THE ST. CATHARINES BILL.

Mr. Hissott moved for leave to introduce a bill entitled an Act respecting the City of St. Catharines.

Mr. Fraser said this was one of those bills of which sufficient notice had not been given, and the Standing Orders Committee had recommended that the rule requiring notice be dispensed with. He took the point of order that until the report of the committe was adopted the hill could not be proceeded with.

The speaker reserved his decision.

Their Craft is in Danger.

Toronto Telegram (Tory): Protected manufacturers on both sides of the line have no mortgage on the tariff advantages that enrich them.

In the United States the Republicans may have to throw the infant industries overboard to avoid being thrown over themselves. In Canada the Government has squeezed about all the political profit out of the manufacturers that shey will yield, and to save itself it may have to sacrifice its industrial backers.

Then where would the manufacturers look for help?

Not to the Liberals. That party has finally esponsed agriculture and must champion its cause. Our tariff lords would have to stick to Sir John, who might scatter a few crambs among his old bensfactors. Crambs would be a poor substitute for the whole loof, but since the industrial league could not get a crust from the Grits it would have to be thankful for small favors from Sir John.

Of this the manufacturers may be sure that no remembrance of past kindness will paley Sir John when it pays him to strike the min the pocket. The veterau may relie his aged arm, but politically he has neither heart nor memory, and the path of profit is the road he will take, even if he has to forsake the infant industries he has nursed.

New York Scotten American: The ministers of Jersey City are making arrangements to have a house-to-house canvass with the view of inding out what people do not attend church, and the causes that are at work to account for their indifference to religious matters. The city has been laid out in five districts, each of which will be in charge of a member of the executive commistee, whose duty it will be so invite the co-operation of the clergy of all denominations and the most active members of their congregations. The idea is to have one visitor appointed for every ten families among the non-churchgoing portion of the community, and to see what can be done towards getting the people to begin attending a place of worship of some kind.

A Hint to Mistresses,

A Hint to Mistresses.

New York Tribune: "If housekeepers would take a hint from hotels," says a hotel man, "they would have less trouble in getting all the help they want, though they offer only moderate wages. The difference is not so much in the work as in the hous. In a private house a girl's labors are from the rising of the sun until the going down of the same, and more too. And if she does happen to get shrough her work and ventures to sit down, her mistress is apt to object. In a hotel a girl has certain well-defined duties to perform, and after they are parformed, as a rule, her time is her own. If some such arrangement could be recognized in private houses the servant problem would be simplified.

Bofislo News: The Earl of Derby has the questionable distinction of owning more drinking places than any other English peer. He has 72 of the places to his credit or discredit, while the next largest owner is the Earl of Bedford, with 18 grog shops. The Duke of Devonshire is but one behind Bedford and so it goes through a list of 152 peers, who own 1,529 places where liquor is sold and drunk—all in "darkest England."

A Novel Sale. A Novel Sale,

Rochester He, '2: The sale of accounts of merchanger and the wook exchange. Wednesday was not a success so far as money was concerned, but there was lots of fur. Some large accounts went at very amall prices. But the principal thing aimed at was to seare debters into paying their accounts, and much money is said to have been paid before the sale.

New York World: Are ests a nuisance?
Dead ones most certainly are. So, too, are vagabond night cats with musical instincts but no voice. The alien cats who defuly excavates the newly isid-out garden bed and rains its blooming promises is also to be reprobated. But these are bed cast, the criminal class of the feline tribe, and can the whole family be maligned, for its unworthy members? The oat is the normal cat, the softly puring, milk-drinking, beribboned ornament of the household. Is that a nuisance? The Board of Health in a New Jersey town has got to settle the point, for a woman has entered a formal charge before it, based on the ground that cats are nuisances and should be abated. Let the board preserve an intrepid calm in solving the point.

His home is in the menutains of Nepaul, and his trade and only jay are fighting. Years ago the English troops had a hard fight with Nepaul, and the worth of the foe was recognized, and Goorkha regiments were raised as soon as the province had submitted. At no time has there been any lack of recruits, the men being only too glad to enlist; and quite lately five new regiments were raised. The headquarters of the regiments are at Almorai, Northern Bengal, and not long ago there was a outlous meeting between the 42nd Highlanders (the Black Watch) and the blacker watch of the Himalayan passes. No fellows got on better together. The man are short, averaging 5 feet 2 inobes, thick set, of a deep brown complexion, but with merry faces that, however, show deep determination when the matter in consideration is a fight. An hour later they looked out and saw the two men apparently sitting in their boat, but there was no sail visible. When they started out after dinner they looked for the strange boat and discovered the figure of only one of its cocupants. They immediately suspected acceptable was wrong and started out to investigate. They had only gottem a short distance out when the figure of the second man was noticed to disappear from view. On arriving at the boat it was found to be capsized, and no ones was visible in the vicinity. The fishermen accordingly returned to shore. About 3 o'clock they became anxious in reference to the disappearance of the men in the boat and again rawed out to the capsized craft. They righted it, and after doing so they found that to the painter of the boat was tied the body of a man. This was secured and with the boat towed ashore. To day the body recovered was identified as that of Fred. Bedore, son of Joe Bedore, the well known boat-keeper at St. Clair Flats. The other is known to have been Jacob Kehl, son of Henry Kehl, who keepe a place near Bedore's. The young men sailed down from the Flats Tuesday to sell some ducks and started back early yesterday morning.
