LT.-COL. GEO. NELSON RESIGNS FROM WESTMINSTER HOSPITAL

Former 18th Battalion Officer Is Going Into Business At Windsor—Says "Everybody Knows About Conditions At the Hospital."

Lieut.-Col. George W. Nelson, assistant director at the new Westminster Psychopathic Hospital, has resigned from his post, the resignation taking effect September 1.

When asked his reason for resigning by The Advertiser this afternoon Col. Nelson said: "I have resigned to engage in business in Windsor, and owing to ill-health. Further than that I have nothing to say."

"Is it because of conditions at the institution?" he was asked.

"I gave you my reason for resigning, and I have nothing further to say. So far as conditions are concerned, everybody knows them."

"Do you think there should be a government investigation at the hospital?"

"It would be hardly fair. My opinion, however, is that investigations do no harm at any time, if everything is all right. So far as my department, which is the business end, is concerned, everything was harmonious with headquarters at Guelph. Inspectors visiting our branch had no complaints and found everything efficient."

WAS WITH 18TH.

Lieut.-Col. Nelson served overseas in the 18th Battalion as adjutant of that unit, and later on his return to Canada was appointed officer commanding No. 1 District Depot here. He is a native of Walkerton, and is one of the most popular officers in Western Ontario. As assistant director at the Westminster Hospital he was in charge of administrative duties, but has been ill with pleurisy for one month, from the attack of which he is now recovering.

ALLEGE FAVORITISM.

While Lieut.-Col. Nelson refused to discuss conditions at the hospital, subordinates at that institution declare that he resigned because of favoritism shown the medical department under Superintendent McGhie, at the expense of those under Colonel Nelson.

One employee declared that the latter, in army vernacular, is "fed up" with the situation, and is taking this opportunity of retiring to civilian life.

The resignation is now in the hands of Colonel Shannon, director of the district at Speedwell.

It is understood that Capt. Glen Gardon, now traveling inspector, with headquarters at Speedwell Hospital, will succeed Lieut.-Col. Nelson, and he is at present acting in the capacity of assistant director at the Westminster Hospital.

SUB'S CREW IS RESCUED AFTER BOAT IS DOWN NEARLY 2 DAYS

MEN GAVE UP HOPE

None of Those Aboard Injured, But Suffered From Lack of Air.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—Radio messages flashed from the army transport General Goethals to the Philadelphia navy yard via Cape May told of the rescue early today of the officers and crew of the submarine S-5, after they had spent nearly two days locked up in the disabled vessel beneath the Atlantic Ocean, 55 miles south of Cape Henlopen. It was after 3 o'clock this morning when Lieut. Commander C. M. Cooke, the last man to leave his vessel, was taken aboard the steamship Alanthus. Nine hours had elapsed since the plight of the undersea boat had been made public through a wireless call picked up by an amateur operator in Farmington, Conn.

It was a small buoy, a development of the great war, together with the vigilant eye of a lookout on the bridge of the transport General Goethals that gave the thirty men on the submarine S-5 their chance for life. This small buoy with a bell and buzzer device that can be operated when the boat is submerged, is part of the equipment of all submarines. It was cast loose when the S-5 went down. The lookout on the General Goethals was attracted by its bell as well as the fact that it was not noted on the chart.

A small boat with an officer in command, was lowered from the transport to investigate. When the buoy was reached the buzzer device could be heard. The officer cut into the connection and quickly there came this message:

Had Given Up Hope.

The submarine S-5 has been submerged for 35 hours. Air is running short. Machinery is damaged. Send for help."

This plea was sent broadcast by the wireless of the General Goethals. Among those who responded was the steamer Alanthus, which, with the army transport stood by the submerged vessel and managed to attach grappling hooks to its stern. Holding the submarine in a vertical position, a hole was bored through her plates and air pumped through to the suffering crew, who had almost given up all hope of rescue.

In the meantime, the call for help had been picked up by the navy wireless stations and destroyers were rushed to the rescue from Philadelphia, Newport News and New York.

Before all these vessels had had time to reach the scene, however, the word was flashed that all the crew had been taken aboard the steamer Alanthus. The wireless did not tell how the rescue had been effected or what vessels besides the Alanthus and General Goethals, if any, had assisted. It merely told that all were safe aboard the Alanthus. None had been injured, although all had suffered from lack of air. It was 1 o'clock when the first man was taken off the submarine, and more than two hours later before Lieut. Commander Cooke left his vessel.

TOWING SUB TO PORT.

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—The Alanthus is proceeding slowly with the submarine S-5 in tow. It is not expected to reach the Delaware breakwater, 90 miles down the Delaware River from Philadelphia, until about noon.

Thanksgiving Day On Second Or Third Monday In October

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—(By the Canadian Press).—The Government within the next few days, it is expected, will fix the date for Thanksgiving Day. Last year Thanksgiving was celebrated on Monday, October 13. As it has become the established custom to have Thanksgiving fall upon a Monday, in order that a long week-end may be provided for the convenience of commercial men and others who desire to spend the holiday with their families, it is certain that this practice will not be departed from this year, and the Government's choice will lie between Monday, October 11, and Monday, October 18.

NO PROPERTY QUALIFICATIONS NEEDED TO RUN FOR COUNCIL

Amendment Long Sought by Trades and Labor Council Has Been Passed by Legislature—Much New Blood Is Certain in Aldermanic Field As Result of Drastic Change.

Although not known generally to citizens including many prominent civic officials, by an amendment passed by the Legislature the last session in Toronto, the property qualification for aldermanic candidates has been abolished, and any workingman, a British subject on the municipal voters' list, may now contest at the polls without fear of being unseated following election, because of the fact that his financial status is not up to a certain standard.

The local trades and labor council, led by ex-Ald. Henry B. Ashplant, and similar bodies throughout the province, have fought for this amendment, which gives every candidate an opportunity to throw his hat in the ring and win out on his merits. This radical change will undoubtedly bring new blood out in the municipal elections for 1921, and will awaken interest in civic affairs to the benefit of London ratepayers. Under the amendment a workman's slate could be advocated with the backbone of the municipality well represented on the city council as a result.

Point Is Not Clear.

Some authorities interpreting the amendment maintain that the mayoralty candidates need have no property qualification, and this interesting feature is being debated. Whether "a member of a municipal council of a local municipality" would include the mayor in its category is not definitely known, although exponents of the amendment claim that this office is included in the drastic change.

Following is a complete copy of the bill numbered 52, as passed by the Ontario House at the last session: Section 52 of the municipal act is repealed and the following substituted therefor: (1) Every person shall be qualified to be elected as a member of a municipal council of a local municipality who

(a) is a householder residing in the municipality, or is rated on the last revised assessment roll of the municipality for land held in his own right for an amount sufficient to entitle him to be entered on the voters' list, and resides in or within two miles of the municipality.

On the Last List.

(b) Is entered on the last revised voters' list as qualified to vote at municipal elections.

(c) Is a British subject.

(d) Is of the full age of 21 years, and

(e) Is not disqualified under this or any other act.

(2) The rating for land shall be in respect of a freehold or leasehold, legal or equitable or partly of each.

(3) "Householder" shall mean the person who occupies and is assessed as owner or tenant of a dwelling or apartment house or part of a dwelling or apartment house separately occupied as a dwelling.

(4) Where territory has been annexed to an urban municipality, until an assessment roll for the municipality, including such territory, has been made and revised, it shall be sufficient for the purposes of this section if the assessment is upon the last revised assessment roll of the municipality in which the territory, before its annexation, was situate, and for a sufficient amount to qualify him for election to the council of that municipality.

(5) Where the inhabitants of a township or locality in unorganized territory have become incorporated as a township or a union of townships, the only qualification necessary at the first election shall be that the person is of the full age of twenty-one years, a British subject and a householder resident in the municipality.

LAWYERS NOT IN ACCORD ON QUESTION OF JUDGE'S PAY

Report of Committee Contains Recommendations That Create Controversy.

PRIVY COUNCIL SITTINGS

Are Advocated in All Capitals in British Empire.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The even tenor of the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association was rather rudely disturbed this morning by a report of the committee on the administration of justice introduced by Mr. Justice McWhinney, K.C., convener.

The report by no means satisfied a certain section of the convention, as in it was a great number of controversial recommendations.

Some of these were:

Further increases to all judges.

Judges salaries not to come under income taxations.

Judges to enjoy full pensions hitherto enjoyed before the legislation of last session.

Want Sittings in Capitals.

A recommendation that the imperial privy council should sit in the various capitals of the Empire.

Increasing the number of supreme court judges and having an uneven number of judges in that court, as it could not divide evenly, as in some recent cases.

Uniform laws on marriage and divorce to be passed by the Federal Parliament and adopted by the Provincial Parliament.

Each sex should be treated on a basis of equality.

While the members expressed themselves guardedly, it was evident that there was much feeling on two points, i. e., the recommendation to increase judges' salaries so soon after the recent increase, and secondly, the ever-controversial one of the appeals from Canada to the imperial privy council.

DESCHANEL'S RECEPTIONS TAKEN TO INDICATE THAT HE HAS REGAINED HEALTH

Paris, Sept. 3.—President Deschanel's diplomatic receptions occurring today at Rambouillette, his country home, are receiving considerable attention from the press, this being the first time such ceremonies have been held since the accident which befell the president on his railway journey last May. The fact that the receptions were arranged for, is taken as a sign of the president's wish to show that his health has again become normal

BELL TELEPHONE CO. HEARING SET FOR SEPTEMBER 21ST

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—By the Canadian Press.—The hearing in the Bell Telephone Company's application for an increase in rates will open at Ottawa on Tuesday, September 21, according to information received at the offices of the railway commission this morning.

This is intended to be a preliminary hearing, at which the telephone company will be given an opportunity of presenting its case.

Orders will be given for inspection and production of documents, and the dates of further hearings decided on.

GAS CUT OFF WITHOUT NOTICE

Residents of Belmont Plan To Take Legal Action in the Matter.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Belmont, Sept. 3.—Several hundred residents of this village and of the Westminster and Dorchester townline are up in arms over the shutting off of their supply of natural gas. On Wednesday, just as scores of women were getting dinner the gas was suddenly cut off and has not been on since.

Just what action will be taken is not known, but the trustees of the village of Belmont go to London tomorrow to consult a solicitor. It is expected that an appeal will be made to the Ontario Government for justice in the matter, as it is claimed cutting off the gas supply is a real hardship because when the gas was piped to the district all stoves were taken out of most homes and residents are dependent upon the gas for all cooking and other purposes. When the gas supply was cut off Wednesday one farmer's wife was in the middle of cooking a dinner for a gang of fifteen hungry threshermen. Ever since the gas has been off there has been a rush to buy oil stoves and other equipment on which cooking can be done.

The gas situation seems to revolve around an effort to increase the price to consumers from 35 cents per thousand cubic feet to 85 cents. About a month ago consumers received notification of a proposed advance and other changes which were contemplated. They were asked to sign an agreement submitted and many of them believing that the agreement was entirely one-sided did not do so.

The gas supply for Belmont village and for the residents of the town line is controlled, it is stated, by John Barons. Farmers all along the town line between the second concession of Westminster and Belmont and residents of Belmont are especially incensed at the cutting off of the gas supply without any warning. Many it was stated to The Advertiser today are strongly in favor of urging that the gas mains be torn up and no further business done with the gas company.

55,000 Yards of New Pavements

City's Paving Program Much Ahead of Former Years.

London's paving for 1920 has already surpassed that of last year so far as work accomplished is concerned. During 1919 there were 35,000 square yards of concrete laid, and up to today there have been 55,000 square yards laid this year. City Engineer H. A. Brazier predicts that there will be almost 25,000 more square yards of concrete laid by his staff before the snow flies, doubling the paving program of 1919.

During that period scarcity of workmen and cement handicapped progress, but this season there is an abundance of labor, with cement only holding up the work. However, taking the latter point into consideration, the city engineer believes that his department will fulfill all expectations regarding the

High Cost of U. S. Politics

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Further evidence of the high cost of politics was furnished today by the threat of election poll officials here to strike if their demands for an increase of $5 a day are not met. It is not likely the increase will be granted.

JAPAN WILL KEEP TROOPS STATIONED AT VLADIVOSTOK

Government At Tokio Declares Intentions.

Honolulu, Sept. 3.—Japan has declared her intention of keeping troops at Vladivostok until security of life and property is guaranteed, according to Vladivostok reports to Tokio, cabled to a Japanese language newspaper here.

AMBASSADORS WILL REASSEMBLE SOON

European Political Situation To Be Discussed At Gathering.

London, Sept. 3.—The conference of ambassadors, which broke up at the end of July will, it is understood, reassemble in Paris on September 6. The heads of the various Baltic States propose to convene a meeting between those bordering on Russia for a settlement of frontier disputes, and a discussion of the question of recognition and various political and economic arrangements, according to a dispatch from Riga. The place and date have not yet been decided

MARRIAGE OF CATHOLIC TO PROTESTANT WOMAN ANNULLED BY COURT

Montreal, Sept. 3.—Judge Bruneau in the practice court yesterday declared null, as to its civil effects, the marriage of John Lamontagne of this city and Elma Saincler, address unknown.

In June, 1920, Archbishop Bruchesi declared the marriage null and void.

There was no defence yesterday, the demand being made by the husband.

TRAIN SEIZED, ENGINE THROTTLE IS OPENED AND THEN ABANDONED

Striking "Outlaw" Switchmen Believed Responsible For Act.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—A freight train seized here last night by a band of men, believed to be members of the striking "outlaw" switchmen, was found early today near Bensonville, Ill., with the throttle wide open and the twenty-one freight cars apparently untouched.

Several battles between freight crews and bands of the striking switchmen who never regained their jobs, preceded the theft of the train, which occurred shortly before midnight last night in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul yards at Cicero, a suburb.

Thomas White, the engineer, was driven from his post at the point of a gun, and when Bert Zimpone, the fireman, resisted, he was badly beaten. White immediately gave the alarm, and after several hours search the train was found. Railroad officials believe the throttle had been pulled wide open and the train abandoned by the band who stole it. It had apparently run down for lack of steam. Five suspects were taken into custody early today by the police.

GOVERNOR COX WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN AT MICHIGAN CAPITAL

The Democratic Nominee Will Open Tour Today of 22 States.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. .—Michigan Democrats gathered in force here today to greet Governor James M. Cox, opening a month's campaign tour planned to take him through twenty-two central and western states. A luncheon with Lansing Rotarians was scheduled for 1 p.m., followed by an address before the Michigan State Good Roads Association. A second speech was to be made late in the afternoon from the state capital steps.

This evening, Governor Cox's program calls for addresses at Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

DENIES REPORT THAT DESCHANEL RESIGNED

Letter From President Said To Be in Premier's Possession.

Paris, Sept. 3.—An official denial has been issued by Elysees Palace of report published by provincial newspapers and widely circulated in Paris, that President Deschanel, at the request of Premier Millerand, had tendered a letter of resignation from the presidency.

This letter is alleged to be in the possession of the premier, who is said to be awaiting the settlement of various diplomatic questions before acquainting the country with the president's withdrawal.

Well-informed circles, however, insist that M. Deschanel will not return to Elysees Palace. His probable successor is being openly discussed by the politicians.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 3.—Plans for perfection of a national organization were discussed today by the Canadian British War Veterans of America in convention here.

TEACHERS' PROBLEM TO FIND OUT WHERE PUPILS OUGHT TO GO

Dr. S. A. Courtis Points Out Importance of Individual Differences.

"Education is the process of changing children from where they are toward where we think they ought to go, and the great problem is to find out where they ought to go during their education," said Dr. S. A. Courtis in his address on the "The Individual Differences as the Greater Factor in Education" at the Normal School this morning before the London Teachers' Association.

Dr. Courtis, with a number of interesting slides taken from charts prepared from scholars of American schools, showed the advancement under certain conditions of picked scholars and from a whole class. The speaker said that individual differences of the students in the class at the beginning of the year should be ascertained, and then these differences should be respected by the teacher throughout the time that the child is in her class, and the results will be far greater and better in the end.

Writing Important.

An interesting slide was shown by Dr. Courtis of the various forms of writing of the various scholars. He pointed out how many fail in writing, and advocated that the teacher point out to each child whom she sees is writing in an incorrect manner exactly where the fault is, and in this manner remedy it, as any amount of class instruction could not remedy the one particular defect of this child's writing. The speaker pointed out to the teachers present how no single child was alike; that everyone has irregular developments which must be dealt with accordingly and individually.

Another slide shown was a chart of the work of twins who could not be told apart. Their work could hardly be recognized one from the other, but the work of twins who were totally different in looks and character was also absolutely different.

Kindergarten Salaries.

Dr. Courtis made the remark that perhaps kindergarten teachers should receive higher salaries than high school teachers, as it depended on the instruction received in the first days at school what the scholar will be in later years. "Why," he said, "should not the kindergarten teachers have the best supplies, outfits and larger salaries and the teachers themselves be most efficient in this department when the child's ability in later years depend upon it?" This query brought applause from all the kindergarten teachers present.

An assortment of charts taken from the standings of pupils in the same grades in different schools were most enlightening. Dr. Courtis said that he had heard teachers complain of having too large a class; that results when teaching a large class were not as good. The speaker then gave instances of where a large class had had a much higher score than the smaller class.

Dr. Courtis continued his address on the methods of teaching at the closing session held this afternoon.

FRANCE IS WORRIED OVER DEMONSTRATION IN GERMAN CITY

Fears For Safety of French Members of Allied Commission.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Considerable anxiety is expressed in French official circles as to the outcome of the Sedan Day manifestations in Germany.

Reports received by the foreign office indicate that anti-French agitation has become extremely violent in Hamburg, where the walls are covered with posters calling on the people to manifest their sentiments. Uneasiness is felt regarding the safety of the French members of the Allied commission there.

LITHUANIA WILL DEFEND HERSELF AGAINST POLES

Bloodshed Certain Unless the Poles Withdraw Troops.

Berlin, Sept. 3.—Lithuania will defend herself with all means at her disposal against invasion by Polish troops, and will prevent any further violation of her territory, says a Kovno dispatch.

"Bloodshed can be averted only if the Poles withdraw," the Lithuanian foreign minister is reported as declaring. The note says the Poles attacked Lithuanian troops while boundary negotiations were pending.

REPORT IS DENIED.

London, Sept. 3.—Reports that fighting has occurred between Polish and Lithuanian troops near Augustowo are denied in a telegram received in this city from Warsaw, says the London Times. It is also stated that Lithuanian troops in that vicinity are withdrawing without fighting against the Poles.

LIABILITIES OF PONZI NEARLY SEVEN MILLION

U. S. Government Experts Audit Accounts of Boston "Financier."

Boston, Sept. 3.—Charles Ponzi's liabilities, as a result of his spectacular financial dealings through his Securities Exchange Company, stands at $6,948,267, according to Edwin L. Pride, the accountant employed by the federal authorities to audit Ponzi's accounts.

MINERS' OFFICIALS PLANNING TO REOPEN WAGE NEGOTIATIONS

Union Leaders Declare Contract Just Signed Is Unsatisfactory.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 3.—Representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, who last night accepted and signed a new two-year contract with the coal operators, met today to formulate a plan for re-opening the wage agreement and asking for further increases. The union leaders declare the contract just signed is unsatisfactory, in that it gave the workers little more than the offer of the operators, which was rejected last spring.

Many collieries throughout the anthracite regions were still idle today, due to workers remaining away from the operations as a protest against the terms of the award.

QUEBEC WILL HAVE BIG APPLE CROP

Montreal, Sept. 3.—Peter Reid, secretary of the Fruit Growers' Society of the Province of Quebec, yesterday stated the apple crop for the province was estimated at around 100,000 barrels, as compared with 75,000 last year. He added that the crop was excellent.

Quebec Province, he said, would have no apples to export this season, and would not until orchards planted to replace those killed out by the frosts of the bad 1917 winter reach the bearing state

More Jobs Than Men Available in Montreal

Employment Conditions There Were Never Better.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—That there is no shortage of work in Montreal—that, on the contrary, there is a noticeable shortage of workers—is the conclusion arrived at after a careful canvass of sentiment among the various employment agencies and employers generally.

A leading employment agent stated this morning that he had engaged in the past few days over two thousand men—foremen, skilled workmen and laborers of all classes—for local and outside operations, and that he could place another three or four thousand if they became available. He said also that common laborers were commanding a wage of from 45c to 60c an hour. A good many of them, he added, were being sent into the lumber camps. In this connection, manufacturers generally say they are being considerably hampered by lack of coal supplies, and they maintain that, were regular supplies of the commodity available from Nova Scotia and other sources of supply, business generally would be much more active.

It is admitted, however, that there are a number of men about the city looking for "congenial" employment.

1,000 JOBS UNFILLED.

Regina, Sept. 3.—That there are unfilled orders for over 1,000 farmhands on the books of the employment offices of the province at the present time is the statement of T. J. Molloy, commissioner of labor and industries in reply to the statement of a returned Montreal harvester that "eastern harvesters are returning in large numbers as they can find no employment in Saskatchewan."

COURT REVENUE EXCEEDS $30,000

Convictions Under Temperance Act Are Swelling Police Receipts.

Should the London police court be required to pay an excess profits tax? Police Clerk Moule admits that the shabby-looking building on Carling street where justice is ground out according to patents registered by the provincial and civic authorities is one of the best-paying business enterprises in London, and has yielded an almost all-velvet revenue to date this year of $30,483.40. This is a pretty good dividend on the modest amount of capital tied up in the dilapidated, stuffy, old premises, and it isn't any wonder that the city and provincial authorities dispute over the division of the spoils from time to time.

Business is growing, too. For the quarter just closed Mr. Moule's records shows that 707 convictions were registered, as against only 69 for the preceding quarter. The great majority of the convictions were made under the Ontario temperance act, the motor vehicle act, the city traffic bylaws, and the Lord's Day act. An enormous amount of bookkeeping is involved, as all papers have to be made out in triplicate, one set going to Osgoode Hall, one set to the crown attorney, and one set being filed in the local office. Credit is due to Mr. Moule and his office assistants for handling all the work expeditiously and accurately.

AMBASSADOR OF "IRISH REPUBLIC" IS ORDERED TO LEAVE FRANCE

George Gavan Duffy Given 24 Hours To Depart.

London, Sept. 3. — George Gavan Duffy, so-called ambassador of the Irish republic to France, has been given 24 hours by the French Government in which to leave France, it was officially stated here today.

MACSWINEY REPORTED TO BE NEARING STATE OF UNCONSCIOUSNESS

Lord Mayor of Cork Said To Be Swiftly Sinking.

London, Sept. 3.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was reported this morning to be showing signs of sinking rapidly and to be very much weaker. This statement of his condition was made by his brother, Sean MacSwiney, after he left the prison this afternoon.

At the lord mayor's request, members of his family visited him this morning, and later they expressed the fear that the end was not far away. Those who went to his cell included MacSwiney's wife, his brother, Sean MacSwiney, and his sisters, Annie and Mary MacSwiney. They arrived at 8:30 o'clock and remained for 45 minutes.

Father Dominic, private chaplain to MacSwiney, celebrated a special mass in the prison this morning.

Miss Annie MacSwiney, on leaving the prison, said the mayor's cheeks and eyes were sunken and that he spoke in a whisper.

"As to his condition," she added, "that changes from hour to hour. Sometimes one would think he would die in a few hours, and then he rallies. The prison doctor cannot decide how long he will last, as the doctor has no criterion by which to judge."

The report made on Mayor MacSwiney's condition shortly after noon, said he was rapidly approaching unconsciousness. He was too weak during the morning to carry on a conversation, it was said.

MAYOR HYLAN ASKS RELEASE OF MACSWINEY

New York, N. Y., Sept. 3.—An appeal to Premier Lloyd George for the release from prison of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork was cabled by Mayor Hylan today.

"As mayor of New York, the largest city of the United States," Mayor Hylan said, "and speaking for its citizens, I respectfully urge of you not to disgrace our war aims by further imprisonment of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, whose heroic fortitude in representing even unto death the opinions of the citizens who elected him, has won the admiration of all the people who believe in rule of the people, by the people."

3 Women Claim Dead Man's Body

Boston, Sept. 3.—The body of "Flash" Rogers, a boxer who committed suicide by gas, was given today to Mrs. Ruth E. Rogers of Houston, Texas, as that of Manuel A. Rogers, her husband, after two other women had claimed it. The description which each woman gave of her missing husband fitted the body almost exactly and the names were identical that the police believe Rogers married each of the women.

U-BOAT PRISONER NOW TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE

Richard Cannon, Officer of Ill-Fated U. S. S. Neptune, Gives Story of Remarkable Adventure and Recovery.

Richard Cannon, chief petty officer of the U. S. S. Neptune, whose dramatic capture at sea by a German U-boat and subsequent experiences aboard the submarine and in a German prison hospital, thrilled the entire country, is still another world war hero to test the remarkable reconstructive powers of Tanlac and gives it his strong indorsement. Mr. Cannon's adventures were so harrowing that his constitution was completely shattered, but after months of suffering he has now regained the wonderful health that enabled him to pull through his adventures alive, and is today the same strapping two hundred-pound fighter that embarked on the ill-fated collier. But let him tell his own story:

"When the Neptune was torpedoed off the Irish coast," said Mr. Cannon, who now lives at 707 E. Lafayette, Tampa, Fla., "I had my right leg and five ribs broken by the explosion, and when I came to my senses I found myself on board a submarine bound for Germany. I was kept in a German prison hospital for five months, and you can imagine what I must have suffered when I tell you that I fell off in weight from two hundred and twenty-five to a hundred and thirty-one pounds. When I was repatriated and finally got my discharge in February, 1919, I was little better than a living skeleton. I had no appetite and my digestive system was so upset that what little I did eat always gave me severe pains in the pit of my stomach. Before I joined the service I never knew what nerves were, but after what I went through my nerves were so shattered that I couldn't keep still a minute, and the slightest thing upset me. For six months I continued in this condition, unable to pick up strength, and so weak that any attempt at work tired me out completely. I began to think that I should never be a well and strong man again.

"But the way Tanlac overcame my troubles and built me up was nothing short of marvelous. It gave me such an appetite that I wanted to eat all the while, and I sure did make up for lost time. I had no more bother with indigestion and from then on I picked up strength and put on weight until now I tip the beam at two hundred and four pounds, and am as strong as I ever was before I joined the service. My nerves are as steady as a die, and I'm like my old self again. Tanlac is certainly a grand medicine and I think every suffering person ought to try it."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

Feeble-Minded Must Not Perpetuate Their Kind, Dr. H.W. Hill Tells Teachers

After Elimination of Unfit, Chance Must Be Given Fit —Principal Kirkwood Says Motion Pictures Successful in Teaching History, Geography, Nature Study, Composition.

Under the auspices of the Western University Extension Bureau Dr. H. W. Hill, dean of the faculty of public health, delivered an address on "Health in the Schools," at the Thursday evening session of the London Teachers' Association.

Health, said Dr. Hill, is the greatest subject occupying the mind of the public since the war. For the first time in the history of mankind, mankind as a whole has deliberately turned its mind to the problems of stock-raising, such as have previously been applied to improving the breeds of plants and animals, as applied to the human race. In the savage state the elimination of the unfit types would occur, but it does not in civilized countries and physical conditions there are consequently at a low ebb.

Three main features must be considered in this stock-raising as in all others. First comes the elimination of the unfit. This cannot be done by annihilation of those already alive, but the hereditary feeble-minded, who constitute the class which is most of all a menace to the race, must not be allowed to perpetuate their kind. Secondly, after the elimination of the unfit, the fit must be given the best conditions for suitable development and growth; and lastly, there must be a continual struggle against invasion and infection of every description.

Nutrition.

Every modern expert in health will agree that the nutrition of the child is the most important single point in the safeguarding of the health of the race. Malnutrition is not confined to poor children or those in cities. Thirty per cent of the population are undernourished. Children may receive plenty of food and yet be under-nourished; their food not being adjusted to their particular necessities for growth. If schools keep track of the weight of the child in relation to its height an idea will be given of its conditions of nutrition.

A discussion of proper living conditions followed, in which various members of the association took part. Dr. Hill, in answer to questions regarding the proper temperature of living-rooms, said that it depended on the humidity, an ideal combination being on a sixty-sixty basis, sixty degrees of heat and a relative humidity of sixty. This humidity may be measured by instruments which can be bought, and can be attained by devices in the building which supply moisture to the air.

Real Secret.

The real secret of modern ventilation is in keeping the human engine cooled and circulating the air for this purpose. Given proper temperature, proper humidity and proper circulation, an ideal living condition will be produced. A constant stream of outside air is not necessary, as the bad conditions are not produced by the presence of

GAS SUPPLY IS CUT OFF HERE

Machine Breaks — Supply Normal After Several Hours—Winter Capacity Doubles.

London was practically without gas for a considerable time last night after the biggest machine for manufacturing it that the City Gas Company possesses went out of commission. The actual break occurred after 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

From that time the gas supply dwindled until at 6 o'clock the two other machines could not begin to supply the demand created by the company's customers, who were using it to aid in preparing the evening meal.

Later the supply increased, but a number of firms using the fuel and operating after 6 o'clock were seriously handicapped as a result of the break. Near midnight all damage was repaired, and the supply was slowly becoming normal.

At present, it was stated to The Advertiser last night, the daily supply is 1,000,000 cubic feet. It requires three machines to produce this amount. The supply will be doubled for the winter, however, as a new machine capable of manufacturing as much as the other three combined is being installed.

TEN MILLION GALLON WATER SUPPLY STILL UNTAPPED NEAR HERE

This Amount Could Be Secured Daily From Kilworth, Komoka.

SO UTILITIES TOLD

Would Cost City $183,480 To Secure 5,000,000 Gallons From Former.

According to a report submitted to the public utilities commission Thursday afternoon a daily supply of a maximum of about ten million gallons of drinking water is available from springs situated at Kilworth and Komoka, the former yielding about five millions and the latter 2,500,000 gallons. The Kilworth project would cost the city $183,-480, including pumphouse, sub-station, mains and conduits, while to pipe water from Komoka the cost is estimated at $788,126. The total cost for Kilworth and Komoka water delivered to Springbank would amount to $958,956.

Being less expensive and yielding a greater supply the Kilworth springs were favored by the commission for a future supply for the city, but no action was taken in either case, the report being tabled for future reference. The estimates do not include reimbursing property-owners for use of the springs there, being six owners in the Kilworth survey. Included in the report is an estimate of the cost of laying a 36-inch main from Springbank to the corner of Ridout and York streets which with equipment would cost $655,416.

A transmission line for a pumphouse at Komoka Bridge from which point the water would be pumped to Springbank would be required for the Komoka project, and with all connections to the Delaware substation would involve an expenditure of $17,000. A pumphouse would cost $84,150, this amount covering the construction of a million-gallon reservoir at Komoka. Conduits and mains at $686,976 bring the total cost to $788,126.

Following is a summary of Manager Buchanan's report as submitted Thursday:

"The total amount of water available between Springbank and Kilworth bridge amounts to 500,000 gallons as a minimum, and might reach 750,000 gallons as a maximum. The report shows the amount of water at the different springs. These measurements were made by me personally and have been checked against measurements made by other engineers. There is little variation in the figures obtained.

"I have considered the Kilworth scheme alone, and you will note that the estimated cost is $183,480 to deliver the water to Springbank reservoir. This cost does not include any compensation to the property-owners for the water on their lands. The cost of the plant is therefore over $300,000 per million gallons from Kilworth, and this figure would have to be increased to include the water privileges.

"With reference to the Komoka estimate, the amount of water available between Kilworth Bridge and Janes' Creek at Komoka, is approximately 2,500,000 gallons, and this scheme will cost $788,-126.

"Combining the Kilworth and Komoka scheme which would produce over 3,000,-000 gallons, the cost would be $859,956. The cost of the total scheme therefore, is about $1,000,000 for 3,000,000 gallons of water, or roughly, $300,000 for 1,000,-000 gallons.

"The well system costs less than $200,-000 and produces a maximum of over $3,000,000 gallons, or $66,000 per 1,000,000 gallons.

"If the Kilworth and Komoka scheme were adopted it would be necessary to lay another main from the Springbank reservoir to the city, as the present 18-inch main is just sufficient to carry the 3,500,000 gallons of water that is available now at Springbank. The cost of this extra main—which, of course, I believe should be laid whether the Kilworth and Komoka scheme is adopted or not—amounts to $665,416.

"I am simply submitting the above figures as a preliminary report, and am making no deductions.

PASTOR INDUCTED AT HAMILTON ROAD CH.

Rev. M. F. Cree Greeted by Large Congregation—Several Ministers Present.

Rev. M. F. Cree, formerly of Alliston, was inducted into the pastorate of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening. The ceremony was of an impressive nature.

The church was filled to capacity for the occasion. Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae, a former pastor of the church, inducted Mr. Cree in the vacant charge. Rev. James Mackay of New St. James's Church narrated the steps which had been taken by the London Presbytery in bringing Rev. Mr. Cree to London. Rev. C. A. Malcolm, new minister of the Cowal Church, preached the sermon, taking the character of the Apostle Paul as one fitting that of a minister of today. Rev. T. A. Symington of Knox Church addressed the newly-inducted minister and the congregation, calling for a spirit of co-operation between pastor and congregation.

Rev. Dr. McCrae, one of the first pastors of the Hamilton Road Church, outlined the progress of the church since the time when it was a small mission. Rev. Dr. Smith, he said, had done a great deal in the interest of the church and congregation. He mentioned the fact that there was no greater opportunity to work among Presbyterians that in the district of the Hamilton Road Church.

CITIZENS CONSUME SULPHUR WATER; DO NOT DETECT LIQUID

Utilities Commissioners Announce—In Water in Aerated Form—Tests Ordered.

Citizens have been drinking sulphur water for months, without realizing the fact, according to members of the public utilities commission, who met Thursday. A few of the city springs yield sulphur water, which, when mingled with that of other springs in the reservoir, becomes more or less aerated, and is not detected by local consumers. Now that the secret is out many residents may assume the "I-told-you-so" attitude, and inform their neighbors that they viewed the sulphur in the liquid flowing from their taps. However, the white precipitate which appeared in city water a few weeks ago was chloride of lime dumped into the city supply for a purpose, namely, to eliminate the danger caused by colon bacilli discovered to be present at that time by the director of public health.

Thousands of gallons of sulphur water have been consumed by Londoners without their knowledge during the past few months, and if plans suggested by General Manager E. V. Buchanan prove feasible, they will consume the fluid in larger quantities in future. He suggests that sulphur water, of which there is an unlimited supply in the vicinity of London, be aerated and the supply liberated in the form of gas, or precipitated in the form of a lime, and the pure water be drawn off for local use. He was not certain that the plan is feasible, but stated that the water would be cold and pure, the ideal combination for human consumption.

"It is worth an experiment on a small scale," declared Commissioner T. W. McFarland at the meeting. "We should find the names of all cities that have tried it. We struck sulphur wells and had to plug them. A local firm uses a sulphur well for their water supply in this manner."

No difficulty due to sulphur deposits blocking the water mains is anticipated.

"Sulphur water may solve our problem for some time," commented Commissioner Jared Vining.

The commissioners instructed Manager Buchanan to try out this scheme on a small scale, and report to them as soon as possible. He was also instructed to report on the interest charges of the hydro-electric power commission, and, if necessary, to consult the city solicitor. A request written by Chairman Philip Pocock of the commission, asking for three months' leave of absence, was received and granted. Commissioner T. W. McFarland occupied the chair at the meeting.

SEPTEMBER IN ALGONQUIN PARK.

September is one of the most delightful months of the year in the "Highlands of Ontario," and Algonquin Park offers attractions that are not found in other districts. It is situated at an altitude of 2,000 feet above the level of the sea, assuring visitors of pure, bracing air that rejuvenates body and mind. The territory is easy of access, via the Grand Trunk, 200 miles north of Toronto and 170 miles west of Ottawa. "The Highland Inn," a charming hotel, affords comfortable accommodation at reasonable rates. The Inn is heated by steam. The cuisine is all that can be desired. "The Highland Inn" is operated by the Grand Trunk Railway. Make your reservations early. Illustrated descriptive literature telling you all about it from any Grand Trunk agent, or write Mr. N. T. AUGUST COLLECTIONS OF WAR TAX SHOWS $6,000,000 INCREASE

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—(By Canadian Press.)—With an increase of $6,321,-171.88, as respects war tax collections (which includes sales and luxury taxation) for the month of August just closed, as compared with August of last year the new taxes have begun to make their weight felt in the national treasury. Canada's total inland revenue for the month just closed was $11,374,290.98, as against $5,251,801.41 for the corresponding month of last year. The increase in the amount of war tax for the month left a net increase in inland revenue of $6,122,489.57.

The total revenue from these sources for the fiscal year ending March 31 last was slightly over $58,300,000. A very conservative estimate, based on the August totals, places the total collections for the current year at approximately $115,000,000. However, it is expected that the total inland revenue for the fiscal year will be $150,000,000 or more.

The luxury and sales tax collections, it is stated, are expected to show a substantial increase in coming months. Some merchants have not yet made full returns, and it is expected that when the departmental staff of auditors are placed in the field they will be able to assist the merchants in making their returns and at the same time check up a great deal of laxity and carelessness.

COAL DEALERS HAVE BETRAYED PUBLIC TRUST SAY BRANTFORD WORKERS

T. and L. Council Demands That City Council Procure Supply of Fuel.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 2.—The Brantford Trades and Labor Council has again called attention of the city to the need of a civic supply of fuel being secured, and claim that the dealers have betrayed a public trust in their failure to secure an adequate supply before the price was advanced to $19 per ton. The council has elected the following officers for the year: President, Harry Hymans; vice-president, S. G. Mackim; treasurer and corresponding secretary, David Graves; recording secretary, John M. Stewart; auditors, Messrs. Bowerings, Kite and Martal; Trustees, Messrs. Symons, Graves and Ward.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS

HOLLAND—STEVENS.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Irene H., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Stevens, 34 Kensington street, was united in marriage to Mr. V. Holland, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. Wright. The bride looked charming in her wedding gown of navy blue charmeuse, satin and taupe beaver hat. The bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn Miller, cousin of the bride, wore navy blue charmeuse and brown hat with ostrich trimming.

The groom was assisted by the bride's brother, Earl Stevens. After the ceremony, the guests, numbering 35, went to the bride's home, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Holland left for Toronto, the bride traveling in a navy blue suit with taupe hat. On their return, they will reside at 192 Albert street.

ANDERSON—SIMPSON.

Leamington, Sept. 3.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Simpson, Marlborough street west, was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, when Rev. D. D. Burtch united in marriage their youngest daughter, Cora May, to Clarence B., eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Anderson, Sandwich. The wedding march was played by Miss Joy Jackson of Comber. Four girl friends, Charlotte Askew, Beatrice Thompson, Millie Cox and May Malott served the guests with supper. The groom's gift to the bride was a rose of pearls and to the pianist a cameo ring. During the signing of the register, witnessed by Miss Merle Anderson and Mr. Morley Simpson, Miss Joy Jackson played piano selections. The happy couple left amid showers of confetti and best wishes for Toronto and other eastern cities.

GREIG—FREELAND.

Leamington, Sept. 3.—A pretty fall wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Freeland, Erie street, on Wednesday afternoon, when their eldest daughter, Edna, was united in marriage to George A. Greig of Wheatley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. D. Burtch, the Wedding March being played by Miss Grace Freeland of North Branch, Mich., cousin of the bride. The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Greig, sister of the groom, while Mr. Albert Freeland, supported the groom. After the wedding supper the happy couple left for Toronto and Buffalo, where they will spend their honeymoon.

SCOTT—McINTYRE.

Rodney, Sept. 3.—The wedding was solemnized in the Presbyterian Church here on Wednesday afternoon, of Florence, only daughter of Daniel McIntyre, and Neil F. Scott of Kintyre. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. J. McIntyre of Ridgetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. Falconer.

After the ceremony the bride and groom motored to St. Thomas, where a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's brother, 9 Fifth avenue. The happy couple then left for London, Toronto, and eastern points on a honeymoon trip and will be at home after October 1, at Fairview Farm, Gore road, Aldborough.

YOUNG—BLUE.

Dutton, Sept. 3.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dugald Blue, Dunwich, was the scene of a charming autumn wedding on Wednesday, when their only daughter, Mary Belle, became the bride of Harry A. Young, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Young of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Elder J. B. Slauson of St. Thomas beneath an arch of evergreens, in the presence of immediate relatives. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dainty gown of white georgette crepe, beautifully trimmed with beaded embroidery, and her filmy veil was gracefully caught with orange blossoms. Her only attendant was little Miss Jean Campbell of London, cousin of the bride, who carried the ring.

The bride entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Tena Thomson of Cowal. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left for Detroit and other western points. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Young will be at home at 193 St. Clarens avenue, Toronto, October 1.

On Monday evening about 80 friends of the bride-elect gave her a delightful surprise at her home in the form of a miscellaneous shower, when she received many handsome and useful gifts.

McNAB—MILLEN.

Woodslee, Sept. 3.—A quiet wedding was solemnized here on Tuesday afternoon when Miss Lois Millen, daughter of R. H. Millen of Port Stanley, became the bride of Frank McNabb of Windsor, formerly of St. Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. McNabb left on a wedding trip to Chicago and other western points. On their return they will reside in Windsor.

WOODWARD—ALDRICH.

St. Thomas, Sept. 3.—At 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon a pretty wedding took place at the home of Wm. Aldrich, Talbot street, when his youngest daughter, Jessie Florence, became the bride of Frank Russell Woodward, son of Mrs. A. Wheeler, Locust street. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of white georgette over duchess satin, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia and Sweetheart roses. She was attended by Miss Otis Betz, Kain street, who wore a pretty gown of maize ninon, and carried a bouquet of Columbia roses and sweet peas. Fred Bowes of Eden, nephew of the groom, was groomsman. Miss Thelma Robinson played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride entered the room and took her place beneath an arch of ferns and roses. Rev. G. T. Watts officiated at the ceremony, following which Mr. and Mrs. Woodward left on a wedding trip down the St. Lawrence River to the Thousand Islands, the bride wearing a becoming traveling suit of navy serge with taupe hat and shoes to match. On their return they will reside at 857 Talbot street.

BUCK—CRAWFORTH.

The marriage is announced of Miss Beatrice Crawforth, B.A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Crawforth, Base line, Whitby, and Mr. Charles Spurgeon Buck, eldest son of the late Chas. Buck and Mrs. Buck of Belleville, Ont. The ceremony was performed on Thursday at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Toronto, by the pastor, Rev. Trevor Davies. The bride was unattended, and wore a costume of navy serge trimmed with gold braid. Her hat was of black velvet. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Buck left for a short trip to Niagara Falls, and on their return will go to their home at 835 Dundas street, London, Ontario. Mr. Buck is art instructor on the local Collegiate staff.

PECULIAR CASE IS HEARD IN COURT

Youth Who Took Father's Car Without Telling Him Let Go.

Wednesday evening it was reported to James Ruddy that his automobile was missing from the garage on Ann street, and that it had been previously taken out the evening before. Mr. Ruddy issued instructions to the police to bring in the car and the occupants, and four young men and boys were arrested and lodged in the police cells when they returned the car to the garage. One of them was Mr. Ruddy's own son, Harold Ruddy, who admitted in court this morning that his father did not know he was taking the car out. He had obtained the key to wash the car one day and retained it.

Of the other boys, one had been picked up at Springbank and invited to ride back to the city. Two knew the car belonged to Mr. Ruddy, sen., but stated that they took it for granted that young Ruddy's father knew he was using the car. All four boys were compusorily absent from good jobs this morning, and two of them who work on the railway missed their scheduled runs.

Crown Attorney McKillop stated that he was satisfied no blame could be attached to any of the three taken riding by young Ruddy, and as Mr. Ruddy did not desire to prosecute his son, all four were discharged by Acting Magistrate P. H. Bartlett. Mr. McKillop expressed the opinion, however, that the police had only done their duty in the matter.

OFF THE RAILS

NO REDUCED FARES.

No reduced fares are to be granted on the railways for Labor Day, except the special Toronto Exhibition rate of a fare and a third to Toronto, it was announced by local officials today.

SPECIAL TO CHICAGO.

President Howard K. Kelly and Vice-President W. D. Robb of the G. T. R. passed through this city en route to Chicago at 10:45 Thursday night. The party was on board a special train of five cars. No stop was made in London.

TO DISCUSS WAGE SCALE.

In order to discuss the wage scale granted on the railroads in the United States and to make it applicable to the trainmen and the conductors of the Grand Trunk in Canada, the general chairmen and their secretaries of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the order of Railroad Conductors will meet the officials of the G. T. R. in Montreal on Thursday, September 9. No local chairmen will attend the meeting.

EXPECT BIG CROWDS.

Orders have been received by the local offices of the G. T. R. to make special preparations to provide equipment to care for the traveling public on Labor Day.

SUPT. BOWKER HERE.

General Superintendent of the Ontario Lines of the G. T. R. C. G. Bowker stayed over in this city Thursday night. He arrived here from Detroit at 11:35 and left at 4:45 this morning for Toronto, where an official meeting of the districts superintendents is to be held today.

COAL COMING STEADILY.

With over 300 cars of coal crossing the Niagara frontier and at Fort Erie on the G. T. R. into Ontario, railway officials say the coal supply is fully equal to that of last year at this time, despite labor troubles at the mines.

FIGURES SHOW THAT FLOW FROM WELLS INCREASES STEADILY

General Manager Buchanan Refutes Allegations Made Regarding Foster Supply.

As a rebuttal to recent reports published to the effect that the Foster Wells were petering out, and that London's supply of drinking water was becoming exhausted General Manager E. V. Buchanan has prepared a report on water pumpages for the past four years, December to July inclusive. These figures show a distinct increase for each year, and according to Manager Buchanan figures for January to June of the same years compare equally as favorably.

With the completion of the new reservoir at Springbank, which is almost ready for use now, and the installation of two turbine pumps at Springbank, he declares that London will have a full supply of aqua pura to meet the needs of the city.

Commissioner T. W. McFarland, who was quoted in the statements published as authority for the information that the Foster wells are falling down on the job, when interviewed by The Advertiser yesterday, said: "I made the statement credited to me, but the reporter twisted it in such a manner that it was not what I meant at all. I am sure that he knew what I really meant to tell him, when he garbled the interview. There is no use playing up that old river water scheme when it has been tried and found to be no good."

Following are the conclusive figures in Manager Buchanan's report which vindicate the Foster and other city wells

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP STRONGLY FAVORED

Phone Question Caused Much Discussion at Ontario Convention.

Ald. Charles Moorhead and W. A. Wilson have returned from the convention of the Ontario Municipal Association at Toronto, and are enthusiastic regarding the results obtained. By a unanimous vote the delegates present decided to fight the proposed increase in Bell Telephone rates, and all favored public ownership of telephones. The conference was the largest attended in the annals of the association.

During the session which closes today, Ald. O. I. Cunningham of London delivered an address vigorously opposing the proposed plumbing bylaw, pointing out the unnecessary expense to the ratepayers involved should the act be put in force. His motion to refer the question to the executive committee, was seconded by Ald W. A. Wilson.

Public Ownership.

Controller Ramsden of Toronto introduced a motion indorsing public ownership of telephones in Ontario, and providing for a delegation from the Ontario Municipal Association to wait on the Ontario Government with this end in view. The motion, which was unanimously adopted, was seconded by Ald. Charles Moorhead of this city. A second motion brought before the meeting successfully by the same sponsors, asked the municipalities throughout the province to unite in securing a postponement of the hearing regarding increased telephone rates.

"The meeting was strongly in favor of public ownership of telephones in Ontario," said Ald. Moorhead to The Advertiser. "We can either take over the Bell Telephone Company or construct our own system. If the former course is decided upon the company should be fully investigated, taking into consideration every angle of the situation so that the people will know what they are getting for their money."

Much Appreciated.

W. H. Doherty, city solicitor of St. Thomas, presented the "Public and Private Municipal Legislation of 1920" to the convention very fully, and his address was greatly appreciated. The delegates were the guests at the National Exhibition at Toronto during their stay in the Queen City. Premier Drury is expected to address the closing session of the association today. Officers will also be elected, and City Clerk S. Baker, who is president of the body; Ald. O. I. Cunningham and City Assessor S. Grant will likely return to London tonight

NOVEL STUNT BY BOYS AND GIRLS NETS MUCH MONEY

Proceeds of Paper Collection At Christ Church Renovate Sunday School.

The members of Christ Church Sunday School have been doing splendid work in gathering up old paper and magazines to sell for the purpose of decorating and remodelling their Sunday school. Throughout the summer the children have been gathering paper and about once a month would turn in their supplies. Last evening the final collection of the summer was handed in and the money derived from it will make the total amount close to $150. Each time the paper is handed in a social evening follows, in which the boys and girls who turned in the largest supply of paper are the guests of honor. Last evening Kenneth Smith and Henry Winder won first and second prizes for the boys. Miss Alva Burch was the winner for the girls, and Miss Thompson came second. The treats are given by the ladies of the church and last evening, after all the paper had been handed in the boys and girls were given a corn roast. Eighty-five were present, and Canon Gunne, rector of the church, said that judging from the interest shown that much more money will be taken in before the beginning of next year. He stated that the boys and girls have practically built a new Sunday school by gathering paper, and by the end of the year he states that the Sunday school will be decorated completely.

The chairman will be B. D. Beemer. Other boys who will speak are Chas. Foulkes and A. T Parkinson. A male quartet of the "Y" will sing.

SPLENDID CROPS.—London reports to Bradstreet's say that business is commencing to feel the results of the good crops which have been harvested this year in Western Ontario. The yields have been good and with prices holding up well the farmers should have a prosperous season, which will naturally react on trade. The oat crop has been good, and it is estimated will go 60 to 65 bushels to the acre. Fall plowing in the country is proceeding fairly well. Tractors are said to be being used for this purpose. Owing to the difficulty in obtaining pullers, some flax this year has been left to go to seed. Building in the city is active and according to the permits already issued activity should continue well on into next spring. New potatoes are coming to the market in good quantities. Collections generally are good.

Keenly Interested in Latest Development of Western University.

MANY IN FROM DISTRICT

Dean Sherwood Fox Outlines Plans At Chamber of Commerce Luncheon.

In order that students of the Western University may receive an education that will fit them for the business world, as well as other walks of life, Dean Sherwood W. Fox of the university ha prepared plans for adding an extensive business course into the curriculum of that institution. These plans were laid before the directors of the local Chamber of Commerce at their first noon-day luncheon of the season today by him. Many businessmen from points throughout Western Ontario, as well as many from this city, who attended the luncheon to discuss the plans, showed keen interest in the proposal.

Although the luncheon was held primarily to advance the affairs of the university and London as an educational centre, two other things indispensable to the good welfare of the city were brought before the gathering by W. H. Heard and A. D. Jordan.

Mr. Heard asked that sport be aided by the city making a public recognition of the work of the London baseball team in bringing the pennant to the city. Mr. Jordan made a strong plea that the Chamber of Commerce should do all in its power to make London an art and musical centre.

Outlines Plans.

Dean Fox, the chief speaker of the occasion, spoke at some length on the growth of the university and its future program. The growth was due, he said, almost entirely to advertising. His address, in part, was as follows:

You have been invited here to this conference this afternoon for several reasons. The first and chief reason is that the Western University is the possession of all the municipalities and counties of Western Ontario; it is, in fact, the university of Western Ontario, and it is my personal opinion that the present name of the institution should be changed by act of parliament to signify definitely the constituency which it serves. The second reason is that we—that is, the London Chamber of Commerce and the Western University—believe there is no wisdom but collective wisdom, and, consequently that you gentlemen of business, representing also the central business organizations of your several communities can contribute something definite and valuable to the discussion of this course leading to various business careers which we should like to establish this coming session in the Western University.

Main Purposes.

Before proceeding to set before you the details of the course in commerce and finance, or whatever be its final designation, it would be well for me to make clear the main purposes which the staff of a college of arts endeavors to attain. The first purpose is to give, if possible, to all the students who take complete courses, a sound and thorough general culture, acquainting them with the great principles that always govern human life and human society, with the important facts of life and of the world, with the best thoughts of the greatest men; to develop in them a correct taste of the finest things in art and letters; to inculcate in them a love of humanity and an unswerving allegiance to the laws of morality which are the very cement of society and the bulwark of civilization; to beget in them habits of industry and high appreciation of the dignity of labor in any legitimate field whatsoever of human endeavor.

Students Opportunity.

The other purpose is to offer students also the opportunity of training themselves either for some special activity or so that they may be fitted to enter immediately after graduation into training for some special activity and complete this training in a shorter time than they would otherwise be able to do. In short, we aim to give at once a general and a special training, to kill two birds with one stone. This we do, realizing that the average man after entering upon his special career, let us say, of business, for example, finds it impossible, or at the best, very difficult, to get the broad general culture late in life, through lack of time, lack of opportunity or lack of energy over and above that required in attending to his daily routine. As a rule, a man of affairs must get his cultural training early in life, the very training which will enable him to enjoy with the greatest profit the things and the opportunities that he can purchase with the money he has made in his business. This will explain the combined general and special features of the program of studies that we have to offer.

Cannot Guarantee.

Still further, we must explain something that is too often left unexplained by the college teacher, a thing which has been the cause of misunderstanding between men of affairs and college faculties. It is impossible for us to overemphasize the fact that unlike manufacturers we cannot give an absolute guarantee of the high quality of our product. A good deal of the raw material that comes to us goes out at the end of four years as raw material still, even though it has mathematically passed the usual prescribed tests. When young people come to us with wills of their own, not like the inert raw material that is put through the various processes of a factory, with certain hereditary tastes and bents, and surrounded by certain influences, we cannot give an infallible assurance that we can sufficiently mold them to make them useful for this or that activity of life into which they desire to enter. Happily, in most instances we can effect a very marked modification.

Should Get Estimate.

In any case, no matter how high a stand a student has taken in his university career it is always advisable for a prospective employer to obtain from the graduate's former teachers a confidential estimate of his general and special abilities and of probable fitness for the post to be filled. Had this course been followed more frequently, many a misfit of employment would have been avoided, and hasty conclusions as to the uselessness of university training been headed off. The fact that we college teachers are unwilling to recommend a man indiscriminately simply because he is a university graduate, ought to be reason enough for employers to seek the opinion of a man's teachers before employing him. I have known college graduates who upon leaving college have gone into business only to make a failure of it, and the failure has been laid at the door of the college; had the proper authorities been consulted, the fact would have been made known in time that the men were by nature absolutely unfitted for business or for any other activity resembling business, and all concerned might have been saved from a great deal of unhappiness and costly blundering.

Another Question.

There is the other side to the matter, however. That is, we believe that it is possible for the kind of training to be given in universities which not only does not unfit him for a business life, but which will increase the chances of the average graduate at once for a career of business, and for the broader activities of constructive citizenship, and these two ends should not be regarded as separate. We can point to many successful businessmen of this country and the United States as proofs of this in the past. But we are not satisfied; we believe that our courses can be progressively improved in content, arrangement, number and presentation, and that the life of the university itself may be recast in such a way that a larger number of graduates will go forth well equipped for entering upon a business vocation.

But to come to the course in commerce and finance. This we have prepared in answer to a very marked demand. For the past two years there have been more inquiries concerning such a course than concerning any other included in university curriculums. About thirty prospective students have already inquired this year; from experience we know that the number who are interested, but who do not inquire, is at least as large, and is probably larger. In proposing such a course, then, we are not creating an artificial demand, which is a strong argument in favor of establishing the course. It is a law of university development that one must follow the line of least resistance. In this instance, this line is clearly indicated.

Real Need For It.

In the second place, we are proposing nothing new. On the contrary, we are but following in the footsteps of the great universities of England and the United States. At least two Canadian universities have established courses in commerce and finance, namely, Toronto, and Queen's, and I have no hesitation in saying that the course we have outlined is the equal of that offered by Queen's, and superior as a general business training to that offered by Toronto.

Some of you, in perusing the course we have sketched, will doubtless find that certain subjects are missing. An explanation is due you. We have made a list of all the business and allied subjects that appeal in all the business curriculums of all the universities whose announcements we have been able to secure. The total is immense—nearly 70. Now, no single university, however large, gives, and can give, all these subjects. Let me read these to you. Again, we have made a list of all the special business courses offered by all the universities. These, numbering sixteen, are as follows. Not a single university gives all of these, the University of Illinois gives ten, and this for a special reason, which will be obvious, I trust, in a moment.

Makes a Survey.

What, then, is the policy pursued by universities severally in constructing its courses? Each institution first makes a survey of its resources and its limitations. Then, invariably, a general course is established; that is, a course from which one can go out into any special branch of business which attracts him, and yet without the narrow and highly specialized training he will get later in the business itself. Most universities, especially the small ones, remain in this stage, because they have not and cannot acquire staffs sufficiently large to give the various special courses. Great universities like Columbia and the immense state universities of the United States are enabled by mere size and vast resources to differentiate their courses. Western University proposes now to enter the first stage, and give the general course, but hopes and plans later on to branch out as its resources are augmented and as demand for differentiation increases. As it is, Queen's as yet has only the general course and one in banking, while Toronto has but the general course and one in actuarial science, a branch of study which, as will be readily seen, is demanded by only a relatively small group of students. We hope that the course we propose will be satisfactory in developing culture in the students who follow it, and at the same time train them for proceeding after graduation into some branch of business. Admittedly, we cannot give everything, but we maintain that the business subjects we have included are at least essential. It may be that through this conference suggestions for improvement of the course will be made. We wish to make it clear that every suggestion will be welcomed. One fact must be borne in mind, and that is that through years of experience we have learned that students cannot physically stand a heavier and longer program per week than the one we have outlined. If changes are to be made, they will have to be by way of substitution for subjects suggested, not by way of addition. Again, the optional subjects have been made with a view to making it possible for different tastes and bents to be satisfied; the obligatory subjects are made such because we believe that they are essential.

Favors City Band.

Mr. Jordan advanced many ideas which he claimed would do much to bring London to a high standard in the musical world. Chief among these was the formation of a city band. London, he said, has never had a band worthy of the name since the time of the old 7th Regiment. This, he claimed, was not the fault of the bandmasters, but of the lack of funds for instruments. He wanted a band supported by public subscriptions that would be a credit to the city and on a par with any in Canada.

He urged that a scientifically-built, shell-shaped bandstand be erected in Victoria Park. This suggestion was received by much enthusiasm. He hoped that a public auditorium would be built immediately following the erection of the new hotel. The earnings of the Musical Art Society was pledged to go to form a nest-egg for such a building. The matter was laid over to the next meeting of the C. of C.

Acting on the plea of W. H. Heard, President G. M. Reid will appoint a committee to work in co-operation with the city officials in preparing a public recognition of he London ball club.

The following out-of-own men were present: W. D. Lowe, M.A., principal of the Windsor Collegiate Institute; A. D. Penny of the Windsor School Board; Dr. S. Silcox, Stratford; W. H. Bartram and G. W. Racey of Parkhill.

The meeting indorsed and promised support to the Western University in its plan for adding a business course to the curriculum.

DENIES HE DROVE 30 MILES AN HOUR

Local Man, However, Decides To Pay Fine Without Protest.

Infractions of the motor vehicle act provided the bulk of today's business for the Carling street mills of justice. Jack North, driver of a delivery wagon, declared he was not guilty of driving 30 miles an hour, but that he would pay the fine without further ado, a police constable having sworn to his guilt.

J. H. Stanley wasn't driving his automobile when it passed a street car on the left, but he had ascertained that one of his employees had been driving the car, and understood that he himself was liable as the owner. The employee was now out in the county, and to save time defending the case Mr. Stanley paid the assessment fixed, $5, plus $1.85 costs.

Thomas Hiscott paid $5 and Harold Saylor $2 for other infractions of the act, and a charge entered against Charles Hunter was adjourned.

A farmer living west of the city frankly and almost joyfully admitted being drunk last night. His banking credit having been satisfactorily established by telephone inquiry, he left a little slip of green paper for $13, and went home seemingly well pleased with his holiday in the metropolis of London.

Housewives Hit By Big Jump in Tinware Prices

Practically Everything For the Kitchen Has Been Increased.

Discussing the market situation, Hardware and Metal says this week:

Higher prices are reported on a good many hardware lines this week, and perhaps the most outstanding feature and the one that will affect most housewives is the advance which has taken place on all wares. Practically everything that is used round the kitchen has been increased in price, and new discounts are out on all lines of tin and enamelware, also on galvanized ware, steel and sheet-iron goods and on nickel-plated copper ware. Hardware and Metal were informed by manufacturers that increases were justified by higher costs of raw material, etc., and all materials entering into make-up of these goods have been hard to obtain.

Higher prices are noted on stove-boards and washboards, also on barbed wire, hay knives, cut glassware and food choppers.

Linseed oil and turpentine have lower prices and another reduction has taken place in price of leather soles and heels.

Shortages continue on wire nails and on iron pipe and pipe fittings. Canada plate and galvanized sheets are very scarce indeed, and dealers are unable to get supplies anywhere.

The iron and steel market has already felt the influence of increase in freight rates from the mills. A greater deliberation on the part of buyers and sellers is reported. While a slight improvement in transportation is reported, there is room for a lot more yet as distribution is still poor.

The hardware and paint trade generally report a fair amount of business, and booked orders for future delivery are good, although prices do not seem to have declined in hardware commodities and many lines are scarce. Both jobbers and dealers are optimistic and look for a record fall trade.

Collections are coming in satisfactorily.

FRANCE DENIES HAVING COMPLETED TREATY WITH HUNGARIANS

Paris, Sept. 3.—It was stated specifically on behalf of the French Government today that France has made no treaty of any sort with Hungary, as has been reported in recent unconfirmed reports from Vienna through German channels.

GROCERS ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH DECLINE IN SUGAR

Retailers, Fearing the Falling Market, Are Buying Very Cautiously Just Now.

The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appears in Canadian Grocer this week:

The markets for general groceries are steady with a slight shading in price on some lines and advances on others. Wholesalers and manufacturers report business more active this past week, but retailers generally have adopted the hand-to-mouth buying policy, although they, too, report business more brisk.

Montreal—Lower prices are announced on sugar, but merchants seem to be far from satisfied with the decline. Molasses have taken a drop more in keeping with the raw sugar market. Everybody says, "Flour will drop," but there is nothing definite as to how much or when. The vegetable market is still well supplied with local produce at lower prices. Dried fruit and nuts will be dearer this fall. New canned fruit quoted at slightly lower prices. Lubricating oils and greases are dearer. Tea may be cheaper. Butter is dearer this week. Eggs hold to their high prices. Fresh meats are strong, market poorly supplied. Heavy harvest effects dairy produce prices. Fresh lake fish in better supply. Sugar is cheaper as is also molasses. Oranges are dearer. Some miscellaneous changes.

Toronto—There are no new developments in the sugar situation since the decline last Friday. There is practically no movement in sugar and whether further declines will materialize will depend somewhat on the American market and to just how long it will take the available supply of second-hand sugar to be cleared off the market. The weak condition of the corn market, together with the recent decline on sugar, tend to make an easier tone in corn syrups and declines on this commodity are not unlikely. One brand of corn flakes which recently advanced have reduced prices to the old basis. The cereal market has a weak undertone and it has been intimated that lower prices will prevail in the very near future. Currants have advanced in primary markets, but local stocks are unchanged. Sales in the United States of new crop California raisins are reported to be heavy, but orders from Canada are not as yet going through very freely. The Bee Keepers' Association are holding out for high prices on honey, but produce men state their prices are too high and are bringing in New Zealand honey at considerably less money. Oranges are quoted higher and the market for the same is quite firm. Potatoes are scarce at present, but this condition is only temporary, due to difficulty in getting supplies from the farmers, who are now busy with autumnal work. Flour has declined 60 cents to $1.60 per barrel.

The produce and provision markets show few changes this week. Butter and eggs have advanced slightly. Shortening has again declined in weak market. Poultry and fish are holding steady.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

STROKE RESULTED FATALLY.

Strathroy, Sept. 3.—The funeral took place this afternoon to Mount Carmel Cemetery, following services in the Methodist Church, of Samuel P. Sneigrove, aged 96, who died at his home in Caradoc Township, following a paralytic stroke, which he sustained on Sunday. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. G. W. Watson, of Mount Carmel.

DEATH OF MRS. CLAIRE.

After a brief illness of two weeks, the death of Mrs. Samuel Clare, 300 Pall Mall street, occurred on Monday evening. She was an active worker in the New St. James Church. She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. E. J. Lane, Mrs. C. F. Pryce and Mrs. J. Loughlin; two sons, Ernie and Milton Clare; and three sisters, Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. J. Lumsden and Mrs. W. Rathburn, all of this city.

VICTIM OF APPENDICITIS.

Exeter, Sept. 3.—The funeral of George Hockey, formerly of London, held to Exeter Cemetery under the auspices of the I. O. O. F., was very largely attended. He was 34 years old, and died after a very brief illness with appendicitis. He was a native of Creditn, Ont. Besides his wife and one son., Kenneth, aged 5, he is survived by his mother and two brothers, John and Norman, all of Exeter.

OPERATORS AND MINERS SIGN UP FOR TWO YEARS

Anthracite Coal Diggers Attach Signatures Under Protest.

DEMAND INCREASES

Employees' Representatives Meet Today — 85,000 Now On "Vacation."

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 2.—Anthracite operators and miners tonight signed a two-year contract embodying the terms of the award made by the coal commission and approved by President Wilson. The agreement was signed under protest by the representatives of the miners, whose scale committee will meet here tomorrow for the purpose of asking that the wage agreement be reopened, and the mine workers given such further increases as was done in the case of the bituminous coal diggers.

The scale committee went on record in a statement to the operators that the award of the commission was "far from being satisfactory," that it was economically unsound, disturbed the differentials, straddled the real issues, would cause confusion, and react against harmony and co-operation.

While the negotiations were going on today it was estimated that at least half of the 170,000 mine workers of all classes in the anthracite regions had quit work as a protest against the award.

The United Mine Workers' organization has called no strike, and the suspension which has been termed a "vacation" by the men has not been authorized, union leaders declared. One of the union chiefs said it was "a voluntary uprising" by the coal diggers as a protest against the unsatisfactory award.

Coal operators tonight said they were inclined to believe certain union leaders were not adverse to the men failing to report for work, and in support of this belief pointed out that in places where the men are 100 per cent organized and the union has complete control, no effort has been made to keep the men at work.

Whether the situation with regard to increased coal production will rapidly improve now that the award has been signed, after six months of negotiation and arbitration, no one would predict, but it was felt in some quarters that men, eager to receive the back pay, would soon return to work, and that after Labor Day there will be a general resumption of mining.

LETTER-CARRIERS TO SEND DELEGATES TO TRADES CONGRESS

PETERBORO, Sept. 2.—At the 9th biennial convention of the Federated Association of Letter Carriers, which opened here today with President Pierre Menard of Montreal in the chair, and about 70 delegates from all parts of the Dominion in attendance, it was decided to hold the conventions annually hereafter. Several amendments were made to the constitution of the beneficiary department of the organization. A resolution to raise the insurance age limit from 35 to 45 years was defeated. In the last two years 31 members have died, and $17,750 was paid out in insurance benefits last year, and $7,000 this year, to date.

Three representatives will be sent to the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, representing Eastern, Central and Western Canada, respectively. Delegates to conventions of the order are to be paid $7 per day expenses. By motion passed today any member promoted from the ranks of letter carriers ceased to be eligible for membership in the organization after three months. The report of the executive dealt exhustively with the secession movement of the Great Lakes.

Referring to the present cry of the Associated Postal Workers (an organization formed in Winnipeg in 1918), for union of all postal workers, the question is asked: "Why did they secede, and what had their campaign accomplished?"

The report recommended a salary of $1,380 for the first year, $1,500, second year, $1,620, third year, $1,740, fourth year, with a maximum of $1,860.

THREE KILLED BY TRAIN.

BUTLER, Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. G. E. McRae and their daughter, of Edmonton, Alta., were instantly killed at a grade crossing three miles east of here late yesterday, when their automobile was struck by the Twentieth Century Limited train. The bodies were brought here today pending word from relatives in Edmonton.

In the Case of Detroit—

IN granting increased rates for telephone service in Detroit the other day, the Michigan Public Utilities Commission said:—

"An increase in telephone rates may be unpopular. A collapse in telephone service would be a calamity. It would be easy to jeopardize the investment of stockholders, impair the value of the company's property, cripple its service and destroy its credit, but in the long run the rate-paying public would bear the burden of re-establishing the business."

Public Utility Commissions everywhere, are recognizing the fact that if telephone companies are to continue to give good service and to meet demands for new installations, they must have rates that will produce adequate revenue.

TAFT AFFIRMS GOOD WILL OF U. S. FOR CANADA

Bar Association Hears Addresses Referring To Cordial Relations.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—(By Canadian Press).—Noteworthy addresses marked the annual dinner tonight of the Canadian Bar Association, and especially cordial were the expressions of sympathy between representative men of Canada and the United States.

On the one hand, ex-President Taft urged his hearers to pay no heed to the superficial wind that blows every little while.

"We know not whence it cometh or whither it goeth," he declared. "Know that the heart of the American people beats with loyalty to the mother country from whom it has derived its fundamental principles of liberty and equality and the administration of justice."

On the other hand, Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister of Canada, was no less emphatic that, "while this country is determinedly and genuinely British, it is determinedly and genuinely friendly to the United States."

Sir Robert Borden touched on imperial relations, expressing the view that sufficient preparations had not been made for the consideration of such relation at the imperial conference next summer, and expressing the hope that the question would not be taken up without the gravest possible consideration.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The Canadian Bar Association today elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

Honorary president, Right Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice; president, Sir James Aikins, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba; honorary secretary, Hon. E. Fabre Surveyer, Montreal; honorary treasurer, G. F. Henderson, K.C., Ottawa; secretary-treasurer, E. H. Coleman, Winnipeg.

For Ontario, the following were selected as vice-president and council: Vice-president, M. H. Ludwig, K.C.; council, Mr. Justice Orde, Toronto; His Honor Judge Hardy, Brantford; J. C. Elliott, London; F. M. Field, K.C., Cobourg; Francis King, Kingston; Nicol Jeffrey, Guelph; R. J. MacLennan, Toronto; C. S. McInnes, K.C., Toronto; Angus MacMurchy, K.C., Toronto; W. J. McWhinney, K.C., Toronto; W. N. Pouton, K.C., Belleville; Daniel Urquhart, Toronto; W. H. Wardrope, K.C., Hamilton, and W. R. White, K.C., Pembroke.

MARTIN'S PREDICTION, 140,000,000 BUSHELS

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Hon. William Martin, prime minister of Saskatchewan, speaking to a representative of the Canadian Press, Limited, today, said that according to the latest advices he would not be surprised should Saskatchewan have a 140,000,000 bushel wheat crop. This would be nearly 50,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's crop.

Mr. Martin leaves for Toronto and London before the end of the week, and will return West next week by way of the Great Lakes.

ISLAM GRATEFUL

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2.—Turkey will send a minister to the Vatican, it was announced today. This is the first time Islam officially has affiliated with Christendom, the step being taken on the sultan's initiative as a mark of gratitude for the pope's financial and other aid to Turkish war prisoners during the war.

Before the minister is sent to Rome the Vatican will be asked if he will be received.

There's a Two-Fold Happiness in the Electric Washer

The Electric Washer is valued by the housewife not only for what it will do, but for what it will permit her to do.

It washes with almost unbelievable thoroughness and speed, and she can have her heaviest washing on the line by nine.

But the happiness it brings does not consist solely in doing away with the drudgery of wash day—it adds daily to the joy of living, because the home with an Electric Washer can use its fine fabrics constantly.

The Electric Washer makes clothes last many times longer than when they are rubbed on a washboard. It washes clean the most filmy, delicate things, and the thickest blankets.

It is simple to operate, and the cost of electricity is a mere trifle—about one cent for an average washing.

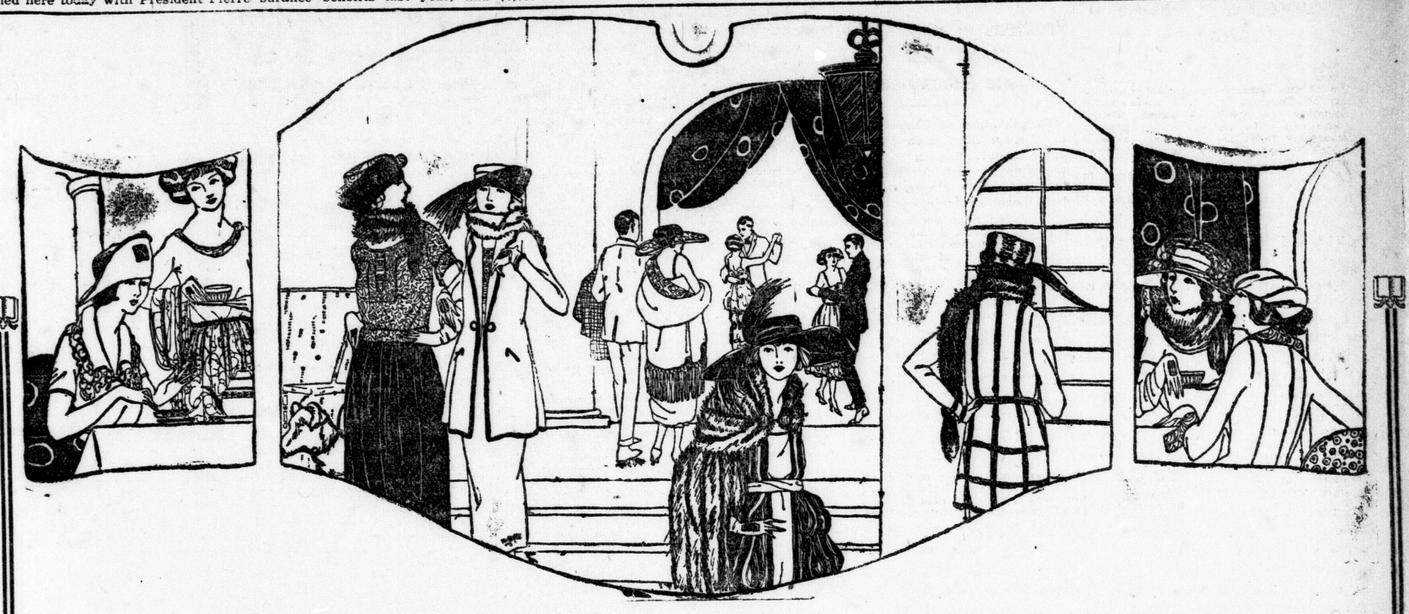

The Hydro Shop will be glad to give you a demonstration. When you see what the Electric Washer will do you will never again wash in the old way. And remember, it not only washes the clothes, but it wrings them in its power-driven wringer.

Convenient terms of payment can be arranged.

THE LABOR DEPARTMENT'S MANIFESTO.

Men interested in the organized labor movement in Canada are suspicious of the recent manifesto issued by the Labor Department at Ottawa denouncing various organizations as dangerous to the welfare of the country and putting the finger particularly on certain labor organizations in Western Canada. Rev. Dr. Ernest Thomas, field secretary of evangelism and social service of the Methodist Church in Canada, in a published open letter, charges that an effort is being made to induce the churches to do the will of the state in the direction of opposing labor organizations. In language that cannot be misunderstood Dr. Thomas declares that the churches of Canada will follow no government in a reactionary course that looks to the continuance of any evil conditions of modern industry from which labor is seeking to free itself at the present time.

EXCELSIOR.

The loud resistance to telephone increases stands in some contrast to the general apathy in face of clothing advances during the present year. Why is it that the public manifests its anger at the mild profits of banks, or at an occasional rent profiteer, or at the increased and serious demands of the Bell Telephone Company, which never pays more than 8 per cent to its stockholders (much less than that if they bought around 140, the old usual price) and has apparently no watered stock, but people no more than murmur at clothing prices, and even endure without much flurry the advance of gas rates? The answer to this question is perhaps not so hard to find.

The main point is that clothing prices are rising ever higher and may possibly experience a record advance in some lines between now and next year. At any rate here are some figures on cotton goods quoted from a letter in the Montreal Gazette by Mr. P. J. Elliott of that city. The wholesale prices given are in each instance per dozen, and the period the spring of each of the years named:

If this sort of rapacity is contemplated in men's cottons or other lines of clothing, ladies' cottons, boots and shoes, woolens, etc., and if clothing schedules are not modified by declining prices of flour, we are in for more business that is not "for the glory of God." Mr. Robert Dollar, president of a steamship company, is predicting a general slump in prices. That is very cheerful, but coal, railway rates, rents, clothes, etc., are not slumping. They are going up. Always excelsior!

Mr. Dollar says that "the whole question is a question of supply and demand, which is something people often forget." Why and how, then, do combines fix scales of prices for months or a year ahead, if they can't do it, if the law of supply and demand fixes everything? And how about controlled and manipulated supply? Not only "people forget" Mr. Dollar's little law, but modern political economists have about forgotten it, as a sole explanation of "the whole question." Mr. Dollar should take a lesson or two in the elements of political economy from someone like Professor McIvor of Toronto University. Why are tyros on this subject so often quoted, while little is heard from disinterested university experts? The latter are too poor to be worth interviewing.

A letter in a Toronto paper urges that a complete investigation be made of the books and papers of the sugar business in Canada. There is no use in such an investigation by the present Ottawa Government. It exists and hangs on rather to prevent or postpone such investigation of sugar or clothing or other big business. Its investigating would only be a joke except for the cost of it. We don't want investigation of investigations and so on in endless farce, concentric commissions so to speak. Mr. Murdock saw through the business and exposed it to the simplest understanding.

The luxurious buying of foreign commodities by the beneficiaries of the profiteering system is itself a promoter of higher and higher prices. The trade returns for the Dominion show that we have been importing too much. No wonder, then, that the rate of exchange is so high against Canada and that wages go on struggling upward to keep pace with prices and the ravening of the piratic rich. But the Ottawa Government will not put an adequate tax on luxuries. It prefers to tax the ordinary consumer's needs. It keeps up also heavy duties on sugar and other foods that protect the accumulations of the profiteers. The times are out of joint under the Government of Stork Meighen that takes up the work of Log Borden. The nation is thirsty for a change.

CONTINUE THE OLYMPIAS.

Some English papers are counselling the discontinuance of the Olympic games. They say that the international rivalry generated is petty and foolish, while the growth of friendly intercourse through sport that was expected has not materialized. After the hooting of the British flag by Belgians some honest Britishers feel that it is a good time to drop out of these contests that seem waged less for pure sport and athletic welfare than as an opportunity for national grudges to express themselves and be fed fat.

It is recalled that previous Olympics have all started some quarrel. If Germany and Russia get back into the comity of nations, that comity may be strained beyond its endurance by the grand monster concourse of quadrennial sports. So then, urge the pessimists, wring the thing's neck now.

But probably that cannot be done by England's stepping out. Time was when England stood supreme, in almost a splendid isolation, for the athletic ideals and customs of the old Greeks. But many other nations now compete with enthusiasm, following the mother of parliaments in games as in polity. Not only Magna Britannia, so to speak, but peoples once contemptuous of our games, like the French or Germans, now rival old England in track and field. In the recent festival at Antwerp Great Britain had to fight for third place with Finns and Swedes, while France fast rises in the world of sport. England would be quite "out of it" if she gave up the Olympics and the rest of the world went on with them.

The charge will easily be started in hostile quarters of the United States that the English are quitters, vexed and out of countenance at being so overwhelmingly distanced by the athletes of the big republic. That would be a foolish and malicious charge, but still it would be made. Certainly in the biggest contest and endurance test that ever engaged human strength and wits, the late German war, Great Britain passed with the highest honors obtainable. It is absolutely amazing in view of her colossal losses in noblest youthful blood that her athletes stood so high at Antwerp. Canada also suffered cruelly, needless to say. The losses of the United States were microscopic in proportion, and as for Sweden, where was she during the late war?

The Olympic games ought to go on and evolve all the good that is plainly possible for them. If there are shortcomings, let them be remedied. As they say that the baseball game makes good Americans out of all sorts of immigrants to the United States, so the Olympic should make good citizens of the world from the splendid young men who flock to them from all over the earth. In spite of momentary frictions, which should be minimized, the athletes and peoples of all countries will come to respect one another's various powers, and with greater knowledge and mutual respect the nations will be more assured of peace.

THE TOUGHEST KID.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]

When representatives of the Russell Sage Foundation picked William McCue for "the toughest kid in Hell's Kitchen," they picked a tartar. When they published him as the "toughest" they invited a lawsuit. Now the court awards William damages for the injury done him, and the next time the reformers wish to point a moral or adorn a tale of uplift, they may take the trouble to establish a few facts. Perhaps William McCue looked tough. He may have been barefoot, with one toe bandaged, and with only one gallus. Any superficial reformer might have picked him for a tough. But beneath William's buttonless shirt beat a proud heart, and probably an honest one. A boy doesn't need to wear shoes to be respectable, nor have clean ears to be entitled to consideration.

OUR SHIPPING ON THE PACIFIC.

[Vancouver World.]

Establishment of a new freight service between Vancouver and the Far East, as well as India, will take place as soon as the ships now building on this coast for the government are delivered. Seven cargo carriers will be utilized, and it is proposed to arrange monthly sailings.

The service will create yet another link binding Canada in the bonds of commerce with countries across the Pacific Ocean. Already Australia and New Zealand have been linked up by government vessels. Private enterprises also provide connection with the Eastern States and with the United Kingdom. Other extensions are probable, and it will be but a short time until the flag of the Canadian marine will be well known on the seas of the world.

Britain's commercial prosperity is due, more than can be estimated, to her mercantile ships. They followed trade into every sea in the world, and took cargoes at all ports. The cities which sent forth these ships were those which benefited. And as Vancouver is now taking its place as the home port of the beginnings of what must in time become a great fleet, the significance of this development should not be lost upon the citizens.

BIRDS IN THE CITY.

[Ottawa Journal.]

Of all wild things, none are more graceful, none do more to make the world bright and cheerful and beautiful than birds. Those of nearly all species delight by many attributes—their song, their plumage, their graceful movements. They add immeasurably to the beauty of the open country, the forest and the river and lake. And, fortunately, we have them with us in city and town existence. But we might have more of them if we tried. Many come without special inducement; many more would come, and those of beautiful species that are rare in cities, if we invite them.

A bid for their company that is made effectively by a few wise people, and that could be made by nearly everybody, is that of providing safe nesting-places. A few people enjoy the company every year of birds that are rare in urban communities by enticing them with nesting quarters. Safe places for nesting are not easily found by birds in populous centres. Given suitable quarters, the birds will return to them year after year to mate and reproduce. Those who make such provision for the birds not only bring joy to themselves, but are assisting in their own small way in a great cause—that of the conservation of bird life. It is a cause that receives far too little attention, although of late years it has been enlisting greater sympathy and support. Its importance is not all from an aesthetic point of view.

Birds are an essential part in a utilitarian way of nature's general scheme. Their chief practical service is the destruction of injurious insects. In that work nothing could take their place. A single pair of birds will destroy tens of thousands of insects in a season. At a meeting of the Quebec Society for the Protection of Birds in Montreal, a member, in telling of the birds that annually made their summer home in his city garden because of the nesting-places he provided, referred to the number of times the parent birds brought food to their young in various periods of time. One pair of bluebirds averaged 40 feedings to the hour for eighteen days. Those figures, he pointed out, gave some idea "of the multitude of moths, and cut worms, and other insects these beautiful birds destroy in a season, while raising their young, generally two broods to the season, besides what the parent birds eat themselves."

Only a little trouble, and practically no expense, would be involved in erecting a nesting house in the garden. If more people would do it we would have more bluebirds, tree swallows, orioles, thrushes, goldfinches and other beautiful birds with us in the city.

THE MIDDLE TEMPLE MURDER

A Detective Story by J. S. Fletcher.

Copyright 1920, Fred A. Knopf.
Copyright, 1920, by the Public Ledger Company.

"Just so, but that feeling's a lot more to do with this mystery than you think, my young friend," said Myerst. "What did they say, you ask? Why, they strenuously denied it. Cardlestone swore solemnly to me that he had no part or lot in the murder of Maitland. So did Elphick. But they know something about the murder. If those two old men can't tell you definitely who actually struck John Maitland down, I'm certain that they have a very clear idea in their minds as to who really did. They——"

A sudden sharp cry from the inner room interrupted Myerst. Breton and Spargo started to their feet and made for the door. But before they could reach it Elphick came out, white and shaking.

"He's gone!" he exclaimed in quavering accents. "My old friend's gone—he's dead! I was asleep. I woke suddenly and looked at him. He——"

Spargo forced the old man into a chair and gave him some whiskey; Breton passed quickly into the inner room, only to come back shaking his head.

"He's dead," he said. "He evidently died in his sleep."

"Then his secret's gone with him," remarked Myerst calmly. "And now we shall never know if he did kill John Maitland, or if he didn't. So that's done with!"

Old Elphick suddenly sat up in his chair, pushing Spargo fiercely away from his side.

"He didn't kill John Maitland!" he cried angrily, attempting to shake his fist at Myerst. "Whoever says he killed Maitland lies. He was as innocent as I am. You've tortured and tormented him to his death with that charge, as you're torturing me—among you. I tell you, he'd nothing to do with John Maitland's death—nothing!"

Myerst laughed. "Who had, then?" he said.

"Hold your tongue!" commanded Breton, turning angrily on him. He sat down by Elphick's side and laid his hand soothingly on the old man's arm.

"Guardian," he said, "why don't you tell what you know? Don't be afraid of that fellow there—he's safe enough. Tell Spargo and me what you know of the matter. Remember nothing can hurt Cardlestone, or Chamberlayne, or whoever he is or was, now."

Elphick sat for a moment shaking his head. He allowed Spargo to give him another drink; he lifted his head and looked at the two young men with something of an appeal.

"I'm badly shaken," he said. "I've suffered much lately—I've learned things that I didn't know. Perhaps I ought to have spoken before, but I was afraid for—for him. He was a good friend, Cardlestone, whatever else he may have been—a good friend. And I don't know any more than what happened that night."

"Tell us what happened that night," said Breton.

"Well, that night I went around, as I often did, to play piquet with Cardlestone. That was about ten o'clock. About eleven Jane Bayliss came to Cardlestone's—she'd been to my rooms to find me—wanted to see me particularly—and she'd come on there, knowing where I should be. Cardlestone would make her have a glass of wine and a biscuit; she sat down and we all talked. Then about, I should think, a quarter to twelve, a knock came at Cardlestone's door—his outer door was open, and, of course, anybody outside could see lights within. Cardlestone went to the door; we heard a man's voice inquire for him by name; then the voice added that Criedir the stamp dealer had advised him to call on Mr. Cardlestone to show him some rare Australian stamps, and that, seeing a light under his door, he had knocked. Cardlestone asked him in—he came in. That was the man we saw next day at the mortuary. Upon my honor, we didn't know him, either that night or next day."

"What happened when he came in?" asked Breton.

"Cardlestone asked him to sit down; he offered and gave him a drink. The man said Criedir had given him Cardlestone's address, and that he'd been with a friend at some rooms in Fountain Court, and as he was passing our building he'd just look to make sure where Cardlestone lived, and as he'd noticed a light he'd make bold to knock. He and Cardlestone began to examine the stamps. Jane Bayliss said good-night, and she and I left Cardlestone and the man together."

"No one had recognized him?" said Breton.

"No one. Remember, I only once or twice saw Maitland in all my life. The others certainly did not recognize him. At least, I never knew that they did—if they did."

"Tell us," said Spargo, joining in for the first time, "tell us what you and Miss Bayliss did."

"At the foot of the stairs Jane Bayliss suddenly said she'd forgotten something in Cardlestone's lobby. As she was going out into Fleet street and I was going down Middle Temple lane to turn off to my own rooms, we said good-night. She went back upstairs, and I went home. And upon my soul and honor that's all I know."

Spargo suddenly leaped to his feet. He snatched at his cap—a sodden and bedraggled headgear—which he had thrown down when they entered the cottage.

"That's enough!" he almost shouted. "I've got it—at last! Breton, where's the nearest telegraph office? Hawes? Straight down this valley? Then, here's for it! Look after things till I'm back, or, when the police come, join me there. I shall catch the first train to town, anyhow, after wiring."

"But—what are you after, Spargo?" exclaimed Breton. "Stop! What on earth——"

But Spargo had closed the door and was running for all he was worth down the valley. Three-quarters of an hour later he startled a quiet and peaceful telegrapher by darting, breathless and dirty, into a sleepy country postoffice, snatching a telegraph form and scribbling down a message in shaky handwriting:

"Rathbury, New Scotland Yard, London:

"Arrest Jane Bayliss at once for murder of John Maitland. Coming straight to town with full evidence. "FRANK SPARGO."

Then Spargo dropped on the office bench, and while the wondering operator set the wires ticking, strove to get his breath, utterly spent in his mad race across the heather. And when it was got he set out again—to find the station.

* * * * * * * *

Some days later, Spargo, having seen Stephen Aylmore walk out of the Bow street dock, cleared of the charge against him and in a fair way of being cleared of the affair of twenty years before, found himself in a very quiet corner of the court holding the hand of Jessie Aylmore, who, he discovered, was saying things to him which he scarcely comprehended. There was nobody near them, and the girl spoke freely and warmly.

"But you will come—you will come today—and be properly thanked," she said. "You will—won't you?"

Spargo allowed himself to retain possession of the hand. Also he took a straight look into Jessie Aylmore's eyes.

"I don't want thanks," he said. "It was all a lot of luck. And if I come—today—it will be to see—just you."

Jessie Aylmore looked down at the two hands.

"I think," she whispered, "that is what I really meant."

THE END.

MEMBERS' LACK OF HUMOR.

[Ottawa Citizen.]

An election is overdue in Canada. The present Commons is not representative of the people, and holds power simply because it is constitutionally in position to do so. Many of the members demanding an indemnity are aware that if an election were held tomorow they would cease to draw their present indemnities, and would be heard of no more as active political figures. For these members to ask more money is, to say he least, evidence of a degree of courage that is, fortunately, not common in British public life.

The members of parliament who are returned by their constituents at the next general election will alone have the right to request an increase in their indemnities. They will represent the sober thought of the nation. The country will judge the candidates by their records in the present parliament, and will intrust them with definite policies and duties. When the new parliament reassembles the matter of sessional indemnities may be taken up with full confidence that the people will approve the increases. At present, as the premier realizes, the country is anxious to get rid of a large proportion of the present Commons rather than to pay them more money. For the present parliament to ask it is perhaps the best illustration possible of its lack of humor.

TELEPHONE TROUBLES.

When bores are on the telephone,
Then central leaves us quite alone;
When my poor ear begins to ache
And I should like the line to break,
And end the conversation dull,
The service then is wonderful.

But when I have no time to lose
And must receive important news,
The line begins to spit and cough
And central promptly cuts me off.
Why must the service always balk
The times I really want to talk?

A TEST.

Lincoln Beachey, after his flight over Niagara Falls in a biplane, was congratulated on his daring by a reporter. "But I wasn't daring," the aviator said "I put my machine only to such ordeals as I knew it would withstand. In flying as in love we must run no risks." He laughed softly. "I know," he said, "a young woman about to wed, who decided at the last moment to test her sweetheart. So, selecting the prettiest girl she knew, she said to her, though she knew it was a dangerous risk: 'I'll arrange for Jack to take you out tonight—a walk on the beach in the moonlight, a lobster supper, and all that sort of thing—and I want you in order to put his fidelity to the proof to ask him for a kiss.' The other girl laughed, blushed, and assented. The dangerous plot was carried out. Then, the next day, the girl in love visited the pretty one, and said, anxiously: 'Well, did you ask him?' 'No, dear.' 'No? Why not?' 'I didn't get a chance. He asked me first.'"

NOT UNDERSTOOD.

[C. E. Howe in American Friend.]

Not understood! We move along asunder,
Our paths grow wider as the seasons creep
Along the years; we marvel and we wonder
Why life is life, and then, we fall asleep—
Not understood

Not understood! We gather false impressions,
And hug them closer as the years go by,
Till virtues often seem to us transgressions;
And thus men rise and fall, and live and die,
Not understood.

Not understood! Poor souls with stunted vision,
Oft measure giants with their narrow gauge;
The poisoned shafts of falsehood and derision
Are oft impelled 'gainst those who mold the age—
Not understood

Not understood! How trifles often change us!
The thoughtless sentence or the fancied slight
Destroy long years of friendship and estrange us,
And on our souls there falls a freezing blight—
Not understood.

O God! that men would see a little clearer,
Or judge less harshly where they cannot see,
Oh, God, that men would draw a little nearer
To one another—they'd be nearer Thee,
And understand.

SHE IGNORED THEM?

"What kind of people are your neighbors?" a suburban lady was asked.

"Oh, I never take the slightest notice of them, or their doings, my dear," she said. "They don't keep a maid, and a charwoman comes on Wednesdays and on Fridays. The butcher never calls, as the husband brings an occasional joint home from the city, and sits down to dinner in his shirt sleeves. The wife is a most dowdy creature, wears most hideous hats, and has no 'at home' day. The children attend the public school and the baby hasn't been vaccinated. But, as I say, I know nothing about them, and don't take the least notice of them."

SHE.

Her eyes are too small and her hair is too light;
Her lips are too pale and too thin;
Her wisdom is scant and her learning is slight;
She's dull, and she always has been
Her brow is unduly, excessively low;
She dresses, they say, like a dowd
BUT
Whenever she goes to a cinema show
She doesn't read captions aloud.

QUITE CORRECT.

Youngster (aged 5, to his sister)—I know more than you do. I know where all the places in the world are.

Sister—Oh, Henry! What a story! You don't!

Henry—I do then. They're in the atlas, and I'm sitting on it.

I FOLLOW.

[Clinton Scollard.]

I follow the lure of the lips of the morn,
The breath of the pine bough, the call of the corn,
The murmur of springs,
And the butterfly's wings
That flutter and fleet over height, over hollow,
The voice of the wind as it chants, as its sings,
I follow, I follow!

I follow the luminous light in the west,
The flickering sheen on the oriole's breast,
The beckoning fern,
And the bickering burn,
The kingfisher's dart, and the sweep of the swallow,
Aspiration and impulse and all things that yearn,
I follow, I follow!

I follow, I follow, I follow afar
The path of the sun and the path of the star
To the secrets of birth
And the wonders of mirth;
While leaving behind me the empty and hollow,
I seek what makes sweeter and fairer the earth;
I follow, I follow.

TO JOHN RUSKIN.

[George Macdonald.]

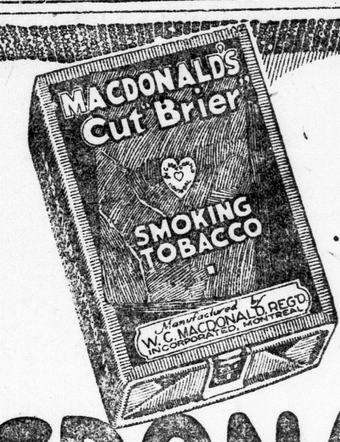

O friend, since I have seen thee this fair day,
The day is fairer; for its golden show,
Long ere the evening, rosy all doth glow:
Thy face hath changed it—tho' it be not say,
Not as a bridegroom's clad in a radiant play,
But calm and strong, serene, divinely slow,
With sorrowing smiles that to my bosom go;
Thy soul looks forth crowned for a kingly sway;
Some men would hold thy sun was in the west,
And bid with rosy clouds, its dying head,
Flushed with the blood thy trampled heart hath shed,
Weary with waiting and not being blest;
I say 'tis morn that dawneth in thy breast
Tho' dark-plumed night would brood the glory dead.

A GREEN CORN IDYLL.

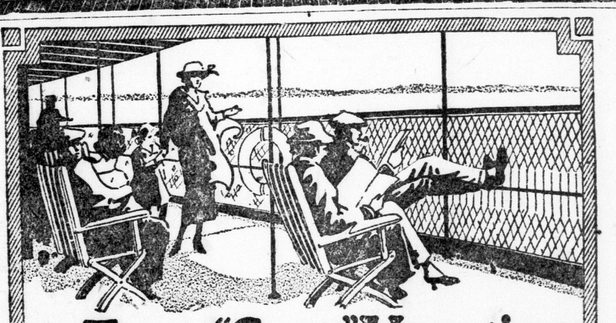

A tourist was just emerging from a cornfield by the roadside bearing in his arms a dozen handsome roasting ears, says the Oakley, Kan., Graphic. A second car approached and stopped, whereon the tourist reached for his pocket-book and asked in an embarrassed manner, "How much?" "One dollar," said the newcomer, and then after receiving payment remarked: "This is a fine field of corn. Wonder who it belongs to?"

before purchasing a baking powder that may possibly contain injurious ingredients. Many food scientists claim that baking powder containing alum is unsafe for use in food. The mere fact that some brands of baking powder have the words "No Alum" on the label is not sufficient proof that they are what they are represented to be. Our chemists find a good many have "No Alum" on the outside, but large quantities of it inside.

For a "Great" Vacation
try the Great Lakes Trip
by Canadian Pacific Steamer

FOR when the mercury is playing around in the upper eighties, and you wish Henry Ford would invent a self-refrigerating collar, do you ever stop to remember that the temperature of Lake Superior never rises above 40 degrees? What if you don't spare the time for a long holiday? The Canadian Pacific Railway's Clyde-built steamships make a five-day trip from Port McNicoll to Fort William and back, during which you can be as cool as an Eskimo and as comfortable as a clubman.

Roomy cabins, the best of chefs—oh, those broiled Lake Superior whitefish!—tea on deck under the lazy awnings—seagulls against the long, northern sunset—and a breeze from a thousand miles of clean pine woods, on duty twenty-four hours in the day.

Then—if you find you've got more time than you counted on—how about a week on the Nipigon River, forty miles from Fort William, with guides, canoes, and camp fires and white water under the moon—and more speckled trout than you know what to do with?

How do you get there? That's easy. Phone, write, or see any Canadian Pacific Ticket Agent; or

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Thursday afternoon at the manse of Maitland Street Baptist Church, when Miss Nettie May Blandford became the bride of James L. Burch. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Norton. Fred Blandford was groomsman and Miss Alberta Cook bridesmaid. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl brooch, and to the groom gold cuff links. Among the guests were Mrs. Adam Blandford and Miss Jennie Blandford of Eastwood. Following a visit with the groom's father, Abraham Burch at Thedford, Mr. and Mrs. Burch will reside at 613 Dundas street.

O'BRIEN—SHEVLIN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock, when Margaret Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Shevlin, was united in marriage to Mr. William John O'Brien, son of the late William O'Brien and Mrs. O'Brien, of London. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore her travelling suit of taupe charmeuse, with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Cecile Shevlin. The groomsman was Mr. Louis A. Potvin. A dainty breakfast was served at the home of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left for Quebec, and will sail on the Empress of France, Sept. 8, for a three months' trip to Europe.

AITKEN—HYNDMAN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on August 17 at 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hyndman, Sherbrooke, Que., when their daughter, Bessie May, became the bride of Mr. A. H. Aitken of this city, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Aitken of Goderich.

Rev. B. B. Brown, pastor of the Sherbrooke Methodist Church, officiated, and the ceremony was performed in the presence of about forty of the near relatives. The house throughout was decorated with hydrangeas, fragrant sweet peas, ferns and pink phlox.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of ivory charmeuse, having embroidered paniers and bodice with insets of Carrickmacross lace. An embroidered lace scarf worn by the bride's mother and great-grandmother, completed the costume. Hre bouqet was of Ophelia roses, with satin streamers. Miss Kathleen Hyndman, youngest sister of the bride, played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin.

After congratulations had been extended, a buffet supper was served, the wedding cake in the centre of the table, artistically decorated with white sweet peas and gypsophilas. Among out-of-town guests was Mrs. J. L. Aitken, mother of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Aitken motored to Newport, where they took the train for Montreal, and later the boat to Toronto. The bride traveled in a navy blue tricotine suit, with taffeta hat to match.

After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Aitken will make their home at 473 Dufferin avenue.

UNA.

(Copyright, 1920, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Though not in general usage, Una is one of the most interesting of feminine names. It means "famine," according to etymologists, though the great and only Spenser, who brought the name into fashion, rejected this interpretation. It is typically an Irish name, and since it resembles "one," Spenser gave the title of Una to his lovely personation of the one truth, the one true, undivided church, the guide of the Red Cross Knight.

Una is queen of the fairies in the county of Ormond, in which she appears in one version of the soldier billeted on a miser. The man was amazed at his hospitable reception and entertainment, as he thought, by the avaricious squire, until morning disclosed the fact that Una had raised the mansion and provided the supper.

Una is much in use today among the Irish peasantry. It is often pronounced Oonagh, and has been Anglicized as Winny.

The pearl is Una's talismanic gem. It is the emblem of purity, popularity and affability. She who wears it will have many friends and admirers. Tuesday is her lucky day, and 5 her lucky number.

Tasty Cucumber Pickles.

Dear Miss Grey,—Like many more I am a stranger.

Would you please send me a crocheted bag pattern, also if there are any contests?

Isn't this lovely harvest weather? We finished on Friday. I wasn't very sorry neither.

As this is also pickling time I will inclose a cucumber pickle, and it is certainly very tasty, especially in the winter. Twelve large cucumbers, 12 large onions. Peel and slice as for table use. Sprinkle each layer with salt and let stand two nights. Then drain well and boil in 3 pints cider vinegar, 4 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon turmeric powder, 2 tablespoons each of mustard seed and celery seed, 3 red peppers cut fine, ½ cup flour. Boil vinegar, sugar, spices and flour for five minutes, then add pickle and boil until tender.

Hoping I haven't been too much trouble. FRANCE EHREVETE.

Ans.—Am mailing contests. Perhaps someone can supply pattern for bag. Thank you for recipe. The weather is indeed delightful and the harvest plentiful. Glad to have you come into the Mail-Box.

Veranda Chats.

Etak—Thank you so much for all the patterns you so very kindly supplied the Mail-Box. We shall never be out of your debt. Will someone who has borrowed the butterfly please return to the Mail-Box as soon as possible? It is desired by Etak, and she has been so very kind in supplying sets of patterns, I am sure someone will want to exchange with her. CYNTHIA GREY.

I just received the words of the "Dying Nun," and wish to thank Enid for same.

I am visiting with Crimson Rambler and Virginia Creeper in the country, and we sure do have lots of fun, riding on "Old Dan." I would like to correspond with Comrade Rosalie if she would write first.

I wish success to Mail-Box. WHIP-POOR-WILL.

I am sending back the patterns, and thanks—they are very nice.

Also am sending "The Shadow on the Blind" for Brown-Eyed Banty. Hope it is what she wants, and will she please send it back to me? Will you send her my address, so she can mail it back, Miss Grey? Please. Ever, BLUSHING ROSE.

What a delightful little bonnet pattern! When it arrived yesterday I got my thread and crocheted one off of it. Have it finished even to the ribbons, so I am returning the pattern.

Inclosed find a mite for the children's hospital. I am a great lover of the wee folks, and not so long years ago was like many others a schoolmarm, and I can certainly sympathize with the new teacher who starts this morning with forty or fifty pairs of eyes watching every move. Good luck to them all. RIELLEY.

Florence—Thank you very much for the patterns just received. It is very kind indeed to take this trouble for the Mail-Box. CYNTHIA GREY.

I wrote to the Mail-Box about ten months ago and received no reply, although I inclosed stamped, addressed envelope, but will hope for better results this time. When writing last I inclosed some crochet patterns and asked for directions for an eight-pointed centrepiece in crochet that some member was sending in. I forget her pen name, so if it is still in existence will you please send it? I will copy and return as soon as possible. Also would like to show some crochet work at London Exhibition this year, but am at a loss to know how to enter. Would you be so kind as to help me? giving full particulars as soon as possible? Will close with a stamp for the kiddies. KELLY.

Ans.—Sorry your previous letter failed to reach us. Thank you for hospital gift. Write A. M. Hunt, secretary Western Fair, Dominion Savings Building, London, Ont. Am mailing pattern you may like.

POINTS ABOUT SALADS.

In summer a part of every day's rations should be green vegetables. These may be served very attractively as salads. Many kinds of vegetables may be used to give the desirable variety. Attention to a few details makes salads appetizing, but neglect of them makes salads unpleasant to look upon or to eat.

All uncooked fruits and vegetables used in salads must be fresh, crisp and cold. If oil is to be used with them they must be carefully dried. All cooked vegetables, such as beets, carrots, potatoes, beans or asparagus, should be firm, so that they may be served in pieces of uniform shape and size.

Meats, fish, and most cooked vegetables should be marinated, that is, covered with an acid dressing about an hour before serving.

Fruits, vegetables, meats, cheese, fish and nuts may be used in salads, singly or in combination, but care must be taken to see that such combinations are suitable both in flavor and color.

The dressing used should be suited to the ingredients, and the ingredients should be mixed or combined without spoiling their appearance. Salads should be served cold on a cold plate, and the lettuce, cress or endive should be crisp and fresh.

The following dressing will be found useful for potato, egg or cheese salads: Three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, one to three tablespoonfuls of vinegar or lemon juice, one large tomato peeled and crushed through the sieve, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and of pepper. Put these ingredients together with a small piece of ice in a wide-mouthed bottle and shake well.

Advertiser Patterns

Owing to the pattern manufacturers increasing the price of patterns to us, all patterns advertised from this date will be 15 CENTS EACH.

A Charming Gown.

Pattern 3255 is here illustrated. It is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches, bust measure. A 38-inch size will require 7¼ yards of 40-inch material. The width of the skirt at lower edge is 1⅞ yards.

As here depicted, printed voile was used with collar of white embroidered batiste. This style is good for all wash fabrics, also for silk, crepe, crepe de chine, and also for combinations of materials. The waist may be finished with a vest of fichu.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloucher.

The other day I sat holding Lizzie while Friend Wife just ran in to change something or whatever it is women do in those large general stores, and in the few seconds she was gone nine thousand pedestrians passed by. Of the nine thousand, eighty-seven hundred and seventy looked neither to right nor left, but mostly down, and one could recognize about them certain other characteristic resemblances which distinguish the Sloucher family.

Mr. Sloucher announced himself half a block away by turning out his toes, street car conductor fashion, and throwing out what he mistakes for a chest, namely, his stomach. Mr. Sloucher perambulates along the street as though he were pushing a couple of luggage vans upgrade by the strength of his abdomen alone. When Sloucher first discovers that his stomach is getting ahead of him he doesn't undertake to hold it back; he just lets it go and permits the tailor to camouflage the protuberance to the best of his ability. If it is a "high" stomach, Sloucher very likely feels a little pride in it, at least after he has passed life's meridian. It is rather unfortunate that the great army of Slouchers are permitted to push luggage vans around with them all the time and so seldom brought up against an occasion which impresses upon them the error of their ways. This is the sad part of a sedentary life.

Mrs. Sloucher is a much better camoufleur, for near view, though her artifices become only too apparent when you view her from a distance of twenty or more feet. She looks like the very deuce, no matter how expensively corseted nor how extravagantly gowned nor how theatrically shod she may be. She just hasn't got the form.

It is chiefly the feet that women misuse. The feet are terrible. It has become almost de rigueur, one might deduce from the passing show, for women to wear the most freakish of dress shoes on the public streets. Extremest French heels and the most deforming pointed toes, causing the poor creature to walk for all the world like a horse, with a hip motion resembling a baby tank crossing an orchard.

The Sloucher family suffers much more in impaired health and reduced efficiency, than in mere appearance, from lack of exercise for the trunk. A great many ills are really attributable to unused trunk muscles, or rather to atrophy and weakening of the unused muscles.

Youth is distinguished from age at a single glance anywhere—youth uses the trunk muscles and hence retains a graceful figure; age does neither.

Here we leave the reader in the air, as usual. But not helpless. If you think your trunk will stand a little improvement, write for the corrective exercises.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Valvular Heart Trouble.

I have valvular heart trouble. Should I take exercise? Some doctors advise exercise. Others advise none. (E. K.)

Ans.—I have not examined you and therefore I haven't the slightest idea whether the present state of your heart calls for rest or for exercise. Of course no treatment can be suggested without knowledge of the functional state of the heart and of other organs. You are taking needless chances if you mean to experiment upon yourself. Rest today; very little exercise next week; considerable exercise next month—it all depends on the individual conditions. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope and repeat your query. If you would like to read a little dissertation on valvular heart disease.

Puppy Stories

(by Vincent G. Perry)

THE SAILOR DOGS.

Part Nine.

Dibby, the Dane, was not naturally a proud or haughty dog. Indeed, you will remember he was very kind and considerate of the other dogs when they had been adrift in the water. However, quite a change had come over Dibby. Probably it was because he had eaten so much and was getting so fat and lazy, or probably it was because he had been there on the island so long he had forgotten the manners his master had taught him—though he shouldn't have forgotten, for although it seemed ages and ages, the dogs had not been there many weeks. At any rate, Dibby showed the change that had come over him by lording it over the other dogs. He was acting very much with the dogs as the bad rabbit who had called himself King Beauty had acted with the young rabbits, only of course Dibby did not act cruelly. He insisted upon the other dogs waiting on him a great deal, and because he was big and much stronger than any of them they had to obey his wishes, for he showed them plainly that there would be trouble if they did not.

Being a king on an island was not much fun, though, and soon Dibby tired of it, and left his warm place on the sunny beach to find something besides the other dogs to make obey his wishes. He traveled farther into the island than he had ever traveled before. To show himself that he had not forgotten how to hunt he captured a rabbit, and carried it along between his teeth. Suddenly he came to an open place, and there, from what seemed a hole in the ground, was a monstrous big dog glaring at him. Between that dog's teeth was a rabbit. It looked a bigger rabbit than the one Dibby had, too.

"Drop that rabbit!" Dibby ordered, dropping his own rabbit to speak. Just as the words left his mouth the rabbit disappeared from the other dog's mouth. It was certainly a bigger-looking dog than Dibby, but it feared him or else it would not have obeyed him, he thought.

"How came you on this island? Don't you know I am king here," Dibby cried.

The other dog did not answer, but instead seemed to mock Dibby.

"How dare you!" shrieked Dibby, but again the other dog mocked him.

That so infuriated Dibby, he took one leap and pounced toward the other dog. There was a splash and ice cold water closed over the Dane dog. He had jumped into a clear, cold stream of water. How ashamed Dibby was when he crawled out of the cool pool, shivering with surprise and the chill the water had given him. The dog he had seen in the water was not a dog at all, but just his own image showing up in the mirror made by the clear pool. He had learned a lesson, and had seen how foolish it was to try to make others obey his wishes against their wills, and he went back to make friends once more with the dogs he had been acting so meanly with.

9 ERRORS MADE BY SOX WHILE LOSING TO SHAGMEN 10--4

Fines Likely To Be Tacked On Red Hose Because of Indifference.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 2.—It was a weird contest staged by the Red Sox today, when the Tigers won by 10 to 4. The Sox had nine errors in the field and played listlessly all the way through, although Wenzel pitched better bal than Reddy. The work of the home team was so indifferent that some fines may be tacked on unless an improvement is shown for the remainder of the schedule.

MRS. HAMILTON FAILS TO SWIM ACROSS CHANNEL

LONDON, Sept. 2.—For the second time a woman has attempted to swim the English Channel and failed. Mrs. Arthur Hamilton, daughter of the late Sir Charles and Lady Fairl Cuuningham, this morning was forced to abandon the trip near the South Goodwin sands.

Mrs. Hamilton was the first woman to make the trial since Annette Kellerman failed fifteen years ago. Mrs. Hilda Willing, an English woman, intends to attempt swimming the channel in the near future.

Beavers Stopped Tecs by Taking Whole Twin Bill

Tribe Accused of Letting Down by Kitchener Fans—Buzz Wetzel Pitched Last Frame.

KITCHENER, Sept. 2.—The Beavers not only stopped London's winning streak, but took a double-header from the Tecumsehs today, winning the first by 3 to 1, and the second in eight innings by 4 to 3.

Both games were hard fought until the last frames and delighted a large attendance of fans. The first game was a clear-cut victory for the home team. The result of the second, however, caused some Kitchener fans to be skeptical, fearing a lack of interest in the extra inning on the part of the Tecumsehs. When with one out Beatty got home for the winning run from second base, Jordan had hit a hard Texas leaguer to third, the low ball going over Kuhn's hands at first, allowing Beatty to get to the plate. Buzz Wetzel was in the box in the last frame.

In the first game Kitchener opened up in the first inning, when Eckstein's homer also brought in Norris. In the fourth Pittenger's hit brought in Kuhn from third. Kitchener's third run came on another hit by Eckstein when Kyle scored.

Kirley Starts Second.

In the second game Kirley, who had pitched the first game, was again sent in for Kitchener, but the Tecumsehs hit him hard in the first frame. A three-bagger by Neitzke and a single by Shay accounted for the Tecs' first run. Another hit by Calbert and a pass to Witry filled the bases. Shay came in after Crichlow had been caught out in left, Kirley dropping the ball at the plate. Schwab replaced Kirley on the mound and pitched a superb game. Kitchener netted two runs in the first frame. Jordan's hit brought in Beatty and Eckstein. In the second Kyle stole home. London had three errors, but all came in a frame when no runs were made. In the case of the winning run a hit was credited to the Kitchener batter.

Sarnia All Ready For Affray With Durham in St. Marys

SARNIA, Sept. 2.—The Sarnia lacrosse team finished off their practice work here tonight with a light workout, and are all set for tomorrow's replay at St. Marys against the Durham team.

A number of fans are making the trip with the team, and from all advance indications the Durham team are going to stack up against one of the strongest and fastest teams they have met this year. The Sarnia team and its supporters are confident that the Durham team are in for an even worse trimming than they received here. Captin Kerr, who was thrown out by Durham, will accompany the team in an advisory capacity.

No Support—No Rugby For Brantford Is Prospect

BRANTFORD, Sept. 2.—Mr. Jack Raymond, who was largely instrumental in organizing the Brantford rugby team last year, stated this morning that it was hardly likely a team would be gotten together here this year. The players and material are here, said Raymond succinctly, but there is little or no support for a team. Last year the rugby enthusiasts were more or less discouraged at the backing they received. There will doubtless be an inter-scholastic series again this year as soon as the collegiate institute gets down to business next week.

DATES SUGGESTED FOR WORLD'S SERIES BY CENTRAL PREXY

Slight Hitch Occurs in Arrangements Owing To Ball Park Owners' Demands.

President Maines of the M.-O. League has received a communication from President Dickerson of the Central League suggesting dates for the "World's Series" between the Grand Rapids team and the local pennant winners. However, no action is being taken for a few days by the London Club, until arrangements are made with the owners of the park, who claim that a post-season series is not inclusive in the lease held by the ball club, though it is held for the season of 1920.

The dates suggested by the Central League president are: Grand Rapids at home with London on September, 14, 15 and 16, and London at home on September 18, 20, 21 and 22.

Josh Devore, manager of the Rapids team, has intimated that he will use members of other teams, and as London will play with the team practically winning the pennant, the Central will be represented by an all-star cast.

ENTRIES FOR L. R. C. LABOR DAY TOURNEY COME IN RAPIDLY

Thirty-Five Now in Four City Clubs—Entries Close Tonight.

Entries are coming in rapidly for the Labor Day tourney of the London Rowing Club on Monday. This rink competition, which practically ends the official trundling season for the city, shows every disposition to excel all other years, and a good many of the best rinks in this neck of the province are expected in.

The entries will close tonight at 8 o'clock, and the committee will be available at the club house from 6 o'clock onwards for any belated phoned in entries.

The trophies are the J. C. Trebilcock Memorial Trophy, and the Dunlop Cup, with good prizes for the runners-up.

TODAY'S FEATURE EVENT.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 3.—The free-for-all pace, carrying a $1,000 purse, was the feature event of the three races carded for the final day of Grand Circuit racing here today.

The Metropolitan Driving Club, 2:20, sweepstakes, and the 2:14 trot, $2,000, completed the card.

Weather and track conditions were the most favorable of any day this week.

Miske Will Be New Man When He Climbs Under the Ropes Monday

St. Paul Battler Is Attempting a Comeback From Physical Disability and Has Big Task Ahead — Both Are Confident.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 2.—When Billy Miske of St. Paul, challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, crawls into the ring here on Labor Day afternoon to face the terrific punches that brought the championship to Jack Dempsey, he will literally be a "new man."

Miske, in his match with Dempsey, is attempting one of the most remarkable "come-backs" in the history of glove-fighting. Unlike most of the fighters who have been considered out, only to try again, Miske is not coming back from previous defeats. He is grooming himself for the first real fight in nearly eighteen months—a "come-back" from physical disability.

The St. Paul heavyweight has gone through changes in his physique in order to return to the ring—hence the title of "new man," so frequently applied to athletes who have been shuffled into pugilistic discard and then brought forth for another attempt. Miske claims to be a much more formidable antagonist for Dempsey than he was when he fought the glove cyclone twice two years ago, and stuck through two gruelling battles without even being knocked down.

Fought Tough Ones.

After boxing "Battling" Levinsky in Toledo a year ago last July, Miske sought the advice of a specialist, and learned that he was suffering from spinal trouble and a kidney ailment that dragged him down physically. Miske should not have been fighting at all, and the wonder of it is that he did not get knocked out, or badly whipped at least. But he did not, and his opponents numbered among them the toughest in the heavyweight ranks.

After a course of careful treatment and prescribed rest, Miske returned to the ring two months ago, scoring a quick knockout over Jack Moran, a St. Louis heavyweight. Now, according to Miske and his manager, Jack Reddy, he is a far better fighter than in either of his first Dempsey fights. Miske was only a light heavyweight when he fought Dempsey, besides being a sick man. Now he is a real heavyweight, boasting of 190 pounds of bone and muscle, and claims he will be six times as tough as when Dempsey last saw him.

Dempsey Confident.

Miske talks confidently of the coming contest. He does not claim that he is a superman, but contends that if he pulled through the fire with the best heavyweights in the business while sick, he ought to be able to do much better when blessed with splendid condition.

"Dempsey naturally will be the favorite in the betting," Miske said. "He should be. But that's no sign I won't beat him, or at least hold him even. The champion is always the choice with the public. But Dempsey has a chin like all the rest, and if I can manage to land squarely there will be a terrible crash."

Mike is only 26 years old—a year older than Dempsey, the champion. The challenger has convinced his admirers that he is better than ever. Whether he is good enough to give Dempsey a lacing is the question that is being seriously discussed.

HOUSE OF DAVID BACKS MISKE.

Benton Harbor, Sept. 2.—Benjamin—other name unknown at this writing, but head of the prominent cult of House of David—watched the Miske workout yesterday afternoon with his prominent lieutenants, and after watching the big St. Paul man go through his stunts, he issued a prediction.

"Dempsey cannot win this fight," he said. "With Mr. Pugh, I have watched Miske, and I know that the clean-living fellow like this boy will be the victor. The spring waters here put a lot of rejuvenation into the boys who train here, and I really believe it makes them unbeatable. Dempsey cannot win."

MINT JULEP AND MIXIN' 'EM

In Brantford, since they some weeks ago decided they could not win the pennant and have since discovered that finishing second looks very remote also, and a still later discovery has been made; to wit that Manager Wetzel is just a good David Harum, but as a field pilot finds it more profitable to pay someone else to work out the diamond strategy.

All this apparently because the London manager rarely goes out to the coaching lines and when there, rarely raises his voice above a whisper.

The Brantford line of reason apparently is that if Wetzel doesn't get out there and attempt an understudy of Germany Shaefer and raucously ride both the umps and his own players all in one breath, he doesn't know anything about ball. They do admit in Brantford, however, that he knows what ball players to pick up and that he starts working when some of the other pilots of the Mint would be busy in the winter thinking up new jokes and telling the folks just how they didn't finish first. It would take some of these same gentry all winter and well into the spring training, getting the latter explanations out of their system.

The Dopester has doped out Wetzel as follows, which shows that the Crows Nest is not a subterranean affair, but is wobbling at an altitude:

Wetzel of London never wins a pennant on the field. As a manager he has little prowess. Where he wins his pennants, is by getting engaged about Christmas, and then scouting the continent for ball players of all ages and sizes who know themselves what to do, and how to do it. The Londoners showed experience in all their games this summer. The Brantford Club might adopt the example, and secure a manager earlier in the season of 1921. Knotty Lee has never gone to work until April 1, and the result was telegraph tolls.

A few days ago, yea even a day ago, Pop Williams, the genial president of the Kitchener Club, was held up in an official league bulletin as the "'orrible example" in the way of ball club presidents. He was so bad that a ruling in the National rules governed his conduct, according to this league bulletin. Now President Maines find that he shouldn't have issued this bulletin: that what he thought was true about Pop Williams wasn't true at all: in fact, that Pop is rather a gentleman, whose actions have been badly distorted. Far from kicking umpires, he hadn't even glowered on them. President Maines after seeing some of his umps' work in a baseball game, should have known better than take their word for anything. However, he did, and suspended the president of the Kitchener Club and then issued a lot of stuff about what Mint League discipline means and so on. Then another bulletin has to be issued saying Williams is a fine fellow after all, and there was haste all around.

Hamilton Spectator: Our Mr. Shaughnessy is versatility personified. Franklin has played the role of baseball manager and player, football coach, hockey coach and various other things in a sporting way: but yesterday he bloomed out as a pitcher. Yes, sir: Mr. Shaughnessy was on the mound in the second game at Kitchener, and while he did not win he hurled 'em over for a time and got away without being murdered. Next thing one may expect to hear is that he has applied for an amateur card for the purpose of playing football with McGill instead of acting as coach.

WHAT BILL MORRISETTE DID:

The second piece was a slugging match right from the start. Jennings started Bill Morrisette, one of his kid pitchers, and the lad didn't go bad, though he was wild. But Jennings yanked him for Dauss, and then the work was put on.

Morrisette had yielded five hits in four frames and the Bengals were a run to the good, 4-3, but Hughie thought he saw a rally coming on. He was right. He sent Dauss in to hedge it. But the A's took to George's offerings like ducks to water. And they banged him for 11 blows in the half game he twirled.

RING HURLS AND BATS CHAMPIONS TO WIN OVER CARDS

Gibsonites Drop One To New York.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 2.—Ring pitched and batted Cincinnati to a 3-to-2 victory over St. Louis today. His double in the second drove in two runs, and his sacrifice fly in the fourth scored the visitors' other tally. He held the locals to six hits. The score:

		R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	020 100 000—3	10	1
St. Louis	010 000 010—2	6	1

Batteries—Ring and Wingo; Haines, Kercher and Clemons.

PIRATES LOSE.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 2.—New York wound up its series here today by winning from Pittsburg, 5 to 1. Barnes pitched well after the fifth inning. Hamilton was unsteady. The score:

		R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	100 000 000—1	9	1

Batteries—Barnes and Snyder; Hamilton, Wisner and Schmidt.

MEMORIAL DAY FOR RAY CHAPMAN AT THE CLEVELAND BALL PARK

Cleveland, Sept. 3.—Today will be observed at League Park as Memorial Day for Ray Chapman, the Cleveland shortstop, who died as the result of being hit by a pitched ball in New York several weeks ago. Ten minutes previous to the start of the day's game a bugler will sound taps, and the flag will be half-masted. The players of both teams and the fans will stand at attention. Then a choir of 100 voices will sing "Lead, Kindly Light." An orchestra will furnish the music.

It will be the first game at home since Chapman's death.

Western U May Enter Cup Tie Soccer Series in Bye

Six Teams Now Entered in Soccer Classic of 1920 Season, and Entries Are Possible Until September 10.

Western University may enter the Cup Tie series of the City Soccer League, in which there are now six teams entered. The inclusion of the Western probably cannot be effected when the first schedule is drawn up, but it is possible that in order to help the University boost soccer, a bye could be arranged for the Varsity men.

The inclusion of the Western would give a little Canadian atmosphere to the Cup Tie, as most of the teams engaged have a large percentage of British-born in their makeups. Besides, it would get Western started at soccer, and soccer is included on the extensive athletic program mapped out by Director Mel Brock.

The cup and medals were presented Wednesday night to the Grand Trunks, winners of the city championship, and to the Great War Veterans, runners-up, at an enthusiastic meeting of the football enthusiasts.

The teams now entered in the Cup Tie competitions are: Grand Trunks, G. W. V. A., Public Utilities, Army and Navy Vets, 1st W. O. R., and the R. C. R. The entry date has been moved on to September 10, and any other teams which decided to enter will have plenty of time to make the decision.

J. Morgan, a member of the executive, will take the matter of eligibility up with Secretary Muir of the O. F. A. in Toronto this week, and the rules governing this point will be announced later.

Griffiths' Buys From International Always Turn Out Cleveland Killers

Old Fox's Latest Purchase Brower Is Also His Latest Recruit To Bust Up Ball Game Against Speakerites.

[By Ernest J. Lanigan.]

Clark Griffith always has received full value when he purchased first basemen, or near first basemen, from the International League, the gents he has bought invariably making good and invariably making things unpleasant for the Cleveland club. The Old Fox, when he acquired Chic Arnold Gandil from Montreal, got a player who tightened his ball club to such an extent that it immediately went out and copped seventeen combats in a row, and a player who hit over .400 against the Indians, and when Joseph Ignatius Judge was bought from Buffalo in the fall of 1915, another player was added to the National roster who made a specialty of picking on the Tribe at each and every opportunity.

Frank Brower, the first chance he got to break up a game against Cleveland, accepted it, his single in the ninth off Guy Morton in Washington last Sunday meaning a 3 to 2 victory for the Griffmen.

So the chances are that the Old Fox's latest purchase from the International League will prove to be a good investment.

Griff paid $15,000, and promised the Reading club several players for Brower, who was first a pitcher, then a first baseman, and now is an outfielder. The Marines could have received more cash for Brower than Washington offered from other clubs, but said other clubs didn't push forward such attractive propositions in the way of talent. Possibly the Reading club got bunked a bit on the player end of the deal, for among the men on the list that Griff showed Hummell there were, according to a man who saw it, the names of Eric George Erickson and Valentine John Picinich. Small chance of these sterling performers getting out of the fast set.

Is 'Varsity Man.

Reverting to Brower, if he makes good in swift society, he will be the first graduate of Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Va., to do so, though not many have tried to make the grade. Detroit, in 1912, got a southpaw from the Generals in Harry Moran, who flivvered; Cincinnati, the next year, tried out a catcher from Washington and Lee, named Clockson, and the Braves used for three or four seasons an outfielder from Lexington named Fred Middleton Bailey, who didn't set the National League afire.

Al Pierotti, used by Stallings briefly as a pitcher this season, also is a former Washington and Lee man, and Thomas E. (Lefty) George went there when the eligibility rules of that institution were decidedly lax.

When Brower was at Washington and Lee the eligibility rules were strict, and the college had no tramp athletes. Frank, whose parents, when they furnished him with the middle name of Willard, didn't suspect he was going to give the cork-centred contrivance many a Jess punch, gained fame down in Lexington as a pitcher, and gained a job in 1914 with the St. Louis Cardinals, then managed by Miller Huggins.

The Mite Manager, who uses I in his conversation more than any other leader, peerless or otherwise, thought it would be a good idea for Frank Willard Brown, who was born in Gainesville, Va., on March 26, 1894, to see the smaller cities before he gave the Oliver Optic to the larger centres of population, and sent him to Utica. The new National was with the Utes in 1915, 1916 and 1917, being taken south by the Phillies as a pitcher in the spring of the second-named year. Pat Moran then told Brower to pass up pitching and become a first baseman

Brower hearkened to the advice of Fitchburg Pat, and did little pitching the last year he was in Utica, on which club Bob McGraw, old Yankee, Aleck Ferguson, new Yankee, and Frank Karpp, now with Reading, were boxmen. One day that he had to work was June 1, at Binghamton. Utica, managed by Amby McConnell, scored ten runs in the first inning, and Binghamton came right back in her part of the opener and scored nine times, Karpp, Gill and Ferguson being in turn knocked out. Brower then went in, and he was pitching for Utica when the controversy ended in the third, with the score something like 19 to 19.

Broke His Leg.

The Utica club disbanded in July, 1917, and Brower moved on to Portland, Me. In the fifth game he played in that city he broke one of his legs and naturally he stopped playing. Uncle Sam drafted Brower, and Frank was in the navy from December 13, 1917, until January 4, 1919. About the time the world's war was over Providence bought the Portland franchise and players, the persons in charge of the Rhode Island club having economical ideas, and offering Brower a contract that didn't suit him.

If Brower had received his pay in scrap iron he wouldn't have become round-shouldered carrying it home.

Frank Willard spurned the contract and joined a club in the Shipyard League, being reclaimed from that organization on August 1, 1919, when Reading purchased his release from Portland.

Brower's batting average in the International last year was .317. In 47 games he made 53 hits, 10 being doubles, 4 being triples, and 1 being a home run.

When Frank got through with the Marines this year he had played in 103 games, batted 399 times, scored 96 runs, and knocked out 159 hits for an average of .398. Twenty-three of his blows were for the circuit, and in these he set up a new record for the International.

The previous high-water mark was 20, made in 1911 by Tim Jordan, when he was with Toronto. Tim recently was let out by Syracuse, the only team in the country that hasn't had any morning practice at home. Reason: An uncompleted ballyard.

The business manager of the Reading club tried hard to get another homer for Brower in Rochester on a ball that Chick Bowen booted after getting a throw from the outfield, but the official scorer and all the unofficial scorers said, "Nay, nay." Brower, however, had stopped at third. This was before Brower had been sold to Washington.

The International has a flock of parks with short fences, so Brower is not likely to duplicate in the American his four-basing record on the Fultz circuit. He is, however, quite likely to stick in fast company, and upset the dope that Washington and Lee graduates cannot make the grade.

Cleveland fans fervently hope that Frank Willard, who bats left-handed, throws right, weighs 180 pounds and stands six feet two inches in his stockinged feet, won't prove as perniciously active against the Indians as Clark Griffith's other two purchases from the International—Chic Arnold Gandil, retired, and Joseph Ignatius Judge, still much in evidence.

If he does, the Indians never will win a flag until he gets out of the American.

BRANTFORD GOLFERS CINCH WEBBLING COMPETITIONS

GALT, Sept. 2.—In the competition for the Webbling Shield between the Galt and Brantford Golf Clubs, an annual event, the Brantfordites practically won it for this year, when they defeated the local men here by 8½ to 6½, giving them an eight-point lead and only one more game to be played. Alerts Meet Orients in Inter-Club Semi-Final Tomorrow

Play-Off Between Champs and Manufacturers' League for City Honors Likely.

Alerts meet Orients Saturday afternoon in a semi-final game for the championship of the second series of the Inter-Club League. If Alerts win they will tie with Manhattans for the honors, but if Orients put over a victory Manhattans will be champions.

A play-off between the Manufacturers' champions, the Grand Trunks, and champions of the Inter-Club League is probable, although arrangements have not been completed for this series.

CHATHAM GOLFERS PLAN VARIED TOURNAMENT

CHATHAM, Sept. 2.—The Elmwood Golf and Country Club are planning a golf tournament for next Monday, September 6. The events will consist of mixed foursome men's driving-off contest, men's approaching and putting contest, ladies' driving and ladies' approaching and putting contest.

BOYS! RIDE A CLEVELAND BICYCLE

Say, boys, won't it be just fine to have a dandy, husky, easy-riding Bicycle to take you to school—to here, there and everywhere? If you're a real boy, you want a wheel that will stand the bumps as no other wheel can, and that is the very reason we so heartily recommend the

Cleveland Bicycles

It is just like riding on velvet when you are on a CLEVELAND. It runs smoothly, not only at first, but year after year. It doesn't get out of order or break down easily like ordinary wheels do. It is made strong—extra strong—to stand more than the usual hard bumps.

Show this advertisement to Dad and get him to come in and see the CLEVELAND.

MISKE AND DEMPSEY NEAR END OF HARD TRAINING PERIOD

Both Principals Are in Great Shape For Monday's Fight.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 2.—With but one more day of hard work remaining in their training grind, Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske cast aside all restraint today and gave their sparring partners a vicious mauling for six rounds. Speed was the watchword in both camps, and after the workout Dempsey and the challenger declared they boxed at the top of their form.

Miske felt the lack of capable sparring mates, and he was compelled to set the pace himself.

Early in the third round Greb's head collided with Dempsey's mouth, cutting the champion's tongue so severely that he spat blood for the remainder of the round.

There will be little difference in the weight of the heavyweights Monday. Both scaled 189 pounds before the workout today. Neither plans to do any boxing after tomorrow.

Much secrecy prevailed tonight over the selection of a referee.

The heavyweight contest between Toney Melchoir, Chicago, and Homer Smith, Kalamazoo, the first of the four matches on Labor Day, was called off, due to an injury to Melchoir's leg.

Yank Trapshooters Still Keep Lead At Toronto

Toronto, Sept. 2.—F. M. Troch of Vancouver, Wash., who broke 100 birds in the morning flight of the National Exhibition trapshooting tournament, duplicated this feat this afternoon. As, however, he carried off a prize yesterday, he was not eligible today for the prizes, one of which went to F. S. Wright of Buffalo, and that in the afternoon to F. W. McNeir of Houston, Texas. McNeir had the only 99 in the afternoon, but in the morning flight there were three with that score, McNeir, Wright and Bourgay. The best scores by Canadians were:

H. Newlands, Galt, 97 and 72; H. Payne, Tillsonburg, 93; W. Barnes, Hamilton, 93 and 97; N. R. Gooderham, Toronto, 95 and 97; E. Harris, Hamilton, 98 and 96; Sam Vance, Tillsonburg, 91 and 97, and Rowland Day, London, 94 and 92.

In the doubles, McNeir of Houston and G. Beattie of Hamilton were highest with each 45 and 45.

HEAVYWEIGHTS WILL FIGHT REGARDLESS OF WEATHER CONDITIONS

Benton Harbor, Sept. 3.—Rain will not cause a postponement of the heavyweight championship contest between Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske, set for Monday afternoon, Promoter Fitzsimmons announced today. The ring and a large part of the open air arena will be covered with a huge canvas early on the day of the fight if the weather is threatening and the heavyweight rivals will go into the ring on schedule time, no matter if there is a downpour.

Promoter Fitzsimmons said that the advance sale has reached $50,000.

MAN O' WAR SHOWING WONDERFUL SPEED

New York, Sept. 3.—Man o' War, the great racehorse, in preparation for his appearance in Saturday's races, ran a mile and a half yesterday in 2:09 2-5. This was one-fifth of a second faster than the American record established by the 3-year-old, Thunderclap, with 106 pounds up, at Laurel, Md., September 11, 1919. Man o' War, who worked under the heavy impost he will carry in Saturday's races was never fully let out.

CARPENTIER COMING TO U. S.

WOMAN SUFFERED 12 YEARS

Finally Made Well by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Emmitsburg, Md.—"I suffered for twelve or fifteen years, and was treated by a physician, but got little relief. I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, so thought I would try it, and it did me more good than all the doctor's medicine. I am a farmer's wife and do my housework all the time, and I am better now than I have been for years. I am never without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house and have recommended it to several of my friends. You are perfectly welcome to publish my letter for the good it may do other women."—Mrs. ETTIE WARREN, Emmitsburg, Md.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Warren's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

BABE RUTH AND CO. MEET DEFEAT BY THE BOSTON RED SOX

Morrisette Takes Over Hurling Duties Again and Evidently Holds the Athletics.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 2.—Boston continued its aggressive playing against the pennant contenders by winning from New York, 6 to 2, today, in the opening game of the series. It was Myers' fifth straight victory for Boston. The score:

Boston .....211 001 01*—6	6	1

Batteries—Shawkey, McGraw and Ruel; Myers and Schang.

Morrisette? Again?

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 2.—Philadelphia made it three straight from Detroit, when Harris's arm and Perkins's bat sent them down to a 2-to-0 defeat. The score:

Detroit .....000 000 000—0	2	1
Philadelphia .....200 000 00*—2	9	2

Batteries—Oldham, Morrisette and Stanage; Harris and Perkins.

FRONTIER TRIBES IN MANSHARA DISTRICT ARE CAUSING TROUBLE

Reinforcement Troops Sent In by British Commissioner.

London, Sept. 3.—An official communication from Simla, British India, announces virulent anti-British propaganda among the frontier tribes in the Manshara region, where an attempt has been made to organize a provisional government to supersede the British administration. The British commissioner hurried from Peshawar and arrested the ringleaders. Armed crowds assembled and demanded the liberation of the men under arrest. Eventually they were persuaded to retire, though at one time the situation looked dangerous.

Reinforcement troops have been sent into the district as there have been attacks on their posts and unrest continues.

METAL WORKERS' taoiP c mf wytaoa

London, Sept. 3.—The metal workers at Genoa have seized the factories and there have been riots in which one workman was killed and seven were injured, says a dispatch to the Central News from Rome. Troops have been ordered into Genoa.

The dispatch adds that the Metal Workers' Federation has declared a general lockout throughout Italy.

BRITANNIAS LEAVE FOR TORONTO.

Winnipeg, Sept. 3.—The Winnipeg Britannias, carrying with them the Connaught Cup, left last night for Toronto. They will play the first of a two-game series for the Dominion soccer championship with the Westinghouse team of Hamilton on Saturday.

ALLIED DELEGATES ARE AT STRESSA FOR CONFERENCE

Paris, Sept. 2.—British, French, Italian and German delegates have arrived at Stressa, Italy, for a conference, at which will be arranged the conditions of payment and advances to be made to Germany for the delivery of coal to the Allies.

Record Crops In Aylmer District

Good Prices Are Being Paid For Dairy Cattle.

Aylmer, Sept. 3.—Farmers all through this section regard the present season as perhaps the most prosperous in their whole history. There has been an abundance of everything, and prices have been high. This section is famous for its splendid herds, and perhaps the largest volume of dairy products ever handled in a single season will be recorded this year. Dairy cattle always bring good prices. An instance this week was at Ed Irwin's sale on Tuesday, when a nice lot of graded cattle were bought by Lindsay & Pound at prices ranging from $100 to $160.

Threshing is in progress, and some record returns are being made. At the farm of Frank Brackenbury near Lakeview 1,680 bushels of oats were threshed off 30 acres, and 135 bushels of wheat from 5 acres.

CROP CONDITIONS IN WESTERN CANADA

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The following telegrams on crop conditions throughout Western Canada at the end of August have been received from the provincial departments of agriculture by the Dominion bureau of statistics:

Manitoba—Grain-cutting almost completed. Threshing over 50 per cent done in the south. August warm and very dry, with little hail loss or frost damage. Crops vary from very heavy to very light. On the whole, wheat, and barley will give slightly above the average yields. Excellent seed wheat. Potatoes light.

Saskatchewan — Wheat-cutting is practically completed. Threshing has started in many places. Rain general in the province on Saturday and Sunday, which will delay harvest operations. Preliminary average wheat yield for the province estimated at 14 bushels per acre.

Alberta (Lethbridge)—Weather conditions in August have been favorable for ripening and harvesting grain in Southern Alberta. Seventy-five per cent wheat now cut, and good start made on coarse grains. As yet insufficient grain threshed to make reliable estimate of yield. The feed situation is good, and consequently demand for hay is not strong.

British Columbia—Weather during August has been settled, with the exception of the last few days of the month, when rains were prevalent in practically all sections of the province. Sixty per cent of the grain harvested, and threshing is in progress at many points. Oats and wheat promise heavy yields.

SPECIAL MEETING OF MUNICIPALITIES TO CONSIDER CAMPAIGN

Montreal, Sept. 3.—Arangements were made yesterday by long distance telephone for a meeting of the special executive committee of the Union of Canadian Municipalities on Tuesday next at the city hall, Toronto, to continue arrangements for the campaign against the proposed increases and rearrangements of telephone rates.

TRANSFERRED TO HAMILTON.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 3.—Adjutant Gilbert Best, for the last five years chancellor of the New Brunswick division of the Salvation Army, has been appointed to a similar position in Western Ontario, with headquarters in Hamilton. He will leave for Hamilton on Tuesday.

Before his appointment Adjutant Best was attached to the office of the financial secretary of the Salvation Army in Toronto.

OH! THOSE DOME FASTENERS!!

BRANTFORD, Sept. 2.—It all happened on a crowded street in Brantford today, when screams rent the air and a real downtown commotion was caused. A young lady attempted to go through the very ordinary procedure of stepping on a street car. The step was high. Her skirt was tight. It was fastened up the front with dome fasteners, treacherous little things in emergencies. The skirt was of heavy white satin, heavy enough to dispense with any detail like an underskirt. Well, those dome fasteners went off duty just as the lady made the step up, and, of course, a skirt without dome fasteners is like a sail without a wind; it ceases to function. What could the lady do but scream? She stood there in the middle of the street and just screamed. A lad with a kind heart and a gent's furnishings establishment at his disposal could not bear to hear the lady scream, so he rushed to her rescue with an overcoat. His friends are planning to secure a Carnegie medal for him and new domes for the lady.

MISUNDERSTANDING EXISTS.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—There is some misunderstanding regarding the effect of the act passed last session providing for retirement of members of the civil service over the age of 65. The act does not mean that all civil servants over that age will be retired, but only those who are not able, either owing to age or infirmity, to give efficient service, say officials here.

SAYS EXPRESS FIRM IS FACING LARGE DEFICIT

General Manager of Dominion Company Estimates $800,000 Loss.

PROFIT HALF MILLION

If Increases Are Granted and Liquor and Bullion Business Remains.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—In connection with the application of the express companies of Canada for authority to increase their rates by 40 per cent, the case for the Dominion Express Company was heard here today by the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. The hearing of the express companies' application will be continued tomorrow morning and may last some time. Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the board, was absent today. Commissioners A. C. Boyce, K.C., and Dr. J. G. Rutherford, C.M.G., heard the evidence.

T. R. McDonell, general manager of the Dominion Express Company, estimated that the company would have a deficit of $800,064.74 during the ensuing year if the 40 per cent increases in rates were not granted. He based this estimate on increases in expenses already in effect and on the possibility of the railway companies' application for a 40 per cent increase in freight rates being granted by the Railway Board.

May Discontinue.

This estimate, Mr. McDonell said, had been arrived at on the assumption that the gold and liquor shipments would be discontinued. If they were not discontinued the Dominion Express Company's deficit would be $337,276.35, but the indications were not favorable to this business continuing, Mr. McDonell said. If granted the 40 per cent increase in rates asked for, the company would have a net profit of $311,559.39. Without the gold or liquor shipments the net profit would be a modest sum and less than the company really was entitled to, the general manager added, and if the gold and liquor shipments continued the net profit would amount to $543,195.91.

May Be Believed.

In reply to questions put by Hon. F. H. Phippen, counsel for the Express Traffic Association, representing all the express companies in the request for increased rates, Mr. McDonell said from what he could gather in his journeys through the country the express companies before long would be "relieved" of their liquor business. He said he could not make public the basis of his belief that the movements of bullion would cease, but he had reason to think this would be the case. Since the outbreak of the war his company had transported a billion and a half dollars' worth of bullion, he said, and had not lost a dollar's worth of gold intrusted to its care.

SARNIA C. OF C. STRONGLY OPPOSES HIGHER PHONE RATES

Another Meeting To Be Held To Formulate Recommendation To Railway Board.

SARNIA, Sept. 2.—Strong opposition to the proposed increases in telephone charges made by the Bell Telephone Company were voiced tonight at a meeting of the members of fthe chamber of commerce called to consider the matter. The attendance was rather small and no formal resolution was adopted, the meeting deciding to adjourn till a later date. The company's local manager, Mr. Patton, was present and explained the proposals of the company.

The speakers, while willing to accede the company a reasonable increase of say as high as 50 per cent for phones, went strongly on record as opposed to the proposed "toll rate grading," "service construction charges" and "the measured service."

LIBERAL MINISTER GETS BIG MAJORITY IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, Sept. 2.—(Canadian Press)—In the by-election held in Shelburne County today, Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Liberal, was elected by over 700 majority.

The election was caused by the retirement of F. E. Smith to allow Hon. E. H. Armstrong to run as commissioner of works and mines in the Nova Scotia Government. His opponent was Zenas F. Bower (lumberman), who was nominated as an independent candidate with the support of labor, farmers and fishermen.

Owen Sound Woman Dies After a Week of Suffering.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Louisa Hewitt, wife of George Hewitt of Keppel Township, died late yesterday in the General and Marine Hospital from the effects of poisoning by bichloride of mercury tablets which she took a week ago in mistake for aspirin. Although she was rushed to the hospital as soon as her mistake was discovered, all attempts to save her life failed.

DUNWICH FARMS FETCH HIGH PRICES—$135 PER ACRE PRICE OF ONE

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 2.—John Watterworth of Dunwich has sold his farm of 100 acres in that township to James H. Charlton of Tilbury East for $13,500, and C. A. Smith of London Township has purchased from James Lunn his 165-acre farm in Dunwich for $15,000. The farm is in the family for about half a century, the land having been bought from the Airey estate by Mr. Lunn's father, and was part of the Col. Talbot homestead.

MAY POSTPONE TORY MEET UNTIL TIMBER PROBE IS FINISHED

Ferguson Wants To Make Statement Before Convention Is Held.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—It is said that the proposed provincial convention of the Liberal-Conservatives of Ontario, which has been fixed for October 27 and 28, may be postponed until January, as Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, the acting Conservative leader, wishes to make his statement to Justices Riddell and Latchford in connection with the timber probe before the convention is held.

Mr Ferguson expressed confidence that he can clear up any maters which are not now understood in his administration of the department of forests, lands and mines. However, some prominent local Conservatives are said to be somewhat insistent that the dates set for the convention should be adhered to.

C. P. R. INCREASES WAGES EAST OF FORT WILLIAM

New Schedule Is Based On Award Made Recently in United States.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—Substantial increases in wages have been conceded to the C. P. R. employes of Fort William and eastern points, after months of negotiations between a committee of the employees and the official of the company, word of the increases having been received here tonight. The increases granted the men are practically based upon the award of the United States Railway Wage Board and effective May 1, last.

Following is the percentage of increases:

Passenger service: Conductors, 16.7; baggagemen, 24.2; brakemen, 25.2; minimum per month: Conductors $210, baggagemen $154.80, brakemen $150.

Through freight: Conductors, 19.2; brakemen, 25.5; way freight conductors, 17.6; brakemen, 23.2; yard service, foremen, 30.5; helpers, 29.6.

The increase per day of 150 miles to conductors, baggagemen and brakemen is $1. In the freight train service the increase for 100 miles is $1.04.

INGERSOLL FACTORIES VISITED BY EAST ELGIN FARMERS AND WIVES

INGERSOLL, Sept. 2.—During a brief stay here today while on a tour of Oxford County, East Elgin farmers, members of the agricultural board, and their wives, visited the local factories. The men were escorted to the large factory of the Ingersoll Packing Company, while the women visited the knitting factory of Thomas Waterhouse & Co. The party in the afternoon visited several of the prominent dairy farms in the district.

Will Donate Fountain.

A handsome fountain, to be patterned after one in a Toronto park, will be donated by Lieut.-Col. F. P. Deacon, of that city, to the New Central Park here. Some time ago Col. Deacon made an announcement that he would donate a fountain, but as the result of a visit here this week, during which he visited the new park and was delighted with it, he has stated that he will alter his original plans.

carbon decide. Bad air, said Dr. Hill, is just as bad for everyone as it ever was, but for a different reason than we used to think, and since it is for a different reason we must apply different treatment.

Afternoon Session.

Local teachers again contributed the program for the afternoon session. Reports of the O. E. A. meetings were given by Miss C. Howe and H. B. Galpin, the delegates who attended the meetings last Easter.

M. W. Althouse then delivered a very interesting address on the subject, "Public School English—One Textbook (Reading Literature, Spelling, Composition and Grammar)." The five subjects named, said Mr. Althouse, are easiest and best taught in correlation with one another, and the new Public School Reader might well supply the medium for such correlation.

The present system of teaching spelling Mr. Althouse finds wrong, in that too much attention is paid to words in infrequent use. A good speller writes properly the ordinary words used in conversation. These he should find in his reading lessons. The love of reading and appreciation of good literature could also be fostered in connection with the use of the Reader. Many opportunities for composition, both written and oral, come out of the reading lesson, and grammar would be brought in by the stress on the use of practical English as found in the lessons also, rather than in a technical handling of the subject.

Experiment in Education.

"Everything in nature is an experiment," declared Mr. E. McKone in commencing his address, "An Experiment in Education." "And in nature," he added, "no experiment is absolutely a success or absolutely a failure, while something is found out each time. Thus by experiment all progress is made, and as man challenges the result of any previous experiment he has made, his progress is measured."

The particular experiment referred to by Mr. McKone in his address was one of administration held in Victoria School. It consisted of a division of subjects between teachers of the staff in somewhat the same manner as in the high school arrangement. The experiment proved successful in all grades above the fourth. The lower grades seeming to require more of a mothering influence than was possible in such a system. One teacher would take two or three subjects throughout, another teacher, another group of subjects and so on, the result being that the children were getting a perfectly square deal by having each subject on the curriculum dealt with in equal fashion by an enthusiast in that particular line. Teachers also are helped and drawn together by common interests in the same groups of pupils. The system is also a good preparation for collegiate work, said Mr. McKone.

Moving Picture.

The use of moving pictures in the school was dealt with by James Kirkwood. Experiments had been tried out in Alexander School with the Pathe scope, which had proved extremely successful as an aid to the teaching of history, geography, nature study and composition. There is no reason why the whole of history should not be dramatized, stated Mr. Kirkwood. The picture method of instruction is extremely old, but its highest development has been reached in the cinema of today. Any good thing can be overdone, however, and Mr. Kirkwood would not advocate more than an hour of such instruction at a time at some considerable interval from the next such period.

A report on "The Trip to Northern Ontario," taken recently by representatives of the teachers' associations of Old Ontario, was given in a lively and interesting style by the Misses McNaughton and Knott, who were the representative delegates from London.

Inspector C. B. Edwards in the morning session spoke warmly of the invaluable service to the community which had been rendered by Miss Bella Boon. Miss Boon, said Inspector Edwards, was a model of the great teacher, one of high ideals, utter unselfishness and inestimable worth. Her services had been given to the community for nearly half a century. Miss Boon, whose family reside in Bothwell, has been associated with the work in Lorne Avenue School. At the afternoon session, a motion to send a letter on behalf of the association expressing on behalf of its members, appreciation for Miss Boon's services and regret at her departure was carried on the moving and seconding of Messrs. Shelgrove and McQueen.

The morning session, besides matters of routine and business, included instructive addresses by Dean Tucker, G. A. Wheable, M.C., president of the association, Inspectors C. B. Edwards and V. K. Greer, and Principal Alexander MacQueen, Principal H. B. Beal of the Technical School, who was to have spoken on "Entrance High School History," was unable to be present.

The opening exercises concluded with a short prayer by Very Rev. Dean Tucker, after which he gave a short address on the fundamental purposes of education.

A National Question.

The most important national question today, he said, is the question of education. Other national questions may be important, but they must all be solved by the citizenship of the country, and consequently the proper place to start the solution of these problems is in the education of future citizens of a country.

"The tendency today is too much towards materialism," said Dean Tucker, adding that while we could all applaud loudly the securing for London of a new industrial plant which would employ a thousand men, we are apathetic to the position and needs of an institution whose presence in our midst is one of infinitely greater value than the industrial plant, valuable as that may be. "I refer to the Western University," declared Dean Tucker, amid applause.

Must Be Developed.

He pointed out the necessity for the development of the logical faculty among those who control the world. Lack of the logical faculty is responsible for such conditions as Bolshevism would thrust upon the world. Bolshevism in Russia is a reaction from domination of the aristocratic class, a class extremely selfish and cruel, but more or less intelligent. However, the Bolshevists are so lacking in the logical faculty as to claim the establishment of genuine democracy, when all they are doing is merely substituting another type of class domination, and now in Russia here is again class government, and the clas is just as selfish, just as cruel, and much less intelligent than the former class who ruled.

A Wrong System.

"If class government is wrong," said Dean Tucker, "then it is all wrong, whether exercised by the aristocrats, the capitalists, the farming class or the proletariat. Whatever class any 'ism may be, it has no right to rule the country," concluded the speaker, pointing out that the inculcation of the logical faculty by education would prevent such illogical ideas of government.

President's Address.

G. A. Wheable, in making the president's address, spoke of the two new ventures of the association, in the formation of an advisory committee of representatives from the various grades for the purpose of consulting the inspectors on various points, and in the establishment of the teachers' library. Speaking of new ideas, Mr. Wheable gave it as his opinion that the trouble with the teaching profession was a tendency to following too closely the ideas of one or two of the "great ones" of the profession. This habit began in training school, when the instructors and critic teachers were followed closely, then extended to fields of work where inspectors or trustees were constantly considered. Thus, merely a duplicating machine might be produced instead of a true teacher. Teaching is a science, and one only in its infancy, said Mr. Wheable. We must take care to investigate and experiment and add new ideas. There is little difference between getting into a rut and getting into a grave—try new methods, emphatically stated Mr. Wheable, in conclusion.

Reports of various types were then taken up, the treasurer's report bringing out the fact that finances of the association were in a critical condition. The auditors' reports were left open until the afternoon. The librarian Mr. Knight, was not able to be present and the president speaking for him reported that the teachers' library, located at the Alexandra School, and consisting of 130 volumes of an educational nature, was now ready for the use of teachers. Inspector C. K. Greer speaking later on the reading course, spoke very highly of the valuable work done by Mr. Knight in classification and arrangement of the library. F. H. Galpin gave the report of the committee on the Strathcona Trust, mentioning the increased interest being displayed in correct physical training by the teachers of the city. Arrangements are to be made for special lessons for teachers desiring to brush up along this line.

The Work of the Schools.

The inspector then gave short addresses on the subject of the general progress of the work in London schools. Inspector Edwards, in speaking of the splendid buildings that are to be found in London, said that no matter how perfect the material equipment of education was made it would at the best be worth only 5 per cent as against the 95 per cent which stood for the spiritual equipment. The average community is more willing to put money into material things than immortal things.

"The teacher," declared Inspector Edwards, "should be removed from financial worries." Things were improving in this regard, as the school came to be recognized as a central institution in the community. Relations between the home and the school are daily becoming more pleasant.

The speaker quoted the findings of the Lambeth Conference as to causes of unrest and disunion, and said these were applicable to educational conditions too, where these were not right. These causes were self-will, ambition, lack of charity and blindness to the sin of disunion. Co-operation must be invoked to keep up the great educational democracy.

Must Be Tried Out.

Inspector V. K. Greer, in commending suggestions made in the speech of the president, said he had felt in listening that here was a Daniel come to judgment. "New ideas must be tried out even if failure results, or we will never get any where," said Mr. Greer. He touched on various new ideas to be tried out, the closer correlation of the English subjects, the departmental system of allowing a teacher to teach subjects, for which he is especially fitted in several grades.

Oral work in composition in the earlier grades was to be emphasized, and the pupils must not be aided so much, but encouraged to express themselves. In the upper grades, letter writing between members of the same grades in the same and different schools was to be encouraged. A motive for writing would be given in this way that would add great interest to the work of composition.

Mr. Greer also spoke of the writing in the schools, recommending that a definite plan be followed to insure improvement in this "tool" subject.

The last speaker of the morning was Alexander MacQueen, the veteran principal of Ryerson School, who spoke on "The School as a Community Centre." A community is a body of people having common rights, interests and privileges. A community centre is a sort of headquarters of all efforts and co-operations for the advancement of the community in the management of which everyone should take part. The early settlers had the community spirit developed to a high degree. A new-comer received help and kindness when he was establishing his home. Bees of all sorts when the whole neighborhood turned in to work on some such person's behalf were a common feature of pioneer life.

Class Distinctions.

Advancing years have brought class distinctions, however, and selfishness and cupidity have crowded out this spirit of mutual helpfulness and kindliness to a deplorable extent. The Government, in recognizing the necessity for fostering this spirit has provided for the building of community halls and the education of community leaders.

Our public schools, said Mr. MacQueen, seem to offer ready-made centres for community work. Addresses, discussions, concerts, social and dramatic entertainments, sports and games can all be featured in this commonn centre.

The crux of the situation is skillful leadership. Leaders in other lines than that of teaching will be found to give their services and talents to this cause. Leaders in church and state, in the realms of art, music, literature and sport will all find that their efforts may well be directed to the furthering of the community spirit.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn grey, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or grey. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, grey, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all grey hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

At The Theaters

EDNA GOODRICH, IN "SLEEPING PARTNERS," AT THE GRAND TONIGHT AND SATURDAY.

The way the French "do these things," in contrast to the American manner is exemplified in an extremely clever comedy concoction, "Sleeping Partners," which will serve Edna Goodrich as a starring vehicle the coming season, and which comes to the Grand tonight, Saturday and Saturday matinee. It is totally different from anything seen in America. Translated from the French of Sacha Guitry by the clever hand of Seymour Hicks, the atmosphere is there, the adroitness of dialogue and situation, and the consummate expertness of workmanship which characterize the French farce in its highest and most modern form. The play tells a story of elusively delicate quality that would lose much in the mere description of plot. It is a thing which evaporates like the whiffs of perfume played over the rich furniture of the bachelor room and incidentally to the audience.

BLACKSTONE, THE MAGICIAN.

Blackstone, the master magician, and his company, are coming to the Grand Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next, with matinee, Monday and Wednesday, and the superman of mysticism will open the eyes of those who doubt that the hand is quicker than the eye. Blackstone has 22 attendants. He has a carload of scenery and magical paraphernalia. The mysterious and weird performance of Blackstone must be seen to be fully appreciated. It includes oriental mysticism, psychic phenomena, spiritualism, black and white magic, mind reading and card manipulation.

LIONEL BRAHAM, FORMER CALIBAN, IN "CHU CHIN CHOW."

Lionel Braham, the big English actor who created such a sensation several years ago when he played the title role in "Caliban" at the Harvard Stadium in Boston and at Columbia University in New York, is in the cast of the big Oriental spectacle, "Chu Chin Chow," which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest will present at the Grand September 16, 17, 18. Mr. Braham's great size and impressive physique made him the talk of all who saw him in "Caliban," and wherever he went he was recognized and saluted as "Caliban." A year later he appeared as the big Sea Captain in the spectacular production of "The Wanderer." Now he is seen as "Chu Chin Chow," the robber chieftain of the big Oriental spectacle. Mail orders now.

AT THE PATRICIA.

"When Bearcat Went Dry," which opened a three-day engagement at the Patricia Theatre yesterday, is a story appealing to every red-blooded person. Its scenes are laid in the Kentucky Cumberlands, where the elements of life are rugged and where majesty and meagerness endure side by side.

"Bearcat" is the nickname given to a young boy who is the hero of the story. He returns from his exile, whither he was driven by revenue officers who are seeking out illicit stills. As the boy looks down from the mountainside, he sees Blossom, the girl he loves in another man's arms. From that day there is war between Bearcat and Henderson. Yet when the time comes for his revenge the boy tries to save his enemy's life in one of the most thrilling scenes ever depicted on the screen.

Henderson is dying from wounds he received in a fight, where Bearcat, too, is seriously wounded trying to save his life. As the boy bends over to hear what he thinks are the last words of the man who stole the affections of the girl he loves and hears him say: "I'm dying." Bearcat says: "I hope to God yer air, but afore ye dies ye're agoin' ter be married. Maybe I'm dying, too. I don't know, but I aims ter last long enough ter stand up with ye first."

The terrible mistake was righted in the end, and Bearcat and Blossom fulfilled the prophecy made on the moutain side that summer evening: "When I've done something worth doin' an' when ye're a lettle bit older yourself, Blossom, you're agoin' ter marry me, an' we're goin' to dwell thar together."

One of the best musical treats of the season decorates the vaudeville part of the show. "The Seven Brown Girls," all pretty and inspiring. They are all exceptionally talented and the applause they received at the opening was fairly deafening. The act that received the great ovation was the selection on the saxaphone and harp combined. Clever singing in Italian followed and then the "jazz" side of their act was given, when a popular dance piece was played. Briefly, it is the best musical act presented to London theatre-goers this year, and is suitable for every person.

A Strand supreme comedy "A Tailor-Made Wife," and the 14th episode of "The Lost City" complete the film bill, which will be shown today and tomorrow, both afternoon and evening.

AT LOEW'S.

Three really high-lass vaudeville acts are the big feature of Loew's program for the last half of this week, and rounds of well-deserved applause greeted them Thursday afternon and evening.

Gordon and Gordon, two of the cleverest contorionists appealing in local vaudeville for a long time, are also skillful tumblers and all-round funny fellows. They pleased immensely.

Hallen and Goss are easily better than the average calibre of song and dance artists, and part of their performance is excellent. They, too, met with general appreciation.

Mary Miles Minter is the picture star, appearing in "Jenny Be Good." This photoplay is splendidly acted and handsomely produced. The plot perhaps ought to be criticized, but the play is elaborately and splendidly produced throughout every part and scene. The plot is one of those clumsy contrivances where young and true lovers are parted by malicious parental scheming and vulgar ambition, and they are brought together again only after the superfluous member of the triangle, in this instance an unfortunate dope-addicted wife, is killed by a motor car plunging over a cliff. Convenient suicides and mad acts of violence may suggest action to lazy or stupid scenario writers, but they will never teach humanity to live sanely and sensibly.

The Hank Mann comedy is the best this heavy comedy hero has yet appeared in. "Hot Dog" is undeniably clever, and really clever comedies are far too rare for anybody to miss seeing this one. The usual news films and orchestral trimmings balance out Loew's program nicely.

AT THE ALLEN.

When a dual role can be enacted on the screen, so that those who see the picture are left decidedly in doubt whether to believe their eyes or the press agent, the production can be called a masterpiece, at least as far as the acting is concerned. This is exactly what has been accomplished in a picture called the "Girl With the Jazz Heart," starring Madge Kennedy, which is appearing at the Allen Theatre during the last half of this week, Miss Kennedy plays two roles that are as different as black and white, that of a sombre attired, demure little girl living among a fanatical religious sect of people who think that it is sin to be happy and that love is the creation of the devil, and then, in most of the scenes, also that of light hearted, dance-mad, hotel switchboard operator with a philosophy all her own. It is no exaggeration to say that the majority of those who saw the picture and yet did not see the name of the actress announced twice, did not discover the fact that the same person appeared in the two parts. Perhaps because the plot of the picture really did not call for a dual role had much to do with the deception.

The characterizations are exceptionally good. The serious-faced black-arrayed religious cranks were realistic enough to make the very atmosphere of the theatre gloomy, while the jazzy dancing in a gilded cabaret has the opposite effect. The contrasts in the picture are remarkable. Throughout the picture, even in the gloomiest spots a delightful vein of humor runs. A fight between two women in the cabaret provides considerable excitement. The plot is clever, and is faithfully worked out.

The story is that of a wealthy young girl who tires of the quite life in a religious village. Answering an ad in a matrimonial paper she seeks escape from the drudgery by marriage. To accomplish her purpose and incidentally to escape from being forced into marriage with a person she hates, she runs away to New York, where she has a short but adventurous career.

The balance of the picture program is composed of a Sunshine comedy, "Slipping Feet." A news and scenic film, a film called "Screen Snapshots," and a Mutt and Jeff comedy which played to the children.

The overture by the orchestra, "Rustic Revels," by Percy Fletcher was delightful. It completed a program which will be repeated today and tomorrow.

EAST ELGIN FARMERS VISIT LEADING FARMS OF OXFORD COUNTY

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 2.—A party of farmers from East Elgin, who have been on a tour of Oxford, visited Woodstock this afternoon. They spent the forenoon in the neighborhood of Ingersoll, making an inspection of various farms. At Woodstock they were met by Mayor Gahagan, and had lunch at Southside Park.

Big Building Increase.

Building in Woodstock is away ahead of what it was last year, according to the building permits issued during the month of August. The figures show that permits amounting to $33,053 were issued for new buildings during that period. This is a slight decrease from the July figures, which were $38,702. In comparison with August, 1919, there is an increase of nearly 300 per cent.

HYDRO BYLAW INDORSED.

AYTON, Sept. 2.—The police village of Ayton today indorsed by a large majority an enabling bylaw and authorized the issue of $11,000 debentures for the installation of hydro-electric power and lighting in the village. The vote was 5 for, 19 against; majority for the bylaw, 35.

The crops of all kinds have never been better in this district than they are this year, and there is a general spirit of rejoicing amongst the farmers.

HAY PRICES FIRM, DEMAND IS BRISK; OLD OATS EASIER

Live Hogs Are in Demand At $19.50 Per Hundred.

Old oats were down 15c on the maximum price on the local market today. The demand was slow and all quotations were from $2.50 to $2.60 per cwt. and from 85c to 88 2-5c per bushel. New oats were plentiful and in good demand. The ruling prices were from $2.10 to $2.25 per cwt. and from 71 2-5c to 74 4-5c per bushel.

Bidding on hay was brisk and the price went up to from $28 to $30.50 per ton.

Fat sows brought $14.50 per cwt. and live hogs sold for $19.50 per cwt.

The sales for all kinds of fruit and vegetables are expected to be very brisk on Saturday owing to the holiday on Monday.

October rye ½c lower.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Opening: Wheat—Dec., $2 41; March, $2 38.

Corn—Dec., $1 18½; May, $1 16.

Oats—Dec., 66⅝c; May, 68⅜c.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Sharp advances took place in the wheat market today, largely as a result of bullish estimates of the amount of wheat available for export. One authority figured the total as 110,000,000 bushels less than last season. Quotations, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1¼c higher, were followed by a moderate reaction and then by a swift general upturn.

Corn was dominated by the strength of wheat. After opening ¼c off to ⅛c up, corn soon scored substantial gains all around.

Oats hardened in price with other cereals, starting about unchanged; December, 66⅝c, then sagged a little, and later tending upward.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Sept. 3—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Over-night advices confirming recent reports that an extensive gold movement is to be inaugurated, imparted a firm tone to the stock market at the opening of today's session. Steels, oils and equipments were the prominent features, Crucible scoring an initial gain of 2¼ points. Rails were irregular, the impending holiday inviting further holding for profits among these issues. St. Paul preferred soon canceled a 1-point advance, and the common fell 1 point with St. Louis and San Francisco preferred.

1:30 p.m.—Call money rates eased to 6 per cent at noon. American Woolen, Industrial Alcohol and United States Realty showed gains of 1 to 1½ points. [Reported by Jones, Easton, McCallum Company for The Advertiser.]

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—There was a continued quiet tone at the opening of the local stock exchange this morning, and a somewhat weaker tone prevailed in most of the few transactions which were recorded. Brompton opened unchanged from yesterday's high at 69½, Brazilian was unchanged at 38, and National Breweries was up ⅛ at 65¼.

Trading in the papers was a little more lively, Spanish River common running up ½, from which it moved to 113, while the preferred opened at 121, ½ off from yesterday's close, and almost immediately dropped to 120.

RUSSIAN REDS UNDER BUDDENY ARE IN FLIGHT

Polish Troops Have Entered City of Suwalki.

Warsaw, Sept. 3.—Polish troops have entered the city of Suwalki, 19 miles north of Augustowo, and have been given an enthusiastic welcome, according to an official statement issued here.

Gen. Buddeny, the Russian Bolshevik commander, has suffered what appears to be a decisive defeat and is rapidly retreating, it is said.

Brilliant service by aviators is especially mentioned in the statement.

HEAD OF BOLSHEVIK PEACE DELEGATION RESIGNS HIS PLACE

Warsaw, Sept. 3.—M. Danishevski has resigned as head of the Russian Bolshevik delegation to negotiate an armistice and peace treaty with Poland, and has been replaced by Adolph Joffe, former Soviet ambassador to Germany, and chairman of the Russian peace delegation at Brest-Litovsk, according to Moscow advices. The personnel of the new soviet delegation will be communicated to Polish Government officials later.

Prince Sapieha, Polish foreign minister, received a wireless message from George Tchitcherin, Bolshevik minister of foreign affairs, stating that the essential condition as to the Riga conference was a guarantee of the immunity of the Russian and Ukrainian delegates, the right to free and uninterrupted communication in code by telegraph and wireless and by courier carrying diplomatic sealed pouches. On receiving such guarantee, M. Tchitcherin said, the Soviet delegation will leave for Riga with full power to agree to an armistice preliminary to peace and to negotiate a final peace treaty.

Prince Sapieha has asked the Polish minister in Riga to obtain the demanded guarantee from the Letvian Government and to communicate the result direct to the Bolshevik minister in that city.

BOLSHEVIK FORCES OCCUPY VILLAGES NEAR BREST-LITOVSK

London, Sept. 3.—Russian Bolshevik forces have occupied a number of villages from 14 to 27 miles north of Brest-Litovsk, according to an official statement issued in Moscow yesterday and received here by wireless. Further south, Soviet forces have advanced up to the town of Brest-Litovsk, the statement says.

Further south, the Bolshevik occupied Zamosz, 45 miles southeast of Lublin, on August 29, and in the Lemberg region are said to be holding up attacks by the Poles, who, it is admitted, have "started to advance." In the neighborhood of Puczacz, Eastern Galicia, the Bolsheviki have flung Polish troops back to the right bank of the Dniester River, the statement says.

Fighting is proceeding with alternating success and with some severity in the Crimea sector.

LETTISH GOVERNMENT AGREES TO ALLOW RIGA CONFERENCE

Copenhagen, Sept. 3.—The Lettish Government has agreed in principle to the transfer of the Russo-Polish peace negotiations to Riga. This announcement is made in a dispatch to the Lettish press bureau here from Riga.

GERMANS PROTEST.

London, Sept. 3.—According to a Berlin wireless dispatch the German Government has protested to the Warsaw Government against alleged violation by the Poles of the East Prussian frontier.

The wireless also says that a report to the Petrograd Izvestia declares that the crops in the wheat-producing Russian provinces are complete failures.

DRUMBO CHILD IS KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTOMOBILE

Woodstock, Sept. 2.—The 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Goodwin, residing near Drumbo, died this evening as the result of a distressing accident just before noon today. A Grand Trunk express struck the automobile in which Mrs. Goodwin and her two little sons, aged 5 and 3, were driving. Mrs. Goodwin escaped uninjured. The younger child, in her arms, was hurt, but is expected to recover. The elder was thrown into the ditch and his head terribly crushed.

Mrs. Goodwin was driving out from the farm. The driveway runs parallel to the railway crossing, which is one mile south of the village. She did not see the train, and it struck the car sideways, being headed in the same direction. The car was smashed.

BALFOUR REPLIES TO BOLSHEVIK MINISTER

Tchitcherin's Representations As To Civic Militia Regarded As a Joke.

London, Sept. 3.—Arthur J. Balfour, lord president of the council, yesterday replied to the dispatch of M. Tchitcherin, the Russian Bolshevik minister, sent on August 26. Mr. Balfour expresses gratification that the soviet government renounces its demands for a workers' militia, but declares that M. Tchitcherin is mistaken in supposing that the British Government recognized that a reduction of the Polish army to 50,000 would be just peace terms.

Great Britain would not consider it sufficient ground for active intervention.

Mr. Balfour characterizes Tchitcherin's representations concerning the civic militia as being a concession to Poland as "evidently meant as a jest, and so far neither requires nor deserves a reply."

He considers, however, that it is a jest requiring explanation from the soviet government, and points out that both the British Parliament and people were deceived by the soviet withholding the fact that the militia was to be taken from a particular class chosen by a victorious enemy. The British Government's objection was not based on the choice of workmen. Its objection would be equally strong if the milita were composed of millionaires.

Would Mean Armed Force.

In either case it would be armed force imposed on the Poles at the bidding of a foreign power, and therefore inconsistent with national independance and the permanent maintenance of civil order.

Mr. Balfour says that he does not doubt Tchitcherin's statement that there are inequalities of wealth in Great Britain which no longer exist in Russia, but the inferences M. Tchitcherin draws from this are quite irrelevant to the present purpose.

Mr. Balfour concludes by saying that he never for a moment questioned the efficacy of soviet methods for making rich men poor, but that it is in the more important task of making poor men richer that failure is to be feared.

Mr. Balfour's reply is in answer to M. Tchitcherin's statement called forth by the Italo-British ultimatum respecting changes in the peace terms offered to Poland by the soviet government.

LARGE QUANTITY OF SCHOOL SUPPLIES DESTROYED BY FIRE

GUELPH, Sept. 2.—A fire in the store of C. L. Nelles on Upper Wyndham street at 3 o'clock this morning did damage to the extent of about $10,000, destroying a large supply of schoolbooks, etc., just put into stock, valued at $800, and which it will be impossible to replace at any price owing to the great scarcity of paper, and a large supply of wall paper. The front portion of the store was practically gutted, and the large stock of books and fancy articles ruined by water and heat. The loss is covered by insurance.

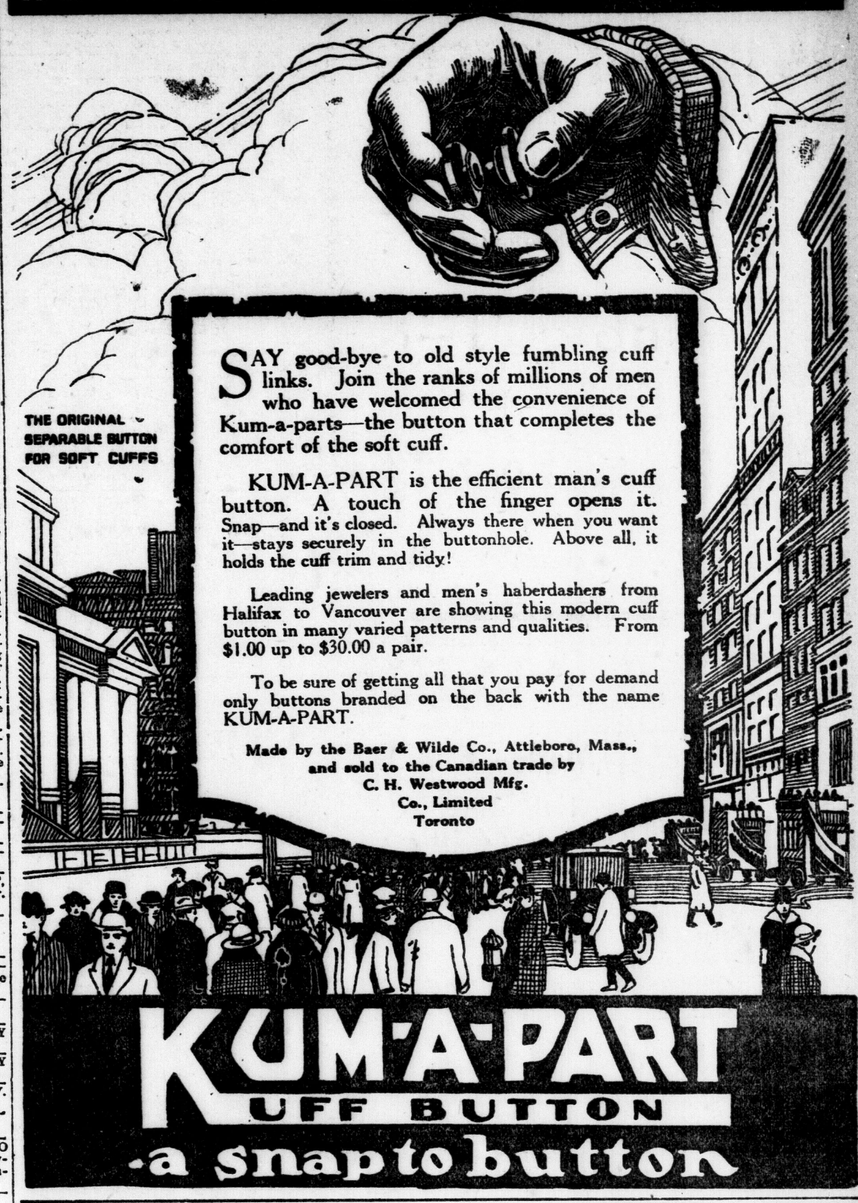

The extensive barn buildings on the farm of Mrs. James Black, on the Town Line btween Eramosa and Erin Townships, four miles northeast of Rockwood, were totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. Sparks from a threshing engine were responsible for the blaze. The threshing crew, in charge of Robert McAlpine of Nassagaweya, were just commencing to thresh, and in the barns was a large quantity of grain and hay, farm inplements, 20 hogs and two calves.

FRANCE DECORATES WOMEN OF QUEBEC

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—The French Government has decorated the following Quebec ladies for services rendered during the great war.

Lady Gouin was awarded the first-class scarlet medal; Mrs. Cyerille Delage, the silver medal, and Mrs. De St. Victor, the bronze medal.

MINERS DECIDE TO ISSUE STRIKE NOTICE,

LONDON, Sept. 2.—With only a half hours' discussion, the miners' delegates today unanimously decided to issue strike notices, and tonight there is not yet any sign of either side in the dispute making an approach to the other. The Government appears confident that it has the nation at its back. The miners, on the other hand, are pushing to the forefront their demand that the Government rescind its recent increase of 14 shillings per ton in the price of domestic coal, hoping thereby to enlist public favor.

So far as mediation is concerned it is believed nothing will be done until Premier Lloyd George returns to London.

Much strong feeling has been provoked by the proposal made by the National Union of Manufacturers for a national lockout in the event of the miners striking. The proposal is generally opposed as calculated not only to inflict hardship on innocent workers, but to bring about a bitter fight between capital and labor.

PAY $37 EACH, LOSE THEIR GUNS AND ARE ORDERED DEPORTED

Penalty Imposed by Sarnia Magistrate On Men Carrying Revolvers.

SARNIA, Sept. 2.—Taken into custody at the ferry dock and having in their possession two revolvers, two flashlights and two automobile licenses, two young men, Norman Nagg, giving his residence as Toronto, and Fred J. McClardy, claiming Windsor as his home, but said to be the son of a St. Thomas railway official, were in police court today charged with carrying concealed weapons, to which charge they pleaded guilty.

The defendants stated they had been visiting in Flint, Mich., and Windsor, Ont., and were on their way to London, where they said they were going to visit friends. The automobile, they claimed, was loaned to them by a man named Nagg, in business in Flint, Mich., and the hearing was delayed until the police get into communication with the owner of the car. Their story was corroborated by the Flint man. One of the men, when arrested, had about $400 in his possession.

After hearing the evidence Magistrate Gorman assessed the accused $25 and $12 costs each. The revolvers were confiscated by the immigration authorities and the men were sent back to the other side. The fines were paid in American money.

MOTHER OF J. G. LETHBRIDGE, M.P.P., DIED VERY SUDDENLY

Mrs. George Lethbridge Succumbs to Heart Attack, Aged 86.

GLENCOE, Sept. 2.—The death of Mrs. George Lethbridge, mother of J. G. Lethbridge, M.P.P., took place very suddenly at the home of her son very last night from heart-failure, following an attack which lasted only a few minutes. Deceased lady, who was in her 86th year, was the widow of the late George Lethbridge. She had been in her usual health during the day, and her sudden death was a great shock to her friends. She had been a resident of Glencoe for 30 years. The funeral will take place from the residence of her son on Friday.

SITUATION TENSER IN MESOPOTAMIA

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The situation in Mesopotamia shows improvement in the disturbed areas, but is becoming tenser in districts not yet in open rebellion, according to a war office communication today. The Sjawas Rail way station was attacked on August 29 and is still besieged by increasing numbers.

The British political officers at Munzaik were saved from assassination by fanatics by escaping in an airplane. Several other stations have been attacked.

In northeast Persia the reds have made no southward movement from Resht.

OFF THE RAILS

Although three days have elapsed since an announcement was alleged to have been made in Montreal that the wage award granted on the railroads in the United States was to be applied to the clerks on the eastern lines of the C. P. R., no official announcement has been received in this city either by the officials of the C. P. R. or the officials of the men's organizations.

SILVER CUP IS HERE.

The silver cup awarded to the winners of the City Soccer League has been received at the G. T. R. carshops. The G. T. R. team won the city championship without a loss. The cup is on exhibition in the carshop office. The trophy was last won by the 33rd Battalion in 1915.

BACK FROM HOLIDAYS.

J. A. Chick, chief clerk in the east end yard office of the G. T. R., and the chairman of the grievance committee of the C. B. R. E., has returned to work after a few weeks' holidays.

GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT HERE

General Superintendent C. G. Bowker of the Ontario lines of the G. T. R., passed through this city en route to Detroit at noon today. He left this city on No. 17.

LAYING NEW RAILS.

Warped and worn rails in the Campbell street siding of the G. T. R. are being replaced with new ones in preparation for the Western Fair. The right-of-way is also being cleared of weeds.

PAINFULLY INJURED.

W. Owens of Ingersoll, a sectionman on the G. T. R., had his foot severely crushed when a wheel of an automobile passed over it on Wednesday afternoon. He was given first aid and later medical attention. Although there were no bones broken, the doctor stated that he would be confined to his home for some days.

VETERANS ASK THAT PATIENTS' WAGES BE INCREASED 60 CENTS

Ask That Hospital Men Receive Same Per Day As Regulars.

Believing that they were only attempting to secure for their comrades in hospital a square deal, members of the Central Veterans' Council last night passed a resolution to the effect that "representation be made to the minister of militia urging him to see that patients receiving treatment receive the same pay as the permanent force, it being pointed out that a soldier in hospital receives only $1.10 per diem, while a permanent force man receives $1.70 per diem and allowances."

The secretary of the public utilities commission wrote to the council that the body he represented was unable to obtain a supply of hard coal and that soft coal was found to be of no use, as it was left on the hands of the commission. A committee of five, namely, J. P. French, F. B. Lavender, Chester Butler, J. A. Glennie and H. Wray were appointed to take immediate action on the matter. The trades and labor council will be asked to appoint a committee of similar size eo act in co-operation with the one already appointed.

Regarding the complaints of the nursing sisters, who claimed that they were abused on a L. and P. S. R. train by a conductor, while they were in charge of patients, Manager J. E. Richards sent a letter to the council, a copy of which was forwarded to complainants.

The secretary was instructed to write to the chamber of commerce and the prime minister of Canada, telling of the advisability of continuing the soldier settlement board in London.

E. H. Lance, secretary of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, was congratulated on the success of the camp at Port Stanley. The council was of the opinion that it should be made an annual affair on a larger scale.

Rev. Peter Bryce of the Mothers' Allowance Board, stated in a letter that consideration would be given the request for representation.

HALF OF LOAN FOR HOUSING ALLOCATED

Commission Wants Blanket Bond For Returned Soldiers From C. of C.

Loans made by the housing commission to Londoners who wish to construct homes for themselves and families, and who cannot do so on their own finances, to date amount to $189,166. There remains $190,834 under the Ontario housing act of 1919 to be allocated here, allowing a small balance to be utilized for loans to citizens whose expenses in building have exceeded the loan authorized. This was announced at a meeting of the local housing commission held last night.

The commission will request the Chamber of Commerce to turn over the blanket bond for $20,000 which the latter body authorized for surety on housing loans to returned soldiers. Applicants for loans certified by the Chamber of Commerce will then receive same until the $20,000 is exhausted, thus eliminating the necessity of issuing individual bonds to the commission by the Chamber of Commerce for each loan.

Mathew Lucas wrote to the commission stating that he could not build a suitable house within the limits of the $4,000 loan granted him, and asked that the property involved be conveyed back to him on condition that he pay all costs. The request was granted. Further accounts and communications of minor importance were passed, concluding the business of the meeting.

HODCARRIERS WILL BE IN LABOR DAY PARADE

Plans were made last night at the meeting of the local hodcarriers for the Labor Day parade and program. Between 125 and 150 of the men will turn out and help make Labor Day this year a much bigger success than in past years. They will be distinguished fr the other laborers by a huge ban bearing the number of their union a the number of men who belong to

A mass meeting will be held on market square on Saturday evening t the purpose of reorganizing the loca Dr. H. A. Stevenson, H. B. Ashplan and other men prominent in labo circles will speak.
