FIRST ANNUAL REPORTC.

THE OBJECT OF THE SOCIETY

Is the same as that of the great Evangelization Society of England, as they state in their report for 1880, just received: "To preach the Gospel in every part of our land remains the one object of our Society, and all the money entrusted to us goes to this end." It is more fuily stated in the following exiract from the Constitution of our own Society:
"The object of this Socicty is not the formation of any new Sect or Church, but simply the salvation of souls and the addition of members to the existing Christian Churches, and fostering increased life in them all. Its Evangelists are intended to supplement, and not to supersctic or interfere with the work of the Minister, who combines the office of pastor and teacher with that of Evangelist, and whose place it is, thercfore, to undertake the care and direction of converts."

PAST WORK OF THE SOCIETY:

Information as to the movements and labours of the Evangelists working under the auspices of this Society has froin time to time been given to the friends of the cause of our great Master; but it will, however, be interesting and instructive now to give a short summary of the work that has been done up to the present time.

Meetings have boen held. since the organizution of the S.ceiery in January, 1880, a: the following places: Southanptos, conduc ed by Mr. Arthur Burson and Mr, George Thom; Toronto, (Chestnut Street), by Mr. W. P. Crombie, assisted by several others; South Calldon, by Mr. Crombie and Mr. S. R. Briggs; Dos Mount (Toronto), by Mr. Crombie, assisted by others; Wallaceburg, by the Rev. John Salmon and Mr. Burson; Bracebridge, by Mr. Crom bie and Mr. W. A. Parlane; Morpeth, by the same gentlemen; Duxkeld, by Mr. Heary Ware; Pinkerton, by the same; Toronto Exhibition, by Messrs. Ware and Crombie; York Mhls, bj Messrs. Burson, Ware, and Thoin ; Willowdale, by Messrs. Burson and Crombie; Sunderland, by Mr. Ware, the last meeting being conducted by Rev. Mr. Rainsford; Ridgetown, by Messrs. Burson and Crombie; Duart, and subsequently Thamesvine, by the same gentlemen.
To give some idea of the amount of work done, it may be mentioned that there were 521 meetings held by the Evangelists, besides several children's meetings, in the sixteen places that were visited.

mode of carrying on the work.

The plan adopted in carrying on the work in these pluces, was to have a Bible rearling in the morring or afternoun, and an evanyelistic service at night. In adidition to this the Evangelists dis tributed a number of tracti, and as far as time permitted made a house to house visitation in the vicinity.
The meetings were in every case un:on in their character. The simple Gospel of Jesus Christ alone was preached-the great cardinal truths in which all branches of Christ's Church agree.

ATTENDANCE AND RESULTS.

The attendance at the Bible readings and evening services were at every place most satisfactory, the evening meetings especially being crowded, growing in number and interst from the beginning to the close. Very many sours professed to have found the Saviour, whilst befievers were strengthened and instructed in the Scriptures. The Word of God was on all occasions prominently brought before the people, both earnestly and powerfuly. The result was what might have been expected, an absence of excitement but an abiding remembrance of the saving truth, and to very many an acceptance of it, not as a matter of temporary fecling, but in the calm conviction of its certainty. Another evidence of the nature of the teaching was that the work thus happily begun has been in every instance continued to a greater or less degree by various ministers and other Christians in the neigh bourhood.
We need not here repeat extracts from the various letters received, speaking of the meetings and the results following thereffom, as they have been already published. They have come from every place where the meetings have been held, and weri most interesting and encournging. One very noliccable result has been that wherover the Evangelists have $b$ en, the membership of the var:ous ch.st ches in sympathy witi the work inas been largely increased.

needs of the country and futcre work

The conclusion drawn from the past year's work is that the field now ripening to the harvest is of vast extent, and that many will not, bumanly speaking, hear the "joyful me-sage" without some such agency as this Socie!y affords. Our Lord declared His mission to be to stek and to save the lost, and the same thing is true for all time. No matter how faithful the ministers may be, there are mumbers in ecery neighbourhood who cannot bie induced to enter a place of worship, but who will oft $n$ out of .-re. rim t", or to pass an evening, go to hear the ins.sted upon. It is this class that the S :ciety more especially seeks to reach. A considerationa all this shows at once what a powerful auxihary it may be in bringing such persons within the influence of the Church ministrations.

More invitations are before the Committee than can at preseat be accepted, for want of men. It is clear that the time has come when the operations of the Society should be extended. It fills a want which camnot otherwise be supplied. The Committee on their part feel the responsibility of the position in which they are placed, and, , hile thankfully believing that the Society has been used in bringing the Gospel home th my, now urgz all Christian men and women to beseech the Lord of the vineyard to send mare laboursers into the harvest. Thay b.lieve that the work is from Him, and that He will therefore put it inio the minds of the "willing-hearted" to contribute what money may be necessary to carry it on.
The Society is supported entirely by voluntary contributions. There is no machinery whatever provided for coliecting money. Every cent that is received goes directly to the maintenance of the work.
The Committee would now throw a due share of the responsbiiity in this matter on those who, having themselves tasted that the Lord is gracious, are surely only too glad to be allowed the privilege of sending the glad tidings to others who have as yet been less highly favoured.
As an encouragement it may be mentioned that the Evangelization Society of England, which had an income of only $£^{2,295}$ ten years ago, was last year in receipt of $\neq 10,288$ from voluntary contributions; and during the same period their meeting have increased in number (since the Society was organized in 1868-9) from 1,309 to $\mathbf{1 5 , 4 3 8}$.

finaxices.

The total amount received by the Treasurer during the year 1880 was $$ 886.23$, of which $$ 574$ was composed of private subscriptions, and $$ 3 \times 2.23$ contributed by persons in the different localities where the missions were heid. The details of the recepts and expenditure are given in the annexed statement of the Treasurer.
A much larger sum will be required for the coming year, as it is hoped t at more men will be in the field, and if possible the Commattee would like to be in a position to insite to this country one of the best known Evangelists of England.
