LAWSON'S NARROW ESCAPE.
 THE CITY EXPERIENCES ANOTHER FIRE.
 VICTORIA, B. C., July 26.—Miners just returned by steamer bringing news that the city of Dawson had a very narrow escape from destruction by fire on the afternoon of July 7th. The blaze commenced at a point on the hillside east of the town, between Second and Third streets, and fifteen cabins were quickly consumed. The fire had never been known to fail. The worst cases
 are relieved immediately. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00.

WEST PRINCE ELECTION.
 A LARGE CONSERVATIVE VAIN AND CON-SERVATIVE ELECTION.
 The first telegraphic report that Gallanter, the Liberal, had been re-elected for the Local House in the Third District of West Prince, P. E. I., though by a greatly reduced majority, appears to have been inaccurate. Pineau, the Conservative, was elected by a majority of 31, the total vote being: Pineau, 935; Gallanter, 904. In the election last year the vote was: Galanter, 1,083; Pineau, 847.
 Liberal majority 236. The vote was slightly smaller than last year, as many were busy with the hay. The Conservative made gains in every poll being two, and in one of these two they made a relative gain, the total vote being smaller. The Third District is largely composed of French Acadians, though there is a considerable English speaking vote. The Liberal government of the Island is in rather a shaky condition owing to the temperance people have declared against it as well as against the Conservative and some suggested appointments from among the government supporters in the Legislature may not be made as the powers that be can scarcely afford to risk more by-elections.

NEWS FROM THE PHILIPPINES.
 MANILA, July 27.—Brigadier General R. H. Hall, with one thousand men, has captured Calapan, on Luzon, in Bay. The loss to the United States forces was four killed and twelve wounded.

WEST MURON ELECTION CASE.
 OTTAWA, July 26.—When the privileged 22nd election committee met this morning Sir Louis Davies and Dr. Bussell proposed to examine Michael Tobin and other officials who had been present in poll 4, Colbourne.

Mr. Borden (Halifax) objected that these men had only been there a day or two, while there were a couple of dozen voters who had been waiting for a week or ten days and wanted to go home. He asked that they should first be disposed of.
 Sir Louis Davies pointed out that an order had been passed that all the officials were to be examined first, and he insisted that this rule should be observed. In that event he was willing to consider that there was a quorum present and go on.

Mr. Fortin on being appealed to thought the rule must be observed.
 After many prominent physicians the chair of the officials be examined as arranged for before the other witnesses were called was sustained.

Mr. Tobin was examined by Mr. Bussell and stated that he had been in charge of the poll book all day except during dinner, when John Lawson, one of the Holmes' scrutineers, kept Lawson was in charge. After he came back from dinner Dancy handed him his papers and at the close of the polling he left the papers in the poll book. He heard no objection to Dancy by Mr.
 Lawson until the evening. When they went up behind the screen to count the ballot, Lawson asked what right he had to be there, but Dancy did not give any satisfaction. Witnesses described how Dancy tore off the counterfoils and how the ballots were counted. The scrutineers on his side kept tally and the tally tally agreed. Dancy was sitting at the desk while the counting was going on.

 Tobin swore that he saw the deputy returning, which was proceeding with pen and ink, he said from that point and put them in the box.

John Lawson, one of the Holmes' scrutineers, who sat close to the returning officer at the election, gave testimony that there was irregularity at the Colbourne poll. He sat beside the deputy returning officer.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE.
 ACQUITTANCE OF THE SITUATION BELIEVED AS A RESULT OF A CONFERENCE BE-TWEEN SECRETARY HAY AND MR. TOWER.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The acquittance of the Alaska boundary situation has been much relieved, as a result of the conference yesterday between Secretary Hay and the British chargé, Mr. Tower, that those who have taken the most active part in the negotiations feel they can leave the city for a summer vacation.
 Mr. Hay will go within a few days, and Mr. Tower leaves tomorrow for Newport, where he will establish the British embassy for the rest of the summer.

One of the effects of renewing direct negotiations in Washington is to establish the Anglo-American commission cannot re-assemble in Quebec on August 2.
 That date is only a week off, and as yet Great Britain has not named a commissioner to take the place of the late Lord Herschell. The purpose now is to secure a mode of settling the boundary question and thus clear the way for a meeting of the commission late in the fall.

The strong language used by Sir Wilfred Laurier and Sir Charles Tupper has not found expression in the official resolutions, which are proceeding with every evidence of goodwill.

FROM THE CAPITAL.
 FREDERICTON, July 26.—Miss May Bell Miles, daughter of the late Mr.
 Jacob Miles and niece of the late Mr.
 Miles of the New Brunswick Foundry, was married at nine o'clock this morning to Mr. Sam. E. Burpee, merchant, of Edmundston. The ceremony was preformed at St. Ann's church by Rev.
 Canon Roberts, in the presence of a large congregation. Miss Jessie Hammond, of St. John, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. J. W. Hall, of Edmundston, as groomsmen. The happy couple left on the 9.15 C. P. R. express for St. John, and before proceeding to their new home at Edmundston will visit Halifax and Montreal.

Mrs. Mott, wife of Dr. Mott, of St.
 John, who underwent an operation at Victoria Hospital at the hands of Dr.
 Atherton two weeks ago, has so far recovered that she will be able to return home to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. David Tapley, of Brunswick street, lost their two and a half year old son by cholera infantum yesterday afternoon.

Matthew Brannen, of St. Mary's, was badly injured while working in Mr.
 Brannen's day field yesterday afternoon.
 He fell off a hay rake, one of the prongs of which entered his side to the depth of a couple of inches.

 SERVATIVE ELECTION.
 The first telegraphic report that Gallanter, the Liberal, had been re-elected for
 greatly reduced majority, appears to have been inaccurate. Pineau, the Conservative, was elected by a majority of 31,
 the total vote being: Pineau, 935; Gallanter, 904. In the election last year the vote was: Galanter, 1,083; Pineau, 847.
 were busy with the hay. The Conserva-
 a relative gain, the total vote being
 composed of French Acadians, though
 there is a considerable English speaking
 scarcely afford to risk more by-elections.
