NINE HUNDRED LIVES LOST WITH LUSITANIA OF 1918 PASSENGERS AND CREW LESS THAN 1000 HAVE LANDED Great Britain's Fastest Merchant Vessel Was Sunk in Half an Hour Without Warning When Struck By Two German Torpedoes Off the South Coast of Ireland UNITED STATES BROUGHT TO BRINK OF WAR AGAINST GERMANY

LONDON, May 8.—The Cunard liner Lusitania, which sailed out of New York last Saturday with more than 2000 souls aboard, lies at the bottom of the ocean off the Irish coast. She was sunk by a German submarine, which sent two torpedoes crashing into her side, while the passengers, seemingly confident that the great, swift vessel could elude the German underwater craft, were having luncheon.

it had received at 11.41 a.m. The text of this message was not given out until about 5 p.m. and was as follows: "We regret to advise that an unconfirmed report is the Lusitania was torpedoed by a submarine at 2 p.m. Friday ten miles south of Kinsale and sank at 2.30 p.m. We have no news as yet as to the safety of passengers and crew."

made public tonight, showed there were 1251 passengers in all on board. The crew numbered between 700 and 800, making a total of more than 2000 on the steamer. The list made public showed the various nationalities of the passengers as follows: First cabin: Great Britain, 179; United States, 106; Greece, 3; Sweden, 1; Switzerland, 1.

How many of the Lusitania's passengers and crew were rescued cannot be told at present, but the official statements from the British Admiralty up to midnight accounted for not more than 500 or 600.

Hastened to Rescue... Subsequent messages told that all the available craft in Queenstown were going to the rescue and that a Greek steamer was in the vicinity. Another message received about 4.30 o'clock, said that according to a Cork newspaper, 300 passengers had been landed at Clonakilly.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, May 7.—On her ordinary course, and apparently making her highest possible speed, the Lusitania was struck in the bow by a German torpedo at 2 o'clock. Thirty-three minutes later she disappeared from the surface of the ocean.

Boats, which were already swung out on the davits, were dropped overboard and were speedily filled with passengers, who had been appalled by the desperate attack. A wireless call for help was sent out, and immediately rescue boats of all kinds were sent out from both the neighboring points along the coast and Queenstown.

As the night wore on only a handful of persons remained or visited the Cunard office enquiring for information. A cable newspaper report that everybody was safe, received late in the afternoon, it was thought at the office was responsible, in a measure, for this situation.

LONDON, May 8. 1.54 a.m.—The Morning Post, in an editorial on the Lusitania, after remarking on the elaborate warnings issued at New York before the ship sailed, says: "We find it difficult to understand how, with such warnings and such ample opportunities to take all precautions, the Lusitania was caught."

What Will the United States Do?... The announcement of the sinking of the Lusitania had an immediate effect on the stock markets of the United States, no doubt in view of possible complications with Germany.

NEW YORK, May 7.—More than 200 Americans are among the dead in the Lusitania disaster, according to a London cable to The Tribune, whose correspondent places the total loss of life at from 900 to 1400, the latter estimate by First Officer Jones. It is supposed there were 400 Americans on board.

Two members of the staff of the civic works department, Jas. Barr of Queensberry avenue, assistant engineer in the waterworks section, and "Bill" Dale of 1 Moss Park Place, assistant engineer in the sewer section, were aboard the Lusitania.

Mr. Barr, who was accompanied by his wife, left to visit his father, who is critically ill at Kilmarnock, Scotland, where he is manager of the Glenfield-Kennedy works. Mr. Barr, who is about 30 years of age, is regarded by Works Commissioner Harris as one of the most capable men in his department. He is the author of a work dealing with notched bolts, which is regarded as authoritative, and has been in the city's service for many years.

"Bill" Dale, a young Irishman, is on a visit to his parents. He has been in the department for eight years, and is highly popular with his associates, who made a presentation to him on the eve of his departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Neville, with their three children, Charles, Evelyn and Muriel, were passengers on the S.S. Lusitania. The Nevilles were residents of Earlscourt and lived at 69 MacFarland avenue, off Peterboro avenue for a number of years. Mr. Neville decided to start in business in the old country, and sold his household effects.

It is rumored in the Earlscourt district that Mr. and Mrs. Symons and family, who resided at 188 Nairn avenue, were passengers on the S.S. Lusitania. Mr. Symons is a painter and decorator by trade, and left with his family to take a position in England.

LONDON, May 8.—The American Embassy and Consulate and the American newspaper offices have been flooded with telephone inquiries from Americans as to the fate of the passengers on the Lusitania, but up to and after midnight there was no definite news, and the only hope that could be held out was that some boats had landed, survivors, and others had been seen making for the shore.

The embassy decided to remain open all night, so that any news that was received could be made public.

Pretence May Be Fine; It Depends on the "Why"

By WINIFRED BLACK

Winifred Black

WILLIE RITCHIE has dimples—three dimples, two in his cheeks and one in his chin. He is young and he is handsome, and he has a smile like the smile of a lovely child. "Harlem Tommy" Murphy is handsome, too, but in another fashion—tempestuous, radiant. Also he is a figure from a Greek frieze come to life. But who are the gentlemen? Why, they're prize fighters! I knew that even before I read the Century Magazine. Mrs. Inez Haynes Gilmore went to the prize fight and wrote about it, and told us all about it in the magazine. It was a clever story she wrote, and she handled it brilliantly. Mrs. Gilmore never seems to know how to be anything except clever and brilliant. The only thing that astonished me was the point of view, and of course it's very silly to be astonished at that in any one these days. I sat next to a sweet little woman in a dove-gray gown at a luncheon the other day, and she said she thought Mrs. Gilmore's article about the prize fight was "illuminating."

"She's gotten completely away from the old-fashioned point of view," said the sweet little woman in the dove-gray frock. "How refreshing it is to see somebody who has stopped pretending, at last."

"Now if a man went to see—well, we'll say, a fencing bout between two young women, what do you think he'd remark?"

"The way those women fenced and what the audience thought of it?"

"Not he. He'd be observing the figures of the young women, and he could tell you, without even stopping to count, just how many dimples they had and whether or not their eyes were radiant."

The Irksomeness of Pretence.

"Women have been pretending all these years. Every one of us has pretended for a generation."

"My great-grandmother pretended that she loved my great-grandfather when he made her spend Sunday afternoons reading psalms to him, and all the while, I haven't much doubt, poor, dear great-grandmother was thinking of the color of the eyes of the tenor singer in the choir."

"My grandmother pretended that she loved to make quilts and darn stockings and put up jam."

"That's because she thought grandfather would love her if she pretended to love these things."

"My mother pretended to be shocked at the idea of the theatre, but I never say her so excited in my life as she was when she played Esther at a church performance for the benefit of the new carpet for the pulpit."

"I started in pretending the day I met my husband. I kept it up for years."

"I pretended to be interested in fish stories. I've yawned myself almost to death over shooting stories, and never let my poor, deluded husband see me do it."

"Whenever any one told a story that my husband seemed particularly to enjoy, and that was just a little too interesting to me, too—well—I always turned my head away and pretended to blush."

"I knew he'd like it better if I did."

"I pretended to love cigar smoke, and I pretended that I wasn't lonely when he took his vacations with other men and left me at home with the children."

"When I dined with him in restaurants I asked him who the beautifully dressed women were who seemed to know everybody and whom nobody seemed to know."

"And when he told me I pretended to be horrified."

"I'm interested in prize fights. I'm through pretending now, and so I can say it. I'm crazy to go to the prize fight."

"No, I don't know anything about boxing, and I care even less. I want to see them when they are not pretending."

What Does Pretending Mean?

"The men pretend, too, all the time when they are with us."

"I want to see how they look when they forget to pretend."

"And then I want to see the fighters themselves. I'm really mad to see them. From what Mrs. Gilmore says they must be perfectly engaging."

"Isn't it fun to stop pretending?"

"When did I stop?"

"My dear," said the woman in dove gray, striking a match to light her cigarette. "I stopped on the day my husband deserted me and ran away with a woman who had never pretended in her life."

"And the woman in dove gray looked away from me as if she were afraid that I would see sudden tears in her eyes."

"And I looked away very quickly and 'pretended' that I did not see."

"Has it all been pretence, all that we women have tried to be for so many, many years?"

"Was it pretence that made the cave woman hang up a skin in front of her cave and teach her children that behind that skin was home?"

"Is it pretence that makes modesty and fidelity and honor a part of the daily life of the daily woman we all know and love?"

"If it is, then hurrah for pretence!"

"I shall teach my little daughter to pretend as long as I have power to teach, and I hope she'll pretend that she doesn't care for prize fights, just as I hope her brother will pretend that he doesn't care for embroidery and for tea parties."

"What a hopelessly uninteresting world it would suddenly be if we should all stop what Mrs. Gilmore seems to think is the pretence of vital difference between men and women."

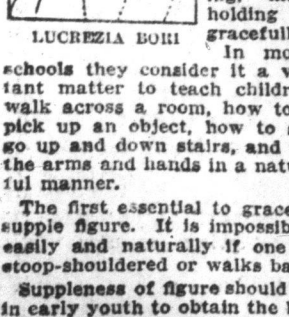

"And if I should ever meet Mr. Willie Ritchie, the prize fighter, upon the public streets, I shall look away from him as quickly as I can."

"I'm afraid he'll think I am looking for his dimples, and if he is the kind of man I have faith to believe he is he'll wish I would pretend that I never heard of either him or his 'illuminating beauty.'"

How to Cultivate Charm Through Grace

By LUCREZIA BORI

Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

Lucrezia Bori

MANY hands have sung of the "poetry of motion," and it is evident that in their minds, to be beautiful and charming, a woman must move gracefully. Many of us are apt to forget that there is an art in walking, moving and holding ourselves gracefully. In most of our schools they consider it a very important matter to teach children how to walk across a room, how to stop and pick up an object, how to sit, how to go up and down stairs, and how to use the arms and hands in a natural, graceful manner.

The first essential to grace is a lithe, supple figure. It is impossible to move easily and naturally if one is clumsy, stoop-shouldered or wide-bodied.

Suppleness of figure should be acquired in early youth to obtain the best results, but it is "never too late to mend," so if you find you are lacking in this quality, begin immediately to obtain it.

The trouble with many of us is that we are muscle-bound through inactivity. Make it a rule, as unbreakable as the laws of the Medes and Persians, to exercise every morning. The following simple exercise will help you to gain suppleness and grace:

Stand erect with arms at the sides. Raise the arms high above the head until the hands meet, palms extended. Then bend forward, and, without touching the knees, try to touch the tips of the toes with the tips of the fingers. Repeat this movement until you become dizzy or fatigued.

The peasant women of Europe are noted for their grace, and it is attributed to the ability to walk about with baskets balanced on top of their heads. It would be an excellent plan if you would walk about the room with a book balanced on the top of your head. You will soon notice that your carriage is much improved.

The "Awkward Age." There is nothing like dancing as an exercise to produce grace, and if you want your little girls to grow to be graceful have them taught dancing at most as soon as they can walk. Fancy dancing in particular will make their bodies supple and lithe, for it teaches them to bend and pose and to use the arms gracefully.

French and Italian women express a great deal with their hands, and actresses are trained in the art of gesture. It is not the custom for English or American women to gesticulate too much when talking, but we should be most careful that the gestures which we make are graceful.

The Moon Rises. "ELL," said I to Mary as we motored out of the picnic wood in the twilight. "This has been a day."

"Oh, Peter," said my wife petulantly. "I do wish you wouldn't keep on saying 'I'm sleepy' when I know perfectly well that I'm not. I certainly ought to know when I'm sleepy, oughtn't I?"

"You ought," I conceded, "but you don't."

Mary sat up very straight, her figure expressing a wonderful defiance. I laughed softly as I watched her relax. I had been chatting rather carelessly of a Sunday school picnic I had attended as a youngster.

"Next," I went on, conveniently forgetting the quarrel as my wife had begged me to, "next we lunch at a shopping restaurant, motor off aimlessly, find a picnic, rescue an old lady driving an 'old horse,' meet Dickie Fenfield, have a merry-go-round adventure and end the day by eating a regular old-fashioned country picnic supper with a minister."

"It's been delightful!" said my wife. "Like these chancy sort of things, don't you, Peter? Not knowing just what you're going to do—and just following any sort of whim that presents itself."

Mary Grows Drowsy. "Gambling instinct," I told her. "I do believe you're sleepy! I saw you nod."

"I'm sure you didn't, Peter," said my wife indignantly. "I'm as wide awake as you are."

I smiled, and said nothing more. Mary bobbed and nodded, and I nudged her aside me. Once she lurched forward with such a jerk that I caught her.

"Mary," I said laughing, "you'll certainly break your neck. There isn't a ghost of a doubt of it. This day in the outdoor air has made you drowsy."

"Oh, Peter," said my wife petulantly. "I do wish you wouldn't keep on saying 'I'm sleepy' when I know perfectly well that I'm not. I certainly ought to know when I'm sleepy, oughtn't I?"

"You ought," I conceded, "but you don't."

Mary sat up very straight, her figure expressing a wonderful defiance. I laughed softly as I watched her relax. I had been chatting rather carelessly of a Sunday school picnic I had attended as a youngster.

"Next," I went on, conveniently forgetting the quarrel as my wife had begged me to, "next we lunch at a shopping restaurant, motor off aimlessly, find a picnic, rescue an old lady driving an 'old horse,' meet Dickie Fenfield, have a merry-go-round adventure and end the day by eating a regular old-fashioned country picnic supper with a minister."

"It's been delightful!" said my wife. "Like these chancy sort of things, don't you, Peter? Not knowing just what you're going to do—and just following any sort of whim that presents itself."

Mary Grows Drowsy. "Gambling instinct," I told her. "I do believe you're sleepy! I saw you nod."

"I'm sure you didn't, Peter," said my wife indignantly. "I'm as wide awake as you are."

I smiled, and said nothing more. Mary bobbed and nodded, and I nudged her aside me. Once she lurched forward with such a jerk that I caught her.

"Mary," I said laughing, "you'll certainly break your neck. There isn't a ghost of a doubt of it. This day in the outdoor air has made you drowsy."

"Oh, Peter," said my wife petulantly. "I do wish you wouldn't keep on saying 'I'm sleepy' when I know perfectly well that I'm not. I certainly ought to know when I'm sleepy, oughtn't I?"

"You ought," I conceded, "but you don't."

Secrets of Health and Happiness Excesses Deplete Fluids of Sleep—Result, Insomnia

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

INSOMNIA is as unpopular as it is widely distributed, but it may amaze you to learn that hypersomnia or pathological sleep is equally a pestilence of human kind. Sleep distempers and hypo as well as hypersomnia have been blamed upon everything from the ten tasks of Hercules to all the evils of Pandora's box. Disturbed digestive processes, swollen nervous tissues, microbes, unequal bodily balance, fatigue, lack of fatigue, too little effort and too much effort, worry and the need to worry have all played the great insleper afflictions.

Dr. A. Salmon, a distinguished French student of insomnia and hypersomnia, proposes to treat all such irregularities in a new way. The physiological mechanism of sleep, especially that concerned in hypersomnia, is explained in a new way. He proves, very skillfully, that "that tired feeling" and the tendency to fall asleep is by no means to be blamed upon any fatigue poisons or similar chemicals which dampen the nerves.

Why We Sleep. In sleep all the tissues are excessively engaged in a task not permitted throughout the active hours of the day—to rebuild, reconstruct, store and elaborate new materials to replace the waste of the waking hours. The waste and wear stuff which accumulates in the course of muscular and mental activity are seized upon, neutralized and destroyed in sleep by the juices—hormones—formed in these restful periods. Indeed, an extra amount of these midnight hormones or anti-juices which causes the goddess in her sable robe to step upon us. Sleep and the sandman sag upon our eyelids, because these new fluids begin to leave their daylight hiding places and start like bats and owls to scowl now here, now there, hither and thither amidst our textiles to rout out the accumulated poisons of the day.

Hypersomnia, according to this new knowledge, is the outcome of an early appearance of these hormones in the vermilion stream. In other words, these juices begin to get in their work ahead of time and in excess of normal requirements. A sleepy head is the net price of this. On the other hand, insomnia is a sign of stultification, nigardiness, and deficiency of such fluids. They arrive sparsely, too late, or not at all.

How Insomnia Develops. Dr. Salmon offers no theory without the facts. He says that these juices in various organs or viscera until he hit upon the pituitary gland, the little putty-like nest which hangs from the under surface of the brain in a bony socket over the nose. Whereas this pituitary gland—also called the hypophysis—seems to be the brewery for most of the milk of Morpheus, it is more than barely possible that other structures of mammalian anatomy also give rise to this home-grown "dope."

Any increase of the normal emotions, of any fatigue, of any poisons which might induce wakefulness, will at first cause an extra amount of these hormones to generate. There will then be normal sleep of greater duration. Various disturbances of the thyroid gland are accompanied either with insomnia or hypersomnia. The thyroid may act irreversely with the pituitary or it may in this instance, as in others, exert some sort of influence over the other gland. Nevertheless, it is certain that many examples of insomnia and wakefulness can be fully explained upon the basis of Dr. Salmon's discoveries. Excesses of any kind, such as late hours, muscular exertion, emotional excitement will so deplete and consume the required hormones that insomnia will follow.

Furthermore, a few sleepless nights will in this manner so draw upon the resources of the human parts that the insomnia will become continuous and grow upon what it feeds. Undoubtedly too much muscular fatigue is the greatest cause of wank of sleep, because the juices of the adrenal glands have gone to the aid of the muscles instead of to the reserve tissues, which need it, at night.

Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl By SYLVIA GERARD

Making a Dainty Early Summer Frock of Wash Materials. It is believed that "listeners never hear a good of themselves." This morning I heard Aunt Kathryn talking to mother about me, and since there wasn't any way of escape, and as I was curious to know how "Robbin" saw it, I stiched away on my embroidery and proved that the old saying is not always true.

"Do you appreciate that Robbin is quite an exceptional girl?" said Aunt Kathryn in a tone that plainly said, "Dare to disagree with this opinion and we'll no longer be speaking terms."

When I asked mother to criticize any of the things, and ended with this compliment: "She wasn't overlooked when the talents were portioned out, either, for I think it is nothing short of marvellous the way she makes most of her clothes. I had to look at her in astonishment—for I can't sew a straight seam—as she took that inexpensive material and fashioned it into a frock which led me as if it had cost $5. Really, Margaret, I'm very proud of my niece."

Dear, indulgent Aunt Kathryn! I wanted to bunch her up in my arms and thank her for thinking so well of me, but didn't dare move until they had left the room.

I'm glad that Aunt Kathryn likes my latest effort in the dressmaking line. It is a summer dress of pale blue muslin, white net and lace, and is quite a frock I've made from wash materials.

The idea wasn't entirely original, for I saw a similar frock of pale yellow in one of the shops, and it was so cool looking and dainty that I decided to have one nearly like it.

I bought imported muslin—making the frock myself I could afford to spend more for the materials—of the palest blue tint. My heart was set upon a frilled skirt, so I used four lace-edged ruffles about the bottom.

MADO MACDONALD'S KINDLY MESSAGE

Gallant Officer's Last Letter
Was Written to Little Girl Cousin.

THANKED FOR SCARF

Note to Margaret Struthers
Was Written on Day Before
He Died.

Margaret Struthers, eight years old, daughter of Dr. Struthers, medical officer of the Ontario Compensation Board, received a letter yesterday which she will cherish all her life. It came from Lieut. Mado Macdonald of the Queen's Own, who was killed in the battle of Langemarck. It was the last letter written by one of the most popular of Toronto soldiers. In acknowledging the receipt of a scarf which his cousin, Margaret Struthers, had sent to him, Lieut. Macdonald wrote the following:

Belgium, April 20, 1915.
"My Dear Margaret: I thank you so much for your dear gray scarf. It was just what I needed. You must be a wonderful worker to have made so nice a scarf. You must feel awfully sorry for the poor little girls over here who have been driven out of their homes by the Germans. There are thousands of families in the towns around here living in wagons and tents. Their beautiful homes are smashed down by the German guns. Now, Margaret, I would like to get a letter from you some time, and I will tell you more about things over here next time. The above letter was written the day before he met his death by a shell, when his battalion was advancing to reinforce comrades who were being swept back by the German horde."

To Have Perpetually
Wavy, Curling Hair

Perpetually wavy, curling hair is now within the means of every woman to possess. All one needs to do is to get a few ounces of plain liquid salmerine at any drug store and use a little of it occasionally. This is remarkably effective—even in damp weather—in producing a beautiful softness and satiny gloss, which bear no evidence of artificial making. It is neither sticky nor greasy, and it will not streak, stain or injure hair or scalp in the least.

After one trial, the scorching, hair-destroying curling iron will never more be used. The best way to apply the salmerine is with a clean tooth brush, drawing it through the hair from root to tip. If this is done before setting, a look into the mirror in the morning will afford a most agreeable surprise.

SMITH LIKELY TO BE THE NEW FIRE CHIEF

Controller Thompson Now
Favors Permanent Appointment of Acting Chief.

TEAMSTERS' DEMAND

Works Committee Hears Two Deputations—Gossip of the City Hall.

Indications at the city hall are that Acting Chief William Smith will become head of the fire department. Controller Thompson, who proposed the holding over of the question on Thursday, says that he is now in favor of appointing Smith as chief, but he still wants a commissioner. The by-law at present only provides for a "head," and if two men are to be appointed to the department it will have to be changed to suit.

Mayor Church will endeavor to have a bylaw passed making it illegal for pedestrians to walk across lawns. Ward seven assessment notices were sent out yesterday. The figures are about the same as last last year, when they increased from $16,843,812 to $20,237,216.

The heavy road-rollers will be loaned to the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Commission at $3 per day each, if the recommendation of Commissioner Harris is adopted.

Works Commissioner Harris has been putting in sewer and water connections by day labor and as he thinks this method is costly he recom- mends that the work be done by contract. The works committee was unable to decide the matter and it will come up again.

Teamsters Protest.
Representatives of the city teamsters' organizations appeared before the works committee yesterday to ask that the city enforce the minimum wage scale of $8 per day. A teamster getting only $5 a day only has $7.50 a week for himself and his wife. Aid, McBride waxed eloquent in regard to the city's inserting a fair wage clause in its contracts at the expense of the taxpayers. "We ought to do away with the fair wage clause, which holds up the taxpayers. The difficulty with the unions is that they hold up a lot of work that can't earn what they are getting," said the alderman.

Recorder Weir of the Montreal police court was a visitor at the city hall yesterday.

A deputation headed by R. G. Agnew, which nearly filled the room, waited on the works committee yesterday to ask for a pavement on Pacific avenue. This pavement has been long deferred, as the Toronto Suburban Railway had a franchise for the street, but now that the franchise has been surrendered to the city the residents are desirous of having the pavement laid. Commissioner Harris will make a report as to the paving.

Works Committee.
Eric Armour appeared before the works committee yesterday on behalf of the Godson Contracting Company, who have an account against the city of $65,000 on account of extras in connection with the railway in high-level interceptor No. 3. The contract price was for $127,478, but the Godson Company's account amounts to $192,000. The work was completed in 1911 and the city has not yet paid the extra money. City Solicitor Johnston has been asked to report in the matter.

A deputation waited on the works committee yesterday asking that Davenport road be paved between Bathurst and Dufferin streets. It was suggested that if the road was paved the city might bring the Toronto Suburban Railway to time, and Aid, McBride replied that Sir Adam Beck might possibly take over the railway in connection with the hydro radials. The committee could not see its way to recommending a pavement on account of the rocky situation, but something will be done in the way of leveling and oiling.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 8

Germany's Loss of Moral Restraint

Civilization, or what we have been accustomed to call civilization in the west, is at stake. The destruction of the Lusitania brings this fact vividly before the world. What the world may do in the face of this fact depends entirely on how deep the spirit of what we call civilization has sunk into the character of humanity.

The whole development of the race is of the nature of a contest between the brute in man and the finer thing that we call humanity. The predominance of humanity above the brute is what we call civilization. If civilization is at stake, humanity is at stake. This has been becoming clearer since the Kaiser and his nation have undertaken to impose their will to power upon the rest of the world.

We stated our belief some time ago that a nation that had lost its ability to discriminate between moral evil and moral good in the shape of moral license and moral restraint, was a nation insane. The Germans have adopted the view that the end justifies the means; that their national end justifies any means; and the other nations of the world must consider whether they are willing to allow this contention to pass unchallenged.

If Germany is permitted to set up this standard for herself it is clear that in any future war, with any other nation, the same brute principle of the end justifies the means—any means—would be applied.

After many generations the nations had laboriously built up a code of honor, rules and regulations by which when resort was had to the brute method of war, a degree of restraint would be observed by all who regarded themselves as within the pale of civilization.

The point is not at all that one act is more brutal or savage than another, and many people have missed this important consideration. The point is that certain rules and regulations had been adopted and agreed upon, and all civilized contents were to be carried on under these rules. Just as the sport of prize-fighting, which is brutal to some people, became codified and therefore civilized, and capable of bringing its participants under a moral restraint.

If we abandon our codes and standards we fall back into the brute stage and must begin all over again the long effort which past generations have made to attain to such decency and mercy as modern war was supposed to observe.

If German contentions are to govern, then our standards and regulations have relied on a higher quality in the human race than the human race possesses. We cannot accept this view, and prefer to take the alternative that Germany is actually insane and unable to discriminate between right and wrong.

We must not get down to the level of her insanity. New rules of war may have to be established, but the nations should be slow to relax a code which has bound them. The high water mark of our international morality is not so very high that we can afford to lower it. Better, it would seem, that the nations agree upon such steps as individuals might take in dealing with an insane person, exceptional steps, not to be regarded as a precedent, and strictly to be confined to the case in hand.

The allies will undoubtedly triumph in the end, but the triumph will be far greater if Germany is unable by her brutishness to bring the allies to her own low moral level.

Italy Must Come In

Italy must take her place and take it quickly in this war with the allies and fight to preserve the civilization of Europe against the armed autocracy of the Kaiser. She is called to this course by interest as well as duty. Her country for centuries was invaded and plundered as Belgium is invaded and plundered today, and her hopes for the future must be based upon fair play and good faith among the nations and liberty for all the world.

If she remains inactive, soothed by promises of territory once here and now in possession of Austria, what will be the result? If Germany is victorious she pledges given to Italy by

ABSOLUTELY NO RESPECT FOR HIS UNCLE SAM

Austria will be scraps of paper and the heavy hand of militarism will take back everything given her.
 And how can she expect much consideration from the victorious allies if she stands aloof in their hour of danger, and dickers for some concessions from their enemies?

The "Panama" Exhibit

Canada has established a splendid tradition for her exhibits at international shows, and the present exhibition at San Francisco is evidently no exception among the numerous fine displays that the governments of the last twenty years have made. At Paris, at Buffalo, at St. Louis, as well as at Glasgow and London, and elsewhere, Canada had buildings and exhibits which drew the attention and the admiration of visitors of every nation. In this war year, when the roving population of the United States will remain at home and look at their own scenery, it is well that such an excellent representation of Canada's wealth and industry should be found where all traveling Americans are likely to see it.

Returning visitors have only one opinion about the success of the plans carried out and completed for the opening day by Commissioner Hutchison. If Ontario has not quite the important place in the exhibit which might be expected, it must be remembered that the San Francisco affair is intended to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal, and Ontario is less interested in this event than her western sister provinces. However, Ontario apples and Ontario minerals and various Ontario manufactures sufficiently keep up our reputation.

Politics have had no place in the work done in the many exhibitions of past years, and it is satisfactory to reflect that in this one department of foreign policy both parties have a single aim. The war and Canada's part in it will attract much attention to our national spirit, and strangers will be able to understand when they see the San Francisco exhibit, that Canada is a land worth fighting for, worth dying for, and worth living in.

After the war there will be a great tide of immigration setting towards our shores, and it is essential that those who move in that foodtide should be among the best that can be got from the races of the world. There are not any that we welcome more heartily than our cousins across the boundary, and the Panama exhibit may allure many more of them to cast in their lot under the old roof-tree.
 Hon. Martin Burrell, who gave Mr. Hutchison a free hand, merits appreciation for adopting a continuity of ### policy with respect to these exhibitions, and the result will doubtless be as fruitful of good as in the past.

The World Cattle Supply

According to the latest statistics Canada, at the close of 1914, had 12 per cent. less cattle than at the close of the preceding year—the figures standing at 6,998,917 as against 6,831,200. The United States showed the slight increase of 45,000, but accompanied by a striking falling off in the number of sheep. The Argentine, one of the leading sources of meat supply, increased its cattle by 450,000, but reduced its sheep holdings by 400,000. Australia also had less cattle, but its flocks of sheep rose by over 1,300,000. Taken all over and looking to the fact that both Europe and the United States will draw more heavily this year on outside supplies, the practically stationary character of meat production in the countries best fitted for it becomes a matter of no little importance to the public consumer.

The removal of the United States duty and high prices undoubtedly provided an inducement for the exportation of cattle from Canada, with the consequent reduction in their number. This ought not to continue, but on the contrary, every effort should be made to conserve and increase the herds. The April bulletin of the Ontario Department of Agriculture notes that fat cattle were picked up in large numbers near the border, but in some sections a fair supply is yet on hand. Store cattle, it is stated, are not so plentiful as usual. Looking to the effect of the war and the general position of the meat market, it is probable that profitable prices will be obtained for some time to come, and Canadian farmers and stock raisers should lose no opportunity and regard it as a duty to increase the cattle supply.

BURLINGTON GAINS NEW SEWAGE PLANT

Provincial Health Board Sanctions Town's Proposal to Build at Once.

TOWNSHIP OPPOSED IT

Claim Made That Surrounding Property Will Depreciate in Value.

The Town of Burlington yesterday obtained permission from the provincial board of health to proceed with the construction of a sewage disposal plant costing $150,000. The plant will be erected in the Township of Nelson, and will include six acres of land. The sanction was granted only after a very strenuous opposition by representatives of the township, who claimed that the value of property was being reduced, and that a serious act was being made in the assessable area.

Mayor Smith and councillors of the town took the position that immediate action was necessary as the plans called for a trunk sewer, and the Toronto-Hamilton Road Commission had warned them that only a limited time would be given for tearing up subterranean roads.

Township Solicitor A. H. Cleaver raised the point that the township would not be able to obtain redress in the courts for damages, but could only obtain property values through arbitration.

BANK MUST PAY FOR CLERK'S ERROR

Welland Man Brought Suit for Amount Shown in Pass Book.

NEWS OF OSGOODE HALL

North Bay Storekeeper Fails in His Action Against Insurance Companies.

In a judgment given out yesterday at Osgoode Hall Mr. Justice Clute finds in favor of John H. Adams for the full amount and interest in his claim against the Dominion Bank for $1100.

Collins owns a store in Welland, and he alleged that he deposited the amount claimed with the bank between July 24, 1914, and September 29, 1914. The defendants denied that they had ever received the money, but the passbook produced at the trial showed that between July 24, 1914, and August 14, 1914, an entry had been made for the amount, and bore the initials of a named Burrows, who denied receiving it, and stated that a mistake had been made.

It was shown that several mistakes had been made, one of which charged the bank with drawing two sums of $40, whereas he had only drawn one. Counsel for the bank submitted that the plaintiff was in the habit of attending and betting on horse races, and he was to a certain extent discredited, but his lordship stated that because a man was in the habit of betting is no reason why he should not be believed.

Insurance Companies Win. Mr. Justice Middleton gave judgment in the action of Phillip Adams of North Bay against the Hudson Bay Insurance Company and the North Western Insurance Company. The plaintiff was the owner of a store on Oak street, North Bay, and in the claim he stated that he held policies for fire insurance with several companies in the following amounts: North Western Co., $2000; North British Co., $1000; Hartford Co., $500; and Canada National, $2000.

A fire occurred at his store on April 29, 1914, and the insurance adjuster declared that the loss was $2845, which amount was paid with the exception of $514.62. Afterwards the adjuster discovered a policy of the Hudson Bay Company for $1000, which had expired on April 28, and told Adams that if he paid the premium the policy would be revived. Accordingly Adams presented a check for $15.70 to the company, but it was refused.

A Second Fire. On May 28 another fire occurred at the store, and the adjuster awarded him $320 for damages. The plaintiff asked that the two amounts of $514.62 and $320 should be paid by the other companies and have them settled with the Hudson Bay Company afterwards.

The Hudson Bay Insurance Company stated that as the policy had expired before the fire occurred it was not liable for loss. His lordship was of the same opinion and dismissed the action.

Mortgage Case. Application under the Mortgages Act was made before Mr. Justice Middleton by Emma Gilbert, Edna Jane Gilbert and Gilbert Royce, executors and trustees of the estate of George James Gilbert, for confirmation of redemption proceedings ordered by the master before the act came into operation on April 8.

The opposing parties concerned in the application are E. R. Reynolds and Mattie Reynolds, John A. Carlaw and the Imperial Bank.

The master's report allocated the first mortgage to the plaintiff, the second to Carlaw, and the third to the bank. The defendants Reynolds and owners of the equity of redemption.

Matters of the estate dragged on until an order was made on March 15, fixing the date of redemption for April 24, sixteen days after the Mortgages Act became operative.

His lordship states that there is no reason why the redemption proceedings should not be confirmed, and makes an order which allows the original mortgage to foreclose unless the application for redemption is made within that upon the second mortgage redeeming he may foreclose unless the bank redeems; and if the bank in turn redeems it may foreclose unless all the arrears mentioned are paid up.

She Suffered for Nine Long Years Then Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Madame Belanger's Rheumatism.

She Also Had Backache, Headache and Other Troubles, But They All Vanished When She Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

ST. AMATEUR, Gloucester, Co., N.B.—May 7.—(Special)—Cured of Rheumatism from which she had suffered for nine years, Madame Pierre Belanger, a well known and highly respected resident of this place, is telling her friends that she owes her new lease of health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I want everybody to know that I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for Rheumatism and that I am perfectly cured," Madame Belanger says. "I suffered from the Rheumatism for nine years. I also had backache and cramps in the muscles. I had a bitter taste in my mouth especially in the morning and I was troubled with headaches. When Dodd's Kidney Pills cured my Rheumatism all my other troubles vanished too."

Rheumatism is caused by diseased kidneys failing to strain the uric acid out of the blood. Madame Belanger's other troubles are symptoms of Kidney Disease. Mrs. Belanger cured her kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and naturally they all vanished.

ESTATES OF THE DEAD.

 Miss Margaret Pratt, who died Aug. 29, 1914, left an estate of $2081 to a nephew, James Pratt, Margaret Foster, a sister-in-law, and three nieces; Mary Harris, Mary Dumarice and Margaret Pratt and Mrs. Mary Harris. By his will John Curtin left $2000 to his daughter, Elizabeth Curtin.

Heavy Rain and Slow Work at the Woodbine. Yesterday morning's heavy rain made the track at the Woodbine very sloppy. Very few horses were on, and what were took place was around the dogs. The Krausman plater, Hampton Dams, worked a half to 8.15. Trainer Walker sent the Newell plater, Ravencourt, a mile in 1.52. Puritan Lass, from the Gorman stable, worked a mile in 51. The Oldings Coronation Stake candidate, Arming, worked three-eighths in .35. James Eden is expected at the Woodbine from Pimlico this morning with the horse of D. Raymond. He left Chester Krum of the Pimlico track, where he like Dally, Chester Krum is now starting thru the field. MEET OF THE HOUNDS. ## Russians Officially Deny German Tales of Victory

Battles Proceeding in Western Galicia Give No Foundation to Talk Even of Partial Success—Austrians Report Occupation of Tarnow, While Germans Claim Seizure of Dukla Pass.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The Russian embassy received the following despatch from the Russian minister of foreign affairs today:

"Petograd, May 5, 1915. "The reports from Berlin and Vienna of a victory gained by the Germans and Austrians in western Galicia are absolutely unfounded. The battles that are proceeding now in that region give no foundation whatever to talk even of a partial success of our enemies. You are asked to contradict most emphatically the reports spread by the Germans."

SEVERE FIGHTING IN GALICIA.

LONDON, May 6.—Heavy concentration of German forces on the line between the Vistula and the Carpathians yesterday was reported in today's official communiqué by the Russian front office. "The battle on this front was kept up with great obstinacy. The operations were marked by a great concentration of German artillery, and large forces were collected on the right bank of the Donajec River. The main efforts of the enemy were directed towards Biecz and Jaslo. Owing to the superiority of the Russian heavy artillery, the Russian troops underwent a severe ordeal, but obstinately clung to their positions and inflicted great losses on the Germans. Russian shrapnel and rifle fire were very effective."

Press On in Stry Region.

The Russians continue to press on in the direction of Stry, and they completed their success at Mount Maouwk yesterday. They took 2000 prisoners, including 40 officers, and flung back the Austrians for a considerable distance.

Some successes were also gained on the upper Lomza River.

The Russians also report the capture of a farm from the Germans east of the Miawa railway, and in violent but fruitless counter-attacks the Germans left 1000 dead in front of this position. An impetuous German attack on the Miawa railway, and in violent but fruitless counter-attacks the Germans left 1000 dead in front of this position.

Reports Austrian Defeat.

A despatch from Switzerland announced that the Geneva Tribune has received a message from Vienna recording the failure of the tremendous effort of the Austro-German army to break thru the Russian centre in west Galicia. The Russians defeated their enemy at Gorlice with tremendous losses and compelled him to retreat to Neu Sandec, on the DoDonajec River.

German troops are continuing to be pushed to Cracow. The fighting in the vicinity of this city is reported to be the cruelest of the war.

While the Austrians tonight only claim that they occupied Tarnow today and the heights to the east of this position, the German war office told Berlin that in western Galicia Gen. von Mackensen broke down the Russian rear guards after a desperate resistance, and crossed the Wislaka River above and below the mouth of the Ropa. They also claim that they seized the Dukla Pass, the Dukla road and the Town of Dukla.

A German official statement which gives no details claims that the Austro-German army has taken 40,000 prisoners east of Tarnow, and from north of that place to the Upper Vistula River, on the right bank of the Donajec River. "It is worthy to note," says the statement, "that this is the Russian front."

The Berlin statement also reports that General von Marwitz is conducting an attack on the Russian positions in the Beskids in co-operation with an Austrian army, and that his attacks are favorably progressing.

WILLARD-JOHNSON FIGHT PICTURES STILL UNDER BAN.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 6.—The action of Frederick F. Freese, collector of the port of Newark, N. J., in refusing to allow the entrance of photographic films of the Willard-Johnson fight at Havana was upheld by Federal Judge Thomas Haight of the United States district court here today. Judge Haight denied the application of T. Lawrence Weber for an injunction to restrain the collector from interfering with Weber in entering the films thru the Newark customs house.

The application was made upon the allegation by Weber's counsel that the act of congress under which the films were barred is unconstitutional because congress exceeded its powers as defined in the commerce clause of the constitution.

Counsel for Weber stated that Judge Haight would sign appeal papers so that the appeal would come before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Trenton, Monday. If the appeal is unsuccessful there, another appeal will be taken to the United States Supreme Court, the attorney said.

Amateur Baseball

The Bedfords will hold an important practice this afternoon, at which all players should be present. Positions are open for a few new players.

The Cowan Athletic Baseball League will open today. The league is composed of Gutta Percha, Cowans, C.O.O.F. and Diamonds. A very successful season is looked forward to, as all the teams appear to be strong. The opening will be between Gutta Percha and Cowans at 2 p.m., C.O.O.F. and Diamonds at 4 p.m. Mr. William Davis will officiate as umpire for the season.

The Baracas of the Dovercourt Senior League will play the Orlers at 4 p.m. today at the Perth avenue grounds. The Baracas hope to repeat their victory over Orlers of last Saturday. A full turnout is requested.

The City Playgrounds Senior Baseball League are looking stronger every day. The eastern series, which consists of one of the best and fastest diamonds in the city, St. Andrews, McCormick, Elizabeth, Moss Park and Orlers, will play a five-team league, which begins a 15-week series on Saturday, May 15. St. Andrews have a fast young team, which has played together for the past three years; McCormick has a new team, but it has enough senior players to make it a team to watch. The Orlers, who have won the league honors, while Elizabeth, Moss Park and Orlers are all looking for the championship. The league has secured Wm. Baldwin to handle the Toronto Railway Company with regard to their employees who might wish to play the game this summer. It was felt that even although General Manager Fleming had expressed himself as dissatisfied with some of the players in last year's teams, and not in favor of the game as he had seen it played, he would be too broad-minded to allow the fact to interfere with the success of lacrosse this year. In view of the cutting off of the Scarborough Beach grounds, there is no chance of having a three-team league, and the question arose as to whether the players were in favor of forming a two-team league and taking their chances of getting any money for their services. A vote was taken which resulted in the players unanimously deciding to adopt this plan. Jos. Green was voted secretary, and the meeting concluded with the enrollment of the names of those who wished to play.

Two-Team Pro Lacrosse League for Toronto

About fifty local lacrosse players attended a meeting at the Iroquois Hotel last night to discuss the situation for the coming pro season. Fred Thompson was in the chair. There was considerable discussion of the stand likely to be taken by the Toronto Railway Company with regard to their employees who might wish to play the game this summer. It was felt that even although General Manager Fleming had expressed himself as dissatisfied with some of the players in last year's teams, and not in favor of the game as he had seen it played, he would be too broad-minded to allow the fact to interfere with the success of lacrosse this year. MONTREAL, May 5.—The Johnson-Willard fight pictures will be shown in Montreal. The board of moving picture censors for the Province of Quebec today decided to permit the pictures to be put on in this city, and it is believed that other places in the province, altho the censors permit so far applies only to Montreal.

ARRESTED FOR ATTEMPT SUICIDE.

Tony Liel, who jumped into the bay yesterday morning, was arrested as he left the hospital, charged with attempted suicide.

EMBARGO BY BRITAIN ON COAL AND COKE

LONDON, May 5.—Great Britain is about to prohibit the exportation of coal and coke to all countries abroad other than British possessions and protectorates and allied countries. A committee will be appointed, however, to consider applications for the export of these fuels to prohibited destinations.

STRENGTH AND ABILITY See My Free Offer

MR. READER: Here is something of vast importance—a free gift which has to do with your own health and strength. It limits its use to those who are equipped to fight out the world's battle for existence to a happy and victorious conclusion. However, let me say this: "It does not take a whole library of books to impart this knowledge to you or any other intelligent man, provided the subject is handled simply and without superfluous words and flowery phrases. For, indeed, it has included between the covers of a little paper illustrated book (free), about 800 words of special information, all of which is better to be of value to anyone who is anxious to know the truth about his own state, or who wants to possess and retain his full natural share of health and strength. The book details, in a simple and concise way, the subject in its special relation to health and efficiency. About the same time I have made enough to tell my full story, and every reader may understand it and apply it to his own physical condition and habits of life. However, please always

There is the idea of my free offer. There is certain knowledge which, irrespective of age, education, occupation, should be in possession of every man, woman and child. It is a knowledge which can scarcely come of itself, yet which is a knowledge which can be gained by the use of a little paper illustrated book (free), about 800 words of special information, all of which is better to be of value to anyone who is anxious to know the truth about his own state, or who wants to possess and retain his full natural share of health and strength. The book details, in a simple and concise way, the subject in its special relation to health and efficiency. About the same time I have made enough to tell my full story, and every reader may understand it and apply it to his own physical condition and habits of life. However, please always hear this in mind: I accept my gift book you are not placing yourself under the least obligation to me for not reading it, or for not using it. To be sure, I rank and distribute the Sanden Electro-Vitalizer for those medicines and its more strength, and describe it in one part of the book, but you need never purchase one of these appliances unless you make up your mind that you want to, for, irrespective of all else, the book of information is complete in itself. Therefore, please send coupon at once and receive the little book free, by return mail free, postage paid.

Yours truly, SANDEN, Author.

What an Abundant Nerve Force Means to You

Do you know, my friend, that the one who lacks an abundant share of that marvelous force is being cheated out of his just rights? Furthermore, do you know that there are now certain natural methods which he can employ in making a fair square effort to completely restore his bodily health and VITAL ENERGY? My free book gives full information. There is no doubt about every great human achievement being behind it. This power, this nerve energy, which gives men the courage to undertake and the power to conclude all the great enterprises of our day. Do you suppose that the men at the head of the Great Armies of Europe, now engaged in a death struggle, are weaklings? Did you ever know a man lacking in nerve force or dynamic energy to accomplish much worth while, to be a real success either socially or in business? And yet, reader, I say to you in all seriousness that, according to my best belief, the one who lacks this nerve energy, who lacks the courage to become a power in the community once more, if he makes the effort, and when once the whole organism, the nerves and the mental powers have been revitalized, the various symptoms should disappear. Full health, with a bright view of life, may then be expected to take the place of gloom and despondency.

Previously in this article I have referred to the Sanden Electro-Vitalizer, a little self-treatment appliance which I manufacture for the easy use of those seeking a natural aid. You wear this appliance comfortably around your waist all night. It thus sends a gentle stream of force into your system while you sleep. This is the principle to be used. Simply follow the general health suggestions of my free book, and wear the Vitalizer for as many days or as many weeks as you find necessary. The action is very pleasant, and people everywhere who try it build up the system. Improves nutrition, drives pain in the back and other life away, and makes life thoroughly worth living. Over two hundred thousand of these appliances are now in use, or have recently been used. With special conducting attachments, which may be worn by men and women for rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, liver, stomach complaints, nervousness and general ill health. In fact, one appliance has often been used to treat several members of a family. It is warranted to generate its force for an entire year, so there are no repeat purchases. In one year in your own case at some time in the future, the matter can be easily arranged. If you live in or near this city, I should be most pleased to have you call and get a free demonstration of the vitalizer, otherwise write. Hours 2 to 6, Entrance, 6 Temperance Street.

How the Free Book Helps You

My free illustrated book (please use coupon below) should be a help to anyone, no matter what his station in life, whether he works on the farm, in the shop, or in the counting house. It is meant to guide you away from unhappiness. It contains 88 pages, 36 illustrations, and about 800 words of special information. You may have it absolutely free, in one part I fully describe the Sanden Electro-Vitalizer. Please fill in and send the coupon today.

TORONTO STOCKS LITTLE AFFECTED

Maple Leaf Was Only Issue to Decline More Than Fractionally.

TRADING GREW DULL

Buyers Held Off, But No Signs of Liquidation Appeared.

While the New York market, reversing the usual process, was dropping like a stick and later rising like a rocket, the Canadian markets showed a steadiness under the shock of the news of the Lusitania's loss that was little less than remarkable. While extreme dullness in the afternoon indicated some timidity on the part of buyers, the slight recession in prices proved clearly that holders of stocks were not in the least panic-stricken and any bargain-hunters who looked for a repetition of the debacle of the closing week of last July were disappointed.

List Little Affected.
The only material decline was in Maple Leaf common which showed a loss of three points from the closing of Thursday, but the reaction seems more clearly traceable to profit-taking on the recent bulge than to anything else. Such representative inter-listed issues as Mackay and Twin City were little affected, the former losing 1/2 point and the latter selling at 97 1/2, as against 88 bid on Thursday. Steel of Canada receded only 1/2 point while Brazilian, usually a most vulnerable spot when panic is in the air, was virtually unchanged.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, May 7.—The weather map was the centre of interest on the grain market this morning, and when it was found that rains, although light, had occurred at 18 points in the total of 32 reported, it was the signal for easier volume generally. Wheat futures opened unchanged to 1/2 lower, oats unchanged for July, and flax 1/2 to 3/4 higher. Trading in wheat futures was light. The cash demand was short for wheat. There was an outer inquiry for feed oats, and a better demand for low grades of barley. Total inspections on Thursday were 125 cars, as against 352 last year, and in eight weeks were 159 cars.

CHEESE MARKETS.

PICTON, Ont., May 7.—At the local cheese board today 12 factories branded 425 colored, 25 white. All sold at 18 1/2c.

WHEAT PRICES FALL ON CHICAGO MARKET

News of Torpedoing of Lusitania Causes Tremendous Selling in Pit.

QUOTATIONS WEAKER

Many Holders Seized With Semi-Panic on Confirmation of News.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Free selling of wheat took place today after news came of the torpedoing of the Lusitania. Previously, although the market had been tending downward, influenced by correct anticipation that the government crop report would prove bearish, no acute weakness had been shown.

It was not until half an hour after the first reports were received about the Lusitania that the price of wheat set the effects to any extent. When the news was actually confirmed, however, the market dropped quickly about 10c a bushel in addition to earlier declines.

The official figures, which were not available until after trading hours and did not directly modify prices.

Corn was relatively firm the greater part of the day, but gave way when wheat broke in earnest. The comparative strength earlier was attributed to Argentine crop damage reports and to assertions that domestic planting was being hampered by too much rain.

Oats had little if any independent action. Opinions were expressed that the chief producing states had ample moisture for some time to come.

Weakness of hogs and grain spread to provisions. The resulting declines were in the face of good support from packers.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, May 7.—The foreign demand for all grades of wheat today was poor and business is quiet. The local trade in coarse grains was also quiet, the demand being only for odd cars of oats at steady prices.

The undertone of the butter market is firmer with a good steady demand for all supplies coming forward. Cheese strong. Demand for eggs good at firm prices.

STUDENTS DRILLED IN SOLDIERS' WORK

Important Tactical Lessons Imparted to Men at Niagara Camp.

PLAN TRIP TO FALLS

Visit Will Be Paid to Welland Canal at Thorold and Welland.

By Staff Reporter.

NIAGARA ON THE LAKE, Ont., May 7.—Lectures on tactics, methods of attack, defence and the disposal of troops were given by staff officers at the Canadian officers' training camp this morning in place of the regular routine owing to the rain.

The McGill battalion was drilled, and the Princess Patricia's company took a light march. Extended order drill with signals was the work mapped out on the syllabus, but as the day's operations were cut short by the heavy rain, the full program could not be carried out.

TOTAL LIVE STOCK.

The total receipts of live stock at the City and Union Stock Yards for the past week were: Cattle, 36,477, 5,613; Hogs, 178,738, 7,567; Sheep, 75,210, 285; Calves, 234,124, 1,485; Horses, 127,233, 2,466.

UNION STOCK YARDS.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards on Friday were 23 carloads, 65 cattle, 445 hogs, 14 calves and 1 horse. Rice & Whaley sold seven decks of hogs at $9.25, weighed off cars; 14 calves at $7 to $8.75 per cwt.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, May 7.—Cattle.—Receipts, 10,000; market, steady; heifers, $6.50 to $7.50; western steers, $6.75 to $7.00; corn and heifers, $3 to $5.60; calves, $6.50 to $9; light, $7.20 to $7.45; mixed, $7.10 to $7.35; pigs, $5.25 to $6.80; bulk of sales, $7.25 to $7.45.

PRIVATE ERIC HEARLE OF GUELPH WOUNDED

Was Second Year Student at Ontario Agricultural College.

Special to The Toronto World. GUELPH, Ont., May 7.—Word was received this afternoon from the adjutant general's department at Ottawa that Eric Hearle, son of Mrs. A. Hearle, 71 Forbes avenue, had been wounded at the front. Hearle was a member of the 4th Battalion, having enlisted at Toronto when recruits were called last August. He was a second year student at the Ontario Agricultural College but was working in the Tinsaria district when the war broke out.

BRITISH NUMBERS STRONG IN FRANCE

French Writer Says Large Proportion of Kitchener's Army in Second Line.

TO BE MILLION SOON

Reinforcements Forwarded at Rate of Thirty Thousand Men Weekly.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

PARIS, May 8.—An interesting calculation of the approximate strength of the British forces in France appears in The Economist. Francis, from the pen of Paul Leroy Beaulieu, the famous economist and statesman. He takes Lloyd George's statement that the British forces in France are equivalent to 36 divisions. Some French newspapers, he says, have supposed that a British division numbers 20,000 men, and that in consequence the total in question is 720,000 men.

"This figure," he says, "is, in my opinion, exaggerated and it would be nearer the truth to give 15,000 men with a division, the more so as this figure fits in with the declaration of Lord Kitchener, who spoke of an average of 30,000 men being sent each week across to the continent. At 15,000 men a division we may reckon that the very irregular line of soldiers in France and Belgium number about 540,000 men. By far the greater part of these are not at the front.

The French communists of April 26 measures the western front at 550 kilometres. Any calculation on this kind is difficult, for the front consists of a very irregular line of salients and re-entrances. Supposing, instead of 550 kilometres, a total front of 800 kilometres, the British troops would not seem to occupy appreciably more than but a few odd kilometres. From this we are entitled to conclude that if the British effectiveness in France were 100 per cent, they would be still more, if they have reached a higher figure, that about two-thirds of them must needs be still in the second line or in camps, or in the rear.

Excursion to Falls. The headquarters staff has planned an excursion to Niagara Falls for Sunday. Every man in the camp will have an opportunity of taking the trip. Immediately after the church parade the men will leave by chartered cars, taking lunch. After passing the day at the falls they will proceed back to the camp with half-hour stops at Thorold and Port Weller for the purpose of giving them an opportunity to view the construction of the Welland locks. Tickets for this trip are now being sold in the Y.M.C.A. tent.

Chief of Police Sherlock paid a complimentary visit to the headquarters of the university soldiers. He said that the students had caused him no trouble whatever and that their conduct was gentlemanly on all occasions when they were on the streets.

A lecture was given tonight by Major W. P. Butler on "Infantry tactics in the field" carried out in the practical work on Saturday afternoon, when the battalions will practice attack by platoons.

The Duke of Connaught will visit the camp on May 13 and will inspect the two battalions during his stay here, according to the official programme. The Duke will be accompanied by the adjutant general from Ottawa by headquarters staff. The particulars regarding the visit of the governor-general have not been definitely arranged, but he will witness the tactical exercises of Thursday. After the last inspection the duke promised the university men that he would visit them after they had secured uniforms and equipment. The detailed programme of Friday has not been announced by the headquarters staff, but it is likely that the college men will parade before the duke to show the progress they have attained after six months' work.

For the convenience of cottagers and other interested parties desiring to make arrangements for the summer at Bala and vicinity, Canadian Pacific Railway will operate their train No. 25 leaving Toronto at 9.15 a.m. on Saturday, May 22nd, and Monday, May 24th, through to Muskoka. On the same dates train No. 26 will also be operated, starting from Muskoka, leaving that point at 3.10 p.m., making the usual stops through to Toronto.

Commencing Monday, June 1st, these trains will be operated daily, except Sunday, between Toronto and Sudbury. Full particulars from the Canadian Pacific Ticket Agent, or M. G. Murphy, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

had sought the assistance of the police in an endeavor to get these men to work regularly. Owing to their absence the output was valued by five tons. The foreman of the foundry said that the men earned two guineas a week when working ordinary hours, while if they worked overtime they could earn four pounds 10 weekly. He estimated that the men's neglect had resulted in the firm's losing of 10 pounds. A police inspector said that he found Walker under the influence of drink in a licensed house on one of the days he was absent. In Brown's case the police officer stated that he was not at home during the days when he was away from the work. Walker complained that the casting pots were faulty and Brown said that he was ill. The stipendiary in fining Walker $25 with costs said that drink was the cause of the trouble. Brown was fined $15 with costs.

Doctor Said Sciatica--- Rheumatism---Lumbago

But He Could Not Help Me, and Endorsed the Use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Wm. Parker, 105 Cayuga street, Brantford, Ont., tells in the following letter of his remarkable experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills: "My doctor treated me for some time for Sciatica, Rheumatism, Lumbago, but to no purpose, for I had to lay off work."

There are so many treatments recommended for rheumatism that you naturally doubt them all. Here is an opportunity for you to verify the cure and put this great medicine to the test. It will only cost you a quarter to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They get at the very foundation of rheumatism, and by removing the poisons from the system take away the cause of pains and aches.

NURSERY CONDUCTED BY Elinor Murray

The Selfish Mother

I mean one who occasionally or more so, considers herself instead of her children; who, once in a while gives herself a treat instead of allowing Molly and Ted to have one; who spares herself sometimes instead of overhastily sparing the family.

When the baby at our home was about eight months old, a very, very person said to his mother: "I hope you are going to be selfish in your treatment of yourself and this baby."

And the baby's mother was quite properly amazed. How could one be selfish, if it meant leaving out that precious bundle? But the very, very person went on: "Haven't you seen mothers with grown-up boys and girls who waited on the mother at every move? If there were tickets for a concert, mother's was always put aside before the others were distributed. If only one person in the family could participate in a special treat there was never a question about it—mother must go. And then, on the other hand, haven't you seen the mother whose boys and girls calmly ignored her in all their pleasures and outings? Mother does not care for music. 'Mother would rather stay at home and do the work.' I needn't point out the moral, one mother was so a part of her children's lives that they couldn't consider anything without thinking first of mother."

Mothers spare their children too much when anything hard comes their way, mother throws herself in front to shield them. If some one has to give up pleasure, it is always mother who makes the sacrifice. It gives her greater pleasure to see their enjoyment than to have it herself. This may make the children happier for a time, but it is a very poor provision for the future. They become inconsiderate, looking upon consideration as their right, rather than anxious to show it to others. It is a blunder made thru love, but it is a blunder none the less.

HAMILTON CONFERENCE ANNUAL, JUNE THIRD

Methodist Ministers and Delegates Will Assemble at First Methodist Church.

Rev. W. H. Crews, president, has issued the call for the annual meeting of the Hamilton Methodist Conference. It will be held in the First Methodist Church, Hamilton, commencing Thursday, June 3. At the opening

Bloom of Youth Now Easily Attained

You no longer need to "doctor" that allow, freckled, black-headed, rough, blotchy, pimply or over-red skin. You can remove it, instead—easily, painlessly, inexpensively. By a new scientific process, which anyone can use without assistance, the dead and near-dead surface skin, with all its imperfections, is gently, gradually absorbed—and a radiant youthful and beautiful complexion comes forth! Go to your druggist, get an ounce of pure mercurized wax, at night apply enough of this to completely cover the face; don't rub it in. Next morning remove the wax with warm water. The result after a few days is astonishing. You wonder why this secret wasn't discovered long ago.

Let the wrinkled folks also take hope. Put an ounce of powdered salicote into a half-pint which has been bathed in the solution, and say—there's nothing that will so effectually, so promptly, smooth out all those hateful lines.

Redfern IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to advise our patrons and the people of Toronto that final arrangements have been made with the underwriters regarding the fire which occurred in our store. By the arrangement all the goods, for which orders were placed previous to the fire, are to be sold irrespective of cost so that when we open the store for regular business we will have an entirely new stock.

HAMILTON CONFERENCE ANNUAL, JUNE THIRD

Bloom of Youth Now Easily Attained

Belle Ewart Ice Is an economy. It is not a luxury. It is not an extravagance. It saves money in any home. It saves health. It is a necessity. It is a blessing.

Methodist Ministers and Delegates Will Assemble at First Methodist Church.

SAVED BABY'S LIFE Mrs. Jos. Desrosiers, St. Alphonse, Que., writes: "I cannot say too much in favor of Baby's Own Tablets, as they saved my little one's life. Before giving him the Tablets he was greatly troubled with worms and was like a skeleton and cried day and night. The Tablets soon expelled the worms and now baby is the picture of health."

ANOTHER PATRIOTIC QUILT

The members of the Women's Patriotic Auxiliary of Fort William have sent another quilt to the Canadian Red Cross Society. This quilt is beautifully knitted and bears some very interesting and suitable inscriptions. It will be sent to the Duchess of Connaught Red Cross Hospital at Chatham, where it will be greatly appreciated by our sick and wounded Canadian soldiers.

AN OPEN AIR OUTING

The members of the Canadian Business Women's Club are going for a walk in High Park this afternoon, meeting where the College cars enter the park, at 3 o'clock.

BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

In the Spring Most People Need a Tonic Medicine.

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order is the pimples, unsightly eruptions and eczema that come frequently with the change from winter to spring. These prove that the long indoor life of winter has had its effect upon the blood, and that a tonic medicine is needed to put it right. Indeed, there are few people who do not need a tonic at this season. Bad blood does not merely show itself in disfiguring eruptions. To this same condition are due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia; poor appetite and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot cure these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic, and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none as equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, life-giving, nerve-reviving power. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired, illing men, women and children. If you are out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits, and fill your veins with new, health-giving blood.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
