"People Will Have It."
The wonderful healing and soothing properties of Lumsden & Wilson's Royal Glycerinated Balsam of Fir are the secret of success. Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and all other consumption quickly give way to its curative power. Nothing but its superiority over other remedies has created the demand for it from all parts of the Province, which has even extended to the United States. Why? Because every person who has used it speaks well of it. Druggists sell it Price 50 cts. per bottle. 6mo

Miss Knox recited in New York on the 25th, (Burr's anniversary), after which she will sail for Scotland where she intends to remain for some time.

There was a large turnout of the Reform Electors of East Huron in attendance at the Annual Meeting of the Association, held in Brussels on last Saturday.

As was announced last week the Mission Band in connection with Knox Church, met on Saturday last. Over forty children were present, and all spent a very pleasant time. The work done by the Band last year was very satisfactory indeed.

Rev. John Wakefield, formerly of North-st. Methodist church, delivered two stirring discourses on mission work in that church last Monday. The sermon in the morning was a particularly effective one, and drew a large collection.

VITAL STATISTICS.—There were registered by the Clerk of Goderich township for the year 1888, 43 births, 14 marriages and 29 deaths.

Dr. M. Nicholson, the West-end dentist, makes the preservation of the natural teeth a specialty. Gas administered from 9 a. m. for the painless extraction of teeth.

Little Tommy Maginn, one of the two brothers sent from Goderich, to the Reformatory a few months ago, died in that institution lately from diphtheritic croup.

The meaneat man up to date is Snifkins. He sold Jones half an interest in a cow, and then refused to divide the milk, maintaining that Jones owned the front half.

The Huronites that have bought land in the Sunny South intend to call their plantations the Huron plantation. It has three miles of a front upon the edge of the Tebe Bay.

Conductor McKnight, one of the most obliging men who ever ran on this section of the G. T. R., was transferred to the Warton branch yesterday, after being five years on this run.

Mr. Wm. Slater, of Guelph, has shipped two car loads of stone for the new post office and custom house in Goderich, and Mr. James Emalle is about to ship three. This is only the first of a large order.—Mercury.

The recent warm winter weather was hard on winter fruit in cellars. It is estimated that in New York alone 250,000 barrels of apples have been ruined by rot. Pick your apples over if you wish to save them.

A matter of interest to Organists, Organ Students and Teachers is a new patent organ pedal attachment for Pianos manufactured by Messrs Newcombe & Co., 107 Church St. Toronto. Particulars on application.

A four horse load of young people enjoyed a drive to Goderich on Tuesday evening of last week, where they accepted the hospitality of Mr. John Acheson, and managed to get back to town just in time for a seven o'clock breakfast.—New Era.

Remember the open meeting of Royal Templars, in the Temperance hall Tuesday evening next, 5th Feb. A good program has been provided. Rev. A. McMillan, of Auburn, will give a temperance address. Chairs taken at 7:30 o'clock. Silver collection.

The Globe says: M. G. Cameron, a prominent Huron County Young Liberal and a son of M. C. Cameron, was proposed as a member of the Young Liberal Club, Toronto to the evident satisfaction of those present. Discussion of Maodonagh's motion will take first place in next Monday's proceedings.

The Waterford Star takes objection to the system of auditing the municipal accounts in general use. It points to the following item in the audited accounts of a municipality in its own county: "To legal advice and sawing wood, $6," and asks in astonishment what connection there can be between legal advice and sawing wood that they should be grouped together.

KEEPING TRACK OF THEM.—The Brussels Post of Jan. 18th, gives a list of where the "old boys" of the last ten or fifteen years are, and how they are employed. Among the names are found Dr. W. J. R. Holmes, Huron County Treasurer, Goderich, Dan. McDonald, Clerk Co. Court Goderich, and D. McGillicuddy, editor and proprietor of Signal, Goderich.

ADDRESS OF JAPAN.—On Monday, February 4th, at 4 p.m., an address on Japan, its people and customs, will be delivered in North-street Methodist church, by Miss Cartmell, the first female missionary to that country. Miss Cartmell is highly spoken of by the press, and is not only a gifted speaker but is also thoroughly conversant with the manners and customs of the people of Japan. The ladies are specially invited, and gentlemen will be welcomed. Admission 10c.

Robt. Lander Walker, a former employee of THE SIGNAL, died at the residence of his uncle, Mr. John Walker, on Friday last. For some time past he had worked in Saginaw City, Mich., and last spring contracted consumption. He returned to Goderich for change of treatment, but the disease had made too great progress to be stayed and he finally succumbed. He was a good workman and a general favorite with all with whom he came in contact. His funeral took place on Saturday last to Maitland cemetery, where the remains of his mother and father (the late Robert Walker, formerly librarian of Goderich mechanics' institute) rest.

PORT ARTHUR, JAN. 25.—At the council meeting today the agreement with Hastings Bros. & Co. for the erection of a flour mill was ratified. A public meeting is being held this evening to discuss the matter, and leading citizens will give a bond guaranteeing a bonus in case the mill is not passed. In this way work will be at once commenced on the erection of the mill, which will be of 500 barrels capacity. Hastings Bros. & Co. get $15,000, ten years' exemption, and buy their own site. Messrs Hastings & McGraw have sold their interest in the Winnipeg mill of Messrs Ogilvie for $90,000, and are at present doing business as grain commission merchants at Winnipeg. Both gentlemen are well and favorably known in Goderich.

T. C. Boullie, wholesale dealer in house furnishings, Brantford, is the guest of his brother-in-law, J. W. Pearen.

The Knox church Band of Hope entertainment will be held this evening. A good program has been prepared, and there should be a large turnout.

OWING to the absence of the editor in Toronto this week, and pressure on our columns caused by the publication of the county council proceedings, a large amount of interesting local and other matter is unavoidably crowded out.

Knox church Band of Hope will hold its regular meeting on Friday, February 1st, at four o'clock in the afternoon, in the basement of the church to install the new officers, practice for the evening entertainment and receive tickets of admission.

The Methodists of Listowel have extended a call to Rev. G. H. Cobbedick, of Galt, to become their pastor next June. As this gentleman (a former Huronite) was only transferred to Galt last year, it is not likely that the Listowel people will secure him.

The many friends in this vicinity of Mr. James Duncan, formerly of Goderich township, now of Drayton, Wellington County, will be sorry to learn that his entire family are ill with diphtheria, from which his eldest son, about 10 years of age, died a few days ago.

Great excitement prevails in Brantford owing to the terrible explosion of Nitro-glycerin in Buchanan Hollow some five miles from the city. Crowds visit the scene of the catastrophe daily. The people in this locality are requested to remember that Richardson's dental rooms are in the Opera Block. Give him a call.

OBITUARY.—Mrs. Sarah Black, an old resident, was stricken down with paralysis on Monday last, and after a few days' illness from the stroke. She had been failing for some months past, but seemed to be mending in health shortly before she was prostrated. Her funeral took place on Wednesday last, and was largely attended. Her death removes a well known figure from our midst.

NEW BOOKS AT MECHANICS' INSTITUTE LIBRARY.—John Holdsworth's Voyage to the Cape; A Sea Queen; Around the Galley Fire, by Clark Russell; Three Western Tales, by Gustave Aimard; She, by Haggard; Gascoyne, by Ballantyne; Robert Elsmere; John Ward, preacher. A number of Dickens' and Scott's have been added, making the list of their works complete.

NOTICE.—We will receive in a few days one of the largest and best stocks of note, letter and account papers, ruled and unruled, envelopes, etc., we have yet put on sale. We have a few thousand low priced envelopes on hand which we would like to clear out to make room.

Our sample books are always open to the public, showing the quality of printing we do, and our prices are reasonable at THE SIGNAL steam printing house.

Mr. A. Hansperger, piano tuner and repairer, who has been connected with the last six years, has severed his connection with that firm. His numerous friends and customers here will be glad to learn that he will continue to visit Goderich regularly as before. Parties requiring his services should leave orders at the British Exchange where he may be seen all next week.

THE MONTREAL CARNIVAL STAR.—We hear there is great excitement in Montreal over the publication of the Carnival number of the Montreal Star, one firm alone offering to buy and pay cash for one hundred thousand copies. The Carnival Star this year is said to be of surpassing grandeur. The public were prepared for something good, but did not dream of such a galaxy of beautiful and thrilling things. The Star number is retailed at thirty-five cents. If people don't know how it can be produced for the money they must ask for themselves. We can solve it.

VICTORIA STREET CHURCH.—The entertainment given by Mr. Sallows in this church on Tuesday evening, was not very largely attended, no doubt, on account of the entertainment having been given twice already within two months to large audiences here. However, the receipts were far more than to cover the expenses, and those that were there enjoyed the entertainment. A new feature was the showing of photograph of the moon, as obtained by the great Lick telescope. We understand Mr. Sallows had abundant encouragement this season to justify and addition to his stock of slides which if as good as those he has already obtained will insure success.

DEATH OF MISS PAPET.—The Stratford Herald says: Miss Leonora Papet, of Inverness street, died on Sunday evening, 20th inst., of consumption, from which she has been a great sufferer for the past eight or ten months, aged 27 years. Miss Papet was a sister-in-law of G. T. R. Conductor W. R. Fitzgerald, and has lived with her sister in this city for eight years, both coming here from Goderich on the marriage of her sister to Mr. Fitzgerald. Mr. Samuel Papet, father of the deceased, was telegraphed for at San Francisco, where he has been surveying, but was unable to reach Stratford until Wednesday. Miss Papet was an estimable young woman and had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, whose sympathy goes out to the mourning ones. She was a consistent member of the Central Methodist church, and was a constant attendant there as long as her health permitted. The remains were interred at Goderich.

Mr. George Price returned from Belleville last week.

NOTICE.—Merchants and others desirous of having their business placed prominently in the Goderich Illustrated for 1889 will please leave word at this office, as arrangements are being made for proceeding with the work at once.

STRANGE CASE OF DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE.—A large and fashionable audience was gathered in the Grand Opera House, on Thursday evening of last week, to witness Mr. Percy Hunting in his dramatic representations of Mr. Louis Stevenson's well known novel. Mr. Hunting enacted the difficult role of the widely dissimilar characters of Dr. Jeekyll, and Mr. Hyde, with great histrionic ability. The scenic effect was good, and his support fair—the part of Dr. Lanyon being very pleasingly sustained. The strange weird nature of the plot is exceptionally original, and speaks well for the versatility of the mind of its author. To propound a new theory, or conceivably a new theory, is more difficult than it appears to the critical public, and Rider Haggard, and R. Louis Stevenson, stand at the head of the list literati in novelistic success of this style. Probably not every member of the audience of last week, who were awed by the uncanny nature of Mr. Hunting's representation, divined the deep moral lesson propounded by this physiological study. It reveals to us a conflict between the moral and intellectual part of man. At middle age, Dr. Jeekyll finds himself committed to a profound duplicity of conduct. A life to the world of high respectability—an inner life of sin. He regards himself as a double dealer, not a hypocrite, as he is thoroughly earnest in either the one or the other existence. To part the evil from the good, into separate identities, becomes his dream, even as the search for the "Elixir Vitæ" was that of Balaam's "Zanoni." This seemed to his mystic scientific mind a possible and highly desirable state of being. Scientific lore was brought to bear upon it, and a drug compounded, by which this extraneous evil was detached from the person of Jeekyll, and placed in a second form, bearing the expression of the lower elements of his soul—So does all evil leave its imprint of deformity and decay—a commingling of good with it, as is represented by human nature in general, is fair to the eyes of the world, but evil, par excellence, could never fail to draw forth any feelings but those of the deepest repugnance and horror.

Dr. Jeekyll succeeded in possessing these dual natures, but there was one slight flaw apparently in the transformation—one nature was, as desired, wholly evil and satanic, but the other was not the purest good, the just and holy man—it was still the incarnation of the deepest repugnance and horror.

No. 16.

To the Editor of THE SIGNAL.
DEAR SIR.—I have heretofore mentioned my friend Ben's nervousness when handling money, and also that the officers had become liable for sundry necessities for their men, for which liabilities they gave orders on Ben as our paymaster. Now, on our way from Windsor, these parties knowing that we were some to Amherstburg for money, were all on the outlook for us, and no sooner would Ben get rid of one or two of them than he would begin to count over the stock, find out some imaginary error and get so confused that he could not count half a hundred correctly, and then he would cry, "John Young, get me to help him, until we fairly forced him to take out an hundred or two dollars at a time and look the rest up until that was done; but notwithstanding all that, Sir, I shall yet have to show you some instances of his nerve and firmness in real danger, that very few could have exceeded. On our arrival at Mr. Sutherland's and soap factory on the flat in front of Mrs. Crane's residence and back of the Ocean House at the harbor, and he having collected a crew of fishermen for the spring fishing at the Sauble mouth they had only been there two days making ready for their work when not little to their astonishment they saw our perilous predicament and saved us. Had Ben been less expert with the paddle or less firm of the nerve we could scarcely have awaited their arrival for he was little else than one lump of ice, his clothes included, having for a considerable time made so little outward movement in keeping the head of the canoe to the weather. We stopped two nights with our friends in their new shanty, when the weather becoming moderate and the ice having moved out again we started on our homeward voyage, but had only got a very few miles on our way when the variable wind sent the ice back upon us with every appearance of a more violent storm than the one we had just suffered from; but we continued to push on with Ben still at the helm until we were fairly forced to get ashore, although it happened to be on the edge of a swamp. The signs of a fearful storm coming upon us were now so evident that we landed all our traps, and by our utmost exertions got the canoe raised about two feet above the water and made fast to a sapling.

I had hoped, sir, to finish these reminiscences this week, but find it impossible to do so satisfactorily, so pray excuse the mistake for one week more.

From our own correspondent.
It is pleasing to be able to state that Messrs Anthony Black and Wm. Begley, who have been ill for some time, are able to be out, and are getting better.

At the annual meeting of the West Wawanosh Mutual Fire Insurance Company, referred to in our last, the following gentlemen were elected as directors: E. Acheson, Goderich township, Alex. Stewart, W. Wawanosh, who is also deputy-revee of said township, and John Ballantyne, Huron township, Bruce county. The manner in which the business of the said Company was conducted by the directors, and the secretary, (who composed the staff of officials referred to in last week's notice) was so satisfactory, so praiseworthy, and so well grounded objections and difficulties of the working and carrying on the institution in its various departments, gave such general satisfaction to all concerned, that the company has good reason to congratulate itself on the substantial progress which has been made during the past year, as the auditors' and also the directors' reports corroborate the fact that the West Wawanosh Mutual Fire Insurance Company, ranks very highly amongst the existing insurance companies in the Province of Ontario, and it is therefore a safe, sound and economical Company, well worthy of the patronage of all persons having isolated and farm property to insure in.

We are called upon to chronicle the death and burial of Arnold Girvin, 8 years old son of Mr. David Girvin, of Ashfield. He died on Thursday morning of last week after a short illness. His remains were interred in Dungannon cemetery on Saturday, the 26th inst., being followed by a large concourse of relatives, friends and sympathizing neighbors. We extend our sincere sympathy to the bereaved father, the more so, as he has been during the last few years called upon to endure a series of deep afflictions. May he be sustained and comforted in his trial by Him who knows how to comfort and sustain under such trying afflictions.

The annual Sabbath school convention, of the Dungannon and Nile circuit will be held at Dungannon on Tuesday, Feb. 6th, 1889, in the Methodist and Presbyterians churches here. A successful affair is anticipated, as there is an excellent program prepared. There will be two sessions—forenoon, commencing at 10 o'clock a.m., afternoon, commencing at 1.45 p.m. Further particulars may be seen in pamphlets.

We have since our last been favored with a slight fall of snow, so as to make a little sleighing, and which our farmers are endeavoring to use to the best advantage in the way of getting produce to market and logs to the sawmills. Our sawmill at Dungannon, considering the season and scarcity of sleighing, is getting a good quantity of logs, in fact the greatest number of any in this neighborhood as yet.

On getting round Kettle Point, we found that the wind had changed ahead of us and it soon came on a storm of rain and sleet freezing as it fell, but by Ben's advice—and he was much our senior—we persevered until we neared the mouth of the Sauble river, where we found the wind and current to be much too strong for us, and in spite of our utmost exertions fast driving us out to the lake, when to our utter astonishment and joy we descried a boat with five or six men in it pulling down the river at their utmost speed to our rescue. About a year before this period a Mr. Wheeler—an Irbertian—had established an ashery and soap factory on the flat in front of Mrs. Crane's residence and back of the Ocean House at the harbor, and he having collected a crew of fishermen for the spring fishing at the Sauble mouth they had only been there two days making ready for their work when not little to their astonishment they saw our perilous predicament and saved us. A member of the medical staff in a London hospital being recently asked by a reporter of the Post... "It would be difficult to estimate the number, but it is unquestionably great. We sometimes find even children with drugged livers, due to the habit of giving infants gin to soothe them while teething. Drink in public houses were that we should have to close half our wards, or rather, we should be able to take twice as many patients!"

THE POET'S CORNER.

Something made of nothing, tasting very sweet; A most delicious compound, with ingredients complete; But if, on occasion, the heart and mind are sour, It has no great significance; it loses half its power. Something made of nothing, and never twice the same. Though 'tis known in every country where love has had a name; It is clearly meant for giving, though 'tis sometimes bought for gold. And, like coffee and potatoes, is not so good when cold. It often appeared discord, when words have failed to please; Whether bestowed carelessly or given just to tease; For a laugh will often save one from doing something worse. And the lips that taste this sweetness are seldom heard to curse. 'Tis the strangest, oddest mixture, this something made of naught, Which is never seen nor handled, although 'tis often caught. Which will not spoil in keeping, whatever be the climate. For this something made of nothing will stand the test of time.

BEAUTIFUL JIM.

By JOHN STRANGE WINTER.

CHAPTER XIX.

The colonel, who was staying at a hotel in Walsbury had betaken himself away from the afternoon by the time Beautiful Jim returned to it, so for that night he could do nothing to promote the scheme he had prepared for getting Tommy Earle sent back to headquarters. Therefore he had to wait until 10 o'clock in the morning, when Col. Barnes arrived in barracks.

TEN DAYS' LEAVE.

As soon as Beautiful Jim had a spare hour to himself he went down to the Duck's Tail and asked for the landlord. He came to him, looking a little frightened.

CHAPTER XX.

"Thank you, sir," said Jim, gravely, "young Earle won't be able to go to the funeral—he's ill in bed, but of course the doctor will tell you about that. Still, you'll be in—fact, he's been ill and unlike himself ever since we came here. The place does not suit him physically or morally, and I am perfectly certain if he remains here he will go to the dogs, nothing else."

CHAPTER XXI.

"I should speak for you in that case, Mr. Beresford," said Jim. "I have done you a wrong. You're a better woman than I am. The bar maid breathed a sigh of relief. 'I'm glad you think so, Mr. Beresford. I've been nearly out of my mind the last few days, for it's one thing to have a handsome young fellow making love to me and it's quite another to have murder on your mind. I've never been mixed up in anything of the sort before, and it's what I'm not liking for. I can tell you, 'No!' returned Jim, with sympathy. 'Then, Mr. Beresford, if Miss Meeking, as he moved to the table where he had laid his hat and stick, 'I suppose you are not going to tell on this poor lad?'" this terrible affair is over, sir, I should like a few days' leave. I should indeed. "That is easily managed," returned the colonel, kindly—then he hesitated, stammered a little, opened his mouth as if to speak, and flushed scarlet under his bronzed skin. "The fact is, I—I thought perhaps, after all that has happened—the mistake of your arrest and all that, you might find it a little painful to— to remain here."

"Not a bit, sir," said Jim, promptly. "It will be painful to me ever to think about Owen, no matter what part of the world I might be in, for he was the best friend I ever had in my life; but about the matter of arresting me—well, the police thought they had a clew, and they were quite right to follow it up. I am not at all tender on that point, sir, I assure you; and besides, everybody who knows me, who knew what friends he and I were, would laugh outright at the idea that I could have murdered him."

"It is very good of you to meet me like this, sir," Jim said to his dead friend's father, when that old gentleman held out his hand before every one assembled in the ante-room and shook it heartily. "All I can do for my poor lad now is to stand by his friend," returned the old man, sadly.

"Thank you, sir," said Jim, gratefully. "I shall never forget that you did stand by me, never."

CHAPTER XXII.

"I should speak for you in that case, Mr. Beresford," said Jim. "I have done you a wrong. You're a better woman than I am. The bar maid breathed a sigh of relief. to do with him, that I'd seen how set against a marriage his people would be. "Tommy Earle was ordered to return to his place; also one of the senior subalterns came to relieve Beautiful Jim, who was to return to headquarters, and one Capt. Moore came to take up command of the detachment."

"And so when as Jim found himself once more in Blankhampton, the colonel told him that he could have ten days' leave at any time that he liked. Naturally enough, he replied that he would like to have it once, for in the course of his conversations with Tommy, he had elicited the fact that his father and sister had returned to England and were in truth at their town house at that very time."

"So he went back to his hotel and straight to bed, only because the room he got to sleep the nearer he would seem to morning and to her. And in the morning, ridiculously early, that is to say between 11 and 12, he started off to Hans place, and there, still, she was alone, and best of all, there was something in her face and manner as she rose to greet him which made Beautiful Jim forget all cretories and take her in his arms. "Oh, my darling, my darling!" he cried, "my own darling!"

only a girl, the Earle who did not count? Assuredly, yes. her, I've never seen her since the week I was in London before I met you." "But how could Stuart know?" she persisted. Beautiful Jim's face turned like a stone. "He knew that I had no hand in it—that I was absolutely innocent," he replied. "Don't ask me any more, darling. The subject is too painful to me, for you know all Owen was the best friend I ever had in all my life."

For some minutes Nancy stood looking at him, her sweet dove's eyes filled with a light such as he had never seen shining in their clear depths before. "I believe," she said, slowly, "that you know who committed that murder."

THE TEMPERANCE WORK. The priests of Montreal preached on Temperance on the last Sunday in the month. They forbade their parishioners to give liquors to callers on New Year's Day.

Cardinal Manning has succeeded in persuading 80,000 persons in London alone, to enroll themselves in his Temperance League of the Cross. Rev Joseph Cook says: "High license glides the saloon, transforms the gin hole into the gin-palace, and so gives external respectability to the liquor traffic."

These persons who are still in doubt as to whether Prohibition will prohibit, should correspond with a Kansas man who is doing a good service to a seventeen years' imprisonment for selling 208 cases of beer, and has performed some standing against his property amount to $16,000. Here is an authority on that much discussed question. The Duchess of Sutherland, who had been for several years a total abstainer, wearing the blue ribbon, and who on several occasions opened Stafford House for temperance conferences, with addresses by the Bishop of Rochester, Canon Wilberforce and others, died in London recently in her sixtieth year.

More Remarkable Still.

Found at last, what the true public has been looking for these many years and that is a medicine which although but lately introduced, has made for itself a reputation second to none, the medicine is Johnson's Tonic Bitters which in conjunction with Johnson's Tonic Liver Pills has performed some most wonderful cures upon or impoverished blood soon becomes purified and enriched. Biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, liver complaint, languor, weakness, etc., soon disappear when treated by these excellent tonic medicines. Rules for Visitors.

1. Never give "pleasant surprises."—Nobody likes to be taken unawares in the midst of possible house-cleaning, sickness, or even the weekly washing. Don't delude yourself into thinking that the pleasure of seeing you will compensate for the inconvenience caused by your want of thought. Unless you are exceptionally agreeable it will not do it. One of the chief pleasures of paying or receiving visits is in anticipation.

Don't Bandage Your Eyes.

The custom prevalent among physicians as well as the laity, of tightly bandaging or tying up the eye as soon as it becomes inflamed or sore is a bad one. The effect upon the eye is bad. It precludes the free access and beneficial effects of the cool air, and at the same time prevents or greatly retards the free egress of the hot tears and morbid secretions of the inflamed conjunctive or corner, or both. In those cases, too, where a foreign substance has got into the eye, the bandage (which is usually clapped on the thing) presses the lid more closely against the ball and thus increases the pain and discomfort by augmenting the laceration, caused by the foreign body. This cannot fail to be harmful. In those cases where the light is painful it is my habit to adjust over the organ a neatly fitting shade, which, while it excludes the light, allows the free access of air.

RELIGIOUS. Interesting Paragraph. The churches of St. are increasing nearly the ministry. A Cedar Rapids, Ia. clergyman who is a member of the Christian Y. M. C. A. says: "The minister who, of ed the first sermon in and he is still of the cap in a good mistle. Canterbury, N. church that was built not been shingled sin shingles then put on pins, and were faster page. When the first best Diarrell was advised ways to appoint more laity. The Texas Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at its late meeting held in Dallas, adopted a recommendation that unfurnished wine be used in the sacrament. During the last three months of 1888, there were 563 prosecutions of tarem keeper through Ont. Of the, 380 cases were convicted, 182 dismissed, and 14 withdrawn. In ten of the cases the accused absconded. By some want of tact an innocent liquor dealer in the Northwest allowed the police to seize about 150 gallons of whiskey while en route from (Gleicher to Regina. The innocent one was fined $200 and his horses and wagons confiscated. It hardly pays to deal in whiskey these days. The stuff could have been sold for $1,200.

panied by a letter from the county solicitor certifying to the titles of the property upon which the loans were made, in accordance with the statute, and instructing the treasurer to pay the amount to the respective parties; a statement of the receipts and disbursements of the county treasurer for 1888, accompanied by a statement of collections from non-resident lands between May 1st, 1888, and December 31st, 1888, and a letter from the treasurer which we believe to be correct, and when the referees have examined the same and certified to their correctness, that they be printed in the minutes.

D. D. Wilson, chairman. Moved by Mr. Manning, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the clauses recommending the granting of pedlar's licenses to Stewart, Johnston and Reid, be referred back to the committee with instructions to report a recommendation making it obligatory upon the local municipality to assume one-half of the expense of such license, and further to make it necessary that the said applicant shall, with his application to this council, send a resolution favoring the granting of the same by the council of the local municipality. Carried.

The report as thus amended was then passed.

The Council went into committee on the whole, Mr. Griffin in the chair, when the report was amended by abolishing all exemptions from taxation, and the report as thus amended was adopted.

The following report of the Jail and Court House Committee was read:

REPORT OF JAIL AND COURT HOUSE COMMITTEE. We have visited the jail and found it in good order, and everything clean.

2. Recommending that the jailer be supplied through the clerk with the supplies asked for. Also that tenders be asked for all supplies for jail and court house, to take effect on and after 31st of March next, as we understand this has not been done for years. Also that double windows be put on the windows of the sheriff's and county attorney's offices, and that the clerk get a new carpet for the court house stairs, and suitable blinds for the court house windows.

3. The vault at the registry office is far too small, and we recommend that the county road commissioner be instructed to examine the same and report to this council at the June meeting the probable cost of an addition the same size as the present vault.

4. We recommend, in the event of any business being brought before the mayor of Goderich, that with the mayor's consent, the county clerk be instructed to issue the warden's order for payment of railway fare to such vagrant's home anywhere west of Toronto in this Province, instead of committing him as a vagrant to the jail, as we think the county would save money by so doing.

5. Recommending that Mr. Proudfoot's notion with respect to the supplying of electric light and water to the county buildings be granted. Mayor Butler has submitted a statement of cost, etc. which we annex to this report. (The statement referred to offered to supply two incandescent lamps for hall and stairway of court house, one arc lamp for court room, three or more water taps for court house, one for the registry office and two for the jail, all put in and supplies furnished by the town, for $200 per year.)

6. That no action be taken on the motion to fit up the petit jury room as a barristers' room.

JOSEPH BECK, Chairman.

The Council went into committee of the whole, Mr. Strong in the chair, when the report was amended by striking out the clause referring to vagrants, and deferring action upon putting electric lights and water into the Court House. The warden, clerk and Messrs. Manning and Beck were appointed a committee to report on the latter matter at the June session. Mr. Proudfoot's motion to fit up the petit jury room as a barristers' room was amended and adopted, and the report as above amended was then adopted.

The following report of the School and Printing committee was read and adopted.

1. Recommending the adoption of the report of Inspector Tom, and also, that a detailed list table of the work for each class and set of examination papers be prepared jointly by the inspector each half year, to be printed at the expense of the county.

2. Recommending the Inspector to impress upon trustees that it is their duty to see that the law in reference to the attendance of children at the public schools is complied with, and that parents who do not send their children be made to do so.

3. Recommending that all fees payable for entrance examinations be paid forthwith to the county treasurer by the examiner or party who collects the same.

4. Recommending that the tender of F. G. Neelin for the county printing be accepted.

W. PROUDFOOT, Chairman.

The following report of the Road and Bridge Committee was read:

4. That the county road commissioner's report be adopted and the bridge repairs recommended be carried out.

5. That the petition of David Beer and others relative to a washout at Holmesville bridge be laid over until the June session.

JOHN KATINE, Chairman.

GAILOR'S REPORT. GENTLEMEN—I beg to submit for your consideration my report of prisoners at present confined in your county gaol.

There are at present twenty prisoners in custody—19 males and 1 female, Mary Brady. She came from the township of McKillop, is 59 years old, and very weak-minded. She was committed last for the sixth time by Mayor Seager. She is perfectly destitute, and having no friends that we know of, will have to be clothed by the county when her sentence expires, which will be on the 5th of May of the 19th inst., William Kelly, is insane. His case is well known to the county council. Another man, William Koothaas is committed for obtaining money under false pretences, and is waiting trial. The remaining 17 are vagrants all under sentence as follows:

Thomas Noble, Goderich, 3 months; Chas. Boyd, township of Peel, 3 months; Thos. Clark, London, 3 months; John Ross, Toronto, 3 months; Thos. Griffin, Hamilton, 3 months; Robert Davis, Toronto, 3 months; Thomas Williams, Montreal, 3 months; William Smith, Toronto, 3 months; Thos. Allan, Sherbrooke, 3 months; John Morrow, Goderich, 3 months; George Washington, Blyth, 3 months; John Brown, Brantford, 2 months; Michael Sullivan, Hamilton, 2 months; Thos. Dean, London, 2 months; George Gordon, Clinton, 3 months; and Robert Fletcher, Howick, 6 months; all committed by C. Seager, Mayor of Goderich. There are all able-bodied men fit to do any kind of work, with three exceptions, Robert Fletcher aged 87, Samuel Noble aged 67, and John Morrow aged 67. I have been under the necessity of getting two pairs of brogans for Kelly and Fletcher, and have had one pair repaired, the bill for which will be sent in. I also got material for three dozen towels which I had made up by the prisoners. I would respectfully request that I be supplied with two tin boxes—one for candles and the other for barley.

Your obed't servant, Wm. DICKSON, Gaoler.

ROAD COMMISSIONER'S REPORT. All of the contracts let during the year have been satisfactorily completed. We have erected five bridges; two of them are of iron and of pretty large dimensions, and three of wood. The timber used in them is cedar. They are all good substantial structures. We have made about the usual repairs to the bridges and the approaches this year.

All the county bridges are in a very good state of repair at this date, I believe, and are likely to remain so during the present winter. The following bridges are very much decayed and are somewhat dangerous for heavy loads, and I recommend that they be rebuilt during the summer of 1889: 1st, The bridge over the Sande River, on the township boundary road between the counties of Huron and Perth; 2d, the bridge over the north branch of the Maitland river on the gravel road in Wingham; 3rd, Hall's bridge on the lake shore road in the township of Goderich. I herewith submit the number and amounts of orders which I have issued since the 1st of June, 1888, in payment for the improvements made to the county bridges approaches and buildings.

The following is the supplementary report for the month of January. On January 16th I met the commissioner for the county of Perth, and the warden of the bridge over the Sande River, on the township boundary line between the township of Hibbert and Uaborne, and found it very much decayed and unsafe. Would recommend that it be built as soon as possible. This bridge is 46 feet long.

I examined the bridge on the boundary line between the townships of Tuckersmith and Hay, and found it to be old and unsafe. I would recommend that it be rebuilt as early as possible. This bridge is 34 feet long, over Warren creek. Also a small bridge at Zetland should be rebuilt. This bridge is about 25 feet long. Yours respectfully, JOHN A. REID, Road Commissioner.

Moved by Mr. Kidd, seconded by Mr. Milne, that the report be amended by striking out the clause recommending the building of an iron bridge at Wingham, and substituting therefor a wooden bridge. Carried by a majority of 18, when the report as amended was then adopted.

The following by-laws were read and passed: To appoint county auditors and a board of audit; to regulate the width of sleigh runners, and to constitute the village of Crediton a police village.

Council then adjourned to meet first Tuesday in June, at 3 o'clock p. m. GRANT vs. JENKINS.

A. H. N. Jenkins gets Left Again and Has Full Costs to Pay. From the Brussels Post.

This now somewhat celebrated case has just concluded with the deliverance of Justice Falconbridge giving the plaintiff, J. B. Grant, postmaster of Brussels, verdict for full costs. Tuesday's (dallas) disposal of it as follows:

"This was an action of libel against the defendant as publisher of the Brussels Budget, in which the alleged libellous matter appeared.

The action was tried at Goderich before Falconbridge, J., and a jury, who found a verdict for the plaintiff for $1. The question of costs was afterwards argued in Toronto, and judgment was now delivered.

Falconbridge, J. The defendant pleaded a justification, which has been negatived by the jury. At the trial he adduced his own defence—certainly with great ability—but not as certainly with equal judgment, in at least one or two respects. He was, of course, allowed greater latitude, in the examination and cross-examination of witnesses, in addressing the jury, than I would have allowed to any counsel at the Bar. The necessary result of this was that the plaintiff was handled with great severity in the witness box and out of it. Questions and suggestions, gravely affecting his moral character and quite unsupported by any substantive evidence, was unsparingly and unmercifully indulged in. * * *

The plaintiff has clearly brought his small verdict at the price of much mental torture, and I feel bound to give him full costs.

There is another consideration which I think places the propriety of this order beyond controversy. By this action the plaintiff sought not only damages but an injunction. An interim injunction was granted, for wilful and persistent defiance of which the defendant underwent imprisonment in the common jail for days. That injunction was made perpetual by the judgment after the trial. I think the plaintiff is on this ground entitled to full costs.

Judgment will be entered for the plaintiff for $1 damages, with full costs of suit and without any set-off by the defendant.

Oaler, Q. C. for the plaintiff. Shepley for the defendant. The case from its commencement had every appearance of having been a premeditated attack on the postmaster. The papers containing the most villainous attacks on the plaintiff would have in some part of it a statement to the effect that no malice was intended. This quite too clever ruse exposed itself.

A properly conducted newspaper serves a useful purpose; it keeps the public acquainted with events occurring from time to time, and, within proper limits, denounces and shows up as it should, increased power brings increased responsibility, and we cannot ignore the fact that private citizens have rights that must be maintained, whether they be postmasters, editors, merchants or anyone else. The editor who transcends the bounds of decency and the legitimate range of newspaper criticism is not only a disgrace to the profession but is not true to himself and will, sooner or later, get his deserts.

This case has already attracted a good deal of attention. It was an unprovoked attack on a trusted official, where everything that malice could suggest and an inflated imagination picture was ground out weekly. Not only the postmaster but everyone who has the courage to ignore this self-constituted Dictator, came in for weekly tirades of abuse, until the whole community was on edge. Nothing good was there unless it occurred his sanction. The best motives were distorted to suit the vilest ends as "evil minds change good to their own nature," but as everything must have an end so the flight of this too daring Pegasus has been cut short. The postmaster, after many months of almost diabolical persecution, and after due warning, commenced an action for libel (a thoroughly orthodox, but expensive, proceeding.) Almost a dozen motions, mostly by the defendant, were made at Osgoode Hall. The first resulted in "costs in the cause," but as the true character of the defendant dawned upon the judicial minds of their Lordships each succeeding motion was made "costs against defendant in any event."

My Toothache

Is an exclamation heard every hour in the day. Toothache is the most common ailment of young and old, and in the aggregate inflicts more suffering than perhaps any other single complaint. A one minute cure is just what every person desires to possess. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—acts almost instantly in relieving the agony, and as a sample bottle affords a quantity sufficient for 100 applications, 10 cents fills the bill. Polson's Nerviline is the only positive remedy for toothache and all nerve pains. Sold by dealers in medicine.

Dr Hamilton Magee, of Dublin, speaking at Glasgow lately, said it continued to be the almost universal testimony of those who were engaged in missionary work in Ireland that recent agitations had opened rather than closed the door of favourable opportunity. An agent had written to him from the very centre of one of the most disturbed districts, that he was as well received by the Roman Catholics as the Protestants, and that the people were most willing to talk of religion.

Adapt yourself to the habits of the family visited.—It often happens that the habits of visits and visitor are greatly at variance, as, for instance, when the city visitor goes to the country, or vice versa. The city visitor may not be accustomed to rising till nine o'clock, but if the regular breakfast hour is half-past five, you are in courtesy bound to be ready for it. If you are constituted that you cannot make such changes in your habits, don't visit.

How to Cure Tender Feet.
 "What makes you walk so lame?" asked the doorkeeper at police headquarters to a reporter the other day. "Corns?"
 "No," replied the scribbler. "I never had a corn in my life, but almost every morning when I put on my shoes I suffer the most excruciating pains, my feet are so fearfully sore. I have tried everything to make the skin hard and get relief, but nothing has had the least effect."
 "I suffered from the same complaint," replied the officer, "and my old mother gave me a receipt that effected a permanent cure, and if it is any benefit to you, here it is:
 "Bathe your feet in about two quarts of ice cold water into which you have poured two tablespoonfuls of ammonia and one tablespoonful of bay rum. Sit with your feet immersed in the water for ten minutes, gently throwing the water over the limbs upward to the knees. Then rub dry with a coarse crash towel, and all that tired feeling will soon leave you.
 "If that don't cure tender feet, then there is nothing that will. It is worth trying, at all events."

Give Children Something to Do.
 An important point in managing children is to always have ready something for the little hands to do at those times which come quite often on rainy and other days when, instead of good, less easily get through the window or windowless about, not knowing what to do with themselves. Children at such times are a great trial to the house, and are quite likely to be scolded, though such a course is so unwise and unjust that it is almost only to the detriment of the child's future. Calm and reproving words, kindly spoken, are necessary with all bright children and are usually very effective, but words uttered in a sharp, scolding tone must in most cases work an injury to the child's disposition. It is at the most sad, because the matter could be so easily managed by a very little attention on the mother's part.
 How often we hear mothers or older sisters say to some little child who is full of desire to do right if it only knew how, "Do get something to do; how lazy you are; I never saw any good for-nothing child. I am sure I don't know what is to become of you," and a great deal more of such talk, which, alas, most people have heard too often. The child at such times is not in fault. It is the mother's duty to see that suitable work is always ready, and she should require the child to do a moderate task for which she should not be afraid to give a due measure of praise after it is done. Always be careful to see that the child is not kept too long at one task as such a course would be worse than idleness.
 It is worthy of note that the work given to a child has great influence in moulding the mind and taste. A child kept always at knitting stockings or cutting carpet rags will be very practical, perhaps too much so. A wise mother will have a variety of work, both useful and ornamental. Some parents think it useless to teach boys to sew or knit. It is not, however, for there are many times in a boy's life when such knowledge may be useful. I have often observed that many college boys could mend their own clothes while they were quite up in their classes. I think the subject should be thoughtfully considered by parents, seeing to it that time should not hang on their children's hands for want of something to do.

Blaise to Amateur Doctors.
 Emphasis is no less important than inflection. In every sentence there are particular words demanding special accentuation; and by a false quantity the meaning of a phrase may be entirely misrepresented. Nouns and verbs receive the largest share of attention in this regard. Contrasts must be strongly marked. The antitheses demand the greatest force of emphasis. To keep an attentive eye upon the precise meaning of the text is the great desideratum.
 Should doubt arise as to the correct emphasis of a sentence, a useful rule is as follows: It is a fact that ordinary conversation, people—even the least educated—instructively speak with expressive accentuation; it is only when they come to render the thoughts of others, or to read from a printed page, that their habitual and unconsciously acquired art fails them. Thus the proper emphasis is the natural. Take, therefore your doubt. In the very expression of the thought colloquially—as you would talk it to your friend across the table.
 You will thus obtain, not always the proper tone (the due dignity might be wanting), but you will invariably perceive the natural, and correct, accentuation. Rate of utterance must also be attended to. The gay, mirthful, the amusing should speak buoyantly along. Conversational passages should be spoken trippingly on the tongue. Dignity requires a certain stately, measured movement. The reverent and sorrowful are slowly uttered. In the expression of passion the speed is fitful, the utterance irregular and abrupt. Sarcasm is generally obtrusively deliberate. Tyros usually burn to learn gestures; but graceful, appropriate and powerful action is almost a special genius in itself.
 Let the amateur be as sparing with gesture as he can. A great elocutionist advises that no movement whatever be used for the use of which the writer cannot give reason in writing. He states that his own method is to employ during early rehearsal every gesture that suggests itself, and thereafter to thin them down, retaining none for which there is not clear necessity.—Cassell's Magazine.

Domestic Receipts.
 Rice with Sauce—Steam one and one-half cups of rice and salt it; when it is about half done add some milk and cook until the rice is very tender; do not stir with a spoon, shake the pan gently instead; take from the fire, put it in a mild and set on ice; make a cold sauce of butter and sugar rubbed to a cream; add a generous quantity of fresh berries or preserves; stir well.
 Soup à la Halibut—Boil two pounds and a half of fish for one-half hour, shred it, then make a sauce of one pint of milk, with one egg beaten up; let it boil, then add two tablespoonfuls of corn starch mixed with cold milk. When boiled, add a tablespoonful of butter. Mix this through the fish. Put in small shells, spreading cracker crumbs on top with little pieces of butter, and then brown it in the oven.
 Egg Salad—Cut in very thin slices six hard-boiled eggs. Place in salad bowl with one fourth of a cabbage shredded fine. Mix well together, then pour over thoroughly and bake in a moderately hot oven. Make into a dough with cold water. Roll into sheet and spread with a teaspoonful of any jam or jelly; roll dough as you would roll jelly cake, pinch ends and seam firmly together, place in well buttered tin and steam one hour. Serve with cream and sugar, or lemon juice.

Sponge Cake—Beat the yolks of three eggs until light, add about half of the whites beaten very light, and one cup of sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt; in the rest of the whites and a tablespoonful of lemon juice, and lastly one cup of flour; beat all together thoroughly and bake in a moderately hot oven. This makes small cakes baked in patty-pans, or a nice loaf in pan with tunnel through the middle. Tried and sure. No soda or baking powder. I was doubtful at first about the rising, but they are light and nice.

A Great Sufferer.
 That person who is afflicted with rheumatism is a great sufferer and greatly to be pitied. I have met many sufferers of this kind, and I have seen them in various parts of the world. This remedy is a certain cure, not only for rheumatism but for all external aches and internal pains.
 The Chaldea and the ancient Egyptians were the first to make incense, and for the measurement of time. Virgil ascribes the invention to Ctesibius of Alexandria, who lived about B. C. 250. The instrument they invented was called a clepsidra, and the principle of it was the constant dripping of water out of one vessel to another.

Dangerous Counterfeits.
 Counterfeits are always dangerous, more so that they always closely imitate the original in appearance and name. The remarkable success achieved by Nasal Balm as a positive cure for Catarrh and Headache has induced unprincipled parties to imitate it. The public are cautioned not to be deceived by nostrums imitating Nasal Balm in name and appearance, bearing such names as Nasal Cream, Nasal Balsam, etc. Ask for Nasal Balm and do not take the hands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy free to any of your readers who have counterfeits, if they will send me their Express and Dr. T. A. Slocum, City, 37 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

Consumption Surely Cured.
 TO THE EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use the hands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy free to any of your readers who have counterfeits, if they will send me their Express and Dr. T. A. Slocum, City, 37 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

Work should not be demanded from a growing child immediately after food. The acts of digestion require a large supply of blood, and so long as these acts are in progress the rest of the system, and the brain in particular, must be comparatively bloodless, or if it be brought into play it diverts a certain quantity of the blood from its proper destination, and interferes with the due assimilation of the food.
 Be on Your Guard.
 Don't allow the child to do anything and surely run into Catarrh, when you can be cured for 25c. by using Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. A few applications cure incipient catarrh; 1 to 2 boxes cure ordinary catarrh; 2 to 3 boxes are guaranteed to cure chronic catarrh. Try only 25c and sure cure. Sold by all druggists.

THE HOME CIRCLE.
 The Value of Health.
 We never learn the value of health until we have lost it. Only when it is no longer ours do we begin to prize it, and study how to take care of it. The result is, that instead of living from eighty to one hundred years, as we ought to do, and dying of ripe old age at last, we are made to languish and to suffer almost every day while we live, and are carried off by preventable diseases at every age of infancy and maturity. If we could begin now, and the children in our homes be taught the laws of their being, and trained to observe them, the gain in health and longevity to this generation would be immense, while to the succeeding ones it would be beyond all computation. One difficulty is, there has not yet come into the minds of a large proportion of people any definite conception that there are such things as laws of health, and that every violation of those laws is sure to bring its penalty. The last thing that individuals or communities think of doing is to take the blame for their ill-health upon their own shoulders, where it rightly belongs. This, then, is the first lesson to be taught and learned:—that that much able to slight easily be avoided by the observance of the laws of health on the part of the individual. The next thing to be taught is the laws themselves—and with the laws, and of greater importance, the habit of obeying them. We know a great deal more than we put in practice.

Lime Water in Diphtheria.
 Lime water, says a medical contemporary, is an admirable remedy in cases of diphtheria. Its local effect is most useful in cleansing and purifying the fauces, and its mode of application is the easiest imaginable. It requires no spray-apparatus, no douching, and no effort at gargling. It is sufficient to have the patient slowly swallow a teaspoonful or more every hour in order to get good results from its use. This fact is the greatest importance in treating children, who are too often cruelly tortured in the attempt to make local applications to the throat. Lime-water can be given easily, and is taken readily by children. An early clearing out of the bowels with calomel, sometimes in massive doses, followed up after a short interval by the administration of lime-water and the use of a suitable tonic and regimen, constitutes a method which comes the nearest to being of the universal applicability.

Give Them a Chance.
 That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.
 When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.
 Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are but the same sure way to get rid of them, that is take Roschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain, slowly.

Run no risk in buying medicine, but try the great Kidney and Liver regulator, made by Dr. Chase, author of Chase's receipts. Try Chase's Liver Cure for all diseases of the Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowels. Sold by all druggists.
 The distressing paleness so often observed in young girls and women, is due in a great measure to a lack of the red corpuscles in the blood. To remedy this requires a medicine which produces the necessary little blood constituents, and the best yet discovered is Johnson's Tonic Bitters. Price 50 cents, and $1 per bottle at Geode's drug store, Albion block, Goderich. Sole agent. [b]

 He never smiled again in "hardly ever" about it, "and to smile was impossible." "I was smiling and smiling, and still, still he was no villain, blunt, honest man, that is such as Dr. Pierce's 'Positive Pills,' which never bitumenous and chronic, dyspepsia and diphtheria. Of druggists.

COUNTY CURRENCY.

Newsletters from Correspondents and Other Items.

A Weekly Digest of the County News served up to Suit Readers of "The Signal." Fifth and Post, Clipped and Condensed from Every Section.

Look at the label on this paper. On Saturday evening as the wife of Mr. James Connell, of Goderich township, was driving home from Clinton, the rig she was in collided with the Commercial bus, when near the station. She was thrown over and sustained a severe sprain of the left wrist.

Mr. D. B. Calhock, of Clinton, has bought out a furniture business at Wingham, and will at once remove to that town. "Dan" is a good practical man, and will no doubt do well there.

Rev. E. Teskey, Methodist minister of Owen Sound, died on Friday last, leaving a wife and four children. If we mistake not, he was stationed somewhere in the Goderich District, at one time.

Mr. John Tremmer and his sister, Lavina, of Zurich, left for Dakota last Monday. Mr. Tremmer has lived in this country for a number of years. He is running a farm near Cavalier and likes the country well. They were also accompanied by Mr. Peter Bradley, an old resident of Zurich, who intends to spend the remainder of his days with his son John, who lives in that country.

Andrew Whitehead has sold his farm on the 8th concession of Tuckersmith, to Mr. Peter McLoughlin, his neighbor, for $2,532. The farm contains 50 acres. Mr. Whitehead intends going to the Northwest.

Mr. A. Sumner, for three years editor of the "War Cry," the organ of the Salvationists, and formerly in charge of the corps in Seaford, has resigned his position on the paper and severed his connection with the Salvation Army.

Mr. Joseph Taylor, son of Mr. W. Taylor, Clinton, who travels for Kilgour Bros. Toronto, recently had the pleasure of his salary being increased to $1250 a year, without any solicitation on his part.

Mr. Thos. Carter, of Tuckersmith, has purchased the farm belonging to Mr. John Thorp, containing 100 acres of good land, for the sum of $3,800. Mr. Thorp has left for Kansas on a visit.

Mr. Milton Godfrey, second son of Rev. R. Godfrey, of Belgrave, left this week to resume his studies at Toronto University.

Peter Botz, son of Philip Botz, of Grey township, is home on a visit from Kansas, where he has been for several years.

Mr. N. Baer, of Holmesville, had the misfortune to lose a pocket book in Clinton on Wednesday, that contained over fifty dollars.

The Seaford Examiner says: We are informed that the old foundry owned by Dr. Coleman is about to be put in operation and that Mr. Hendry will not be leaving town.

The old black team that have done faithful duty for so many years on the Commercial Hotel "bus," Seaford, have been pensioned off, and a span of handsome Arabians put in their place.

Miss Martha Tebbutt of the Midland concession, is laid up with inflammation of the lungs.

Miss C. A. F. Andrews, wife of a Wingham barrister, died at Oakland, Cal., suddenly. She was improving, and her husband left for home when her death occurred. Mr. Andrews is a son of Rev. Adam Andrews, formerly of Holmesville.

Adam Forbes, of Rathwell, Man., and Miss Jennie Forbes, both former residents of Morris, are on a visit to relatives and friends. They are greatly pleased with the west and are able to speak from experience after a residence of over seven years in the prairie province.

Jas. Bowman, of the third line of Morris, lost a valuable two year old gelding from pink eye last week.

Wm. Cochrane, of the third line of Morris was severely kicked by one of his horses a few days ago. He is getting around, however, with the help of a stick.

Mr. M. C. Rumball, B. A., (son of Mr. E. Rumball, Goderich township), is one of the editors of Knox College Monthly, a very creditable publication issued in connection with the institution it is named after.

On Friday last Messrs. James Hudson and Charles Robinson, each of the age of 16 inches in the space of 40 seconds each cut. The work was done on the farm of Mr. Thomas Connely, on the 7th concession of Tuckersmith. The watch was held by Mr. Connely. The boys think it beats Hay, Stanley and every other.

Dave Wilson, son of W. R. Wilson, of Brussels, will leave for Dakota next week with his brother. This will prove a serious loss to the Brussels Band as he has filled the position of snare drummer for years and his place will be hard to fill.

Mr. R. Adams, of Londesboro has a horse which is losing all its hair; it is dropping off in pieces as large as a plate, leaving the skin as bare as possible. No person that has seen it claims to have ever seen anything like it before. The animal is in the best of condition, and appears to be in good health. It is evidently a very rare case.

Chas. Dutton, who has been employed in G. A. Deadman's drug store, Brussels, for several years, left for Stratford, and after spending a few days at his home, will go to Detroit where he has secured a remunerative position with the firm of John Davis & Co., wholesale manufacturers essences, extracts, &c. Charles is an agreeable youth and will, no doubt, prove a very satisfactory employe.

James H. McDonald, Lieut-Governor of Michigan, who was killed in a railway accident on Saturday afternoon, was a cousin of Mr. McDonald, section man on the L. E. & B. Clinton. A brother of the Lieut-Governor resides in Ashfield and went over to attend the funeral.

CARLOW.

From our own correspondent. Arrangements are being made with R. R. Sallows to give his entertainment of dissolving views of the Holy Land and scenes from the Life of Christ, in the church here, at an early date. If as large a crowd attends to witness the exhibition as has attended elsewhere. The church will be a great gainer. This exhibition should be witnessed by every Bible student in the unanimous verdict. Look out for the bills for particulars.

BENMILLER. From our own correspondent. Coming.—Mr. R. R. Sallows will give his now celebrated exhibition of dissolving views of the Holy Land and lectures in the Temperance Hall, on Friday evening the 8th Feb. See hand bills for particulars.

DUNLOP. From our own correspondent. Mr. E. Allen, of Hibbert township, Co. Perth, is visiting here and at Port Albert.

The cheerful presence of Mr. Thos. Hawkins, of Staffs, Perth County, was amongst us this week.

The reappearance of sleighing has brought back on the faces of everybody a cheerful look, and quite a hum of business in cordwood and sawlogs; and many a maiden won't say now that they have not had a cutter drive in 1888.

Miss L. Gunning is enjoying a pleasant visit, the guests of her cousins, the Misses Dean of Kingsbridge.

POPLAR ROW. From our own correspondent. Miss Clara Emmerton, after visiting friends at Poplar farm, has returned to her home in Goderich.

LEASING.—Frank Sallows has leased his farm for pasture to J. O. Stewart for a term of three years. Frank intends going to London. We wish him success.

Mrs. Harry Morris who has been very ill for a few days is now convalescent.

GODERICH TOWNSHIP. From our own correspondent. AN OLD PIONEER GONE.—On Thursday morning, Jan. 31st, an old resident of Goderich township departed this life in the person of Edward Duggan, well and favorably known to many of our readers. He was born in the county of Carlow, Ireland in 1816, and came to Canada in 1834, and settled on the lot on which he resided until his death. He was one of the old pioneers of the Huron and Perth counties, and had done a good deal of the clearing up of forests in Goderich and vicinity. He was a strong Liberal in politics, and his decease is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends.

AUBURN. PRESENTATION.—On the evening of the 18th January, a goodly number of the congregation of Knox church at Auburn, assembled at the residence of Mr. Wm. King, sr., and made him the recipient of a valuable easy chair, which had been purchased from Mr. D. Gordon, the veteran furniture dealer at Goderich, also a writing desk. The following address was read: To Mr. Wm. King, sr., Dear Sir.—We your friends and brethren of the congregation of Knox church, at Auburn, being desirous of expressing our approval of your management of the accounts and all matters pertaining to the treasurer's office of the church, take the present occasion to meet with you and testify to you our high appreciation of your services, and the very satisfactory manner in which you have discharged the duties devolving upon you as treasurer, in proof of which we beg of you to accept this chair in which we trust you may long be spared to find rest and comfort when tired and wearied. A like writing desk, and may the blessing of God be with you and yours is the wish of all. Signed on behalf of the congregation, JAS. MCGEE, SIMON ANDERSON, JAS. MITCHELL, Wm. E. BROWN.

When Mr. King in a few well chosen words, thanked them for their beautiful present and said he would prize it not so much for its intrinsic value as for the spirit in which it was given and as a mark of their esteem and confidence, and in concluding invited the company to feel at home and enjoy themselves, which they were not slow in accepting and enjoyment became the order of the evening till the time for leave-taking arrived, when all left well satisfied with their mission, and evening's enjoyment, and judging by their countenances, the ruling sentiment was happy to meet, sorry to part and hoping to meet again.

ONE WHO WAS THERE. LEEBURN. From our own correspondent. Miss Ellen Horton is visiting in Clinton this week.

Miss Elkin, organist of St. Mark's church, Auburn, was the recipient of a well-filled purse, and a nicely worded address recently in recognition of her services for a number of years' past in the musical worship. A very enjoyable time was spent by all who took part in the affair.

With deep and rapt attention a good audience gazed on the dissolving views of R. R. Sallows, shown at the church, on Friday night of last week. In a pleasing and painstaking manner, Mr. Geo. Stiven explained the different views, and with a pointer at times showed places of interest on the scenes. The pictures were all vivid and life-like. The one of sailing the Saviour to the Cross was almost natural to the spectators. The local notables on the canvass were good, and also familiar faces amongst us in past years. Among them we may notice the Rev. Jas. Sieveright, the founder of this church, the youthful missionary to China, Rev. D. Macgillivray, two of the remarkable pioneers in Peter Green and John Morris of this township, the former's son, Capt. J. W. Green, recently presented with the gold watch of the lakes by Uncle Sam's Government, Capt. A. Bogie, R. Hynes, Reeve Beck and ex-rev. W. Young, mine host of the Point Farm whose house has entertained guests from all parts of the wide globe, the local scribe of THE SIGNAL, with his cane won by popular vote 1879 with pencil and notebook, who can say with the audience
