UNION MEMORIAL SERVICE CONDUCTED SUNDAY EVENING

Citizens of All Denominations Assemble at Opera House to Hear Discourse of Pastor.

VERY TOUCHING TRIBUTE.

A joint memorial service was held in the Opera House last Sunday evening in memory of the late D. J. Bruce. Long before the hour of service citizens were seeking admission and by seven o'clock there was scarcely a seat left. The service was conducted by Rev. T. P.
Drummond, St. Andrew's church, Rev. G. Morris, Methodist church, and Rev. Mr. Britton, Baptist church, and was undenominational.
The choir of the Methodist and Baptist churches united with the Presbyterian church and sustained a beautiful and solemn funeral musical service, under the leadership of Mr. John G. MacColl, St.
Andrew's church organist, who played the "Dead March in Saul," after the closing hymn. The service was most solemn and impressive, the keynote being struck with intense feeling when Rev. Mr. Morris read the Scripture lesson beginning with the words, "Greater love hath no man than this; that a man lay down his life for his friends."
As a choral opening the choir sang "Sleep thy last sleep," and during the offertory rendered the anthem "The radiant morn hath passed away." Rev. Mr. Drummond took for his text the passage of Scripture which had been read from the 15th Chapter of John, and based his remarks on the words, "Greater love hath no man than this; that a man lay down his life for his friends." In the course of his remarks the rev. gentlemen said:

Sometimes the heart is too charged with emotion for utterance.
Not infrequently, words seem to be a protestation. We are met together this evening beneath the shadow of a great sorrow. All class and conditions of churches and societies, all righteous causes have suffered a loss, which, at present, they are quite unable to estimate. This large congregation, consisting of the members of the church, our departed brother loved so well and served so loyally, and friends from other denominations, testifies eloquently to the high position he held in the esteem of this little community.

Most of you knew him for a much longer time than I did, but no one, I think, outside of his nearest and dearest, loved him better.
The life of our brother, the circumstances which shrouded his death in tragedy, all seem to me to emphasize the importance, in a wonderful way, of the truth of these words of our Saviour: "Greater love hath no man than this; that a man lay down his life for his friend."

Here I would say very solemnly and with much reserve, without referring to the tragic circumstances which surrounded his death, that our brother laid down his life for the men and women of the Town of Campbellton, as truly as any martyr that suffered the flames of the stake. He died witnessing for a cause that he loved, and tonight God's Holy Name, I ask you to see to it that this illustrious truth swept from our midst before it demands any more sacrifices of our nobles and of our best.

It is with a manifold sense of incapacity to voice the feelings of our hearts that I address you this evening. We are met here upon me for which I feel so absolutely unequal. In the first place, no words are adequate to express our sense of loss in our admiration for his Christlike character. In the second place, my own feelings are much too deep for expression.

The first man to address a word to me in Campbellton was Mr. D.
J. Bruce. A year ago last April I alighted at the old station from the Maritime express. Our friend was going in the train to Prince Edward Island, I think to attend the funeral of his father. His words were kindly, his hand shake cordial. From that time our friendship has been close and tender, and it was growing in depth every day.
As I said before, most of you have known him longer than I have, but there are better methods of measuring than those of time. After the fire had destroyed our town and men were wavering as to whether they would leave or remain, Mr. Bruce adhered firmly to his belief in the future of our community. He resolved to sink or swim with us and so was, if not the first man, one of the first men to lay a permanent foundation in Campbellton, and that cheerful optimism was a part of his life. He was never gloomy. The day of his death was in his life. He was never gloomy. The day of his death was in his life.

I am inspired. Often I have gone into his home, and I have seen when down town did I not see him? I have seen him in the same mood. His mind in life was that of an idealist, yet with all he was practical in his sense. There was mingled in his personality the emotion of the poet, the devotion of the mystic, the shrewd common sense of the man of business. Perhaps, most conspicuous of all his lovable attributes was his magnificent loyalty. He who found a friend in our ascended brother, found a true one, one who would never be false. Men there are here today and elsewhere, who can rise up today and call him blessed. He was pure and upright through and through. His word was as good as his bond. If he had anything to say he told it to a man's face and never behind his back.
I might speak of the generosity of his views to every good cause—of his large hearted generosity, which led him to open his arms to any one who needed entertainment, but you all know these qualities as well as, or better than, I do. Most important of all, the roots of all his goodness were truly grounded in God. He was no talker about the deep things of the soul, but his life talked. His life was a continuous walk with his Saviour. Christ was very real to him and he never lost sight of his responsibility to Him. His hope was grounded on Jesus' blood and righteousness. He loved the sanctuary; he loved Him. He brought to his service the same reverent spirit that he had for it in other places, in which he lived. He was a tower of strength to us in this congregation. No one could do exactly what he could do. Nothing was a trouble or a weariness to him. He was never too hasty to take in hand some additional task. He loved the church of his fathers with the deepest affection and she never had a more loyal son.

I need not begin to tell what different kinds of duties he performed as elder, as Committee man, as member of the Musical Committee, as member of the Communion Committee. You have all recognized hymn books from his hand as he stood with genial smile at that door.
Many of you have heard him pray in the mid-week service. The highland accent, which we found so winsome, strengthening his spiritual emotions, deepened in the sacred act, and now he is gone.
His place is vacant. His home is desolate and our hearts are sore.
With moist eyes and stammering lips we whisper: "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away," and we pray "He may help us to finish, 'Blessed be the name of the Lord.'"

On Wednesday evening last he walked down from his last Prayer Meeting Service with me. On that occasion he addressed the lasting words I heard him utter, and they were words of love and encouragement, which I shall cherish to my dying day. He has gone but he has left behind him an exceedingly precious memory. His wife and family never heard him say a cross word. His followers never knew him to do a mean action. He lives in our hearts and will continue to do so. We bow to the God who has taken him home and we are grateful for his life and influence in our community.
In business, in politics, in society, in church, in home he was a model of what a Christian man should be.

With profound sincerity this evening, I tell you I never met a better man and I feel sure you will agree with me. He was summons to come up higher was an urgent and tragic one, but what of that? He was ready to go. The Lord had need of him for higher service. He has gone from the shadows of earth's little while, gone along the sunny path which leads from twilight into light, gone to meet face to face the Maker whom he loved and served so faithfully here.

O faithful heart, sweet peace hast thou,
In God's eternal bosom now;
Dust sinks to dust in calm repose
Into its rest the Spirit goes.
The love which was thy life while here
Is now thy heavenly atmosphere.
God's Heaven envelopes us round, and thou
By Him art nearer to us now;
So these we say farewell and hail brave heart,
Thy watch shall never fail,
And we who here a friend deplore,
Have gained in Heaven one angel more.

What of his rest and days once? We can but dimly picture what this means to them. God has sustained them marvelously in the hour of their trial, but they need our prayers, they need our help and our Christian sympathy. I have confidence that they will not lack for all these. Commend them to Him whose compassions fail not—who is the Father of the Fatherless and the Judge of the Widows, —who, though he often veils his workings in apparently impenetrable gloom, is ever seeking the highest good of all his children and will give to them the morning of joy for the night of weeping.

"The righteous shall be held in everlasting remembrance. The memorial of virtue is immortal because it is known with God and written men, and they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament and turn many to righteousness as they shine for ever and ever. Let us call to remembrance the great and the good through whom the Lord hath wrought great glory."

On Monday afternoon, amid a drizzling rain, the whole town virtually turned out to the funeral of the late D. J. Bruce. The service in the home was conducted by Revs. T. P. Drummond, G. A. Hardy, (Cris-Head) J. M. McLeod, (New Mills) and George Morris. Rev. Mr.
Drummond referred in feeling terms to the high Christian character of Mr. Bruce, of his work and service in St. Andrew's church, as Elder and Member of Session, and of the ideals he ever strove to show in his own life here. Truly he was a man of whom no one could say a wrong word. In all his doings he was ever actuated by a sense of his Christian responsibility and his memory will ever be revered in the hearts of those who arise and call him blessed.

After the service a long cortege was formed and the casket was received by Rev. T. P. Drummond and Key. C. A. Hardy at the grave.
The burial service was read by Rev. Mr. Drummond and the body of the martyr laid to his rest before a sorrowing concourse of his fellow citizens.

The chief mourners were the deceased's only son, Ouilford, Mr.
D. A. Bruce, a cousin, of Charlottetown, P. E. I.; Mr. Earle Bruce, a nephew, of Florenceville; Mr. McKinnon of Fredericton, and other friends from out of town.

The pall bearers, who were chosen from the Session of St. Andrew's church, were, Messrs. D. C. Firth, John M. McLean, J. H.
McKenzie, W. P. Vorston, John Mair, A. G. Adams, W. D. Dunean and James Craig. A large number of floral tributes were received, wreaths being sent from the Session of St. Andrew's church, from the ladies of the congregation, from the Bible Class, from the High School and others.

As a token of the sympathy and sorrow of the town, most of the stores were closed from two till four, p. m., during the time of the funeral.

"Let us call to remembrance the great and the good by whom the Lord hath wrought great glory."

FALL MILLINERY

OPENING

The feminine interest has been greatly quickened by the splendid show of millinery in the fall displays, begun by Miss Henderson last Saturday, by Miss Ullrich on Wednesday, followed by O'Keefe on Thursday and Friday and continued by Miss Mc-Intyre on Friday. Saturday. For this opening the show a wide range of style and beauty of coloring, and among the models shown by Miss O'Keefe is a new steep shape in black and "royal blue," and a panel velvet draped high over the crown
the brim faced with rich emerald tulle silk, trimmed with exquisite beaded girle and imported French pointed wings with Vespisio whips.
Another model is the new Boulevard shape in black and emerald with wide draped brim and narrow collar edge of pan silk velvet the undrbein imbued with liberty satin imitation willow plume of silk fringe poised over the hat with artistic effect and caught to side of crown with spangled and beaded cabochon.

There seems to be a falling away of the large cart wheel head-gear (which the millinery habitues mathematised) except for very dressy occasions, the small felt shapes coming more into favour, one especially looking very chic, helmet shape in coronation purple with close fitting Le Cloche brim made of pan silk velvet and chamois cloth, trimmed with aeroplane wings.
In Miss McIntyre's display one is struck with a beautiful model in black pan velvet, rolled a little at one side trimmed with two large willow plumes and gold banding.
Another stunning model is shown in brown pan velvet with large bird of Paradise in front. Among the smaller models is found a coquettish little toque of vine shape, blue with blue and gold banding with feathery plume.
All over the show are about the most of the best and most artistic display.

A DISCOVERY THAT IS BENEFITTING THE WHOLE WORLD

CANADIAN PHYSICIAN MADE IT

Wonderful New Substance Formed By Combining Fruit Juices

It takes Canada to do the really big things that are being done. For thousands of years, people have known that fruit was good for them without knowing exactly why. A Canadian physician experimented until he found out.

Fruit juice is about nine-tenths water and one-tenth solid matter. And this solid matter is eight-ninths sweet and one-ninth bitter. It is the bitter principle that is the curative part of fruit. To get the full benefit of fruit, one must eat great quantities of fresh fruit. By the discovery of this Canadian physician, the bitter or curative part of fruit juice is so combined that it is made to grow or increase many times. In other words, a stronger fruit juice is created. This is made into tablets which are known all over Canada under the name of "Fruit-a-lives".

"Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine in the world that cures Constipation. JAMES PROUDFOOT, Esq. of Vankeke, Ont., says "It was not for 'Fruit-a-lives' I am satisfied I could not live!"

Chronic Constipation creates Pains in the Bowels. There are two layers of muscles in the bowels which during constipation become tight and weak and cannot act. In severe cases, people go three and even five days without the bowels moving. N. JOURNET, Esq. of Grande Ligne, Que., says "I heartily recommend 'Fruit-a-lives' to all who suffer with Constipation!"

Bile, a liquid secreted by the liver, is the purgative of the body. Two parts of bile should be poured into the bowels every day. In severe constipation only about half a pint is secreted. With the muscles of the bowels weak and little bile, it is impossible for the bowels to move regularly. A. G. WILSON, Esq. of Hardwick, N. B., says "I tried 'Fruit-a-lives' and now I am well from Chronic Constipation from which I suffered for many years!"

To cure Constipation, the liver must be stimulated to pour out more bile and the weak muscles strengthened. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fox of Newburgh, Ont., say "Our daughter was cured of appendicitis by 'Fruit-a-lives' after doctors told only an operation could save her life!"

"Fruit-a-lives" is not merely a relieving agent but actually cures Constipation. It tones up the nerves and bowels and increases the flow of bile.

WM. PARSONS, Esq. of Ottawa, Ont., says "I am eighty years of age and find 'Fruit-a-lives' do me more good than any other remedy!"

Remember - Constipation cannot be cured in a day, but "Fruit-a-lives" will quickly relieve the trouble and certainly cure you if taken at a reasonable time.

Senator JOHN COSTIGAN of Ottawa, says "I have been a dreadful sufferer from Constipation for over thirty years. After taking 'Fruit-a-lives' for a few months, I feel well from this horrible complaint!"

"Fruit-a-lives" will cure you. Get a box, 5 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Frank-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

EXCHANGE CHILDREN FOR VACATION TIME

Growing Custom in Europe Which Assists in Education of Young.

Though only started five years ago, the system of exchanging children between families in Germany, France and England has attained wonderful proportions. This year, in Berlin alone, 1800 children have sought themselves as vacation camps for reception as guests abroad. In the whole empire there are thousands of these youngsters with the same ambition.

France and Germany, in spite of their traditional bitterness, are the greatest participants in this scheme, but the English under the direction of Lord Wensdale, are trying to extend their operations in the same direction. Curiously enough, however, there is less activity in England in the pursuit of a foreign language than anywhere.

The working of the scheme entails no risks. Each country has a committee, which reports on the fitness of any family to receive a foreign guest. When a family is approved in this way it sends a little boy or girl at its own expense to a German or French family for the holidays, receiving in exchange a child from this family for the same period. In that way languages are made easier in acquisition and, incidentally, a better understanding among the nations is established.

ACCURATE BUT IRRITATING

The English Language Spoken by Dorsey Not Understood by The Bartenders.

Lawrence D'Orsay, the English actor, who has an accent as English as they make 'em, does not like Americans bartenders in general, and for the bartenders in St. Louis he entertains a particular aversion.

"I went into a bar in St. Louis, dear boy," he said on one occasion, "and I ordered a bottle of beer. The bartender, don't you know, did not hand me the beer. He dashed it down on the bar and said it along for about ten or twelve feet, don't you know. I stepped right in front of me. I looked at him with a stony stare, as you people say, but he paid no attention to me."

"Then I gave him a quartet. He threw on the bar a coin, which rolled on the floor. Again I stared at him as if to insult him, but he paid no attention to me. What was I to do?"

"Then I said to the bartender: 'If you will come to my knowledge of what is polite and proper on the part of a bartender.' But he would not come from behind the bar. Then I gave him the number of my room, and told him I would be glad to see him at any time and give him the kick which he deserved. But he never came to the room."

"So, you see, dear boy, your American bartenders are insolent, and they won't be kicked. What is a gentleman to do?"

The Charm of Woman

Presumably the advance of "woman's rights" is playing the devil with the stereotyped form of compliment addressed to feminine graces. One learns that girls are commencing to job at hearing pretty things about their hair and their eyes.

"A man tells you you are as beautiful as the morning when you are only nine-looking with a sunburnt face, and he believes it and then he's a fool, or he doesn't believe it, and then he's a liar." Dear, dear what a charming prospect opens up before the young man doomed to carry on his love-making upon "George Washington's" principles.

The up-tied hair, the cream and white complexion a mere money value. "Beauty" is a word which is quite in accordance with the tenets of strict veracity to the girl who is "as beautiful as the morning." The only danger lies in under-stating the case. A sharp girl acquaintance of mine twinged this very readily. "As beautiful as the morning, am I?" asked she. "Yes, but what sort of a morning?"

Physicians See Human "Aura"

Twelve physicians and six nuns who looked through the Kliner glass at the undraped bodies of four female models at Mercy hospital, saw the human body developed by an "aura."

The experiments, under the direction of Dr. Patrick S. O'Donnell, followed the lines taken by Dr. Walter Kliner, of London. The instrument used was made of two pieces of oblong glass glued together, with a solution between. Women were used as subjects because the female is believed to have the stronger aura.

The observers saw faint, nebulous lights emanating from the subjects, like a "brush" discharge of electricity. Dr. O'Donnell considers the scientific demonstration of the aura, so long maintained by theosophists, as equaling in importance the discovery of the X-ray or of radium.

All In the Viewpoint

Mrs. Mary T. Metcalfe, discussing the pure food question at the Gotham Club meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, smiled and said: "I heard a food dealer once declare that chemicals in food must be all right since salt itself was a chemical."

A queer argument, eh? It depends you see, on the point of view. What was the speaker's point of view?

Once, at Niagara, a gentleman said to his hotel proprietor, pointing toward the falls: "Glorious, isn't it?" "Glorious, isn't it?" "But it isn't what it used to be," the proprietor sadly returned. "Why not?" said the guest. "The hotel proprietor shook his head. 'Too many hotels,' he said."

More bread and Better bread

—And the Reason for it

A STRONG FLOUR can only be made from strong wheat. Manitoba hard wheat is acknowledged the strongest in the world—and that is the kind used for Purity Flour.

But that's not all. Every grain of this wheat contains both high-grade and low-grade properties. In separating the high-grade parts from the low-grade the Western Canada Flour Mills put the hard wheat through a process so exacting that not a single low-grade part has the remotest chance of getting in with the high-grade.

Of course this special process is more expensive to operate but it means a lot to Purity flour users—that's why we use it.

It means that Purity Flour is made entirely of the highest-grade flour parts of the strongest wheat in the world.

It means a high-class, strong flour and therefore yields "more bread and better bread."

Purity may cost a little more than some flours, but results prove it's the cheapest and most economical after all.

THE CAMPBELLTON GRAPHIC

The Campbellton Graphic

J. G. McCOLL, Editor H. B. ANSLOW, Manager,

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., SEPTEMBER 29, 1911.

WAS THIS A THREAT?

In discussing the late lamented tragedy in which Mr. D. J. House lost his life, a well-known citizen made the statement that the tragic horror was the direct outcome of Local Option, and remarked that "Mr. House is not the last one, there are others who will follow the same way as a result of Local Option."

WAS THIS INTENDED AS A THREAT?

Are we to understand from the above statement that if the citizens persist in upholding Local Option in the Town of Campbellton, a law which had the sanction of over two-thirds of our citizens, that they as such, will be persecuted even unto death?

It would be the meaning of the words uttered, the sooner the fight is again taken up the better for all concerned. The blood of the martyr is certainly the seed of any movement and while the life so easily sacrificed, cries aloud for vengeance, we cannot afford to sacrifice our modest and decent before the altar of the god, "Fear."

This is now with us, and it is our right thinking citizens, the more numerous think who voted for this measure, to be found wanting? Surely not. Our beloved brother, whose blood, so treacherously spilled, cries from the ground into the highest heaven, gave his life for a cause he dearly loved, and we know that his death will be the means of stirring up such a feeling against the infamous traffic that every man who will be driven out of business. This ought to be done and in God's own time will be done; but the price of blood we have already paid seems too great.

Although there are at present no open bars in Campbellton, it is said that there are numerous places where liquor can be bought and many of these are places least suspected, and the people who are engaged in the traffic the last we would ever dream of being mixed up with such a lure of the devil, as was the case of the man who is now awaiting trial on so serious a charge. Many, no doubt, are tempted by the promise of large profits to be made, forgetting the fact that, "even though they gain the whole world, they lose their own soul."

The question is being asked: "What are the Council and the police going to do about enforcing the Local Option law? Do the policemen know that liquor is being sold in Campbellton, contrary to the Local Option law?"

These questions from the citizens are superficial. The Council and Chief Hughes are fully alive to all the facts relating to the sale of liquor. The difficulties which confront them are: (1) Getting direct evidence of a sale; (2) the long delay provided for accused under the Local Option law. We believe that Chief Hughes is fighting a lone battle without the proper supports he ought to have; and any of our citizens who follow these matters closely, will see this borne out in the case lately tried in the courts, where a man was fined $50 for selling liquor as a common carrier, when the verdict in the street shows how many times this same man had been arrested.

This is where amendments to the present law are required and the time for action is NOW.

The sacrifice to the cause of temperance has been as we all know too great, and it is our duty and the duty of all good citizens to take a stand for what is true and upright, and that this illegal traffic, which, if not stopped, will yet damn the name of our whole community, is driven from our midst. Will there be any for another martyr?

The temperance question is now very much to the fore, and this being the most vital question of the day, a question which affects the life of the whole community, many of our best citizens feel that something more must be done, than sitting weekly by and trusting to the law. Are the young men of Campbellton willing to do their share in this great work of cleansing the town? If so then there is a proposal on foot to form what will be called the "Bruce Memorial League." Each one desiring to become a member will promise on his own personal honor not to use intoxicating liquor and to discourage the use of it among his friends and acquaintances.

Already a number have signified their willingness to do this and one desiring to join in this movement can send their name to the Editor of the "Graphic" who will forward it to the proper quarter from whence they will receive a token. There will be no organized society at present, no one will be able to know who are members and who are not unless by their life and the promoters of the movement feel that they can trust the honor of the young men of Campbellton to do what they promise.

This society is especially for the young men. The shock of the great tragedy is still upon us and we believe that this is the proper time to bring forward the beginning of such a society. Will you join the movement? Will you persuade others by your example to interest others?

If the young men stand strongly for this, we shall accomplish more in one year than all the laws of the land would do in a decade. "Watch ye, stand fast; Quit ye like men."

"Let us call to remembrance the great and good."

If you knew of the real value of Chamberlain's Liniment for lame back, soreness of the muscles, and rheumatic pains, you would never wish to be without it. For sale by all dealers.

While in the store one of them pulled a picture of Sir Wilfrid Laurier off the wall. Canada's Post Office.

A Devonshire lady once sent to her son a pair of trousers by book post which is, of course, cheaper than parcel post. The postal officials wrote to her: "Clothes cannot be sent by book post. If you look in the 'Post Office Guide,' you will see under what conditions articles may be sent by book post." After a few days the lady replied: "I have looked in the 'Post Office Guide' and find that articles which are open at both ends may be sent by book post. And if trousers are not open at both ends I should like to know what is."

That Aching Back

Will Promptly Get Well If You Take F.A. Liniment.

Father Morrissey's medical researches led him to evolve, out of Nature's laboratory, a Liniment of remarkable curative power. It had the merits of other prescriptions of the kind, without their disadvantages, and contained other ingredients with unique value in bodily ills.

The good priest-prescribed it for many kinds of aches and pains with most gratifying results, and after his death it continues to relieve and cure suffering.

In cases of backache due to kidney trouble it is efficacious as a supplement to Father Morrissey's "No. 7." It is indispensable in rheumatism, strains, bruises and many similar affections. Taken with the Lung Tonic, it quickly cures cold on the chest.

The Liniment is clean, has an agreeable smell, and when rubbed in goes to the seat of the trouble and promptly gives relief. Nothing more widely useful has ever been compounded. Keep it in the house.

A well known Railroad president in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers who work to any lengths to show him men that he was the best boss. One morning this foreman found that his gang had put a hand car on the track without his orders.

"Who put that hand car over on the track?" he asked.

"We did, sir," one of the men answered.

"Well," he said shortly, "take it off."

"The foreman did so with some difficulty."

"Now," said the foreman, "put it on again."

TOWN COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING Needed Improvements in Sewerage System to be Carried Out

The Town Council met on Tuesday evening His Worship Mayor MacDonald presiding. At the opening of the session there were present Councillors Lunan, Mowat, White, Pinault and Alexander.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. Communication was read from Mr. J. H. Wilson regarding a telephone pole which stands in front of his lot where he intends to build. After discussion on this which brought out the fact that the Telephone Company had been twice advised about this and other poles in bad positions, the communication was referred to the Public Property and Streets Committee with power to act. A communication was read from J. W. McCready of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities re the coming convention at Newcastle asking for the names of delegates from the council and any business that had to be brought forward. It was agreed to send Councillors Miller and Alexander as delegates, and at this time Councillor Moore entered the meeting.

A petition from Samuel Rosenhack for a dry goods store license, and from Ernest Roussel for a barber's license were referred to Police and License Committee. A petition from a number of residents was received praying for Water and sewerage connections on Lansdowne Street was referred to Water and Sewerage Committee.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

Councillor White submitted report of the Fire Protection Committee, recommending payment of accounts totalling $46.70. Report received and adopted. Councillor Mowat submitted report of the Electric Light Committee recommending payment of accounts amounting to $1907.33.

In the discussion on these accounts Councillor Pinault raised quite a nice little point when he asked what was the capacity of a barrel. It seems that a number of people who buy sand and gravel claim that they receive five cubic feet, whereas the town were on receiving three cubic feet. After vainly endeavoring to soar into the realms of lighting mental calculus, we accepted the town Engineer's ruling that there was only three cubic feet in a barrel of sand and the accounts were passed.

In a further report Councillor Mowat recommending the payment of $126 to Mr. D. A. Chandler for survey work in connection with the new power house property.

The report was received and adopted. In the absence of Councillor Miller, the finance minister, Councillor Alexander submitted the report of the Finance Committee recommending payment of accounts totalling $12.10 which report was received and adopted. Councillor Lunan presented the report of the Police and License Committee recommending payment of accounts amounting to $14.10. Report received and adopted.

In a further report Councillor Lunan from the Police and License Committee recommended that a license be granted to Felix Obay for a jewellery store on payment of $25, and that the petition of Jacob Fisher for a refund of license fee paid be not entertained.

This further report was received and adopted.

Councillor Pinault submitted report from the Public and Streets Committee recommending payment of accounts totalling $83.16 and Councillor Moore from the Public Charities Committee recommending payment of accounts totalling $403.34.

Report received and adopted. Councillor Alexander from the Water and Sewerage Committee submitted report recommending payment of accounts totalling $403.34.

In a further report Councillor Alexander stated that the Water and Sewerage Committee had had under review the further consideration of the proposed outlet to the Water Street and Andrew Street sewerage system. From the plan of the Town Engineer Sandover Sly it is proposed to lay a 16 inch cast iron pipe with a reinforced concrete tidal receiving chamber or tank with self-closing tidal valves. This tank will be 20x10x5ft, capable of holding 6 hours flow of sewerage and will be sufficient to meet all requirements for a great many years. The cost is estimated at $1500. It is also proposed to relieve the congestion of sewerage at that part of the system south and west of the I. C. R. by laying a 16 inch pipe line to low tide. The cost of this will be small and will amount practically to the cost of labour of hauling pipe and jointing at the site. It is also proposed to extend the sewerage system on Ramsay Street between King and Dalhousie streets. This is estimated to cost $250.73.

The sewer extension on Bay View Avenue had been also under consideration, but the cost being so prohibitive for any benefit to be accrued it was recommended that the work be not proceeded with at present.

On motion the report was received and adopted. For excavating for proposed extension of sewer on Ramsay Street the tender of S. D. Harrison for $144.05 was accepted.

In answer to a question regarding O'Leary Street Councillor Pinault stated that a plan had been received but which was not acceptable to the town owing to the fact that Messrs. O'Leary and Roy could not come to some arrangement regarding the width of Lansdowne Street at its junction with Minto and O'Leary Streets. Regarding the request of Mrs. West for remission of taxation owing to the use made of her land by residents on Christopher property who had no outlet to the street it was felt by the council that this was not a matter for them but rather for Mr. J. B. Christopher to provide an outlet for the tenants on his property.

It was moved by Councillor Alexander and carried that $30,000 of the new bond issue be placed to the credit of the school trustees. It was moved and carried that Bernard Poley be appointed cattle reeve and pound keeper.

In answer to Councillor White regarding site for proposed power house, Councillor Moore stated that various properties had been looked over, but the committee had not other places in view and preferred not to make any report at this meeting.

Council then adjourned.

Toronto.—I gladly give you my testimonial in favor of your wonderful medicine. Last October I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered lameness from gait. After receiving your directions, I followed them closely and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels, and an altogether in every way.

I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby was born, and I recommend it highly to all pregnant women. Mrs. E. WARDEN, 22 Logan Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Another Woman's Word.
Maple Creek, Sask.—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I am now in perfect health. I was troubled with pains every month. I know other women who suffer as I did and I will gladly recommend your medicine to them. You may publish this if you think it will help others. Mrs. P. R. COOK, Maple Creek, Sask.

If you belong to that countless army of women who suffer from some form of female ill, don't hesitate to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

Sackville, N. B., Sept. 23.—The position of Professor of Physics in Mt. Allison University, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. McKay, has been filled by Guy G. Becknell, Ph.D., of Goshen, Ind. Dr. Becknell graduated from the North Western Military Academy in 1897. He took the degree of B.S. in 1904 from the North Western University, and in 1905 the degree of M.S. He won a scholarship from the same University in 1902 and a Fellowship in 1905. He was Honorary Fellow of Clark University in 1909 and Research Assistant of Prof. A. G. Webster. He was Senior Fellow of Clark University in 1908 and 1911, taking the degree of Ph.D. in this year. He has taught in the Goshen public schools of Goshen, Ind., and in the Elkhart Normal School of Elkhart, Ind.; was assistant instructor in 1906 in Purdue University and instructor in Physics in 1907 and 1908. Dr. Becknell is spoken of as being an absolutely straight-forward and clear-headed fellow, a man who will prove a real acquisition to any institution that is fortunate enough to secure his services. He has a fine English style both in written and spoken discourse. This combined with a high grade of his scholarship in both Mathematics and Physics has made him a very successful teacher. When he took the Fellowship in Physics at North Western University he made a very beautiful investigation of the ionization of the Electric Arc, which was published in the Physical Review. He is said to be clear, courteous and interesting; always dignified, and will command the respect of every student in his classes, from start to finish. Prof. Webster, of Clark University, speaks in the highest terms of Dr. Becknell, who will undoubtedly prove a splendid acquisition to the University Faculty.

At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy this pest. That Dandruff is caused by germs is accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. SALVIA will kill the dandruff germs and remove Dandruff in ten days, or money back.

The White Drug Co. guarantees it. It will grow stop itching scalp, falling hair, and make the hair thick and abundant. It prevents hair from turning gray, and adds life and lustre.

SALVIA is a hair dressing that has become the favorite with women of taste and culture, who know the social value of beautiful hair. A large generous bottle costs only 50c. at leading druggists everywhere, and in Campbellton by The White Drug Co. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle.

Business in not as booming as usual this fall. The Lumber Co. have only one camp in as yet. The McMillan Co has only one also. What is the matter with Jacques River? No market for Lumber! Perhaps they need reciprocity!

The interior of the R. C. Church here has been renovated and painted the latter certainly being a credit to the community and a tribute to the artistic workman as well as to the parish priest, who procured his services.

Dr. W. McMillan (son of Thos McMillan) accompanied by his wife, has been visiting his parents for some time. His practice is in the Middle States.

Quite a number from J. R. attend the exhibition in Fredericton Sept. 16-23.

Miss Alice Firlotte spent the week of Sept. 11-18 in St. John attending the Millinery openings.

Mr. P. Baulter's Hall is quite an addition to the little village, and is being well patronized. What about that "lean supper" we were going to have!

We would like to see notes, etc. read then from the regular correspondents. Is he very busy!
