TURKS IN PANIC IN FULL FLIGHT BEFORE GREEKS

Evacuate Towns With the Enemy Hard at Their Heels.

ABANDON ALL THEIR AMMUNITION

Servians Report Advance Is Being Stubbornly Contested By the Turks.

[Canadian Press.]

Athens, Greece, Oct. 22. — The Turkish army is fleeing in panic from Dhiskawa, according to a semi-official statement issued here today. The Greek troops are said to be pursuing them vigorously.

When the Turks precipitately abandoned the town of Elassona, it is said, they left behind them their staff maps and a million cartridges. They also dropped during their retreat much of their clothing and most of their engineering implements.

The total losses of the Greeks during the first week's engagement are given as one captain, two sub-lieutenants and nineteen men killed and seventy-five wounded.

The Greek troops in Epirus have occupied the heights commanding Grimbovo and those of Nirovuni.

The Turkish artillery constantly fires upon the heights of Grimbovo, but without material effect.

Train Derailed.

Berlin, Oct. 22. — Two hundred Turkish soldiers were killed and another 200 were seriously injured by the derailing of a military train on the railroad from Smyrna to Aidin, according to a special dispatch from Constantinople. The entire train fell over a steep embankment and every man of the train crew was killed.

The Servian Advance.

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 22. — The four Servian armies are now advancing slowly into Turkish territory, but are meeting with stubborn resistance from the Turkish troops, according to official reports reaching here from the front.

The first Servian army, operating in the direction of the fortress of Uskup, has reached the vicinity of Kumanova, only ten miles away from that place. The Servian troops today captured the outlying positions around the town and a general attack on the town itself is expected to be made today.

The Servian army approaching Pristina, along the River Ibar, had a serious engagement yesterday with a strong force of Turkish troops, and Arnaut irregulars, who were estimated by the Servian commander at 40,000 men, with ten companies of Turkish reserves and four batteries of artillery.

The fight took place in the Heresitidol pass, in the vicinity of the Servian towns of Rashka and Yenipazar, on the Servian frontier.

The Servians took the offensive yesterday morning and captured the entrance to the pass after some very heavy fighting. The Turkish troops then retired and the Servians were able to pass through onto the plains of Kossovo.

The losses of the Servian troops were considerable, while those of the Turks are believed to have been very heavy.

The Servian army was unable to advance farther by reason of darkness, but the weather generally is excellent for military operations.

Another Servian army, operating in the northern part of Novipazar, has captured all the Turkish blockhouses and advanced position around the town of Sienitza.

The first convoy of wounded reached Belgrade today. It consisted of about 150 men, the majority of whom were suffering from only slight wounds.

King Peter yesterday crossed the border in a motor car and was enthusiastically received by the troops.

HON. CLIFFORD SIFTON ILL WITH PNEUMONIA

No Serious Developments Are Anticipated Say Doctors of Ex-Minister.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 22. — Hon. Clifford Sifton, who for the past six days has been suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia, shows little improvement this morning, and his physician states that he does not expect much improvement in his condition for a few days. No serious developments are however, anticipated. Mr. Sifton is confined to his suite in the Chateau Laurier. Mrs. Sifton and Wynne Sifton are the members of the family in attendance.

—Mrs. Harry Roberts died this morning at her home, 431 King stret. Mrs. Roberts had been ill for some months past. She leaves to survive, besides her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Johnstone, and Miss Vera, and one son Leslie. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

BALKAN WAR AS VIEWED BY THE NATIONS OF EUROPE

TEMPERANCE OFFICIAL WILL SUPPORT MR. SUTHERLAND

President Finch of London Township Temperance Association Denies That He Threw a Slur on Independent Candidate—Will Vote for Him—Liquor Interests Are for Neely.

Mr. C. Finch, president of the London Township Temperance Association, explained to The Advertiser today that he had no intention, when speaking at the temperance convention recently, of throwing any imputation on Mr. Wm. Sutherland, the independent candidate.

"As my remarks were reported," said Mr. Finch, "they may have suggested that I found Mr. Sutherland under the influence of liquor. Perhaps I was unfortunate in my choice of words, but I certainly had no notion of conveying the impression that Mr. Sutherland was intoxicated when he talked to me. An injustice has been done, both to him and to me, if anyone put that interpretation on what I was reported as saying.

Will Support Mr. Sutherland.

"I interviewed Mr. Sutherland and asked him if he were a teetotaller. He frankly told me he was not. On the strength of that, I told the convention that Mr. Sutherland was not a temperance man. Perhaps my definition of a temperance man is narrower than that of some of my co-workers in the cause. I quite realize that many moderate or occasional drinkers will heartily join with us in voting down the barroom. Since I have learned that the liquor interests are working tooth and nail for Mr. Neely, I have resolved to vote for Mr. Sutherland, in view of his pledge to support Mr. Rowell's policy."

Not a Conservative Worker.

"I notice that I am described in the press as a Conservative," added Mr. Finch. "I have never been a Conservative worker, though I have at times voted Conservative; but when Mr. Rowell came out courageously for the abolition of the bar I resolved to stand on his platform. At the recent annual meeting of the Baptist Association I suggested the resolution which was passed, indorsing Mr. Rowell's stand on this question. I am a temperance man, first of all."

DETROIT GIRLS IN CHINESE LAUNDRY TAKEN BY POLICE

Flashily Dressed Pair Were Sent Back to the States as Loose Characters.

CELESTIALS FLOCKED TO LEE HING'S PLACE

It Is Alleged That Disreputable Women Were Calling on Foreigners in District.

Two young women giving the names of Florence and Deatle Moore, who claim to have employment in a Detroit cafe, were taken into custody Monday evening at Lee Hing's laundry, 76 Dundas street, and were sent back to Detroit this morning as loose and immoral persons.

Sergt. Robert Birrell went to the place last evening in response to a telephone call received from the neighborhood, the police informant stating that there appeared to be a laundrymen's convention in progress at the address given. The sergeant proceeded in all haste to the laundry, and passing through the front went into the bedroom above, where he found the two girls seated convers ng with a Chinaman.

Flashily-Dressed Pair.

They were taken into custody and spent the night in the cells. Each was saudily dressed and did not appear to have any particular concern as to the predicament in which they were placed. In fact, Deatle persisted in treating the matter as a joke and was warned to behave by Police Magistrate Judd and Crown Attorney McKillop. They were defended by Mr. R. K. Cowan, who offered no defence, and merely asserted that no case had been proven against the girls.

Both agreed to leave London, and were escorted to the Grand Trunk depot by Detective Egelton, who saw them safely aboard Train No. 23, bound for Detroit.

Visited Many Chinese.

It is said that the girls came to London from Chatham on Friday night, reaching this city on No. 26 at 11:05. They remained over night in a Chinese cafe, and proceeded in the morning to Woodstock, where they visited another Chinese establishment. On returning to this city they proceeded to Lee Hing's laundry, where they were taken into custody.

White girls from Detroit have made a practice of visiting local Chinamen and Celestials located in other Western Ontario towns, it is claimed, but this is the first occasion on which the London police have been able to take action.

PARKS SUPERINTENDENT DILGER, who will have big toboggan slide at Springbank for boys and girls and grown folks this winter.

TOBOGGAN SLIDE AT RIVER PARK FOR ALL CITIZENS

Parks Superintendent Preparing to Furnish Great Sport for Winter.

HILL 800 FEET LONG WILL GIVE FINE RUN

Device For Carrying Sleds to Top of Hill a Part of Scheme.

Parks Superintendent Dilger is preparing plans for a big toboggan slide at Springbank Park, and these will be submitted to the parks commission for their approval shortly.

The expense of building the slide will not be great and it should furnish excellent sport.

The top of the slide will be at the entrance of the old roadway. There is a rather steep hill there, probably 800 feet deep. The road runs for half a mile straight down the park, and the impetus given sleds by the hill should carry them fully this distance. A smaller slide would bring the sleds nearly all the way back. Steps will be built up the side of the hill to the top of the toboggan slide, and an arrangement will be perfected for carrying the toboggans to the top.

Cost To Be Small.

"The slide can be built at a small cost," said Mr. Dilger. "The location is ideal for it. The hill will furnish all the impetus necessary, and we can arrange for the construction without any trouble. The difficulty with the majority of slides is the long walk up the hill. We can obviate that easily by constructing steps up the embankment, with a device for carrying the sleds to the top. I will recommend the board to build it and I fancy the recommendation will be accepted. I am preparing estimates of the cost."

PAIR OF JACK TARS DISCONSOLATE IN LONDON SHOWER

Messrs. Sullivan and Malone On Shore Leave From the Duke's Yacht.

"KATANICA" ANCHORED AT PORT STANLEY

Jolly Seamen Long For Dublin and Converse With Reporter in Brogue.

The Duke of Sutherland's yacht, the "Katanica" is at present anchored in Port Stanley harbor. The vessel arrived on Monday after a tour of the great lakes as far west as Port Arthur, and leaves tomorrow for Toronto.

At Toronto, the yacht will await the arrival of the duke, who has been touring Western Canada for the last two months. While in Alberta he purchased an area of land containing 100,000 acres. This is in addition to the duke's already large holdings in Alberta. When the royal visitor arrives in Toronto next week he will immediately set sail for Ireland.

A Pair of Real Sailors.

Two sailors from the Katanica," Messrs. Patrick Malone and Patrick Sullivan, both typical sons of old Ireland, as their names signify, were visitors in the city this morning. They were rolling disconsolately up the streets in East London this morning when an Advertiser reporter met them. Neither of them had even the protection of an umbrella, and in their characteristic Irish brogue were muttering all sorts of unkind things about the weather.

"It's the divil's own wither," said

DIES IN HUSBAND'S ARMS 60 YEARS HIS COMPANION

Mrs. Joseph Sanders Expires After Cheerful Evening.

Mrs. Mary Hockin Sanders, wife of Mr. Joseph Sanders, the well-known representative of the Children's Aid Society and the Charity Organization here, succumbed suddenly and unexpectedly to an attack of heart disease, with which she was stricken at her residence, 491 English street, at 2 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Sanders had been in good health, and Monday evening conversed in a jovial manner with friends at her home. She then declared her intention to visit the Canadian West when an opportunity afforded. During the night, however, she arose and, being evidently distressed, was supported by her husband, in whose arms she died as he questioned her to learn the cause of the trouble.

Inspiration to Husband.

While Mrs. Sanders had not taken any particular part in charity work publicly, her influence had always served as an inspiration to her husband, whose good offices here have brought him to the attention of the majority of the people of London. She was devoted to her family and her friends.

She was born 77 years ago in St. Austell, Cornwall, England, where she resided until she came to London 41 years ago to join her husband, who had proceeded to Canada before her.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders had enjoyed a long married life, and were about to celebrate the 60th anniversary of their wedding. Needless to say, the demise of his life companion is a severe blow to Mr. Sanders.

Mrs. Sanders is survived by two sons—Edgar J. Sanders, photographer, of this city; Richard, of Ealing, and three daughters—Mrs. James Arthur, Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mrs. Ed. Harrison, of this city, Joseph Hawkin of Redruth, England, is a brother.

Funeral on Thursday.

The funeral is to be held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the family residence, 491 English street, and interment will be made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

MR. MONK'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY THE PREMIER

Mr. Cosgrain Has Been Offered Portfolio But Hesitates to Accept and Mr. Perley Is Minister of Public Works For Present.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 22. — Hon. F. D. Monk's resignation from the cabinet was laid before His Royal Highness the Governor-General at noon today by Premier Borden and was formally accepted. No announcement is so far forthcoming as to Mr. Monk's successor as minister of public works, and it may be delayed for a few days. In the meantime Hon. George E. Perley will act, he having taken charge of the department this morning.

Mr. T. Chase Casgrain, to whom the vacant portfolio has been offered, hesitates about accepting it on account of the extensive professional interests he would have to sacrifice. Mr. L. A. Coderre, M. P., for Hochelaga, is here today in connection with the situation. Hon. Mr. Monk left the city for Montreal this afternoon. He tok formal farewell of his department and staff this morning.

Coderre's Chances.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 22. — The name of Louis Coderre, M. P. for Hochelaga, has been added to the list of cabinet possibilities and takes equal rank with that of T. Chase Casgrain, K. C., and L. T. Marechal, K. C.

Mr. Coderre has some advantages. He enjoys the friendship and support of Sir Rodolphe Forget, and it is thought could possibly carry his own seat when he went back for confirmation by the electors.

Robert Barr, Noted Novelist, Victim of Heart Disease

Succumbs to a Month's Illness at His English Home—Was Editor of the "Idler"—First Story Appeared in The London Advertiser.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 22. — Robert Barr, the Scottish novelist and editor of the Idler, died during the night of heart failure at his residence at Woldingham, Surrey. He had been ill for a month.

Robert Barr was as well known in Canada and the United States as in England. He was educated at Toronto, and was an honorary M. A. of the University of Michigan. At one time he was connected with the editorial staff of the Detroit Free Press.

The first story Mr. Barr published appeared in The Advertiser, the contribution having been accepted when Mr. Barr was a resident of Windsor.

Mr. Barr was born in Glasgow in 1850. He founded the Idler magazine in 1892, with Jerome K. Jerome. His most popular books were "In a Steamer Chair," "From Whose Bourne," "The Face and the Mask," "In the Midst of Alarms," "A Woman Intervenes," "The Mutable Many," "The Countess Tekla" and "The Strong Arm."

LEADER ROWELL RETURNS TO SCENES OF BOYHOOD

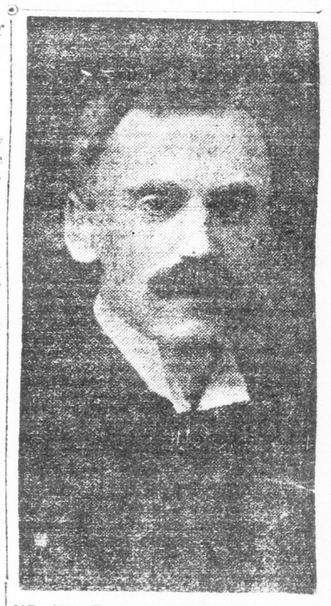

Spent Early Portion of Life in Vicinity of Ilderton.

The first meeting to be addressed by Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., M. P. P., the Liberal leader on behalf of Mr. William Sutherland, the independent candidate in East Middlesex, will be held this evening at Ilderton.

It was near this village that the Liberal leader spent the early portion of his life, and he has a large number of very warm personal friends in the district. A warm greeting is assured him.

Mr. Rowell will be assisted by Mr. William McDonald, M. P. P., for Centre Bruce, Dr. McQueen, M. P. P., for South Wentworth, and J. C. Elliott, M. P. P. for West Middlesex.

On Wednesday evening Mr. Rowell will be at Lambeth, and on Thursday evening at Belmont. On Friday he will speak at Thorndale. Judging from the inquiries received at the Liberal headquarters these meetings will be largely attended.

MR. NEWTON W. ROWELL, leader of the Ontario Opposition, who will address first of Mr. Sutherland's meetings tonight.

EXPERT ENGAGED TO PROBE BOOKS OF HYDRO BOARD

Harry Angus, of Toronto, Will Investigate Cost of Street Lighting.

MR. POCOCK IS READY TO GIVE CO-OPERATION

Ald. Richter Will Be Associated With Specialist in Search For Facts.

At the meeting of the special committee named recently to investigate the cost of street lighting a noon today, it was decided to engage the services of Mr. Harry Angus, of the School of Practical Science, Toronto, a former Londoner, to make a report on the question. His terms will be $25 a day and expenses. It is understood that he will complete the work within four days.

Ald. Wright, the chairman of the committee, was not present, and Mayor Graham was selected to fill the office in the meantime.

Ald. Richter, who was in Toronto, making arrangements for an expert, reported that he had interviewed several likely men, and his opinion was that Mr. Angus was a suitable man for the work.

An Unbiased Expert.

"He is a thoroughly capable young man, and I am positive he will give an unbiased report to the committee," said Ald. Richter. "We have reviewed the situation, and Mr. Angus thinks he can finish the investigation in two days, but he is positive that it will not be more than four days at the outside. It will be a good thing to have this thing settled."

Ald. Ashplant then moved that Mr. Angus be engaged and the motion carried without dissent. City Clerk Baker was instructed to notify him at once. It is probable that he will begin his work early the coming week, possibly before.

Mayor Graham suggested that Ald. Richter represent the committee in the investigation, and he was instructed to assist Mr. Angus in making the report.

LONDON GREEKS LEAVE FOR WAR

Four Brave Boys Are Ready to Give Lives in Fighting Turks.

JOIN A LARGE PARTY

Others Likely To Leave For the Front —All Eager For the Fray.

Four local Greeks, John Fernokis, of the Parisian cafe; George Petra, a waiter; Nick Kastolanos and Nick Peppos, both of whom have been employed in local shoe-shine parlors left London at midnight Monday for Hamilton to join a party of 250 of their countrymen in a special party homeward bound to take part in the struggle of the balkan allies against Turkey. They are full of enthusiasm at the prospect of a battle.

It is expected that a number of others will follow today, three tickets having been purchased for New York by Greeks, who checked their baggage for the steamship Patris, which sails within a few days for Greece.

A party from Toronto, together with a large number from different points in Western Ontario, were notified on Monday indirectly from the Grecian legation at Washington to join at Hamilton and proceed by special train to New York City.

ISLAND OF LEMNOS SEIZED BY GREEKS

Troops Have Landed to Occupy Kastro, the Capital.

KINGS SEND GREETINGS

Express Satisfaction at Crossing of the Frontier by Greeks.

Athens, Oct. 21. — The Aegean squadron, under command of Admiral Countouriotis, arrived yesterday at Kastro, capital of the Island of Lemnos, and demanded that the authorities surrender. The squadron today anchored at Port Mydros and landed troops, which advanced to occupy the town.

Admiral Countouriotis has proclaimed a blockade of all the ports of Lemnos. A blockade is also effective on the coast of Epirus.

King George of Greece has received telegraphic replies from his three sovereign allies to a message informing them that the Greek army had crossed the frontier.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria said: "Filled with a sentiment of sublime reciprocal and mutual confidence, our peoples, brothers in the faith, unite in a sacred agreement, and ask the Almighty Defender of the rights of the weak, and Protector of the oppressed, to grant the fervent prayers that ascend to his throne from the four allied nations to the God of Battles to crown with success the joint efforts of our arms for the triumph of the doubly righteous cause of faith and liberty."

King Nicholas of Montenegro telegraphed: "Our cordial greetings and most sincere wishes for the victory of the worthy descendants of Themistocles and Miltiades. May God bless our efforts for our sacred cause."

King Peter of Servia sent the following message: "Trusting in God that the forces of the Balkan States, united in religion and led by the traditional sentiment of their peoples, will triumph in their generous work, I hail with confidence the commencement of our joint action, and wish complete success for the valiant Greek army."

FATALLY BURNED

Little Son of Thomas Cardwell, of South Easthope, Is Dead.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, Oct. 21. — John Cardwell, aged 2, died from burns received at his father's home in South Easthope, in the local hospital today. In some manner, while playing about the stove, the child's clothing caught fire, and before the mother was able to reach him the baby was terribly burned about the body. An older boy gave the alarm, but the clothing of the child had burned so quickly that nothing could be done.

LUCKNOW EVAPORATOR COMPLETELY GUTTED

Fire Started in Dry Kiln—Forty Thrown Out of Work.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Lucknow, Oct. 22. — John Joynt's apple evaporator plant here was burned to the ground last evening. The fire originated in one of the dry kilns and spread up the walls to the roof and along the dry pine portions with a rapidity which nothing could check.

The loss is about $3,000, with no insurance. The evaporator was one of the largest of the kind in the province, and employed nearly forty hands.

MANY WITNESSES AGAINST FIGHTER

Investigation of Johnson's Conduct Is To Begin Today.

Chicago, Oct. 21. — When Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, representing the mother of Lucile Cameron, visited Jack Johnson's saloon today in company with United States deputy marshals to serve subpoenas on witnesses who are to appear before the federal grand jury tomorrow, the negro pugilist became excited and threatened the lawyer with personal injury.

"Throw that lawyer out of the place or I will kill him," shouted Johnson to one of his bodyguard. Federal officers protected the attorney and served the pugilist's aged mother and nine employees of the saloon with subpoenas before leaving the place.

Several important witnesses against Johnson have disappeared, and could not be found today, but federal officers continued their search. The federal grand jury investigation is scheduled to begin tomorrow, when Lucile Cameron, her mother, and 25 other witnesses are expected to testify.

STRUCK BY TRAIN BUT WILL RECOVER

Mrs. McIlvride Is Now Thought To Be Out of All Danger.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Durham, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Donald McIlvride, of Normanby Township, who was injured at the Varney crossing by being hit by a Grand Trunk freight train, is now recovering nicely. It is expected that all danger of complications has passed.

The funeral of Mr. John Bell, of Glenelg Township, took place on Saturday to the Durham Cemetery. Mr. Bell was operated on for appendicitis a week previous, and died on Wednesday. He was a much-respected resident of the township, in which he was born 53 years ago, and where he spent practically all his life.

He was married twenty years ago to Miss Mary Binnie, who survives him, together with a family of seven children. In religion deceased was a Presbyterian, and in politics a Conservative. He was a member of the A. O. U. W.

JAILED A "BARON."

Berlin, Oct. 21.—The circulation in America of pernicious books and improper pictures resulted in a sentence of five months' imprisonment being passed today on Bruno Schultz, said to have lived formerly in New Jersey. Schultz was also known under the aliases of "Baron Von Schoelwitz," "Baron Von Ungerwerth" and "Baron Von Adlerslef."

His arrest in Germany was brought about by a report from Washington that the country was being flooded with advertisements of indecent literature and photographs, and that these reached America with the postmark of Berlin.

When arrested Schultz displayed a forged United States passport bearing the name Forbach. He has been residing for some months in a beautiful country residence near Dresden.

SHOT BY HIS WIFE.

Sherbrooke, Que., Oct. 21.—Word has been received here that Thomas Nadeau was shot and killed by his wife at Laconia, N. H. The parties were well known in Sherbrooke, having lived here until a short time ago. They were quarrelling over money affairs, and the wife fired two revolver shots at her husband. She said she did not regret her action.

ONE FOR RILEY HERN.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—When the suit brought by Riley Hern, the well-known Stratford and Montreal hockey player, against Sam Lichtenhein, president of the Wanderer Hockey Club, for $10,000 damages, was called this morning it was announced that it had been settled out of court.

Mr. Hern claimed that Mr. Lichtenhein had not kept a contract which bound Hern to the club for a year. Plaintiff also alleged that Mr. Lichtenhein had criticized him in an interview he gave to a local paper. Mr. Lichtenhein apologized and paid the costs of the action.

CURED OF THIS HORRIBLE DISEASE

Edmonton Girl Saved By "Fruit-a-tives"

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 2, 1911.

"I had been a sufferer from babyhood with that terrible complaint, Constipation.

"I have been treated by physicians and have taken every medicine that I heard of, but without the slighest benefit. I concluded that there was no cure for this horrible disease.

"Finally, I read of 'Fruit-a-tives' and decided to try them, and the effect was marvellous.

"The first box gave me great relief, and after I used a few boxes, I found that I was entirely well.

BABY FELL 15 FEET AND ESCAPED INJURY

Guelph Child Landed on Pile of Dress Goods in Store.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Guelph, Oct. 21.—While Mrs. W. Heffernan's one-year-old baby was being carried down a stairway in a store here by a friend today the child moved quickly and fell from her arms over a landing to the floor, 15 feet below. Fortunately it alighted on some dress goods, and escaped with slight injuries.

George Mills was thrown under his horses' feet and run over by two wheels of the wagon through his horses being frightened by a passing street car. He escaped with a cut on the head and some bruises.

George Wilson, while shooting with two friends, and when some distance ahead of them, raised his hat, which one of his companions mistook for a partridge and fired, riddling the hat with shot, several lodging in Wilson's neck.

AMUSEMENTS

Enjoy a Laugh Tonight.

Of Henry W. Savage's offering of Rupert Hughes' farce, "Excuse Me," a play that relates the comic incidents befalling an amusing company of travellers on a railway trip from Chicago to Reno, which appears at the Grand tonight, enthusiastic commendation is justified, for at the Gaiety Theatre in New York it made an enormous hit, and achieved the notable run of nine months. Therefore there is a Broadway guarantee of the kind and quality of "Excuse Me," as its long run proclaims its tremendous popularity. Without exception New York dramatic critics declared that no such clever play as "Excuse Me" has been seen in years. They said it scintillated with bright lines, that laughter came with remarkable frequency. One said: "There is in it that which makes one want to see it again."

"Bunty Pulls the Strings."

It is safe to say that many a theatregoer of London will recall his first visit to "Bunty Pulls the Strings," at the Grand last season, when many another dramatic experience will have faded away. And this announcement of the Grand, to the effect that Graham Moffat's successful little play gem will again be seen at that theatre tomorrow night and Thursday, will cause all lovers of that which is of intrinsic merit in dramatic affairs, to make no further engagements. "Bunty Pulls the Strings" is of that class of play, the atmosphere of which is so clean, the humor so innocent, yet so irresistible, that time would seem to have no power to destroy its lasting qualities.

Crane on Saturday.

William H. Crane is booked for the Grand on Saturday, when he will be seen in Martha Morton's comedy, "The Senator Keeps House," which he produced at the Garrick Theatre in New York city, and used for a run of four months in that city. The story is one of the present, with Crane in the character of a United States senator, who is beset by domestic and political difficulties, that keep him very busy for four acts, but which, of course, are surmounted in the end. It is one of the best comedies Mr. Crane has utilized in many sermons, and his New York admirers voted it one of the real hits of last season.

DINER OFF THE TRACK.

Toronto, Oct. 21. — The diner and parlor car of the C. N. R. train for Sudbury, leaving the Union station for Sudbury at 9 o'clock this morning, left the rails near Gerrard street. The fittings of the diner were wrecked, but nobody was injured. The part of the train remaining on the tracks proceeded to Sudbury after the accident, but the outgoing trains eastward were delayed for some time.

CALL TO DR. PARSONS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Guelph, Oct. 21.—At a congregational meeting of the Woolwich Street Baptist Church, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. Dr. Parsons, M.A., Ph.D., formerly of Port Arthur, now of Toronto, to fill the pastorate, which has been vacant for some months.

HARBOR CHAIRMAN RESIGNS

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—The resignation of Major George W. Stevens as chairman of the Montreal Harbor Commission, is believed to be in the hands of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. It will likely take effect at the first of the year, when the other two commissioners, L. O. Geoffrion and C. C. Ballantyne, are also retiring. A new board will then be appointed. Major Stevens has been at the head of the harbor board for six years.

All the present members were Laurier appointees, and their future as commissioners was the subject of much discussion in political circles last session.

HAS NOTHING TO SAY.

Montreal, Oct. 21.—Interviewed here today, Major G. W. Stevens refused absolutely to make any statement whatever on the matter of his resignation. "I have nothing to say for publication," he said.

The announcement of Major Stevens' resignation from the Montreal Harbor Board comes as a surprise to all who are interested in the port of Montreal.

DIED IN THE SOUTH.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Oct. 21.—The body of Mr. John Bott, formerly a well-known resident of Walkerville, arrived here today for burial from Macon, Georgia, where death occurred suddenly last Friday. Mr. Bott was 59 years old, and leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

SECRETARY RETIRES.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Oct. 21.—After a continuous service with the distillery firm of Hiram Walker & Sons, Walkerville, of nearly a quarter of a century, Mr. William Robins, secretary of the corporation, today retired from active business. He will be succeeded by C. C. Ambery, assistant

COAL FAMINE THREATENS.

Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 21.—A serious coal famine is threatened here, and unless the embargo on the C. P. R. and C. N. R. is raised on freights, considerable suffering is bound to ensue. Perishable goods are reported spoiled in large quantities in freight cars that had been stored in the local yards during the past two or three weeks. The board of trade is making a rigid investigation.

LONDON, TUESDAY, OCT. 22.

MR. ROWELL AND THE WORKMEN.

If there is one thing that distinguishes modern, progressive Liberalism from the position of the reactionists on both sides of the ocean, it is a growing concern for the interests of human life, health and welfare as superior in importance even to the claims of property or "vested interests." Property must be preserved, but the Conservative is eager to protect property at the expense of the human machine. The Liberal, whether it be Lloyd George or N. W. Rowell, stands first for the bodies and the minds of men.

Mr. Rowell, like Mr. Mackenzie King, realizes the new, vast field for Liberal endeavor and is leaping enthusiastically forward to attack the outworks of the reactionist fortress at Toronto. He has raised the banner of social reform and reasons with thinking men to draw them after him. The abolition of the bar is one step for humanity against the "vested interest" which does not justify itself. Mr. Rowell has a number of interesting ideas for the improvement of public health, and is preparing to advance on other progressive lines. He is taking exceptional interest in the inadequate Workmen's Compensation Act of 1885 and working for its radical amendment.

Mr. Rowell has charged against the Whitney Government that it has shillyshallied with this workmen's compensation question now for seven long years. Mr. Studholme, the Labor member from Hamilton, and the Liberal party in the Legislature have striven to push and butt the Government along, but without success. The Government has shown itself both ignorant and listless. In that period of seven years about 4,000 Ontario breadwinners have lost their lives and 20,000 suffered injury, at their employments, while it is calculated that only a little over 20 per cent. of industrial accidents can be brought under the present law of compensation and when the employers do have to pay, only 20 to 30 per cent. of the sums paid actually reach the injured employees or their families; lawyers and insurance companies get the rest.

Charity is still a main recourse of workmen's families in mediaeval Ontario under the Whitney regime. Spain and Russia have better laws. Most of the other Canadian provinces, including Quebec, the Australian states, etc., have followed the lead of Great Britain and Germany in passing modern legislation for workmen's accidents. Ontario occupies a bad eminence in this matter. We stand for stupidity and do-nothing in high places.

Mr. Rowell pledges the Liberal party to vigorous and radical reform. A new department of labor and public health is indicated for the administration of this province. As for workmen's compensation, Mr. Rowell promises to do something and at once, along the British and German lines with improvements. Accident of whatever sort, whether due to the workman's negligence or not must be made a charge on industry, like any wear and tear of machinery. The principle of employers' collective liability must be adopted. Cost of litigation must be reduced to nil for both employers and employees, by some degree of governmental management and operation.

Mr. Rowell and the Liberals have laid down a definite program on this and other questions. Elect Mr. Rowell and something is sure to be done. Why wait for ever on the off chance of something from Sir James Whitney, the greatest of all the Sleepers?

THE BARROOM ISSUE.

Mr. Neely and his spokesmen are making an elaborate pose as the true custodians of the temperance cause.

A good deal of impudence is exhibited by members of the Whitney Government and their followers in going into East Middlesex at this juncture to ask for temperance votes.

But for the Whitney Government, there would not be a single barroom in the constituency.

The majority of the electors of London Township voted three years ago to wipe out the bars left in the riding. But the three-fifths clause saved these precious institutions, which are now potent agencies for the Government candidate.

The officials of the Government—the license commissioners—only a few weeks ago renewed the licenses of two of these places, where happenings had scandalized the riding. Mr. Neely could have prevented the renewal by a word. It could have been prevented also by Mr. Hanna, who has come to East Middlesex to boast of his services to temperance.

The temperance worker has a perfectly clear duty in this campaign. A vote for Mr. Neely is a vote against Mr. Rowell's policy. The election of Mr. Neely would be heralded throughout the Province as a victory for the liquor interests. It would encourage the Government to continue its alliance with the "trade," and to refuse any relaxation of the disabilities now imposed on the enemies of the barroom.

A vote for Neely is a vote for every licensed bar in the Province.

A vote for Sutherland is a vote against every licensed bar in the Province.

That is how the Province will regard it.

The Roblin Government regards the administration of justice as a cog in the party machine.

No doubt the license commissioners of East Middlesex are also posing as temperance workers.

Mr. Monk's resignation is in the Premier's hand. Messrs. Nantel and Pelletier prefer to eat out of his hand.

It is to be hoped none of the temperance people in East Middlesex are still in doubt as to how to vote. The liquor people aren't.

Mayor Graham also says that the city is paying too much for electric lighting. Does anyone accuse the mayor of looking at the thing through Grit spectacles?

The scenery for the new political farce, "The German Peril," is receiving the finishing touches at Ottawa. The leading comedy role will be played by Colonel Hughes.

The decision against the shoe machinery combine is one of the first fruits of the Laurier Government's anti-combine law. Under the present Government it may be the last.

Colonel Hugh Clark, M. P., says that local option is better than the abolition of the bar. In other words, the half is greater than the whole. But Hugh is a professional humorist.

Mr. L. G. Chiozza-Money, M. P., reports, as a result of inquiries, that in 1907 the British people spent £9,000,000 on motor cars, and rather less than £9,500,000 on wooden furniture. The contrast of wealth and poverty in the old land could not be more bitingly illustrated.

CANADA OR RUSSIA?

Here is a plain, unvarnished narrative of election campaign episodes in Macdonald, Man.:

Two personators were caught redhanded by Opposition scrutineers and arrested on informations sworn out on the spot. They were charged with an offence carrying with it fine AND imprisonment—not fine OR imprisonment. Within three hours of the close of the poll they were at liberty. They were given bail at $250 each by a justice of the peace, who was the chief organizer of the Government forces in the district where the personators were operating. The two culprits upon being let out on bail were remanded for trial at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning last in the provincial police court. At that hour the complainants, their lawyers and witnesses were present in the courtroom to proceed with the case. They were met by the magistrate with the astounding information that he had an hour earlier heard the men privately and imposed a fine of $50 upon them! And the election law clearly provides for a fine and not less than three months' imprisonment!

Mr. D. H. Walkinshaw, aged 26, a graduate of Toronto University, went West in September last and was engaged as organizing superintendent of a fire insurance company. He had worked for reciprocity in Ontario and volunteered his services, free of charge, to Mr. Richardson in Macdonald. He went to Rothwell and canvassed for votes in company with Mr. Adam Forbes, a merchant of the town. On Oct. 9 he was arrested at Rothwell by a provincial policeman who produced a warrant sworn before a local justice of the peace, charging him with violating section 269 of the Dominion Election Act, but giving no particulars. He was searched and his money, papers and everything belonging to him taken from him. He was then escorted to the railway station—kidnapped—by the policemen, who accompanied him to Winnipeg. On arrival there he was hurried into an automobile and rushed to the provincial jail, his solicitor, who had been wired by friends to meet the train, being ordered to keep away under threat.

At the jail, Mr. Walkinshaw was again searched and again denied permission to see his counsel that night. He was ordered to undress and was locked in a cell all night. In the morning he was given a pot of porridge without milk, a portion of dry bread and a tin cup of tea without sugar or milk. He was taken into another ward, locked in a cell again and then taken to the C. N. R. station in a taxicab. His solicitor tried to enter the taxicab, but was ordered away.

Mr. Walkinshaw was rushed to Portage la Prairie—kidnapped again—locked up in the provincial jail, given a dinner of thin, greasy soup, one baked potato, dry bread and a tin cup of rank tea without sugar or milk. After dinner he was brought before Magistrate Marshall, still without a lawyer, was denied bail by the crown prosecutor, was remanded to jail till Saturday, Oct. 12, was taken back to the jail, locked in the cell like a common criminal, and subjected to the same treatment with regard to meals, sleeping accommodation and confinement as he had been previously. Then for the first time he was allowed to see a solicitor.

On the Saturday, the crown prosecutor said the documents in the case had not been forwarded. Bail was granted in two sureties of $1,000 each, and one personal surety of $2,000—$4,000 in all. When the case came before the magistrate on the following Thursday, Oct. 17, the crown offered no evidence whatever, and Mr. Walkinshaw was given a certificate of dismissal!

Capt. W. B. Sifton, of Minitonas, Man., was asked by Mr. Richardson to go to St. Laurent, where the former was particularly well known, in order to check the operations of a gang of Government election workers, who had been scattered over the district. Their activities were unbridled because of the fact that St. Laurent had shown a pronounced Liberal tendency in the reciprocity campaign.

Capt. Sifton was shadowed from the moment he entered the district and 24 hours before the poll opened he was arrested charged with buying votes for Richardson. He denounced his accusers, and, as bail was refused, was given a hearing in the infamous court of Magistrate McMicken. The information stated that Capt. Sifton had been using his influence for the Opposition candidate, which, he agreed, was precisely what he had been doing. The case was put over, Capt. Sifton being ordered to keep to his house, and do no more election work. During the same day he was informed by the deputy attorney-general that there was no case against him, and he was honorably acquitted. Subsequently it was proved that the information against him was sworn out on Oct. 7, before he went into the constituency. The offence was not supposed to have been committed until Oct. 10!

Mr. Sifton was arrested at 2 o'clock on a Friday afternoon. In company with Constable Jarvis he proceeded to the C. N. R. station, where he wrote a message to the Richardson headquarters in Winnipeg advising them of his arrest, and notifying them that it would be necessary to take other steps to protect the poll. He tendered the money for the payment of this telegram, and it was accepted.

Before the agent could send the telegram, the other member of the arresting party, Constable T. Steadman, came on the scene. He declared that as Mr. Sifton was in custody, he had no right to send the telegram, and ordered the telegraph operator not to send it; whereupon the operator handed the money for the message back to Mr. Sifton.

Subsequently, however, late at night, the agent sent forward the telegram, which was received at the Richardson headquarters at about half-past ten. An attempt was made, even at that late hour, to reach parties at Lake St. Francis by telephone, but it was found impossible to raise the office.

The result was that the executive committee had no representative at the poll during election day, and a Conservative majority of 58 was secured, where, in September, 1911, the majority had been only 13.

Contrast the treatment of the two personators—self-confessed culprits—who worked for the Government candidate, with the treatment accorded to the two innocent men who worked for the Opposition candidate! Is Manitoba in Canada or Russia?

Old Irish Poets Great Singers

[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

There was a time when the poets of Ireland were a proud and privileged class. This was in the golden age of Celtic poetry between the eighth and twelfth centuries. A poet laureate in that happy time was no Alfred Austin; for he was lifted high above the clamors of contemporary criticism and could in reality call the king his uncle. The fiercest warrior had to fall behind him in the procession, and no matter how much his enemies hated him they did not dare lay hands upon the man whom the king delighted to honor. He was such a favored person that the king himself could not refuse to give him any reward he asked in return for a brand new poem of praise or mourning. Naturally the laureates of those far-off, golden days had an exalted opinion of their own greatness. Poets are born egotists; they would not put pen to paper unless they were, but nowadays poverty and popular disregard contrive to keep them fairly humble. But in Ireland about 1000 A.D., the poet's head was too large for his hat. It is related of one laureate, who had grown tired of asking for raiment and money, that after he had sung a new song and was asked by the king what he desired as a reward, he said, "Your majesty, your eye!" It was an embarrassing request, for the king had only one eye. But the king was a true lover of poetry, if not of the poet, and he gave up his sole optic rather than be considered a traitor to the Muses. Hence we are told that a sheet of water in Ireland, Lough Derg, received its name, "The Lake of the Red Eye." The eye was probably red with anger just after the laureate made his insolent request. Ah, 'twas a fine time for poets when they could pluck out kings' eyes!

But if we are to believe Mr. Shane Leslie, who has been telling this story in the New York "Outlook," those old Irish poets were great singers in spite of their swollen heads. Mr. Leslie praises their peculiar and wonderful sense of nature. It is this natural magic which "fills Irish poetry with so many quaint and personifying expressions, which speaks of the robin's cry as 'the music of the red-breasted men' and the bees and chafers as 'the little musicians of the world,' which trembles with the horror and dreariness and silences of winter scenes, and yet rises to a wild frenzy when the talk of the rushes' is heard and all nature finds so many voices that even 'the stuttering quagmire prattles.' Here is a winter song dating from the ninth century:

"These are my tidings for you—that the forest stags bell,
And that summer has gone and left snow upon flood and on fell,
That the winds leap up cold and the sun sinketh low in the sky,
And shorter of course are the tides of the sea running high.

"Blood red is the bracken, the flower of its beauty is gone,
And the wild geese are raising their cry, oh, so weary and wan,
For the fingers of winter have cluched the bright wings of the bird,
And the season of ice is at hand—such tidings I heard."

Mr. Leslie also finds that the old Irish poets have a richer sense of color than is usual with any but the Oriental mind. This, he thinks, is perhaps an indication that the earliest Irishman came from Palestine or the east. Another prominent characteristic of Celtic poetry is the note of melancholy. "Unhappy Ireland" has produced unhappy singers. But today, as always in her troubled history, Ireland's sorrows have been reflected in lines whose haunting sadness invests them with immortal loveliness. "In all his literature," says Mr. Leslie in eloquent words, "the Celt was haunted by the riddling terror of the after-life. He watched, or rather felt, his life moving swiftly under its burden of love and beauty into the gulf of the unknown.

"Death he recognized as supreme. This supremacy seemed only the stronger for the momentary presence of light and love. All the thousands of transient colors that delighted his eye went only to enrich and darken the ultimate shadow towards which his creation moved.

"It is only the pessimist, perhaps, who can really enjoy the passing glory of the world. Certainly of the ancient races none showed a more persistent pleasure in the pageant of nature and life than the Celtic people, whom Melancholy is thought to have most avowedly made her own."

This last paragraph is specially interesting at this time when Ireland is once more passing through anxious days.

BETTING ON THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTON.

[Springfield Republican.]

The betting odds in Wall street yesterday reflected the feeling that Taft rather than Wilson will be the victim of whatever shifting of votes may come from the shooting of Mr. Rosevelt. The odds of 3 to 1 in favor of Wilson held strong, in spite of the Milwaukee episode. But as between Roosevelt and Taft for second place in the popular vote, betting was recorded at even money, although the betting recently had been in Taft's favor. Presumably, the theory of gamblers is that the Wilson strength, being so overwhelmingly democratic in party affiliations, cannot be so easily affected by the attempted assassination as the Taft strength. Mr. Taft had been coming up rather rapidly in the past fortnight, "on the curb," by reason of the business prosperity of the country under his administration. If the occurrence in Milwaukee should bear heaviest upon him, in a political sense, his ill-luck would appear to be more than any mortal ought to be made to endure.

OUR NEEDS.

[Life.]

"Steadfast men are needed in public life," says Supreme Court Justice Pitney, "men able to resist the tumult of the crowd." And we also need a steadfast crowd—a crowd able to resist the encroachments of steadfast men.

HOPE HAS NOT DIED IN BREAST OF ALD. WRIGHT

With Spartan Courage He Still Urges Fight for "V" Site.

Ald. W. D. J. Wright has not given up hope of building the city hall on the "V" site, and is planning to have a vote taken on the proposition at the coming municipal elections. Just what his scheme is cannot be learned at this time, but he maintains that he will persist in his efforts to have an expression of opinion on the question.

He made an effort to have the council favor his project on Monday night, but without success. He first moved that the council exercise the options now held on the "V" property, and submit it and the Spencer Block to the ratepayers. Mayor Graham ruled the motion out of order, and Ald. Wright also moved to reconsider the whole question. However, the mayor ruled this motion out of order, and Ald. Wright subsided.

He has not given up the fight by any means, but at the next meeting of the council he will bring the matter up again.

"The hall has not been built on the Spencer Block," he stated. "I am positive it will never be. I am not going to give up the fight yet."

G. K. C. ON DICKENS.

[G. K. Chesterton.]

Mr. G. K. Chesterton presided on Saturday night at the Dickens Fellowship dinner held at the Restaurant Frascati, Oxford street, and in proposing "The Immortal Memory of Charles Dickens," said the expression was rather an under-statement of his glory. There were a great many writers whom they could never forget, but there were few like Dickens, whom they perpetually remembered. Every man who read Charles Dickens was a haunted man. They could not get away from him. Dickens surrounded mankind with a mythology. He turned the world into an extraordinary world. The more they looked at modern politics and modern affairs, the more they would see that the Dickens hero and the Dickens villain were coming more into conflict.

MR. MONK'S PRINCIPLE.

[Toronto Star.]

Mr. Monk's reply is convincing. He resigns. It is understood that he does so because of his inability to agree with his colleagues on the naval policy. It is not often that a Canadian cabinet minister resigns on a question of policy and resumes his seat as a private member. Whether we agree or not with the opinions of Mr. Monk, there will be a general impulse throughout the country to give him credit for choosing to stand by the principles he advocates.

THE BAR.

Who as a statesman
Pleads for the Bar?
Who says, "To keep it Anxious we are?"

Who, to defend it
Says, "I will try?"
Each faithful mother
Answers, "Not I."

Who says, "It always Licensed shall be?"
Tradesmen and merchants
Answer, "Not we."

What true advantage
Comes from its sway?
Toilers are crying,
"Take it away."

Who in its presence
Safety can see?
All large employers
Answer, "Not we."

Wisest of people,
Distant and far,
Say with decision,
"Banish the Bar."

None to defend it
Now are disposed;
Clear is the mandate,
"Bars must be closed."

MOTHER OF SEVEN FEARED HER BOY MUST STOP WORK

Hard to Send Lad to School Till 16 With Living High, She Writes.

BUT ACT SEEKS ONLY TO GET AT LOAFERS

Advertiser Subscriber Disturbed by New Act Need Not Worry Longer.

A mother, misunderstanding the import of the adolescent act, to be enacted by the board of education here, raising the school age from 14 to 16 years, has written to The Advertiser, asking whether or not the family will be compelled to take her boy from his work and send him to school for another year.

The letter explains her anxiety:

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Will you kindly answer the following. If a boy left school under the old law at 14 years of age, and has been working for one year, can the parents be compelled to take him away from his work and send him to school? I have a boy, the oldest of seven children. He is working in the daytime, and is going to night school. He is doing well. The boy is the only help of his father, who is a workingman. It is hard for working people, when there is a large family, to send a boy to school until he is 16 years of age, now that living is so high. It is all right for the gentry. Please answer an old subscriber.

(Signed) A MOTHER OF SEVEN CHILDREN.

No Effect in Her Case.

The letter was shown Secretary R. M. McElheran, of the board of education, who stated emphatically that the new law would have no effect whatever on such cases as the woman writes about.

"The law was framed to get hold of the boys who are not working and who are not attending school," said Mr. McElheran. "It has been shown on investigation that in every city there are a large number of boys who idle away their time until they are fourteen and then go to work, badly equipped for any labor. The adolescent act is aimed to get at these idlers, and compel them to go to school. They must attend night classes, where they will receive instruction in useful knowledge.

After the Idlers.

"Such a boy as is mentioned in the letter is absolutely free from the influence of such legislation. He is doing exactly what the act wants to do with the idlers. The act gives the board power to deal with special cases. If any parent considers the act working to his disadvantage, he may appeal to the board, and on explaining the case, I am sure the board will act with discretion. We want to get at the boys from 14 to 16 years, who are spending their time in pool rooms and such places, particularly in the evenings. They are learning no good, and if they can be forced to go to school, good results are certain to follow. The mother who wrote that letter need not worry, nor need any parent similarly situated."

The adolescent act has not become law in the city as yet. The board of education have recommended that it be enacted, but this will not be done until the beginning of the winter term.

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

No Headache, Bad Taste, Sour Stomach or Coated Tongue By Morning.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

SHOOTING PARTIES WILL BE PROSECUTED

Denfield People Complain of Damage Done by Reckless Youths.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Denfield, Oct. 22.—Farmers in this district intend taking some measures this year to prevent parties of young men from going over their premises shooting on Thanksgiving Day. For the past few years they have been annoyed greatly by parties of youths, who would come out from London and spend the holiday shooting at everything in sight. In this way many have lost hens, turkeys, cats and other animals, and not a few have had close calls from being shot themselves by reckless marksmen. This year all trespassers will be promptly prosecuted.

While picking apples recently Mr. Charles Roberts had a bad fall and sustained a very severe shaking up.

Mr. James Cleghorn visited with his parents at Bluevale recently.

Most of the farmers in this district have completed their threshing, and the grain will average high, and is of splendid quality. In many places it is reported that barley and oats are badly discolored by the wet.

SHOWERS FOR THE BRIDE-ELECT

London Has Many Prospective Winter Brides, Whose Friends Are Busy Planning Social Events in Their Honor—Here Are Some Happy Suggestions for Showers.

[BY CYNTHIA GREY.]

Wedding gifts are too often like wedding gowns, packed away in lavender and old rose, or excelsior and sawdust, awaiting the day when the family wealth has grown so it may match the surroundings to the gifts.

The contribution to newly weds should be attractive. It should be chosen with care, thought and genuine interest if it is to be a real help.

It should fit the circumstances of the one to whom it is given.

A SHOWER is the pre-nuptial gi occasion; the time when the nearest and dearest girlhood friends try to show their friendship and well wishes for the bride-elect with small or large gifts, as circumstance permits. The value of these is first in the real pleasure and sincerity with which they are made, and second in the advisability and selection of them. Since time immemorial, the girl who would have cherished the simple, homely, useful gifts which friends could have so much more easily bestowed, has been forced to go without necessaries to buy a cabinet for untimely, though handsome, cut glass.

Have showers by all means. They are excellent fun and a happy way of giving. But turn the tables on old Father Time this season and try taking some of the simpler yet pretty presents, which have a note of usefulness about them, too.

The wedding gift may be big and handsome if it must. But let the shower gift be unobtrusive and a real comfort, fitting into one of the hundred and one corners of the new home, as if it were chosen with forethought and real intent to please.

THE COZY OLD FRIENDS' CORNER.

There is often a niche in some corner of the newly-furnished home prepared for bride and groom, which seems to require something more to make it look complete.

One group of jolly girls, who like to have a hand in other people's "pies," took it into their heads to pre-empt one small section of the living-room of a girl friend, who was to be married soon. They first looked over the house and took the object of their interest into their secret. It only took them about half an hour to espy a window seat in the living-room, which suited their fancy. And with "HER" consent they started out to make it their own.

The scheme was worked out in the order of a shower on the girl, whose wedding date had been set. The drapery for the window in question; the soft, silky cushioned seat, the two big pillows and the quaint little foot rest were all a part of the shower list.

Because some of the articles took some time to make, the girls decided to meet at each other's homes as many times as it would require to finish the articles, making each a social event. The "showered" girl was invited each time to drop in and assist with suggestions and approval; the idea being that with her help the "old friend's" corner could be made a part of the new home.

When the gifts were complete the real SHOWER was given and the CORNER fitted up with its new trimmings. The plan was a success. It proved a valuable way of adding to the furnishings of the little home and served as a reminder of the happy group of girl friends with whom the recipient had spent so many pleasant hours

BIG AND LITTLE BAGS FOR THE BRIDE.

"Big bag and little bag, hand box and bundle—"

* * *

GIRLS, why don't you have a BAG SHOWER?

The little things are scarcely ever thought about when the bride-to-be is planning her home. The trousseau and the social engagements are usually the chief thought. So why not do something for your best girl friend that no one else will dream of trying?

"Oh, bags are such ordinary things," someone will say. True, but they are so immensely useful, too. And there is no reason why they shouldn't be as dainty and pretty as everything else in the new home.

The hostess may easily find out the color scheme in the different rooms in the house. She and one or two of the other girls, who will be guests at the shower, may be a committee to buy the goods. The making will furnish a happy occupation for odd moments the days intervening between the receipt of the invitation and the shower.

Bags will immediately bring to mind all sorts of ideas. Just a few suggestions are offered here to help along.

A bag for rubbers may be made out of heavy cretonne and lined with a removable pocket of oil cloth.

A fancy silk bag with silk duster for the parlor will be useful and pretty.

A pantry bag of denim in the color of the kitchen wall paper will meet with any good little housekeeper's approval.

A twine bag, a stocking bag, shoe bag, clotespin bag, a handkerchief bag and dirty clothes bag may all be made so that they are a delight to the girl who is beginning a home life of her own.

The idea may seem a trifle mundane in the telling. But a few bits of bright ribbon and some initial embroidery skilfully used with daintily figured pieces of material will be their own reward for the little work they will require.

It won't be fair to leave "HIM" out, so I suggest a soiled collars bag and maybe a slipper bag. Of course, when you begin planning, there'll be many other bags you'll think of. Try it.

THE ACCESSORY SHOWER.

ACCESSORIES are to a girl's wardrobe what variety is to life. The simplest dress may be given an air of freshness and comeliness with a pretty neckwear or a crisp, clean set of neckpiece and sleeve frills.

She who has an abundance of these desserts of the fashion menu is indeed in luck. This being the case, there isn't any good reason why the girl who is soon to be married shouldn't start wedded life with a good supply if she have a dozen kindly girl friends who are planning a shower for her.

The ACCESSORY OR "TRIFLE" SHOWER is timely, easily prepared, inexpensive and most acceptable.

Because some of the girls will prefer to buy their gifts ready made and others will much prefer to make them, it may be wise to issue the invitations to an "accessory shower," and then, either in postscript of the main body of the invitation make it plain the gifts are to be brought in readiness to give.

The choice of accessories will depend somewhat on the tastes of the bride-elect and her wardrobe. It will be easy to see what will go with her dresses and waists before the purchases are made.

A surplus over-waist of chiffon or other soft material trimmed with a little of her own embroidery would be an elegant and comparatively inexpensive gift for one girl. In this case the maker would know that such a gift would go well with some dress in the engaged girl's trousseau.

A piece of lace could be cleverly used to make a gulmp and sleeves for a short-sleeved low-neck dress, which the "showered" girl might want to wear sometimes as an afternoon apparel.

A one-piece trimming of lace and ribbon with a standing collar and trimmed with tiny buttons would be another very pretty, useful gift.

A set of embroidered or braid-ornamented collar and cuffs for the shirt waist ought to prove a most agreeable member of the accessory group.

If some one of the girls crochets, she might make a few yards of lace, which the happy guest of honor will use to advantage on lingerie.

A fancy button-set made with adjustable fasteners will be a delight to the girl who washes and irons her own shirt waists.

A novel belt, a pretty hair ornament, one of the new round handkerchiefs, and scores of other small delights of feminine dress may be included at this trifle-fest.

A BRIDAL SEWING BEE.

It's more pleasure to sew in groups than to sew alone.

MADE gifts are the sort which carry with them the real interest and heart of the giver as a rule.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. So the answer is—a SEWING SHOWER for the next girl in your set who has named the happy day.

Twelve is a good number to have at this sort of a party. Each guest may be asked to bring a yard apiece of goods with her thimble and needle.

For this merry-making let's have prettily flowered lawn; blue, for instance. The flower pattern need not be the same. But the shades would harmonize and go well with the home of the girl for whom the shower is given.

Little paper patterns are supplied by the hostess. These may be for anything she may think suitable and easily made in an afternoon.

For instance, there might be at least two fancy aprons on which there is a modicum of embroidery. Another might be a Gretchen sunbonnet. Still another could be a slumber pillow cover. Perhaps a hair-combing jacket would not be amiss; a corset bag could be made to look pretty; and a set of bureau cover and mats should be acceptable.

When the gifts are finished they are wrapped in white tissue paper, neatly tied with baby ribbon and presented to the engaged girl. One of the party may be chosen to offer the group of gifts with a little presentation speech suitable to the occasion. Refreshments served, after the labor of friendship, may be carried out in the general color scheme of the gifts.

SHOWERS OF FERNS AND FLOWERS.

Potted flowers and ferns are capital SHOWER gifts for autumn and winter brides. There's something living and bright and homelike in the greeting of a growing bloom. And there's something equally restful and refreshing in the greeting of and refreshing in the shaded greenness of a fern.

Occasionally it is difficult to think of something different to plan for the pre-nuptial celebration at which "just girls" are to come and make merry. If this fits you, then have a flower and fern shower. See if it doesn't work like a charm for all concerned.

Should some of the party live at home where the garden is still in bloom, they may be able to take up one of their favorite roses and pot it for the occasion. Or if not the fern or flower may be easily supplied from the nearest hothouse.

It is wise for the girls to arrange among themselves which they shall each bring, so that there may be a suitable variety.

Get colors you know will harmonize with the home furnishings and try to pick plants you think will be hardy and comparatively easy to grow within doors.

If there are a large number of guests invited to this shower, the hostess can arrange for three or four, or more, to club together and give a handsome, big fern in hanging basket or jardiniere for the front porch or the window where the sun shines in the brightest.

TABLE TRIMMINGS FOR TWO.

The average pre-nuptial SHOWER is for SHOW.

The average bride discovers, when she makes an inventory of her gifts, that many of them are dress-up furnishings which are suited best to company occasions.

But there are heaps of times when everyday things are needed most. That's when the sensible gifts made by sane friends who give intelligently will be most valued.

"But what can we use for every day? is not infrequently the disconsolate plea of the little maid who has tied on the housewife's bunch of keys for the first time. She looks over her handsome cut glass; her filigreed silver; her hand-painted china; her Haviland and her exquisitely fine table linen. All these are too nice for just every day for two.

That's the time when this girl will laught away her troubles if some thoughtful friends in her set have remembered to give her "table trimmings for two."

Perhaps they might have clubbed together and given a set of plates, or half a dozen cups and saucers, which could be used and washed and used again without undue anxiety. Or they may have hit upon the plan of giving table linen; a cloth and napkins which will bear the wear and tear of everyday use and frequent laundering.

A set of tumblers, not too thin and not too thick, is always useful. And there are scores of other table necessaries too numerous to number.

With a "table trimming" shower it is possible to make the gifts come within the means of the girls, and still insure pleasure and profit to the one to whom they are given.

Housekeeping Details That Tell

There are three or four things around a house which tell to the critical eye whether or not the mistress of that home is a good housekeeper.

Of course, all women pride themselves on knowing how to run their homes and how to keep them clean. Yet one often enters a room where, to all appearances, everything is in perfect order, the room neat as regards all chairs being carefully arranged for comfort, and all books and magazines on the living room table neatly fixed; but, in spite of all this, the place bespeaks a poor housekeeper to the woman who knows.

For instance, the globes on the various lights around the room may be dark with dust, while the lamp chimney may share the same fate. The floors, too, may be dusty and in want of polish.

A visit to the dining-room will show this room has the same tidy appearance as the living room, but that the silver is badly tarnished for want of a weekly cleaning and that the cut glass looks misty and decidedly dirty.

If the kitchen is visited the stove will probably show that it has not been blackened for months, while the globes will have the marks of grease upon them. The woodwork will also look as though it needed the scrubbing brush, but, like the other rooms, the kitchen will appear tidy, showing that the housekeeper though she may be neat, is not clean, and these two things must go together if the house is to speak well of the care and attention of the mistress.

The bathroom of such a house will, in all probability, be in about the same state as the other rooms. More than likely the spigots of the tub and washstand will look tarnished, while the porcelain tub itself will not look altogether spotless.

A really good housekeeper, then, should be particular about the way her globes, lamp chimneys, silver, kitchen and bathrooms look, to say nothing of the windows throughout the house, which should be, of course, cleaned every week.

Mrs. William Winslow, of Price street, and her granddaughter, Miss Olive Tipping, left last evening for a few weeks' visit with the former's daughter at Brooklyn, N. Y

YEAR OF PROSPERITY AT ORPHANS' HOME

Trustees Hold Annual Meeting and Receive Satisfactory Reports.

Very favorable reports of last year's work were presented Monday afternoon at the thirty-seventh annual meeting of the Protestant Orphans' Home board. During the year a new heating system has been installed that is proving most satisfactory and economic. The health of the children is looked after by a medical board, and within the twelve months there has been no outbreak of a contagious nature, but continual good health has been the rule. Since October, 1911, some 92 children, 58 boys and 34 girls, have been cared for. Thirty boys and 17 girls have been placed in homes of adoption, and 32 boys and 17 girls discharged.

For the election of officers, Mr. E. W. Flock, solicitor for the home, took the chair in place of Mrs. Becher, the president. Standing votes for re-election were tendered by the meeting to Mrs. Becher, president; Mrs. Gregsten, treasurer, and Miss Stevenson, secretary. The board of lady trustees, numbering some 27 in all, and the advisory board, were also re-elected. Other elections were: Lady patronesses, Mesdames Thomson, Robinso and de la Hooke; vice-presidents, Mesdames Winnett, Spencer, Ziegler and Fowler. Later, upon a motion of Mrs. Spencer, the name of Mrs. Edge was substituted as a vice-president in place of her own. Assistant Secretary, Miss Mara; auditors, J. H. Bowman and E. W. Flock.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Drs. Niven and Stevenson for medical services rendered during the year, and a warm word of praise was voiced by Mrs. Becher for the admirably efficient work of Miss Auld, matron of the home.

WOMEN WIN A POINT.

Right to vote in parish meetings was granted to the women of the Episcopal Church of New Jersey at the annual convention of the state diocese. This is considered a step toward the political enfranchisement of New Jersey women. The recent diocesan convention of the Episcopal Church of North Carolina also extended to women the right to vote on church affairs.

Problems of the Fair Sex Solved by Cynthia Grey

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received.]

Reads Helpful Things.

Dear Miss Grey: Having read a great many helpful things in your column, I write to ask you if you will be good enough to tell me (1) how to clean light brown fur; (2) the birthday calendar for June 24 and August 1, 1912; (3) and what do you think of my writing and composition?

Thanking you in advance,
BLUE EYES.

A.—1. Take equal parts of flour and powdered salt (which should be well heated in an oven), and thoroughly rub the fur. It should be well shaken and brushed in about 24 hours to rid the fur of the powder. Then take a soft clothes brush, moisten slightly with spirits of wine and pass it lightly over the fur, moving the brush the way the fur lies.

2. June 24—"Do not plan to move; by remaining where you are you will have a successful year. Some advancement in position is indicated. Those born today will be enterprising, energetic and usually successful, but inclined to be dissatisfied."

August 1—"Keep you temper cool in spite of unpleasant things, for a calm judgment will be your greatest need in the following year. Disagreements will be unfortunate and your best course a quiet one. Those born today will be unfortunate in disposition and will naturally rule others by narrow-minded prejudice rather than intelligent reasoning. They have the power of intelligence and with help in youth can conquer their faults and take their place with the best."

3. Your writing is very good. You evidently have recently studied at a business college. Your composition is passable.

Dry Clean the Sweater.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you please print in your helpful column how to wash red sweaters to keep them from shrinking and losing their color? I must add that I find many very helpful things in the correspondence.

Thanking you, I am. VIVILORE.

A.—Unless you are very sure of the dye, it is best not to wet the sweater, but dry clean it instead. Use a mixture of wheatmeal and flour, about two-thirds of the meal to one of flour. Place with the sweater in a clean pillowcase, tied at the end, and let it remain there for two or three days, giving frequent rubs with the hands. Then take the coat out and thoroughly brush and shake it in the fresh air. Unless very much soiled previously, it should be renovated quite nicely. Thanks for your kind remarks.

Lady Baltimore Cake.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you kindly give me a recipe for "Lady Baltimore" cake, and oblige. A SUBSCRIBER.

A.—Whites of 16 eggs, ¾ pound sifted flour, ½ pound and 2 ounces fresh butter, 1 pound powdered sugar, 3 ounces of shelled bitter almonds, 2 wine-glassfuls of rosewater. Blanch the almonds in scalding water; pound them, one at a time in mortar, pouring in as you do so, the rosewater a few drops at a time.

When pounded to a smooth paste, cover and set away in a cool place. Cut up the butter in the sugar and beat to a light cream. Beat very stiff the whites of eggs, then stir them into the creamed butter and sugar, alternately with the flour, a little at a time. Stir the whole mixture very hard, pour into a buttered tin and set immediately in a moderate oven. The cake will require more than 2 hours to bake. Be careful not to let it burn. When cool, ice with white of egg and powdered loaf sugar flavored with oil of lemon. Do not cut until the next day.

Temperance Dialogues.

Dear Miss Grey: Could you tell me where I could secure some good dialogues relating to the liquor question of a very impressive nature, suitable for a Christmas tree in a church? Flayettes would do also. ACTOR.

A.—You might write to the Penn Publishing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

Does He Mean It?

Dear Miss Grey: I frequently read your little queries, and, as I have never written you before, I sincerely hope you will answer me a few questions. I will be very much obliged, as I have no one to confide in:

1. I am keeping company with a gentleman I think a great deal of. He says he loves me, and always treats me as though he does. He is always saying how pretty I am, etc. I do wish he would stop it. Because I do not like anyone to say things to me like that. I always imagine they are making fun of me, although I could tell him things the same and I would mean it. Do you think he is only kidding me?

2. What do you think of my writing?

3. Have you any idea how much it would be to go to business college for 6 months? Do you have to pass the entrance before you can attend?

4. What is a nice, tasty way to stew citrons?

Hope I have not tired you out and do answer as soon as possible this week or next, because I am rather anxious.

MAZIE.

A.—1. His actions are apparently sincere enough, so there is surely no reason for you to think your friend is "kidding." It speaks well for your modesty that you are not fond of flattery. Some girls, nowadays, give one the impression that they can swallow an unending amount of it.

Of course, almost every man likes to utter "sweet nothings" at times, and I would not take his talk too seriously. However, as he says he loves you and acts that way, he is probably quite sincere, but be very certain of it, Mazie, before you let your own liking become too apparent.

2. I like it very much. It is legible and neat.

3. I do not know. Why not write directly to the business college here?

4. Cut the citron in slices about half an inch in thickness, remove rind and seeds; boil in water until tender, then drain on a sieve, replace in the preserving kettle and simmer gently, using one-half cup of water, one-half pound of white sugar to each pound of fruit. When nearly done, add several slices of lemon, cut thin.

The Birthday Calendar

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Do not be too quick to give support to the schemes of others. It will be more profitable for you to consider a proposition without prejudice and to decide on it according to reason, regardless of inclination. If you are employed you should be especially careful in the near future.

Those born today will be too generous for their own welfare and their ill-considered gifts may cause some people to avoid them, who would otherwise be their best friends. Their early training should be to look to the future and to balance generosity with judgment.

The Man Behind

the prescription case is just as important as the man who wrote the prescription.

No use for the doctor to prescribe if the druggist doesn't fill exactly as written.

Our policy is—give you what the doctor ordered or give you back the prescription.

THE PROGRESSIVE DRUGGISTS.

Chenille Veils Now

Chenille effects are the very latest innovation in veils. They are a revival of a style from a decade ago.

The all black chenille veils are elaborate in pattern and mostly trend toward the conventionalized ideas. One is in a weird pansy, large and at considerable intervals. Another is in an oak leaf, also large and at intervals upon the finely meshed net. The diagonal patterns are good. For close face wearing the chenille fancy is hard to rival, and it can be very stylishly adapted to the small turban or side-tilted hat, so much in vogue at the moment.

Finished veils have become a necessity in even the half-way complete wardrobe and thus plenty of room is given them in the shops. The white Brussels lace veil is in good taste and may be worn becomingly with the all black or the black and white hat.

The deeply scalloped model is not to be overlooked in the ready-to-wear veil. Mouse color is here dominant, and it will be in the strictest favor this autumn. Scroll and flower patterns are the best in the finished veils.

Perhaps the most noticeable veil on display is a white French net, so fine that it is almost like a spider's web, and over this is loosely drawn a large barred black silk weave. The whole effect, when donned properly, gives the appearance of a marvelous beautifier.

WOMEN GIVEN RIGHTS.

From Germany comes the report that at a meeting of the Oldenburg Diet, the following resolution was adopted by 22 to 19: "The right of electing representatives to the parish council shall be permitted to women over 34 years of age, and who are either married, or, by paying taxes, have contributed as independent individuals toward the expense of the state." Suffragists of Oldenburg are hopeful that theirs will be the first state in Germany to grant woman suffrage.

Three Apple Recipes

Apple Amber.

Core, peel and chop about three-quarters of a pound of apples. Mix together 4 ounces of suet, 2 each of sugar and flour, and 6 of bread crumbs. When this is chopped and thoroughly mixed, add a little nutmeg and grated lemon peel, and 2 beaten eggs. Stir thoroughly and place in a well-buttered mold with cloth tied tight over the top. Bil 3 hours.

Apple Solid.

Simmer 1½ pounds of lump sugar with 3 pounds of sliced apples and juice and grated rind of 3 lemons until it is thick. Then pour into a damp mold until it is cool. Turn out and serve with cream.

Apple Charlotte.

Soften a half-box of gelatine in a half cup of cold water. Then heat it over steam for half an hour. Grate 2 large, tart apples and 1 lemon or orange and beat lightly into a pint of whipped cream. Then add the gelatine, and when thoroughly mixed turn into a mold and set aside to cool before placing on ice. Serve with milk or a sauce.

FLAG CUSHION.

A pin cushion especially nice as a gift for one who expects to go abroad, is made of two tiny silk flags, with a narrow red ribbon sewed between, forming a mattress cushion. Fill the cushion and use blue silk for the tufts. Stick black and white-headed pins into the cushion so as to form letters spelling Bon Voyage.

WOMEN'S CONGRESS SUCCESSFUL.

The National Women's Congress held in Berlin, Germany, succeeded beyond expectations. More than half a million persons paid admission, and total profits amounted to more than 160,000 marks. Woman suffrage was conceded to be one of the most absorbing topics of the many discussed. It was presented by the veteran suffragist of Germany, Frau Minna Cauer.

LONDON TROOPS WILL TAKE PART IN BIG THANKSGIVING DAY SHAM BATTLE

THREE OFFICERS ON THE "BLUE" SIDE.

LIEUT.-COL. H. R. ABBOTT.

MAJOR L. W. SHANNON.

Horses.

9. All officers' chargers and horses sent by rail must be accompanied by men to look after them.

Dress.

10. Drill order, with haversacks and water bottles. If weather is threatening, great coats may be carried rolled.

Bayonets will not be carried.

Ammunition.

11. Thirty rounds of blank S. A. ammunition per rifle will be issued, together with 20 rounds blank saluting ammunition for each field gun.

Prior to issue, all officers will take steps to have all pouches, bandoliers and pockets thoroughly searched and examined to see that no ball ammunition is carried therein.

At the conclusion of the operations, the unused blank ammunition will be collected. This must be done before the troops are dismissed.

Parade States.

12.—Parade states of troops taking part in the operations will be collected by the A. S. C. officer superintending the detraining of troops on arrival at station.

MUST PARE SKYSCRAPER

Singer Building Projects Fifteen Inches Beyond Building Line.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 22.—The department of public works of New York City has just completed a series of surveys, which it declares show that the Liberty street side of the big Singer Building projects fifteen inches beyond the building line. In a few days formal legal notice will be served upon the owners that they must pare down the building or the city will do it for them.

The owners declare that no alterations will be made till after some very active litigation. Their answer to the formal notice will be an injunction in which sidewalk locations, official surveys, ordinances and laws beginning around 1878 and running down to date, will be challeged.

The action to be taken against the Singer Building will be the most extensive yet undertaken in the campaign of the city to recover its sidewalks.

A GREAT SCHEME TO CATCH FISH.

HANNA LAUDS WHITNEY AT LAMBETH MEETING

In Speaking for Mr. Neely Praises Bilingual and Temperance Policy.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, flanked by a big array of Conservative orators from all over the province, addressed a good-sized meeting at Lambeth Monday evening in the interests of Mr. Geo. W. Neely, the Conservative candidate. Col. Hugh Clark, M. P., Centre Bruce; Major Thomas Beattie, M. P., London; A. K. Grigg, M. P. P., Algoma, and Mr. Geo. W. Neely, the candidate, all made addresses. Ald. Robert McCully, St. Thomas, was chairman of the meeting.

The candidate, Mr. Neely, was the first speaker, and appealed to the electors to support him, in order to strengthen the hands of the Government.

Hon. Mr. Hanna.

Mr. Hanna followed, and spoke at some length on the bilingual school question and the temperance platform. In handling the former question, Sir James Whitney and the Government had shown courage. One language, that the English language, would alone be taught in the schools of the province. In schools where other than English-speaking residents predominated, the language of the people would be taught for one year, but after that English would be taught practically exclusively.

In dealing with the temperance platform, Mr. Hanna declared that local option was the most effective remedy against the drink habit. When Sir James Whitney came to power he grappled intelligently with the traffic, with the result that Mr. Ben Spence, the secretary of the Dominion Alliance, declared that the Government had done more than any other to abate the evils of drink. The speaker doubted that Mr. Rowell's Banish the Bar policy was workable, but he was positive that the Government's policy had produced excellent results.

Hugh Clark was the next speaker, and devoted some time to praising the departments over which Mr. Hanna presided. Particularly was he pleased with the prison farm, which he said was destined to work wonders for the reformation of criminals. Mr. Clark paid his compliments to Mr. Sutherland, who did not know whether he was a Liberal, Conservative or Independent, declared the speaker. Mr. Grigg and Major Thomas Beattie spoke briefly, dealing with local issues altogether.

The meeting broke up with cheers for the candidate.

A WIRELESS RECORD.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—The Royal Edward, which sailed from Bristol for Montreal last Wednesday, was 420 miles east of Cape Race at 6 p.m. Sunday, and communicated her position to the signal station at that point, from whence it was transmitted to Montreal. The signal service officials here state that this is the record distance over whic han approaching steamer has signalled without the intervention of any other ship.

TUNNEL TOWN NEWS

SMALL FISH WERE SOLD TO HOTELMEN

Police Court Case Resulted, But Defendants Were Let Go.

SARNIA BRANCH OFFICE,
209 Front Street.
Office hours, 9 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., 3:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 22.—Because they had fish in their posesssion less than the size the law calls for, the proprietors of the Vendome and Belchamber Hotels appeared before Magistrate Gorman yesterday to answer to the complaint, made by Fishery Overseer Blunden.

The complainant explained that it was not his business to find out where the fish came from, but that the fact that they had them in their possession was sufficient. Attorney Burnham appeared for the defendants, and argued at some length.

The magistrate decided that the defendants were guilty of a technical violation of the law, but innocently on their part, the actual violators being the dealers and the fishermen who caught the fish. After expressing the opinion that it was Mr. Blunden's duty to trace the violation to the original source, the defendants were allowed to go on suspended sentence.

INDIAN INDIGNANT AT BEING ARRESTED

Was Taken Into Custody in Mistake For Jail-Breaker From Kansas.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 22.—A full-blood Sioux Indian named Oskman, and a graduate of the famous Carlisle School in the States, was arrested here last evening by Provincial Detective Acton. Oskman is appearing at a theatre in Port Huron in a vaudeville skit called "The Single Indian Act," and late in the afternoon, accompanied by a pretty young woman, his partner in the sketch, came over to Sarnia, where he was taken into custody.

The affair, which had its beginning in Kansas City, developed into a laughable farce before the couple were allowed their liberty. About 4 o'clock, Chief Marks, of the American city across the river, telephoned the Sarnia authorities to watch the next boat for a negro and hold him until an officer could be sent over.

When the ferry came in, Oskman was the only one answering the description, and was apprehended and taken to the police station, where he indignantly demanded to know the charge against him. He became furious when he learned that he was taken for a colored man and offered to fight the man who made the remark.

In the meantime, Port Huron had been communicated with, and a sleuth hurried over on the next boat. The officer took one look at the prisoner and said he was not the man wanted. It appears that a negro, wanted in Kansas City for jail breaking, had been captured across the river and was liberated today on a habeas corpus proceeding just as the Kansas City detective arrived in town to take him back.

The fugitive was seen at the ferry dock on the other side, and it was supposed he crossed on the ferry to Sarnia.

The Kansas man was very disappointed when he arrived at the Canadian office to find his search fruitless, but his chagrin was nothing to the indignation of the Carlisle Indian, who expressed his opinion of the treatment accorded him in no gentle terms. Mr. Oskman finally calmed down, however, and intimated that he intended to pay a visit to Chief Jacobs, of the Sarnia Reserve, today.

PROPERTY JUMPING AT POINT EDWARD

Many People Are Buying Up Large Tracts Pending Development.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 22.—Some of the farsighted ones in this vicinity are beginning to buy real estate at Point Edward. Land is ridiculously cheap there now, and those who are speculating are taking advantage of the fact that it is believed that values will increase considerably in the village before long. The new buildings to be erected by the Northern Navigation Company, and the removal of the waterworks to the Point will all contribute to the industrial progress of the place. The greatest impediment to the growth of the village is the Grand Trunk Railway, which owns practically all of the available factory sites ,and doesn't seem inclined to part with any of them.

G. T. R. Spur.

The much talked of Grand Trunk spur at the east end of the town has not been built yet, nor do the citizens who advocated it earlier in the year appear to favor it so strongly now. It cannot be doubted that the spur would mean a great deal towards building up that section of the town, creating some desirable factory sites, and boosting real estate, but there is a reason now why the town should go cautiously in the matter before co-operating with the G. T. R., and that reason is the Canadian Pacific Railway. For should the town allow the former railroad to lay its tracks along the east end of the municipality, it would quite simply block the entrance of the latter road into that boundary of the town. Even as it is the Grand Trunk has Sarnia pretty well tied up so far as rival roads are concerned, and the long-headed businessmen of the town are not inclined to help lighten the strangle hold.

Demand for Gravel.

The sand suckers and gravel carriers are very busy in St. Clair River this month owing to the immense demand for sand and gravel this fall. Owing to certain changes this year in the United States law covering this industry, the vessels are allowed to take their loads from anywhere in American waters less than twenty feet in depth. There is practically no competition in the business because of the gravel trust which is a reality, although some of the officials deny its existence. One or two of the ferry boats running between Sarnia and Port Huron, utilize their spare time towing the sand suckers to their various moorings.

PROTECT PROPERTY

New Bylaw Will Prohibit Livery Stables in Some Districts.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 22.—Property owners are interested in a bylaw before the town council for consideration regulating the districts wherein livery stables may be built. The motive behind the bylaw is to protect real estate in the best residential sections of the town whose value would be depreciated by the proximity of a horse stable, especially at a time when Sarnia is on the verge of a big boom.

BROKE JAIL

Police at Border Are Watching for William White.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 22.—The local police have been warned to watch for a convict named William White, who escaped from the prison farm at Guelph yesterday, and who is believed to be hastening towards Buffalo, N. Y., either by way of this port or via the Falls. A picture of the man has been forwarded to the officers, and a notice of $20 reward for the man's apprehension.

Dominic Dumm was arrested on a warrant yesterday for supplying liquor to an Indian. The warrant has been out for some time, but the man has managed to keep out of sight.

ONLY SLIGHT DAMAGE.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 21.—The fire department was called to the home of Robert Lowe, on Forsythe street, today. The blaze was extinguished before very great damage was done. One of the firemen suffered a cut wrist from glass falling from a broken window.

DEAFNESS, HEAD NOISES

New Book on New Method, How to Recover Hearing Without Drugs or Electric Devices.

MESSAGE OF HOPE AND JOY TO ALL AFFLICTED PERSONS

There is hope of a well based kind which should bring joy and ultimate contentment to multitudes of persons who have been troubled for years with deafness or head-noises.

Dr. Coutant, an able specialist, has evolved a newly perfected method for treating cases where the hearing is not perfect or where the sufferer is harassed by ringing, roaring, buzzing or other disagreeable noises in the head. It appears that about 95 out of every hundred cases are from causes amenable to proper treatment.

Dr. Coutant does not advocate the use of drugs or electricity. He relies chiefly upon co-operating with nature in bringing about a speedy and effectual cure of morbid aural conditions. Remarkable cures are reported. Many of them being in the cases of deafness that have existed 7, 20 to 40 years. With the description given in his newly published book, the learned doctor provides a long series of letters written by persons who have been given up as hopeless, and who were speedily cured at home without loss of time and without inconvenience by Dr. Coutant's natural Home Method.

Anyone who is interested can write to a dozen or a hundred of the persons, who, not long ago, were victims of deafness or head-noises (or both), and who are now delighted to proclaim themselves as marvelously benefited or completely cured.

Dr. Coutant is not one of the irresponsible quacks of which there is such a large number, but is a reputable, responsible, licentiate practicing physician with a third of a century's active experience.

The doctor believes there are many readers of The London Advertiser who are troubled with deafness, etc., who might be permanently freed from their inability to hear and from tinnitus (noises), if they would do as others have successfully done, merely following the advice given.

The book which any Advertiser reader can obtain from the author, Dr. George E. Coutant, 413B, Station E, New York, N. Y., has been declared by many to be worth its weight in gold. One needs only to write for it and the treatise will promptly come in a plain wrapper.

"It Ain't Me," Says Dooin Denies He Wants Cub Job

s Satisfied to Manage the Phillies and Is Not Seeking Frank Chance's Position

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—Charley Dooin, manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, wants none of the game of Charles Webb Murphy, of the Cubs. Dooin today said so, when his attention was called to the fact that the description Murphy gives of the man who is to succeed Chance as manager of the Cubs fits three men—Dooin, Tinker and Evers.

"It ain't me," said Dooin. I don't want to go to the Cubs. I am satisfied right where I am, and here is where I am going to be in 1913. No, sir, I won't go to the Cubs."

It was recalled to Dooin that in days gone by he and Charles Webb Murphy have not been on the very best terms because Dooin blocked some Fogel trades through which some topnotch Phillie players would have gone to the Cubs in exchange for mediocre players.

"Well," remarked Dooin, "that may have something to do with it, but anyway I'm not going, and that's all there is to it.

"I'm not in baseball for my health, and I know which side of the bread my butter is on, and that's the side I am turning to the sun. The sun rises in the east—not at Chicago."

Dooin didn't seem a bit worried over the fact that the Phillies are about to change hands, and that Horace Fogel is about to make his exit as a major league magnate.

"That doesn't make any difference in my contract," said the little red-topped manager. "Baseball owners come and baseball owners go, but a player stays just as long as he can play and he behaves himself. I am still able to play, and I mean to behave myself."

"I wonder who the next owner will be?" remarked Charley, with a chuckle, as he remembered some of the fusses he has had with Fogel.

AUSTRALIA AND KANSAS CITY WANT NONE OF JACK JOHNSON

Hugh McIntosh Cancels His $50,000 Offer and Kansas City Bars Smudge.

Sydney, Australia, Oct. 21. — Jack Johnson will not fight in Australia, Hugh McIntosh, who had offered Johnson $50,000 for fights with Sam Langford and Sam McVey, or Joe Jeannette, cabled today to W. Kelly, his representative, in Chicago, to cancel all negotiations.

McIntosh explained that Johnson's part in the alleged abduction has so angered the sporting men and public of Australia that the matches were no longer desirable.

KANSAS CITY, TOO.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 21.—Jack Johnson, champion pugilist, charged with the abduction of a white girl in Chicago, will not be allowed to appear in any theatre or public hall in Kansas City, Mayor Jost today notified Chief of Police Griffin to warn all theatre managers not to book Johnson for an appearance at their theatres, as it would be an outrage against all decency, and that the license of any theatre or amusement company making such a booking would be revoked.

AUSTRALIAN TEAM LEADS BIG GRIND

First Day of Six-Day Bicycle Race in Toronto Finds Teams Bunched.

BAD SPILL COMES EARLY

Jokus, of Newark, Was Injured, and Forced to Retire—Race Creating Interest at Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 22.—When the Australian team, composed of Grenda and Pye, flashed across the finish line in front of the field in the six-day race at the Arena last night, the teams had covered more than 165 miles since 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when ex-Controller J. J. Ward fired the starting gun. The grind will be resumed at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A Bad Spill.

Ten teams started, but a sensational spill, in which all but three of the riders crashed to the floor, necessitated the withdrawal of one of the combinations. Forty minutes after the commencement of the race, Mitten, of Davenport, Ia., started a terrifice sprint. The others glued on to him, and while the field was bunched pounding the steep bank at the south end of the Arena, Ryan and Grenda collided and fell. Five others piled on top of them, and all but Jokus, of Newark, slid down the embankment to the floor of the building.

Jokus Retires.

Jokus crashed through the guard rail at the top of the track, but managed to cling to an upright and was prevented from dropping fifteen feet over the edge of the track. Jokus sustained a wound in his head which required several stitches. He was otherwise cut and bruised. One of the riders behind Grenda rode over the latter's neck and a second over his ankle, but the giant Australian rose smiling. After a delay of seven minutes the teams started again. Jokus found that he was too badly shaken up, and retired. Krebs, of the team of Krebs and Lawrence, also withdrew. Lawrence then took Drobach, the partner of Jokus, as his mate. They were penalized one lap, according to the rule for effecting the new combination. The teams had all ridden 165 miles and 8 laps when the final bell range last night at 11 o'clock, except the Lawrence-Drobach pair.

The sprinting of Prechicot, of France, and Gardellini, of Italy, was at times sensational, but both failed to get away from the field.

Something New for Toronto.

The centre of the Arena is clustered with little covered cots in which the riders rest while their team mates are keeping up with the leaders. Nurses in uniform give the athletes any attention they may require. Attendants administer coldensed refreshments, and trainers are busy kneading the muscles of the riders. When a sprint is started all is hurry and bustle in the centre of the oval, while riders are hustled out of their comfortable cots by trainers and sent after the flying squad on the track, for fear somebody will gain a lap. It is a very interesting spectacle, and one to which Torontonians are quite unaccustomed.

Some Speed Events.

The race was held up for a few minutes last night while World's Champion Frank Kramer rode an exhibition quarter mile in 26 seconds. Elmer Collins, the great pace follower, did a mile behind a motor in 1:41. Charles Stein and Jimmy Hunter rode a motor race of three miles in 4:34. That's flying some on a twelve-lap track.

The Score.

Score at the end of the first eight hours of the Arena six-days race:

Pye and Grenda, 165 miles 8 laps; Root and Hehir, Cameron and Magin, Thomas and Ryan, Moran and Perchicot, Coburn and Loftes, Diefenbacher and Gardellini, Wells and Mitten, Lawrence and Drobach, 165 miles 7 laps.

Hambourg for Conservatory.

Mr. F. Linforth Willgoose, principal of the London Conservatory of Music, announces the engagement of Jan Hambourg, violinist, as a member of the conservatory staff. Mr. Hambourg is one of the renowned family of Hambourg, being a son of Prof. Michael Hambourg, and a brother of Mark Hambourg, pianist, and Boris Hambourg, 'cellist. A pupil of Wilhelmj, Sauret, Heerman and Ysaye, he combines with his own methods of interpretation and teaching, the greatest qualities of these world—renowned violin masters, which places him on a plane entirely his own, as compared with other violin teachers of the present day.

For particulars regarding terms, etc., apply to the registrar of the London Conservatory of Music. 42u

Joe Wood Was Once a Bloomer Girl

Joe Wood's start in professional baseball really dates from the time the Bloomer Girls, an itinerant aggregation made up mostly of women, visited Ness City, Kansas. Joe pitched that game for Ness City and the girls said: "How can we hit the ball when we can't see it?" The score was 19 to 1 in favor of Ness City, and when the Bloomer Girls played the next town Joe was with them, a fine-looking 17-year-old "girl," and remained with them during the season.

He next pitched for the Hutchinson, Kas., nine, and from there he went to Kansas City. He astonished both the professionals and fans, for he was still but a boy of 18 years. From there he went to the Boston Red Sox, and this year he has been astonishing the baseball world. The enthusiasm of Joe's boyhood friends at Ness City verges on the sentimental. They are all Red Sox fans, and are planning a great reception for their hero.

What's in a name? If you were to go up to a rugby football player and refer to the ball as the pork-cuticle, he would look at you with an air of "What-do-you-know-about-it?" And yet, why the pigskin?

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Rugby football is a nice, gentle pastime, which is heartily indorsed by the doctors and undertakers. Its great advantage is the development of the human body; that is, it develops a fine, hardy specimen of manhood into a walking advertisement for the crutch manufacturers.

Rugby is played with an egg-shaped affair called a pigskin, and followers of the game are called rooters; another slander on the fair name of the pig. It is a simple game when one gets to understand it; yes, indeed, very simple. But the main trouble is that it takes about an ordinary lifetime to become on speaking terms with the rules. Then the Hoenning rules are changed.

Rugby was originally invented in England, but it strayed into Hamilton, Ontario, one foggy day, and since then the natives of that hamlet have fostered it with such jealousy that the police reserves are called out every time a game is played there. It has proven the only successful means of prying a Hamilton fan from a two-bit piece. Comparison of the baseball and football attendances in that city prove this.

Rugby is generally played on a nice smooth field, but in Petrolea they have adopted a new plan, the game in that town on Saturday being played in a cornfield. The players will verify this.

Johnny Evers is mentioned as the likely successor to Frank Chance as leader of the Cubs. As a man who can get himself expelled from the field on a moment's notice, Evers has Hughie Jennings and the rest of the boys backed off the landscape.

RALPH DE PALMA ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL BED

Famous Auto Driver Was Up for First Time on Monday.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 21.—For the first time since the accident in which he was seriously injured when his car went into the ditch in the Grand Prix race, Ralph de Palma, the noted motor car driver, is able to leave his bed in Trinity Hospital. De Palma was assisted into a wheel chair and taken to the window, where he remained for the greater part of the day.

SOME CRUCIAL SPOTS IN WORLD'S SERIES RECENTLY DECIDED

1. Wood's great achievement in fanning Fletcher and Crandall in the ninth inning, first game, with men on second and third and one run needed to tie.

2. Doyle's wonderful stop in the ninth round of the second battle, with the winning run coming over.

3. Devore's remarkable catch in right when Cady drove a wallop over his head, with two runs coming over with the victory in the third game.

4. Remarkable plays by Wagner and Yerkes which saved Wood in his second stand—four one-handed plays back of second base within two rounds in the fourth game.

5. Hooper's miraculous catch of Doyle's mighty drive which otherwise would have cleared the wall for a home run, winning the eighth game.

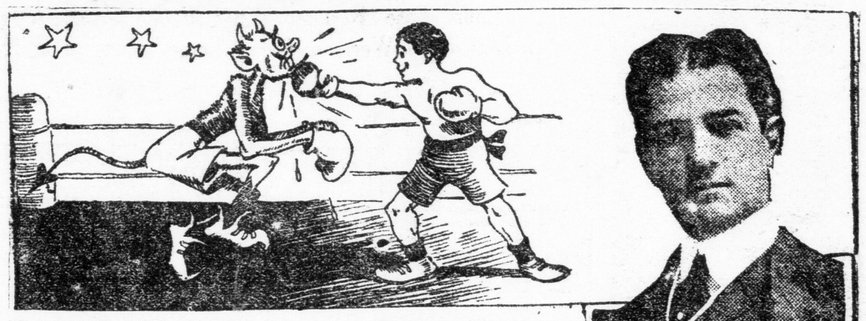

American League Is Supreme In National Sports Once More

The American League is supreme in baseball once again. As a result of the Boston Red Sox's victory over the New York Giants, the Johnsonian organization tops the National League in world's series victories five to four. Here are the figures:

Year.	Winning Club.	Losing Club.	Games.
1903	Boston (A.)	Pittsburg (N.)	5—3
1905	New York (N.)	Athletics (A.)	4—1
1906	Chicago (A.)	Chicago (N.)	4—2
1907	Chicago (N.)	Detroit (A.)	4—0
1908	Chicago (N.)	Detroit (A.)	4—1
1909	Pittsburg (N.)	Detroit (A.)	4—3
1910	Athletics (A.)	Chicago (N.)	4—1
1911	Athletics (A.)	New York (N.)	4—2
1912	Boston (A.)	New York (N.)	4—3

Notes—Chicago and Detroit played a tie game in 1907, while the Red Sox and Giants played a tie game this year. Although the American League teams have won five world's series to four for the National Leaguers, the latter have the edge in games won, 27 to 26.

Kid McCoy Says He's Going to Become as Evangelist and the Devil Had Better Look to His Laurels

"Rev. Norman Selby, formerly Kid McCoy."

That is what you will see one of these days if Kid McCoy, the clever "pug," lives up to his present intentions of renouncing the ring for the pulpit.

McCoy, the trickiest of all boxers of all time, declares that his 39 years of life have been misspent, and that the rest of his days will be spent in ministering to mankind, to helping others. In short, Kid McCoy proposes to become an evongelist, a rival of Billy Sunday, if you please.

In his new work McCoy will have an enthusiastic second in his wife, the sixth woman, by the way, to be known as Mrs. Kid McCoy.

McCoy's ring battles have been surpassed in interest only by his matrimonial ventures. Eight times he has gone to the altar, and seven times he has appeared in the divorce court. One of his wives, Mrs. Julia Cresselman, he wed and divorced three times. From the others he likewise obtained a legal separation with the exception, of course, of his present wife, who, before her marriage to him was Mrs. Edna Valentine Hein.

McCoy's decision should occasion no surprise. In the score of years he has been before the public he has shown himself a most versatile fellow. Between fighting, marrying and divorcing, he has found time to open and go broke in a cafe, in a jewelry store, in a hospital for broken-down men, and finally on the lecture platform.

His confinement in a London prison was the direct cause of his latest decision.

He was in jail only a few days, while his wife was proving to the authorities that charges made to the Belgian Government that he had stolen $8,000 worth of jewels from the Princess of Thurn and Taxis were untrue. But those few days gave McCoy time to read and think. His reading, so he says, included the philosophies of Epicurus, Aristotle, Plato and Christ.

"I do not intend to go back to boxing," he said, after his release. "I am going to the country I love — America —and my life will be for the betterment of mankind, to which I intend to devote the balance of my days. I cannot express the gratitude I bear my wife for her goodness while this thing has been pending, but I hope to prove my worth later."

A GOOD WORD FOR BILL

The Winnipeg Free Press, in its sporting columns of Saturday, Oct. 19, has the following boost for "Bill" Borland, who is captain of the Western University Rugby football team:

"Bill Borland, last year's captain of the Conservative-Tiger football team, who left for London (Ontario) last spring, has been appointed captain of the Rugby squad of the eastern city. Billy proved himself a crack half-back last year, and his sterling kicking should be a great source of strength to the London team."

NEW YORK SHERIFF JUMPS INTO RING

Stopped a Bout Between Gunboat Smith and Jim Stewart.

New York, Oct. 21.—Sheriff Harburger stopped the bout between Gunboat Smith, of California, and Jim Stewart, of Brooklyn, at the end of the seventh round at Madison Square Gardens tonight. Stewart had been punished severely from the start, but his ring generalship enabled him to avoid a knockout blow.

Smith, who weighed in at 180 pounds, 15 pounds lighter than Stewart, floored the heavier man twice in the opening round with a left hook and a right swing. In the third round Stewart was saved by the bell. It is the first time that the sheriff has entered the ring to stop a bout of any importance.

Joe Sieger, the Denver welter, was defeated by Eddie Sherlin, of Boston, the referee interfering in the third round when Sieger was in a groggy condition.

Joe Thomas, the New Orleans lightweight, gave a clever exhibition of boxing and completely outpointed William Beecher, of New York.

WENT OVER BANK

Horses at Petrolea Were Frightened by M. C. R. Locomotive.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Petrolea, Oct. 22.—A team of horses took fright at the M. C. R. engine last evening and made a lively run down Main street. They crossed the bridge, but went over the bank on the flats. The team and wagon went down a six-foot slope and landed against a fence. The wagon was considerably damaged, but the team was little the worse for the tumble.

Blake Parks, of Detroit, spent Sunday with his parents here.

Geo. Brown left today for the Trinidad oil territory. This is his third trip to foreign fields.

"That," said Mr. Dustin Stax, "is a magnificent art treasure." "How do you know? By the painter's signature?" "No. By my own signature on the check I gave the dealer."—Washington Star.

"Why did the elopement fall through?" "We had a signal arranged. She told me to come to her window and make a noise like a robin. I did so." "Yes?" "Then her father popped out and made a noise like a shotgun."—Washington Herald.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR BILL JAMES, OF NAPS, WHEN AUTO TURNS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 21.—Bill James, a pitcher on the staff of the Cleveland American League Club, and Alfred Gray narrowly escaped serious injury when the automobile in which they were driving ran into a ditch and turned turtle on the Tower Hill, just north of this city.

The machine was badly smashed, but both occupants escaped unhurt. Gray was driving, and as the machine approached a turn in the road he attempted to light a cigarette and James took the wheel. He was unable to keep the machine in the road and the result was a somersault into the ditch. The top of the car was smashed, the mud-guards broken and the machine otherwise badly injured.

AUSTRALIANS PLAY CRICKET AT WYOMING

Score 156 Runs in First Under Trying Weather Conditions.

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—Playing in weather which was more suited to rugby than cricket, the Australian cricketers made their appearance here today in a two days' match against an all-star Winnipeg team, and though playing under conditions which were a great handicap to them, the visitors showed rare form in the first inning of play. The locals went to bat first, and succeeded in running up a total of 106 runs against the strong bowling and fast fielding of the "Down Unders."

The feature of the play was the wicket-keeping of Carkeek for the Australians, he being responsible for the dismissal of three men by some fast stumping. The Australians scored 156 in their first inning.

"BILL" CARRIGAN GETS A GASOLENE BUGGY

Was Welcomed By His Fellow Townsmen on Arrival Home.

Lewiston, Me., Oct. 22.—"Bill" Carrigan, veteran catcher for the Boston Red Sox, the new world's baseball champions, was given an automobile by his fellow townsmen last night as the climax to a welcome home.

A parade met Carrigan and Capt. Heinie Wagner at the railroad station and escorted the players to the city hall, where the mayor and other prominent citizens eulogized the players and presented the automobile to Carrigan.

With Wagner and other members of the Red Sox, Carrigan plans a hunting trip in the Maine woods in a few days.

MURPHY SAYS CUBS ARE WORTH MILLION

Says Rumor That He Intends Selling His Stock Is Absurd.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Charles Webb Murphy, chief owner of the Cubs, denies that he intended selling the club to Max Fleischmann, of Cincinnati.

"Absurd," was the only comment the usually talkative president would make. Then getting down to his present unpopularity with the Chicago fans, he added:

"I am running this club, and will run it to suit myself. I am giving the public a good article of baseball, and that ought to satisfy them. I hold the club to be worth $1,000,000, for we have made that much profit out of it in the past seven years."

LARRY DOYLE FINED FOR PLAYING SUNDAY

Five Dollars of World's Series Money Paid Into Court.

New York, Oct. 21.—Capt. Larry Doyle, of the New York Giants; Arlie Latham and Ted Thompson, members of Doyle's "stars," were fined $5 each today for playing ball here on Sunday. The arrest of Doyle and his players followed a game yesterday at Lennox oval, in the upper part of the city. It is against the law to charge admission to a Sunday ball game in New York.

THIS WOMAN'S TROUBLES GONE

Terrible Cramps, Dizzy Spells Nervousness, Misery—Her Story of How She Got Well Again.

Hindsboro, Ill.—"Your remedies have relieved me of all my troubles. I would have such bearing down misery and cramps and such weak, nervous, dizzy spells that I would have to go to bed. Some days I could hardly stay up long enough to get a meal.

"The doctor's medicine did me no good so I changed to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got good results from the first bottle. I kept on taking it and used the Sanative Wash with it, until I was well again. I think every woman who suffers as I have, could take no better medicine."—Mrs. CHARLES MATTISON, Box 58, Hindsboro, Ill.

Testimony of Trained Nurse.

Cathlamet, Wash.—"I am a nurse and when I do much lifting I have a female weakness, but I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot say enough in praise of it. I always recommend it for female troubles."—Mrs. ELVA BARBER EDWARDS, Box 54, Cathlamet, Wash.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

The Silent Barrier

(BY LOUIS TRACY.)

Sure enough, a man in uniform approached and lifted his gold-laced cap. "We have a rather crowded ship, Mr. Bower," he said; "but you will be quite comfortable there. I suppose you deemed the weather too fine to need your usual cabin?"

"Yes. I have a companion today, you see."

Helen was a little bewildered by this; but it was very pleasant to claim undisputed possession of a quiet retreat from which to watch others trying to find chairs. And, although Bower had a place reserved by her side, he did not sit down. He chatted for a few minutes on such eminently safe topics as the smooth sea, the superiority of turbine engines in the matter of steadiness, the advisability of lunching in the train after leaving Calais, rather than on board the ship, and soon betook himself aft, there to smoke and chat with some acquaintances whom he fell in with. Dover Castle was becoming a gray blur on the horizon when he spoke to Helen again.

"You look quite comfortable," he said pleasantly, "and it is wise not to risk walking about if you are afraid of being ill."

"I used to cross in bad weather without consequences," she answered; "but I am older now, and am doubtful of experiments."

"You were educated abroad, then?"

"Yes. I was three years in Brussels—three happy years."

"Ah! Why qualify them? All your years are happy, I should imagine, if I may judge by appearances."

"Well, if happiness can be defined as contentment, you are right; but I have had my sad periods, too, Mr. Bower. I lost my mother when I was eighteen, and that was a blow under which I have never ceased to wince. Fortunately, I had to seek consolation in work. Added to good health, it makes for content."

"You are quite a philosopher. Will you pardon my curiosity? I, too, lead the strenuous life. Now, I should like to have your definition of work. I am not questioning your capacity. My wonder is that you should mention it at all."

"But why? Any man who knows what toil is should not regard women as dolls."

"I prefer to look on them as goddesses."

Helen smiled. "I fear, then, you will deem my pedestal a sorry one," she said. "Perhaps you think, because you met me once in Miss Jaques' company, and again here, travelling de luxe, that I am in her set. I am not. By courtesy I am called a 'secretary'; but the title might be shortened into 'typist.' I help Professor Von Eulenberg with his—scientific researches."

Though it was on the tip of her tongue to say "beetles," she substituted the more dignified phrase. Bower was very nice and kind; but she felt that "beetles" might sound somewhat flippant and lend a too familiar tone to their conversation.

"Von Eulenberg? I have heard of him. Quite a distinguished man in his own line; an authority on—moths, is it?"

"Insects generally."

She blushed and laughed outright, not only at the boomerang effect of her grandiloquent description of the professor's industry, but the absurdity of her position. Above all else, Helen was candid, and there was no reason why she should not enlighten a comparative stranger who seemed to take a friendly interest in her.

"I ought to explain," she went on, "that I am going to the Engadine as a journalist. I have had the good fortune to be chosen for a very pleasant task. Hence this present grandeur, which, I assure you, is not a usual condition of entomological secretaries."

Bower pretended to ward off some unexpected attack. "I have done nothing to deserve a hard word like that, Miss Wynton," he cried. "I shall not recover till we reach Calais. May I sit beside you while you tell me what it means?"

"She made room for him. "Strictly speaking, it is nonsense," she said.

"Excellent. That is the better line for women who are young and pretty. We jaded men of the world hate to be serious when we leave business behind. Now, you would scarce credit what a lively youngster I am when I come abroad for a holiday. I always kiss my fingers to Phœbus at the first sight of her fair face. She bubbles like her own champagne, whereas London invariably reminds me of beer."

"Do I take it that you prefer gas to frogs?"

"You offer me diffident alternatives, yet I accept them. Though gas is as dreadful a description of champagne as entomological is of a certain type of secretary, I would venture to point out that it expands, effervesces, soars even to greater heights; but beer, froth and all, tends to become flat, stale and unprofitable."

"I assure you my knowledge of both is limited. I had never even tasted champagne until the other day."

"When you lunched with Millicent at the Embankment Hotel?"

"Well, yes. She was at school with me, and we met last week by accident. She is making quite a success at the Wellington Theatre, is she not?"

"So I hear. I am a director of that concern, but I seldom go there."

"How odd that sounds to one who saves up her pennies to attend a favorite play!"

"Then you must have my address, and when I am in town you need never want a stall at any theatre in London. Now, that is no idle promise. I mean it. Nothing would give me greater pleasure than to think you were enjoying something through my instrumentality."

"How exceedingly kind of you! I shall take you at your word. What girl would not?"

"I know quite a number who regard me as an ogre. I am not a lady's man in the general sense of the term, Miss Wynton. I might tell you more about myself if it were not for signs that the next five minutes will bring us to Calais. You are far too independent, I suppose, that I should offer to carry your bag; but will you allow me to reserve a joint table for dejeuner? There will be a rush for the first service, which is the best, as a rule, and I have friends at court on this line. Please don't say you are not hungry."

"That would be impolite and horribly untrue," laughed Helen.

He took the implied permission and hurried away. They did not meet again until he came to her carriage in the train.

"Is this where you are?" he cried, looking up at her through the open window. "I am in the next block, as they say in America. When you are ready I shall take you to the dining-car. Come out on the platform. The corridors are simply impassable. And here are baskets of peaches, and ripe pears, and all manner of pleasant fruits. Yes, try the corridor to the right, and charge resolutely. If you inflict the maximum injury on others you seldom damage yourself."

In a word, Mark Bower spoke as lightheartedly as he professed to feel, and Helen had no cause whatever to be other than thankful for the chance that brought him to Switzerland on the same day and in the same train as herself. His delicate consideration for her well-being was manifested in many ways. That such a man, whom she knew to be a figure of importance in the financial world, should take an interest in the simple chronicles of her past life, was a flattering thing in itself. He listened sympathetically to the story of her struggles since the death of her mother. The consequent stoppage of the annuity paid to the widow of an Indian civilian rendered it necessary that Helen should supplement by her own efforts the fifty pounds a year allotted to her "until death or marriage."

"There are plenty of country districts where I could exist quite easily on such a sum," she said, "but I declined to be buried alive in that fashion, and I made up my mind to earn my own living. Somehow, London appeals to young people situated as I was. It is there that the great prizes are to be gained; so I came to London."

"From——" broke in Bower, who was peeling one of the peaches bought at Calais.

"From a village near Sheringham, in Norfolk."

He nodded with smiling comprehension when she detailed her struggles with editors who could detect no originality in her literary work.

"But that phase has passed now," he said encouragingly.

"Well, it looks like it. I hope so, for I am tired of classifying beetles."

There—the word was out at last. Perhaps Bower wondered why she laughed and blushed at the recollection of her earlier determination to suppress Von Eulenberg's "specimens" as a topic of conversation. Already the stiffness of their talk on board the steamship seemed to have vanished completely. It was really a pleasant way of passing the time to sit and chat in this glass palace while the train skimmed over a dull land of marshes and poplars.

"Beetles, though apt to be flighty, are otherwise dull creatures," he said. "May I ask what paper you are representing on your present tour?"

It was an obvious and harmless question, but Helen was loyal to her bond. "It sounds absurd to have to say it, but I am pledged to secrecy," she answered. "Good gracious! Don't tell me you intend to interview anarchists, or runaway queens, or the other disgruntled people who live in Switzerland. Moreover, they usually find quarters in Geneva, while you presumably are bound for the Engadine."

"Oh, no. My work lies in less excitable circles. 'Life in a Swiss Hotel' would be nearer the mark."

"Apart from the unusual surroundings, you will find it suspiciously like life in a Norfolk village, Miss Wynton," said Bower. He paused, tasted the peach and made a grimace. "Sour!" he protested. "Really, when all is said and done, the only place in which one can buy a decent peach is in London."

"Ah, a distinct score for Britain!"

POSTMASTER FOR 22 YEARS DISMISSED WITHOUT CAUSE

Correspondent Protests Against Treatment of Postmaster at Iona Station—Mr. Crothers' Conduct.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

It seems to me that grave injustice has been indulged in by our present Government, through its Minister of Labor, in the case of the dismissal from office of the postmaster at Iona Station, Ont. Those of us, who look through the eye of "right and honor" more than through party spectacles, are unable to allow such mean underhand work to pass by unnoticed, and I shall be glad, therefore, if you will, through the medium of your valuable paper, bring the matter before the public that they may judge for themselves.

I find that Mr. J. E. Gage, who has been postmaster at Iona Station for eighteen years, and assistant postmaster at Palmyra for four years previously, has been dismissed from office without just cause.

The facts connected with this farce are as follows: On Sept. 4 the Minister of Labor wrote Mr. Gage intimating four complaints against him—politically—three of which were lies, and the fourth only half a truth and half a lie.

A few days later these charges were clearly shown to the minister to be false, as Mr. Gage had not shown political partisanship. Evidently the charges were simply used as a cloak to hide the real motive, which was the dismissal of officials who did not show clearly that they favored his election, for I find that, after the charges had been refuted, the minister wrote to one of his electors stating that "the charges have been established beyond any question whatever," which was grossly untrue.

Now Mr. Gage has, for twenty-two years in all, under the administration of Conservative governments, as well as throughout Sir Wilfrid Laurier's term, served the public faithfully and without complaint, yet in this day of enlightment the public permits such deeds of corruption to be carried out, which aim at the destruction of pure government and take us back to the days of the Roman republic.

I write concerning this matter not because of any partisanship element in my own thinking. No! I would positively condemn, as many of the electors of Mr. Crothers are doing such petty trafficking with power by whoever it was carried on; it is a disgrace to any administration under which it is perpetrated.

We people of Canada, if we are to profit by the mistakes of older lands, must refuse emphatically to permit such men to hold offices in our Government, else, instead of a mighty march forward, our nationality will be swamped by the cunning wiles of party politicians, who, instead of seeking in every way to place legislation upon the highest, purest and noblest footing, will betray the very trust placed, or I should say "misplaced" in them.

Would that honor, unselfish motives and integrity, characterized all those who hold office under the government of our country? Let the non-partisan voice of the Canadian people be heard against such scandals as the one I have mentioned, for surely this is a question upon which we hear the voice, not of any of the followers of any political party, but the voice of Canadians—haters of evil and corruption, and lovers of liberty, freedom and right!

DISLIKING HER LOVER GREEK SHOOTS SISTER

[Canadian Press.]

Chicopee, Mass., Oct. 22.—John Petropoulos, a Greek weaver, shot and killed his sister Theodora, 18 years old, last night, because he did not like her lover, according to the police. Petropoulos, who has been preparing to return to Greece to fight against Turkey, used a revolver which he had bought as part of his equipment. He escaped following the shooting, and it was the opinion of the police that he is on his way to New York to join some of the bands of his countrymen, which are forming there to go to the Balkans.

Every Woman's Hair Should Be Beautiful

(From Style and Fashion, New York.)

"Beautiful, glossy and lustrous hair is within reach of every woman who will only try," said Mme. LeClaire, the French beauty specialist, today.

"Stop your scrubbing, rubbing and rinsing. Such shampoos give you a headache, keep you indoors the better part of a day, and expose you to catching cold.

"Every woman who wants abundant, lustrous hair should use a dry shampoo. Mix four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of therox. Sprinkle about a teaspoonful of this mixture upon the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair.

"This cleanses the scalp and hair and gives the hair a beautiful glossy lustre—in addition to making it light and fluffy. Therox encourages the growth of hair."

FATALLY SHOOTS WOMAN AND TAKES HIS LIFE

Negro Chauffeur Puts Five Bullets Into Body of Former Employer.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 22.—Miss Mildred Kelly was pursued last night by a negro, who was formerly her chauffeur, to an apartment, where she had sought refuge from his annoyances and was shot and probably fatally wounded. Charles E. Lee, the negro who shot her, committed suicide.

According to George Agrett, in whose apartment Miss Kelly was shot, she was wealthy and lived at Astoria, L. I., until recently, employing Lee as her chauffeur until he became obnoxious to her.

The shooting occurred while the woman was alone in the apartment. What happened is not known in detail, but when Agrett returned he found Miss Kelly with five bullet wounds in her body, lying against the door of his apartment.

BOY'S FOOT BADLY SCALDED

MOTHER SAYS ZAM-BUK ACTED LIKE MAGIC.

Mrs. E. Capell, 31 Sydney street, Hamilton, tells how beneficial Zam-Buk proved in her family. She writes: "My little boy, aged one and a half years, put his foot into a pot of boiling water. The foot was so badly scalded that the skin came off with his stocking, and he had a shocking scald from instep to toes.

"I at once sent for a supply of Zam-Buk, and as soon as this was applied it seemed to act like magic and gave him ease. It was good to tell that Zam-Buk stopped the pain, because up to applying it I had to nurse the child all the time, but soon after I applied Zam-Buk he was anxious to get on the floor and go on with his play!

"I only used four boxes of Zam-Buk, and the scald was then entirely healed; so I consider this the best investment I ever made. I believe Zam-Buk would have cured the scald even more quickly had the boy been lying down all the time, but after beginning with Zam-Buk it made the sore so easy that he was soon on his feet and playing about again.

"I might also tell you that my next boy to him, aged five years, had some bad broken chilblains. We used Zam-Buk on these also and it cured them. For sores of any kind I shall in future use only Zam-Buk."

Housekeepers everywhere speak similarly of Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, rashes, ringworm, chapped hands, scurvy, heat rashes, cuts, burns, ulcers, discharging sores, abscesses, piles, inflammation, festering and all skin injuries and diseases. Fifty cents a box, all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, for price. For skin diseases use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25 cents a tablet.

HAPPY THOUGHT

Why Bread is Better Baked in Some Ranges Than in Others

It is all a matter of the way the heat gets into the oven.

Some stoves have ovens that heat easily and quickly and remain very hot.

Others have ovens that require a wasteful amount of fire in the fire-box before baking heat is reached.

These are the two extremes. For some things each type has advantages. But for all your requirements neither is really satisfactory.

"Happy Thought" Ranges give you the heat in the oven that exactly corresponds with the fire in the firebox. So a little fire means a light heat and a big fire means a perfect hot-blast in the oven.

In baking bread, this feature enables you to secure the benefit of every ounce of heat—to make every lump of coal pay for itself—to continue the heat steadily for as long as you wish in order to have the bread baked uniformly all the way through.

More than a Quarter Million Canadian women use the "Happy Thought" every day.

WESTERN ONTARIO NEWS

BAPTIST CONVENTION TALKS OF MISSIONS

The Home and Grand Ligne Reports Prove Highly Encouraging.

Brantford, Oct. 21. — The proceedings of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec continued this morning with the presentation of the report of the representatives on the Grand Ligne Mission Board by Rev. G. R. Welch, of Aylmer, Ont. The report as presented shows that the finances of the mission are in an excellent condition. The total expenditure during the year was $26,648; the income $1,024 in excess of that of the previous year. Contributions from both the United States and from Great Britain have been increased. An extension of the buildings at Grande Ligne is under way.

The work of the mission has met with success. There have been many baptisms and converts during the year. The members of the French churches are learning to give much more liberally. At Feller Institute there is a large attendance of students.

Home Missions.

The work of the home mission board covers various classes of work; English work in the cities and towns of old Ontario; the establishment of work in the centres of New Ontario, in seventy of which work is now carried on, as compared with 7 in the year 1900; and work among the foreign immigrants wherever they are gathered together in the large cities or in the new areas of the province. This foreign work is being done in the following centres: Deer Lake, Port Arthur, Kenora, and Bergland in New Ontario; in Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal and Fort William, while Oshawa, Acton and Ottawa Baptists are contemplating work among the many foreigners in these places.

The pledges to the diamond jubilee fund of the home mission board have now reached a total of $42,000. The regular income of the board during the year was $47,317, an increase of over $7,000 on the regular income of the preceding year. That the spiritual conditions of the home mission churches is good is evidenced by the large number of baptisms reported.

The adoption of the report was moved by Rev. C. G. Smith, B.D., of Belleville, and seconded by Rev. C. H. Schutt, M.A., B.D., of Toronto. Rev. Mr. Smith emphasized the fact that the home mission representatives in the various associations might greatly help the superintendent, Dr. Norton, by acquainting themselves with the circumstances of the mission churches in their associations. Rev. Mr. Schutt emphasized the importance of the foreign work of the board in view of the great foreign immigration. He also urged that the salaries of home mission pastors be raised to a higher standard.

Mr. A. Naydovitch, leader of the Slavic work in Montreal, was introduced by Dr. Gordon and addressed the convention briefly.

The following were elected to fill vacancies on the home mission board: Mr. H. L. Stark, Mr. D. Carkner, Rev. C. Schutt, Dr. B. D. Thomas.

Rev. John Kolesnikoff, of Toronto, was introduced to the convention, and spoke briefly. He stated that calls were constantly coming to him to establish work among the Russians and Ruthenians in many parts of the province.

BRUSSELS TO VOTE ON LOCAL OPTION

Temperance People Are Confident of Success in Coming Campaign.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Brussels, Oct. 21.—The council has decided to submit a local option by-law to the electors in January. Temperance people here are working hard, and are confident of success.

At the next meeting of the local W. C. T. U. superintendents of the various departments will be chosen.

Jabez Jermyn has sold his 100-acre farm in Morris Township, to Councillor Elston, who is an old resident of Morris.

Charlie, the 6-year-old son of Frank M. Smith, Morris, has been very seriously ill with appendicitis.

Rev. Dr. Oaten is conducting a series of evangelistic services at Cranbrooke.

The salary of Miss Dora Smith, teacher of the entrance department of Brussels public school, has been increased to $600 per annum.

Miss Pearl Bateman, of Ethel, has been laid up with blood-poisoning in her hand. She is now making a good recovery.

Auction sales have been plentiful, and stock is selling at high prices.

Dr. and Mrs. Lowthian, of Unionville, Mich., are here on a visit with the former's sister, Mrs. George Rogers.

Miss Belle Richardson, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., formerly of Brussels, was united in marriage to George Levi, of Steelton, Ont., recently. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. A. Wall. One of the wedding presents was a fine oak rocker from the Methodist Church choir, of which the bride was a member.

MR. NEELY CAN'T HIDE BITTERNESS AT NOMINATION

Indulges in Personalities Toward Mr. Sutherland in Regard to Family "Feud."

INDEPENDENT NOMINEE A FOE OF THE BAR

Declares Himself in Favor of Leader Rowell's Policy—An Uneventful Meeting.

The nomination meeting at Pottersburg Monday afternoon was an extremely quiet affair. About 70 persons were in attendance, and they did not make the welkin ring with enthusiasm.

Mr. George Neely, ex-M. P. P., the Conservative candidate, made an attack on Mr. William Sutherland, the independent candidate, but the latter paid no attention whatever to the statements of the Conservative candidate.

Mr. Sutherland made a brief speech, in which he declared that he was nominated as an independent candidate, and would remain such. He came out strongly in favor of Mr. N. W. Rowell's "Abolish the Bar" campaign, saying that he would certainly support that measure in the Legislature, unless Sir James Whitney introduced a measure going still further.

Financial Agents Named.

The nominations closed at 2 o'clock, the names of Mr. Sutherland and Mr. Neely being the only ones presented. Returning Officer Rose then announced that the financial agents for the candidates were Mr. A. H. M. Graydon, barrister, of London, for Mr. Neely, and Mr. David Lawson, of Hubrey, for Mr. Sutherland. Mr. Rose was then appointed chairman of the meeting, and he called upon Mr. Neely for the first speaker.

Mr. Neely, in opening, expressed regret at the death of the late member for East Middlesex, Mr. Robert Sutherland. He stated that he would rather have had the riding opened for any other cause than the death of the late member. He then commenced a recital of the virtues of the Whitney Government, dealing with many things that had been undertaken since the Conservative administration had come into power.

He dwelt at some length on the educational system under the Whitney regime, and recited various figures calculated to show the advancement of the present system over that of the Ross Government. He also spoke for some time on the work done by Hon. Frank Cochrane, in connection with the Northern Ontario timber limits, stating that this was one of the greatest sources of revenue that the Whitney Government had opened up since it came into power.

In conclusion, Mr. Neeley referred briefly to Mr. Rowell's "Abolish the Bar" policy.

"The slogan, 'Abolish the Bar,' may sound all very well," he said, "but it is easier said than done."

Whitney Not Always Right?

"The London Advertiser," he continued, "printed a statement that I follow Whitney in everything. I do not wish to be quoted that way. If I followed Mr. Whitney I would not always be right, for Mr. Whitney is wrong sometimes. I do not wish to be represented that way."

In speaking of Mr. William Sutherland, the opposing candidate, Mr. Neeley stated that he had never had a row with Mr. Sutherland in his life. He had slight differences with the late Robert Sutherland, he admitted.

"I will say, however," he continued heatedly, "that William Sutherland peddled more stuff to my ear concerning his brother than anyone else."

He wound up his remarks by attacking Mr. Sutherland's action in coming out in support of the Liberal policy.

Mr. Sutherland followed, and was given a cordial greeting. He declared that he did not come to make a speech.

"I did not have time to prepare a speech as Mr. Neely has done," said Mr. Sutherland. "I was pressed to become a candidate by a number of friends of my late brother, who did not care to have his name traduced.

Asked By Conservatives.

"A large number of Conservatives also asked me to allow my name to stand, and I have consented. I am an independent candidate. I will support the "Abolish the Bar" policy of Mr. Rowell, unless Sir James Whitney introduces something better. I will give the best possible service to the riding if I am elected, and will do all I can for my constituents."

Mr. Neely followed for a very brief space of time, but added nothing to what he had already said.

Mr. Rose declared the meeting closed, and it was adjourned at once.

DIED AT PAISLEY

Mrs. George McLelland Was Ill Only a Few Days.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Paisley, Oct. 21.—The funeral of Mrs. George McLelland, held this afternoon to Purdy's Cemetery, from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Alex. McCrae, was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Diehl. Deceased had only been ill a few days. She was in her 77th year, and is survived by one son, Mr. James McLelland, of Ethel, and two daughters, Mrs. Hughes, of Shallow Lake, and Mrs. McCrae, with whom she made her home.

SMOOTH SWINDLERS WORK INGERSOLL

Sold Cloth Which They Claimed Came From Ireland on Duke's Yacht.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Oct. 22.—A warning has been sounded by Chief of Police Fysh to citizens generally regarding the purchase of cloth from two strangers, who sell by the door-bell method. It is stated that in making their sales they misrepresent, inasmuch as they state that the goods were brought from Ireland, and that they came to this country on the Duke of Sutherland's yacht.

The chief has learned that the goods are not worth the price asked, and that the vendors have been purchasing cloth from a Toronto wholesale house. It is understood that already considerable of the cloth has been disposed of here, and that many of the purchasers had considered they had been fortunate.

FIRE THREATENED WALKERTON FACTORY

Damage at Spool and Bobbin Plant Will Reach $5,000.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

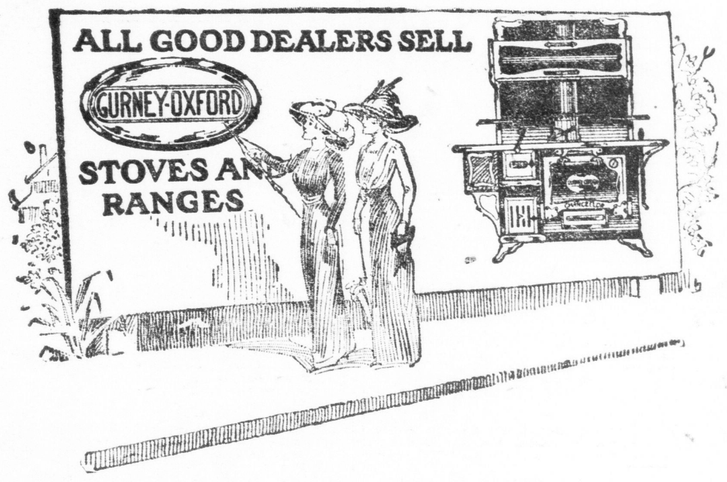

Walkerton, Oct. 22. — Fire which for a time threatened the big factory of the Canadian Spool and Bobbin Company, broke out shortly before midnight last night, and before it could be gotten under control had swept through the engine room and sawmill. Hard work on the part of the local brigade checked the flames at this point and prevented the main factory from being gutted. The fire had made great headway before it was noticed, and when the department arrived the sawmill and engine house were a mass of flames. The total loss will reach about $5,000.

PASTOR RESIGNS

Rev. A. E. Cooke to Retire Owing to Ill-Health.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, Oct. 21.—After yesterday's service, Rev. A. E. Cooke, pastor of Christ's Congregational Church, of this city, intimated to the members that he will tender his resignation to the board on Tuesday evening. The reason leading up to this decision was the fact that Mrs. Cooke's health would not permit of her residence in this climate. Rev. Mr. Cooke came to the local church from Speedside some fourteen months ago, succeeding Rev. J. A. Gerrie.

CLEANSE YOUR LIVER AND BOWELS WITH DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Removes the Sour Bile, Gases and Clogged-Up Waste Without Gripe, or Nausea—No Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness or Coated Tongue

Foul breath, coated tongue, dull, throbbing headache, stomach sour and full of gases, indigestion, biliousness, and a sallow complexion, mean that your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with waste matter, that these drainage organs of the body are obstructed, liver stagnant and stomach full of poisonous gases, sour bile and undigested, fermenting food not properly caried off.

Most of our ills are caused by constipated bowels. We all need a laxative sometimes; nobody can doubt that. The only question is, Which one is the best? and that isn't a question any more. Syrup of Figs, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, must act in a harmless, gentle and natural way. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without injury. Its action is the action of fruit—of eating coarse food—of taking exercise. It is a true and effective liver and bowel cleanser and regulator.

Most folks dread physic—they shrink from the taste and after effects. Syrup of Figs is delicious, and, besides, you don't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged-up waste of the system is gently but thoroughly moved on and out of the bowels without griping or weakness.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." This is the old reliable and only genuine. Refuse with contempt any other Fig Syrup recommended as good. They are imitations meant to deceive you. Read the label carefully and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company.

SPOKE AT THORNDALE

Rev. Mr. Barnaby Exchanged Pulpits With Mr. Mahan.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Thorndale, Oct. 21.—The anniversary services held in the Methodist Church on Sunday were a splendid success. There was quite a large attendance in the morning, and in the evening the church was crowded to the doors. Rev. Mr. Barnaby, of Lambeth, preached at both services. He endeavored to impress upon the congregation that the life of the Christian meant a life of service and self-denial, not only ceasing to do evil, but learning to do well. Splendid music was rendered by the choir at both services.

Rev. J. Mahan preached anniversary services at Lambeth on Sunday.

Children's Day was held in St. George's Church on Sunday. The music was furnished by the children, and the service was a very bright one.

The Ladies' Aid will meet in the league room of the Methodist Church on Friday at 2:30 p.m.

The Woman's Missionary Society will hold an "At Home" on Wednesday evening in the church. Mrs. Hobbs will give an address, and music and recitations will also be given.

PILES Do not suffer another day with Itching, Bleeding, or Protruding Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and as certainly cure you. 60c. a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. NO TARIFF TO RETARD RECIPROCITY OF BRAINS

Dr. Mayo, Distinguished American Surgeon, Says Exchange of the Two Countries' Talent Must Continue—Some Interesting Clinics.

That while Canada and the United States did not succeed in the completion of its negotiations for mutual trade relations, a reciprocity of brains in the medical profession has existed between the two countries for many years, and must always continue to exist, declared Dr. W. J. Mayo, one of the famous Mayo Brothers, surgeons, of Rochester, Minn., in an address before the Western Medical College Alumni at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Monday afternoon.

The fourth annual reunion and clinics were attended by nearly four hundred members of the profession, who were also privileged to hear Dr. Llewllys F. Barker, head of the medical department of Johns Hopkins University, of Baltimore. Dr. Barker, who is now one of the foremost medical men on the continent, is a Western Ontario boy, and his presence at the gathering served to illustrate Dr. Mayo's comment on the "reciprocity of brains."

Methods of Dr. Mayo.

The eminent Rochester surgeon spoke at some length on cancer of the stomach and intestines and illustrated his address with lantern slides, depicting his own methods in certain operations. Dr. Kennedy, of Wingham, introduced Dr. Mayo, but at the conclusion of that address Dr. H. A. McCallum, of this city, assumed the duties of president, and called Dr. Barker.

Dr. Barker conducted a clinic that extended over a period of two hours. The doctor explained that he worked under difficulties in view of the fact that his old preceptor, Dr. McKay, of Ingersoll, was in the audience. Dr. McCallum, who examined him in pathology, when he strove for his degree at the University of Toronto, and Dr. Wishart, his examiner in surgical anatomy, for his license to practice medicine in the province, were on the platform.

As to Grave's Disease.

Grave's disease was first dealt with. Dr. Harper explaining different details not long since discovered in connection with the trouble. Medical practice he favored in its treatment, although he would not exclude surgery in certain cases.

Patients brought from city hospitals were carried on to the platform to illustrate certain conditions.

A case of hysteria in which a young woman had lost all sensation in the lower extremities excited the most profound interest, experiments of a nature seldom brought to the attention of the medical profession, being followed closely.

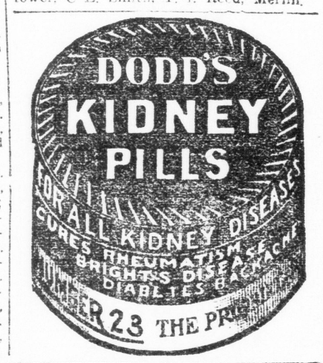

Two kidney cases, three rheumatic joint cases, and a blood case completed the clinic, which, the audience agreed, contained more information than the members believed could have been crowded into the time placed at the disposal of Dr. Barker.

Dr. Mayo was tendered a luncheon by Dr. Wishart in the evening. Dr. Barker left on his return trip to Baltimore at 6 o'clock. A smoker, the object of which was to permit of a reunion of the graduates of the Western Medical School was held at Hyman Hall in the evening.

BIG SUCCESS REPORTED FOR THE BALKAN ARMIES

Twenty Thousand Turks Said To Have Surrendered and Huge Quantities of Supplies Taken—Heavy Fighting at Adrianople at Hand.

London, Oct. 21.—The capitals of the allied Balkan States are claiming victories for their troops over the Turks today. From the field headquarters of the Bulgarians comes word that the Turks are falling back to Adrianople in confussion, burning villages and massacring peasants as they flee.

The Greek fleet, says Athens, has blockaded the Island of Lemnos, and that Turkish Island is being occupied by Greek troops.

TWENTY THOUSAND PRISONERS.

The Bulgarians are said to have captured Kirk-Kilesse after days of severe fighting around that town. The Serbo-Bulgarian army claims to have taken 20,000 prisoners there, three months' food supplies, and ammunition for a whole army corps. Kirk-Kilesse is but 32 miles from Adrianople, and a report says that the victorious invaders pressed on, stormed the northern forts of Adrianople, and cut the communication between that city and the outside world. None of these reports has official verification.

SERVIAN SUCCESS.

The Servians are said to have captured Novavaros in the Sanjak of Novi-Bazar, where there was the hottest sort of fighting.

Turkish fighting ships are bombarding Varna. They have destroyed the customs house and a monastery there, and they are said to have thrown shells into the Port of Kavarna, north of Varna, where there is neither a garrison nor defence of any sort. If this is tue militarists say that Turkey has committed a breach of international law.

The Servians have now advanced to within 75 miles of Uskub, their objective point, and are said to have captured Podujevo on the way.

Sees Turk Victory.

Washington, Oct. 22. — Breaking silence for the first time since war broke out in the Balkans, Youssouf Zia Pacha, Turkish ambassador to Washington, last night issued a statement in which he declared hostilities could be charged directly to the Balkan States, that the trouble would be short lived, and that these countries should be punished for their "impertinency."

The ambassador pointed to the attitude of the European powers in attempting to prevent the outbreak of the present troubles, and to numerous telegrams received from Christians all over the United States offering their services to fight for Turkey as a basis for his statement that the Christians were not persecuted. He declared the Balkan States, discovering that Turkey was about to institute reforms, and, knowing they could not declare a religious war, had attempted to inspire a revolution in Macedonia.

The Turkish army, he continued, was better prepared than ever to go to war as a result of its recent strife with Italy. The Turkish losses were not as great as reported, the ambassador insisted, and Turkey could put 1,000,000 men in the field immediately. He added that the Turkish treasury was in excellent condition, and the revenues have increased $33,000,000 under the new regime.

Gone to the War.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22.—Fifteen hundred Greeks left Chicago last night to engage in the battles of their country with Turkey. Their departure was the signal for a demonstration on the part of their countrymen, who were to be left behind.

In the front ranks the blue and white flag of Greece was displayed, and each of the departing soldiers carried a small Greek flag.

Hocken Selected By Council As Mayor of City of Toronto

Toronto, Oct. 22. — Controller H. C. Hocken was chosen mayor of Toronto yesterday to succeed G. R. Geary, who formally resigned to accept the position of corporation counsel. Ald. Alf Maguire was appointed to the board of control to fill Controller Hocken's position.

Ex-Mayor Geary did not attend the council meeting, and after reading the letter containing the mayor's resignation, City Clerk Littlejohn pointed out that it was necessary to elect a chairman for the purpose of opening the proceedings. It was upon Controller Church's assuming the duties of president that nominations for the election of a new mayor were received, in accordance with Controller McCarthy's motion.

There were three names put forward by the aldermen, that of Controller Hocken by Ald. Wanless and Austin, Ald. Dunn's name by Ald. McBride and Sanderson, and Controller Church's by Ald. Dunn, but the latter had no seconder.

MEXICO NOW FOR DIAZ; MADERO GOVT. DOOMED

Success Attends Rising Led By Nephew of the Exiled President.

Washington, Oct. 21. — If General Felix Diaz has the strength and the genius to follow up the advantage he has already gained from the blow struck at Vera Cruz, all Mexico is his.

This is the conclusion reached here after a day of official dispatches from all points within the present zone of the insurrection being led by the nephew of the exiled former president.

Dispatches to the state department from Mexico City indicate that the capital is ready to flop to the new leader the very moment he shows signs of increased strength. The city only awaits a second move on the part of Diaz as dramatic and forceful as his capture of the city of Vera Cruz without a blow or a shot. It is even reported that the officers of the federal army in Mexico City are praying that they may not be sent into the field against General Diaz, as they want opportunity to watch the situation passively in order that they may be in a position to join the Diaz cause as soon as it shows signs of winning.

(After Tennyson).

I buzz across the country hills,
I hum along the valley,
I cross the brooks and purling rills,
I pass each lane and alley.

I carry folk on business bent,
I carry those on pleasure;
I bring the countryside content
In full and brimming measure.

Through wind and rain and sun and snow,
In every sort of weather,
I shuttle swiftly to and fro
And knit the land together.

I bring the countryman to town,
It also is my duty,
To take the city dweller down
To scenes of rural beauty.

With freight I often hum along
From farm to busy city
(Or vice versa) and my song
Is quite a cheerful ditty.

Through wind and rain and sun and snow,
In every sort of weather,
I swiftly shuttle to and fro
And knit the land together.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Petrolea, Oct. 21. — While chopping a stick of wood at his home, lot 11, con. 4, of Enniskillen, today, Samuel Bullock was suddenly stricken with heart failure, and was found lying dead in the yard. Deceased was 70 years of age.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT ARRIVES AT NEW YORK

Has Good Night's Rest on the Way From Chicago.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 22. — Col. Roosevelt and party arrived at the Pennsylvania station from Chicago shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The colonel was resting quietly.

The colonel was up and fully dressed when the train pulled into the station at 8:08 o'clock. In accordance with plans previously arranged there was no demonstration in the station. In fact, all persons were barred from the train shed, except members of the family.

The colonel's special car and the car of the physicians and newspapermen was quickly detached and started for Oyster Bay.

Dr. Lambert and Terrell said that the colonel's wound was oozing some, but that he was in excellent condition. They issued the following bulletin:

"Col. Roosevelt is very cheerful after a good night's sleep. He is feeling very well and has stood the journey well."

Col. Roosevelt and his secretaries were busy on the train until late in the night looking for an old speech of the colonel's on the trusts. This speech has been the basis of recent criticism by William Jennings Bryan, and after a secretary had unearthed it, and Col. Roosevelt had gone over it, he said that he intended to reply to Mr. Bryan's criticism either in a statement or in a speech.

DROPPED DEAD

Mrs. Fraser Was Stricken Suddenly in Petrolea Factory.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Petrolea, Oct. 21. — Mrs. W. A. D. Fraser, aged 65 years, dropped dead while at work at the Petrolea canning factory this afternoon. Death was due to apoplexy.

Her husband is at present in Blairville, Sask. The remains were taken to Steadman's undertaking rooms. No inquest will be held.

LOSS IS $2,000.

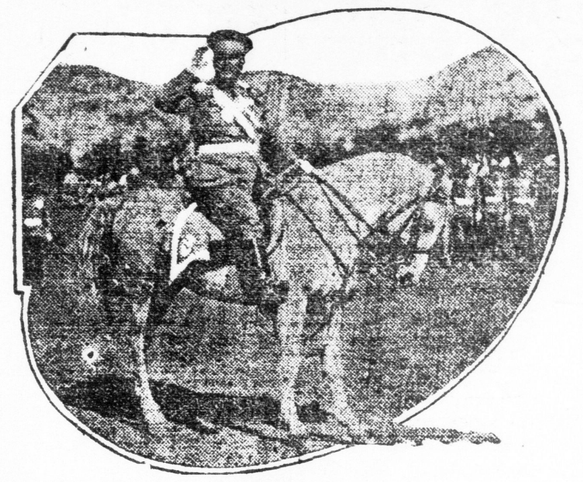

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Oct. 21.—Fire broke out in the blacksmith department of the M. C. R. shops at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and before it was subdued the roof was completely destroyed. The firemen had a hard struggle for a couple of hours to keep the flames from spreading to other buildings. Loss, $2,000.

WHITE HOUSE FIGHT CLOSE TO THE END

The Presidental Candidates Are Concentrating Energies on Weak Points.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S PLANS

President to Make Ons Speech at Big Republican Rally at New York.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 22. — Campaign managers are revising plans and altering arrangements for the wind-up of the presidential fight. The injury to Col. Roosevelt, the voluntary withdrawal of Governor Wilson from the stump, and the fact that neither President Taft nor Vice-President Sherman have taken part in the active work of the campaign, have resulted in changing plans in all three of the chief political campaigns.

The ensuing two weeks will witness a concentration of activity in the sections where the respective campaign managers believe the outlook is most favorable for the capture of disputed ground. Governor Johnson, Progressive vice-presidential candidate, is to fill in most of Col. Roosevelt's proposed engagements in the east, and the Democratic leaders are rushing a number of their chief speakers into Pennsylvania and New York to take up the work planned originally for Governor Wilson.

Democratic Campaign.

The Democratic campaign will centre in Pennsylvania from this time forth, according to statements made here. A score of Democratic senators and congressmen, who have been speaking throughout the country, will be sent into the state this week, in the hope of making inroads on heretofore solid Republican ground.

The Republican fight is also to be quickened in the east, with a concentration of forces in New York State. Secretary of State Knox is to deliver a number of speeches in eastern cities, including Buffalo and New York. It is expected that Senator Lodge and Secretary of the Navy Meyer will join the Republican speaking force, which already includes Secretaries Nagel and Wilson, Former Congressman K. Adam Bede and John M. Harlan, of Chicago, who followed Col. Roosevelt throughout his entire western tour, will stump New England and eastern states until the election.

Roosevelt's Plans.

Col. Roosevelt's arrival from Chicago today was not expected to alter Progressive plans.

Senator Joseph M. Dixon has determined to leave to the judgment of Col. Roosevelt's doctors the question of his appearance on Oct. 30 at the big Progressive rally at Madison Square Garden, New York, but Progressive leaders were plainly hopeful that the candidate would be able to join Governor Johnson and Oscar S. Straus in that demonstration. Should he speak there, Governor Wilson will probably speak in the same hall at a Democratic rally the following night.

President Taft will make one final campaign speech, according to the announcements from his headquarters. He will speak in New York on Nov. 2 at the dinner to be given to Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican committee, and it is understood the speech will be in the nature of a "message to the country," such as Governor Wilson is to issue on the same day, through the medium of the "Wilson-Marshall day" demonstrations.

Democratic leaders have determined upon Colorado, Idaho, Nebraska, Kansas, Nevada, and New Jersey as the states where they will concentrate efforts to carry the state legislatures, in the hope of electing Democrats to succeed Republicans in the United States Senate.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS TO VISIT SARNIA

Special Car Has Been Provided for Visit to Tunnel Town.

The officers of Richard Coeur de Lion Preceptory will pay a fraternal visit to Sarnia Preceptory on Thursday, Oct. 24, and Eminent Sir Knight A. E. Somerville has been in communication with Eminent Sir Knight Alex. Saunders, of Sarnia, who extends a hearty invitation to the London sir knights to accompany the officers on this occasion, therefore a large turnout is looked for.

Right Eminent Sir Knight Charles McGuire and Sir Knight J. W. Metherall have had charge of the arrangements, and a special car will be attached to the 11:35 a.m. Grand Trunk train. Tickets may be obtained from the committee.

MISS NANTEL WEDS

Minister's Daughter Becomes the Bride of Ottawa Gentleman.

St. Jerome, Que., Oct. 22. — A nuptial event of great social interest took place here this morning, when Miss Germaine Nantel, daughter of Hon. W. B. Nantel, minister of inland revenue, was wedded to Mr. Charles Avila Seguin, of Ottawa, son of Mr. F. C. Seguin, of this town. The ceremony was performed at the Roman Catholic Church by Rev. Father Gauthier, of St. Faustin, Que., uncle of the bride, who was given away by her father. Mr. and Mrs. Seguin afterwards left for Montreal, en route for New York and Atlantic City. Among the wedding presents was a silver-mounted handbag from Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, which the bride carried on her wedding trip.

STITCHED HIS HEART

[Canadian Press.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—John Thompson, a negro, has just left the Pennsylvania Hospital well and strong, after surviving the operation of having nine stitches taken in his heart.

Thompson was stabbed in a quarrel 77 days ago. The knife penetrated deep into the heart, and the hospital doctors had little hope of saving his life. He was operated on within two hours, and the wound was sewed up without delay. Not only did he live throughout the operation, but he immediately began to improve, and today he was declared as well and as strong as before he was wounded.

Harvest Supper at Egerton Street.

Following the successful anniversary services which were held on Sunday, the congregation of the Egerton Street Baptist Church held its annual harvest home supper on Monday evening. The church was crowded to the doors, and it was with difficulty that all could be seated in the auditorium. From 6:30 o'clock until 8 supper was served, and all testified that the culinary art of the ladies was excellent. The numbers on the program were brief, addresses by Rev. J. C. Inkster and Rev. H. A. Graham; solos by Mrs. Adam Beck, Mr. Chris. Pink and Miss Weir. A reading by Miss Georgia Newbury and orchestral music by the orchestra of the church.

FALLS HEIR TO FORTUNE.

OTTAWA'S POPULATION.

Ottawa, Oct. 21. — Ottawa's population has reached 95,570, an increase of 5,050 in the past year, according to the official figures announced today by the assessment department. There is also a tremendous jump in the assessment, which has been hosted to $96,215,657, or $20,046,448 more than last year. This does not take into account about $29,000,000, worth of exempted property.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LARGE OFFERING IN VEGETABLE SECTION

Potatoes Condemned by Market Clerk Were Sold as Hog Feed.

The attendance at the local market today was smaller than that of the usual market day, and as a result the sales were rather slow. The largest portion of the market was the vegetable section.

Potatoes were fairly plentiful, and the prices were somewhat easier, as the buyers would not take a chance by buying the offerings and running the risk of having the potatoes spoil within a few days. The quality of potatoes offered was fairly good, but there was one load of twenty or more bags that was examined and condemned by the market clerk. This load was afterwards sold as hog feed. The average price today was from 85 to 90 cents per bushel, and $1.30 per bag. Celery was very plentiful, being the largest single offering of the day, and the prices ranged from 30 to 65 cents per dozen bunches. Cabbages, squash and turnips were also plentiful, but there were no changes in the prices.

Only eight loads of hay were offered today, the prices ranging from $14 to $16.50 per ton. One load of straw sold for $10. Oats were rather scarce, and one load sold for $1.15 per cwt.

Dressed hogs were higher than usual today, $11.75 and $12 being the prevailing prices.

WHEAT THAT CAN GROW IN THE DESERT LANDS

A Remarkable Discovery Made By a Scientist of Old Jerusalem.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Doubling of the wheat crop of this country is the possibility raised by scientific discoveries by Prof. Aaron Aaronsohn, of Jerusalem, director of the agricultural experimental station in Palestine, according to an announcement at the University of Chicago today.

The investigator who found the original wheat plant growing in Palestine, is engaged in crossing the plant with better grades of wheat in order to produce a superior one. The experiments, Prof. Aaronsohn asserted, show that a race of wheat can be produced, adapted to the semi-arid regions of Algeria, Tunis, Syria, Turkestan and other eastern countries, and to similar land in America. Plants grown by the experiments thrive in rocky, shallow and dry soil, without cultivation.

"This is really the biggest proposition regarding the food supply of the world now before us," said Prof. John Merle Coulter, head of the department of botany at the university, who talked with Prof. Aaronsohn. "The crossing of wild wheat on other grades will insure a crop in drouth and in arid lands. It will be the salvation of the eastern countries."

WONDERFUL PIANIST IN LONDON THURSDAY

Mr. Bleuthner Brings Arthur Friedheim to Appear at Auditorium.

At the Auditorium Thursday of this week, Mr. W. A. Bluethner will present Arthur Freidheim, the wonderful pianist, whose name in Germany is enough to pack the halls. The musical critic of the Detroit Free Press refers to Mr. Friedheim as follows:

"It is not often in Detroit that a pianist receives such an ovation as was accorded to Arthur Friedheim in the Church of Our Father last evening, and even the comprehensive program offered by him failed to satisfy the audience. Friedheim was recalled again and again and though he graciously accorded one encore, the applause at the close was so continued he was forced to render another. There was no playing for effect. Always the musician was subservient to the music. Friedheim played with a fineness of shading, with a full round tone, always clear whether in the soft slower melodies or in the technical intricacies or powerful crescendos. His climaxes were given with a precision and beauty that was marked, and his poetical interpretation was specially evident in the tonal poem, St. Francis of Assisi Preaching to the Birds. The gentle warbling melody of the answering birds made a lingering impression."

THEY DO FEED REAL OATS IN EAST LONDON

Morning Runaway Causes a Slight Spell in Business.

In East London this morning the horse and delivery wagon of a grocer tore through the streets and made a noise like a Ben-Hur chariot race. Business was delayed for a fe wminutes, as clerks and customers rushed for the street to watch a cloud of dust arise from the trail of the wagin. After traversing several blocks and being followed by a cyclist policeman at a law-breaking speed, the animal was headed into a side street and finally stopped. Nothing was damaged, and the only loss sustained by the oowner was some baskets of grapes which tumbled out and left their trade mark on the road.

LEAVES CAUSE CRASH

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Oct. 22. — Dead leaves, which made the rails slippery, caused three cars to crash into each other on the steep James street grade this morning. Motorman Hankins and Conductor Hamilton were slightly injured, and several people had narrow escapes. A heavy suburban car going to Dundas was climbing the hill when the brakes failed to grip. It crashed back into a street car following, and the street car slid back and hit another car behind it. The fenders and vestibules were wrecked.

Notice to Motorcyclists.

The Canadian Motorcyclists' Association do hereby notify all motorcycle riders who take part in a race meet which is not conducted under rules and sanction of the C. M. A., that they will be suspended for not less than one year, and then can only be reinstated on recommendation of the London Motorcycle Club of London, Ont., in the district under their suspension. Competition committee of the C. M. A., Fred A. O. Johnston, chairman, 106-8 Adelaide street west, Toronto.

LOCAL ITEMS

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church will hold their annual bazaar on Thursday afternoon and evening next.

—Mrs. A. H. Beddome, of the London Hunt and Golf Club, will be the hostess at the Wednesday tea. The hunt match will commence at 2:30 o'clock.

—The Ladies' Aid of the Askin Street Methodist Church will hold a rummage sale and sale of cooking in the gymnasium of the church on Thursday and Friday. Preparations have been completed in anticipation of this being the most successful of their rummage sales.

Returning to England.

Mrs. William Macqualter, of London, England, sailed on Saturday for home from Quebec on the steamship Canada, after spending a couple of month visiting with Mayor C. M. R. Graham and other relatives in this city. She is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Bessie Macqualter, who has spent the past two years in London.

Fell From Street Car.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman, of 59 Dundas street, fell from a street car at the corner of Dundas and Waterloo streets this morning and was slightly injured. She was removed to Victoria Hospital in an automobile, and was reported this afternoon to be resting easily.

Officers Are Installed.

The formal installation of the officers of the Guild of the King Street Presbyterian Church took place on Monday evening. The following is the executive for the coming year: Lew. Summer, president; Miss Rutherford, vice-president; recording secretary, John Stevenson; corresponding secretary, Harrison Link; teasurer, H. E. McKay; pianist, Mrs. A. R. Leckie.

A "Lost" Child Is Found.

A south end family was thrown into a great state of excitement Monday, when after seeing some friends off at the C. P. R. depot the members found that the 3-year-old son was missing. They telephoned the agent to have the train searched at the first stopping place, as they feared the lad had been carried off. On rushing up to the depot, however, they found the little chap there enjoying himself immensely. In going away the parents had completely forgotten the youngster until they arrived home.

CRUELTY CHARGE WAS ADJOURNED FOR TRIAL

Defendants Deny That They Brutally Ill-Used Dying Horse.

Earl Stevens and James May were called upon in police court today to answer a charge of cruelty to animals in allowing a dying horse to lie in a field in the north end without food or water for nearly two days.

It was asserted that the animal laid helpless on Thursday and till 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Stevens, however, contended that the animal had been given water and that he had also made arrangements for its painless extermination. The magistrate accordingly adjourned the matter for trial.

Joseph Barnard and Charles Elliott each paid $2 fines for breaches of the traffic bylaw, while Gordon Edgecombe contributed $3 for allowing his motor car to stand on the street unattended. The complaint in the latter instance was laid by P. C. Noonan.

William Essex tied his cow to a shade tree and paid $1.

Frank Budd, a colored gentleman, failed to respond to a summons charging him with having been intoxicated while on the Indian list. Budd was arrested later on a warrant, and was sent down for 21 days.

William Downey, the Scotch singer, who was arrested in the court room yesterday for drunkenness, was assessed $3 today.

RUMORS OF TROUBLE IN LIGHTING BOARD

Said That Ald. Wright Was Over-Ruled in Calling Meeting.

It is rumored that there is friction between Ald. Wright and several members of the special committee called to deal with street lighting, with the result that the meeting held at noon today was held without the consent of the chairman, and explains why Mayor Graham was called upon to preside temporarily.

It seems that Ald. Richter returned on Saturday from Toronto, and was prepared to report to the committee Monday morning. It was suggested that a meeting be called after council meeting Monday night, but Ald. Wright did not call it.

The members met informally afterwards and discussed the situation. Ald. Wright was urged to call a meeting for noon today, but refused, saying it was inconvenient. However, the members went ahead and called it without his sanction.

Now there are rumors of dissension, and some sharp things will be said before the matter is finally disposed of. It is expected that Ald. Wright will resign his position on the committee.

WIRELESS OPERATOR OF "RAINBOW" IN CITY

Godfrey Hale on Way to Halifax to Join Niobe.

Godfrey Hale, a former resident of Shedden, who while located in Vancouver two years ago, where he was employed as a railway telegrapher, joined the Canadian navy, as a member of the crew of the Rainbow, passed through London today en route to Halifax, where he will join the staff of the Niobe.

Mr. Hale has acted as wirless operator aboard the Rainbow on the Pacific.

Mr. Hale was in London for a time today, and wears his full uniform and cap bearing the name Rainbow.

ROYAL GRATTON SOLD TO TORONTO HORSEMAN

Sensational Pacing Stallion Owned by Barret, of Parkhill, Sold for $8,000.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Parkhill, Oct. 22.—Mr. Nat Ray, acting for Mr. J. E. Gray, of Toronto, has just purchased Royal Grattan, the sensational pacing stallion owned by Mr. Charles Barrett, the local horseman. The price paid was $8,000. Royal Grattan has a mark of 2:05¼, establishing this at a trial run at Detroit on July 25 last. The horse goes into Ray's stable, and will be raced on the Grand Circuit next year.

PRAY NO MORE FOR THOSE IN PERIL ON STANLEY STREET

Steam Roller at Work and War Cloud Rolling Over at Last.

Stanley street is being gravelled and rolled—welcome news to the residents of that street and the hundreds of motorists who have been for months compelled to drive through impenetrable mud.

This roadway has caused nearly as much trouble as the Balkan war cloud. The citizens who have had to wade through mud have threatened vengeance on engineers and aldermen, and every concern having work to do on the highway. Some horses are said to have been lost in the mud holes, and exploration parties were talked of to explore the deeps of some of the caves in the street.

Alpine climbers were in their element when the roads dried somewhat. Climbing Pike's Peak was an easy afternoon's work as compared with marching up the steep and precipitous sides of some of the hills along this highway.

Visiting motorists declared fervently that the churches should refrain from singing the sailors' hymn, but should rather pray for those in peril on Stanley street: the only automobile that could come through the highway in any kind of safety was a cross between a mountain goat and a bucking broncho.

One could readily imagine that the road was the worst ever conjured in the fuzzy imagination of a victim of delirium tremens. Someone hearing of Henry M. Stanley's awful experiences in Africa named the street after him.

The city engineer's department, however, have at last been enabled to get on the street, and it may yet become passable.

BECKER DEFENCE ENDS CASE BUT JUDGE GOFF REOPENS IT

Further Testimony of Alleged Conspiracy Against Officer.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 22.—The defence in the trial of Police Lieutenant Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, rested its case a few moments after noon today without calling Becker to the stand.

Justice Goff, however, declined to let the defence rest, and reopened the case without motion from counsel to take further testimony along the line of the alleged conspiracy against Becker by Rose, Webber, Vallon and Schepps. "Jack Sullivan" was recalled by the court.

Charles E. Foye, a policeman, testified that he was called to the Rosenthal home last February by Mrs. Rosenthal to eject Webber and Vallon from the premises.

"Did you hear Mrs. Rosenthal say that she was afraid Webber and Vallon were going to kill Rosenthal?" asked John H. Hart, of Becker's counsel.

Foye was not permitted to reply, but said Webber told him that Rosenthal had been responsible for breaking his jaw.

"I met Jack Rose, too, on July 11 or 12 on the street at 2:30 in the morning," Foye said "and Rose said to me, 'You're a pretty good friend of Herman Rosenthal, aren't you?' I said I knew Rosenthal, and Rose then said: 'Well, you'd better keep his mouth shut or I will shut it so he'll never open it again.'"

Quizzed by Mayor.

On cross-examination Foye said he was called to the mayor's office to testify before Mayor Gaynor as to what he knew about the murder.

"Did you tell this to the mayor?" asked Mr. Moss.

"No, he didn't ask me about this, he told me he wanted me to answer the questions he put to me. I did that and only that."

"Why didn't you tell that to the district attorney?"

"Because I didn't like his attitude," Foye said frankly. "He seemed to want the public to believe that the whole police department was in cahoots with the murderers."

Character Witnesses.

Foye said that he had reported to Becker in February or March his visit to the Rosenthal home. He had reported it to no other police official, however, as he "didn't think it worth while."

Ben Moses, a character witness for Becker, followed Foye to the stand.

Louis A. Abrams, Michael N. De Lagi and N. Joseph Slicklam, attorneys for Charles Plitt, Becker's so-called press agent, denied the state's accusation that Becker had borne Plitt's legal expenses when the latter was charged with murder. The state paid them, they testified.

Charles A. Lachaussee, editor of The Chief, was another character witness for Becker.

Charles Reich, a brother of Jacob Reich (Jack Sullivan), said that on Aug. 9 he heard a conversation among Rose, Webber and Vallon in the West Fifty-Seventh street prison, in which Rose said that "Self-preservation is the first law of nature. I'm sorry to have to do this against Becker, but I must do it to save my own life. There's no other way out of it."

"Did Bridgie Webber say that he would put up $25,000 for Jack Sullivan to go into the hotel business and give him half the profits if Jack would only stick by him?"

"He did. He said that he told the district attorney that Jack saw Becker at Forty-Second street and Sixth avenue talking to him and Rose the morning of the murder, and he wanted Jack to stick with him.

"They told me—Webber and Vallon—that they knew my brother Jack was innocent, and that they would make an affidavit to that effect if they weren't afraid of the district attorney. They said: 'Why don't you get Jack to corroborate us and get out of this?'"

As Reich testified it became evident that the defence depended upon him to help sustain their contention that Rose, Webber and Vallon and Schepps had conspired to testify falsely against Becker to save their own lives.

Reich was excused without cross-examination, and Assemblyman Aaron J. Levy, counsel for Libby & Shapiro, owners of the gray murder car, testified that his clients had not conferred at any time with Becker.

Three witnesses were called for by Mr. McIntyre, but none of them were present. A half hour recess was requested by the defence and denied.

Mr. McIntyre then asked for the privilege of recalling Rose, Webber, Vallon and Schepps for further examination, saying that additional evidence had come to his attention since they had testified. This was denied.

HYDRAULIC PUMPS MERELY "STAND BY"

Mr. Glaubitz Says They Would Fall to Pieces If Used Constantly.

The hydraulic pumps at Springbank have not ben in operation twelve hours during the entire summer, it is claimed, and some of the rratepayers have been making inquiries as to the reason of this.

The pumps, of course, are operated by river water, and it was the opinion of many that the pumps should have been operated frequently to reduce the cost of power to the city.

However, the pumps have been run by electricity continuously, and the hydraulics have been standing idle all the time. This is considered particularly wasteful in view of the fact that there has ben an unusually large volume of water running down the river this season.

"We have not used the pumps much this summmer," said General Manager Glaubitz. 'The reason simply is because we want to keep them as a stand-by. They were badly installed, and bzadly handled, with the result that they soon would break down if run continuously. They will last far years as a stand-by, and that is the reason we are keeping them."

PROSECUTION WITNESS CONVICTED OF PERJURY

Becker's Counsel Produces Damaging Evidence Against State's Case.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 22. — When court convened at the Becker trial John F. McIntyre, Becker's lawyer, produced in evidence the record of the King's County court, showing that Morris Luban had been convicted of perjury in 1911 and sentenced to serve seven years in the penitentiary. Luban, who testified for the state that he was an eye-witness of the Rosenthal murder, swore that he had never been convicted of crime.

Assistant District Attorney Moss told the court that Luban was now out on bail pending the result of an appeal.

John D. Maher, a theatrical manager, testified that he had dinner with Becker on July 6 at Luchow's, and was with him from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Webber had testified that Becker told him that night that he wanted to "croak Rosenthal."

Maher testified that he entered and left the restaurant with Becker, and that Becker had said nothing to Webber.

GIBSON INDICTED.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer, was indicted by the Orange County grand jury today on a charge of murder in the fire degree. He is accused of killing his client, Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo. He probably will be brought to trial in December.

SAY DOG SAVED BOTH THEIR LIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Woods Lost Money and Everything in Sunday Evening Fire.

Mr. E. Wood, whose house on Pall Mall street was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday evening, stated to The Advertiser that if the fire had not been noticed by his foxterrier dog, which started barking, he and Mrs. Wood would have been burned to death.

The fire, he thinks, started from a spark from a C. P. R. engine. His loss will reach $900, on which there is no insurance. He and Mrs. Wood had only returned the day before from the country fairs, and $125 which they had was burned in Mr. Wood's best coat, where it had been put for safe keeping.

Mayor of Chicago Orders All Forms of Entertainment to Case.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Oct. 22. — The federal grand jury today began its investigations into the Jack Johnson-Lucile Cameron affair, with a view to learning whether the negro pugilist has violate the Cann act by causing the Cameron girl and other young women to be brought to this city for illegal purposes. The first witness to be questioned was Mrs. Cameron-Falconnet, of Minneapolis, the girl's mother, who has been waging a fight to induce her daughter to quit Johnson.

"Jack" Curley, fight promoter, who was wanted in connection with the case, appeared at the federal building and said he was ready to tell all he knew of the affair. A search was made for him yesterday, but he could not be located.

Mayor Harrison today ordered the chief of police to have all the music and other forms of amusement in the negro pugilist's cafe on the south side immediately stopped.

City Clerk Baker reported that he had received no word from City Solicitor Meredith regarding the request of the council that the question of the cost of street lighting be reopened. He was to arrange for the interview, but so far no results have followed his efforts.

Those present at the meeting were: Mayor Graham, acting chairman; Ald. Richter, Ald. Robinson, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Murphy and secretary S. Baker.

POTATOES SPOILING

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, Oct. 22.—As a result of rot developing in many potatoes after they were dug and stored away, many farmers around here are taking all their crop out and throwing the tubers away. CLAD IN PAJAMAS SHE CHASES BURGLAR Wisconsin College Girl Routs a Thief in the Night.

[Canadian Press.]

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 22.—Clad only in pajamas and armed with a hat pin, Miss Agnes Thornton, of Bedford, Mass., a student at Beloit College, routed a burglar whom she found in her room.

The young co-ed chased the intruder through the park and inflicted a dozen vigorous thrusts of the hat pin, which elicited yells of pain from the fleeing thief, and caused him to drop her violin, which he had purloined.

When Miss Thornton returned to her quarters in the dormitory, her room-mate, Miss Helen Miller, of Genoa, Ill., had aroused all the other co-eds, and they were organizing a posse to go to their companion's aid.

MAYOR PRONOUNCES BIG BAZAAR OPEN

St. Michael's Parish Will Be Aided Through Event at Parish Hall.

MANY ARTICLES SOLD

Profusion of Decorations and Pretty Vendors Form an Attractive Combination.

St. Michael's bazaar, the proceeds from which are to be devoted to the uses of the new Roman Catholic parish in the north end of the city, was favored with an auspicious commencement Monday evening at St. Peter's Hall, the affair being officially inaugurated by His Worship Mayor Graham.

An unusually large patronage was extended to the ladies in charge of the bazaar, and before the conclusion of the week it is expected that a splendid sum will have been accumulated for the uses of Rev. Father Hanlon, the pastor of St. Michael's.

Mayor Graham paid a tribute to the Catholics of the north end of the city, and to the rector of the new parish, which his worship declared will do much to build up London in that direction. Mgr. Aylward replied fittingly, paying tributes to the mayor, Hon. Adam Beck, and Sir James Whitney.

Senator Thomas Coffey and Rev. Father Hanlon also spoke briefly.

A Scene of Splendor.

St. Peter's Parish Hall had been tastefully decorated in preparation for the church fair, and presented an unusually pleasing appearance. Large and attractive stocks filled the booths, and while vast quantities of goods were purchased by the opening night throng, the portion removed was scarcely missed from the display.

Chances on almost anything were obtainable, and that the patrons of the bazaar were prone to take chances was plainly discernible. Young ladies handed out their tickets in large numbers, each one carrying with it the best wishes of the vendor.

The home-cooking apparently appealed to some who have been living on boarding house diet, for the pastry offered was taken more speedily than the ladies in charge could make the sales.

The doll's house proved to be one of the leading attractions, pretty girls disposing of their pretty beribboned things to good advantage.

The Individual Booths.

The booths were very well arranged, and are managed by courteous and businesslike committees.

Exhausted Nerves Sleepless Nights

Continually Grew Worse Until Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Restored Vigor and Strength.

Mrs. Campbell.

What misery to lie awake nights and think of all sorts of things without being able to get the rest and sleep which is necessary to restore the nervous energy wasted in the tasks of the day.

This symptom of sleeplessness is one of the surest indications of an exhausted nervous system. You must have sleep or a breakdown is certain. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food feeds the feeble, wasted nerves back to health and strength. In a few days you obtain the natural, restful sleep which helps so materially in restoring vitality to the nerves and strength to the whole body.

Mrs. Sarah Campbell, 108 Alma street, St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "For months I was so bothered with nervousness that I could not sleep nights. There were other symptoms of exhausted nerves, but none caused so much misery, and I found myself continually getting worse.

"I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it was not long before I noticed great improvement in my health. It built up the nervous system wonderfully, strengthened the nerves and enabled me to rest and sleep well."

BOARD OF CONTROL WILL BE DEBATED

Large Committee Appointed to Consider Advisability of Bylaw.

CITY HALL MOVE FAILS

Carters Protest Against Closing of Residential Streets to Them.

A committee composed of Ald. Richter, Wright, Robinson, Spittal, Johnston, Moore and Murphy will consider the advisability of submitting a bylaw to the ratepayers in January to do away with the present system of municipal government, and introduce a board of control. The advisability also of having the water commission subject to the board will also be taken up and discussed.

This is the result of Ald. Richter's desire to have the matter brought to the attention of the ratepayers. When his notice of motion was brought up, there was no opposition, and it carried practically unanimously.

Ald. Wright has not given up the fight for a different location of a city hall, and endeavored to introduce a motion to consider other sites. However, his motion was ruled out of order, as the location had already been decided upon, and the discussion as a result did not take place.

A Restraint of Trade.

Mr. W. R. Meredith, representing a number of cartage companies, and others, presented a petition protesting against the proposed action of the city council to prevent large wagons from traversing the streets about Victoria Park. The petitioners pointed out that it would be a restraint of rade. The board of works will consider the petition.

Knollwood Park will be added to the list of suburbs asking for annexation to the city. A petition signed by Mr. W. W. Gammage and others was presented, fully signed, and the usual procedure will be followed in respect to this district. The terms are the same as granted to the other municipalities, Pottersburg and Ealing, viz., 15 mills tax rate for 15 years on the basis of the 1911 assessment. Ald. Wright asked Ald. Spittal, chairman of the committee, if the question of the cost of fire protection had been considered when the rate was struck, and Ald. Spittal answered that it had.

An Assistant Engineer.

The appointment of an assistant city engineer temporarily was referred to the board of works with power. Ald. Robinson reported that they had a man in sight, but they were not prepared to recommend him as yet.

City Clerk Baker reported that he had received an answer from the members of Parliament from London and Middlesex saying that they would be pleased to assist the council in securing the grant for the Dominion Exhibition in 1913.

The recommendation of the board of works that the draymen be allowed to solicit business on the eastern portion of the Grand Trunk depot, and on York street, near Clarence, was passed by the council. Ald. Rose was desirous of increasing the area, while Ald. Ashplant and Ald. Bennett thought the matter worthy of more consideration. However, the remainder of the aldermen thought the recommendation was all that could be reasonably asked for.

Littered Cellars a Menace.

Ald. Spittal gave notice of motion that he would at the next meeting of the council move to amend the bylaw regulating the safety of buildings, by inserting a clause preventing property-owners in the down-town district from keeping straw, litter, shavings, etc., in the cellars of the stores. Complaints have been repeatedly made regarding this condition, particularly in the down-town districts, but Fire Chief Aitken has no power to prevent it. If the bylaw is passed the chief will have the power to investigate, and prohibit the storing of combustible materials in the basements.

The London Pet Stock Association asked for the use of the poultry building in Queen's Park for their Thanksgiving poultry show. The privilege was granted.

T. S. Griffith, Montreal, applied for the privilege of inspecting the walks of the city. His terms are $25 a day. The matter was referred to the board of works.

Mr. T. Archibald McCullough and a number of newsboys asked the council to provide them shelter in pursuit of their business. The finance committee will look into this matter.

Those present were: Mayor Graham, Ald. Richter, Spittal, Blandford, Johnston, Bennett, Wright, Ashplant, Rose, Moore, Coles and Robinson.

JIM HILL'S BANK

Institution to Lend Money to Farmers of American Northwest.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from St. Paul, Minn., says: When James J. Hill organizes his big financial institution in St. Paul, a great aid will be given to farmers of the northwest in the matter of barrowing money. Mr. Hill has long looked with displeasure on the rates of interest charged the farmers of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, rates which usually vary from 8 to 10 per cent. He is said to be a firm believer in rates of from 4 to 6 per cent.

Mr. Hill, according to a reliable source, says one of the features of his new institution would be the care of the farlower than now prevail.

If Mr. Hill makes good, financiers say, the northwest is certain to have a big boom. Each day sees a step nearer to mers and to lend money at rates much completion of the National Bank and Trust Company that Mr. Hill is planning.

CROWN PRINCE ILL

Heir to the Russian Throne Meets With Serious Accident.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Petersburg, Oct. 22. — The Russian crown prince, the Grand Duke Alexis, is lying rather seriously ill at the imperial hunting lodge of Spala, in Russian Poland, as the result of an accident on Oct. 15. He then sustained an injury on the left side of the groin, which caused no anxiety until Sunday evening, when his temperature rose to 103.6. This decreased somewhat yesterday, but rose again last night to 102.9. Several court physicians are in attendance on the young prince, who is but 8 years old.

In Five Minutes! Time It! All Indigestion, Heartburn and Dyspepsia Gone and Your Stomach Feels Fine.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take two cups of granulated sugar, add one cup of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly. Any housewife can easily prepare it in five minutes.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this recipe, if the genuine Pinex is used. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you, if you ask him. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Cora S.: As your hair is short and thin and you have so much trouble to make it stay up and look neat, try shampooing it with a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water. This shampoo is the one generally used by the best hairdressers to make the hair look thicker and lustrous. It produces an abundant lather, dries quickly and not only cleans the hair and scalp well, but stops all irritation and gives the scalp a feeling of pleasing freshness. Canthrox makes a delightful shampoo and will make your hair soft and fluffy. You will have little trouble then to make your hair look nice. Never use soap for shampooing, as it makes the hair brittle, harsh and takes away the glossy look. (a) To get rid of dandruff and stop falling hair, see reply to "Gertrude J."

Meta D.: A delatone paste will remove the fuzz from your lip without danger or inconvenience. Just mix enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairy surface, apply and after two or three minutes rub off, then wash the skin carefully. One application of delatone usually suffices excepting where the growth is quite thick or stubborn.

Mrs. L.: What a shame to have wasted so much money in vainly trying to get rid of your fat. I have a formula that some of my close friends have tried with marvelous success. Here it is: Dissolve four ounces of parnotis in 1½ pints hot water; when cold strain and take a tablespoonful of the liquid before each meal. This remedy will not injure your health or force you to starve yourself in order to get back your comely figure. It cuts down fat rapidly, is not expensive and will surely help you.

B. C. V.: Remember this: "A beautiful face never lacks interest." It is to your credit that you wish to remain young-looking as long as possible. Although marks of age—enlarged pores, rough skin and premature wrinkles—have begun to show in your once beautiful face, you can easily get rid of them and regain your charming complexion by using this greaseless cream-jelly. Get an ounce of almozoin from any drug store; put it in a half pint cold water, adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine; stir and let stand a few hours. Apply this cream-jelly and you will find it will remove all dirt and excess oil from the pores, make the large pores smaller and leave your skin soft, smooth and fresh looking. I find this excellent for preventing and removing blackheads, skin-pimples, freckles and chapping. When used as a massage cream it is just grand for filling out hollow cheeks and removing wrinkles.

Mercedes: You say your complexion is lifeless and you are constantly tired and drowsy. This comes from too little exercise and an over-indulgence in heavy foods, causing a sluggish condition of the blood and a lack of proper nourishment for the body. Here is a simple and inexpensive recipe for an excellent blood-tonic and body-builder. Buy at any drug store an ounce of kardene and put in a half pint alcohol (not whisky), then add a half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal. This tonic expels impurities and enriches the blood. It will give you renewed energy and your complexion will assume its natural health tint.

Gertrude J.: The dandruff, itching scalp and brittle, falling hair with split ends of which you complain come from a diseased scalp, due to the presence of germs. The surest way to get rid of these troubles quickly and remove the germs will be to shampoo twice a month with canthrox and rub into your scalp twice a week a quinine hair-tonic made by dissolving one ounce of quinzoin in half a pint of alcohol (not whisky), then adding half a pint of cold water. Use this tonic regularly and it will remove the dandruff and irritation, stop your hair from falling out and make it soft and glossy.

S. D.: Yes—nothing is a more important factor in a beautiful face than bright, clear, youthful eyes. You should use regularly a good eye tonic. Get an ounce of crystos; dissolve it in a pint of water and use two or three drops in each eye daily. It will clear and strengthen your eyes, remove all signs of weakness and inflammation and make them bright and sparkling. For weak, dull, expressionless eyes I think this tonic simply wonderful. It is very soothing and is fine for those who wear glasses.

G. E. A.: When you wear a veil face powder will not help your complexion much, as it rubs off too easily. What you need is a good lotion that will not show on the skin. The next time you go to the drug store get four ounces of spurmax and dissolve it in one-half pint of hot water or witch hazel, adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This lotion will clear up and whiten your skin, make it soft and velvety and give you a beautiful complexion. It will rid your skin of that shiny, greasy, sallow look and make it appear charming and youthful. I find this excellent for cold sores, freckles and pimples. It costs very little and will protect your face from the winds, and prove a splendid beautifier. Advt.
