Committee Presents Resolution Favoring Federation of King's College With Dalhousie—Debate Postponed—Evening Service and Sermon by Rev. Canon Newnam

The Church of England Synod held its 20th annual session Wednesday and in the evening attended divine service in Trinity Church, when an inspiring address was delivered by Rev. Canon G. S. Newnam.

The feature of the morning session was the presentation of an address of congratulation and welcome to His Excellency, the Bishop of Fredericton, who received this unexpected evidence of esteem of his diocese with deep feeling.

After the adjournment of Synod at 12 o'clock a meeting was held of representatives of the diocese to consider the adoption of some system of apportionment on behalf of the diocesan mission fund.

are after hours, and he considered it unjust that she should be penalized. Tracing the history of the relations of the church and the school in Shediac he appealed that the good work in religious instruction which had been going on for sixty years be assisted.

He moved that the matter be referred to a committee for further and full discussion.

His lordship said that as the legal advisor of the Synod had given his opinion against the grant, he considered that it was his duty to advise by that decision unless it was overruled by Synod.

Judge Hanington's motion was seconded by Rev. A. F. Burt of Shediac, who strongly supported the giving of a grant to the school as had been requested.

His lordship explained that the action of the board had been taken upon the direct advice of the chancellor. He would be glad to accede to the request if it could be done.

G. O. D. Oty thought it was discourteous to the chancellor to refer his decision to a committee, and he moved as an amendment that the board of education be instructed to make the grant of $50 this year, subject to the opinion of the chancellor. This was seconded by F. J. G. Knowlton.

Judge Hanington thereupon withdrew his motion in favor of the amendment.

Rev. L. A. Hoyt, Rev. Scoville Neales and others opposed the grant on several grounds, and before the vote could be taken the hour of 12 o'clock arrived and Synod adjourned until 3 o'clock.

was not intended to be used for the education of children whose parents were rich enough to send them to a boarding school.

Rev. Scoville Neales said the board had given all possible information. It had really had power to purchase the property in its own name, yet it had brought it to the synod for approval before acting. He thought the board should be given the power asked for.

Mr. Hanington's amendment, he wanted to know what the synod proposed to do with the school when it was not to be used for the education of children whose parents were rich enough to send them to a boarding school.

Information on the subject brought Mr. Scoville Neales, who had been made a member of the board, to be loyal to the trust under which the money had been given and opposed the adoption of the board's report.

Mr. Scoville Neales, in a felicitous speech told of the growth of the school and the growth of the popularity of that splendid institution with all church people. He paid a high tribute to the work of the man who had founded it. He recognized that Canon Richardson could not at present give out more information. He would be glad to support the school if he were sure that the continuity of the school would be maintained.

He hoped Canon Richardson might carry his negotiations far for purchasing a school site, and he would be able to present a definite written report to the synod which might be enough to come to a just decision. If the matter were carried out, the church would have in its hands an instrument for the secular education not only of the youth of the province, but of other parts of the dominion where the name of the school had spread.

T. B. Robinson, speaking in favor of centralized effort in education, regarding the present scheme he thought the matter could be safely left to the board of education, and that they were subject to such a conservative body as the executive committee.

Mr. Justice Hanington again brought up the question of the proper disposal of the trust funds, the right use of which was for religious and secular instruction, and especially for those which should benefit the indigent.

He protested on principle against its use for purchasing a school for sons of the rich. The strength of the church lay in the country districts and effort spent there would bring the returns. If the money left for such a purpose was used for a centralized school for sons of the rich, the blessing of God could not rest upon it.

If twenty or thirty or forty thousand dollars were taken for this purpose, the church would be legitimate purposes of the church must suffer.

Rev. A. D. Dewdney was amazed that the board of education should resist the taking over of a work already effectively carried on, and one not in accord with the purpose of the fund which was established.

In this city were hundreds of people who were taking for a school here, where their children could obtain, along with ordinary education, proper religious instruction. If the report of the board were adopted it would mean that such schools as that which would be established here would be supported most heartily.

An amendment that would defeat the principle advocated in the board's report.

Rev. Canon Richardson said the fund had passed when the terms of the trust fund could be applied as they were when the Madras schools were founded. As the man who under the memorial building the walls of Jerusalem carried tools in one hand and weapons in the other, so church workers had to war constantly with powers of evil as well as strive to build their spiritual walls. So there was need of going round the walls from time to time. They must not rest in a sense of false security, but must keep repairing weak places and encouraging themselves by instances where the hand of God had been shown. God was surely with them, but that should only incite them to greater zeal and watchfulness.

Among the matters to which church people must attend the preacher spoke of the late census returns, which showed a decrease of Church of England membership in the province of 1,228. This, he claimed, was due to removals from the province to the west and to the United States, and was not indicative of decline in church membership. All through the diocese members were loyal and true and the clergy were working faithfully and well. The parish returns showed a loss by removal of 300 communicants, but there were many signs of increase. In St. John the list of communicants had increased from 475 to 525, and the ratio of communicants to church population in the diocese had increased from 6 per cent in 1892 to 20 per cent this year. This showed no decline in church usefulness or activity.

Turning to the financial department, Canon Newnam said that "two funds of the church—diocesan missions and incapacitated clergymen—greatly needed building up. The former fund, upon which the outpour work of the utmost importance to the church depended, showed a deficit last year of $2,000, which debt would be doubled by next year's deficit. He appealed for more contributions to this fund, and hoped that those present would during the present session subscribe enough to wipe out the debt.

The incapacitated clergymen fund at present only gave income enough to support three clergymen, while several others needed relief from this source.

largely dependent upon its missionary spirit. The great work of the church was to spread the Kingdom of Christ and deepen the spiritual life of the people who were the strength of the church, and without whose individual loyalty all departments of the church must languish.

The most interesting feature of the synod proceedings Thursday was the discussion of the federation of King's College with Dalhousie. The most sensational feature of the debate was the speech of Mr. Justice Hanington, who in a strong address forcibly exposed the scheme and made a powerful plea in favor of the continuance of the institution under different management. He emphatically stated his disbelief in the efficiency of the president, Dr. Willets, who was largely responsible for the decline of the college. He said he had made these statements together with a resolution of the alumni meeting in Windsor a few weeks ago and accused the Halifax board of deliberately going back on reasons omitting all reference to it. The debate on the subject was concluded when the hour for adjournment came.

PARISH REPORTS.

The morning's session of the synod was opened with the usual formalities. After the confirmation of yesterday's minutes the hearing of reports from the clergy of various parishes in the diocese was resumed.

Rev. C. D. Schofield of Hampton reported encouragingly regarding the routine work of the parish. Special efforts in various directions are being made to increase the interest in the Sunday school. The parish indebtedness has been greatly reduced, and its standing is financially good. A harmonious spirit is prevalent in all departments.

For Manservants Rev. R. W. Colton told of a flourishing financial condition of great kindness resolved from his parishners. Among other contributions received had been the sum of $70, which brought his stipend up to $70, the largest since 1898. In Canning contributions were necessarily small, but prospects were never brighter.

For Newcastle the report prepared by Rev. F. H. Outburr was read by the secretary. It stated that the parish is now self-sustaining and that all work is progressing favorably. Sunday school interest has greatly revived, and church property has been greatly improved.

Rev. W. H. Sampson reported the completion of 12 years' work at St. George's, Carleton. He expressed great pleasure in the good relations among the members of the church, and the large number of young people in Sunday school work.

For Winklow, Wilmot and Peel, Rev. E. W. Simpson reported cheering conditions in all parts of his widespread parish. A new church has been completed at the cost of $2,500, and another begun in Aberdeen. There had been an increase in the communion roll of 21 and in Easter communions of 49.

Rev. H. J. Lynde of St. George and Penfield told of a good financial condition and of a scheme to build a new church there in the near future. The church there had suffered much by deaths during the past year.

At Springfield, Rev. R. Coleman reported that the work during the winter had been greatly hampered by the smallness of material and spiritual resources. Sunday schools were progressing favorably under their able superintendent. Great improvement had been made in the church and rectory grounds.

Rev. B. F. McKinnon of St. Luke's, Portland, gave thanks for many blessings during the past year. All parishes organized had done well, the Sunday school especially exceeding in attendance all previous years. Congregations had been larger and offerings greater by $500 than ever before.

For St. David, St. Patrick and St. Andrew, Rev. J. W. Millidge reported that all departments were up to the mark. Collections last year were the largest in the history of the church.

Rev. Canon Richardson reported much active progress in St. John parish. Signs of material and spiritual increase were not wanting. Congregations and attendance at Sunday schools showed large increase. The commitment list had been considerably added to.

For St. Mary's, Rev. A. G. Belis presented a report of the work of the church during the past year. He spoke of the good and the bad, and of the debt. He reported that the church had many of its members who were the strength of the church, and without whose individual loyalty all departments of the church must languish.

HOW MR. TARTE WOULD SETTLE IT.

Some enthusiastic advocate of the union of Newfoundland with Canada has predicted that in the event of union the French shore difficulty would be settled by Mr. Tarte in a week.

For a long time we have not heard of the French shore trouble in Newfoundland, and one might say that the question has fallen into the water.

La Patrie proceeds to show the absurdity of the case of Newfoundland against the French by citing what it calls a most original incident.

A Newfoundland paper, the Western Star, published near that place, makes energetic protest.

Perhaps not, but the event has some significance. France has the right to take fish on the French shore and to cure them on the coast.

Mr. Tarte thinks that this is all right; he is certainly not the man to settle the question.

DEAF AND DUMB INQUIRY

Is Now Going on Behind Closed Doors.

All Press Representatives Except Those Connected With the St. John Telegraph Being Excluded by Commissioner Barry.

(Gleaner, July 3.)

The inquiry into the deaf and dumb institution affairs was again taken up at 10 o'clock this morning at the municipalities room at the parliament building.

Mr. Phinney read orders in council relating to the erection of the brick building and the occupation of the present one.

The question of appointing a stenographer other than the official one was discussed, but it was decided to let the matter stand for the present.

Mr. Gregory asked for the order of particulars and stated that if the commissioner intended making such order he would like it made without delay.

The commissioner stated he could not make such an order, as he had no power to enforce complainants to file particulars of specific charges if they refused to do so.

FOR SYSTEMIC CATARRH

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

Clem G. Moore, Editor of the Advocate-Democrat of Crawfordsville, Ga., writes the Peruna Medicine Company as follows: 'Gentlemen--After four years of intense suffering, caused by systemic catarrh, which I contracted while editing and traveling for my paper, I have been greatly relieved by the use of Peruna. I gave up work during these years of torture, tried various remedies and many doctors, but all the permanent relief came from the use of Peruna. My trouble was called indigestion, but it was catarrh all through my system, and a few bottles of Peruna made me feel like another person, noting the improvement after I had used the first bottle. Peruna is undoubtedly the best catarrh remedy ever compounded.'--CLEM G. MOORE.

Judge Wm. T. Zier, of Washington, D. C., writes from 218 N. Capital Street, Washington, D. C.: 'I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general conditions.'--Wm. T. Zier.

Mrs. Amanda Morrill, 138 Reid street, Elizabeth, N. J., writes: 'I have been sick over two years with nervous prostration and general debility and heart trouble. Have had four doctors; all said that I could not get well. I had not walked a step in nine months, suffering with partial paralysis and palpitation of the heart every other day, and had become so reduced in flesh as to be a mere skeleton weighing only 85 pounds.'--Amanda Morrill.

Allen Glover, a young man who was hurt on Thursday night by falling from a train near Harvey, is now at the hospital here. Dr. Keith found on examination that he was seriously injured. His leg was broken in such a way that the bone protruded from a large wound, and the upper part of the thigh was also broken, and it is feared that he is injured in the lower part of the back. The hurt on his head does not seem to be very serious. The accident happened near midnight and the injured man lay beside the railway track all night, during most of which heavy rain fell.

Winter Winslow of Upper Woodstock, who has been here for some weeks in poor health, the guest of his brother, Dr. Byron Winslow, was today taken to the hospital for treatment. He is suffering from ear trouble.

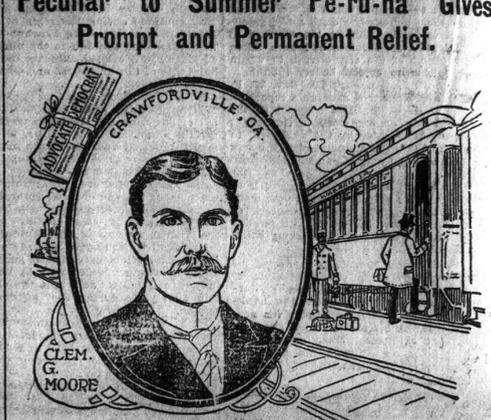

Rev. Dr. Chapman of the Methodist church favoured this evening, an especially large congregation being present. Although the reverend gentleman has been here only a year, he has made many friends who regret his departure. He is in poor health and is retiring from the ministry, and will make his home at Amherst, N. B. Rev. Jabez Rogers, late of the Nova Scotia conference, will succeed Mr. Chapman as pastor here.

HOPEWELL HILL. A special meeting of the ratepayers of this district was held here today for the purpose of discussing the Sloyd school movement and the advisability of uniting with adjacent districts in order to secure the establishment of a central Sloyd school. There was a large attendance. R. Chesley Smith presided. Hon. Mr. McClellan gave a clear explanation, as far as he knew it, of the proposed scheme, which he believed to be an excellent idea, and if carried out here would be a boon to the community and would materially advance the educational interests of the county. A number of gentlemen spoke energetically both for and against the movement, C. A. Peck, E. C., making a strong appeal against the adoption of the scheme, the results of which he believed, as far as this community was concerned, would be quite problematical and onerous and burdensome to the people. After a heated discussion, a motion in favor of union was carried by a majority of one.

HOPEWELL BOUND. OTTAWA, July 8.--The official announcement of the home coming of the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles was received this afternoon through a message to the governor general from the men at Fort Natal. The men sailed on July 2nd, and are due in Canada on July 28th. These men did not see any fighting in South Africa, but their desire can be taken as an expression of what their desire would have been, and no doubt they would have acquitted themselves as creditably as the soldiers of the other regiments have done. Although they were called back, they return minus several of their comrades. One was killed at sea, one died on board ship from sickness and one has died since their return stay in South Africa. Several have also suffered from enteric fever and are dangerously ill at Fort Natal. There are still about 1,000 men of the four regiments in Africa and about one quarter of the commissioned officers' names do not appear in the British regiments and probably leave the latter part of the present week on the troopship Corinthian, when she lands at Halifax all of the Canadians except a few who have joined the British regiments and several other heavy and distinguished officers. POLICE GET NEWS FROM KILSON.

The police have at last got news of Oscar Kilson, who, on June 8th, escaped from the jail in this city. It did not come in response to the photographs of the escaped prisoner which were promptly sent out to all important centres, nor was he discovered by the local detective force. In a new and sparsely settled country like New Brunswick intelligence travels slowly, and it is only within the past couple of days that the force has learned that Kilson was at Mace's Bay about a fortnight ago. Last week a woman from the locality came to the station and told several of her friends that some two weeks ago a lad answering to Kilson's description came to a house in Mace's Bay one night asking for shelter and food. He gave his name as Oscar Kilson, and told many interesting stories in connection with his attempted capture. He spent a couple of days quite openly at the seaside resort, where he chose to spend a brief holiday while dodging the police, and then was taken in a sailboat to Eastport. The local authorities were all the while under the impression that Kilson would join his brother's schooner, while she was in port, and a search of the vessel was accordingly made on the day of her sailing. About that time it appears Oscar, the boy burglar, was enjoying himself at Mace's Bay.

Mr. Blair undertaking to inquire into the whole matter of cattle guards and to be prepared with legislation on the subject at the next session of parliament the bill was not proceeded with.

The death is reported of Mrs. Mary Edwards, wife of William Edwards, who died on Saturday at her home, 131 Spring street. Mrs. Edwards was seventy-five years of age and leaves three daughters. She had been ill for about five weeks.

BURIED AT STONE.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The body of Lord Pauncefote, late British ambassador at Washington, who died at Stone, near Newark, in Nottinghamshire, in England, instead of at Preston, Stone is a short distance from London and is the seat of Henry Bromley, who occupies Stone hall. The Bromleys are a branch of the Pauncefotes, and one of the youngest Bromleys married a daughter of Lord Pauncefote. HOW CAUSTIC BURNS.

Take a piece of woolen cloth, or a piece of a blanket, and boil it thoroughly in a strong solution caustic soda, and you will find the wool will gradually be eaten away, leaving nothing but the skeleton. Women do not realize how "soap substitutes" which are generally surcharged with soda or how common alkaline soaps destroy their clothing; consequently they, week by week, subject costly and beautiful garments to the hands also are immersed for hours in such solutions, resulting in eczema, coarse skin, and "red" nails. The caustic soda may loosen the dirt, but it eats away the fabric and ruins the hands. There is no economy in such work. It is so easy for a woman to test the difference between an all-ral charged soap and a neutral washing soap, that it is strange that there is room for any but a pure soap on the Canadian market. Sunlight Soap has been tested by chemists and analysts of the world over, and is found to be free from alkali or caustic has been demonstrated by the highest medical authorities. Consequently the true saying, "Sunlight Soap reduces eczema." 602.

NOVA SCOTIA NEWS.

PARRISBORO, N. S., July 5.—The schooner Advent was successful in launching from Dr. Huntley's shipyard on Thursday. The Advent will go to Windsor to load gypsum for New York.

The term local schooner Glenross sailed for Portland on Thursday with 800 tons of coal.

Mr. Hunt, agent of the Parrisboro branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, has brought his smallpox patient, Matthew Kearns, the smallpox patient who was dangerously ill the first of the week, was apparently much improved yesterday morning, and ate a hearty breakfast. The White children have the disease in a mild form, and are reported to be doing well. There are no new cases, and it is now believed that none of the hospital men who were in camp with Kearns are infected.

The barges which W. R. Huntley is building for the C. R. and C. Co. are both in trim.

WOLFVILLE, July 7.—A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Saturday morning, July 5th, at 10 o'clock, Green-wood, the residence of Frederick A. Johnson, when his daughter, Ethel A. Johnson, was united in marriage to George E. Higgins, son of the late Dr. D. F. Higgins of Wolfville, a graduate of Acadia in 1892, and secretary of the Elevated Railway Co., New York. The handsome parlors were artistically decorated with ferns, cut flowers and potted plants. At the altar of the bride and groom were seated, Miss Agnes Johnson, the bride, who looked charming in a handsome imported costume of tan voile, trimmed with cream applique and chiffon, and a bridesmaid, Miss M. J. Armstrong, who wore an exquisite dress of rose and white, and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations, entered on the arm of her father and took her place beside the groom. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Margaret Armstrong, daughter of the Rev. J. J. Armstrong, Wolfville, while the groom was attended by R. Earl Burgess of New York.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. C. Higgins of Somerville, brother of the groom, assisted by the Rev. T. A. Higgins, uncle of the groom. Although, on account of the recent bereavement in the family of the groom, only the immediate relatives were present, the bride, who is a graduate in vocal music of Acadia Seminary and one of Wolfville's most popular young ladies, received a number of handsome presents, including a cheque for $1,000 from her relatives. After a sumptuous collation Mr. and Mrs. Higgins took the blue hose for Wolfville en route for New York, their future home.

Mrs. Henry Fleming Moncion, a sister, and Frederick Johnson, Bridge-water, a brother of the bride, was present.

Prof. William Elder of Colby University and wife and Miss Maggie Elder have arrived from Wolfville and will spend the summer as usual at Colby.

Miss Laura Sawyer, librarian in the Perkins Institute for the Blind, South Boston, is spending her vacation at the home of her father, Dr. A. W. Sawyer, at Wolfville.

RESUBRIBED.

A Polonious Drug Still Freely Used. Many people are brought up to believe that coffee is a necessity of life, and the strong hold that the drug has on the system makes it hard to loosen its grip even when one realizes its injurious effects.

A lady in Baraboo, writes: "I had used coffee for years; it seemed one of the necessities of life. A few months ago, my health, which had been slowly falling, became more impaired, and I felt tired of life. My husband was also losing his health. He was troubled so much with indigestion that at times he could eat only a few mouthfuls of dry bread.

"We concluded that coffee was slowly poisoning us and stopped it and used hot water. We felt somewhat better, but it wasn't satisfactory. Finally, we saw Postum Coffee advertised, and bought a package. I followed directions for making carefully, allowing it to boil twenty minutes after it came to the boiling point, and added cream, which turned it to the loveliest rich looking and tasting drink I ever saw served at any table, and we have used Postum ever since. I gained five pounds in weight in as many weeks, and now feel well and strong in every respect. My headaches have gone, and I am a new woman. My husband's indigestion has left him, and he can now eat anything." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

COLONIAL PREMIERS.

LONDON, July 8.—The Daily Chronicle this morning, in an article on the conferences of the colonial premiers, says it has good reason to declare that the "Federation of the Colonies" has already offered in the direction of preferential trade with Great Britain, and as the financial position of the Empire is so precarious, it is not likely to have practical results.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of D. Bassen, St. George, who carries a full line of Dry Goods, etc.

KING FEEDS LONDON'S POOR.

Hundreds of Thousands Enjoy King Edward's Feast.

Cheers for the Royal Host Who Sends the Members of the Royal Family to Represent Him—Dinner Served in Halls and Under Tents in the City Park.

LONDON, July 5.—All the public jubilation which was expected to attend the coronation, with a genuine spirit of thankfulness added, was concentrated today in the festivities connected with the King's dinner to the poor of London. Fully a million persons either partook of the royal hospitality or witnessed this, the greatest feast ever provided by a single man.

The feast was opened with the announcement that London's most of all longed to hear, namely, that the King had passed safely the great danger which for three weeks had threatened his life. Joy and thankfulness never found more enthusiastic expression than London's humblest citizens put into their cheers, and there was a note in their constant singing of God Save the King that somehow was a little different from any ever heard before.

Every great hall and several of the most beautiful of the smaller parks of London were utilized for this monster feast, tickets for which had been distributed for a month past by central and local committees of church and charitable societies, etc. It was attempted to fix the scale of eligibility on the basis of those families whose combined income was $8 per week; married couples with one child whose income was $5 per week, and families of two, whose income was $4.50, and single persons whose wages amounted to $3 per week. The arrangements broke down to some extent in certain districts, and many persons who were eligible did not succeed in partaking of the feast. But, on the whole, the selections were well made. It goes without saying that every one invited accepted, and for the most part it was the time of their lives.

The correspondent of the Sun attended the largest gathering of all in Bishop's Park, Fulham, where 14,000 persons sat down in thirteen large tents which sheltered them from the hot rays of the sun. Three or four of these shelters were marked "temperance tents," and the tables were occupied chiefly by women and children.

It was a really respectable-appearing gathering. There were many cases of attempts at nabness and personal affrontment which were almost pitiful. Poverty, where it was apparent, showed more in the faces of the people than in their attire, and the joy of the occasion went far to disguise even the most sordid and repulsive features.

The Prince and Princess of Wales arrived just at the hour that it had been announced the feast would begin, and it is the simple truth to say that every one at the table showed a greater interest in seeing and cheering the royal visitors than in the great supply of edibles heaped before them. They sang and shouted and cheered lustily for the few minutes that the members of the royal family remained.

Then they fell to in perfect decorum until the "best" potatoes, plum pudding, and beer and ale were consumed. They admired the King's gift of souvenir earthenware cups, which were inscribed "The King's Coronation Dinner, Presented by His Majesty, July, 1892."

The people reached a high pitch of enthusiasm, oddly enough, when the cheese arrived. This seemed a special luxury to most of them. "Here, miss, here," they shouted, and the women who acted as waiters, and scrambled for extra pieces.

This was as nothing, however, to the excitement when the boxes of chocolate came. The contents were a little late in arriving. The wagons drove up laden with flat tin boxes. Instantly there was a great rush from all parts of the ground. The waiters and police were helpless, and good-naturedly pitched boxes by the hundreds into the clamoring throng. The scramble was not seriously violent, and was taken in good part by all. The people, however, were so gorged themselves, but appeared to be perfectly happy.

They trooped off to another section of the park, where scores of antelopes were being fed. Thence they went to Floral Hall, Covent Garden. The Duchess of Argyll visited Olympia and other centres in Paddington. The southeast district, and Princess Christian the factory section of North London, where 10,000 persons were fed under one roof.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who had charge of the committee, received this message from the King, dated at Buckingham Palace, when the gayety was at its highest:

"This is the dinner at Fulham getting along very well. My reply was simply: 'Glorious,' and that, rightly describes the great feast all over London.

There were distributed altogether 250,000 pounds of roast meat; 250,000 pounds of potatoes, the same number of loaves of bread, 1,000,000 ounces of cheese, 125 tons of pudding, 20,000 gallons of beer, 150,000 pints of ginger-beer and 75,000 pints of lime juice.

The usual menu was cold beef and mutton, fruit, tarts and pudding. In some districts puddings were added to the bill of fare. The King's health was drunk heartily from the souvenir earthenware cups.

REV. JOHN MURRAY.

His Death Took Place Yesterday at Johnville, Carleton Co.—Had Been a Priest About 45 Years.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 7.—News reached here this morning of the death of Rev. John Murray, the well-known parish priest of Johnville. It was met with surprise, since Father Murray, who was a native of Woodstock, was on Saturday evening notified that Father Murray was very ill, and was asked to proceed at once to Johnville to administer the last rites. He left at once, as requested. This morning it was announced that Father Murray had died at an early hour. The news was heard with much sorrow, for during a long pastorate in Woodstock, extending from 1876 to 1881, Father Murray had won the affection and esteem of all classes. As a preacher he excelled. His kindness to the poor and needy when in Woodstock is well known to need special mention. Father Carney of Fredericton is a cousin of deceased.

(His Lordship the Bishop of St. John received a despatch yesterday morning informing him of Father Murray's death, and he leaves this morning to be present at the funeral, which will take place at Johnville on Wednesday. Father Murray had many relatives and friends in St. John who will deeply regret to hear of his death. Born in St. John on Nov. 11, 1834, Father Murray studied theology in Quebec Seminary and was the first priest ordained in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. He was stationed for some years in Ken County, and afterwards was transferred to Carleton county, where, as already stated, he spent the last twenty-six years. Father Murray was one of the most learned men in the church, and was beloved by the people among whom he had lived. During his last hours he was calm, peaceful and resigned. For a few days before his fatal illness he had been feeling poorly, but yet went about the performance of his duties until compelled to give up.

A brother of deceased, Rev. Joseph Murray, died in St. John some years ago.

BEULAH CAMP.

Proceedings of the Reformed Baptist Alliance.

At the meeting of the Reformed Baptist Alliance Saturday the following report on temperance was submitted by Rev. G. W. Macdonald:

Your committee believes that much has been accomplished in the past year that is meaningful, because it expresses more than is confirmed by action. It is easy to pass resolutions, not so easy to embody them in earnest action. It is admitted on every hand that the traffic in intoxicating drink is responsible for a large percentage of accidents, disasters, confagurations, murders, divorces and deaths in many cases. Indeed it is the fruitful source of all that is evil. But while this is true and freely admitted, yet there are only a few who will risk the displeasure of the run selling fraternity in order to suppress or destroy or even curtail this child of the devil.

At present it does not require very sharp discernment to discover that the interest in the temperance cause is waning and its enemies exult over recent victories.

Your committee would assign the following reasons for this: "First—That the professed church of God is so unfaithful to God and to covenant engagements that the spirit of aggressive warfare against the giant of evil has in a measure ceased among the brethren of Christ.

"Second—Party politics has so won the hearts of the professed temperance workers that the candidates of a party are supported whether in run or godliness.

"Third—It is apparent to your committee that temperance workers have for some time relaxed their efforts in moral suasion—that the legal aspect of the fight has eclipsed or turned aside the earnest Christian effort necessary to secure the support of the good among the people and lead the wretched and lost to sobriety and holiness.

"Thus we see the temperance party minutely disappointed by political aspirants and governments, made sport of by those who would place themselves in power for selfish interests both in provincial and dominion circles.

"In view of this we would urge upon our people to remember that faith in God, humble prayer, holy living and loyalty to truth cannot but lead us as a people to aggressive warfare against all that has a tendency to strengthen this growing curse.

"We would remind our brethren that tobacco is the handmaiden of Rum, and calls for our most deadly hatred and earnest effort against its destructive effects.

"It is to the church that the suffering widows orphans and oppressed of every class are looking for help. She ought to be the Good Samaritan to assist those who hypocritical priest and Levite pass by on the other side. God will excuse no Christian in this work. We are our brother's keeper."

BROWN'S PLATS, June 23.—Sunday's services were largely attended, there being a number of visitors. Some of these were from Yach, including one party from the steam yacht.

In the morning a special intercessory service was held in the large tabernacle. It was attended by a large number and was fervent and interesting. Rev. G. W. Macdonald led and spoke of King Edward, his life and the love of the people for him. Addresses were also made by Rev. S. A. Baker, Rev. G. A. Lally and Rev. W. B. Wiggins, while prayers for the King's recovery were offered and hymns were sung. The national anthem was sung with spirit.

In the afternoon the first camp meeting was held. It was largely attended. Rev. H. T. Reynolds and his wife of New York, noted evangelists, spoke. Rev. G. W. Macdonald led and Rev. Mr. Reynolds also spoke at the evening meeting, when the gathering was again large.

Rev. G. W. Macdonald was re-appointed editor of the Highway, the denominational paper, for the ensuing year, and Rev. H. C. Archer was appointed agent. The thanks of the Alliance and sums of money were voted the editor and financial agent for work done last year.

Votes of thanks were passed railroad and steamboat companies. A number of bills were passed, after which the Alliance adjourned to meet at the call of the chair.

The services at the camp meeting are in full swing and the attendance is increasing daily. Rev. H. F. Reynolds and his wife, with all the preachers present, are carrying on the work. Mrs. Amanda Smith, the colored evangelist, may possibly be present to have part in the services on Sunday, but may not arrive until the close of the week, and will remain until the close of the camp meeting.

SAD DROWNING.

Three Ladies Meet Watery Graves in Sandy Hook Bay.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The wife of Captain Tiemann N. Horn of the 8th coast Artillery, his daughter Frances, aged 7, and Miss Alice McMahon of Nyack, were drowned in Sandy Hook bay today. Captain Horn is stationed at Fort Hancock, on Sandy Hook.

Captain Horn had made up a sailing party to go out on the bay in his small cat-rigged yacht Midget. Those aboard were, in addition to the captain, Mrs. Horn with her two children; Miss Horn, a sister; Dr. Waterhouse, his wife, and Miss Louise McMahon, a sister of Mrs. Waterhouse.

A strong puff of wind caused the little vessel to capsize. Captain Horn and Dr. Waterhouse made every effort to save the men and children, but a strong breeze quickly swept them beyond reach and before the vessel had time to right itself, Mrs. Frances and Miss McMahon were drowned. The others clung to the mast of the yacht for about 15 minutes until rescued by Mrs. Waterhouse. At the same time a launch rescued Captain Horn, his baby boy, Miss Horn and Dr. Waterhouse.

WAKE UP, CANADA.

Forty-Six Million Dollars Worth of Exports Handled by Other Ports Through Lack of Dominion Facilities.

James Osborne, General Superintendent of the Atlantic Division of the C. P. R., on the Needs of St. John as a Winter Port.

(Montreal Witness, 4th.) The various governments of the dominion have not been slack to provide transportation facilities as development has proceeded, but there has been a singular indifference to the problem of the export trade—an indifference which may be illustrated by the fact that there are forty-six million dollars worth of exports which are handled at foreign ports—business which the dominion should do, and which it could do, if the dominion government were as fully alive to the needs of the situation as it should be, in the estimation of business men.

Sir William Van Horns has often said that the government had provided a great hopper into which the products of the country were dumped, but it had done little or nothing to ensure that these products should leave the hopper.

James Osborne, general superintendent of the C. P. R. at St. John, N. B., has large views on this subject. The export trade of the dominion, which is greatly crippled for lack of those facilities which the government, he contends, should provide. For instance, as Mr. Osborne, who is now pointed out today, take the case of St. John. The people and the C. P. R. had demonstrated that this was the winter port of Canada. To set forth this fact the city had expended over a million dollars. The company had also spent a great deal of money in the way of development. Having taken the initial steps, he thought it remained for the government to step in and carry forward the work, not for the needs of today, but for the needs of many years to come.

Development was proceeding at a rapid pace in Canada, and his plan of development based on national lines should contemplate the future, as any plan which the C. P. R. touched always did. That is to say, the C. P. R. always obtained a finished plan, although it might not realize the finished plan at once. So it was with St. John. There had been a certain amount of development done at private expense, but the possibilities were too great for private enterprise to finish. The difference in distance between Portland and St. John had to be considered, and the possibility of private outlay in the connection. Owing to the longer distance of St. John, and the difficulties under which transportation companies labored, it was manifestly a case for government aid.

The Hon. Mr. Tarte was clearly of this opinion, and he stated that he was prepared to spend liberally in making St. John the Great Winter Port of Canada. The people of the whole country would only support him. Mr. Osborne had a plan of extension in his mind, which included double story freight sheds—freight sheds, and the export of above, which would make it easy to transfer the cargo to the vessel, which would be lying closer by.

That was in fancy, for the present, but the government was seized of the importance of the question, which had become an acute one, in view of the fact that, at present, owing to our weakness, we were really building up foreign interests. He did not think the Americans were in the habit of building up Canada, unless, indeed, they came to reside in it, and he did not see why Canada should be particularly anxious to build up the United States, as she was undoubtedly doing, through the non-use of the opportunities which were within her reach. That forty million dollars worth of products which found their way to foreign ports could be handled by our own people at our own ports, if only proper facilities were provided. The sum of $1,500,000 and a half, which would be required to build up the business there would have to be such shipping charges as would come forward with a well-defined plan of assistance and extension, to meet the growing needs of the export trade, a trade which was increasing by leaps and bounds.

MONCTON. I. A Dead Body Found Floating in the River—Orangean Attendant Divine Service.

MONCTON, July 6.—A body, found to be that of Franklin P. Martin, a sailor of the schooner Charles J. Willard, drowned at Hopewell Cape on the night of 14th April last, was noticed floating in with the tide on Saturday forenoon. Chief of Police Lingley and Officer Chappell secured it about seven miles up river Saturday afternoon and brought it to Moncton, where it was identified. The sum of $100 and a silver watch were found on Martin's body. Among the papers were a ship's discharge from the steamer Prince George at Yarmouth, October, 1901, and from the ship Revolving Light at Bay Verte August of the same year, also a certificate of membership in the American Wheelmen's Association and a U. S. Government pass signed by Secretary Hay. Martin belonged to Mattapan, district of Boston, where he has a brother, Charles R. Martin, and a mother, U. S. Consul Beutelspacher, who has been in communication with the family, took charge of the body and had it interred this afternoon. Later he received a despatch from Martin's mother asking that the body be sent to Boston. Martin was drowned by the capsizing of a boat while going from the store to the vessel. His companion, named Sullivan, caught the anchor chain and was saved, but all effort to rescue Martin were unavailing owing to the darkness and swiftness of the current. He was aged 35.

About a hundred members of Royal Orange Lodge, No. 65, headed by the Citizens' band of Moncton, marched to the Free Baptist church this afternoon, where Rev. G. Swin preached a sermon on the principles of the order. A large congregation was in attendance, filling the church to the doors.

DEATH OF M. FLOOD. On Friday morning at four o'clock Michael Flood, one of the city's oldest and most respected citizens, passed away at his summer residence, South Bay. Mr. Flood had been ailing for the past year, but in spite of his advanced age, 85 years, his general activity almost assured his friends that the end was not so near. Mr. Flood came to this country from Kildare, Ireland, about 65 years ago and St. John has since been his home. A man endowed with all the qualities of a master builder, it was not long before his worth was recognized by his fellow citizens, and many public structures and private buildings remain a fitting testimony of his genius and painstaking industry. The masonry work on the Suspension bridge across the falls at St. John was done under his supervision, and this work alone—difficult and dangerous at any time and particularly so at the time it was carried out—did much to give the then but indifferently known contractor a celebrity that time but increased. Mr. Flood leaves a wife and five daughters and two sons to mourn their loss. The daughters are Mrs. J. Nugent, Mrs. A. Pauley, Mrs. J. Duke, Mrs. C. Gallagher and Mrs. Robert Ritchie; the sons, John Flood, the well known now of Bangor. One brother, James, also survives. Mr. Flood was a man who was well known to the last two generations of St. John people, and as a good citizen, interested in the city's welfare, and an upright man, he was esteemed by all.
