SAVERY GOES BACK TO ST. MARTIN'S. Said He Saw the Young Woman's Parents Today. He Wants Her Name Put in the Papers—Despatch to the Star Tells That His Wife is Sick in Plymouth.

A despatch from Chief of Police Benjamin Goddard, of Plymouth, Mass., to the Star this morning stated that H. S. Savery was in Plymouth there, and his wife is now seriously ill. Savery of whom this telegram speaks, is the supposed minister who on Saturday last eloped from St. Martin's with a young lady, residing near St. John in Hampton, where they were about to be married when it was discovered that Savery had a wife living. Last night Savery preached an interesting sermon in the Calvin church.

In conversation with a reporter this morning Savery said that he had visited the girl's parents, but he would give no account of the interview. He said, however, that he had stated, last night that he would see the young lady's parents, and he had done all in his power to carry out what he had promised. He was not leaving the city without having gone in the girl's house. In reply to questions Savery stated that he thought a man should have good reason to know that his wife was dead before he took another wife, but he was not sure his own wife was dead. In spite of this he intended to marry the young lady in question. He said that there was one thing he could say and that was that he had done nothing to injure the girl and personally if he knew himself to be free he would be willing to take her as his wife. He said he did not see why his name should be given all the prominence and the girl's name not mentioned. "I cannot see why my name has not as much right to be used as my own," he said. He had never asked her to marry him, but that she had made all the advances. He himself belonged to a good family, his father being a prominent business man of Plymouth. "The name Savery," he said, "comes from Savy, and I am a direct descendant of the houses of Savy. My mother and people came out in the Mayflower, and were of the upper class, but I have worked myself out of the shell, and evolution to be a damn fool, which I am."

When asked what he intended to do Savery stated that he was going back to St. Martin's, and was going to stay there unless he heard from the young lady's parents. He said that he was a strong anti-liquor man and refused to accept of money from a person who sold liquor. This morning persons standing near were inclined to believe, judging from the smell, that Mr. Savery had this morning himself helped to swell the coffers of some liquor seller.

Before leaving the station Savery offered any one of several reporters who were standing around, to take any of them to Hampton and pay all their expenses in order that he might be able to have a good clear talk with them. None, however, accepted the invitation. In conversation with the Star the young lady's parents denied that Savery had called this morning. They said they had not seen him nor did they wish to.

It has been learned that the young lady was not a delegate to the Sunday school convention as reported, but that she attended one of the late residence at Paradise Row, at 2:30 o'clock. During the absence of Mrs. Bachelot, who was insured for $500 in a friendly society, called her daughter to her, and after blessing her, drank laudanum. The husband arrived only in time to receive her last farewell, and to hear the reason of her death.

NEVER WAS THERE SUCH A STORM IN THE HISTORY OF THE SOUTH. Heaped in Confusion Along the Coast, Many Lives Lost and an Immense Amount of Property Damaged.

Thousands of People Homeless, Scores of Fine Vessels Compelled to maintain full speed ahead to hold her position. While the storm was at its height, the wreck of a sloop drifted past, and although the Winona was having all she could do to save herself, Captain Hanks lowered a small boat and after a struggle with the water, which at times seemed almost hopeless, managed to bring off seven persons, most of them women.

The captain reported that as he steamed past Dauphin Island on his way to Mobile, a message was sent to him through the megaphone stating that there are three hundred people on the island who are suffering from the plague. A relief expedition will be sent to them early to-day.

Nearby every aid to navigation between Mobile and Gulfport has been destroyed, and Round Island light is the only one of that portion of the coast which now burns at night. Capt. Hanks reports that there are wrecked vessels all along the east end of Cat Island, on Ship Island, on Horn Island, on Peck Island, and Dauphin Island. Grant's Island was so severely swept by the storm that it can hardly be seen, but the channel itself has not been changed.

Seventeen vessels were wrecked at Haven Point and twenty-two persons lost from them. All the houses but four in Horton Bay were destroyed. He said that nearly all were destroyed except two.

Paul J. Wilson, secretary of the commercial club of Mobile, to-day requested the Associated Press in Mobile to make a denial of the stories which have been sent broadcast throughout the country regarding the loss of life and suffering in this city. Not a single life has been lost and the citizens of Mobile have the local situation in splendid shape. Offers of assistance have been received from commercial clubs throughout the south, and while this residents of Mobile appreciate these at their full value, there is no suffering in this city which calls for outside aid. The greatest destitution and privation have overtaken people south of Mobile and along the Gulf coast, and for these aid and supplies will be gratefully received.

APALACHICOLA, Fla., Sept. 30.—The worst storm known in the Gulf of Mexico raged from Monday until Friday night, the wind reaching high velocity and the water rising over the roofs of buildings, flooding the lower streets and doing great property damage. WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The country regarding the loss of life and suffering in this city. Not a single life has been lost and the citizens of Mobile have the local situation in splendid shape. ILL LUCK BROUGHT BY HOODOO NECKLACE And Its Owners Had Misfortune and Last Was Killed by Husband.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 30.—A grim trophy of a fateful necklace lost on the eve of her death in the Summer garden, St. Petersburg, by Mrs. Andreeff, who was cut down by her husband, is told by the Novos Vremya.

It was an old piece of work by one of the best Parisian jewelers, and was sold first to the head of a French Court family, nearly all the members of which were guillotined during the Revolution. A few escaped to Brussels and were obliged to part with many fine jewels, among them the necklace in question. From that time they enjoyed good fortune.

The necklace, after changing hands, about ten times, was sold for $20,000 to a prince, who gave it to the ballerina, Tzauki. From this act he was exiled from St. Petersburg. Tzauki left the imperial ballet, and finding her health failing, she went to her native countryside and abandoned the stage forever. Before doing so she sold the necklace.

A subsequent owner, the antiquary, Linivitch, died suddenly at Monte Carlo, and the next to gain possession of the jewelry was a gambler at Monte Carlo, who lost all his money. The sale of the necklace saved him from beggary.

Finally it fell into the hands of Mr. Andreeff, a resident on the Boulevards of St. Petersburg. He paid for it $10,000 for it, and his wife was wearing it when, in a fit of anger, he killed her.

FOUND HIS BROTHER'S BODY IN THE RIVER A Sad Tragedy at Pleasant Point on Sunday. George Paul, Aged Eleven, Fell Off the Raft into the River—Body Was Recovered This Morning.

A sad drowning accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Pleasant Point when Geo. Paul, the eleven-year-old son of Peter Paul, of Milford, lost his life.

The fatality occurred about 4:30 o'clock, but no one seems to know just how it happened. The young lad left his home about 4 o'clock, and was seen some time later standing on the ferry floats watching the ferry boat. This was the last seen of him till his body was found this morning.

Young Paul was missed by his family at supper time, and search was made for him. Numerous enquiries brought out the fact that no one had seen him after 4:30 o'clock. It is surmised that while playing on the floats he in some manner fell into the water and was drowned.

The first clue found was when a party who chanced to be rowing over to Pleasant Point found a cap in the river which was identified as the one which was worn by the boy when he left the house.

Grapping irons were procured and the river in the vicinity of the ferry floats was searched in hope of finding the body. This work was continued all night, and about nine o'clock this morning the body was found by Joseph Paul, a brother of the victim. It was lying just at the foot of the floats.

The body was brought up on the wharf and coroner McFarland notified. The coroner after viewing the body gave permission for its removal, and it was taken to the bereaved home. Undertaker Fitzpatrick was called and prepared the body for burial. Coroner McFarland said that he would be no inquest as it was clearly a case of accidental drowning. Much sympathy is shown for the bereaved family, as the boy was unusually bright and had made many friends. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

SHOT DEAD AT ALTAR ON HIS WEDDING DAY Murderer Surrenders to Police After Eluding Their Vigilance for 18 Years.

DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—A man who shot his brother-in-law on his wedding day has just surrendered to the Constable Armath police at Market Hill, after eluding the vigilance of the authorities for eighteen years.

The motive of the crime was vengeance, and the murder was committed under circumstances that have frequently figured in dramatic novels. A sister of the assassin, a man named William Thompson, had married a neighbor named Thomas Thompson. The marriage was an unhappy one, and upon the death of the woman William Thompson asserted that his sister's end had been brought about by the husband's ill treatment, and his resentment was further increased when the husband neglected to attend the funeral.

Some time later Thomas Thompson arranged to be married again at the parish church of Portadown, and William Thompson took a vow of vengeance. Stealing into the church with a gun as the ceremony was proceeding, he took a deliberate aim at the bridegroom as he was standing at the altar, and shot him dead.

The assassin quietly submitted to capture, and at the trial behaved with great coolness and self-satisfaction. He conducted his own defense, received the sentence of death with great composure, and before his removal delivered a long speech to the jury.

The murder and trial caused intense excitement throughout Ireland, and soon after the sentence was commuted to one of penal servitude for William in prison Thompson was declared to be insane, and was removed to the lunatic asylum at Dundrum. From that institution he managed to escape soon after his admission, in the spring of 1888, and since that time he was not seen again by the authorities until he surrendered himself a couple of days ago.

CLARK WON'T ACCEPT MAYES' PROPOSITION. Engineer Shown Declares the Site to be Ready—Mr. Clark Will be Notified After a While.

As the result of the soundings taken by Mr. Scammell at Sand Point, Mr. Sheehan this morning telephoned the city engineer, and stated that the crib is now ready. The mayor will in turn notify the chairman of the board of works, who will notify Director Cluik, who will notify Mr. Clark. Mr. Clark will then take soundings, and if he does not find things right will notify Mr. Sheehan, who will again have Mr. Scammell take soundings, and then if all is not found right Mr. Mayes will be notified that more dredging is needed. Mr. Scammell will then take soundings again, and will notify Mr. Sheehan who will again start the process of notifying all the different heads.

Mr. Clark states that he is not going to pay attention to Mr. Mayes' bluff, but when the site is ready he will be only too glad to put the crib in position.

DELEGATES WILL ASK FOR THE DREDGE W. S. FIELDING. Mayor Sears and H. B. Schofield, president of the Board of Trade, leave tonight for Ottawa to interview Hon. Mr. Hyman. The chief thing that this delegation will discuss with Mr. Hyman about is the dredging question. They will ask that if the city purchases a dredge, the government will guarantee to buy it later, or if the government will not do this, to let the city have the dredge W. S. Fielding for the winter months. They will also bring up other questions in reference to the sort of St. John.

Out of the State to be Killed in One of the Somerville Plants—Officials Charged With Negligence.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 30.—Gross negligence on the part of the cattle commission of Vermont in failing to safeguard the interests of the state in the disposal of diseased cattle is charged in a report submitted to Governor C. J. Bell and Attorney General
C. C. Fitts, and made public today.

The cattle commission of Vermont, it appears, did not strictly follow the law of 1902, which requires that the carcasses of condemned animals shall be buried, and in several instances appeared that the commission took condemned animals to the slaughter house of the Burlington Rendering company, and had them slaughtered, and disposed of the carcasses for fertilizing purposes," says the report.

Under the law of 1904 which amends

the carcasses of condemned animals shall be buried, and in several instances

CELEBRATE GOLDEN
WEDDINGS THIS WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bois DeVeber
Observe Theirs Today

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, of Lancaster, Will Hold Their Anniversary Tomorrow.

Two well known couples will this week celebrate the golden anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. J.
Bois DeVeber celebrate theirs to-day, and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, of Lancaster, will observe their anniversary to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. DeVeber were married on October 1st, 1856, in Portland, Me.
Both the old people are well on in their fourscore years, but they are still enjoying excellent health, and if the good wishes of their many friends can help them, will continue to do so for many years to come. Mr. DeVeber was born in St. John and is the son of the late L. H. DeVeber. He was early associated with his father in business, and about twenty years ago was appointed county treasurer, which position he has held ever since.

Mrs. DeVeber is a daughter of the late Robert Halsey, and was born in Portland, Me.
Of the family of Mr. DeVeber only himself and his sister, Mrs. Andrew Jack, of the late Canon DeVeber, Richard, Nelson and Hubbard, were brothers, and Mrs. Gabriel DeVeber was a sister.

Mr. DeVeber has one brother, Hamilton, who resides in Boston. Mr. and Mrs. DeVeber have six children—Mrs.
G. H. Lee, of this city; Mrs. W. G.
Lawton, of Montreal; Mrs. Andrew
Jack, of St. John; Mrs. H. M. Frith, of Nasau, Bahamas; Miss Beatrice, who is superintendent of the hospital at Lancaster, Mass., and Bois DeVeber, of New Glasgow.

Mr. and Mrs. DeVeber have been very busy all day acknowledging congratulations. Many beautiful gifts have been received by the couple.
Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson will celebrate their golden anniversary to-morrow by holding a family reunion at their home, Lancaster Heights. The old couple are both hale and hearty and look as if they will be able to celebrate many more anniversaries.

Mr. Wilson was born in Dumfries, Fifehire, and came to St. John in 1854.
His wife is a native of this city.
The couple were married October 2nd, 1856, in St. David's Presbyterian church, which they have attended ever since, and are now its oldest members.
The bridegroom and groomsmen of the couple are still alive and reside in the city. They are Mrs. James McGowan and James Shaw.

In 1857 Mr. Wilson was appointed superintendent of the signal station at Fortridge Island, where they took up their residence. This position was held by Mr. Wilson until 1860, when he retired, and moved to Lancaster Heights,
where they now live.

Seven children were born to the couple. They are Mrs. H. N. Wyse, of Montreal; Mrs. Chas. Grant, of Calais; John, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Ramsey, of Plainfield, N. Y.; and Miss Mary, Miss Estelle and Estem, at home.

The celebration to-morrow will also be the date of another interesting event, when Miss Leslie Wilson will be united in marriage to George M. Balle, of this city.

KILLER FINDS SECOND
VALISE CARRIED BY COLLINS

A Point Which Promises to be of Importance in the McAuley Murder Case.

Detective Killen has located the second valise which Collins, the Mc-Auley murder suspect, had with him and it is announced that its contents will furnish more evidence in the case. A ring was found in the valise and rumor has it that one similar to it is missing from Father McAuley's home. The local detective found the valise somewhere near Garland's hotel at Elgin.

Killen has stopped at this hotel and at that time carried two valises. There is therefore little doubt but that the valise just found was in the hands of Collins. Chief Clark returned from Albert on Saturday where he was attending the trial. The case has been postponed until next Thursday so as to allow two important witnesses, Councillor W. J. Dean and his son
Joseph, to attend.

If the ring which was found in the valise can be identified by Father Mc-Auley as his property, Detective Killen's discovery will prove an important factor in the case.

The attendance at the Dominion exhibition at Halifax on Saturday was 13,155, bringing a total for the seven days up to 82,078, a daily average of 13,000. The exhibition closes next Friday night.

BOY'S PROMPTITUDE
SAVED THEIR LIVES

Jack Rusk Hastened for Assistance and Saved Yachtsmen Who Were Upsal.

Three young men, William Martin, Wilfrid Buckley and Isaac Campbell, were upset in a sail boat on the river
Sunday afternoon, and they would survive had not been for the promptitude for the presence of mind of twelve year-old Jack Rusk, son of J. W. Rusk, foreman in the L. C. R. freight department.

Martin Buckley and Campbell ran their boat ashore at Land's End, Long Island, and they met young Rusk on the beach. They invited him to a sail boat on the river, but having been for-bidden to go in a sail boat Rusk refused.
In a few minutes the boys left Land's End and were soon sailing against a strong wind in the centre of the river.
A squall came, the sail boat upset, and the three occupants were thrown into the water.

Young Rusk at once ran to where a rowboat was, but he found he could not launch it, as it was high and dry on shore. He immediately ran up to house of Alexander Long and gave the alarm. In a short time assistance had reached the three young men, who were nearly exhausted. They were rowed ashore and cared for by Mr. Long.

A few minutes before last midnight
Miss Florence Mary McCafferty, elder daughter of James and Catherine Mc-Cafferty, died at her home, 23 Camar-then street. Death came after illness lasting for much more than a year, and through it all she had exhibited the most marked patience, even when given that, despite the tender care given her, she could not be restored to health. Previous to her illness, Miss McCafferty was in charge of a department for Messrs. Macaulay Bros. & Co., where she met with every success because of ill health. "Fierce, too, as among her friends, she was highly respected, and there are many who will read with deep regret that she has passed away. Besides her parents, there survive two brothers and one sister—John J., proprietor of the Queen Hotel, Fredericton, and William J., agent of the New Amsterdam Insurance Company, New York; and Miss Katherine L., who was in training as nurse in the Melrose (Mass.)
Hospital, and came home to care for her sister. For all there will be many warm words of sympathy because of their bereavement.

HOW THE COMPOSITOR READ IT.

An editor was sitting in his office one day when a man entered whose brow was clothed with thunder. Fiercely setting a chair, he slammed his hat on the table, hunched his umbrella on the floor and sat down. "Are you the editor?" he asked. "Yes."

"Can you read writing?" "Of course." "Read that, then," he said, thrusting at the editor an envelope with an inscription on it. "B—," said the editor, trying to spell it. "That's not a 'B,' it's an 'S,'" said the man. "Oh, yes, I see. Well, it looks like 'Sous for dinner,' or 'Souls for sinners,'" said the editor. "No, sir," replied the man, "nothing of the sort. That's my name—Samuel. I know you couldn't read. I led to see about that poem of mine you printed the other day entitled 'The weeping widow.' I don't remember it," said the editor. "Of course you don't because it went into the paper under the villainous title of 'Smearcase to-morrow.'"

"A blunder of the compositor, I suppose." "Yes, sir; and that is what I am here to see you about. The way in which that poem was mutilated was simply scandalous. I haven't slept a night since. It exposed me to derision. People think me a fool. (The editor coughed.) Let me show you. This first line, when I wrote it, read in this way: 'Lying by a weeping willow underneath a gentle slope.' That is beautiful and poetic. Now, how did your vile sheet represent it to the public? 'Lying to a weeping widow, I induced her to weep.' Weeping widow, mind you. A widow. Oh, thunder and lightning! this is too much!"

"It's hard, sir, very hard," said the editor. "Then take the fifth verse. In the original manuscript it said, plain as daylight, 'Take away the tingling money. It is only glittering dross.' In the printed form you make me say: 'Take away the tingling honey; put some flies in for the bees.' By George! I feel like attacking somebody with my fire shovel! But, oh, look at the sixth verse. I wrote: 'I'm weary of he tossing of the ocean as it heaves.' When I opened my paper and saw my lines transformed into 'I'm weary of my trousers till they are open at the knees,' I thought that was taking it an inch too far. I fancy I have a right to murder that compositor. Where is he?"

"He is out just now," said the editor. "Come tomorrow." "I will," said the poet, "and I will come armed."

Half-Sick When your nerves are weak, when you are easily tired, when you feel all run down, then is the time you need a good strong tonic—Wyer's Sarsaparilla. Your doctor will tell you why it has such power over weak nerves, why it makes the blood rich, and why it gives courage and strength. Ask him if it is not the best medicine you need.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 1, 1906.

ST. JOHN CAN GIVE THE FASTEST SERVICE.

The somewhat violent anxiety of Halifax in the matter of the winter mail service seems just a trifle suspicious at this time when there is no imminent danger that any or all of the boats will be taken away from that port. It is like a suspected person loudly protesting innocence in order that his crime may not be revealed. The announcement made from Montreal more or less than a bluff on the part of the steamship companies, but the plan is one for which these companies will seek consent of the government. This may or may not be granted, but in either case St. John will not lose much.

However, looking beyond this season's arrangement, there is no good reason why the mail steamers should touch at Halifax at all. St. John has in the past been regarded only as a freight port. It will before very long be the point of landing for mails and passengers as well. Several papers have suggested that in order to meet the arguments of Halifax in the matter of quicker time from that port, a test should be made by sending one of the mail steamers direct to St. John. If the British mails via this port can be delivered in Montreal earlier than via Halifax, why should St. John not become the terminus? In the opinion of this paper there is no doubt that if the steamers came to St. John direct, all previous records would be broken.

It is true that the water distance to this port is two hundred miles greater than to Halifax. But in the winter months the route which has the longest water route and the shortest rail haul is least exposed to delay. In the past, remarkably good time has often been made over the I. C. R. from Halifax to Quebec, but that road runs for the greater part of the distance through a country which is especially subject to severe storms, and it is not by any means an infrequent thing for trains to be delayed. The two hundred miles of water run to St. John can be made by the Empress and turbine steamers in ten hours. The mails can be sent away from the west side just as quickly as they are sent from Halifax, and they can be delivered in Montreal and other points afterwards. The mail trains from St. John would travel over a line which in the past has not suffered as much from snow blockades as has the I. C. R.

Going via Halifax the mail train cannot make better time than twenty-four hours, and thus the St. John route could beat it by at least one hour. Opinions differ on this, but by figuring out the distances and the time which is usually made, the St. John route is usually made, the winter mail port, in a shorter time than the Halifax route. A large amount of freight is handled over the I. C. R., and this being a government road, should, of course, receive all the business which the government can give to it. Winter service of mails is a short time in the carrying of mails is of sufficient importance to counterbalance the loss of revenue. It is certainly a point to be decided, and it would certainly seem that no changes in the service should be made which will injure the I. C. R.

THE FORESTRY CONVENTION. The Dominion Forestry Convention in session at Vancouver, on Friday threw out a resolution which urged the Federal Government to enact a law against the exportation of saw logs and pulp wood to the United States. Twenty-five years from now the sons of the men who have done this will rise up and call their fathers very impolite names. The resolution was defeated on the excuse that the association had no power to take any such action. Then what in the world is a forestry convention for if it is not to point out to the government the wisest methods of protecting the forests?

The exports of saw logs and pulp wood from Canada to the United States are increasing enormously every year. This country is sitting still, content to chop the logs, and to let the American laborers reap the rich profits in manufacturing lumber, pulp and paper. This money might just as well be kept in Canada, and it could easily be done, for the forests of the United States are being depleted, and manufacturers must come here for their supplies. They see the timber areas in Canada, and under existing arrangements have no difficulty in securing from this country material to keep their mills running. Although the convention did not feel qualified to offer any suggestion along these lines, there is still the assurance that the members of the government themselves, and particularly Premier Laurier, who of late has been taking a deep interest in forest preservation, will introduce when they consider the time ripe, some measure tending to the preservation of Canada's standing timber.

HOME RULE IS SURELY COMING FOR IRELAND. A Glorious Future Awaits the Emerald Isle, Says T. P. O'Connor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—T. P. O'Connor, member of the British House of Commons and President of the United Irish League of Great Britain, was given a reception last night by the municipal council of the United Irish League of New York. He was greeted by a gathering that filled the banquet hall of the Hoffman House. In a speech Mr. O'Connor said that he brought a message of hope to America as to Ireland's future. "Thirty years ago," he declared, "land-lordism had ruled Ireland with its power to evict, to rack, rent, and to exile. Now that power is destroyed except the price it will receive to leave Ireland to the glorious future that awaits her. I believe that in a quarter of a century Ireland will have all the rights that have been accorded Canada and Australia."

Miss A. M. Brown of Toronto, the Dominion secretary of the King's Daughters and Sons, addressed the regular Sunday afternoon meeting at the King's Daughters' Guild yesterday afternoon. Miss Brown spoke very interestingly for about a quarter of an hour on the work of the society throughout Canada.

Last Saturday the death occurred of Helen Kent, aged five months, twin child of Charles and Minnie Gibbons. The funeral, which was conducted by Rev. Chas. B. Appel yesterday at 2:30 p. m., took place from her father's residence, Pokok. Interment was made in Cedar Hill. The other little twin was buried only last Thursday.

DEATHS. MCAFERRY.—In this city, on September 30th, 1906, after a lengthy illness, Florence Mary, eldest daughter of James and Catherine McCaffrey, died on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 2, at 2:30 o'clock, from her late residence, 23 Carmarthen street. FUNERAL.—At No. 18 Wellington Row, on Oct. 1st, Kate Agnes, daughter of the late P. D. Quinn.

IN AUTUMN.

Every cornfield is gold mine strewn with monster pumpkin nuggets; Every valley is a parlor floor with flowery fields for druggists. Every wooded landscape shimmers in a shroud of purple haze. And there'll be a wealth of color strewn over many autumn days. There is magic in the sunlight, merrymancy in the breeze, And 'neath the sprig's fall from the yellowed walnut trees. Then the bursting pods of milkweed show their silver lined with gold. And the flies are stiff and droopy with the mighty hint of cold.

Filmy veils of cloud are scattered o'er the sky's delicious blue; In the fields the sprig's promises are proving grandly true; From the orchard sounds a plumping after every new breeze passes; There's a sighing in the grasses; There's a sweet half-whisper, though in the languorous, winny air; There's a solace and a heartache, There's a comfort and a care.

Threat of death is intermingled with a hope of life to be. When old autumn's torch is lighted in the dancing misty tree. —Strickland W. Gilliam.

A MORNING CALLER. Little pickaninny in de honeysuckle vine. Looks jes' like a picture to dese mammy's eyes o' mine. Seems like dese new blossom, though as black as de kin be. Peekin' 'crost de fence an' sayin' "Hi-y-do" to me!

De humming bird comes hurryin' an' tries to make him out; De butterfly an' bees, dey come a-proppin' about. Dey can't exactly place 'im, but dey know he's sumpin' fine— Little pickaninny in de honeysuckle vine. —Washington Star.

LOGIC OF DRINKING. Russell Sage was very much opposed to drinking. He would often rail with homely and humorous wisdom against drink. "Men drink," he said one day to a broker, "because they are happy, because they are sad, because they are too warm, because they are too cold. Is there any logic in that? When I see men drinking I think of a little boy at the seashore."

"This little boy, at play with his bucket and shovel on the edge of an advancing wave and, scooping up a handful of salt watered foam, drank it gullibly, greedily. 'Oh, don't drink that,' said his nurse. 'It will make you thirsty.' 'What if it does?' said he. 'There's plenty more.'"

REFORM. "What is reform?" asked the argumentative man. "Reform," answered the worldly-weary one, "usually consists in merely compelling a man to stop doing things the way and making him do them yours."

SHAPTESBURY'S ORATORY. In the "Life of the Seventh Earl of Shaftesbury," John H. Horder, the following appears in one of the speeches of the subject of the biography:—"When Gladstone runs down a steep place, his immense majority, like the pigs in Scripture, but hoping for a better issue, will go with him, roaring in grunts of exaltation."

TEMPERATION. Schroeder, to his neighbor, a widower—Why did you send your house-keeper to get a new stove, since she was such a good cook? The widower—She made such splendid puddings I was afraid I should marry her.

A NEW POTATO. Vegetarians will doubtless hail with delight the advent of a new potato, blue of skin and yellow of interior, which is about to be placed upon the market. This potato, known as the Salaman common violet, and is the result of scientific cultivation at Reading, England. It has a distinct flavor of its own. Epicures describe it as a combined flavor of turnips and asparagus.

TO THE C. P. R. AND THE ALLANS. With the Compliments of One of the Halifax Newspapers.

The following resolutions were not passed at the Board of Trade meeting on Thursday, but might well have been: Whereas, it has been the invariable custom of the C. P. R. ever since it first began business in Canada, to reach out after everything in slight or apparent on the horizon, the motto of the corporation being: "What's yours is mine, and what's mine is my own." And whereas, the C. P. R. has always enjoyed the reputation in the west of being a most gigantic bluffer, making its claims about fifty per cent. greater than it could hope to realize on, in order that it might have to mark them down so much less below par; And whereas, in the present instance it is apparent to anyone with half an eye that this benevolent corporation has no intention to juggle with the small contract which it has been hired to perform than would Bill Smith have any intention to be wiser than 200 times the mail from Saint-Johnville to Way-backville, (according to its contract), but from Saint-Johnville to Smith's Corner, the latter post office being in his own kitchen, and easier on his horse; Therefore Resolved, that the Allan line, and hereby is, requested either to perform its contract according to the letter thereof and with regard to the wishes of its passengers, the people of Canada, or to relinquish it to some other company that will do so.

SAYS THE BIBLE IS NOT THE WORD OF GOD

Bishop Williams of Detroit Points Out What He Considers an Error on the Part of Many People

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 1.—Bishop Charles D. Williams, of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, in an address to the Y. M. C. A. members here yesterday on the "Bible and the Word of God," declared that the Bible is not the word of God, and that the teachings to the contrary are the most prolific source of unbelief the church has to contend with. The Bishop said: "Nowhere does the Bible declare itself the word of God. Yet we are told we must take it in its own sense. 'The Bible needs no defense; all it needs is a square deal. There are those who read it devoutly and gratefully. But I never say the Bible is the word of God. I say the Bible and the word of God.'"

"To those who accept the entire book as the literal word of God, I would point out that it is nowhere so stated. Christ read under the Old Testament precepts, the law of Moses, and furnished new ones. Where the Old Testament directed men to hate their enemies, the teachings of Christ were to love your enemies."

"We must learn from the Scriptures itself how to read the Scriptures, some of us use it as a heathen does his fetish or amulet, a wicked use of the book."

Two weddings of considerable interest to St. John people occurred last week. On Saturday, Oliver J. Emery, of this city, was married to Mrs. Jane Stewart, of the West Side, and a few days previous Mr. Emery's daughter Bertha married Geo. McAfee of Red Head. Both couples went to Boston on their wedding trip and by a curious coincidence put up at the same hotel, thus forming a reunited family party.

SCANDAL IN ONTARIO. DEAF MUTE INSTITUTION. TORONTO, Sept. 30.—Matters here were forced to an issue in connection with the charges made against the officials of the Belleville provincial institution for the deaf and dumb. All kinds of rumors have been in circulation, but it is understood that a charge of criminal assault on a young woman at the institution is being pressed by her relatives. The superintendent has demanded an investigation and so also have all whose names have been mentioned in connection with the affair. The government will appoint a commission to investigate.

HONG KONG DEVASTATED BY ANOTHER TYPHOID. LONDON, Oct. 1.—A despatch to Daily Mail from Hong Kong, dated Sept. 29, says: The observatory signals gave warning of an approaching typhoon Friday afternoon, and by midnight a typhoon was raging. The violent storm was accompanied by a blinding rain, and was still blowing Friday afternoon. The devastation typhoon of the 18th has been cooled. The repairs effected of water and stores have been up. The entire water front is again in wreck.

PRODUCTION IN THE UNITED STATES

Shows a Large Increase, Being Due Chiefly to Preparations of Operators in Anticipation of a Strike.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The geological survey to-day made public statistics on the production of coal in the United States in 1905. From these it appears that both in quantity and value the production surpassed all previous records in this country. The output amounted to 322,919,341 short tons, which had a value at the mines of $476,756,983. This is an increase, as compared with 1904, of 11.7 per cent. in quantity and 7.8 per cent. in value. Of the total production in 1905, 69,239,132 long tons (equivalent to 77,659,850 short tons), were Pennsylvania anthracite, with a value at the mines of $141,877,000. The total production of bituminous coal and lignite was 315,239,491 short tons, valued at $334,879,983. The production of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania in 1905 was 4,029,862 long tons more than that of 1904, while the increase in bituminous coal and lignite was 38,59,822 short tons.

King Frederik Makes a Pleasing Speech

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 1.—The Danish parliament was opened to-day by King Frederik. His first speech from the throne was almost entirely devoted to the internal affairs of the kingdom. He congratulated the country on the excellence of its foreign relations, and said that with the object of further strengthening them, he proposed to visit the sovereigns of various countries. The opening of parliament was attended by King George of Greece, the Dowager Empress of Russia and many other members of the royal family, and the diplomatic corps.

A NEW BULLET FOR THE UNITED STATES ARMY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The United States army will shortly adopt the new bullet which was tested by several experts at the recent national rifle meeting at Seagirt, and found to be satisfactory. Instead of the rounded point of the present bullet, it has a long, straight, tapering point and is also about one-third lighter, weighing about 150 grains. The new bullet has a greater velocity and a little better accuracy up to 2,000 yards.

THE INCREASING PRICE OF CULTIVATED RUBBER.

This brings us to consider still another recent development in the rubber situation touching the question of permanency of the present high prices of cultivated rubber. The suggestion was made some time ago by an uninformed writer that the discovery of the guayule shrub would reduce the price of cultivated rubber, and the statement was given wide publicity. The circulation of this report was met with the effect whatever upon the price of cultivated rubber, the demand for which is infinitely beyond the possibility of the world to supply. Now comes the official announcement of the Government that no claim is made that guayule gum will ever take the place of rubber.

NOW, WHAT D'YE THINK OF THAT?

THE TOPIC.

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE.

It was the frenzied financier who strenuously sought to learn the final closing price Amalgamated brought. It was his beaming broker who politely answered him: "Joe Gans will take that lanky Dane and sink him limb from limb."

The merchant saw his banker with the enterprising view of borrowing for thirty days a million bucks or two. The banker heard his question and serenely made reply: "The moke don't stand a half a chance against that tow-haired guy."

The burglar crawling in rubber shoes and slipping through the flat. But roused the sleeping occupants by stepping on the cat. Wherast his hoped-for victim slowly propped himself in bed and gazed upon the victor slowly "Who win the fight?" he said.

"WERE on a rock! We'll all be drowned!" the gallant captain cried; "A hole is in the starboard bow at least sixteen feet wide!" The passengers heard not his words nor, blanched, nor quailed, nor frowned; "Who was it," asked they, "landed in that thirty-seventh round?"

The hungry flames curled greedily about the great hotel; The smoke obscured the moonlight sky, the roof and rafters fell; But calmly there across the street the heedless copper stood, And spoke unto the fireman: "I'll bet the coon makes good."

AND if that gallant soldier who lay dying in Algiers, Removed from modern "first aid" stunts, like nursing, grief and tears, Had been in this old town last night, before his final breath, It's safe to say he would have gasped: "He'll beat that Dane to death."

Possibilities.
By JAMES J. MONTAGUE.

THERE MIGHT be sundry gentlemen somewhat o'er-prone to crime. The crafters might be rounded up and hustled out of town; And certain Wall Street cookie-makers might swiftly be closed down; The life insurance plunderbund might all be made to cough, BUT When Jerome makes promises he has to sleep 'em off.

It might not be so easy for the Gas Trust crowd to sneak. In meters that are guaranteed to run eight days a week; Conditions might be so arranged that what we call the Law Would move Tom Ryan and his gang to some degree of awe; Things might be made exceeding hard for some few well-known scamps IF William T. Jerome did not wear blinders on his lamps.

THE Ice Trust might prove timid when it robs the sick and poor, The traction goblins possibly might not feel so secure; The Western Union might declare that they'd henceforth refuse To furnish forth the poolrooms with the hottest racing news; The trusts might not dare help themselves to things they do not own IF Only Mr. Morpheus would let Jerome alone.

WHEN promises of weary length and cloud-compelling sound Down many a tinkling highball as they're scattered all around, The trembling rogues who hear them made might fear they'd get the gaff Instead of going out of doors to get a chance to laugh; The wicked might turn deadly pale and evil-doers quake IF Only William T. Jerome would ever stay awake.

REWARDS OF SCHOLARSHIP.
(From the Rochester Herald.)

The university president was sauntering down a shady lane one day in the early summer when he met a tall, handsome youth. This youth had just been graduated. He was poor but taken honors, and in athletics also great honors had been his. "Well, Smith," said the president, "through at last, eh?" "Yes, sir," said the young man, smiling and blushing. "And now what are you going to do?" "I hardly know yet, sir, I have had two offers."

Two Women Make Strange Discovery in Public Park of Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—Two women walking yesterday morning in the park of St. Cloud, while admiring a bed of flowers, were astonished to hear a child crying. Parting the flowers, one of them discovered a pretty baby girl, about 1 year old, dressed only in a chemise marked with the initials "P. J." Close by was a bottle filled with milk. A crowd of women soon assembled. The parkkeepers asked them to take charge of the child, but they refused. The woman who found the baby then took it by cab to Paris to the police commissary, offering to adopt it, but the police doctor found it was suffering from scarletina, and therefore sent it to the Foundling Hospital.

TWO BRIGAND CHIEFS

WOO MADAME DU CAST

One Offers to Kill Thirty-Six Wives in Order to Please Noted Frenchwoman.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The notorious Moroccan brigand chiefs, Valiente and Bait, are anxious to marry Mme. du Gast, who has left Paris on her governmental mission to Morocco.

Mme. du Gast told a Temps representative that she made the acquaintance of the brigands during her last visit to Morocco, and had maintained a regular correspondence with Raisuli ever since.

She declares that she found them most charming men. Valiente, whom she describes as "a most adorable brute," offered gallantly to banish his thirty-six wives if she would accept his hand and heart. Seeing she did not appear to be enamored of the offer, he sacrificed earnestly to have them all pleased her.

As a last resource Valiente vowed that she should have all the thirty-six as slaves to wait on her for life, and the thirty-six wives backed him up by prostrating themselves before Mme. du Gast and imploring her to stay and ride over them.

MONEY MAZES.

The new administration of Anchuria entered upon its duties and privileges with enthusiasm. His first act was to send an agent to Corallo with imperative orders to recover, if possible, the sum of money ravished from the treasury by the ill-fated Miraflores.

Colonel Emilio Falcon, the private secretary of the late president, was despatched from the capital upon this important mission.

Colonel Falcon, a handsome and urbane gentleman of Castilian courtesy and debonair manners, came to Corallo with the task before him of making up the cold trail of the lost money.

"I have brought a guest to dinner," said Goodwin. "One Colonel Falcon, from San Antonio. He is come on government business. I do not think you will care to see him, so I prescribe for you one of those convenient and indisputable feminine headaches."

The congregation of Calvin Presbyterian Church of this city, will probably be surprised to learn that H. S. Savery, whose smooth periods they listened to last evening, had on the previous day participated in an attempted elopement with a pretty daughter of a well known resident of the county.

The affair had a rather sensational termination, caused by the intervention of the bride's father, who, in time to prevent his daughter from perhaps ruining her life, as the gentleman in question admits that he has a wife already, at least he says that he has not heard of her death, and she was with him a short time ago.

At that time the Presbyterian Church of St. Martin was without a pastor, and he was asked to fill the pulpit, which he did very acceptably, being a fluent and interesting speaker.

N.S. SCHR. "KING OF AVON" AND TWELVE LIVES LOST

MAYES DECLARES THE FIRST CRIB SITE IS NOW READY

Offers to Reimburse City if the Crib Has to be Lifted Owing to Insufficient Dredging—Second Contract Was Only Signed a Few Days Ago—Clark Refuses to Move Crib Until Site is Ready.

The first crib at Sand Point is likely to be sunk at last. Contractor Mayes has made an offer to the city through A.M. McGoldrick, chairman of the Board of Works, offering to pay the cost of the placing and removal of the crib if it should be sunk now and have to be taken up again as a result of the site not being ready.

The offer was first made by telephone, and the alderman said that he would immediately put it before the board. He, however, suggested that the offer be put in writing, which was accordingly done, the offer having been posted to reach the chairman this morning. The communication is as follows:

Sept. 23. A.M. McGoldrick, Chairman of the Board of Works: Dear Sir—If you will have No. 1 crib sunk on the proper lines on or before Tuesday next and if the crib has to be lifted because of any dredging work not allowing it to lie as level as the run of crabs sunk for the city's Sand Point wharves then I agree to pay into your hands the cost of raising the crib and replacing it on its site.

With such an offer from Mr. Mayes it is regarded at City Hall that nothing now stands in the way of the placing of the first crib. Whether the further dredging which was done on Saturday and the blasting of the ever lingering boulder has not now made the site ready even to Mr. Clark's satisfaction, as it seemed on Saturday to be to Engineer Seaman's, who was busy for two hours in taking soundings, is another question.

Mr. Mayes, speaking to the Sun last night, said that he made the offer both in the public interest and for himself, as he does not wish any longer to be kept on this site, which he says has been ready for some time with the exception of this boulder, which even Engineer Seaman had difficulty in discovering.

Mr. Mayes said he had already been over this site thirteen times, while he would like to have the Beaver on the site.

Mr. Clark, speaking on Saturday afternoon, said that the offer was very good, but that the Board of Trade delegates at the Board of Works meeting should move his crib whether the site is ready or not so as to get it away from the Dandean wharf, which he will only move it to sink it on the crib site.

SOAK KILLED BY WILLIAM BELLIVEAU'S TRAIN

Sad Accident at Mirimichi Saturday

William Belliveau, Driving to Meet His Father Killed by Train That Brought Him

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 30.—Within a few yards of Memramook Station on Saturday evening thirteen-year-old William Belliveau was run down and killed by the train on which his father was a passenger. The lad's father was the first to alight from the train, and was horrified to find that the victim of the accident was his own son. He had survived his injuries about twenty minutes.

The accident happened about seven o'clock, it being almost dark at the time. The Springle local express, with Driver John Brownell at the throttle, was moving slowly towards the station at Memramook, running at the rate of five or six miles an hour. About seventy-five yards from the station Highway crosses the railway, and along this road young Belliveau was driving. He had driven in from Dover to consult his father, who is an employe in the I. C. R. shops here, home to spend Sunday. Just at the junction of the railway and the road the view is obstructed by a large barn, and young Belliveau did not see the approaching train. The brakeman on a freight special, which was standing at the station, noticed the danger and tried to warn him, but it is thought that this was not heard, and if it was it was not heeded. The horse crossed the platform of the train and the locomotive was upon them, instantly killing the horse and throwing the boy to one side with fatal injuries.

The brakes had been applied by Driver Brownell as soon as he saw the danger and within three car lengths the train had come to a standstill. On the platform of the train, which was stopped just opposite where the dying lad lay, stood his father, who jumped off to see who was hurt, and found his own son lying on the ground in a terrible condition. A doctor was summoned, but the lad passed away about twenty minutes later.

The steamer Wilfrid C. was out all day patrolling the river in an effort to find the body of late Albert J. Gorham, but the search was ineffective. All day crowds lined the river banks in an effort to investigate for themselves the whereabouts of the river sailor who took place was visited by hundreds of spectators.

The death occurred today after a brief illness from fever of Ovid Legere, brother of Z. M. Legere, the well known jeweller.

OTTAWA DOCTOR WHO SHOT WIFE CAPTURED

OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—Dr. J. Savigneau, who a while ago shot his wife in his home and her mother in this city, was brought in Saturday night and lodged in jail on a charge of murder Monday morning.

Detectives Dicks and Ryan of Ottawa caught him Saturday at six o'clock in a farm house three miles from Beauharnois and had him handcuffed before he could make use of two revolvers which he pulled. He had $18 in his possession. The two women are out of danger. Savigneau appears to be in good condition after his week on the road.

Those included in the information with John O'Gorman, who was arrested Friday and who is out on bail, are John Hardy, William Service, George Ardy, Wm. J. Mulloy, Daniel Wiley, George Reid, E. J. Sirton and James Heston.

George Reid, who is a well known resident of London, surrendered himself to Crown Attorney Corley before police court adjourned. He was arraigned on a charge of conspiracy, and pleaded not guilty. Mr. Reid was admitted to bail in one surety of $1,000, furnished by George Wilkie of this city.

Jeremiah Collins, the Liberal worker who gave evidence at the opening preliminary investigation, has returned to London. George Ardy and William Service also gave themselves up and were held for political purposes. He was arraigned on a charge of conspiracy, and pleaded not guilty. Mr. Reid was admitted to bail in one surety of $1,000, furnished by George Wilkie of this city.

The Globe refers to the case as follows: "On the face of it, the investigation of the London election case before the Toronto police magistrate, the time selected for it, and the spectacular features of it, will suggest to the public a game of politics, not the administration of justice. Why alleged offenses of London election campaigns should be brought to public notice, when the only evident occasion is the federal by-election in East Elgin, may be understood by party politicians who know the kind of campaign that is being conducted in Elgin and the need there may be for more scandalous arguments. But that does not explain why the provincial attorney general's department should appear to lend itself to exigencies of reckless politicians. The truth or falseness of the story told by the police court cannot be ascertained until after the by-election campaign is over. The effect which it is calculated to have on the public mind in that constituency cannot be met by any disproof which may subsequently be offered. That may be doubted, but the reason for the performance at the police court yesterday, with the rules of the political game. But for the department of justice in this province to connive at such a political dodge, or to allow party politicians to play fast and loose with the administration of justice is an entirely different matter."

The article also calls for a thorough investigation and the punishment of the criminals if the story proves true.

BARNS BURNED AT GUMBERLAND BAY

Hired Man's Pipe Responsible for B. McLean's $1,000 Loss—Insurance Only $200

GRAND LAKE, N. B., Sept. 29.—Barns at Gumberland Bay, Cumberland Bay Corner had his barns and their contents burned last Thursday evening. The hired man had been working in the barn and he and Mr. McLean had gone in to supper and before the meal was ended the alarm of fire was given by one of the family, who happened to look in the direction of the barn. When the men got to the grain barn they found the interior all ablaze. Mr. McLean instantly saw there was no hope of saving the buildings and turned his attention to saving the stock. He and the cattle and sheep being in some stable they would undoubtedly have perished also.

Four years ago his barns were burned by the lightning and the buildings burned the other evening were rebuilt on the old site and were convenient and well finished. In the buildings were burned nearly 30 tons of hay, 400 bushels of oats, farming implements and machinery, etc. As he has neither barns or crops left, he is offering for sale the whole stock. He is an industrious, obliging neighbor and all sympathetic with him in his loss, which is estimated at about $1,000, and only $200 insurance on the buildings.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY AT ST. DAVID'S

Five Presbyterian Churches United Yesterday—Programme Included Responsive Readings, Addresses and Music

The second annual rally of the Sunday school of St. David's, St. Andrew's, St. Stephen's, St. John's and Calvin churches was held yesterday afternoon at St. David's church. The attendance was far in excess of that of last year. A large number of members of the congregations attended.

An impressive service was conducted, consisting of five parts, each of the superintendents presiding over a part. The service opened by a chorus entitled, "In Glory to Appear," rendered by sixty boys and girls. This was followed by responsive reading led by Robert Reid, superintendent of St. David's Sunday school. After a hymn prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Forth. Another hymn was sung after which the meeting repeated the 23rd Psalm in chorus. Rev. A. A. Graham, the pastor, gave the address after which the offering was taken.

Responsive reading was then conducted by Judge Forbes, superintendent of St. Andrew's Sunday school. This was followed by a hymn. C. O. Hannal, superintendent of Calvin Sunday school, conducted responsive reading, followed by a solo and chorus, the solo part being taken by Miss Lillian McGowan.

The superintendent of St. John's Sunday school, Chas. Doig, then conducted responsive reading, followed by a hymn. The superintendent of St. Stephen's school, conducted responsive reading, followed by a solo and chorus, the solo part being taken by Miss Lillian McGowan.

THE FORESTRY CONVENTION

Mr. Rowley's Resolution Was Voted Down.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 29.—At the Dominion Forestry Convention, after a warm debate, the only resolution offered was voted down. The resolution of the Rocky Co. Hill, Quebec, seconded by Mr. White, of Pembroke, urged the Federal Government to enact a law against the exportation of saw logs and pulpwood to the United States. Mr. Rowley wanted the Ontario law with reference to timber cut on Crown lands, having to be manufactured within the province, extended to the timber lands of companies and private individuals. Chairman Stewart said the same subject was before the last convention, and the standing committee threw it out as being beyond the scope of the Forestry Association. There was a warm debate on the demand for a vote, which was finally taken, but only seven voted for the resolution.

The men engaged on the sewerage extension were at work all day yesterday, and have completed the work, except for the junction of the large mains with the 12-inch pipe, which will be performed at leisure. An expert is expected to arrive tomorrow from the Rose Regulator Valve Co., and the new system will then be turned on, so as to undergo a test for the pressure and valves. Director Murdoch said yesterday that the new system will be ready for service on Tuesday, but could not say when the formal opening would take place.

Three Fairville Sunday schools, the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian, held a union temperance meeting in the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. In addition to the members of the Sunday school there was such a large attendance of visitors that numbers were turned away. An excellent musical programme was carried out, and a very interesting temperance address was given by J. N. Harvey. The church was prettily decorated with flowers for the occasion.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT ST. JUDE'S CHURCH

There was a large congregation in St. Jude's Episcopal church yesterday morning and the church was prettily decorated with flowers when a dedication service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. P. Scovell, for the handsome stained glass window in memory of Edwin J. Wetmore and Samuel L. Pettibone, for many years wardens of the church. The window was the gift of members of the congregation and of friends of the deceased.

The pastor preached a most impressive sermon taking as his text the words, "Their line is gone out through all the earth and their words to the end of the world."

Rev. Canon Richardson occupied the pulpit at the evening service and gave an interesting discourse from words, "Then Peter said, silver and gold have I none, but such as I have, give I thee."

By throwing stones and sticks at the trees in their endeavor to get chestnuts, three of the boys, Charles Kelley, John Kersey and Walter Sullivan were caught in the act by Policeman Henry and taken to central police station. The four others, Harold McQue, Roy Johnston, Robert Woonotte and Robert Nichol, were apprehended later. The fine was paid for the boys and they were allowed to go.

The accident was very painful, but Mr. Longon is progressing very favorably.

TWO NEW NAMES WILL COME BEFORE THE SYNOD

Bishop Brent, of the Philippines, and Rev. Charles Schofield to be Nominated for the Office of Bishop Coadjutor.

The adjourned session of the Church of England Synod will be held at Fredericton beginning tomorrow afternoon. The only business to come before the synod is the election of a bishop coadjutor, upon which a number of ballots were taken at the regular sitting. During the interval which has elapsed since the delegates were unable to agree, two new names have come up, and it is altogether likely that they will be put in nomination tomorrow. One of these is Rev. Chas. Schofield, who for some years was rector at Hampton, but who is now living in Sydney, Mr. Schofield, he has, however, found that a variation in the vote of the clerical delegates. The other probable candidate is Bishop Brent, who for some years has been stationed in the Philippines. He has, however, found that a variation in the vote of the clerical delegates. There is some question in the minds of the delegates as to the eligibility of Bishop Brent, and this will have to be decided before any ballots can be taken. It is asserted that a clergyman who holds the office of bishop is not eligible for that of bishop coadjutor.

By this evening's train Canon Richardson, A. C. Fairweather, G. O. D. City and Fred Knowlton will go to Fredericton, while the other delegates will go up in the morning. The meeting of the synod will open at half-past two, and probably half an hour will be occupied in the preliminaries so that the first ballot will be taken shortly after three o'clock.

Mr. Pritchard will continue services at the Reformatory—New Members Introduced.

The Evangelical Alliance met this morning in St. Andrew's Church. The following clergymen were present: Rev. A. B. Cobos, S. Howard, P. J. Stackhouse, Frank Bishop, D. Lang, Dr. Sprague, James Crisp, H. McLaughlin, and W. W. McMaisters.

The meeting was opened with a reading of the Scriptures, by the President, Rev. W. S. Pritchard, and prayers by Rev. Appel, Bishop and Crisp.

Rev. W. S. Pritchard announced that he had been holding services at the Boys' Industrial Home, and that Mr. Pierce, the Superintendent, had expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the results. The boys undoubtedly derive much benefit from the services.

Mr. Pritchard was asked to continue the work for the balance of the year. Rev. James Crisp, H. McLaughlin, and W. W. McMaisters were introduced to the Alliance. Each gentleman spoke briefly.

Rev. W. S. Pritchard gave a very interesting and instructive address on his recent trip to the Canadian West. The speaker had spent three months in that country, and spoke of the religious and social conditions existing there.

To enjoy the country to the fullest extent one must not stay in the large cities, but visit the pretty hamlets and then see some scenery which can hardly be outclassed at any place.

No reference was made at this morning's meeting to the resignations of Rev. Prosser and Bamford. The meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock with prayer by the President.

There is no little satisfaction in the chamberlain's office at the splendid totals of the tax receipts up to Saturday night, and it is felt at City Hall that great credit is due to Chamberlain Sandall and his staff for the effective manner in which they have dealt with the work.

Today is the last day on which the five per cent. discount is allowed, and it is expected that a large number of citizens who have left the day of payment as long as possible, will today through the chamberlain's office. The banks also are expected to make their payments today.

There were a large number making payments on Saturday morning, and quite a large number throughout the afternoon. The receipts for the day were $55,733.80, and for the corresponding day last year $46,731.28, an increase over $9,000. The grand total up to Saturday night was $282,577.32 as against $228,243.14 last year, an increase of $54,334.18, which is very much more than would naturally result from the increase in the rates.

The meeting was opened with a reading of the Scriptures, by the President, Rev. W. S. Pritchard, and prayers by Rev. Appel, Bishop and Crisp.

Rev. W. S. Pritchard announced that he had been holding services at the Boys' Industrial Home, and that Mr. Pierce, the Superintendent, had expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the results. The boys undoubtedly derive much benefit from the services.

Mr. Pritchard was asked to continue the work for the balance of the year. Rev. James Crisp, H. McLaughlin, and W. W. McMaisters were introduced to the Alliance. Each gentleman spoke briefly.

Rev. W. S. Pritchard gave a very interesting and instructive address on his recent trip to the Canadian West. The speaker had spent three months in that country, and spoke of the religious and social conditions existing there.

To enjoy the country to the fullest extent one must not stay in the large cities, but visit the pretty hamlets and then see some scenery which can hardly be outclassed at any place.

No reference was made at this morning's meeting to the resignations of Rev. Prosser and Bamford. The meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock with prayer by the President.

There is no little satisfaction in the chamberlain's office at the splendid totals of the tax receipts up to Saturday night, and it is felt at City Hall that great credit is due to Chamberlain Sandall and his staff for the effective manner in which they have dealt with the work.

Today is the last day on which the five per cent. discount is allowed, and it is expected that a large number of citizens who have left the day of payment as long as possible, will today through the chamberlain's office. The banks also are expected to make their payments today.

There were a large number making payments on Saturday morning, and quite a large number throughout the afternoon. The receipts for the day were $55,733.80, and for the corresponding day last year $46,731.28, an increase over $9,000. The grand total up to Saturday night was $282,577.32 as against $228,243.14 last year, an increase of $54,334.18, which is very much more than would naturally result from the increase in the rates.

Fur Lined Coat Specials

Extreme Values as to Lining Tailoring and Collars

MUSKRAT LINED, OTTER COLLAR, $75.00

This Coat is Veritably a Special with us. It is made to our particular order, and until it comes fully up to the standard of excellence we demand is not accepted from the manufacturer. The theory that a dissatisfied buyer is a customer lost is held as true by us every time; therefore no effort is spared to give fullest worth always. This $75 coat is an example. It is put together as scrupulously as if it were going to be a cloth overcoat; with the fashionable centre vent at the back, and other to-date style marks. The cloth is fine English Black Melton; the luxurious collar of natural Otter, and the lining a high grade of Muskrat in good color. Frog or loop fastenings and ample measurements, but not baggy, saggy or untidy as many big fur-lined coats are. It is a very strong feature.

MUSKRAT LINED, OTTER COLLAR, $87.75

Unless a Man Knows How to Buy a fur-lined coat he is very apt to be deceived. Doubtless many can cite instances where misrepresentations—otherwise known as "misunderstandings"—have proved boomerangs to the people who did the selling. We have no fear whatever of "boomerangs" in handling over these specially made winter garments. The $87.75 coat is the maximum of value for the minimum of money. It is a coat many a fur dealer would ask $100 for. The shell is tailored with precision and thoroughness of English Black Melton, the lining being a superior quality of Muskrat. A rich full collar of otter. Other features are Frog or loop fastenings, and vent at the back. The fit is something we guarantee, and it is a most important feature, as correct measurements are often sacrificed in a big fur-lined coat.

Other Fur-lined Coats, $25, $37.50, $50 up to $140. All-Fur Coats, $18 up
