A BUNCH OF JUNK DEALERS FIXED UP IN POLICE COURT

Charge of Theft Against Leslie Singer—A Horse Trading Case Which Became an Assault—Other Matters Dealt With Today.

In the police court this morning Fred Beckman was charged with assaulting George Gillespie. The complainant testified that Beckman assaulted him in the Red Ball barroom on King Square on Dominion Day, then followed him along Charlotte street and again assaulted him, blacking his eye.

Two witnesses claimed that Gillespie was the assailant. Beckman testified that he did not assault Gillespie but Gillespie assaulted him. The case was adjourned until another witness is heard. Leslie Singer, charged with stealing a quantity of brass and lead from McLean and Holt's foundry, pleaded not guilty.

Henry Appleby, an employe at McLean and Holt's foundry, said that yesterday he told Singer to pick up some iron on the dump and take it to the shop. Witness identified some brass in court as the property of McLean and Holt. It had been taken from a closet on the second floor of the building. Yesterday morning defendant called witness's attention to some waste iron dump that had been heaped out on the dump.

Wm. Poskey, a junk dealer, said he saw Singer on the dump Dominion Day and he had some brass and lead. There was seventy-two pounds of brass which he purchased at five cents a pound, and one hundred pounds of lead at one and a half cents a pound.

J. B. M. Baxter represented the prisoner, and in questioning the Jew the latter said he only paid Singer $12 for all the lead and brass. He did not wish to pay for the lead and brass in his shop. Singer wanted $3.35 for the junk but witness only gave him $12 for it. The witness could not sign his name. Myer Birchenok, another Jew junk dealer who could not write his name, gave evidence that he bought some lead from Singer on the dump. He bought 185 pounds of lead for which he gave him $4.75. The previous witness failed to understand the questions put to him and was slow to answer.

The magistrate remarked that he could not understand why licenses were issued to such stupid people who could not read or write, when they are supposed to enter every purchase in their books. The case was adjourned until Monday morning.

George Clarke was charged by a Jew named Bab with assault. The complainant said that they traded horses with the understanding that Clarke would give him ten dollars. Bab said to take it back. The horse did not suit and Clarke refused to take the animal back again. Clarke bit him over the hand with a broom handle.

Clarke was fined ten dollars and said that ten minutes after the trade had been made the Jew came to him and would not let go the horse until Clarke was forced to sit him on the head with a broom, and then turned the horse on him. The case was dismissed.

MAPS NOW PRINTED ON VISITING CARDS

A London idea by which Callers are Given Explicit Directions.

LONDON, July 2.—Still another new fashion in visiting cards is rapidly coming into vogue. This is to print on the back of the cards a plan showing the residence and the neighborhood. It has long ago become usual to have such diagrams printed on note and letter paper, especially for country houses, when the nearest railway station is indicated and the direction in which to travel if a visitor should come by motor car.

The plan is a most useful one in towns where, as frequently happens, a house has an address in a well known square, but is in reality situated in an adjoining street. In the West End are several houses of this kind which, although having an address in Berkeley square, Cavendish square, or Grosvenor square, are, strictly speaking, in a side street.

In many places, too, the houses are numbered in a manner which is puzzling to anyone unfamiliar with the locality. The diagram on the back, however, makes all clear.

TROUBLE AT ONONETTE.

Ononette residents are developing some little excitement over two circumstances which affect the town. In the early spring Mr. Likely's ground a roadway leads to the shore. ## SIXTY MILLION IS THE DEFICIT

Great Shortage in Treasury of United States. Revenue Has Fallen Off—Surplus a Year Ago Was More Than $84,000,000.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—When the fiscal year closes tomorrow there will be a deficit in the United States Treasury of approximately $60,000,000 for the last twelve months. This big deficit is to be of more than $5,000,000, so the real difference between the conditions of the Treasury today and one year ago is expressed by the enormous sum of $144,000,000.

The deficit was not foreseen until after the money panic of last November and December. The country had passed through a pretty severe trial when Secretary Cortelyou sent his annual report to Congress in the first week of December, yet the Secretary was not able to see what was to follow, for he predicted a surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, of $42,000,000.

After that report was written the commercial and financial world began to reap the fruits of the panic. Both imports and exports suffered along with other lines of business and soon it became apparent that the current income of the government was about to suffer a severe impairment. The decrease in Customs collections was especially marked, for the volume of imported merchandise immediately diminished and has not yet recovered. The business affairs of the country had received such a shock that the government's income from internal revenue taxes sharply declined.

In the fiscal year ended Tuesday the receipts from all sources were $175,000,000 less than in the fiscal year 1907, and only a trifle larger than 1906. The disbursements for all purposes were $181,000,000 larger than in the fiscal year 1907. They were larger than in any year since the government began.

With the exception of three years in the Civil War period, the decrease in receipts in the last year has been the largest since the year of last fall and winter. The increase in expenditures in the seven months since the close of the year will be no less than $100,000,000 in excess of the amount which was expended in the corresponding period of the year 1907.

The largest increase in expenditures has been under the head of civil and miscellaneous items. The increase under this heading was $22,700,000. The second largest increase was for the maintenance of the government's establishments, the disbursements being $21,100,000 more than last year. The navy now costs the government approximately twice as much as it did in 1907, when the war with Spain was being fought.

The increase in expenditure on account of public works, which amounted to $17,100,000 in the fiscal year which closed yesterday, was not due entirely to the work on the Panama Canal. Improvements of rivers and harbors called for an expenditure of about $9,000,000 and this despite the fact that there was no regular river and harbor bill calling for expenditures on new projects this year. The continuing contracts, however, are so many now that the annual expenditures are very large.

The expenditures for pensions are increasing to a remarkable degree, although it was predicted only two or three years ago that the limit had been reached. The increase in the last year was $4,600,000. The cause of this is new legislation both in the form of general and private bills. The total expenditure on account of pensions in the last year have been $158,887,587.

In only nine years since the civil war period has there been a deficit in the United States treasury. This year's deficit is larger than in any other since the civil war, except in 1894, when the figures were $29,930,000. In 1898, when the excess of expenditures over receipts was $81,118,889. The deficit in 1898 was due to large expenses of the war with Spain.

CLAN MCKENZIE TO BUILD A BURNS MEMORIAL HALL

Have Started a Fund for This Purpose, Though the Project is Not to be Pushed at Present—St. Andrews May Join in the Movement.

For some time past the Scottish societies of the city in common with others have felt the need of better accommodation than they are able to secure at present. For many years the York theatre was used for their large gatherings, but this theatre is not available now. No other place which they can now get suits their purpose for the various large gatherings which they have from time to time. For the annual ball a large ball room is required, and in connection with this a large concert hall, a convenient dining room with a well equipped kitchen. Some members of the society think that a reading and writing room which could be kept open all the time and used as a club room would add to the usefulness of the societies.

To provide for these needs the Clan McKenzie some time ago formulated a project of erecting a building as a Burns memorial which would fill the needs of the societies. It was felt that the time was not ripe to start an active campaign for money, but it was decided to start a fund which could be added to from time to time. A start was made with a bequest of forty dollars left for this purpose by the late Robert Milligan.

The proceeds of the clan's very successful picnic on July 1, were added to the fund which now with the original bequest, added interest, and the picnic contribution amount to about one hundred and seventy-five dollars. So far the Clan McKenzie has handled the matter by themselves, but some of the members feel that it might be advisable now to communicate with the St. Andrew's Society and endeavor to enlist their support, with the idea of making such a building the headquarters for all Scotchmen in the city with perhaps separate quarters for the different orders. With the support of both societies it is possible that immediate steps might be taken to advance the project.

Four specialists have passed through carrying the returning warriors. The first arrived at 1:15 this morning and left at 2:30, the next came in at 2:50 and got away at 2:15. Another arrived at 10 this morning and left at 10:30, and the last of the specialists got in at 11:30 this morning and went right through.

CRANE—BOAT.

A pretty wedding took place this morning at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Wellington Camp, when Gideon Vernon Crane, of Springdale, Kings County, N. B., was united in marriage to Miss May Boyd, of Penobscot, and formerly of Scotland. Improvements of rivers and harbors called for an expenditure of about $9,000,000 and this despite the fact that there was no regular river and harbor bill calling for expenditures on new projects this year. ## MODERN CRUSOES FOUND ON ISLAND

Starving Sailors Picked Up by British Warship. Had Needles Made of Pocket Knives and Knives of Cask Hooks—Had Given Up All Hope.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 3.—While sending a farewell message, fastened in a quill to an albatross' neck, one of a series of daily messages recording briefly the story of the wreck on Antipodes Island of the French barque President Paix Fauré, 22 starving French sailors were rescued by the British warship Pegasus and brought to Sydney shortly before the sailing of the Marama, which arrived today. The castaways, who lived a Crusoe life, fashioning their tools in the same resourceful way as the maroon of Juan Fernandez scrambled ashore on Antipodes Island, south of New Zealand and near where the survivors of the British bark Dundolar were rescued before, after their vessel drove ashore during March last. The men had given up hope of rescue when the British warship was sighted. They had been on short rations for some time. They had needles made of blades of pocket knives, dinner knives made from an iron hoop torn from a cask washed from the wreck, and spoons from bent nails, spoons from shells, hair combs from bush thorns, etc.

The Union Depot has been silenced during last night and this morning by the troops returning from Sussex. Camp was broken last night and by sunrise there will be no one left except those whose duty it is to clear up after the others.

Four specialists have passed through carrying the returning warriors. The first arrived at 1:15 this morning and left at 2:30, the next came in at 2:50 and got away at 2:15. ## BRITAIN OR JAPAN TO BUY WARSHIPS

The New Vessels Will Not Fly the Brazilian Flag.

LONDON, July 3.—The present Brazilian programme has been modified from that of 1900, owing to the advent of the Dreadnought, and there are actually in hand three battleships of 18,000 tons; two cruiser coats, of 3,000 tons; ten destroyers, of 700 tons; ten torpedo boats, of 120 tons, and five submarines.

The third battleship will be laid down as soon as the Minas Geraes, now building at Elswick, is off the slip. In distribution of guns, in armor protection, in speed and in displacement the ships are identical with the latest building for the Japanese navy.

On the other hand, while the Japanese have adopted the turbine and installed the Mitsubishi, or Belleville, boilers in their ships, these vessels are still reciprocating engines and Bothwick boilers. They are designed by J. R. Perrett, of Glasgow.

The cruisers are to be fast ships of the British Hood type, and in this connection it is to be noted that they are now in contemplation to build four training ships, which will be in reality protected cruisers closely resembling the other two. Their armament will be ten 4.7 inch and eight six-inch guns; their speed will be about twenty-six knots.

TWO BOUGHT BY JAPAN.
Of the submarines it is said two are already completed and have been disposed of to Japan.

As regards the destination of the battleships, one thing seems regarded as certain—that they will not leave here under the Brazilian ensign and that they will not pass to any power likely to be hostile to Great Britain. They are not required nor desired for the British navy, but it is generally stated that if a friend of Great Britain does not buy them Great Britain will not be Russia, which has not yet succeeded in paying for the Kuruin, which fine cruiser is for sale. They will not, it is obvious, be allowed to go to Germany. They differ too much from the Italian design to be destined for Italy. A process of exclusion, therefore, it seems obvious that their destination is with us or Japan.

SEVENTY MILLION IS THE DEFICIT

Great Shortage in Treasury of United States. Revenue Has Fallen Off—Surplus a Year Ago Was More Than $84,000,000.

ARMED POSSE SCOURS COUNTRY AROUND NEW DENMARK FOR FOUR ITALIANS WHO MURDERED COMRADE—INQUEST TONIGHT

Four Italians, belonging to the execution crew of Contractor McDonald of the Grand Trunk Pacific, believed to have been responsible for the death of one of their comrades and for serious injuries received by another during a riot near New Denmark, Victoria County, about eleven o'clock Thursday night, were being scoured for by a posse of men today. The posse are heavily armed and will undoubtedly show fight when overtaken. It is thought at New Denmark that the man may have gone in the direction of St. Leonard or some point on the route of the new International Railway. Every effort will be made to run them down today. The first report was to the effect that the man did the shooting, but now it is supposed that it was an organized hold-up by four Italians of four other Italians, all of whom were interested in the riot on their knees and they all opened fire at once. After one man had been killed and one wounded the posse started to their heels. It is believed that one of the fugitives is slightly wounded. The murdered man's name is not known. The posse is expected to recover. A posse of men will be held at New Denmark this evening.

MANY WOMEN AND GIRLS USING OPIUM Mackenzie King Tells Some Startling Facts Habit Not Confined to Chinese by Any Means, He Says

OTTAWA, July 3.—In a supplementary report from a Frank King, Mackenzie King told some startling facts on the need for suppression of the opium traffic in Canada. He presented to parliament tonight, attention is called to a letter received from the Anti-Opium League, composed of the Chinese residents of British Columbia, in which the fact is noted that on the request of Sir Wilfrid Laurier a beginning had been made by the Rev. Dr. Glover in a movement to suppress the use of the drug in Canada. Mr. King stated that after making investigation of the extent to which opium was manufactured and used in British Columbia he had concluded that the amount consumed in Canada would, if generally known, appal the ordinary citizen who is inclined to believe the habit is confined to the Chinese. "The Chinese," he says in the report, "with whom I conversed on the subject assured me that almost as much opium was sold to white people as to Chinese, and that the habit of opium smoking was making headway not only among white men and boys, but also among women and girls."

JUDGE SENDS MARTIN DOWN UP FOR TRIAL

Man is Accused of Attempting to Commit Indecent Assault Martin Downs, who was arrested a week ago charged with attempted indecent assault on Mrs. Fredericks of Misses, was brought before Judge Ritchie yesterday afternoon for a preliminary hearing. The prisoner is alleged to have entered the room in which Mrs. Fredericks was sitting, and after a few words tried to assault her. For some time the man had Mrs. Fredericks in his grasp, she finally freed herself and ran to her room. Downs was working at the Misses' house in the morning. He was not acquainted with either Fredericks or his wife. D. B. Ritchie acted for the defendant and Dr. MacIntyre for the prosecution. Downs was committed for trial at the next session of the county court.

MAINE FISHERMAN MURDERED LAST NIGHT

While Going From the Shore to His House He Was Attacked by Two Men. ROCKLAND, Me., July 3.—William E. Finkham, of Port Clyde, a village in Maine, was about 40 years old and was engaged in lobster fishing. In going to his home from the shore he had to pass through a place of woods, a distance of about sixty yards from his house. Two boys, who saw him enter the woods, heard cries and later saw two men who in the dusk they were unable to recognize running away from the place. The boys found Finkham lying on the ground unconscious and with his face covered with blood from wounds in his head. He had entered Mr. Fredericks' house in the morning. County Attorney Philip Harris will go to Port Clyde tomorrow to investigate the case. Finkham leaves a widow and four small children.

"UNCLE REMUS" HARRIS IS DEAD IN GEORGIA

ATLANTA, Ga., July 3.—Joel Chandler Harris, familiarly known as "Uncle Remus," and an author of note, died at his home in a suburb of this city tonight. Mr. Harris, whose health had not been good for some time, had only been confined to his bed for about ten days, suffering from complications of the liver. Complications set in and yesterday he grew rapidly worse and continued to sink until the early city tonight. Mr. Harris was born in Eatonton, Ga., in 1848. It was while he was a student at Atlanta University that his tales, "Stories by Uncle Remus" first attracted attention. In 1890 Mr. Harris retired from active journalism and until last year when he became editor and proprietor of "Uncle Remus" magazine, spent most of his time at his suburban home. He is survived by a widow, four sons and two daughters.

PROF. MARVIN WILL AGAIN GO NORTH WITH PEARY

NEW YORK, July 3.—Professor Ross G. Marvin, of Cornell University, today signed for three years' service under Commander Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer. Professor Marvin was naturalist of the Peary expedition on the last trip. He came to this city last night to say good-bye to the explorer and the sailing master of the Roosevelt, and at the last moment changed his mind and signed for the trip which begins Monday. Professor D. D. McMillan, of Worcester, has taken Professor Marvin's place as naturalist of the expedition and will sail in that capacity, despite Professor Marvin's decision to accompany the expedition. He is a graduate of Bowdoin, Peary's alma mater. His assistant will be George Borup, of Yale.

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER IN PARAGUAYAN REVOLUTION

Reports Received Via Formosa Indicate That Hundreds Have Been Killed. BUENOS AIRES, July 3.—The latest news received from Formosa, in the northeastern part of Argentina, says there has been sanguinary fighting in the streets of Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, where a revolution is said to have broken out recently and that hundreds of persons have been killed or wounded. Edward C. O'Brien, the United States Minister to Paraguay and Uruguay, and Harry B. Cawley, its secretary of legation, both are in Asuncion. Communication by telegraph and telephone between Asuncion has been cut and consequently there are conflicting rumors of a sensational character current here.

FRENCH CHAMBER DISCUSSES ABOLITION OF DEATH PENALTY

PARIS, July 3.—There was a lively debate in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon on the bill to maintain capital punishment in France. M. Fallot argued that only the guillotine would stay the arm of the assassin. He cited the United States, England, Germany as progressive countries giving evidence of the necessity of maintaining this form of punishment. The abolition of the death penalty was defended by Mr. Rehnach, who declared that the increase in crimes was due to alcoholism and that social progress demanded that a feeling of pity should replace that of vengeance.

GOT TWO YEARS FOR SHOOTING AT BALLOON

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., July 3.—For shooting at Charles J. Olden's balloon Boston, while it was over Brattleboro on the evening of June 19, Wm. Murphy was today sentenced to not more than two years and not less than six months in the House of Correction at Rutland. Chas. Rigman, who was arrested with Murphy, was found not guilty and was discharged upon recommendation of State's Attorney Robert C. Bacon. The hearing was held late this afternoon before Judge Ernest W. Gibson in the Municipal Court. Murphy's counsel endeavored to show that Murphy, who fired two shots at the balloon, supposed it to be a toy but the State's attorney insisted that this claim was untenable and that Murphy's act was a wilful one committed from pure recklessness and was to be compared with the mischievous turning of switches in front of trains.

SMALL BLAZE IN TRINITY

Trinity church was the scene of another incident fire last night. This time the blaze broke out in the basement near the German street entrance, but was subdued before much damage was done. The alarm sounded at 7:30, and soon several hundred people hurried to the front of the church. Thick volumes of smoke were issuing from the basement windows. Two small boys had first seen the smoke and hurried to give the alarm, and when the firemen arrived considerable of the woodwork was on fire. As far as could be learned the fire was due to a short circuit wire coming in contact with the gas pipe. The fire was extinguished and the basement ignited set fire to the boards in the wall. After the water was turned on the fire lasted only a few minutes and practically little damage was sustained.

AN EFFECTIVE RETORT

The youngest son of Charles Dickens, Edward Bulwer Lytton Dickens, is a member of parliament in Australia. Not long ago in the course of a speech he was frequently interrupted by a snappish member named Willis. "Mr. Speaker," said Mr. Dickens, "it may be remembered by some present that my father coined an expression which reversed the phrase and said, 'Willis is barking!' The circumstances today are such that I am strongly tempted to reverse the phrase and say, 'Willis is barking!'" The retort was effective. "Still trying to muster up courage to propose to the girl, are you, Algy? Don't be a damn!" "Damn boy, I can't be a damn, don't you know, she says I'm a lobster."

THESE FISH TALES NEED NO SALT. In the small streams at the foot of the hills of Penang in Siam there abounds a small fish (Beta pugnax) which the natives call pliant.

INGENUOUS INVENTOR. One of the common fishes found in the Alaskan streams tributary to Bering Sea is the blackfish. The natives catch enormous quantities of these through the ice and after they have laid on the ice long enough to be frozen solid, store them in large baskets.

ANTICS OF FISH. In June, 1906, the farmers living along Benson Creek, Kentucky, were much surprised at the antics of the heretofore tame fishes found in the creek. The fish were acting strangely on the surface, whence they could be lifted with the hand without any effort at escape on their part, or else were leaping playfully out of the stream in what one of the observers termed a game at tag.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

The fourth Olympiad which opens this month near London promises, according to the present outlook, to be the greatest athletic meet of modern times. King Edward has personally interested himself in the affair in the hope of making it the best yet held under the auspices of the International Olympic Movement.

The original intention of the International Association was to confine the contests to those which are known to have been held in ancient Greece, but it was very quickly seen that if the games were to prove successful they must be modernized in such a way as to command popular support.

Historians differ slightly as to the origin of the Olympic games. The first of which any record exists were those at the funeral of Patroclus, which formed the subject of the twenty-third Iliad. The Achaeans founded Pisa and combined worship of Jupiter with local cult of their own ancestor Pelops.

When I see young people flirting, playing at love, if they are both of a kind, it does not matter if they do get their wings singed, these silly moths who play with the flame of love, they know nothing of such arts and one is a past master, then I think of the two old wretches torturing the kitten "Just for fun."

ter fortune for the weaker country came during the reign of Pheidon, when Pisa alone governed the fifth Olympiad. Pisa by Sparta and Elis put an end to the rivalry, and the Elisians for some time thereafter remained in supreme control. The rise of Sparta brought another change, and the strong position held by that country in the management of the games soon became a commanding one.

There is not yet a college for the study of medicine in China, but two are now under way—one at Singapore and the other at Shanghai. Anyone can proclaim himself to be the medicine man of his district. At times he is required to do some surgery, which is very crude and primitive, for the barber is still the recognized man for all ills.

It is the custom for a Chinaman to visit his barber every week to have a general overhauling. First, the head and face are shaved, second, the ears are scraped and cleaned with a small brush made of duck's hair, third, the eyelids and lower eyelids are scraped with a dull-edged knife, and then the hair brush, of salt solution.

Monday night the company open their engagement here in "Northern Lights," the greatest military drama ever staged. Mr. Selman will play "Switwid," and Eugene O'Neil, late of the B. Mansell Co. will be cast for "Florence Sherwood."

Once there was a struggling young author who was blessed with many friends, all of whom told him he was the coming great writer of the country, says Success Magazine.

Rome has many English visitors just now. One English lady, interested in the past, who delivered the wares of the pastry cooks, said to a little fellow who had brought her some cakes: "Ah! I suppose you get the benefit of these little cakes yourself sometimes?"

First Man (proudly)—There was a time, sir, when I rode in my own carriage. Second Man—When your mother pushed it, I presume.

And the butcher's boy shut it. The butcher's boy who had called to deliver a parcel thoughtlessly left the garden gate open, and the seven-year-old ruler of the house called after him to come back and shut it.

THE CHINESE DOCTOR AND HIS PILLS.

An ordinary native Chinese doctor Wong-Kik-Che, practicing centrally among his own countrymen, was reputed to have made extraordinary cures with two or three American patients and twenty-five native patients were waiting their turn when I paid him a visit.

THE TREATMENT. After going through the usual examination, which is a form of military inspection, Dr. Wong-Kik-Che will diagnose the case, and treat it, unless a devil happens to jump down the patient's throat. If this has happened the doctor can do the patient no good until he promises to set out 100 firecrackers to drive the devil away from his body and make a daily visit to the post-house.

CHANGING A COWARD. What a Chinese pill may consist of: (1) Spotted rhinoceros horn. It is said that the ordinary variety is of little value, but the spotted horn is a wonderful cure for intestinal troubles at least so says Dr. Tik. Tiger bones, when ground to a powder and mixed with Chinese wine, make a great blood tonic. (2) Old deer horns are boiled down to make the medicinal juice which binds the dry ingredients composing the average Chinese pills.

MET TEDDY BEARS AND GOT ARRESTED

But Montreal Magistrate Let Zanesville, Ohio, Man Go Free

MONTREAL, July 3.—Charles H. Shaw of Zanesville, Ohio, was today set at liberty by the police magistrate after being detained for nine days on the complaint of Charlotte Webster, a young woman, who declared that he had promised to marry her and was intending to leave the country for the purpose of evading his promise. Shaw's story was that he had been taken to the residence of the young woman's mother by a friend named Bayne, who wanted to introduce him to the Teddy Bears, as he designated the girl and her sister. There was considerable wine consumed at a supper that followed, and Shaw does not remember any promise of marriage. Anyhow he couldn't marry the girl, as he was already a married man. The magistrate accepted his story.

ORANGEMEN TO HAVE BIG CELEBRATION

Horse's Legs Cut by Shunting Engine in Moncton—Grant to Band

MONTCTON, N. B., July 3.—The Orangemen of Westmorland are preparing for a big celebration of the twelfth at Petticoat. As the twelfth comes on Sunday the walk will be held on the preceding day. A special train will be run from Sackville. The Moncton Orangemen will attend in large numbers and take the Orange band with them. The Citizens' Band will receive a grant of three hundred dollars for the series of fifteen outdoor concerts to be given during the summer. There is a report to the effect that the I. C. R. division, formerly under the jurisdiction of the late G. M. Jarvis will be divided into two districts, the dividing line to be Springhill Junction. In this event J. T. Hallisey, who is acting district superintendent, and H. B. Fleming, chief train dispatcher here, would be appointed to different divisions. A house belonging to the Wallberg Company was killed at the new I. C. R. shops yesterday. The scraper being hauled by the horse was struck by a shunting engine and the animal hauled beneath the trucks. Its legs were cut off.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The United States battleship New Hampshire arrived in this port today from Colon.

QUEEN WHO IS A GREAT CLIMBER

Queen Helena of Italy is very fond of children, so fond, indeed, that she is called the "Babies' Queen," and she has founded several creches in Rome. Gossip says that while she was still a mere child a gipsy foretold that she would be chosen to share one of the greatest thrones in Europe. If the Sybil had condensed to be a little more explicit, Prince Nicholas of Montenegro might have had his second daughter taught Italian in her school-days. For want of such guidance, he only stipulated that she should learn the tongues of Russia, Germany and France, as did her sisters—Melitta, who became the Grand Duchess Paul of Russia, and Stana Duchess of Leuchtenberg. As a girl, the dark-eyed Princess of Montenegro was intended by the powers that be to become the wife of the Czar, but Czar and Princess, though they liked each other, could not fall in love according to orders, so the match was never made. At the funeral of Alexander III. in 1894 the Princess met the King of Italy.

AMUSEMENTS. COLE BROS. CIRCUS. Monday is Circus Day in St. John, and incidentally the only circus day of the season, for Cole Brothers' Circus will be the only show to visit New Brunswick this year. Two performances will be given at the Shamrock baseball grounds, and the circus will spend the Sabbath here, arriving from Moncton some time tomorrow, the exact time of arrival being indefinite because of the long run. However, but little work will be done on the Sabbath, because of the stringent rule observed by the management in making the Sabbath a day of rest as far as possible. Ten acres of water-proof canvas will be erected on Monday morning, and the street parade will be the opening feature of the day. A wonderful system is introduced in this parade, and one frail little woman is the custodian of all the paraphernalia used in the parade. Miss Sarah Forbes is responsible for every inch of gold braid, every uniform, each piece of gilded trappings used on the animals—in fact everything used in the parade comes under her personal supervision. Each rider receives his or her costume and trappings from Miss Forbes and is directly responsible for them until the procession returns to the grounds. Then they are handed back and checked. In the afternoon the daily procession is begun, for the circus management fully believes that "a stitch in time saves nine," and for that reason three sewing machines and a wagon stocked with yards of cloth, gold braid, buttons and thread are carried with the aggregation. This is Miss Forbes' domain and here all the work of repairing is done. The department is a never-failing source of interest to the ladies, and claims its audience of spectators in every town and city visited. Two band concerts, one in the afternoon and again in the evening, are given before the performances. Prof. Tinney's combination of forty soloists provide the musical entertainment, and are famed throughout Canada because of the honor bestowed upon them by the Governor General two years ago. Each member received a letter from His Excellency, while Prof. Tinney himself was decorated for the manner in which he conducted and arranged a selection including the songs of Britain and Canada. The performances on Monday commence at 2 and 3 o'clock, but the doors are opened an hour earlier to permit spectators to view the managerie, ethnological congress and listen to the band concert.

BIG NICKEL MATINEE TODAY. This is children's day at the Nickel again and the little ones will be out bright and early after dinner. A rattling good show awaits them too, headed by the new "Thos. A. Edison novelty," "Curious Mr. Curio," and backed up by the Pathe comedies "On Bad Terms With the Janitor" and "An Interrupted Romance." Miss Foley will conclude her great success, "Sweet Adeline," and Mr. Cairns' latest hit, "Eileen My Own," will be sung for the last time today. This evening the same show will be put on, and during the latter part of the evening for the information of those men who like to hear the latest sporting news the Nickel will furnish special wire bulletins of the Gans-Nelson fight in Nova Scotia which commences in the afternoon. This is the boxing event of the year and great interest is being evinced in its outcome. The bulletins will give the progress of the bout by rounds.

NEW SINGERS AT THE UNIQUE. Beginning Monday next two new singers will be heard at the Unique—Miss A. Connor, mezzo soprano of London, Ontario, will sing "Two Blue Eyes," Mr. Will Harrison, baritone, of Halifax will be heard in the latest illustrated songs. The pictures today are above the average, and those who did not see them yesterday should see them either this afternoon or evening. The feature film is entitled "The Old, Old Story," and tells in few words the story of woman's faith and love and the delectableness of man. Hunting Teddy Bears, this is a roasting comedy and shows what happened to a man who boasted of his hunting prowess to his friends. The other pictures, Nocturnal Thieves, is one of the best dramatic comedies on the road. Don't forget that this is the best ventilated house in the city. It is cooler in the Unique than on the street.

"I have never seen him contribute a cent," says the minister. "He has to get his trousers pressed."

BUSTER BROWN AT THE PRINCESS. Do not forget that this will be the last opportunity to see Buster Brown and his dog Tige at the Princess. During the past week they have played to a full house at every show and it is safe to predict a record business today. This afternoon after the show Buster will hold a reception on the stage for ladies and children to whom all are invited. At this matinee souvenir photos of Buster will be given to especially good and are brand new. A Dorr will be heard in the latest illustrated songs. HAPPY HALF HOUR. The new programme at the Happy Half Hour consists of as is usual at this house all new pictures. The shooting of the King of Italy and the Emperor of Germany, taken a few weeks ago at Naples, shows the elaborate preparations that are made when royalty meet in Europe. One of the best dramatic pictures ever seen here is "Eileen My Own." The story is a pathetic one and the acting and

When Day is Done

By W. F. BRYAN.

(Copyrighted, 1908, by M. M. Cunningham.)

Somewhere at the other end of the room, a song clanged out of its harsh, brassy notes, and soon the hum of industry and the clatter of machinery gave way to the chatter of tongues as the operatives shut off the power from their machines.

As they gathered about the inspection desk to turn in their day's work, the great shafts overhead ceased their whirling and the sharp tune they had sung all day ended in a descending scale as the momentum died out. The day's work was done.

Now the girls were hurrying toward the washroom, a screened compartment, supplied with an iron sink, cakes of yellow soap cut to convenient size and a few roller towels of coarse cotton cloth. There was room for but a dozen at the sink, and, urged by the waiting line, the girls cut the ablutions scant and perfunctory.

When they had changed their working clothes for cheap and garish street finery, they descended in the elevator to the street where the men employees were waiting for the favored few. Ida Clark hurriedly rinsed her hands and slipped on her worn, dark skirt and frayed jacket. It was growing too warm for a coat, but she could not afford a new waist just now, and there were patches in the elbows of the old one. The jacket, which had been saved on the edges, which now defied further binding.

For more than a year she had followed the regular factory routine, yet she had never become accustomed to this rush and turmoil of the streets when the mountainous buildings suddenly disgorged their hordes of workers into the narrow canyons below.

The hurrying armies, fighting their way east, west, north and south, thrived her and she found herself caught in the tide bound for her home, she gave a little sigh of relief. It would be all right until the corner was reached, when the cross-current of humanity again would be encountered. She still dreaded the effect of the busy city life. She thought of the quiet country lanes of home, and how the sun was shining across the meadows just turning green under the warming sun.

Here had been great hopes when she had left the country for the city. She had planned to study shorthand and typewriting while she supported her self as a lighted clerical work. But there had been no office vacancies, and her fast vanishing funds had forced her to have recourse to the factory, where her back was soon wreathed and strained and her fingers twisted and tired from handling the heavy material she forced through the speeding machines.

It was vastly different from the machine exacted at home, for the factory exacted the utmost of her strength, human or iron, while a sharp-eyed foreman provided up and down the aisle, and she could not give up. She blushed as she thought of that going back meant. She had come to the idea of her earning her own way.

Some unfortunate twist of his words had given Ida the belief that he offered himself not only because she was left alone in the world, because of pity for her condition. She was too proud to admit her love when he did not confess his own affection. Peering, looking only on the practical side of the matter, had never dreamed that he had been refused because of her belief that he did not love her. He had supposed that, of course, she knew how dearly he cared for her and he had not thought it necessary to tell the oft-told tale. So he had allowed her to go.

Ida had not lost her fresh coloring, in spite of her hardships, and, to the fear of the great masses of men and women homeward bound, was added the dread of an encounter with one of the human brutes who presume their attentions will be welcome to factory girls because they dress well.

More than once she had felt a hand placed familiarly upon her arm or had hurried on to escape the running fire of talk from a man who had dropped into step beside her and had persisted until a policeman came in sight. Tonight Ida was frankly homesick. There was something in the breath of spring, tainted though it was by the reek of pavements and the noisome smoke of the city.

Back in the old days, when home was a home and not a hole in the wall, when she trod green earth and not the hard stones of the pavement, this was the hour she liked the best, when the day was done and the evening shadows changed into the purple night. It was not often that Ida let herself get homesick, for those who would work by day must not cry all the night, but with this subtle suggestion of home in the air and in the sky the tears welled into her eyes. The dreaded crossing, with its roar of traffic and its rush of humanity, was passed successfully, and Ida did not notice that a man turned out of the counter-current and hurried after her as rapidly as he was able.

Not until a hand closed upon her arm did she realize that she had been followed. She wrenched herself loose and hurried ahead, but a second time the hand fell upon her arm and she turned with a little cry.

"Please let me go," she said, while the tears blinded her eyes. "Not much," was the triumphant answer. "I've spent too much time looking for you to let you go now that I have found you."

With a quick movement of her hand, she dashed the tears from her eyes and looked up into the laughing face. It was not a handsome face, the sun had burned the skin to a deep brown and the brow was wrinkled by lines of care, while the high cheek bones and the hollows of the cheeks gave to the face a ruggedness redeemed only by the kindly smile of the sensitive mouth and the twinkle in the clear gray eyes, but to Ida it was the face in all the world she most desired to see.

"Is it really you, Jack?" she asked, wonderingly. "Or is it some dream?" "I guess it's me—unless I've been changed in the last half hour," declared Deering as he smiled down into the upturned face, and his eyes filled with pity, as he noted the signs of care that marked it. "I've been looking all over for you. You never wrote back home and I just couldn't stand it any longer. I left Jethro to do the plowing and planting and I came down to look for you. It was a hard job, but I found you."

"And now that you've seen me, I suppose that you'll be content to go back to the planting," suggested Ida. "If you'll come with me," agreed Deering. "If you won't, I'll settle down here, for I love you too much, dear, to let you run away from me again."

"You love me?" she asked wonderingly. "Of course," was the prompt response. "There isn't a man, woman or child in Carletonville that don't know that."

"You never told me," she reminded. "You wanted to marry me because I needed some one to take care of me." "Did I have to tell you that?" he asked in astonishment. "I supposed you knew."

"A woman likes to be told," explained Ida. "The next time you see a woman to marry you, begin by telling her that you love her; not by explaining that you want to keep her out of the poor house."

"I love you," said Deering promptly. "Now will you marry me? We can be married tonight and start for home by the midnight train. That will get us in tomorrow just as the day is done."

"As the day is done," sighed Ida, happily. For her nightmare day of privation was done and a purple twilight of peace was at hand. The spring breeze was still tainted with the reek of pavements, but for her it was blown in garlands of apple blossoms of the orchards at home.

Some unfortunate twist of his words had given Ida the belief that he offered himself not only because she was left alone in the world, because of pity for her condition. She was too proud to admit her love when he did not confess his own affection.

Peering, looking only on the practical side of the matter, had never dreamed that he had been refused because of her belief that he did not love her. He had supposed that, of course, she knew how dearly he cared for her and he had not thought it necessary to tell the oft-told tale. So he had allowed her to go.

Ida had not lost her fresh coloring, in spite of her hardships, and, to the fear of the great masses of men and women homeward bound, was added the dread of an encounter with one of the human brutes who presume their attentions will be welcome to factory girls because they dress well.

SEVEN KILLED IN FIREWORKS EXPLOSION

Two Others Received Fatal Injuries

Fully Thirty More Were Severely Hurt—How Accident Occurred

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—Seven persons were killed, at least two others were fatally injured, fully thirty more were severely hurt, as the result of a fire in S. S. Krage's five and ten cent store on Ontario street today. The fire followed an explosion of fireworks on display in the store. The exact cause of the explosion has not been determined. A woman who was at the fireworks counter said the stock was ignited by sparks from a device which was being demonstrated to her by a clerk. "Fire Chief" Wallace and the store manager were of the opinion that the pieces were ignited by an arc light.

Immediately following the explosion an alarm of fire was sounded and a panic seized the hundreds of clerks and shoppers. A mad rush was made for the doors and windows. Many jumped from the second and third floors. The store, which is located near the corner in the downtown districts, was well filled with shoppers, mostly women and children. Practically all of the clerks were young girls. Although the explosion of the fireworks caused considerable damage, the real danger did not occur until someone shouted "fire."

For an instant a hush came over the crowd. Then, crazed by the possibility of injury or death, all on the main floor rushed for the front and rear doors. The front doorway soon was jammed, the rear door was too small for all who sought safety there and the rear windows were closed with iron bars.

Several women forced to the rear of the store by the approaching flames finally sought safety under a counter between their bodies and the main floor. The front doorway was jammed, the rear door was too small for all who sought safety there and the rear windows were closed with iron bars.

While the panic upon the main floor was in progress the flames from the fireworks counter rapidly advanced to other parts of the store. The smoke and flames were whipped up the stairs ways to the second and third floors. There another frenzied crowd of clerks and shoppers was endeavoring to find means of escape by way of the stairs and were frustrated by the suffocating smoke. The elevator made the sixth victim, the four-year son of Mrs. George Parler, was knocked to the floor in the first panic. There he lay unconscious and trapped upon, until suffocated by smoke.

Hundreds of persons were near or in front of the store at the time of the explosion. Terrified shoppers rushed out of the front door to the sidewalk. Women and children appeared in the upper windows shouting and pleading for help. Hysterical with fright, some hurled themselves to the sidewalk. In this manner many were severely injured. When one or two had thus faced death it stamped the others upon the upper window ledges and they, too, followed.

EDMUNDSTON MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

EDMUNDSTON, July 3.—L. Bergeron, aged fifty years, committed suicide here tonight by jumping from the Mill bridge. About two weeks ago Mrs. Bergeron died and since that time her husband, who was an employe of James Murphy's mill, has been somewhat despondent. During the last day or two the unfortunate man has been out of his mind. Three children survive.

APPEAL WAS DISMISSED

TORONTO, July 3.—Justice Oster dismissed appeal of John C. McLean, defeated Conservative in Stormont, growing out of recount. The returning officers left counterefforts on the ballots in two divisions and the appeal against these ballots being counted. They gave McLean, Liberal, his majority.

MAD DOG AT LARGE

TORONTO, July 3.—A mad dog is at large in Norfolk county and the people are in terror for the reason. The animal bit three cows near Villa Nova and started off for Simcoe town. Several other cows and pigs were bitten by the same dog and all have died from unmistakable hydrophobia. The dog has so far eluded pursuit.

HAS AUDITED BOOKS

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 3.—Rev. E. E. Annard, who for some months occupied the pulpit at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in this city, has accepted the pastorate of a church at Pimnas, Manitoba. Mr. Miller, who has been auditing the books of the Crown Land Department here for some weeks past, has returned to his home in Ontario and will report will be forwarded to the Surveyor General at a later date.

New Canadian Northern Line

TORONTO, July 3.—The Canadian Northern line between Parry Sound and Sudbury will be opened tomorrow. This is an important link in the Hudson Bay line from Ontario and also will give Toronto another connection with the West.

The game of ball on the Every Day Club grounds last evening resulted in a victory for the Fortlands over the Exmouths by a score of 6-3. The game was an interesting one and was enjoyed by all. Michel was in the box for the Ex-mouths and when wild at times. Hipwell got some pess balls. While the strange pitcher was only touched for three hits, these were disastrous for the losers, as Carson, who could not hold first down on account of illness, landed a hit over the right field fence for a home run in the last inning.

SURVEY OF PROPOSED OTTAWA AND GEORGIAN BAY SHIP CANAL

OTTAWA, Ont., July 3.—The report of the survey of the proposed Ottawa and Georgian Bay ship canal is now ready for presentation to parliament and will be laid on the table of the House tomorrow. The report of the survey, which has been a most thorough and accurate one, gives a detailed estimate of the cost of constructing a 22 foot canal, which is placed at three to four million dollars by one estimate, and a hundred million dollars for another. The survey has cost about $50,000 and represents four years' work by engineers. The above estimates do not include land damages. The route would be about 400 miles long and would develop a million horse power.

THOUSAND MEN WORKING ON CORNWALL CANAL

CORNWALL, Ont., July 3.—A thousand men working in three shifts have built a five hundred foot dyke around the break in the Cornwall canal and tomorrow morning will commence work on the canal to admit two dredges and a fleet of scoops. These five thousand yards of earth will be excavated, and it is expected that this will be completed by July 19th and the canal once more re-opened for traffic.

HOTEL RATES FOR IMMIGRANTS

OTTAWA, July 3.—Provisions in the immigration act have been promulgated for Ottawa, Toronto, Quebec, Montreal, St. John, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria, requiring hotel and boarding house keepers who receive immigrants to post their rates for board by the day and week, and providing there shall not be a lien on the rates, there is a penalty of five dollars for failing to post the scale of prices, and from five to twenty dollars for overcharging.

GILLETTS PERFUMED LYE

Put a strong glass on the label and examine it closely every time. Always look for the name "Gillett's."

Like all good articles, which are extensively advertised, Gillett's Lye is frequently and very closely imitated. In some instances the imitators have actually copied directions and other printed matter from our label word for word. Be wise, and refuse to purchase imitation articles for they are never satisfactory.

Insist On Getting Gillett's Lye

and decline to accept anything that looks to be an imitation or that is represented to be "just as good" or "better," or "the same thing." In our experience of over fifty years in business we have never known of an imitation article that has been a success, for imitators are not reliable people. At the best the "just as good" kinds are only trashy imitations, so decline them with thanks every time.

A WISE RULE FOR DOMESTIC HAPPINESS

(By William Jennings Bryan, Democratic Candidate for the Presidency of the United States.)

Only a few begin life with an inheritance so large as to make economy unnecessary. With the vast majority of young men and young women the life plan includes the gradual accumulation of a fortune. If the word "gradual" is objected to, it is enough to say that, as a rule, the accumulation is gradual, even though the imagination may picture a rapid rise. And gradual accumulation is better, after all, than getting rich in haste. "That which comes easy goes away." We need the discipline that struggle brings. Of course, some young men will marry rich, and busy themselves with the care of the wife's property; while some young women will marry a fortune and be relieved (if relief it can be called) of the necessity for careful saving. But rules are made for the multitude rather than for the exceptions, and to the multitude long years of patient self-denial and rigid restraint on expenditures precede the years spent on "Easy Street."

by lucky ventures retrieve what he has spent. But such a course has in it all the elements of a lottery, and usually brings in its train the ruin that overtakes the gambler. It is not for the gambler or for those who would play at hazard that these lines are written.

The honest, well-meaning young man who is willing to give to society a service equal in value to the reward which he asks, and the real helpmate who becomes his wife because she is willing to share his sorrows as well as his joys, his trials as well as his triumphs—these are the people I have in mind.

WISE RULE.

It is not necessary to dwell here on the demoralizing influence of "great expectations," or to philosophize on the strengthening effect of wholesome poverty. It is sufficient to take the situation as we find it and consider life as it presents itself to the average young couple. The husband and wife make their plans together, or should; they enter heartily on their work—she is willing to sacrifice as he is to labor, and her willingness to save is as important a factor in their success as is his ability to earn.

The first rule that they need to learn is to live within their means. In fact, this is so important a rule that for the purpose of this article it may be considered as the only rule necessary. Without its observance other rules are useless. No matter how much money a man may make, he will finally become a bankrupt if his income is less than his expenditure.

It is possible, of course, that one may by extravagance purchase a business standing that he does not deserve, and that prevails in society, hesitates to ask her to share his privations. He may have ambition, good health, good habits and high ideals; he may feel sure that in a quarter of a century he will be able to provide her a better home than the one she has at present, but will she be willing to wait for these things and endure the slighting remarks of girl-companions, who are looking for more "eligible" suitors?

This question has caused many a lover to pause, and it has prevented many more from reaching the lover's stage. Possibly an injustice is done the girl in assuming that she demands all the comfort of modern life, and it is not straining the truth to say that many a maid has been so hedged about by the influence of her father's wealth that no one but an adventurer will pay court to her.

"WE CANNOT AFFORD IT."

Even when love has led them into a union the husband and wife sometimes lack the moral courage to admit before the world the meagreness of their income. They pay more rent than they can afford to pay, dress better than they can afford to dress, entertain more than they can afford to entertain, or travel when they cannot spare the money that travelling costs.

The effort to live as well as to dress as well, and to spend as much as the richest one in their social set, has caused the downfall of many. And what is the use? No one is deceived. The neighbors know, as a rule, about what one's income is, and if we live beyond it who help us spend our money will criticize us behind our backs and think the less of us because of the deception attempted.

"We cannot afford it" is a valuable phrase; it is often worth a fortune. It is a manly phrase, and a womanly phrase, too. It will alienate no one whose friendship is worth having; as a matter of fact, one is fortunate to lose a friend who takes offence at that admission when spoken in truth. Candor is a virtue which disarms criticism, even from those who lack it themselves, and wins admiration.

FREE FROM DEBT.

As against the false pride of the man who conceals his financial condition from his wife, or which leads the husband's means, let us consider the merits of the opposite position. There is a pride that is justifiable; the pride of the man and woman who scorn false pretence and refuse to compromise with self-respect.

They earn what they can, and, having done the best they can, look the world in the face. They buy what they can, and free from the servitude which debt always enforces. Laying aside a little each year, they see hope in the future instead of despair. It is no day-dream that pictures a large house and "provisions for a rainy day." In such a family a child is not a dread visitation, but a welcome share of an increasing store.

Between the false pride that means final disgrace and agonizing suspense before exposure comes—between this and the dignified admission of limited means, who can hesitate to choose the latter? And yet thousands of families today are filling the winds with dread and sowing the seeds from which whirlwinds spring. Because they are ashamed to live within their means.

DISHONEST EXTRA-VAGANCE.

There is an element of honesty in this question, too, which cannot be overlooked. Not that one who lives extravagantly always intends to be dishonest, but is there not lacking a rightly-adjusted sense of honor?

The embezzler seldom enters deliriously on the commission of his crime. He borrows the money expecting to be able to pay it back, but loses it in speculation of squanders it, and finally, when repayment is demanded he stands forth a violator of the law. So there is implicit embezzlement in purchases made when one is not sure of being able to pay.

For is it honest to run accounts and trust to chance to find the means with which to make payment? The landlord, the grocer, the tailor and the dressmaker are in a position to compare the various standards of integrity, and some are deplorably low. There are two ways of being untruthful, saying that which is known to be false, and saying that which is not known to be true. And so there are two kinds of dishonesty; the contraction of a debt with the intention of not paying it, and the contraction of a debt without knowing how it is to be paid.

To be sure there may be cases of sickness or emergency when a person must buy on credit and in such cases honesty requires that the creditor shall know the facts and take the risk voluntarily; but these cases should not be confounded with living beyond one's means.

It is a semi-intentional fraud is practiced when, to keep up appearances one runs into debt without reasonable prospect of payment and yet the guilty party would probably indignantly resent the charge of dishonesty.

LOOK TO FUTURE.

Dishonesty in financial transactions is a blood relative of falsehood, and there are several other members of the same large and small. Extravagance is in itself another form of untruthfulness, for it is usually the acting of a lie. Every lawyer of experience has gathered some amusing illustrations of this prevarication which is resorted to by those who buy without knowing when or how payment is to be made.

The mildest indictment that can be made against those who live beyond their means is that they are willing to purchase tomorrow's sorrow with today's enjoyment or, to state it more accurately, are unwilling to make a little sacrifice today in order to secure a large advantage in the future. And yet, after all, this is quite a severe indictment, for one of the important differences between the savage and the civilized man is that the former must realize on every investment at once while the latter provides for tomorrow.

Comfort during life's decline is a sort of annuity which one buys with the savings of his earlier years. The student sacrifices an opportunity to make a few dollars while he continues his studies, but he thereby lays up a capital far greater than he could accumulate in any other way.

And so those who save little by little by limiting self-indulgences have not only the pleasure of seeing their fortunes grow but they also have the well-being and security from want which comes with a competency. Self-indulgence pays no dividends, while self-denial yields an annual return.

THE HAPPY METHOD.

There is moral development as well as pecuniary advantage in the avoidance of debt. Control over one's self is essential to character and regular, systematic saving involves the curbing of the appetite, the suppression of vanity, and the strengthening of the will. Of course, this does not mean that economy should be carried to the point of parsimony.

There is, however, a mean between the two extremes illustrated by the miser and the spendthrift, and it is for this mean that one should aim. There is an ideal that avoids both extravagance and wastefulness and this is the ideal that public opinion should urge on the newly married. And that the ideal may be the more readily accepted after marriage, it should be presented to the young before marriage.

There are hundreds of thousands of families following this ideal now, and they are the strength and moral fibre of the land. The man and woman drawn together by the indissoluble ties of love—planning and working together, mutually helpful, mutually forbearing and sharing fully in each other's confidence—these represent the home that has given to British and Canadian domestic life its high position.

These people buy only what they have the money to buy; they claim a fair reward for their labor and yet give good measure in their service and, laying aside year by year, they travel life's path together, their independence increasing as they proceed. Their children are trained to prudence by example as well as precept and their own position in society and business becomes each day more secure.

BICYCLING

THE BICYCLE REVIVAL

John Westren Tells Why We Are Coming Back to the Wheel.

This has been an historic year in the bicycle trade, and those interested have been exchanging communications through the newspapers, in which they seek to explain the cause of the decline of a few years ago, the stagnation which followed and the revival which got under way three years ago, to attain its greatest vigor this present season.

Without accounting for the past decline in the popularity of the bicycle, Mr. Westren, who is general manager of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company, makes a shrewd guess at the whereabouts of the revival. He writes:—

"Although there has been a decline from the once extreme popularity of the bicycle the activities of the manufacturer have not been curtailed by the depression and the enthusiasts of ten years ago, who have again taken up cycling, have been surprised to find that the bicycle of today is infinitely superior to the wheel they used to ride."

Mr. Westren invites old-time bicycle enthusiasts to try a ride on a modern bicycle. Referring further to the "activities of the manufacturers" Mr. Westren mentions the Doughty Process Bicycle Tire, made by his company, as a decided improvement on the old style tire. The Doughty is a patent process of making bicycle tires, brought to Canada by the Dunlop Company.

There is an appeal, also, in Mr. Westren's references to the bicycle. Evidently he has a kindly feeling for the wheel, a remembrance which the possession of an automobile cannot eradicate from his memory.

"In its time the bicycle has done much to create close friendships and to weld the members of families together," says Mr. Westren. "Let those who appreciate the bicycle in its true sphere maintain it in its returning general popularity to contend for a place with the automobile for the fresh air and the pleasure of the country."

Bank clearings for the week ending Thursday, July 2, were $34,963, and for the corresponding week last year $1,507,748.

The Enormous Demand WHICH HAS BEEN CREATED FOR KUMFORT Headache Powders

Since their introduction in 1896 has been built up on Merit and Merit alone. This has caused a number of imitations to appear but they lack the merit of the Genuine. Avoid substitutes, which you know nothing about and which often contain opiates and other dangerous drugs. Demand and insist on KUMFORT Headache Powders and avoid cheap substitutes. Remember there is nothing "just as good," as in that case the article would be good enough to sell on its own Merits. Kumfort Headache Powders are not an unknown quantity, but are endorsed by physicians who are familiar with the formula.

OUR OWN BUSTER BROWN AND TIGE

VETERAN'S JEWEL FOR DAVID B. DOIG

Doig has been a member of Pioneer since July 11th, 1878, and for the past twenty-two years has filled the office of treasurer. He has been a most active worker, uniting in his efforts for the good of the lodge, and the jewel which is presented not for length of membership alone, but for seal in promoting the welfare of the order—was given in recognition of his work. The address was read by Judge Skinner and the presentation made by Dr. Smith, who spoke briefly in a congratulatory way of Mr. Doig's honorable membership. Mr. Doig was completely surprised, but managed in a few words to thank the lodge for the unexpected honor which had come to him. The address read by Judge Skinner was as follows: Pioneer Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., July 3rd, 1908.

to you that peculiar emblem of our order that typifies that illustrates and exemplifies your position and work in this institution. It is the "Veteran's Jewel," beautiful in itself, sparkling in its brightness and rich in what it is, but more valuable in suggestion, and in the history that it calls up, virtues, and impresses upon the receiver of so splendid a memento, what you have been to us. The Lodge, therefore, desiring on its own account that you should know how greatly it appreciates your labors for its advancement and success, now presents to you this emblem of their esteem for you and as evidence of its appreciation of all that you have done for it, and in wearing this badge all that see it upon your breast will know what you have won from our members during the comparatively many years you have been with us assisting in the spread of our principles and sustaining the work of elevating the community and causing the triumph of the long held ideal that the time will come when man's humanity to man will be the distinguishing characteristic of our race.

H. V. MACKINNON, Noble Grand. JOSEPH MURDOCH, Recording Secretary.

Your connection with and the work you have done for the promotion of the interests of this Lodge in sustaining and extending its principles has placed your name in a very high position in our institution, and if the history of this order in St. John and the Maritime Provinces were written, your work would receive such recognition as would draw to you a large amount of attention from all who have read it. For a period of nearly thirty years you have faithfully, prominently and unselfishly devoted yourself to the promotion and advancement of the success of this Lodge.

In the great changes that came to the City of Saint John after and in consequence of the great fire of 1871 and the loss of business caused to our people when the iron steamships so effectively drove from the oceans the sailing wooden ships, the construction and management of many of which were the most prominent sources of wealth that came to some of our citizens and the injury that by so great a change in business fell upon any of our people led to the departure of such a number of the members of this Lodge from this city that the depletion in our ranks was very injurious to the Lodge, and then the cold, cruel and merciless hand of death in the natural order of events inflicted upon us very heavy losses. Amid all these events you have been with us, ever ready to work and perform the duties that you were always willing to undertake with such cheerfulness and persistence in performance that your name has become endeared to all our members, in a manner that perhaps your unselfishness and in love of the labor of assisting by the administration of kindness renders you unable fully to appreciate but the record of your labors in this Order is written into our minds as indelibly as the tooth of time and measure of oblivion can permit.

For a greater part of the years of your membership in Pioneer Lodge you have been our treasurer guarding our funds, keeping our accounts, and administering the duties of the office without any reward or the hope thereof. You have visited the sick assiduously, many a home have you cheered, and many a heart have you brightened, and many a tear have you wiped in dark hours that came to all. Whenever we have had work to do or services to be performed that required particular attention, the exercise of prudence and common sense and attentive performance in details we have always turned, as it were, instinctively to you to perform such work and discharge such duty. For these thirty years you have never failed us but whenever required you have gone forth to the performance of these noble deeds that whilst bringing you no fame as the world counts fame, have given you pleasure to do and have placed you in the high position that you hold in our hearts, and in the history of Pioneer Lodge.

This Lodge is unable to say or to do anything adequate to meet all that the minds of our members so quickly suggest as a recognition of the value of your services heretofore referred to. But we can do something, we can tell you how highly we appreciate what you have done for us, and we can present

A ONE, TWO, THREE DEMAND.

That business is again on the boom is evidenced by the increased demand for office help. During the past month the Employment Bureau of The Central Business University has been filling positions for the city and outside at the rate of two, three and five in a day. Four positions were looked after yesterday by the school's public office. All contracts must be closed at once in order to secure present rates of tuition, which are one-half in advance and balance on date of acceptance of position. This offer must be accepted before the 15th of July.

Syndicate Buys Land on Prince Wm. St.

Government After it for Site for Drill Shed, but Syndicate Won't Sell

The Sun learns that the syndicate of local men which recently purchased the Patton property opposite the custom house and later took an option on the Pineson property adjoining it, concluded the purchase on June 30, paying Mr. Finnegan $2,500, thus becoming owners of the whole block of vacant land. A reporter for The Sun further learns that it is probable that a large hotel will be erected by the syndicate. The government is anxious to secure the property for a new drill shed, and in connection with the syndicate stated to The Sun last night that the syndicate would probably not sell to the government. When pressed to divulge what the syndicate was likely to use the property for, he admitted that it was possible they would erect a hotel there.

Mr. Speaker, he said, I got this letter yesterday and I couldn't read it. After I studied it quite a spell I showed it to twenty or thirty of the fellows in the House, and, between us, we have spelled out all the words except those last three words. Uncle Joe took the letter and studied it. Those last three words that stuck you and everybody else, he said, are "Personal and Confidential."

A WHOLE LOT OF TAFT

JUDGE PARKER ISSUES PACIFIC STATEMENT TO DEMOCRATIC DELEGATES, BRYAN ASKED TO STEP DOWN

DENVER, Colo., July 3.—Refusing to be ruffled by the storm of criticism by Bryan men which was aroused by his resolutions regarding the late ex-President Grover Cleveland, Judge Alton B. Parker today issued a pacific statement, reiterating his determination to submit to the Democratic national convention, such an expression as he and his associates of the New York delegation regard as fitting and proper. In this connection, Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and head of the New York state delegation, who also arrived here today, announced that he had never seen the resolution, that they did not represent the views of the New York delegation, and that any resolution so offered must first be submitted to a caucus of the state delegation to be held on Monday.

Judge Parker would not discuss the comments by Henry Watterson, of Louisville, Ky., upon his resolutions, and, in fact, he declined to give his opinion of any of the interviews by prominent Democrats based upon the tentative draft. He said, however, that he is not irrevocably committed to the tribute prepared by him in New York, but that he believes the resolutions adopted should suitably acknowledge the debt owed Mr. Cleveland by the Democratic party.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 3.—The stream of callers and letters, all expressing the best wishes for the political future of William J. Bryan, was interrupted today when Norman Ridder, editor of the New York Staats Zeitung, called at Fairview and asked Mr. Bryan to withdraw from the contest in favor of "some Democrat who could win." The interview between Mr. Ridder and Mr. Bryan was pleasant and of the frankest nature throughout. Mr. Ridder told Mr. Bryan in as many words that he would oppose him openly at the Denver convention, that the Staats Zeitung and Mr. Ridder personally would support the ticket. Mr. Ridder told Mr. Bryan that it was a matter for the serious consideration of the latter whether or no he should accept a third nomination and wreck the chances of the Democratic party to elect its ticket at the coming election. "I do not believe you can carry New York state if you are nominated," said Mr. Ridder. "I cannot agree with you," replied Mr. Bryan, "but even though I am unable to carry that state, I believe I can be elected without the electoral vote of New York." Later Mr. Ridder gave out the substance of his talk with the Democratic leader, which lasted half an hour. During the conference he re-

HARDWARE FIRM ROBBED. Employees of Victoria House Have Stolen Nearly $10,000.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 2.—The wholesale hardware firm of McEneaney, McFreely Company have discovered speculations among its employees running close on to $10,000. A portion of the goods has been recovered, but owing to length of time the thefts continued it has been found impossible to locate thousands of dollars' worth of property and cash. The guilty employees have been dismissed, the firm not desiring to prosecute owing to the fact that it would be impossible to secure a return of the goods or their equivalent in Vancouver and the east of the ridges of some of the dishonest clerks.

SHIPPING MEN ALL SUPPORT HARBOR COMMISSION SCHEME

At the meeting of the Common Council on Thursday night some doubt was expressed by one or two of the aldermen as to whether the present harbor commission plan would receive the approval of shipping men or of other representative citizens.

Through the columns of The Sun a number of prominent citizens have already expressed their approval of the plan. Two of the most prominent steamship men and a former president of the Board of Trade, speaking to The Sun yesterday, gave the plan their unqualified support. H. C. Schofield, agent of the Robert Bedford Co., Ltd., thought that the plan suggested was a step in the right direction. The city had done as much as it could and under the present arrangement we could not expect much further aid from the government. There were difficulties that might arise through having part of the harbor under commission and part under the direct control of the city, but these were matters that could be arranged in due time. He favored placing the whole harbor in commission eventually.

Ferry W. Thomson of Wm. Thomson and Co., said that he did not know of any shipping man who were opposed to the commission scheme and did not know why they should be. Circumstances had changed since the time of the Star.

years ago when the commission plan was turned down, and he thought the time was ripe to put the plan into effect. The city is carrying all the load it can bear now, and it would be the best thing for it to get the load off its shoulders. He could not see why anyone should oppose a plan that would be of such importance to the port's development.

V. M. Jarvis, who is a former president of the Board of Trade, and who has always taken an active interest in the welfare of the port, said that he has always been in favor of putting the harbor in the hands of a commission. He thought it better to have part of the harbor under commission than none of it. He was sorry to see the bill hampered with a bridge project or anything that might tend to lessen its chances of passing.

"Are you thoroughly familiar with all the economic principles you advocate?"

"My dear sir," answered Senator Sorghum, "a good book agent doesn't have to know the contents of a volume by heart in order to sell it."—Washington Star.

LOCAL NEWS

If you want to save money on a good pair of trousers inspect Fidgeon's line from $8. to $28 for men, $6 to $12 for boys. Corner Main and Bridge streets, North End.

There were thirty-one marriages during the past week. The list of births numbers fifty-three, being twenty-nine females and twenty-four males.

Miss M. E. Parlee, who has been spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. E. C. Law, of Cambridge, Mass., returned yesterday by steamer Calvin Austin.

An unknown man who was riding a bicycle on Union street yesterday afternoon met with a serious accident. A team owned by Dr. A. Porter was driving along Union street at a fast clip. Suddenly a man on a bicycle turned the corner and before the horse struck the man in the stomach. He was thrown from the wheel and landed several feet away. For some time he lay on the street car tracks, but was able to regain his feet at length and walk home.

Members of Section 1, Maritime Y. M. C. A. boys' camp will leave on Wednesday for their 1908 camp at Robinson's Point, Grand Lake. It is expected there will be about seventy boys from various parts of the province. Physical Instructor Hyman, of Moncton, will be in charge. The boys from the railway town will arrive here on Tuesday night, going up river on the May Queen with the St. John contingent on Wednesday morning. The Fredrickton quota will go by steamer Hampstead to Gagetown, where they will join the others.

WILL CELEBRATE THE FIRST HALF HOLIDAY

Business Houses Close Down This Afternoon.

Weather Man Provides the Right Kind of Day and Preparations are Made for a Lively Holiday.

This is the first general half holiday of the season and the weather man has delivered some of his best brand of weather for the occasion. The heat is causing many to leave town and seek cooler breezes at the beaches and on the river. Many attractions are planned for the day and what will be the first Saturday outing of the year to many people will be duly celebrated.

The Street Railway is preparing to handle large crowds at Seaside Park and C. Scammel will cater to the crowd of visitors in the street railway restaurant.

At Rockwood all the attractions will be in full swing and a record breaking afternoon is expected.

The afternoon trains are carrying away crowds to the various suburban resorts and many private picnics are being planned for the many delightful places within easy reach of the city.

For those who stay in town the moving picture houses will provide amusement. The Princess has a special matinee, at which the entire staff distribute souvenirs. The Cedar opens again this afternoon under new management.

Another cool resort in the city is the Victoria Roller Rink which will provide band music today for the skaters.

The 62nd Rifle Club will shoot on the rifle range today in the thirty-second Military Rifle League match. The match will start at 1:30 p. m.

The Nature History Society will hold a field meeting at Spruce Lake this afternoon if the weather is favorable. Buckboards will leave the museum at 1:30. Members and their friends are invited to attend.

This afternoon there will be held at Westfield the first of a series of races for the Magee trophy for the prizes in class "A" (salmon boat races). There is a very great interest being taken in these races, as the boats are apparently very closely matched and as the sewer and larger boats will have to give time allowance to the smaller ones it places them all on very equal footing.

The race will start from Westfield wharf at 2:15 p. m. sharp and will be over one of the regular association courses, which one will be decided by the judges before the start. Final instruction will be given the competitors at Westfield wharf.

The boats entered are Chinook (scratch), Lolita, Mona, Lillian, Wabeno, Thistle, Frontis, Arrah, Wanna, Leola, Kenwood, Sans Souci and Nova.

Four games of ball is the programme for today. Both the afternoon matches should be hotly contested. On the Victoria grounds the Marshalls will meet a team from Moncton. This is the first outside game played here this season. The match will start at three o'clock, with James McAllister holding the indicator.

In the Inter-Society League on the Shamrock grounds the St. Josephs and St. Peters will meet. As the St. Josephs have been much improved of late and have won their two last matches they should give the League leaders a run for their money. George McDermott will umpire.

The evening game in this league will be between the St. Rose and St. John the Baptist. In the evening on the Victoria grounds, the Monctons and Marshalls will again come together.

VETERAN'S JEWEL FOR DAVID B. DOIG

Presentation Last Evening at Pioneer Lodge.

He Has Been Treasurer for Twenty Two Years and a Member Since 1879.

A very pleasing incident was included in the proceedings at last evening's meeting of Pioneer Lodge I. O. O. F. This was the presentation of a veteran's medal to the treasurer, David B. Doig.

During the evening District Deputy Grand Master, H. E. Codran, assisted by other Grand Officers, installed the newly elected officers of Pioneer as follows:

Noble Grand—H. V. MacKinnon.
Vice Grand—Rev. Gordon Dickie.
Treasurer—David B. Doig.
Sec. Secy—Jos. A. Murdoch.
Per. Secy—John L. Wilson.
Conductor—Dr. A. D. Smith.
Warden—C. N. Skinner.
Chaplain—Rev. David Lang.
R. S. N. G.—D. A. Sinclair.
L. S. N. G.—T. McLaughlin.
R. S. S.—Thos. White.
L. S. S.—Aaron Hastings.
E. G.—E. Graham.
L. S. V. G.—Dr. Jas. Christie.
I. G.—A. S. Dinamore.
G. C.—H. Doig.

Following the installation, the retiring Noble Grand, C. H. Fowler, handed to Dr. James Christie the jewel which had been presented a short time ago. Dr. Christie briefly replied.

Hon. C. N. Skinner and Dr. A. D. Smith were called upon to present to David B. Doig the veteran's jewel for long and faithful service in the order. Mr. (Continued on Page 3)

PATRIARCHS WILL ARRIVE AT 3.30 P.M.

Lynn and Portland Oddfellows to be Here Today.

Band Concert and Supper at Rockwood This Evening—Church Parade Tomorrow Morning.

The Oddfellows hold the centre of the stage today, and if the present fine weather continues, the visit to St. John of the Lynn and Portland Oddfellows should prove most enjoyable. Under command of General Welch the Patriarchs of Canton City of Lynn, accompanied by a number of friends, numbering in all about a hundred left Lynn yesterday and embarked for St. John by the Eastern Line steamer Governor Cobb. At Portland they were joined by another large party of Oddfellows, all desirous of spending the Fourth of July, for a change, outside the United States. The steamer will arrive here at half past three o'clock.

Members of Canton La. Tour will assemble at two o'clock this afternoon at the Union street hall and, headed by the Artillery Band, will march to meet the visitors. Col. N. W. Brennan will be in command. The local Patriarchs will escort their guests to the Royal and Victoria Hotels.

At seven o'clock this evening the visitors and St. John members, with their friends, will take buckboards for Rockwood Park. The Artillery Band has been engaged for a concert at the park, and supper will be served in the pavilion by the White Catering Co.

Tomorrow at half past ten sharp, all Oddfellows and the visitors will assemble at Union street hall, and at eleven o'clock will, with the band, march to St. Andrew's Church. The service there begins at half past eleven and will be conducted by Dr. G. M. Caswell, Past Grand, assisted by Rev. David Lang, Chaplain of Pioneer. The route of march to the church from Oddfellows hall will be Union street to Charlotte, to King, to German, and on the return the parade will go by German street to Queen, to Charlotte, to Union and along Union to the hall. On Sunday afternoon the visitors will have a chance to go about the city. On Monday morning, without any formal send-off, they will leave by boat to return to their homes.

LOCAL COMPANY DID NOT LOSE SO HEAVILY

Loss of Ontario Company in Three Rivers Fire $15,000 Less Than Stated.

A recapitulation of the losses of the various insurance companies in the Three Rivers fire stated that the total loss was about $2,000,000, covered by $1,127,500 insurance.

In the statement the remark is added that the Ontario, which is owned in St. John, having purchased the Ottawa Insurance Company, is liable for Ottawa losses in addition to its own, making a total of $33,000. This, the Star is informed, is incorrect. The Ontario did not purchase the Ottawa Co. but some eleven months ago reassured all the business then on the books of the Ottawa throughout Canada. As eleven months have elapsed the business is practically all run off and what was continued is in the amount charged Ontario of $18,300. There is but one Ottawa policy concerned for which the Ontario is liable amounting to $500, making the gross loss $19,100 to the Ontario. This of course is without deducting reinsurance. Any published figures at this time can only be estimates anyway.
