LOCATION.

Rectory street crossing of Grand Trunk.
Cause—Freight train backed into Ottaway avenue street car.
Time—8:52 p.m.

Night Watchman Timothy O'Leary, of the G. T. R., was killed; Motorman J. A. Facey, of the street railway, was painfully injured, Mr. Joseph E. Wyckoff and son Max were hurt, and a number of other passengers on the car had marvellous escapes from instant death, when a freight train, in charge of Conductor Stoner and Engineer Sharpe, of Allandale, backed into an Ottaway avenue car last night shortly before 9 o'clock at the Rectory street crossing of the Grand Trunk. That any of the passengers on the car escaped death or serious injuries at the least is a matter of wonder to every person who visited the scene of the accident.

Coroner Ferguson took charge of the remains of Watchman O'Leary, and ordered an inquest.

The freight train had just pulled in from Allandale, and the engineer had received orders to back up, in order to shunt the cars into the sidings in East London.

Watchman O'Leary was at the time in his shanty attending to the signals and switches.

The Ottaway avenue car, north bound, came up to the derail at the south side, and received a signal to go ahead. As the car got onto the crossing, the freight loomed up beside them from the west. The caboose hit the front end of the street car.

It was swung around, and dragged up the track for twenty or thirty feet parallel with the Grand Trunk tracks.

The caboose and three other cars were derailed by the impact, and the former crashed over the watchman's shanty, where Mr. O'Leary was working.

CRUSHED LIKE A PAPER BOX.

In an instant the little house was crushed like a paper box. Mr. O'Leary was sitting in a chair at the time the accident took place, with the levers in his hands. His neck was broken and he was otherwise badly mutilated.

In the meantime the passengers on the street car were in a most terrifying position. They had been dragged up the track for 50 feet amid the grinding and crashing of breaking steel and wood, and with broken glass flying all about them.

Conductor Honsberger, who was in the rear of the car, saw the crash coming and jumped.

Motorman Facey was pinned for a short time in the vestibule of the car, but managed to make his escape—how he does not know.

When the car stopped it was lying at an angle parallel with a freight car, the trucks having been pulled from under it.

The passengers lost no time in tumbling out of the windows and doors. They all got away safely, with but minor bruises.

Little Max Wyckoff was hurt the worst of the passengers. He was sitting near a window at the front of the car with his father when the crash came, and his face was painfully cut.

BODY UNDER THE WRECK.

As soon as possible Dr. Mugan was called, and the ambulance summoned. A search revealed the body of Mr. O'Leary under the wreckage, and he was removed as soon as possible. When Dr. Mugan arrived, it was found that death had been instantaneous. Near his side was found his watch, which had stopped at 7 minutes to 9, the time of the accident.

A pathetic feature of the accident was the fact that the dead man's son, Mr. Michael O'Leary, is night foreman at the Rectory street yard. He was working as usual when the crash came, and was one of the first to reach the wreck of the little shanty where the train had crushed the life out of his aged father. Not a moment was lost by him in getting the men at work to attempt a rescue if possible. He was one of the first to see his dead father, and immediately gave instructions for the notification of the relatives.

Rev. Father McKeon, rector of St. Mary's Church, was summoned, and broke the news to the family.

There was great excitement for a time, as it was reported that a red-headed man, whose name was unknown, was talking to Mr. O'Leary a moment before the accident, and that he, too, was in the wreckage. A search was instituted for him, but no signs of the man could be found. In all probability he left some time before the accident.

Mistaken signals are apparently the cause of the accident. Both Motorman Facey and Conductor Honsberger, of the street railway, claim that they received orders to go ahead. The derail was set properly for them, it is claimed, which would set a signal against the freight.

$1,000 REALIZED FOR THE LOCAL SANATORIUM

Good Work of Ladies on Tag Day in London.

The returns of the young ladies engaged in the tagging for Byron Sanatorium, which are being received by the treasurer today, are considered very satisfactory, and it is expected that the proceeds of the day will amount to over a thousand dollars.

Miss Marion Smith, of Ingersoll, who volunteered her services, and who acted in place of Mrs. Kingsmill, broke the record for the day, with one thousand sales, for which she secured $108. Last night this was $18 better than double the record of any other lady who had reported.

Ottawa, June 28.—Some bad bills have been recently circulated in Ontario and the Dominion police have been investigating. Inspector Parkinson has been in Lindsay, and it is said that there are several other points to be investigated. The police thought they had closed up the Ontario bogus money campaign when they secured conviction of a man named Watt in Orillia, but they find that there is more work for the mto do.

A BIGGER LEAGUE FOR LONDON IN 1912

Class "B" Ball May Be Played Here Owing to Good Support.

Business Manager John R. Minhinnick, of the London baseball team, returned to the city today with the team after a short trip on the road, during which he visited Toronto to interview Mr. McCaffery, of the Maple Leafs.

The support that Londoners are giving Class C ball, but a few weeks after the inception of the league, has caused baseball men to pay greater attention to the situation here, and there is now a movement to organize an international circuit to play class B variety next season. It is proposed to include Hamilton, London, Brantford, Troy, N. Y., and a couple of other live towns in the new organization.

Shortstop Brant, one of the best of the London squad, will be laid up for a few days as a result of straining the tendons in his right hand in tagging a player at second base at Berlin. Brantford is in London today and tomorrow, while St. Thomas will play at Tecumseh Park Friday, and morning and afternoon on Saturday.

SONS OF SCOTLAND WILL CONCLUDE TODAY

Delegates Are Busy With the Proposed Amendments to the Constitutions.

In all probability the annual meeting of the Sons of Scotland, which is being held in Hyman Hall will conclude this evening. All day today the delegates have been busy electing officers and discussing proposed amendments to the constitution.

There were a lot of ballots to count as a result of it being necessary to take several votes in some instances, and up to 3 o'clock this afternoon only two results were known, the grand marshal for the coming year being Brother R. K. McLeod, of Dunvegan, and the grand standard-bearer, James Ferguson, of Maxwell.

When the meeting opened this afternoon the first business dealt with was the balloting for the new executive council. This occupied a great deal of time, and afterwards the discussion on the amendments to the constitution was resumed.

Grand Chief Mearns, of Toronto, and the other officers will, it is expected, be formally installed tonight.

LATE MRS. MARY ALLEN,

A PAN OF MILK SAVED SIGHT OF A BURWELL STREET MAN

Mr. R. J. Webb Was About to Apply a Liniment to a Horse's Leg When the Bottle Exploded, Filling His Eyes With the Burning Liquid

If Mr. R. J. Webb, a teamster, residing at 273 Burwell street, recovers the sight of his eyes, following an explosion of chemicals at his stable this morning, it will be alone due to his presence of mind in groping his way to the house and bathing the optics in milk. His left eye is quite badly affected as it is, while his right eye is also painfully burned.

Mr. Webb found one of his horses suffering from a bad leg, and he decided to bathe it in a liniment for the purpose. In this preparation are a number of strong alkalies, among them being ammonia.

Taking a big bottle, he went to the stable, and preparatory to putting the liniment on he shook the vessel. There was an explosion, and the whole mass of fluid struck him in the face and eyes.

Webb was blinded and groped his way out of the barn. His wife was away and he remembered putting the milk in a large pan. Crawling to the house he plunged his face into the pan of milk and rubbed it into his eyes.

Later he managed to notify some of the neighbors, and Dr. J. B. Campbell was summoned. He relieved the man's pain and cleared his eyes as best he could. Later Webb was taken to the office of Dr. George Clark, where a further examination was made. There it was found that although the eyes were very badly burned, the left particularly, the sight would not be permanently destroyed.

"His presence of mind in crawling to the house and plunging his face into the milk alone saved his sight," said Dr. Campbell. "He would not have had a chance had he not done this. The left eye is very badly burned, but we have hopes of saving it. The right is in better shape."

FATHER AND LITTLE SON HURLED OUT OF CAR WHEN CRASH CAME

Thrilling Experience of Mr. Joseph E. Wyckoff and His Little Boy Max, Aged Four, in the Wreck at Rectory Street Crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway Last Night.

Mr. Joseph E. Wyckoff, brother of Dr. Wyckoff, school trustee, with his 4-year-old son Max, had a thrilling experience.

"When the car got to the derail south of the tracks on Rectory street," said Mr. Wyckoff, "it stopped, and the motorman waited for the signal to come ahead. This was apparently given him, because after a short wait the car started north. We had got onto the rails when I was horrified to see a train bearing down from the west upon us. Before we could do anything, however, we were struck by the freight, and the street car was hurled to the east, down the G. T. R. tracks. It all happened very quickly, but there was an awful crashing and smashing of timbers and irons, and a screaming of frightened women in the car. Then there was a sudden jolt. I was sitting with my little boy on the front seat at the right, the car being one of those with an aisle down the centre. My boy was tossed out the front, and in a jiffy I followed him, being tumbled out the front door.

"The people literally fell out of the car, some of them going through the windows. I picked Max up. He was bleeding at the mouth, and was terribly frightened. I looked around, and the sight was a terrible one. Women were rushing around trying to find someone with whom they had been riding when the crash occurred. There were only about a dozen people in the car at the time of the accident, but a crowd collected so quickly that it was difficult to find anybody. The watchman must have been killed instantly, judging from the appearance of the wreck when I got around on the other side where the man was killed, a minute or so after the crash."

Max Wyckoff is a handsome little chap, and despite the fact that his face was cut and his lips were bleeding, he kept back his tears as an Advertiser reporter talked to him five minutes after the wreck happened. His little Buster Brown suit was spotted with blood, and the marks of the grimy roadbed of the railway were visible on the previously unspotted linen.

FIRE CHIEF AITKEN CHARGES G. T. R. DELAYS THE FIREMEN

Alleges that Watchman at Wellington Street Was Not Polite When Addressed on the Subject—Brigade Blocked at Four Streets Going to a Fire.

Fire Chief Aitken, at tonight's meeting of No. 3 committee, will bring up the matter of the Grand Trunk trains blocking the street crossings and delaying the fire apparatus on its way to answer alarms.

Two nights ago the chief stated to The Advertiser the men attempted to cross at Colborne, Burwell, Maitland and William streets unsuccessfully, in trying to get to a fire in the south end. They were held up for some minutes.

Coming back the gates at Wellington street were down, and when the chief called to the watchman he says the man paid no attention whatever, and when he finally got out of his buggy and went over and asked him to raise the gates and let the apparatus by the chief says the watchman used foul language. After letting one wagon by he closed the gate on the hook and ladder truck and kept it down, the chief alleges.

"There wasn't an engine or train in sight at the time," said the chief. "It was a deliberate hold-up. This sort of thing has got to be stopped, and I will bring the matter up at the meeting tonight and see what can be done."

MR. F. S. MEARNS OF TORONTO WAS ELECTED AS GRAND CHIEF

Rev. Dr. McCrae Defeated in a Splendid Battle—Vote Stood 105 for Mr. Mearns to 100 for Dr. McCrae—Meeting of Sons of Scotland.

Grand Chief—F. S. Mearns, Toronto.
Grand Chieftain—A. C. Gordon, Toronto.
Secretary—Lieut.-Col. D. M. Robertson, Toronto (acclamation).
Treasurer—Alex. Hay, Toronto (acclamation).
Grand Chaplain—Rev. D. W. Christie, Toronto.
Grand Medical Examiner—Dr. Thos. Wylie, Toronto (acclamation).

At the annual elections of the grand encampment of the Sons of Scotland, held last night, the Toronto members made a sweep of the offices and succeeded in electing their men to every position that was balloted for, and they also secured three acclamations.

The contest of the evening was for the office of grand chief. When the count was completed it showed that Frank S. Mearns, of Toronto, had defeated Rev. Dr. McCrae by a vote of 105 to 100. The Toronto men went wild with delight and rushed about the hall cheering vociferously.

The election of the grand executive board and other officers goes on this morning.

At yesterday afternoon's session the reports of the various officers were presented and adopted. All indicated that affairs are most satisfactory.

A Prosperous Order.

At the session yesterday afternoon the reports of all the grand officers were received, and indicate that the order is in a most prosperous condition.

At the close of the annual meeting last year grave apprehension was felt because it had been found necessary to readjust the rates, as many other orders had had to as a result of the Government investigation. The report of Grand Chief Gilchrist dealt with what has occurred in this connection very fully, and he had only words of

CHILD KILLED BY G. T. R. TRAIN

Train No. 64, which leaves London at 2:45 p.m., on the G. T. The little one was playing on the tracks and did not notice the approach of the train.

GRAND TRUNK WILL INVESTIGATE

Accident at Rectory Street Crossing Will Be Inquired Into.

QUESTION IN A NUTSHELL

Was the Semaphore Set Too Late Against the Freight as It Backed Down the Yards.

The Grand Trunk have not commenced their investigation into the accident at Rectory street last night in which Night Watchman Timothy O'Leary lost his life. It was the intention of Assistant Superintendent Davidson to hold the inquiry this morning at 11:30 o'clock, but owing to the pressure of business, he was unable to do so. He has asked the men to appear before him this afternoon, when the matter will be gone into thoroughly.

"I fully intended going into the matter this morning, but other business interfered, and I could not do so," said Mr. Davidson. "I have no opinion as to the cause of the accident. The conductor of the freight, which came in over the Stratford branch, stated that the line was clear when his train started to back down. The derail must have been turned to allow the street car to pass, which would throw the semaphore against the freight. Whether or not that was done too late to avoid an accident, I do not know. We will get all the facts before us today some time, and then we will issue our official report."

ROUGH ROADS CAUSE PATIENTS MUCH PAIN

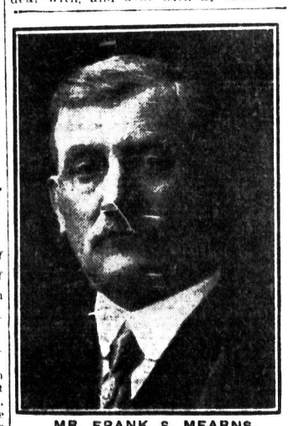

One Good Thoroughfare Should Be Made to Victoria Hospital.

Local physicians are loud in their complaints about the conditions of the roads leading to the Victoria Hospital, and state that sick people and victims of accidents have suffered the greatest pain and inconvenience lately on account of the holes in the streets.

"I think that the engineer and the aldermen who look after the road work should get together, and make one road to the hospital that could be always used. Say for instance, on Wellington or Waterloo streets to Ottaway avenue, and from there to the hospital. It would cost only a comparatively small sum of money to make the roadway in a smooth condition, and it would be an untold blessing to the hundreds of patients who have to go to the hospital every year."

Another physician suggested that a pavement might be laid all the way down Wellington street to Ottaway avenue, and from there to the hospital.

"It is simply a shame to take people who have been badly injured over the present rough roads," he said. "There have been an unusually large number of emergency cases lately, and some of those who have been really badly hurt have suffered the greatest pain on their way to the hospital. This is a matter which from the standpoint of humanity and kindness to injured and sick people the council should deal with, and deal with at once."

MR. FRANK S. MEARNS,
Of Toronto, Elected Grand Chief of the Sons of Scotland.

MYSTERIOUS MAN IS ACCOUNTED FOR

The Stranger Who Was Talking With Watchman Fled After the Accident.

AFRAID OF THE SIGHT

Had Been Ill and He Thought Passengers in the Car Would All Be Killed.

The mystery of "the red-headed man" was solved this morning without the assistance of Sherlock Holmes or other prominent sleuths, and while it was feared for a time Tuesday night that he had met death in the wreck at the Rectory street crossing, he escaped injury.

A couple of minutes after the accident, and before any other word of the affair had reached the neighborhood the man turned up at No. 2 firehall at the corner of Dundas and Rectory streets.

He told the men there that he had sat and talked with Timothy O'Leary, the victim of the wreck and had escaped himself by the narrowest margin. The street car had stopped south of the railway crossing and proceeded slowly onto the tracks, according to the man's story. The man believed, he said, that the motorman saw the freight bearing down upon the car and for that reason he made no effort to signal the motorman. When he saw that a crash was inevitable he jumped and ran north. An instant later the derailed cars crashed through the shanty carrying the signalmen along for thirty feet.

Afraid of the Sight.

"I have been sick for some time and I was afraid that I could not stand to see the injured," he told the fireman. He was under the impression that Motorman Facey and the street car passengers had no chance for escape.

"I saw nothing until the train struck the front vestibule, and I do not know how I escaped," Motorman Facey told The Advertiser at his home this morning. "I was struck on the leg by a piece of timber or some of the machinery, and while my leg was wrenched I did not consider it serious until I found I was unable to walk about."

Facey will be under the care of a physician for some time, as the muscles of his leg are torn.

SPELLING PAPER A DIFFICULT ONE

High School Entrance Candidates Afraid of It.

The entrance examination papers this year have been fairly hard, although not more than usually so. There are more complaints about the spelling paper than about any one of the others. The pupils claim that it was a very difficult one, and more than one expressed the fear that he was "plucked" on it. The words used were not monosyllables by any means. The students claim that a large number of grown-ups would "fall down" on this paper.

The grammar paper, the bete noir of the average boy, was a good one, and not too difficult. It was what is called a "straight" paper, there being few extremely technical features noticeable. As a rule there should be good marks made by the pupils.

KENNEDY'S CONDITION CAUSING UNEASINESS

Man Hurt By a Street Car In East London Is Fighting For Life.

The condition of Wentworth Kennedy, the East London man who was run down by a street car in East London last week, continues quite serious in Victoria Hospital. Young Kennedy was for several days unconscious after the accident, and now only has periods of consciousness. The physicians are unable to state what the outcome of his injury will be yet.

P. C. Mills, who was injured last Friday in a runaway accident, is steadily improving.

Lawrence Barr, who had his shoulder smashed by being hurled out of an ice wagon when it was struck by a street car on Dundas street, is improving. His injury is of such a nature that it will take some time to heal. Yesterday he was placed under the X-ray to see if any pieces of bone were imbedded in his shoulder, but none were found.

MRS. ALLEN DIED FROM NATURAL CAUSES

Autopsy Showed That Wellington Street Woman Had Suffered a Hemorrhage of Brain.

After conducting a post-mortem examination on the body of Mrs. Mary Allen, who died very unexpectedly yesterday morning at 15 Wellington road, Dr. Phipps learned that she died from a hemorrhage of the brain, brought on by a fit of vomiting. Consequently there will be no inquest.

THE NEW SILVER DOLLAR

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, June 28.—Manufacture of the new Canadian silver dollar at the mint here will start shortly. All that the mint is now awaiting is the arrival of the dies necessary for the production of the impression of the new coin. The special machinery has been installed, the press being a very large one, capable of striking about 220 tons.

LIBERALS OF EAST LAMBTON HOLD A RECORD CONVENTION

Biggest Gathering in Years Selects Candidates for Commons and Legislature, and Hears Rousing Addresses.

[By Our Own Man.]

Watford, June 27—At the convention of East Lambton Liberals held here today, Dr. C. O. Fairbank, Petrolea, was nominated to contest the riding for the House of Commons, and Mr. R. J. McCormick, M. P. P., will again be the standard-bearer of the party for the Legislature. The gathering was the largest in recent years, and completely taxed the capacity of Taylor's Hall. Addresses were delivered by Hon. A. G. MacKay, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario House; F. F. Pardee, M. P., West Lambton; R. J. McCormick, H. J. Pettypiece, ex-M. P. P., Forest; Robert Auld, Warwick; Duncan Whyte, Bosanquet, and others. A resolution approving of the reciprocity agreement was passed amid the greatest enthusiasm. There was not a dissenting voice when the vote was put.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Samuel Bailey, of Plympton, president of the association. In a brief speech, he congratulated the Liberals of the riding on the excellent convention, and declared that it augured well for the success of the party at the coming elections, both Dominion and Provincial.

When the committee on credentials, composed of Messrs. A. McQueen, Petrolea; J. Morrison, Inwood, and Dr. Brown, Camlachie, had reported on the delegates, President Bailey called for nominations for the House of Commons. Mr. John Morrison promptly named Dr. Fairbank, and the delegates would listen to no other name. The usual complimentary nominations were not made, so enthusiastic were the delegates over Dr. Fairbank. He was tendered the nomination, which he accepted.

Eight Names.

There were eight named for the legislature—Mr. R. J. McCormick, M. P. P., Warwick; H. J. Pettypiece, ex-M. P. P., Forest; Robert Auld, Warwick; Dr. Brown, Camlachie; A. J. Davis, Sutorville; J. Harry Fowler, London; H. Park, Alvinston, and Duncan Whyte, Rosanquet.

Mr. Auld, A. J. Davis, J. H. Fowler, and H. Park retired after making very brief speeches.

Dr. Brown also declined, but suggested that the liberal party take up the question of good roads more energetically, as that subject was of great moment to the farmers at the present time.

"I am glad that Dr. Fairbank was nominated today for the House of Commons," he declared. "The health of this riding politically is not good, and Dr. Fa'rbank is the man to bring it back to a good state nce more."

Mr. R. J. McCormick followed, and declared that he was a candidate. In a short address he reviewed his work in the Legislature during the past three years. He complimented the association on the large turnout of delegates, the largest he had ever seen in the hall.

"I am a Liberal by choice and conviction," said Mr. McCormick. "My conversion dates back to the time when I was quite a lad. I read of the Family Compact, and when I learned that story, I came to the conclusion that the Liberal party was the party nearest to the people, and I have been a Liberal ever since."

Model Schools.

Mr. McCormick spoke of his efforts to have model schools restored. That had been one of the things for which he had contended early and late, and he was glad to see that the Government was convinced that these schools were a necessity. They had not restored all, but by degrees they were returning to the old system, so long advocated by the Liberals. He was in favor of a more equitable taxation of corporations. He stood firm for Mr. Pettypiece's railway taxation bill, and hoped to see it adopted by the Liberal Government as soon as they were in power.

"I am a candidate," he declared in conclusion. "I will abide by the will of the majority, and whoever is selected will have my undivided support."

Mr. H. J. Pettypiece also announced his candidature. The model schools had not been restored as they should be. There should be at least one model school in each county.

"You know full well where I stand on the question of a more equitable taxation," declared Mr. Pettypiece. "I introduced the bill into the Legislature which, had it been adopted, would have brought relief to the people of those provinces who are suffering because of the unjust burden of taxation. I am not going to give up the fight, and will, if I am your candidate, work earnestly and faithfully for this reform."

The speaker outlined the difficulties he had to contend with in the matter of running a Liberal newspaper. The Conservative had fought him with every possible means in order to drive him out of public life. He would abide by the choice of the convention.

"The reciprocity question is the only real issue before the people of this country," declared Mr. Duncan Whyte. "It is a great triumph for Liberalism, and I never felt so encouraged to fight for the cause as I do at this minute. We have the issue, and we have the men to win."

Mr. Whyte severely criticised the school books issued by the Government.

"They promised cheap school books, and they are certainly cheap in make and matter," he declared. "The majority of us farmers are finding out how cheap they are, and have come to the conclusion that the old books were much the cheaper in the long run. They were well made, and the matter in them was good, infinitely better than some of the stuff printed in the present issue."

He was a candidate and would work enthusiastically for the best interests of the party, no matter who was chosen.

The delegates voted, and Mr. McCormick was chosen on the first ballot. The nomination was made unanimous. Mr. McCormick thanked the delegates for their kindness in tendering him the office.

Mr. Fairbank's Letter.

A letter was read from Mr. J. H. Fairbank, ex-M.P., of Petrolea, stating that he was unable to be present. He gave his unqualified approval of the reciprocity agreement, declaring it to be one of the master strokes in the brilliant career of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"If reciprocity is wrong, the free list is wrong," he stated. "One cannot be right and the other wrong. If the duty can be taken off one article it certainly can be taken off the others. We cannot remove the obstructions between buyer and seller without benefitting both."

Dr. Fairbank was the next speaker, and dealt briefly with the issues of the campaign. He also thanked the convention for the great honor done him in selecting him as a candidate.

"Many years ago my father was chosen by the Liberals of this riding to lead a forlorn hope, after East Lambton had been shamefully gerrymandered," he declared. "With your assistance he won the riding, and I am now convinced that history is going to repeat itself, and you are going to elect his son." (Cheers.)

"The Conservative leaders wore out their shoes tramping to Washington to get a trade agreement such as we have today," he declared.

"Those trade wizards—Fielding and Paterson—secured for us what both parties have been striving to obtain since Confederation.

"It is interesting to read the speeches of some of the United States senators, who express the fear that this great Colossus of the north was going to flood their country, and completely overturn the poor, weak United States. I think we ought to pass a resolution today to the effect that we do not intend to annex the United States."

Dr. Fairbank paid a little attention to the speech of Mr. Jos. E. Armstrong, M. P., of which he had circulated 8,000 copies in the riding. In it an attack was made on the loyalty of Hon. W. S. Fielding, and Dr. Fairbank branded it as an absolutely untruthful statement.

Mr. F. F. Pardee, M. P., spoke but a few minutes, and congratulated the convention on the selection of two such strong candidates. He felt confident that the east riding would be held for the Liberals at the coming election.

He dealt with reciprocity very briefly, pointing out that both sides of the House were most enthusiastic when the pact was first brought before the House.

"The Conservatives, as well as the Liberals, applauded most enthusiastically when the pact was announced," he declared. "They all knew it to be a good thing for Canada. What has caused their change of front? That is a question that they themselves cannot answer correctly."

In conclusion, Mr. Pardee paid a glowing tribute to the effective work being done by Hon. A. G. MacKay in the Ontario House.

Hon. A. G. MacKay was given a great ovation on rising to speak. It was some minutes before he could commence.

"I am more than glad to see so large a gathering under such circumstances," he said. "You have every reason to be proud of such a large representation of the Liberals of East Lambton.

"I want to pay my tribute to the valued services of your member, Mr. R. J. McCormick. He is a faithful worker, and a good representative. I can say without fear of contradiction that Mr. McCormick is the most popular member in the legislature on either side of the House."

The speaker dwelt for a short space of time on the necessity of good educational methods. He scathingly criticized the administration of the department of education by Hon. Dr. Pyne, and declared that the schools of the province were badly marred as a result of the Government's unwise policies. In one county alone 24 out of 74 teachers were not qualified, and this fact itself was a sufficient condemnation of their methods of administration.

Hon. A. G. Mackay.

"I have advocated, and still do advocate, a revision of the assessment act," declared Mr. MacKay. "When the amendments were being considered some time ago I suggested that the various municipalities be given the option of assessing improvements. Under the present system the thrifty man, the man who works and saves, and improves his property, is assessed for these improvements, a principle which, to my mind, is not proper nor right. No government has the right to tax the perspiration of a man's brow, or the energy, hard work, the economy of a toiler. The thrifty man, under the present system, must pay for his thrift, while the sloven is allowed to go free. I suggested to the Government that municipalities be given the option of taxing improvements as they saw fit, but the Government would not listen. I still contend I am right, and I am sure that you agree with me." (Cheers.)

Mr. MacKay dwelt with the tour of Mr. R. L. Borden through the west, where he spoke on the question of reciprocity. When he was at Qu'Appelle, Hon. Mr. Haultain, Conservative leader in the Saskatchewan Legislature, was not on the platform. When he reached the constituency of Mr. Lake, a Conservative M. P., the latter found it convenient to be absent. At still another town, Mr. Tait, a Conservative member of the Saskatchewan Legislature, led a delegation of grain growers with reciprocity badges on, and demanded that Mr. Borden favor reciprocity. At a constituency in South Alberta, all that Mr. Borden could get Mr. Heron, one of his lieutenants in the House, to say, was that he had not said that he was going to vote for reciprocity.

"The west is solid for reciprocity, and Mr. Borden is finding that fact out now," he declared.

"Every farmers' journal in Canada is for reciprocity," continued Mr. MacKay. "Every farming journal in the United States is opposed to it. The reason is very obvious."

"The farmers in the northern part of Western Ontario have lost $50,000 because we have not had reciprocity in natural products. Just 625 carloads of hay, of 20 tons capacity each, have gone to the United States, or 12,500 tons in all, during the past nine months. Had the farmers not been compelled to pay $4 a ton duty, they would have received $50,000 more for their product. That argument cannot be answered by the Opposition."

Mr. MacKay dwelt at some length on reciprocity, pointing out the many advantages that would come from the adoption of the agreement.

A resolution, moved by Mr. H. Park, Alvinston, and Dr. Brown of Camlachie, expressing the confidence of East Lambton Liberals in the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. A. G. MacKay, and their unswerving faith in the reciprocity agreement, as proposed by the Dominion Government, was carried by a standing vote, amid the greatest enthusiasm.

The meeting concluded with cheers for the candidates, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. A. G. MacKay and the King.

Suffered for Years From Constipation and Sick Headache

Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed, some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief. The most frequent of all are bilious or sick headaches, and are caused by some derangement of the stomach or bowels, or both.

Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the digestive and biliary organs, removes acidity of the stomach, improves digestion, regulates the constipated bowels, and promotes a perfect circulation of pure blood to all portions of the body.

Mrs. C. Meadows, Clarksburg, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with sick headache and dizziness, and was also constipated. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I only took three bottles of the medicine, and now feel like a new person as I am completely cured. I can truthfully testify that B.B.B. is the best medicine I have ever used."

Burdock Blood Bitters, has, during the last 35 years, built up an unrivalled reputation as a cure for all troubles arising from a constipated condition of the bowels.

MR. F. S. MEARNS ELECTED

the loudest praise for the manner in which the members have stood together.

His report in part is as follows:

A Tribute to London.

It gives me pleasure to welcome you to grand camp. We meet in a city honored by a name of special significance in the great British Empire of which we form a proud part, and of historic significance to Canada, for here, on the banks of the Canadian Thames, our first lieutenant-governor, the sagacious and patriotic Simcoe, had designed to establish the capital of the infant colony known then as Upper Canada, and now as Ontario.

London has grown and thriven with the Province, and is now the centre for an extended tract of fertile country, in which are situated a large number of camps of our association. It is, therefore, most fitting that the grand camp should meet here at this time. One element that should enter into the choice of a place of meeting is the good that may result in the district in which the meeting is held. I hope, therefore, that from this grand camp there will go out an influence for good in Western Ontario. I also hope that Western Ontario men will make themselves felt in our meeting, and go forth from among their brethren, stimulating and to stimulate.

We meet here under very favorable circumstances—the most favorable in the history of the association. In looking over the work of the past two years the delegates will find cause for rejoicing—I might almost say triumphant rejoicing.

Hard-Headed Business.

Our history as an association has vindicated the claim that Scotsmen are a hard-headed business people. It is unnecessary to recall the fact to the older members that the association was formed on a basis which, while perhaps the only one available at that early time, was soon found to be entirely inadequate for the purposes of our business, but as it became clear to the members that changes were necessary, these changes were brought about. Sometimes, it is true, only after strenuous effort, but, we are pleased to think, none the less sure and certain. Thus, while the outlook was in doubt at last grand camp, today the clouds have rolled away, and we are already in a position to feel the benefit of the wise course then adopted.

The Situation Now.

A solid membership has been maintained. There has been no great defection. No two thousand members have been lost no two hundred; and I would be out of reckoning only by fewer than a dozen, were I to say that even twenty were not lost to the association on account of the increase in our rates. How was this marvellous result achieved? In our honest forebodings we probably did not take into full account the calibre and quality of the men who have stood at the head of this association these many years, not for profit or gain, but because they were filled with a patriotic pride in doing their duty by their countrymen, and in keeping our flag free and unfurled before the world.

If I were to search for a proof of the love which the leal Scot bears to his race and the honor of his fellow-countrymen, I could not find a better one than in the zeal, the devotion, and the brains bestowed on our cause and interests by the brethren who have worthily won and retained your confidence these many years.

In concluding, the grand chief thanked the brethren most heartily for the splendid support they have given him throughout his term of office.

Grand Secretary's Report.

The report of the grand secretary, Lieut.-Col. Robertson, contained many interesting figures. He showed that when he took over the office in 1893 there was a membership of 4,500, and the finances were not in any too strong a condition. Enormous advances have been made, and the membership now amounts to 7,387, with a total insurance of $5,646,256 and a reserve fund of $217,120.25.

The grand treasurer's report, read by Alex. Hay, gave a detailed account of the affairs of the order and showed its present standing.

The report of Grand Medical Adviser Dr. Thomas Wyllie was in part as follows:

Some Statistics.

"I have examined during the last biennial period 2,257 members. The average age of those admitted to our association was 27 years. During the same time there have been removed by death 139. The average age of those was 57 years. The number of examinations declined was 19, and the causes of such rejections were: Unsatisfactory family history, 5; personal history, 10; under age limit, 3; over age limit, 1. A number of examinations were returned whom the applicants did not wish to be rejected, hence the reason for the small number of rejections reported. The death rate per thousand for the whole membership per annum during the period of two years has been 8½, which I consider a very small mortality at this age of the association.

CANADIAN CONTINGENT IN GRAVE PERIL

London, June 27. — Today the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary and Prince George visited the overseas soldiers' camp at Chelsea and inspected the different contingents. The Prince of Wales specially asked where the different companies of Canadians came from, and begged a button from Col. H. H. Maclean's tunic, a request promptly complied with. All the commandants gave him their badges, whereupon Prince George demanded similar gifts. The South African soldiers gave their peculiar lion's roar, and the Canadians gave the royal children three cheers, with a tiger, and sang "O Canada." Hon. Lewis Harcourt visited the camp later today. Tomorrow the Canadians go to Windsor Castle, and the officers will take tea at Eton. Lord Strathcona dines the officers and their wives at night.

On Friday the King presents the coronation medals at Buckingham Palace, and on Saturday the Canadian camp will be struck at 1 o'clock, the soldiers embarking on the Empress of Britain from Liverpool at 7.

Col. Maclean told the Canadian Associated Press that the officers and men were nearly killed by kindness and hospitality.

The Air Is Germ-Laden

IN THE SPRINGTIME—DISEASE IS READY TO MAKE YOU A VICTIM WHEN THE BLOOD IS THIN.

Rich, Red Blood Is the Greatest of Germicides—You Can Get the Blood Right by Using

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

When the blood is rich and red, when it is largely composed of red corpuscles, there is little chance for disease germs. They cannot thrive in the system which is filled with good blood.

But in the spring the blood is generally thin, weak, and watery. It lacks the vitalizing red corpuscles and you become an easy prey to the germs of disease which seem to lurk everywhere at this time of year.

You can fortify yourself against the germs of disease by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great restorative treatment forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, makes the blood rich, red, and healthy.

Weakness, tired feelings, stomach derangements and disorders of the nervous system soon disappear when Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is used.

This medicine cures by the building-up process, and for this reason its benefits are lasting. Nearly everybody needs something in the spring to enrich the blood and tone up the system, and it would be impossible to get a more satisfactory spring tonic than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. FALLS HUNDRED FEET; GOES BACK TO WORK

Carpenter Seventy-Seven Years Old Not Even Scratched by Tumble.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 28.—Charles Gunner, of Yonkers, is his usual sprightly seventy-seven-year-old self today despite a fall of one hundred feet from a scaffold yesterday. Mr. Gunner had been employed by a Yonkers woman to do some carpenter work at her home, and had hardly started when the scaffold fell. He picked himself off the street one hundred feet below without a scratch. He declined to be treated by the ambulance surgeon, and, after making the scaffold safe, went back to work.

John Williams, sixty years old, who was working on the scaffold with Gunner, had both legs broken and suffered dislocation of several vertebrae.

LA FOLLETTE PICKS WILSON AS RIVAL

Views on 1912 Race Indicated in Advice to a Visitor.

Washington, June 27.—At the close of an article in this month's World's Work, on "La Follette, Pioneer Progressive," William Bayard Hale tells a little story about presidential possibilities. It strikes many men in Washington as a fair indication of Woodrow Wilson's strength, at the same time that it illumines La Follette's attitude on Taft, Wilson and himself. Here's the tale:

"A visitor had a long wait for his turn to see Senator La Follette. 'I only came to shake the hand of the next president,' he said.

"'Thank you very much,' replied the senator, in his best manner and with his extra-expansion smile. 'Thank you very much for your good wishes for me. But as I wish you well, too, I must advise you that if you want to strike the right man you had better shake hands with a few dozen other gentlemen.'

"'Is it worth while to go to the other end of Pennsylvania avenue, where the White House is situated, senator?' quizzed the visitor.

"'Well,' replied the senator, 'it's a very hot day, and that is a long trip. But don't forget to go to Trenton, New Jersey.'"

And, as everybody knows by this time, Trenton, N. J., is the official residence of Woodrow Wilson, governor.

LIVERPOOL'S DOCKS ARE AT A STANDSTILL

Four Thousand More Dockmen Have Joined the Strikers.

[Canadian Press.]

Liverpool, June 28.—Work at the docks here is practically at a standstill. Four thousand additional dockhands joined the strikers today. The Cunard, Canadian Pacific Railway, Dominion, White Star, the Ellerman, and other combined lines, are all affected equally.

There is no question of wages involved in this extension of the strike movement. The dockmen are fighting simply for the recognition of their union and the non-employment of non-union labor.

The crews of the steamer Haverford of the Red Star Line, and other liners at the docks here, have deserted their vessels in sympathy with the wharf employees.

CORONATION STAMPS ARE NOT POPULAR

Parliament May Be Asked to Order Withdrawal and a New Issue.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 28.—The new postage stamps, which have been in circulation since coronation day, are not meeting with popular favor. The poverty of the design and the mediocrity of the engraving are criticised, and the postmaster-general will be asked in Parliament if he will consider the advisability of withdrawing the stamps and having a fresh issue designed with a portrait of King George that shall be an actual miniature likeness of his majesty.

THE SEAMEN'S STRIKE A VICTORY FOR MEN

Little Doubt Now But That All Companies Will Grant Increase.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 28.—Indications this morning point to the early termination of the international seamen's strike, in which case an all-round increase in wages will result. Every day additional shipowners have yielded to demands for increases in wages.

A conference of owners was held in Liverpool yesterday and another will be held in London today. It is expected that the outcome of these conferences will be that the shipping federation, which up to the present refused to accept any compromise, will leave all the shipowners who belong to the federation free to make whatever concessions they individually consider advisable. In this event there is little doubt that all the shipowners will concede an advance.

Had Severe Pains In His Back.

Could Hardly Work.

Mr. Alfred E. Davis, Gorrie, Ont., writes:—"For some years I suffered from severe pains in my back and could hardly work at all, and when I stooped down to pick up anything felt as if my back must break. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking two boxes I was entirely cured, and feel that I cannot speak too highly in their favor.

"This was nearly four years ago and I still remain cured."

Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble do not know the suffering and misery which those afflicted undergo.

Weak, lame or aching back comes from the kidneys, and when the kidneys are out of order the whole system becomes deranged.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and urinary passages.

Price 50c per box or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28.

MR. BOURASSA APPLAUDS MR. BORDEN.

"The most significant lesson of Mr. Borden's oratorical campaign," writes Mr. Bourassa in Le Devoir, "is his discreet reserve on the problem of imperial defence and imperialism in general. Did some friend remind him that in that very town of Winnipeg his predecessor, Sir Charles Tupper, stigmatized with his proverbial vigor the want of insight and of patriotism of those Canadians who 'slander' their country in pretending that Canada has not done her whole duty and more than her duty to the mother country? I do not know. But at any rate, we are far from the patriotic tirades of 1909 and 1910. Not a word of German peril, of a present of Dreadnoughts, or of twenty millions. Not the least criticism of the 'separatist tendencies' of the navy law."

Evidently Mr. Bourassa is highly pleased at the sudden recovery of Mr. Borden from imperialist fever and German agues. The western air, which the Winnipeg Telegram hoped would do wonders for Mr. Borden's economic education, has proved just the thing to dispel those imperialist delirums which gave his anti-Laurier ally in Quebec such concern. Bourassa is now well pleased with Borden. He welcomes him, perhaps a little doubtfully and wistfully, yet as almost a recruit to the Nationalist or anti-imperialist cause. He sees him at least convalescing from "the falsity of the imperialist legend," and coming into the light.

That Mr. Borden should now not be testifying to the faith, even under the Roblin-Rogers shadow, shows indeed how weakly and insincerely he ever held the Dreadnought doctrine. The opposition to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's naval plan was the hollowest kind of conspiracy. It was nothing but a catch-vote programme, drawn up mainly by the Roblin-Rogers cabal. And now under Roblin's nose, with Montreal and Toronto tuft-hunters whooping behind, Mr. Borden simply forgets the articles to which he swore. While the navy is made the big issue by Nationalist orators in Quebec, Mr. Borden has not a word to say on imperial defence to the people of the West. At the same time he attacks the reciprocity pact as anti-imperial. But Mr. Bourassa, noting all this, contrasts the frankness and courage of Mr. Borden with the evasiveness of Sir Wilfrid Laurier!

OUR HEALTHY FOREIGN TRADE.

The foreign trade returns of Canada for the year ending March 31, 1911, show that our imports increased $86,000,000 over the preceding year, amounting to a total of $461,858,000. At the same time our exports reached $274,316,000. The Montreal Gazette remarks that while the imports have quadrupled from $111,294,000 in 1896-7 (interesting that even Conservative journals inevitably take 1896 as the date when Canada was born again, the great point of departure for her modern history), the exports have only a little more than doubled from $123,632,000 in 1897, and have only slightly increased from $214,401,000 in 1903. In fact, there is a decline of five millions from $279,247,000 for 1909-1910. "This means," says the Gazette, "that much is being borrowed abroad, and that there will be heavy settlements to make when the notes fall due."

The Gazette at least understands that much of the excess of imports over exports represents the investment of capital in Canada and not the displacement of Canadian labor. Borrowing is going on, and we have the assets to cover it. The loans will, of course, have to be repaid, but they will be repaid out of the development which they are stimulating. The establishment of American branch factories, the entrance of settlers' effects, more than these, the influx of settlers whose sudden demand for goods cannot be wholly supplied yet by home industry, are also factors in the excess of imports. There is no cause for alarm in the situation. It would be surprising indeed, if our exports equalled our imports at the present stage of the country's growth.

The Gazette insinuates that a comparison of the American and British figures proves that we must continue to be a buyer from the United States, and a seller to Great Britain. As a matter of fact, Great Britain cannot go on indefinitely absorbing Canada's surplus of natural products, especially wheat. The reciprocity agreement will open to our food products the market of the United States, and bring about a more even balance of trade with that country.

ANOTHER IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

The report of the Imperial Education Conference is at hand. From the list of official representatives sent to the conference by the various governments of the empire, it appears that of the nine Canadian provinces three were represented, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but Ontario, Dr. Pyne and Dr. Colquhoun were nominated but did not attend. The Education Department at Toronto is not dead, only fast asleep. Now and then it gives a kick in its dreams, nominates itself to go to England, and does not go.

There was an interesting discussion on trade schools and continuation schools opened by Dr. Robertson (chairman of the Canadian royal commission on industrial training and technical education). Educationally, he said he found things in England the best in all the world except Scotland.

The conference took advanced ground on the subject of simplified spelling. What pity that Messrs. Pyne and Colquhoun were not there to set the meddlers right! Dr. Mackay, the Nova Scotian representative, read a paper strongly advocating phonetic spelling. The following resolution was put and carried unanimously:

"That this conference is of opinion that the simplification of spelling is a matter of urgent importance in all parts of the Empire, calling for such practical steps in every country as may appear most conducive to the ultimate attainment of the end in view—the creation, in connection with the subject, of an enlightened public opinion, and the direction of it to the maintenance in its purity and simplicity among all English-speaking peoples of the common English tongue."

There was also a discussion of bilingualism, evidently of no interest to the Ontario Department, which needs no consultation with radicals of Britain, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa, and other advanced regions of the Empire. Dr. Mackay spoke for Canada, Dr. Viljoen for South Africa, Mr. Owen Edward for Wales.

Mr. Borden is not a Dreadnought. He has a dread of mentioning his own naval policy in the west.

The high school "entrance" examinations mean an exit from school life for many pupils—more's the pity.

Berlin is now in a position to be incorporated as a city, and will probably assume the new dignity to keep pace with its baseball team.

The noted French-Canadian journal, La Patrie, surpassed all others in its coronation souvenir issue. Its readers will be well informed and patriotically edified on the great subject. Congratulations to La Patrie!

The growing army of promoters in Canada

Count that day lost whose low descending sun

Sees not some merger finished or begun.

The political "revolution" in Great Britain is being taken up this week by the House of Lords where it left off for the coronation. It's a nice, obliging revolution that comes on and off the stage to suit the public convenience.

The Detroit Free Press' ill-natured fling at the King and the coronation is reproduced in this country by some papers as if it represented American sentiment. Why not quote some of the thousands of American papers which have alluded to the coronation in the most appreciative terms?

Mr. Herron, Opposition M. P., of Macleod, Alberta, appeared on Mr. Borden's platform, but declined to state his views on reciprocity, which is the commanding issue. Mr. Herron is too staunch a partisan to let a mere question of principle and public policy come between himself and his leader.

The world continues to hear news of the prodigious attainments of the boy Sidis. He entered Harvard University two years ago at the age of 11, already advanced to higher mathematics and classical philology. Wait till the prodigy is 25 or 30 years of age, advises the Chicago Record-Herald. This seems good counsel.

A PUBLIC DUTY.

A New York judge has exonerated a man who whipped another for rocking the boat. Whipping the rocker isn't a misdemeanor; it's a public duty.

IT DEPENDED.

Pupil—Please, teacher, was it a man or a woman?

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?
[Winnipeg Free Press.]

For Robert A. Falconer a C. M. G., and a knighthood for Max Aitken? It is to be hoped that the Dominion Government is not responsible for this remarkable selection.

"REAL RESULT" OF CORONATION.
[New York Sun.]

The frame of mind of the crowds in London may be compared with that of a host of people around a church door at a wedding. Every now and then there is a murmur of "Here she comes." A stranger from a barbarous land might imagine that there was something wonderful about a bride. The spectators have no interest in the bridegroom. But a few weeks later that insignificant person will have his say. So Mr. Asquith, the plain, untitled prime minister, will be laying down the law and ordering things as soon as the fuss and feathers of royalty's great perade have been forgotten. What then, it may be asked, will be the real result of the coronation? It will provide the moving-picture people with the finest set of films that it is possible to imagine.

Customer (to barber)—Shave off my wife's mustache, too.

Customer—That's the trouble with my wife. It goes in at one ear and comes out at her mouth.

THOSE "VICTORIAN VIRTUES."
[Chicago Tribune.]

It must be conceded that it is any lady's privilege to direct her coronation to suit herself, at least so far as an austere and loyal the list of precedents will permit her. Breadcap and tradition may put a number of otherwise uninteresting gentlemen in the ceremony as sceptre holders, glove carriers, standard bearers and what not, and may give them the privilege of picking up a few considerable or inconsiderable honorariums and perquisites, but so far as it is possible for any one pers n to manage the affair, that prerogative pertains to the Queen's.

It evidently is Queen Mary's patriotic ambition to revive the waning influence of the British matron as an institution, and under that safe tutelage to return to the solid virtues of the Victorian age, before whose tremendousness the frivolities were only as gnats dancing against the face of Gibraltar.

If the coronation offer this opportunity, and if Queen Mary thus empowers it, surely she is above criticism. Let the French modiste gibe and the American peeress depart for other courts, where made-in-Britain gowns do not awkwardly bedeck home-of-the-Britain virtues. If the elect run the risk of being dowdy in order that they may be assured of being good, who shall say that the sacrifice was too much?

A DUTIFUL KING.
[New York Globe.]

King George has not intended to himself the corporation nothing to his personal popularity or his fame. But in his hands, as far as he has influence, the great British tradition will suffer no harm. Conscientious and clean of life, both he and his consort are devoted to doing their duty and measuring up to their responsibilities. Their conception of life is not that of gratification of selfish desires. They want to be useful to others, and, called on to perform functions that are sometimes irksome, they do the work that is at their hand simply and naturally. Assuredly King George has proved himself worthy of the loyal regard he has long received from the classes and soft-ened disputes that threatened at one time to lead on to breaking the harmony that has been happily characteristic of the British people.

A CENSUS INCIDENT.
[Toronto Saturday Night.]

One of Mr. Fisher's census enumerators had an interesting time interviewing a lady on Crescent street here. With his voluminous book and blue sharpened pencil, the inquisitor appeared at the door and the woman came.

"Is the man of the house in?" he sweetly inquired, opening his judgment book.

"No," was the reply.

"Will he be in at noon?"

"No."

"Can you tell me where I can find him?" persisted Mr. Fisher's underling.

"I can't. He was drowned last fall," was the unexpected reply.

HE HAD READ ROMEO.
[Philadelphia Times.]

She was very literary, and he was not. He had spent a harrowing evening discussing authors of whom he knew nothing and their books, of which he knew less.

Presently the maiden asked archly: "Of course you've read 'Romeo and Juliet'?"

He floundered helplessly for a moment, and then, having a brilliant thought, blurted out happily:

"I—I've read Romeo!"

SCOTCH HUMOR.
[Milwaukee Free Press.]

David R. Forgan, the Chicago banker, has a dry Scotch humor. Speaking of the danger of being puffed up by sudden honors, Mr. Forgan told this story of Simpson, the great Scotch physician:

"Dr. Simpson had been absent from his class for some time, and on his return he announced that a great professional honor had been conferred upon him," said Mr. Forgan.

"'I am very happy to inform you, young gentlemen, that a very great honor has come to me since last we met here,' said Professor Simpson, his face beaming with honest pride. 'I have just received notification that I have been appointed physician-in-ordinary to her Majesty Queen Victoria.'

"The great discoverer of chloroform looked over his glasses as if he expected his class to be quite taken away by the great news. Instead, he was shocked to hear those Scotch boys burst into the National Anthem, 'God Save the Queen.'

"'And still they say the Scotch have no sense of humor,' added Mr. Forgan.

THE USUAL AFFECTION.
[Tit-Bits.]

"What a very affecting piece, my dear," remarked the husband as they returned from the suburban theatre the other night. "I suppose there wasn't a dry eye in the house."

"I observed, however," said the wife, "that there seemed to be the usual number of dry throats."

DYSPEPSIA.

SAVES MAN FALLING FROM TWENTIETH FLOOR

Gives Body a Swing Inward to Safety as It Rushes By.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, June 28.—One of the human flies, whose agility and lack of nerves makes skyscrapers possible, lost his balance yesterday and toppled from the twentieth story of the new Heller building.

Ordinarily the foregoing statement would complete the story, but not so in the case of Patrick Eustace, for there was a hero at hand in the person of John Murray, and Eustace probably will be at work again in a day or two.

Eustace toppled from a beam, just as scores of other structural iron workers have done, and some of his companions did not even turn their heads to see the mangled form which their minds conjured up as lying on the pavement below.

Murray was working on the nineteenth floor and saw Eustace fall. He reached far out and grasped the falling man by his tough workingman's blouse. He was not able to hold the weight, but he gave the descending body a swing inward and the latter landed on the eighteenth floor on a pair of cross beams. He was bruised but no bones were broken.

LONDON MAN GUILTY OF ASSAULT

John Rourke Fined Fifty Dollars and Costs at Woodstock.

Woodstock, Ont., June 27. — John Rourke, whose home is in London, was charged with a serious offence, before Judge Finkle, today. He was arrested in Ingersoll on the complaint of the parents of a young boy. His honor remarked that there was not sufficient evidence to convict him on the more serious charge, as he would have liked to sentence him to the lash. Rourke pleaded guilty to common assault, and was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

Semi-Steel Fire-Pot—Not Gray Iron

A FIRE-POT of a furnace should be able to endure tremendous heat and to repel the attacks of sulphur fumes.

The material commonly used for a fire-pot is gray iron. The Sunshine fire-pot is Semi-Steel.

Now, avoiding technical terms, gray iron has what may be called "open" pores. Through these "open" pores the destructive sulphur fumes attack the iron and hasten disintegration.

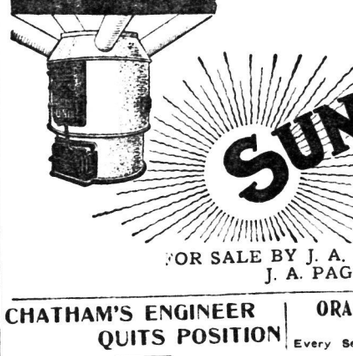

On the other hand, Semi-Steel is a close-grained material, with a smooth-as-glass surface which practically seals or "closes" up the pores. Semi-Steel easily repels the attacks of gas fumes and thus greatly prolongs the life of the fire-pot.

A Semi-Steel fire-pot weighs 20 per cent. heavier than the same size and pattern in gray iron. It is therefore better able to endure tremendous heat.

Semi-Steel is made by an exclusive McClary process. You can only get a Semi-Steel fire-pot with a McClary furnace. That is one strong reason why you should have the Sunshine installed in your home. Our agent in your locality will tell you many other reasons. Ask him.

Remember, the Sunshine is guaranteed, by the largest makers of furnaces in British Empire, to heat your home to your entire satisfaction. 45

RUNAWAY BOY HELD AT SARNIA

A Little Syrian Wandered From His Home at Petrolea.

Sarnia, June 27.—When train No. 27 from the east pulled into the Tunnel station this morning, the conductor handed over to G. T. R. Constable Hemmingway, a little boy about nine years of age, who had boarded the train at Wyoming without money or a ticket, and who spoke a language that defied all efforts of conductor and passengers to understand.

Constable Hemmingway brought him to the police station, and he was interviewed by several foreigners in several different tongues, without result. The lad could not understand and could not be understood. The general conclusion was that he was an Assyrian, and this was followed out by the fact that when the lad was given pencil and paper he immediately wrote in the peculiar backward style of the Assyrians. It is thought that the lad has run away from his parents in Petrolea, as there are several foreign families in that neighborhood.

W. B. ALLAN DEAD

Was One of the Best-Known Architects in Ontario.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Catharines, June 28.—William B. Allan, who died suddenly at New York last night, was one of the best-known architects in the country. He lived here half a century, and filled many municipal offices. Two brothers, Alexander and Thomas, live in Toronto. Mr. Allan was a prominent Presbyterian, having been a member of Knox Church for 50 years, and an energetic Sunday school worker. On Sunday he was presented with an address by the people of Knox Church, testifying to his long and faithful service in the Sunday school. Mr. Allan seemed to be in his usual health when he left here, although the recent deaths of his wife and a brother were great shocks to him. The remains will be brought to St. Catharines for interment.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE

Every Section of Dominion Represented at Winnipeg Meeting.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, June 28.—The eighty-second annual convention of the Orange Grand Lodge of British America opened in Winnipeg at noon, with every section of the Dominion represented. For two days the Black Chapter and higher degrees of the order have been holding sessions in the city. About 400 visitors are in Winnipeg attending the different degrees. One of the chief topics the grand lodge will be called upon to discuss will relate to the Ne Temere decree, by which the Roman Catholic Church refuses to recognize the legality of marriages in which the Roman Catholic Church is concerned unless the rite is performed by Roman Catholic clergymen. It is said a movement will be started by which in every village and town and county throughout the Dominion meetings will be simultaneously held to petition the Dominion Government to pass a uniform law concerning marriage which will invalidate the Ne Temere decree in the Dominion. Many men prominent in the Orange order from all parts of Canada and the United States are present. Officers will be elected tonight.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Midgie Station, N. B.—One can hardly believe this as it is not natural, but it was my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for advice and received your reply with pleasure.

I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—MRS. JOSIAH W. HICKS, Midgie Station, N. B.

Of Interest To Women

I LOVE HIM ONLY, BUT I FLIRTED WITH OTHER BOYS, AND NOW MY SWEETHEART HAS LEFT ME. "WHAT SHALL I DO?" ASKS THIS GIRL.

Dear Miss Grey: I am a girl of 17 coming to you with my tale of woe.

I had a sweetheart whom I loved dearly. After four or five months of steady company my love seemed to grow more passionate; but I always was a flirt until I met him. Then it was hard to quit right off.

I never went out with anyone but him. Boys would call me up when he was here and laugh and talk over the 'phone—that was all.

He always told me he didn't care; yet my friends would tell me they knew he did. One evening he left me the same old "sweetheart," but he never came back, I do not know why.

No explanations were ever made, although I have heard from others it was his father who objected.

If such be the case don't you think it would have been more honorable for him to have come to me and told me all and saved me all this anguish.

I loved him, and I love him still. Do you think, Miss Grey, I can ever win him back; or do you thin' he is worthy of an honest girl's true love?

ANXIOUS.

BY CYNTHA GREY.

Perhaps he grew tired of hearing your conversations with others over the 'phone and decided he could spend his time more pleasantly and profitably elsewhere. No one could blame him for that.

Your boy friends were very rude to call you on the 'phone when they knew you were otherwise engaged. And you were very inconsiderate of your friend's feelings to answer them at any length. You could have excused yourself to these boy friends without showing discourtesy, and asked them to call another time.

Of course he said he didn't care! That was only natural. But his pride was hurt, just the same. There isn't a man living who would relish such a situation.

And perhaps your past reputation as a "flirt" told against you in his mind—added to your apparent willingness to spend the time during his calls in chatting and laughing over the 'phone with others. You really cannot blame him. If the situation had been reversed, you would have been offended.

As it looks to me from your own story, you owe him an apology. If you want to win him back don't hesitate to offer it.

And try to live down the reputation of being a "flirt." That's a thing that tells against any girl, and it certainly is not a reputation to be proud of—to say the least!

A TENDERFOOT'S WOOING

BY CLIVE PHILLIPS WOLLEY, Auther of "Gold, Gold in Cariboo," etc.

[All Rights Reserved.]

He paused for a long minute, and west it ran a chain of haystacks, each fenced over everything showing with his eye. On the feed upon which depended the fly George's his Winchester had gone! No, safety of Rolt's stock if a hard winter it hadn't. There it was behind its oily sheath cover.

Skin, and there was absolutely nothing else which she could have wanted.

That face peering around the open way must have been a sick man's fancy.

In order to keep Kitty interested and quiet, Mary Rolt had dinner served that night for the four of them in the bedroom, busying herself in making the best place as vivid a contrast as possible to the grim world outside.

A wood fire glowed merrily on the wide hearth, and the light of it was reflected by the silver and glass that nestled coyly in the folds of the rose-colored crepone hangings.

"Do you want all the blinds drawn, Frank?" she asked, with her hand on the last of them.

"Not unless you wish it."

"Well, then, I'll leave this one undrawn. I always snuggle into bed more cosily when I can peep out into a bitter night like this. Can you see down the valley from where you lie without lifting the head? A peep at it will make the fire feel warmer and the room more homelike."

"It always feels homelike where you are, Mrs. Rolt."

She curtseyed to him with a laugh, and then turning to Kitty, who had just entered the room, bade her be quick with the dinner.

"And see, my girl," she added, "that is not the way to lay a table," and then with a few deft touches rearranged some of the silver.

Kitty for the nonce had donned cap and apron, and Austruther was not the first to discover more charm and coquetry in a maid's cap than in her mistress's toilette.

"Does the family expect to be waited on, or does it stretch?" she asked, saucily.

"What do you mean, Katherine?"

"Where I was last, the family had to be waited on when it had a party, but when it was by itself it stretched like this," and reaching across the table she possessed herself of a salt cellar.

"You went as a lady-help, I suppose," retorted Mrs. Rolt, severely; "all lady and no help, like Miss Morar."

"What was her story?" asked Austruther.

"Oh, she came out to help the poor dear boys, her brothers. They could not afford to hire any help, and just pigged until she came. At the end of a fortnight their sister had discovered exactly ninety different things, each of which was the only thing she never could do, and so gaily, guessing who it was who cleaned the boots, she put hers outside her bedroom door every night."

"And?"

"And? Oh, and she married, of course, and her brothers do just as they did while she was with them, except that her husband cleans her boots now."

But Austruther was not listening to Mrs. Rolt's chat on lady-helps. Instead he was gazing intently through the uncurtained window at the foot of his bed, to which the others had their backs turned.

"Who would be camping down the valley tonight, Mrs. Rolt?" he asked.

"In the hay meadows? No one."

"Is not that a fire? Surely my eyes are not playing me false again?"

The boss turned lazily in his chair.

"Yes, that is a fire, sure enough. There are two of them. Do you see that little one just beyond the first?"

Suddenly Rolt's face changed. He sprang to the window, took one searching glance down the valley, and then turned sharply to his wife, his face working with some feeling which he strove to control.

"Mary, dear, I want to speak to you for a moment. Will you excuse us, Frank?" and laying his hand on Kitty's shoulder as he passed, he whispered: "Keep him quiet, whatever happens. I rely on you," and then he followed his wife from the room.

Once outside the door his manner changed. "It's our stacks, little woman. Those devils are fired our winter feed. Keep cool and run now, and tell the men in the dining room. I'm off to the mess house to get the half-breeds. Keep your heart up—we'll stop them before they can do much damage."

He was running downstairs as he spoke, and snatched a Winchester from its rack as he passed out of the hall.

Mary Rolt's heart sank as she saw him snatch the rifle, but she did his bidding as he would have had her do it, with the utmost coolness, and when the men had rushed out after their master, she went back to the sick-room. There was no need for an explanation there.

Through the uncurtained window a glare of red light proclaimed the work that was on hand, even if the noise of saddling up and the hurry of hoofs beneath the window, and the short, sharp sentences of the mounting men had not told the tale.

"Is it shoot, Al?" they heard someone ask.

"Shoot? Aye, shoot to kill, curse them! Git, you devils!" and a clatter of hoofs told that the horse had "got."

"Never mind the near stacks, boys; you can't save them. Ride for all you are worth to the first that is not lighted, and——" the boss's voice died out as he galloped away with his men.

At the back of the ranch and on both sides of it lay a great inclosed meadow of about a thousand acres, in a long parallelogram, and down the middle of tomatoes. Cook one cupful of well-washed rice in boiling water until tender, then drain, add one cupful of tomato pulp, one chopped onion, two heaping teaspoonfuls of butter, season with salt, red pepper and a dust of paprika and half a cupful of breadcrumbs. Cover the peppers when filled with buttered breadcrumbs, arrange in a baking dish and bake for thirty minutes.

NEEDLE AND THREAD.

Sewing machine needles may be used much longer if when the points begin to get dull they are rubbed on a piece of emery board.

Hemstitched tablecloths and napkins can be nicely mended by fagoting the edges together with a strong thread.

A lovely scarf is made from two and a half extra yards of a dull rose fish net, lined and hemmed on the right side with black chiffon with the edges of the hem outlined in a narrow gold braid in open work design.

A convenience for the sewing room is a wooden panel with rows of wire nails driven into it and spools of thread put on the nails.

Smooth materials are much in favor, though some rough are also seen. In general, a loose rather than a strictly rough weave is favored in this case.

Fine serges are seen everywhere, both in fine twill and in herringbone effects, but particularly the former.

Sew the skirt binding on the hem of your skirt before you press it. Pressing the goods flattens it, and it becomes difficult to fell the braid on a thin fabric without stitching through it.

Linen and pique will as usual be in order for the summer. Nothing is better than a coarse linen suit for everyday summer wear.

WINE SHATTERS JANE'S BRAIN

Incidentally the "Model Servant" Wrecks Nathan Goldfarb's China Plates.

New York, June 27.—"We should congratulate ourselves, for we are one of the luckiest families in New York city," said Nathan Goldfarb to his wife as they went up the stoop of their home, at No. 55 East One Hundred and Sixth street.

"And why?" asked his wife.

"Because we have had one servant for six years," replied Mr. Goldfarb, as they ascended the stairway to the second floor of the apartment house. "That's a record few families can boast of," went on Mr. Goldfarb, "and I credit it to——"

He was interrupted by a crash of chinaware in a flat on the floor above.

"That sounded like it was in our apartment," gasped Mrs. Goldfarb, seizing the arm of her husband. The sound of crashing china again assailed their ears and they cautiously advanced to the kitchen in their flat, where they beheld Jane Ryan, 55 years old, "the servant with a record," seated on the floor calmly endeavoring to hit an empty wine bottle with several of Mrs. Goldfarb's best china plates. The servant had evidently imbibed the contents of the target prior to testing her marksmanship, for she was suspiciously unsteady and her aim was far from true. The floor of the kitchen was littered with broken chinaware and the woman was seated amid a scene of devastation.

Mr. Goldfarb and his wife saw that interference was in vain and hurried to the dining-room of their apartment. There they found the door of their wine cabinet open and the interior empty. A double crash fell upon their ears, followed by a cry of delight. Jane had hit her mark, and incidentally the Goldfarbs were minus another plate.

In a few moments a policeman hove into view and was directed by the Goldfarbs to the kitchen, where he lifted the woman from the floor and blazed her in a chair, at the same time pushing a pile of plates out of her reach. Mr. Goldfarb and the bine-oat carried the chair and its boisterous occupant to the sidewalk. A few minutes later a patrol arrived and Jane and the chair were placed therein and taken to the East One Hundred and Fourth street police station, where she was locked in a cell charged with intoxication.

More Stains.

Dear Miss Grey—What will remove red and black stains made by a damp tap robe on my light plum-colored serge dress? ANXIOUS.

A.—The case is hopeless, I fear, as the colors are dyed in. Better dye the dress.

To Remove Fuzz.

Dear Miss Grey—1. Is there a way to remove fuzz left by the silence cloth, caused by setting hot dishes on the table? 2. We were invited to a dinner sometime ago, and later met our hosts on the street on a Sunday evening and they invited us to their home to tea. We have returned the dinner. Is it our duty to return the informal tea?

A.—1. If not too badly spoiled a cloth dampened in alcohol will remove the fuzz, and the white mark as well. Work quickly and wash the spot with clear water at once, as the alcohol will eat into the finish. 2. There can be no decided rule about this matter. Ask the people if you want them. If you don't care enough about them to ask them in to tea informally, without question or premeditation, don't accept their invitations. None of us would enjoy an invitation which we knew was given merely to pay a social debt.

To Wash Sweater Coat.

Dear Miss Grey—1. How does one wash a white sweater coat? 2. Also an auto scarf? BLUE EYES.

A.—1. Use a good wool soap, and make a suds with warm water and soap shavings. Immerse the sweater, souse it up and down and squeeze between palms of hands until clean. Do not rub and allow no soap to come into contact with the wool. Rinse through several waters, squeeze as much of the water out as possible with the hands and dry in a pillow case in the shade. Shake several times while drying. 2. If of chiffon, with alcohol. If crepe, with soap and water.

Stop Experimenting! Take a 'Cascaret'

Nearly All Our Ills Come Through Inactive Liver and Bowels—Millions of Folks Keep Feeling Good With Cascarets.

One must keep the bowels clean. Do it just the same as you keep your skin clean. Not by severe applications, applied at rare intervals. But by gentle and regular efforts. It pays immensely.

Many people dread physic. They think of castor oil, of salts and cathartics. They shrink from the after-effects—griping and weakness. So they postpone the dose until they are costive or bilious. Then they do the cleaning in a heroic way. That is all wrong.

Cascarets are a gentle laxative. They are just as effective as anything else, and more natural, and they are pleasant—a candy. They are made to carry with you. Take one just as soon as you need it. You'll know. The result is your bowels are always active. You always feel at your best. Try a 10-cent box of Cascarets. You'll never again go without them.

FIRST C.P.R. TRANSCONTINENTAL

A Quarter of a Century Since Line Opened.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS

The Growth and Expansion Have Kept Pace With and Helped the Country.

Twenty-five years ago today the first transcontinental train of the Canadian Pacific Railway pulled out from Montreal for the Pacific coast. It was a memorable occasion, marking the consummation of the greatest work that Canada had ever undertaken.

For a country with less than four millions of people to build a railway across the North American continent—the first, and still the only actual transcontinental line connecting the two great oceans—was a remarkable achievement whose importance was accentuated by the fact that for many hundreds of miles its lines traversed regions altogether unknown—where men did not live—around the rock-bound northern shores of Lake Superior, across the far western plains then in utter solitude, and over Nature's majestic sky-scrapers in the Canadian Rockies.

No less wonderful has been the growth and expansion of Canada's great national highway during the intervening quarter of a century. The company did not merely remain a common carrier—it became more a developer and an empire-builder and so potent a factor in filling the wants of travellers that both on land and sea the C. P. R. today is a name to conjure with. From comparatively small beginnings, as seen by twentieth century eyes, it has developed into a world-encircling institution, with magnificent fleets on ocean and inland waters—an immigration agency that has peopled half a continent, even to furnishing ready-made homes to the homeseekers—a forceful factor in the development of mines and mining—an inaugurator of huge irrigation works that are reclaiming a kingdom. The company, too, besides having extensive car works at different points where thousands are employed in building its rolling stock, has its own telegraph and express services that reach everywhere, and a chain of palatial hotels to comfortably house those who travel, and it even employs Swiss guides to pilot daring mountaineers to dizzy heights, and runs sanatoriums and summer resorts where the pleasure-seeker may holiday, and the health of the invalid be restored. Its record fully justifies the name happily bestowed upon it by an eminent European—"Providence Incorporated."

A few figures will give some idea of the greatness of its growth.

The total earnings in 1886 were a little over $10,000,000, and the net earnings less than $4,000,000, the surplus after deducting fixed charges being $625,444. This year's gross earnings will probably be over $104,000,000, and the net earnings about $27,000,000. The mileage then was 4,651 miles, today it is, including controlled lines, about 15,500 miles. The number of passengers then carried was 1,899,219 and the tons of freight aggregated 2,046,195. The approximate figures for the past twelve months are over 12,000,000 passengers, and 21,550,000 tons of freight. A comparison of the figures shows that a considerable reduction in the rate has taken place. In 1886 the average earnings per passenger per mile was 2.10 cents, and freight averaged 1.10 cents per ton per mile. Today the figures are, for passengers 1.93 cents per mile, and for freight 0.800 cents per ton per mile. A comparison of the equipment then and today shows how the company has kept pace with the requirements of the traffic:

	1886.	1911.
Locomotives	372	1,629
First and second class passenger cars and colonist and baggage cars	304	1,757
First class sleeping and dining cars	47	311
Parlor, official and paymaster's cars	27	63
Freight and cattle cars	8,253	50,863
Conductors' vans	178	889
Boarding, tool and auxiliary cars	71	3,684

Still more marked is the increase in the marine department. In 1886 the C. P. R. fleet consisted of two steamers on the Great Lakes. Today it has fleets on many waters. Its red-and-white checkered house flag floats over sixteen Atlantic liners, four Pacific liners, twenty-two steamers on the Pacific coast service, five on the Great Lakes service, twenty-two on the inland waters of British Columbia, and two in the ferry service on the Detroit River—a total of 71 vessels—and this number will be increased by the building of several new steamships for the ocean service, and by the acquisition of the Dominion Atlantic Railway and its steamships.

There seems to be no limit to the company's work. In addition to the large original cost of the railway and equipment, hundreds of millions of dollars have been expended on improvements, such as double-tracking, reduction of grades, curves eliminated, replacing wooden bridges with steel structures, erecting new stations and enlarging old ones, etc., and the policy of extending branch lines wherever needed is still being vigorously pursued.

In one way only has the C. P. R. remained "as it was," and that is in the retention of the services of officials and employees. It is practically manned today as it was manned a quarter of a century ago, with, of course, the addition of the many thousands required by the expansion of the road. The total number employed now reaches 80,000, and these are stationed in almost every civilized country on the face of the earth. There was no pension fund in 1886, for none was needed. Today there are over 500 of the old faithful workers on the pension roll, none of whom receive less than $20 a month—a positive contradiction of the proverbial saying that corporations have no souls.

All this shows that the Canadian Pacific is, as stated, more than a transportation company in the generally accepted sense of the term. It is an empire builder and its name will ever be remembered as the creator of Western Canada and a great developing factor wherever its line penetrate.

DECLARATION OF LONDON DENOUNCED BY BALFOUR

Tells Mass Meeting Called In Protest That It Means Starvation In Event of War.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 28.—A huge assemblage composed of representatives of the chamber of commerce of the United Kingdom, heads of London firms and members of parliament, lawyers and all-distinguished naval officers, gathered at Cannon Street Hotel yesterday afternoon and passed a resolution condemning the Declaration of London.

A. J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, delivered an address, and moved the resolution which expressed the opinion "that the Declaration of London concerning the laws of naval warfare most seriously weakens the naval position of the British Empire, is highly prejudicial to its commercial interests and gravely threatens the food supply of these islands in time of war."

Mr. Balfour argued from the standpoint: "Starvation, not invasion, is the danger of this country." He claimed that under the Declaration of London a weak naval power could convert merchantmen into privateers and sink every neutral ship carrying grain to the starving millions in Great Britain, without anything to deter them except the possibility that some two or three years after they have starved this country into submission an international tribunal might point them for damages.

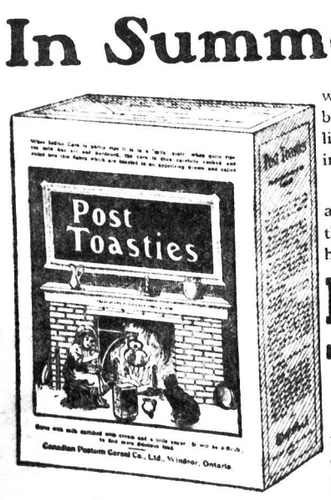

The crush at the hotel was so great that an overflow meeting was held.

LEAFS BREAK EVEN IN DOUBLE HEADER

The Second Game a Bitter One, Rooters Getting After Joe Kelley.

NEAR RIOT CONDUCTED

Rochester and Newark Won—Twelve-Inning Tie at Jersey City.

Baltimore, Md., June 27.—The second game of today's double-header between the Toronto and Oriole teams was marked by a riot, in which Joe Kelley was the central figure. Kelley, unable to withstand the taunts of fans in the grandstand, lost his temper. He wielded a bat, and a fan, thinking he was about to throw it, threw a chair at Kelley. The latter than threw the bat at the man in the box. The fan threw another chair at Kelley, and the latter attempted to climb into the box, but was held back by Toronto players and a policeman. Kelly's brother-in-law, John J. Mahon, jun., son of the Democratic boss of Baltimore, grappled with one of the men who threw the chairs. The fight then became general. Kelley again tried to get at the man who hit him, and other players joined him, but in a few minutes players and rooters were mixing it in a lively manner. The police for a time could not cope with the crowd, and the Oriole players lent aid. Schmidt, the Birds' big first baseman, dashed into the crowd and threw men right and left, two at a time. A pair of visiting players were roughly handled by him.

Bruised eyes and bleeding noses were plentiful as a result of the free fight, though none of the players were injured. The police and Baltimore players kept the crowd from getting at Kelley, and while the fight was going on in the stand they got him to the clubhouse. No arrests were made.

FRONTAGE TAX BYLAW DISLIKED BY SOME

New System of Street Watering at Ingersoll Not Widely Popular.

Ingersoll, June 28.—As a result of the frontage tax bylaw, which was passed at the last regular meeting of the town council, whereby in the future all street watering will be charged by the frontage, great dissatisfaction is expressed by some of the residents in the southwest part of the town, some of whom have considerable frontage to their property. In the past only the front streets were watered, and only one cart was used, to which the fire horses were attached. This was paid for out of the general funds of the town.

The first of the automobiles of the Wolverine Automobile Club of Detroit, who are on a tour around Lake Erie, passed through the town yesterday afternoon at 5:30.

Last night at 8 o'clock the football trophies, consisting of two cups and a shield, were presented to the Noxon Club, winners of the town league championship, at a meeting of the executive in the Traders' Bank rooms. The trophies were presented by Mr. J. A. Coulter, honorary president of the league.

Rev. Dr. Wilkie, of Ghensie, India, will give an address on his work in India at 8 o'clock this evening in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The public are cordially invited.

THE COPYRIGHT BILL

Buxton Refuses to Accept the Amendment of Hicks.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 28.—The pending British copyright bill was up for discussion yesterday in the grand committee of the House of Commons. William Joynson-Hicks, Unionist, wanted a clause inserted in the bill similar to the American provision revising a copyright unless the book was printed and bought in the United States. He said that for years that Great Britain had been content to take lying down what America chose to give, and that the time had come to treat with them on equal terms.

Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, who has charge of the bill, declined to accept the amendment. Both he and Sir Gilbert Parker dwell on the extreme danger of meddling with the present Anglo-American arrangement. Sir Gilbert saying that the highest personage in the United States had definitely told him that he could not save American rights for British authors if the existing compromise were disturbed. The amendment was defeated.

KYLE'S HOME-RUN SAVES LONDON FROM SHUTOUT

Andy Sends Pill Over the Right Field Fence in Sixth Inning.

SAMMY SMITH DOES TWIRLING

Allows Six Hits, Half of Which Came in Sixth Round When One Tallied.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Berlin, June 27.—Berlin won two out the three games in the series with London by defeating the visitors by the score of 3 to 1 here this afternoon.

It was one of the fastest and most interesting games played here this season.

Mueller pitched a good game for the Green Sox and kept the hits scattered throughout, only in one innings were two bunched. But for Andy Kyle's home run hit over the right field fence—the second of the series—the visitors would have received another shutout. Sammy Smith only allowed six hits, three of which were gathered in the sixth, resulting in a run. In the fifth a base on balls, Kyle's error, a single, sacrifice fly, another pass and Keenan's muff of Deneau's hit, gave the locals two runs. The Cockneys made a good impression during the series in Berlin, and are bound to be among the leaders during the balance of the season. Score:

K. C. BASEBALL TEAM SUED FOR $20,000

C. A. Edling Asks That Amount for Broken Nose.

Kansas City, Mo., June 27.—George Tebeau, owner of the Kansas City baseball team (American Association) was today sued for $20,000 by Charles A. Edling, whose nose was broken, when hit by a foul ball. Edling was injured when sitting back of home plate in the grandstand of Association Park, May 31 last. His petition alleges the management had not repaired the screening for the protection of spectators.

GET OPTION ON GRIEVE.

Hamilton, June 27.—After a four days' sojourn in this city, Frank Haller, scout for the Philadelphia National League Club, made himself known to the officers of the Hamilton Canadian League Club here today, and asked that a price be placed on Shortstop Tom Grieve, of the Hamilton Club. Haller has watched Grieve work in the last couple of games, and was so well pleased with him that he left here this evening with an option on the local player in his possession, which gives him until July 15 to decide whether or not he will purchase Grieve. The price asked is $1,800.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE GAME TO PERRINS, 14-2

Candymakers Defeated Whites in a One-Sided Battle Last Night.

Perrins defeated Whites, 14 to 2, in the Commercial League last night. The Candymen had their batting clothes on, and this, coupled with poor fielding and throwing, gave them the one-sided game. Lamb pitched fine ball and received good support. Rockwood was off color, and helped to increase Perrins' score.

Chicago, June 27.—Walsh had the better of Wild Bill Donovavn in a pitchers' battle today, and the Sox beat the Tigers in the last game of the series. The score was 3 to 0 in favor of the White Sox, and Walsh held the slugging Tigers to six hits. The Sox got to Donovan for eight hits in seven innings. Lively finished the game. Collins led the slugging with two triples and a double in four trips to the plate. The Sox got one in the second, when Dougherty was hit by a pitched ball, and this, with Collins' double and a sacrifice fly, put Pat over. Singles by Walsh and McIntyre and a fly scored another in the third, while Dougherty's double and Collins' second triple scored the last run in the eighth. Score:

PHILLIES ARE WINNERS

Beat Boston Dover by Six to Three—New York Takes Pair From Brooklyn Outfit.

Pittsburg, June 27—Four fast double plays in the Pirate infield today were largely responsible for the Pirate victory over the Reds. Pittsburg scored all their four runs in the first inning by bunching hits off Fromme. The Reds outhit the locals, but Camnitz kept the safeties scattered. Pittsburg has protested yesterday's Cincinnati victory on the ground that Umpires Johnstone and Eason did not apply the infield rule when Bescher popped one in front of the plate with the runners on first and second. OPENING DAY AT AYLMER RACE MEET

Fast Time Made on One of the Finest Half-Mile Tracks in Canada.

EMILY MORRIS A WINNER

Nat Ray Pilots Speedy Trotter to Victory—Sir Thomas and Edith Campbell Win.

Aylmer, June 27.—The big four-day race meeting opened here today under most favorable conditions.

The track, which has the reputation of being the fastest in Canada, was in perfect condition, and if the time made in the fifty class today—2:16¼—is anything to go by, there will be some records smashed before the meeting is over.

There were 115 horses stabled at the track this morning, and others coming, and probably no better, faster bunch of horses was ever gathered together on one track in Canada.

The Eel is here, and on Thursday will go a mile in an attempt to lower the Canadian record for a half-mile track, and with good weather conditions, is expected to do it. Every race today was close and exciting. The finish in nearly every heat was the kind that makes the average man hold his breath, and the time was fast. There are ten starters in the fifteen class tomorrow, and nine in the 23 class.

FAIL TO AGREE ON MAN FOR REFEREE

Wolgast and Moran Meet With Coffroth—Welch and Smith Mentioned.

San Francisco, June 27.—Representatives of Ad Wolgast and Owen Moran met with Jimmy Coffroth this afternoon in an effort to decide on a referee for their battle here on July 4. Jack Welch and Eddie Smith were both discussed, but no agreement was reached. Jones, Wolgast's manager, is holding out for Welch, who has refereed most of Wolgast's recent battles here. The conference will be resumed tomorrow.

Coffroth late this afternoon took a large crowd of fight fans to Moran's camp to watch Owen work. Both boys are working hard, and both are in good shape, except that Wolgast has a sore nose resulting from his being butted into by one round Hogan, his sparring partner, yesterday.

RED SOX PROTEST YESTERDAY'S GAME

Home Run by McInnes Hit While Karger Warmed Up.

Boston, June 27.—A home run, scored by McInnes, of the Philadelphia Athletics, in today's game with Boston on a ball which he hit while Pitcher Karger was warming up, is to be referred to President Ban Johnson of the league, on protest by Manager P. J. Donovan, of Boston. When McInnes hit into short centre field the outfielders had not reached their positions and the ball romped away. It is asserted by Manager Donovan that two of the Philadelphia players, on the way to their bench, were on fair ground when the ball was hit, and it is his contention that Umpire Egan should have declared both the hit and run illegal.

The sale of Catcher Jack Kleinow to Jersey City of the Eastern League, was announced by the Boston American management today.

PIRATE WANTS GAME THROWN OUT.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 27.—Asserting that the umpires failed to apply the infield fly rule in the third inning of yesterday's game with Cincinnati, Manager Clarke of the Pittsburg ball team, has filed a protest with President Lynch, of the National League, and asks that the game be thrown out.

THE BRITISH CHAMPIONSHIP.

Sandwich, Eng., June 27.—In the second round of play for the open golf championship today, the British amateur champion, H. H. Hilton, of the Royal Liverpool Gold Club, leads in the tournament with an aggregate score of 150.

Charles (Chick) Evans, of Chicago, has an aggregate score of 156.

LANE TO MANAGE THE MAPLE LEAFS

First-Baseman Has Been Appointed In Place of Abbie Johnson.

FRYER RELEASED AGAIN

"Clucker" Dunn Goes to Second, and Toronto Amateur to Shortstop.

Guelph, June 27.—Big Bill Lane, the Maple Leaf first baseman, has been appointed manager in place of Abbie Johnson, who has resigned. "Clucker" Dunn will go to second base and Isaacs, a Toronto amateur, the new shortstop, will take his place at the short field. Bell, of Rochester, will play centre field. Fryer, the left hander, has been released again. Mason will be given another trial, as with new men behind him, he should win his games.

It has been suggested that now that Abbie Johnson has resigned from the management of the Leafs and received his release, the league officials could not do better than to sign him as an umpire. He has had two years' experience in the umpiring business in the South Michigan League, and has also held the indicator in the New York State League.

League Notes.

Hamilton Spectator: Manager Knotty Lee returned home yesterday from a scouting trip through New York State League cities, and brings back the joyful news that he has signed three new players. He has secured "Red" Schilling, a catcher, and Tom Hess, a second baseman, from Albany, and has practically closed a deal for O'Brien, a young pitcher who is doing good work for Binghamton. The records of the men in the New York State League last year were as follows:

	Batting.	Fielding.
Schilling	.178	.930
Hess	.274	.929
O'Brien	.225	.939

When the new men break into harness, the pitchers will not be called upon to work as hard as they have been doing, for Conny Murphy will be in his regular position in the outfield, and the twirlers will not have to do picket duty in the outer sections. With the arrival of Schilling, who is very highly spoken of by New York League folk, Fred Barton will have a little relief behind the bat. Barton has caught every game the Hams have played this season, double-headers and all, and it is about time that he was given a little help. Troy let Schilling go after they signed a young catcher from the New York Americans.

Another for Berlin.

Saginaw has gotten rid of another pitcher. Teed, the hard-hitting box artist, has been farmed out to Rube Deneau's club in the Canadian League. This brings the Saginaws down to twelve men, one below the limit.

COLLEGE TIGER TURNS GIANT.

New York, June 27.—S. V. White, Princeton's mainstay in the box for three years, joined the Giants today. White defeated Yale in the deciding game between the Tigers and the Bulldog.

"RUBE'S" LAST CHANCE.

Louisville, Ky., June 27. — Rube Waddell, the erratic twirler of the Minneapolis club, will be given a chance to hurl one more game, but if he fails to make good he will be sent to the bush league.

DAILY HISTORY OF BASEBALL

JUNE 28.

1884—Larry Corcoran, of the Chicago Nationals, pitched a no-hit game against Providence.

1889—Fitzgerald, of the Wilkesbarre Atlantic Association Club, made two home runs in one inning in the game with Lowell.

1890—Pitcher J. C. ("Rube") Benton, of the Chattanooga Club, who was with Cincinnati last season and on whom the Reds still have an option, born in Clinton, N. C.

1896—Harry Davis, of the Athletics, who then was playing with the Giants, twice made doubles in the game with Brooklyn when the bases all had occupants and drove in six runs on these two hits.

1901—The Phillies pounded Mal Eason, then with Chicago and now umpiring in the National League, for 21 hits for a total of 28 bases. On the same day and in the same league, Sam Crawford, of Detroit, then with Cincinnati, got three singles, a triple and a home run off Ed. Doheny, of the Giants, who was a left-hander.

1904—The Chicago White Sox, then known as the hitless wonders, belied their title by pounding Bill Donovan and Jesse Stovall, of Detroit, for 24 hits, good for a total of 29 bases.

1910—Bill Burns, of the Phillies, then with Cincinnati, almost pitched a no-hit game against the Cubs, whose one safety was made by Heine Zimmerman. Zimmerman would not have been in the Chicago line-up had Harry Steinfeldt not been under suspension.

1910—Outfielders Leach and Clarke, of the Pirates, were kept busy in the game with St. Louis, Tommy having seven putouts and Fred six.

Moist Heat is the Natural Heat

YOUR HOUSE WILL "FEEL" WARMER AT 65° WITH MOIST AIR THAN AT 70° WITH DRY

Door Open to fill pan.

Either door may be used

Adding moisture to the air in your home will give you the same heat for less fuel.
A consideration, no doubt.
But that is not all.
Warm dry air, however pure, is not healthful. The human body demands more moisture than is carried in the winter air.
The "Hecla" supplies this moisture in plenty. A large circular pan of water is placed where it will be easy to fill and where it will not be overlooked.

"Hecla" Furnace

SAVES ONE TON OF COAL IN SEVEN.

Circular Water Pan

Has five times the evaporating surface of pans placed over furnace door. Runs clear around the back of the furnace. Will hold enough water to last 24 hours. May be filled at either door, as shown above.

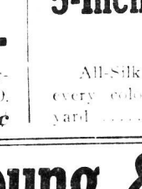

No Gas or Dust.

And it is just as important to keep the air free from coal gas and dust.
In the "Hecla" every place where experience has shown that gas might otherwise find an outlet, has been fused absolutely tight by our patented process. The same fused joints keep out the dust and smoke.

By actual test the "Hecla" saves one ton of coal in seven. That is, it is so constructed as to give the same heat for six tons of coal as you ever got from seven.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 28.—The city council passed an ordinance last night imposing a fine upon any person, who, in a public address, should use vile or vulgar language. Councilman P. F. Haberstick, who offered the ordinance, said that it was done with the intention of curbing the vocabulary of "Billy" Sunday, the evangelist, who has been engaged by Wheeling churches to open a religious campaign in this city early next year.

IS LIQUOR BEING USED AT GODERICH CAMP?

Statement to This Effect Was Made at Meeting of W. C. T. U.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held their semi-monthly meeting at the new rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building on Tuesday. Mrs. John Williams presiding. Arrangements for the annual picnic, to be held July 13, were discussed and so far as possible completed. To this affair all friends of temperance are cordially invited, and the ladies think they can make it enjoyable for them.

Letters were read from temperance workers at Petrolea and Goderich, warning the local union that liquor was being freely used by the volunteer soldiers camped at those places for the summer drill.

It has been claimed by non-temperance officers, it was stated, that the military orders issued this year do not include the departmental regulations regarding the restrictions upon the use of alcoholic beverages at the camps, which have been regularly issued of late years. This they regard, as a signal, the ladies claim, that those failing to strictly observe them will be leniently dealt with.

The law, however, has not been rescinded, though they seem to forget that fact.

A discussion ensued regarding Mrs. Angelina Napolitano, the Italian woman awaiting execution at Sault Ste. Marie for the murder of her husband.

"If, as the papers state, this was done to maintain her honor and purity, and an unstained heritage for her children, surely she should be pitied rather than condemned," was the feeling of the meeting.

NO NEED FOR A STANDPIPE

Superintendent Glaubitz Differs With Chief Aitken on the Subject.

Superintendent Glaubitz declares that there is no need for a stanpipe in the north end, as advocated by Fire Chief Aitken and others.

"The water commissioners are going to put an 18-inch main along Central avenue, and down William, connecting with Dundas street," declared Mr. Glaubitz. "A 12-inch main will then be run north, forming another belt in the north end. The exact route of this belt has not been selected, but it will be later. This will be sufficient to supply the whole north end for many years to come, and will give an adequate pressure for fire fighting purposes for that district. We are going right ahead with the 18-inch main at once."

"NO COMPLAINTS" MR. DAVIDSON SAYS

Supt. of the G. T. R. in This City Knows of No Trouble Regarding the Firemen.

Assistant Superintendent Davidson of the Grand Trunk, informed The Advertiser that no complaints had been received at his office that the company had blocked the crossings on the fire department.

"That is the first time I have heard anything of that nature," said Mr. Davidson when questioned about it. "Not a complaint has come to me at all. We would only be too pleased to co-operate with the department and endeavor to properly adjust matters, if there is any cause for complaint. I know nothing about it, as no information has come to me."

SERVED WITH NOTICES TO ATTEND INVESTIGATION

Graft Charges Will Be Gone Into On Wednesday Next.

No further information has been received from the witnesses wanted for the investigation of the charges made by Ald. Tancock against Ward Foreman Patrick Mulhall.

Alex. Henderson and James H. Gilmour, two of the most important witnesses, are not in the city, and all the efforts of City Clerk Baker to locate them have been unavailing.

"I have tried to find them, but have not succeeded," said Mr. Baker. "I have been informed that they are in Detroit. From all the information I can gather both men are out of the city."

It was on the declarations of these men that it was hoped to make out a case against Mr. Mulhall, and their absence will seriously affect the case, it is stated.

However, the other four teamsters who made declarations, have been served with notices to attend the hearing, and they will be on hand on July 5 to give evidence.

KEEPING TRACK OF FREIGTT

Each Railroad System Has From 10 to 50 Regular Transfer Stations.

Five great gateways of traffic are situated in different parts of the United States, says the Railroad Man's Magazine. Through these, generally speaking, freight moving east or west that passes from one line of railroad to another must go.

They are Chicago, East St. Louis, Illinois, East Hannibal, Missouri, Council Bluffs, Missouri, and Minnesota Transfer, Minnesota. They are known as freight transfer stations, and have been established to facilitate the interchange of traffic between different lines.

In a sense these freight transfer stations resemble somewhat the great clearing houses of the associated banks of big cities like New York and Chicago. But instead of bills and coin, they handle only thousands of loaded freight cars.

Instead of brick checks, such as the financial clearing house sort out every morning when they balance their accounts, the freight transfer stations have hundreds of thousands of tissier and more unwieldy pieces of paper which are called way bills which represent the tremendous volume of merchandise in the loaded cars.

Also there are the duties of joining, which causes the same purpose, but in a different way. If the value of the daily freight passing through one of these great gateways each day could be computed, it would not fail to astound the day's business of the New York clearing house itself.

In addition to these five transfer stations that handle only business that passes over two or more different lines of rails before reaching its destination, each of the great railroad systems has from ten to fifty stations for the speedy handling of freight traffic between interchanges of freight traffic between the various roads of which it is composed. A big system like the New York Central lines, for example, is made up of twelve different railroads each a distinct corporation.

For the purposes of accounting each of these lines is treated in the books as though it were a separate railroad, though the rules of the interchange of freight traffic between the various roads in the system are somewhat modified from those which govern the same work between two separate systems. Interchanging business at any of the four great gateways in the west. Yet the organization of domestic freight transfer stations, such as those on the New York Central lines, does not differ materially from that of the railroads which meet at Chicago, East St. Louis, East Hannibal or Council Bluffs.

Each system has from ten to fifteen of these freight transfer stations located at the various junction points of its allied lines. The New York Central, for example, has thirty-one. There is no better place for a young man to get a thorough practical knowledge of everything connected with the actual handling of freight traffic than a freight transfer station.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

The crew of the freight claim that they received no signals to stop, but had orders to back into the switch to go into the Egerton street siding

Narrow Escapes.

Conductor Stoner, of the freight, was standing on the caboose steps at the time, and had a narrow escape for his life. He saw the street car approaching, but thought it would stop before it reached the tracks. When it did not stop he jumped, saving his life. The caboose was badly smashed, and had he been on it, or in it at the time, he would not have escaped death.

The passengers on the street railway car had a thrilling time of it.

"We are lucky to be alive," said Mr William Floyd, of The Advertiser composing room, who with his wife and two children were on the car. "Suddenly there was a crash, and our car was thrown around. Then sounds of the crashing of timber filled the air. We were thrown about in the car, and when it stopped we got out in a hurry. Mrs. Floyd took one of the children and crawled out of the window, and I handed the other one out to a man who ran up. I got out later. It was the luckiest thing in the world that the train hit us where it did. A foot further back towards the centre of the car and it would have been all over with us. It is very fortunate that it happened the way it did. The children had a couple of bad bruises on their heads, but I do not anticipate anything serious. We were all shaken up and bruised, but nothing to hurt. The train was going quite slowly or it would have been worse."

Arthur Williams, switchman at the crossing, was in the shanty not a minute before the crash. At the time Mr. O'Leary was at the switches. He had to open a switch about 50 feet away from the shanty, and so escaped injury.

A Close Call.

"I was not more than 20 feet away from the shanty when the crash came," said Mr. Williams. "I was talking to Mr. O'Leary, and just before the freight backed down I had to run to turn a switch. A little later and I would have got it, too. There was a red-headed fellow talking to Mr. O'Leary, too, and I could not find him after the accident. I thought he, too, might have been killed."

The news of the accident spread rapidly, and in a short time there was a very large crowd of citizens at the scene. Many motored while scores walked. Reports were considerably exaggerated as to the number injured in the smash.

Coroner Ferguson arrived shortly after 9 o'clock, and ordered the remains of the dead man to be removed to the undertaking parlors of Smith, Son & Clarke. An inquest will be held, he stated, the date not having been definitely settled.

A Pathetic Feature.

Mr. O'Leary was only relieving when he met his death. The regular watchman, William Galbraith, asked for a couple of days' holidays to visit relatives in Detroit, and Mr. O'Leary was placed in charge.

Deceased was formerly employed in the car shops at Stratford, coming to London about nine years ago. Since then he has been with the Grand Trunk, and has served in various capacities for the company.

His son Patrick, who was night yardmaster for the C. P. R., was also killed about two years ago at the Adelaide street crossing.

Mr. Timothy O'Leary is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Kate Hutchinson, Detroit, Mrs. Edinger, Battle Creek; Mrs. Annie Lewis, Cleveland, and two sons, Timothy, in Jackson, Mich., and Michael, night yardmaster for the Grand Trunk here.

The funeral will be held on Friday morning, and mass will be celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Interment will be made at Stratford in the family burial plot.

In addition to the investigation by Coroner Ferguson, the Grand Trunk officials are also conducting an inquiry.

Severely Injured.

It now develops that Mr. Joseph E. Wyckoff, one of the passengers on the Ottaway avenue car, struck by the freight train last night at Rectory street, is more seriously injured than at first anticipated.

This morning when he tried to get up he found that his limbs were injured, and he could not use them. One knee is badly swollen and the other is stiff and sore.

Dr. Ainley Thompson was summoned and examined him. Another physician will be called and a further examination made.

"Mr. Wyckoff will be laid up for some time," said Dr. Thompson. "I am not in a position at the present time to say just how badly he is hurt, but it will be a considerable period before he is able to do anything. He is now confined to his bed, and will be for some time. His legs are in bad shape. One knee is badly swollen, and it seems as if much of the injury he received is about the legs. Mr. Wyckoff is suffering much from shock also. I will have another physician with me this afternoon, and we will make a very careful examination. My own opinion is that he will be laid up for time I do not anticipate any serious results."

Hat Saved Life.

A stiff hat worn by Mr. Wyckoff was probably the means of saving his life, as he received a heavy blow on the forehead that crushed his headgear, and inflicted quite a gash. He is suffering from severe pains in his head today.

His little son, who was with him, was cut about the mouth, but is little the worse of his experience.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

HAY PRICES WERE FIRM ON THE LONDON MARKET

Oats Have a Tendency to Go Up—Sold at $1.14 to $1.19 Cwt.

Hay and oats were the principal offerings on the market today, there being a liberal supply of both.

Hay ruled firm. The price was up a trifle, most of the loads bringing $11 50 a ton. There were about 15 loads offered.

Oats were firm also. While there have been quite a quantity sold on the market during the past few weeks, there is still a heavy demand, and the prices have a tendency to go up. Yesterday a large number of loads sold at from $1 14 to $1 19, and today the same prices ruled, with a strong demand, and none too many loads for sale.

A few strawberries were offered, the prices being 7 to 9 cents wholesale. There will be some offered at Friday's market, and that will probably wind up the season.

TORONTO, June 27.—There was a fair trade on the Toronto stock exchange today, but some irregularity accompanied the dealings. The outstanding features were the sharp advance of 3½ points in Toronto Railway shares, and the slump of 5 points in Dominion Bank shares. The advance on Monday for the latter was apparently a little too fast, with probably a sprinkling of speculative orders. On the attempt to realize profits, the stock gave way, selling at 241 oo 241. The advance in Toronto Railway from 137½ at the close on Monday to 141 today was considered good buying, the dealings amounting to 853 shares. The latter price is the highest on record for the stock. It was bought for Montreal account chiefly, and may lodge eventually in Paris. The South Americans were dull, Rio selling at 112⅝ to 112½, and Sao Paulo at 178½ to 178¾. Mackay sold at 89½, a decline of ½. Richelieu stronger on completion of the merger. The balance of the list was quiet, with odd lots as a rule traded in. Rio bonds sold at 102¼, a high record, and a gain of 1 per cent for the day. Money on call is scarce at 5½ per cent. Net changes in prices of securities were as follows: Advances—Toronto Railway, 3½; Imperial Bank, ½; Rio, bonds, 1; Richelieu, ⅜; Maple Leaf, preferred, ¼; Standard Bank, 1. Declines—Sao Paulo, ¼; Mackay, ½; Rio, ¾; Shredded Wheat, ¼; Telephone, ½; Burt, preferred, ¼; Dominion Bank, 5; Bank of Commerce, ¼.

[From Charles Head & Co., by private wire to J. J. Tearney.]

NEW YORK, June 28.—Noon Letter.—An investigation of the American Smelters is being conducted by the bureau of corporations in Washington. No report can be expected for some time to come. The Chicago board of trade has decided to close on July 3, as well as the fourth. Concensus of one hundred replies from bankers in the Northwest is that conditions have been materially improved since the rains, and that the damaged territory had not been extended.

[From Charles Head & Co., by private wire to J. J. Tearney.]

NEW YORK, June 28.—10 a.m.—London fractionally higher. News advices are unimportant, the most interesting being the refusal of Interboro to accept terms laid down for the new subways, the Brooklyn on the other hand requesting only slight modifications as a preliminary to acceptance. The indications favor the success of the latter company, which may get the entire system. Some complaint is still heard from South Dakota of lack of rain, but the crop reports are generally satisfactory, thanks to recent relief of drought conditions, so that good average yields are likely. Interest in Wall street centres about the July disbursements, which will exceed $250,000,000, suggesting considerable demand for reinvestment, though much of inquiry may turn to bonds, which have been slow of late. Railroad earnings are showing the effect of poor business, but it should be borne in mind that the stock market is discounting the future when industrial conditions will once more be normal. Washington is less of a factor in Wall street. We still hold to the opinion that the better class stocks are a buy on all recessions for higher prices.

WALL STREET, NOON.

New York, June 28.—The irregularity which has characterized the stock market for several days, was again apparent today. Speculative trading was confined chiefly to a few of the leading stocks, and the market became narrow and dull, following a brisk selling movement at the outset, which was attributed to large individual operators. Acceptance by the Brooklyn Transit of the city subway offer and its rejection by Interborough Metropolitan apparently were anticipated, and they were comparatively quiet today. Towards noon stocks became stronger, reaching about the level of yesterday's close. Bonds were steady.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

London, June 28.—Money is in strong demand, but discount rates were easy today. Traders on the stock exchange devoted most of their attention to the sentiment, and transacions were limited. The carry-over rate for American securities was 4½ per cent. Business for the account was light. Gilt-edged securities were steady, and Grand Trunk shares strong, but Kaffirs, copper stocks and foreign shares declined on Paris selling. The extension of the shipping strike affected home rails, and they closed weak.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Arva Methodist Church was held Tuesday and the general business of the year wound up. The reports presented showed that everything is in first-class shape, and that the twelve months just passed have been very busy ones. The officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mrs. J. Mortimore; vice-president, Mrs. H. McRoberts; secretary, Mrs. George L. Walker; assistant secretary, Miss Hawkins; treasurer, Mrs. W. T. Taylor; organist, Mrs. Salton; assistant organist, Mrs. A. Osborne.

Strawberry Festival.

The young ladies of the Zion Methodist Church held a most successful strawberry festival on the beautiful lawn of Mrs. William Stone's home, concession 6, of London Township, recently. A large crowd was in attendance and thoroughly enjoyed a splendid programme, which included selections by Miss McGugan, of Watford, and songs of the little Misses Khol, of Birr. The proceeds amounted to $100, which will be turned over to the church.

Entertained Class.

On Tuesday, June 27, a very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Ida Marlatt, Byron avenue, when she entertained the Philathea Bible class of Askin Street Sunday school in honor of their president, Miss Eva Talbot. The first part of the evening was spent in games and music. Lunch was served on the lawn, after which the bride-elect was presented with a lace luncheon set. The evening was brought to a close with many expressions of good wishes for the young lady.

Davis—Proctor.

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday at the Presbyterian manse, Tillsonburg, when Miss Ethel M. Proctor, of Tillsonburg, and formerly of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter J. Davis, of Tillsonburg, by Rev. J. J. Brown. After the ceremony the happy couple left for London and other points in Western Ontario, on a brief honeymoon trip, before taking up their residence in Tillsonburg. While in the city Mr. and Mrs. Davis are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hartle, No. 4 York street.

Personal Mention

Gladys Comber's name was inadvertently omitted in taking part in the concert held in Hyman Hall by the Sons of Scotland on Monday night. This young dancer opened the programme by dancing the Shaun Trews, and got such a rousing encore that she responded with the Highland Fling.

Mr. W. C. Harris, of Delaware, has gone on an extensive tour, which will take him away about three months. He goes via Chicago and the Union Pacific to San Diego, Cal., then by steamer from San Francisco to Seattle, and return by the C. P. R.

Mrs. R. P. Shier, of Sutherland, Sask., is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. H. Greenway, 15 St. Andrew's street, West London

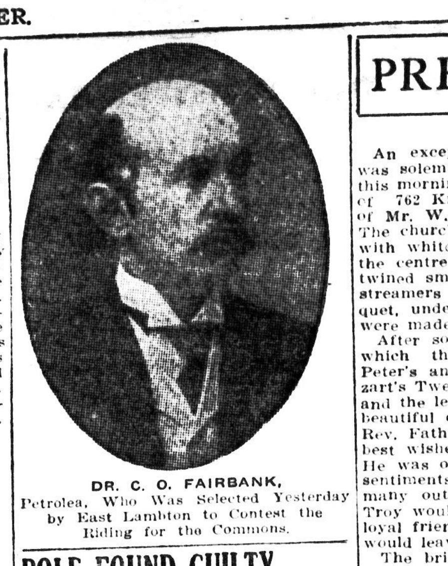

REPORTERS STUCK

Refused to Leave Meeting of St. Kitts' School oBard.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Catharines, Ont., June 28. — The right of reporter of newspapers to be present at their meetings was questioned by the Collegiate Institute board of trustees of this city. The board has had under consideration for some weeks the question of asking certain members of the teaching staff of the collegiate school to resign, their work not being satisfactory to the board.

When the question was brought up again at a special meeting last night, some of the members objected to the reporters of the two local papers being present, as the board was in committee of the whole. A resolution was passed, asking the reporters to leave, and the chairman made the request. The two reporters said, however, that they were there as representatives of the public newspapers, and would not go unless removed by force from the council chamber. A trustee then offered a resolutio nto adjourn, which was carried, but before they had left the room the objectors to publicity realized the absurdity of their action, returned, and transacted business, nothing further being said about the reporters being excluded.

POLE FOUND GUILTY OF STRIKING WOMAN

Joe Polizak Fined $14 in the Police Court by P. M. Judd.

Joe Polizak, a Pole, residing in the southern part of the city, will have to pay $14 for striking Mrs. Annie Walcock, a Polish woman, in the face at his home last Friday. Polizak appeared before Magistrate Judd at the police court this morning, pleaded not guilty and elected summary trial. He was found guilty of assault occasioning actual bodily harm.

The whole trouble arose out of the visit of a Polish priest to the Walcock home last week. Mrs. Walcock said she paid the priest to come from Berlin. After he had gone Joe Polizak said he had a letter stating that Mrs. Walcock had not paid the priest. Mrs. Walcock said she wanted to see it, and went to his house for that purpose. While there she got into an altercation with Mrs. Polizak, who called her a vile name. Witness retorted with another, and Polizak thereupon struck her in the face, making her nose bleed, and knocking her down on the floor where she lay stunned. Her four-months-old baby was in her arms at the time, and fell with her.

"I find Polizak guilty," said Magistrate Judd, "and he must pay $3 and costs. Mrs. Walcock lost three days' wages at the factory where she is employed, and must be reimbursed, and all the other expenses must be paid. I will give Pollzak two weeks to pay in."

Must Remove Nuisance.

Joseph Lawrence, charged by Medical Health Officer Hutchinson with breaking the bylaws by having a nuisance on his premises, promised to have it removed at once, and was given a week to do so.

William McKenna, who has been appearing quite often lately for being drunk, was brought into the courtroom in a drunken condition, having been arrested this morning. He pleaded for a chance to get out of town, and when the court said $20 or 21 days, McKenna broke into such a volley of profanity that he was rushed to the cells.

George Twitchen, another drunk who has been coming up too often, was given 21 days as a result of not being able to raise $20 he was fined.

LONDON RINKS ARE IN THE TROPHY CONTEST

Good Play Promised On Second Day of Guelph Bowling Tourney.

[Canadian Press.]

Guelph, June 28.—The Guelph lawn bowling tournament got away to a good start yesterday, and today the wise ones are busy picking out the possible winners. There were the usual surprises, good rinks going down like tenpins before the alleged amateurs. In the trophy contest there are still a formidable bunch left, including Dr. Willison and Jim McKenzie, of Toronto; Snider, of Waterloo, and Heaman, of London. The well-known "Canada" champion is battling with Euler, of Berlin, this afternoon, and if Willison survives the contest, he has a first-class chance of winning out on form. R. B. Rice's "Q. C. S.," and C. O. Knowles' "Granites" are still in the railway city competition. Tom McCurdy, of Stratford, is also a contender, and George Chapman, the well-known local skip, is also a possible winner.

COUSINS STILL AT LARGE

Alleged Would-Be Murderer Not Yet Located by Police.

County Constable Heath, of Hyde Park, who holds the warrant for the arrest of John Cousins, the Barnardo boy who is charged with committing a murderous assault upon the wife of his employer, Webb Conklin, a Lobo Township farmer, despite a vigorous search, has failed to locate the missing man.

It is now thought by the authorities that Cousins is being protected by friends in the neighborhood, as no person residing for miles around has seen him. When he left the Conklin farm after the attack he wore no hat, and should be easily recognizable owing to a scar on his left cheek. He is said to be about 17 years of age.

PRETTY JUNE WEDDINGS

TROY—McGILL.

An exceptionally pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Church this morning, when Miss Susie McGill, of 762 King street, became the wife of Mr. W. Troy, of Rochester, N. Y. The church was artistically decorated with white columns on each side of the centre aisle, around which were twined smilax and white ribbon, with streamers leading to a central bouquet, under which the happy couple were made one.

After solemn nuptial high mass, at which the combined choirs of St. Peter's and St. Mary's rendered Mozart's Twelfth Mass in splendid style, and the leader, Mr. Jos. Leech, sang a beautiful offertory solo, the celebrant, Rev. Father McKeon, expressed his best wishes to the newly-wed couple. He was only expressing, he said, the sentiments of the entire parish, and many outside, in hoping that Mrs. Troy would find as many faithful and loyal friends in her new home as she would leave here.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Jos. McGill, of Corunna.

She was gowned in white messaline, with overdress of ninon, with hat to match, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret McGill, of Port Huron, who wore pink silk, with overdress of marquisette, with hat to match. Mr. A. Roland, of Rochester, N. Y., was best man.

The ushers were Mr. E. Lockhart, of Toronto, and Thomas F. Murray, of this city.

A wedding breakfast and reception was held at the home of the bride's aunts, the Misses Bergin, for the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

Numerous and costly gifts attest the popularity of Mrs. Troy, who leaves London with the best wishes of all who have known her.

Among those who were present were: Miss Louise McGill, Detroit; Miss Annie Troy, Rochester, sister of the groom; John McGill, Sarnia, and Frank McGill, Corunna.

The groom's gift to the bride was a piano, to the bridesmaid a pearl pendant, and to the groomsman a pearl pin.

The bride's going-away gown was of tan Honan silk, tan hat trimmed in tan satin, and Irish crochet.

Miss McGill has been for some time a valued member of St. Mary's choir, and the church was filled with members who came to witness the ceremony.

The young couple left on the noon train for Toronto, Charlotte, and points east. On their return they will reside at Rochester, N. Y.

PATTERSON—MACARTHUR.

A very pretty wedding took place this afternoon at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Jas. Macarthur, when their eldest daughter, Miss Edith, was married to Mr. William G. Patterson, of the Bank of Toronto, at Dorchester.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Ross, of St. Andrew's Church. The drawing-room was beautifully decorated with carnations and marguerites, and the bride, who was given away by her father, entered amid the strains of a wedding march played by Tony Cortese's orchestra. She looked very pretty in a gown of ivory duchess satin, and carried a large bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Marion Macarthur was bridesmaid, and wore a dress of pale pink, and carried pink roses. The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of grey silk, veiled with grey marquisette.

Mr. D. McLennan, of Galt, was groomsman.

Following the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served to a large number of guests, and this evening Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left for a trip up the lakes. On their return they will take up their residence at Dorchester.

DANKS—ALEXANDER.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place in St. Paul's Cathedral this afternoon at 2:30, when Miss Muriel Alexander, niece of Mr. A. Booker, of Kent street, was married to Dr. Alan Danks, formerly of this city, but now of Calgary. The ceremony was performed by Canon Tucker. Miss Vehay, of Buffalo, was bridesmaid, and Dr. Bert Stockwell, groomsman. Dr. and Mrs. Danks will reside in Calgary.

THREE MONTHS IN JAIL FOR THREE FOREIGNERS

Broke Immigration Regulations and Couldn't Pay Fines.

Sarnia, June 27. — Three Austrians went east on train No. 6 on May 24 with tickets from Chicago to Buffalo. When passing through they were examined by Immigration Inspector Harry Bell, who cautioned them against stopping off at any point in Canada, and left them in charge of the conductor on the train. The three got off the train at Hamilton, where they remained. Immigration Officer Bell was notified of their actions. He communicated with the department at Ottawa, and Special Officer A. J. Murphy, of Ottawa, and Mr. Bell left for Hamilton on Sunday, where they arrested the trio and brought them back to Sarnia. They appeared before Magistrate Gorman in the police court this morning and were fined $50 each and costs or three months in jail. Not having the money they will spend the next three months in the county jail.

STORM BOLT BURNS CHURCH AT MONTREAL

Splendid Edifice Wiped Out at a Loss of $200,000.

Montreal, June 28.—Lightning tonight struck the Church of St. Jean Baptiste on Rachel street, and completely destroyed the splendid edifice, at a loss of about $200,000.

This was the second time the church had been burned, but the present fire was much the more disastrous, since after the fire in 1898 it had been rebuilt into one of the finest edifices in Montreal.

At midnight there was little left but the walls and the tower facing on Rachel street, which still stood, although it was momentarily threatening to fall.

There was fortunately no loss of life in connection with the fire which started about 9:30 o'clock, very shortly after a service had been held. The only person injured was Fireman Bourgeoin, who was thrown from a ladder by a toppling wall and suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

At a late hour Wednesday morning the fire is still raging within the almost bare walls of the church, and it was stated by Chief Tremblay that it would probably be noon before the firemen would be able to leave the ruins.

While the losses are very heavy, they are well covered by insurance, it being stated that there was $175,000 insurance on the main building, spread over a number of companies, while the insurance on the organ amounted to $14,000. Oddly enough, the organ insurance had only been concluded at noon today, the organ having been only recently installed by the Casavant Company, of St Hyacinthe.

FLOUR MILL MERGER FOR WESTERN ONTARIO

Guelph, Ont., June 27.—It is pretty certain that the old-established James Goldie Milling Company, of this city, is to become merged in the proposed amalgamation of winter wheat-using flour mills througnout Western Ontario. The stated object is to secure, if possible, a larger share of the export trade, and to do away with overlapping of orders. Six companies are interested, situated in Chatham, Blenheim, St. Marys, Stratford, the John Campbell Milling Company, with two mills at St. Thomas, and the Goldie Milling Company, of this city.

When interviewed this morning the officials of the Goldie Milling Company stated that this merger has been under process of formation for some time past, and that the arrangements were concluded at a meeting of the millers held at Toronto, on Monday. The capital has not yet been announced, but it will be large.

The merger will not affect the output of the Goldie Milling Company, for some time at least, and the staff will be kept intact. It may mean, however, that some of those who have been at the head of the Goldie Milling Company for some years, will retire from active participation in the business.

CHATHAM LISTER IN LOCAL COURT

Wife Says He Is No Good to Himself or Anyone Else.

Frank Snowden, arrested several days ago for being drunk, appeared before Magistrate Judd this morning and was sent down for 15 days as a result of not having $10 to pay the fine that was imposed on him.

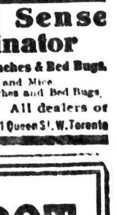

Snowden would not tell the court where he was placed on the Indian list, but the police discovered that it was in Chatham when Snowden's wife came from there today

"He has never supported me," she told the magistrate. "He simply works long enough to get money to go on a drunk."

The court thought Snowden had better go down and sober up, and fined him enough that he couldn't pay it.

Frank Cameron, a former lister, who has been coming up frequently, was fined $20 or 21 days. He took the days.

John Smith, a much weather-beaten youth, who said his home is in Toronto, and that he had come here from Windsor, was ordered to be escorted to the station by a policeman, who was to buy a ticket as far as he could with what money Smith had. Smith, on coming in to London, had got drunk and the court decided not to take any more chances with him.

PORCUPINE GOLD SPOT

This company is organized under Ontario laws; it is absolutely free from debt, there being no further payments to be made on the property. The property is being actively operated, and has good surface showings. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000, par value $1.00, with 250,000 shares in the treasury as a reserve. I am offering a small block of this stock at 10c per share, which I consider a good speculative buy. I sold EL DORADO last week at 10c; it sold yesterday on the exchange, Toronto, at 18c.

A Successful Social.

The annual lawn social held on the grounds of the Chalmers Presbyterian Church last night was a great success. The lawn was beautifully decorated with colored lights, and the booths were in charge of the following: Flowers, Miss Mapletoft and Miss Vera Williams; peanuts, Miss Wallace and Mr. Pinney; ice cream, Mrs. Pirie and Mrs. Light; refreshments, Mrs. Mapletoft. During the evening an exceptionally fine musical programme, including selections by the London Pipers' Band, the church orchestra, solos by Miss McCracken and piano selections by Miss Sticknell, was rendered and much enjoyed.

A GRAND DAY FOR LONDON SANATORIUM

Quite a Large Sum Was Realized as a Result of the Tagging On Tuesday.

Any man who escaped being tagged yesterday could easily devote himself to a life of crime, and be successful. He would be absolutely sure to escape detection.

All day bevies of ladies, with red crosses on their arms, and wearing little red badges, were busier than the famous busy bees.

No matter where one would look, there would be a number of ladies, lying in wait, so to speak. There was no way of getting away, as the ladies had every possible avenue of escape cut off. Never was a city so well guarded as London was yesterday.

Early in the morning the friends of the sanatorium were out. Some of them even caught the milkmen, so early did they get on duty.

The railway depots were rich spots for the cause. At the Grand Trunk Mrs. E. B. Smith and her party took up their positions, and they certainly had a field day of it. Travellers, coming or going, had little chance of escape, and for the most part they contributed very willingly. All the officials on the road were tagged, including Constable Logan, who assisted the ladies in gathering in any chap who desired to get away from the ladies.

Miss Chrissie Armstrong and her companions did not allow the Sons of Scotland to escape. They took their stand in front of Hyman Hall, and the large majority of the Sons of Scotia wore the red tag in addition to the badge of their lodge.

The day was most successful, a large sum of money being raised for the sanatorium. The returns have not all been made, and it could not be learned exactly how much was secured.

Among those who did the tagging were Miss May Beddome, regent of Princess Patricia of Connaught Chapter, Daughters of the Empire; Miss Meta Macbeth, vice-regent; Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. F. R. Eccles, Mrs. J. Wishart, Miss Moore, Miss Helen Gunn, Mrs. R. M. Graham, Miss Belton, Miss Patti Maclaren, Miss Kathleen Betts, Miss Mary Meredith, Miss Chisholm, Miss Chrissie Armstrong, Miss Moore, Mrs. Fritz Beck, Miss "Jack" Merritt, Miss Phyllis Henderson, Mrs. George Gunn, Miss Alice Robinson, Miss M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Jack Coote and others.

FIFTEEN AUTOMOBILES IN WOLVERINE PARTY

Travellers Had Quite an Experience in a Storm Near Brantford.

Fifteen automobiles, touring in the affiliation run of the Wolverine Automobile Club, arrived in the city last evening from Toronto and Hamilton. The party left this morning for Sarnia.

Yesterday was the most strenuous day of the whole trip. On Thursday the party left Detroit, going around Lake Erie, by way of Toledo, Cleveland, Erie and Buffalo. They had good weather for the most part, and conditions were excellent for driving. Yesterday morning, however, they did strike a bad time, a terrific thunderstorm giving the whole party a strenuous half-hour.

Just after passing Brantford, the storm burst, causing many narrow escapes from serious accidents.

The worst experience was that of the press car, driven by Mortimer Roberts, a well-known racing man. The rainstorm had put the roads in bad shape, and when rounding a corner the machine skidded. Roberts promptly headed the car for a stump fence into which it crashed, preventing the auto from turning turtle. The passengers were shaken up somewhat, Mrs. Morrow, one of the ladies in the trip, being considerably bruised. The fender and radiator of the machine were damaged somewhat, and the lamps were twisted.

Mr. L. P. Morisette, driver of the baggage car, had an experience he declares he will not soon forget. During the storm his machine gave him trouble, and he got out to adjust it. As he did the lightning struck a tree about 20 feet from him, splitting it right down the centre. The effects of the shock were felt by his party, but none were at all seriously affected.

A number of them were badly soaked by the rain. Mr. H. H. Robinson and his party could not get the top up before the storm broke, and every one of them was drenched to the skin. At Woodstock they had to buy shoes, etc., to get them to London.

The car driven by Mr. W. K. Bush was also caught in the rain, and four well-soaked young fellows arrived at the Tecumseh House as the result of their experience.

"We have had a most pleasant trip," said Mr. H. H. Robinson, secretary of the tour. "The weather yesterday was the only bad bit we have struck, and, believe me, it was quite a storm. However, we managed to come through all right."

A number of the visitors were entertained at the Travellers' Club in the evening. A fine programme of music and speeches were given. Mr. Cyril Dwight-Edwards rendered several songs in admirable style.

FIRE AT PORT HURON IMPERILS HOTEL GUESTS

Compelled ts Make Hasty Exit by Early Morning Blaze.

[Canadian Press.]

Port Huron, Mich., June 28.—Fire of unknown origin early today destroyed the store of Board, Campbell & Co., with a loss of $75,000, and did $40,000 damage to the plant of the Thorsdale Marble and Granite Company. Several other neighboring establishments suffered small losses, and fifty guests of the Union Hotel were compelled to make a hasty exit.

CORRESPONDENCE

Insulting Women On the Streets.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Some weeks have passed since I noticed a very sane editorial in your paper re nudity. After reading that article I wrote a letter to The Advertiser—which I destroyed. In this letter I told you that the writer, who is neither young nor attractive, had been accosted by men on two occasions while on Queen's avenue in the vicinity of the public library at about 8.30 p.m.

A young girl, who has recently come to the city to earn her living, and who conducts herself in a modest manner, complains that it is impossible for her to return home during the evening without being once or twice a week overtaken by men who urge their company upon her. She has said to me, "And this is your moral city?"

Now, can anything be done to rid London of these pests? At one time we were over-run with tramps. Not a few wholesome lessons were given, which served to drive them out. It does not seem fair that young girls should be subjected to such intrusions. Before a policeman can be notified these insulting creatures have passed from sight.

ROYALTY HURRIES HOME

The Coronation Ceremonies Are Practically Over.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 28. — The princes and princesses and special ambassadors, who have been here during the coronation period have said farewell to King George and Queen Mary, and the greater number have already left London.

Throughout today special trains, bound for the coast, followed one after another. The Duke of Connaught attended each departure on behalf of his majesty, while the regular embassies were present to say good-bye to the envoys of their respective nations.

The great coronation fleet at Spithead also dispersed, the foreign warships saluting the flags of Great Britain, and the commander-in-chief, as they passed out.

King George spent most of the day among the farmers at the royal agricultural show.
