

WHAT EUROPE THINKS TODAY OF POSSIBLE OUTBREAK--NATIONS PREPARE FOR GENERAL CLASH

Better Feeling, However, is Found in St. Petersburg, London, and Berlin--Tomorrow May Witness Change for Better or for Worse--Britain's First Fleet Ordered Back Home.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]

LONDON, July 27.—Glimmers of hope flickered in the darkened sky of European politics to-day, and the wish was general that the efforts of the great European powers to avert a clash of arms which might involve many nations would be successful.

While all the powers were preparing for possible eventualities, their statesmen, with Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, at their head, were endeavoring to bring together the Governments at issue, with a view to mediation.

At the Servian legation in London the view was held that some improvement had taken place in the situation, and this was attributed to the influence exercised by Russia. Alex. Georgevitch, the first secretary, said: "We have complied with everything that does not impair our sovereign rights. We hope that Austria-Hungary, in the interests of peace, will recognize that consideration is due to an independent state, and so avert war. If, however, Austria-Hungary wants war she will have seen that we are prepared to accept it in the interests of the dignity of our state."

The fact that Austrian ambassadors abroad were willing to discuss the controversial points with foreign governments, and especially with Russia, led to the belief that an outlet for the deadlock would be found.

The stock markets of London and the European capitals still displayed a panicky feeling, although it was not as pronounced as on Saturday.

Sir Edward Grey has invited the Governments of Austria-Hungary, Servia and Russia to suspend operations, pending the result of his proposed mediatory conference in London. His suggestion in regard to the conference is that the French, German and Italian ambassadors in London should confer with him in the endeavor to find a means of solving the present difficulties.

Sir Edward Grey until late this afternoon had not yet received complete replies to his proposal.

Sir Edward, in announcing in the House of Commons the steps to be taken to bring about mediation in the Austro-Servian controversy, said:

"I understand that the German Government is favorable to mediation in principle as between Russia and Austria, but to our particular proposal to apply that principle by means of a conference the German Government has not yet replied."

Sir Edward, who evidently was deeply impressed with the gravity of the situation, concluded by expressing the opinion that the failure of these efforts to bring about a settlement would lead to the greatest catastrophe which could befall the concert of Europe, and its consequences would be incalculable."

BERLIN, July 27.—The Berlin morning papers while fully recognizing the gravity of the situation are disposed to find grounds for the hope that the Austro-Servian conflict will be localized. The news that Austria is delaying crossing the Danube has awakened hopes that the interchanges of views between the chief capitals will result in checking the outbreak of hostilities until Servia finds a means of satisfying Austria's demands.

Much attention is given to the alleged expressions of French diplomats that France means to hold aloof and leave Servia to her fate unless Russia is attacked by another power. The fact that France is making strong exertions at St. Petersburg to dissuade Russia from interfering is regarded as promising.

The Empress is returning to Berlin to meet the Emperor on his arrival.

All Prepare for War

LONDON, July 27.—The mere fact that hostilities between Austria-Hungary and Servia had not begun gave Europe in general the hope to-day that war might be averted. There was, however, little chance in the situation and the more optimistic feeling was largely based on the belief that the German Emperor who returned to Potsdam to-day from his cruise in northern waters would throw his influence into the balance in favor of a peaceful settlement of the dispute.

Another factor in favor of a peaceful arrangement was that the Austrian ambassador in St. Petersburg had shown willingness to discuss matters with the Russian foreign minister.

It was said this morning that the Austria-Hungary would not move her forces against the Servian capital until to-morrow which is confirmation of a statement made by the Austrian ambassador in London, yesterday that Austria-Hungary desired to give Servia time to consider her reply to the ultimatum from Vienna.

Outside of Austria-Hungary and Germany, the reply sent by Servia is regarded as a very fair one, as it grants all the demands which a sovereign state could grant.

It is pointed out that there is little use in Servia appealing for mediation, however, since Austria-Hungary has declared the matter to be between her and Servia and in this she is backed up by Germany and Italy, her partners in the Triple Alliance. In the meantime all the nations of Europe are making preparations for war as none of them wishes to be caught napping in case hostilities should break out. Even England which is credited with the determination to stand aside unless she should be forced into the conflict is getting her warships ready. The leave which is granted to the crews after the annual mobilization of the fleet for exercises has been cancelled and the vessels are to be kept on a war footing. They began coaling yesterday with the expectation that they would be ordered to the North Sea which would be England's danger point in the event of a European outbreak.

A Better Feeling

MURDER TRIAL

Ex-Premier Takes Stand Today and Submits Documents.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] PARIS, July 27.—Madame Caillaux, when she took her seat to-day in the prisoner's enclosure of the criminal court at the palace of justice for the seventh day's hearing of her trial for the willful murder on March 16 last of Gaston Calmette, editor of The Figaro, appeared much calmer than she had been on the preceding days. She had, however, suffered from two fainting spells last night as a result of the severe strain she had undergone on Saturday when she swooned during the reading of the love letters sent to her by Joseph Caillaux, former French Premier, while he was still the husband of Madame Gueydan, who then occupied the witness stand.

As soon as Judge Louis Albanel and his three associates had taken their seats on the bench, M. Caillaux demanded to be heard. He said: "The Figaro having accused me to-day of suborning witnesses, I should like to submit to the court some authentic papers concerning the late Gaston Calmette's relations with the Hungarian government. I have hesitated to use them, but I have decided to do so in view of the Figaro's attitude. I desire also to read the late M. Calmette's will." Maitre Chenu: "How did you get it?" M. Caillaux: "In the same way that you got my letters."

AN ELECTRIC ROAD WITHIN FOUR MONTHS

The Courier has learned from a source, believed to be authoritative that the new Lake Erie and Northern Railway will be an electric road within four months. As is well known, the C.P.R. is now in entire control of the road and following experiments conducted elsewhere by that company with electrification, it is assured that the L. E. and N. will be electrified. The hauling of freight on the Galt and Hespeler road by electricity is also being carried out successfully. The new road with its low grade will be one of the finest electric roads on the continent. The construction work is being rapidly rushed and it is understood is entirely in the hands of the C.P.R.

AUSTRIA'S ANSWER TO SERVA---A CHARGE OF DISHONESTY IS MADE

No Sooner Had Reply to Ultimatum Been Made Than Troops Were Mobilized—Austria Claims a False Impression is Raised.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]

VIENNA, Austria July 27.—A communication issued by the Austro-Hungarian foreign office to-day sets forth the Austrian view of the Servian reply. Austria's note demanding the cessation of the Pan-Servian agitation and the punishment of those concerned in the assassination at Sarajevo of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort. The communication also gave the reasons for Austria dissatisfaction with Servia's reply. The communication follows:

The object of the Servian note is to create a false impression that the Servian Government is prepared in a great measure to comply with our demands. As a matter of fact, however, Servia's note is filled with the spirit of dishonesty which clearly has it been seen that the Servian Government is not seriously determined to put an end to culpable tolerance it hitherto has extended to intrigues against the Austro-Hungarian monarchy.

The Servian note contains such far-reaching reservations and limitations not only regarding the general principles of our action, but also in regard to the individual claims we have put forward that the concessions actually made by Servia become insignificant. In particular our demand for the participation of the austro Hungarian authorities in investigations to detect accomplices in the conspiracy on Servian territory has been rejected while our request that measures be taken against that section of the Servian press hostile to Austria-Hungary has been declined and our wish that the Servian Government take the necessary measures to prevent the disorganized Outrophobe associations continuing their activity under another name and under another form, has not even been considered.

"Since the claims in the Austro-Hungarian note of July 21, regard being had to the attitude hitherto adopted by Servia, represent the minimum if what is necessary for the establishment of permanent peace with the Southeastern monarchy the Servian answer must be regarded as unsatisfactory."

That the Servian Government itself is conscious that its note is not acceptable to us is proved by the circumstance that it proposes at the end of the note to submit the dispute to arbitration—an invitation which is thrown into its proper light by the fact that three hours before handing in the note a few minutes before the expiration of the like limit the mobilization of the Servians took place."

It was pointed out to-day that Austro-Hungary being a signatory to the second Hague convention would be obliged formally to declare war, but as Servia did not sign that convention such a declaration might perhaps be regarded as unnecessary in this instance.

ought to be HANGED SAYS REDMOND TODAY IN THE BRITISH HOUSE

Blame For Yesterday's Outrage is Attached to Assistant Police Commissioner Who Requisitioned Soldiers to Assist Police.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]

LONDON, July 27.—Information as to the "shocking occurrence in Dublin yesterday," as John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader put it, was demanded immediately after the opening of the session of the House of Commons to-day. Mr. Redmond was so dissatisfied with meagre information given him that he moved the adjournment of the House in order to debate the matter.

Augustin Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, threw the blame for yesterday's conflict between the troops and the public on the assistant police commissioner, who, he said, had requisitioned the military entirely on his own responsibility. The official subsequently had been suspended while an enquiry was made.

The Nationalist members shouted, "he ought to be hanged." The matter will be debated in the House to-day.

Mr. Birrell said the major in command of the King's Own Scottish Borderers had denied that he gave orders to fire on the people. William Redmond: "He ought to be hanged." Lord Robert Cecil: "The ministers ought to be hanged." Mr. Birrell said the soldiers became exasperated after several of them had received severe injuries.

ALL IRELAND WROUGHT UP OVER RIOTS SUNDAY

Over Forty People in Hospital Today at Dublin Seriously Injured—Crowds Surround Barracks During the Entire Night, Wanting Soldiers to Fight.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]

DUBLIN, Ireland July 27.—The city of Dublin and the greater part of Catholic Ireland was to-day in a state of the greatest excitement over yesterday's conflict between the regular troops of the British army and the Irish Nationalists which resulted in the killing of four persons and the wounding of many others, forty of whom are still in the hospital to-day in a serious condition. The day had dawned to-day before the police succeeded in dispersing the crowds marching through the streets singing patriotic songs and looking for soldiers of the second battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers, on whom to inflict vengeance for the fatal events of yesterday when the borderers were ordered out to prevent the landing of arms and ammunition for the Irish Nationalist volunteers.

The crowd finding that the soldiers had been ordered to remain in barracks where the borderers are stationed and clamored for the soldiers to come out. Finally a mob kicked down a gate of the barracks and fired a couple of shots upon which bugles were sounded, the police came on the scene and the crowd dispersed.

The Nationalist leaders take the most serious view of the affair and will demand reparation from the government.

The landing of arms yesterday for the Nationalists was carried out in a more daring manner than similar feats achieved by the Ulster Unionist volunteers as it was effected in daylight. The vessel from which the arms and ammunition were brought ashore yesterday, already had landed 2,500 rifles and 125,000 rounds of ammunition at isolated points along the coast, and these had been successfully distributed by motor cars among the Nationalist volunteers.

Yesterday's attempt was undertaken to show that the Nationalists could do what the Ulster Unionists had done. At Howth 2,500 rifles and 160,000 rounds of ammunition were landed under the eyes of the police. The telegraph wires having been cut to prevent communication with Dublin. Automobiles carried off 1,500 of the rifles and all the ammunition and a body of Nationalist volunteers then started for Dublin with 1,000 rifles, but no ammunition. The police sent to intercept the volunteers cheered the gun runners and everything seemed to be going smoothly until the battalion of Scottish Borderers came on the scene and demanded that the arms be surrendered.

The Nationalist volunteers refused to give up the rifles and the soldiers then charged with fixed bayonets wounding a number of the volunteers. While the leaders of the volunteers and the regimental officers were parleying the rank and file of the volunteers scattered and got away with all except 19 of the rifles.

The news quickly reached Dublin and a mob gathered to meet the soldiers on their return. Volleys of stones were thrown at the troops and 20 of the soldiers were ordered to fire. The Nationalist volunteers took no part in the street fighting.

Scattered Volley Fired The battalion then replied to the attack of the mob with a scattered fusillade. In an instant the street was covered with wounded, while terrified men, women and children ran in all directions.

Jervis Street Hospital is situated only 200 yards from the scene of the affray and the wounded were quickly taken there. A street car in which a soldier was riding, was wrecked last night, but the soldier escaped the mob. Further rioting is feared.

Among those seriously injured in the affray is M. J. Judge, a prominent officer of the Nationalist Volunteers.

The arms were landed at noon yesterday. The yacht from which they were taken was a sailing vessel, the name of which had been painted over. A woman, or a man in woman's clothing, some persons say, commanded the yacht.

SERVIA'S REPLY SEEMS FAIR--APPEAL MADE TO THE HAGUE TRIBUNAL

[By Special Wire to The Courier]

LONDON July 27.—Servia's reply to the Austrian ultimatum is summarized as follows:

First—Servia agrees to the publication in its official journal on the front page of the formal declaration submitted by the Austrian Government condemning the subversive propaganda and deploring its fatal consequences, regretting the participation of Servian officers in this propaganda, repudiating any further interference with Austro-Hungarian interests and warning all Servians that rigorous proceedings will be taken in the future against any persons guilty of such machinations.

Second—Servia agrees to communicate this declaration to the army in the form of an order of the day.

Third—It promises to dissolve these societies which may be considered capable of conducting intrigues against Austria.

Fourth—Dismissal from the army and navy officers and the removal also of civilian officials whose particiipation in an anti-Austrian propaganda may be proved. The Servian Government however, protests against Austrian officials taking any part in the inquiry.

Sixth—The Servian Government asks for an explanation as to just what part the Austrian officials are to be called upon to take in the inquiry into the Sarajevo plot and it is announced that Servia can only admit such participation as would be in accordance with International law and good neighborly relations.

Seventh—To sum up, Servia accepts all the conditions and all the demands of Austria, and makes reservations only regarding the participation of Austrian officials in the inquiry. It does not give its formal refusal to this point, but confines itself to asking explanations.

Finally, if the Austrian Government finds this reply inadequate Servia appeals to The Hague tribunal and to the powers which signed the declaration of 1909 relative to Bosnia and Herzegovina.

CHIEF HILL SPOKE

Indians in Canada, He Says, Have Been Unfairly Treated.

At the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Lundy's Lane at Niagara Falls, Saturday, Chief Hill of the Six Nation Indians, Brantford, whose race came in for warm thanks for their aid to the British in the war, added a pathetic note to the proceedings. He with several other chiefs had listened to the speeches and when he was called upon at the last he said the Indians in Canada were unfairly treated. In the United States the roads on the reserves were maintained by the Government and not by the Indians. "We are sorry to mingle complaints with this celebration," he said, "but it seems to be the only place that we can get a hearing."

Sir John Gibson's Speech
Under circumstances of memorable local enthusiasm and international concord, the one hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Lundy's Lane, was celebrated here Saturday by a crowd estimated at ten thousand persons. Though designed originally as a mere anniversary of the battle, the event inevitably gained the aspect that it is in everybody's mouth, and despite the scarcely suppressed protests of several national enthusiasts, it became a rousing demonstration in honor of the century of peace. Various speakers had fun with the historians over the endless controversy as to the real result of the battle. "The embattled hosts struggled for many long hours," declared Doctor J. H. Conne, the St. Thomas historian, "and thought the battle was over, and rested. But the historians took it up, and their warfare continues to-day." Mr. Frank H. Severance, secretary of the Buffalo Historical Society, also teased the historians. "It was the longest battle on record," he remarked. "It has been fought continuously for a hundred years. The British forces won a decisive victory here, if you read British or Canadian history. If you read American history the verdict is reversed. I take it that this afternoon is an armistice in the succession of hostilities. To-morrow, if you insist, the merry war may go on."

PARIS, Ont., July 27.—The annual picnic of St. James Church took place on Saturday afternoon to River View Park. Special rigs conveyed the primary class to the picnic grounds. A great many of the congregation, as well as the Sunday School scholars attended, and a real good afternoon's fun was enjoyed by all. Before tea was served races were given ranging from the Primary Class, to Mr. Purton's adult bible class and all had an opportunity of showing their special marathon stunts, and prizes were given to the winners.

Miss Patricia Dunn is visiting relatives in London.

Miss Webb, who has been holidaying with her aunt, Mrs. T. J. Dunn, has returned to London.

Miss Zita Flannery has returned after a pleasant holiday in Woodstock. Mr. and Mrs. J. Mellor of Brantford were renewing acquaintances in town. Master Kingsley Purton has returned after a pleasant holiday in Mitchell. Mr. Walter Nash of Hamilton spent the week-end in town.

Rev. C. C. Purton preached his farewell sermon last night in St. James' Church. The church was crowded, very many people from other parishes, who had come to bid the rector, who has been such a friend to all, whom he came in contact with. Mr. Purton chose as his text from the 11th chap. of Mark and the 22nd verse "And Jesus answering said unto them have faith in God." He gave a very eloquent and earnest address to his hearers. Before the service closed the rector came to the chancel steps and gave a few farewell remarks, thanking the people in Paris for their kindness to him and his, and expressed how much it had meant to him being in Paris from a spiritual standpoint as well.

The church was prettily decorated with flowers. To-morrow evening a farewell will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Purton in the parish hall.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Elijah Churchill, an old and highly esteemed resident of Paris, who passed away on Friday in her 81st year. Deceased was born in Saltfleet, Ont., and was a daughter of the late John Jones. At the age of about 25 she was married to the late Elijah Churchill, and moved to Bleheim Tp., coming to Paris 1889, when they have since resided. Mr. Churchill predeceased her about 14 years ago. Mr. L. Brown of Brantford Baptist Church officiated, owing to the absence of Rev. Mr. Reid, the pastor here. The funeral was largely attended. Some of the grandchildren acted as pallbearers.

While attending St. James' picnic on Saturday afternoon Miss Jennie Wilson had the misfortune to fall and badly sprain her right ankle.

SHE KNEW HIM
An old lady, accosted by an insolent beggar, gave him a penny. The beggar, holding the coin in his dingy palm, looked at it contemptuously. "What do you think I'm going to do with this?" he growled. "Oh, keep it," said the old lady sweetly. "Keep it and give it to some poor beggar."

There will be people in the city from all over Canada and the States, and it is felt that such a display would serve to greatly advertise the mercantile resources of the community. Not only that, but it would give an opening fillip to the succeeding demonstrations.

It is hoped that the merchants will get together with an all round determination to thus assist.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glassy hair can only be had by brewing mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning grey hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. A DOUBLE SUPPLY. Since Dobbins got the better of Swift there is no standing of him. That's so. When he took the conceit out of Swift he added it to his own apparatus.

THE DUBLIN OUTBREAK.
 Those Liberal papers and speakers that have been scoffing at threatened blood-shed in Ireland as a "Unionist scare" will now be able to realize the actual and the vital seriousness of the situation.

The clash between a Scotch regiment and Nationalists in Dublin with loss of life and many wounded clearly demonstrates that civil war is well within sight, if not actually commenced. Both sides are manifestly well armed and very determined especially the Ulster men, and it would seem to be next to impossible to now stop fratricidal strife, although every one will even yet hope for the best.

TROUBLED EUROPE.
 The inciting incident with reference to the threatened war between Austria and Serbia was the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife but prior to that there had been many differences. Austria feels that the double murder was incited by people high up in Serbia and hence the acute feeling.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.
 There has certainly been the justice to pay this July.
 The European army worm threatens to create even more havoc than the Ontario variety.
 Those Grit papers in Canada which have been seeking to criticize King George because he made an honorable and fearless attempt to settle a great national danger, are of the same grain which urged a step from London towards Washington on behalf of reciprocity.

WHAT EUROPE THINKS.
 Servain staff, a better feeling was noticeable here to-day as the result of yesterday's diplomatic conversations. It is understood that the long interview between Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, and the Austrian ambassador especially was responsible for this improvement of sentiment. This meeting was desired by both sides. M. Sazonoff's telephone message to the Austrian embassy making an appointment was followed only a few moments later by another from the Austrian ambassador asking the Russian foreign minister for an interview.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.
 The Financial Post, a recognized authority with reference to the above subject says the possibly most hopeful feature of last week is the decided change in the trend of bank exchange rates. For the week every city in the East with the exception of Hamilton showed gain as compared with the corresponding week of last year. The gain was approximately 13 per cent. In the West the decline was not so marked and two cities there, Calgary and Fort William, showed gains. At the former, oil and at the latter, shipping, no doubt account for the advances.

So general an advance in the East may be taken as some indication of a general improvement in business. However business still waits upon the crops. In Eastern Canada, generally speaking, a very fair crop of cereals is assured, and the fruit crop promises well. In the West there are still hopes, well founded, that the crop will be an average one. It is altogether too early to speak definitely as to what the crop will be. By the end of July, or the first week in August, it will be quite early enough to figure on what the crop will turn out to be. As yet no one knows grain prices are as good an indication as outsiders can get as to actual conditions and the way Winnipeg quotations are acting it is safe to conclude that a fair crop is still anticipated.

This being the case, the West will contribute materially towards the creation of more active business conditions when the crop begins to move. In view of the serious situation as to Ulster and the disclosures in connection with the management of railroads in the United States, it can be taken for granted that the financial markets will be disturbed for some time. These particular circumstances will handicap, to some extent, the impulse towards better business that good crops will give both the United States and Canada. If during this trying period, Canada continues to hold her own without further symptoms of weakness, she will demonstrate that her position was much stronger than regarded either in New York or London. While the financial centers are somewhat anxious as to her position, the great productive agencies are still active. Each year in our chief industries a greater product is shown, and we believe that 1914 will be no exception. In the meantime, the results of our crop, not only that of the West, but that of the East, will be closely scrutinized. If the results are satisfactory they will go a long way towards convincing the Britisher that capital invested in Canada will be well taken care of.

THE OLD WAY.
 The old time way was sane and simple; when we were sick we took some pills and card, the rheumatism or pimple, and meagre were our doctor bills. We did not blame the microbes critics for all our ailments, pains and aches; we simply took a dose of bitters, and then we whipped our weight in snakes. My granny, an old poke bonnet, her form attired in ancient garb, would seek the meadow-land and on it would hunt and find the healing yarb. All noxious weeds that smelled and tasted like some-thing that had long been dead, were much too precious to be wasted; they hung in bunches in the shed. Full of ten I have had a jug of, of bonesea tea, skunk root or sage; my granny'd brew the evil flagon, and I must drink it or she'd rage. In those old times it was not on living until they shrunk and blew away, but on getting the women folk were always giving them cups of yarb water by day. The father lived till he was ninety, nor heard of germs, his long years through; when he was feeling tough a pint he of bonesea drank, and solace knew. But in these modern days microbe, diseases are expensive things; from stomach to hydrophobia, they run up doctor bills, by jings.

 The Nationalists are indignant over the affair, because, they say, the troops are against the Nationalist volunteers and never interfere with the Orangemen. WORLD'S GREATEST SHORT STORIES.
NO. VII.
The Story of Richard Doubledick.
 BY CHARLES DICKENS

One day at Badajos—not in the great storming, but in repelling a hot sally of the besieged upon our men at work in the trenches, who had given way—the two officers found themselves running forward, face to face, against a party of French infantry, who made a stand. There was an officer at their head encouraging his men—a courageous, handsome, gallant officer of five and thirty, whom Doubledick saw hurriedly, almost momentarily, but saw well. He particularly noticed this officer waving his sword and rallying his men with an eager and excited cry when they fired in confusion to gesture and Major Taunton dropped. It was over in ten minutes more, and Doubledick returned to the spot where he had laid the best friend man ever had on a coat spread upon the wet clay. Major Taunton's uniform was opened at the breast and in his shirt were three little spots of blood.

"Dear Doubledick," said he, "I am dying."
 "For the love of heaven, no!" exclaimed the other, kneeling down beside him and passing his arm round his neck to raise his head. "Taunton! My preserver, my guardian angel, my witness! Dearest, truest, kindest of human beings! Taunton! For God's sake!"
 The bright, dark eyes—so very, very dark now in pain—looked at him and he had kissed thirteen years ago laid itself fondly on his breast.

"Write to my mother. You will see home again. Tell her how we became friends. It will comfort her, as it comforts me."
 He spoke no more, but faintly signed for a moment towards his hair as it fluttered in the wind. The ensign understood him. He smiled again when he saw that and, gently turning his face over on the supporting arm as if for rest, died, with his hand upon the breast in which he had revived a soul.

NO DRY EYE LOOKED ON ENSIGN RICHARD DOUBLEDICK THAT MELANCHOLY DAY. He buried his friend on the field and became a lone, bereaved man. Beyond his duty he appeared to have but two remaining cares in life—one, to preserve the little packet of hair he was to give Taunton's mother; the other, to encounter that French officer who had rallied the men under whose fire Taunton fell. A new legend now began to circulate among our troops, and it was that when he and the French officer came face to face once more there would be weeping in France.
 The war went on, and through it went the exact picture of the French officer on the one side and the bodily reality upon the other, until the battle of Toulouse was fought. In the returns sent home appeared these words: "Severely wounded, but not dangerously. Lieutenant Richard Doubledick." At midsummer time in the year 1814 Lieutenant Richard Doubledick, now a browned soldier seven and thirty years of age, came home to England inviolate. He brought the hair with him, near his heart. Many a French officer had he seen since that day; many a dreadful night, in searching with men and lanterns for his wounded, had he relieved French officers lying disabled, but the mental picture and the reality had never come together.
 Though he was weak and suffered pain, he lost not an hour in getting down to Frome, in Somersetshire, where Taunton's mother lived. In the sweet, compassionate words that naturally present themselves to the mind tonight, "he was the only son of his mother, and she was a widow."
 It was a Sunday evening, and the lady sat at her quiet garden window reading the Bible; reading to herself in a trembling voice that very passage in it, as I have heard him tell. He heard the words, "Young man, I say unto thee, arise!"
 He had to pass the window, and the bright, dark eyes of his debased time seemed to look at him. Her heart told her who he was; she came to the door quickly and fell upon his neck.
 "He saved me from ruin, made me a human creature, won me from infamy and shame. O God, forever bless him! As he will, he will!"
 "He will!" the lady answered. "I know he is in heaven!" Then she piteously cried, "But, oh, my darling boy, my darling boy!"

 Never from the hour when Private Richard Doubledick enlisted at Chatham had the private, corporal, sergeant, sergeant major, ensign, or lieutenant breathed his right name, or the name of Mary Marshall, or a word of the story of his life, into any ear except his reclamer's.
 But that night, remembering the words he had cherished for two years, "Tell her how we became friends. It will comfort her as it comforts me," he related everything. It gradually seemed to him as if in his maturity he had recovered a mother. It gradually seemed to her as if in her bereavement she had found a son. During his stay in England, the quiet garden into which he had slowly and painfully crept a stranger, became the boundary of his home. When he was able to join his regiment in the spring he left the garden thinking in this indeed the first time he had ever turned his face toward the old colors with a woman's blessing!

He followed them—so rugged, so scarred and pierced now, that they would scarcely hold together—through Bras and Ligny. He stood beside them in a awful stillness of many men, shadowy through the mist and drizzle of a wet June forenoon, on the field of Waterloo. And down to that hour the picture in his mind of the French officer had never been compared with the reality.
 The famous regiment was in action early in the battle and received its first check in many an eventful year, when he was seen to fall. But it swept on to average him and left behind it no such creature in the world of consciousness as Lieutenant Richard Doubledick.
 Through pits of mire and pools of rain, along deep ditches, once roads, that were pounded and ploughed to pieces by artillery, heavy wagons, tramp of men and horses and the struggle of every wheeled thing that could carry wounded soldiers; jolted among the dying and dead, so disguised by blood and mud as to be hardly recognizable for humanity; undisturbed by the moaning of men and the shrieks of horses, which, newly taken from the peaceful pursuits of life, could not endure the sight of the stragglers lying by the roadside, never to resume their toilsome life that was in it, and yet all the form that had been Lieutenant Richard Doubledick, with whose praises England rang, was conveyed to Brussels. There it was tenderly laid down in hospital, and there it lay, week after week, through the long bright summer days, until the harvest, spared by war, had ripened and was gathered in.

Local Men Are Pleased With This Decision

Incomes of Dominion Government Officials Cannot be Taxed by the Municipalities.

Judge Hardy and other Dominion Government officials are greatly interested in the result of a case at Toronto.

Judge Morson of that city, has been successful in his fight against the city for the refund of income tax paid under protest. His Honor has just received cheque for $70 from the City Treasurer's Department, being the amount the judge paid in 1912. He asked the city for the amount, and obtained judgment from Judge McGibbon of Brampton. The latter decided that no authority could be found in the British North America Act authorizing the imposition of an income tax on Dominion Government officials, by or through municipalities under the authority of provincial legislation. He also ruled that the Ontario Assessment Act did not authorize the imposition of such tax on Government officials, but impliedly exempted them. The judge's ruling sustained by the Appellate Division at Osgoode Hall, an appeal. The city is taking the matter to the Privy Council but, but in view of their action in refunding the amount paid in 1912 by Judge Morson, it would appear that the civic legal department has abandoned the case. Judge Morson, through his solicitor Mr. R. A. Reid, is now going to sue the city for a refund of the income tax for 1913, which he also paid under protest.

The matter is of more than usual importance in view of the fact, that if the city abandoned the appeal to the Privy Council all the judiciary resident in Toronto will escape the payment of income tax, and the probability is that all other Dominion Government officials will speedily claim exemption.

Long Distance Runners May Come.

Alfred Shrubbs, the well known long distance runner has written to City Clerk Leonard stating that he would like to race Tom Longboat here some time this summer. Shrubbs has evidently heard of 'Old Home Week' and thinks the race would be a good drawing card. The letter has been turned over to the Old Home Week executive.

BRIGHT YOUNG LIFE IS ENDED

Herbert Scruton Passed Away
on Sunday After Acute Illness.

It will be with profound regret that a host of friends will learn of the demise of Herbert Stanley Scruton, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scruton of 28 Dundas street, Terrace Hill. It was just four weeks ago that the deceased was suddenly stricken down in the Conservatory rooms while talking with some friends. At first it was thought to have been acute indigestion, but a few hours proved it to be appendicitis. The operation proved successful, but a number of complications set in, and caused his passing away. He bore his great suffering with a Christian fortitude and cheerfulness that was refreshing to those who were in constant attendance upon him. The deceased was 33 years of age, and was widely known here, having lived in the city practically all his life. Previous to the time of his death, he was employed as a machinist in the Ham & Nott Co. Mr. Scruton had a splendid physique and bearing, caused, no doubt, by his having served in His Majesty's army. Mr. Scruton saw service during the Boer War, having served for two years in the Strathcona Constabulary. He pointed with pride to his two medals—Victoria's and Edward's—also to four bars and ribbons presented to him, on his honorable discharge. Mr. Scruton was assistant librarian in the Sydenham St. Sunday school, and was also a member of the choir and Epworth League of the church. He was also an enthusiastic member of Gore Lodge, I.O.G.F.

He leaves to mourn his loss, in addition to a heartbroken father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. (Rev.) G. E. Gillen, of Detroit, and Mrs. N. E. Fountain of this city, and two brothers, Ira D. Scruton and Wilfred Scruton.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 to Sydenham street church and Greenwood cemetery.

Many friends will greatly sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. M. McPherson in the loss of their son, Baby Jack. The sad intelligence was received yesterday from Huntsville where Mrs. McPherson and children were holidaying.

Presentation to T. F. Best
Mr. T. F. Best, formerly of Brantford and Chatham, and latterly secretary of the Hamilton Y. M. C. A. was pleasantly surprised yesterday when he was made the recipient of a handsome morocco leather travelling case, which was presented to him by the boys of the Baraca class of James St. Baptist church. He has just completed one year with this class and now leaves for to take up evangelistic work.

Horse Stolen?
A horse, buggy and harness have gone astray mysteriously at Paris, and Chief Felker is acting under the supposition that they were stolen. The animal is a light bay, weighing 1,100 lbs, stands 15-12 hands high, with a star on forehead and spavin on left leg. Anyone who can give information which will lead to the recovery of the outfit will receive a reward of twenty-five dollars from Chief Constable Felker Paris.

Too Expensive to Proceed
The township council decided that the suggested improvements to the Newport road would cost too much according to the prices given in the tenders opened on Saturday, and they therefore decided that they would not be gone on with. Therefore the contract for this work was not let. H. M. Vanderlip secured the job to fill in the approaches and level the road on the new white bridge, at the price of $167. This work will proceed immediately.

Only a Grass Fire
Sunday evening at 6.40 an alarm came into the central fire station from box 46, Institute for the Blind, and it caused a great deal of excitement, as many thought the institute was on fire. The firemen responded with full equipment, and after a long, hard run up Brant avenue, arrived on the scene to find a grass fire in progress on the institute grounds, already half extinguished by the employees of the institute. One chemical was sufficient to extinguish the blaze. The long run was very hard on the horses and caused one of them to bleed at the nose while the others were completely done out. For such runs as this a fire truck is the only common sense way of reaching a fire, and while St. Thomas, St. Catharines and other much smaller places than Brantford have them, this city still continues to run the horses to death.

Harmony Lodge Holds Fine Picnic at Mohawk

BRANTFORD LOST BOTH GAMES TO ST. THOMAS

Pitcher Gero and Secretary of Club Get Into Wrangle—Red Sox Tied With Hamilton for Cellar Position.

ST. THOMAS, July 27—The Saints made it three out of three from Brantford on Saturday by winning the double header. The first was a sea-saw game, with St. Thomas coming from behind and winning out by a 10 to 7 score. Gero started for Brantford and his teammates secured an early lead for him, and everything looked favorable for a win, when the Saints secured four bingles, a walk and the Red Sox pulled an error allowing St. Thomas five runs, which tied the score. The next inning three hits in a row gave the Saints a two run lead. The last runs came in the eighth on three errors, a hit and a sacrifice. Howick was touched up often and hard but for the good fielding of the Saints, combined with clotting, might easily have lost.

Saturday Happenings In Sport Told Briefly

Sporting Comment

It is not a very creditable advertisement to a city to have one of the club's pitchers endeavoring to bite the ear off the club secretary. We hope the press despatches this morning concerning that St. Thomas melée are greatly exaggerated if not entirely untrue.

The only race Brantford is interested in just now is the dash for the cellar, but Hamilton by dropping both games Saturday beat us to it.

Ostrich was the weak link in the games at St. Thomas Saturday, Cosma having failed to report from Toledo. Ostrich in the games here last week looked like the old New England stuff Amby Kane used to pull off wherever Brantford fans hear of a player coming from Boston, Brockton, New London, etc. they prepare themselves for a joke.

Wanderers Versus Paris

The above match was played at the Recreation Park on the 25th inst. before a moderate crowd, the Wanderers playing the same team as advertise with the exception of Little, their regular centre half.

The Chicago Feds are leading the League, the Cubs are second in the National and the White Sox sixth in the American.

The crowd at the Hamilton race meet Saturday was not the usual proportion, although the card was a good one. The Brantfordites present had indifferent luck.

Alerts Were Victorious

An interesting game of baseball was played upon the Waterworks park when the Holmeckle boys entertained the Terrace Hill Alerts. The latter proved the better team and defeated their opponents by 9 to 4. It was a fair game and was watched by a fair number of spectators. Myers and McKay composed the Alerts' battery while Johnson and Butler were the battery for the losers.

Old Home Week.

Mr. Rosenthal, advance agent for the Washburne Shows, is in the city to-day securing sites on which to run his shows for Old Home Week. The committee in charge of the Made-in-Brantford Exhibit at the Armories will meet at 4.30 this afternoon at the Temple Building, also a meeting of the reception committee will be held at the same time. The finance and parade committees meet to-morrow night at the Temple Building.

Lively Scrap

A lively scrap, in which four foreigners were actively engaged, while a number of others were enjoying the scene, occurred on Charlotte street at the Nelson street corner, at half past eight on Saturday night.

The combat was waged merrily, and rocks, bricks and chunks of wood were used by both attackers and defenders, with effect. All the fighters were streaked with blood when the police arrived with the patrol wagon, and succeeded, after a lengthy chase, in capturing all the combatants, who proved to be two Armenians and two Maltese. The reason of the conflict was not definitely ascertained. They will be brought before the Bench to-morrow, with being disorderly.

IS SUSPENDED

DUBLIN, July 27.—The assistant commissioner of police, who yesterday requisitioned the military, was to-day suspended from duty pending an inquiry. Sixteen policemen, suspended for refusing to obey orders, were placed under arrest and ordered to remain in barracks, but refused to obey.

New Secretary

Another Official is Added to the Staff at the Y.M.C.A.

There is likely to be added to the Y. M. C. A. staff a new membership secretary in the person of Mr. Harry Fleming of Hamilton.

On Saturday Mr. Fleming received a call to the Brantford Association and he has already wired his acceptance of the position.

"Harry" as he is known at the Hamilton Y. M. C. A. has for some time been membership secretary there and is a very popular young man. He has a great deal of experience in Association work and with his personality will soon make a large circle of Brantford friends. Mr. Thompson, the present membership secretary will take over the same office in the junior department where he will assist Mr. MacFarlane who has been unassisted in his work as Boys' Secretary since the new building was opened in October last.

There has been a re-shifting of the official staff of the Hamilton Association and Mr. Ward, the new secretary met the Buildings Board this morning when his appointment was confirmed. He takes over the duties of office temporarily upon the departure of Mr. T. F. Best who will, at the end of the week, commence his annual vacation prior to beginning his task as an Evangelical worker among the associations of Ontario in early September.

It is understood that no one of the Brantford staff has been called to any other centre and that Mr. Fleming's appointment is made in order to relieve the overtaxed office workers.
