VANCOUVER CONS. ASK SIR HIBBERT TO RUN

Mentions the Possibility of Running in Both Pictou and Vancouver.

WINNIPEG, Tuesday.—The charge that immorality exists in midway attractions of western fairs is renewed by Dr. Chown of Toronto in a letter to a Winnipeg paper, in which he offers to prove same.

The city council has decided in favor of an investigation of the broadest character into the methods of the Winnipeg police force and particularly into the facts surrounding the death of James Robertson.

Fifty Vancouver conservatives tendered Sir Hibbert Tupper the nomination in Vancouver today. He gave no decided answer but mentioned the possibility of running both in Pictou and Vancouver. Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., made a long address and claimed that the conservative victory was certain.

BIG BET MADE ON Table Works Dept. DEAL EXCHANGE

It is That Contract Between Coal and Steel Co's will be Maintained.

MONTREAL, Tuesday.—On the Montreal exchange today a bet of $10,000 to $200 was made that in the appeal in the Dominion Coal and Dominion Iron and Steel suit the contract between the two companies would be maintained. The main issue however in the present appeal is whether the case should go back to a trial judge and certain new evidence be admitted.

An indication of the strong position in which some of the leading banks find themselves is given by the action of the Royal Bank which has voted a bonus of 10 percent. to all the employees of the bank.

Mr. Fleming would be a smart man at figures were it not for that fatal tendency of his to imagine that 2 plus 2 equals 5, or on some occasions 6.—Moncton Transcript.

DAVID MURDER TRIAL BEGUN YESTERDAY

Judge McLeod Warns Jury Against Upholding the Unwritten Law.

FREDERICTON, Tuesday.—There was a large crowd in attendance at the opening of the York County Circuit Court here this morning the interest centering in the case of the King vs. Thomas David, the Syrian, charged with murdering his wife at McAdam Junction in July last. Judge McLeod presided and among the barristers in attendance were Solicitor General Jones, representing the Crown and J. D. Hazen, K. C. counsel for David. The grand jury elected. C. Fred Chestnut foreman.

In presenting the indictment in the David case Judge McLeod remarked that New Brunswick was generally quite free from crime but of late there had been several cases of a serious nature in the province, not due to any laxity in the administration of justice. He briefly recited the facts in the David case as set forth in the depositions and remarked that if after hearing the evidence of the witnesses the facts appeared to him they would be justified in finding a true bill for murder. He warned them that they were not to try the case but merely decide whether or not the evidence justified sending the accused before the petit jury when all the facts could be brought out and carefully weighed. If, said he, it were shown that the wife of the accused had had improper intercourse with other men that would not justify him in killing her as he had no right to be his own avenger.

The witnesses examined up to noon included Captain Porter and Ensign Martin the Salvation Army officers who witnessed the shooting and Jas. Andrews, an Assyrian residing at Woodstock. After deliberating on the facts presented to them for a short time the grand jury returned a true bill against the prisoner.

A number of Syrians are here to testify to the defence and it is expected that the trial will last a week.

COUNT BONI CALLS PRINCE A SOCIAL OUTCAST

De Sagan Declares He Will Sue Castellane For Vindication.

PARIS, Monday.—The newspapers Saturday published long accounts of the encounter between Count Boni de Castellane and Prince Helle de Sagan in the Rue de Chailiot. The two men are cousins. Count Boni was recently divorced by his wife, who was Miss Anna Gould of New York and Prince Helle is credited with having been attentive to Mme. Gould.

Mme. Gould had a conference with her lawyers today, but at its conclusion it was announced that no statement would be issued. Mme. Gould, however, reiterated her denial of an engagement of marriage with Prince de Sagan.

SAY PRINCE IS AN OUTCAST.
Count Boni is quoted as declaring his cousin to be outside the pale of society, and he reiterates the statement made yesterday that it would be impossible for him to procure acceptable seconds even if he desired to challenge to a duel.

Prince Helle de Sagan, when seen by the Associated Press to-day was propped up in bed smoking cigarettes. He declared that after "volting" with his fencing master and other friends, he saw no reason to change his decision not to send a challenge. "If Boni had struck me in the face with his glove I would fight him," said the prince. "By attacking me with his brother, two against one, and striking me when I was down, he has placed himself outside the laws regulating affairs of honor. Moreover, I have decided upon the advice of my attorney, should the public prosecutor not act in this matter, to bring a charge of criminal assault, coupled with a demand for one franc damages, in order to be able to prove the deliberate character of the attack."

Asked about the report published in Le Journal that his engagement to Mme. Anna Gould would be announced in a few days and that the marriage would follow in Germany, Prince Helle replied that the public should be satisfied with the denials issued by Mme. Gould and himself. "As Mme.

Gould's divorce only becomes definite at the end of three months any marriage now is impossible," the prince said, "and it was hardly likely that in any event that Mme. Gould would marry before a year had elapsed." Then after a pause the prince added, smiling: "At the end of that time I do not know what may happen." The Prince de Sagan spoke frankly of the friendship that had existed between himself and the Count and Countess de Castellane and his frequent visits to their residence. The two men formerly were great friends Prince Helle having organized the famous fairy fete in the Bois de Boulogne with which Count Boni and his wife made their bow to Paris society. Count Boni is ten years younger than Prince Helle and considerably smaller in stature. Both are good sportsmen.

CAMPELLTON, N. B., JAN. 9, 1908.

Restigouche needs nothing so much now as more snow.

Speaking about grafters, Mr. Hazen has certainly got a nice bunch now hanging from his coat tails.

The trouble with Mr. Flemming is that he should be on Wall street instead of the New Brunswick legislature.

The honest electors of Westmorland should have no difficulty in choosing between the government and opposition tickets.

Would Westmorland sooner be represented by a man of Fred Sumner's stamp than by one of Clifford Robinson's stamp?

When a man is sick he never gets a chance to discuss his symptoms, because his wife insists on telling every caller how much sleep she loses.

Now that football has been introduced into Cuba the islanders can find out what real fighting is like. How stale will revolutions seem henceforth!

The Vatican will probably appoint a Canadian Cardinal, our position as the greater half of the North American continent entitles us to at least one red hat.

A Wyandotte man had his skull fractured by a keg of beer with which he was navigating the street. The obvious moral is never to carry your beer in a keg.

It is reported that the Teddy bear craze is over and the girls are returning to their dolls. Presidential announcements relieve the story of suspicion of political animus.

Now is a fine time to do next year's Christmas shopping, though the average person feels that the more pressing need of buying food for his family should be attended to first.

The Hamilton Spectator boasts that all the trustees elected by acclamation were Tories. A city that imports party politics into the school board elections will yet get what is coming to it.

Nineteen towns and cities of Ontario have elected their Mayors by acclamation. There is, therefore, no reason why they shouldn't have a happy New Year. They know the worst.

Germany expects by 1920 to have 18 battleships and 20 large cruisers. That would be a large fleet for a nation desirous of preventing the development of her own commerce, but 1920 is a long way off.

The Manitoba Government has taken over the telephone system in that Province. Premier Roblin's downfall is in sight. The maddened subscriber will not reflect, but will be sure to blame the Government for giving him the wrong number.

Premier Robinson's proposal to submit the matter in dispute between Mr. Flemming and himself to disinterested financial experts is a very sensible one and one which must appeal to all lovers of the "square deal." Mr. Flemming has grossly libelled the provincial government and if he got into a joint debate with the premier would only proceed to quibble and distort as he has done in the past.

With each succeeding lemon which a discriminating public donates to the conservative party there is always a fine show of cheerfulness on the part of the organs. It is a good thing to be able to be merry over disasters. In the case of the Conservatives we are reminded of the man who bewailed the loss of a friend but formed much comfort in the fact that the friend had not been run over by a train; he had merely been drowned.—Victoria Times.

MR. LEMIEUX'S MISSION.

The alleged failure of Mr. Lemieux to solve the gigantic question of the clash of races meeting across the Pacific no doubt brings great comfort to politicians who have in parliament been making out of this trying problem an opportunity for adding to the embarrassment there is in it for the government and for the country. There is no sign at all that Mr. Lemieux has failed, observes the Montreal Witness. The Japanese government stands where it has always stood, and where it must necessarily stand, on its claim to equal dignity with other peoples. Indeed, if dignity of demeanour is in question, Japan can at least claim equality. Japan has told us that she will make no treaty empowering foreign countries to exclude her people. She, however, recognizes that with certain classes her people are undesirable. She has no desire that her people should migrate to America, or come home thence Americanized. She wants her star of empire to move westward to the peopling of Korea and Manchuria. She empowered Mr. Nosen to say that she was herself, and of course for her own good home reasons, limiting migration to a nominal number. Our government, in sending Mr. Lemieux, could not have any expectation of getting anything more than that, or even of getting that into the form of an international understanding. All that was open to him was to represent that Japan's intentions were being frustrated, chiefly by way of Hawaii, a representation which without any bargain might well be expected to have practical results. So far as appears his mission in this respect has been as successful as Japanese good will and zeal for her own regulations could make it. Mr. Lemieux has, however, had the misfortune to pique the United States embassy at Tokio, as we learn from certain patronizing special telegrams coming by way of New York, which, with the usual recklessness as to facts, speak of his "failure," and attribute it to his not having co-operated with the United States embassy. He indeed showed himself such a tyrant of diplomacy that he had not the common politeness to call at the said embassy. Indeed, he studiously ignored it. This from the United States point of view was of course, disagreeable to him. That country has, as is well understood, a like problem on hand. Why not, then, make common cause? Why indeed, prejudice the cause of the United States by assuming superior claims? The why of this is, however, extremely plain to Canadians. The problem of the United States with regard to Japan is almost identical with her Chinese problem. We have made a great difference between our treatment of Chinese and of Japanese, for the reason that the Japanese are our allies, and we have no such relation with the Chinese. This being the case it was obvious that to make common cause with the United States or to appear to do so would have put our place in the eyes of the Japanese on a level with theirs. If there was anything in the imperial treaty of alliance with Japan, or in our own correlative commercial treaty under it, it was the duty of our diplomats to keep our cause separate from others that were not in the same category. At the same time, when all is said, it has to be acknowledged that our problem is practically the same as that of our neighbors. We, like them, are afraid to face the Orientals. We, like them, wish to treat them as inferiors and keep them out. At least, whatever we be the mind of the silent majority, that is the attitude that is noisy and in evidence. Those who have no interest in the international comity which would in the near future be the very life of our Pacific province will naturally desire to fight the oriental enemy under the wing of the United States.

Just how an unbiased jury was obtained for the Shaw case is somewhat of a mystery to us.

The conservative party has had nearly twelve years to pull itself together, but it remains just as demoralized as ever.

Too bad the vaudeville war is over. Castellane and Sagan could get a fancy price to reproduce that fierce scene on the American stage.

The men of the greatest brains in the conservative party are not in parliament. They are living in ease and luxury as the result of the graft they worked during conservative administrations.

The winter, we are told, has been an exceptionally mild one in the East. The weather has been about as usual out here in British Columbia. The heavens have been storing the fields with moisture and Elk Lake and the Goldstream dams with a more or less abundant supply of water in anticipation of a possible dry summer. Still the sun is rising to an increasing height every day in the horizon. We are permitted to see his genial face occasionally just as a reminder that whatever else may change, the seasons come and go with unfailing regularity.—Victoria Times.

THE WAGER AND THE CLOWN.

A masked man has started to circle the globe on a wager which he will win if he does not reveal his identity until he is back in London, if he finds a wife somewhere on the road and if he forwards home every day certified records of his visits to cities, towns, villages, hamlets, diggings, camps and what not. The job, it seems, is the result of the taunt some "American millionaire" passed in the Pall Mall club room, the pork packer or oil magnate of slang writer declaring "that no Englishman could walk around the world masked and pushing a perambulator," alias baby carriage, alias go-cart, and also known colloquially as kid-wagon. It strikes us that the "American millionaire" is a fictitious personage brought into the affair for the purpose of lending dignity to it. Possibly the plot is to start a discussion as to the individual who hatched the brilliant idea. But an American, whether millionaire or socialist or humble common councilman subsisting on municipal free lunches, would know that to go around the world in a mask and behind a perambulator and bring home a wife or a dozen wives would be the easiest of tasks. The only difficulty is to imagine the stunt; once begun, it is bound to be encouraged by mayors and selectmen and brass bands everywhere. For the whole world loves a buffoon; and if the clown or the son of a belted earl the card has all the more drawing power. Mystery plus dandyism is a great combination. Once upon a time one of these globe trotters started from Boston in a suit made of newspapers. Barnum at that time had a triple-headed ass and the wild man of Borneo on his program, and so the tour of this particular trotter ended when the financial page blew off his back in the presence of an agent of the Watch and Ward Society. But times have changed since then. Circuses have been, in part supplanted by society functions. A man in a mask and pushing a go-cart would be one of the hits of the Newport season, and if he should prove to have a title, he could come back on an heiress the year of the next tea cup race.

Why should Mr. Flemming be so desirous of meeting Premier Robinson in debate at St. John? Frederickton is still the capital of the province and the parliament buildings are still there.

The men of the greatest brains in the conservative party are not in parliament. They are living in ease and luxury as the result of the graft they worked during conservative administrations.

VIVE FRENCH CHIVALRY.

There is some chivalry left in France. First prize goes to the butcher who picked the little nobleman out of the gutter. The second prize is divided between the prince and the count for their endeavor to keep the name of Mine Gould out of the case. We fear that there will be some dispute over the decision. Yet, taking everything into consideration, it was sublime of the butcher, to lay hands instead of feet on the aristocratic dandies. The natural impulse of a man of his self-respect and good standing in the eyes of the world would be to help the cousins kick each other's ribs in. Another of less magnanimous disposition would have cried "Lynch 'em!" But it was a considerable crowd all round. Even the gendarmes behaved with remarkable moderation, not playing upon the combatants with either clubs or water, but waiting for the peace-maker from the market to separate the perturbed pets of the Faubourg St. Germain from each other. On the other hand, neither prince nor count blamed the disillusioned Anna. After that little tragedy of the aristocratic bazaar it would be logical to expect that one or the other would say that Gould, not gold, was the root of all trouble. But no. "Twas a private mix-up, with the true Gallic nose-encase-church, gutter and police station. Which reminds us of the old Parisian boast that a genuine Frenchman is at home everywhere. It was a very fine affair from beginning to end. In fact, we think that with the Rogers Brothers in the principal roles a musical comedy based on the adventures of Boni and Helli would fill our biggest theaters for several months. When the Frenchman is seriously engaged in defending his "honor" he's funnier than Col. Scannel's goat.

Some English immigrants at Chatham threaten a revolution unless they are provided with work. Yet when they are offered $1.75 a day they refuse it. Is that the spirit of the colonizing Britisher?

It is reported that the conservatives of Cumberland, Nova Scotia, will bring in an outside man to oppose Mr. Logan. The Cumberland Tories are evidently not disposed to put up the cash for a hopeless cause.

The Manufacturers' Record says that the United States, with its more than 3,000,000 square miles of productive territory, is capable of supporting a population of some 500,000,000 without overcrowding. Meantime there's lots of room for those who, like Daniel Boone, don't like to have a neighbor nearer than five miles.

An I. C. R. freight shed will not be erected in Campbellton this winter. This was the announcement made to the Graphic yesterday by Dist. Supt. Price.

Mr. Price went on to say that the ground was too hard now to make the foundation, and that the work would be postponed until spring. A temporary structure, however, will be erected at once on the site of the old freight shed.

Mr. Price, when in Moncton a few days ago, saw the plans of the new freight shed. He states that when the building is completed, Campbellton will have a freight shed as any in the province.

Asked regarding the report that Campbellton was to get a new station, Mr. Price replied that that was the first he had heard of it. He was certain that no decision in the matter had been arrived at as yet.

(From Tuesday's Graphic.)

The first meeting of the week of prayer was held last evening in the Salvation Army hall and was very largely attended. Ensign Pynn took charge of the meeting and conducted it in hearty Salvation Army style. Rev. P. J. Stackhouse was the speaker and his subject was "The Need of a Revival." He gave three reasons why, in his judgment, a revival was needed. First because of the lack of personal consecration and self-denial on the part of many professing Christians. Second because of prevalent love of money and habits of luxury, and third because of the harm done by inconsistencies of many church members. He held that a revival would give us a strong grip on our religion. It would send new life blood flowing through every vein of our church life. In closing he appealed for a deeper interest in spiritual things on the part of the professing Christians, because many people connected with our congregations are not Christians.

Rev. Mr. Thompson occupied a seat on the platform and offered prayer. The meeting will be held this evening in the Baptist church. The speaker will be Rev. Mr. Thompson and the subject "The necessity of prayer as a condition of revival." The meeting will open at 7:30 p. m.

The True Test

of value is not the price you pay but the style, comfort and fit you get. Don't imagine that all tailors work is alike. Nor the goods alike in garments sold at similar prices. Not at all. Good, bad and indifferent describes it. Some excel. We make it a point of honor to give value and perfect fit. Can we do more.

THE SMARTEST STYLES in SHOES and SLIPPERS

For Afternoon Wear
BEAUTIFUL, indeed, are the styles in shoes and slippers offered this season.

And as the success of a gown depends, for the most part, on the accessories, such an important detail as footwear of the correct style and shade means much to the smartness of one's appearance.

Owing to the popularity of the low shoe, it will probably continue to be worn a great deal up to the severely cold weather.

It is shown in many fascinating shapes and colors.

For strictly street wear it is in gunmetal leather, with dear little tiny leather bows of a flat style adorning the instep.

Again, it is seen in the tongue-toed slipper, which is really a combination of the pump and the old-time colonial slipper. Buckles of dull silver, gunmetal, gilt and flat black ribbon bows decorate these attractive models.

For street wear is shown the very high-cut button or lace model, with patent leather vamp and gunmetal top, in the blacks and in the browns, with the dark forepart and a top of several shades lighter.

The tendencies in these shoes, as well as in the slippers, is toward the very pointed toe without a tip or a suggestion of it.

The heels are the rather high Cuban ones of last season, so universally becoming to all feet.

The slippers for evening wear are of a wonderful variety of delicate colors, several shades of each color being temptingly displayed in kid, satin, hand-embroidered silk and brocades.

They are ornamented with rosettes of looped and twisted ribbons, held together in the center with a buckle of rhinestones or iridescent buttons.

The vamps this season are very much shorter than they have been for some time.

The changes are, however, expressed more in the form of interesting adaptations of existing ideas than in radical ways.

Yet there are changes made in almost every direction: toes growing more pointed, the soles narrowing, and the whole stock of women's shoes taking on a lighter, more feminine touch.

Brown is very much to the fore. A number of new shades and tints have been brought out, and promise to be exceedingly popular during the winter.

Shoes and slippers of silver or gold lace mounted over color have tried very hard to get a hearing, but there are two barriers between them and success: they make the foot look large, and, to be pretty at all, must be made of expensive lace, which increases their cost to a most prohibitive limit.

Then, both the gold and silver thread tarnish readily if not given care.

Among the radical novelties are the extremely high shoe of gunmetal and some extravagant conceits in the shape of pumps.

Extremely High Shoes Are Very Smart for Street

The Newest in Slippers

What would really be classed among the novelties, though sanest of them all, are the embroidered evening slippers in white and delicate tints.

In the grays are shown buckskins and suedes in the most fascinating forms. Some of the dressier styles are pailletted and set off by buckles of silver or cut steel.

Then, again, there are patent leather foreparts, with the softest, palest gray, or any of the smoke-gray cloth or kid tops.

Often a shoe is shown combining red and black or blue and black, but most of these novelties are out of question for ordinary wear.

Stockings match the shoes. They are of silk or lisle thread, with dainty floral decorations, gorgeous butterflies, embroidered conventional designs, and those with insets of lace.

They are shown in every color imaginable, and are really quite reasonable in price.

TRAINS COLLIDE AT SALMON LAKE

Nos. 41 and 42 Came Together and Engines Are Damaged.

(From Wednesday's Graphic.) There was a head-on collision Monday afternoon at Salmon Lake, about fifty miles west of here between 41 and 42 east bound. The trains were to cross there. Train 42, with C. A. Killam at the throttle and with Conductor Gamache in charge reached the station first and hauled ahead to back into the siding when 41 came in and collided with her. The engine of 41 was against 42, but she ran under it. The locomotive of No. 42 had its pilot badly damaged and the locomotive of No. 41 had also its pilot damaged and its front end stove in. The crews of both locomotives jumped and escaped injury. The driver of No. 41 was Edward Price and the Conductor Royer. Both trains were freights. Dist. Supt. Price leaves this morning for Salmon Lake where he will hold an investigation into the cause of the collision.

FREDERICTON, Tuesday. — The local government met here this evening with a full attendance of the executive. Recorder Skinner, St. John, and G. N. Gilbert were heard in behalf of the owners of fishing leases at Grand Falls on the Nepisiquit and asked for protection in arrangements entered into with the Drummond Iron Co. It was decided that the attorney general should meet all parties interested in St. John and draw up suitable conditions to be met. Delegates composed of Rev. J. Henderson, John Perry and D. W. Ross were heard regarding the claim in the bequest to the consolidated schools. The government promised to refer the matter to the board of education which will meet in the morning. The premier had nothing to say regarding the election or session. The government hadn't considered the matter, he said.

WORCESTER, Tuesday. — With a $10,000 suit for alienation of affections hanging over his head, Harry Thrasher Gray, a wealthy business man of this city, has married Mrs. Bessie May (Edwards) Jordan, a divorced wife of Frederick B. Jordan, a former dashing lieutenant of the crack Wellington Rifles. The marriage has caused a sensation in society circles here. The couple went to Park Avenue and were married by the Rev. I. H. Packard. The attendants were Robert W. Edwards, brother of the bride, and Miss Marion H. Gray, sister of the groom. A reception was held later at the bride's home, 59 May street. After a brief reception they went away on a wedding trip.

The groom is president and treasurer of the J. W. Jordan Company of 44 South-bridge street. The late J. W. Jordan was the father of Frederick B. Jordan, the bride's divorced husband. On April 22, 1906, Mrs. Jordan began suit for absolute divorce, charging her husband with indiscretions on and after March 15, 1903. The couple were married Feb. 14, 1895. Mrs. Jordan asked for the custody of their three minor children. Contrary to all expectations, Jordan did not contest the suit and Mrs. Jordan got her divorce, which became absolute last April, according to officials at the County Court House. At the Court House the papers in Jordan's suit against Gray were marked "Don't publish." Attorneys in the clerk's office offered no explanation for so unusual an endorsement on public documents.

QUEENSTOWN, Tuesday. — The long over due steamer Mount Royal steamed slowly into Queenstown today and the news of her safety was received with gladness in shipping circles. She had not been heard from in many days having been last reported off the Lizard Dec 10th and watch was being kept for her on both sides of the Atlantic and as far south as Bermuda. The Mount Royal belongs to the C. P. R. Atlantic service. She left Antwerp Dec 7 for Atlantic service. She left with 300 Hungarian emigrants and a crew of 100 men. She was first definitely sighted off old Head of Kinsale sixteen miles west of this port early today. She was then proceeding slowly under her own steam and signalling that she was coming in here. She declined the help of a tug that was sent out to assist her and came in alone. The Mount Royal had trouble with her boilers and was compelled to put back. Shortly after leaving the British coast she encountered a series of violent gales. She battled with the heavy weather for a fortnight until Christmas eve when serious trouble with her boilers developed. The steamer was then in longitude 24.50 west latitude 45 north. The engine room staff ultimately succeeded in obtaining a moderate supply of steam but the weather was such that the captain reluctantly decided it was best to make for the Irish coast. The steamer was headed about and steamed slowly into port. The passengers and crew are all well.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO. LTD. GENTLEMEN.—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT from time to time for the past twenty years. CHILD POISONED BY EATING PILLS

Three Year Old Daughter of Mr. & Mrs. J. Crosswell is Victim.

(From Wednesday's Graphic.) Alberta, the three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. Crosswell of Upper Matapedia, was poisoned yesterday morning by eating several pills from a box which the family had in the house. The child was by itself for a time. When the mother went into the room where it was she was horrified to find it in convulsions. Dr. Gillis was summoned but could do nothing for the child and it expired a half an hour after eating the pills.

HANLAN'S FUNERAL.
World Famed Oarsman Interred at Toronto Yesterday.

TORONTO, Tuesday. — Amid many tokens of public sorrow the funeral of Edward Hanlan, the one-time champion oarsman of the world took place this afternoon at the Necropolis. After a private service at the family residence the remains were interred at the Necropolis, the procession passing through several of the principal streets and attended by an immense concourse of citizens. Every athletic organization in the city was represented and some of the foremost oarsmen of America being among the pall-bearers. The floral offerings were exceedingly numerous and included wreaths from the city and all of the city athletic clubs. The city council held a special meeting and passed a resolution of condolence with the family of Mr. Hanlan.

WANTED.
A Capable girl to do general housework.
Apply to—MRS. PAUL DOYLE, Bay View Hotel, Jacques River, N.B. 14-4 wpd

SHEWESBURY, Mass., Tuesday. — George H. Harrington, a son of Henry T. Harrington, who last July was stabbed by Patrick F. Murray of Watertown, a chauffeur employed by the Boston School Board, was today shot by an unknown man and tonight lies in a critical condition at his home on Grafton road. His assailant crept up behind the milk wagon in which he was driving at a lonely spot on the old Boston turnpike, and thrust his gun through the small window in the rear, pulled the trigger and then made his escape before the shot could reach the spot. The police have an excellent description of the man who did the shooting and tonight every officer in Worcester and surrounding cities is on the lookout for him, while extra police are patrolling the road near the scene of the shooting lest the man may have concealed himself in the woods with the idea of escaping under cover of darkness.

(Regina Standard.) Although the season was not by any means as good for building operations as was the season of 1906, the year which closed on Tuesday at midnight showed great activity in the building industry. The permits for the year are considerably less than a year ago, but many of the large buildings such as the new post office and the new city hall were in course of construction throughout 1907 and will be completed in the present year, 1908.

The permits for 1907, according to the report of A. C. Knight, building inspector, totalled 480 in number and were to a value of $1,177,840. In number, therefore, the permits exceeded those of the previous year, only 420 being taken out. The difference in cost of buildings erected is accounted for by the fact that several very large structures were begun during 1906. Among these are the Northern Bank building, costing $168,000; the new post office costing $225,000; and many others equally as costly.

Plumbing Tests Made.
The appointment of A. C. Knight as building inspector in May 1 opened a new department, as he is directed to grant permits for plumbing in buildings and see that all plumbing was properly tested. Although this system has only been in operation eight months, plumbing tests to the number of 312 were made and an equal number of permits were granted. This is a fair indication of the number of buildings in the city connected up with the city sewerage system during the year. The fees collected by the office of the city building inspector during 1907 amounted to $550, which are made up of a fee of 50 cents for a building permit and $1 for a plumbing permit and test.

CLAIMS HE WAS STABBED HERE

Man Named Hillson Says He Was Set Upon Near Post Office.

(From Wednesday's Graphic.) Chas. Hillson, a former employe on construction work on the International Railway was the victim of a brutal assault here, Monday evening. According to the story told by Hillson, he was walking along Water street early in the evening. When near the post office he was set upon by an unknown man, knocked down and stabbed in the chest with a knife. As soon as his assailant had accomplished this he let Hillson up by the remark "I beg your pardon. I thought it was someone else." Hillson made his way to the office of Dr. Martin where it was found that several bones in his nose had been broken. Hillson has no idea who his assailant was, but he bears the marks of the assault on his nose.

DIES AT AGE OF 84 YEARS

Rev. Thos. Nicholson of Charlo Perhaps Oldest Pres. Divine.

WAS WIDELY KNOWN.

Rev. Thos. Nicholson, who was probably the oldest Presbyterian clergyman in New Brunswick, if not in Canada, died at his home in Charlo yesterday morning at the advanced age of 84 years.

Mr. Nicholson was widely known throughout the province and especially in Restigouche county, where he has resided for upwards of half a century. Although he had retired from the active duties of the ministry more than twenty years ago, he has since then continued to minister to the people occupied the pulpit both in New Mills and other places and never relaxed his interest in church work, especially in visiting the sick and B. B. Murray, J. R. Cowans, which will doubtless be greatly appreciated. Deceased leaves a widow and five children.

The Graphic hopes to be able in a future issue to furnish its readers with a more complete biography of Mr. Nicholson, which will doubtless be greatly appreciated. Deceased leaves a widow and five children.

COMPLICATIONS LOOKED FOR.

SPRINGHILL, Tuesday. — Judge Patterson of New Glasgow will be here today to act as chairman of the conciliation board under the Lunacy Act to consider the differences between the men and the management. The other members of the board are: Hiram Donnelly and B. B. Murray, J. R. Cowans, which will doubtless be greatly appreciated. Deceased leaves a widow and five children.

OTTAWA, Tuesday. — Word has been received that Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux reached Victoria, B. C., last night from Japan. The Postmaster General is coming through to Ottawa. He is the bearer of a proposal from the Japanese government of what they are willing to do in the way of limiting and controlling the immigration of Japanese laborers to Canada. It is understood that this proposal will be fully considered by the cabinet council before the Canadian view thereon is sent to Tokyo. Lemieux is probably here at the end of the week.

MODERN METHODS.
How they have improved a Standard Remedy.

In the 17th century a wave of excitement swept over England and France when the medical profession discovered such wonderful curative elements in the cod's liver.

In the 18th century cod liver oil was imported and used extensively by physicians in this country but it was found to be adulterated to a great extent, and the useless heavy oil which enveloped the medicinal elements, a great hindrance to its medicinal value. In 1855 a famous physician from the Hague went to Norway and after two years of experiment and research produced a light brown oil from the cod's liver which was said to be more valuable than the pale yellow oil with the taste and odor were so repulsive that it frequently caused such nausea that it made it unpopular.

The most valuable discovery, however, was later made by two eminent French chemists, who after years of research discovered an extractive and concentrating process, by which all of the medicinal, healing and body building elements of the cod's liver are separated from the useless and nauseating oil, the result being a medicinal element combined with peptonate of iron make Vinol the most scientific and valuable cod liver preparation which the world has ever known.

Vinol is so rich in the elements of life that it imparts vigor to all debilitated and feeble conditions and is unequalled as a remedy for all pulmonary troubles. Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if it fails to give satisfaction. A. McG. McDonald, Druggist, Campbellton, N. B.
