SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

JULY QUARTERLY SESSION.

The last Quarterly Session of the Grand Division of this Island was held, agreeably to appointment, in the populous and flourishing Settlement of Bedeque, on Monday the 26th July. The Officers present on the occasion were, the G. W. Patriarch, G. Treasurer, G. Chaplain and G. Conductor, together with a large number of Representatives from various sections of the Island. After the usual preliminaries, the G. W. P. presented his Quarterly Report, which, on motion of the Grand. Chaplain (the Rev. Bro. Roach), seconded by the Acting P. G. W. P. (Bro. Arbuckle), he was unanimously requested to publish Arbuckle), he was unanimously requested to publish in such of the Island Newspapers as might see fit to insert the same, and is as followeth:—

GRAND WORTHY PATRIARCH'S REPORT

To the Officers and Members of the Grand Division of the Order of the Sons of Temperance, of P. E. Island: WORTHY BROTRERS ;

Wormy Broyness;

Permit me, on the present occasion, to congratulate you, upon your assembling in Quarterly Session, for the first time, in the populous and flourishing Settlement of Bedeque—the cradle. If not the very birth-place, of Temperance Institutions in P E. Island. And I fervently hope, that the benevolent and truly patriotic principles of these Institutions, which have, here, for so long a period, been in active and vigorous operation, may apeedily "leaven the whole lump," and from these extend their salutary influences to tions, which have, here, for so long a period, been in active and vigorous operation, may speedily "leaven the whole lump," and from theme extend their salutary influences to all around.

The neat and spacious edifice in which we are now, through the mercy of a Gracious Providence, so happily convened—although not yet formally dedicated to the noble Cause whose interests we have assembled from various Sections of the Island to deliberate upon and to promote—is an ornament to this beautiful locality—a credit to its enterprising and spirited proprietors—and, to my own mind, at least, an augury of approaching and complete victory.

Since you last assembled in regular Quarterly Session, the usual Annual Session of the Supreme Head of our Order has been held at Chicago, Ill. Representatives from a large proportion of the American States, and from several of the British Provinces, were in attendance. Their proceedings appear to have been characterised, throughout, by liberality of sentiment and unity of action. The measures in which we are more particularly interested appear to be the following, viz.—The reduction of the Fee for Initiation to the minimum sum of $1 (6s): The throwing open of the doors of Subordinate Divisions to the public, with the view of affording strangers an opportunity of witnessing our neat and appropriate Installation Ceremony, whensoever such a step may be by them deemed advisable: The adoption of an entirely new and at the same time really chaste and impressive Ritual, covering the entire working of Subordinate Divisions—the result of a combination of talent and experience rarely brought to bear on such subjects. And, finally, the selection of a Locality in our own immediate neighbourhood, as the place of meeting of the next Annual Session.

By the amendment of the Constitution of Subordinate Divisions above referred to, all objection to the establishment of Divisions in the poorer Districts of the Island will for the future be obvisted—the merce out of Initiation now presenting no obstacle of Temperance, from all parts of the North American Continent, and perhaps also from Great Britain, is confidently anticipated.

Let me now, Worthy Brothers, direct your attention to those local matters which still more directly concern ourselves. It must, I think, he admitted, that the Grder of the Sons of Temperance has sever yet attained that commanding and influential position in this Island which we see it occupying, at the present moment, in the neighbouring Republic and in most of our Sister Colonies. We are not, I regret to perceive by the Returns, which will be laid before you by the Grand Scribe, making any perceptible advances in point of numerical strength and weight of influence in certain quarters—and many of these who are formally in connection with us, are, to say the least, but very indifferent and inefficient members of our Body. Still, itsafords me the highest gratification to know—and I rejoice to record the fact—that there are amongst us, both in Town and Country, a goodly number of as "staunch mon and true" as are to be mot with in any part of the world—men who have, long since, "nailed their colours to the mast," and who, if our goodly bark must sink, will magmanimously sink with her, bravely contending with our adversaries to the last. But with this noble band of laborious and self-denying men on board—no matter who else may prove recreant to their pledge, and basely described; posts in the hour of peril—I have no fear for the result. It is a source of encouragement, too, to know that, somehow or other, the great fundamental principles upon which our Order is based—the noble and philanthropic objects which it seeks to attain—are, even here, daily obtaining a wide range and securing the sympathies of the right-minded, intelligent and active portions of the community. Before I close this Report is lew facts will be giren, amply illustrating and supporting the sympathics of the right-minded, intelligent and active portions of the community. Before I close this Report is lew facts will be gi

On glancing over the instance of the gentlemen composing the new House, we sink, that not only have ell our old driends been, re-elected, but others have been returned whom we have every, reason to be lieuwe are decidedly favorable to our views and principles. But, there is one circumstance to which I must, a little more in detail, direct your attention, as it, in my opinion, more clearly indicates than any other with which I am at present acquainted, the particular direction in which the current of public opinion is, I am happy to believe, beginning to set. This matter is at the present moment, occupying, almost to the exclusion of everything elec, the attention of our local politicians of every class; but I advert to At, not as a mere party question, but simply as one in which the whole temperance community—whatever may be their views of general politics—are deeply interested.

It is somewhat amusing to observe how utterly unabled our political servents are to account for the phenomenon to which I now allude upon any principle of political economy with which they appear to have been familiar hitherto, and the singular proneness they manifest to attribute to any and every cause—any to he rue one—the source—of—their discomfort and alarm. It appears, that the constituents of a certain Hon. Gentleman—the "Leader" Her Majesty's Government in this Island, and an examination of the particular of the parti

GENERAL SELECTIONS

TRADE WITH JAPAN.

A California paper gives the following upon this subject: "A business transaction took place a few days since that is likely to be productive of important results in the history of the commercial world. A purchase of 100,000 pounds of rice was made by one of our most respectable Chinese merchants, which it is proposed to ship to Japan on board the ship Hamilton, which is now under Chinese colours—having—heen purchased from her American owners by two wealthy Chinese merchants. The Chinese have long been on trading terms with the Japanese, and their vessels are allowed to with the Japanese, and their vessels are allowed to enter their ports and trade. The undertaking is a novel one, and in the event of its succeeding, it would not require the foresight of a prophet, to predict a very sudden increase in the mercantile marine of China; which would soon be able to show as handsome a fleet of clippers as any nation in the world. It would not be or cuppers as any nation in the world. It would not be strange were it to happen that the opening of the ports of Japan should be brought about by the Chinese who have settled in California. Indeed, we are strongly inclined to the belief that such will be the case; and that the world will yet have to acknowledge themselves indebted to California for it all. The powerful changes going on throughout the world—the result of the gold discoveries—are every day heady many and and discoveries—are every day heady many and and discoveries. discoveries—are every day becomming more and more apparent, and it would not be presumptuous to suppose that the ports of Japan will be as free to the world before three years, as are those of China now."

CAUSE FOR NATIONAL GRATULATION In a recent address, Hon. Edward Everett, while referring to the vast sums paid in the United States for the relief of poor emigrants from Europe, said that when he was Minister to the Court of St. James, he received a letter from one of the interior counties of England, telling him that they had in their House of Correction an American seaman, whom they were desirous of being rid of. He wrote back that he might be sent to London, where he would be shipped to the United States; adding the suggestion, that if her Majesty's Minister at Washington were applied to in a similar way by the overseers of the poor and wardens of the prisons in the United States, he would be pretty busily engaged. "I really felt pleased," said he, "at a time when my own little State of Massachusetts was assisting from ten to twelve thousand destitute British In a recent address, Hon. Edward Everett, while a time when my own little State of Massachusetts was assisting from ten to twelve thousand destitute British subjects annually, to be able to relieve the British empire, 'upon whose dominions the sun never sets,' of the only American pauper quartered upon it."

CURIOUS MENTAL PHENOMENA.

Dr. Carpenter is delivering a course of lectures in Manchester, England, on the physiology of the nervous system. In his fifth lecture the doctor related some curious instances of aberration of mind. He spoke of a very learned professor, some years ago, at Aberdeen, Dr. Robert Hamilton, whose essay on the national debt of England largely contributed to the abolition of the sinking fund. In public this man was a shadow. He pulled off his hat to his own wife in a shadow. He pulled off his hat to his own wife in the streets, and apologized for not baving the pleasure of her acquaintance. He went to one of his classes early in the morning, with one of his wife's white stockings on one leg, and a black one on the other. He often spent the whole time of the class in moving from the table the hats, which his students as constantly returned. He sometimes invited the students to call upon him, and then fued them if they called. Mr. Benjamin Hardinge, of Cincinnati, has made a valuable discovery in synthetic chemistry, by which he is enabled to produce an artificial marble from common pebbles and sand. It is stated by the Express Messenger that he is about to erect in or near the city of Montreal a model palace, to be built entirely of marble and precious stones. The stones for the walls, which are now moulding, are formed of silicates in combination with mineral earths and pebbles, and angular spots of granite variegated with mineral oxides. The roof will be a lava of crystallized silicates of lime and white alumina, resembling the snow crust. The floors to be of the same material, coloured in mosaic with oxides of minerals. The pillars, pilasters, columns, capitals, cornices, architraves, mantels, &c., will be of agate, jasper, porphyry, &c., with colossal statuary of snow-white marble. The inside finish of the walls will be of porcelain, in landscapes, with ceiling of freeco of porcelain, coloured in rosewood and zebra wood, inlaid with pearl. The tables, both tops and frames, will be of sapphire and amethyst, embedded with bands of opal—others of lapislazuli, chalcedony, onyx, set with garnet, topaz, ruby, and cornelian. Others with entire frames of blood-stone moulded in rich patterns of alto-relieve, with tops of onyx, and other chalcedonic formations.

SUBSTITUTES FOR THE POTATO.

The failure of the potato crop three or four years ago and the fears which exist lest the disease may be a —and the tears which exist lest the disease may be a permantly recurring one, if not too deep-seated to be ever eradicated—have led to many investigations and experiments with a view to replace it by some other esculent or substance that will equally answer its functions in the animal economy. Outmeal, Indian corn, and saw-dust have been tried—but without success. More recently the land of the potato has been searched for substitutes; and two tubers have been east easy to for substitutes: and two tubers have been sent over to France by the French Consul at the republic of Ecua-France by the French Consul at the republic of Ecuador which are supposed to possess many of the requisite qualities. The hocas is in the form of a kidney—is red and yellow in the fruit—and tastes like a chesnut. The millico is more like a potato both in form, taste and color. These are both now growing in the Jardin des Plantes:—the facts needful to be ascertained being, whether they will grow in these latitudes and propagate with sufficient rapidity. The experiment is one of much human interest. The root must possess a rare combination of good qualities which shall succeed in taking the place of the potato. The latter is nutritive, fecund, healthy, pleasant to the taste, and mixes easily with almost every other kind of food. It is remarkably cheap, will grow in nearly all climates, and preserves its virtues longer in its natural condition than most tubers. Still, the bounty of nature cannot be presumed to be exhaustible. The world went on a long time indifferently well without the potato—still longer without toa or coffee. There was a civilization before the silk worm was discovered, and sugar is a modern improveworm was discovered, and sugar is a modern improve-ment in diet. Nature, beyond doubt, has many won-ders yet in her storehouse: and if there be nothing new under the sun in the sense absolute, there are many things which are so relatively. The bocas may, for aught we know, supercede the potato.

SALMON FISHING IN THE NEPISIGUIT AND RESTIGOUCNE RIVERS.

RESTIGOUCNE RIVERS.

We are indebted to the Miramichi Gleaner for the appended sketch, furnished by a correspondent at Restigouche, dated Aug. 25:

'I must not forget to mention, among the passing events of the day, the visit to this quarter, of two young English Officers, one belonging to the 76th Regiment of foot, the other to the Royal Artillery, both at present stationed in Halifax, Nova Scotia. These young gentlemen were on a tour of pleasure, and spent a few weeks on the Bathurst waters, in piscatory pursuits, where after capturing about 80 salmon, they left for the Restigouche, to view its rich scenery, being under the impression that it afforded no great sport to the Angler in the shape of salmon fishing. But in this they were containing among other prophecies the fol-lowing, viz: that in 1270 of the Hegira (that is in 1855,) the sun (which is the emblem of the Ottoman empire) will rise no more; in 1280 (that is A. D. 1864) the

The Mahometans believe that antichrist will come near the end of time, to pervert at deduce mankind, and turn them into the path of perdition; that after him Jesus Christ will appear, whose presence antichrist will not be able to support, but will be struck down dead at the sight of him, and be melted like salt. They hold also aff the world will then be united.

These ideas, which originated from Mahomet himself, and are preserved by an unbooken tradition, show the doctrines of Islamism concerning our Lord Jesus Christ and his second coming. They profess, indeed, to receive him as the greatest of the prophets, who appeared before Mahomet, and as the only saint predestined to visit this world in the fulness of time, to unite all men in the same religion. But in order to men in the same religion. But in order to derive from this a system favourable to Mah met, the Imams have impiously subjected our Saviour to the sacerdotal authority of Mahomet as his vicar, accounting him the last of the universal Caliphs, who shall come at the end of time to exercise, in the name of Mahomet, the rights of the priest-hood and Supreme Power over all the people of the earth.

Is not this the king of fierce contenance. understanding dark sentences, whom the prophet Daniel foretold should stand up against the Prince of princes, but in the end should be broken without hand? "And I heard a great voice out of the temple, the voice of the Lord Jesus, saying to the seven value of the Lord Jesus, saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth. And the sixth angel poured his vial upon the great river Euphrates, and the water thereof was dried up." The earth was purged from this atrocious blasphemy.

Mr. Butler was dragged off, but clung to the mane of his horse; and both he and the horse were floundering in water—often dragged entirely under, and rapidly going down the stream. At first, the crocodile drew them again to the middle of the river; hut at last the horse gained shallow water, and approached the shore. As soon as he was within reach, natives came to his assistance, and beat off the crocodile with spears and clubs. Mr. Rutler was pierced with five deep gashes, and had lost much blood. His horse was also terribly mangled; a foot square of the flesh and skin was torn from his flanks. The crocodile, it is supposed, first seized the horse, and, when shaken off, he caught Mr. Butler—first below the knee, and then in the thigh. There were five or six wounds on Mr. Butler's person, from two to four inches long, and from one-half to two and a half inches wide. For eight or tun days he seemed to recover as fast could be expected, but was then seized with fever, which threatened to be fatal. There was a tendency to be locked-jaw. He passed this crisis, however, and in April Mr. Butler writes that he was nearly recovered from the effects of the frightful affray.—Bottos Journal.

CAUTION TO ORCHARD TRIEVES.—MAN SHOT.

—The owner of an orchard in New Giasgow, who had had frequent cause to complain of the depredations committed upon his fruit trees by nocturnal visitants, gave notice that he would shoot any person detected in estealing his fruit. The threat was not sufficient to frighten the thieves from their plunder, and at length he found it necessary to put the threat in practice. Accordingly on Sunday evening, he loaded his gun, putting in a heavy charge of course salt instead of shot, and concealed himself beneath the branches of one of the trees to watch for the thieves. He fell asleep, and had slept for some time, when he was awakened by a noise overhead and looking up discovered a person in the tree immediately above him. My Lords and Gentlemen:

Her Majesty commands us to inform you that she continues to receive from her allies the assurance of their unabated desire to cultivate the most friendly relations with this country.

It is with deep interest and concern that her Majesty has viewed the serious misunderstanding which has recently arisen between Russia and the Ottoman Porte.

The Emperor of the French has united with her Majesty in earnest endeavours to reconcile differences, the continuance of which might involve Europe in war.

Acting in concert with her allies, and relying on the exertions of the Conference now assembled at Vienna, her Majesty has good reasons to hope that an honorable arrangement will speedily be accomplished.

Her Majesty rejoices in being able to announce to you the termination of the war on the frontiers of the settlement of the Cape of Good Hope, and she trusts that the establishment of representative government in that colony may lead to the development of its resources, and enable it to make efficient provision for its future defence.

We are also commanded to congratulat you,

ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY'S CATTLE SHOW.

In giving in our last issue the list of Prizes awarded on Wednesday last owing to the lateness of the day when the list was furnished, two errors were committed which we hasten to correct, viz: The two prizes for Horses were awarded, the first to A. Laird, Eq., for the best Filly for Agricultural purposes, the second to the Hon. G. Coles, instead of the first and second blood Colts, as printed in the list. There was no competition, so as to enable the Judges to award a sprize.

'Tis not the clouds they touch, nor the soft brow, Of the o'erbending sames, as we deem;'
'Tis the blue floor of heaven that they sipbear,; And, like some old and wildly ragged stair,
They lift as to the land, where all is fair—
The land of which I dream.

The land of which I dream.

These ocean-waves, in their unmeasured evecp,
Are brighter, bluer than they seem;
True image, here, of the celestial deep,
Fed from the fulness of the unfailing streom—
Houven's glassy see of everlasting rest,
With not a breath to attribe allent breast—
The sea that leaves the land where all are blest—
The land of which I dream.

And these keen stars, the bridal gems of night, Are pure leaffer than they seem ;

Pilled from the inner fountsis of deep light,

They pour down heaven's own beam,

Clear speaking from their throne of glorious blue, onts ever ancient, ever new, glad home above, beyond our view— The land of which I dream.

This life of ours, these lingering years of earth, Are brisfer, swifter than they seem; A little while, and the great second birth, Of time shall come, the prophets' ancient theme!
Then He, the King, the Judge, at length shall come And for the desert, where we sadly roam, Shall give the kingdom for our endless hom The land of which I dream.

VARIETIES.

THE THIRST FOR WEALTH.

How wise is the prayer of Agur! And how few there are who imbibe its spirit, and discern the perils of riches! Insensi-bly the desire of wealth grows upon us and while our convictions are all the other way, we find our hearts clinging to the world's possessions as to their best good, and our hands are busily engaged in performing what the heart, wrapped in the love of the world, designs.

The desire for wealth, "covetousness, which is idolatry," is one of the most dangerous and deadening influences which can affect our Christian life. It closes our hearts against the appeals which must constantly be made to us, while the world is still unconverted, and there are any spots in foreign lands unvisited by the messengers of the cross, or in our own, unprovided with the stated minstrations of the gospel. If all that is unwisely hoarded, and all that is worse than foolishly expended, could be turned to the great object of evangelizing the world if men were more intent upon building up the kingdom of Christ, and less devoted to their own selfishness and pleasures, how different would be the report from the ends of the earth-and how would ignorance, vice, and suffering diminish in our world.—Episcopal Re-

A doctor and a poet quarreled; an indifferent person was applied to, to settle the dispute, when the latter made the following reply: "You are faulty, both; do penance for your crimes: bard, take his physic-doctor, read his ryhmes."

One of the most celebrated members of the Paris bar was lately consulted by a yeunger practioner upon an obscure point of law "I cannot give you positive answer, young man," replied the advohave pleaded once one way, and once the other, and I gained my suit each

Foot, being annoyed by a poor fidling fellow, straining harsh discord under his window, sent him out a shilling with a request that he would play elswhere, as the foundry, which is the best evidence of their suone scraper at the door was sufficient.

A grim bachelor-editor once retorted upon a rival's diatribe, that "it should be written in letters of salt on a board fence, for cows to lick it."

Mr. Jones, you say that Mr. Rozin is a composer. Does the court understand from that, that he is a writer of music?" "No, siree ; he's called a composer be-casse he never preaches to a man without putting him to sleep." "Crier, call the

The Springfield Gazette tells a good story of a clergyman who lost his horse one Saturday evening. After hunting, in company with a boy until midnight, he gave up in despair. The next day, somewhat dejected at his loss, he went into the pulpit, and took for his text the following passage from Job—"Oh, that I knew where I might find him?" The boy, who had just come in, supposing the horse was still the hurden of his thought eried out—"I know where he is—he's in Deacon Smith's barn!"

A lemonless Irishman was observed be evening slicing a potato into his hot hisky toddy.

"Why what are you about?" inquired

Mechanics, Inventors & Manufacturers. $450. IN SPLENDID PRIZES. $450.

VOLUME IX of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN commences on the 17th of September.
It is chiefly devoted to the advancement of the interests of Mechanics. Lagarders, Manufacturers, and Parmens, by the diffusion of useful knowledge upon these important branches. It is edited by men practically skilled in the arts and sciences, and is widely regarded as a sound and able journal. Nearly of the VALUABLE PATENTS which issue weekly from the PATENT OFFICE are ILLUSTRATED WITS ENGRAVINGS, and the CLAIMS of all the PATENT'S are published in its columns; thus making the paper a purfect SCIENTIFIC AND MECHANICAL ENCY-CLOFEDIA for fature as well as present reference. The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is very extensively circulated—its circulation in the last Volume exceeding 18,000 copies per week. It is in form for burding; each volume contains SEVERAL HUYDRED ENGRAVINGS and over FOUR HUNDRED PAGES of Reading Matter, with an Index. The practical receipts alone are worth to any family much more than the subscription price.
