STAR ATTRACTIONS.

Sol Smith Russell and "Lost in New York"—"A Peaceful Valley"—"A Poor Relation."

A FAVORITE ACTOR.

Sol Smith Russell, the sunniest and most genial gentleman on the stage, comes to London on Sept. 17 and 18, and will appear in the first night in his greatest play, entitled "Peaceful Valley." In it Mr. Russell has again shown one of the many attempts of the stage to get away from the fuss and feathers of unreal mock heroics and come back to the simple, earnest prettiness of real life in its best aspects. In these days of all sorts of dramatic vapor settling thick and sickly upon literature and the stage, it is like a tonic breath from the "forest of balm" and fresh up in the clear, pure air of the mountain side, to sit for an evening in the healthy and invigorating atmosphere of such a play as "Peaceful Valley." As Mr. Sol Smith Russell plays it, His House is a unique characterization upon the stage, and yet a character that the world will recognize at sight. "A Poor Relation," ever popular, will be given Tuesday night.

LOST IN NEW YORK.

Lovers of the realistic in the drama and art will be given a double treat next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Grand Opera House, when the big "bank" drama "Lost in New York" and Herr Leopold Van Dyck's living statuary will be produced in fine style. The play is well and favorably known here, and the managers promise a much more elaborate production than ever before. The tableaux vivants are said to come direct from Vienna and Paris, and to be the finest ever produced in America. The following are some of the paintings: "The Siren," "Me and Jack," "Birth of Venus," "The Interrupted Sitting," "The Vestal," "The Storm," "Springtime," "The Surprise," and many others. A very clever company and new specialties are promised.

RESCUE THE PERISHING.

Save the Weak and Puny Babies.

MANY PERISH BY NEGLECT.

Lactated Food Provides Life and Strength.

Rescue the perishing babes—the little ones who are weak and puny—who are dropping off from day to day owing to poor and unwholesome dieting.

A physician of note emphatically asserts that hundreds of mothers in every large town and city are unable to properly nurse their babies owing to an impoverished, scanty and poor quality of breast milk. Lactated Food is known as the safest of all infant foods; it is easily digested, pleasant to the taste, and never produces irritation and inflammation as other foods do. Babies thrive fast, sleep well and are never cross and peevish when fed on Lactated Food from day to day.

It is very important to know where to find fine bedroom sets at low prices. When buying call at Trafford's and you will find them. 95 and 97 King Street.

Latest Cable Gossip.

The Queen's Provisions for Relations Strongly Criticised.

Doleful Tales from the Australian Gold Diggings.

Does Hard Bicycling Cause Heart Disease?

Her Majesty Criticised.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Queen's generosity in providing palaces and other residences for foreign princes and princesses at the expense of the British taxpayer is again rousing the ire of Radicals. The scandal has hardly subsided over the thirty pensioners of her Majesty, who have been turning Hampton Court Palace into a boarding house, when now it is announced that she has been pleased to grant the stud house, also at Hampton Court, to Princess Frederica of Hanover and her husband, with the benefit of the survivorship. The princess is one of the wealthiest royal personages in Europe, and she only rarely comes to England for a brief visit. It is announced that the stud house is to be extensively repaired and improved for her occasional occupation. This moves Mr. Labouchere, editor of the Truth, to remark: "If this arrangement has really been made, it is a most monstrous job and one of a peculiarly objectionable kind, as, during the reigns of George IV. and William IV. Parliament protested so strongly against special sovereign grants that they were altogether discontinued of late years. However, the Queen has privately revived the system of giving royal residences with survivorship, and an informed that nearly every warrant which has recently been granted has contained the obnoxious survivorship clause. The next sovereign of the realms will have to live a long time before he has either houses or apartments to give away."

"I believe in at least one case the Queen has signed a warrant granting what really was an official residence to the wife of the present occupant in case she survives her husband."

The Queen's Troubles.

Scotland is more crowded than usual just now with tourists and sportsmen, and the former are giving those who are charged with the conservation of the Queen's privacy a good deal of trouble. They flock into the Balmoral district by hundreds, and growl around the royal demesne from morn till eve, in the hope of catching sight of the sovereign. Whenever her Majesty takes a drive she is bothered by a cheering crowd at every place where she changes horses or takes refreshment; and when she is making calls upon her cottagers and other humble dependents she is followed, at some distance, by a host of inquisitive persons of both sexes whom it is impossible to frown down or frighten away. Women are the worst offenders, and some of them have had the impudence to follow the Queen's movements through field-glasses when unable to follow her on private property, just like certain intolerable newspaper reporters of whose rudeness her Majesty complained so bitterly in her book, "Leaves from the Journal of Our Life in the Highlands."

Penalties of Gold-Hunting.

Canadians who are thinking to try their fortune in the new El Dorado of Western Australia, should consider some of the conditions of life in the new gold fields before starting on a fool's errand. Recent arrivals are full of doleful tales of hardship. Not more than five men in a hundred are lucky enough to strike rich, and the region is already vastly overpopulated. The lack of water is a great drawback. Water commands 25 cents a gallon at Coolgardie, 37 at Hannans, and 50 cents elsewhere. In the gold district many horses have died of thirst by the roadside. Five hundred men at Coolgardie are anxious to get work at any wage.

A Tavern-keeper Outwitted.

The Birmingham police yesterday reported to a clever ruse for the purpose of getting evidence against the keeper of a tavern which is a great gambling resort. The police are so carefully picketed that all attempts to gain admission had been vain. A mourning coach and a hearse drawn by black horses were chartered by the police and manned with coachmen, mutes and mourners. The coach, at a walking pace, pulled up at the door of the tavern, as is usual with mourning coaches returning from a cemetery. The coachman descended and opened the carriage for the mourners to alight. The funeral party passed unsuspected into the tavern and ordered refreshments. Before it was supplied, however, the disguised detectives, having obtained all the evidence required, announced themselves as police officers and proceeded to take possession of the compromising parties.

Dueling Approved Of.

The Czar has just issued his approval of the institution of dueling in the army. The commander-in-chief at Kiel, in issuing the new dueling code, says: "The Czar has conferred upon us a new mark of his imperial grace in granting us the right to defend with arms in our hands that which is most precious to all of us—our honor. This gracious action on the part of his majesty makes it our duty, still more than heretofore, so to regulate our conduct and manners alike in official and social intercourse as to obviate all unbecoming misunderstandings and frivolous quarrels."

A Present to the Heir.

The day the Duke of York was married a loyal citizen of Oswestry planted an acorn which by the time the duke's son was born had sprouted into a tiny British oak. This was the acorn which the duke, as a present, the donor claiming that the gift was unique of its kind. The duke has had the little tree planted at Sandringham, and it will be known as Prince Edward's oak.

Bicycles and Heart Disease.

Paris has become second only to London in her devotion to cycling. The use of the wheel is so general there that the French Academy of Medicine has been seriously discussing the habit this week. There are more than 100,000 bicycles in Paris, and they are ridden by young and old, fat and thin. A prominent physician drew the attention of the academy to the death of three persons from heart disease recently while riding bicycles. He said that not less than 1 per cent of the riders are suffering from cardiac ailments and are in danger of the same fate. He argued that no one should use the machines without submitting to medical tests.

The Count's Death.

The Times says: The only significance of the Count of Paris' death is to show that the Royalist party in France is a negligible quantity.

Thomas Carlyle's House.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—American admirers of Carlyle have now an opportunity of testifying to the faith which is in them. A fresh proposal is made to buy the house in which he lived in Cheyne Row, Chelsea, and $20,000 is wanted. The owners are willing to sell; this sum will cover the purchase money, repairs and incidental expenses, and provide a small fund to keep the house in order. These facts appear from an interesting letter in the Standard, which editorially throws cold water on the proposal, because Carlyle's memory is now under a cloud, and because Carlyle's teachings and methods were not to the taste of this editorial writer. These are matters of opinion, and the expression of them in discouragement of this effort is ungracious. The appeal is to the admirers of Carlyle, not to those who disliked or misunderstood him. To Americans specifically no appeal is made, but I do not imagine that American money would be rejected or superfluous.

The house is now in a condition of neglect. It may be sold to pull down; it will probably be sold soon. Carlyle lived there 47 years. The Carlyle Society has put a memorial tablet on the wall, but has no money to make the house itself a memorial. None of Carlyle's more famous friends seemed disposed to move in the matter. The less famous have the field to themselves. The English nation, says Mr. Miller, of Manchester, who writes this letter, seem indifferent about Carlyle, who, whatever else he may have been, was beyond dispute one of the greatest English writers, and for two generations a great influence.

A St. Thomas dispatch says the estate of the late Mr. Hiram Comfort represents a much greater sum than was generally supposed it would. A petition for the probate of the will has been filed by solicitor for the deceased, and the value of the estate is sworn to as $113,573. Of this, between $5,000 and $6,000 only is in ready.

Mrs. Richard Malouin, an old and respected resident of Port Burwell, passed suddenly over to the silent majority Tuesday evening, of supposed heart failure. She had been in her usual health, in fact did a large washing that day, besides her other work. She had taken her little grandson upstairs to bed, after which going to her own room, she was preparing to retire for the night when her husband, who was yet below stairs, heard her moaning and hastening up found her lying on the carpet unconscious from which state she never recovered. She was 65 years of age. The sympathy of the community is with the bereaved husband.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

A PAINREMEDY.

For nearly 50 years this wonderful remedy has proved itself the best, quickest, safest and surest antidote for pain in the world.

THE TRUE RELIEF

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is safe, reliable and effective because of the stimulating action which it exerts over the nerves and vigor of the body, adding tone to the vital powers of the body, adding tone to the structure, and through this healthful stimulation and increased action the cause of the pain is driven away and natural condition restored. It is thus that the READY RELIEF is admirably adapted for the CURS OF PAIN, and without the risk of injury which is sure to result from the use of many of the so-called pain remedies of the day.

In using medicines to stop pain we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system, opium, Morphine, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception. When the patient loses the power of feeling, this is the most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and instead of relieving the system, breaks down the stomach, sates the bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RELIEF stops the pain, without exerting any pain quicker, without entailing the least difficulty in either infant or adult.

FOR ALL

SUMMER COMPLAINTS,

DYSENTERY, DIARRHEA,

CHOLERA, MORBUS.

A half to a teaspoonful of Ready Relief in a half tumbler of water, repeated as often as the discharges continue, and a flannel saturated with Ready Relief placed over the stomach and bowels will afford immediate relief and soon effect a cure.

A half to a teaspoonful in half a tumbler of water will in a few minutes cure Cramps, Headaches, Stomach, Heartburn, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Sick Headache, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Colic, Flatulency and all internal pains.

MALARIA.

CHILLS AND FEVER, FEVER AND AGUE CONQUERED.

Radway's Ready Relief

Not only cures the patient seized with this terrible fever, but it is a newly settled district, where the Malaria or Ague exists, but if people exposed to it will, every morning take a glass of water and add a few drops of the Ready Relief in a glass of water and eat, say, a cracker, they will escape attacks. This must be done before going out.

There is not a remedy agent in the world that will cure Fever and Ague and all other malarial diseases, Bilious or other fevers, aided by RADWAY'S PILLS, so quickly as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

THE WESTERN FAIR.

All over Western Ontario we hear of preparations being made in the large majority of households for attendance at the Western Fair, which will be held in this city, beginning on Friday, and continuing next week.

London is admirably situated for the holding of a great annual exhibition, and for a quarter of a century the Western Fair has been a constant round of pleasure and instruction. It is comparatively easy for visitors to reach this commercial center, so many are the railway lines that, like a network, concentrate here. But easy traveling would be of small avail if, when visitors got here, the show was found to be a poor one. It would soon go down, as have nearly all of its competitors, if the best of exhibits and the most enjoyable of attractions were not annually arranged for. This carefulness to make the Western Fair first class in every respect is the secret of its continued success.

This year the entries of every description of live stock, of agricultural produce, of horticultural and dairy exhibits, of the newest devices for labor-saving on the farm and for adding to the enjoyment of rural life, have been enormous—far in advance of those of previous years—and at the time of writing they are still pouring in. These are the solid features of this great exhibition, which makes it second to none on the continent. The prizes are so liberal, and the prestige of taking a premium at the Western Fair is so much sought after, that the best of everything in the Dominion is placed on view for the benefit of citizens and visitors, and he is a foolish man and she is a foolish woman who will let any ordinary difficulty stand in the way of exhibiting and inspecting the multitude of exhibits that are gathered together for public inspection.

Then the amusements are decidedly original in character, and plentiful in number. They serve a good end because they break the monotony of sight-seeing. In life we join work and play together, or if we do not we suffer for it. And so the fair visitor eagerly seizes the opportunity to witness good speeding in the ring, the wonderful sagacity of trained animals, and the countless other attractions that are provided for his delectation.

We have but to remind our rural readers of these facts to secure their attendance at the Western Fair on one or more days. The day has gone by when the intelligent farmer needed coaxing to do himself and his family justice in this connection. The entire household can combine pleasure and profit if they take a day off now that the harvest is over. Both husband and wife will be much benefited by the change. They will return home with a new current of thought and new plans to advance the interests of the home, and the boys and girls may be taught many valuable lessons that will stand them in good stead in after life. It is impossible, in fact, to estimate the benefits to be derived from a visit to the Western Fair and a thorough inspection of the varied exhibits. We believe that the Fair this year will be attended by larger crowds than ever, from every town, village and township in the West, and that those who come will be amply repaid for the time spent. The Western Fair is really the annual training school of the Western people, and it gives education that pays every time.

The conference does well to limit its speeches to ten minutes each. The time limit is a powerful aid to concentration of ideas.

MR. SOVEREIGN'S GOOD ADVICE

Mr. Sovereign, the head of the Knights of Labor, has not always been discreet in his advice to the workers, but his most recent declaration regarding strikes, will meet with wide approval. While an emergency might justify a strike, he holds that it is to be avoided if at all possible. Strikes, he says, widen the breach between capital and labor, and no matter which side is worsted it is sore over its defeat, and will feel like retaliating at the earliest opportunity. It is to study, to education, to the wise use of the power placed in their hands through the ballot, that workmen must hope for relief from the conditions of which they complain. Workmen who take this view of their responsibilities will make their influence felt every time.

A NEEDED CAUTION.

The St. Thomas Journal points out that in the recent Provincial contest in East Elgin it was expected that the Conservatives would support the Patron candidate in as large numbers as did the Liberals. How were these expectations fulfilled?

	Liberals	Conservatives
Lost to Patrons. Lost to Patrons.
Bayham.....	194	127
Mainville.....	138	72
South Dorchester.....	31	72
Yarmouth.....	128
Totals.....	511	273

As our contemporary reasons, this proves most conclusively that the Conservatives, even if their professions be loud, do not sacrifice their party when the time of trial comes. The result of the Patron's candidature in the local election was the overwhelming defeat of both Patron and Liberal. If, as is now proposed, the Patrons insist on putting a candidate in the field in the Dominion contest, can better success attend their efforts? To our mind, the leaders are ill advised, and will retreat rather than aid the principles they profess to support if they persist in the proposed course.

It is singular that in the recent great thunderstorms lightning almost invariably struck barns, and left dwelling houses severely alone. In nine disasters from lightning in this neighborhood, eight barns were burned down, and the remaining loss was a mill. Can any one explain it?

THE PROVIDENT BRITISH.

If deposits in postal savings banks be any indication of the social condition of a people, then must the position of the British be an enviable one. By the annual report of the British Postmaster-General we learn that the total amount at the credit of depositors in these banks at the close of the last financial year was $402,988,205—representing an increase of over $20,000,000 during the year. That is pretty fair for a country that is, according to the Canadian trade restrictionists, "cursed" with freedom to buy and to sell as best they can.

The Montreal Gazette frankly argues that young ladies should not go forward to be kissed by Hon. Wilfrid Laurier because scientists have said that disease germs can be circulated by osculatory exercises. A similar warning need not be made with regard to the Gazette's own political leader. No one desires to kiss an iceberg.

ANOTHER DIPHTHERIA CURE.

Still another diphtheria cure is reported by cable. Let us hope that out of the number one thoroughly reliable will be obtained. This time the remedy is brought forward by Dr. Behring, of Berlin, a disciple of Professor Koch, who exploited it at the Buda-Pesth medical congress, and was gratified by having it indorsed by many delegates. Dr. Behring's cure is called a blood serum. By successive and increased doses diphtheria virus has been injected into animals, and they have gradually acquired immunity against the malady. The blood of such animals injected into other animals had the effect of conferring immunity upon the latter or healing them if suffering from diphtheria. Of this blood, Dr. Behring extracted the serum and has injected it into human beings with wonderful results. Professors Heubner, of Berlin, and Roux, of Paris, indorsed the cure at the congress. Professor Roux said he had applied it at the children's hospital, in which, up to last year, 60 per cent of the cases of diphtheria ended fatally. This year he had inoculated over 400 children with the serum and the mortality sank from 60 to 15 per cent. After a few injections the malady changed almost instantly to fever, and then soon disappeared.

VERITIES.

....There were 34 cases of typhoid fever in Toronto last month. August and September are the months in which this disease generally prevails most severely.

....Finance Minister Foster is still a very sick man. He is at his home in New Brunswick.

....Lord Salisbury suffers from insomnia.

....Let us be happy that we do not live in the German capital. According to weather observations recently published, Berlin has an average of 147 dark days in the year to 111 on which the sun shines. The brightest days are in May and September, the gloomiest in November, while in July they are most changeable.

....Queen Victoria now uses a walking stick which belonged to Charles II. It is made of oak. On the plain gold top the Queen has fastened a little Indian idol, which was part of the loot of Seringapatam.

MEET THE APPROACH.

(Toronto News)

The new American tariff contains an offer of an open market for salt, coal oil and agricultural implements from any country that will admit like products from the United States free of duty.

This offer should be accepted by the Canadian Government. The latter ought to go even further and reduce the duty on bituminous coal to 40 cents a ton so as to meet the American reduction and abolish all taxation on lumber just as the Americans have done.

Continental free trade in lumber, coal, coal oil, agricultural implements and salt would be an excellent thing. The consumers on both sides of the line would be benefited under it, and nothing could be imagined better calculated to boom the coal mines of Nova Scotia, the farm implement factories of Toronto and the salt industry of Western Ontario. By all means let us have it as soon as possible.

The Methodists.

These motions were all sent to the proper committees.

Rev. J. R. Gundy and Rev. John Kay submitted an interesting notice of motion bearing on the present method of "calling" ministers. By it "circuits practically stationed their own ministers and ministers practically stationed themselves"—a direct invasion of the prerogative of the stationing committee and frequently interfering with the work of the whole conference. With a view of obviating this an amendment to the discipline was suggested in which the power of quarterly boards in respect to "calls" was curtailed.

Rev. Dr. Porter, representative of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, Hamilton, was introduced to the conference at this stage and received a very gratifying welcome.

The nominating committee reported on the formation of committees on the rules of order, civil rights and privileges and sociological questions.

Dr. Ross and Rev. Walter Rigby moved for an amendment to the discipline so as to allow ministerial conferences the power to correct errors of fact or law in respect to probationers.

Rev. T. G. Williams caused a mild sensation by moving that three general assemblies be created—one to be stationed at Winnipeg, another at Toronto and the other at Montreal.

J. R. Lavelle moved that a commission be appointed to consider the advisability of changing the western boundary of the conference of Manitoba and the Northwest and the eastern boundary of the conference of British Columbia.

A very interesting motion was submitted by Rev. A. C. Couture, B.D. It was that, inasmuch as the General Conference has affirmed its willingness to negotiate with other branches of the church with a view to union, and inasmuch as there is at present great need for economy in the administration of the missions of the churches, and inasmuch as it is needed for united testimony and authoritative cooperation on the part of the churches, therefore it is desirable and practicable in the judgment of the General Conference to establish a federal court composed of representatives of the negotiating churches. It was stipulated that this court should not have power to deal with any questions of creed or discipline or affecting the independence of any of the churches concerned, and the resolution went on to outline the constitution of such a court divided into eastern, western and central divisions. It was further suggested that this court might effect the formation of a French-Canadian Protestant Church in place of the missions of the various churches in the West. The Presbyterian, Baptist and Congregational Churches were those with whom it was suggested to open negotiations.

Rev. Dr. Potts related his experience as a fraternal delegate to the various conferences in England in the year 1892. He received a very gratifying reception in the New Connexion, Irish Methodist, Bible, Christian, British Wesleyan, Churches in Norwich, Ashton-Under-Lyne, Belfast, Newport, Isle of Wight and Bradford.

Rev. J. Elliott, B.A., introduced two very interesting motions. One related to the modes of raising money in the house of God, and urged that the conference should realize more and more that the house of God should be more sacredly a house of worship, and offerings should be "God inspired and free-willed" and of a devoted people. Also that the greatest care be exercised that no entertainment be permitted in the Methodist Churches that would not be characterized as spiritually uplifting, and that all moneys be raised by methods above reasonable adverse criticism.

The other motion by Mr. Elliott was seconded by Mr. Dean, and dealt with the "perpetual use of tobacco," and ended up by urging that the habit should render any man ineligible for any office in the Methodist Church.

An uproar followed and Dr. Carman remarked: "That's a fiery subject. It lights up too quickly."

Several members showed a disposition to debate the matter on the spot until Mr. Elliott poured oil on the troubled water by adding to his motion: "Nevertheless this legislation shall not affect those who are already official members of the church." (Daughter.)

Dr. Stewart characterized the Chinese law of Canada as unjust and unchristian, and moved that the conference should utter its protest against such unjust legislation and inhuman law, and endeavor to have the same removed from the statute books.

These motions and notices were all referred to the business committee for disposal.

The report of the committee on rules of order led to a vigorous discussion on a motion to eliminate the clause restricting debate to ten minutes to each speaker. Some delegates expressed themselves freely and one stated that although London was a very nice place to visit he could not stay here all winter. The motion was lost and speakers will be limited to ten minutes.

The business committee recommended that the delegates be required to register daily.

This was with a view of keeping "tab" on the attendance, and the clause was referred back with some contempt.

The report further recommended that this afternoon and Wednesday morning be devoted to committee work.

It had been prearranged to receive Rev. H. J. Pope, the English representative, this afternoon, and in view of that an adjournment was made until 4:30, the interim to be spent in committee work.

NOTES.

Joseph Tait, ex-M.P.P., Toronto, has arrived. James McMullen, M.P., Mount Forest, has also made his appearance.

Those who for some reason are making such a dead set on Dr. Dewar as editor of the Guardian, are beginning to find out that the old veteran of the pen has a host of friends also.

Mayor Kennedy, Toronto, has returned to the conference.

The superannuation and mission committees will meet in the King Street Methodist Church hereafter.

Rev. J. R. Gundy and Dr. Briggs look so much alike that strangers are puzzled at first to tell which is which. Both are of the same build and complexion; both wear jovial faces and hair of the same tinge. There is a remarkable likeness.

The delegates from the Maritime Provinces met this afternoon in Wesley Hall to consider the superannuation fund, as it relates to them.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

A Public School Swimming Bath.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

The Simcoe street public school is short of space for recreation at recess. The undersigned proposes that the property on the south side of Simcoe street opposite the public school shall be appropriated for the purpose by the School Board, and that the neighboring skating rink shall be utilized for public baths in summer and for other purposes in winter as the board shall deem proper. Along with the present first-rate teaching attainable at the Simcoe street, why should not our boys and our girls learn to swim, and where so well as at school? In our mind few things are so important. The flood of London West may never be repeated—pray God, it may not—and the 24th of May, may it never be darkened again with a disaster so awful as in 1881—a sad ending to a glorious day of rejoicing; but are there no other places where similar occurrences may meet us? Please be a little more charitable to the undersigned than the Free Press seems to be. It says, "Mr. Law wants a bath." There are some people, perhaps, at the Free Press who would be the better for more soap and water. Yours truly,

JOHN LAW.

SENSATIONAL SEIZURE.

Three Large Montreal Firms Charged With Defrauding the Customs.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—The customs officials in Montreal have made one of the biggest seizures in the history of the port. The firms implicated are the Canada Jute Company, Consumers' Cordage Company and Dominion Bag Company. The charge preferred against the firms is that for three or four years they have been importing free of duty jute, known as "Cream Hessian," from Dundee, Scotland, and which had been partly manufactured, and upon which there is a duty of 20 per cent. It is claimed that the duty according to the Government in three years amounts to $50,000, besides penalties which are roughly put down at $50,000.

The steamship Teutonic, now entered at customs, has on board a quantity of the goods for Montreal. The Canada Jute Company has been in existence for nearly twenty years, and does an annual business of about $350,000, and out of which goods to the extent of about $160,000 are shipped to it from Dundee annually. The firms claim that they will be able to clear themselves, and that it is more of a misunderstanding than any attempt to defraud the customs.

THE WESTERN FAIR MEET. Local racing men are requested to make their entries for the Fair most on or before Thursday, as entries positively close that date, and no post entries will be accepted.

The Western Fair management have decided to have no parade Saturday. Arrangements are being made to have a place for checking wheels, which will be appreciated by the large number of wheelmen who will attend the Fair on that day.

SERVICES RECOGNIZED. The regular monthly meeting of the Meteor Bicycle Club was held last night, and before it closed there was one greatly surprised member. It was Mr. J. J. Foote, the secretary. Mr. Foote is a hard worker for the club's welfare. The recent meet occupied a great deal of attention, and as it was a big success the membership decided to show their appreciation of Mr. Foote's efforts, and they bought a diamond ring—a beautiful one at that.

The president of the club made a few remarks, and after catching his second wind, Mr. Foote replied by inviting the company to Boomer's parlors, where refreshments were served.

Several new applications were received and added to the membership. Owing to the club has decided to seek larger apartments. The treasurer's report showed the club to be in a good position financially. The meet is only the forerunner of a greater one next August.

He took only 700 of the 1,000 points offered him by Ives and lost the game. Mossbacher, one of the star billiard players of Berlin, did not get a point in his game with the American champion. Ives got first shot and ran out without a miss.

FOOTBALL. The London Rugby Football Club lined up on Tescott Park yesterday afternoon to the number of 25 or 30, and under the able captaincy of Mr. Harry Pope, a running and passing practice was indulged in for an hour. There are still a number of the boys who did not show up, but it is hoped all will be on hand tonight, and especially Wednesday evening at 5 p.m. sharp so as to put in some team play. The new players who have joined the club this year were in force, and there are already a number of inquiries coming in as to who will compose the team, but that will depend on the way in which the boys turn out to practice, and the committee will no doubt choose those who practice most and show the best ability as football players.

London will this year have a much stronger team than any other heretofore, as there are several new and very strong players who have joined them, and it is the intention of the boys to make the game the most popular and interesting sport of the day, and it is hoped that the public will encourage the sport, as it is only by such encouragement that the sport can be carried on. Mind Tuesday and Wednesday nights, boys.

The first game was against the local club and a team of Toronto cricketers, captained by Capt. Jones, met them on the Varsity grounds. Toronto lost nine wickets for 126 runs up to the present. The game was started late owing to the inclemency of the weather this morning.

THE TURF. GRAND CIRCUIT. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 10.—The wind-up of the grand circuit races for 1894 began this afternoon at the Philadelphia driving park. FORCED TO FISH. Unemployed New York Workmen Resort to the River. The hard times have forced more than one New York laboring man back to primitive methods of securing food. There has been an unusual amount of fishing from the piers along the river front this summer, and the increase is due to the efforts of laboring men who are out of work to get meat for their tables. Both eels and tom-cods may be caught. A half day's fishing in the right spot is pretty sure to result in a sufficient haul to make a good dinner. Many a poor man has kept his table supplied with a hook and a line, that cost him 10 cents, as he sat on the pier with his legs dangling over the side. (New York World.)

Suicide of a Noted Pugilist's Wife. NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Emma Aumann, the common law wife of Billy Pliner, the champion bantam weight pugilist, committed suicide at Excoff's Hotel, Coney Island, this morning by inhaling gas.

Explorers in Hard Luck. NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The steamer Portia, from St. Johns, Nfld., for this port, ran down and sunk the schooner Dora M. French at noon today, 112 miles east of Vineyard Haven. The Portia has on board the party of scientists who left for Greenland some time ago on the steamer Miranda, which vessel ran into an iceberg and was lost. The Portia is due here tomorrow morning.

Forest Fires Fanned by Gales. ASHLAND, Wis., Sept. 10.—Strong winds have fanned the forest fires in this vicinity, and they are burning fiercely in nearly every direction. The following dispatch was received from Saxton tonight: "Water is being hauled by running teams. Citizens are moving out of their homes with all possible speed. If the wind continues for a few hours the town is lost. Saxton is a small town on the Northwestern Road."

Movement of Winnipeg Catholics. WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—The Winnipeg Catholic churches contained unusually large congregations yesterday, when positions praying the Provincial Government to restore Catholic separate schools were submitted for signature. Tonight the Catholics will hold a mass meeting in St. Mary's Church, when all arrangements will be made for Tuesday's interview with the Government. On Tuesday afternoon Winnipeg Catholics and delegates from every Provincial parish will march in a body to the Government buildings to lay their petitions before Premier Greenway and his Ministers.

Sudden Death at Centralia. CENTRALIA, Sept. 10.—John Murley, an old and respected citizen of this village, died very suddenly on Saturday afternoon. Though 73 years of age he was enjoying his usual fairly good health, and in company with three others he went to help Mr. A. Bowlaugh reap his corn. They had just returned to the field from dinner, and when the deceased was in the act of setting up a sheaf he was seen to stagger, and as he fell he was caught in the arms of one of his fellow-workmen, and expired instantly, without uttering a word. Dr. Shoulte, who was immediately summoned, assigned heart failure as the cause of death. Deceased leaves a widow and two daughters (married) to mourn their loss.

LABOR TROUBLES. Cloak-Makers Tired of Working Eighteen Hours a Day.

Canada's Protected Cotton and Woollen Mills Cutting Down Wages Again.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—Five hundred cloak-makers belonging to the order of United Garment-Makers of America quit work this morning, and 22 shops were compelled to shut down temporarily. The men asserted that they are compelled to work eighteen hours a day, and the strike is to secure a reduction to ten hours.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 10.—The fourth week of the weaver's vacation opens without any indication that the mills will start up this week or next.

BIRCHING, Mass., Sept. 10.—The employees of the Parkhill mill refused to resume work at from 3 to 7 per cent reduction in wages when the mill was reopened today, after a three week's shut down, and the mill was closed again.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—The Globe woolen mills today engaged 50 weavers to replace those who struck on Saturday.

HAMILTON, Sept. 10.—The Canada Colored Cotton Company's mill here, which has been closed for some weeks, opened this morning and will run on full time, giving employment to about 350 hands. An order was posted notifying employees of a 10 per cent reduction in wages, commencing today. Wages were cut about a year ago. Most of the old hands accepted the cut.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The situation in the tailors' strike is unchanged today, with the exception that about 800 men have gone to work since Saturday. Mr. Robinson, of the executive board of garment workers, said everything looked bright for the strikers. About fifteen contractors signed the contract and the men will probably return to work at once.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 10.—The biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was called to order at the Chestnut Street Hall this morning. About 500 delegates were present. Grandmaster Sargeant began the submission of his report which will consume the time until noon tomorrow. He dwells upon the reduction of the ranks of the Brotherhood as the result of depression in business that has affected the corporations which have in turn cut down expenses and wages. He speaks of the election of Frank W. Arnold in place of E. V. Debs, who was the secretary and treasurer until two years ago, and compliments Mr. Arnold for his work in behalf of the organization.

gives justification anew to the claim that Donahoe's is a magazine for the whole country, and not for any section of it. A notable article on economics this month is entitled "The South May Save the Nation," by a Northern journalist. "The Warfare with Agnosticism," a plea for more thorough scientific training in ecclesiastical seminaries, is a brilliant and stirring article by Rev. J. A. Zahm, of Notre Dame University. Lucile Lovell has a beautiful story, "Between Paris," and there are good pictures and plenty of light reading as well in this number.

One of the prettiest little volumes printed is entitled "Comfort in Travel." It is handsomely illustrated, and can be obtained free of cost from the general passenger agent of the M. C. R., Chicago.

The Oil Octopus. BUFFALO, Sept. 10.—It is now reasonably certain that outside of the Essex field, which is practically in the hands of the rich distillery firm of the Walkers, the entire natural gas territory of the country is in the hands of the Standard Oil monopoly. The Erie County Natural Gas Company recently sold their Canadian territory in Welland county to the Buffalo South Side independent concern. But C. H. Rice, who is the territorial agent of the gas trust, has, according to a special dispatch, just returned to the Pennsylvania gas territory, after having, as he stated, arranged for a transfer of the Canadian interests of the Erie County Company to the trust. If this is a fact the Standard Company will undoubtedly work the Canadian fields until their depletion has been accomplished, and will save the American supply as much as possible for future use.

CHAPTER V.

There must be a little retrospect to make intelligible to the reader; and it may as well be given at once.

Mr. North, now of Dalroy Hall, had got on entirely by his own industry. Of obscure though in a certain way respectable, parentage, he had been placed as apprentice to a firm in Whitborough. It was a firm in extensive work, not confining itself to public buildings, small and large; did mechanical engineering; had planned one of the early railways. John North—plain Jack North, as he was known at first—remained with the firm when he was out of his time, and got on in it. Steady and plodding, he rose from one step to another; and at length, in conjunction with one who had been in the same firm, he set up for himself. This other was Thomas Gass. Gass had not risen from the ranks as North had; his connections were good, and he had received a superior education; but his friends were poor. North and Gass, as the new firm called itself, began business near to Dalroy; quietly at first—as all people, who really expect to get on, generally do begin. They rose rapidly. The narrow premises expanded; the small contracts grew into large ones. People said luck was with them; and in truth it seemed so. The Dalroy works became noted in the county, employing quite a colony of people; the masters were respected and sought after. Both lived at Whitborough; Mr. North with his wife and family; Mr. Gass a bachelor.

Thomas Gass had one brother; a clergyman. Their only sister, Fanny, a very pretty girl, had her home with him in his rectory, but she came often to Whitborough on a visit to Thomas. Suddenly it was announced to the world that she had become engaged to marry a Captain Rane, entirely against the wish of her two brothers. She was under 20. Captain Rane, a poor naval man on half pay, was almost old enough to be her grandfather. Their objection lay not so much in this, as in himself. For some reason or other, neither of them liked him. The Reverend William Gass forbade his sister to think of him. Mr. Thomas Gass, a fiery man, swore he would never afterwards look upon her as a sister, if she persisted in thus throwing herself away.

Miss Gass did persist. She possessed the obstinate spirit of her brother. She chose to take her own way, and married Captain Rane. They sailed at once for Madras; Captain Rane having some post there, connected with the Government ships.

Whether Miss Gass repented her marriage, her brothers had no means of learning; for she, returning her anger, never wrote to them during her husband's lifetime. It was a very short one. Barely a twelvemonth had elapsed after the knot was tied, when there came a pitiful letter from her. Captain Rane had died, just as her little son (named after a friend, she said) was born. Thomas Gass, to whom the letter had been specially written, gathered that she was left badly off; though she did not absolutely say so. He went into one of his angry moods, and tossed the epistle across the desk to his partner. "You must do something for her Gass," said John North, when he had read it. "Never will," hotly affirmed Mr. Gass. "Fanny knows what I promised if she married Rane—that I would never help her during my lifetime or after it. She knows another thing—that I am not one to go from my word. William may help her if he likes; he has not much to give away, but he can have her to live with him. 'Help the child, then,' suggested Mr. North, knowing further remonstrance to be useless. 'No,' returned obstinate Thomas Gass; 'I'll stick to the spirit of my promise as well as the letter.' And Mr. North bent his head again—he was going over some estimates—feeling the affair was none of his. "I don't mind putting the boy in the tontine, North," presently spoke the junior partner. "The tontine!" echoed John North in surprise, "what tontine?"

"What tontine?" returned the hard man—though in truth he was not hard in general. "Why, the one that you and others are getting up; the one you have just put your baby, Bessy, into; I know of no other tontine. But that will not benefit the boy," urged Mr. North, certainly not now, and the chances are ten to one against its ever benefiting him in the future. "Never mind; I'll put him into it," said Mr. Gass, whose obstinacy always came out well under opposition. "You want a tenth child to close the list, and I'll put him into it." So into the tontine Oliver Rane, unconscious infant, was put.

But Mrs. Rane did not further trouble either of her brothers; or, as things turned out, require assistance from them. She remained in India; and after a year married a Government chaplain there, the Reverend George Cumberland, who possessed some private property. Little, if any, communication took place afterwards between her and her brothers; she cherished resentment for old grievances, and would not write to them. And so the sister and the brothers seemed to fade away from each other from henceforth. We all know how relatives, parted by time and distance, become estranged, disappearing almost from memory.

Whilst the firm, North and Gass, was rising higher and higher in wealth and importance, the wife of its senior partner died. She left three children, Edmund, Richard, and Bessy. Subsequently, during a visit to London, chance drew Mr. North into a meeting with a handsome young woman, the widow of Major Bohun. She had not long returned from India, where she had buried her husband. A designing, attractive siren, who began forthwith to exercise her dangerous fascinations on plain, unsuspecting Mr. North. She had only a poor pittance; what money there was belonged to her only child, Arthur, a little lad; sent out of sight to a preparatory school. Report had magnified Mr. North's wealth into something fabulous; and Mrs. Bohun did not cease her scheming until she had caught him in her toils and he had made her Mrs. North.

Men do things sometimes in a hurry, only to repent of them at leisure. That Mr. North had been in a hurry in this case was indisputable—it was just as though Mrs. Bohun had thrown a spell over him; whether he repented when he woke up and found himself with a wife, a stepmother for his children at home, was not so certain. He was sufficiently wise man in those days to conceal what he did not want known.

Whom he had married, beyond the fact that she was the widow of Major Bohun, he did not know from Adam. Fanny, who closed about her own family, in regard to whom she maintained an absolute reticence, she might have dropped from the moon, or "grown" like Topsy; but from the airs and graces she assumed, Mr. North might have concluded they were dukes and duchesses at least. Her late husband's family were irreproachable, both in character and position. The head of it was Sir Nash Bohun, representative of an ancient baronetcy, and elder brother of the late major. Before the wedding tour was over, poor Mr. North found that his wife was a cold, imperious, extravagant woman, not to be questioned by any means if she so chose. When her fascinations were full play (which she was doing), she was a different creature. Fanny, who asked Mr. North had been ready to think her an angel. Where had all the amiability flown to? People do change after marriage somehow. At least, there have been instances known of it.

A little circumstance occurred one day that—to put it mildly—had surprised Mr. North. He had been given to understand by his wife that Major Bohun died suddenly of sunstroke; she had certainly told him so. In talking at a dinner party at Sir Nash Bohun's with some gentlemen not long from India, he and Mr. North being side by side at the table after the ladies had retired, the subject of sunstrokes came up. "My wife's former husband, Major Bohun, died of one," innocently observed Mr. North. "Died of what?" cried the other, putting down his claret glass, which he was conveying to his mouth. "Of sun stroke," repeated Mr. North. "Bohun did not die of sun stroke," came the impulsive answer; "who told you he died of that?" "She did—my wife," was Mr. North's answer. "Oh!" said his friend; and took up his claret again. "Why, what did he die of, if it was not sun stroke?" asked Mr. North, with curiosity. "Well, I—I don't know; I'd rather say no more about it," was the conclusive reply; "of course Mrs. North must know better than I." And nothing more would he say on the subject.

The rapid action of the "great pain cure," Polson's Nervine, in relieving the most intense pain, is a matter of wonder to all who have used it. There is nothing surprising in its results, for it is made of the strongest, purest and most efficient remedies known in medicine. Nervine cures toothache instantly; cramps in five minutes; neuralgia after two applications; rheumatism is at once relieved by its use; and the same may be said of all kinds of pain. Sample bottles, costing only 10 cents, at any drug store. The large bottles only 25 cents. Polson's Nervine sold by druggists and country dealers.

Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia.—Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville, writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now 70 years of age, and I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. I am well known in this section of Canada, having lived here 57 years; and you have liberty to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case."

"They talk of harnessing Niagara, do they?" said the absent-minded tanner; "who will furnish the leather, I wonder."

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject.

The Movement to Give Every Methodist Preacher a Decent Income.

Wherein the Sustentation Fund Has Failed and Might Be Improved.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In connection with the meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist Church in your city, allow me to call attention to a matter that needs urgent attention. The General Conference of 1890 gave to each annual conference the optional privilege of establishing a sustentation fund and of providing for the income and distribution of such fund in such way as might be deemed advisable. As a result of this permission seven of the eight western conferences have each established a sustentation fund, the Manitoba and Northwest Conference being the only exceptions. "The income of the fund in each conference has hitherto been secured by the taking up of an annual collection in each congregation, which has been in some instances, been augmented by subscriptions. The income secured from such sources has been inadequate to accomplish the object designed in the establishment of the fund, as the following facts gleaned from the minutes of the eight western conferences for the present year will show: The number of ordained ministers who received less than $600 for salary, board and fuel in the above conference, including, in some instances, aid from the missionary or sustentation fund, or from both, is as follows:

Montreal Conference.....	55
Bay of Quinte Conference.....	49
Toronto Conference.....	48
Guelph Conference.....	48
Niagara Conference.....	17
London Conference.....	40
Manitoba and Northwest Conference.....	9
British Columbia Conference.....	0

Total.....296

The total amount required to bring up the salaries of all to a minimum of $600, according to the reports of the past year is $29,283.

In view of the lack of uniformity at present existing in the management of the sustentation fund, and with a desire to supplement the salaries of those brethren who are stationed on poor circuits, and to strengthen the bonds of connexional Methodism, a memorial signed by over 40 ministers of the Niagara Conference has been sent on to the General Conference, asking for the establishment of a general sustentation fund for the benefit of all the conferences, so that, the richer circuits helping the poorer, there may be no minister from Newfoundland in the east to British Columbia in the west who is left without adequate support. The memorial asks that the income of the fund be secured partly from collections at present, and partly from graduated assessment on the salaries of all ministers receiving $700 and upwards, according to the following or some similar scale:

On a salary of $700 an assessment of 1 per cent.
On a salary of $800 an assessment of 1 per cent.
On a salary of $900 an assessment of 1 1/2 per cent.
On a salary of $1,000 an assessment of 2 per cent, and so on, increasing the assessment by 1/2 per cent for each additional $100 of salary.
The income that would result from such an assessment, on the basis of the salaries received during the past year, would be as follows:
Montreal Conference.....	$1,725
Bay of Quinte Conference.....	575
Toronto Conference.....	2,325
Guelph Conference.....	617
Niagara Conference.....	1,160
London Conference.....	706
Manitoba and Northwest Conference.....	776
British Columbia Conference.....	541

Total.....$8,324

The total income of the various sustentation funds for the past year was $5,695. It will thus be seen that the proposed assessment would provide an additional income of nearly one and a half times the amount furnished by the collections. Although the total amount thus secured would be still inadequate to bring up all the salaries to the minimum of $600, it would go far to relieve many of the brethren who are working heroically under great difficulties for the glory of God and the good of humanity.

We trust that the General Conference will take such action upon this question as will afford material relief to those who are in the highest sense worthy of it. Yours respectfully,
W. H. GARNHAM.

A Grand Feature

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial. It is astonishing how fast possession will decrease the mental value of a thing.

Half truths are the most dangerous lies. The great lung healer is found in the excellent medicine sold as Pickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.
