

GENOA ECONOMIC CONFERENCE TO REOPEN AT HAGUE TO CONSIDER RUSSIAN MATTERS

In Meantime An Effort Will Be Made to Induce U. S. to Take Hand.
SOMETHING BACK OF POSTPONEMENT
Dissolution Thought Bluff to Cover Up Difficulties Arising Between England and France.

Genoa, May 14.—The Genoa Economic Conference will be reopened on June 15 at The Hague to discuss Russian questions. The plan agreed to this afternoon at a private conference of the inviting powers, be accepted by the sub-commission on Russian affairs at the meeting tomorrow. This decision to postpone action relative to Russia is prompted, largely by the desire of the European powers to induce the United States to participate and, apparently, is merely a means of dissolving the Genoa Conference without admitting that the difficulties between France and Great Britain regarding the treatment of Russian problems cannot be reconciled in Genoa.

Want U. S. Assistance
Sir Edward Grigg, announced this afternoon that this compromise plan, suggested by Premier Lloyd George, had been accepted by the inviting powers and will be passed on to the sub-commission on Russian affairs tomorrow. Only vague details are given as to how the proposed commission or commissions to discuss the Russian question, the entire scheme seems to be still in the twilight zone, awaiting the United States decision on whether she will help Europe to straighten out the tangle.

Sir Edward added that all the powers attending the Genoa Conference will be asked to sign a declaration to The Hague where they will agree upon members of the commission who are to sit with the Russian representatives. Present at the meeting at Mr. Lloyd George's villa, in addition to the British Prime Minister, were M. Barthou, of France, Foreign Minister Schuman, of Belgium, and M. Jansen, of Belgium. After the morning session, Mr. Lloyd George said that considerable progress had been made toward agreement on the organization of the commission or commissions proposed for the consideration of Russian finances. At the conclusion of the afternoon session it was announced that the meeting had satisfactorily settled all business submitted.

It was agreed to ascertain whether the United States is inclined to participate in the commission, and that no separate agreements should be concluded with Russia pending the work of the commission, which must report within three months. A proposal for a non-aggression treaty on a reciprocal basis during the labors of the commission also was adopted.

Russians On Commission
In his statement on the proposed mixed commission, Sir Edward Grigg explained that it was practically impossible for Russia to have representatives; consequently they would designate a limited number to handle Russian affairs, just as was done at Genoa. It was further stated that Russia need be allowed no members in their panel than any other single power would have in the mixed panel. In the meantime a treaty will operate and all the nations are to refrain from making separate agreements with Russia. Until the plan is developed more fully and officially communicated to the Russians, the maximum time of the treaty suggested by them is to say whether the terms overcome their objections that the conference is trying to deal with them on an equality basis.

The Economic Conference meeting will last only a few days longer. Several delegates declared tonight that this week would probably bring it to a close. Four months will be the maximum time of the treaty suggested in connection with Russian affairs.

Russians Christy
The Russian delegation announced today that M. Chitcherine is preparing a note to Signor Facta, President of the Conference, advising him that the Russians will not deal with any commission to discuss Russian financial affairs upon which Russia is not officially represented on equal terms with the other powers.

MILITARY PARTICIPATED IN FIERCE FIRING IN BELFAST DISTRICT

Four Constables Wounded When Patrol Was Ambushed Near Lurgan, Armagh.
NEW CURFEW LAW RIGIDLY ENFORCED Activity of Snipers Was Responsible for Wounds Suffered by Many.

Belfast, May 14.—There was fierce firing in which the military participated, late this afternoon in the Toward Street district between Falls and Shankill roads. Two women and one man were wounded and sent to hospital. Indicative of the familiarity of the people of Belfast with the shooting affray, pedestrians this afternoon paraded Royal avenue and other main arteries of the city apparently unconcerned with the sharp encounter that was going on within half a mile of them. Four special constables were wounded, two of them seriously, when a patrol, of which they were members, was ambushed shortly after midnight at Derrymacab, near Lurgan, Armagh. The people of the Marrowbone districts of Belfast had a peaceful Saturday night indoors, in consequence of the new curfew regulations. There was, however, some shooting in Great George Street, Off York Street a woman named Bridget McKenna was shot through the breast by a sniper as she was entering her home in Little York Street. Her captives in serious condition and James Burns, brother, also were wounded.

INTEREST CENTERS IN GOVT'S NAVAL POLICY

Further Debate on Question May be Taken Up Tomorrow.
Ottawa, May 14.—(Canadian Press) Interest in parliamentary circles centers around the government's naval policy as announced in the House of Commons by Hon. George F. Graham, Minister of Defence, Friday last. Debate on the government's proposal in regard to the navy was deferred on the suggestion of the leader of the opposition, but it is understood that it may be proceeded with on Tuesday. Tomorrow's private members day—the last of the session—and a large number of resolutions stand on the order paper. Probably the majority of these will not be discussed but the government has expressed its desire to hear what the House has to say in regard to the one providing for the discontinuance of the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine after September 1.

ENCOURAGED OVER PROHIBITION PLANS

Campaign in London Has Taken a Forward Step After Five Years.
London, May 14.—(Canadian Press Cable) The five years campaign in behalf of temperance by the combined religious bodies took a forward step yesterday when the President of the Wesleyan Conference entertained a number of Anglican bishops, the President of the Baptist Union, the Presbyterian Moderator, Salvation Army leaders and others. Extreme measures were distinctly advocated and prohibition was not advocated in the main. The points emphasized were local option, the prevention of sale of liquor to persons under 18 years of age, Sunday closing and the extension of the licensing law to clubs. On these points it was considered that every shade of religious opinion could unite. While this gathering was in progress in London, there was a gathering at Manchester to protest against the price of beer. The meeting was called by the district licensed trade, but the promoters declared that it was called because their customers constantly asked for an opportunity to protest against the heavy taxation on liquor.

Manila, May 14.—The Prince of Wales, who arrived here yesterday morning, suffered a slight injury during a polo game when a player behind him hit a ball that struck the Prince a glancing blow over the right eyebrow, cutting a gash an inch and a half long. It was necessary to take two stitches in the wound. The wound is not serious, the Prince retired from the game and returned to the British cruiser Renown. He was unable to attend the dinner and reception that Governor-General Wood had arranged for him. It was announced the Prince will resume the activities of his visit tomorrow. When the Renown, which was escorted into the harbor by United States destroyers, dropped anchor the national salute of 21 guns was fired and Governor-General Leonard Wood made an official call on the Prince aboard the cruiser. Later the Prince disembarked and was received by Vice-Governor Gilmore on behalf of the Philippine government and was escorted by a troop of cavalry to Malacan Palace where he called officially on Governor Wood and then dined informally with him. DUBLIN HAVING ITS LABOR TROUBLES

Labor Minister Unable to Settle Dispute Between Creamery Owners and Workers.
Dublin, May 14.—The Provisional Government, through the labor minister, Joseph McGrath, has been for several days attempting to settle the wage dispute between the large combine of proprietary creameries and their workmen. The creameries are not cooperative, and the workers, alleging that these plants made war profits exceeding $1,000,000 a year, proposed wages out of 33 per cent. Attempts at settlement having failed, the employers decided to close their factories last night, thus rendering 10,000 workers and affecting also 5,000 families depending upon the creameries for the sale of their milk. The minister, where there is a general labor council, the workers were asked to stay on as usual; hence they took over the factories, and business was proceeding yesterday. The milk supply was collected by lorries from the surrounding country. Minister McGrath described the outlook as very serious. TEMPORARY DYKE CONSTRUCTED TO STEM ENCRANCHING FLOOD OF ASSINIBOINE BREAKS AWAY.

THOUSAND ACRES NOW UNDER WATER
Should River Rise Any More Only Superhuman Efforts Can Save Complete Ruin.
Winnipeg, Man., May 14.—Disaster overtook the colony of huttenites, fifteen miles west of here on Saturday night when the temporary dyke constructed by them to stem the encroaching flood of the Assiniboine River, west out during the hours of darkness, allowing the water to cover about one thousand acres of wheat-wheat land immediately to the south, threatening thousands of acres of low-lying spots and cutting off the colony from easy access to other districts. Day after day, night after night, the colony fought the flood, only to see most of its efforts go for naught. Should the river rise any more, only superhuman efforts will be able to save the results of months of toil from complete ruin.

PROTECTORATE FOR ALBANIA SUGGESTED

Would be Taken Over by League of Nations — Italy Raised Objections.
Genoa, May 14.—A League of Nations protectorate for Albania was virtually decided upon by the Council of the League yesterday after Italy's objection had been overcome. Italy, through her representative on the Council, Marquis Imperiali, had pointed out several days ago that she could not accept such drastic participation by the League in the Government of Albania without assurances that important Italian interests in that country would be safeguarded. The council intimated that some of the financial, economic and legal experts who are to be appointed by the League to assist the Albanian government would be chosen by Italy, and thereupon Marquis Imperiali withdrew his protest. This is the first time, League officials pointed out, that the League has assumed such extensive obligations in the administration of any country's internal affairs. The decision was the result of a request by the Albanian Government for the League's assistance in its endeavor to have Albania make a place for herself among the nations of Europe. The council also decided to appoint some prominent United States educator to membership on the international commission which is to make a study of international co-operation among the nations. This commission will be composed of some of the most notable educators of the world. It will strive to work out a plan for the solution of such problems as the exchange of professors between countries, relations between universities, international reference books and other similar educational questions.

When he again attempted to get on to his cart, the horse started and the young teamster lost his footing and fell to the ground a wheel of the cart passing over his neck killing him instantly. The only witness to the unfortunate occurrence was a younger brother who was riding on the hind end of the cart. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved family.

THREE MEN RULED UNIONS OF CHICAGO

Alleged, by Police, to Have Been Responsible for Recent Murders and Lawlessness.
Chicago, May 14.—Search today through the mass of documentary evidence seized in a spectacular series of raids on union headquarters has supplied proof, according to the police, that recent murders and lawlessness resulted from the efforts of a triumvirate of labor men to rule Chicago unions. The three men involved, who the police said were among the fifteen seized several days ago following the murder of two patrolmen, seeking to arrest four members, not only were living off the unions, but were double crossing them it is claimed. Books, memoranda, letters, files and other matter, it was said, told how these men used the money collected as union to employ slingers to intimidate members of their own unions and other matter. The revelations so far are said to show the existence of a crime organization raised almost to the standard of efficiency in combating law and order as if the police department in combating crime. Members of the "wrecking crews," it is said, were required to pull a box at stated times the day the same as patrolmen, in reporting to headquarters. At stated intervals, it is said, members of the gang were required to telephone to certain attorneys.

JURY ACQUITTED GEORGE JANOUSKY

Was Freed from Participation in the Murder of Toter Kastinen, July 1919.
Quebec, May 14.—At the conclusion of his third trial here at the criminal assize on Saturday before Mr. Justice Monson, of Montreal, "Little George" Janousky was found not guilty by the jury of having participated in the murder of Toter Kastinen at Kenogami in July, 1919. Two men have already paid the supreme penalty for this crime, Nick Debecka and George Morhart, who were hanged here in July, 1920, while "Big Mike" Prosko is now in the jail on June 16, next, for the same murder. "Little George" was immediately liberated, but only to be arrested again a few minutes later by detective McEachern, of the immigration department in order that his case may be investigated to see whether or not he will be deported.

FLOOD DISASTER OVERTOOK COLONY OF THE HUTTERITES

Temporary Dyke Constructed to Stem Encroaching Flood of Assiniboine Breaks Away.
THOUSAND ACRES NOW UNDER WATER
Should River Rise Any More Only Superhuman Efforts Can Save Complete Ruin.
Winnipeg, Man., May 14.—Disaster overtook the colony of huttenites, fifteen miles west of here on Saturday night when the temporary dyke constructed by them to stem the encroaching flood of the Assiniboine River, west out during the hours of darkness, allowing the water to cover about one thousand acres of wheat-wheat land immediately to the south, threatening thousands of acres of low-lying spots and cutting off the colony from easy access to other districts. Day after day, night after night, the colony fought the flood, only to see most of its efforts go for naught. Should the river rise any more, only superhuman efforts will be able to save the results of months of toil from complete ruin.

SITUATION MORE SERIOUS

The flood situation for miles along the south side of the river is serious, but the consequences would have been more serious if large quantities of water had not made its escape to the prairies north of the river. Except at Beriville it is not the Assiniboine that is directly flooding the land, but the waters that are backing up on levees that lead inland from the south bank. These waters are naturally landing their way to the low-lying places, and leaving their marks wherever they go. Hurried efforts at lopping are being carried on in all directions at Beriville, but the grades of two roads and two railway lines will prevent any widespread flooding beyond that already mentioned.

SITUATION IN IRELAND MORE UNSETTLED

Irish Peace Committee Met Again Saturday But Made No Progress.
AGREED ELECTION POINT OF DIVISION
Free State Paper Frankly Admits Government is Powerless to Keep Law and Order.
Dublin, May 14.—The Irish Peace Committee met again yesterday in the Mansion House. Some optimism was noticeable but no ground for it was apparent. The real point of division is the agreed elections. At the Conference yesterday it was urged on the treaty side that it should imply a certain acceptance of the treaty as the fact which altered the whole situation. The proposals signed by Michael Collins and Richard Mulcahy were supposed to indicate this disposition. According to Harry J. Boland, of the Republican side, the negotiations for peace would never have been begun if this attitude had been made clear. The Free State paper puts the position directly saying: "We shall either have peace, under which the will of the majority shall prevail once for all, or war rendered more certain by the solemn calling of a truce." Gravity of Situation. The paper describes the gravity of the situation as strongly as the Unionists have in the House of Commons. The Government has everywhere been flouted and interfered with, it says "and is unable to keep peace and order. The result has been a state bordering on anarchy. The land question is raising its head again. Property has almost ceased to be respected. The courts are idle or suppressed, and a hopeless spirit is settling down on the people. There are rumors afloat that one result of the Conference may be a coalition and agreed elections. If the latter phrase means 'agreement to have an election' well and good, but if it means that two parties patch up their differences in appearance only and go on governing the country with no settlement of the treaty question then it does not need any particular indignation to tell both parties that it won't do, or if it means that there is to be any attempt at a machine made election, so that both parties would come back with something like their present strength, it won't do either. The country must insist on its right to elect a majority which will be able to govern without interference."

Beauvais, accused by Stillman of being the father of the boy, Guy, said Mrs. Stillman was an absolutely innocent woman.

Senator McCormick said the rule is not the result of any special incident, but as a matter of general policy.

THE PARTY SYSTEM.

It has become the fashion of late for politicians of a particular class to rail against the party system of government. It is of course not altogether to be wondered at because such a system does not lend itself to their particular ambitions, but so far they have not been able to announce the discovery of any other system which would prove of at least equal benefit to the country. Party Government has been in existence in Great Britain for centuries, and it has been under that system that the people of that country attained the liberties they now possess so fully and built up the greatness which is theirs. Not only that, but it has been under the party system that the political development of Britain's overseas dominions has taken place, and that they are today self-governing nations. It is only of late that particular groups have come into existence, which disclaiming adherence to either of the old political parties have set out to further the special interests of the class to which they belong. They are not in the national business of politics, but are concerned only with the attainment of objects which will help their own selfish ends, though they profess of course to be actuated by a sincere regard for the welfare of the country as a whole.

A reasonable acquaintance with modern English history will show that the party system has accomplished of course things as particular groups may not admit within the two great parties, in fact there always have been groups of some sort within them. For instance in the years following 1832, the Whigs or Reformers had among their following Mr. O'Connell and his Repealers, the members of the Manchester school, the Philosophical Radicals and so on, whilst the Conservative party of landowners, commercial magnates and Churchmen ran through all shades from High Toryism and unbending Protection, to open mind of Sir Robert Peel. The Maynooth grant and the demands of the Repealers disturbed the English parties just as the United Farmers or Progressives are disturbing Canadian political life today.

The party system is of course, like any other system of government or anything else, not without its defects, but there are few men of any degree of wisdom or experience who are going to claim that the group or class system of government is likely to be an improvement upon it. Party government has developed in the course of its existence a good deal of party machinery, which by being kept in constant work cannot be said to be altogether free from evil effects. Many of these effects are so apparent that many good party men have been led to speculate whether the use of this party machinery is, on the whole, productive of good or of evil, and whether if it could not be absolutely dispensed with, some readjustment might not be possible under which the more flagrant bad consequences might be diminished. When these enquiries find a voice, they are often met with the declaration that party government is indispensable and must be taken with all its defects. It may tax the intellects of many to imagine other modes of life than those in which we live; and there is a natural inclination on the part of the men who have been called upon to direct a great machine to deny suggestions for its restoration or abolition; but still disclaimers will recur, and the grounds of it, must be examined.

A leading English political writer, goes so far as to say that "Every party in power leans in the direction of the policy of its opponents. A Conservative Government is Liberal, and a Liberal Government is Conservative. It is a common experience for each in turn to be condemned by its extreme followers for adopting the policy of its adversaries. The complaint is well founded, and it shows that both Liberal and Conservative are conscious that the true line of national movement follows a course between their exclusive fields of policy. If it were possible to organize the representation of national life so that it should be factually embodied in something representing this central line of movement, we should be spared the halcyon and the waste resulting from an organization always producing more or less serious misrepresentation." That at least, was the opinion of the late Lord Courtney, formerly a leading member of the British House of Commons.

WELLS AS A HISTORIAN.

When H. G. Wells came over to this city to write up the Washington Conference, he took care to get every particular of all the proceedings that came his way. This resulted in attention being drawn to his work, an "Outline of History," and the question of its suitability as a college text book was looked into. The American National Civic Federation has been collecting the opinions of historians and educators upon the matter, and these are interesting, not so much from a technical standpoint as in showing what the history sharps think of a volume that has gained a wider circle of readers than any other non-fiction book published in years. Several of these experts praise the book. A majority of them condemn it as a scientific work. This was to have been expected. Popularity and hard, unvarnished, facts rarely go hand in hand. The most of the critics hold that Wells has laid the varnish a little thickly upon his facts and that other decorations in the way of personal opinions and propaganda have detracted from the value of the work as an agency for the dissemination of knowledge. Of course Mr. Wells may have omitted to point out that America won the war, which would itself be enough to cause its exclusion from American schools and colleges.

"Too much Wells and not enough history" is one verdict. "Inaccurate, misleading and calculated to appeal only to ignorant or thoughtless people" is another. "The work of a pamphlet, not a historian," says a third; while still another accuses him of having copied the paragraphs on feudalism direct from the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Other critics are much kinder, and Professor Shapiro of the College of the City of New York sums up the defense thus tersely: "He has interested the average reader in history; professional historians now living has ever done it or could do it." That tells the story. Anyway friend Wells has started the people to reading history who have not touched the subject since leaving school. It has given many of these readers a smattering of knowledge of the processes of evolution and the development of the race with respect to which their minds had been previously well nigh a blank. Many readers of Wells have been persuaded to pursue the subject, further in order to find what others have said about the topic in which they have become interested. If Wells has copied from the encyclopedia, he at least may have the satisfaction of knowing that he has got to reading his extracts people who never would have ventured within the covers of any of these ponderous tomes. However, critics in the main agree that Mr. Wells has written a most readable book and has interested thousands of people in a subject it is worth while knowing much about. Those who condemn him could well feel proud to have done as much.

GERMANY'S REPLY.

How closely the problems of Europe are linked together is shown by the appearance, almost simultaneously with the Russian note to the Allies at Genoa, of Germany's reply to the second and more urgent note sent by the Reparations Commission in regard to the demands formulated on March 21. In tone the German note is as conciliatory as might be expected from the ministry of Chancellor Wirth, who took office on a programme of doing the utmost possible to satisfy the demands of the Allies, and is admitted to have worked honestly and zealously to this end during the year and more that he has been at the head of the German Government.

This fact, however, makes all the more ominous what amounts to a refusal of the Commission's demands. The refusal, to be sure, is not outright, and the way is left open for further discussion. In its second note of April 13 the Commission declared itself willing "to examine any practicable suggestions which may be put forward by the German Government, provided that the difficulties in which it is placed," and this should cover Chancellor Wirth's proposal to make his scheme expire, "a complete scheme to cover expenditures without further monetary inflation." If a hopeful scheme of this sort can be worked out it ought, of course, to have careful consideration. It should be possible also to demonstrate before action is taken whether the new taxation amounting to 66 billion marks demanded by the Commission is materially impossible as the Chancellor asserts; if he calls it impossible no other German ministry will call it anything else, for among important critics outside of Germany the severest criticism made of Dr. Wirth is that he has been an extravagant optimist in regard to Germany's ability to pay. The way is the problem is now a loss to enable Germany to meet the most insistent of the indemnity without ruining its business and wrecking foreign exchange the world over. This the German experts urged at the London Conference early in 1921, but their proposals were then frowned upon; a year's experience of efforts to secure cash payments has brought a great change of sentiment, and negotiations for a loan, with American capital participating have made considerable progress. The German note must therefore be read in the light of these new developments.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Growing Wiser

(Vancouver Province.)
Canada is not a bad place for a home. This is the verdict of the Manitoba Menonites, who went to Mexico to escape the onerous educational laws and other regulations of civilized life. The exiles have only been away a few weeks and now they want to get back. Mexico is hot. The land is not suitable. Surroundings are unpleasant. There is no guarantee of peace and safety. These and other disadvantages more than offset the privilege of bringing up their children in ignorance. They find it better to have English in Canada than to know only German in Mexico. These people are not the stuff to be martyrs or even pioneers. They claim the convenience and protection of an organized community without belonging to it.

The Victors and The Spoils

(London Free Press.)
The uplift, righteous speeches of Mr. King during the election campaign, in which he thundered in his best grandiloquent manner against the political crime of the Melton Government in appointing Conservatives to the bench and to the Senate, seem to have been forgotten, like all his pre-election pledges. For downright hypocrisy has become there is never in Canada anything to equal the campaign oratory of Mr. King.

Our local contemporary (Liberal) is carrying on an agitation to amend the Civil Service Act so that members and ministers will have control of appointments. This it solemnly asserts is solely in the interests of efficiency. The Klondike rush for the few political plum now available, such as at judges and senators, and the manner in which the faithful are alone awarded, shows what would happen if the Civil Service Act were repealed. The hungry followers of Mr. King would fairly storm Ottawa.

Here is a partial list of the appointments of Mr. King since January 1: John E. Adamson, defeated Liberal candidate in Selkirk, 1917 and 1921; appointed judge of the King's Bench of Manitoba. Gerald Powers, brother of Major "Chubby" Powers, M.P. for Quebec centre appointed to the Quebec Harbor Commission. J. St. George Stubbs, defeated Liberal candidate in Marquette, appointed to County Court judge in Manitoba. Fred F. Parlee, defeated Liberal candidate in West Lambton elevated to the Senate. Gustave Boyer, Liberal member in Val-de-Rouge, appointed to the Senate. Archie McColg, Liberal member in Kent, appointed to the Senate to make a seat for Hon. James Murdock. A. C. Harby, former president of the Ontario Liberal Association and anti-conscription Liberal candidate in Leeds against Sir Thomas White in 1917, made a senator. Duncan Ross, defeated Liberal candidate in West Middlesex, named as county judge for Elgin. P. C. Larkin, former treasurer of the Ontario Liberal Association, appointed Canadian High Commissioner, in St. Antonio, former Liberal candidate in the Montreal Harbor Commission. Hon. Duncan Marshall, defeated Liberal candidate in Esquimalt, made commissioner of agriculture. Robert Beatty, Liberal M.P. elected for East Kootenay, appointed to the income tax department as deputy minister. Dr. King. Robert G. Fisher, K.C., former defeated Liberal candidate in East Middlesex, to the Supreme Court of Ontario. Severin Letourneau, Liberal organizer in Quebec, who has been elevated to a judgeship.

A BIT OF VERSE

WAVERLEY
By Joyce Kilmer
When on a novel's newly printed page
We find a mandarin ecology of sin,
And read of ways that harlots wander in,
And of sick souls that writhe in helpless rage;
Or when Romance, bespectacled and sage,
Taps on her desk, and bids the class begin To con the problems that have all ways been Perplexed mankind's unhappy heritage;
Then in what robes of honor habited
The laurelled wizard of the North appears,
Who raised Prince Charlie's cohorts from the dead,
Made Rose's winter, and Flora's noble tears,
And formed that shining legion at whose head Rides Waverley, triumphant o'er the years.

GERMAN SHIPYARDS BUSIER THAN EVER IN THEIR HISTORY

Mr. Farley Finds Confidence That Country Will Regain Place on Sea—War Penalties Called Advantage.

Washington, May 14.—The American merchant marine programme will meet with no hostility in either England or Germany, according to a report on the attitude of shipping interests in these two countries made to Albert D. Laaker, chairman of the Shipping Board, by Edward F. Farley, vice-president, in charge of ship sales, who has just returned from Europe.

In Germany, Mr. Farley reported no interest is taken by shipping concerns in either American or British merchant marine plans as the Germans feel they have an extraordinary advantage in their efforts to rebuild their merchant marine from the ground up. The very penalties imposed on Germany as a result of the war, influential German shipping men informed Mr. Farley, are now operating to make it certain, in their opinion, that ultimately Germany will regain her place on the sea. German shipyards are crowded with new construction, and ports like Hamburg, Mr. Farley found, are busier today than ever in their history, with lines of foreign shipping at anchor begging a chance to be repaired or repaired.

Mr. Farley was assured in England that British shipping interests recognized the right of the United States to establish a merchant marine with her war-built tonnage even though this would compel a revision of the operating plans of the British Merchant Marine. Farley told Mr. Laaker that the British attitude was one of fair play toward the United States. In England, Mr. Farley found that the shipyards were very generally closed for lack of work.

Mr. Farley also found that the Shipping Board's price of $30 a ton for its war-built fleet was a fair estimate of the world market price for shipping of the type that the United States has to dispose of.

Nova Scotia and New Brun-
Hand Drive.

Halifax, N. S., May 14.—During the session of the Nova Scotia Legislature just closed, an act was adopted providing that after Jan. 1, 1923, all traffic on the highways and streets of the province should drive to the right, by an act adopted by the New Brunswick Legislature the change from the present practice of driving to the left will take place in that province at the same time.

With the abandonment of the drive to the left rule in the Maritimes, one more old world custom will disappear from this continent, a custom laid down from the days when the horseman rode around in tin garments and kept fellow wayfarers in their right so as to be better able to guard against surprises.

THE POLICE COURT.

In the police court on Saturday morning, four indictments appeared on the charge of being members of a disorderly crowd, and were allowed to go after being given a severe lecture.
One man appeared on the charge of drunkenness, and was given the option of paying $8 or spending two months in jail.

ECZEMA ON FACE AND HEAD FOR FIVE YEARS

Eczema of the skin, as it is often called, manifests itself in little round spots which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed and the intense burning itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to a strong heat, is almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

There is only one way to get relief and no remedy like BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS Take it internally and it gets at the root of the disease in the blood and drives it out of the system.

Apply it externally and it takes out the itching, stinging and burning, and promotes healthy healing.

Mr. J. Sagar, 215 Princess Ave., Vancouver, B. C. writes: "Having suffered with eczema on the face and head, for the last five years, I consulted several doctors, and tried various kinds of ointments and lotions, but I did not benefit from any of them. I did not know what to do until a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used two bottles I began to get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. B. too highly. I hope you will make full use of this recommendation for the benefit of those who are suffering from this terrible complaint, eczema."

China Becoming More Self-Assertive And Independent

Sees Signs of the Stirrings of a Chinese Public Opinion and National Sentiment.

Chicago, May 14.—China is becoming more self-assertive and self-dependent since the early days of the Washington conference, says Bishop Francis J.
McConnell, resident bishop of Prince burgh of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who has been visiting in China recently.

Bishop McConnell is a member of the Educational Commission of the Missions Board of America and Great Britain who were sent to China six months ago. His statement was made public by a committee on Conservation and Advance of the Methodist Church here.

"There are sure signs of the stirrings of a Chinese public opinion and of Chinese national sentiment in advance of anything yet observed there," the bishop said.

Speaking of the relations of the Japanese and Chinese, Bishop McConnell said: "The Japanese have made one notable failure and that is they have failed to make a friend of China. One does not have to be in a Chinese city long to note the intensity of the enmity of the Chinese toward the Japanese. He is utterly blind who fails to see this enmity as of no practical consequence in view of Japanese superiority in arms."

"The Chinese have found in the boycott a powerful weapon. With consum-mate genius for non-co-operation and passive resistance, China can free herself from all outside influence which she chooses to ban when the time comes. And the time is coming soon in the years just ahead when China will inevitably come to a self-conscious, self-respecting independence of

"I do not think there is danger of there is such a rising the weapons used will not be swords and guns."

Bishop McConnell said that the presence of an ever growing liberal sentiment—not necessarily a liberal party —in Japan is not a mystery. "If Japan does not embark upon a career of imperialistic conquest of China in the next ten years it is not likely that she ever will," he declared. "By 1923 the democratic forces will probably be, if not irresistible, at least so effective as to make it impossible for war plans to be carried through in the old high-handed fashion."

Trout Pools in Nipigon Park

Nature has dealt most bountifully with Canada in providing her with beautiful, immense and varied playgrounds. Large areas, covered with virgin forest, intertwined with lakes, rivers and streams, have been set aside by the Government, where the tourist, traveller and sportsman may find recreation and where game fish are abundant and wild life roams untroubled.

Such is Nipigon Park, one of Ontario's great forest reserves. It has an area of 7,300 square miles. No national playground, in Canada offers such scope to nimrod and novice alike, for these cold green waters of the north are alive with the gamiest of trout. Trout have been taken from these waters up to a record weight of 14 1/2 pounds.

A trophy is awarded annually by the Canadian National Railways to the Tronwinipig line of the Canadian National Railways, is the gateway to this fisherman's paradise. At Orient Bay, Nipigon Lodge—a rustic hunting and fishing kedge de luxe—is set among the pines and cedars. From here, all the Nipigon trips may be made either by motor-boat or canoe. Prince Arthur of Connaught, while touring Canada—and, later, the Prince of Wales—fished in these waters and caught their limit of Nipigon trout.

Fishermen And Sailors Keen Over Duff Motion

His Plea for $5,000 to Encourage Sailing Races Held With Favor in Maritimes.

Halifax, N. S., May 14.—When Wm.
Duff, M. P. for Lunenburg, N. S., arose in Parliament and requested a grant of $5,000 to encourage sailing races between the deep sea fishing vessels of Canada and those of other nations, he raised a question which has become a matter of big debate among sailormen and fishermen of the Maritimes. The question is:—

Should the Government countenance an international contest which may be delaying the march of progress in one respect, because it is encouraging sailing in its last stand against the encroachments of mechanical power?

Mr. Duff told the House that two sailing vessels had been built in New England and two in Nova Scotia during the past year, and that he hoped that they would survive the elimination races and be chosen as champions of their respective countries in the international ocean racing power off Glencester this fall. When these races were instituted New England had practically ceased to build fishing vessels, relying entirely on sail, and in Nova Scotia, too, most of the newer fishing vessels were being equipped with motor engines and propellers in addition to sail. It is in the prospect of the prospect of entering them in the international races, it is pretty safe to say that no fishing vessels, without auxiliary mechanical power, would have been built in New England last winter.

Old sailormen who love tall sparred ships and spreading canvases feel that the government will recognize the international sailing races in the way suggested by Mr. Duff—if only because the friendly rivalry for sailing supremacy between the fishing fleets of Canada and the United States adds a new zeal and interest to the hard and hazardous life of the fishermen—but at the same time they have a feeling that these ocean races but mark the beginning of the end for the white flagged races of the world. They recall the vain struggle of the state-square-rigged clippers, against the uncomely tramp steamer, of the smart sloops of the North Sea against the usually steam trawler. And they recall, too, that even here in Nova Scotia half a hundred ports that once sent fleets of sailing vessels to the Grand Banks now carry on their operations in craft equipped with motor propulsion, sometimes as an auxiliary to sail, but often as their sole source of power.

From the days of the

to the area of the clipper ships—Lightning, Flying Cloud, Rocket, Cutty Sark and Thermopylae—swiftest of wind driven hulls the evolution of stages, but since the advent of mechanical power greater advances have been made in marine architecture in a century.

Steam power for various reasons, failed to effect a revolution in the fishing fleets of Nova Scotia and New England comparable to the vast change place in the fishing fleets of Great Britain, but the motor engine has set in motion a revolution on this side of the western ocean which so far has proceeded in a direction opposite to that of the British fleets. While the steam trawler has practically annihilated the shore fishing of Britain, mechanical power has vastly increased the importance of the shore fisheries of Canada and the United States. Eastern Canada probably has 12,000 motor boats engaged in the fisheries today, mostly small craft operating on the inshore fishing banks.

Grand Bankers
engaged in salt fishing still rely on canvas for propulsion, they nearly all have their motor engines to weigh their anchors, hoist the sails and to haul their ice, salt and fish. When they get under way, now there is no need for all hands and the cook talking on the deck, but the motor has taken its place as the chieftain of the motor boat, as the chieftain of the motor boat, as the chancey man who lightened the labor of the pull-haul days has no recognized place in the days of mechanical power, though when the motor engine is buried in the mill race of waters sweeping over the decks his ancient rivals rally the man to the hard task of muzzling the stout canvas following in the savage squalls.

But even the old fishermen, trained in salt, views the revolution which the motor engine is making in the ways of ships and the sea with scant regret for the past. Many a man who once sailed to the Grand Banks, a wanderer upon the waters for months, now has a vast motor launch, and seldom spends a night away from his home.

"The sailing vessels, they are all right in their way," the old timer grambles, "but they are nicer to look at than to sail in." For life aboard of them is a hard drag. The motor boat has made work a lot easier for us fishermen. We can make for the grounds in calm or head winds. In the old days the boat fishermen had to leave port at one or two in the morning to be on the fishing grounds at dawn, and often to boat out in a canvas or break his heart on an oar in calm. Now if we are making tide sets we can leave harbor sure to be ready to set out early when the tide arrives. In the old days "Again, we can go further away from our port in a motor boat than we dared to in a sailing boat, especially when a storm was brewing, and we get thereby a larger fishing ground. And when we get our fish aboard we can get them into market in prime shape, which was a thing we couldn't gamble on in a sail."

"The bigger vessels that go to the deep sea fishing need motor engines and a bit of propeller under their own gear, too. They used them for getting in and out of port, for shunting around from wharf to wharf, for running

When figuring what you would save by buying a Ford in preference to some other car, don't stop at the purchase price—important though this saving is. The big saving is on gasoline, tires, oil and re-expense. No other car will give the same uniform service and satisfaction. No other car will last as long and ask so little in return as the Ford.

Quizzing Into Proposed Merger

Presidents of Independent Steel Companies Called Up-

Washington, May 14.—Presidents of the more than half a dozen independent steel companies, mentioned in connection with the reported merger, were called upon yesterday by the Federal Trade Commission for "full and specific" information as to the plan of proposed merger before the plan is consummated or actual transfers made.

Announcement was made in connection with the request that the commission had its attention called formally to the projected merger last December 27, and since that time it has had the matter under investigation.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children.
Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.

Price Broke Sharply On The Chicago Exchange

Speculators Kept Up Activity In Steel Issues

Lackawanna Rose to New Maximum for Current Movement—Oils Backward.

New York, May 15.—Trading in stocks today would have been dull and featureless but for the further speculative activity in steels at extreme gains of 1 to 4 1/2 points, with subsequent reactions on profit-taking.

Foremost in this movement were Steel-Shelby, Gulf States, Nova Scotia, Midvale, Vanadium, Republic and Republic, together with several other issues, which rose to their comparative prominence in merger rumors. Lackawanna Steel rose to a new maximum for the current movement and Bethlehem was firm but Crudele-based under realizing sales and United States Steel gained only small fraction, although heavily traded in. Changes elsewhere were mainly upward and embraced some of the better known shippings, sugars, chemicals, fertilizers, copiers and equipments. Oils were relatively backward, aside from the demand for low priced issues and strength among rails was limited to a few investments, notably Reading, Atchison and Atlantic Coast Line.

Sales amounted to 650,000 shares.

Turnover In Bond Market Very Light

Internationals Evincing An Uneven Tone—Steel Bonds Made Advances.

New York, May 15.—The turnover in the bond market today was unusually light and price changes continued irregular. Liberties eased at the outset, but closed with almost an even proportion of nominal gains and recessions.

Internationals evincing the same uneven tone, French, Swiss, Belgian and Mexican Government offerings showing moderate strength, while French 7 1/2 and several of that country's municipal offerings were inclined to ease.

Several of the independent steel bonds rose on the higher prices made by stocks of that description but rails as well as utilities moved within very narrow limits. Total sales (par value) $7,243,000.

Very Little Demand For Wheat On The Winnipeg Board

Business Swung Along An Even Level With Few Price Changes.

Winnipeg, May 15.—There was an easier tendency to the local wheat market today and price changes were not large. The consumptive demand, both domestic and export was very small. Following the opening prices advanced, May reaching a high of 1.35 3/4, but this was not maintained and near the close all three futures were fluctuating around the low points for the session May closed 1.4 cent lower; July 1.4 cent higher and October half cent lower.

Cash markets were all quiet. Cash wheat offerings were light and exporters claimed no new business in any volume. Premiums were about unchanged at 5 1/2 cents over May for Number 4 northern. Inspectors totalled 611 cars, of which 281 were wheat.

Stronger Tone Prevailed In Montreal Trade

There Was Slight Dropping Off in Activity and Contraction of the List.

Montreal, May 14.—A stronger tone prevailed in Saturday's trading on the local stock exchanges accompanied by some slight dropping off in activity and contraction of the list. Abtibi gained 1-8 at 64 7/8. The greatest recession of the day was the loss of 2 points to 140 in C.P.R. on trading in only 50 shares.

Strong stocks of the session took in Steel of Canada up 1 at 71. Atlantic Sugar up 3-4 at 21. Quebec Railway and Brazilian both up 1-4. Macdonald was easier being 1-2 down at 84 1/4.

Bonds were only fairly active with changes in prices that were without significance.

Denominations—$100, $500, $1,000.

Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, the largest company in the Dominion engaged in inland water transportation, is a consolidation of long-established and successful concerns, owning and operating 96 steamers, terminals, docks, warehouses, boiler and engine plants, shipbuilding and repair shops, towing and wrecking companies and a coal sales company on the most important inland waterway in the world.

The general method by which this system has been built up is the same method which has made such a success of United States Steel Corporation, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and others, namely, to own or control every sort of property that will reduce cost of production or prevent the profits of outside concerns from entering into those costs or give the management a better hold upon the market for their services.

This method has been successful is evident from the fact that the Company does practically all the Canadian Tonnage Trade on the Great Lakes, and in 1921 carried 31 per cent of all the Canadian wheat crop, which moved through Canadian Channels.

The basis of the security, cheap transportation, is fundamental. The proof lies in the excellent record of earnings which are sufficient to pay bond interest over three and one-half times.

This issue is meeting with a ready sale at the attractive price of 97 1/2 and interest, yielding 7.30 p.c.

SWEDES SHOW THEIR STRONG AFFECTION FOR KING GUSTAVE

Country Deeply Concerned When Aged Ruler Met With Accident at Nice. Stockholm, May 14.—The slight but painful injury sustained by King Gustave of Sweden in an automobile accident near Nice on the French Riviera last week, has caused the affection which the Swedes cherish for their monarch. The accident caused great anxiety throughout Sweden, even after it was announced that the King's hurts were not serious, for the King is rather frail and nearly 64 years of age.

King Gustave has chosen Nice as his favorite hunt and playground when he seeks relaxation and recuperation from the cares of state and he is one of the most popular and welcome guests of the resort. His amusements there included playing bridge with friends and tennis with Miss Longie, the French champion, and Earl Balfour.

In spite of his age, King Gustave still plays a brilliant tennis game and is looked upon as one of the best amateur players of Sweden. A stiff game of tennis or bridge always puts him in good humor, and his witticisms on these occasions are quoted throughout the Riviera.

The French newspapers have been publishing a story of a little incident that occurred at Nice in illustration of the King's affection for his tennis partner and she was playing on the right hand side of the court. The King frequently exclaims for her, but usually insists upon to return the ball; whereupon Miss Longie admonished him to "keep to the left, Your Majesty," and once gave him a gentle pat on the back.

At the end of the game the King is reported to have said to his partner: "You remind me of my Premier for you are always telling me to keep to the left."

Premier Branting of Sweden is head of the Socialist party, which in parliamentary language is called "The Left."

Six Local Lodges Celebrate 103rd Anniversary — Sermon by Rev. F. H. Bone at Central Baptist.

The members of six lodges, comprising in attendance about three hundred people, celebrated the one hundred and third anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at a service conducted yesterday afternoon, in the Central Baptist church. The Odd Fellows and Rebekah met in the vestry of the church at 5:30 o'clock, where a short meeting was held, after which they proceeded to the church for the service, which was conducted by Brother the Rev. F. H. Bone. Special music was rendered throughout by the Central Baptist choir, under the direction of Professor Brauer.

The service opened with the singing of the Doxology, followed by an invocation. The choir then rendered "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and the anthem "O How Amiable," Miss A. The offering was taken in aid of the Protestant Orphan, and amounted to $72.50.

The anniversary sermon was preached by Rev. F. H. Bone, pastor of Central Baptist church, and a member of the largest fraternal order in existence. The Odd Fellows, he said, came into existence on April 27, 1819, the order having been founded by Thomas Wilby, a native of Baltimore, Maryland. The organization, which now has a membership of 1,750,000 has branches in all parts of the civilized world. The speaker said that, while comparatively weak numerically in the Maritime Provinces, what the order lacked in quantity, they made up in quality, and he dwelt on the great amount of good work that was being accomplished by this organization as a fraternal order.

One of the special projects, at present confronting the Odd Fellows, was the providing of a home for aged members of the order. The project is at present well under way, and the sum of $270,000 has been raised for this purpose.

The main subject of the address was "Friendship," which the speaker divided into three propositions, in the first place, he said that friendship was the basis for mutual understanding between the different races and peoples of the world. This mutual understanding was not to be brought about by treaty alone, as between nation and nation, but the spirit of friendship as evidenced in the principles of brotherhood, was necessary in the best interests of the nations in preserving harmony among its peoples.

The speaker said that friendship was the basis for success in the realm of industry. In order that conditions should return to normalcy, it is necessary that confidence be restored among the classes comprising the industrial activities of the world.

The last proposition was that friendship was the basis of true civilization. The speaker said that a friend was the rarest and most valuable possession a person could have; that it was a well known fact that a person could have many acquaintances but few friends; and that real friendship had an everlasting value to those possessing it. The speaker closed his address with a reference to the parable of the good Samaritan, and urged his hearers to emulate this example.

Following the sermon, the choir rendered the hymn, "Rescue the Perishing," and the service was brought to a close with the Benediction.

It was announced yesterday that Pioneer and Silem Lodges have definitively decided to unite as one lodge, to be known as Odd Lodge No. 10, in honor of past Canadian grand sire Joseph Oliver. It is the intention of the new lodge to secure a permanent lodge room, which can be used for all purposes pertaining to the work of the order.

BOGUS CHEQUES PASSED ON STORES
Two Hebrew dry goods stores on Union Street, are reported to have been defrauded of sums of money in excess of forty dollars each, Saturday night, by a local man, who passed bogus cheques at each of them.

It is said that when the police visited the man's home, they learnt from his better half, that her spouse had not honored the marital roof tree with his presence for some time. The man has not been located by the authorities as yet, and it is believed he has left town.

Careless Smoker Starts Park Fire

Cigarette Butt Held Responsible for Fire at Rockwood — Fire Department Called Out.

Fire in the grass and underbrush, caused presumably by a careless smoker, in Rockwood Park yesterday afternoon destroyed a large number of young spruce and cedar trees and for a time threatened the buildings of Park area, but owing to hard work on the part of the staff and the able assistance rendered by No. 1 steamer of the city fire department, it was subdued before the buildings or large timber was reached. A large number of people watched the fire fighters at work and many words of commendation of their efforts were heard. The fire started about three o'clock and it was after seven before it was all out.

Joseph Tebo, was the first to notice the flames and he, with the help of the park policeman and other members of the staff, started to fight it. It was seen that more assistance would be needed and a telephone message was sent to the city department. The commissioner of safety was communicated with and gave his permission for No. 1 motor steamer to go to the site and it was hurriedly called upon. On arriving a long stretch of hose was run from the pumper up over the hill and a heavy stream of water turned on the blaze. The effect of this was soon in evidence and before long it was realized that danger of the fire spreading had passed, but it took a lot of hard work before the flames had been beaten out.

The area burned over would comprise between five and ten acres and a very large number of young spruce and cedar trees were destroyed. Mr. Tebo saw a man coming from that direction and it is supposed he, or some other person, had been smoking and had thrown down a lighted match or cigarette end. The fire occurred just back of where the former pavilion stood and it was feared for a time that the deer might have overcome some of the animals.

Constable Crawford Is Very Active

Speeding, Dimming of Lights, Clean Number Plates and Brightness Over Plates Must Be Recognized.

Constable Robert Crawford has issued a warning to motorists to the effect that in future he will enforce to the limit the motor vehicle regulations. He reported two cars on the Westfield road yesterday, and two on Rothesay Avenue, for violations of the law. One car on the Westfield road had no license plates and the other, a Minto car, was carrying a 1921 plate. The two cars reported on Rothesay Avenue were exceeding the speed limit and their owners will be called upon to answer a charge of furious driving.

Constable Crawford said that there was a large number of motor cars on Rothesay Avenue, and that some of them were carrying very powerful lights, which were not dimmed when approaching other vehicles. The officer mentioned that he had observed, he said, that some of the cars were carrying their lights on, and that he had issued citations to carry out his duty by entering the provisions to the limit.

Mothers' Day Was Observed

Mothers' Day was observed with appropriate services yesterday at the Waterloo Street Baptist Church, special messages being delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Swetman, morning and evening. The church was nicely decorated for the occasion with banners and flowers and in front of the pulpit was placed a picture of "Mother" with a wreath of evergreen before it. Special music was rendered by the choir and solos by Mrs. A. G. Gregg, "Memories of Mother," and the pastor, "O Mother When I Think of You." The residents of the Old Ladies Home and Home for Incapable, had been invited to be present and four automobiles brought them to the church, where they were met by a committee of young ladies who escorted them to seats reserved in the centre of the church, each lady being presented with carnations as they entered.

The subject of the address was "Mother's Influence," the sermon being based on the story of the mother of Moses. At the close of the service four young ladies marched to the altar and each placed a carnation in the wreath in front of the picture of mother.

At the Sunday School the special speaker was Mr. Parker, who delivered a most inspiring address.

At the evening service the subject of the address was "The Woman of Today." The preacher based his remarks on the following words: "Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies." He dealt with the subject under three heads: First, her appearance. Dress was an index to morals and one might easily know the morals of any period by taking a glance at the costume of the women of the day. He referred to the costume of the woman of today, as seen in the city streets, and said they were immodest and suggestive, and women were responsible for the low moral standard of our nation. Secondly, her tongue. The gossiping woman was one of the big sins of today. Thirdly, her children. It had been said of the virtuous woman that her children should rise up and call her blessed, but many of the women of today would rather divert their time and energy in attending social functions, than become Christian mothers, such as were needed in Canada today.

Mother's Day was also observed in several of the city churches. At Canterbury Rev. R. G. Fulton at the morning service delivered a timely sermon on "Blessed women and what we do

Annual Closing Banquet At Y.M.C.A.

About Hundred Boys Present — Several Prizes Awarded — Illustrated Talk on Camp Life Enjoyed.

On Saturday evening the Y. M. C. A. boys division held its annual closing banquet, at which were represented most of the Tuxis Squares and Trail Rangers' Camps, as well as Y. M. C. A. groups.

About one hundred boys sat down to neatly decorated tables, each table being decorated to represent the name of the group as far as possible.

Prizes were offered for the best decorated tables and the Tuxis square winning the honor was from Central Baptist.

The Exmouth St. boys carried off the Trail Rangers' prize, and the P. A. boys won out in the Y. M. C. A. groups. All the tables showed careful planning and work, that of the St. David's Trail Rangers and the Portland Tuxis came near to carrying off the prizes.

During the evening the Senator Thomas Cup for Tuxis Athletic, and the New Brunswick shield for the National Athletic contest were presented by R. G. Schofield to Portland Tuxis Boys for another year, and the Mentors Trophy Cup and the New Brunswick Shield were presented to the Portland Trail Rangers for winning the National athletic meet in the city and province.

Twelve Tuxis and Trail Ranger Honor medals were presented to boys who had won them during the season. Awards to the boys who stood highest in the National Hexathlon contest, should have been presented but they have not yet been received here, they will be sent to the boys immediately upon their arrival.

The Central Baptist Tuxis square won out in the Tuxis city Basketball league and the Exmouth St. boys won the Trail Ranger League. Pennants for the events should have been presented but they also had not arrived in.

The last item on the programme was an illustrated talk on "Camp" by A. M. Gregg, featuring Camp "Weesequam" Chipmunk. The boys enjoyed the talk very much as both the pictures and the connecting stories were fine.

The Anniversary

Large Congregations Morning, Afternoon and Evening Heard Powerful Sermon by Rev. Semon Spidle.

The eighty-first anniversary of the Ludlow Street Baptist Church was fittingly observed by its members yesterday, and large congregations attended the morning, afternoon and evening services. The Rev. Semon Spidle, M. A., Ph.D., of Acadia University, preached powerful sermons on all three occasions, and special music was rendered. The pulpit of the church was embellished in pots and pans in a pretty and effective manner. The attendance of the day exceeded two hundred dollars.

Speaking at the evening service, Dr. Spidle took as his subject, "The Office of the Christian Love." He said the office of Christian love was a four-fold one in Christian life. It was a testing principle, a regulating principle, an animating principle, and a working principle. The test of Christian love, he said, was the extent to which it regulated the life of the Christian, and served as an incentive to service of his fellow-men. It was the love that animated and gave character to the effectiveness of Christian service.

Mrs. H. Sylvia Mills, a new convert to St. John congregations sang "Abide With Me," at the evening service, and caused much favorable comment by her sympathetic interpretation. The test of Christian love, she said, was the extent to which it regulated the life of the Christian, and served as an incentive to service of his fellow-men. It was the love that animated and gave character to the effectiveness of Christian service.
