PLEBISCITE DATE OCTOBER 10TH

The question of whether New Brunswick shall put the lid on the liquor traffic altogether by stopping importation and going bone dry or continue in its present dry on the surface and wet underneath condition, will be voted on during Monday, Oct. 10th.

Mayor C. E. Fish the Returning Officer is hard at work making the necessary arrangements for the plebiscite.

Mr. Wm. Ferguson has been appointed Registrar for Newcastle and all this week will add any names which may not have been put on the list by the Revisors. The registration sittings will be held from September 5th to September 10th, both inclusive.

FOUR CANDIDATES MAY BE IN FIELD

Behind closed doors, Monday night, the International Longshoremen's Union, under the name of the Farmer-Labor party, is reported to have endorsed the candidature of Abram Vanderbeck for the local legislature to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, John W. Vanderbeck. The press and others, other than those duly accredited delegates, International Unions were refused admittance. It is reported that three names, Daniel Cripps, Chatham; Joseph Manderson, Newcastle, and Vanderbeck, went before the meeting. Farmer delegates were not in attendance, but the secretary of the local branch is reported to have been present and strongly objected to the manner of calling the convention.

It is reported that a farmer convention will be called at once to select a farmer candidate and there seems little doubt but that both the government and conservatives will also place men in the field. Fred Tweedie, of Chatham, it is reported will represent the former and Frank D. Swim, of Doaktown, the latter.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR LOWER PROVINCES

Under the Educational War Memorial established by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, each of the maritime provinces will send one student overseas in 1922-1923 as one of those who have won the overseas post-graduate scholarships. In 1920 four overseas scholarships were awarded and in 1921 five will be awarded. As the four previously awarded did not come from any of the Maritime provinces each year when the fund is sufficient, the five awards this year will go to the provinces which were not represented last year.

The candidates may be men or women. They must be British subjects and have resided at least five years in Canada and be unmarried. They must have passed their nineteenth birthday but not have passed their twenty-seventh birthday in the year during which their course begins. Each candidate must either hold a degree from a recognized college or be in his or her final year proceeding to such a degree and will be entitled to apply in the province in which the college or university is situated regardless of his place of residence in Canada.

The scholarships are for $1,400, tenable students to carry on studies at any University in the United Kingdom in British and Imperial history, the

S.A. OFFICERS AND BAND VISIT HERE OVER WEEK-END

Major W. H. Burrows, Divisional Commander and Adjuant Owen Chancellor, accompanied by the Moncton Salvation Army Band, were given a hearty welcome in Newcastle on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. On Saturday afternoon the streets of Newcastle were paraded by the Band and the music furnished was highly appreciated by the citizens. In the evening music was rendered in front of the Post Office after which a Musical Festival was held in the Salvation Army Hall, the building being taxed to its capacity. On Sunday morning open air Band Concerts and meetings were held in front of the Miramichi Hospital and on King's Highway at Troy's Corner. The music and meetings were listened to by an appreciative audience. On Sunday afternoon a large Holiness Meeting was held in the local hall, presided over by His Worship Mayor C. E. Fish. Major Burrows delivered an inspiring lecture which was attentively listened to by a large audience. In the evening a large mass meeting was held and on Monday morning Millerton was visited where a Band Concert and an enthusiastic meeting was held. On their return from Millerton the Band gave a number of selections on the Band Stand in the Public Square, after which they left for their homes in Moncton on the Ocean Limited.

The visit of the Officers and the Band was a grand success in every way and the local Commanding Officers, Captain and Mrs. Goodwin, are deserving of congratulations in bringing them to town, the success of which will inspire the local corps to further endeavors in their great and noble work.

GOVERNMENT TO ASSIST THE CATTLE RAISERS

Ottawa, Aug. 30—Canadian cattle raisers will be carried over the period of abnormally low prices by advances from the banks, secured by their stock. This announcement was made by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, today, prior to leaving to attend the Fair at Sherbrooke, Que. By arrangement between the Governments and the Canadian Bankers' Association, any cattle raiser who asks for a loan and has security in cattle will be given an advance to obtain fodder. Cattle raisers will thus be enabled to carry their stock instead of getting rid of it at sacrifice prices.

Dr. Tolmie stated that the banks will loan all that the cattle are worth and that every effort will be made to carry the raisers through.

Special consideration will be given to the period of the loans in order to assist the cattle men to weather the storm. It is understood that there is no specific limit placed upon the total amount which the banks may advance under the arrangement with the Government.

BASEBALL

Newcastle and Loggieville Baseball Teams played a fast game of ball in Loggieville on Labor Day with the result that the local boys defeated Loggieville by the score of 8 to 5.

ELECTION BEFORE THE NEW YEAR

Hight Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister, will recommend early dissolution of the Canadian House of Commons and a general election before the New Year. This was his message to the people of London and to the people of Canada, delivered before an audience of some 3,000 people in the Grand Opera House to-night.

The announcement, which had been awaited with anxiety by all sections of the Dominion, came as a surprise to all but a few of the Prime Minister's hearers. But when the Minister announced that he considered it the proper thing to recommend early dissolution and a general election, applause rang through the theatre.

Redistribution could not be carried out within a reasonable time, the Prime Minister stated. The census returns could not be complete, it had been announced, until December, and that would mean another twenty months or so of indecision with regard to tariff matters.

Canada could not get settled down to business unless the tariff problem was settled. The real challenge to the government, he said, came from the Farmers' party, which demanded free trade. That their policy was wrong, he was certain, and he was equally certain that it would be proved wrong by developments.

A revision of the tariff in Canada was due and overdue. To decide the principle of the tariff was the cooperative question before the people of Canada today.

"Until they decide it," declared the Premier, "we cannot have business stability, we cannot have confidence, we cannot have full employment, we cannot have health and growth and virility."

"Until we know whether the people want a protective tariff or whether they don't no tariff is secure. Either the opposition platform adopted in convention and set down in black and white, either it or the Farmer's platform, means beyond all dispute the overthrow of the historic policy of this country."

Premier Addressed An Overflow Meeting

The people who flocked to hear the Prime Minister filled every seat in the theatre and another 200 people or so found seats on the platform behind the speakers. In addition there was an overflow meeting composed of those unable to crowd into the Opera House; a meeting to which Mr. Meighen again expounded his policy.

He dealt chiefly with the tariff situation and the tariff platforms of the Conservative, Liberal and Farmer parties, and declared that only the policy of the government party could bring a continuation of industrial prosperity in Canada. Other speakers of the evening were Hume Cronyn and S. F. Glass, M. P., both of whom had many constituents in the audience.

During the afternoon Mr. Meighen was tendered a reception by the women of London and afterwards attended a gathering of the Western Ontario members and their supporters. The evening meeting was opened at 8 o'clock (standard time) and lasted some three hours.

THE ADVOCATE

ROSS MURDER TRIAL

Newcastle, N. B. Aug. 30—The hearing in the Ross murder case was continued this morning. Dr. Loggie was recalled by the Crown. In answer to question as to whether the Ross wound was self inflicted, he said, it was not. In connection with splashes on the fence witness said the wound broke blood vessels in the neck, and a spurt of blood would follow. Deceased wore a coat, a hole in collar of which might have been made by some missile.

A piece of slab was here produced in court and shown to witness, who admitted resembled the boards in the fence. The flat side, faced the recess and the Breau road. The approximate angle of the recess in the fence on that side was about 25 degrees from the line of fence, with the perpendicular of the road or about 65 with the line of Breau road. The line of missile would indicate coming from Tabusintac highway end of Breau road.

In answer to Mr. McDade, witness would not swear the missile which made the hole in the board also caused the death of deceased.

To Mr. Davidson. —The missiles were similar, but cannot say they were alike.

Mr. LeBlanc recalled gave evidence of having in his possession coat of deceased worn at the time of his death and of holes in the collar. He was given the coat by Dr. Loggie and directed to keep it, by coroners jury. Mr. LeBlanc was directed to bring the coat to court.

Witness continued: The fence was made of slabs, laid lengthwise. Piece of wood shown to witness, who said, it is similar to said fence and the hole is the same as one he saw in the fence; the flat side was towards deceased.

I have some experience with fire arms and bullets he said. I am positive the bullet entered the flat side, the missile came from the Breau road going towards the bay. felt the body at 11 at night and did not see it again until next morning.

Clyde Munroe

called and sworn. I live in Tabusintac, know Millett Stewart and James Ross. I helped carry the body of Ross to White's house. Stewart and I talked last fall about Mr. Ross. He said they were in trouble over an account; he told Ross he was going to sue him. Ross had said, when you do, you will be out $5000.00. Stewart said, "I take from that he means to burn me out. I am going to shoot him." Cannot say if he said he would do so if he caught him burning him out or not. I told him he would swing if he shot any man in the head

He said he did not care, so long as he made a good job; he said, if he did it, it would be a good job, and for me, (witness) to remember, and when it was all over I would say he was a man of his word. Stewart said he was waiting to get his place fixed up or he would have done it before.

Not Good Friends With Accused

Under cross examination witness admitted he had business dealings with Stewart which were unsatisfactory. We have not been good friends, he said. I never threatened to kill him. I ordered him off my place. I believed it was mine. I thought and paid for it; have sold it since. I swear I did not threaten to shoot Millett. I said I would put a bullet through the horse. I will not swear that he said he would shoot Ross, when or if he burned him out.

I was asked to give evidence because I must have mentioned this conversation to some one who sent my name in. I never mentioned it outside of my house until after the shooting occurred. Witness told of a number to whom he told this conversation after the death of Ross. I am not a volunteer witness against Stewart, he said.

I understood him to say he had an insurance policy coming due before August of this year. Do not know if fire or life. In the pulp wood contract Stewart could not keep the contract. I am not out anything.

Witness gave particulars of this deal at length with his reasons for considering Stewart personally responsible and amount of money given him by Stewart. Terms of contract and amount of wood gotten out by witness.

By Mr. Davidson—Have you any feelings against Millett Stewart?
Ans. No.—Have no desire to see him unjustly punished.

George Murray.

called and sworn. I live in Tabusintac; know Millett Stewart, knew James Ross, know of the La Tulippe family; knew their property was sold under some legal proceedings; knew James Ross bought it. Was out in a boat when the Tulippes went out. On the day the place was sold I had a talk with Stewart. I said, "you will have a handy neighbor." He said, "Who?"

I said, "James Ross."
Would Stand by the Tulippes

Stewart said, he would stand by the Tulippes through thick and thin and before James Ross or any one else got the place blood would be shed. He went on to tell of his interest in the Tulippe place, had pulp wood on it, said something about the Breau shares I don't remember what.

I saw the body of James Ross at the Tulippe gate saw Dr. Loggie examine him; body was taken to White's. Dr. Loggie went with the body. It was the body of James Ross which Dr. Loggie examined.

Adjourned for luncheon.

Afternoon Session

At the afternoon session, the cross-examination of Mr. Murray, by John Nicholson, for defence, continued.

I think Ernie Gratton was with me in the shop when I had the conversation with Stewart. Ross was my brother-in-law.

Herrings and Whales

(1) Nootka Cannery and Sound. (2) Whale laying at Kyuquot Whaling Station.

At Sydney Inlet, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Tidewater Copper Co. are working some mines. They say that the future wealth of Vancouver Island lies in copper, there is so much of it about. There is also placer gold in most of the rivers, and gold and silver quartz veins in the mountains. There is coal and iron — limonite and quantities of magnetite on Barclay Sound, Quatsino and up at Quinsam Lake.

The Nootka Packing Co. have a plant up Nootka Sound where they can 2,000 cases a day in the season, of salmon, herring and pilchards, for which latter they have more orders than they can fill. Their record catch was 25 tons of pilchard in one night!

Here is the Nootka tribe of Indians, where they have a wonderful and well-kept burial ground.

Passing Nootka Sound by way of Esperanza Inlet and so up to Narrows Cut Creek where there is a big Whaling Station, and this you may know by the hideous smell that greets your nose as you draw near.

They kill the whales about thirty or forty miles out, blow them up with air and tow them back to the Station. Every particle of the great fish is put to some useful purpose. Whale-bone, fertilizer, whale-oil and some 2,000 cans of whale-meat a day. Each whale brings in a revenue of $2,000 and a sperm-whale $5,000.

At Kyuquot Village in the Sound there is a spruce logging camp. Coming out of this into the open sea again, the coast-boat heads due north for Cape Cook off which is Solander Island where the sea-lions bark and bask and flop down off its sloping side into the sea with a great fuss and show of fright when the occasional boats pass by.

Still north up into Quatsino Sound, another fishing centre and quite a large settlement of two hundred whites.

A mariner's maze is Quatsino Sound, branching after twenty miles or so inland into yet three other arms, two of them stretching at least another twenty miles or so in opposite directions.

The Coast Copper Co. have a mine thirty miles inland from June Landing. The interior country here is scarcely yet explored, much less exploited and many a fortune may lie unknown for years to come covered and hidden by generations and centuries of forest growth.

At Port Alice the Whalen Pulp and Paper Mills have a sawmill for airplane spruce.

From Coal Harbor on the West Arm of the Sound there is a trail through to Hardy Bay on the east coast of the island where one may sometimes catch the mainland coast-boats, but this trail is so bad that the settlers prefer to use the west coast boats.

Further north than this no boat goes. There are not enough settlers to make it worth while, though fishermen bring tales of sheltered coves with dream-land beaches where the spent breakers of the Pacific froth and fume their life away waiting vainly for the laughter of the children that never come. And prospectors bring tales of thousands of acres of untouched timber and mountains unknown, un-named, jealously guarding the secrets of their treasure-troves.—H. G. W.

Nelson and The Kootenay

The name Kootenay has long been familiar to the mining and lumbering worlds. Kootenay has extensive, varied and rich mineral deposits and every valley and mountain side is a store-house of valuable timber. The city of Nelson, on the Kootenay Lake, is the distributing centre for the district, from which the wholesale trade of the interior is carried on. Nelson owns the public utilities, electric light, street railway, water works and gas works. Special attention is given to the forestry department in guarding the timber resources of the district. With an unlimited supply of wood in the mountains, there is a great future in the pulp industry.

Within a radius of twenty-five miles, there are twenty-five saw mills in operation. The Board of Trade of Nelson is now in communication with New York capitalists regarding the establishment of a pulp mill. Tributary to the proposed mill site are 11,200 square miles of territory from which wood supplies can be procured. The slopes, forested with timber, are easily workable. The population of the region embracing about forty thousand people, is fairly well spread over the entire area. There are about 15,000 inhabitants in ten towns and the balance are scattered on homesteads, ranches, lumber and mining camps through the district. Many, in order to obtain working capital, accept contracts for delivery of logs, trees, shingles, cedar poles and other products from their lands and there are a number of forest product operators around the Lake. It is computed that nearly 14 million cords of pulpwood could be secured, enough to last one hundred and fifty years, figuring three hundred cords per day.

The maximum distance of raw material from Nelson is sixty-five miles with an average of thirty-five miles. There are excellent railroad connections to market, and there is abundant cheap electric power. The most important power development in the interior of British Columbia is that of the West Kootenay Power and Light at Bonnington Falls. Power and light are furnished to Trail, Rossland, Grand Forks, Phoenix, Greenwood, Boundary Falls, the smelters and mines forming much the largest consumers.

There are openings for the manufacture of wooden ware. A sash and door factory of Nelson are branching out this year into the manufacture of wash-board, screen doors, brooms and various wooden articles and that a large business of this kind can be developed is assured.

The Kootenay can make other appeals to the world. Fortunes are still to be made by extracting her precious metals from the earth and hewing the trees from her hillsides but she has another treasure to offer in the fertile valleys that girdle every lake and border every stream — these are rich fruit lands. There are exceptional advantages in diversified farming where are combined dairying and the production of hay, grain, poultry, hogs, sheep and a variety of small fruits and vegetables. In the district are many real military and naval officers who are able to find congenial occupation and for leisure hours there are no waters in Canada that offer greater attractions to the sportsman or lover of the beautiful in Nature, than the Kootenay Lakes and rivers. Bee-keeping is a new industry that is making progress.—C. G.

FREIGHT RATES

Chairman Carvell has notified the big chiefs of Canada's railways that a reduction in freight rates is now due. An Ottawa dispatch says that the roads are resisting strenuously the demand for a reduction in the rates, claiming that it is not warranted. All the same a reduction must come and the sooner it comes the better for the business of the country.

SCANDINAVIANS IN CANADA

Nearly all authorities on Canadian immigration concur in the opinion that the very best immigrants that have come to Canada from foreign countries are those from Iceland, Sweden, Norway, and Denmark, and it is a very gratifying feature of the tide finding its way to our shores that it still contains a substantial proportion of these peoples, whilst a handsome contribution of this same fine stock is annually donated by the United States.

Physically of a sturdy, handsome type the Scandinavian peoples are found, almost without exception, to be cleanly, industrious, and progressive in every respect, making the most desirable class of citizens and being numbered among the most successful and prosperous farmers the Dominion possesses. Education is widespread in their native countries, and they come to Canada imbued with the same high ideals of learning and culture. There is no language problem with them as they are eager to master English and to develop all the requisites of complete and successful citizenship. They employ the new tongue without embarrassment and learn rapidly.

The Scandinavian races are the most readily assimilable of Canada's immigrants mixing freely and readily with the Anglo-Saxons, intermarrying, and avoiding the handicap which colony settlement gives to the progress of foreign people. They are deeply religious, adherents of the Lutheran faith for the most part, and churches spring up wherever settlement takes place with social life centering there. A highly sociable people they have their own social and political organizations wherever settlement warrants this, and their own papers are circulated throughout Western Canada. From their first days in Canada they take deep interest in Dominion politics, turning readily to matters of government. Several have attained the honors of the provincial legislatures whilst men of the Scandinavian race are to be found occupying public offices of every nature in the West. They are sincere and earnest students, and their achievements in learning are remarkable when their handicap is considered. Several Rhodes scholars from Manitoba have been Scandinavians. The first settlers came to Canada from Iceland in the year 1872, but the real movement began in 1874 when some five hundred left their native shores for the new continent. More than fifteen hundred new settlers came in 1876, settling in Manitoba and North Dakota. Since 1880 they have come to Canada in a more or less uninterrupted stream from their northern homes, whilst the Dominion has received a substantial number of those who first settled in various parts of the Western United States. At the time of the 1911 census there were 49,194 Canadian citizens who had been born in Norway and Sweden; 7,109 in Iceland; and 4,397 in Denmark. From 1900 to 1919 there were admitted to Canada 6,546 citizens of Denmark; 4,501 from Iceland; 20,618 from Norway; and 28,897 from Sweden. Of the Scandinavians in Canada 97.82 of the total are to be found in the four Western provinces. In Manitoba the greater number of these people centre about the city of Winnipeg and few are to be found elsewhere in the province. Large settlements are prospering at Lan-

FRASER COMPANIES MADE BIG PROFITS LAST YEAR

Montreal, Aug. 30.—Profits of the Fraser Companies, Limited, for the year to December 31, 1920, amounted after depreciation of inventories, to $2,157,618. Net profits were $1,276,391, equal to 127 per cent available for dividends on the common stock of $1,000,000. Current assets for the period is $6,539,150 and current liabilities $4,407,498, leaving working capital at $2,131,652.

After reviewing the year and the purchase of Dominion Pulp and Paper Company at Chatham, N. B., President Alexander Fraser said that orders were being received now in steadily increasing volume and the pulp mills at Edmundston and Chatham were operating on current business satisfactorily.

killed; know the Tulippe property, formerly owned by Nicholas Stewart; I live a mile and half below Stewart on the Tabusintac Highway. Was not at Tulippe's place on the day they were moved; I saw Stewart on Tuesday at 12 o'clock on 2nd of August, at his house; he was talking of the unfair way they were paying the Tulippes out; he went to the phone called to Murray at Chatham "Let us go down to Tulippe's." I said they had no papers, what should they do, Stewart said, Murray said they were not to go out of the house; Mrs. Stewart, Millett Stewart, son Willbar, and I were there; he said, "What's the good, let them fight their own battles." Mrs. Stewart said much the same.

Stewart went out of the house, had his gun with him; cannot say what sort of a gun; there was a clog over the stock, about fourteen inches of barrel sticking out; I went down part of the way with him and turned back about part way; we went across the field to the Stymiest shack; after he left me he went towards the Breau Road; a shortcut joins Beggs, also Breau roads; I returned the same way; stayed at Stymiest shack and waited till Stewart came back; he brought the gun back; Mrs. Stewart went, came back with him; he left the gun by the shack, near a bush a little bit away from the building; he had a sharp pointed knife in his pocket, saw the blade sticking out; he spoke of the unfair way the Tulippes were used, said he told them to stay in the house; Mrs. Stewart went home; Stewart and I went up the highway; he said he was going to Mrs. Savoy's; saw him again when I got a bag of meal at Stewart's, at Tom Savoy's gate; Stewart and Joe Tulippe were talking; Stewart said Ross had burned the shanty at the corner and he could prove it. White burned one at the shore and Bl-Whit was the father of it all; White had the property advertised for sale; Ross bought it; Stewart did not say to me he wanted the property; I then went home have known Stewart all my life; saw him drinking; never saw him off his feet did not see any signs of his drinking that day; have worked for him and cut hay this year.

Heard No Threats

Cross-examined by Mr. McDade—Did not hear any threats about Ross or any one; he said he was taking the rifle for self-protection; he appeared to be sober; I know not of myself how Ross came to his death.

To Mr. Davidson—At the inquest I said Stewart said "he would kill the son of a b—." I do not know if he meant Ross. I was at Stewart's seven days haying; he got in trouble with a man who took the law of him; Stewart went to Chatham to see about it; when he came back he was drinking.

To Mr. Davidson—Stewart was a little excited that day.

Anthony Savoy Called, Sworn

Live in Neguac; am married to daughter of Nicholas Tulippe; know the Tulippes, Stewart and Ross; Tulippe's furniture was hauled to my place; was at Tulippe's place that day; I went for a pair of harrows; I got them; I asked Ross if I could go in the house; he said, "Yes" I saw Millett Stewart that evening; it was dark then the night was fine; Stewart came in my kitchen; he said to me, "By—, lets go down there and put them out so the Tulippes can go back in the house. I said "No I am on property of my own, am not looking for trouble." He called me a coward.

Wasn't Looking for Trouble

I said I wasn't like him, looking for trouble; Torrie was there also in the kitchen; I did not see the wagon nor hear how they came; Matt Tulippe heard the conversation; also my wife, Matt's wife and old Mrs. Tulippe. Joe and Fred slept at my house; they came in about 10:30; I closed the doors at ten-thirty and went to bed.

Cross-examined by Mr. McDade but nothing new brought out.

I started to follow him to the barn. He said "What's the news" I said "No". He said "The Tulippes are on the road, you want to help put him in his own house?" I said "No". He lifted up his coat and showed a knife, and says "Don't be scared. I will butcher the son of a b—." I

Why didn't you do it today, He said I was alone—there was a crowd. I said "They are all away but Ross." He said then "Let's go butcher the son of a b—."

Came up I called into White's; Mrs. White said Ross was there alone; I heard Tuesday night that Ross was killed; I got in a car and went to see.

Cross-examined by Mr. McDade. I did not offer to get a crowd and go put Ross out; there was no talk of shooting.

Only Tablets with "Bayer Cross" are Aspirin—No others!

There is only one Aspirin, that marked with the "Bayer Cross"—all other tablets are only cheap imitations. Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been prescribed by physicians for nineteen years and are used safely by millions for pain, rheumatism, neuralgia, colds, influenza, lumbago, neuritis, headache, and other ailments. Each box contains 12 tablets—also "Bayer" packages, can be had by drug stores. Made in Canada. Aspirin is a trade mark registered in Canada of Bayer Manufacture of Monocrocin, a division of Salicylacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company, Ltd., will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

NERVOUS, IRRITABLE, AILING WOMEN

Mrs. Britten Tells How She Was Restored To Health After Suffering for More Than A Year.

Another Triumph for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?'" So I purchased one bottle after another until I had taken ten bottles, then Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I received so much benefit from this treatment that I am now able to do my own work."—Mrs. W. D. BRITTEN, R. No. 2, Dimondale, Mich.

Another Michigan Woman says: "I was bothered for a long time with female troubles and was so nervous I felt almost afraid at times. I also had a pain in my right side and was certainly in a bad way." Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good."—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGER, R. No. 8, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.

Is it any wonder that these women were nervous and irritable after suffering so long from such deranged conditions? Such ailments act directly upon the nerves, and it has been said that a large percentage of nervous prostration, nervous dependency, "the blues," and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

If women who are in this condition would only profit by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, much suffering and unhappiness would be averted, as everyone knows a nervous, irritable, ailing mother makes the home unhappy and her condition irritates both husband and children.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

CANDIDATES

Now that Premier Meighen has announced that we are to have a Federal Election before the New Year, the political thought uppermost in every mind is Who will be the candidates? The difficulty of today in all parties is to find men of position who are willing to be parliamentary candidates. However the solution of this difficulty should not be insurmountable and the prospects of party success appear infinitely brighter than for some time.

Difference over the Union Election should no longer remain a stumbling block in the path of that re-union of forces which is the essential of success. What we need is a representative of ability and standing, and one who will work for the good of his constituency.

We have had enough lukewarmness in our politics and the time has arrived for us to choose a candidate whom we will send to Ottawa to look after and take an interest in our constituency. While Nomination Day is yet a long distance off, it would be wise to consider the situation early and select for Northumberland a man who can be depended on to represent our county in a satisfactory manner.

Big things for Northumberland are pending and we want a big man to look after these big things for us. We want a man who will work and who will not shirk his duties; one who will have the country's interests at heart and strive to secure for us that which we are entitled to. It is particularly desirable that our representative be sufficiently influential to make our importance felt in the councils of the country.

ELECTION LATE IN NOV. OR DEC.

The coming general election will be the first fought with four definite parties—Government, Liberal, National Progressive and Labor—in the field. It will be contested on the existing distribution of seats but under the new election law. What the result will be is beyond the most daring of political prophets, except that it is likely to result in the election of powerful groups with the possible formation of a coalition government. Recent results in Alberta indicated the powerful grip on the prairie provinces of the National Progressives; and the Prime Minister's speech in London tonight is indication that it is against the anti-protectionist views of the National Progressives that the Government's campaign will be chiefly directed.

The campaign will be short but keen. The Prime Minister's announcement of an election before the New Year is taken to indicate that there will be little delay in cabinet reconstruction and in the issue of writs with the holding of the election as soon as the necessary official preparations can be made.

Thousands of women will vote who were not enfranchised in the last election. The female relatives of soldiers were entitled to the vote. The new election law enfranchised all women with certain exceptions in the case of women of foreign birth who are over the age of 21 years.

Election day is expected late in November or in December.

The Montreal Gazette says: Hon. Mr. Meighen has disappointed his opponents. Those who yesterday jeered at the Premier for his want of courage, and confident that he would decline this issue, challenged him to appeal to the people, will wake tomorrow to find themselves taken at their word. The struggle will be severe and the result admittedly uncertain. If the premier surrounds himself with strong men and consolidates his party, he will enter the fight the most formidable of the three parties. Out of the struggle we have confidence enough in the common sense of the electors to believe the House of Commons majority will emerge committed to the maintenance of our institutions and perpetuation of the fiscal policy upon which Canada's progress and prosperity are founded.

DEMPSEY IS A REAL CHAMPION

"The Fight of the Century" First Authentic Film of Fight Shows This To Advantage.

Jack Dempsey is the undisputed heavyweight champion of the world, if anyone is in doubt as to this statement, let him visit the Happy Hour on Sept. 8th where "The Battle of the Century" is being shown. It is the only authentic film of the big championship fight between Dempsey and Carpentier, held at Jersey City.

The clearness of the film and its completeness will amaze you. You will see the championship bout from the sound of the first gong until the final knock-out which shattered Carpentier's hopes of ever holding the world's heavyweight crown. The film makes one thing absolutely clear, and that is that Jack Dempsey, formerly heavyweight champion of America is now the undisputed champion of the world.

He is a fighter through and through, and although, credit must be given to the way in which his challenger stood up against him for three rounds, before he was knocked out in the fourth, it emphasizes all the more the supreme power and strength of the champion over his opponent.

Dempsey, as we clearly see him in the film, (from the ringside) entered the ring that memorable day with the intention of holding his own. Judging from his facial expression he was intent on fighting. He seems anxious to get into the fray, and dispels any doubt in the minds of his followers that he could not "deliver the goods."

Jack's in-fighting methods are supreme and he packs a terrific punch, one can almost hear the thud of the leathered fist against Carpentier's body, the film is so realistic.

We will admit that we were as much excited while viewing "The Battle of the Century" as if we had paid down fifty dollars for a ringside seat. But this is quite natural as everyone who will see this remarkable film will feel a thrill, its depiction is so realistic.

In the second round, Carpentier opened up on the Champion to such an extent, and with such speed that if we had not already known the outcome of the bout, we were sure that Dempsey would topple over from the force of the challenger's blows.

But Dempsey comes back stronger than ever in the third, and as the gong sounds for the finish of this round, we see the two fighters mixing it up in a great whirlwind finish, Dempsey pounding away at his opponent who covers to defend himself.

The fatal fourth round will be remembered for its intensely dramatic moment when the challenger went down for the count of nine, suddenly jumping to his feet only to be felled again by a terrific fusillade of blows.

again by a terrific fusillade of blows. But the plucky little Frenchman, with all the grit, characteristic of his race, made a super-human effort to rise before referee Ertle counted the fatal ten over his prostrate form. He could not rise, so dazed was he from the final volley from the champion's gloves. Dempsey carried him to his corner in true sportman-like style, and received the applause of the throng. The training of both men is gone into detail, showing the methods employed by both camps to put their Jack and George into shape. One is then taken to Jersey City and sees the enormous crowds arriving from every point of the continent, the arena before the contest and the wonderful spectacle of 90,000 fight fans gathered to witness "The Battle of the Century." Admission 50 and 75 cents plus 5 cents War Tax.

WORLD OUTLOOK DURING WEEK

The world outlook for a good wheat crop is considered good, sixteen countries that normally produce one-half of the total wheat crop of the world showing fair increase. Until complete returns are received there will be uncertainty. It is reported and quite believable that the agricultural situation in Russia is in a serious state, and another large producer, India, has suffered severely from drought. The United States is expecting a large crop and at present in Canada the general outlook is good but not for a record crop, as some sections of the West have been rather seriously affected from various causes. That rye should be largely sown in the drought area is now advocated. It would practically ensure a profitable crop. Mixed farming is becoming more and more the safeguard of the western middle-aged people of this country. It was quite common to hear the remark that though the soil of Manitoba and the far West was black and deep nothing would grow on it. When the C. P. R. was projected the remark was made by a prominent politician that it would never earn enough to pay for the axle grease used." The story of Western development, the bursting granaries and elevators, the countless trainloads of wheat and other grains, its cattle on a thousand hills, the desert blossoming as the rose, not to mention the millions on millions of dollars paid out in dividends on that first transcontinental railway, reads like a fairy tale from the pages of the Arabian Nights.

An event that affects a large part of our population directly and indirectly has partly taken place during the week in the reopening of the thousands of public schools over our land and the calling in for that purpose the young from all their holiday resorts and in many instances ending the vacations for parents and other members of the family groups. Some schools are favored by a little further extension of time before the bell rings. It is the first sharp reminder that the summer is fleeting. A little touch of frost in some localities and the tinge of color already appearing in forests are further hints that the season is advancing.

Attention has been called to the further possibilities of air transportation by the arrival at Halifax from Ottawa of a hydroplane piloted by Lieut. Colonel Robert G. Leckie, D. S. O. D. F. C., the trip being made in less than ten hours, averaging nearly 100 miles an hour.

Great interest was aroused by the announcement that the giant airship ZR-2, 695 feet in length, was ready for testing in England prior to her acceptance by the United States Government for whom the great craft was built. It was with great dismay and horror that the cables were read giving account of its collapse in mid-air over the city of Hull; followed by an immediate explosion and fall, not into the crowded thoroughfares of the sight-seeing city but bravely happened in the yard, and trains were guided in its death race into the River Humber, leaving a death toll of track.

guns and murder them, but for the sake of his wife and children he did not murder; the Whites since they were in the place were in trouble and law."

Next time I saw Stewart was on Wednesday afternoon; have had no talk with him since; I saw Ross dead at Tulippe's place.

Cross-examined—I saw Stewart at George Corrish's store that day; he seemed to be sober; it was seven o'clock; did not see any firearms on him then.

...Matthew Tulippe Called, Sworn ...

I am a son of Nicholas Tulippe; I lived with my father, was there when the stuff was taken out; know Millett Stewart and James Ross; heard of Ross' death Wednesday morning; Witness said Torrie came about 9 a. m. She ran with a small stick in her hand upstairs; Ross carried her down and outside; all were friendly when we parted; John White sold out my father's property; I am married; I saw Stewart at the Tulippe place between twelve and one before the agreement was signed; Stewart was on the woods side of the road; Joe asked me to phone to the Sheriff if this was lawful; he told me to go ask Stewart to use his phone; Torrie told me he was there; Stewart said "no damn use to go to the phone, once on the road you can't do a thing, the only thing to do is to fight them out." He picked up a stone of about four pounds and said "Take this and go behind me; let on you are friendly and when they are not looking, hit him; I would go kill the whole bunch, but my wife won't let me."

I said "No, I won't get anything." He sent for Joe. There was no hard feelings against Ross but against Whites who sold the property; I saw Millett Stewart at Anthony Savoy's that evening at dark; I was in the kitchen; Torrie came in and went to the dining room; soon Stewart came in and said "Come down with us to the old home." I said "No." Anthony also refused. He said "I'll go." To my mother he said "Be ready to go back tonight." He was in his sock feet. Fred and Joe slept at Anthony's; it was about ten before I went to bed. I was not out of bed when I heard someone say Jim Ross had been found dead. Fred and I went down and saw him. I saw Millett Stewart at the inquest. He said "Too bad about Ross." I said "Yes." He said "Oh, its all in a life-time."

Adjourned till ten Wednesday morning.

SLIGHT WRECK ON C. N. R. AT NEWCASTLE

A broken rim was the cause of a slight wreck on the C. N. R. here Wednesday morning. The north way freight had just left Newcastle when the accident happened. The engine and two cars pitched off into the ditch. No one was hurt, and traffic was not interrupted as the accident happened in the yard, and trains were able to pass on upper number one track.

HOW HALIFAX SOLVED ITS GREAT HOUSING PROBLEM

Three years ago Halifax, "Canada's Nova Scotian Gateway," was dealt the most devastating blow suffered by any city outside the war zone when the "Imo" rammed the French munitions ship "Mont Blanc," killed 2,000 people and wrecked an area of two square miles. To-day Halifax is a bigger, better and more beautiful city than it was before the TNT blast because its great housing problem has been solved successfully and because the new is even better than the old. As a wounded war veteran Halifax received a bonus of about $20,000,000 from Canada, Great Britain and the United States for relief work and a commission with full power to deal with the subject was appointed. Fully 5,000 people were comfortably housed in temporary barracks resembling a war-time camp, 8,000 homes were repaired and 1,000 homes accommodating 6,000 people have been built by the commission which has practically finished its titanic task. In one new group of 322 dwellings built of hydro-stone, or concrete blocks, there are 87 buildings containing four dwellings each and the remainder contain from two to six families. Each row faces a park and in the rear is a service lane. Each building has all modern improvements and is exceedingly attractive.

Halifax is the chief city of Nova Scotia, the "Land of Evangeline," and has one of the finest as well as one of the most beautiful harbors in the world. Overlooking the city is the old Citadel with its stone walls, moats, dungeons and frowning can-

QUEBEC REDUCES STUMPAGE RATES

Quebec, Sept. 2.—Following serious consideration, the government has temporarily suspended the order-in-council of October, 1920, regulating the rates of stumpage, also reducing the royalty fee, the schedule of prices for 1918 being adopted, which is nearly fifty per cent less than that of 1920. It will greatly reduce the revenue of the department of lands and forests, but the government deems it preferable to suffer the loss and give work to the thousands of wood cutters who are awaiting his decision.

FREIGHT RATES

Chairman Carvell has called the big chiefs of Canada's railways that a reduction in freight rates is now due. An Ottawa dispatch says that the roads are resisting strenuously the demand for a reduction in the rates, claiming that it is not warranted. All the same a reduction must come and the sooner it comes the better for the business of the country.

Miss Emma Delana returned to Stephen last week after spending the past year at her home here.

Painful Neuralgia Torturing Sciatica

Both Come From the Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different nerves are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatica, nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so. and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may relieve the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 70 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Changing Climate of Eastern Canada

Every once in a while the proposal to change the climate of Eastern Canada by building a dam in the Straits of Belle Isle gets itself into the public eye. The Popular Science Monthly gives the latest outline of this dream of engineering optimists. Their plans involve the eventual alteration of the whole coast of the dominion's eastern provinces, and they hold out hopes that northern New England may get a slice of these benefits also. Land in the Maritime Provinces, we are assured, would rise in value by some billions, wealth and industries would leap, new cities would grow up, and Montreal would become a second New York—perhaps a larger one. These trifling adjustments, we are told, are to follow a diversion of the Labrador current from the coast and its replacement with the Gulf Stream, effected by building a ten-mile dam across the straits of Belle Isle. Walter Noble

Burns describes this stupendous scheme in the magazine named above, and asserts that the project is being considered by engineers in connection with a projected railroad across the straits to connect Newfoundland with the mainland. We read: "The straits of Belle Isle, a narrow channel separating Newfoundland from Labrador, is a hole in the wall of the Atlantic seaboard that is mainly responsible for the bleak winter climate of eastern Canada. Plug this hole, and eastern Canada and New England would have a climate as mild and delightful as that of the Carolinas. Such a dam would cost about $10,000,000. It would require a solid strip of stone and concrete ten miles in length and fifty feet wide.

"A group of British capitalists have asked concessions from the Canadian Government to build a railway from Quebec to St. John's, Newfoundland. The road would cross the strait of Belle Isle by the dam. British engineers have surveyed the route and reported on the feasibility and cost of the dam. The road would make St. John's one of the great shipping points for Canadian export trade and would materially shorten the voyage to Europe.

"Canada has not yet announced its decision in the matter. Construction of the railway need not necessarily involve a change of climate. If a portion of the dam were built in the form of a bridge to permit the flow of water through it, there would be no climate transformation. To change the climate the hole must be plugged tightly. "The dam would block the Labrador current from flowing into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The Labrador current has its origin in the Arctic Ocean and is the dominant factor in molding the climate of eastern Newfoundland and Quebec, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and the New England States. It makes the summers cool and pleasant, but it adds to the already severe rigors of the northern winter. It affects not only climate, but business.

"With the dam obstructing its passage through Belle Isle Strait, the Labrador current would be forced out into the Atlantic Ocean. What would become of it out there is a matter of speculation. The pressure of water

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q. "I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good. Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives.' 'Fruit-a-tives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure."

flowing up from the south, the engineers declare, eventually would force it in a giant curve back into the Arctic in the region of Spitzbergen. But its icy flow would no longer wash the shores of Canada and New England the engineers say that, with the Labrador current diverted eastward, the Gulf Stream would swing in against the northern coasts.

The Gulf Stream makes the climate of England what it is. Without it, England would be as cold, and possibly as desolate, as Labrador.

"If, after a run of several thousand miles across the ocean, with icebergs melting along its northern rim, the Gulf Stream still has enough caloric to make the climate of such a northern country as England temperate and livable, how much greater would its effect be in ameliorating the climate of Canada and New England?"

This scheme, Mr. Burns comments, sounds perfectly plausible. But, he asks, will the ocean currents obey the behests of human pigmies essaying to direct their courses? Then, again, is there not a chance that, while the Gulf Stream is replacing the Labrador current on American shores, the Labrador current, diverted eastward, would envelop the British Isles? He continues:

"While the climate of eastern Canada is being changed to that of Virginia, is there not a possibility that the climate of England would be changed to that of Labrador? These disturbing questions are answered by the engineers in the negative but there are other persons not quite so sure. If the scientists ever had had any previous experience in juggling ocean currents, the situation might seem less enigmatical.

"If the wall of masonry across the strait of Belle Isle would change the climate, it would also alter the agricultural destinies of eastern Canada.

"New industries would spring up to meet the changed conditions. New wealth would swarm in, seeking investments. New cities would arise. Population would increase enormously. Canada would soon become a competitor of the United States in the markets of the world. Montreal would loom as the trade rival of New York and challenge the commercial supremacy of the continent."

A Successful Woman Farmer in British Columbia

(1) Lillooet country, showing Mrs. Foster's ranch in foreground. (2) Mrs. Foster, of Lillooet, B.C.

At Lillooet, about thirty miles west of Ashcroft and north of Lytton, right in the middle of the dry belt in British Columbia where irrigation is the magic wand that turns the desert into a fertile garden, there is a little 32-acre farm owned and solely managed by a woman.

It catches the eye by its appearance of orderly prosperity, its shady orchard, well-hoed gardens, the sleekness of the milk-cows grazing in the higher paddocks and the vivid green of its alfalfa fields stands out in strong relief against the vast brown barren slopes of the surrounding country, sun-baked, covered with sage-brush and little else.

Wearily as she is with a life-time's work of fifty-three years behind her, Mrs. Foster still carries on — as faithfully and as thoroughly as she did twenty years ago. With the help of an Indian who comes in to do the ploughing and give a hand with the haying and harvesting, she and a niece, who sometimes stays with her, manage the whole work of the farm alone.

Mrs. Foster gets more out of her acreage than any other farmer in the province. Every inch of ground is turned to account on a methodical and scientific system; the vegetable and animal growth are made to react to each other's mutual benefit and both to the good of their owner and the country.

Her five milk-cows pasture on the farm and she sells all her dairy produce to an hotel; besides these there are a couple of work-horses, pigs and chickens. Every scrap of feed used for the stock is produced on the ranch itself.

Mrs. Foster has worked down to a fine point just exactly how much space it is necessary to devote to alfalfa, grain and hay in order to do this and nothing is bought in the way of feed except perhaps clam-shell for the chickens. The crop and the animals balance each other and no overweight is allowed on either side.

This farmer is also a first class gardener, both in theory and in practice, and has sweet corn earlier and over a longer period than anyone else in British Columbia. She devotes about a quarter of an acre of well adapted land to her early spring garden and another piece with a colder aspect to her late summer planting; so by a carefully planned system of sowing in succession she has a plentiful supply of fresh vegetables to sell to the hotels and also to ship to other points.

Lillooet is never troubled by late frosts so her tomatoes are early and these she sells by the bucketful and last year shipped 100 boxes to the coast. The orchard contains every sort of tree-fruit, including Italian prunes, peaches and apricots, of which latter Mrs. Foster has two big trees (now in bearing) grown from seed sown since she came to the place nine years ago. Last year she shipped away 700 boxes of fall and winter apples.

There are some healthy looking hedges of grape vines which bear profusely and plenty of raspberries and other small fruits, but her speciality is melons for which she is famous. There are rows and rows of these, canteloupes, musk and water melons for all of which she finds a ready market. Her four beehives are partly the reason why her fruit is so successful.

And so we take off our hats to this woman who is "carrying on" so wisely and so well to our country's benefit.—H. G. W.

Western Cattle for United States Shows

(1) Aberdeen Angus Calves. (2) A Perfect Hereford Head.

Among the many fine exhibits at this year's International Stock Show at Chicago, a string of beef cattle that has been entered by the University of Alberta is certain to create considerable interest. This exhibit consists of a dozen more pure bred bull calves that have been bred by some of the leading breeders in the province, and comprise some fine specimens of the Hereford, Aberdeen Angus and Shorthorn breeds.

These animals have been brought together by A. A. Dowell, Professor of Animal Husbandry at the University of Alberta. Professor Dowell wanted some good steers to use for practical judging purposes with his students at the University. To purchase from the leading breeders of the province the class of stock required would have entailed a considerable expense, as top prices would have had to be paid. Moreover, he may not have been able to obtain just the animals required. After considerable thinking on the subject, Professor Dowell hit upon an idea which enabled him to get just the animals he wanted, and at practically no expense to the University. Knowing that many of the breeders in the province were not inclined for various reasons, to fit their cattle and show them at the leading shows in a manner to do them justice, he suggested that the various breeders in the province should give one of their calves to the University, and the University would take the necessary steps to fit the animals for show purposes. The plan was duly submitted to the Alberta Breeders' Association at their annual convention last year, and not only received the approval of the Association, but the individual members offered to allow Professor Dowell to select what he considered the best calves in their herds.

This offer was immediately taken advantage of by Professor Dowell and during the three months following he visited the twenty-four breeders in various parts of the province and selected fourteen calves. To these were afterwards added two young Shorthorns from the University's own herd.

Most of these calves were taken direct from the range, but they have been well cared for ever since. They came to the University as sucklings and nurse cows had, of course, to be provided for them. If the University had been able to take care of a large number of animals these would have easily have been forthcoming. "The greatest difficulty we have had," says Professor Dowell, "has not been in securing these animals, but in refusing the many good animals other breeders have offered. Why a good many breeders actually urged the University to send a representative to their farms, and take away the best of their calves."

It is now more than twelve months since these calves were brought to the Alberta University farm at Edmonton and they have all developed into strong uniform looking animals, each showing markedly the characteristics of his breed. For two seasons these fine animals have assisted the students at the University to acquire a knowledge of the many fine points of stock-judging. Now they are ready for showing, and people in other parts of the continent will have an opportunity of seeing the class of animals that are being raised in the extreme Canadian West.

First they will go to Chicago, to be shown at the International Livestock Show. Later they will probably be shown at other shows in the United States and in Eastern Canada. Wherever they are shown the quality and uniformity of these animals is sure to cause favorable comment among those who know good cattle

HE WAS ALARMED ABOUT HIS WIFE

Says She Was Only A Shadow of Her Former Self Before She Began Taking Tanlac.

"My wife and I will praise Tanlac as long as we live, for it is nothing less than wonderful the way it has restored her to good health again," said A. J. Johnson, of 49 Cornwallis street, Halifax, N. S.

"For about a year before she started taking Tanlac she was in such a run-down condition that she could hardly drag around. She had no appetite and in fact she was afraid to eat very much because of what she suffered afterwards. Whatever she ate would sour and ferment and bloat her up something awful. She was also troubled with terrible headaches and dizzy spells. Her nerves were in such a bad state, she lost weight and became so weak she couldn't remain up long each day. I was very worried about her, for although she had tried just about everything in the way of medicines, none of them seemed to do her any good.

"We heard of so many people being helped by Tanlac that my wife decided to give it a trial. The first bottle did her so much good that she kept on with it until now she is well as she ever was in her life. She has a fine appetite and can eat anything without having the least trouble afterwards. She has gained ten pounds in weight and is stronger in every way. She is never bothered with headaches or dizzy spells now and her nerves are so steady she sleeps all night and gets up in the morning feeling fine and able to do the day's work.

THE ANNUAL CLEAN-UP

As soon as the breeding season is over the fowl that are not intended to be retained for future breeders should be disposed of. The birds should be either put into a yard or confined to part of the yard, the rest being limed, ploughed or spaded, and seeded to green crop such as rape or rye.

All litter should be removed from the house and the ceiling, walls and floor thoroughly swept. Movable fixtures should be taken out and the whole interior given a thorough washing. The best way to do this is to use the hose if you have one, after the hose give the building a good flooding and scrub it down with a stiff brush. If there is no hose, be even more careful about the scrubbing. After the house has been thoroughly cleaned give it a soaking with a good strong disinfectant. One of the coal tar preparations will be found satisfactory for this purpose, this should be applied with a spray pump so that it will be forced into all the cracks and crevices of the building. If there is no spray pump, use a brush, but be sure to get it into these cracks and crevices.

The house should be left standing for a couple of days to dry out, leaving it wide open to allow the sun and air to enter freely. It should then be given a good application of whitewash. The fixtures, nest boxes, roosts and dropping board which have been removed should be treated in a similar manner.

At the time of this annual house cleaning it is a good plan to note what repairs to the houses, fixtures and fences are needed and have them made as soon as possible. Also clean up and burn any accumulation of rubbish leaving nothing under which vermin may hide. A clean house free from lice and mites is easy to keep clean. Then see that the pullets are healthy and free from lice, when they are put in, and the problem of winter eggs is more than half solved.

WESTERN POLITICS

Those who assume that the grain growers party will make a clean sweep in the west may get a few pointers from what is said by a correspondent of the Sydney Post, who writes from Edmonton, in the province of Alberta. This correspondent, the Post claims, is exceptionally well informed and he says the inference that because Medicine Hat elected a Farmer candidate by a large majority to the House of Commons, and the Province went overwhelmingly Agrarian in the local elections, equally striking successes may be expected to be won by the Crerar party in the next Federal contest is based on a quite superficial knowledge of political conditions in Alberta. He argues that the Medicine Hat result reflects but rural sentiment, whereas redistribution will give the towns and cities a larger share of the representation in the next House. The outcome of the local election he ascribes to a popular revolt against the Stewart government because of its indefensible record, and claims that the Conservatives voted solidly with the Agrarians to bring about its overthrow. Hon. George Hoadly, the ex-leader of the Conservatives, is an influential member of the new Government, and that fact, the Post's Edmonton correspondent is convinced, will ensure the neutrality of the Provincial Administration in the Federal election. He predicts that the Federal contest in Alberta will be a virtually straight fight between the Government and Agrarian parties, the Liberal Opposition being no longer a factor to reckon with in the west. In such a state of facts, he anticipates that thousands of old-line Liberals, saving to choose in the majority of cases between Government and Farmer candidates, will line up in support of the National Liberal and Conservative party. He concludes that "there will be no Medicine Hat landslide in favor of Crerar in the Dominion elections. The needle points to an opposite pole. When the ballots are counted and the shouting done, Melghen will head the list from the Province of Alberta. He cannot help it."

In appraising the whole political situation in the West, there are two significant facts to be borne in mind. One is that the Agrarians cannot carry a single urban constituency in any of the four Western Provinces. The other is that the Agrarians have been unable to gain a foothold in rural British Columbia. And the urban constituencies of the Prairie Provinces, taken with British Columbia, will elect a substantial majority of the Western representatives to the next House of Commons.

WOMEN'S WORK AT THE EXHIBITION

The department devoted to Woman's Work in the St. John Exhibition this year, is attracting more and more attention from women who realize the importance of gathering together the results of feminine accomplishment in handcraft. The sections devoted to needlework will show beautiful examples of sewing and embroidery. In addition to the exhibit of adult work, the children have been given an opportunity to show what they can do and there will be school exhibits, examples of sewing and handcraft work from the playgrounds and from the kindergartens as well as from private individuals. A special feature of the department will be one of "old time" needlework to which a number of very fine samples and other specimens of the work of the great grandmothers of the present generation of needlewomen have been contributed. Several of the exhibits are close to the century mark in age and are very valuable. These form the first loan exhibit of this kind held in the department and have already created a great deal of interest.

The Women's Institutes of New Brunswick also are making a special exhibit of needlework with a practical demonstration in millinery during several afternoons. The exhibit is under the care of the superintendent of institutes and promises to be most interesting.

Another special feature will be an exhibit of New Brunswick home spun and home made textiles. This will occupy the space of the Caraquez flax exhibit and is a practical demonstration of what New Brunswick can do in raising flax and making linen.

Realizing the difficulties that are attending present day housekeeping owing to the dearth of domestic help, an exhibit, of electrical housekeeping will be made in the department. Practical demonstrations of the efficiency of electricity when applied to the laundry, the kitchen and living room will be made daily. This exhibit is also an initial one and it is hoped will create the interest it merits.

A thrift exhibit will be a feature of the exhibit of the St. John Women's Institute—a valuable contribution to knowledge at a time when the economic conditions demand the strictest regard for conservation.

The Red Cross booth, the soldiers' booth, and other features of present interest are located in this department and will be of value showing as they do the divergence of woman's work.

DWELLING BURNED

The dwelling house with store attached of Mr. Brotsky, situated on Upper King street, was totally destroyed by fire, which broke out about four o'clock Thursday morning.

The cause of the fire is unknown, and when discovered the whole building was a mass of flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Brotsky barely escaped with their lives. An alarm was rung and the fire department responded, but as it was half a mile from the nearest hydrant, they were unable to render any assistance, and the buildings were burned to the ground. The loss is covered by Insurance.

THE ST. JOHN STANDARD

"The St. John Standard will resume publication some time this week." Hedy B. Mackinnon, general manager of the Standard, advised the Globe Thursday. Mr. Mackinnon stated that the Standard would continue to operate as an independent newspaper. Asked to say definitely when the Standard would resume, the general manager explained that preparations were under way for handling the mechanical operations and as soon as the mechanical staff is assembled, the paper will come out. The editorial and news staff are ready to start.
