Party Climbed Many Mighty Peaks to Make Observations and Photographs.

Tells of Glories of Scenery and Attractions For Hunter and Tourist.

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—Arthur O. Wheeler, Dominion lands surveyor of the topographical survey staff, department of the interior, has returned from his summer's work among the Selkirk mountains, and is now on his way to Ottawa to compile the information which he has gathered during the past season.

The method of making topographical surveys by using the camera as a chief instrument has reached a higher stage of advancement in Canada than in any other country where the same process is in use, and Mr. Wheeler has long been posted in all that pertains to it.

He looked bronzed, healthy and happy, as though mountain climbing and taking photographs at high altitudes were the most delightful experiences a person might indulge in.

Kitchener Reports a Battle at Great Marito River.

London, Oct. 29.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Monday, October 28, says he has received reports of important fighting on October 24 near Great Bofors, not where the Boers and Kemp attacked a British force and were only repulsed after severe fighting, leaving 40 dead on the field.

The Boers carried off eight British wagons. The Republicans appear to have paid special attention to the guns, as 37 numbers were killed or wounded.

Lord Kitchener mentions a number of minor affairs, and says this week's "bag" consisted of 74 Boers killed, 16 wounded, and 335 made prisoners.

Placer Ground On Empire Creek

Senator Campbell Gives Authoritative News of the Horsefly Gold Finds.

Says It is Possible There May be a Klondike in Old Cariboo.

In regard to the recent strike of placer gold on Empire Creek, the Ashcroft Journal of Saturday, October 26, says: The following report, giving only the absolute facts so far as is known of the new strike, is the latest possible to obtain. We are not advising anyone to go to the new gold fields at present. It will be a hard trip and anyone starting as late as this must expect to encounter hardships. No one claims to know to a certainty the value of the find, but one outside of the parties mentioned have ever been on the ground as far as is known at the present time. If prospectors decide to take chances as they exist and go in, they will have plenty of supplies, snow shoes, etc. A letter from Senator R. H. Campbell to Dr. F. S. Reynolds, Ashcroft, dated from Harper's Creek, B. C., on October 21, says: "You probably have heard of the late find on the Upper Horsefly. About the time I arrived here ten days ago a party of my men just came in from the headwaters of the Horsefly. They brought the dust as proof that there was something in it. The main creek, which is a tributary to the Horsefly, is eight or ten miles beyond where a white man had ever been, at least there were no signs to indicate that anyone had ever been there. They could only remain half a day as their grub gave out. They made locations for themselves, after they had panned out an ounce or more of gold during their short stay. They named this creek Eureka, and Bob Campbell, an old Barkerville miner, who was one of the party, declares it another Williams creek. There is also another creek just below it which is also named that they named Empire creek. They did not intend to go up there again until spring, fearing snow storms, but I advised them that would never do, as the ground was bare now and they must return and thoroughly prospect and explore the district. I then fitted out a party of four, my son Harry included, with 20 days' provisions, and this is their eighth day out. Everybody from this camp and some from 150-Mile house, about 20 in all, have gone up. My party will be on the ground several days before any others, and having been there before and the weather being favorable, they will be able to thoroughly explore the district and do some more prospecting. The best of the gold will be about the 1st, I will go down and will have all the data, maps, etc., of the country, and can say more about it."

The weather here is phenomenal, strong Chinook wind and thermometer about 60 degrees day and night, but we may look for a sudden change about change very soon. However, I think our boys will have time to do what they wish before it changes. It is possible we may have a Klondike right here in old Cariboo. The district lies on the divide between the headwaters of Horsefly and Clearwater, and they report plenty of timber and coal. I have been some myself but couldn't stand the five days' tramp with 40 or 50 pounds on my back. It takes a "skookum" man to start on such a trail. The best of the chances of being caught in a snow storm, which is very liable at this season of the year. The most reliable news from the reported new strike on the north fork of the Horsefly river is here given, says the Journal. We have made every possible effort to get the whole facts in connection with the strike, and the more reliable report that will be absolutely reliable will be furnished, and while we do not give credence to wild reports of gold, we believe in the reports of the party camped only what they believed to be facts, and that gold-bearing gravel has been found abundantly in quantities which will pay well. The extent is not vouched for, but from the limited time spent on the strike it is believed to be extensive. The party returned to Harper's camp on the evening of October 11, and consisted of Robert Campbell, Joe Stirs, W. Tidale, F. Lasso and two other men. They had seen a few days' gold with their rather coarse, like grains of powder, some pieces worth 10 cents or more. R. T. Ward states that the gold is the same as found in his company's ground, but not as coarse as is found in his deepest workings. The party had an ounce or more that they stated they had taken out with their rather coarse, like grains of powder, some pieces worth 10 cents or more. In prospecting up the creek the bed rock is found to be deep but shallow higher up. They followed the creek some miles and prospected the benches. A few miles up another creek into the creek they had named Eureka. This creek they also prospected. The party were out of supplies and hastily staked 2,000 feet of ground on Empire and 2,000 feet on the tributary as discovery claims; they then at the last of their food—one flap-jack each—and hustled for Harper's. They struck a trappers' camp and got supplies enough to last them down. They only spent half a day on the ground. They say they did not wash a solitary pan of gravel that they did not get at least 3 cents in response of the party is said to have told a friend that they got as high as three dollars in one pan, but had agreed not to report it, as they did not wish to be credited with causing any stampede into that section, for they say themselves they didn't have sufficient time to prospect the ground thoroughly, but it is very significant that they left immediately after securing supplies, intending to stay until the snow drives them out. Besides the original party some of the men, being nearly the whole population of Horsefly, left at once for the new creek. Numerous telegrams confirm all that is written above and it is vouched for by letters from the parties. One of the interview with another mining man who saw and talked at length with the discoverers. Three Schooners From the Sea

Fleet of Sealers Reached Port On Sunday—Others Reported.

Contract Awarded For Repairs to the Steamer Hating—Moana Due.

A fleet of three sealing schooners returned from the sea on Sunday, bringing 1,345 more pelts from the Behring sea for the Victoria Sealing company. The Annie E. Paine, Capt. McKillop, brought 642 skins; the Fawn, Capt. Gullin, had 304, and the E. M. Marvin, Capt. Campbell, 489, three of which were marked with the brand of the United States brainer on the Pribyl's. All three schooners which sailed right into the harbor, reported having had a hard trip down from the Behring sea, the weather being in striking contrast to the fine weather experienced during the last few days of the sealing season. The Annie E. Paine brings word that the schooners Arietta and Otto have good catches, both having somewhere between seven and eight hundred skins. The Umberto has 634, not 602 as previously reported. The Carrie G. is said to have about 300. No accidents are reported, and no seizures have taken place. The returned schooners report that a number of Japanese sealing schooners entered the Behring sea from the westward, and all were using guns. A very cutter overhauled them, however, if the Japanese are not party to the agreement, and besides having that privilege, the schooners of the Mikado's land can go within three miles of the island rookeries, whereas the American vessels would be seized if found within a 60 mile line around the seal islands. There are still 13 schooners to reach port, one—the Director—from the Copper islands, and the other 12 from the Behring sea. Many will have no doubt have reached the coast, and like the schooner Zillah May, which reached Clatsop two weeks ago, be held by force of weather. The weather has been very stormy of late, and the schooner returned on Sunday report that had they gone right in with their Indians they would probably have been wind-bound. Following close behind the schooners came the British ship Ballahush, which anchored in the Royal Roads, and the schooner which was towed in from the Cape by the tug Gordon. The schooner, Capt. Manning, had a tedious passage of 63 days from Santa Rosalia. She carries a cargo of seal skins, which will enter our merchant service. The work which the 480,000 girls will engage in is just as varied as that of the men. But as women rarely continue in the same profession after marriage, it will be better to deduct from the number at an average age of 20 years with 2,000 girls, which will be deducted another 1,000 who are classed as infirm. Women, thus incapacitated form rather a larger proportion than in the case with men. On the other hand, in the matter of criminality, women shine superior. Only 100 out of all these 480,000 girl babies will spend their time under lock and key, and roughly speaking, 90 per cent. represent the tramping class. Fifty-seven thousand of our unmarried women will earn their living in manufacturing industries, and 48,000 are likely to become cooks, housemaids, ladies' maids, or "generals." Sixteen thousand will live on the land, most of these doing hard work on farms, but some are acting as seamstresses, dressmakers, dairymaids. Shops swallow up 14,000, who range from the smart Bond street milliner who makes a favor of putting a ribbon in the hair of a duchess, down to the poor tired girl who stands 14 hours out of the 24 behind the counter of an East End sweet shop. The proportion claim being the goodly number of 1,800. We are left with 6,200, whose occupations will be so many and varied that they cannot be more than glanced at in this article. They include 800 housewives, 400 cooks, 600 seamstresses; also 700 who will give their employment as "baby-minders." Probabilities point to 87 turning detectives, and another 93 becoming professional packers. A word as to the various diseases or accidents which will bring these million lives to a close. Bronchitis, it appears, is the most fatal, and will take 115,000 out of the total number. It is worse even than consumption, which is at present responsible for 110,000 deaths in a single year. Kindred diseases, Heart disease and 62,000 lives, and pneumonia 51,000. Accidents kill many more people than is generally imagined, and 30,000 of the million will eventually so end their lives. The most fatal accidents are to the worst offenders, and kill ten times as many as trains, bicycles, and motors combined. Of all our million babies, 33,000 will be of old age.

What Becomes of a Million Boys and Girls? From Cassell's Saturday Journal. Confining ourselves to British babies, we find that out of our million 511,000 will be boys, and 489,000 girls. We will be ungenerally enough to take the boys first, and see what callings they will follow, and what the law of averages says will become of them. We had better begin by putting aside those who will, for any reason, not contribute their share to the national wealth, either because they are physically incapacitated, or because their fortunes have descended to them. For the last-named reason, only 87 out of our 511,000 will announce their intention of remaining drones. Three thousand will probably be the total take of the drones. Of these, physical incapacities will incapacitate 304. They will be blind, deaf, mutes, paralyzed, or cripples. Seven hundred will pass their time constantly in prison, six of whom are un happily destined to end their lives on the gallows. To these must be added another 1,400 who become tramps, loafers, the upper fringe of the criminal class, the sort of men who usually describe themselves to the census-taker as "laborers out of work." To pass away from this unpleasant and, fortunately, small minority, let us consider what the other 508,000 boys will do for a living. Britain is, before all things, a manufacturing country, and we shall find the chances are that 150,000 of our boys will learn to make something; 330 of these will be wheelwrights, 500 tin workers. No fewer than 12,000 will have to do with cotton and wool manufacture. Boiler makers, cabinet makers, plumbers, jewelers, all these and a hundred other trades are included in this industrial army. One hundred and twenty thousand will be clerks, shopkeepers, or assistants. This 80,000 will live on the land. They will not all drive the plough. Some will be gardeners or nurserymen, woodmen, fruit growers, graziers, or the like. This is a section, however, which has sadly diminished of late years. Forty thousand will pick and shovel deep in mines or quarries, and a similar number will work in brick or stone, or other branches of the building trades. Only 5,000 less will be the number of those who will drive cabs, vans, wagons or be engaged as porters, guards, engine drivers, in the employ of our vast railway system. Domestic service accounts for another 18,000 of the number. Twenty-five thousand will engage in what are commonly called the professions. This number includes clergymen, barristers and solicitors, doctors, artists, authors, and all the ever-growing army of technicians. The army will absorb another 3,000, of whom 2,200 are likely to enter the latter service, and 800 to defend their country afloat, and we will our number with 2,000 who will be fishermen or will enter our merchant service. The work which the 480,000 girls will engage in is just as varied as that of the men. But as women rarely continue in the same profession after marriage, it will be better to deduct from the number at an average age of 20 years with 2,000 girls, which will be deducted another 1,000 who are classed as infirm. FORBIDS BESETTING.

On Thursday last at Greenwood Mr. Justice Irving granted the following injunction in the case between Le Roi Mining company, limited, plaintiffs, and Rossland Miners' Union, No. 38, Western Federation of Miners, Rossland branch, the Carpenters' and Joiners' union, the Canadian Pacific Railway company's station at Rossland, and others, defendants: "It is ordered that the defendants, their members, servants, agents and others acting by their authority, be restrained until the trial of this action or until further order, from watching or besetting or causing to be watched or beset the Canadian Pacific Railway company's station at Rossland, and the stations, tracks and crossings of the said railway, or the works of the plaintiffs or of any of them, or the approaches thereto, or the places of residence, or any place where they may happen to be of any workmen employed by or proposing to work for the plaintiffs, for the purpose of persuading or inducing or procuring any persons working for the plaintiffs to commit a breach of such contracts."

A Philadelphia Paper on the Reported New Proposal. From North America. The jingoes of the United States Senate, who defeated the Hay-Pauncefote treaty by amending it, will have no grounds for refusing to ratify the treaty now being negotiated with Great Britain if the forecast of it set out from Washington is correct. If the Clayton-Bulwer treaty is superseded by the new convention, and the United States is recognized as the sole guarantor of neutrality and accorded the right to fortify the isthmian canal, there is nothing left for the most irreconcilable jingo to demand from Great Britain. It will be interesting to see, however, what return Great Britain expects for these concessions which she so recently refused to make. It is not the habit of diplomacy to give without hand without taking with the other. The right to fortify the isthmian canal does not carry with it the obligation to build fortifications. It may be that after the canal is constructed we may come to perceive that a policy of neutrality is the surest means of protecting our property in Central America. Indeed, to plant cannon at the entrances of a neutral canal would be much like erecting a battery of guns on the coast of the United States for the purpose of its enemies in time of war, the rational thing to do when the emergency arises would be to post fleets at both ends to head off hostile ships. Such a defense would be necessary in any event for engineers have repeatedly declared that there are no suitable locations for forts either on the Atlantic or Pacific coast. The mere erection of batteries would be a provocation to attack, and no nation would be likely to do so. The fortification of the canal could be taken to mean that we would not close it to the enemy's ships in case of hostilities. If that is the real purpose of the United States, why should it commit itself to an obligation which it is not prepared to do so may compel us some day to make embarrassing explanations, if not pay more serious penalties.

STILL AT ST. MICHAEL.

Manauense's Cargo Did Not Reach Dawson as Anticipated. It is not unlikely that the cargo loaded at St. Michael by the steamer Manauense will not reach Dawson this winter. The steamer Tyrrel reached Dawson on October 4 from St. Michael with but 55 tons of cargo. She made the trip all the way from Dawson to St. Michael to meet the steamer Manauense from Seattle. The Tyrrel was to take 1,300 tons of freight from the Manauense up the river for the Dawson & White Horse Navigation company. She waited until September 17, and the Manauense not coming, she took 55 tons of cargo for the trip to Dawson. The officers of the Tyrrel feared the winter would come so soon an freeze her in at St. Michael.

OLIVE MAY WRECKED.

News of another wreck of a sternwheeler on the Yukon waters, although not fraught with loss of life on this occasion, has been received from White Horse. The steamer wrecked is the Little Olive May, a sternwheeler in charge of Capt. Martineau who is well known in Victoria. She attempted to run the White Horse Rapids on October 9, three days prior to the loss of the Goldenrod in Lake LeBarge, and struck a rock in Squaw rapids. DEMAND FOR GOOD STOCK

Mr. G. H. Hadwen Returns From a Successful Trip on the Mainland. Secures Orders For Many Carloads of Stock—Ranchers Prosperous. G. H. Hadwen, secretary of the British Columbia Dairyman's and Live-Stock Association, returned on Sunday evening from a two weeks' trip to the Mainland. He went up the Cariboo wagon road to 150-Mile House and returned by way of Alkali lake and Canoe Creek. The roads are in excellent condition. The principal object of his trip was to ascertain the needs of the ranchers and estimate the number of animals that will be required for next spring's sale of pure bred stock. He found that the stockmen had watched the summer sale at Ashcroft with interest, and the results had paved the way for his visit, for every man he met was anxious to secure stock of similar grade—the best proof possible that the animals disposed of at Ashcroft have fulfilled expectations, and given satisfaction. From the rancher visited by Mr. Hadwen he received orders for four carloads of pure bred stock, and other places which he purpose visiting Kamloops, Nicola, and other points—will doubtless require at least as many more. In addition to pure bred sires and dams for breeding purposes, Mr. Hadwen found the ranchers short of young beef stock and with abundance of winter feed. To meet the situation he was given orders for 10 carloads of stockers, and he hopes to see the order increased by at least another 10 cars. The successful growing of alfalfa in the country visited insured abundant winter fodder for a much larger number of animals than it was safe or possible to keep under the old conditions. The prospects of the ranchers were never better. They have nothing like enough animals to supply the demand, and prices of beef will rule high next spring. The best cattle available has been practically all snapped up already. The ranching country, New buildings and fencing are to be seen everywhere, and the districts generally bear a look of prosperity and perfect confidence in the future.

SMALLPOX.

Twenty-Five Cases Reported in Bonner's Ferry. Rossland, B. C., Oct. 28.—Some alarm is felt in Rossland over authenticated reports of an epidemic of smallpox at Bonner's Ferry, Washington, an important junction point on the line of the Great Northern railway. Dr. Shielar, Dominion health officer for the district, has been advised of the condition of affairs, and has learned from a medical practitioner at Bonner's Ferry that not less than 25 cases exist. A quarantine officer is on duty at Ryker's, the nearest Canadian port of entry, and the Dominion government has been urged to appoint a medical resident while the epidemic continues. With these precautions it is believed there is not the slightest danger of the disease extending to Dominion territory.

LET THE AUTHORITIES ACT.

The paragraph in yesterday's Colonist in reference to St. George's Inn has called forth much favorable comment in Victoria West and Esquimalt.

PROFITLESS POLITICS.

The Vancouver Liberals at a recent meeting decided that the time had come for the introduction of federal party lines into the local field.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and effective cure for hemorrhoids and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles.

the last general election that province, the Conservatives, under the leadership of Mr. George B. Foss, resolved to run the contest on federal lines, but the voters absolutely refused to respond, and the only reason why the straight Conservatives elected even one member of the house was because of the personal popularity of some five candidates.

Let it be supposed that a British Columbia premier should summon to his cabinet none but Liberals, and should be able to secure the co-operation of the present federal ministry in a policy of provincial development.

B. C. FISHERIES.

We submit for the consideration of the Dominion government that a thorough report upon the coast and inland fisheries of British Columbia would be very timely and valuable.

SOUTH AFRICA.

Lord Milner's announcement that the time has come for the reconquest of our new possessions in South Africa, and the restoration of the supremacy of peaceful avocations indicates better than even Lord Kitchener's weekly reports how near at hand the end of the Boer resistance is.

Is our evening contemporary growing quite silly over those little letters of "A Conservative"? Frankly we did not think very much of the letters when we printed them, but evidently there is a very large Ethiopian concealed somewhere in the wood-pile.

OVER-CAPITALIZATION.

One of the arguments against the private ownership of railways is that they are likely in almost every instance to be over-capitalized. There is undoubtedly a great deal in the contention, but the margin is not as great as we estimated in yesterday's Colonist.

GRAHAM ISLAND.

Graham Island, the largest of the Queen Charlotte group, is capable of being made the home of a prosperous community, when once means of communication have been afforded.

THE ROYAL TOUR.

The Associated Press London correspondent telegraphs that it has not been felt that the tour of the Duke and Duchess has been a great success, and he gives as a reason that little attention has been paid to it in Great Britain.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.

We print a somewhat absurd letter from a Socialist this morning and shall not take the trouble to reply to it specifically, for such a writer is not open to reason.

Contrary to general belief, Graham Island contains a considerable area of very excellent farming land. A thousand farmers could find homes there, if a small expenditure was made in the way of drainage, and they could carry on fishing in connection with farming, just as thousands of men do along the coast of Nova Scotia.

DISSENTING OPINIONS.

"A Conservative" wrote the Colonist two letters recently, and a correspondent of the Times made a reference to him and tried to intimate, who the writer was. Some interest seems to attach to the matter, and several gentlemen have asked the editor of the Colonist who the correspondent is.

FREIGHT RATES.

Mr. J. Stuart Yates writes a letter to the Times in regard to freight rates. He thinks it would be well to have a committee of merchants take the matter up with the C. P. R. milos, representing a capitalization of $1,200,000,000. We suppose that this must be admitted to be excessive, and therefore for the purposes of the argument we shall reduce it one-third, that is bring it down to $800,000,000, and this is surely not excessive in view of the time when many of our most expensive railways were built.

Therefore whether any reduction in railway charges is to be made it is possible under government ownership is exceedingly problematical. Doubtless there could be many modifications in existing tariffs, but the facts above set forth clearly show that no substantial reduction would be possible.

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene relieved my asthma in 20 minutes. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement in a paper, and bought this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves in saying that it was a trial. To my astonishment the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-sized bottle."

REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER, Rabbi of Cong. B'nai Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901.

Drs. Taft Bros' Medicine Co. Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which come in connection with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful.

Dr. Taft Bros. Medicine Co.

Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I was finally cured by your Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it using one bottle for Asthma has disappeared and she is a medical improvement. After using one bottle I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully,

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene relieved my asthma in 20 minutes. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement in a paper, and bought this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves in saying that it was a trial. To my astonishment the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full-sized bottle."

REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER, Rabbi of Cong. B'nai Israel, New York, Jan. 3, 1901.

Drs. Taft Bros' Medicine Co. Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which come in connection with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful.

After having it carefully analyzed, we state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours, REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

Stevens Trial In Progress

Hasenratz, Victim of the Pea Kiff Tells His Story to Jury

The Judge and Jury Visit the Scene of the Shooting

The trial of young Ernest Stevens, charged with shooting Isaac Hasenratz with intent to do grievous bodily harm, began in the criminal assize court yesterday morning before Mr. Justice Drake.

After several challenges by defendant's counsel the following jury was sworn: J. A. Johnson, foreman, and Messrs. Arthur Brooks, Fred G. Brock, Chas. E. Cowan, Arthur Bent, John C. Hay, R. A. Dodd, R. Davidson, L. Foster, J. D. Hepworth, Thos. Green and D. A. Kelly.

Mr. Hunter opened the case for the crown, briefly outlining the facts disclosed by the evidence at the preliminary hearing, from which the crown contended a clear case of deliberate shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm was proven.

Isaac Hasenratz was the first witness. He deposes that on Thursday, October 3, he went out shooting with two boys. They fell in with Stewart Rutman and his son, and afterwards with two other boys.

Cross-examined by Mr. Powell, witness denied that he was the one who shot Stevens. He said he did not mean to shoot at Stevens, but that he was laughing at him when he fired.

On cross-examination the doctor said he had no doubt the double vision would disappear in time. Carl Borgeson, 11 years old, was the next witness.

Mr. Belyea objected to the evidence of Detective Palmer, arguing that the accused had not been properly cautioned at the time of his arrest.

The court then adjourned till 11 o'clock this morning, and being all over, they dispersed after being cautioned to refrain from speaking of or discussing the case.

Jury Find That Death of Tramway Lineman Was Purely Accidental.

The inquest into the cause of the death of William Docking, jr., the line man who was killed on the transmission line of the B. C. Electric Railway company on Sunday afternoon, and a verdict of accidental death was brought in by the jury, a rider being added to the effect that only experienced men should be employed on dangerous work.

The child of an alien enemy born in a part of the British dominions which is at the time in hostile occupation is a British subject. Again, the child born within the British dominions of an alien enemy is a British subject.

The King's son is always a British subject, wherever he may be born. With this exception the acquisition of the status of a British subject of parentage is not a British subject.

The Killing of Clinnick

Harold Gill, the Young Royal Engineer Pleads Not Guilty.

Evidence for the Crown All in and the Defence Proceeding.

In the criminal assize court yesterday morning Harold Gill was arraigned before Mr. Justice Drake...

Gill entered the dock with a calm, soldierly demeanor, and when he was asked to plead, said "Not guilty, sir."

The following jury was called and sworn: John A. Johnson (foreman), Fred A. Brock, Jas. Atkins, D. Goodman, Robert Davidson, Fred Smery, John G. Hay, F. H. Campbell, Robt. Brown, L. Foster, Arthur Bent and Patrick Everett.

Mon. Attorney-General Eberts in opening the case for the crown said it was his duty to present to them one of the most deliberate cases of homicide which had ever come before a British Columbia court.

He then briefly outlined the prisoner's actions immediately preceding the shooting of Clinnick. He told how Gill borrowed a carbine on pretense of settling a bet, how he went into the canteen, deliberately took aim and fired the fatal shot, instantly killing Clinnick.

No motive for the crime appeared in the evidence which the crown would produce, but it seemed natural that the commission of what was to be a deliberate murder, the fact that he intended killing Mahoney and not Clinnick did not lessen his crime.

He was called to work point on October 15 to make a post mortem examination on the body of deceased.

Cross-examined by Mr. Belyca, witness said the direction of the wound was almost horizontal, slightly upward.

Frederick Bartlett, lance corporal, Royal Engineers, sworn—Knew prisoner and deceased. Saw Clinnick on the Sunday night of the murder in the canteen with several other men.

Cross-examined by Mr. Belyca—About four minutes after Gill got the gun witness heard the shot.

Harry Levin, private Royal Engineers, sworn—Was in the canteen when Clinnick was shot.

Witness said "Don't what?" Gill replied, "Shot Mahoney."

On the way to the guard room Gill said he was sorry for Clinnick, as he meant it for Mahoney.

Cross-examined by Mr. Belyca—Prisoner was talking all the way to the guard room. Had been in the canteen for about 20 minutes before the shot was fired.

William Foley, gunner, Royal Artillery, sworn—Saw Clinnick in the canteen playing cards about 7 o'clock on the night of the shooting.

Witness told that he saw Mahoney and Gill talking in the canteen, but did not see Gill much that week.

Cross-examined by Mr. Belyca—Mahoney was sitting between Clinnick and the door and was talking to Gill.

Fast Cleaners To Be Built

Trip to Vancouver by Two Vessels Will Occupy Four Hours.

Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the C. P. N. company, arrived by the Charmer last night from his trip to Montreal and the Eastern coast, where he went in connection with the securing of steamers for the Victoria-Vancouver route.

The theory of the defence was that the victim of a monstrous indignity at Mahoney's hands, that he brooded over his disgrace, as he considered it, and the tensions of thought, and the physical driver of desperation and excited with liquor, he had fired at his enemy and, unfortunately, killed Clinnick.

The first witness for the defence was Edward J. Walker, gunner in the Royal Artillery—Was in the canteen previous to the shooting of Clinnick.

Walker was asked if he saw Mahoney and Gill talking in the canteen, but did not see Gill much that week.

Cross-examined by Mr. Belyca—Mahoney was sitting between Clinnick and the door and was talking to Gill.

Tattooed Criminals.

Some Strange Statistics Gathered Upon the Subject.

From London Leader.

Professor Lombroso is a busy man, a deep thinker and a student and short is the time he can devote to interviews, and yet he has gathered with regard to the tattooing on criminals and prepared for the archives of the Anthropological congress.

He informs me, writes a correspondent, that 18.4 per cent of 1,897 prisoners in Italian reform schools were tattooed. Of these 29 per cent had from three to five tattoos, 16 per cent from 6 to 10, 10 per cent from 11 to 24, and a few passed from 24 to 48.

Most of the tattoos were on the forearms, and a large number on the person, consisting of letters, symbols, initials and objectionable inscriptions.

Most of the inscriptions however, were such as "Long live the thieves," "Long live Anarchy," etc.

Twenty-six were tattooed with the date of their conviction, and the date of the Victoria-Skagway route, and in an interview with a Colonist reporter gave some interesting details of the new liners—four liners they will be in every sense the best.

The new ferry to replace the Charmer on the run daily between Victoria and Vancouver will be a twin screw steamer, 290 feet long, 39 feet beam, 12 feet draught and having engines of the most approved modern type.

It will give her an average speed of 18 knots, and will be 200 feet long, and capable of making the trip between this city and Vancouver in four hours.

To make an average speed of 18 knots she will have to be able to make at least 20 when pushed, and it is this matter of speed which is making the cost of the steamers great.

The Victoria-Skagway line, which is to be replaced by the new liners, is to be built in the Victoria-Skagway route, and in an interview with a Colonist reporter gave some interesting details of the new liners.

MODERN FABLES

By George Ade. Copyright 1901, by Robert Howard Russell.

Once upon a time a Member of the Graduating Class advanced his left foot and talked for 15 Minutes about "The College Man in Politics."

Some 400 other "Seniors" in various fresh water Institutions had sprung the same scholarly Discourse, including Gestures.

The Collegian, seated among his Sofa Pillows and twanging the Banjo in the Gloaming, this whole Business of reforming the Universe is as simple as A, B, C.

The first thing to do is to Educate the Masses. After that induce Business Men to attend Primaries and take an interest in Ward Offices.

Then fill all the Minor Offices with learned Gentlemen of unimpeachable Character, and there you are!

The Graduate delivered a good hard smack on the respectable Stay-at-Home. He struck straight from the Shoulder at the Prominent Citizen who is so busy with his Income that he refuses to get out and give his Time and Money to the glorious Work of Municipal Reform.

When he returned Home he told his Father all about his Plans for redeeming the Country.

"Forget it," said his Parent. "Chuck it! Take something for it."

"I have fitted myself for a Career," said the Young Man.

The Graduate said to his Father, "I am a Manufacturing Business. The University Man owes a certain Debt to Society."

"You bet he does," said the Old Gentleman, warmly. "And if he doesn't mind his P's and Q's, Society will let him down and choke him and take it away from him."

"You don't seem to bank very much on Unselfish Patriotism," said the Son.

"You are the Type of Commercial Cynic that wallowed so hard in my Grandfather's business."

"I am a Safe or Climb a Porch, and yet you refuse to Buckle on the Armor and attack the Forces of Evil. If you don't want to fight the battle of the People at least you might stand on the Side-Lines and root for Honest Government."

"I rooted for one or two Campaigns, replied the Father, and now you are asking me to get a Permit for a Switch-Track to the Factory, the Forces of Evil looked up my Record and immediately gave me the Boobs, as it were."

"Fortunately I am acquainted with Monsieur D. Darkness named Fatty Dinkle, Mr. Dinkle's Head rises straight from his Collar."

"I regret to say that he is the Managing Editor of the Reform Journal, with a Crap Game upstairs and a Dope Laboratory in the Basement."

"Mr. Dinkle squared me with the Gang and I got my Permit. In a Spirit of Gratitude, I slipped him $500 for his Campaign Fund. Since then we have been Good Friends. He sees that our Vested Interests do not get the Short End of it at the Start."

"I would have preferred to get the Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating."

"That Fall of brilliant Son of the well-known Manufacturer was elected to the Legislature by a Spontaneous Uprising of the Common People."

"MOBAL: It requires a Post-Graduate Course to round out a Man's Training."

"Neechob-I saw the doctor call at your house this morning. Is your father very ill?"

"Boy-Not yet. The doctor only came today for the first time. -T.M.B.

CRUEL AUTHORITIES

Police Close Up Kohan's Agency for Joining Hearts and Agencies.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—(Special)—The police today closed up the business of B. Kohan, a well-known Canadian matrimonial agency.

No arrests were made, but all letters found in the office were seized and none will be delivered pending the decision of the law authorities on the case.

Most of Kohan's advertising seems to have been done in United States papers. In the list of stock-bridges, Mr. Kohan claims to have in stock, "a handsome blonde, 30 years old, very wealthy"; "a pretty widow, 30 years old, with means, and will inherit more"; "prominent authoress in Kentucky"; "a young girl, 18 years old, with $5,000"; "a pretty maiden, blonde, with $2,000," etc.

The host of men ready to become bridegrooms includes the wealthy lawyer, the prominent Western newspaper editor, worth $75,000; a director of a large railway in Argentine Republic. There is also a long list of ladies who married poor men, through introduction by Kohan.

A Canadian farmer, Kohan formerly conducted a matrimonial agency at Syracuse, N.Y., was suppressed by the United States postal authorities.

BOBBS COURT-MARTIALED.

Several Trial and Short-South African Claims.

London, Oct. 28.—The South African war claims, which were captured wearing khaki uniforms were court-martialed and shot.

It seems also that Commandant Theron, a Canadian officer, was shot at the river station on September 23.

At the resumption of the sitting of the South African compensation commission, Sir John C. Amagh, on behalf of the government, announced that all the claims of foreign countries had been decided judicially, with the exception of those of the Netherlands and France as follows: United States, $5,000; Austria, $15,000; Germany, $20,000; Italy, $10,000; Spain, $150; Sweden and Norway, $1,000; Switzerland, £250, and Belgium £800.

Newton Crane, who represented the United States before the commission, regards the settlement as most favorable for the American claimants, of whom there are only 15. The average, after the expenses are deducted, will be $33 for the Americans, against $3 for the claimants of other countries.

Crane, "inasmuch as the court would have compelled Great Britain to pay a penny. The amount is 14 per cent of the claims, which is an average rate of the United States to British subjects who suffered in the civil war not three per cent."

FOUGHT NAKED.

Exploit of Yeomanry Who Stormed Island in Vaal River.

A despatch dated October 15 from Kimberley, South Africa, says: "Our Yeomanry column arrived at Wilton's Ditch from the Orange River Colony, bringing in 36 prisoners and 325 rifles."

A party of Boers was discovered at the mouth of the Orange River near Paarl. A detachment of Yeomanry was sent across the river to prevent their retreat. Working in the night, the Boers had dug a trench across the island, and eventually captured 100 of the enemy. The prisoners are fine stalwart men, and look like ideal fighters.

NEW GERMAN REPILES.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—The equipment of the German army with the new rifles, which was suspended a year ago, will be resumed in November, enough rifles having been manufactured for six army corps.

Army officers having recently been writing too freely for the newspapers, the corps commanders acting as Emperor's commissaries, have called the attention of their officers to the service of the Emperor.

Wedded At St. Saviour's Captain G. M. Audaine and Miss S. B. Dunsmuir Made Happy For Life

A Brilliant Ceremony Amid a Scene Made Beautiful With Flowers.

St. Saviour's church, Victoria West, was the scene of the most brilliant social event of the season yesterday afternoon, when Rt. Rev. Bishop Ferrin, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Scrivan and Rev. W. D. Baker, solemnized the marriage of Capt. Guy Mortimer Audaine, of the Indian Service Corps, to Miss S. B. Dunsmuir, eldest daughter of Premier the Hon. James Dunsmuir and Mrs. Dunsmuir, of this city.

The pretty church had been tastefully decorated in green and white flora by friends of the bride and groom. The guests began to assemble, the pleasing effect was much admired. The screen of the chancel was covered with twining smilax, and from its green folds stood out chrysanthemums, white and their whiteness, white bows and streamers of white satin ribbon intensified the picturesque effect.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the groom, Capt. G. M. Audaine, in a dark suit, with a white waistcoat, and a white bow tie, stood in front of the altar, where stood the officiating clergyman, robed in his canonicals and mitre. The bride, Miss S. B. Dunsmuir, stood to the left of the altar, wearing a gown of white satin, with a large train, and a large white veil. The ceremony was performed with the usual solemnity and grace.

There was an expectant hush in the church as the organ's echoes died away, and silence prevailed while the groom, in a low voice, pronounced the vows. The bride responded in like manner, and the ceremony proceeded with the usual solemnity and grace.

The person's wife, however, was not easily to be turned from her prognostications, and the dream had evidently been shared by her. The matter was beat on young Staines, and lord mayor he should be.
