Feeling Address of Genera Lord Aylmer to the Members of Our Regiment

thy Successors of a Splendid st - Memorable Visit of Distinguished Guest. et me confess to you freely that ceeded my duties this evening in ucting so intricate and elaboran inspection-in testing your sent so absolutely, in trying you so thoroughly. May I tell you Because my heart is wrapt n the prosperity of the dear old as it is in few other regiments use). Years ago in the lang I became closely associated with old 24th—it was in 1881, I think. rned to know it-and to love it.

of my closest friends was its stalwart commanding officer, Colonel Barten, a man I admired, whose ary I revere, I formed friendin Chatham, in Ridgetown and resden which I shall never forse of these men have now to the land of the leal, others

it is good to know that the With is here again and that it. cessing. You have in my esfriend Colonel Rankin a commanding officer, one of the grand traditions of past (Applause). I have been ng of the golden days of the days I love to look back on. were the men of the past with night they would be the first an me in telling you that you the straining that you that you the straining that you, regiment of the your is better than it ever has been, that there is a spring, an thought, an impetus to the youth off your panks that is admirable four last movement to-night, forming on the markers and marching in with your two fine bands I have ever seen better done in the whole in military experience (Applance). One word more about your bands, for have two splendid ones, the practical of the property of the straining of the property of the straining of the property of the straining of the formed the knapses of the present the straining of the formed the knapses.

These wards formed the keynote of the brief and feeling address of Brigadier General Lord Aylmer, Inspector General of the Canadian Militia, at the conclusion of the impromptu banquet tendered to himself and Major Heward, A. D. C., at Hotel Sanita, by the officers of the 24th Regiment last evening. Lord Aylmer was evidently much moved and spoke with great feeling. The occasion was a memorable one. The distinguished visitor lad personally conducted a thorough inspection of the regiment and bands with which he was much pleased. The regiment he found was 61 overstrength and he advised the addition of two new companies with the completion of the new armories. Addressing the soldiers on return to the drill hall, Lord Aylmer paid them many kindly compliments, paying particular attention to the two fine Bresch Was Opened.

Gibraltar, June 16.—The explosion of a six-inch shell on board the British battleship Magnificent Wednesday during gun practice off Tetuan was, it now develops, due to the cartridge of the shell missing fire. On opening the breech to ascertain the cause the cartridge suddenly exploded and ignited two other cartridges lying in the case mate. All of the four officers and fourteen men injured were burned. Four of the men died yesterday morning.

Hamilton Man's Long, Unsuccessful Chase After Runaway Wife.
Cincinnati, O., June 16.—After trafling his wife from Hamilton, Ont., to Hamilton, Ohio, John Verioff, a resident of the former city, arrived in Cincinnati yesterday, but she had escaped him. He appealed to the police to aid him in his search for his better half. Verioff walked nearly all the way from Canada, starting six weeks ago. The Police Department promised to assist in the search for the woman, and several detectives where put on the case, but so far no trace of her has been found. Verioff says his wife deserted him a little over six weeks ago and came here with a former sweetheart. He says he will continue his search until he finds the guilty couple. Having no money, Verioff has been fored to tramp his way, doing old jobs for his support along the Way.

dressing the soldiers on return to the drill hall, Lord Aylmer paid them many kindly compliments, paying particular attention to the two fine bands, and predicted a bright future for the regiment.

On Adjournment the visitors were entertained by the officers at Hotel Sanita, where Manager John McColg furnished a delicious menu. Short addresses were delivered by Chaplain Rev. Rural Dean McCosh, Lord Aylmer, Colonsel Rankin, Adjutant Coltart and Capt. Black.

A pleasing feature was the presentation to Lord Aylmer, of a handsome riding crop, made from the wood at the old gunboat, by Adjit. Coltart, as a memento of the occasion. Adding to its interest Capt. Black gave an entertaining and elegant history of the gunboat and the war of 1812.

story of the tragic death of Mrs. Diamond, the young wife of Harry Diamond, who drank strychnine in a dose of salts on February 20 last at her home near Queensboro'.

The prisoner, Mrs. Susan Diamond, a little old woman with an impassive face, dressed in black, sat beside her counsel, Mr. Stewart Masson of Belleville and Mr. W. J. Moore of Madoc. Crown Attorney Anderson, at whose side was seated Inspector Murray, conducted the prosecution.

At 10 'clock Magistrate Wood took his seat and the preliminary trial proceeded.

Husband's Testimony.

Harry Diamond, husband of the deceased, was examined. On the evening of the 20th of February, his wife prepared a dose of salts for him, but he decided to take another medicine and the salts remained in the pantry ever night. In the morning his wife, not feeling very well, sald she would take the salts and did so. In a few take the saits, and did so. In a tew minutes she domplained of cramps and called for his assistance, went into convulsions, setting worse and worse even after a doctor arrived, and died in great agony in less than six hours. In great agony in less than six hours. The witness gave no opinion, only the bare facts, but stated that his wife before her death said she was afraid some one had put something in the saits. He testified, however, that his mother had often quarrelled with his wife, and had said that she did not want her in the house.

He asked his mother to go for the doctor about $3.0, but she did not go until called twice, or about len minutes later. She returned in fifteen minutes. Delyea's house, fo which she had gone was about a block away; and she left word there to have the doctor come when he same back. His mother was upstairs when the doctor was there, but no remark of sympathy or comfort was passed by the mother after the tragedy, and he did not ask her any questions.

Something Wrong.

"Why not?" asked Grown Attorney Anderson.

His mother attended the funeral, but only referred to the matter circe, the night before the first inquest, when, about bedime, she asked if he supposed that she had poisoned Minnle. She said she had not, and asked if they were going to raise the corpse. He replied that they would the next day. She was away over night and next day, he asked her where she had next flave been out in the fields all night, thinking," she had replied. She had never referred to his wife's death, the cause of it, or had expressed the slightest sympathy with him.

It was his own opinion that his wife was polisoned.

It was his own opinion that his wife was peisoned.

"Have you formed an opinion as to who administered it?" asked the Crown Attorney.

Mr. Masson objected, and Magistrate Wood refused to allow the question.

LORD AYLMER'S VISIT.

The Maple City is fortunate in en pertaining so distinguished a visitor as Brigadier General Lord Aylmer Inspector General of the Canadian Militia, who last evening conducted a thorough and interesting inspection of our 24th Regiment,

Lord Aylmer has taken occasion to kindly refer to the especial interest he takes in our Regiment and this district by reason of his former close associations with it and his cordial compliments and many friendly suggestions were sincerely appre cia ted.

Concerning Chatham the distinguished visitor was genuinely enthusiastic. He praised our civic representatives and our citizenship for the remarkable—the wonderful, I may say, progress and development your beautiful little city has experienced," Chatham, he added, was especially dear to him by reason of many friendship associations of the Lang Syne,

The visit of Lord Aylmer will always remain a pleasurable and pro fitable memory.

A Story of Disraell.

Among the stories told of Benjamia Disraeli (Lord Beaconsfield) is the following: The statesman was in love with a widow, Mrs. Lyndham Lewis. One day he went to call, the lady, sitting by the window, saw him approaching, and ordered the servant to say that she was not at home. When the maid reached the hall the statesman was hanging up his overcoat. "Mrs. Lewis, sir, is not at home," said the flurried maid. "It did not ask for Mrs. Lewis," was the salm, statesman-like reply. "But I don't know when she will be back," urged the maid, "Neither de I." philosophically replied Disraeli, "but I am going to wait till she comes back, so please make me a cup of tea." He did wait, he got his tea, and he married the widow. 7½d. iacom—Short rib quiet, 48s 6d; clea iles quiet, 41s; short clear backs steady Turpentine Spirits—Quiet, 59s. NEW YORK DAIRY MARKET. Great Expense or Labor.

Fireless cookstoves are the latest winkles in German households. They save worry, work and fuel, and will never scorch the food. They never blacken the pots, do away with all objectionable odors, are the ideal adjuncts to the picale or excursion culsine and for the nursery are declared by experts to be indispensable. These are only a few of the advantages claimed for the fireless stoves, or 'hay boxes,' as they are called in Germany. There is no great expense or labor involved in making the "hay boxes," for they are merely air tight chests lined with felt er paper and packed with hay er straw. The close fitting lid is covered with a pillow or cushion of some sort, to exclude the air. An old trunk, or even a large vallse, may be pressed into service for a "hay box." The process of using is even simpler than that of construction. Start, your vegetables or meats to cooking in the ordinary way over a fire and then transfer the pot containing the food to the box, being carefulthat the lid of the cooking utensil is not removed while the change is being made.

not removed while the change is being amply sufficient for vegetables, while reasted meats require twenty to thirty minutes. Most articles should remain tightly closed in the box for two or three hours, though they can be left there to keep hot for ten or twelve hours if necessary. Rice, dried beans, lentils, dried fruit, etc., should first be well soaked in cold water. After being allowed to boil for from two to five minutes, one or two hours in the box will prepare them thoroughly for the table.

"Cauliflower and other the first is amply sufficient for the first in th "In general," says Mr. Murphy, "it will be found that two or three min-utes of actual boiling on the fire is amply sufficient for vegetables, while will prepare them thoroughly for the table.

"Cauliflower and other soft vegetables should merely be brought to a boil and then placed for an hour or two in the box. By the old method of cooking it is necessary to boil dried beans twe and one-half to three hours. When the 'hay box' is used, boiling for five minutes will be found sufficient. This will give a clear idea of the amount of fuel saved."

The "hay box" is a great boon to working men and women who cannot spare much time at their hemes to prepare their meals. They can set their food to cooking in the fireless stoves, go about their avocations and return whenever they please to find an appetizing meal awaiting them.

A Prehistoric Cave Dwelling

A Prehistoric Cave Dwelling.

A prehistoric cave dwelling has recently been discovered near Winsnau on Lake Lucerne, in Switzerland. The entrance to this cavern has been blocked for ages by the accumulation of falling rocks and earth. Its existence being known, a party of antiquarians had the entrance passage into the cavern cleared of obstructions, and a grotto or series of caves, dating to the Stone period, was laid bare. A fine collection of stone implements, including knives, axe-heads and spears, gigantic shells rudely ornamented, evidently drinking vessels, and dishes was discovered. In one chamber of the cavern the explorers found the remains of the bones of many extinct animals; while one section of the cave, which is believed to have been the dwelling of an important family in the Stone age, had evidently served as a workshop for the stonecutters, for here were found many stones in the process of being shaped into implements.

This is the plain article. Othlength. This is the plain article. Others, also large and in the Roman shape, are enameled or composed entirely of some one kind of stone set in gold wire. The amethyst, sapphire, topaz and opal represent the usual stones for this purpose. These crosses are all worn on a plain and rather light lorguette chain of gold.

Less pronounced and appealing to quieter tastes are the small and dainty versions of this object in either the Roman or the Greek form. A favorite is in gold with a single stone in the center, as here sketched. This less ag-gressive presentment of the new ac-cessory will better act as a pendant on the deg collar, which is largely sup-planting the slender necklace that has had so phenomenal a run for the past two seasons.

The quite young and the sentimental contingent of society will rejoice in another new notion in danglers. It is ether new notion in danglers. It is straight from Paris and a very neat thing, by the way, to mention to the one who is endeavoring to discover what you'd like for Baster. This is a pendant made up of stones the initials of which spell the wearer's name. Should the name be Hope, for instance, the stones called for would be hyacinth, opal, pearl and emerald, and the longer the name the more jewels.

BEAUTIFUL TEETH.

Phey Redrem a Plain and Enhance Good Looking Face, I have often thought that regular white teeth redeem even a plain face frem absolute ugliness. They certainly endance the charm of one which is good looking. I remember going to the lecture of a well known American lady on economics. Her face was sweet, out rather sad in repose. In one in stant her mood changed. Her mouth parting in a smile, showed a flash of the most perfectly white and dazzling te the first perfectly white and dazzling teath, like rows of pearls, that I have ever seen. That instant made me realize the charm of beautiful teeth as I had never realized it before.

The way in which some chi'dren's mouths are neglected seems too bruel, for very often the neglect can never be remedied. A visit to a dentist every six months should be considered imperative and will obviate much suffer perative and will obviate much suffer-ing later. As for cleaning the teeth, the same rules should hold good for children and adults. The only really hygienic method is to clean the teeth in the morning and then after each meal, but few people will take this trouble, and one can only urge a thorough cleansing of the mouth at the morning tollet and the last thing at night. A few drops of a good antiseptic lotton should be used in a glass of warm water, and care must be taken that the tooth powder is not gritty or it will injure the enamel covering of the teeth. The toothbrush should be used up and down the teeth, not across them, an ordinary brush being used for the front and one with a very short head for the back, for penetrating into all the corners. An excellent plan to insure perfect cleanliness and to avoid the formation of tartar is once a day at least to pass a piece of fine dental silk, specially prepared for the purpose, through the interstices between the teeth, as by this means all foreign mat-ter is dislodged.—London Queen.

An English Correspondent Recalls W. E. Gladstone's Last Days.

E. Gladstone's Last Days.

Seven years ago writes an English correspondent, I was at Hawarden, where the man who had kept the soul of England alive was passing gently into rest. "His family all kneeling around the bed on which he lay in the stupor of coming death, without a struggle he ceased to breathe. Nature outside—wood and wide lawn and cloudless far-off sky—shone at her fairest." I have quoted the words in which with solemn music Mr. Morley records the death of William Ewart Gladstone. Beneath the window of the room where he lay dying I saw on the previous day a gardener with a soythe mowing the grass in the Castle garden—it was a type of that reaper whose scythe was in his hand ready to rob us of our hero.

The world had been watching round Mr. Cladstone's death her.

twas a type of that reaper whose scythe was in his hand ready to rob us of our hero.

The world had been watching round Mr. Gladstone's deathbed, and surely never was the majesty of death illumined with nobler pathos. The little village hummed with the advent of strangers eager to chronicle the smallest events of the moment, but all was still and dignified within the home of the dying statesman. Six days before the end, Lord Rosebery and Mr. Morter hee end, Lord Rosebery and Mr. Morter had taken their last farewell of their leader and friend "in the large upper chamber looking to the sunrising where the aged pligrim lay," Youth, happily only partially conscious of its coming loss, in the person of sweet little Dorothy Drew, reminded us of the Grand Old Man's own heart of childlike faith. The last time I had seen Mr. Gladstone, his little grand-daughter was by his side; now she was losing her best playmate, and the world its most strenuous fighter, and the two were one.

After this lapse of time I think I may reveal the authorship of one of the most touching articles which appeared during Mr. Gladstone's illness, it gave the invalid and his family much satisfaction when they learned who had written it. The article was published in the "Outlook," and was founded on the message which Mr. Gladstone had uttered as he was leaving Bournemouth on his way home to die: "God bless you and this place and the land you love," was the benediction which gave the theme to the "Outlook" article. Mr. George Wyndham wrote the article, and a finer plece of unaffected eulogy of a great man I do not wish to read. Coming from the pen of one who was on the opposite side of politics it was all the more generous.

I had seen Hawarden twice before, and had had the privilege of entering

I had seen Hawarden twice before, and had had the privilege of entering several of the rooms where Mr. Gladstone's active spirit seemed still pervading the Castle. I had seen over his bed a little illuminated text which gave the keynote to his sublime quietness in the midst of the wild of several seems. ness in the midst of the whirl of poli-ties: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee," But on that last day of his life there was a beauty about Hawarden which was in keeping with the solemn event. was in keeping with the solemn event. The wooded grounds recalled the sturdy exercise he loved so much, the church, to which the beaten path through the park had often led Mr. Cladstone in early dawn, the library, where the old scholar had stored for others the gleanings of a lifetime, the Boys' Home nestling close to the Castle—all-spoke of the man who, though of world-wide fame, was most at home in Hawarden.

of world-wide fame, was most at home in Hawarden.

Our King, as ever, was sympathetic at this moment of sorrow, and telegraphed to Mr. Henry Gladstone: "My thoughts are with you, your mother, and your family at this trying time you are experiencing. God grant that your father does not suffer." The hope was granted, for on the morn of Ascension Day very peacefully passed William Ewart Gladstone to his eternal rest.

Pursued by Sharks.

The master of the Newfoundland schooner Kandahar, who, with his crew, was landed at Liverpool the other day, told a thrilling story of escape from the perils of the sea.

The Kandahar left St. John for Opports with a carrier of codies on Monthland from the perils of the sea.

The Kandahar left St. John for Oporto with a carge of codfish on March 9. Five days later a furious gale was emountered. Rudder and masis were carried away, and the stern of the vessel was seriously damaged.

For two days the ship, now a helpless hulk, was swept before the hurricane, and a great part of the cargo was washed overbeard. This attracted a large school of sharks of immense length and insatiable voracity.

Oil was poured over the ship's side, and this, declares the captain, had a marvelous effect in stilling the raging waters, though "mountainous billows" rolled beyond its sphere of influence.

At length the German steamer Manheim was sighted, and, in response to flares made with a burning barrel, a life-boat was sent to the assistance of the distressed sailors.

"We got into the boat," said the captain, "with the utmost difficulty, for we were universed by the consciousness that a sheal of hungry sharks haunted the waters, waiting for possible human prey."

The shipwrecked crew were subse-prey."

The shipwrecked crew were subsequently landed at Rotterdam, whence they journeyed to Liverpool. They speak in the highest terms of the kindness shown to them on board the Manheim.

Japan's New Island.
Will Japan's new Island that appeared recently from the depths of the sea endure? Scientists have been asking this question. Graham Island popped up in much the same way in the Mediterranean sea in 1831 and was at once decorated with an English flag. But the action of the waves demolished the Island in a short time. On the other hand, the Island of Bogosloff, in the Bering sea, appeared with equal suddenness in 1795 and, together with a second Island formed in 1883, has stood the test of time to the present day. Dusters.

Dusters have an irritating faculty of wearing out rapidly or of getting lost. An abundance of clean dusters be-comes an essential feature if the house is to be kept spick and span. Those who can afford to buy plenty of large pieces of chamois skins are fortunate but even chamois skins wear out, and comparatively few can afford to indulge in them. Merino makes the very best dusters. These should be made as large as practicable, and for many purposes they are even better than chamois skins. A couple of such pieces made into bags can be drawn over the broom, making an excellent means for cleaning the cellings and walls of rooms. Many "wall sweepers" are sold Suffered Great Agony. Could Not Stoop or Bend.

No disease is so quiet and stealthy in its approach as kidney disease. That is why it is so dangerous. It may become deep-seated before you realize the danger. It is therefore of great importance to recognize the early warning symptoms, because in its early stage kidney disease is easily curable. Pain or dull ache in the back is one of the first signs. So are bladder pains, bearing-down pains, smarting sensation when urinating, frequent or suppressed urination, and gravel or sediment in the urine, etc. You cannot be well if your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. In all erdinary cases of any derangement of the kidneys, a few doses of DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Mr. Michael A. McInnis, Woodbine, Marion Bridge, N.S., tells of his experience: "For the last three years I suffered great agony with pain across my kidneys, and was so bad that I could not stoop or bend. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but I got none the better. On the advice of a friend I procured a box of that valuable lifegiving remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, and on y surprise and benefit I immediately became better. #### DRAW GAME

The Chatham cricket club journeyed to Detroit restends to play the D. A. C. cricketers, The game resulted in a draw, Detroit declared their innings closed at 100 runs for eight wickets. Chatham had only about an hour to bat and, recognized the inclusioness of trying to win sight wickets. Chatham had only about an hour to bat and, recognizing the uselessness of trying to win in that time played for a draw. At five o'clock, which was the time agreed upon to draw, stumps, eight wickets had fallen for 44 runs. The game was a most unsatisfactory one in several ways. A baseball game was scheduled to be played on the grounds at five p. m. so stumps had to be drawn early, and, as play did not start until nearly moon, there was only about four bours actual play. An unfortunate controversy arose through a decision of the Detroit umpire, who took exception to Aitken's bowling and "noballed" his fast ones. Furthermore, the D. A. C. elated by the small scoring for Chatham wanted to disragard the time limit and change the draw into a probable victory for themselves. This Chatham, most the draw into a probable victory for themselves. This Chatham, most properly, objected to. D. A. C.

7TH CON, DOVER.

The crops in this section are looking sine, and the farmers are greatly encouraged by the prospects of a good harvest. Quite a number of the members of Court Pride of Dover, No. 8765, A. O. F., attended service at Holy Trinty Church, Chatham, last Sunday evening with Court Hope of Ontario, No. 6244, and Court Unity, No. 6500, on the occasion of their annual church service, and listened to an excellent fraternal sermon. The record, F. W. Hodgins, in his discourse, "hewed to the line and let the chips fall where they may."

Thesday evening, June 6th, was quarter night with Court Pride, and by invitation 22 attended from the Chatham Courts, and the business being put through, the social part came on, pipes and tobacco were served by Geo. Kreiger, in charge of the "fragrant weed" department, progressive euchre was indulged in, for which prizes were given, P. Conroy taking 1st prize, a beautiful briar pipe, while Jas. E. Payue took 2nd prize, a tobacco pouch. The Chatham boys played well but failed to land any prizes. The drive through the storm, it is said, somewhat weakened their nerves. Better luck next time, boys. W. J. Roy was elected delegate to the High Court meeting in August, while Andrew Brown was elected alternate. Refreshments in abundance were served to the brothers, ample justice being done to the edibles.

One of Court Pride's members takes unto himself a wife to-day, Wednesday.

THE ROYAL WEDDING

Marriage of Princess Margaret of Cennaught to Swedish Prince.

Windsor, Eng., June 18.—Windsor was in holiday attire yesterday for the wedding of Princess Margaret of Connaught, eldest daughter of the Duke of Connaught, to Prince Gustavus Adolphus, eldest son of Crown Prince Gustavus of Sweden, all the atrangements for which were made under the personal direction of King Edward. St. George's Chapel was a biaze of uniforms and decorations, and ladies in full court dress, with coronets and tiaras, and wearing many jewels.

As Elgar's 'Imperial March' was played on the organ, the bride, on the arm of her father, passed from the castle to the chapel. The Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishop of Oxford and others, read the simple service of the Church of England.

After the ceremony the members of the Royal families returned to the castle, where luncheon was served.

Law, But United Once More.

Montreal, June 16.—On June 26, 1903, a marriage was solemnized at the St. Henri Methodist Church by Rev. G. G. Huxtable, between Miss
Eva M. Harris, daughter of the late Samuel Harris of Mentreal, and Orrein Wood Dunbar Sutheriand, son of Mrs. W. D. Sutherland of Sherbrooke street. This marriage, which was a love match, took place with the consent of the bride's mother, but without that of Mrs. Sutherland, who was away from Montreal at the time. The contracting parties were both minors, and an annullment was granted on the application of Mrs. Sutherland on the married without her consent.
Befere the legal proceedings came to an end a child had been born. Miss Harris went to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Horsefall of Lachine, and Sutherland went west until he attained his majority a short time ago. On Monday last he and his bride were again married by the Rev. W.
S. Barnes.

FLED PENNILESS.

Willeughby Middleten Was Unable to Fleat Bogus Bonds

New York, June 16.—Willoughby Middleton, whose schemes for the manipulation of White-Plains real estate were calculated to produce $1.000,000, fied almost penniless. This fact was developed, yesterday when those investigating his affairs learned that he had not jet got his hands on the money he was after. His bends, so far as could be learned, were never floated. They were worthless paper now.

It is asserted that he had laid all the plans for a gigantic swindle. Werming himself into the Presidency of the New York Realty Company, he used his position to lay an underground scheme, and then, when his plans were repudiated, he told financiers that he would organize other companies.

The Waterways Commission.

Torente, June 16.—After a two days' session at the King Edward the international Waterways Commission finished with the business in hand yesterday. The diversion of the waters of the Rainy River by the Minnesota Canal and Power Co. will be referred to the committee of jurisdittion to learn if the commission have power to deal with it. On July 11 they will hear the Montreal City Council's protest against the lowering of the waters of the St. Lawrence. They also decided that a dam should be built at the foot of Lake Eric. of Lake Eric.

" WHERE HEALTH AND PLEASURE WAIT,"

This is the title of "Four Track Series" No. 2, and while it is only one of the many interesting folders issued by the New York Central Railroad, it reads so much like an invitation to the hundreds of places where health and pleasure wait, that everyone who receives a copy will want to accept. it.

The folder is instended to give an idea of those charming places, and that is the reason why it contains so many illustrations of lake mountain and see resonts that are easily reached, each beautiful in its way, and where everybody would like to go if he could.

Those who intend to spend the summer in the country, or are thinking of making a short trip for pleasure will find this folder of much assistance in deciding where to go.

A copy will be sent free to any address an receipt of a 2-cent stamp by George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, Grand Central Station, New York.

CHARMING MUSICALE

The second of the closing piano recitals was given last evening at the Ursuline Academy by the junior

The second of the closing piano recitals was given last evening at the Ursuline Academy by the junior music pupils, and was a most interesting and gleasant affair. The music hall was prettily draped in white and blue, and with a profusion of lovely plants and sweet, fragrant flowers. The fair, innocent faces of the youthful entertainers, enhanced by their charming gowns and floral adoraments, made more than usually attractive the beauty of the scene. The opening march for two planos was a happily chosen number, and well measured tempo by the Misses Florence Bartley, Vena Gosnell, Rose Deloge and Emms Ouellette.

In the second number, Miss Marion Thomas delighted the andience by her tasteful expressive rendering of the Meyer Helmand "Arabesque." Miss Helen McVean merated high commendation for her brilliant execution of bovely harry maidems, white rubed and flower-bedecked, trapped lightly on to the stage, and their sweet, angelic volces mingled in a delightful song. At the conclusion they were greeted with a storm of applause, in response to which they returned and sang another lovely song.

The piano selection of Miss Zita Deloge was played in a bright, graceful manner; and the "Frager" from Lohengrin was executed with remarkable sympathy of expression by Miss Hazel Joli. "Forgotten," acharming voocal number, was beautifully rendered by Miss Clive Mather, whose sweet, lovely voice is, fast growing. In favor with the friends of the Pines who are privileged to hear her. Her accompaniment was skilfully played by Miss Edith Hall.

The pano solos which followed by Miss Ena Pleasence, Blanche Donovan and Minette Baby were played with remarkable taste and expression, and discovered unusual talent in these three bright little maidens, "Encore Valse" was one of the most delightful numbers on the program. The effective grouping of the fair young performers, the beauty of their instrument, and the charm of their music, united to produce a lovely and artistic effect. The following young talees took part: Volins, Aggela Cra World's Longest Tunnel.

The Simplon is the longest tunnel in the world and has been finished in the face of tremendous difficulties, most of which were entirely unexpected and many of which presented new problems for engineers, says Deshler Welch in the June Century. It extends from Brieg, in Switzerland, to Iselle, in Italy, the total length being a little over twelve and one-fourth miles—21,576 yards, in fact. In comparison with other great tunnels the following table will be interesting:

Sun Spot Heat and Vegetation.

Camille Flammarion writes on the influence of sun spots on spring vegetation. For the last twenty years he has noticed the date on which the chestnut trees in the Avenue de l'Observatoire have leaved and bloomed. From these records he shows that there is a remarkable correlation between the sun spots and vegetation, tending to show that the sun throws out more heat when the spots reach their maximum, thus confirming Abbe Moreaux's theory that the spots indicate the period of the greatest solar activity. Abbe Moreaux writes on the comparatively long duration of the next solar celipse, on August 30, which will be especially noticeable in Canada. Sun Spot Heat and Vegetation.

WOMEN'S NEGLECT

SUFFERINGTHESUREPENALTY

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel ar from well. The cause may be easily far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, pervousness, sleeplessness, leucorrhoea.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Evidently you are a volunteer," he said easily. "You don't have to play the game like that. Those guns of mine are only loaded with blanks."

The girl laughed scornfully.

"But you dropped those poor men out of the saddle," she said meaningly.

"You throw those guns down or I'll fill you full of buckshot."

With a laugh, he tossed the pistols into the road. The girl rode up and with the rope at her saddle bow bound his hands together, bringing the arms down. Then, dismounting, she utilized the rest of the rope to bind his feet to gether under the horse's body.

"Look here," said Phillips uneasily "It means the game's up." she an-

"Who do you mistake me for?" he asked anxiously. "There is no reward

"I saw the report of your holdung six weeks ago. Then came the offer of reward and your description, and now I just saw you tumble three deputies into the road. I watched a chance to get in behind you. What did you stor so suddenly for?"

After that Phillips was silent until they came in sight of a small shack, in the deorway of which stood a blue clad figure. This he found was the sister, and after he had dismounted (with a pistol inconveniently near his ear) she it was who led the horses to the stable, while the other took him inside and tied while the other took him inside and tied his legs to a chair.

They would not untie his hands even while he ate, and painstakingly his cap-tor, whom her sister called Grace, cut up his meat and fed him. As soon as the meal was over fresh horses were brought around, and they began their Toward dusk they were overtaken by a horseman, and with a shout of joy Phillips hailed the sheriff of Tulpas county. In a few words the Chicagoan explained what had happened, and the sheriff turned, only to look into the barrels of the shotgun which Grace still carried.

"I've got two of you!" she cried 'Put up your hands!" His hands shot up like a well trained plainsman's should when he is cornered, and presently there were two

At 10 o'clock that night the sheriff of Tulpas county and the picture man were led up to the plazza of Red Larkin's hofel in Tulpas City, to the keen delight of the loungers. Explanations and assurances followed quickly, and the girl who had arrested the sheriff and the Chicagoan promptly forgot her bravery and wept most feminine tears. Phillips escorted her back to the ranch in the morning and incidentally to get his own horse back; but, though he rode his own animal back to fown, he found it necessary to make several more trips, which resulted in his tak-ing Grace with him when he went back to Chicago. The sheriff is to mar-ry the sister in the spring and run the farm for her. His official position has lost its charm for him since he was ost its charm for him since he was held up by a woman.

Seventeenth Century Pedantry. A crushing weight upon science and literature in the seventeenth century was the dominant pedantry. The great thing was to write commentaries upon old thought and diligently to suppress new thought. The only language of learned lectures was a debased Latin. During the seventeenth century pedan-try became a disease in every country. In England a pedant sat on the throne, and Walter Scott has mirrored his spirit in the "Fortunes of Nigel." In Italy and Spain the same tendency prevailed. The world now looks back upon it sometimes with abhorrence, sometimes with ridicule, as pictured in both countries by Manzoni in the "Promessi Sposi." In the American colonies it injured all thinkers, and two of the greatest, the Mathers, it crippled. In France there was resistance. Montaigne had undermined it, and it was taigne had undermined it, and it was the constant theme of the brightest wit, Labruyere presented it in some of his most admirably drawn pictures. Moliere, who had occasion to know and hate it, held it up to lasting ridicule in the "Mariage Force."—Professor Andrew D. White in Atlantic.

Wipe Your Eyeglasses A well known oculist said recently: "Can't girls be persuaded to take better care of their glasses? I have many college girls coming to me. LIVED TEN LIVES

Strange Case of London Girl From Age to Childhood Puzzles English Medical Profession,

The astonishing case of a girl pos sessing ten separate and distinct personalities within twenty months is be ing much discussed in British medical circles. The girl was a patient of Dr. Albert Wilson, and so remarkable was the case that Dr. Wilson laid it before the committee of the Medico-Psychological Association, many of the members of which bedware were a first system. bers of which body were at first skeppers of which body were at first skep-tical. They finally agreed that the manifestations undoubtedly were gen-uine, but they were unable to offer any explanation. Then Dr. Wilson report-ed the case to the Psychical Research Society, which has published it in the

BROKEN SLEEP - TIRED NEXT MORNING.

MORNING.

Sleep not only rests, but builds up the body. Out down the hours of sleep, and you out down health in the same proportion. Rebuilding then ceases, nerves go to smash, you grow tired, weak and wretched.

To restore sleep you must get more bodily strength, more nutritious blood, healthier nerves. Ferrozone solves the whole problem, makes you sleep soundly, given endurance, vim, ambition. No more morning weakness—instead the fire of youth will run in your veins, supplying abundance of energy and vigor. Witchery expresses the instant effect of Ferrozone; try it.

Won't Coerce Nerway.

Stockheim, June 15.—The attitude of the laboring classes is likely to prove a potent factor in overcoming any possible disposition on the part of a section of the Riksdag to suggest the adoption of the Riksdag to tion of coercive measures towards Nor-way accepting the dissolution of the union. Swedish labor unions are daily telegraphing to Norwegian unions, saying they will refuse to take up arms, and the Social Democratic party has issued a proclamation saying the workingmen would go on strike over the whole country.

A puny child is atways an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsione, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach needs. ## A BLUESTONE ROMANCE

HASTINGS CO. MADE FAMOUS BY THE PRINCESS OF WALES.

How Her Royal Highness Came to Figure in Geology—Marble Sodolite and Statuary Marble of Bancroft Town-ship Add One More to the World's Luxuries—The Economic Side.

Wes, I mean what I say shout Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," says Henry A. Coles of St. Mary's River, Guysboro Co., N. S., in a recent interview. "I had atomach trouble for about five years. It got so bad I was taken to my bed and the doctor was called in, He couldn't reach the trouble however and I was suffering very bad, and not knowing what to do when my wife said. Let us try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

"Well, we tried them, and the result was that I used seven boxes and the stomach trouble left and has not troubled me since. Do you wonder I recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets?"

If you can't digest your food don't if the remaining the stome to the World's Luxuries—The Economic Side.

Little Bancroft village, up by the rock-bullt little York River in Bancroft Township, County of Hastings, has given birth to a geological romance. The chief figure in this interesting epicalism of the philosopher's stohe, is a certain preclous blue stone called sodelite, with at least three kinds

The chief figure in this interesting episode is the Princess of Wales. The other leading characters are Messra. Charles. Allom and John Duveen, of London, and Mr. Thomas Morrison, of Aberdeen. The kernel of the romance, almost after the fashion of the philosopher's stone, is a certain precious blue stone called sodelite, with at least three kinds of marble.

From these curieus conjunctions it happens that at present three miles from the village of Bancroft there are strange new quarries, with horses and men at work clearing off the land, in and about the village £1,500 has been spent in a few months, and to Toronte at the end of last week came two English gentlemen, bubbling ever with a tale of adventure that promises to create a new industry in Canada, says The News.

create a new industry in Canada, says
The News.
The two gentlemen were Messrs.
Allom and Duveen. Mr. Allom is the active partner in the well-known firm of White & Allom, of London, the leading decorators in the British Empire.
Mr. John Duveen is the leading member of the celebrated firm of Duveen Brothers, London and New York, known to the Angle-Sayan world as the leadto the Anglo-Saxon world as the lead-ing high art dealers in the British Em-ing high art dealers in the British Em-pire.

Wour days ago these gentlemen were pounding roughshod over the granite hills and the knee-deep marshes of Bancreft Township. Five nights ago with Mr. Morrison, their geologist, and the picturesque old settler, Gaebel, who lives all alone in the hills, they were-rambling under a moonless aky with a farmer's lantern in a last search for a mountain of white marble. They a farmer's lantern in a last search for a mountain of white marble. They found it before daylight. Consequently Mr. Allom telegraphed to cancel his berth on the S. S. Philadelphia, missed his train out of Bancroft, and almost by accident dropped off at Toronto for a few hours, where these interesting ex-players, were interviewed.

few hours, where these interesting explorers were interviewed.

On a table lay several bits of blue, white and green rock. Mr. Allom picked up a dark blue chip and held it up to the light.

"We shall call it the Royal Victoria lapis lazula," he said. "So far as is known, there is no other deposit in the world just like it. It came from the Township of Bancroft, not far from Madoc. That stuff will polish like a diamond. Pay a visit to Mr. Pierpont Morgan soon and you shall see a border of it round his new library. At Mariborough House you shall see it. As for ornaments, beautiful buttons, umbrells handles, and all such, it is simply a pew sensation.

"The Princess will simply be delight-"The Princess will simply be delighted when she sees sur lox of specimen," added Mr. Allom, "Yes; we have christened our quarry the Princess Quarry and our company the Princess Quarry Co."
"The story dates back to the time when the Princess, then the Duchess of Cornwall and Yerk, visited Canada. While in Montreal, Mr. Reid there pre While in Montreal, Mr. Reid there presented her with about thirty beautiful-

While in Montreal, Mr. Reid there presented her with about thirty beautifully polished stones—blue, green and white. They had been got by Mr. Willmot, the Dominion geologist, and polished by him. Two years ago the Princess sent for me, as I had been doing the decorations of Mariborough House. Mr. Allom, she said. If these stones came from Hastings County, in Ontario, why cannot more be found like Agr. Allom, she said. If these stones came from Hastings County, in Ontario, why cannot more be found like them? Why cannot a new Canadian industry be established, employing skilled Canadian labor polishing these stones for England?"

It now began to be evident what the Princess of Wales had to do with this romance. Just another case of womanly intuition getting shead of science, even in a commercial proposition. For the best part of a century the blue and white recks in Hastings county have been dotted with settlers. They raised cattle that browsed and grazed on the sodolite. And one day, according to legend, thirteen years ago, a settler's cow slipped on a rock. The hoef left a long blue mark in the light soil. Afterwards a geologist studied the formation, and for a little while the settlers talked about it. But it was neither gold not diamonds, and the nine days wonder ceased. Certainly it would not have been revived but for the ther salked about it. But it was netter gold not diamonds, and the nime days wonder ceased. Certainly it would not have been revived but for the practical intuition of the Princess.

"The upshot of it was," continued Mr, Allom, "that the Princess handed the whole collection over to me to expioit. Four months afterwards I met Mr. Thomas Morrison, a quarrying expert of Aberdeen, who had done contracts for me. 'Morrison,' I said, showing him a bit of that common white marble, 'what do you think of that." "He looked at it hard. 'Let me have that,' he said. He pocketed it. Shortly afterward he came to me with a proposal to go to Canada. I want to discover that white marble formation,' he said. 'There's building material in that. Find enough of it, and we can oust the quarries of Beigium.

"Pity we couldn't oust the quarries of Carrara, too,' said I. 'That means to find statuary marble.

"However, not to be prolix, Morrison came out here in the beginning of last year at my expense. He went up to the village of Bancroft, hired a room at the Bancroft House, and started on his plignings over the rocks in that wild country, saying. Ittile but thinking much; chipping off specimens of bige should be stone; saving them up. Between Toronto, Ottawa and Bancroft he put in eight months, consulting here with Mr. Chadwick, our solicitor, in Ottawa with the Geological Department. He returned to England with a report, and his specimens. Mr. Duveen, his brother, and mysif, got together.

"We sent Morrison out again last Marck, with his wife. They wont up to Bancroft. In three weeks after that arrival they built a house right on the edge of a quarry, and moved inte the bedoe it was done. Mr. Morrison bought properties and got options as more. Some of the farmers were disposed to hang on. Old man Gaebel sold us 600 acres, and encouraged other men to sell out also, In a short while Mr. Morrison was able to ge shead. He bought horses and hired men; built a blacksmith shop and started in to do some quarrying."

But the most absorbing episode in the narrative, aside from the discovery of the marvelous mountain of blue sodolite, was the story of how these gentlemen discovered the hill of white marble, isolated bits of which had already been located by Mr. Morrison. Mr. Allom had already booked his passage back to England, but determined to have one more quest for white marble. They might even yet find the statuary marble deposits that would sidetrack the quarries of Carrara in Italy, the only known source of the world's statuary marble.

Only one night remained. They took it. The three men with old man Gaebel as a guide started out. This was last Wednesday night, with not the glint of a moonbeam and the weirdest tramp sver taken by the old settler, whe had been on those hills forty years. And after they had tramped till long past midnight they located a continuous ridge of white marble, returning with tired legs and great joy to the Gaebel homestead.

The next day they made further expirations. The result was that for the first time in the history of the world they discovered signs that down beneath the white building marble of the surface lay a huge deposit of the finest statuary marble, as good as any in the quarries of Carrara. Leaving Mr. Morrison to look after the claim, Messrs. Allom and Duveen came on to Toronte to confer with their solicitors. "Now," concluded Mr. Allom, after he had displayed pieces of sea-green marble and a plece of amethyst all from Bancroft, "what does this discovery of white statuary marble mean? It means that whereas now sculptors have to par 24 a cuble foot for Carrara marble, they can get it from Canada for one author that smore statuary polish and design these stone right in Canada, employing Canadian labor, and we ploying Canadian labor, and we shall ship not only abroad, but to the United States, if the duty does not prevent us. As for the white and green building marble, that can be quarried cheap in paying quantities, although, of course, labor is dearer here than in Belgium. The only other sources of the ordinary granite sodolite are Bulgaria and a ridge in the north of Maine. We have water power on our properties, but we have already negotiated in Toronto for steam engines which will be shipped at once. We shall both of us be back in August to go over the property again."

And se ended the rambling, romantic story of how the Princess of Wales initiated by her womanly intuition what promises to develop into one of the most distinctive and world-renowned industries of this colony, as well as a further link in the chain of Imperialism.

The Estimen Fisheries.

With the exception of the Puget Sound region, all salmon fisheries outside of Alaska had a prosperous season in 1904, handsome gains having been made on the Columbia River and the salmon streams of Washington, Oregon and California. This is quite contrary to the outlook about the middle of the summer, but the later runs were profuse, and packing was continued for a longer period than usual. The Puget Sound canneries suffered severely, meeting a loss from last year of nearly 50 per cent. The product of the several regions was as follows:

The total value of the Alaskan output, at the figures furnished by the packers in all cases but one, was $7,-725,782. The figures show a loss of $2,-53,833 from the aggregate market value of the pack for 1903.

The aggregate number of salmon of all varieties taken was 25,025,841, against 34,615,813 in 1903. The total number of hands employed was 12,-547, made up of 5,645 whites, 2,002 natives, 3,629 Chinese, and 1,721 Japanese. The introduction of Japanese labor was practically new last year, and was rendered necessary by the dimiculty in procuring Chinamen to man the canneries. A considerable number of Filippines and Porto Ricans were also employed in work heretofore done employed in work heretofore done

Has a Queen of the May.

British Columbia is the one part of the British Empire in which the old English custom of dancing round the May Pole is kept up. The only departure made in British Columbia is in the change of date. In England May Day used to be the one chosen for the fete; at Vancouver the festivities are generally put off till about the middle of the month.

For over forty years New Westminster has kept up the pretty custom. This year it took place on May 14. The Queen of the May was chosen a day or two before. She and the ex-Queen were the two principal figures among hundreds of gally dressed children. She rules the Royal City for one day. The program was as follows:

About 1 p. m. a procession was formed down town, at the head of which were two carriages, one containing the Queen of May and the other the ex-Queen. The former had her maids of honor and the latter a retinue. Escorted by the city band and a military guard, the Queen's Park, where the crowning took place, followed by the May Pole Ganes and children's games. In the evening a hall was held in the Dominion Fair buildings, at which the girls of the two royal partles were the relaming belies.

Carlyle on Right and Wrong. Carlyle maintained that a strain of sentiment about criminals was very prevalent in his day, which tended seriously to obliterate or diminish the real difference between right and wrong. He hated with an intense hatred that whole system of philosophy which de nied that there was a deep, essential fundamental difference between right and wrong and turned the whole matter into a mere calculation of interests. He was accustomed to say that one of the chief merits of Christianity was that it taught that right and wrong were as far apart as heaven and hell and that no greater calamity can befall a nation than a weakening of the righteous hatred of evil.

WASHINGTON SELECTED

The Spot Where the Peace Conference Will Be Held.

Plenipotentiaries to Meet In August Probably-Pressing Japan to Name Smallest Possible Indomnity in Cash -Japan's Demand Are Believed to Be Reasonable - Will Meet Russia More Than Half Way.

More Than Haif Way.

Washington, June 15.—Washington has been selected as the place where the peace plentpotentiaries shall meet. The announcement came in the form of an official statement issued by Secretary Loeb by direction of the President. The statement follows:

"When the two Governments were unable to agree upon either Chefoo or Paris, the President suggested The Hague, but both Governments have new requested that Washington be chosen as the place of meeting, and the President has accordingly formally notified both Governments that Washington will be so selected."

Meeting Likely in August. It is expected that within a few days at most Russia and Japan will announce formally the names of their respective plenipotentiaries. It is deemed likely as coincidentally with the announcement of the plenipotentiaries an agreement will be reached as to the time of holding the conference. It is indicated, however, that the proposed conference is acarcely likely to be convened before the middle of August.

Pressure is being brought to bear upon Japan to induce her to fix the sum which she will determine as an indemnity for the pending war at as low a figure in cash as is possible under the circumstances.

eventually prove successful. This is based primarily on the belief that Japan will meet Russia more than half way, making unexpectedly reasonable demands. Certain intimations have been received here that Japan's terms are substantially as follows:—

(1) The recognition of the Japanese been over-estimated, and it is said that its ultimate disposal will not give rise to any controversy.

(5) It is not thought that Japan will demand the demoliton of the fortifications at Vladivostock.

(6) The surrender of the Island of Sakhalin will not be demanded by Japan, principally because Japan has not yet carried the war into Russian territory.

(7) An imderstanding regarding an indemnity is not impossible, because it is declared Japan will content herself with demanding the cost of the war. The Japanese Minister here in an interview said that if Russia honestly desired peace she could have it.

The boais may carry cargoes and passengers from Canada to Cuba, cargoes and passengers both ways between Mexico and Canada, but on northbound trips no freight may be taken from Cuba to Canada.

Montreal, June 16.—The Elder-Dempster Line declares that the draft contract for the service between Canada and Mexico has been forwarded to Liverpool. The first steamer will start on the 26th inst., but will not go beyond Cuba until the contract has been executed.

PARIS IS UNEASY.

Moroccan Conference Difficulties Have Depressing Influence.

Paris, June 16.—Much uneasiness prevails in official quarters here concerning the Franco-German situation growing out-of the Moroccan question, and the continued Cabinet crisis resulting from M. Delcasse's retirement from the Foreign Office. Although the conferences between Premier Rouvier and Prince Radolin, the German ambassador, continue, they have not yet brought the satisfactory results that the officials anticipated.

Austria and Italy have notified the Moorish Government that they are prepared to accept the Sultan's invitation to an international conference on Morocco, provided the invitation is accepted by the Powers immediately concerned.

mext Thursday, and that the House will prorogue about the 10th or 15th of July.

Hon. Mr. Fielding will announce the appointment of a tariff commission to consist probably of Mr. Paterson, Mr Brodeur and himself. Mr. Brodeur will take the place of Sir Richard Cartwright.

The discussion on the Autonomy Hills has been postponed until Monday next.

Cannot Enforce Award.

Claude Macdonell (South Toronto), called the attention of the House to the trouble existing between the Grand Trunk Railway and its telegraphers. Some time had elapsed since the award was made in the dispute between the company and its workers, but the award was not accepted by the Grand Trunk At the present time negotiations were going on between the two parties.

Mr. Maclean asked if the law in the matter could not be made effective.

Mr. Emmerson admitted the act was not enforcible by any process of the courts. The only force was a moral one through the operation of public opinion. Mr. Emmerson admitted that all the law could secure was an inquiry which would bring out the facts.

Government and Laber.

Mr. Foster brought up the grievance of the Toronte district laber council regarding the alien labor law. The council asked that the law be made more effective. Mr. Foster declared it was alleged that a man named Leopeld had an office in the same building where Mr. Preston was located. It was stated that the law be made more effective.
