INDUCTION OF REV. S. J. MCARTHUR.

New Presbyterian Pastor Solemnly Introduced to His New Work.

HEARTILY WELCOMED.

A Great Reception Given Him, and A Delightful Program Carried Out.

The induction of Rev. S. J. McArthur into the pastorate of St. James' Presbyterian church of Newcastle took place on Thursday evening, 23rd instant. A large audience assembled to witness the ceremonies, which were very solemn and impressive.

Rev. F. C. Simpson of St. Mark's church, Douglastown, preached the sermon, taking for his text Psalm 122 verses 6 and 7: "Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee. Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palms." The reverend gentleman, who is a very earnest and forceful speaker, strongly emphasized the importance of Union in a congregation, of peace among its members and a spirit of co-operation with the pastor. The pastor needed the sympathy and assistance of every member if their mutual relations were to be pleasant and profitable. He spoke very hopefully concerning the union of pastor and people about to be established.

The moderator, Rev. A. D. Archibald of Rexton addressed the minister. Mr. Archibald prefaced his remarks with the explanation that he felt it was out of place for him to tender any advice or instructions to a man whose pastorate in past years had been so significantly blessed and successful—a man whose experience had been so broad and whose work had stood the test so well. He, the Moderator, could only point him to the common source of all joy and strength and express the hope that his present pastorate would be in all respects as successful as the one with which he had just severed official connections.

Rev. J. Morris MacLean of Chatham, intra-moderator, addressed the congregation, giving from his accumulated fund of various pastoral experience some plain, pointed and workable suggestions as to the way in which the people have it in their power to help or hinder their pastor. He severely criticized the unreasonable demands many make upon their minister and the scant courtesy he is so often shown. Referring to Mr. McArthur, he said he had known him for three years and had the highest opinion of him as a man, a scholar, a Christian, and a sympathetic and successful pastor.

During the services fitting music was rendered by a full choir, with Miss Olive Williamson at the organ. Notable features were the solos of Mrs. J. D. MacNutt and Rev. Mr. Simpson, the latter rendering a quaint and touching hymn entitled "Penitence."

Revs. Geo. S. Mitchell of Redbank, MacKay of Tabusintac, and John Valentine were present at the ceremonies.

The church was handsomely decorated by the painstaking ladies of the congregation. The building has been lately painted throughout, and presents a fine appearance. After the induction was over,

ADJOURNED SESSION CIRCUIT COURT.

Interesting Suit Over the Question of Who Had the Right to Cut Lumber

Circuit Court which adjourned on May 7th, re-opened here yesterday morning, Judge Landry presiding. The only business was a Replevin case—James Russell of Lower Newcastle versus Thomas Scott of Bartibogue.

The dispute is as to who had the right to cut lumber on the property of the late John Stranach of Bartibogue. Plaintiff bought the lumber privilege from Stranach in 1902 and cut part of the logs. Defendant bought the right to cut from the same party in 1904, and the lawsuit is over what Scott cut since that date. Russell has brought suit to replevin the lumber that Scott claims is his. Stranach has since died. Plaintiff's lawyers are M. G. Teed of St. John and J. A. Haviland of Chatham. Defendant's counsel are Robt. Murray, M. P. P., and T. W. Butler. The case went to the jury this morning.

Burchill & Son's drives is in, and the other is on North Branch of Big Sevege a little behind Ritchie's. It is expected in the end of the week. Paul Kingston has brought his drives for John R. A GUATEMALAN BURIAL.

Bodies of Political Opponents Thrown in the Sewers Till Rescued by Indignant Citizens.

Mexico City, May 28.—Further news received here tell of the suicide of four prominent Guatemalans and the sentencing to death of nineteen others for alleged complicity in a plot against the life of President Cabrera. The bodies of the suicides were thrown by soldiers into sewers. The citizens protested and disinterred the bodies giving them decent burial with great honors.

Arthur McGee and Parker McConahy, who last Wednesday pleaded guilty to the charge of carnally knowing a girl under 14 years of age, were sentenced by Judge Wilson to two years in Dorchester penitentiary. In passing sentence the judge pointed out that the maximum penalty provided by law was life imprisonment and a whipping, but on account of the youth of prisoners and out of consideration for their parents, he had decided to deal leniently with them. His honor remarked on the absence of any extenuating circumstances in favor of the accused.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to those weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

DOUGLASTOWN.

Douglastown, May 25.—Empire Day was made the occasion for the presentation of a Flag to the school by the Board of Trustees. The children and a large number of citizens assembled in the beautiful school grounds to witness the raising of the Flag, which called forth great enthusiasm from all present. A fine programme of patriotic songs and recitations was given by the children, who reflected great credit on their faithful and painstaking teachers. Addresses were delivered by Rev. F. C. Simpson, Joseph McKnight, and Thomas Troy. Thomas Barnett, the chairman of the Board of Trustees had charge of the proceedings and ably discharged his duties. Added interest was given to the event by the presence of the Boys' Brigade, who looked very pretty in their red coats and went through their drills in a very pleasing manner.

Mrs. E. Hutchison returned home on Thursday after an extended visit among friends in the States. The concert on Thursday evening under the auspices of St. Mark's Choir promises to be a most enjoyable affair and deserves to be largely patronized.

Joseph McKnight announced to the school-children on Empire Day that he intended to give a prize at the close of the term to the leading pupil in each department for general proficiency and attendance.

We are glad to see Sibbie McKnight home from Black River for a few days.

Rev. J. A. MacGlashen and family are expected this evening to spend a few weeks at the manse.

Mrs. Simpson, will take a leading part at the concert on Thursday evening.

ATTAR OF ROSES.

How This Delicious and Expensive Perfume is Made.

The word "attar" is from the Arab "itr" and means perfume. So attar of roses is simply perfume of roses. It is brought from Turkey and the East Indies in small vials and is very costly. Even on the spot where it is manufactured it is extremely dear, because it requires 100,000 well grown roses to yield but 180 grains of attar.

Its high price causes it to be often adulterated with some essential or fixed oil or with spermaceti. However, the adulteration may be detected by testing it in a watch glass with a drop of sulphuric acid. If the attar be pure it will remain colorless, for pure attar of roses is colorless, but if it be adulterated it will become darkened.

In rose fields, where the roses are grown for the purpose of making the attar, the bushes are planted in rows. In the early morning they are laden with beautiful roses, but ere noon comes they are all gathered and their petals distilled in clay stills, with twice their weight of water.

The water that "comes over" is put into perfectly clean vessels and is then carefully covered with damp muslin clothes to keep out dust and insects. It is afterward exposed to the night air or to artificial cold. By morning a film is swept off with a feather and very carefully transferred to a small vial. Night after night this process is repeated until all of the precious oil is separated from the water.

BUSINESS SENSE.

A Well Ordered Desk Means a Well Ordered Mind.

"There's one piece of advice," said the senior partner, "that I'd like to give every young man taking a business position with a desk attached to it. It's this: Keep your desk clean. What I mean by having a desk clean is keeping everything possible off it except that which is related to the matter in hand. I've observed in my time a good many men in their offices, and I can say that with very few exceptions the real men of affairs are those who are free from clutter."

"With a lot of papers in front of you it's almost a certainty that some hour in the day you're going to be flustered, and very likely it will be just when you want a clear head. The old idea that a mass of material every which way on the desk is a sign that a person is full of business is pretty well outworn. Such a collection not only indicates a lack of order, but also is a sign that nervousness may be expected from the man in the chair. What with filing cabinets and other devices no excuse can be offered nowadays for confusion."

"A well ordered desk means a well ordered mind, a mind taking up one thing at a time and giving it the proper attention. It denotes regularity and concentrated, effective effort."

Easy Going Dutch Spelling.

In the good old days when the Dutch were supreme in the administration of the affairs of New Amsterdam everybody knew everybody else, and it mattered little how proper names were spelled. Modern lawyers and civil service reformers would be shocked at the orthographical freedom of the clerks of the burghmaster's court of those times. Here is a sample case taken from the old Dutch records in which the name of a plaintiff is spelled five different ways:

In a case before the court in 1655 Jan "Hacksins" is a complainant against the inspector of tobacco, who has certified to Jan "Hockins" that the tobacco was good. The inspector says in his defense that he inspected the tobacco at the request of Jan "Haeckins" on June 24, and aforesaid "Hagins" kept the barrel of tobacco until the 30th without finding out that it was bad. Then Jan "Hakins" has something else to say in the case.

INTENSIFIED FRUIT JUICES AN IMPROVEMENT ON NATURE

A Discovery that is Revolutionizing Medicine.

Remarkable Success Attends the Finding of a New Medicinal Compound by Combining the Juices of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes.

Fruit helps to keep one healthy. Fruit in itself, will not cure disease. The medicinal principle—or that part of fruit which has a curative effect—is in such infinitesimal quantities, that it is unable to overcome a diseased condition of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys or skin.

Just here is where science stepped in. An Ottawa physician did what nature could not do. He first found that some fruits were stronger medicinally than others—and that apples, oranges, figs and prunes contained all the healing properties of other fruits. There are two principles in fruit juices—bitter and sweet. After extracting the juices of the four fruits mentioned, this physician succeeded in replacing one atom of the sweet principle by one of the bitter. This resulted in an entirely new combination being formed. This new compound was many times more active medicinally than the fruit juices. Where eating fruit only helped to keep one well, this compound actually cured disease.

To make it more valuable still, this physician added the finest tonics and antiseptics, and then, by evaporating the entire compound to a powder, made it into tablets.

This, in short, is the method of making "Fruit-a-tives"—these wonderful tablets—the most reliable cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Stomach Troubles, Kidney and Bladder Disease and Skin Affections. Being made from fruit, "Fruit-a-tives" may be taken by women and children without fear of ill-effect.

Don't take a substitute. If your druggist does not handle them, send 50c for a box to Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

OVERSHREWD LAWYERS.

Who Were Defeated by Witnesses Through Their Own Weapons. Overshrewd lawyers often furnish their adversaries with weapons. "Did you see this tree that has been mentioned by the roadside?" an advocate inquired.

"Yes, sir, I saw it very plainly." "It was conspicuous, then?"

The witness seemed puzzled by the new word. He repeated his former assertion.

"What is the difference," sneered the lawyer, "between plain and conspicuous?"

But he was hoist with his own petard. The witness innocently answered: "I can see you plainly, sir, among the other lawyers, though you are not a bit conspicuous."

In another instance a blow directed against the character of a witness forcibly recoiled.

"You were in the company of these people?" he was asked. "Of two friends, sir."

"Friends? Two thieves, I suppose you mean?"

"That may be so," was the dry retort. "They are both lawyers."

The blow that destroys the effect of an adverse examination is occasionally more the result of accident than of conscious effort. In a trial not long ago a very simple witness was in the box and after going through his ordeal was ready to retire. One question remained:

"Now, Mr. —, has not an attempt been made to induce you to tell the court a different story?"

"A different story to what I have told, sir?"

"Yes, sir."

"Upon your oath I demand to know what persons are who have attempted this?"

"Well, sir, you've tried as hard as any of 'em," was the unexpected answer.

It ended the examination.—Rochester Herald.

Use Gasoline.

Use gasoline without leaving a ring. This is done successfully by folding a small turkish wash rag once. Of this make a tight roll, winding together with a stout twine. Use the folded end of this as a swab. Place a small quantity of gasoline in a saucer, dip the swab in lightly, avoiding too much fluid. Stroke the spot gently until it disappears. Never pour gasoline on a greasy spot. The ring is caused by too free use of gasoline.

Useful Teeth.

Many different reasons are assigned by people for their unwillingness to submit to the extraction of teeth. But it was no fear of pain which was uppermost in the mind of Miss Meltable Lamson of Willowby when told by the dentist that she would be much benefited by the loss of two of her prominent teeth.

"You say they can't be filled," she said, in evident distress, "and you couldn't get any others in for me for more'n a fortnight?"

The dentist admitted reluctantly that it was so.

"Well, then, I suppose I'll have to get on as best I can." And Miss Meltable seated herself in the torture chair. "But I don't see how I shall make out. Here I am, chambermaid to the Willowby Inn during the summer, and it's chock full of folks, with lots of travellers coming and going."

KITCHEN HELPS.

When finely chopped nuts are needed for salads or sandwiches run the nuts through the meat chopper.

Plenty of shelves and drawers or a patent kitchen cabinet are great helps to the woman whose time is spent in cooking.

Select a dozen or so of the smoothest and largest splints from the new broom and lay them away to use in testing cake when it is baking.

Every kitchen outfit should have a measuring glass that is marked to measure teaspoonfuls, tablespoonfuls and gills as well as halves, thirds and quarters.

A heavy chalk mark laid a finger's distance from the sugar box and all around (there must be no space not covered) will surely prevent ants from troubling.

Bind with table oilcloth the pieces of carpet used on the kitchen floor. The oilcloth will wear three times as long as binding. Cut in one and one-half inch strips, stitch on the machine with longest stitch, turn over and stitch again.

The Sewing Room.

The more important things that will make a sewing room a comfort and a pleasure are an old pier glass, which can either be hung or mounted, and if possible a piece of furniture of the "dresser" variety, which will give a mirror opposite. This can be turned to afford a full length view of both back and front of the figure. A kitchen table long enough to hold a skirt, with an extra leaf along the back so that it can be made square for cutting out circular skirts or capes, is also an addition. Then a scrubbasket, workbaskets and a hamper in which to keep rolls of lining and materials which may be wanted at any moment, with a low folding table, a low and a high chair and the machine, and your sewing room is properly equipped. The presence of a "Judy" or padded form, and a tree rack, on which half finished garments can be hung, is also of great convenience.

Your Share.
If the landed surface of the globe were divided up and allotted into equal shares to each of its human inhabitants it would be found that each would get a plot of twenty-three and a half acres.

How to Enjoy the Circus.

There ain't much pleasure in this life for men as old as me—that is, a feller thinks they ain't when he is sixty-three. Of course, he likes to smoke his pipe an' get around an' gas an' argue with the boys to git his leisure time to pass. A man who's gettin' 'long in years—too weak to hoe or plow, fer pleasure of the good old kind—has small chance anyhow. But there's one thing I like to do—one thing I sure enjoy—it's goin' to a circus with some poor, big eyed snail boy. I always like to have it be the first show he's been to. I like to watch those big eyes snap. Oh, snap they always do. I like to see him smile an' clap an' crane his neck around an' see him eat'n' peanuts, throwin' shells down on the ground. It don't seem very long ago that I was eight or nine, nor long since the first show I saw seemed simply grand—dinner. I remember how I set up there fest in a fit of joy. You see, I know the feelin' that comes to the big eyed boy. I don't care much for circuses like once I used to care. But, friend, I get my pleasure takin' little fellers there. An' while I set enjoyin' it—I mean that kid's real joy—I almost cry to think that I can't be none more a boy.

Man and His Pockets.

A tailor who had received an order for a suit of clothes was asked by the customer's wife for an interview.

"I want to ask you as a special favor," she said, "not to put any pockets in my husband's clothes."

"Why not?" asked the astonished tailor.

"Because they are responsible for his looking so shabby so much of the time," she explained. "He wears his clothes for weeks without pressing because he says it is too much trouble to change the things in his pockets to another suit. He says that half the men who go around in seedy clothes do so for the same reason. If that is so, just leave out the pockets, and they will have no excuse for shabbiness."

"That is a new point of view," said the tailor. "I will see about it."

But when the suit came home it had the usual number of pockets.

Rubber Shoes.

To make rubber shoes wear longer, from the tops of old rubber shoes cut pieces the shape of a heel. Smear these pieces on the lining side with thick mucilage or any sticky substance and place in the heels of rubbers, pressing down firmly. These protectors prevent the rubber from receiving the direct pressure of the boot heels and can be renewed when they show the least signs of wear. I make my rubbers last much longer by doing this.

Sponging Woolen Goods.

Few people know how to sponge a piece of woolen goods, and the majority of woolens are better for having been sponged, although some, such as cashmere, henrietta, challis and veiling, do not require it. All goods known as cloths must be sponged, or they will not give satisfactory wear. To do this leave the original crease down the center and lay over the cloth pieces of thoroughly wet muslin. On an old broom handle or a slat from a bed roll the cloth, commencing at one end, and see as you roll that the whole inside surface is covered with the wet muslin. Allow the cloth to remain in this way for twenty-four hours, when it will be found that it has become a

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women To Consider.

First.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery indicated.—Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

EDITOR OF THE GLEANER ARRESTED.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Institutes Proceedings Against James H. Crockett for Criminal Libel.—Mr. Crockett Allowed Out On Bail.

Fredericton, N. B., May 22.—Jas. H. Crockett, managing director of the Fredericton Gleaner was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant issued by Police Magistrate Marsh at the instance of Hon. H. R. Emmerson, charging him with defamatory libel, in the Gleaner of March 27th. The article in question stated that Hon. Mr. Emmerson had been ejected from St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal, in company of two women of ill-repute.

The accused was immediately admitted to bail in the sum of $800 being held in his own recognizance for $400 and two sureties of $200 each. The bondsmen were Harry F. McLeod and Chas. A. Burchill, of this city.

The preliminary examination was fixed for Wednesday 29th inst. at 11 o'clock a. m.

Proceedings have been taken under sections 333 and 334, chapter 146 of revised statutes of Canada. Section 333 sets forth that any person who publishes a defamatory article, knowing it to be false, is guilty of an indictable offence and liable on conviction to a fine of $400 or two years' imprisonment or both. Section 334 provides a penalty of $200 or one year imprisonment or both, for publication of a defamatory libel.

Some weeks ago civil proceedings were instituted by Mr. Emmerson against the Gleaner Company for libel. It is said that venue will be laid at Dorchester and the case will be tried at the September circuit court.

THE EVANS VACUUM CAP is a practical invention constructed on scientific and hygienic principles by the simple means of which a free normal and circulation is restored throughout the scalp. The minute blood vessels are greatly stimulated to activity, thus allowing the food supply which can only be derived from the blood, to be carried to the hair roots, the effects of which are quickly seen in a healthy, vigorous growth of hair. There is no rubbing, and as no drugs or chemicals of whatsoever kind are employed there is nothing to cause irritation. It is only necessary to wear the cap three or four minutes.

60 DAYS' FREE TRIAL. The Company's Guarantee.

AN EVANS VACUUM CAP will be sent you for sixty days' free trial. If you do not see a gradual development of a new growth of hair, and you are not convinced that the Cap will completely restore your hair, you are at liberty to return the Cap with no expense whatever to yourself. It is requested as an evidence of good faith that the price of the Cap be deposited with the Chancery Lane Safe Deposit Company of London, the largest financial and business institution of the kind in the world, who will issue a receipt guaranteeing that the money will be returned in full, on demand without questions or comment, at any time during trial period.

The eminent Dr. I. N. Love, in his address to the Medical Board on the subject of Alopecia (loss of hair) stated that if a means could be devised to bring nutrition to the hair follicles (hair roots), without resorting to any irritating process, the problem of hair growth would be solved. Later on, when the EVANS VACUUM CAP was submitted to him for inspection, he remarked that the Cap would fulfil and confirm in practice the observations he had previously made before the Medical Board.

Dr. W. Mason, referring to the invention, says that the principle upon which the Evans Vacuum Cap is founded is absolutely correct and admissible.

An illustrated and descriptive book of the Evans Vacuum Cap will be sent, post free, on application.

ESTABLISHED 1867.
HENRY HARVEY STUART, Editor and Manager.
Newcastle, N. B., May 29th, 1907.

MR. EMMERSON ENDORSED.

The Liberal Convention at Moncton on the 22nd was one of the largest and most enthusiastic political conventions ever held in New Brunswick. Hon. H. R. Emmerson's stand in resigning his portfolio, that he might the more effectively prosecute his accusers, was heartily endorsed and the convention unanimously endorsed Mr. Emmerson's policy as minister of Railways, declared their faith in his innocence of the Gleaner's charges against him, and with equal unanimity expressed their desire to see him resume his place in the cabinet.

There were eight resolutions carried, expressing confidence in Premier Laurier and his government and in the provincial government and the local members for Westmorland; endorsing the principle of Old Age Pensions and the action of Mr. Emmerson and his colleagues in re pensions to government railway employees; endorsing Mr. Emmerson's extension and improvement of the government railway system; condemning the C. P. R.'s request for running rights over the Intercolonial, and calling upon the government not to grant any such privileges; thanking Mr. Emmerson for his prompt action in taking steps to restore the I. C. R. works in Moncton; and last, and most enthusiastic of all, one expressing the utmost confidence in Mr. Emmerson's personal integrity and the hope that he would soon resume his portfolio.

In a vigorous speech, the ex-minister declared he asked for no mercy but only justice; that he was innocent of the recent charges against him and would fight the matter in the courts to the bitter end. He declared himself opposed to granting the C. P. R. any running rights over the government road.

An interesting feature of the convention was the endorsement of Mr. Emmerson by C. A. Peck, K. C., one of the lifelong Conservatives of Albert County, who stated that Mr. Fowler's vote in that district would be much less at next election than it was at the last.

Prominent among the speakers were Messrs. W. S. Loggie, and O. Turgeon.

Mr. Emmerson's chances of re-election in Westmorland county are excellent, his progressive ideas on railway management and old age pensions having won him the support of the great majority of the people not only of his own county but of the whole North Shore.

THE TEACHER'S REWARD.

An old gentleman seventy-seven years of age who has been a New Brunswick school teacher for fifty-eight years, fifty-five of which he has actually spent in the school-room, now finds himself sick and helpless and dependent upon his friends. His ability as an instructor, at least until old age overtook him, cannot be questioned, for he retained his first situation for the unusually long period of twenty-five years. Having labored all his life for the improvement of his native land, New Brunswick has now nothing to offer him but charity. To the thousands of young men and women who are endeavoring to cultivate the intellects of our children only the scantiest wages is paid, and for their old age no provision whatever is made. This is not as it should be. The ranks of the teaching profession are being gradually thinned so that to-day there are hundreds of school districts in this province that have no teachers at all. Thousands of our children are being reared without even an elementary education. And no steps at all are being taken to remedy the evil. While in heathen Japan ninety-eight per cent. of the boys and ninety-one per cent. of the girls are attending schools, hundreds of our schools are closed and the young people reverting to barbarism.

Even in towns and villages, where our schools are always open,

When the Hair Falls

Then it's time to act! No time to study, to read, to experiment! You want to save your hair, and save it quickly, too! So make up your mind this very minute that if your hair ever comes out you will use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the scalp healthy. The hair stays in. It cannot do anything else. It's nature's way.

There is no law to compel attendance at school and dozens of small boys during school hours be seen loafing on the street corners smoking cigarettes. If this country is to amount to anything in the future, her educational system must be vastly improved. Her teachers must be paid sufficient to keep them in the profession permanently, and she must see that every one of her children receives the full benefit of the instruction provided.

IRELAND'S ANSWER.

The Irish convention at Dublin on the 21st instant unanimously rejected the government's Irish National Council Bill and instructed their parliamentary representatives to vote against it in the House of Commons. The Convention demanded complete domestic control of all Ireland's domestic affairs. The resolution was moved by John E. Redmond, M. P., the Nationalist leader, and settles the policy of the Nationalist party in regard to the Birell bill.

It was generally supposed that Redmond was inclined to accept the bill as an important instalment of self-government; but so great was the popular outcry against the proposed measure that any Irish supporters of it were effectively silenced.

The Irish clergy, who vigorously opposed the government's Education Act, which was lately passed by the Commons but rejected by the Lords, were among the first to denounce the National Council Bill, no doubt because of the latter handing over the control of Education to the national council under conditions that debared clergymen from serving on the Education committee, this prohibition tending, in their opinion, to hasten the secularization of the schools.

This matter of the control of education will greatly confuse the Home Rule issue, as many of the English Radicals who are in favor of Home Rule are at the same time irreconcilably opposed to the principle of sectarian schools, and would, doubtless, if they should be compelled to choose between the two, rather throw over Home Rule than yield on the school question. As the Conservative party of Britain is in favor of denominational school, and as the Irish party has not committed itself either for or against the protective tariff which forms a part of the doctrine of most Conservatives, it is not at all improbable that, unless the government amends its Irish program, the Conservatives will repudiate their alliance with the Ulster Unionists and offer the Nationalists a satisfactory measure of Home Rule in exchange for the latter's assistance in outdoing the Radical-Labor administration that now controls the United Kingdom. The remaining sessions of the present British parliament will be unusually interesting and much history will be made therein.

MINING OUT WEST.

Great copper deposits continue to crop out in Greenwater, Inyo Co., California. A remarkable feature of the speculator claim on the Schwab mine is that thousands of tons of copper ore show above the surface. A 25 horse power hoist for the Speculator shaft was set in place this month. The galloway frame on the Wanda shaft has been completed and a hoist placed upon it. Mr. E. V. Miller, late of Newcastle, N. B., will be in charge of the speculator and Wanda shafts.

James Mallet of Bathurst, a lunatic, while being taken to Fairville on Wednesday last week, jumped out an open window and escaped unhurt into the woods a few miles north of Moncton. His hands were manacled and so he was unable to obtain any food. He was not found till Sunday night, when his cries attracted attention of a party of surveyors camped near Lutz's Siding. Leaping from a train going forty miles an hour and being without food five days did not do the man any serious injury.

Mrs. C. E. Smith has a handsome and useful display of fancy work done with the Belding Co's silk, at the Ladies' Store. All ladies interested should view the exhibit. There is quaint old Beidermeyer work, Wallachian patterns, pond lily work in bold relief, solid chrysanthemum and tulip embroidery, and many centre piece designs too numerous to mention.

The entertainment under the auspices of the Chatham Y. M. C. A., held in the Masonic Hall Thursday night, was from every standpoint a grand success. After the programme, Miss Chesman, who has been accompanist for all the Y. M. C. A. entertainments, was presented with a purse containing a substantial sum in gold. The presentation was made on behalf of the association by Ald. Merseureau.

A very large cow moose, accompanied by a two year old calf, on Victoria Day morning came out of the woods within twenty yards of where the steam shovel was working at the I. C. R.'s new shops. The animal, after inspection of the new works, went towards the Hiram Trites' farm, and when within fifty or sixty yards of the house, took to the woods and disappeared.

She had been in her usual health that day, had taken her supper as usual and had gone for a walk with her husband in the evening. As she re-entered her home, she was overtaken by heart-failure and died in fifteen minutes.

Nothing mean or stingy about the ash-pit of the "MAGNET" Furnace. It's the entire width of the Furnace. Good and deep, too. Easy to remove the ashes from such a commodious receptacle.

And this large, roomy pit affords lots of space for the air to circulate. Gives the drafts a chance to draw well—work perfectly. Furnace burns the fuel to a fine ash. Grates don't get clogged with partially burned pieces of wood—a fault common to furnaces with small ash-pits.

For all-round satisfaction, buy the "MAGNET."

A Native African Food.

The native food of the Malunda country, in southern Africa, comprises manioc and that alone. It is a plant particularly adapted to wet, marshy soil, says the author of "In Remotest Bantoland." It takes two years to arrive at maturity and while growing requires very little attention. The root when full grown is about the size and has very much the appearance of a German sausage, although at times it grows much larger. One shrub has several roots, and the extraction of two or three in no way impairs the growth of the remainder. When newly dug it tastes like a chestnut, and the digestion of the proverbial ostrich can alone assimilate it raw, but when soaked in water for a few days until partly decomposed, dried on the roofs of the huts and stamped it forms a delightfully white soft meal, far whiter and purer than the best flour. Then it is beaten into a thick paste and eaten with a little flavoring, composed of a locust or a caterpillar, which the natives seek in decayed trees. Another way of eating this native luxury is by baking the roots after soaking them and eating it as you would a banana.

George Eliot's Savonarola. Savonarola is one of the most striking characters in George Eliot's great historical novel "Romola," the scene of which is in Florence and the period that of Savonarola's career. The idea of writing the book occurred to the novelist while on a visit to Florence, and on a second visit to the city, in 1891, she began to carry out her project. The subject and design were foreign to the author's genius, but she spared no pains in making a thorough study of the locality, the people and the literature of the Italian renaissance for the purposes of her story. In her own words, the work "plowed into her" more than any of her books. She began it, she says, as a young woman and finished it as an old woman. Her picture of Florence and Savonarola is undeniably impressive, and some critics declare "Romola" to be George Eliot's greatest novel and the character of Savonarola one of the finest delineations.—Pearson's.

Size of Heads. The average adult head has a circumference of fully twenty-two inches. The average adult hat is fully six and three-quarters size. The sizes of men's hats are six and three-fourths and six and seven-eighths generally. "Seven" hats are common in Aberdeen, and the professors of our colleges generally wear seven and one-eighth to eight sizes. Heads wearing hats of the sizes six and three-eighths and smaller or being less than twenty-one inches in circumference can never be powerful. Between nineteen and twenty inches in circumference heads are invariably very weak and, according to this authority, "no lady should think of marrying a man with a head less than twenty inches in circumference." People with heads under nineteen inches are mentally deficient and with heads under eighteen inches invariably idiotic.—London Young Woman.

Safest Place in Trains. "I have one rule for my family when they travel," said the conductor of the suburban train, "and that is for them never to ride in the rear coach or the first one and, preferably, not in the coach next to the last or first. The reason for it is so obvious that I should think the foremost and last cars of a train would have scant patronage from anybody who reads of railroad accidents. If there is a smashup, those are the coaches that suffer. It seems strange that some kind of a buffer is not put behind the locomotive tender and at the rear of the train. How many lives would be saved by a device of the kind one has only to study the statistics of railroad accidents to figure out for himself."

Lifting a Kettle of Hot Water. Some time when the teakettle is bubbling and boiling on the kitchen range lift it quickly by its handle and set it on the open palm of your other hand. This sounds like a very foolhardy thing to do—as if your hand might be blistered in a twinkling—but you will find that you can hold the teakettle which has just come from a roaring fire for some time without hurting you. Try it and then see if you can tell the reason why you are not burned. Be sure, however, that the water is boiling strongly before you make the experiment.

A Kippered Pastor. A French Protestant pastor was the guest of a Scottish preacher at a manse. One morning kippered herrings were served at breakfast. The French pastor asked the meaning of "kipper." His host replied that it meant "to preserve." On taking his leave next day the French pastor, wringing his host's hand, said, "May the Lord kipper you, my good friend."

Postage Stamps. Postage stamps are peculiarly liable to become septic and to convey deadly germs, says the British Medical Press and Circular, a fact that cannot be too widely known to the public who find in it a popular substitute for sticking plaster.

Never Missed It. Teacher—Who discovered America? Small Boy—Dunno. Teacher—Why, I supposed every boy in school knew that. Small Boy—I didn't know that it was lost.

Somewhere. I think I have seen you somewhere."

Minard's Liniment Cures Burns, etc.

In the St. John Equity Court yesterday afternoon Judge Baker rendered judgement in the case brought by Warren C. Hinslow against the Wm. Richards Co., Ltd., a suit which involves a large sum of money. The decision was given against the plaintiff. The suit was brought by Mr. Winslow a barrister of Chatham, to recover his portion of the difference between what the Wm. Richards property sold at, namely, $650,000, and $522,580, the figure named by the Richards Co., as the lowest price at which they would sell, alleging to give to him and Mr. Rundle any excess. The sale was afterwards made to the Miramichi Lumber Co. through the efforts of Arthur S. Potter, of Pittsburg, and others, who received a very large commission Mr. Winslow claimed his share of the profits. The bill, however, was dismissed.
