WILL MOVE TO SELL PROPERTY

Ald. McEwen Will Have Report at Council on Monday.

At the City Council on Monday evening Ald. McEwen, chairman of the Buildings and Grounds committee will move a resolution asking the permission of the Council for the sale of the city property on Darling street.

Some interesting official statistics have just been published in France by the Board of Trade showing the relative size of families in connection with various professions and industries. As is the case in every other country, the poor have the most numerous families.

GRAND RIVER ON RAMPAGE-- WATER RISING VERY RAPIDLY

No Gas Throughout City--Water Broke Main on Cockshutt's Bridge This Morning--Factories in Holmedale Closed--Civic Authorities Anxious as to Outcome--The Situation at Galt.

The Grand River is doing its worst to-day. Shortly before 11 o'clock this morning the high water at the Cockshutt bridge broke the big main which is the main supply to the city.

The water rose two feet this morning between the hours of 4 and 6. After 9 o'clock there was a rise of two inches.

The mills in the Holmedale are shut down and the water is within 15 feet of the Waterworks pumping plant.

The river is rushing down over the local tract of land near the Cockshutt bridge, and this was where the gas main was broken.

Mayor Hartman did not think the water had reached the same height as last year, and while anxious was not alarmed at the situation. A lot depends on what happens at Galt, in the way of preparing for eventualities.

The Situation at Galt at Noon

GALT, Ont., March 15—Water backing up from the still raging Grand River, meeting at its confluence the flood waters of the Speed, has caused several streets in Preston to be inundated and boats have been brought into service to remove residents from some of the houses.

REORGANIZE ASSESSMENT

There will be no report of the finance committee at the City Council meeting Monday night on the proposed re-organization of the assessment, although the matter will be gone into thoroughly before the next Council meeting and a report brought in.

BORDEN WINS OUT TO-DAY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

His Objection to Liberal Amendments Sustained and Government Majority in Each Instance Remains the Same.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 15.—At 4 a.m. the chairman ruled that the objection of Mr. Borden that the amendment and sub-amendment to clause two of the navy bill were out of order was well taken, because the amendments changed the destination of the contribution.

King and Queen Drive Through London To-Day Before Populace

NEW YORK, March 15.—A London cable says: Hundreds of thousands of Londoners have an opportunity to welcome the King and Queen as they pass through the East End to-day on their way to the formal opening of one of the engineering wonders of the world, the Metropolitan Water Board's new two and a half million dollar reservoir at Chingford.

THE PROBS

TORONTO, March 15.—The disturbance is now centered over Lake Huron. It has been accompanied by mild, showery weather from the lake region to the Maritime Provinces, with thunderstorms in many parts of Ontario during the night.

Special precautions will be taken against suffragettes and only persons holding official cards of invitation will be admitted to the reservoir for the opening ceremony.

TRUSTEES MEET AT COLLEGIATE

But There Was no Suggestions Made to Get After the Principal.

At the meeting of the Collegiate Board last night, Principal Burt had a statement to make, completely refuting insinuations given out in a local paper this week but the board, which met in camera, after regular business, held it was not necessary for him to submit any such statement.

Explanation

The break in the gas main across the Cockshutt Bridge has put this paper to very serious inconvenience to-day, as the linotype machines are run by that commodity.

CLOSURE IS SURE COMING

Announcement of the Government Policy Made in the House.

Country is Getting Tired of Tactics of the Obstructionists.

Ottawa, Saturday, March 15.—The climax of the two weeks' obstruction of the Naval Aid Bill was reached early this morning, when the Government suddenly announced to the Committee of the Whole that the existing rules would hereafter be enforced, and if found inadequate for the passage of the bill, new rules would be introduced.

The announcement made by Hon. Robert Rogers was immediately followed by the application of the relevancy rule requiring a speaker to speak to the clause under consideration. It was applied against a speech by Hon. Frank Oliver to the effect that the Government proposal involved not a gift or a loan but a loan in the politics of Canada and the United Kingdom.

The sudden movement of the government found the opposition numerically weak. There seems to be a prospect of more divisions on the point of order, but not for any very spirited or protracted resistance. The obstructionists have had a wide field, and the government is now determined that progress must be made.

The announcement that the government would force the existing rules to be applied and if necessary, devise new ones in order to stop the obstruction, was made shortly before midnight by Hon. Robert Rogers. Hon. Charles Marcell had just concluded a two hours' obstruction speech, in the course of which he had suggested that a committee of the House be appointed to work out a compromise. The Minister of Public Works at once arose and said: "In case there might be some misunderstanding with respect to the position of the government in view of the statement made by the member for Bonaventure, I desire to say a word or two, not with any desire of prolonging the discussion. As members are well aware, this committee has been in continuous session night and day for two weeks. The Government has extended to hon. gentlemen opposite the very widest latitude possible for the discussion of the important measure which is before us for consideration. We desire now to give hon. gentlemen opposite every possible opportunity of fair and reasonable discussion."

When this measure was brought down into committee two weeks ago hon. gentlemen opposite argued that the government was in league with the Unionist party in Great Britain. The complaint was then made that the Prime Minister had not laid on the table the memorandum from the First Lord of the Admiralty, so soon as this was done a change took place in the complaints of hon. gentlemen opposite and they stated that the (Continued on Page Five.)

THE POLICE SITUATION

Not Likely That Any Meeting of Police Board Will be Held.

Civic Authorities Satisfied That All Trouble is Now Over.

There is nothing new in the police situation to-day, and whether there will even be a meeting of the police board next week is a matter of doubt. The rank and file of the force are satisfied that an increase in pay is coming to them but if the police board decide to make the increase it will be necessary to withdraw the application voted by the City Council and which was agreed upon as satisfactory between the Council and a majority of the members of the board. That being the case it is likely in regard to the men's application that the City Council will take the initiative and not the board.

If there is a meeting of the police board it is stated as likely that one of the men who was summoned to the meeting of this week when the ultimatum was issued will tell where the inspiration for the meeting came from. Officers of the force are emphatically that they were working co-operatively and without any suggestion from officials, all of which may be true, but the city council authorities are of the opinion that someone first started the ball rolling. At any rate the police commissioners will probably consider the matter of discipline.

His Honor Judge Hardy is expected to return to the city to-day from Toronto. When the men issued an ultimatum, His Honor was informed by wire of the situation, but replied that the two commissioners who were here should be able to settle the matter, as they constituted a quorum. The civic authorities heard of His Honor's reply with a smile, as it was not considered likely that a quorum consisting of Mayor Hartman and Magistrate Livingston could agree even to meet, with things in their present state of turmoil.

At any rate there was no strike this morning, but police matters continue to hold the boards.

WILL MOVE TO SELL PROPERTY

Ald. McEwen Will Have Report at Council on Monday.

At the City Council on Monday evening Ald. McEwen, chairman of the Buildings and Grounds committee will move a resolution asking the permission of the Council for the sale of the city property on Darling street. "Several good offers have been received for the property" said Ald. McEwen this morning. There is said to be a prospect of the property being used for industrial purposes and in this connection there may be some objection raised. The land has a frontage from Queen street to Mitchell's garage. Its value is estimated at around $90 per foot.

Some interesting official statistics have just been published in France by the Board of Trade showing the relative size of families in connection with various professions and industries. As is the case in every other country, the poor have the most numerous families. It is among the fishing population and seafaring folk, however, that France reaches her highest average—five children to a family. The laboring class follow with an average of 2.8. As the income rises so the size of the family decreases, and it is among the high-salaried State and municipal officers, middle-class manufacturers, and professional men that the one-child family prevails. An interesting exception to this rule, however, is the rich, independent class who strike an average of three children to a family.

GRAND RIVER ON RAMPAGE-- WATER RISING VERY RAPIDLY

No Gas Throughout City--Water Broke Main on Cockshutt's Bridge This Morning--Factories in Holmedale Closed--Civic Authorities Anxious as to Outcome--The Situation at Galt.

The Grand River is doing its worst to-day. Shortly before 11 o'clock this morning the high water at the Cockshutt bridge broke the big main which is the main supply to the city. The gas ebbed away to its minimum, the only supply available being that from Onondaga.

The water rose two feet this morning between the hours of 4 and 6. After 9 o'clock there was a rise of two inches.

The mills in the Holmedale are shut down and the water is within 15 feet of the Waterworks pumping plant.

The river is rushing down over the local tract of land near the Cockshutt bridge, and this was where the gas main was broken.

Now Paris fields are flooded.

D. Cuthbertson, of the City Engineer's department, with two assistants, kept a night vigil, but no danger around the dykes is anticipated.

The Grand Trunk bridge is being shaken severely and earth is being washed away, where reconstruction is in progress.

Mayor Hartman did not think the water had reached the same height as last year, and while anxious was not alarmed at the situation. A lot depends on what happens at Galt, in the way of preparing for eventualities.

The Situation at Galt at Noon

GALT, Ont., March 15.—Water backing up from the still raging Grand River, meeting at its confluence the flood waters of the Speed, has caused several streets in Preston to be inundated and boats have been brought into service to remove residents from some of the houses. The ice is piled high at the dam and it is expected dynamite will have to be resorted to to prevent further floods up-stream. As it is the Galt-Preston-Hespeler railway is unable to run its cars to Hespeler. Quantities of water soaked goods is the only damage caused up to the present.

ELORA, March 15.—The flood caused by the sudden rising of the Grand River here yesterday did damage to property to the extent of $5,000. The first warning of the coming deluge was given about 2.40 o'clock this afternoon when the river began to rise suddenly. At three o'clock McGowan's dam, half a mile above the town, was partly swept away, and in less than fifteen minutes the water rose more than five feet. This great wave caused by the breaking of McGowan's dam, swept away the entire flume and one of the turbines which supplied power to J. C. Munnell and Co.'s furniture factory. The flood, which was the worst ever seen in this district, also did damage to the Elora Furniture Co.'s factory and T. E. Bissell's foundry, besides many other small buildings to the value of over $1,000. McGowan's loss will amount to 1,000, while Munnell's will be over $3,000.

GALT IS WARNED.

GALT, March 15.—With the receipt of a message here last evening from Elora, stating that the worst flood in the experience of that town had left at 5 o'clock, this town was all excitement last evening, and the streets were lined with people at a late hour. The police warned residents along the river bank, to be prepared for a hurried exit, and many left their homes for the night. The river is gradually rising, and heavy damage during the night may occur. The weather conditions are favoring a storm, and if such occurs the result will be disastrous.

REORGANIZE ASSESSMENT

There will be no report of the finance committee at the City Council meeting Monday night on the proposed re-organization of the assessors, although the matter will be gone into thoroughly before the next Council meeting and a report appeared before the committee and a long conference was held on assessment matters. That there will be a re-organization of the department is certain, although just what form it

Mark Twain on Woman Suffrage.

Mexico, Mo., March 15.—A copy of a newspaper, published in this city on April 5, 1867, and taken from an old trunk yesterday, contains a letter written by Mark Twain on woman's suffrage. It reads in part: "I knew before the canvass was three days old it would be an established proposition that every woman in the state was no better than she ought to be. Think of the torchlight processions. Think of the curious legends on the transparencies: 'Vote for Judy McKinnis, the incorruptible, for state milliner; nine children.'"

BORDEN WINS OUT TO-DAY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

His Objection to Liberal Amendments Sustained and Government Majority in Each Instance Remains the Same.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, Ont., March 15.—At 4 a.m. the chairman ruled that the objection of Mr. Borden that the amendment and sub-amendment to clause two of the navy bill were out of order was well taken, because the amendments changed the destination of the contribution. He ruled them out of order, whereupon Hugh Guthrie moved another amendment providing for expenditure of the $35,000,000 in Canada. There were three divisions on points of order up to 9 o'clock, the Government majority standing about the same in each case, viz., 56 to 22, 56 to 23 and 58 to 22.

King and Queen Drive Through London To-Day Before Populace

(Canadian Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, March 15.—A London cable says: Hundreds of thousands of Londoners have an opportunity to welcome the King and Queen as they pass through the East End to-day on their way to the formal opening of one of the engineering wonders of the world, the Metropolitan Water Board's new two and a half million dollar reservoir at Chingford. The carriage in which their Majesties will drive in semi-state from Buckingham Palace to Highstone, Leytonstone, a distance of ten miles, will be opened if the weather is fine. From this point the King and Queen, with their suites, will complete the journey in closed automobiles.

From his place on a specially erected royal stand at the pumping station, the King will press an electric button, which, setting in motion a series of powerful explosive pumps, will release the water from a reservoir whose capacity is three thousand million gallons. The area of the reservoir is 416 acres, with four and a half miles of embankment. The explosive pumps will afterwards be inspected by their Majesties.

Special precautions will be taken against suffragettes and only persons holding official cards of invitation will be admitted to the reservoir for the opening ceremony.

Will Thorpe, member of Parliament for the southern division of West Ham, has declined an invitation to be on the platform as one of the representatives of the borough benefited by the reservoir, on the ground of West Ham's deep and crying poverty.

TRUSTEES MEET AT COLLEGIATE

But There Was no Suggestions Made to Get After the Principal.

At the meeting of the Collegiate Board last night, Principal Burt had a statement to make, completely refuting innuendoes which had been published, to submit a number of questions to the teachers and to look into the matter of discipline. The trustees considered that it was a regular part of their duty to do this, behind which there was no intention of getting after Principal Burt's anybody else's scalp. In fact the majority of the board felt that they should take the action as above in order to protect the Principal from a repetition of such unwarranted attacks.

The members present were, Chairman Dr. Hart, Messrs. E. Sweet, R. E. Ryerson, J. P. Picher, G. Pickles, Dr. Frank, Dr. Palmer, W. Lahey.

CLOSURE IS SURE COMING

Announcement of the Government Policy Made in the House.

Country is Getting Tired of Tactics of the Obstructionists.

Ottawa, Saturday, March 15.—The climax of the two weeks' obstruction of the Naval Aid Bill, was reached early this morning, when the Government suddenly announced to the Committee of the Whole that the existing rules would hereafter be enforced, and if found inadequate for the passage of the bill, new rules would be introduced.

The announcement made by Hon. Robert Rogers was immediately followed by the application of the relevancy rule requiring a speaker to speak to the clause under consideration. It was applied against a speech by Hon. Frank Oliver to the effect that the Government proposal involved not a gift or a loan, but a pawn in the politics of Canada and the United Kingdom. Premier Borden took the position that this was a discussion of the principle of the bill which had been adopted on the second reading. Chairman J. A. M. Aikins so ruled. Mr. Oliver appealed and the ruling was sustained on a division of 63 to 28, a majority of 40 for the government.

The sudden movement of the government found the opposition numerically weak. There seems to be a prospect of more divisions on the point of order, but not for any very spirited or protracted resistance. The obstructionists have had a wide field, and the government is now determined that progress must be made.

The announcement that the government would force the existing rules of debate and, if necessary, decide new ones in order to stop the obstruction, was made shortly before midnight by Hon. Robert Rogers. Hon. Charles Maclellan had just concluded a two hours' obstruction speech, in the course of which he had suggested that a committee of the House be appointed to work out a compromise. The Minister of Public Works at once arose and said: "In case there might be some misunderstanding with respect to the position of the government in view of the statement made by the member for Bonaventure, I desire to say a word or two, not with any desire of prolonging the discussion. As members are well aware, this committee has been in continuous session night and day for two weeks. The Government have extended to hon. gentlemen opposite the very widest latitude possible for the discussion of the important measure which is before us for consideration. We desire now to give hon. gentlemen opposite every possible opportunity of fair and reasonable discussion."

"When this measure was brought down into committee two weeks ago hon. gentlemen opposite argued that the government was in league with the Unionist party in Great Britain. The complaint was then made that the Prime Minister had not laid on the table the memorandum from the First Lord of the Admiralty. So soon as this was done a change took place in the complaints of hon. gentlemen opposite and they stated that the

BRING ON THE CLOSURE.

The two weeks of obstruction put up by the Laurierites at Ottawa have been a wanton waste of time.

Much necessary legislation has been held up, much needless expense has been put on the country and all for what?

Simply because a Sydney Fisher, a Mackenzie King and some others of that ilk labor under the hallucination that with an early contest they would get back to the House.

There is no great principle involved this time as there was in the case of Reciprocity. Both parties are agreed upon the desirability of the Dominion helping to strengthen the British fleet, and the only point at issue is in what way.

There is not the slightest reason why the Borden Government after some eighteen months of office should throw the country into the tumult which is always associated with a general contest.

The clear remedy is to adopt the closure—that is to decide that after a debate has lasted for a reasonable period it can be stopped and an immediate vote taken.

A Liberal contemporary has made the statement that such a course would be un-British. As a matter of fact a measure of that nature had to be introduced at Westminster in 1882 and the sponsor of it was no less a man than Gladstone, who was then Premier.

EMMERSON'S ATTACK.

During a speech on the Navy Bill Hon. Mr. Emmerison made a very bitter attack upon Englishmen. He generalized a large portion of them as coming to the Dominion and irritating Canadians, and went on to say:

While many of the governors general who came here have a proper conception of the position they should hold when they reach our shores, there are many of those attached to their staffs, many of their retainers, who are the instruments that create a great deal of difficulty and who cause very much of the unpleasantness that exists in this country.

Anyone who has had any experience, such for instance as Brantfordites and the members of the Six Nations recently had with H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught—will bear hearty witness that his secretary and his aides were most courteous and most able.

It is a trying round of address reading and formal functions through which such personages have to pass and the wonder is that they so uniformly retain their good nature through it all.

Emmerison, who was one of the lightweights of the Laurier Cabinet, is not in any event the man to criticize others.

A BRITISH VIEW.

The following article is from the London, England, Times, and it may be taken as a fair exemplification of the British view.

labor and management, which these islands must largely provide.

We can provide it by degrees, but the first duty of our existing establishment is to maintain the empire's security from day to day.

This has necessitated an expansion, not only of our building programs, but of our fleets in full commission; and security would not be increased—on the contrary, it would be dangerously reduced—by schemes requiring any serious dispersion of our skilled and trained personnel.

Admiral von Tirpitz's recent declaration is a happy indication that the naval rivalry between this country and Germany may not increase; but it refers to a future which has not yet arrived, and it obviously cannot affect in the slightest degree the determination of the British people to keep their naval policy in their own hands.

The position is most certainly not one in which we can afford to scatter our strength and Mr. Borden's dual policy has this great merit, that it increases immediate security while laying the first foundations of a permanent Canadian fleet. The further steps need time, and Mr. Borden is surely well advised in taking it.

We can only by gradual methods work out the problem of local development without dangerous waste of strength, and the still more complex relation of policy and defence.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Dr. Friedmann is to visit London in order to demonstrate his alleged cure for tuberculosis. Has anybody done anything to try and get him to Brantford?

Honestly now, what local Grit is there who believes that either of the two Brants could be won for that side in an election? And that which is true of these two ridings, is equally true of others throughout the Province.

Brantford's new public building seems to worry the Expositor. Its own friends having failed to do a plain duty by this city, the organ evidently imagines that nobody should be given any credit for the proposed structure.

Another British suffragette endeavored to set a hall on fire during a public meeting, by taking a torch under the platform. Luckily she failed. A woman like that ought to be given penal servitude for life, and then some.

Winston Churchill when asked for facts by Premier Borden, politely gave them and because said facts don't jibe with what they contend, he is promptly made a target for all kinds of abuse by his fellow Liberals in Canada.

Editor Macdonald of the Toronto Globe is still sending special articles to his paper from Ottawa, where he seems to have thought his presence essential in what he terms a national crisis. In reality the Liberals at the Capital should not be overjoyed to have this Reciprocity hoodoo in their midst.

The Conservative newspapers would have the country believe that Churchill's letters to Borden, presenting the difficulties and expenses attendant on Canada building a navy, settles the entire question. Why should it do so? The main question at issue is not whether ships can be built as cheaply in Canada as in the Mother Country, but whether Canada shall have a navy of her own. This is a matter quite different from where the ships shall be built—Expositor.

You've got that wrong. The proposal after conference with the British naval authorities is to make a direct cash grant now, the three Dreadnoughts to be built to constitute the nucleus of a Canadian navy, should such be later deemed desirable. Why not be fair in stating the case?

FEEL BADLY TO-DAY CASCARETS TO-NIGHT

NO HEADACHE, BILIOUSNESS, CONSTIPATED BOWELS, OR SOUR STOMACH BY MORNING.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish intestines—you always get the desired results with Cascarets and quickly, too.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable. Take Cascarets to-night; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, flatulence and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the bile, gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery.

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

Everyday Philophy. Burtischer in Lippincott's—The time to give a man a taffy is before it's time to give him his epitaph.

The man with last year's automobile is more likely to feel out of date than the man with last year's horse and buggy.

Among the greatest fools on earth are the miser who saves all of his money, and the spendthrift who doesn't save any.

Some men who drop nickles into the contribution box at church carry away more religion than some others who drop dollars.

Coming Issues in Great Britain. From the London Nation—Parliament has been ripe lately upon issues which were ripe twenty years ago, and which, with a constitution less absolute than our own, would have been settled ten years ago.

The country, at any rate, the thinking part of the country—is bent upon problems which have been maturing all through the intervening period, and have now reached the point at which a solution is urgent.

Questions of wealth and wages, the problem of assuring continuity of employment at a living wage, problems of housing, of access to the land, of taxation, of the finance of the social reform, are those which are engaging serious and general attention, and upon these the supporters of the government will more and more insistently demand immediate action.

Pointers Free Brantford Says the Kingston Wig—The delegates from the Kingston Board of Trade to the Associated Boards, which had its annual meeting in London recently, conveyed some valuable information to the meeting here on Tuesday evening.

In Brantford the delegates cited one experience in the West. It was with reference to the civic spirit which they found in Brantford. This spirit was particularly manifested in the intimate relations existing between the council and the Board of Trade in the town of Kingston, which they co-operated for the good of the city.

No advantage can come from or follow in harmony between public bodies. Only harm can attend the jealousies which animate some representative men when public business is under consideration.

In Brantford the delegates returning from the trade convention on London, found a very commendable order of things. The council and the Board of Trade and the people were represented in the Greater Brantford Board, and this board was doing a splendid work for the city.

The Industrial committee, through the Industrial committee, gave a substantial grant towards the expenses of the board, and the citizens did the rest, subscribing to a kind of endowment fund out of which the Industrial committee is paid and also the incidental expenses of booming the city; and the board is certainly earning the warmest endorsement of the people.

Kingston is growing in population, in the volume of business, and in building operations, but it would grow the more rapidly if the civic spirit were more evident, if all the forces which are at work in its behalf were concentrating their energies and accomplishing certain purposes. The desire is for a closer relationship between the council and the Board of Trade in Kingston, and let us hope that the overtures to this end will be successful.

A joint appeal to the citizens for their assistance in building up Kingston, industrially, should elicit a prompt response.

A BIBLICAL PARALLEL

Ottawa Journal—"Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?"

These two verses from the seventh chapter of Matthew constitute a biblical pronouncement of a case parallel to the naval contribution question in Canada at the present time. The British Admiralty asked of Canada dreadnoughts early, and Canada is asked by Liberal leaders in parliament to promise fleet units for

HARTFORD

(From our own correspondent.) The sleighing passed off in a hurry Sunday. Quite a number who went away in the morning with cutters, came back in the mud.

The Women's Institute will meet this week on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Well VanLoon. On account of the inclement weather last Thursday the meeting was postponed.

The rural post office inspector was at W. H. Howarth's last week, looking over the route, taking the number of boxes, which will be shipped in a short time.

Mrs. W. Pilkey and Miss Martha drove in a snow bank in the lane when returning from the Institute meeting, and upset, the horse going on to the barn.

I. J. Higgins started for Nanticoke last week but the snow was so deep he had to turn back.

Isaac Wilcox is at Toronto this week attending the O. C. H. C. Grand Lodge.

Miss Featherstone of Hagersville, gave a short talk on Adult Bible Class organization at the Sunday School. At the morning service she gave a synopsis of the S. S. Conventions held at Hamilton.

Pastor Hagen is getting along nicely after a week's sickness. He had quite a severe attack of bronchitis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Simington were visiting in Brantford for a few days. Mrs. H. Deterling has gone to Nelles' Corners for a fortnight's visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Howarth were the guests of W. Pilkey, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilcox took dinner at R. J. Thomas' Sunday.

Mrs. H. Renner returned Monday, from Guelph where she has been the guest of Mrs. T. A. Slaght.

Mr. Ben. Raymond of Gladwin, Mich. is visiting at J. K. Moores. Mr. E. Barber is on the sick list. Isaac Wilcox sold a fine bunch of yearling cattle to Mr. Kindree of Hagersville to be shipped to Ohio.

The school children are making great preparations for a good time, Thursday March 20. They have invited the parents to visit the school all day, and bring lunch baskets along. In the afternoon the scholars will entertain them with a good program of recitations, readings, songs, etc.

Clarence Lewis formerly of the corner store has accepted a position at Boston, with Frank Johnson.

Jas. Roberts who has looked after the interests of the customers so well at the Victoria Mills, has this week finished 25 years service. He has seen many changes in the old mill; first the stone grinding and bolting, then to rolls; the stones were then discarded after being used for some time for chipping, for a steel plate grinder. An addition was made to the mill, and a stock of groceries was added. Eight years ago a new cement flume was built and a set of turbine wheels installed also a new waste overflow dam was made.

Letters of Probate. The Trusts and Guarantee Co., of Toronto, are applying for letters of probate of the estate of George W. Woodward of Waterloo, who died on or about Feb. 7th, 1913. His estate is valued at over $9,000 and his will provides for his widow, Mary Woodward and for his daughter and granddaughter.

NERVES UNSTRUNG Did Not Know What Rest or Sleep Was

Mrs. Captain Clinansmith of the Salvation Army, formerly of Essex, and now living at Leamington, Ont., writes:—“I have used in all about 18 boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and this treatment certainly worked like magic. I was so run down that I suffered for 12 months with acute nervous prostration and was so bad that I never knew what sleep or rest was.”

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

When We Speak of Low Prices

some people get enthusiastic, others get suspicious. Some believe that everything is cheap, others that nothing can be sold below cost.

Here is the Situation:

Our growing business demands larger quarters to properly handle our business. We are going to move next month, but before doing so our stock of Coal and Gas Ranges and Heaters, House Furnishings, Graniteware and Tineware, Etc., Must be Greatly Reduced

To reduce this stock, we have cut prices on nearly everything to cost and in many cases below cost, and so the way is paved for shrewd purchasing, which enables our customers to get almost double value for the money.

HEAD STUFFED? GOT A COLD? TRY PAPER'S

ONE DOSE PAPER'S COLD COMPOUND GIVES RELIEF—CURE IN FEW HOURS.

You will distinctly feel your cold breaking and all the Grippe symptoms leaving after taking the very first dose.

It is a positive fact that Paper's Cold Compound, taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges. Get a 25-cent package of "Paper's Cold Compound" from your druggist and take it with the knowledge that it will positively and promptly cure your cold and end all the grippe misery; without any assistance or bad after effects and that it contains no quinine—don't accept something else said to be just as good. Tastes nice—acts gently.

The Beauty of a Clear Skin—The condition of the liver regulates the condition of the blood. A disordered liver causes impurities in the blood and these show themselves in blemishes on the skin. Parmentier's Vegetable Pills in acting upon the liver act upon the blood and clear, healthy skin will follow intelligent use of this standard medicine. Ladies who will fully appreciate this prime quality of these pills, can be sure of the certainty that the effect will be most gratifying.

government was not altogether in league with the Unionist party in Great Britain, but in league with the First Lord of the Admiralty and the Liberal party in Great Britain. What is true is that the government in pressing this measure is in league with every loyal Canadian and every loyal subject of the Empire. I wish to repeat what I said a moment ago, that the members of the Opposition have been given the widest possible latitude. Now, if we propose to make any progress with this bill I think hon. gentlemen opposite cannot complain if the rules of debate are hereafter strictly adhered to. I can say, more than in this, that the rules of debate which now apply to discussion shall not be found to be sufficient to enable progress to be made, then it will be the duty of the Government to at once introduce such rules as will enable progress to be made. We recognize our responsibility and our duty to our fellow countrymen in this Dominion. We also recognize our duty to the Empire. Recognizing these duties, we say in all sincerity to-night that we, as a Government expressing as we do the views of such a large majority of the people of this Dominion, can best fulfil this duty to the Dominion and the Empire by passing a bill, and we intend to do it.

Mr. Oliver's Reply
Mr. Rogers' announcement was received with vigorous applause by the Conservative members. It fell to Hon. Frank Oliver to get up to define the Liberal attitude. "I am sure the committee," he said, "is fully aware of the importance of the announcement, just made, not so much by reason of the announcement itself as of the fact that the Minister of Public Works and not the Prime Minister made it. If this is as important an announcement of Government policy as he would lead this committee to believe, it is, I say, at least, unique that it should be made not by the Prime Minister but by the Minister of Public Works. However, it is no concern of the Opposition who leads the Government. We are concerned in the measure presented by that Government to Parliament, and we will deal with these measures according to our best judgment.

Society Notes.

Toronto Saturday Night of this week has the following to say about the brilliant dance given in Toronto last week by the bachelors.

"The young bachelors deserve a medal for their selection of young maidens as guests at their very jolly dance in the Metropolitan, for rarely if ever have so many pretty girls been gathered in that cosy Assembly Hall, as gladdened the eye last Friday. Tall girls, and short girls, slim girls, and plump girls, blue eyes and brown eyes, every mother's daughter looking her very sweetest and wearing her prettiest frock. And there was many a young bachelor who won't be so very long if flying rumors are true, for at least a dozen of the many merry couples are looking to the offering of 'Hymen', and their noble anticipations will probably be shared by several others before very long. The young bachelor is the man of promise, as the old bachelor is the man of regrets, and had any of the latter been permitted at the dance last week, he would have either ended his career by suicide or matrimony forthwith. For the maidens were absolutely charming and everyone was as happy as possible. People were congratulating the lovely blonde, Miss Cromarty, that the report erroneously got in order of her injury from exploding gasoline was untrue, unfortunately Miss Cromarty, her aunt, was a sufferer from the accident, which was not caused by any lack of precaution, the fluid igniting spontaneously. The music for this bachelor dance was pretty suggestive in titles of the gallant sentiments of the hosts and excellently rendered, and before supper Mr. Crawford sang a couple of songs, a duet which was to have been sung by bachelor Curridge and Miss Riordan, being given up because of the absence of one of the singers. The twin secretaries Lyman Howe and Lyman Henderson had carefully thought out details, and were complimented on their success. Supper was served at eleven, the patronesses, Mrs. A. V. Clarke, Mrs. F. R. P. and Mrs. E. J. Dunbar, (each of whom had a charming daughter present), being escorted to the supper room with a few other married friends of the bachelor hosts. Space lacks for a list of the pretty maidens and their best boys, but they were the flower of the young set. The hosts gave the patronesses corsage bouquets of violets and lily of the valley."

Life Guards

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are excellent soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards, the need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip, and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember that the system that resists the greater exposure to disease, Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

THE COAL SITUATION.

Next Three Months Coal Will Be Cheap.

Now is the time to order your next year's supply of coal. The price of coal is lowest during April and May than any other time in the year. At present Buffalo harbor is clear of ice and railway companies are busy loading their boats with coal. This is being done to rush the coal to the West as soon as navigation opens on account of the supply getting very low in that section of the country during the past winter. This state of affairs will have a tendency to make coal a scarce article in Ontario. It will pay you to order your coal from F. H. Walsh before May 1st, as after that date all mine-owners advance the prices monthly.

Throughout the past winter several of the local dealers have been buying coal from independent firms in Detroit at an advance in price of $1.00 a ton over what Mr. Walsh has been paying; therefore, he is able to quote you a better price for April, May and June deliveries, especially car lots for employees of factories. This coal is mined under the city of Scranton, Pa., (guaranteed), and no better coal can be purchased in the world. Mr. Walsh can quote a lower price than most dealers as he is under less expense than any coal merchant in the city. You get coal of quality and quantity, which is full of weight, worth and warmth, when you have Mr. Walsh fill your coal bins. He is already booking orders for next year's supply of coal at prices which will astonish you. If you are not already one of his many satisfied customers, give him your next order and be convinced that he sells the best coal in the city and at economical prices, and full weight. He is also sole agent for Buffalo brand charcoal. F. H. Walsh, 102 Dalhousie St.

BOWSER'S BULLS.

He Makes Several Mistakes, but Won't Admit It.

AND MRS. B. INSULTS HIM.
After a Tour of Exploration He Winds Up in the Druggist's and Gets Some Good Advice—The Umbrella Vendor is the Goat.

By M. QUAD.
Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.

MR. BOWSER sat and smoked and looked at the cat. That there was some great problem troubling him Mrs. Bowser realized, but she kept her nose at the book she was reading.

By and by Mr. Bowser got up and walked. Then he sat down with a bang. Then he sighed and coughed. He wanted to be asked what was the matter, and after letting him stew for awhile longer Mrs. Bowser looked up and queried:

"Doesn't that new club of yours meet this evening?"
"No, tomorrow evening."
"Who is to deliver the opening address?"

"They want me to, Mrs. Bowser, I wish—"
"Well, what do you wish?"
"I wish you were a little different woman."

"But how, dear?"
"I wish you didn't stand ready to go back on everything I wanted to do."
"But I don't. If it's anything foolish I tell you of it. But that's what a wife should do. You must admit that you sometimes take rather queer notions."

"There you go, first thing! There isn't a more level headed man in this town, and you know it, but you are always talking about my fads and notions."

"Well, what is it this time? I promise you that I won't make one single criticism."
"I understand that an agricultural lecture bureau wants speakers that can address gatherings of farmers in country schoolhouses."

"Yes? You think you understand agriculture, do you?"
"I certainly do."
"Well, there's nothing like confidence in oneself. What terms do they offer?"

"I don't know what they pay, but it must be as much as $300. What's the matter with my dodging out and making half a dozen addresses this winter? I have a reputation as a public man, haven't I?"

"You—you have been in the papers often enough," replied Mrs. Bowser as she shut her teeth hard to keep from smiling.

"Well, then, I am a public man with a fine address, and what more can they ask for?"

"Bowser Has an Idea."
"But about the addresses? I don't remember that you have ever composed and delivered an agricultural address."

"I can do it as easy as rolling off a log," said Mr. Bowser as his face began to clear. "All I want is your encouragement and here and there a suggestion. I will read what I have written, and you can tell me what you think. We will say that I have taken my place in the grand stand. That's where I will speak from, I suppose. I have been introduced and received an ovation. As the applause dies away I step forward and begin:

"Fellow patriots, it is needless to say that this is one of the happiest moments of my life. Surrounded by—"
"Please don't get mad," interrupted Mrs. Bowser, "but I don't think you ought to begin that way. That is more of a Fourth of July address. I should put it, 'Mr. President and ladies and gentlemen.'"

"I knew you'd find fault the first thing," growled Mr. Bowser.

"But I'm not finding fault. Leave the beginning as it is and go ahead. There isn't such a great difference, after all, between a Fourth of July address and an agricultural oration."

"Of course there isn't. That's what I figured on when I began. I now go on and say:

"Surrounded by this large and cultivated audience and standing here under the most prolific sun in the world I would not be the man I am if I did not feel my heart swelling with pride. The clash of arms no longer reaches our ears. The battlefields won by our forefathers—"

"There you seem to run off the track again," said Mrs. Bowser. "The clash of arms and battlefields have nothing to do with agricultural matters."

Mrs. B. Finds Fault.
"Oh, they haven't, eh? You just wait a minute, and don't be so ready to find fault."

"The battlefields won by our forefathers with their valor and blood are shimmering in the sunshine of peace, and from them you have reaped the corn and pumpkins and squashes I see on every hand. From the field where George Washington drew his sword in defense of liberty come these fat hogs. From the field where Paul Jones laid down his life that America might be free you have driven this Durham bull."

From the field where Daniel Webster shouted for freedom as he pressed on at the head of his troops you have gathered the Early Rose potatoes, these mammoth carrots, these—"
"Stop, Mr. Bowser! Stop!"

"You must certainly change that. I don't want to find fault, but you can't have Paul Jones fighting on land."

"And why the devil can't I?"
"Because he was a sailor—a sea fighter. You have to be in the water to be a sailor. You'd be picked up in a minute on those things."

"By the Lord Harry, woman," said Mr. Bowser as he flushed red and white, "but you are telling me that I don't know as much as the average boy ten years old."

"No, I am not. I'm simply telling you that you have got things mixed up. You know better, of course, but you are sometimes absentminded."

"Never in this world do I get things mixed up! Never in this world am I absentminded. Mrs. Bowser, you have insulted me!"

She Finds More Fault.
There was a bit of doubt in his tones as he picked up his manuscript notes again, flourished his arm and went on:

"When Robert Fulton arose in his place in congress and declared that agriculture was the bulwark of liberty, men smiled at him, but you have only to look around you today to see what a trulism he gave us."

"Mr. Bowser, will you let me say a word?" interrupted Mrs. Bowser.

"What is it now?"
"You are not quite right about two things in that paragraph. Robert Fulton never arose in his seat in congress."

"But I say he did!"
"I don't see how he could, as he was never a member of that body. You probably meant to say Calhoun or Clay."

"I probably didn't mean to say anything of the kind! That is the third or fourth time you have been insulting to my face, and I am done."

"But you must not make such mistakes. You speak of agriculture being the bulwark of liberty, and then you go on to mention nothing but manufactures. If you make such slips as those before a crowd you will be almost hooted at. Now go on. We will fill in new names later on."

"Madam, there will be no going on and no filling!" said Mr. Bowser with great dignity as he came out of the grand stand.

"But why?"
He is insulted.
"Because I am so poor. I may be baldheaded, but I know when I am insulted."

"You are a strange man. I was merely telling you where you were wrong about names and things."

"You telling me where I was wrong! Now listen to me. In half an hour I will prove that you don't know your A O's. I'll show you that I am right and you are wrong in every criticism you have made."

"Well, let it go that I am wrong. Can't we go riding on the car this evening?"

"Don't attempt to dodge the issue, madam. You have made certain statements. I go to disprove them. When they have been disproved, which they certainly will be, I shall suggest that our respective lawyers have a little talk."

With that he made her a stiff bow and walked down the hall and out doors. He had been very decided in his talk, but at the same time he doubted himself. He didn't like to go to his family druggist, but when he failed to find the butcher or the plumber or the painter or the electrician he was sauntering into the drug store with a remark about the weather and finally got around to say:

"Say, doc, just who and what was Daniel Webster? I may have got him mixed up with some one else."

"Why, Daniel was a statesman," was the reply.

"One of the greatest sea fighters America ever had," continued Mr. Bowser, but the druggist interrupted him with:

"By thunder, Bowser, but what do you want to keep this up so long for? Your wife knows more in a minute than you do in a day, and why not realize it?"

"Sir, do you mean to insult me?"
"Oh, ho!"

"Yes, I can lick you in two minutes." "Nonsense. Go home and be good!" The druggist refused to go out for the scrap, and Mr. Bowser left the place with rage boiling in his heart. He was looking around for something to destroy when a belated faker yelled "Um-brigals to mend!" at him from across the street. With a bloodcurdling whoop Mr. Bowser took his trail, and as the two disappeared down the street in a whirl a policeman came along and mused to himself:

"Those looked like Bowser's contails, and I'll bet he's been having another row with his wife. Why can't he cud-dle down and behave himself?"

MOUNT VERNON

(From Our Own Correspondent) Mr. Perrin Daniel and Mrs. Daniel of Richmond have been visiting Mr. A. Perrin and sister.

A number from here attended the funeral of Mr. Peter Briers at Bish-opgate on Monday afternoon.

The prayer services, which are a study of the Bible, are well attended every Wednesday evening.

As Rev. A. Snider of Brantford was not able to be in attendance last Sabbath afternoon, he is expected to preach here next Sabbath afternoon.

Mrs. Jos. Smith of Fairfield has returned home after visiting her cousin, Miss Judson.

We are glad to report that Mr. Philip Newstead is able to be out and around again after his recent illness.

Mr. Wm. Davey left for the North-west on Tuesday, where he intends visiting for a while.

HERE IS GOOD ADVICE TO TAKE

It will help those who have Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

There are other "old enemies" similar to the one mentioned in this testimonial. Kidney and Bladder Troubles are always enemies to good health. As soon as you start to take GIN PILLS these ailments begin to disappear. It is the same in cases of Lumbago, Sciatica and like complaints. This letter illustrates the benefit of GIN PILLS.

Winnipeg, Jan. 6th.
"I have been a sufferer from Lumbago for some years past and during Christmas week had a very acute attack which confined me to the house. About the latter part of April, I met your Mr. Hill and mentioned my complaint to him, and he advised me to take GIN PILLS. I have been taking them at intervals during the early part of the present winter, and up to date have had no return of my old trouble—in fact, I feel better than I have for years and think that my old enemy has vanished for good and all."

Lady Marjorie's Love

CHAPTER XV.
"A thousand pardons for keeping you waiting, Lady Marjorie. It is not my fault. I thought I should never get rid of the fellow. Why, what's the matter?"
Barrington, turning quickly out of the parlor and crossing to the big square window, stopped short at the spectacle of the grief-stricken little figure crouched up beside it. Marjorie had stopped her sobs and dried her eyes, for she had heard him coming, but she could not hide her swollen eyelids or tear-stained cheeks.
"What is it?" he asked gently.
"What has upset you?"
"I dare say I am very silly Mr. Barrington," she replied.
"I dare say you are," he answered coolly. "In fact I'm sure you are. You are uncommonly unwise to cry, for instance. You had better not. If you do I won't answer for the consequences."
"If she had looked at him she must have understood him, for at the moment although he guarded his voice pretty well, he did not guard his eyes—perhaps did not try to guard them. But she did not look at him, and did not suspect the audacity of which the Countess' penetration had been so swift to convict him. She turned her head aside.
"What is it?" he asked gently. "Her ladyship?"
"Of course it is. Who else is it likely to be?"
"I thought as much." He frowned, for it happened that Lady Marjorie's appreciation of him was a sentiment but indifferently reciprocated. He hesitated, and then sat down in the opposite corner of the window seat, while Jack sat between and sleepily blinked at each in turn.
"You won't care to go out now?" he asked. "Tell me all about it, won't you?"
Marjorie hesitated, because she did not know quite how to begin. On more than one occasion, when Fenella had been disagreeable and had detected the fact, she had told him all about it and had found the confidence consoling. For he had never failed to look at things from precisely her point of view, in which there can be nothing more sensible and comforting. That she should follow those examples again was therefore only natural, and she did it. He listened with one or two unflattering compliments for the Countess' smiling now and again in a manner which his sympathy had never perceived. She did not see it, for she was so sure that her eyes were frightfully red and that she looked out of the window.

"You don't think you would like Ireland then?" he asked when she had finished.
"Of course not. They are always shooting people or boycotting them, or both, and if they weren't I should hate it." "And I may take the liberty of supposing that you are not over fond of the Dowager Countess?"
"Sheer amazement of the utter absurdity of the notion made Marjorie turn to him with wide open eyes.
"Why, she's awful. Just wait until you have seen her."
She nodded with infinite expression; plainly, when he did see the Dowager, he might expect to see a good deal.
"And you don't wish then to make your home with her?"
"I won't make it with her." She clenched her hands and set her resolute little mouth and chin. "Whatever I do I won't do that."
"A pause. Defiance was all very well, wrath was all very well, and she felt both, but the horrible sense of doubt and desolation had seized her again, and she had much ado to keep the tears out of her eyes. If it was a minute or two before he spoke, it was possibly because he understood her so completely. When he did it was very gently.
"Since you have honored me by your confidence so far, Lady Marjorie, perhaps I may ask you a question. If you will not go to Ireland, and are sure that you cannot remain with Lady Marjorie—"

BURFORD
(From our own correspondent.)
The death of Mr. Peter Briers occurred very suddenly at his home in Bishopgate last Friday morning. He wakened up during the night complaining of a pain in his stomach, but it passed off and he went asleep. About 5 o'clock Mrs. Briers heard him breathing with difficulty. She tried to raise him but as he is a very heavy man she was unable to do so. She ran to call a neighbor, but when they returned he was dead. The funeral took place on Monday to the Congregational cemetery, Burford. Mrs. Brier is quite ill, owing to shock and strain, and is herself trying to fit her husband Mr. Leslie Stuart is home on a visit from the West.

Mr. Richard Smith has sold his property to Mr. A. J. Williams. Mr. Smith has moved to Vanessa.
Mr. A. W. Eddy entertained the members of his class at his home last Thursday evening.
Mrs. Willis is visiting Mrs. McClellan.
A special meeting of the C. O. F. was held in Kneale's Hall last Tuesday evening, when some more new members were received into the Order. This makes about 20 new members added to date, since Organizer Wilson came into this district, and more are yet to be taken in. Mr. Stronk of High Court was present, and gave an address. Luncheon was served at the close of the meeting. There are now 137 members on the roll.

TORONTO WOMAN WELL AGAIN

Freed From Bearing Down Pains, Backache and Pain in Side by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Toronto, Ont.—"Last October, I wrote you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now entirely free from pain in back and bowels and an stronger in every way. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound highly to all expectant mothers."—Mrs. E. WARDY, 92 Logan Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.
Consider Well This Advice.
No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.
This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.
Strengtu comes from well digested and thoroughly assimilated food. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the digestive organs, and thus builds up the strength. If you are getting "run down," begin taking Hood's at once. It gives nerve, mental and digestive strength.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION

If you buy an article at $68.84 and give a $100 cheque in settlement, you will not be willing to wait 5, or 10, or 20 years for your change or refund. You will want it as soon as you can get it.
THE MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA recognizes this sound business principle by issuing their Annual Refund Policy, which the "wise ones" pronounce to be the very best Life Insurance contract money will buy in Canada today.
Mr. Abraham Goodwin, of the firm of Kerr & Goodwin, Brantford, took one of these popular policies in January, 1911, and paid the usual premium. In January, 1912, he received a Refund of $5.45, and in January, 1913, his Refund was $7.67 on a $1,000 policy. He will continue to receive his Annual Refunds, and thus get his insurance at Actual Cost from year to year. The many others who have this splendid contract are having the same satisfactory experience.
Out of each $100.00 paid in premiums in 1912 The Mutual Life used only $68.84 and Saved $31.16. Since this Company has no Stockholders, the whole $31.16 will be handed back to its policyholders in the form of Refunds.
Get an Annual Refund Policy—get your change at once. Get your Life Insurance at Actual Cost from year to year. Get your policy in The Mutual Life of Canada. Full particulars from Mrs. S. F. Passmore was again a hostess Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at two very enjoyable little thimble teas. Mrs. T. H. Preston poured tea and Mrs. J. Stoddart cut the ices, assisted by Miss Minnie Bell, Miss J. Jones and Miss Edith Burt. The spacious rooms looked most attractive, the flowers in the drawing room being pink tulips, while the color scheme in the tea room was yellow, being carried out in yellow jonquills and a very handsome brass candelabra with yellow candles on the lovely round pressed table. Miss Lawrence of Sioux City was present and sang very sweetly during the afternoon. At the Thursday tea, Miss Passmore cut the ices and Miss Jones poured the tea.

The admirable tub waist of washable silk promises to be the accepted model for outing and travelling wear when neatness and simplicity of style are desired. Plain white tub silk is not now as fashionable as the striped sort, and stripes may be in any width. Gray stripes on the white are not as modish now as colored stripes and the favorite colors seem to be rose, lilac, olive-green, Persian red, and Dutch blue. These waists are simply made with long shoulders and full groups of tucks are set into the shoulder seam on the front of the blouse. Very exclusive models of this type have turnover cuffs, and Arthur J. Dunn, Mayor of Chatham Ont., has telegraphed the management of the Ottawa Baseball team, placing Recreation Park at the disposal of the Canadian League champions.

The umpires now in captivity by the Canuck league are Jocko Halligan, McLaughlin, Daley and Black.

Mr. Bert Brown, the local wrestler, left yesterday morning for Toronto to take part in the city championship contests in that city.

Every time Knotty Lee hits the city there is a mail bag full of letters awaiting his intention.

Mr. Jack Sloan is also in Toronto to take part in the tournament. He is wrestling in the 125 lb. class.

Funny how those on the outside looking in form opinions and spread them with the result that some poor unsuspecting ball player "gets in" bad.

President Fitzgerald of the Canadian League, has signed up his fourth umpire for the coming season.

Manchester United will give battle to the great Sunderland team. Two gruelling games with United of Newcastle during the past week does not tend to enhance the chances of the Weariders.

Malcolm Barry, who once played in Brantford with the Kane contingent, got four hits in one game the other day in Bermuda.

Newcastle United will be paid a visit by the famous Rovers of Blackburn, and I have no doubt whatever the Gordies will be feeling none too good after the hard battling with their great rivals from Sunderland during the past week.

Bombardier Wells Was a Loser Again

England's White Hope Could Not Stay Two Rounds With Gunboat Smith.

NEW YORK, March 15.—"Gunboat" Smith, the California heavyweight, knocked out Bombardier Wells, heavyweight champion of England, in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden here last night.

Smith rushed again, hooking his left to the head and landing a right overhand swing to the jaw. Wells went down for a count of five and got up dazed. Smith was right on top of him, hooking left and right, and with a left hook to the jaw and a right swing to the back of the head, sent Wells down again for a count of nine.

Wells had all the better of the first round, jabbing his left repeatedly to Smith's face and cleverly blocking Smith's attempts to counter.

While Wells was on the floor for a count of six the bell rang, ending the round, but Wells still lay helpless. He had to be carried to his corner, and it was nearly ten minutes before he was able to leave the ring, and then had to be assisted.

Wells came out of his corner for the second round smiling, and confident, but Smith rushed at him, landing a hard right in the stomach.

Airdieonians look good with Hamilton Accies. Clyde and St. Mirren should supply a cracking good game. Dundee should just about nose out Motherwell at Dundee.

In the second division of the English league, Burnley have top weight on with Bury following their defeat by Grimsby during the week to whom they succumbed by two clear goals. Preston North End will also be at home to Fulham, and the men of the Crown Cottage will likely provide the Prestonians with two more points to add to their already nice total. Birmingham, who will now again be close on Burnley's heels, pay a visit to Lincoln, and as the men of the famous old cathedral city have not done at all badly just lately will make the Brums go full steam ahead and throw nothing to chance if they still have serious designs of being one of the first two clubs when the day of reckoning arrives.

Woolwich Arsenal and West Bromwich will be another hard battle. The Arsenal are fighting almost every one knows how easy the setting of an all-outraging eleven may be brought about by just one or two of its members being placed hors-de-combat. Personally, I have not much faith in Sunderland taking every one of the spoils away from Old Trafford to-day.

GOSSIP ABOUT KING'S PLATE

The Brookdale Stables Have Not Wintered in Very Good Shape.

BARRIE, March 15.—The many flowers of the Brookdale stable and friends of Messrs Albert and Simon Dymont, will regret very much that their string of runners, not wintered in very good shape, Conghs and colts have been absent throughout the stable practice all winter, while many of the boys, not barring the yearlings, have been troubled to some extent with distemper.

Hersey Has Improved. Last year's King Plate winner, Hersey, has been the most fortunate horse of the party, and is a wonderfully improved horse over last year. He wintered in excellent shape and looking better than ever before.

Two Doubtful Starters. The other platers, Brewickowa and Stanislowa, are doubtful starters. The fact disclosed in the London law courts last week that a woman can earn more than $4,000 a year as a designer of millinery shows that the demand of hats of exclusive and distinctive design provides a great opportunity for the inventive woman.

Platers Must Improve. Stanislowa, Elfain, Brewickowa, and Stanislowa, all three-year-olds, are the stable's candidates for the King's Plate, and judging from the performances of the quartet last week, they must show vast improvement to be considered dangerous factors for the guinea in May.

With the exception of Brewickowa, who has never started, the balance has had racing experience and are still in the maiden class.

The best of the number is undoubtedly the chestnut gelding Crystiawoga. He was twice in the money in five attempts last season, his best effort being at the Woodbine fall meeting, when he finished a creditable second to Mr. J. of Frome.

Elfain, a late filly, and not three years old until June, has developed in good style since last fall. She has grown a lot and filled out nicely. On her only two trips to the barrier she performed disappointingly, but was not in condition. Crystiawoga and the daughter of Sain-Elf, will be the main dependence of the Barrie horsemen in the big race for the King's prize.

Mathewson apparently has the best system in regard to "coming back"—viz., not to go away.

The Giant veteran may never reach his younger brilliancy again, but he is now in an easy center that he can maintain for quite a while—possibly five or six years more. Eddie Plank, at 37, won twenty-six games and lost six. Mathewson is now but thirty-three—and the right wing, as a rule, carries quite a bit further than the left.

When interviewed some days ago by these despatches, Mogul John J. McGraw denied the truth of the report that if Carey and Hendrix continued to hold out his entire summer would be spoiled.

"While, of course," tersely stated the Giant leader, "it would grieve me bitterly to see Pittsburgh lose these two men, still I believe that with iron will and unsurpassed fortitude I could stand the blow and manage to stagger on."

Just a thought: If Johnny Evers is the Keystone King, what are Eddie Collins and Larry Doyle? Mr. Murphy, please cable. The only wonder is that Murphy hasn't labeled young Corridan the Shortstop Monarch and tagged Ed Reulbach as Emperor of the Mount. Fortunately no tagging of the Cub owner is required. Charley Van Loan did that some years ago, and the Mad Mullah of baseball still sticks.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 15.—The New York club has the best pitching staff in the American league to-day," boasted "Rus" Ford after two weeks spent in studying and analyzing the situation, "and one of the best I have ever seen. The veterans, who are all young men still, have only to pitch up to what they have shown within the last two years to rank with the leaders, and the recruits are all so promising that I wouldn't swap one of them right now for half a dozen of the kind that most of the other clubs are experimenting with.

Ray Keating, George Davis, Chester Holt, Al Schultz and Paddy Green are all good enough, or look to be so, just now to pitch for any club. They haven't started to extend themselves as yet, but they have shown enough to stamp themselves as the sort of young hurling material that a ball club gather together at one time only once in ten years. In all my experience I have never seen a recruit division that appeared anywhere near-as promising.

There are two real holdouts on the Toronto Baseball Club's list. Tim Jordan, of course, is one, and Eddie Holly, the battling shortstop, the other. President McCaffrey admitted the corn this morning when subjected to the third degree, that all was not exactly rosy, but that he did not anticipate any serious trouble. With the exception of the first baseman and the shortstop, all the regulars have accepted terms, which in baseball law is equivalent to signing a contract. President McCaffrey wired Jordan a little reminder this morning that the train for Macon left Baltimore at 6:55 and also gave him to understand that if he was not on hand that he would be suspended forthwith. "Tim will be there or I am a bad guesser," remarked Mr McCaffrey. "He likes the little trips to the Southland, and further, he is not the kind of fellow to jeopardize his prospect for the sake of a few dollars. His contract calls for a good healthy sum, far more than he could make at his trade, which is stone-cutting, not stone-breaking, and I do not worry very much about Timothy."

President McCaffrey, of the champion Maple Leafs, is quite satisfied in his own mind, that the local club will have a full compliment of players at the Macon training camp early next week. He hardly takes the actions of Jordan and Holly seriously, and believes that they will see the error of their ways before very long. Jordan cannot dissuade himself from the belief that his services are indispensable to the club, and as long as he thinks that way, there is little chance of inducing him to come in to the fold. But first baseman the pretty quick if the first baseman the local club is after shows the form expected of him. "We have two or three irons in the fire and whatever happens the club will be as strong as ever," said the President this morning.

Amby Kane wrote the guilty party responsible for this column: "Everything is O. K. with me. I've got rid of the lead in my boots and expect to have a team right in the race all the time." Come on, Amby, this mild weather makes us anxious to see you.

Orders were placed yesterday for new uniforms for the Brantford club. The Red Sox will have this year at home white suits, with, of course, red stockings. On the road they will wear the proverbial grey and red. Guess the suits won't make any difference about the boys fighting their way to the top.

sess a rosy chance, of once again carrying off the double event—mind I don't say they will accomplish this, that would amount to nothing more or less than a grave indiscretion. Only two clubs have ever accomplished the above mentioned great honor, Preston North End in their palmy days when they were well nigh invincible, and Aston Villa some years later; but it will be just as well to give the exact dates. Preston accomplished the unique feat of winning both Cup and League in the season of 1888-9, when they won the league championship without losing a game, and the cup without a goal being registered against them; Aston Villa performed the feat of winning Cup and League in 1887, and the reason I have refreshed the memories of readers is that Sunderland, perhaps, are receding apace having reached high water mark, but in spite of all I have written, it is quite possible that somewhere in topsy turvey might happen even in the Villa and Notts game. Such things have occurred often enough and surprising results are the real spice of the code and make the code worth the while.

Bolton Wanderers entertain the Hotspurs from Tottenham. The Wanderers have played so indifferently of late that one scarcely has any idea what they will do. The next game on the list however, between Bradford City and Manchester City should provide a very good name. Both clubs are now performing very well, so that one is led to believe that a good class of football may be looked forward to. City's defence will no doubt again come in handy.

The Fensters of Chelsea entertain Everton at Stamford Bridge, and although the toffee men have done some good things quite recently, it seems to strike me forcibly, somehow, in view of the southerners' good work also, the men of Merseyside will be lucky to escape defeat.

A game that will need the thinking cap on in its right position is that between Liverpool and Middlesboro. On their own ground the Liverpoolians should get home, but we had better wait and see what will be the outcome of the meeting of these two peculiar teams on present form.

Canadian League

London is Well Satisfied.
LONDON, March 15.—With the publication of the Canadian League schedule real interest in the coming baseball season will commence. The directors of the London club are looking forward to a big season, being gratified with the outlook, so far as playing material is concerned. Manager Deane is to report here on the 10th of next month.

The schedule will delight London fans, as it provides for home games on twelve out of the sixteen Saturdays. Of the four Saturdays London will play away from home, three will be at Ottawa and one at Hamilton, and on the four Wednesdays of the same weeks London will play at home. In addition to this, the London club has secured home games on all holidays and during the big medical convention in June as well.

GUELPH, March, 15.—The pitchers and catchers of the Maple Leaf ball club will report here on April 15; and the other members of the team on April 21. If the grounds are not in condition to play on, the Winter Fair building will be utilized. The club uniforms will be the same as last year, white and blue.

Music and Drama

Few plays on the boards to-day can parallel the record of success achieved by "In Old Kentucky," scheduled for an appearance at the Grand Opera House on the evening of Wednesday the 19th. Its popularity is widespread and its fame is enduring. The tendency of latter-day dramatists to write upon themes of immediate current interest, does not always result in the sort of play that appeals through a decade of continuous presentation. "In Old Kentucky" seemingly was written for all time and to fit all changes in public taste. When its dramatic merit and generous supply of excellent features are considered it is difficult to account for its continued prosperity. It tells a delightful story.

(From our own Correspondent.)
There passed away on Tuesday at his late residence in Kelvin, Mr. J. a few days with pneumonia. Deceased was a highly respected resident of this place, and will be greatly missed in the community. He was a member of St. Paul's church here. The funeral was conducted on Friday afternoon by his pastor, after which the remains were buried in the Kelvin cemetery. Deceased leaves to mourn his demise an aged widow, also a grownup family, who will have the sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement.

We are very sorry to report that Mr. John Andrews, who has been illing for some time, is very low at the time of writing and very little hope is entertained for his recovery. Mr. Leroy Thornton who has been very ill, is improving slowly. Miss N. Wood was visiting friends in Teeterville a short while ago.

Quite a number are enjoying the sleighing these days in this vicinity. Several from this locality attended Mr. E. Secord's auction sale of farm stock and implements on Wednesday at Oakland.

Mr. Roy Cooper of Burford was calling on relatives here one day last week.

"Heavy work, severe strain and over-exertion in youth brought on severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me no operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I continued to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He tried to send me to some Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilled. I would then and got the New York first month's treatment. I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was cured with a complete cure. I don't only earn $12 a week in a machine shop, but I am earning $12 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."
 HENRY G. LOCUST.

HAS YOUR BLOOD BEEN DISEASED?

BLOOD POISONS are the most prevalent and most serious diseases. They sap the very life blood of the victim and unless entirely eradicated from the system will cause serious complications. Removal of poisons from the system is the only way to cure them. You feel the symptoms of blood poisoning when you are out of the man you used to be or should be. Will you heed the danger signals?

Muskat Shooting.
 "Funny that the only possible damage which could be done to the Brantford system of dykes is that caused by muskrats, and yet they don't allow us to shoot them within any limits," said a local man last night who likes this pastime. It is stated that provincial regulations allow muskrats to be shot around dykes. Incidentally, the animals are plentiful along the river.

Very Successful Banquet.
 The Young Men's Class, known as the "Always Faithful" held their 10th annual banquet in the parlors of the Tea Pot Inn last night. About fifty members of the class sat down to a very dainty supper prepared by Caterer Crumback. After the good things had been disposed of Mr. John Schultz, the very popular teacher of the class, rose and in the capacity of chairman extended the cordial greetings. He also spoke upon the work of the class during the past year and the outlook for the class for the coming year. The toast to "Our Hazelton," was ably proposed by Lloyd Hazelton, a member of the class, and responded to by Messrs W. H. Peirce, F. Chalcraft, J. W. Widdup and Rev. Llewellyn Brown. The toast to "The Class" was proposed by Mr. Claude Reek and responded to by Elmer Peirce. Jack Orr proposed the toast "Our City" which was responded to by Chris. Cleator. Miss Styles and Miss Wright rendered a duet at the piano in a very fine manner, followed by the toast to "Our Church" proposed by Douglas Collins and responded to by Clarence Parsons. A toast to the Y.M.C.A. was proposed by Arnold Hitchon and responded to by Mr. Goodwin, the Secretary of the association. The toast to the "Gentlemen" was proposed by Mrs. Geo. I. Goodwin and responded to by Walter Pearson. Numerous musical numbers by members of the class, helped to make the banquet a huge success. Mr. Schultz when seen to-day, regarding the banquet said "It was the best gathering and most satisfactory banquet the class has ever held."

AFFAIRS OF SIX NATIONS

Chiefs Have Been Having a Busy Time of it.

The Chiefs of the Six Nations Council have been busy lately dealing with a great many others. The letter of Lt. Col. Lowther, Military Secretary of H. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall, returning hearty thanks for his enthusiastic reception was heartily received, also a photograph of the Governor General, which Chief J. S. Johnson was instructed to have framed for placing in the Council Chamber.

A letter was read from Judge Hardy on behalf of himself and Mrs. Hardy, returning thanks as guests. For the month of February the hospital report showed 4 patients and three still under treatment. The cost per day was 44 cents.

It was decided to add the names of Chiefs J. W. M. Elliott, D. Jamieson and J. Hill to the Committee to prepare regulations for permits to bore for gas and oil.

It was decided, re proposed arbitration of No. 4 school lot, that such be not granted and that Mrs. Julia Sumler be offered $50 for the site without prejudice. The Chiefs objected to the Indian department interfering with land matters. They consider them to belong solely to the jurisdiction of the Six Nations Council.

RHEUMATIC WEATHER

Victims Can Cure Themselves With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. With the coming of March people who are afflicted with rheumatism begin to have unpleasant reminders of their trouble. The weather is changeable—balmy and springlike one day, raw, cold and piercing the next. It is such sudden changes of weather that sets the pangs and tortures of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica going. But it must be borne in mind that although weather conditions are deeply rooted in the blood, and can only be cured through the blood. All the lotions and liniments in the world can't cure rheumatism. Rubbing white you are rubbing, but there is no cure. Only through the blood can you cure rheumatism. That's why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have so many thousands of cures of this trouble to their credit. The new, rich blood which they actually make drives out the poisons acid and rheumatism is vanquished. Among many sufferers from rheumatism who have been cured by this medicine is Miss Mary B. Kelly, South Dummer, Ont. Miss Kelly says: "Some time ago I had a very bad attack of rheumatism. At times I would be confined to bed for a couple of days and would seem almost paralyzed with the intense pain in my back and legs. At such times I could not walk and my joints were stiff and swollen. I consulted different doctors and took their medicine, but did not get more than temporary relief. At this time a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got a supply. After taking a few boxes I found they were greatly helping me.

Secretary Maidment of Salvation Army

Big Day is Planned Here To-Morrow When Chief Secretary Will Visit Local Citadel.

In connection with the approaching visit of Colonel Sydney Maidment, the Chief Secretary of the Salvation Army in Canada, it will be interesting to our readers to gather a few particulars concerning the worldwide organization he represents, and about its leaders. Especially from the standpoint of the demands that are being made upon them in the direction of service wherever the need may present itself and the requirements of the position they are called upon to fill. No officer in the Salvation Army has had a more varied career than the present Chief Secretary for Canada, Colonel Maidment for Canada, born in England, they have seen service under the Blood and Fire Flag in their own country, in Wales, Scotland, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Belgium, South Africa, South America, Norway, the various countries of Central America, and the West Indies. Such widely separated appointments, naturally necessitated the learning of a new language over and over again, and their family is as cosmopolitan as one could well find. The eldest daughter was born in Denmark, and the next eldest in Holland, the eldest son in South Africa, and the youngest daughter in Norway. His position as Chief Secretary here embraces the oversight and or-

Salvation Army invested?" In Canada the Army is an incorporated body, operating under the Dominion and Provincial charters, and is known as "The Governing Council of the Salvation Army in Canada." The Chief Secretary occupies the position of Vice-President on the Council.

Another enquiry may present itself from time to time in the form of "How do they handle the money?" But the Army has reason indeed to be proud of its accounting system, and the local firm of auditors that scrutinizes its books has always spoken warmly of the system and the general efficiency of the work and the way in which the finances of the Army are administered.

In addition to the foregoing, the Chief Secretary is often called upon to accept the role of public speaker, preacher, lecturer, and this alone would be a sufficient task for any man, when it is understood that the Canadian command of the Salvation Army embraces all Canada, Bermuda and Newfoundland, and thus it becomes necessary to travel many miles in the course of a single year.

CONNECTION IS WANTED

St. George People Anxious to Have Extension of Radial That Way.

The St. George correspondent of the Paris Review says—Better railway connections is the main theme of our manufacturers and business men at present. The proposed branch line from the Hamilton and Brantford Radial Railway, which is expected to cut off from the main road at Langford, will follow the survey northward through by way of Troy, terminating at Galt. A movement is on foot to lay before the executive of the radial company the advantages and inducements in the way of freight and express business which would accrue to them by diverting the proposed line so as to touch St. George. The business concerns here have always been handicapped by the lack of shipping facilities and the expense of hauling. This line would give direct communication with all the surrounding centres and give an unprecedented impetus to all branches of trade. The radial company have asked for no bonus, bonds or other assistance. The fact is that they have apparently been ignorant of the importance of St. George as a shipping point, and therefore have not realized the advisability of running the railway this way.

CAN LAUGH AT LIFE'S MINOR ILLS

SINCE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER KIDNEY DISEASE.

New Brunswick Woman Tells How She Was Rescued from Ill Health by the Twin Remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

NEGUAC ALLAIN, P. O. N. B. Mar. 10 (Special)—Mrs. Jos. G. Savoy, a well known resident of this place, whose ill health has been a matter of much concern to her friends, is telling of the cure she found for all her troubles in Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"My health is fine now," Mrs. Savoy says, in an interview. "The pains are gone from my side and back and when I go to bed I can sleep. Before I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, I could not eat anything heavy, such as meat, but now I can eat practically what I please with no ill effects."

Mrs. Savoy was in a generally run-down condition, and her cure came about by using the natural remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured and invigorated her kidneys, thus purifying her blood and improving the circulation.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets insured proper digestion of her food, thus furnishing the body with the nutrition it required. Women with healthy kidneys and sound digestion can afford to laugh at the minor ills of life.
