PART OF VOYAGE STORMY

Special to Times. Halifax, Jan. 17.—With 157 officers, 201 cadets, 6,070 other ranks and thirty-six civilians—the largest number of returned soldiers ever brought back to Canada on board one ship—the Olympic arrived here before noon today after a voyage of more than six days from Southampton.

Although her arrival here this morning was not amid the clamor of her first trip since the armistice was signed, Halifax gave her a rousing welcome on her twelfth time to enter this harbor...

As on her last visit she decked to the martial airs of a military band. In quick time the gangway was down and military and railway officials proceeded on board.

Of the total number of troops on board about 2,400 will have their documents made out here. They will include the men for military districts 1, 2, 4, 6 and 7. The balance, about 3,000, will be forwarded to Quebec for documentation and thence to their homes.

The first men to come down the gangway were those for Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. They were taken to the armories. They were followed by the men for New Brunswick, who were taken to the clearing depot.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 17.—Among the officers on board the Olympic are Brigadier-General Sir John Ross and Major-General Elliott of the ordnance department, and Hon. Captain J. F. B. Livesey, Canadian Press war correspondent.

Organization Developing Nicely—The Story of a Twelve Year Old Boy

The organization of the province for the thrift stamp campaign is being completed rapidly. The latest addition to the staff is M. Even the young folk are taking keen interest in this new form of saving and in many homes the children are developing an eagerness to fill up the blank spaces in the cards supplied. A lad of twelve years called at the headquarters office this morning to secure some stamps. One of the officials asked where he got the money to invest and he explained that his mother had promised that if he saved enough to buy three stamps she would give him a quarter for another. "I put one over on mother this time," he added ingenuously, "for I've saved enough to make it five."

The Imperial simply had to do it. Charlie Chaplin has been making such a hit with his new program "Shoulder Arms" and the town is so worked up over it that the picture will not only be shown again tonight but all day Saturday as well.

This means that the school children—who love Charlie—will have him all to themselves at their very own matinee Saturday afternoon at their own regular prices of admission. They will also have the final chapter of their Vitaphone serial feature "A Fight for Millions," as well as handsome J. Warren Kerrigan in an adventure story.

Saturday evening the people who come to town for their regular entertainment of the evening districts will be able to enjoy the fun as well. The picture is too good to miss before it leaves town.

HERE'S A NEW RICH PROGRAMME TONIGHT

The regular change of vaudeville programme opening at the Opera House tonight offers five splendid features, including Florent's Monkeys—four real live ones, and cute little fellows they are that will keep you in roars of laughter; Dorothy and Buster, two classy kids who sing and dance; Joe Kamber, comedian, story teller and singer; Vaudeville and Sewell in a comedy skit with music and song; Louis Leo in sensational leader act; and the ninth chapter of the serial drama, "The Woman in the Web."

This evening at 7.30 and 9.10 tomorrow afternoon (two shows) at 2 and 3.30. Popular prices.

Social Justice in Reconstruction

Speech by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King

System of Joint Control Capital, Labor and the Community Must Share in the Great Task— The Cure for Bolshevism— Representation in Industry

The following are extracts from a speech delivered last week by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King before the Reform Club in Montreal.

"What has been the effect of the long neglect of certain of the parties to industry through the monopoly which capital and management identified with? The effects were apparent in Europe before the war. They were visible through the European conquest, they sought to avert the social revolution which they knew to be at their very doors? It was the development of the socialist state. What is the socialist state as conceived by its radical exponents, other than the control of industry by the community, the use of the parties to industry so long ignored? What is the fear of Europe today? What is Bolshevism in any of its many forms? It is nothing other than an endeavor to extend in the ranks of labor to gain a monopolistic control of industry, and, if possible, also the state.

The Real Solution.

Revolutionary State Socialism, Bolshevism, I. W. Wism, Syndicalism and like movements are natural reactions against the monopoly of control exercised over industry by capital in the past. Wherein they are all mistaken and doomed to utter failure, is that they fail to recognize that the remedy for one kind of monopoly does not lie in establishing a monopoly of another kind. It lies in destroying monopoly altogether, and introducing, in its stead, a conception of partnership with round table conferences, in which the general public as well as the social service they render, are directly affected by the industry. Let there be no mistake, neither America nor Canada will escape these inevitable reactions unless our industrial institutions, like our political, are brought into fuller harmony with the democratic sentiments of the times.

Representation in Industry.

In the United States, the movement which may be described as that of Representation in Industry has reached large and important proportions. It speaks here with some degree of certain knowledge for within the year past, and in other countries, it has been my privilege to have the opportunity of co-operating with workmen and their employers in some of the larger industries of America in the formulating of plans of representation, whereby collective bargaining has been made possible, and orderly, expeditious and adequate methods for the uncovering and remedying of grievances and the settlement of differences devised, and labor given a voice with respect to matters affecting its features introduced, of recent years, by some of the large oil companies in the United States. Canada should be led by such an example, in this great movement which aims at a sound industrial democracy.

The Money Question.

"Is remuneration enough? That is the question the workers of today are asking himself. Not, is it enough in amount; but rather, is there not something other than remuneration to which the worker is entitled? The toiler in industry has begun to mutter to himself, 'Man does not live by bread alone.' That is the meaning of all the social unrest of our times, and the unrest will not cease until we have admitted the truth and begin to shape our society anew in the light of a gospel we have been seeking to ignore."

"Let us admit at once that the worker is right. Mere wages, however plentiful, are not enough. Wages in abundance one day, with sickness and unemployment the next, certainly in one thing, baffled by fear and uncertainty in a hundred and one others; this is not a just and sufficient portion for those upon whose shoulders the weight of the world's industry is borne. If labor is to be free, if the dream of our heroic dead is to be realized in the lives of those who have been left to toil, there must come to every man opportunity of employment, fair and adequate remuneration for work performed, insurance in some form against such inevitable

AN ORDER FROM GERMANY BUT NOT FROM A GERMAN

Comes to St. John Firm From One of Our Brave Canadian Boys

Donaldson Hunt, proprietor of Hunt's Clothing Store, Charlotte street, received the following letter today:

Sieburg, Germany, Christmas, 1918.

I anticipate returning to Canada some time about the middle of February, and I should be very glad to have a change as possible into civilian clothes. Could you therefore arrange to make up a suit of my size, preferably starting from the particular cut and style I will leave to your own judgment.

I presume you still have my general dimensions among your records, and I feel sure these measurements still hold good—no visible change being effected by my life in the army.

Would you kindly have this completed and sent to my wife at McAdam street, so as to reach here before February 15. I presume my first dress shirt in Germany, everything is going along fine.

Very truly yours,
(Sgd.)

LOCAL FUND HELPS MEN OF THE 26TH

Captain P. M. Rising Writes Mayor—Money Used on March to Germany

The fund contributed by citizens through the mayor is cheering the St. John men on their march into Germany and will add to their comfort when they arrive at their place of occupancy. His Worship has received from Captain P. M. Rising a letter acknowledging receipt of the mayor's communication and also a notice from the Royal Bank of Canada of the arrival of remittance of £205 and telling of the method in which the money is being used.

Captain Rising explains that he devoted $500 of the fund to providing cheer for the St. John men in the 18th reserve battalion Willy camp at Christmas time. The balance is being used for the men of the 26th on their march into Germany, which, he remarks, had been a very strenuous affair so far. On many occasions it was found necessary to purchase extra supplies, including food and coal, for the men, and the fund had made this possible. He promises that when the men reach their place of occupancy in Germany, when they will be in need of special comforts, he will see that the St. John men get the benefit of the balance of the fund.

In asking the mayor to thank the contributors through the press, Captain Rising said that he had posted the list of contributors in the various messes for the information of the men.

Captain Rising explains that he joined the 26th Battalion when they began their march into Germany, starting from Waznes, France, and that at the time of writing they had reached the Rhine.

Appearance is a matter of taste. Buy the design that appeals to you most.

Construction is a matter of much technical detail. It is something you should talk over with an expert.

THE EAST ST. JOHN WATER EXTENSION

In spite of the exceptional difficulties arising from the lateness of the season, the commissioner of water and sewerage estimates that the extension of the water system to East St. John will not cost more than about $11,000 in excess of the estimate prepared last July when it was expected that the work would be completed before the cold weather set in. The estimate then was $65,000.

Since the work was started 4200 feet of pipe have been laid and by the end of the week only another stretch of 800 feet will remain uncompleted. Half of this has been excavated. By the end of the week it is expected that the pipe line will be completed to Mt. Pleasant and even if the weather becomes so severe that it could not be completed, it would be possible to erect a stand-pipe there, and so save the long haul from the city to the stand-pipe in the winter when the line across the flats frost.

The contractors will be able to complete their work and that by the end of the month they will have connected the new sixteen inch main with the old two-inch pipe which was laid in the roadway to connect the hospital with the line across the flats. In the spring the sixteen inch pipe will be completed to a point opposite the county hospital.

The extra costs over the July estimate amounting $4,000 more for pipe, $2,000 for valves and castings and about $5,000 for trenching. As it would cost about $5,000 to haul water to the county hospital, conditions similar to those of last winter were encountered, the extra cost of the work will not be an entire surprise.

The contractor, who completed the job of fitting that camp with sewerage, water supply and lights and the work was done well inside of the time limit. That succeeded to others and in the construction of Camp Borden and Camp Hughes he added to his reputation as a man who does big things."

SUPREME COURT'S RULING MAKES DRY STATES BONE DRY

Washington, Jan 17.—An opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States delivered on Monday, held that the Reed prohibition bone dry amendment absolutely prohibits interstate shipment of dry states of intoxicating liquor intended for personal use for beverage purposes.

The law, as interpreted by the court, nullifies state statutes which permit limited amounts of liquor to be brought in for personal use.

The case was one in which a resident of West Virginia was arrested on charge of buying a quart of liquor in Kentucky and taking it into West Virginia, as permitted by the prohibition law of that state. Lower courts dismissed the indictment, holding that the liquor had not been transported "in interstate commerce," because it was intended for the purchaser's personal use, and not to be sold by him. The Supreme Court held to the contrary.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, said of the decision:

"The decision of the Supreme Court that it is unlawful to carry liquor for beverage purposes, even in small quantities, and where authorized by state law, is a great victory for law enforcement. It makes clear that state laws in dry states recognizing the receiving of limited quantities of liquor for beverage purposes are void."

It is understood that the House conferees on the revenue bill will accept the Senate amendment to extend the operations of the Reed bone dry act to Washington.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO COL. ROBERT S. LOW

The meeting of the city council paid the bill in full and also extras for the restoration of the patch which had been in process of removal. That was years ago but the payment laid by 'Big' Low as good as when put down, a certain proof that the work was well done.

"In the old Duferin Hotel in the same city where Colonel Low had his headquarters, he made the acquaintance of a young man then called 'Big' Low, a bookkeeper and cashier in a St. John wholesale firm, but has since succeeded in a large way in business in the western states. The lad's salary was small but he had married. Misfortune overtook him and to meet heavy family expenses he possessed himself of a sum in excess of $100, the property of his employers. A man from an auditor made it known that the money should be replaced at once. In his extremity the young man told the story to Colonel Low, who was promptly recalled for dishonesty but the next morning's mail brought a check in full and also extras for the restoration of the patch which had been in process of removal. That was years ago but the payment laid by 'Big' Low as good as when put down, a certain proof that the work was well done.

"As a contractor Colonel Low first came into dominion-wide prominence in connection with the work at Valcartier camp. At the opening of the war he it was who completed the job of fitting that camp with sewerage, water supply and lights and the work was done well inside of the time limit. That succeeded to others and in the construction of Camp Borden and Camp Hughes he added to his reputation as a man who does big things."

PROHIBITION.
The general outlook appears more favorable for the success of the moderates in the struggle now in progress in Germany and as the government has agreed to the Allied terms for a renewal of the armistice the general situation may be said to have shown improvement.

TWO ILLUSTRATIONS.
An extract from the article in an exchange says: "At a fair last year in one of the western cities was seen a most unusual exhibit. Eight little cradles, each occupied by a nice baby doll traveled continuously over a long narrow path. But on each journey the eighth cradle disappeared to be replaced by a tiny grave stone. Thus was the story of baby life in the United States told. Had the story of the Canadian baby been told in a similar way it would have been the seventh cradle and not the eighth that disappeared. The seventh baby is soon forgotten by all but the heart-broken mother, but who can estimate the national loss?"

Why is the Secret of the Czech?
If you ask the Czech himself, he will tell you that the secret of his life is perhaps what President Wilson calls enthusiasm. He calls it love - love of country, which lays down life without question or stint; love of beauty, without which he considers life stupid, neither to be lived through with joy nor departed from with dignity. In this esthetic appreciation which we call by the thin and unsatisfactory word "taste" the Czech is like the Frenchman, a lover of life, more joyous than the Russian, less light-minded than the Gaul. A lover not of the form, but of the substance. Life is short; youth is short. It is to laugh, to work, to weep, to think, to love, to be active of that complex and ever-changing stream of consciousness. When a Czech dies, someone one feels that one may say of him what may not be said of every man: "He is dead, but he has lived."

Salt fish has high food value, is always available and can be used in many ways. Smoked fish has its seasons and dries out rapidly after ten days. Avoid extended cooking or a high temperature for salt or smoked fish. Fish should be cleaned as soon as it enters the house. Keep one pan for washing fish, use plenty of cold water but do not soak it, except to thaw. Drain well and wipe dry when cleaned. If it is not to be cooked at once, wrap it in a dry cloth, then in heavy paper and put it in a cool place but not on ice.

It was Kipling who wrote—"What do they know of England Who England only know?"

The question applies to any country in the world and if we are to view Canada's relationship to its European Allies in the proper light it is necessary to know something of the commercial status. The many hundreds of enquiries which have been received from Italy alone since the outbreak of the war indicate the diversity of its requirements and point to the conclusion that a great number of the articles which Canadians are perfectly able to supply, if their industries are organized to that end. In the past the staple products of Canada, such as lumber, dried codfish, wheat and so forth have been able to compete successfully in the markets of the Western Mediterranean when shipping facilities have been available. There are bigger opportunities than ever ahead of us now.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Paris, Jan. 16.—(By The Associated Press)—The draft of the league of nations in a form of treaty enactment has now proceeded much further than generally supposed as a result of recent conferences between Lord Robert Cecil, Secretary Lansing and Colonel House, at which the best features of the various projects were embodied in concrete form of enactment. This is called a covenant, instead of a treaty, and re-embodies thirteen articles and eight supplementary provisions which bring together the main features of all the plans presented. The covenant, while still subject to much revision, will probably be ready for the congress committee whenever the subject is considered.

Paris, Jan. 16.—(Special Cable from John W. Duffoe)—Sir Robert Borden who came to Paris last Saturday, accompanied by a portion of his staff, will be joined today by his colleagues and other members of the mission, in readiness for the formal meeting of the inter-allied peace conference on Saturday.

Lloyd Harris and Frank Jones, of the mission, arrived last night after a

FUTURE BRITISH LOANS AT LOWER INTEREST RATE?

London, Dec. 3.—The issue of National War Bonds at five per cent will be discontinued next month, by order of the Treasury. It is from this source that the government has been deriving most of the money for carrying on the war. The market is wondering how and in what way the authorities will obtain their funds when that issue is taken off the market.

In financial circles the view is expressed that there will be an issue of four per cent treasury bills running for twelve months, and that in the course of time all the short term obligations outstanding will be consolidated into a long term loan at not more than four per cent interest.

RETAIL MERCHANTS MEET.

A very interesting and instructive talk on thrift and war saving stamps was given last evening by F. A. Dykman at the regular monthly meeting of the St. John branch of the Retail Merchants' Association.

Association at the board rooms in Germain street. He stated that the government desired $50,000,000 to put the soldiers back into civil life and for reconstruction. He pointed out that if everyone would co-operate it should be an easy matter for the government to raise the required amount. The more money in the hands of the government the greater would be the prosperity of the country, he said. B. R. Macaulay gave an excellent address on "The Benefits of Early Closing." A. N. MacLean spoke on "Credits." The meeting was quite a large one.

Evidence Complete In Power Company Inquiry

James MacMurray and H. M. Hopper Witnesses at Closing Session; Written Arguments to be Submitted by Counsel

The taking of testimony in the inquiry into the affairs of the New Brunswick Power Company, was completed yesterday with the presentation of the company's side of the case.

Mr. Brunckerhoff was questioned briefly by Mr. Sullivan in the afternoon. He said that it was usual for the tax-payers to pay for such investigations as the present one.

James MacMurray, managing director of the Eastern Securities Co. Ltd., who was next called to the stand, told Mr. Taylor it was difficult to tell what rate of interest should be necessary for securities such as those of the New Brunswick Power Company.

The last witness was Manager Hopper of the New Brunswick Power Company who had also been in the Consolidated and St. John Street Railway Companies.

Mr. Hopper testified that the cost of the horse car company was $100 or $200. The St. John Street Railway put in 6,000 gas services in houses and was in competition with the gas company.

Mr. Hopper said that the cost of labor had increased thirty-three and a third per cent. since the present company took the property.

plant which had been figured at $420,000, had been reduced by an expert to $175,000. The directors of the power company had voted to develop the water rights on the Leppau river, but a Boston expert, Mr. Home, had estimated that $785,000 would be required for this purpose.

Mr. Hopper testified that the $800,000 VanHorne and Ross got they got for selling VanHorne and Ross got for construction $370,000 ($270,000 bonds and $100,000 stock).

MAJOR HOOPER WRITES OF THE VICTORY SCENES

Chaplain Tells of Reception of Soul-Stirring News by Wounded

A MARVELLOUS SCENE IN LONDON DESCRIBED

"Padre" Sends New Year's Greetings to All Here and Tells of His Work and Plans—Some Events Never to be Forgotten—The "Wounded Soldiers' Fund."

How the mighty news of the armistice was received by the Canadian wounded in hospital, and how wildly London celebrated official news of the end of the fighting, by Major (the Rev.) E. B. Hooper, who is still carrying on his fine work among our wounded soldiers in England. Chaplain Hooper's letter follows here:

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir—At this season of the year the heart turns naturally enough to the home land and the many friends there. It is this which prompts me to once again, to "take my pen in hand" and send to you, and to the large number of your readers who have been to me and my blessed work of ministry as a "Padre" warm supporters and friends, my very best wishes for the New Year. May it bring much happiness to all, even to those who are sorrowing, for the dear lives laid down on the country's great altar of sacrifice.

The evening of November 1918 will be a date long to be remembered—the signing of the armistice and the cessation of hostilities. I was at the hospital as usual that morning between 11 and 12 o'clock when I heard a rumor that the armistice had been signed. I at once went to Colonel McQueen the O. C. of the hospital and asked him to get confirmation of the rumor over the wire, which he immediately complied with. The moment he ascertained the correctness of the news, the general assembly was sounded by the bugler and everyone came rushing to the streets and hall. Patients and nursing staff, officers and personnel, all left their duties and came together. The hall was almost hushed with excitement. It was my happy privilege to make the announcement of the glorious news, and to conduct a wonderful, impromptu service of thanksgiving. None of us will ever forget that first ten minutes after we were made certain that the awful war was ended, with the utter humiliation and defeat of Germany and her allies, and the triumphant victory of the great cause for which we and our allies have fought and suffered. The sound of that singing is in my ears tonight: "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," "O Canada," "The Maple Leaf" and "God Save the King," with a solemn and heartfelt recognition of God as the true giver of victory.

In the afternoon of that day I and my good wife went up to London and there we saw and heard what we shall never forget. Millions of people, mad with joy and relief, giving expression and vent to their frenzied feelings in every conceivable way—shouting, dancing, drinking, and flag-waving. All wheeled traffic was well nigh stopped owing to the tremendous crowds of people with which every thoroughfare was jammed. I say almost stopped, for here and there one saw a bus or a taxi working its dangerous way along. Indeed, I saw one taxi crammed inside and out with people, and was in front seat with the driver was a staff officer. He had on the driver's cap and the driver had the officer's cap, both of them drunk as lords, whether with excitement or with strong drink it is not for me to say.

London kept up the wild demonstration for the rest of the week. On the Saturday of that week the Free Churches of London held a great thanksgiving service in the Albert Hall. Being a chaplain I was admitted to a seat on the platform, from which a marvelous view people met the eye. There immediately in front of the platform were His Majesty the King and members of the royal family, and behind them one recognized numbers of notable men and women. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George, Mr. Asquith and others, whose names are familiar to all of us in these days. With a mighty chord from the great organ, the vast congregation rose. This sight alone was impressive, but when from every voice and from every heart there burst forth the grand doxology, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," one felt one's own voice swept away in more than I could bear. I thought I would die on the spot; the emotion was almost overwhelming. The hymns were: "Old Hundred," "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven," and "For All the Saints Who From Their Labors Rest." A very beautiful five minute address was delivered by the well known Dr. Jowett. The whole service lasted but half an hour. It was a blessed half hour, filled with the holiest significance.

When I began to write my sole intention was a simple heartfelt message of good cheer for 1919 to you, Mr. Editor, and to my many friends in Canada—New Brunswick especially and St. John in particular. I expect to be carrying on my work among the sick and wounded sons of Canada for some months before returning. I am glad to say that some of my friends, realizing this, are helping me with the means to carry on the beneficent work accomplished through my "Wounded Soldiers' Fund." When my work is completed here, I hope and long to return to Canada, and I must use to St. John where my household goods are stored. I am glad that this is the case, for there is much that I would like to say face to face to congregations or gatherings of people. Much that I have not been able to describe in letters, I hope to have an opportunity of telling by word of mouth. It is an increasing regret to me that I shall have to leave the city of St. John and the province in which I have lived and labored for over thirty years. But this is a part of the price I have had to pay for the proudest privilege of my life, that of serving in the great war as a chaplain to our forces. I have been "Padre" (a beautiful title denoting a beautiful relationship) to well nigh fifteen thousand Canadian lads. Most of these will remember me as I remember them, and I count on having this army of warm personal friends, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the south to the far north. This in itself is a chief reward for anything I may have done in my service as chaplain and in some degree the pain I feel in my anticipated removal from New Brunswick in search of work and a livelihood.

My present work at the King's Canadian Red Cross Hospital at Bushey Park and its annex, Clarence House, Roehampton, is of an extremely interesting kind, but then all hospital work interests me. One has to deal with real men, in real suffering, and there is not a day when evening comes of which one cannot feel and say: "Thank God, another well spent day." I have some thirty other hospitals in my part of the London area, for which I am responsible when there are Canadians in them, but now Canadians are being gathered into Canadian hospitals so that this outside work is becoming daily lighter.

May I conclude by reiterating what I have so often said, that I am infinitely proud of Canada and the noble part she and her gallant sons have played in winning peace and liberty for this disordered world. To those whose loved ones have made the supreme sacrifice my heart goes out in tenderest sympathy. I bid them remember in the words of John Oxenham:

"They died the noblest death a man may die,
Fighting for God, for right, for liberty
And such a death is immortality!"

While to the people of our own land, Canada, the words may be aptly spoken:

"Bow down, dear Land, at the altar
Steps of God,
Thank Him for peace, thank Him for victory,
But thank Him chiefly that thy feet
Have trod
The path of honor in the agony."
With best wishes, Mr. Editor, I am,
Yours faithfully,
E. BERTRAM HOOPER, C.F. Major,
Lockerie House, River Bank, East Molesey, Surrey, December 20, 1918.

Improved Methods of Communication and Transporting Fire-Fighters Important Factors in Checking Forest Fires (Conservation.)

With the cessation of hostilities overseas, the development of peace-time uses of the airplane has become a live subject, which is receiving considerable attention. Among the uses under consideration is that of forest fire patrol. Experiments previously conducted in Wisconsin confirm the opinions expressed by returned aviators, that there is a large field of potential development in this direction.

The British Columbia forest service became convinced during the past year of the feasibility of airplane patrol for forest fires, and leased a flying boat for use along the extensive coast line of that province. The machine was, however, accidentally wrecked before it had had an opportunity to demonstrate its value. It is understood that the experiment is to be continued during the season of 1919.

Are Uncle Sam's Soldiers Getting a "Square Deal?"

As the din of war dies away, lesser sounds become audible and United States papers are beginning to give ear to various creakings and joltings of the military machine with special attention to their effect upon the individual soldier.

Thus we hear many complaints that discharged soldiers are stranded far from home without money or a job, that adequate hospital accommodation for the returning wounded has not been provided; that there is an unpardonable holding back of soldiers' pay and the allotments of pay made by soldiers to their families; and that there is delay and inaccuracy in publishing the casualty lists and excessive slowness and failure in handling the soldiers' mail.

In an important article in this week's LITERARY DIGEST these various complaints are set forth and the views of newspaper editors and others regarding them are presented. Other articles of great interest in this number are:

"The Literary Digest" a Constant Companion of the American in Europe

Go where you will among the millions of our people on the other side, whether in camp or hospital, in occupied or friendly territory, you will find everywhere the men and women in and out of uniform eagerly reading THE LITERARY DIGEST, which to them represents home and all that the word connotes, the peace, progress, and prosperity that they have left behind them for a while to help make the world a better and safer place to live in. The general at headquarters, the private when off duty, the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. worker, the Red Cross nurse or orderly, all these and many other representatives of our great service for humanity keep busy the largest distributors in France with their constant demands for this greatest of news-magazines. Even in the air it finds a hearty welcome. Witness this tribute received from a Major in the Aviation Service, along with a battered and discolored specimen of a recent issue: "I am returning herewith a copy of THE LITERARY DIGEST, which might possibly interest you. This copy accompanied me in an aerial trip of about 600 miles over France, and was read practically from cover to cover, at an average altitude of about 8,000 feet." You cannot do better than follow the example set you by this great host of your compatriots.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Well Known Lady Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair by a Simple Home Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home-made remedy made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Orlex Compound and 1-4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp; is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere. An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation.

RADIO WORK THE FAD OF NEW YORK GIRLS

One Sets Up a Station in Her Home—Got the Fever in War Work.

If Alice Davidson, daughter of Henry P. Davidson, and her four radio friends carry out their plans the air above our heads is going to have a hard job keeping any secrets, says a New York paper. These five girls, who have been scrying the government as radio inspectors for seven months, are planning to set up stations in their homes and will practice by sending messages to each other and catching those which flash through the city in order not to lose their skill. "You see," Miss Davidson explained, "we took up the work seriously. A year ago last April, when we wanted to do something to help win the war, we went to Mr. Nally, vice-president of the Marconi Wireless Company, and asked him if he thought girl radio operators would be used. There was none at the time, and he was in favor of the plan. So we girls met at my home with an instructor from the Marconi staff and studied wireless operating. We were permitted to get practical training at the aviation station at Huntington, N. Y. "After that we got technical work in the Hunter College laboratory, and after eight months of intensive drill we took government examinations and received licenses as first grade commercial radio operators. "We taught classes in operating for a while, and then when the government wanted girls they sent for us, and we began our war work. WHEN THE COLONEL'S ADVICE WAS UNNECESSARY

(By a Canadian Colonel in London Daily Mail)

I am a lieutenant-colonel and a commanding officer—the "father" of a family of 1,000 men with thirty odd officers as assistant fathers. Quite contrary to what one might think, I am not so old as Methuselah—only thirty-three, as a matter of fact. I am also a bachelor. Poverty is another of my assets. Youth and bachelorhood are an excellent combination for a soldier on active service for fighting purposes, but battles only take up a small part of our time. They are rather an inconvenient combination for a commanding officer when imitating Solomon at the morning "orderly room," but, like the proverbial fool during the skinning process, one gets used to it. Hoary sinners proved guilty of "Absent without leave," "Drunkenness," or "Conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline," are easily disposed of, but after them come the character studies who want to be "trusted before the commanding officer." The sergeant-major snorted and said: "Sir, Private Moore wishes to be paroled. He has received permission from Captain S—." "Very well, sergeant-major," I replied, and wondered casually who Private

Moore might be before he was a private, and also what my poverty, youth, and worldly inexperience could do to meet his case, whatever it might be. Private Moore walked in smartly, saluted and stood at attention. He was apparently about ten years my junior, and I therefore felt capable of telling him anything he wanted to know. "Sir," said Private Moore, "I wish to be married, and I understand that I require the consent of my commanding officer." "Quite right, Moore," I assured him. "Have you got all the necessary documents? You require a statement from the paymaster as to your balance and a certificate as to the character of your wife." He produced satisfactory documents, and now the onus of giving consent was thrown on me. I pondered deeply. Here, no doubt, was a case of romantic attachment where a young and penniless Canadian soldier on leave had met an equally young and penniless English girl with a greater capacity for romance than for cooking. "Moore," said I, "presumably you can support a wife on a private's pay with the aid of the separation allowance; but, my boy, remember that in a few months we will probably be demobilized and your pay will stop soon after discharge. What you have saved from your private's pay will only see you half-way through a honeymoon. Even with my lieutenant-colonel's pay I will be penniless after the war. Think seriously, Moore, before asking an innocent girl to leave a comfortable home and share your poverty. Before giving my consent to this marriage I want to ask you as man to man—have you any money in the bank?" Opening the pocket of his jacket, Moore produced and handed me a pass-book from the branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. I opened the book and saw the balance—$8,000. I consented. The Chinese horse is really a pony, somewhat after the type of the western broncho. It comes from Mongolia and is known as the Mongolian pony. It is an exceedingly hardy animal, thrives on food on which a western animal would starve, is able to carry heavy loads long distances, and is very useful in many ways. As a racing animal it is characterized by speed and stamina. China exports between 1,500 and 2,000 of these ponies each year.

REPORT OF 1,500 CANADIANS ALIVE, WAS CRUEL HOAX

Ottawa, Jan. 16.—At the office of the minister of militia today the report that 1,500 Canadians previously reported missing and officially presumed dead had turned up safely as prisoners in Germany, was characterized as a hoax. Nothing to bear it out has been received at any branch of the department.

Officials, who have been tracing the source of the rumor credit it to a woman who said she had heard it, and from that it got into the press and was sen- tenced to bear it out has been received at any branch of the department.

Headquarters having investigated the source of the report are much irritated. In view of the effect upon hundreds of people who have been hoping against hope that their missing men may turn up safely.

Charlottetown, Jan. 16.—The Central Farmers Institute today passed a resolution supporting the United Farmers of Ontario, in their demand for the reduction of tariff on farm implements, fertilizer, coal, lumber, cement, oils, etc., and another asking the government to have spruce hedges, rail fences and other incumbrances removed from the highway within three years and wire fences substituted. Changes in the road act and other reforms were advocated.

His War Record Is a Proud One

P. O. S. liner Metagama yesterday morning.

Bread Wrapping From All Angles

The proposition to have bread loaves wrapped in oiled paper as they were before the food board abolished the practice for economy, and at the same time not increase the price to the ultimate consumer, was vigorously discussed yesterday afternoon at city hall.

Views, and Allen A. McIntyre was there on behalf of the grocers, or bread retailers.

Finally the debate showed this: the bakers were quite willing to wrap their bread in oiled paper but not without charging an additional cent to the retailer. Speaking on behalf of the grocers, Mr. McIntyre said they would be glad to get rid of handling bread entirely.

Personally, and he believed he spoke for the trade, he would handle wrapped bread at a one-cent profit, thus not increasing the price to the consumer, on condition that it would not have to be wrapped in manilla paper.

Finally Dr. H. L. Brown, representing the provincial department of public health, brought a message from Hon. Dr. Roberts, minister of public health that strict sanitation demanded wrapped bread.

Next week he expected to be a member of the local board of health and one of his first efforts would be to have an order made compelling the wrapping of bread.

nearly two hours of discussion Mayor Hayes promised consideration and to make inquiries as to who should take the necessary action.

The movement was headed by the Housewives' League, represented by Mrs. J. W. V. Laylor, and the following other bodies were represented: Soldiers Wives' League, Woman's Canadian Club, Woman's Suffrage Club, Loyalist Chapter, I. O. O. F., DeMolay Chapter, I. O. O. Our Price Is So Low That "Ready-Made" Clothiers Would Call It A Sale

It is a Distinct Point in Favor of Our Made-To-Measure Garments

It is true that our custom tailored Made-to-Measure Suits and Overcoats are more substantial values than can be obtained at double our price, or even at higher prices, in Ready-Made clothes, the best reason for Made-to-Measure tailoring is—individuality.

Ready-Made clothes are designed and made half-a-year before they are sold to the wearer. English & Scotch Woollen Co. Made-to-Measure Garments are fashioned after the models of the day—why not step out of the rut—with our help?—a Salesman at any one of our 22 Stores and Tailor Shops will gladly show you the fine imported fabrics of quality, he will take your measure, and the garments will be made for you, as you want them.

Minors Break Away.

New York, Jan. 16.—The major and minor baseball leagues, parties to the national agreement, the foundation of the professional end of the national sport, broke relations after a stormy meeting here tonight.

The magna charta of organized baseball was, figuratively speaking, torn to pieces, and the two great combinations still in the future be bound together by elastic agreement which will permit them to operate with comparative independence.

Under the tentative agreement which was entered into tonight, the major and minor leagues are to respect the contractual, territorial and reservation rights of each other, with the provision that no minor league club shall claim the right to more players, at any time than the maximum roster allowed to clubs in the major leagues.

The draft, optional and reservation agreements of the national agreement, entered into in 1903, are things of the past, and the only way in which the major league clubs can obtain players from the minors will be by direct purchase. Kelley as Manager. St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 16.—Mike Kelley again will manage the St. Paul club of the American Association. This was officially announced today.

Kauff Is First to Sign. The first major league baseball player to sign a contract for the season of 1919 is Benny Kauff of the Giants, who the other day went to the offices of the New York club, had a few words with Manager McGraw, and affixed his autograph to the document which assures him of a place in the outfield. While it has been hinted that there was a sort of understanding among the players to delay signing contracts until one of the players made a test case of the early canceling of the contracts last fall, the signing of Kauff breaks the ice, and it is expected that many other players will soon fall into line. Many of the players are expected to refuse to sign contracts for next season pending the suit which Jake Daubert has brought against the Brooklyn Club to collect the full salary named in his contract of 1918. Daubert was paid only up to the time the season ended, on Sept. 2. Daubert's friends have been urging him to press the litigation.

McNally Home. Mike McNally, insider of the world champion Boston Red Sox, who had the pleasure of being presented to King George on last July 4 after participating in a game played between teams representing the United States army and navy, is home after service with Uncle Sam's fleet. McNally says he believes baseball is going to become popular in England. Last summer he said he arranged that quite a few schools had organized baseball clubs and were playing games several times a week. In other classes, he also said the people were showing an interest in the game, and while he doubts the American sport can replace cricket as the Englishman's favorite outdoor amusement, he does look for baseball to become one of the country's chief sports.

THE RING.

The Recent Tournament.

New York, Jan. 17.—Interesting comment about the recent inter-Allied boxing contests in London is beginning to reach this country by way of the wire. It is reported that British fight fans have taken the defeat of their little idol, Jimmy Wilde, by Pal Moore, an American salver, very much to heart. A number of London papers, after long and minute analysis of the Albert Hall match, vigorously assert that the judges were at fault in giving Moore the decision.

Wilde himself says that he won, "I'm over and done with," says he, "but I'm certain I won. I did win. From first to last I never had the slightest doubt that I was beating Moore, and when he said I'd lost I had the shock of my life. I was struck dumb. But it's no good making any fuss."

Victor and vanquished, however, accepted the fortunes of the ring with good-naturedly and there was a general interchange of compliments at a luncheon which followed the contests. Major-General Fielding of the British army presided and pugilists of all the associated countries were there.

Side by side were Jimmy Wilde and Joe Lynch, an American whom Wilde had punished at the tournament before the little English flyweight champion had in turn succumbed to the American sailor, Pal Moore. Lynch's nose was askew, Mike O'Dowd appeared with one eye half closed, an ear enlarged and a broad grin, and several other of the contestants were nursing disfigurements, but all were happy.

In lauding the competing teams, General Fielding paid a warm tribute to their sporting qualities.

"Never before in the history of the tournament been held in that which has just been concluded. It was a tournament symbolical of the great war which brought men from all parts of the world to fight in the cause of right and justice. You men have taken part in an epoch-making event, and one that never will be forgotten. It brought the English-speaking races together to engage in a great national sport."

Lieut.-Colonel E. M. Cox, captain of the American team, drew a round of applause when he declared: "We of the American team believe Jimmy Wilde to be the greatest boxer the world has ever seen, or will ever see. We have seen such a gathering of champions which we may never see in any competition again, to come over and compete for such a history-making trophy as that presented by the King of England. I consider that Mike O'Dowd is our greatest fighter, but as he is no speech-maker I would ask Sergeant Eddie McGorty to say what O'Dowd would like to say for his comrades."

The renowned McGorty rose busily. "Everybody has fought like me," he said. "I was not successful, as you know, but I would like to say that I court not have lost to a better fighter or a finer sportsman than Billy Wells, who sits here on my right."

New Scotia Bout. Following his success in Glace Bay on New Year's day, John Alex McIntyre has received three offers. Mickey Walsh, late of the 85th Battalion, and lightweight champion of overseas troops, will meet.

Kid Burns defeated Jones for the title on December 31.

Art. Fry and Geo. Perrin, who went to draw on December 31, are to meet for eight rounds.

A Letter From France. (Toronto Star.) In some of the official and other pictures that have appeared in the press showing the Canadians entering French towns to which they had been relieved from the oppressions of the enemy, people in Toronto and in Ontario have recognized the faces and figures of their sons marching along cobbled streets receiving welcome from excited crowds.

Those get most meaning from these pictures who thus have their personal interest aroused. Their imaginations leap to the scene, and it is suddenly as if they had been there themselves. The father fancies himself in the son's place; he sees the cobbled streets, the quaint old buildings, and hears the welcome of crowds of their liberators.

Many of the Canadians have taken part in scenes, in relieving French cities, towns and villages, that they will not forget while life lasts. The emotions of the rescued, and all they had endured, were too big to be restrained. Older evidences than that official photographs are being supplied. Letters are coming, not only from the boys who have been through it, but from citizens of France, to the parents of our soldiers. The mother of a Toronto private has received a letter from a Frenchman in whose house her son has been billeted, and the letter, translated, says, in part: "Your estimable son is one of the members of that brilliant Canadian division who delivered us from the odious German occupation. Our utmost thankfulness goes out to those brave soldiers who, with their continuous good humor and cheerfulness, have renewed the hope in our spirits, which were so desolate. "Your son is really the son of our house. We take care of him. His habit
