GIRL PLANNED SUICIDE AND WARNED HER FRIENDS.

May Grass Told How She Would Kill Herself—Her Lover Told Her Last Night They Must Part.

May Grass, a fable girl at the Lansdowne House, committed suicide last night, undoubtedly as a result of her failure to win the affection of the man she loved. She was a bright, vivacious maiden of about 21 years of age, and although at times talked of ending her life such was her genial disposition and general joyfulness that none of her friends took her remarks seriously; but that she had clearly contemplated the deed for some time there can be no doubt. So far as the guests of the house noticed Miss Grass appeared an usual yesterday and looked after her duties in her usual thorough, careful and observant manner. It has since transpired, however, that she was very anxious about a letter or a telephone message, and frequently inquired if some one had not called her up on the telephone.

In the evening she had a call from a gentleman friend, Capt. Arthur McLean, of the tug Waring, who for two years past has paid particular attention to her and to whom she seemed devoted. Shortly after he left her at 10:30 o'clock her sister came to Mrs. Bustin, wife of the proprietor of the hotel, and said there was something wrong with May. Mrs. Bustin found the girl in her own room in a state of agony. She asked what the trouble was and the girl pleaded to be left alone. Mrs. Bustin summoned her husband, and Dr. E. Berriman was at once sent for. He lost no time in arriving, and at once ordered the girl removed to the General Public Hospital. When the doctor arrived she was unconscious and remained so till she died, about one o'clock, shortly after her arrival at the hospital.

There is no doubt that death was caused by carbolic acid and that the poison was taken in a glass of water. This was suspected at first, and Dr. Berriman upon arrival gave the girl a heavy dose of oil, but to no purpose. Capt. McLean, who was generally understood to be the girl's lover, feels the affair very badly, although he states that he was never in love with an ordinary friend. After leaving May last night he went to his tug boat and proceeded to the night. This morning he was told of the sad affair, but did not believe it till he secured a paper. He went to the Lansdowne House, where he saw the proprietor, Mr. Bustin, and asked eagerly for the particulars. He cried like a child, and between his sobs and moans said that he had always told May that he was engaged to be married and that it would be best if they did not see each other again, but that she had insisted on seeing him, and only yesterday telephoned him asking him to call. He could not understand the affair at all, as when he left her she was as joyful as usual. They did not have any quarrel or misunderstanding. He had, however, referred to their friendship and the fact that they had better not meet again, but stated that if at any time or in any way he could be of any service to her to send for him.

That it was failure of the young man to return her love that led to her death can be no doubt, as at various times she has threatened to take her life in one occasion, looking out of her window, she said to her sister that if it was only the ocean below she would jump out. To a girl friend she said she was going to take carbolic acid and end it all.

Only yesterday she told the cook in the hotel that she was going to end her life. She had a small bottle of carbolic acid, and holding it up asked if she had not better get some more. She was laughed at, but she went on and explained how she was going to take it, saying she would pour the contents of the bottle into a glass and fill it with water so that it would not burn her mouth. And this the poor girl did, as the glass and the bottle were found in the dining room, the latter hidden cunningly behind a curtain.

Dr. Berriman being the physician called in the case handed the matter over to Coroner Roberts, who is now investigating the case and will probably hold an inquest.

Miss Grass' father, who is employed in the C. P. R. works at McAdam arrived in the city on the Atlantic Express today and will arrange for the removal of the body.

There are several stories about as to McLean's treatment of the girl that do not agree as to the facts.

The people who were at the hotel when the ambulance arrived said that one of the men was under the influence of liquor. The driver was Walter Currie, who has been with S. T. Golding for twelve years. Mr. Golding said that when he left the stable at 11 o'clock Currie was perfectly sober. He does not know who was with him, probably some one he picked up on the way.

WEDDINGS TO-DAY.

FRITH-SCHOFIELD.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at 10:30 this morning in the Mission Chapel, when Rowland Frith, bookkeeper with Schofield Bros., united in marriage to Miss Gertrude Schofield, of Hampton, eldest daughter of the late Geo. Schofield, for a number of years manager of the Bank of New Brunswick in this city. The bride, who was becomingly attired in a blue travelling suit, was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Schofield. The groom was supported by his brother, Andrew Frith. The ceremony was performed by the bride's brother, Rev. C. D. Schofield. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frith left at noon by the C. P. R. for a two week's trip to the Beignias and Quebec. On their return the young couple will reside on Burpee avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frith were the recipients of a large number of pretty presents including a very handsome sterling silver tea service from the Neptune Rowing Club of which Mr. Frith is president and a double set of carvers from his fellow employees at Schofield Bros., where Mr. Frith has been employed for a number of years and where he is deservedly very popular.

(Special to the Star.) MONTREAL, Que., July 5.—The Canadian Springs Hotel property, according to reports on good authority, will pass within a week or ten days into the hands of the Canadian Pacific Railway. David Russell, who present controls it is negotiating for the transfer.

SWEDISH ARMY MOBILIZED; WAR IS THREATENED.

STOCKHOLM, July 4.—The Associated Press is in a position to state that an order for the mobilization of the Swedish army has been issued and that a proclamation to this effect will probably be issued within a week. The mobilization is intended as a means of giving added force to any proposal for settlement, which the special committee appointed by the Riksdag may make to the Norwegian Storting.

STOCKHOLM, July 4.—King Oscar granted a private audience to the correspondent of the Associated Press at the royal palace today. In a lengthy conversation his majesty expressed views on the present situation and said emphatically that he would never allow any of his sons or grandsons to accept the Norwegian throne.

In speaking of the attitude of Norway, the king displayed deep emotion and expressed his heartfelt sorrow at Norway's treatment of him after 32 years of unceasing labor for his happiness and prosperity.

His majesty said he wished to convey through the allied country the gratitude for hundreds of expressions of sympathy received from the United States.

In the course of the conversation King Oscar reiterated his official utterances regarding his position on the consular bill passed by the Storting, and the extent which followed his veto of it, and said:

"When the King of Norway considers that the welfare of the country demands that he shall veto a bill passed by the Storting, his right to do so is unconditionally shown in Norway's constitution, and he would be false to his oath if he did not exercise this right in accordance with his conscience."

"The constitution gives the Storting the power to pass a measure over my veto, prescribing, however, that this can only be done by a two-thirds majority of the members of the Storting. The consular bill was only passed by one Storting."

TOBIN STILL DENIES.

Contradicts Point Blank the Evidence of the Crown's New Witness—Case Goes to Jury This Afternoon.

In the re-trial of John Tobin yesterday afternoon the witness witness denied that he met the new witness, Lottie Jackson on the night of his arrest. He didn't even know her. He admitted that when he read the account of the robbery in the Star the Wednesday after it occurred, he connected it with the watches Holm showed him on the Sunday, but he didn't give the police any hint as to his suspicions. (Laughter.)

James Myles and William Myles gave evidence as to the prisoner's good character. Mr. Mullin announced this closed the case for the defence.

Mr. Jones asked his honor for permission to recall the new witness, which was given him. Chas. Carr said he did not say to Mrs. Holm sent, after giving his evidence on Monday that "he would swear the prisoner's life away." Mrs. Holm sent, also swore last witness never spoke to her.

Mr. Jones asked for the court stenographer to be sworn and to read out Mr. Wells' evidence at the last trial to the effect that he (Wells) said "that the verdict is expected at about 4:30."

KNIAZ POTEKINE AT ANOTHER RUSSIAN PORT.

Mutineers Demand Coal and Provisions—Strikers in St. Petersburg Fired on by Cossacks and Many Killed.

Muting No. 1. THEODOSIA, July 5.—The Russian battleship Kniaz Potemkine has arrived here and asked for coal, provisions and medical attendance. The mutineers demanded that the authorities of the town guarantee their safety during the stay of the ship here.

SEVASTOPOL, July 5.—The Black Sea Squadron, under Rear Admiral Kruger, returned here today from its second voyage to Odessa. The squadron included the battleship Pobledonosets.

BUCHAREZ, July 5.—The captain of a vessel which has just arrived here from Galatz reports that he met the battleship Kniaz Potemkine going toward Batoum.

NAVAL SYSTEM BLAMED. ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—With the publication in the Official Messenger of the official account of the tragedy at Odessa, the hand of the censorship is raised and all the papers are filled with columns upon columns of accounts from the foreign papers. Leaving aside the machinations of the revolutionists the press with one voice declares that the mutinies on board ships of the Black Sea fleet were the result of the rotten system involved in the Russian navy, the blue jackets being utterly neglected and the officers living ashore except during the brief cruises. Capt. Glado, in a long review, affirms that the question of food was a mere pretext, the real cause being deeper, in the complete lack of sympathy between the men and their officers, most of whom, he says, are disgustingly incompetent. Owing to their positions of influence at St. Petersburg they care nothing for good service or the well being and contentment of the men. Other writers, some of whom evidently are high in the service, but who write under assumed names, in a most savage fashion, declare that the bureaucratic regime in the navy is only reaping what it has sown, and plainly intimate that similar conditions exist in the army.

"Fear," says the Slovo, "is the basis of discipline in the army and navy, and it will prove as poor an instrument for keeping the rank and file loyal to the throne as it has in the suppression of discontent among the people. The government should learn the lesson that the soldiers and sailors are beginning to awaken as the people have already awakened."

STRIKERS FIGHT COSSACKS. ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—Cossacks fired on the Putloff strikers this morning. The trouble was started by the arrest of a youth while entering the works. The police suspected him of having dynamite in his possession. On being made a prisoner the young man drew a revolver and shot his captor dead and was himself wounded by a bullet fired by another policeman. The strikers quickly congregated on the Peterhoff road and the Cossacks were ordered to disperse them. The soldiers charged using their whips and then fired a volley causing several casualties among the strikers. The excitement in the district is intense.

THE KLONDYKE A FURNACE.

Yukon, B. C. and Alaska Swept by Forest Fires—A Thousand Miles of Telegraph Line Down.

(Special to the Star.) DAWSON—Via Seattle, July 5.—Thousand miles of Northern telegraph line have been rendered useless by forest fires sweeping throughout British Columbia, Yukon Territory and Alaska. Dawson's communication with the outside world has been broken for several days, save by interrupted connection via Skagway and the cable. Between Dawson and White Horse, the line fell in many places. Eagle and Valdez is another furnace. The line from Dawson to Fairbanks is also out of order. Nome and Fairbanks have been without service for many days. Millions of feet of timber have been ruined, estimated to be worth a million dollars.

TARRED AND FEATHERED. Brockville People Hand Out Severe Punishment for Italian Abductor of Two Little Girls.

(Special to the Star.) BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 5.—Tony Raggazino, Italian 57 years old, residing five miles from here, was last night assaulted by two men who entered his house, dragged him to the kitchen and gave him a liberal coat of tar and feathers. Towards morning Raggazino recovered consciousness and obtained help. He is suffering severely from his burns. Last summer Raggazino incurred the anger of the citizens of that locality by abducting two little daughters of Fred Widgas for which he served eight months in central prison. He was liberated May 23 and it has since been learned he was again making advances to the girls.

37th Meeting of C. of E. Synod.

At a meeting of the Board of Diocesan Missions held in St. John on Jan. 10th, 1905, W. M. Jarvis and F. J. G. Knowlton were appointed a committee to suggest certain alterations in the canon, and to bring the same before the synod. Mr. Jarvis and Mr. Knowlton gave notice of these proposed amendments to Canon XXXI.

These important amendments, which were this morning moved by Mr. Jarvis and seconded by Mr. Jarvis, and caused a warm discussion, are as follows:

- Strike out the word "Diocesan" in the title of the canon and the 1st and 8th sections and the 11th line of the 10th (to become the 13th) section.
- For section 6 substitute the following: "The board shall elect a secretary and an assistant secretary. The secretary shall keep the minutes of the board, issue notices of meetings and perform such other duties, more especially in connection with missions than the diocese, as the board shall direct. The assistant secretary shall list the secretary and perform such duties more especially in connection with the Missionary Society of the arch of England in Canada as the board shall direct."
- The board shall act as the corresponding committee of the Missionary Society of the C. of E. in Canada, and shall collect and report to the general secretary of the society which may be required.
- The board shall, as soon as possible after the beginning of each year, estimate the total sum required for mission work with the diocese during the coming year, and shall report such amount, together with the amount required from the diocese by the Missionary Society of the C. of E. in Canada among the parishes and missions. In making such apportionment the board shall estimate the amount required from self-supporting parishes for all missionary purposes and shall also estimate the amount required from each aided parish or mission and the proportion of the same required for diocesan missions and for the Missionary Society of the C. of E. in Canada, respectively.

After a sharp discussion, in which W. M. Jarvis, F. J. G. Knowlton, Rev. H. F. Burt, Rev. L. A. Hoyt, Canon Newham, H. R. Schofield took part these sections were separately passed. At twelve o'clock today again business was suspended while three short prayers were said for missions.

FRANCE AND THE HIERARCHY.

The bill abolishing the provisions of Napoleon's famous Concordat, and definitely separating church and state in France, passed by the French chamber of deputies Tuesday night, is the end of one long and bitter struggle and the beginning of another.

Under the Concordat signed by Pius VII and Napoleon the Catholic church was made a part of the state, in that all church edifices were government property and the clergy were paid directly by the government.

MIDSUMMER SONG. Dappings of lodge and amethyst eyes; Soft the south wind with laughter of leaves;

MIDSUMMER comes and midsommer goes! Dapple on cheek of the apple and plum; Honey-bees droning a dis-away hum;

MIDSUMMER comes and midsommer goes! Daring of dragon-fly, flutter of moth; Berley in windrow and wheat in the swath;

MIDSUMMER comes and midsommer goes! Hush-song and thrush-song—the melody their birds know!— Midsommer comes and midsommer goes!

Moonlight and moonlight all glamour and gleam; Hillside and hillside a thrall to the capture the rapture before the days close!— Midsommer comes and midsommer goes!

A PROBLEM SOLVED.

Ozone is odorous and in using it, the problem is to get the purest form. "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" is the purest form in which Ozone is put up.

We put "Celery King" coupons in our Ozone bottles because no other firm can give "Celery King" with Ozone. By buying "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" you get the purest and most concentrated form of Ozone, and in addition you save the expense of buying the "Celery King" to use with it.

No other kind of Ozone offers this advantage. Ask your druggist for it and if he hasn't it write to the Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg, Ont.

"My wife," remarked Newed, "is the dearest little woman on earth."

"Oh, I don't know," rejoined Oldwed with a large open-faced sigh. "How much does she cost you a month?"

Green—"They say Sharp depends upon his wits for a livelihood. Brown—"That's a mistake. He depends upon the absence of wit in others."

Bleeker—"Hello, old man! I see you are operating the typewriter yourself now. What became of that pretty stenographer you used to have?" Meeker—"Oh, she quit her job to get married, I'm sorry to say."

Bleeker—"Indeed! Who is her husband?" Meeker—"I am."

The Wings of the Morning

By LOUIS TRACY

(Continued.) Jenks had a sudden intuition that the right thing to do now was to shoot the whole party. He dismissed the thought at once. All his preparations were governed by the hope that the pirates might abandon their quest after hours of fruitless search. It would be most unwise, he told himself, to precipitate hostilities. Far better avoid a conflict altogether, if that were possible, than risk the immediate discovery of his inaccessible retreat.

In other words, he made a grave mistake, which shows how a man may err when overpowered by the danger of the woman he loves. The bold course was the right one. By killing the Dyak leader he would have deprived the enemy of the dominating influence in this campaign of revenge. When the main body, already much perturbed by the unseen and intangible agencies which opened fire at them in the wood, arrived in prospect park to find only the dead bodies of their chief and his small force, their consternation could be turned into mad panic by a vigorous bombardment from the rock.

Probably in less than an hour after their landing the whole tribe would have rushed pell-mell to the boat which the telly which led them to this devil-haunted island. But it serves no good purpose to say what might have been. As it was, the Dyaks, silent now and moving with the utmost caution, passed the well and were about to approach the cave when one of them saw the house.

Instantly they changed their tactics. Retreating hastily to the shade of the opposite cliff, they seemed to await the coming of reinforcements. The sailor fancied that a messenger was dispatched by way of the north sands to the distant firing line, and five minutes later a fierce outbreak of yells among the trees to the right heralded a combated rush on the Bell Yew cottage. The noise made by the savages was so great, the screams of bewildered birds circling overhead so incessant, that Jenks was compelled to speak quite loudly and in expressive hands were turned toward the cave and hut. Once when the debate grew warm the chief snatched up a burning branch and held it over the blackened embers of the fire extinguished by Jenks. He seemed to draw some definite conclusion from an examination of the charcoal, and the argument thereupon proceeded with less emphasis. Whatever forecast he had said evidently carried conviction.

Iris, nestling close to the sailor, whispered: "Do you know what he has found out?" "I can only guess that he can tell by the appearance of the burned wood how long it is since it was extinguished. Clearly they agree with him." "Then they know we are still here?" "Either here or gone within a few hours. In any case they will make a thorough search of the island at day-break." "Will it be dawn soon?" "Yes. Are you tired?" "A little cramped—that is all." "Don't think I am foolish. Can you manage to sleep?" "Sleep! With those men so near?" "Yes. We do not know how long they will remain. We must keep up our strength. Sleep, next to food and drink, is a prime necessity." "If it will please you I will try," she said, with such sweet readiness to obey his slightest wish that the wonder he did not kiss her then and there. By previous instruction she knew exactly what to do. She crept quietly back until well encoined in the niche widened and hollowed for her accommodation. There so seated was she from the outer world of horror and peril that the coarse voices beneath only reached her in a murmur. Pulling one end of the tarpaulin over her, she stretched her weary limbs on a litter of twigs and leaves, commended herself and the man she loved to God's keeping and, wonderful though it may seem, was soon slumbering peacefully.

The statement may sound passing strange to civilized ears, accustomed only to the routine of daily life and not intruded to danger and wild surroundings. But the soldier who has snatched a hasty dose in the trenches, the sailor who has heard a fierce gale buffeting the walls of his frail ark, can appreciate the reason why Iris, weary and surfeited with excitement, would have slept: were she certain that the next sunrise would mark her last hour on earth. Jenks, too, composed himself for a brief rest. He felt assured that there was not the remotest chance of their being detected by the pirates before daybreak, and the first faint streaks of dawn would awaken him. When the morning breeze swept over the ocean and the stars were beginning to pale before the pink glory of the sun, broadcast through the sky by the yet invisible sun, the sailor was aroused by the quiet fluttering of a bird about to settle on the rock, but started by the sight of him. His faculties were at once on the alert, though he little realized the danger betokened by the bird's rapid dart into the void. Turning first to peer at Iris, he satisfied himself that she was still asleep. Her lips were slightly parted in a smile. She might be dreaming of summer and England. He noiselessly wormed his way to the verge of the rock and looked down through the grass roots.

I. O. G. T. PLANNING FOR NEXT ELECTION.

More Complete Organization of Their Forces.

Annual Meeting of Grand Lodge Opened Yesterday at Norton—Bothnburg System is Not Favored.

NORTON, N. B., July 4.—Amidst pleasant surroundings and with beautiful weather the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick met in the lodge room of the Grand Lodge, No. 157, at Norton at 2 p. m. today. The grand chief templear, Rev. T. Marshall, of St. John, presided. The following officers were present: J. V. Jackson, grand counselor; Miss Annie Eastman, grand vice templear; L. R. Hetherington, grand secretary; Mrs. A. V. Jackson, grand supt. of juvenile temple; E. E. Peck, grand treasurer; C. W. Weyman, grand elector; Rev. C. F. Boulter, grand chaplain; G. A. Perkins, G. Messenger; S. T. Vallis, G. guard.

Mrs. Hetherington was appointed as grand marshal. W. A. Rideout, grand chief templear of Maine, was present, and was invited to a seat on the platform. Bro. R. W. Withler of Carleton, Me., was also introduced. The following were appointed a committee on credentials and returns: L. R. Hetherington, A. C. M. Lawson, Mrs. A. V. Jackson, M. G. Harmer, Geo. Milberry. The committee reported and twenty-two members received the grand lodge degree, the unwritten work being given by Bro. Rideout, the G. C. of Maine.

W. A. Rideout, G. C. T. of Maine, expressed his pleasure at being present and at the prosperity of the lodge. The report of the G. C. T. was read and showed the finances to be in a very healthy condition. The reports of the grand electoral superintendent, the propagation committee, and of the editor of the Good Templar were read, and all spoke of their success through a successful year. A letter from the Albert County District Lodge asking the co-operation of the Grand Lodge in a petition asking the express companies not to send liquor into the county, on motion of J. V. Jackson, was presented and the Grand Lodge endorsed the petition.

It was also further resolved that the committee on political action be asked to consider the question of needed legislation to meet the difficulties reported in the petition of sales of liquor through express companies. The auditor's report was read certifying the books of the grand secretary were correct. The following committees were appointed: Committee on distribution—L. R. Hetherington, E. Bell, Mrs. Killam. 2. State of the order—E. E. Peck, R. H. Edwards, A. C. M. Lawson, M. G. Phillips. 3. Appeals—G. W. Dodge, A. F. Barton, Miss Jackson, Miss H. McMea, M. A. J. Jackson, S. T. Vallis, Richard Donnelly, Mrs. Burpee Peck. 4. On public meetings—G. C. Templear, M. G. Harmer, G. F. Boulter. 5. Memorial—G. M. Boulter, Rev. T. Johnson, W. F. Rowley, Miss Foster, Miss Ferguson. 6. On Weyman, L. R. Hetherington, Rev. E. Bell, J. V. Murphy, James Fryers. The public temperance meeting in connection with the session of the Grand Lodge was held this evening in the Free Baptist church. There was a very large and enthusiastic attendance. A time limit of five minutes each was put on the speakers of which there were fourteen.

The chief templear in making his report to the members of the Grand Lodge of N. B., congratulated them on the progress made during the year in the increase of lodges and members and called attention to the necessity of constant and systematic visitation of lodges, and the elimination of unnecessary rivalry between the I. O. G. T. and the Sons of Temperance. In connection with the other temperance bodies they tried to obtain legislation from the government to amend the Liquor License Act, and he regretted they were only able to obtain some very trivial alterations, the more important one being refused. The G. C. T. said it was necessary for them to proceed to more complete organization of their forces, so as to ensure at coming elections the return of men favorable to the temperance cause. The efforts to promote the introduction of the Bothnburg system was not one on which they would look with favor. The end sought by those methods could more easily be reached in other and less objectionable ways. He was gratified to know that the juvenile branch of the order had made considerable progress during the year. It was imperative that more attention should be given to that branch of their work. In closing the G. C. T. said a good, healthy, active condition of work was prevailing all round, and he besought them to put away personal differences, aims and ambitions, in their efforts to build up a sober, God-fearing nation. The committee on propagation work in their report state that in one early spring they secured the services of the Rev. Bro. A. J. Peck, P. G. Secretary, and G. Chaplain of New Jersey, as organizer, and although the weather was against him, at only one place visited by Brother Peck, did he fail to organize a lodge where none existed, and this was because the meeting had not been properly arranged.

SLAYER PLEADS SELF DEENCE

The Man Charged With Stellarton Murder Claims He Was Attacked by the Man He Shot.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 4.—At the inquest held on John W. Ferguson of Stellarton, who was shot on Monday night on the main street of Stellarton by John McKenzie, it seems from the latter's statement that he was set on by Ferguson and another man, Malcolm Campbell, who had been drinking, and that he fired the revolver for the purpose of frightening off his assailants. The jury brought in the following verdict: "That John William Ferguson came to his death on the morning of July 4 on the main street of Stellarton, caused by a bullet wound in the breast." Your correspondent interviewed John McKenzie, who told the following story: "I was walking down Main street on my way home and was near James Keith's when I came across two men. I did not know them. One jostled against me. The other stepped back into an alley muttering something. Being frightened I quickened my pace when I found I was being followed by two or three times. Finally one came up to me and caught me by the collar and said 'come to the light till I see you.' I said: 'Let me go, I am not doing anything,' and pointed my revolver at him. He let me go, but the other swore an oath and said: 'If you are looking for trouble come on, I will look out for I mean business,' and as he was about to tackle me I fired, intending only to wound him in the limbs and scare him, being frightened myself. There was no food between us and I did not know the deceased." The preliminary investigation will begin tomorrow before a magistrate.

GENERAL WOOD HOME FROM THE PHILIPPINES.

BOSTON, July 4.—Major General Leonard Wood, on leave of absence from the service in the Philippines, arrived in this city tonight and went to the hotel Touraine.

MAJOR GENERAL LEONARD WOOD.

N. B. MISSIONARY FOR ZULULAND.

There was a business session of the Baptist alliance at the Beulah church, Brown's Flats yesterday morning. The question of repairs to the buildings on the grounds was taken up. Action was taken in regard to the application of I. F. Kierstead, of Royaltown, Carleton county, for foreign mission work. It was decided that he be accepted, and provision for sending him to Zululand, South Africa, to labor at the Baptist mission station there was made. The ordinance of the church will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the tabernacle on the grounds. The ordination sermon will be preached by Rev. G. B. MacDonald, and the right hand of fellowship will be extended by Rev. S. A. Barker, Rev. J. Gravier, who will deliver the charge to the candidate.

DEAD NUMBER 900; FLOOD LOSS $2,000,000.

GUANTAJUATO, Mexico, July 4.—Governor Obregon estimates the loss of life from the recent food burst and consequent flood at something over 900. Bodies of the victims are being recovered. The hospital was flooded so quickly that the patients there were drowned. The magnificent Jurez theatre was flooded to the floors of the first balcony and soldiers who had taken refuge there had to climb to the upper balcony to save themselves. The power plant is damaged and the city is in darkness. The property loss is now estimated at $2,000,000.

MISS CROSMAN.

Another most appreciative audience greeted Miss Crozman at the Opera House last evening. It is greatly to be regretted that when the Opera House management provide such an attraction that the people fail to give the necessary support to warrant the bringing to this city of first class attractions on Saturday and Sunday matinee, July 7 and 8, at the Opera House, when the In the Sunny South Company will appear with thirty colored entertainers who will sing and dance for you. Then there are the cake walkers, also the buck and whe dancers; then there are two quartettes, a male and a female. There are musical acts, and well, it would take too much space to tell you all there is so go and see for yourself.

BETTER THAN NOTHING. Scribbles—What did the editor offer you for your poem? Jingles—Nothing. I pocketed the insult.

GREAT DAY AT WATTERS.

Main St. Baptist Picnic a Glorious One—A Fine List of Sports—The Prize Winners.

The picnic of Main street Baptist Sunday school at Watters' Landing yesterday was a grand success, upwards of four hundred children and adults participating. The weather was delightful, if anything a little too delightful as far as heat was concerned, but an occasional dip in the placid stream offset the perspiration when it was most oppressive. The steamer Pokanoket, Champlain and Victoria, of the Star Line, carried the crowd to and from the grounds, and it was about 9.15 in the evening when the heavily-laden Victoria moored at Hildantown with a happy, sun-burned, sand-grimed, singing mass of Baptists. All voted it the best picnic in many years. Aside from bathing, swimming, etc., the principal features of the outing were the sports in the afternoon and the evening base ball match between teams of ladies and gentlemen, captained by Dr. J. A. McIntyre and William Sieder. After a terrific struggle the doctor's side won by a score of 11 to 27. The sports resulted as follows: 100 yards dash for boys—Won by Master Splight; Sabeen, second. Prizes book and ball. 100 yards dash for small boys—Won by Walter Miller and Master Henderson. Prizes, catching pad and harpoon. 100 yards' dash for girls—Won by little Misses Splight and Estabrooks. Prizes, Pansy book and purse. Infant class race—Won by little Master Akery and Miss Hetherington. Prizes, rigged yacht and dressed doll. Small boys' race—Masters Mullin and Akery; Prizes, Jack knife and book. Small girls' race—Misses Splight and Akery; Prizes, Walter Golding, with Rev. D. Hutchinson and Miss Parker second. Prizes, souvenir hat pin and ornament. Potato race (boys and girls)—Master Scott and Miss Hayes. Prizes, Henly book and box of paperties. Three-legged race—Messrs. Meek and Naves. Prizes, coat of arms stick pin. Throwing the ball—Fred Wilson and Master Brown. Prizes, purse and ball. Game of water races—Misses Weyman and Hayes. Prizes, brooch and ornamental ink well. Committee ladies' race (single)—Won by Misses Pigeon and Mabel Andrews. Prizes, fancy stein and hat pin. Committee ladies' race (married)—Mrs. Marven and Mrs. G. Stevens. Prizes, leather shopping bag and Maple Leaf pin. Primary boys' and girls' race—Nellie Brown and Elsie Graham. Prizes, picture book and set doll's cutlery. All the events were warmly contested and the children were delighted with their awards. Dinner and supper were served on the grounds by a large and efficient committee of ladies and gentlemen, under the supervision of Mrs. T. P. Granville; the ice cream was in charge of Miss Andrews and the lemonade, Mrs. Marven and Mrs. G. Stevens. The confectionery and fruit department was superintended by Miss Mabel Dunham. Mrs. Marven and Mrs. G. Stevens, 2nd day and helped greatly to make it a glad occasion for the little ones. When he prepared to take his departure on the up-going train to meet with the Southern A. C. delegates at Macdonald's 7-ant, he was given an ovation.

PREBYTERY IN SESSION.

The Presbytery of St. John met in regular session yesterday afternoon and evening, with a large attendance of clergymen. The following lay delegates to the Presbytery for the ensuing year were chosen: St. John—Judge Forbes, E. E. Fraser, G. T. Blewett and Peter Campbell; St. Stephen, Judge Stevens, Harry W. Coburn, Milton, H. D. Morrison; Fredericton, S. H. McFarlane; South Richmond, Samuel Hetherington; A. A. Moore, Scotch Ridge; J. G. McLeod; Hampton, Arch. Brittain and Wavelle, Wm. Mitchell. Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, of Florenceville, was nominated elected moderator and Rev. A. H. Foster was re-elected clerk. Peter Chisholm, treasurer of the Presbytery retired and Campbell was elected in his stead. The treasurer's accounts show a balance of $120.82. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Graham moved that the committee on statistics be authorized to publish as soon as possible the statistics of all congregations in the presbytery. The presbytery expressed regret at the departure of Rev. J. C. Robertson, of Milltown, who has been made general secretary for Sunday schools.

THE POPE IS CONFIDENT.

ROME, July 4.—The Vatican authorities have received numerous telegrams from Paris concerning the vote in the chamber of deputies approving the separation of church and state. The pope conferred at length on the subject with Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state. Afterwards in reference he was not surprised at the result, which he had expected, but he was sure that God would give the church strength to overcome the crisis.

IN THE SUNNY SOUTH COMPANY.

Let every man woman and child that enjoys good singing and dancing and a good laugh remember that all this is in store for them next Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee, July 7 and 8, at the Opera House, when the In the Sunny South Company will appear with thirty colored entertainers who will sing and dance for you. Then there are the cake walkers, also the buck and whe dancers; then there are two quartettes, a male and a female. There are musical acts, and well, it would take too much space to tell you all there is so go and see for yourself.

WEDDINGS.

TWO SISTERS MARRIED.

A very pretty double wedding took place at Garnett Settlement last evening when Walter W. Gray was united in marriage to Pearl N. Garnett of that place and Sydney Jones to Lillie A. Garnett. The brides and grooms were supported by Miss Emma Gray and Arthur W. Bond and Ada M. Garnett and Geo. Dolan. Miss Garnett was attired in pure white with hat to match. Lillie Garnett was attired in blue and white veil with hat to match.

DEAN-PARLEE.

A happy event took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parlee, 79 Victoria street, when their eldest daughter, Miss Theresa J. Parlee, was united in marriage to Fred Wilmore Dean, the ceremony being performed by David Long in the presence of a number of friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride wore a becoming dress of cream voile over silk and was given away by her father.

BACK PLATFORM PHILOSOPHY.

The philosopher of the Broadway car had a "back platform" when he boarded the back platform. "Well," he said, "it don't take much to teakle our funny bones, does it?" "Hardly," replied the bank clerk.

Caissarato DOCTOR OF BEAUTY ON

ALL THE NEW COSMETICS

Enter a woman who has tried to hide her defects with cosmetics.

Q. I am quite conscious, Doctor, that you can see that I am painted, but I rouge, powder, blacken to cover my defects. The muscles of my face and neck seem to have become flabby. My cheeks are thin and I have hollows under my eyes. Isn't it best for me to use cosmetics?

A. The best thing you can do is to ameliorate the condition you describe and seek to hide. To cover over is not to improve. Build up your tissues and muscles. How? With exercise, with a new process called cupping. Make the blood circulate with manual massage and with exercise. Exercise will promote circulation and give you a far better color than paint. Do simple exercises in your own room. Take a pole and bend toward it as many times as you can without fatiguing yourself. Put on a gymnasium suit and exercise with chairs. Try fencing, play tennis, or ball-do anything you can to heat the blood and bring it to the surface.

The mechanical massage called cupping-or more technically Pneumophore, which is recommended highly-acts more rapidly and efficaciously. It really builds up the muscles and strengthens them in an amazingly short time. The face and the neck often show signs of filling out after a few treatments. The cup seems to suck up the flesh and exercise it so that the blood circulates freely. It is a better cosmetic than paint.

Q. How about the old-fashioned manual massage?

A. That is good, too. If done well and persistently it will prove most efficacious. Slapping, kneading, stroking, are all to be recommended.

Q. What shall I use to massage with, what sort of cream?

A. I should advise you to use the following mixture. It is very nourishing, it feeds the skin, I may say, and at the same time it is antiseptic.

Solid 2 grams Spermaceti 30 grams Glycerine 40 grams Lanoline 120 grams Essence of roses 10 drops

Don't have your face massaged more than three times a week and then for only fifteen or twenty minutes. Prolonged daily massage is very apt to fatigue the muscles and produce just the contrary effect to the one desired.

Q. I am quite willing to follow your advice and to do all I can for my skin with massage and cupping. But meanwhile I want to look as well as possible and in order to do that I find I must use cosmetics. Do you disapprove of them?

A. As a matter of principle-yes. And yet if it improves the appearance of a woman-I think every woman should look as well as possible and with our modern electric lights and morbid tendency to sensibility I don't say that she is wrong to help her appearance with cosmetics, provided she does it well.

Therefore, instead of preaching against the use of paint-a use that has been in use as long as the world itself-I advise first and foremost using harmless ones artistically.

Q. What do you mean by harmless paints?

A. Harmless paints are those that are absolutely pure and that contain no product that can possibly hurt the skin. To paint artistically all exaggeration should be avoided and the colors that are nearest to what nature intended should be selected. The color of the hair, the natural tint of the skin should be considered.

The art of painting is not understood by every one. To succeed and appear natural one must have a certain artistic appreciation. Instead of being satisfied to correct or supplement nature most women employ their rouge and powder boxes with a desire to replace nature entirely.

Q. Which paints are the most harmless, Doctor?

A. There are none that are absolutely harmless. I can only tell you that the least dangerous white paints are those that are made up with bismuth or talcum and the least dangerous reds are those that are made up with vermilion. Bismuth is a valuable derivative from the coal tar products.

Q. And how should a woman paint artistically? Can you give me some advice?

A. Most decidedly. There should be three distinct arts of painting or making up. For the daytime let me advise her to use white paint as possible. One for daytime, one for the evening

After having washed her face thoroughly or cleaned it by whatever process she may consider best, she should first spread over her face a little cold cream and then wipe it off gently so that it will be perfectly even. Then powder with rose powder if she is blonde and with brunette powder if she is a brunette.

The layer of cold cream underneath keeps the powder from being too dry and also protects the pores of the skin from becoming clogged.

Q. But suppose, now, that she is too pale, and would like a little color?

A. To give herself a little color she has only to pass over her cheeks a brush dipped in rouge. But she must be careful to grade the color. It should be darker on the cheek bones and then become paler towards the chin and neck, but it should not go suddenly into white.

Q. Could you give me a good prescription for a dry rouge?

A. Yes, here is one: Eosin 0 gr. 20 cent-gr. White chalk 100 grams Essence of bergamot 20 drops Gum tragacanth 10 grams

Q. That's all very well for the face, Doctor, but how about the brows and lashes?

A. Yes, of course, if you have none, or if they are too light or too heavy, you must paint them. As you are dark, of course, you should paint them black; but a blonde woman should use only light brown; a woman with darker hair, darker brown, etc. These different colored pencils may be found in any drug store, but here is a simple and most excellent mixture if you want to make your own liquid black:

Pulverized Indian ink 8 grams Rose water 100 grams First beat the Indian ink and then pour the rose water in little by little. Apply this with a fine brush or a bit of thin wood sharpened.

Q. My lips are generally too pale. Is there any good paint I can use for them?

A. Very few women have naturally red lips, but for them as for the cheeks one may use a cosmetic. Here is one that is excellent. It is a pomade:

White wax 60 grams Oil of sweet almonds 120 grams Powdered alkanet 12 grams Oil of roses 12 drops

Now, so far I have spoken only of how the face should be painted for the daylight. Q. Should there be a difference in painting for the light of day and that of night?

A. Most decidedly. There should be three distinct arts of painting or making up. One for daytime, one for the evening and one for the stage. And let me say right here that dead white paint or powder should always be avoided. Yellowish or pinkish, as one is dark or blonde, should be used.

Q. Are there any general rules for making up?

A. Yes. If the face is big with prominent cheek bones and fat cheeks much more red than white should be used. If the face is small, thin and somewhat sunken white should predominate. White brings out the features and accentuates them, while rouge sinks them, makes them seem smaller. This is an optical illusion that all women should understand before they attempt to make up.

Q. Now will you tell me how to paint for artificial lights of night, at the theatre, for instance?

A. Under electric lights the most visible

1-Try this and it will improve your complexion.

2-Take a pole and bend toward it five times instead of painting.

To promote circulation and make the lips cherry colored without the use of vermilion.

If you fence you will not have to rouge.

Kneading the face to make the color even and do away with use of powder.

circle of the eyes to the bottom of the cheeks and over the ears. Let this dry and dust it off. Then powder with pink or yellowish powder, pink for a blonde skin and yellow for a brunette.

Q. Now what should one use for the eyebrows and lashes with this liquid make up?

A. Heat the following cosmetic slightly, rub it on a little brush and then pass it over your brows and lashes:

White wax 50 grams Lamp black 62 grs. 50 centgrs.

Now another method of making up is with what we call grease paints. For my part I prefer the liquid paints to the grease paints, which are applied with a sponge or pad of cotton. The liquid paints are preferable because all the superfluous powder that they leave is brushed off and only what actually penetrates the skin is left.

Then they are not sticky and they do not rub off easily or melt under perspiration. For a person in private life they are excellent; for the stage a much heavier make-up is required on account of the distance between the audience and the actor.

Q. You were going to tell me about the grease paints, Doctor. How should they be used?

A. Well, if you think they agree better with your skin than the liquid paints, try them in this way: First bathe the face thoroughly with cold cream. That is, rub it on well. Then take off what remains on the surface of the skin gently with a fine cloth. After that spread over the face as evenly as possible some white grease paint. This for instance:

Sub-nitrate of bismuth 100 grams Vaseline 60 grams Essence of colorless bergamot 25 drops

After using less this penetrate the skin a little, wipe it off till all the superfluous grease is removed, then apply the following rose paint:

Carmine 20 grams Borate of soda 5 grams Vaseline 60 grams Essence of bergamot 1 gram Essence of geranium 1 gram

Then put on some red. The following is excellent:

White chalk 50 grams Carthamin Red 2 grams Spermaceti 6 grams

In making up the mouth, for which have already given you a pomade, be careful to follow its lines and curves exactly. For the stage, one may improve, accentuate, but remember always that in daylight one may use only a suspension, enough to suggest, where nature has failed absolutely.

On the stage one may make the mouth appear smaller, more like the inconspicuous Cupid's bow; one may elongate the eyes, make them appear bigger, by shading and adding lines. On the street this should be regarded as impossible.

Q. How should an actress paint on the stage?

A. Of course, everything depends upon her part, whether she is intended to be old or young, whether she has a character part or a straight one.

after having cleansed it thoroughly, a good coating of cold cream. This is both for protection and in order to make the powder and paint stick. Cocoa butter is also good. Then wipe this off and put on grease paint, yellow, yellow or pink, according to the type you are-blonde, brunette-or chestnut.

After this put on your rouge, being careful to grade it and not stop suddenly as so many actresses do. Here is a good pure rouge:

Carmine 4 grams Ceresine 5 grams Yellow 40 grams Essence of verberna 5 drops

Now powder smoothly and then proceed to do your eyes, which of course are a most important matter. On the lids, near the lashes, put blue, the blue that may be used to paint in veins-this blue:

Tallow 60 grams Ceresine 10 grams Deep sea blue 60 grams Essence of bergamot 30 drops

With this you may draw a line at the corners of the eyes to elongate them. You may also paint in veins with this same blue. Then with a little brush put on the lashes and brows the following black:

Ivory black 50 grams Ceresine 10 grams Vaseline 25 grams Essence of bergamot 15 drops

With this you may also lengthen and even change the shape of the eyebrow. A touch of dry red in the corner of each makes a good effect; it brightens up the eyes.

Put a little in the nostrils and a little on the lobes of the ears; to make them look like shells, and you are done.

But don't make a mistake and use this make-up in the street. Let me repeat that the less you use, if you must use any, in daylight the better you will look. Don't use paint except where it is absolutely necessary-the least touch to the cheeks of the tint that nature intended them to be, following their outline exactly; a very suspension of red in the lips if they are pale; powder put on very carefully, and very evenly, with cold cream under it to keep it from clogging the pores; and then only a suspicion of rouge, if you have no color of your own.

But I beg you to try at the same time exercise and massage and the cupping I have already spoken of.

Try manual massage with the cream I have given you, and when the muscles begin to strengthen, rub the face gently with a bit of flannel dipped in the following lotion weakened with water half and half.

Lavender water 150 grams Cologne water 250 grams Spirits of Boraxant 100 grams Essence of pimpernel 2 grs. 50 centgrs.

Q. Now what should I do to get my neck in good healthy condition?

A. It should be massaged with the skin food I have given you every day for a quarter of an hour. After that bathe it with cold water and then rub it thoroughly with the lotion I have just given you, only use it pure. Watch carefully that the muscles of your neck do not become too big, and as soon as there is a suspicion of that, stop. Never wear anything tight about your throat if you wish it to remain young, rounded, pretty.

And now, one thing more. I have told you how to paint, if you will, but what is equally important is how to take it off.

Q. Oh, I never pay any attention to that. I just wash it off with water. What do you mean?

A. I mean that all cosmetics, no matter whether they are dry or greasy or liquid, end by wrinkling and even poisoning the skin if they are not properly taken off.

Always use some kind of grease to take off any make-up. Never use water. Rub on a good cold cream or cocoa butter and then wipe the face with a fine cloth till all trace of paint has disappeared. Then dip a bit of absorbent cotton in the following lotion and bathe the face thoroughly, letting the lotion dry without wiping it off.

Rose water 500 grams Borate of soda 5 grams Glycerine 20 grams Tincture of benzoin 5 grams

Now one word more. As it is a fact that the best and least harmful of paints are old or young, whether she has a character part or a straight one.

Q. Just for the ordinary part-what should she do?

A. First she should spread over her face, 130 West 47th st., N. Y. City.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS AT SYNOD TODAY.

At eight o'clock this morning in Trinity church the sacrament was administered by Ven. Archdeacon Forsyth, assisted by Archdeacon Neales and Canon Roberts.

The second day's work of the synod opened shortly after ten o'clock with a fairly large attendance; thirty-six clergymen and twenty-eight laymen answering to their names.

The meeting again was begun with prayers. Business commenced by the reading of the minutes of yesterday's meeting which occupied some time. These were approved.

The report of the committee on prizes for the Church School for Girls was read by Dean Fretz. This committee reported that the amount of the special fund created by the resolution of the last session of the synod has been daily expended upon prizes of books, handsomely bound and marked with the stamp of the synod. These had been distributed by the synod trustee, representing the bishop at the closing of the school.

The report of the committee on the management of theological study in the diocese was read. The committee reported that the lamented death of the Rev. John deSoyres, who was the energetic secretary of the committee, had been a great loss to them. Lectures were given in St. John by Rev. Canon Kirkpatrick, D. D., professor of Hebrew at Cambridge. These were most valuable and instructive and were of the greatest benefit to those who heard them.

The report of the committee on thank offerings was read by Archdeacon Forsyth. This committee was appointed to consider the memorandum of the honorable secretary of the United Board of Missions of the provinces of Canterbury and York, defining the general outlines of a scheme for a thank-offering to be presented at a service to be held in St. Paul's, London, on the occasion of the proposed Pan-American Congress, of 1906. The committee have not heard from the congress secretaries, nor has any information been obtained which they deem needed for the working out of the proposed scheme. No further action has therefore been taken. The immediate needs of the diocese are so pressing that the committee deem it impossible to hope that contributions could be secured towards the proposed object. The committee therefore recommended that no further action be taken until additional information may be obtained.

EQUITY COURT.

The case of Fairweather, administrator vs. Waterbury, was to have come up this morning before His Honor Judge Barker, but on account of the absence of L. A. Curry, K. C., defendant, no hearing was held. It is now expected that the hearing will be held on the 12th of July. C. N. Skinner and J. H. A. L. Fairweather for the plaintiffs consenting.

In the case of Degraze vs. Fournier, which is an action brought for the specific performance of an agreement for the sale of land, situate in the county of Northumberland, upon application of Milton Price, for F. J. Robidoux, of Richibucto, solicitor for the plaintiff, a summons was granted returnable on the 14th of July.

VISITING ODDFELLOWS ENTERTAINED.

The party of Odd Fellows who are on a visit to St. John from Cambridge, Mass., left this morning about 8.00 from Indiantown on the steamer Victoria for Fredericton, where they will be met by a committee of local Odd Fellows and shown round the various places of interest. They return by special train, leaving Fredericton at ten o'clock this evening. About one hundred and fifty took the trip this morning including a number of local members.

The majority of the visiting party are staying over in the West End, at the Martello Hotel, as is the Martello contingent. They are arranging and carrying out of the programme in hand. Some twenty-five are at the Park Hotel, and a number are at the Edward.

Considerable curiosity exists among the visitors as to what a clam bake is, and all are looking forward to the one arranged in their behalf for tomorrow. The party leave St. John on Saturday evening by the Calvin Austin.

QUIET POLICE COURT.

There was very little doing at the police court this morning when Acting Magistrate Henderson took his seat. The "bag" simply consisted of two ordinary drunks, who were quickly disposed of, one being fined two and the other four dollars.

The only other matter before the court was a complaint against William Elliott for keeping a ferocious dog which had bitten the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Addison, and also the dog that has the dog destroyed the acting magistrate allowed the matter to stand over.

FAITHFUL OFFICIALS REWARDED.

Frank Gallagher and William Carleton of the customs department, have been awarded the imperial service order medal for long and faithful service. Both gentlemen, who are well advanced in years, have done good and efficient work for their country, and their many friends will rejoice that their devoted and continued zeal in the discharge of their duties has been so fittingly rewarded.
