The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Library
Dalhousie University

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Library
Dalhousie University

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

THE COMPOUND INVESTMENT PLAN

Offers more advantages combined in one contract than can be found in any other form of Investment Insurance.

1st.—The applicant may select a term of 15 or 20 years.

2nd.—After 10 years in force, the contract guarantees, if the insured so desires, to loan the remaining annual premiums as they mature, and if death occur after the tenth year, the full face of the policy will be payable, loan (if any) being cancelled.

3rd.—If the eleventh and subsequent premiums are paid, and death occur before the termination of the Investment period, such premiums will be paid as a mortuary dividend with the full face of the policy.

4th.—After three years in force, it is indisputable and non-forfeitable.

5th.—Travel in any part of the world does not invalidate the contract

6th.—At the termination of the Investment period the Insured can select one of the following options:

1. Withdraw the total cash value of the policy.

Or,

2. Purchase a Paid-up Policy, payable at death.

Or,

Or,

4. Use the surplus to purchase an Annuity for life, and continue policy in force without payment of any further premiums.

Or,

5. Use the surplus towards cancelling any loan or debt on the policy, and continue the original policy in force without payment of any further premiums thereon.

PREFACE.

THE steady and unresting flight of time has brought round the season for a new issue of THE PRESBYTERIAN YEAR BOOK. Examination will show that it has been considerably improved; the aim having been to make it more useful and attractive than ever. It seeks to aid the best interests of the Church throughout the Dominion. As in former years, indebtedness is heartily acknowledged for the timely and suitable contributions with which well-known writers, ministerial and lay, have favoured us.

The progress made by the SUN LIFE during 1890 was remarkable. The new business was the largest in the Company's history and was equalled by but one other Canadian Life Company. The income for the year exceeds $2,000 for each day in the year, Sundays included. The Assets are large and rapidly increasing. They are moreover of the highest character, yielding an average interest of 6.04 per cent. The overdue interest is small and the Real Estate owned under foreclosure is only four per cent. of the amount of mortgages. This is a remarkable showing. The surplus accumulated during the FOUR years of the current quinquennium is nearly three times as much as the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to Policy-Holders cannot fail thus to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the SUN LIFE is no doubt largely due to its unconditional Policies and prompt payment of claims. Its reputation for honorable and liberal dealing could not but be of the utmost value to any institution.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTER.

Miscellaneous matter, described as under, may pass between places in the Dominion of Canada upon prepayment of the rates indicated below. The regulations of the British Post Office do not admit of the transmission by mail to the United Kingdom (or other countries beyond the sea) of miscellaneous matter as such; but a great part of the matter referred to under that head may be forwarded to the United Kingdom by Book Post.

On all books, pamphlets, occasional publications, printed circulars (productions of the type-writer, or imitations thereof, are not admissible as circulars), prices current, handbills, or other matter wholly in print, and on packages of seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions or grafts, patterns or samples of goods or merchandise, the rate of postage is 1 cent for each 4 oz. or fraction of 4 oz.; and on all book and newspaper manuscripts, printers' proof-sheets, whether corrected or not, maps, prints, drawings, engravings, lithographs, photographs, when not on glass or in cases containing glass; sheet music, whether printed or written; documents partly printed or written, not being letters, or intended to serve the purpose of letters—such as deeds, insurance policies, militia, municipal and school returns, school or college examination papers or other documents of like nature,—and on all other miscellaneous matter transmissible by post and not otherwise herein expressly provided for, the rate of postage is 1 cent for each 2 oz. or fraction of 2 oz.; and the postage rate must in every case be prepaid by postage stamps or stamped post bands or wrappers; provided that no letter or other communication intended to serve the purpose of a letter be sent or inclosed in any such package or thing mentioned, and that the same be sent in covers open at the ends or sides, or otherwise so put up as to admit of the contents being, if necessary, easily withdrawn for examination by the officers of the Post Office to ensure compliance with this provision; (if enclosed in sealed envelopes notched at the ends or sides, or with the corners cut off, letter rate of postage will be charged); and that the postage rate be prepaid by postage stamp or stamped post bands or wrappers in all cases.

No packet of miscellaneous matter can be transmitted by mail if it exceed 5 lbs. in weight, 24 inches in length, or 12 inches in width or depth.

Legal and commercial papers generally (including bank pass-books) are liable to letter rate of postage, except when sent as parcels by Parcel Post, and the exceptions above given to matter of that class are restricted to the documents specified, such as deeds and insurance policies.

NEWSPAPERS AND PERIODICALS.

Newspapers and periodicals printed and published in Canada, and issued not less frequently than once a month from a known office of publication or news agency, and addressed and posted to and from the same for transmission by mail to regular subscribers or news agents in Canada and the United States, are sent free; if addressed to Great Britain, they may be posted by the same on prepayment of a rate of 8 cents for each pound weight in bulk, or fraction of a pound; and such newspapers and periodicals are to be put up into packages and delivered into the Post Office, and the postage rate thereon prepaid by the publisher or news agent, being the sender thereof, under such regulations as the Postmaster-General may from time to time make.

On all newspapers and periodicals posted in Canada, for delivery in the Dominion, other than those addressed to regular subscribers or news agents, from office of publication or news agency, including all newspapers and periodicals published less frequently than once a month, the rate will be 1 cent per 4 oz., to be invariably prepaid by postage stamp.

Newspapers and periodicals weighing less than 1 oz. each may be posted singly, if prepaid by postage stamp  $\frac{1}{2}$  cent each.

The postage on specimen newspapers and papers and periodicals published less frequently than once a month is 1 cent per lb.

Transient Newspapers.—Transient newspapers and periodicals include all newspapers and periodicals posted in Canada, other than Canada newspapers sent from the office of publication, and British newspapers posted by news agents for regular subscribers in Canada. When addressed to any place within the Dominion, or the United States, they must be prepaid the following rates by postage stamp: if weighing less than 1 oz.,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cent each; if weighing over 1 oz., 1 cent per 4 oz. or fraction of 4 oz. On transient newspapers addressed to the United Kingdom the rate will be 1 cent per 2 oz., to be prepaid by postage stamp. Canada newspapers posted from the office of publication to subscribers in the United Kingdom—sent in the Mails forwarded by Canadian Packet or via New York—must be prepaid by postage stamp at the transient paper rate of 1 cent per 2 oz. All newspapers and periodicals prepaid at the bulk rate of 8 cents per lb. must be stamped "Prepaid by Publisher," at the Post Office where mailed.

PARCEL POST.

The charges on Parcels by the Parcel Post to places within the Dominion, is 6 cents for every 4 oz. or fraction thereof (with 5 cents additional if Registered). No letter must be enclosed; if any is discovered, the amount paid will be forfeited, and the parcel charged at unpaid letter rates. No parcel must exceed 5 lbs. in weight, and must be prepaid by stamps.

STEEL ALLOY BELLS

It is a well known fact that the size and weight of bells control the tone, and that the depth and purity of tone are increased as the weight is increased and the size enlarged. This is true of all classes of bells. A brass bell of one to two hundred pounds is unsuited to a church because its tone is light and frivolous, and lacks that gravity so necessary and becoming to the sacred edifice.

Now, the money necessary to purchase a two hundred pound brass bell would purchase one of three times that weight of ours, and a grave, sonorous tone is secured that is far more appropriate than the jingle of the former.

What we claim is, that the same money invested in our bells will secure a bell of greater volume of sound and more suitable in tone, and can be heard farther than could be obtained by a purchase of a Copper and Tin Bell.

MEN AND WOMEN

are children when they have to take medicine. Cod-liver oil would be taken by everybody whenever he sees a little loss of plumpness, but for its nasty taste.

We all know that the doctors agree—there is not one in the world that does not agree—that cod-liver oil is a fat-making food, the life-saving food for those who need it. For some it is the only means of life.

This universal agreement on cod-liver oil is the growth of generations of medical thought. But the form in which cod-liver oil has reached its greatest usefulness is Scott's Emulsion; and this, in sixteen years, has come to use the livers of half the Norwegian catch of codfish!

The taste has had something to do with the success of this great improvement of cod liver oil—it does not taste bad—some like it, especially children.

Physicians know all about it; but there are thousands of people to whom the taste of cod-liver oil is a bug-bear yet!

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, at any drug store, 50c. and $1.

THE MODERATOR.

REV. THOMAS WARDROPE, D.D., GUELPH.

Perhaps the Moderator never was better described than by an enthusiastic admirer who said: "Give me Dr. Wardrope; he is respectable every time." Unique respectability in everything and perennial amiability are the Moderator's strong points as a man and a minister. A really good preacher without being a great one, a happy and effective platform speaker but not conspicuously eloquent or powerful, a good church court man without any special knowledge of the Book of Forms, a man of fine missionary spirit without making missions a hobby, a life-long and pronounced temperance man, but not a narrow specialist, a progressive man but not a radical, conservative but not an obstructionist, zealous but always prudent, evangelical but never gushy, Dr. Wardrope is one of those finely-balanced men who never fail to have influence in a Presbyterian church. Whatever he does will be respectably done, whatever he says will be said in the best and happiest style. In the pulpit, on the platform, in the Church courts, on the most irritating committee that ever tried clerical temper, on church commissions that mean much, or in making or replying to addresses that mean little or nothing, Dr. Wardrope may always be trusted to say the right thing in the most pleasant way. As his admirer observed, he is respectable every time.

Dr. Thomas Wardrope was born in Ladykirk, Berwickshire, Scotland, in May, 1819, and began his studies for the ministry in Edinburgh under Pillars and Dunbar. His father, also a Rev. Thomas Wardrope, was a licentiate of the Church of Scotland, and for years taught the parish school of Ladykirk. From him the future Moderator probably learned those habits of correct speech which never fail him even in the most critical situations. In 1834 the family came to Canada and settled in the township of Flamboro', then a wilderness. After trying his hand for several years at bush farming, he resumed his studies, taking lessons from his father under the superintendence of the Presbytery of Hamilton. In 1842 he entered Queen's College, Kingston, and after the Disruption of 1844 taught for some time the Grammar School of Bytown, now Ottawa. In 1845 he was ordained and inducted pastor of Knox Church, Bytown, in which charge he remained for fourteen years. During these years his actual parish was the Ottawa valley. Like many of the founders of the Free Church, the youthful pastor of Knox Church, Bytown, greatly enjoyed a good preaching tour. To go up the Ottawa, or make a tour through one or two of the older townships was to him a pleasure, and many and rich are the incidents the genial Moderator can relate of these early days. The typical minister of that time was a Home Mission man, and if modern congregations were less exacting in their demands, and their pastors and modern ministers could enjoy Home Mission work occasionally, some of our Home Mission problems would be easier solved.

In 1869 Dr. Wardrope was translated to Chalmers' Church, Guelph, his present charge. His pastorates have been few but his honours have been many. In 1858 he was appointed Moderator of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Canada; from 1873 to 1877 he was Convener of the Assembly's Committee on the State of Religion, a position his turn of mind and attainments enabled him to adorn; from 1883 until last year he was Convener of the Assembly's Foreign Mission Committee, and during his term of office was privileged to see the work under his charge greatly extended and the missionary spirit of the Church quickened. A short time after the Union of 1875 the degree of Doctor in Divinity was conferred upon him by the authorities of Queen's University, an honour as deservedly won as it is worthily worn. His election to the Moderator's chair in June was made unanimous, and it is safe to say that few elections to the highest place in the gift of the Supreme Court were ever more heartily endorsed by the people of Canada.

Queen's celebrated her first jubilee two years ago. Among the many representative men who took part in the proceedings there were three whose presence awakened suggestive memories and whose speeches were heard and afterwards read with peculiar interest. These were Sir John Macdonald, Dr. Reid and Dr. Wardrope. Sir John and Dr. Reid took part in the meeting held in Kingston fifty years before to lay the foundations of the University. Dr. Wardrope was one of the first students, and the account he gave of his four days' drive from Flamboro' to the University seat, and his hunt for the institution when he arrived, were a long way from being the least interesting part of the jubilee programme. The immediate cause of his going should not be overlooked. He had heard Dr. Bayne, of Galt, preach on a week day in a log church in the township of Puslinch. With his usual power the Doctor urged the claims of the new college, and pressed home the binding command to preach the Gospel to every creature. To that sermon the Church probably owes the Moderator and his life work. Then and there he resolved that by the grace and help of God he would be present at the opening of that new college. The rest forms part of the history of Presbyterianism in Canada. Who can tell the consequences that may follow the preaching of one sermon? A sermon, even in a log church on a week day, may be a great event if the preacher is a Bayne.

It has already been stated that one of Dr. Wardrope's most marked characteristics is his well-known amiability. It must not be supposed, however, that his amiability arises from weakness of character. He is a man of strong convictions, but he possesses in a rare degree the faculty—the invaluable faculty—of propagating his opinions without wounding anybody's sensibilities. A Liberal by instinct, he probably never had a difficulty with the most pronounced Tory in Ottawa or Guelph. A strong, outspoken temperance man all his days, he never called a liquor seller a hard name. One of the first and most active advocates of liberty in the use of hymns and instruments in public worship, he would be a welcome visitor in the home of the most stalwart Highlander in Puslinch or Glengarry. A worthy man at the Church, Guelph, but his honours as Moderator of the Synod from 1873 to 1877 he was Moderator of Religion, a privilege to adorn; from the Synod's Foreign Missionary spirit of Union of 1875 the authorities as it is worthily June was made to the highest place artily endorsed by

ago. Among the meetings there were memories and whose interest. These Wardrobe. Sir John Kingston fifty years Dr. Wardrobe was of his four days' hunt for the least immediate cause of Dr. Bayne, of the friendship of Puslinch. of the new college, which the Gospel to probably owes the solved that by the opening of that new Presbyterianism in slow the preaching a week day, may pe's most marked not be supposed, character. He is rare degree the opinions without tinct, he probably ory in Ottawa or is days, he never t and most active uments in public of the most stal- rthy man at the Assembly was not far from the facts when he said, "Dr. Wardrobe is too good a man for Moderator." Good nature that even a General Assembly cannot disturb in ten hot days is a sight well worth seeing, even if it does at times hold the reins a little loosely and allow the Book of Forms to disappear temporarily from the ecclesiastical conveyance. Dr. Wardrobe splitting legal hairs would have been oppressive. Dr. Wardrobe ruling by downright good nature was pleasing, because strictly in accordance with the fitness of things.

BY THE REV. W. S. M'TAVISH, B.D., ST. GEORGE, ONT.

Dr. Grant, in his well-known book, "From Ocean to Ocean," says, "Travel a thousand miles up the St. Lawrence; another thousand on great lakes and a wilderness of lakelets and streams; a thousand miles across prairies and up the valley of the Saskatchewan; and nearly a thousand through woods and up great ranges of mountains, and you have travelled from ocean to ocean through Canada." But even that territory, vast as it is, is not quite conterminous with that within which the Presbyterian Church in Canada is called upon to do Home Mission work. The island of Newfoundland must not be overlooked. Few, if any, Churches, therefore, have a grander, more encouraging, or more hopeful field in which to exercise missionary activity. It is little wonder, then, that the work of Home Missions is advancing with such rapid strides. It would indeed be little to her credit if the reports which are presented by the Church from year to year did not show that substantial progress was being made in every department of Home Mission work. Fortunately there is no need for premisses, for the reports indicate that the Church in Canada has the sympathy of the Churches in the older lands; that her people are becoming more and more alive to the necessity of prosecuting this work with energy and decision; that the labourers in the various fields are workmen who need not be ashamed; and, above all, that God is crowning their labours with much success.

While due credit must be given to the great body of the people who have furnished the sinews of war, to the pastors who have encouraged them to do so, and to the presbyterial conveners who have kept a judicious watch over the needs of their respective fields, yet the success which has attended our Home Mission enterprises is largely to be attributed, under God, to the Rev. A. Findlay, who, in the face of many difficulties, has traversed again and again the wilds of Muskoka and Algoma; to Dr. Robertson, who has deprived himself of the comforts of home in order that he might survey every foot of land in the vast territory of which he is the superintendent; to Dr. Cochrane, who has given to the fields and missionaries alike the benefit of his mature judgment and untiring energy ; to the Rev. John McMillan, who has done so much to conserve the interests of Presbyterianism in the East ; to Dr. Warden and Rev. P. M. Morrison, who have looked carefully after the expenditure ; and to the two venerable clerks of the General Assembly, Drs. Reid and Fraser, whose labours in the cause of Home Missions are so well known that they need not be specified.

In reviewing the work of the past year it will be more convenient to deal first with that done by the Committee of the Western Section, and then to notice the salient features of the work in the East.

WESTERN SECTION.

That branch of the home work on which least money is expended is the Mission to Lumbermen. Last year the Rev. D. L. McKechnie, of Mattawa, "travelled about 1000 miles through the woods and over frozen lakes ; visited 33 shanties, 12 lumbering depots, 3 Hudson Bay posts, 1 mine, and 16 stopping places, and delivered in all 60 addresses. The region visited by Mr. McKechnie embraced camps 50 miles south of Mattawa and 150 miles north. The visits of the missionary and the literature he distributes are very highly valued by the men in the woods. The mission has sent large quantities of literature to the shanties through the agency of the colporteurs of the Ottawa Auxiliary Bible Society. By this means about 250 camps and depots were visited during the past winter. . . . God only knows the harvest there will be from the sowing of this seed in these out-of-the-way places. The total amount received during the year from all sources was $347.60, the expenditure $313.70."

The branch next in importance is that directed by the Students' Missionary Societies of the various colleges. Each college, even Manitoba, the youngest in the sisterhood, has a missionary society. The work done by these societies is largely of a pioneer character. The more sparsely-settled districts are entered, stations are organized, and when the fields become self-supporting, or nearly so, they are handed over to the care of the Home Mission Committee. A great deal of work is done gratis in stations in and around the cities in which the colleges are located. Services are also freely rendered in gaols, prisons, asylums and hospitals. These societies are maintained by the voluntary contributions of the students and their friends, and by collections taken up in the fields which have been supplied. The following are the receipts of the college missionary societies for the past year : Morrin, $350 ; Montreal, $2,200 ; Queen's, $2,015 ; Knox, $3,546 ; Manitoba, $470 ; making a total of $8,581. This is a very gratifying showing, because it indicates that the younger societies are pushing their way upward, and that the older ones are steadily enlarging their spheres of usefulness, and increasing their contributions.

The great work of the Committee consists in directing and controlling missionary operations within the bounds of the thirty-two Presbyteries which constitute the Western Section of the Church. New stations are organized, and existing ones are continued as mission stations, or, when desirable, raised to the status of augmented congregations. The work of superintending these fields is so great that it is impossible to present anything like a detailed description of it. Of course, in some Presbyteries there is little work to be done. Huron, Stratford, Maitland and Whitby have no mission stations—at least, they report none; London, Glengarry, Paris and Orangeville have only one each, but Regina has 24, Winnipeg 28, and Barrie no less than 44. The magnitude of the work will be seen when it is remembered that there are 880 preaching stations, with more than 10,000 families, and nearly 13,000 communicants.

As was to be expected the most rapid development has taken place in the far West. The broad, fertile prairies, and the almost inexhaustible coal-beds of the North-West; the luxurious forests, the rich mineral deposits and the salubrious climate of British Columbia have attracted thousands of settlers. The result has been that the rural districts have become more densely populated, thriving villages have sprung up in an incredibly short space of time, and these are rapidly developing into flourishing towns and cities. Mission stations, therefore, soon become augmented congregations, and augmented congregations soon become self-sustaining. Five years ago the Presbytery of Columbia was organized. Then there were 6 charges, now there are 77. Six years ago there were in the North-West and British Columbia 254 stations, now there are 611; then there were 3,783 communicants, now there are 11,933.

The rapid extension of the work in the West urgently calls for increased liberality on the part of the Church. Looking at these fields from the lowest standpoint—the financial—the Church cannot afford to neglect them. If the settlers are followed up now and provided with the means of grace, they will in a few years furnish a large proportion of the means for the still more vigorous prosecution of the work. A little handful of seed sown now will soon produce a glorious harvest. "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth."

In the districts of Muskoka, Algoma, Parry Sound and Nipissing the work has been prosecuted, often in the face of serious obstacles, with a good deal of vigour. In the nature of things it cannot be expected that mission stations there will develop as rapidly into self-sustaining congregations as they do in the North-West. The country does not attract so many settlers, and even those who do enter require time to hew down the primeval forests, clear the land and fit it for agricultural purposes. The virgin soil of the prairie is ever ready for the plough. The settler in northern Ontario must have patience. He must make the woods "bow beneath his sturdy stroke" before he can expect to till the soil and reap a harvest. But though the progress there has not been so rapid as it has been in the far West it has been very substantial. A number of new mission stations have been organized, and a few of the older ones have become self-supporting charges. The superintendent of that district says:—"We have suffered somewhat from a lack of men to take charge of the work during the winter months. Yet it is a hopeful sign that the attention of the Church is being called to this most important point, and we feel confident that some means will be devised ere long whereby this great drawback to the prosperity and advancement of our work will be removed."

The receipts for the past year (exclusive of what was received for the Lumbermen's Mission, and from College Societies) were $53,935.98. But it should be remembered that in addition to the above, congregations expended for mission work, mainly in the cities, the sum of $27,360.96. Though the receipts were large—larger than on the previous year by $1,000—yet there was a deficiency of $1,409.98.

As an indication of the interest taken in mission work in Canada by the Churches of the motherlands it may be mentioned that the Presbyterian Church in Ireland contributed £100, the Free Church of Scotland £200, and the Church of Scotland £125.

A few sentences from the Committee's report deserve to be reproduced here:—"As to the future it is evident that, unless the mission work of the Church is to be seriously curtailed, the amounts placed at the disposal of the Committee, both for Home Missions and Augmentation, must be considerably increased. Manitoba and the North-West and British Columbia will of necessity, as emigration flows in, require larger sums than in the past. This year the North-West (including Manitoba) received some $29,200, and British Columbia nearly $4,500. Next year British Columbia will require at least $7,000, and the North-West a proportionate increase, if the Church is to maintain its hold and supply destitute regions beyond our present missionary limits."

EASTERN SECTION.

The work in the Eastern Section is very similar to that undertaken in the Western. But it is not so extensive. Last April 250 missionaries were sent out by the Committee of the Western Section; 87 were given employment in the Maritime Provinces and in Newfoundland by the Committee of the Eastern Section.

A report of the work done among the lumbermen may be presented in the words of the Committee. "The lumbermen form a very important part of our population in the winter. They are scattered through the forests all over the country, but are more numerous in the northern part of New Brunswick, in both the Presbyteries of St. John and Miramichi. We are happy to report that each of these Presbyteries provided in some measure for their spiritual wants. Mr. Watson, a layman, was employed by the St. John Presbytery, and the Rev. A. H. Cameron, ordained missionary at Metapedia, spent several weeks among the camps within the bounds of the Presbytery of Miramichi. The importance of sowing the good seed in such places we cannot over-estimate. The surroundings of the men are most unfavourable to Christian character, and every effort should be used to counteract the deteriorating influences of their position. May the Lord bless His own truth to the preservation and salvation of many."

Within the bounds of nine of the Eastern Presbyteries mission work is carried on in 167 stations. It is a lamentable fact that though there are so many stations only seventy-four of them are furnished with churches. At the remaining points missionaries are obliged to conduct services in halls, schools and private houses.

The question of finding winter supply for those stations far remote from the colleges is still a perplexing one to the whole Church. The difficulty has been partially obviated in the East by pressing elders into the service. During the past winter about a dozen elders gratuitously conducted services in some of the more neglected districts. Their labours have been so much appreciated that an effort will be made to enlist more of them in the work.

The total receipts last year were $11,528.58, an increase of $212.00 on the previous year. But though a number of elders have undertaken to conduct public worship in desolate regions, and though the receipts are steadily on the increase, there still comes a cry for more men and money. Will the Church respond? Let the reports of the future answer.

AUGMENTATION.

A minor key is struck especially in the Western Section when the subject of Augmentation is touched. In the East the outlook is hopeful as the receipts have almost equalled the expenditure, but in the West there is a deficit of over $4,000. It was feared by many that the stipends of ministers in augmented charges would have to be still further reduced. But at the last meeting of the General Assembly the following resolution was adopted: "The General Assembly regrets that the year has closed with a deficit in both the Home Mission and Augmentation Funds, and earnestly urges on all Presbyteries to take immediate action to secure increased contributions to both funds from the congregations within their bounds, and directs their special attention to the regulation requiring that the congregations receiving aid be annually visited by deputies, so as to stimulate the liberality of our people with a view to the reduction of the grants from the Home Mission and Augmentation Funds. Further, the General Assembly requests its Moderator, at as early a date as may be convenient, to prepare a brief address to be read in all the congregations of the Church, and widely circulated by the Presbyteries, setting forth the great importance of the Augmentation Fund as a necessary part of the Church, and entitled to the hearty support of all its congregations."

The Moderator in compliance with the above request has issued his pastoral on the subject, and it is to be hoped that the appeal, couched as it is in such kind and earnest words, will meet with a liberal response.

A sketch of Home Missions would be incomplete without a reference to the Proposed Constitution of the Young People's Home Missionary Society that received the cordial approval of the General Assembly at its last meeting. As the objects of this society are, "The diffusing of information concerning the mission work of the Church, and more especially that done within our own country; the cultivation of the devotional spirit among the members; the discussion of missionary topics and the collection of missionary funds," its influence will be most salutary and helpful not only upon mission work in general but upon those congregations in which they are organized. It is quite within the range of probability that in a few years the young people of the Church will be banded together as a great army enlisted with a determination to have the glorious Gospel proclaimed in every section of this fair Dominion.

The New Hebrides Mission, it is expected, will obtain considerable advantage by the establishment of a steamship service between the islands and Australia. If the arrangement proves satisfactory the services of the Dayspring, the vessel in which so many of the Sabbath School children have a special interest, will be superseded. The event of last year in the New Hebrides Mission was the meeting of the Mission Synod on the island of Tauna, at which several of our missionaries and representatives of the Australian churches were present. The Synod adopted a constitution, and entered an earnest protest against enforced Kanaka labour, a species of slavery which has for some time existed in Queensland. For half a century mission work has been carried on among the people of the South Sea islands. Severe have been the trials and glorious the martyrdom of some of the missionaries, but great and blessed have been the results. The spiritual and moral condition of many of the native inhabitants is a manifest evidence of the present-day power of the Gospel. The Rev. Messrs. Robertson, Mackenzie and Annand are prosecuting their a' ours with the earnestness and fidelity for which they are distin-quished, and with very encouraging results, notwithstanding the difficulties and discouragements they have to encounter.

Work in Trinidad has been maintained with the degree of energy for which it has been conspicuous. Dr. Morton, whom the Church at home has learned to esteem very highly for his personal worth and for his work's sake, has resumed his labours after his recent visit to Canada. The Rev. K. J. Grant, who pleaded earnestly for means to establish an institution for the training of a native ministry, has met with a gratifying measure of success, and in due time it is expected that it will be in successful operation. In Trinidad the work is advanced by direct evangelistic agency, in which not a few converts are engaged, and by means of education. The operations of the missions are greatly helped by the contributions of the people, and by the aid afforded by some of the planters. The missionaries in Trinidad are able to report encouraging progress in almost all departments of their work.

Dr. Mackay continues with unabated zeal his indefatigable labours in Formosa. The converts now number nearly 3,000, and many of them contribute to the support of Gospel ordinances. The sum of nearly $1,000 has been raised in one year for this purpose. There are eighty-three elders, seventy-one deacons and fifty-one preachers. Fifty chapels afford meeting places for the people, and there are about twenty-four students and about forty attendants at the girls' school. The Mission has sustained a loss in the death of Rev. Mr. Jamieson. The hospital work has also been carried on with success. In Honan mission work has been advanced, but with checkered experiences. Our missionaries there in the beginning of their way have been called upon to endure hardness, and their faith and enthusiasm have been subjected to severe tests. Some of them have had to mourn the loss of those dear to them, and others have had to encounter mob violence, and to see at short range the intensity of popular Chinese hatred to foreigners. Though a satisfactory settlement of the difficulties met with was arrived at, more recent disturbances in other Provinces must have occasioned them grave anxiety. The attacks on mission stations and the massacres of missionaries and some of their converts indicate the dangers they may have to face. The repulsion of the revolutionary movement by the imperial forces may give the hope that the worst is past, but in this respect it is possible to be over sanguine. At this distance, and considering the contradictory nature of the accounts received, it is difficult to estimate the strength of the revolutionary movement which is hidden from the public view. At all events the sympathy with the missionaries, and unabated interest in their work and welfare, will be cherished by the Church at home.

The field in Central India is being cultivated with assiduity and success. The increase in the number of converts is not remarkably large, but from year to year it is appreciable. It is being carried on with unflinching zeal and diligence. The missionaries and their native assistants are keeping up regular services at the central stations, preaching in the bazaars, visiting outlying districts, urging forward educational work, and benefiting the sick by medical services and thereby inspiring many with a feeling of confidence in the disinterested desire of the missionary to do them good, convincing them that the Gospel seeks their welfare both in this world and in the next. The lady missionaries find a cordial welcome as they enter the zenanas and tell the secluded inmates of a Saviour's love. The event of the year in connection with the Indore mission was the completion of the Woman's Hospital at Indore. Some time ago the Dowager Maherani made a grant of land as a site for its erection. The foundation stone was laid with imposing ceremonies by the Prime Minister of the Native State, representing the Maharaja Holkar. The change in disposition of the ruler of Indore is gratefully acknowledged. Instead of placing obstacles in the way of the mission he is now generously aiding it. He has made a contribution of 750 rupees for the college in whose behalf Rev. Mr. Wilkie laboured so untiringly while home on his furlough. The Maharaja has also contributed 750 rupees to aid in carrying on the medical work of the mission, in which department the lady missionaries are rendering valuable service.

The mission to the Indians in the North-West has lost by the death of the Rev. John McKay who laboured so long at Mistawasis Reserve. He has been succeeded by a recent licentiate, the Rev. F. Nichol, who has many special aptitudes for the work on which he has entered with promise of success. There are mission stations and schools at Stoney Plains, Mistawasis, Muscowpetung's, Round Lake, Indian Head, File Hills, Crow Stand, Birtle, Bird Tail, Okanase and Portage la Prairie. There are seven missionaries who regularly visit nineteen different reserves. There are nine teachers, besides others, who render important aid in carrying on educational work. The number of communicants among the Indians is given as 187, of whom twenty-four were added during the past year. The report states that there were sixty-eight baptisms of infants and thirty-one of adults. In the six industrial boarding schools there was an enrolment of 222, with an average attendance of 154. There were three day schools, with an enrolment of seventy-one and an average attendance of forty-seven.

The formation of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society marks a new era in the history of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. It was not a transference from either of the branches of the Church prior to the union in 1875. It was one of the earliest off-shoots of that union. The following year it came into existence in a modest and unostentatious way. From that time to the present it has shown an expansive power that possibly its originators scarcely hoped for. At all events there are no indications that it has spent its force; on the contrary each year records an increase in membership, contributions, and the magnitude of the work it undertakes. The last report issued states that the Presbyterian Societies now number twenty-five; new auxiliaries, fifty-four; new mission bands, thirty-eight; total number of auxiliaries, 472; total number of mission bands, 201; total number of branches, 673; auxiliary membership, 10,762; mission band membership, 5,189; total membership, 15,951; life membership added during the year, eighty-one; total number of life members, 472; members of General Society, 2,953.

The Society maintains a number of active missionary labourers in the foreign field and in our own North-West. Supplies are sent yearly to the necessitous Indians, and timely aid is given to other missions. In order to stir up and maintain interest among the members of the Society a Monthly Letter Leaflet is issued and widely distributed. The income of the Society reported last year was $40,362.33, and in addition to this it was stated that there is deposited in one of the banks the sum of $3,891.15 for the boarding school at Indore.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Maritime Provinces has had a similar encouraging progress to report. Down by the sea there are six Presbyterian Societies; 112 auxiliaries, five young people's branches, forty-six mission bands, with a total membership of 4,000. The total receipts reported by the treasurer were $28,553.22. From one point of view the extent of the Foreign Mission work of the Church at home and abroad is very encouraging. It is in a measure commensurate with the ordinary expectations of the Church. As compared with other Churches the Presbyterian Church in Canada is not behind. There is, however, another aspect of the case that ought not to be overlooked. The resources in men and means within the Church are unquestionably great; these are far from being developed to their utmost. Then the imperative obligation resting on the whole Church to do what it can, in obedience to the mandate given by the risen Redeemer to preach the Gospel to every creature, is far from being complied with. When the Church of the living God fully realizes her true mission the fulfilment of the glorious prediction may be looked for, "All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God."

PRESBYTERIANISM IN THE NORTH-WEST.

BY PROF. BAIRD, B.D., MANITOBA COLLEGE.

The circumstances of the country during the year 1891 have been favourable to the development of missionary activities; there has been a considerable increase of population through immigration, new railway lines are being built, or have been completed. A bountiful harvest has been gathered in, and altogether the people, freed from undue anxiety about making ends meet, have been unusually willing to contemplate and put into execution plans for church extension and for the better organization of Christian work. Growth in these respects is of course only external, and is by no means a decisive test of the deepening and hallowing of the religious life, but it is confirmatory evidence; and more direct evidences have not been at all lacking in many congregations that the Spirit of God has been mightily present to change the hearts and build up the lives of His people. It is only facts, however, connected with the external growth of the Church, that come in any general way within reach of the chronicler, and to such, therefore, the present article must confine itself.

The Synod of Manitoba and the North-West Territories is the largest Home Mission field of the Canadian Church, and accordingly it is to this field that attention must first and chiefly be directed. The progress that marks the year has been more conspicuous in British Columbia than in any other part of the Synod. Thirty years ago the work at New Westminster, in the hands of the Rev. R. Jamieson, which was maintained by the Canadian Church, was classed as a "foreign" mission. For many years our work in that rich Province languished, and even with considerable contributions in men and money from the Church of Scotland—which has been a good friend to these colonists ecclesiastically—but little progress was made; but a change has come within recent years, and now, in the same year as it happens in which the last congregations in connection with the Church of Scotland, Nanaimo and Nicola came into the Canadian Church, the Presbytery of Columbia makes application to the General Assembly, through the Synod, to be divided into three Presbyteries, and to have these erected into a new Synod. The Synod has expressed approval of the request, and there is little doubt but that effect will be given to it at the next session of the Supreme Court

The Synod of Manitoba and the North-West Territories was established in 1884, and now has seven Presbyteries—one for each year of its existence, but the stride it makes this year in giving off a new Synod indicates the greatest advance of all. Over the whole Synod the number of places in which regular services were held amounted to 539 in 1890, and these are the latest statistics accessible. They surpass those of the previous year by 116, and in all probability, when the statistics for the current year (1891) are made known, they will indicate that a somewhat similar rate of increase has been kept up. Eighteen churches have been built during the summer, and three manses. The Church and Manse Building Board has given assistance to these to the amount of over $7,000, and the total value of the buildings erected amounts to $26,000.

It is not merely along the recognized lines of preaching and church building that progress is evident. A vigorous effort has been made during the year to supply needy settlements with wholesome literature. For many years something in a sporadic fashion has been done in this direction, but it was left to the Presbytery of Calgary to organize for the purpose, and make the most of such literature as it could lay its hands on. Inspired by the zeal of the Rev. C. R. Gordon, of Banff, a Presbyterial circulating library has been formed, and under the auspices of this association several hundreds of books have been collected. A parcel of these is sent to a neighbourhood and kept in circulation till most of them are read; then another parcel, which has been in use in another part of the Presbytery, is substituted for the first, and so on. It is difficult to imagine any part of the Church where such a scheme is more needed or is more likely to be successful. The people in the North-West are for the most part readers, many of them readers of an especially intelligent class. The winters are long and so severe that not a great deal of work can be done out of doors. In many places, owing to distance, frequent social intercourse is not easily maintained. In order to awaken a deeper interest in the special mission work in which the Church in the North-West is engaged, an excellent monthly paper of modest dimensions has been established. The Western Missionary contains every month a well-selected amount of valuable information respecting the work among the Indians, as well as of a more general character. In short, it makes an able presentation of the practical Christian work the Church is trying to overtake in this new land. The venture has met with a very gratifying degree of success, both within and without the Synod, and gives promise of surviving the dangers which beset such publications in the critical days of their infancy.

The interest the city of Winnipeg feels in the evangelizing of the country was shown very clearly last spring, when the Superintendent of Missions was engaged in collecting special contributions to provide for the extension of Home Mission work, in the face of a threatened deficit. Of the $13,000, all told, which he collected, fully one-tenth was raised in Winnipeg itself. And since these sums are guaranteed annually for five years, and are to be paid in addition to the sums now contributed for the schemes, it will be evident that the star of Home Mission work is in the ascendant.

In several of the western towns evangelistic meetings were held last winter, and in most cases with results of a very gratifying character. Portage la Prairie received 150 members at one communion; Port Arthur, 70; and Regina, 47. And some of the mission congregations show proportions quite as high. Golden Stream, an outlying part of the Gladstone congregation, received 33 members at once; Keewatin, 35, and others at the same rate. Along with growth of this kind there naturally comes a drawing of the denominations more closely to one another, and the Presbyterian Church, as responsible for the religious training of about one-third of the people, according to the census, finds herself face to face with a problem, which suggests the modifying of some of our traditional Presbyterian usages. When a community, in which there are half a dozen denominations, none conspicuously more numerous than another, and the people unite in asking the Presbyterian Church to establish services among them, it is evident that a new responsibility is laid upon us. This has been done in cases where the people frankly confessed that they were anxious for religious services, and not especially for Presbyterian services. Is not the Church justified in modifying her form of worship in such a case? We profess to behold with regret the divisions that keep up two or three weak congregations and half-supported ministers in one little village, for which a single pastor is quite competent to do all the work needed; we pray and we legislate that such a scandal may cease. Shall we then, when the people are ready, and ask us—as they have done in some cases,—be willing to leave in the background some of our traditional Presbyterian forms, dear as they are to the hearts of some of us, in order that the doctrine of the Cross may have the opportunity of commending itself, without let or hindrance, as the power of God and the wisdom of God. Here is our opportunity if we wish to show that the Presbyterian Church is not intended only for Scotchmen and their descendants, but is adapted to the needs of all who would draw near to the Lord Jesus in spirit and in truth.

The year has been one of advancement to the Indian missions. In places where the ground was broken before, the work has been carried on with no less vigour than in past years, and in some cases with more marked success than ever. The Rev. F. O. Nichol has entered into the labours of the late Rev. John McKay, and is reaping a harvest from his sowing. At a recent communion he received seventeen members into the Church. Besides the growth of work in places that have enjoyed for several years the benefits of the Gospel, work has been begun in three new places. The Government Industrial School at Regina has been opened under the care of the Rev. A. J. McLeod, B.A., and a competent staff of assistants. The number of pupils already mounts up to about fifty, and the institution, thoroughly equipped as it is, gives promise of great usefulness.

The Rev. J. A. McDonald, B.A., has been sent to open a mission among the Indians of British Columbia, and after a prospecting tour up the coast as far as Alaska has settled among the natives on the west coast of Vancouver Island, at Alberni, and is busy with the language. He has already opened two Sabbath schools among the children, and has in immediate contemplation a plan for taking some ten children into the house in which he lives, and converting it into a rudimentary boarding and industrial school.

The third case of new work is Miss Baker's mission school among the Sioux Indians at Prince Albert, which made a small beginning a little more than a year ago in a tent, and which, established now in a more permanent abiding place, gives promise of much usefulness.

In response to an urgent request from the Presbytery of Calgary, Mr. Thomas Paton, formerly a missionary in China, has been set apart to carry on mission work among the Chinese, considerable numbers of whom are employed in the mines, lumber camps and towns in the Rocky Mountains. For the present Mr. Paton spends part of his time also among the white settlers in the same territory, and his work, especially among the Chinamen, has already been signally blessed.

The interests of mission work in the west have always been closely identified with those of Manitoba College. She sent forth fifty labourers into the harvest last spring, ten of whom were young men who had completed the theological course. She is thus able to supply more than half the fields within the Synod for which students or catechists are required. But the very efficiency with which the work is overtaken in the summer causes the want of supply in winter to be the more painfully felt. During the winter her students supply some eighteen or twenty places which are said to be within reach of the College, but which are still so far away—one train a day being still the rule on western railways—that the student does not get home till late on Monday afternoon, and then often in a fatigued condition from long driving that unfits him for steady intellectual application. After all these have been supplied, and all for which catechists can be got, there remains still thirty-five mission fields unprovided for. This is a condition of affairs which has led to such serious losses in the past, and it so neutralizes each summer's work that the theological professors have felt moved to offer that, if the General Assembly so requests, the theological session of Manitoba College shall be held in the summer rather than in the winter, so as to set free a band of young men each autumn to take the places of those students who return to resume their studies in other colleges. The proposal has already met with the approbation of the Synod, and seems both to meet the needs of the case more fully and to be open to fewer serious objections than anything that commended itself to the General Assembly at Kingston as a possible solution of what is admitted on all hands to be an evil for which some cure must be found.

THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, HALIFAX.

BY REV. ROBERT MURRAY, HALIFAX.

This institution represents the combined efforts of three Presbyterian bodies—the "Seceders," the Free Church, and the Church of Scotland. The earliest movement in the line of educating a native ministry was made in 1805, by Rev. Thomas McCulloch, D.D., then a young man, who came to Nova Scotia in 1803. Intending to labour in Prince Edward Island he called at Pictou on his way. Impressed with the call of Pictou as Calvin was with that of Geneva, he accepted an urgent invitation to remain there; and we may safely say that he has left his stamp on that country as no other man has done. In 1805 he formed the project of a "grammar school" for giving young men a fair start in their preparation for theology. Pictou people subscribed a thousand pounds in aid of the school. Eleven years afterwards this school was placed among the Grammar Schools of Nova Scotia; it was undoubtedly the best among them. The Grammar School became "PICTOU ACADEMY," which was incorporated in 1816. It was non-sectarian, and it invited the co-operation of all denominations. There was before it a bright prospect. But KING'S COLLEGE, Windsor, N.S., was the pet of the authorities. It was founded and carried on in the interest of the Church of England, and Pictou Academy was feared as a rival, and efforts to cramp its operations were not without success. The age of equal rights and of responsible government had not yet come.

Pictou Academy was formally opened in 1817 under the presidency of Dr. McCulloch. A number of the first graduates afterwards studied theology and became ministers of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. McCulloch was for several years both pastor of the Pictou congregation and head of the Academy. He was a most successful teacher, able to inspire his students with his own earnest and enthusiastic devotion to duty, with his own boundless appetite for work. In 1824, Dr. McCulloch gave up the pastoral charge of Pictou congregation.

In 1820, the Synod having learned that several young men, who had completed their arts course in the Academy, were desirous of studying theology, appointed Dr. McCulloch Professor of Theology. This is the first appointment of the kind in Canada in connection with any branch of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. McCulloch's first class in theology consisted of twelve students. Nearly all of these completed their course and were licensed to preach the Gospel. John Maclean, John L. Murdoch and Robert S. Patterson, after licensure, visited Scotland, preached there with marked acceptance, and after examination received from the Glasgow University the degree of Master of Arts.

In 1830 the Presbyterian congregations raised five thousand pounds in aid of the new Theological Hall. Much progress was made, but unfortunately divisions sprang up in the Presbyterian population, and this with the steady opposition of the Anglican party (zealous for King's College) ultimately destroyed old Pictou Academy. In 1838 Dr. McCulloch was appointed Principal of Dalhousie College then just starting. This caused his removal from Pictou; and two hundred pounds of the Academy grant were at the same time withdrawn and given to Dalhousie, and the Academy was re-organized as a High School. The Theological Hall continued its work—as it had always been distinct from the Academy—and Dr. McCulloch continued his zealous labours as Theological Professor until his death in 1843. The sessions usually lasted five or six weeks. During the year the students were required to prepare discourses and read special works under the supervision of Presbyteries.

In 1844 the Synod appointed Rev. John Keir, Prince Edward Island, Professor of Theology. He being pastor of Princetown, the "Hall" for two years was transferred to that place. In 1846 Rev. James Ross was appointed Professor of Biblical Literature—he being at the time pastor of West River, Pictou; the time and place of teaching were left to the convenience of the two professors.

It now appeared that there was not in the country any institution where students could secure their preliminary training. Pictou Academy was a mere Grammar School, and Dalhousie College had ceased to exist. This state of matters led the Presbyterian Synod to appoint a Professor of Philosophy and to aim at an Arts Course. In 1848 the Seminary was started at West River, Pictou county, in the house of Professor Ross, with twelve students. By 1852 the number had increased to twenty-eight, with sixteen studying theology. For ten years the Seminary was conducted at West River. In 1850 Rev. James Smith, D.D., of Stewiacke, was appointed Professor of Biblical Literature, thus relieving Dr. Ross, whose whole time could now be given to the Arts' Course.

In 1850 Professors Keir and Smith opened the theological classes with twelve students, and the number in a few years reached eighteen. In 1855 a second Professor in Arts, Mr. Thomas McCulloch, son of Dr. McCulloch, was appointed, and thus Dr. Ross was to some extent relieved. The Church had two Professors in Theology and two in Arts. During all these years the salaries of the Theological Professors were from forty to sixty pounds a year. In 1858 the classes were transferred to a commodious new building at Truro, where the attendance reached fifty-two students. This brings us up to 1860.

The Free Church founded an Academy in Halifax in 1846. In 1847 arrangements were made, with the liberal aid of the Free Church Colonial Committee, to start the Free Church College, Halifax. The Free Synod undertook to raise eight thousand pounds to endow a Theological chair. In 1848 the College commenced operations under Professors King and Mackenzie. The students at the opening numbered fifteen. Professor Mackenzie died before the end of the second session. He was succeeded by Rev. William Lyall. In the second year the students numbered twenty-two. A new building was completed in 1852, at Gerrish Street, Halifax. In 1855 Rev. Alexander (now Principal) McKnight was appointed to the Chair of Hebrew in the Free Church College.

No noteworthy change occurred till the union of 1860, when the Free and United Presbyterian bodies united, forming the "Presbyterian Church of the Lower Provinces." It was then arranged that the theological classes of the Church should be conducted at Halifax, and the Arts classes at Truro. Accordingly Professors King, Smith and McKnight devoted themselves to theology, while Professors Ross, Lyall and McCulloch took charge of the arts. The two institutions were about sixty miles apart.

The Church of Scotland Synod depended for its ministry on students sent to the Scottish Universities. This plan did not prove wholly satisfactory, but it was by no means a waste of effort. Some very brilliant and useful men have thus been secured to the Church.

In 1863 a successful effort was made to resuscitate Dalhousie College, Halifax. The Government of Nova Scotia invited the co-operation of denominations or individuals to revive and strengthen the institution. Any individual or Church appointing a professor would have the privilege of nominating a governor, and thus sharing in the management of the College. The Presbyterian Synod of the Lower Provinces resolved to close its Seminary at Truro and transfer its two chairs to Dalhousie, at Halifax. The "Kirk" Synod at the same time raised $20,000 as an endowment for a chair in Dalhousie, and also nominated a professor. Thus it was hoped to start with six chairs—three Presbyterian, and three supported upon the endowments of the College. No other denomination accepted the invitation of the Government. In course of a few years the revenue from the invested funds of Dalhousie shrank, and there was imminent danger of the staff being weakened. Government grants were withdrawn, and denominations that had stood aloof from the arrangement made strenuous and long-continued assaults on the existence of the institution. The Presbyterians stood true to the compact, and the Government of the day also staked its existence upon the maintenance of the covenant on its side. By and by most valuable aid to Dalhousie came from private munificence. Mr. George Munro, of New York, a Pictou man, has for the past twelve years been giving to Dalhousie about $20,000 a year. He has endowed five professorships; so that to-day it is one of the strongest Arts colleges in Canada.

Meanwhile the Presbyterian Church has been able to withdraw two of her chairs. She still supports one chair and is likely to do so permanently. Another benefactor, a Presbyterian, Alex. Macleod, endowed two chairs.

The "Presbyterian College" now stands in Halifax, on a spot of rare loveliness on the banks of the North-west Arm. It has three professors, one of whom belonged to the Free Church, one to the "Presbyterian Church of Nova Scotia," and one to the Church of Scotland. Dr. McKnight alone survives of the professors who bore the burden and heat of the day before the union of 1860. The Synod has resolved to appoint a fourth professor in the early future. My hope is—I may say my conviction is—that a fifth professor will very shortly follow. Our funds will soon justify such an enlargement of the staff. Up to this date we have graduated 252 men; and of the 198 ministers in the Synod 118 are men of our own training.

THE DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE ELDERSHIP.

BY J. KNOWLES, JR., CLERK OF SESSION KNOX CHURCH, TORONTO.

"Knowledge of our duties is the most useful part of philosophy."—Whately.

The office of Elder is one of deep responsibility, high importance, and great usefulness in the Presbyterian Church. It has been truly said that "our Church is deeply indebted to the Ruling Elders. A large portion of them have sustained a character becoming their office, and by their disinterested labours have done very much to build up the congregations with which they were more immediately connected, and to promote, in a wider range, the general interests of a common Christianity. Their lives, if intimately known and faithfully recorded, would furnish, in many instances, most genuine additions to Christian biography." It is related that when Sir Ralph Abercromby was ordained an elder in the Church of Scotland, he said to the minister: "Sir, I have often been intrusted by my sovereign with honourable and important commands in my profession as a soldier, and his majesty has been pleased to reward my services with distinguished marks of his royal approbation; but to be the humble instrument, in the office of an elder, of putting the tokens of my Saviour's dying love into the hands of one of the meanest of his followers, I conceive to be the highest honour I can receive on this side of heaven." This is a proper conception of the office, and it would be well if many more looked at the matter in a similar light. The history of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland also furnishes many examples of elders who have rendered valuable and distinguished service, and whose names will ever be cherished in grateful remembrance by those who now enjoy the privilege and blessing of a free and enlightened gospel. The first duty of an elder after having been ordained to this high office is to make himself acquainted with the various duties of the office to which he has promised to faithfully perform. He should have a district roll-book containing all the names and addresses of the members and adherents in his particular district which has been allotted to him. Too frequently the elder is apparently content if he knows the members, and it is sometimes the case that he even does not know all of the members. Now it is of the utmost importance that he should be personally acquainted with every member and adherent of his district. A little time and patience will easily accomplish this, while it will greatly increase his power and usefulness. His second duty is to keep himself unspotted from the world. Dr. King, in his admirable treatise on "The Ruling Eldership," remarks: "It is of great importance that Christians, and especially Christian elders, should so deport themselves in worldly transactions as not to convey the impression of being worldly characters, a noted greed of gain, a keenness above common in looking to self-interest,—these are not traits which recommend his ecclesiastical position. Let our elders, then, as business men, walk circumspectly. Let them remember in the market-place their relation to the sanctuary, and do nothing for gain derogatory to godliness. By all means let them be diligent in business, yet so as to be 'fervent in spirit, serving the Lord.'" These words coming from such a high authority as Dr. King should be carefully pondered. Another important duty of an elder is to visit regularly his district. It is only by systematic visitation that true service and work for the Master can be accomplished. In large and scattered congregations it is very difficult and sometimes impossible for the minister to make regular pastoral calls, and here is where the elder can be eminently useful. If the elder makes a practice of visiting his district once every three months, he will be enabled to keep himself informed regarding removals in his district, also cases of sickness, distress and poverty, and a word in season for the Master as opportunity may occur will surely be blessed. An elder belittles his position and underrates the value of this word who imagines or considers regular visitation unnecessary. At the same time it should be done in a brotherly and friendly way, and entirely free from the slightest appearance of officiousness. An office-bearer should be kind, inoffensive, possessing tact and judgment. He should be always ready and willing to visit the sick, comfort the troubled, cheer the discouraged and aid the distressed. In a word, he should be Christlike, and aim to be of the greatest good to the greatest number, ever keeping in mind God's own words, "Be not weary in well-doing, for in due season ye shall reap if ye faint not." It might here be remarked that it is a great mistake to be easily discouraged. An elder in visiting or calling on a member may think that he was coldly received, and perhaps have good grounds for so thinking, but it should be borne in mind that the member in question may have just had some trial, or perhaps by toothache or some other ailment had passed a sleepless night, thus easily accounting for the apparent coldness of your reception. The influence of faithful visitation and sincere friendship on the part of the elder is certain to accomplish results of a very beneficial character.

" 'Tis worth a wise man's best of life,
'Tis worth a thousand years of strife,
If thou canst lessen but by one
The countless ills beneath the sun." ]

Another important duty of the Eldership is to keep an oversight of the adherents. Many a person has for years refrained from connecting with the Church owing to a want of cordiality on the part of an office-bearer. An elder should be faithful in little things as well as in doing some great work. A smile, a kind word, a shake of the hand are little things, and a little trouble in obtaining a situation for someone is not what the world calls a great deed, but after all it is little things that often make or mar one's life.

"It was only a verse said softly,
To one who seemed in pain;
But God's ways are higher than ours,
And it was never lost again."

It is also the duty of the elder to attend the various diets of worship, and be promptly at his place in the prayer-meeting, for an elder cannot expect to effect much who does not pray much; and under this head a word might be said in regard to district prayer-meetings. In scattered congregations, whether in the city or the country, it is the duty of the elder to hold district prayer-meetings in localities which are not convenient to the congregational prayer-meeting, and it is hardly necessary to state that these meetings, if conducted in the right spirit, will prove instructing, interesting and profitable. Another duty of the ruling eldership—and it is often an unpleasant duty—is to reprove the erring. The writer heard recently of a reproof given by a divinity student to a young man who was addicted to the abominable habit of swearing. The young man, without thinking, uttered an oath. "Mr. —," said the student, "you use very bad grammar." The effect was marvellous, the young man at once making an apology, thus proving the truth of the old adage "Where there's a will there's a way." Lastly, it is the duty of the elder to attend faithfully the meeting of the church session, and acquaint himself fully with the laws and customs of the church and the work of the presbyteries, synods, and assemblies. "Knowledge is power;" so the more knowledge, zeal and fidelity that an office-bearer displays, in the same degree will his power, work and influence be felt. In this connection a well-known writer strongly recommends elders to read, if they have not already done so. "The Pilgrim's Progress," Boston's "Fourfold State," James' "Anxious Inquirer," and Doddridge's "Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul;" and to these might be added Wilberforce's "Practical View of Christianity," and Jonathan Edwards' works. Just a word in conclusion in regard to the responsibility of the eldership. The acceptance of so honourable an office demands the proper fulfilling of its various obligations, and if one is not prepared to make sacrifices in the discharge of so high an office, it would be better far not to accept it; for the office will never disgrace the holder, but the holder may disgrace the office. Let every elder, therefore, take his share of responsibility in attending to the interests and work of the Church, remembering that "They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever."

"Stand, therefore, girt about, and hold
Your burning lamps in hand,
And, standing, listen for your Lord,
And till He cometh—stand!"

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN IRELAND.

BY THE REV. S. HOUSTON, KINGSTON.

The past year has been one of continued prosperity in the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. If in a population that goes on decreasing through removal of sons and daughters to other lands there is but little opportunity of lengthening the cords within the country itself, there can be no doubt that her stakes are being strengthened. All the reports that were presented to the Assembly at its meeting in June last were of a cheering character. There is peace within her borders. The division of opinion regarding Common School Education and the use of instruments in the worship of God are but ripples on the surface. The absence of controversy regarding what is known as the Higher Criticism is not an evidence of prevailing formalism or death, no one can say that there is a minimum of practical church life.

Of the thirty-six Presbyteries that are within the country thirty-one have their seats in Ulster, leaving but five for the other three Provinces. These five do not include all the congregations in the three Provinces, there are a few in Ulster Presbyteries that lie near the border line. Of the 558 congregations in the Assembly some seventy-four are outside of Ulster. These figures show how much the Presbyterianism of the country is hived in Ulster, and in Ulster well-nigh half the congregations are hived in the two counties of Antrim and Down, which of course includes Belfast. The city just now named with, when the suburbs are counted, its forty congregations is still, and unless a great change comes soon is likely for a long time to be, the ecclesiastical centre of the Church. Dublin, however, is not to be despised though its Presbyterianism in bulk falls so far short of that of the northern metropolis. In the city proper Dublin has now eight congregations, but Kingstown and Bray are practically suburbs. We may therefore say that there are ten congregations in the old metropolis of the island. Once in a number of years the Assembly meets in Dublin. As a meeting place it is inconvenient for many of the Northern brethren, but it is a good thing to let the people of the South see that Presbyterianism is an influence of some weight in the country. The Assembly will meet there in 1892.

The Assembly has two colleges under its care, one in Belfast and one in Londonderry. The former is wholly theological in its character, the latter is a complete college with departments of Literature and Science as well. In Belfast the students take their college course in Queen's, whose grounds adjoin those of the Assembly's College. This, though endowed and controlled by the Government, is managed so as to conciliate the Presbyterians. Its President so far has all along been a Presbyterian minister. Henry and Porter held the succession up to a few years ago, and their names are well known to the public. President Hamilton now worthily fills the position. In the Assembly's College are six professors, for whom there are residences on the grounds, and in the College building itself there are chambers for the students.

The venerable Dr. W. D. Killen is the President. It is now a half century since he was chosen to occupy the Chair of Church History, and he had then been eleven years a pastor. He was ordained in 1829. A few years ago he retired from the active duties of the Chair, but he has continued to lecture once a week. In Magee College, which is in the Maiden City, there are three theological professors. Here, too, there are residences for most of the professors, but as yet there are no dormitories for the students. Here for nearly a quarter of a century Professor Witherow filled the Chair of Church History. Both colleges are doing most satisfactory work.

Besides the Missions carried on within the country there are at least four departments of the work that is done outside of it. Taking them according to their ages the Foreign Mission comes first, with one base of operations in India and another in China. That in India was begun in 1840, when the Union was formed between the Synod of Ulster and the Secession Synod. The region occupied in India includes the Provinces of Katiawar and Gujerat with the large and populous city of Swat across the Gulf of Cambay. It is a well organized and well conducted mission and the success has been considerable. A number of districts are now owned by the mission where are churches and native pastors. In the larger cities and towns are fine educational institutions conducted on Christian principles. The other field, China, was undertaken at a much later date, but there is already a considerable staff in the field. Among the number is a medical missionary, supported by Mr. Morton, of London. It was he that was so badly treated by Chinese soldiers a few months ago. At first it was reported that he was killed, but the reality was not quite so bad as that. He was, however, tortured to such an extent that he fainted several times when in the hands of his tormentors. The largest company of missionaries that left at one time for years set out this fall for India. It is headed by Mr. Beatty who returned some two years ago not intending to go back. He thought better of it, however, and offered to resume for a period of five years if spared, and his offer was gladly accepted. The writer of this article had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Beatty last summer, and of having a long talk with him on missionary work in India. The Jewish Mission is the second, and was started the year after the India Mission. Damascus and Hamburg were soon occupied and they are still worked. Other places were tried for a time but were given up. Under the missionaries in Damascus are several schools in the villages of Lebanon. The visible success in this mission is not so great as in that to the heathen, but indirect results are not to be overlooked. The Christian Churches in the region where work is conducted, some of them very ancient but now very corrupt, have been greatly quickened by the presence of the missionaries. The third department is that of Colonial work which need not be dwelt on at length for Canadian readers. Our people here know well of the benefits received from that mission. Australia and New Zealand with the islands adjoining are also embraced by it. The fourth department is that to small and struggling Evangelical Churches on the Continent of Europe, especially in Italy, Belgium, Spain, etc. In most cases funds only are given, but in Spain more than that. There is now in that country the nucleus of a vigorous Church. There is a Presbytery of which most of the pastors are natives. The only exception is the professor of their training college who is an Irishman. In these ways our kindred and friends in Ireland are helping at many different points to evangelize the world. There are spots on that island that are dark enough, but the portions that are shone on by the Sun of Righteousness are reflecting the light which they have accepted and are using on many other regions.

Presbyterianism in Ireland is not yet altogether a unit. Besides that represented by the General Assembly there are four small bodies, two Reformed or Covenanter, and two Secession. Only one of the four is of any account as to numbers. That is the Old School Covenanting body which has four respectable Presbyteries. The others in each case do not muster more than make one good Presbytery. The two Reformed sections were once one; nearly half a century ago there was a division over the question of the civil magistrate. The practical difference now between them is that in one the members are allowed to exercise the elective franchise, in the other, theoretically, they are not. Of the other two small bodies one originated near the beginning of the present century owing to differences over the Regium Donum. The father of this section was James Bryce, who was long over a rural charge near Coleraine. Several of his sons became famous educationists in their day, masters in that department. A grandson is now an M. P. and a well-known author on historical and constitutional topics. The Presbytery that sprang out of this is now a constituent part of the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland. The remaining body was made up of seceders that did not go into the Union of 1840. They are for the most part found in a limited region on the borders of the counties of Armagh and Monaghan. They call themselves Original Seceders. The ministers of these small bodies are thoroughly evangelical and are Presbyterian and Calvinistic to the heart's core. It is a pity that they should continue to stand apart from the large body. Proposals towards union are now before all of them, and it is hoped that in some cases at least there will be favourable results. The appearances are that these smaller bodies will, ere long, coalesce with the large body; in the case of the Old School Covenanters the hope of immediate union is not so encouraging.

AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND
(WESTERN SECTION).

BY J. K. MACDONALD.

It is thirty-four years since the Presbytery of Toronto, doubtless from a feeling of simple justice and from a realized necessity of providing for ministers who might be expected at no distant date to fall from the ranks of active service, and with a view to afford some fair encouragement to ministers that at least a partial provision would await them, when that time should come, took up the question of the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund. The matter was formally brought before the Presbyterian Church of Canada through the overture of the Presbytery presented to the Synod of Kingston in 1857. The Synod approved of the overture, and appointed a committee for the double purpose of receiving contributions and drawing up regulations. It was not, however, till the year 1860 that it was given definite shape and was made a Scheme of the Church. No practical progress appears to have been made till after the union with the "United Presbyterian Church in Canada" as the "Canada Presbyterian Church." The united Church recognized the scheme, but appears to have failed to foresee how important to the Church the fund was to become, since it was ordered that an annual collection be taken up, but to be equally divided between this fund and the Widows' and Orphans' Fund. Perhaps it was all the Church could fairly do at the time, and owing to the limited number of claims the contributions from all sources sufficed for some years. The Rev. John McTavish, formerly of Beaverton, had much to do with the fund from its inception—indeed, may almost be considered the father of it. He was Convener till the year 1877, when he was succeeded by the Rev. Dr. Middlemiss, who for the ten following years filled the position of Convener, rendering services for which the Church owes him a debt of gratitude. To Dr. Middlemiss' excellent sketch of the formation and growth of the fund I am much indebted in being saved the labour of searching through the copies of the Minutes. I cannot do better than quote the following from the sketch referred to, as it so well illustrates the progress of the fund:—

"The income derived from this source [congregational contributions] and occasional bequests was, till 1870 inclusive, more than sufficient to meet all claims on the fund. In 1871 the expenditure exceeded the income for the year. The two following years there was a considerable increase of income; but in 1874 the expenditure was again in excess of the income. The Assembly of that year ordered that the fund should receive the benefit of the whole collection, instead of sharing it with the Widows' and Orphans' Fund. It was not, however, considered expedient to make this arrangement a permanent one; and, with the return to the divided collection, it became apparent that, owing to the increase of the number of beneficiaries, the income was inadequate. In 1877 the ministerial rate of one-half per cent. on professional income was imposed, and benefit from the fund made conditional on its payment. Notwithstanding the increase of income from this source, it appeared from the report of the following year that further action was necessary to bring up the income. The small capital of $7,500 that had gradually increased in former years, when there were few claims on the fund, having been drawn upon, during the three preceding years, to the amount of $4,000, the Assembly of 1878 ordered that the Committee should not in future draw upon capital, but should add to it all bequests and donations."

It is unfortunate that the attention of the Church was so long delayed in regard to the necessity of making provision for its aged and infirm ministers. The result of the delay was that by the time the members at large came to know anything about the fund and the claims upon it, other funds, started at an earlier period, had absorbed benefactions, part of which might have gone to form a capital for this fund. Nor is this the sole effect, for it was only started at a time when many of the ministers were reaching an age that, combined with the exposure and hardships attending the work of the ministry during the early settlement of the country, claimants increased before the fund had gathered strength. Thus it was not a matter of surprise that very soon the demands of annuitants exceeded the contributions and ministerial rates; and so bequests, which should have gone to form a capital, were drawn upon till an extinction of capital was threatened. Very soon, too, the amount of the annuity had to be reduced, and instead of $250 being paid as a maximum, a lack of funds compelled a reduction to $220. The first benefits were paid in 1862. The following, who will no doubt be well remembered by many in the Church, were among the early annuitants: Rev. Joseph Young, of Brantford; Rev. Dr. Cairns, of Montreal; Rev. T. Henry, of Lachute; Rev. Geo. Murray, of Blenheim; Rev. W. Smart and Rev. H. Gordon, of Gananoque; Rev. J. Douglas, of Millbrook; Rev. J. M. Lachlan, of Beaverton, and Rev. Daniel Clark, of Indian Lands. There was no very marked increase till 1870, when there appears an increase of fully one-third. The yearly increase, with but one or two exceptions, and that in the early years of the period, has gone steadily on up to the present time. The special attention of the Church was called to the condition and necessities of the fund at various times, and in 1876 and 1877 an effort was made to get the ministers to connect with the fund by the payment of rates. This was an excellent step, and had all joined, there can be little doubt but the fund would have received great benefit, and the members of our Church, also, would have been influenced to a greater sympathy with its claims. This, however, was only partially successful, and it may be said even to-day that subsequent efforts in the same direction have not resulted in complete success. Whatever the reason for it, many ministers have held back, and in doing so have seriously injured the cause. I have for a long time felt convinced that it was doubtful wisdom which fixed the annuities for ministers, who were in full connection by the payment of rates, at $150 for ten years of service, and $5 for each additional year up to forty, conditioned upon the state of

Whatever oing so have vanced that it ers, who were ars of service, on the state of the fund; it has always appeared to me that too much was given for the first ten years and too little for the longer term of service. This is manifest at once if the effect be looked at. Thus, taking the maximum annuity at $220 a minister after ten years of service gets $150, while another minister, who may have given forty years of service, gets $220, or only $70 for the additional thirty years of service. What prompted the adoption of such a rule I cannot say, but I have not been able to see any sufficient grounds for it. It also seems to me that it would have been wiser to have made a greater discrimination in the case of those ministers who have not contributed rates and who have been allowed half-benefits. I may be able to make clear what I mean by the following illustration. Say that two ministers have been in the pastorate for twenty-four years, the period which, under the rules, has entitled to full benefit; the one will get, if the state of the fund permit, $220 a year, the other $110. But for some years past the maximum annuity has been reduced to $200, as the state of the fund would not permit of more being paid, and so the non-payer of rates gets $110, or within $90 of as much as the one who has paid rates for all those years. An extension of the years of service only increases this, to me, seeming injustice. The Church would not, I think, act unwisely in placing greater disabilities upon those ministers who take their chances without payment of rates, and rank for half-benefits. A further injustice is done to those who have wrought long enough to become entitled to the maximum annuity, in the, as I think, unfair practice of making reductions apply only to those entitled to receive more than $200, instead of in an equal percentage on all. Thus, a minister only entitled to $200 or under, suffers no reduction, while those entitled to more are cut down to the $200. This further illustrates the injustice between the one who pays his rates, and the one who does not, in the example already given. It is encouraging to all interested in the fund, to perceive that the greater attention which the Assembly has given to it, in more recent years, is likely to lead to beneficial changes that will place it upon a more just and business-like basis.

When the Assembly met in Winnipeg, in 1887, the committee was directed to take steps to raise a capital fund of $100,000. In the following year, when it met in Halifax, the Assembly on further consideration ordered that a capital fund of $200,000 be raised. The Assembly's Committee has been earnestly endeavouring to carry out the work given to it. Permission having been given by the Assembly to employ an agent, the Rev. Wm. Burns was selected, and has continued to give his time and energies to the securing of the Endowment, jointly with the completion of his work in closing up the Knox College Endowment. Considerable progress has been made, and, including Mrs. Nichols' bequest and others, the first hundred thousand dollars has been secured, and a considerable portion paid in. The total subscribed (including the bequests) is $100,338.30, of which $62,529.64 has been paid. Considering the many difficulties encountered, and the fact that our Church has had many and heavy calls for colleges, missions and other purposes, in the immediate past, there is cause for congratulation and encouragement. No large subscriptions have been obtained, such as some of the other Church funds had given to them, but there have been a number of good subscriptions; and while the committee cannot hope to have the whole $200,000 subscribed by the time the next Assembly will meet, it does not despair, and will continue to put forth every effort till it has been secured. Adding the capital existing prior to the present effort, to the figures given above it gives a capital of $115,888.30, of which $78,079.64 is paid up. The Church as a whole has not been reached. All that has been gotten, including bequests, has come from only fourteen cities, towns and villages. I am quite certain that complete success could be attained at a comparatively early day if the ministers would fairly and clearly lay the claims of the fund before their people. It is to be hoped that some of the wealthier members of the Church will yet see their way to give a large donation to the fund, or remember it when disposing of their property by will. Every thoughtful person will readily perceive the great benefits this country received in its earlier history from the self-denying labours of our poorly paid ministers. It is largely for these the appeal is made. It must not be forgotten that our Church includes in its ministry very many who are rapidly approaching that age when retirement from active service will be necessary, and perhaps expedient, and therefore a diminution in the number of annuitants cannot be looked for. There are over seventy on the list now, and the tendency on the part of many congregations to prefer young men is not likely to lead to a decrease in the number, but rather the reverse. I would like to say before concluding that I do trust the congregations will contribute more liberally, and enable the committee to pay this year the maximum of $225, and in this way remove what might almost be considered a scandal, especially in the necessities of many who are upon the fund are considered, and the very small provision the Church has so far made for them, compared with the wealth represented by its members. I would appeal to the wealthy members for a liberal consideration of the endowment, and to congregations for largely increased liberality in collections annually taken up for the ordinary fund.

AN AUTOGRAPH LETTER OF DR. CHALMERS.

It is well known that the handwriting of Dr. Chalmers was anything but easy reading. So difficult was it to decipher that even the skilled and intelligent compositor occasionally gave it new and grotesque renderings. It is said that when his mother received letters from him they were carefully laid away to await his return, when he could read them to her himself. The reader will have an opportunity of examining a fac-simile of a brief note, the original of which is in the possession of a lady residing in Toronto, a daughter of the gentleman to whom it was in the first instance addressed. It appears on the opposite page. The Mr. Aitken, who received and who treasured it, was the first teacher in St. John's School, in connection with St. John's Parish, Glasgow, where Dr. Chalmers carried on so successfully his methods of Christian work.

My dear Mr. G. I received your letter of the 22nd - 1823

I do most sincerely sympathize with you and Mr. Arthur in the distress of your family. I shall if possible be with you soon in the course of this week, and at all events should like to spend some part of the interval with you as soon as may be.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, KINGSTON.

St. Andrew's Church, Kingston, in which the General Assembly met last year, may rightly be regarded as an historical church. On a commanding site, then a forest of maples, and granted by George III. in 1804 to the representatives of the Church of Scotland in Kingston, the first church was erected on the 20th of July, 1820, and was the first ecclesiastical edifice built of stone that the city possessed. It was a substantial but a small and plain square building, costing only $7,000. In 1837 the building was lengthened and improved in appearance, receiving a front of dressed stones surmounted with a belfry at the cost of $5,000. In this form it remained one of the prominent features of the city till April 8th, 1888, when it was completely destroyed by fire. On the 24th of May, 1889, the cornerstone of the present handsome edifice, costing $50,000, was laid, and on Sabbath, the 16th of February, 1890, was dedicated to the worship of God by the Very Rev. Principal Grant, of Queen's University, and that year Moderator of the Presbyterian Church. On the 10th of June, 1841, a commodious manse was built adjoining the church at a cost of $5,000, which was met by the congregation aided by a grant from the Clergy Reserves Fund.

At a short distance from the church is the burial ground, also granted by George III. in perpetuity to the congregation of St. Andrew's, and which was used for the interment of the Scotch till recent years, when a cemetery was provided outside the city limits. Church, manse and graveyard make the ecclesiastical machinery complete, and the fine old trees around give to the whole place an air of solidity and permanence.

It was in St. Andrew's Church, in 1831, that the Presbyterian Church in Canada was organized, and the country divided into Presbyteries and Synods. The minister of St. Andrew's presided at the meeting, which was composed of fourteen ministers and five elders. St. Andrew's may, therefore, be called the mother of the Presbyterian churches in the Dominion.

It was in St. Andrew's Church, on the 18th of December, 1839, that Queen's College and University was born, and for eight years, from 1846 to 1854, Dr. Machar, one of the ministers of St. Andrew's, acted as Principal. It is natural, therefore, that a peculiarly affectionate relationship should subsist between the church and the college.

The first minister of St. Andrew's was the Rev. John Barclay, ordained by the Presbytery of Edinburgh on the 26th September, 1821. He formed the first Kirk Session, ordaining amongst others, on Nov. 3rd, 1822, to the eldership, Hugh Macdonald, father of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, Premier of the Dominion, and John Mowat, father of the Hon. Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario. Mr. Barclay died, after a short pastorate of three years, on the 26th September, 1826, and over his grave in the church burial ground the congregation erected a handsome monument, still the only monument in the city.

He was succeeded by the Rev. John Machar, M.A., and afterwards D.D., from Glasgow University, ordained by the Presbytery of Edinburgh on the 27th April, 1827, and who, after a long ministry of thirty-six years, died on the 7th February, 1863. His remains were laid to rest in the city cemetery, where a monument erected by the congregation bears testimony to his sterling worth and work.

To him succeeded the Rev. William Maxwell Inglis, M.A., and F.R.S.E., licensed by the Presbytery of Fordyce, and for some time the highly appreciated assistant of Dr. Matheson, of St. Andrew's Church, Montreal. He was inducted by the Presbytery of Kingston on the 5th August, 1863, and after eight years resigned his charge in March, 1871.

The Rev. Thomas G. Smith, M.A., ordained in 1856, afterwards D.D., now financial secretary to Queen's College, succeeded Mr. Inglis, and was inducted by the Presbytery of Kingston into St. Andrew's in June, 1874, but was translated to St. Andrew's, St. John, N B., in May, 1883.

On Dr. Smith's translation, a unanimous call was extended to the Rev. John Mackie, M.A., of Edinburgh University, licensed by the Presbytery of Edinburgh, May 16th, 1877, ordained by the Presbytery of Dumfries, Dec. 13th, 1877, and for eight years minister of the town and parish of Dalbeattie, Kirkcudbrightshire. Mr. Mackie was inducted into St. Andrew's by the Presbytery of Kingston, October 25th, 1885, and is the present incumbent.

The congregation of St. Andrew's has grown large and influential, leading in generosity all the churches in the city. Its revenue for last year was $7,324.42. Its communion roll shows a strength of 453. Besides its Sabbath school with a roll of 288, it has a Juvenile Guild for charitable work, a Young Men's Guild, a Young Women's Guild, a Women's Foreign Mission Society, and a Women's Home Association, all of which are rendering excellent service to the Church at home and abroad.

REV. JAMES CARRUTHERS, PASTOR.

The history of St. James Church, Charlottetown, carries us back to the year 1825, when a public meeting was called at the Court House, June 25th, to take into consideration the best mode of procuring for Charlottetown and its vicinity the benefits of the stated ministrations of a clergyman of the Established Church of Scotland and erecting a suitable place of worship. As a result of this meeting and of subsequent efforts, a church building was commenced in the following year and completed in 1828, the congregation at that time including a large number from the congregations now known as St. Peters Road, Brackley Point Road, and West and Clyde Rivers. There was no settled pastor till 1830, but occasional services were given by the late Rev. John McLennan of Belfast and minister from the Kirk Presbytery of Pictou. In 1830 Rev. Jas. McIntosh was sent out by the Glasgow Colonial Society and he was formally inducted minister of the church Aug. 11, 1831. On this occasion the church was solemnly set apart for the service of Almighty God. Mr. McIntosh was succeeded in 1841 by Rev. Angus McIntyre, a man of great ability, both as a preacher and pastor. After the close of his pastorate in 1848 Rev. Samuel Brown of the Irish Presbyterian church supplied the pulpit for about six months, when the Colonial Committee sent out Rev. John McBean. Mr. McBean was compelled to resign after a pastorate of a few months owing to ill health, and his place was filled by Rev. Robt. McNair. Mr. McNair remained with the congregation until April, 1852, when he resigned and left for Scotland. The vacancy was filled by Rev. Wm. Snodgrass, so well known to the Church in connection with Queen's College, Kingston, who after supplying the pulpit by agreement for three years was inducted in November, 1855.

During Mr. Snodgrass' pastorate the church made rapid progress, as in addition to pulpit power he possessed a great talent for organization. In 1856 he left Charlottetown to take charge of St. Paul's, Montreal, much regretted not only by his own congregation but by the whole community. He was succeeded by Rev. Thos. Duncan who was inducted Oct. 23rd, 1856. Mr. Duncan ministered to the congregation with zeal, fidelity and success for 20 years when he accepted a call to St. Andrew's, Halifax. He was succeeded by Rev. Kenneth McLennan who was inducted January 31st, 1877. During Mr. McLennan's pastorate the new church of which a picture is given, and which is admitted to be one of the most beautiful churches in the Maritime Provinces, was built, the foundation stone being laid June 7th, 1877, and the building of Wallace freestone, trimmed with red sandstone of Prince Edward Island, has a seating capacity of 900. Since the opening of the new church Old St. James, endeared to the congregation by so many memories, has been used as a Sabbath school room and lecture hall.

Rev. Mr. McLennan resigned the charge in June, 1884, and after a vacancy of nearly a year the present pastor, Rev. James Carruthers, was inducted May 6th, 1885. During Mr. Carruthers' pastorate most gratifying progress has been made. The financial affairs of the congregation have been put upon a satisfactory basis, steady progress has been made year by year in wiping out the debt upon the church, and a spirit of liberality, especially in connection with the Schemes of the Church, has been developed, although not numerous (there being only 120 families), or wealthy, and the average yearly contributions of the congregation for all purposes for the last five years have exceeded $5,000 with an average for the same period of over $800 for the Schemes of the Church.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, PETERBOROUGH.

REV. E. F. TORRANCE, M.A., PASTOR.

In the early days of settlement in Ontario what is now the flourishing town of Peterborough was not inaptly described as a backwoods place. Thrifty and enterprising immigrants settled in the surrounding country and carved prosperous homes for themselves out of the native forest. Lumbering and other industries added to the growth and prosperity of the district. Adherents of Presbyterianism were numerous and the need for regular church services was keenly felt. It was sometime, however, before their wishes in this respect were gratified. Occasional services were highly prized, but valuable as they were it was felt that they only made the desire for regular services all the more eager. In due time the regular supply of gospel ordinances was provided, and the late Rev. J. M. Roger, M.A., was ordained as pastor. This worthy pioneer of Presbyterianism in the Midland district of Ontario was himself a son of the manse, having been born at Kincardine O'Neil in Scotland. Mr. Roger obtained his education in Arts and Theology in Aberdeen University. He also enlarged the range of his acquirements by prosecuting the study of medicine. He was thoroughly imbued with the self-denying spirit of an earnest and thoroughly evangelical pioneer minister. The zeal and energy with which Mr. Roger conducted his pastorate were productive of most excellent and encouraging results. The congregation in Peterborough grew in strength and spirituality under Mr. Roger's devoted and conscientious care. He did not relax his endeavours to promote the spiritual welfare of residents in the surrounding country. Several congregations now flourishing with vigour under their respective pastors owe their origin to the labours and supervision of Mr. Roger. He was ably assisted by worthy men in the eldership whose personal worth and Christian character gained for them respect and esteem far beyond the locality in which they lived. Mr. Roger, after a life of long and faithful service, died at an advanced age on the 8th January, 1878.

On the 28th of June, 1876, Rev. E. F. Torrance was ordained and inducted into the pastoral charge of St. Paul's Church. During the past fifteen years and a half the congregation has continued to increase. In 1876 there were in the congregation 190 families and 368 communicants. There are in the congregation to day 350 families and 710 communicants. The total number received into church membership in this period of time has been 1009.

In 1884 the church was enlarged and an organ put in at a cost of $34,000. Of this amount only $4,000 is still unpaid. While expending this large sum upon church extension the congregation has not been unmindful of the Schemes of the Church. For the past two or three years the contributions have been about $2,000 a year; and it is expected that for 1891 they will be larger than this.

St. Paul's has always been a most harmonious congregation as will appear from the fact that it has had only two pastors during the past 57 years.

STATED COLLECTIONS.

The Assembly ordered that the Stated Collections for the Schemes of the Church, in congregations in which there are no Missionary Associations, be made as follows:—

1. French Evangelization, on the fourth Sabbath of July.
2. Home Missions, on the fourth Sabbath of August.
3. Colleges, on the third Sabbath of September.
4. Widows' and Orphans' Fund, on the third Sabbath of October.
5. Assembly Fund, on the third Sabbath of November.
6. Manitoba College, on the third Sabbath of December.
7. Augmentation Fund, on the third Sabbath of January, 1892.
8. Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund, on the third Sabbath of February, 1892.
9. Foreign Missions, on the third Sabbath of March, 1892.

Ordered, also, That all Congregations and Mission Stations be enjoined to contribute to the Schemes of the Church.

Further, That contributions be sent to the Treasurer of the Church as soon as possible after the collections are made.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

The following are the recommendations with which the Report on Sabbath Observance concluded. It was submitted to the General Assembly by the Convener of the Committee, Dr. Armstrong, of Ottawa:—

1. That recommendations 1, 2 and 3 of last year be renewed, viz.: That the ministers of our Church be careful to bring before their congregations the nature and sanctions of the Sabbath as they have opportunity, and that at least one sermon during the year be devoted to the subject. That parents in their home instruction and teachers in the Sabbath schools take pains to instil into the minds of the young the teachings of Scripture in regard to the Sabbath Day. That the ministers and members of our Church, and especially those on our various Sabbath Observance Committees, seek, as they have opportunity, to use the press in influencing public attention to right views on Sabbath Observance.

2. That the Assembly, whilst deploring the neglect and desecration of the Sabbath that still exist, would yet record its thankfulness to God for the cheering reports of improvement that have come from several quarters—especially from the Synod of Manitoba and North-West Territory—and for the deeper interest awakened throughout the Church in regard to the necessity of maintaining the sanctity and obligations of the day.

3. That a circular be sent to Presbyteries containing questions for the purpose of eliciting information, and that Presbyteries be recommended to call for reports from their committees on Sabbath Observance at a regular meeting of Presbytery.

4. That the Assembly express its sympathy with the work of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, especially with the attempt to obtain better legislation for the protection of the Sabbath as a day of rest, and appoint the members of its committee as its representatives in the Alliance.

This company lends its moneys on the security of Real Estate only, secured by mortgage, at the ordinary rates of interest and on the usual terms.

It receives money and issues Debenture Bonds therefor, bearing interest payable half-yearly by coupons, attached to the bond, which can be cashed at any of the Banks throughout the Dominion. These bonds offer a very safe and simple mode of investment most suitable for Trustees, Ministers and others who cannot devote the time necessary to secure desirable mortgage loans for themselves.

The character of the above debentures, and the ABSOLUTE safe investment they afford, is evidenced by the fact that the Government of the Province of Ontario have approved of the Debentures of this company as a proper investment of Trust Funds by Trustees.

Full information can be obtained by application to the Manager.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Prepared under the direction of PROF. E. N. HORSFORD.

Every fibre of the human body contains the phosphates. They are the vital elements of every tissue, and are essential to the maintenance and promotion of sound bodily health.

These phosphates are consumed with every effort, and if the waste is not supplied exhaustion will follow.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate supplies these phosphates, and thereby relieves exhaustion and increases the capacity for labor.

Dr. A. N. Krout, Van Wert, O., says:

"Decidedly beneficial in nervous exhaustion."

"A remedy of great service in many forms of exhaustion."

Dr. Gustave A. Shane, Steubenville, O., says:

"Especially gratifying benefit in its use in nervous irritability and exhaustion, dependent upon digestive derangements."
