RESULTS OF SILENT WAR REVEALED

Many British Ships Reported Missing Have Been "Sunk Without Trace." INQUIRY IS ON FOOT

Lloyd's to Look Into Loss of Vessels Through Silent Sub Campaign.

STANDARDIZED SHIPS Complete Success Attends Trial of First Built in Britain.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 18.—The Daily Mail is authority for a statement that Lloyd's is preparing an exhaustive inquiry into the loss of vessels posted "missing" which are not included in the weekly admiralty report. The Daily Mail says that some times a half dozen or more missing vessels are posted a day. The Daily Mail says:

"The reason for the increase is not difficult to discover in view of the 'sink without trace' cipher message of the German minister to Argentina. Many steamers which have been posted this year as missing represented over 250,000 pounds each."

Standardized Ships. New York, Sept. 18.—The New York Herald this morning publishes the following special cable from London, under yesterday's date: "Complete success has attended the trial of the first standardized ships built to the order of the British Government. It was of a most exhaustive nature and experts are unanimous in their praise of the vessel which, with its sisters, will now be taking to the water in quick time and destined to play an important part in the campaign against submarines."

The standardized ship has been designed to provide a good style of cargo-carrier in the shortest possible time, with the minimum expenditure of material. The keel was laid last February, and in less than the full six months, the vessel was loaded and ready to go to sea. During the trial trip Sir Joseph Maclay, the shipping controller, made a statement in regard to the ship for the construction of which he and his advisers are responsible. "Every yard is full of the work," he said. "These ships are being built for the nation in the time of need and it is felt that the workmen and employers alike will put forth their best to produce them with the utmost rapidity."

"The conception of the standardized ship at the beginning was to have them rapidly delivered. This vessel was built in five months, and it is expected that similar vessels will be turned out in about four or five months. The various types are constructed as economically as possible."

"The ships are adjusted for rapid loading and discharging. Some of them are specially adapted for carrying grain, being single deckers; others with twin decks, will be suitable for any class of cargo. The engine rooms are large and airy and everything about them is of the most modern character."

Allies Blockade. London, Sept. 18.—Albert Metin, under secretary of state in charge of the blockade, has arrived here from Paris with a number of expert advisers to consult with the British Government on closer co-ordination in the blockade.

WEATHER BULLETIN. Toronto, Sept. 18.—An important storm is situated this morning near Nantucket. The pressure is high over the central and northwestern portions of the continent.

A few scattered showers have occurred in the western provinces, but the weather in Canada has been very fine.

Forecast. Light to moderate winds, fine and warm to-day and on Wednesday.

SWEDISH ADMIRAL DIES IN BACKWOODS

Just Rosen Was Asked by King Gustaf to Lead Fleet Against Germany.

By Courier Leased Wire. Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 18.—Found dead beside a little cabin built upon a float near the settlement of Coyle, Hoods canal, Just Rosen, a Swede 60 years old, was yesterday brought here by Sheriff Martin Herstrom and the body is now in the morgue awaiting further inquiry. Carefully guarded in a pocketbook of the dead man was found a cablegram, dated Stockholm, Sweden, December 23rd, 1914, and supposedly signed by King Gustaf, King of Sweden. The message was received by Rosen at St. Paul, Minn., and translated, reads: "This information is private. I inform you that Sweden is going to war with Germany. With your knowledge of naval matters and your understanding of the best manner of conducting our naval end, we appoint you admiral of our entire Swedish fleet. Could you come at once and take command." (signed) "Koenig Gustaf."

PREFER U. S. FLAG. By Courier Leased Wire. Montreal, Sept. 18.—La Tribune of Sherbrooke, which disapproves of the Military service act says: "If you want to be convinced as to the true sentiments of our people go to the picture shows where you will see the Union Jack received coldly and in silence, while Old Glory, the Star Spangled Banner is received with enthusiastic applause."

ENEMY POSTS TAKEN

Kerensky and Other Ministers Are on Their Way to the Front.

By Courier Leased Wire. Petrograd, Sept. 18.—Romanian forces yesterday captured a section of the Austro-German fortified positions in the region of Varnitza, says the official statement issued to-day by the Russian war office. In the section of Riga, the statement says, there was no change in the situation. The Russians, however, advanced in the Friedriehstadt region, occupying a wood.

TWO NEW REGIMENTS

Reforms Inaugurated in Connection With Reorganization of the Army.

By Courier Leased Wire. Madrid, Sept. 18.—At a cabinet meeting held last night it was decided to create two new regiments of field artillery: seven battalions of garrison artillery and seven battalions of heavy artillery. It was also decided to appoint a special committee to draft a plan of industrial mobilization from a military point of view. Eduardo Dato, the Spanish premier, explained that these reforms were not undertaken in any militaristic spirit. They simply, he said, were a part of the army re-organization scheme which was one of the principal features in the government's policy of reforms.

NEW CABINET IN FRANCE TO PUSH THE WAR

Ministerial Declaration Drafted by Painleve for His Ministry.

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Sept. 17.—(Delayed)—Premier Painleve drafted a ministerial declaration this afternoon and will submit it to his colleagues in the new cabinet to-morrow morning. The declaration is relatively brief, merely putting in relief the basic principles by which the government will be guided in its conduct of affairs. In the first place the declaration affirms the resolution of the government to pursue a vigorous "republican and social policy." The French democracy, it contends, has shown itself worthy of the confidence its leaders had in it and the absence of a representative of the Socialist party in the present cabinet could not and must not be interpreted as involving in any way (Continued on page six)

By Courier Leased Wire. Petrograd, Monday, Sept. 17.—Twenty-three generals and other officers arrested on Friday with Gen. Korniloff, leader of the revolution against the provisional government, are being closely guarded. General Korniloff is imprisoned in a hotel at Mohilev, where he is writing a statement, which is expected to be finished to-day. Suicides. London, Sept. 18.—A Copenhagen dispatch to The Central News Agency says that General Alexajer committed suicide after an interview with Premier Kerensky. The name of General Alexajer does not appear in any available list of the Russian military forces.

GERMANY AGREES TO A FREE BELGIUM

Decision in Conformity With English Views Has Been Reached.

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Sept. 18.—In connection with the report published in the Tages Zeitung that Germany had decided to abandon all claims to Belgium, the Koelnische Volks Zeitung says: "We, too, have received similar information, from which it may be concluded that last week a decision about Belgium was reached in conformity with the English views." No Conquests. Mathias Erzberger, Clerical Centre member of the reichstag, speaking at Biberach on Sunday, said: "The foundation of peace must be no conquest of any kind. We are advancing with long strides toward such a peace—peace built up on the basis of the reichstag peace resolution."

NATIONAL MOVEMENT

Newly Organized Party in Britain Demands Better Administration.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 18.—The Chronicle, in a leading editorial under the head "Despotism doomed," says: "In Germany last now, evidently by preconcerted arrangement, resolutions are being passed by all sorts of organizations, attacking the American president for his scathing strictures on autocratic power in Germany which planned this war as its prosecution has stopped at no barrier, either of law or mercy. This tremendous indictment of the Kaiser and his entourage evidently made a deep impression in Germany. Hence these inspired resolutions of protest, hence the latest resolutions published to-day and Hindenburg's ostentatious allusion to the American President. These engineered German protests against President Wilson's powerful indictment, prove that the Kaiser, his junkers and the military caste know the stream of the tendency against them."

National Party. New York, Sept. 18.—A special cable to The Tribune from London says: "The new national party movement in England launched two weeks ago with the avowed object of promoting reforms, union and defense, is gaining headway and promise to become an important influence in war politics. Members of the Liberal party in increasingly large numbers are joining with the Unionists who laid the foundation for the new party and members of parliament, both at home and at the front, are lending encouragement to the movement."

The manifesto of the new party charges the Unionist, Liberal and Labor parties, in coalition, with delay in providing men, airplanes and other mechanical needs; failure to punish the incompetents for their sectional interference in diplomacy and for leaving the country in a state of uncertainty and discouragement in which the whole truth is rarely divulged. The new party and members of parliament, both at home and at the front, are lending encouragement to the movement."

Complete victory in the war and after the war. The provision of adequate men, guns, munitions and aeroplanes. The eradication of German influence. Honest administration, a pure political system, and no sale of honors. Class unity and confidence between employer and employed. Maximum production combined with fair wages and fair profit.

The national party movement includes among its supporters such men as Lord Amplthill, former viceroy of India; Brigadier General Gallely, Sir Richard Cooper, M.P. Major A. N. Bergin, M.P. Col. Douglas Carnegie, M.P. Brigadier General Page Croft, M.P. Viscount Duncannon, Sir John Harrington, who commanded in France during the early days of the war; Sir M. M. Buller, Lord Leconfield; Admiral Sir H. Markham, the explorer, and Captain Lord Montagu of Beaulieu.

King Chosen. London, Sept. 18.—King George, in the course of a visit to the River Clyde in Scotland, went on board an American patrol ship. The crew lined the decks and cheered. His Majesty hastily. The King inspected the quarters of the crew and congratulated the officers on having such fine ships.

RAISING OF QUEBEC BRIDGE CONTINUED SUCCESSFULLY TODAY

Lifting Operations in Connection With Placing of Central Span of Cantilever Across St. Lawrence Were Renewed This Morning—Satisfactory Progress Being Made With the Weather Favoring Work.

By Courier Leased Wire. Quebec, Sept. 18.—Lifting operations in connection with the placing of the central span of the Quebec bridge in its final position, linking up the two cantilever arms were resumed this morning. Yesterday's successful operations and the continuation of ideal weather for the work gave the engineers hope that the end of to-day would see the span within 58 feet of the floor of the bridge. They expected to elevate the span 68 feet. Yesterday a raise of 28 feet was made. Owing to the late start yesterday the highest tide was missed and the span has 152 feet to travel, two feet higher than estimated.

The early hoists this morning showed that the engineers were able to make better time than yesterday. The average time taken yesterday to lift each line of the chains holding the span was 18 minutes. The ten men took 15 for the first link taken up this morning.

Up to 10 o'clock this morning two more hoists of the Quebec bridge span had been made since morning lifting the span four more feet. All is proceeding nicely. At 10.30 the central span had been raised 36 feet.

Quebec, Sept. 18.—At 11.15 to span throughout this morning and by one o'clock practically one third of the distance to be traversed to the floor of the bridge had been covered, and the links were going steadily on its way.

To lift the span to the level of the bridge will take 76 hoists. At 1 o'clock to-day 32 of them had been negotiated.

Quebec, Sept. 18.—At 1.30 p.m. the span had been hoisted 52 feet.

Service Act. Col. Carter, A. D. M. C., was in the city yesterday making the preliminary arrangements for the establishment of these boards.

GOVERNMENT UNDER FIRE IN OLD LAND

Note of Disatisfaction Sounded in Different Sections of British Press.

ACTION CALLED FOR

Respite in Offensive on West Front Gives Rise to Criticism.

By Courier Leased Wire. Montreal, Sept. 18.—A special cable to the Gazette from London to-day says:

"In two organs of such dissimilar opinions as the Westminster Gazette and The Daily Mail, a note of disatisfaction with the Government is sounded to-day. Lord Northcliffe's paper publishes what 'the writer, Lovat Fisher, who is a regular contributor to the Mail's columns, calls 'A personal view about a matter on which it is difficult to keep silent any longer.'"

"It is time," he continues "to point out that the pacifists are stealthily making some amount of headway in this country, and the government shows no appreciation of the position which is being created. The pacifists' efforts would not matter very much were it not that a combination of factors is giving them an increasing chance of sowing tares. Though the national will to fight to victory remains resolute, it is not just now burning with an intense concentration of every day life. Unwholesome lassitude seems to prevail, and underneath there smoulders a vague disatisfaction, of which the government had better take heed. This disatisfaction is not as pacifists pretend, a longing for peace at any price, but rather a puzzled and anxious feeling about the war. The public are a trifle bewildered. I find most people in a questioning mood. They think the war seems to stagnate, and no one will tell them why. They look to the government for light and they get no light whatever."

Lovat Fisher calls for a new trumpet call, "something which will inspire the nation to work with grim earnest all through the winter for a continuation of the war next year. After recording that, he says: 'One of those bad times which governments, like long distance athletes, expect to get through.'"

THE SITUATION

The Austrians are making a determined effort to retake San Gabriele, and have hurled counter attack after counter attack against the positions recently taken by the Italians. All have been successfully repulsed, the attacking forces sustaining heavy losses. A despatch from Rome asserts that in addition to the operations toward Trieste, an offensive is about to be opened in the Balkans. It is recorded the development of Italy's war resources has exceeded all expectations, especially in an industrial way, and that country which seemed to be marking time for so long is most assuredly now giving magnificent results.

The Russian puzzle is still that. The latest official report from Petrograd affirms that the morale of the army is now splendid, and that an advance of seven miles has been made towards Riga, out of which place not so long ago the Musevite forces marched without firing a shot. The news seems almost too good to be true or lasting, but perhaps Korniloff's short lived revolutionary attempt brought results. Who knows?

It is announced from the western front that the British plan is by constant assaults, often of a minor nature, to weaken the German morale and defences, and that the plan is succeeding admirably.

Argentine is not satisfied with the explanations attempted thus far by Germany, and it looks very much as if she also would break off relations with that thoroughly discredited country.

RALLY DAY AT PARIS

Special Services Conducted in Mission Sunday School on Sunday.

OTHER PARIS NEWS

(From our own Correspondent)
 Paris, Sept. 18.—The silent policeman at Paris Junction, met with an assault during Friday night. The "cop" is stationed near Henstock's store at the crossing, and some reckless automobile driver ran into him and bowled him over. The lighted signal lantern when it fell to the ground, exploded, the burning oil badly scorching the "policeman," which is up for repairs.

The many friends in town of Mr. and Mrs. James Granton of St. Catharines, will regret to hear of the death of their little daughter, Mary Ellen, aged 1 year and 6 months.

Lovers of flowers would do well to pay the grounds of Mr. C. H. McCormick, South Dumfries, adjoining Paris, a visit. He has over 30,000 gladioli in one large bed comprising several hundred varieties. It will well repay anyone to visit there, if only to see the peach bloom variety of which there are upwards of 1,000.

In his grounds near where he resides, are also some 200 dahlias comprising some 60 varieties. Mr. McCormick, as a grower of choice gladioli is well known in the States, where shipments are made to several of the large centres.

Rally day services were held at the mission Sunday school at the Junction Sunday afternoon. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion with asters and mountain ash berries. There was a large attendance, and the text of the Sunday school, Mr. G. H. Wells, was chairman. A very instructive and interesting address was given by Rev. W. H. Langton, pastor of the Baptist church. During the service, the male quartet of the Methodist church, Messrs Hill, Griggs, Craigie and Craighton, favored with several anthems, and little Miss Elizabeth Telfer gave a recitation; a violin solo was given by Victor Gann. Bright and helpful singing was held in keeping for the occasion.

Miss Ida Davidson of St. Catharines is holidaying with her aunt, Mrs. H. Inkster.

Mrs. A. Ranson and little ones, of Walkerville, are visiting in town. Misses Woods have returned home after an enjoyable holiday spent at Burlington Beach and Toronto.

Miss A. Thompson spent last week in London with relatives.

Mr. E. Stewart of Toronto, is visiting with relatives in town.

COLBORNE FRAGILE

Last evening Colborne Street Epworth League held their regular missionary meeting, with Miss G. Struthers in the chair. The subject for the evening was "Canada as a Strategic Base for World Evangelization," ably taken by Dr. J. E. Amos.

HANNA'S WISE MOVE

Newspaper advertising constitutes one of the most potent aids in connection with any appeal to the people, and Hon. Mr. Hanna, Food Controller, has shown good judgment in recognizing that fact.

It is safe to assert that by no other method could he so readily and efficiently reach the public with reference to the great national undertaking which he has in charge, and that the campaign in this respect will achieve abundant results does not admit of any question.

The men and women of this land are sincerely desirous of doing what they can in connection with the war time crisis, and the papers certainly constitute the very best possible channel for acquainting them with the opportunities for co-operation in this regard.

Take the food service pledges as an illustration. In this community the appeals through the papers have thoroughly informed the public of the vital necessity of such a step and the consequence is that those who have undertaken to look after the matter locally have found the ground already well prepared. That which is true of this community is equally the case throughout the Dominion, and thus the wisdom of Mr. Hanna's course is thoroughly established.

FIRST AID SERVICE

Among the many beneficial deeds of the Ontario Government has been the establishment of the Workmen's Compensation Act. It has proved a recognized model for other Provinces and countries desiring up to date measures in this regard, and the Board is continually adding further features as experience warrants.

Instructions have recently been issued to employers with reference to the establishment of first aid accessories in their establishments, and it is pointed out that the prevention of blood poisoning and other serious consequences by such means, is only a part of the benefit of said service.

The Board further emphasizes the fact that the efficiency of the service will depend much upon having it in charge of some person or persons who will take an interest in the work and who will see that the equipment is properly used, and replenished when necessary, and an interest in the matter, should be cultivated among employees so that they will be desirous of making use of the service when occasion arises. The notices which are to be posted up for this purpose will be supplied by the board upon application. Employers are reminded that these first-aid services are distinct from medical aid as defined by the act, and that accidents requiring only first aid service and not disabling the workman need not be reported, and that no medical aid will be payable in such cases. All accidents, however, either disabling the workman or requiring medical aid are to be reported to the board by the employer.

The regulation adopted with regard to the matter is as follows:—

Every employer shall provide and maintain in his factory or place of employment, or in each factory or place of employment if he has more than one, a first-aid kit or box containing the following supplies with such additional quantities as may be reasonably necessary to provide first aid to his injured workmen, and shall have the same in charge of some suitable person.

The supplies enumerated consist of a large number of articles under the classification of instruments, drugs and dressings:

Police Court

Two inter-family scrapes, in which women were staging miniature bouts of championship character, were aired before the Magistrate in the Police Court this morning. Mrs. Sarah Cooper and Mrs. Annie McNicoll were the plaintiff and defendant respectively. Their feud will be settled a week from to-day.

Bert Clark, on payment of the costs of the case was allowed to go on suspended sentence on a charge of conversion preferred by J. C. Colter.

Ernest Bairatow for punching holes in the O.T.A. was fined $10 and costs.

The charges against Fred Cowell, one of using threatening language and the other of theft of a horse, were also heard this afternoon. Geo. Good was the plaintiff in the latter two cases.

METHODIST OUTING

The regular financial Brantford Methodist District meeting was held in Mohawk Park today. Important matters regarding the winter's work programme in missions, temperance and church work were discussed. The wives of the members prepared a dainty luncheon and a picnic was held at the conclusion of the meeting.

Comrades in Service!

In years to come you will recall with Pride the day you signed the Food Service Pledge.

For it is your Dedication to War Service. Your observance of it will cause you some of the Finer Emotions of Your Life.

You will gradually realize that though your own and your family's self-denial may be small—the mighty Legion of Canadian women pledged to equal service, will mean the difference between Victory and Disaster to our soldiers.

You cannot—you must not desert them. It is not that they want more white bread, beef, or bacon than you—it is just that these foods are less perishable and so more easily exported than others.

So, until Victory is ours, do these simple things.

When making bread, use one-third oat-meal, corn, barley or rye flour, with the white flour. Or tell your baker to bring some brown bread each day.

Substitute for beef and bacon, such foods as fish, peas, lentils, potatoes, nuts, bananas, etc.

Third, and this is very important—prevent the waste of any food in your home. Be a Comrade. Dedicate yourself and your family to War Service. Display the window card.

Practical Housekeeping Hints

THE USE OF FATS AS BUTTER-SUBSTITUTES

The average Canadian housewife has no conception of the value of fats as food, and as a result much fat is wasted that should be used. Fats are one of the principal sources of energy. We buy fat in the form of butter and spread it on our bread. We use lard as shortening in bread and pastry, and as a medium in which to fry other foods. The grease which melts out of ham and bacon is sometimes made into gravies; but more often it is thrown away, because the housewife does not realize its value as a food. Beef fat is less appreciated as a food even than lard, and yet, pound for pound, its energy value is as high as butter or lard or any other fat.

When we buy a beefsteak the butcher carefully trims off the fat and throws it into a box under the counter with bones and other waste which goes to the soapmaker. This fat has both a food value and a money value. It belongs to you, and you should have it. You can render it and use it in cooking.

The fine lumps of sweet beef fat or suet which adhere to the roast are used in roasting to give flavor, but most of the fat melts away and is not served at the table. Beef suet is occasionally used in cooking, but rendered beef fat is rarely used as a table fat in this country, although in Europe it is often eaten on bread in the place of butter. Beef suet has a rather pronounced flavor and a comparatively high melting point. These are probably the reasons why it is not more commonly used as a table fat. Much of the objectionable taste may be readily removed. One household method which may be successfully followed is to mix milk with the suet when it is rendered, using one-half cupful of milk to a pound of suet. When strained and cooled, the flavor of the milk is absorbed by the beef fat and changes the characteristic flavor.

RUSSIANS PROGRESS IN DRIVE ON RIGA

By Courier Leased Wire
 Petrograd, Monday, Sept. 17.—(Delayed)—Russian forces on the Riga front continue to make progress in their drive against the Germans. On Sunday, the Russians occupied a German position southwest of Hapsal and also forced the Germans out of Sadzen Farm, to the south of Sisseral. The text of the statement issued today by the Russian War Office reads:
 "In the direction of Riga, fighting between advanced posts continues, our advance elements offering resistance everywhere and at certain points making gains."
 "We have occupied the farm of Sadzen, south of the town of Sisseral, and also have taken the cemetery near Hapsal, on the northern bank of the river Da, west of Sabelia, in the direction of Lihala, one of our parties successfully raided enemy trenches. On the rest of this front there were little firing scouting operations."

 "There was nothing special to report."
 "Petrograd, Finland Sept. 18.—In the course of disorders at the Finnish fortified seaport of Viborg, 74 miles northwest of Petrograd, in which soldiers were involved, 20 officers were killed and 60 others are missing."

RESERVE CORPS OF N. C. O.'S FORMED

Non-Commissioned Officers Training Depot Organized at Camp Borden.
 By Courier Leased Wire
 Camp Borden, Sept. 17.—To serve as a sort of reserve of non-commissioned officers from which they can be sent to units as required, a new depot is being organized known as the non-commissioned officers training depot, military district No. 2, and to this the N.C.O.'s and men at present at the bayonet fighting and physical training school of eastern Canada, now attached to the school of infantry will be transferred. The E. F. and P. T. school thus goes out of existence as such, being merged in the new organization, but this does not mean that the school of infantry will cease. N.C.O.'s will receive their qualifying training at the S. of I. as before, but while awaiting posts with units will undergo further training at the new depot.

ROAD WORK.
 County Roads Superintendent R. McVicar states that 25 miles of the year's work of improvement on the county roads will be on the roads in Brantford. The work in Ontario has been completed as far as this year.

ERIE AVE. PAVING.
 The Erie Avenue paving project is not completed this year because of the labor shortage. This statement was given out by Chairman English, of the Works. Both sides of the road have been completed from Parkdale to the Tail Race this year, and the balance of the work will be completed from the Tail Race to the Erie Avenue. The Erie Avenue has now been paved from Eady street to the Tail Race and presents a fine appearance. The road bed is composed of solid cement concrete, which prevents the road from draining down through them, as is possible with brick work.

Future of the World at Stake; Says Borden

Stirring Address by Premier to Delegates in Attendance at Trades and Labor Congress in Ottawa—Thirty Third Annual Convention Now On.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—The Government ready to occupy three days. At the end of that time it was probable more evidence would be ready to continue the hearing Thursday and Friday. He invited anyone having information that will assist in the hearing to give it to him, and it would be investigated. Mr. Waldron said he was satisfied the work of the accountants had been carried on expeditiously.

President J. C. Waters of the Trades and Labor Congress was present and took over the chair. The session was probably the greatest ever known in labor circles. Incidentally Mr. Waters held the only bomb-throwing chair he turned to the representatives of the press and that this great oration was tendered by the men "who are to chop my head off."

Continuing Mr. Waters stated that in the past he had been the target for many bitter and uncalculated attacks, attacks which may possibly have been made in the hope that the ranks of organized labor would be split. Labor, however, did not intend to be divided. There might be little trivial divisions and differences of opinion but when it came down to business, real business labor was united never to be divided.

"Sir Robert Borden's remark regarding the democratization of the nations," said Mr. Waters, "has particularly impressed me. I have more than the occasion been taken severely to task because before the war, I said that we were linked to one of the greatest and most powerful autocracies the world has ever known. At that time I said that if Germany was crushed by the war, it would be replaced by an autocracy that was even more menacing. I referred to Russia which was then my despair, but is now my hope. I have more recently been imbued with the hope that Russia, now democratic Russia, will stay with the western democracies, and I am hoping sincerely that Russia will stay with us, for she can help to bring about a satisfactory solution of our many problems. Democratic Russia, in my opinion, will help to revolutionize the world."

Referring again to the manner in which he had been "villified" by the press of Canada, Mr. Waters continued: "Attacks of this nature will not cause me to change my attitude and I will continue to carry on my work fearlessly. I am quite confident that the Canadian people will not desert me when I am endeavoring to the best of my ability to carry out their mandate, and I would not betray the trust that is reposed in me. Before the convention closes I am convinced that the labor men of Canada will set forth their attitude in such a way that it will be clear, as clear as that cannot be misunderstood."

The president then declared the convention formally opened. Following Mr. Waters' address, the balance of the day devoted to the morning session was given up to the calling together of committees and deciding on the time for the debates. After a lengthy and in some parts heated discussion, it was finally carried that the movers of resolutions and amendments would be permitted to speak for ten minutes and all other delegates five minutes, except in special circumstances. The convention adjourned at one o'clock and will resume at two when the various resolutions will be resumed.

DYSPEPSIA MADE A WRECK OF HER

Dyspepsia made a wreck of her Ontario Soldier's Wife Made Worse by ordinary Remedies, but soon cured by Dr. Cassell's Tablets

Mrs. Mary Lawrence, 9 Mayplace, Kitchener, Ont., writes—"Dr. Cassell's Tablets have made me a new woman. I used to be terribly depressed and suffered so much from Dyspepsia that I was almost a physical wreck. I tried various things, which only seemed to make me worse, and then at last I got Dr. Cassell's Tablets. They changed my whole outlook on life. I am well now. I romp with my children, and am looking hopefully forward to my soldier husband's return."

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are the supreme remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Anemia, Nervous Affections, and Nerve Paralysis, and for Weakness in Children. Specially valuable for chronic indigestion during the critical periods of life. Price 50 cents per tube, six tubes for $3.00. Price of five, from druggists and chemists, 25 cents. "Canada. Don't waste your money on imitations; get the genuine Dr. Cassell's Tablets." Prepared by Dr. Cassell's Co., Ltd., Manchester, Eng.

counter, is developing for the ministry." The Westminster Gazette says: "The criticisms now heard may be no more than a reflection of the disappointment at the long halt which the war on the western front has experienced, and government has to bear the questioning which the situation evokes. Questions were heard, but they were made their appearance in the press, but they are now extending to the columns of the newspapers. 'Wanted, a success,' is the note of one weekly decidedly friendly to Lloyd George."

The morning Post exhibits impatience with the ministry, but that would not be disturbing. It is disappointed when The Times begins to demand official reports on the war. These things are all significant because the present ministry starts its career with magnificent press support behind it, and none of the administrations during the war had been so little subjected to annoyance or loss of support. "I could get this lot out in a fortnight, if I chose," was the remark of one of those journalists who control many newspapers, but his disposition was not to get them out, but to keep them in. The same spirit has been shown in even some influential quarters. Lloyd George and his colleagues can have no complaint on the ground that they have not been given a fair field. They have on the contrary enjoyed a good deal of favor, and a different and a querulous spirit begins to be manifested. It spurs out of a feeling that the cabinet lacks driving force and concentration upon its task.

CHANGE NAME OF NEW BRUNSWICK

To Expurge German Flavor By Naming Province New Windsor.

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Representations have been made to the Dominion Government that New Brunswick should change its name to New Windsor. The communication which hails from Manitoba emphasizes that the king has dropped "Brunswick" from his titles and that the royal family is known as that of Windsor. It is urged that a similar course should be taken in Canada in regard to the names possessing a German flavor.

NEW CABINET

Continued from page one. A dimlution of that confidence, while carrying out its declared policy, continues the declaration, government will endeavor to give the country proper guarantees. The justices will be strictly administered. In this respect it will not allow itself to be influenced by considerations of persons by any question of social position or political conditions. As regards the conduct of the war, the declaration expresses the resolve of the government to impart to this phase of its duties a greater impetus every day. It attaches the greatest importance to intensification of the manufacture of material for war purposes. The declaration adds, to close collaboration between the allies and the pursuit of a more methodical diplomatic policy.

Deary Overtures
Berlin, Sept. 18, via London.—The German foreign office, in a statement given to the Associated Press to-day, denies stories appearing in Danish and foreign newspapers to the effect that the German government has indirectly communicated its peace terms to Washington or that Wilhelmstrasse even had sent out trial balloons for the purpose of sounding the sentiment in the United States.

The German foreign office further stated that the rumors were promptly discredited with reference to the peace terms ascribed to Germany, and further by the fact that there was no occasion for Germany to address the Washington government in this respect.

The assertion made by Matthias Erzberger, the Clerical leader in the Reichstag that Germany's note in reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposal already was on its way to Rome, also was denied in official circles. The centre leader informed his electors to this effect in the course of two meetings which he addressed in Wurtemberg on Sunday.

RAYMOND SCHALK started to get going big, his first experience having been while in the Illinois-Missouri. When he was sold to the Chicago White Sox, he didn't measure up to the catching efficiency—brown. It couldn't stop him only stands two-over, and he was sold in White Sox for a price. He has been $12,000. He handed, and throws right-hander, and he is expected to be chief of the team when the Sox start after straying animals of Hein and Buck Herzog, but he is still considered American League's most height of many great bats but rolled into Schalk's of compact flesh is the great ball catching machine.

ARNOLD C. GAN
Just how they manage "Chuck" for a nickname name like Arnold isn't baseball's history, but it shows that this veteran can League experience a dangerous hitter at even his career, with the position of the year he is up with the Sox. His hitting has fallen off considerable. It was in 1912, when he was 300 feet, but he was there until a day or two in Cleveland, and hence Two of his Washington record with 309 and 400.

An Outsider

(By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE)

AUTHOR OF
"The Lone Wolf"
"Joan Thursday"
"The Brass Bowl" etc.

(From Monday's Daily.)

It was an hour later before she at length settled upon satisfactory concealment for the incriminating jewel-case in the recess behind one of her bureau-drawers, where it fitted precisely in the wrappings she did not trouble to remove.

In the gray crepuscule of the dawn at last, she flung herself upon the bed—and fell instantly asleep.

CHAPTER XL

The Third Degree.

In the sequel to that night of mischief and misadventure Sally Standish had sound reason to be thankful for the resilient youth which still animated her body. But, of course she wasn't; youth will ever misperceive till it must mourn its blessings.

Yet by virtue of that inestimable attribute alone she was able to do with only four hours' sleep (when Adele Standish, for example, needed eight, and then was seedy) and be the first of the household to appear for breakfast—clear of eye and fresh of color, with a countenance as serene as her temper and a temper as normal as her appetite.

As for this last, she made an excellent breakfast, when Mr. Trego selected to appear for breakfast.

That unhappy young man had been more wise if he had not taken it for granted that nine o'clock would be too early for Sally as well as for everybody else who didn't make breakfast in bed a habit, and a more domestic person would have been inclined to prepare himself against that inevitable rencounter with a young woman of exasperated sensitivities. Nothing could have been more surely predestined to ghastly failure than his cheerful assumption of a complete understanding, with the hint implicit that having done Sally a signal service, he was willing to let bygones be bygones and take as fast a sense of obligation not easy for her to express.

"Hello!" he saluted the charming vision of her with unobtrusive pleasure and surprise. "You down already? Why, I made sure I had at least two hours' lead of the field."

"Yes," Sally agreed quietly; "I am early, I presume."

"Want to be careful! Trego cautioned; "it's hardly the thing, this early rising, you know; it's not really 'chawer' if it isn't done."

Sally said nothing. It was safer not to. And cheerfully unaware of her self-restraint, Trego armed himself with a plate and foraged at the side-table, with his array of silver-hooded hot-water dishes.

"Been for a swim," he volunteered with a thrill of coarse creature satisfaction in his tone. "Won't you water along this coast—not too warm, like the Jersey beaches—to my taste, anyway, and not too all-fired cold, as it generally is north and south, but just right for a dip in champagne properly chilled. No such pick-me-up in the world as a dip in the cool of the morning. You should have tried it."

"I dare say," said Sally briefly, and was very glad she hadn't. "But that dreadfully long climb up from the beach, she amended, feeling it obligatory upon her not to seem too short of civility.

"You don't mind that, when you go to it after a swim," Trego declared. "It's only in anticipation, when you're snug between sheets and debating the rival claims of the distant beach and your handy bathtub; then, I grant you, the climb up the cliff weighs heavily in the scale of disadvantages."

He drew out the chair adjoining Sally's and attacked the half of an fried sentiment, but after the first mouthful put down his spoon.

"Sugar, please," he said with a deprecatory grimace, indicating the bowl just beyond the girl's place. "I know I ought to go in for salt if I want to come through as a regular guy, but if you won't tell on me, I'm going to enjoy this melon in my own primitive Western way."

"Thanks."

He committed the unardonable deed with a liberal hand. "Frightfully weird, you know," he mimicked with a chuckle, adding: "It takes the rude, untutored mind of a barbarian to be satisfied with sweetening a thing instead of bitterness, doesn't it?"

"But I prefer salt myself," said the girl; "it brings out the flavor."

She concluded her defense in some confusion due to Trego's practically synchronous utterance of her identical phrase: "It brings out the flavor." Then she realized that he had deliberately tripped her and was merely laughing in the triumph of his low cunning. And she had to laugh, too, to save her face; but it was an empty laugh and accompanied by a flush that might have warned the man had he not too soon returned attention to his melon.

WHEN ONE IS HALF SICK

When one is a perfect fool (one) I don't know how long as I can stand. And I didn't try to argue with her. For didn't I know just how obstinate I used to be on that very point? I forced myself to do each day the little that in the depleted state of my energies was more dring than a good day's work when I was fit.

I was proud of bullying myself. I too, was unable to throw off my indisposition quickly because I never gave myself a complete rest.

I was proud of it. I thought, "I too, thought people who didn't force themselves to keep on working very 'splendid'."

And I, too, was wrong.

I dropped in on a neighbor of mine one day last week and found her looking miserably.

She stuck to her preserving.

"Yes," she said, "I've been feeling mean for a week but I simply won't give in to it. I've got some preserving that I want to get done and every day I make myself do a little. But, oh it drags so. Even that little thing of the boys and screaming, which would if I were feeling properly. I know lots of people would simply give in and go to bed but I'm not that kind."

"Perhaps if you did five in for a day or two you'd be better?" I suggested.

She shook her head stubbornly. "I'm not that kind," she repeated.

THREE BOYS AND MRS SPARROW

Several little sparrows flew down into the road and began dusting themselves.

Johnny and Willy and Tommy threw stones at them from behind the fence, and all the birds except one flew away. The boys ran out to pick him up.

"Stand back!" exclaimed a stern voice. "Don't touch him. You boys ought to be ashamed of yourselves. That poor little sparrow wouldn't hurt any one, and Squeedee, the tiny little elf of kindness, stooped and lifted the sparrow from the dust."

"You've broken his wing so he can't fly. He has a family waiting for him, so you boys will have to help me carry him home," said Squeedee.

"I'm sorry," exclaimed Johnny. "We never meant to hit him."

Willy explained, "We only wanted to see them fly."

Squeedee took his whistle from his pocket and blew on it. With each blow the three boys grew smaller and smaller until they were no bigger than Squeedee.

"Here, put on these little caps, they'll make you invisible," said Squeedee, and when the boys put on the caps they all floated into the elm tree.

Mrs. Sparrow was glad to see Squeedee, but when she learned about the accident that had happened to her husband, she flew into a terrible rage.

"The boys were surely glad Squeedee had given them the little invisible caps, for there was no telling

THE BRANT.

It is a long time since movie fans of this city have seen Marie Fuller, among the earliest of screen stars, in pictures and many no doubt have wondered at her prolonged absence. Mary comes back to her own, however, at the Brant Theatre this week, co-starring with Lou Tellegen, noted for his work in such pictures as "The Unknown" and "The Secret of Conscience," in a stirring Lasky production of the great northwest, "The Long Trail." Roscoe Arbuckle, cavorts gleefully through "Fickle Fatty's Fall," in which he is aided and abetted by other luminaries from the Sennett fun foundry. Bushman and Bayne, co-starring in "The Great Secret" and a Christie comedy of the latest release, complete an exceptionally powerful programme of pictures, featuring a Princess Mapella and company, a class singing and musical quartette, offer a highly artistic number pleasing to all.

THE LOVE OF A KING

An enthusiastic reception assuredly awaits the popular and highly gifted Albert Brown when Paul Kester's new play "The Love of a King" is presented at the Grand Opera House this evening, Sept. 18.

Few actors have given more convincing proofs of versatility and artistic sincerity in a romantic role as the author of "When Knighthood was in Flower" has applied to this play the dramatic skill and dramatic enthusiasm for which he is famous, and has evolved a work that should prove moving and inspiring in the highest degree. In fact, it does the principles of dramatic art and sacrifice.

The love of George III, for the Quakeress, Hannah Lightfoot, during the period when he was heir apparent is historic, and it was common report that he contracted a marriage with her which was suppressed for reasons of state. It was not until he was some years on the throne, that the Royal Marriage Act, which made such unions illegal, was passed.

In keeping with the idyllic character of the story, the first act of the meeting between George, who is secretly married to a pathetic peasant girl, and the lovely Hannah. It is all in the vein of delicate humor and sentiment, and the interest is enhanced by the fact that the girl is entirely unaware of the identity of her new-won admirer. The second act which is laid in London, shows the courtship so far advanced that a secret marriage takes place just at the moment when the sudden death of George II calls the Prince to the throne.

In the third act Hannah is still in ignorance of the dignity which is really hers, and believes herself the bride of a simple country gentleman. She is only enlightened when the King's mother seeks her out and makes a pathetic appeal to give up George and her claims to his fealty. The dramatist has carefully refrained from making George a cad. Indeed it is his firm intention to proclaim her as his Queen—a step which is forestalled by Hannah's act of heartbroken renunciation in running away. It is a story, vividly told, with an abundance of picturesque incident. The dramatist has reserved his finest touches for the epilogue, which is laid in Hannah's garden fifty years afterwards, when the King first appeared in senility, meets the sweet old woman who has lived on her memories for five decades. It puts a capsule of tender beauty on the entire play.

Mr. Brown has a magnificent opportunity to show every phase of his art, and the role of Hannah is of a sterner dimension. It will be played by Lenore Phelps, a young actress of rare power and beauty, and it is promised that the balance of the cast will be of a high order of artistic excellence.

POULTRY TO BE IN UNUSUAL DEMAND

Trade Commissioner Predicts Big Call for Fowl in England.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—The attention of Canadian exporters of poultry is drawn to a report received by the Department of trade and commerce in Birmingham, England, "that an unusual demand for poultry will take place during the next few years. In fact, it is stated that Canadian exporters should make a note of this."

"PRETTY BABY."

Musical Comedy Fans will read the announcements of the coming of Jimmie Hodges and Jean Tynes in the big musical comedy "Pretty Baby" as heralding a new era in the National Pastime reads of a double-headed coin price of admission. The big show which has two of the season's best songs hit after it, will be at the Grand Opera House for one night with the Saturday matinee, Sept. 22.

Jimmie Hodges and his clever co-star, Jean Tynes, need no introduction to the lovers of this class of amusement as they have had their own little niche in the hearts of such for several seasons. "Pretty Baby" is heralded as a sparkling musical comedy, with comic situations galore, and with a scenic environment that is perfect. Several of the appealing numbers have never been used outside of this company and a charming chorus of singing voices augment the harmony to powerful volume. What little plot there is, has to do with an artist husband, played by Ollie Hodges, and how he is won back to the straight and narrow by his wife, played by Jean Tynes, with the assistance of her servant Mike, which character is portrayed by Jimmie Hodges. Comedy predominates throughout, as Mr. Hodges, around whom the show is written, is ably assisted by a large cast of musical comedy favorites, including Elmer Conroy, Elmer Geo. Graves, Al Garbelle, Ollie Hodges and a real

White Bread.

One quart milk, scalded; let it cool. Put your flour into your pan, 1-2 cup sugar, a little salt, one tablespoonful of lard. Let your yeast dissolve in a little warm water; then add your yeast, then your milk and stir well. Knead well and bake about one hour.

One and one-half cups Indian meal together with a pinch of salt and a tablespoonful of butter; 1-2 cups boiling water to scald meal, etc., 3-4 molasses, 1 cup graham flour, sifted; 1 1-2 cups milk, with a heaping teaspoonful of soda stirred into it, and enough white flour to make a thin batter to drop from the spoon, 2 cups of raisins sprinkled with flour to keep them from sinking to the bottom. Pour into a buttered tin and cover tightly. Have a kettle 1-2 full of boiling water, put the tin into the water, cover the kettle and boil 15 minutes, then take it out, take off the cover and put it into the oven for 1-2 hours.

Let rise until morning. Then put into loaves. When your tins are full and bake about one hour.

CHILD'S DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.

Whether it is to be the seashore or the back yard sand pile this summer this simple little dress is just what the small girl needs for play. It is very practical because it is easy to make and easy to launder—two good points which should appeal to her mother. It buttons from neck to hem and has a good looking pointed collar. The sleeves may be to the wrist or elbow length. Square, loose, hanging pockets are attached to the narrow belt.

The child's dress pattern, No. 8410, is cut in four sizes, 2 to 8 years. As on the figure, the 4 year size requires 1 1/2 yards 36 inch material, with 1/2 yard 36 inch contrasting goods.

To obtain this pattern send ten cents to the office of this publication.

CANADIAN CITY FOUNDED BY A NEW ZEALANDER

KASLO, one of the most beautiful little cities in Canada, the centre of a prosperous mining and fruit growing district in the Kootenays, B.C., owes its origin some twenty years ago to a New Zealander. Mr. D. P. Kane, who with a fellow prospector saw the possibilities of the promontory on which it is located and decided to clear the brush and establish a townsite. Originally it was called Kane's Landing, but as the community grew, a picture of the Indian name signifying "the place where the blackberries grew" was adopted. Fifteen years ago the early residents began to plant fruit trees, and to-day there is no more successful orchard country in Canada, cherries being particularly plentiful. For this the mild climate is largely responsible, the Kootenay Lake never freezing over. The war has brought new prosperity to Kaslo, and the mining industry has never been so busy. The city is surrounded by mining camps providing lead, zinc, copper, silver, and gold. Over sixty million pounds of lead have been produced in the Ainsworth mining division since records were kept, and a goodly proportion of this has, no doubt, been transferred into munitions of war. It is interesting to note that Mr. Kane, the founder of Kaslo, enlisted at the outbreak of hostilities, and is now a sergeant with the overseas Expeditionary Forces. Kaslo has sent half its original male population to the front, but is prouder of no man here than Sergeant D. P. Kane.
