THIRTY YEARS' PAIN

Ended by the Use of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

No Other Medicine and no Doctor Could Cure Mr. James Fraser of Kidney Disease and Palpitation of the Heart.

PICOT, N. S., Nov. 21.—No resident of this town is better known than Mr. James Fraser, one of our oldest and most highly esteemed citizens.

Mr. Fraser for thirty years of his life, was a victim to Kidney Disease and Palpitation of the Heart, which prevented him from giving his full time to his business. He estimates that the time he has lost through illness would have been worth thousands of dollars to him, if he could have devoted it to his business.

This money was lost to him through illness. And besides this amount he lost hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills, and in medicines.

His disease grew steadily worse, and he concluded that there was no hope for him. Fortunately however, he decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, as a final effort.

"As soon as I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, I began to mend," Mr. Fraser writes. "Day by day, I improved, until to-day I am cured and feel better, stronger and healthier than I have been for twenty years."

The experience of the past eight years gives absolute and indisputable proof that Dodd's Kidney Pills are a positive and unfailing cure for all Kidney Diseases, including Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, all Urinary Complaints, Diseases of Women, Paralysis, and Heart Failure.

No other medicine ever compounded can cure these diseases. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only known cure.

In cases of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Female Complaints, and Paralysis, etc., the only course open to the sufferer is to use Dodd's Kidney Pills or die. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure them. No other medicine can.

Oxford Woolen Mills.

The Oxford Woolen Mills, established in 1867, first made half a dozen shades of grey cloth; and some people think even now their samples embrace only these few styles; but if they were to glance through the warehouses, as your correspondent did, they would see hundreds of patterns, embracing the very latest of dyes and designs, being with the famous Scotch and Irish goods—in fact today the Oxford people are sending their goods into the English market with great success.

There is probably no industry in the Maritime Provinces whose produce reach a larger field than those of the famous Oxford Woolen Mills. Within the past few months the output has been increased about thirty per cent. by the addition of new machinery and up-to-date methods.

The Oxford people are not willing to use poor wool, cheap dyes, or shoddy of any kind. Since the mills started over thirty years ago, never a ounce of shoddy or other adulterated stock has entered into the goods produced by them. The dyes are the most expensive and high class that the market affords. The latest American, Scotch and German productions in the line of dyes and chemicals being used exclusively, resulting in fast colors, handsome shades and consequent satisfaction to the consumer.

The tailors throughout the provinces and Canada generally are waking up to the fact that they can buy from the Oxford Mills, tweeds that suit their trade and give even better satisfaction at a somewhat less cost than they can buy the imported goods.

The management reports a most satisfactory season's business. They are now working on Fall samples for 1899 and at present executing orders for next spring. Their customers throughout the Dominion may look for something to far surpass all previous efforts in the designs now being produced. Their specialty in summer goods is chiefly plain and fancy housewifery in light weight and colors; and as the leading woolen trade journals indicate that housewifery for next year are to be in very great favor, it will be well for Canadians to look about themselves and appreciate home manufactures to the extent of being strictly up-to-date, by having their tailor secure the Oxford housewifery in the new styles for 1899. It is about time that Canada was waking up to the fact that she has, within her own borders, woolen mill and woolen men capable of coping equally with and perhaps surpassing the very best that foreigners are able to produce in the line of handsome and durable tweeds.

The Oxford Mills are having an electric light plant installed now for their own special use and other new machinery and improvements are in contemplation.—Truro, N. S., Times-Guardian, Nov. 1st.

Chamberlain Again.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Joseph Chamberlain, who was the guest of the Conservative Club in this city this evening, spoke on colonial matters. He predicted a "sinister future" for Rhodesia and Great Britain's other acquisitions in Africa, and warmly defended the government's Chinese policy. Regarding the contention that Great Britain ought to have an agreement with Russia he said: "Experience has taught us that we require a better guarantee than a paper guarantee to secure the policy of an open door. The best security, in my opinion, is the desire of other nations, like Japan, Germany and the United States, to preserve an open door. Japan is becoming an important power with whom our relations throughout have been those of cordial friendship; while with Germany and the United States, our relations, I rejoice to say, are now closer and more cordial than they have been for some time. Germany and the United States are the two great commercial nations whose interests are identical with our own. In what I have said I have not meant a permanent formal treaty of alliance, nor need I say this now but that a speech of mine some months ago gave rise to misinterpretations. These persons are very premature very much mistaken, who think that Great Britain is in need of an alliance for her own security, or in order that other powers may pull chestnuts out of the fire. I rejoice" he said in conclusion, "at the change which has occurred in the relations between Great Britain and the United States. To us they stand in a relation different from that occupied by any other people. I know a hundred reasons why we should be friends, none why we should be otherwise, and I believe that it has been the true feeling of this country toward the United States for many years. All misunderstandings have been happily removed, and the union of the two English speaking nations would fear no other alliance."

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Mr. Chamberlain's speech last evening does not meet with the unqualified approval bestowed by the press upon the Manchester address. The disappointment felt concerns chiefly his manner in dealing with the Chinese question. All the papers, however, recognize the importance of the speech, and notice Mr. Chamberlain's repudiation of his earlier ideas of an Anglo-German alliance.

ST. JOHN'S, Nov. 16.—The speech of Joseph Chamberlain at Manchester on Tuesday in the course of which he denounced the French policy in Newfoundland and along the coast, is being read with interest here.

It is a speedy settlement of the whole matter of French treaty rights. The commissioners found the French claims far more exacting than the treaties permitted, and, before leaving, a fortnight ago, to return to England, they expressed their intention of supporting the case of Newfoundland upon every count.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The speech of Joseph Chamberlain at Manchester has had a disquieting effect upon French official circles, where it had been expected that the evacuation of Fashoda would satisfy Great Britain. Mr. Chamberlain's statements are regarded here as indicating Great Britain's desire to settle all questions pending while she is in a state of preparedness to exert pressure in support of her view.

Defied the Sheriff.

In the month of July last, Sheriff Holden of Sunbury, seized about a million and a half feet of logs, which had been cut on the Oromocto river last winter by W. A. Anderson of St. John and hung up in the spring. It appears Anderson, in his lumbering operations was supplied by Andrie & Co., who held a claim against the season's cut for the sum of $14,000, the amount which they had advanced. Now the men who had been in Mr. Anderson's employ had not been remunerated for their work, and when satisfied that there was no possibility of the drive being out last season, naturally availed themselves of the privileges of the lien law. There were 43 of them in all and their claims aggregated the sum of $2400. They engaged the services of C. E. Duffy and A. R. Slipp, barristers of Fredericton, who in August last, obtained for their clients an order from Judge Wilson, calling upon Cushing & Co., to pay the amount of the liens, and in the meantime had the logs attached by the Sheriff. Cushing & Co. appealed against this order to the supreme court, and last week the order was set aside, the judge taking the view that the logs had been illegally seized, because they had not reached their destination.

The late rains brought the water up in the Oromocto and tributaries, and caused most of the logs, which had been hung up since spring, to float out into the main river. They were at once taken in charge by men in the employ of Cushing & Co., and brought to the mouth of the river to be rafted. On Saturday, the counsel for the lien holders, learning that the logs had come out, and had in their opinion reached their destination, had a new writ issued at the suit of John McLean, a lien holder, and placed in the hands of Sheriff Holden to serve. The sheriff carried out his part of the program the same day, by attaching the logs and forbidding their removal.

Messrs. Cushing & Co. were at once apprised of this new phase of the case, and despatched A. W. Baird, barrister of St. John, to the scene. Mr. Baird gave orders to the men to disregard the orders of the sheriff and to go on with their work. The force of men was increased by the addition of Emory Sewell's crew, and no less than six tug boats were engaged at one time in picking up stray logs and towing them to the mouth of the river. Mr. Cushing arrived on the scene yesterday morning, and is said to have told those engaged in rafting the logs, that he would stand between them and any trouble which might arise.

The work went merrily on until the middle of the afternoon when everything was completed and the tug Champion being in readiness took the raft in tow and started with it for St. John.

The affair has created considerable excitement in and about Oromocto and is the chief topic for conversation. It is not yet known what action is contemplated by the counsel for the lien holders, but they are certain to make trouble for somebody. Sheriff Holden was in Fredericton Friday seeking legal advice, and though he declined to make any statement, it is hinted that he intends instituting proceedings against Cushing & Co., on his own behalf. One thing is certain, Cushing & Co. now have possession of the logs, and possession is said to be a good sized portion of the law. The friends of the Messrs. Cushing & Co. claim that in view of the lateness of the season, they were justified in pursuing the course they did. They claim that the prompt action was necessary to prevent the lumber from becoming frozen in, and lost to everybody. On the other hand the lien holders and their friends say, that the logs could have been removed at once had the owner furnished bonds to the amount of the claims.

A new phrase in the lien case against the Cushing logs has arisen. Before the logs were towed to St. John by the tug Champion, the captain of that vessel was served with a writ of attachment by the Sheriff Holden, of Sunbury county. When the raft arrived in St. John, Tapscott Bros., the owners of the tug, declined to deliver the logs to the Cushing. This being the case, Tapscott Bros. communicated with Messrs. Cushing & Sons, and they are representing the lien holders in the matter.

It is a speedy settlement of the whole matter of French treaty rights. The commissioners found the French claims far more exacting than the treaties permitted, and, before leaving, a fortnight ago, to return to England, they expressed their intention of supporting the case of Newfoundland upon every count.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The speech of Joseph Chamberlain at Manchester has had a disquieting effect upon French official circles, where it had been expected that the evacuation of Fashoda would satisfy Great Britain. Mr. Chamberlain's statements are regarded here as indicating Great Britain's desire to settle all questions pending while she is in a state of preparedness to exert pressure in support of her view.

IT'S EASY TO DYE.

Home Dyeing With Diamond Dyes Is Pleasant and Profitable

Beautiful and Brilliant Colors that Will Not Fade—Diamond Dyes Have Special Colors for Cotton and Mixed Goods—How Wise Women Economize in Fixed Expenses—A Ten Cent Package of Diamond Dyes Often Saves Ten Dollars.

In these times of enforced economy it should be a pleasure to any woman to learn how she can save the cost of a new gown for herself or suit for the little one, or how she can make her husband's faded clothing look like new. Diamond Dyes which are prepared especially for home use, will do all this. They are so simple and easy to use that even a child can get bright and lovely colors by following the directions on each package.

There is no need of soiling the hands with Diamond Dyes; just lift and stir the goods with two sticks while in the dye bath, and one will not get any stains or spots.

In coloring dresses, jackets, coats, and all large articles, to get a full and satisfactory color it is absolutely necessary to have a special dye for Cotton and all Mixed Goods, and a different one for all Wool Goods. This is done in Diamond Dyes, and before buying dyes one should know whether the article to be colored is all wool or mixed or union goods, and get the proper dye. Do not buy dyes that claim to color everything with the same package, for their use will result in failure. The Diamond Dyes alone can do your work successfully; they are the only guaranteed dyes.

THE OLD BLUE LAWS.

SOME THAT ARE STILL ON THE STATUTE BOOKS OF NEW JERSEY.

Reasons Why, Though Out of Date, They Have Never Been Repealed—Things It Is Unlawful to Do on Sundays—Can't Kiss Your Sweetheart on the Street.

Jersey is the bluest state in the Union, probably not even excepting Georgia, Delaware or Connecticut, if one judges by its laws. Not only have the famous blue laws never been repealed, but an examination of the records of her police magistrates shows that they are still in operation. Common scolds are still liable to fine and if persistent may be imprisoned and possibly subjected to a good, old-fashioned ducking. Blasphemy and profanity are still penalized, and only recently in Elizabeth a young man was arrested and fined $5 for kissing his sweetheart on the street. The girl acknowledged the young fellow as her true and only love, and that she had allowed herself to be kissed, and it is to be quite proper. The magistrate said, "Not in Elizabeth."

In Newark, there used to be a chain stretched each Sunday morning across Clinton avenue on the Springfield road, as it was called. An officer of the town stood guard and allowed no vehicles to pass except they were bound for church or some mission of mercy. The money and necessity had to be explained to the entire satisfaction of the chainkeeper before he would say, "Pass on."

Jersey offers slight encouragement to golfers. Tips and again has a sanctionless justice of the peace warned would be desecrators that the jail wanted for them.

Oranges had something of a sensation on account of the willfulness of certain tennis players who persisted in playing on Sunday. They said they had no other day to devote to the game. Six days they worked hard in the city, and on the seventh they were qualified to enjoy rest. Rest for them explicitly implied recreation. The magistrate told them that in Orange all recreation was unbecomingly on the Lord's day. The community, he said, was God fearing, and would not tolerate levity or irreverence. If they wished to play tennis on Sunday, they must go elsewhere, and to enforce this suggestion upon their minds he fined them $5.

Swearing has got men into trouble time and again. It costs 50 cents to swear in Hackensack on Sunday if an officer of the law is high. So all over the state, if the profanity was elaborate, the magistrate will go sometimes as high as $5, though technically this would be contrary to the wording of the statutes.

Football on Sunday is expressly forbidden, as are all amusements, sports and games, so is the merry game of five, which sometimes in this day to have fallen into innocuous disrepute.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

Contributed by the I. O. G. T.

All lodges, and others interested in temperance work, are earnestly solicited to contribute to this column. Correspondence to be sent to Secretary, Cambridge Union Lodge, McDonalds Corner.

"Let all who love our Order and desire its progress—who love our Order and desire its progress—who would extend a knowledge of our beautiful organization, and perpetuate its principles, which aim to promote fraternity, to unite men and women in acts of benevolence and invite them to a generous emulation for the good of all mankind, that our Charity may be co-extensive with the universe, winning by gentle influence and example the erring and unfortunate victims of the tyrant alcohol to a place in our inner sanctuary, where sweet Peace sits enthroned, and Purity has an abiding place, and Love is the guiding star, unite in a determination to sustain and support this Temperance Column."

THE LICENSE SYSTEM.

(From "Where is Abel, thy Brother?")

No system ever known in history was ever a more wicked compromise with iniquity, than the license system. The English Government in vain sought to bind in Cash, and restrain it after its adoption. That compromise demoralized public sentiment and weakened the right; and from that day to this it has illustrated the folly as well as the wickedness of binding giant evils with the cobwebs of "regulation."

The attempt has been a terrible failure, as every almshouse, prison, gallows, and burial ground in Christendom can sadly testify. Yet, damned by more than two centuries of failure—accursed of God in Heaven, and wept over by the stricken millions of earth—it still continues its desolation under the sanction of a Christian people.

The existence of a system which is an open insult to God, a violation of every principle of justice, humanity and law, a disgrace to the civilization of the age and to our land and people, is a crime which can have no palliation. The thirty pieces of silver for which Christ is everywhere betrayed in the persons of the innocent and defenseless—the price of blood—but brand the system as a greater wrong. If Iscariot was gibbeted in eternal infamy because he sold his master for a price, what shall we say of Christian citizens who sell humanity at this late day for less money, often, to be crucified for a lifetime?

Can there be anything more deliberately cruel—devilish—than this bartering away the character, property, happiness and mind of a people for a price? This is this abominable selling of all the elements of industry—the bone, and muscle, and blood of the million citizens—into the hands of the few.

The countries which enact, and the officials who carry out, a law licensing dens, shops, are violating every principle of Divine legislation and insulting God. The same policy would sanction all crimes. And why not? When base men choose to commit crimes, shall we not join hands with them for a share of the profits, and by statute say to other criminals, these things are lawful and must therefore be right? Let the knife drink its blood by authority, and the torch be applied to our dwellings under restriction! Let just loose to desecrate our homes, for a price! Let every villain, who has money to pay for the privilege, run riot upon society, and when blood cries from the ground, let our authorities who license, and those who aid and abet such iniquity, bully Jehovah by statutes which directly contravene his.

society accept the bonus and become an accessory before the fact? Nay, for no price which earth can pay, have we a right to outrage and sacrifice the least interest of the humblest subject of the country, merely to pander to the cupidity of the few.

Rise up ye Women that are at Ease

IMPORTANT OPINIONS ON THE REVENUE QUESTION.

If the liquor traffic is wrong, then revenue derived from it is repugnant to every principle of justice.—Hon John O'Donnell.

I cannot consent as your Queen to take revenue from that which destroys the souls and bodies of my subjects.—Queen of Madagascar.

The deriving of vast sums for the revenue from the bitter sufferings and grinding pauperism of the people is a terrible offence.—Canon Wilberforce.

That Christian nations should make saloons toll-gates for revenue, and sanction crime-breeding to coin money for current expenses, is unspeakable sad.—Albert C. Lawson, D. D.

One of the reasons why labor organizations have failed in the past is because the leaders didn't have the manhood to denounce liquor as a curse.—T. V. Powderley.

Luxury, my lords, is to be taxed, but vice prohibited. Let the difficulty in the law be what it will, would you lay a tax upon a breach of the Ten Commandments! Government should not for revenue, mortgage the morals and health of the people.—Lord Chesterfield.

If it were not for the saloons, do you know, I think that seven-tenths of the workmen would have their own homes instead of paying rent. Rum is at the bottom of the whole trouble.—P. M. Arthur, Chief of Brother. Loc. Eng.

For Government to offer encouragement to ale-houses, is to act the part of a felon. Nor ought the public ever to be lulled into an acquiescence by the flattering bait of immediate gain, which ere long they would be obliged to pay back to pauperism in relief, with a heavy interest.—Sir Frederick Eden.

The prohibition law in Maine was enacted in 1831, nearly forty-one years ago. Within six months after the enactment of the law the jails in the counties of Penobscot, Kennebec, Oxford, Franklin and York were almost empty. When I visited York jail, the keeper, as he put the key into the lock, apologized for keeping his hens there. He had no further use for the jail. In regard to the jail in Cumberland, where I live, and which is a county that has a large population, it had been overcrowded many years, and articles had appeared in the newspapers urging the building of a new jail. I visited the jail within four months of the enactment of the law, and there were only four persons there, three of whom were rum-sellers who were there for the violation of the law. All this was during the first year of the enforcement of the law, and it was then vice.

There has been a laxity in the enforcement of the law at different times since. It is quite safe to say that the quantity of liquor sold in Maine now is not one-twentieth as much as it was before the law was passed. It is quite within the mark to make that statement. Portland is the largest city in the State, and it is within the truth to say that the quantity of liquor sold there now is not one hundredth of what it was before. We had seven distilleries and two breweries, and we had many cargoes every year from the West Indies, which the people brought over for their own use. Now whatever liquor is sold, is sold on a very small scale, and on the sly.

We are saving directly and indirectly at least $24,000,000 every year, which but for this law would be wasted in drink as it was in the olden times. In the old times the people of Maine spent in strong drink the entire value of their property; now it is far within the truth to say that $2,000,000 would pay for all the liquor smuggled into Maine and sold in violation of the law. So the saving to the people of Maine has been very great, and has been the means of making the State prosperous, as it was not in the olden days. We expect to achieve still greater success in the future. The liquors sold now are the result of certain deficiencies in the law, and we have been trying to have these deficiencies corrected.

If the enormous amount of wealth thus absorbed by the liquor business remained in the hands of the taxpayers of the community, a great deal of it would, no doubt, be found in the shape of taxable property, and there would thus be speedily added to the aggregate assessment an amount that would furnish the whole revenue now derived from the liquor system, by a taxation rate less than the maximum authorized by law. This result, it must be noticed, would be attained, even if there was no material progress in the community as the result of the more temperate and industrial habits that would inevitably follow the abolition of the drink system.

If we close up all our shops to-day we would have in one year a community so much richer, that taxation on the addition of our wealth would more than make-up for the lost municipal revenue.

The choice between prohibition paying annually in hard cash over $33,000,000 or only paying a moderate tax-rate upon property of that value, and keeping the property still in possession, carrying probably four times the amount paid in taxes.

FATE OF THE RIPAS.

A STORY OF THE REVENGE OF THE GREAT SPIRIT.

A Whole Tribe Wiped Out by a Flood as Punishment For Disobedience.—A Legend of the Indians of Texas Told by an Epigrammatical Guide.

The Indian had been recommended to me as the best hunter in the San Bernard bottoms. For two days we had been in pursuit of big game.

It was after the second day of the hunt that we camped on the banks of a small creek to the west of Hiale's ferry. The hunter had been hunting in the coffee, while I sat idly by and thought over the incidents of the day.

I had been told my companion was a Parachuca and that he had more knowledge of the history of his people than any member of his tribe now living. He spoke as good English as a white man, but his sentences were generally short and epigrammatic.

"Behar," I said, "the hunting is very good in these bottoms when you consider how long the country has been settled."

"No," he replied, "game nearly gone now. Soon no more."

"Was there good hunting here when you were a boy?" I asked.

"Much," he replied.

"I have heard," said I, "that there is a legend among your people that long ago, before the white man came into this country, there was one great river in this land, that it was a mighty stream, and that its course was through the bed of what is now the Caney."

"It is so," said the Indian.

"And I have heard," I continued, "that when the white man digs his wells he sometimes finds limbs of great trees and pieces of pottery and bows and arrows and flints that were used long years ago by your people."

"It is so," said the Indian.

"What is the legend that your people have?" I inquired.

"My father told me, and the great chief, Mockwillum, told my father," said the Indian, "that it is so. There was one river. It was the Caney. My people, the Caranchuas, lived to the east. The Lepans, the Tawakanias and the Ripas lived to the west. The Wasos lived to the north. My people hunted but the game. The Ripas were powerful. They made war on the Lepans and drove them far to the west. They stole the cattle and horses of my people. There was a great battle, in which many of my people were killed. The Ripas drove the Caranchuas far to the east. They stole the young squaws of the Caranchuas and killed the boys. Soon the Caranchuas had to hide away the squaws that were left. All the country of my people was held by the Ripas. The Caranchuas had to flee to the islands by the sea. Still the Ripas pursued my people. The Caranchuas were but few; the Ripas were many.

"It was not only my people the Ripas murdered and plundered. The Tawakanias and the Wasos lost all their cattle, and their young squaws were taken by the Ripas until none but the Ripas were in all this country."

"The Great Spirit was angry with the Ripas, but the Ripas thought they were more powerful than the Great Spirit. The Great Spirit sent a messenger to the Ripas and told them they must send back the squaws they had stolen and must make war no more on my people or on the Tawakanias or the Lepans or the Wasos. The Ripas held council, and they decided to make war on the Great Spirit. When they went to tell the messenger that they defied the Great Spirit and challenged him to battle, the messenger had disappeared. They searched the woods and they searched the great river, they searched the prairie and they searched the sky, but they could not find the messenger. He left no trail.

"Then they had much fear that they had done wrong, and some chiefs wanted to make peace with the Great Spirit. Again they held council, but while they held it the heavens opened, the rain fell, the sky seemed all afire, the thunder roared, and the messenger appeared in a flame of lightning. The Ripas fell upon the earth and begged the Great Spirit for mercy. But it was too late. The rain poured down and the lightning flashed, the ground shook and the thunder crashed. Soon all the earth was covered with water. The Ripas ran to the trees. Still the water rose. Then the wind blew down the trees, and many of the Ripas were killed or drowned. The waters rose higher and higher, and the rain and the thunder and the lightning lasted many days. There was no earth here. All was water.

"Then the Great Spirit smiled, for the Ripas were no more. They were gone. All had died in the waters. A messenger came to my people, who were down on the islands by the great sea, and told them the Great Spirit had sent a flood to punish the Ripas and that my people could return to their lands.

"When the Caranchuas went to their lands, they found all changed. Where had been the great river there was but one small river. That is now the Caney. What had been the great river is now two rivers. One you call the Brazos; that is to the east. The other is to the west; that you call the Colorado. All the land between these two rivers was given to my people by the Great Spirit for a hunting ground."—Galveston Cor. Philadelphia Times.

How He Defined Hope.

"Hope," said she poetically, "is that feeling in the human breast of which it has been said that it springs."

"Aw, I can give you a better definition than that," said he.

"How would you define hope, dear?" she asked as she changed her head from one shoulder to the other.

"Hope," said he, "is the feeling that slips out of you like water out of a pith-bucket on the top of the rear door on the street for the trolley car and you see it go by just as you get half a block from the corner."—Detroit Free Press.

NEAR THE TRUTH.

The following is the Lesson in Economics which we take from the Greenville, Texas, Banner, which contains so very truthful insertions and is appropriate to the New Brunswick farmer:

"A certain farmer in Texas, not a hundred miles from Greenville, sat down with his family to breakfast. They sat in chairs made in Indiana, the table was made in St. Louis, the dishes were made in New York; the knives, forks and spoons were imported from England; the biscuits were made of flour from Kansas, shortened with lard from Missouri, cooked on a stove made in Chicago, and his coffee was served with sugar from Louisiana. When breakfast was over he drove to town in a wagon made in Ohio, while his son went out with a $40 gun made in Pennsylvania and an imported $10 dog to kill five-cent birds for dinner. His daughter went riding on a $75 bicycle made in Massachusetts. His wife swept the floor with a broom from Cincinnati, took up the dust in a pan made in Vermont with a brush made in Rhode Island. The farmer bought a plow made in Illinois, a cultivator made in Michigan, hoes and rakes made in Indiana, and a reaper made in Chicago. He took these home and set them out on a vacant lot exposed to the rain and sunshine, where they were ruined in one year. That farmer is always complaining of hard times." It is needless to add that the Banner believes in encouraging home industry, and recognizes that St. Louis, New York, Chicago and Pennsylvania are no more "home" to a Greenville man than Sheffield or Birmingham.

The gross earnings of the C. P. R. from February 1st to Sept. 30th, 1898, were $18,254,633.01; working expenses, $11,394,726.85; net profits, $6,859,906.16. The gain in net profits over the same period last year is $214,055.65.

It is said now that Spain will accept the claims of the United States for the Philippines after formally announcing at a session of the commission and in a circular to the powers that she yields to force and owing to the impossibility of newing the war without obtaining assistance in defence of her rights.

The Antigonish Casket says: A number of wealthy New Brunswickers, among whom are Senator Snowball of Chatham, Fred P. Thompson, of Fredericton, J. J. Black of Sackville, Willard Kitchen of Fredericton, have purchased 75 per cent. of the Modstock Gold Mining Co., whose property is located at Forest Hill, Guyborough, for $22,800.

The address of Canada's new governor-general is not so easy but what it might be easier. Here it is: His Excellency The Right Honourable Sir Gilbert John Elliott Murray-Kynnmund, Earl of Minto and Viscount Mulgund of Melgund, County of Forfar, in the peerage of the United Kingdom, Baron Minto of Minto, County of Roxburgh, in the Peerage of Great Britain, Baronet of Nova Scotia, Governor General of Canada. ST. JOHN LETTER.

The ladies of St. John who are petitioning the government for the right to vote are apparently unconscious of the influence which by a judicious use of their powers of persuasion they might exert if they would, and thus practically control the elections while remaining away from the polls and escaping the unpleasant experiences which they would be likely to encounter at the ballot box. The women who clamor for the franchise confess, in doing so, that they feel that they have but a slight influence over the actions of their husbands, brothers, and friends, which to a sensitive woman must be very humiliating, as it shows that she is lacking in those feminine qualities which the world considers most admirable. A new-girl in New York a few days ago received a letter from Rough Rider Roosevelt thanking her for her aid in the late contest which resulted in his election as governor. Questioned as to what she had done, she said:

"I'm a Republican, and I wanted to see Col. Roosevelt elected because he's a fine gentleman and a brave soldier. So I just told all my men customers to vote for him, and most of them said they would. When a stranger came to me to buy a paper, I always advised him to buy a Republican paper, and most of the time they took my advice. I stopped buying the Democratic papers because it made me mad, the things they said about the Colonel. Of course I had to sell some Democratic papers, but I marked 'Vote for Roosevelt' on them, and of course the men that bought them saw it. I won a lot of votes for the Governor, and after he was elected I just wrote him a letter and told him about it." If she had been a voter she might have cast one ballot for her favorite and that would have been all; as it was she thinks she turned many votes in his favor, and more than all is the proud possessor of a letter from the famous Rough Rider and governor-elect.

Work on the Carleton Flour mill is being pushed along vigorously. One who "loved not wisely but too well," died in the Salvation Army maternity home last Tuesday evening. She was a widow, 28 years of age.

The goods of the Christian Science Association seized for the unpaid taxes of their landlord sold for almost enough to pay the costs of seizure.

Seven steamers from Liverpool, Glasgow and other British ports are on route to St. John, and several cargoes of freight from the west await their arrival. About forty car loads of flour, grain, etc., have arrived here from the west for shipment to Liverpool. Diphtheria is quite prevalent at the North End of the City.

Four carloads of pickled herring were shipped from here to the Upper Provinces this week. "Academic Miles" opened last week with a large number of pupils and the following staff of instructors:— J. C. Miles, A. E. C. A.; F. H. C. Miles, Student at Academic Julien, Carl Ross Life School and under Bucerant and G. Forrier, Paris; Mrs. E. J. C. Miles, pupil of Madame Grenot and Madame Carroby, Paris.

Classes for ladies have been formed in Drawing and Painting, Porcelain painting, and from life. For gentlemen in Drawing and Painting, Portrait painting and drawing from the cast. Courses are also given in perspective and light and shade. The school affords pupils a rare opportunity for advancement, the talented instructors pursuing the same methods that are in vogue in the best Parisian academies.

Flour is unchanged, but stocks of Manitoba patents are very low. Hand picked beans are higher today's quotations being $1.15 and $1.20 per bushel; choice prime $1.10. Lard is quoted at 8 cents in tubs, 8 1/2 cents in pails and 9 cents in tin. Toss are firmer and but small lots of the lower grades are in the market. Onions are somewhat higher, selling today at $2.10 per barrel. New Valencia layers are quoted at 6 1/2 cents; old 5 1/2 cents; choice fancy new currants 5 cents; provincial brand 6 cents; cleaned in 1 pound cartons 7 1/2 and 8 cents. That popular young commercial man, Mr. Huggonson, will represent George S. DeForest & Son's interest, in the tea branch of their business exclusively, on the road hereafter.

The Parks' cottage on the Beaver Lake road was destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday morning, and Paul Kingston, a native of Long Island, about 70 years of age, perished in the flames. It is supposed that Mr. Kingston, who was an early riser, upset a lamp while dressing himself and perished almost immediately thereafter. The Parks cottage was a handsome structure, a pleasant landmark, for it was an old building; it was insured for only $500.

A Prince William street lawyer assaulted a boy last Thursday because he called as instructed by his employer to collect a bill. In the police court he excused himself by saying that "the boy called too often," and the magistrate excused him. This is a good precedent for the impetuous.

An Epileptic Sufferer.

A FENLON FARMER TELLS OF HIS REMARKABLE CURE.

At Regular Intervals He Was Subject to Fits, and Doctors Told Him the Trouble Was Incurable—Now Free From the Malady.

From the Warder, Lindsay, Ont.

Mr. Robert McGee, of the 9th concession of Fenlon, Victoria county, says in speaking of his cure from this terrible malady:—"I am 35 years of age and live on the old homestead where I was born and have lived always since, and where my own little family were born. This part of Fenlon is known as McGee Settlement, there are so many of that name living in the vicinity. Never in my life did I know what a day's sickness was until March 1895, when without any known cause and without any warning I was stricken down with an epileptic fit. It came on in the night, causing great contumination in the household, as my wife, who never saw anything of the kind before, thought it was my end; as for myself I neither felt nor knew anything that was going on about me. After coming out of the convulsion, which they tell me usually lasted from fifteen to thirty minutes, I would fall into a heavy sleep from which I would awake with a dull, heavy feeling, and all the muscles of my body would be sore. This would pass away and in a day or two after the attack I would be able to attend to my farm work, but strange to say every four months after as regular as a clock I would be seized with a fit, which always came on in the night. Various doctors and specialists were consulted and I took several different medicines, but without effecting a cure. Several doctors said the disease was incurable. I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the newspapers and was advised by friends who had experienced cures from other seemingly incurable ailments, to try them. In November 1896 I commenced and kept on taking them regularly for a year. The dreaded period passed and passed again and again without a repetition of my trouble, and I felt I was at last released from this terrible malady. I am now in the best of health, and I attribute my cure to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." In conversation with Mrs. McGee she said that her husband's trouble was the cause of most seriously affecting her nerves and general health, as she was always living in dread, and could never enjoy a night's rest. The slightest noise would startle her, and if it had not been for the kindness of a neighbor who always came and stayed at the house over night, she believed she would have broken down altogether. She also is thankful for the great change that has been wrought, and is only too glad to let others with similar afflictions know that there is a remedy for this terrible disease.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They remove and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is signed in a wrapper bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. If your dealer does not keep them they will be sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COOK'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. ACTIVE SOLICITORS WANTED EVERYWHERE for "The Story of the Philippines" by Murat Halsted, commissioned by the government as Official Historian of the War Department. The book was written in army camps at San Francisco, on the Pacific with General Merritt, in the hospitals at Honolulu, in Hong Kong, in the American trenches at Manila, in the insurgent camps with Aguinaldo, on the deck of the Olympia with Dewey, and in the rear of battle at the fall of Manila. It is the best and most complete of original photographs. Large book. Low price. Big profits. Freight paid. Credit given. Drop all trashy unofficial war books. Outfit free. Address, F. T. Anderson's Physical Education.

We have just received from the publishers a copy of "Anderson's Physical Education." This is the latest work of Dr. W. G. Anderson, the well-known Professor of Gymnastics at Yale University. The book treats of every phase of Body Building, and is "up-to-date" in every particular. There are special chapters devoted to Professional people, Business men, Women and Children. It tells you how to decrease your weight if corpulent, and increase it if thin. It gives valuable Measurement Charts for both men and women. Every reader interested in better health, greater strength, grace, self-control, elegant carriage should possess a copy of this work.

The book is full of good suggestions for all classes. The Parent who is anxious about the nervous chest of the child, the Young Man Who worries about his lungs and stooping shoulders—the Business Man on the verge of collapse—the busy Editor, Lawyer or Minister alarmed because of an over-taxed brain and its resultant sleeplessness—the Society Woman who finds the adipose tissue is accumulating too rapidly over the abdomen—the Housewife who can no longer climb the stairs, without losing her breath—the Young Lady who is troubled about the bones in her neck showing and slight bust development can all find in this book much that will benefit and help them. We know of no work that gives so many useful and helpful suggestions in such compact and readable form. The illustrations, about one hundred in number, are taken from drawings and life.

The book will be sent post paid by the Publishers for 15c. Address—THE HAROLD A. WILSON CO., Limited, 35 King St. West, Toronto. A Frightful Blunder. Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald, Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Local Happenings.

Items of Local Interest Carefully Prepared by the Gazette's "Man About Town."

THANKSGIVING DAY.—Thursday next 24th inst. has been appointed by the Dominion Government as Thanksgiving Day.

GOOD BEEF.—Some very fine beef was exhibited in Thos. Dean's stall in the country market yesterday. It is Queens county beef, and is the equal of any seen in the market of late.—Sun.

WENT INTO WINTER QUARTERS.—Friday night the Stmr. Aberdeen laid at this wharf, and the next morning proceeded to Swan Creek, where she goes into winter quarters.

TO ERECT NEW BRIDGES.—On Friday last Hon. L. P. Farris and Engineer Alfred Hains passed through this village en route to Petersville, looking after the bridges in that parish. They found that the Dunn and Kerr Bridges were in a bad condition and new ones will be erected at these places as soon as possible.

TO VISIT MONTREAL.—Dr. J. A. Casswell left by Stmr. May Queen on Monday for Montreal where he will spend the next six weeks. His place will be supplied during his absence by Dr. Bayfield, of Charlottetown, P. E. Island, who arrived here on Friday last.

H. W. Woods, General Merchant, Welsford, has just received a fine, new line of the celebrated B. Laurence Spectacles and Eye glass in Gold, Gold-filled and nickel frames. Mr. Woods keeps a perfect line of test lenses, and can guarantee perfect satisfaction to any person who require perfect aids to vision.

ADDITION TO HIS HERD.—Mr. Russia Williams received by boat on Friday, a thoroughbred Tamworth sow pig, and about two weeks ago he received a thoroughbred Yorkshire sow. With his pure bred Berkshire he will now be able to supply a fine assortment of grade as well as pure bred pigs.

LAST TRIP FOR THIS SEASON.—The Stmr. May Queen arrived here on Saturday on her last trip up river this season. She went as far as Jansesey and remained there over Sunday, returning to St. John on Monday morning. The May Queen has carried a very large amount of freight during the past summer.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY MEETING.—A meeting of Queens Central Agricultural Society No. 70, will be held in the Society's Hall, Upper Hampstead, on Saturday the 26th inst. As this is the last meeting at which names can be taken by the society for the coming year, all interested are requested to attend. Names handed in to this office, or to the President, Secretary or Treasurer of the Society will receive due attention.

MATRIMONIAL.—Mr. Daniel Elliott, a well-known resident of Stanley, and Mrs. Edward Quinn, proprietress of the Lorne Hotel, were married at St. Dunstan's Church Monday evening, the Rev. Father Casey performing the ceremony in the presence of a few friends. Immediately afterwards the newly wedded couple took passage by train for St. John, and will return in a few days and take up their residence on Regent street.—Farmer.

SHOULD PUT UP A GOOD RACE.—Having defeated the crack Halifax oarsmen, Lynch and Brennan, in two square contests on Bedford Basin, Vail, the Gagetown sculler, Cincinnati-like, has returned to the plough at his native village and will whistle sticks through the winter and tell his chums just how he did it. And next year, in looking for further conquests, he may run against a snag in the person of our own Johnson. Johnson and Vail should make a great race.—St. Cruz Carrier.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.—War or no war I am still in the front rank in fitting trim, having lately secured the services of Mr. J. A. McKinnon, a late graduate of Mr. J. Mitchell's cutting school of New York. I am now fully prepared to give my numerous customers a first class fit, workmanship unexcelled, style perfect, and prices that will astonish you. I respectfully invite you to call and inspect my large stock, no trouble to show goods and give you quotations at Joseph Walker's, Merchant Tailor, second door above People's Bank, Queen Street, Fredericton, West End.

A RARE CHANCE.—Mr. B. Myers of Main street, St. John, is offering with every two dollars worth of goods bought at his store, the following presents: 12 doz. shirt buttons, 1 package of needles, 2 doz. safety pins, 24 sheets of writing paper, 25 envelopes, 2 doz. pant buttons, and one doz. bone collar buttons. His goods are sold very low. Don't forget the place, B. Myers, No. 695 Main St., St. John. See his advt. in another column.

COOK'S SURE COUGH CURE

PURCHASED A HORSE.—Mr. Daniel Brooks purchased the DuVernet horse at the sale on Tuesday for $20. This is a very low price for a good horse.

DEATH OF SHERIFF FREEZE.—Sheriff Freeze of Kings county died Sunday. Deceased was the oldest sheriff in the province, having held the shrievalty of Kings county for thirty-five years. He was sixty-eight years of age and leaves a wife and three sons.

DEATH OF A CHILD.—The death occurred at Ormoco Thursday morning of Freddie, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Smith, aged 2 years and 6 mos. Congestion of the lungs was the cause of the death of the little one.—Gleaner.

DRY GOODS.—On page 4 of this issue will be found the advertisement of Mr. S. C. Porter of 11 Charlotte Street, St. John, the well known Dry Goods firm. It will be to the advantage of intending purchasers to read the advertisement. Mr. Porter offers men's underwear, dress goods, flannellets and all kinds of dry goods at very low prices.

A GOOD GOOSE.—A wild goose weighing eleven pounds, and measuring five feet four inches from tip to tip, came down on the steamer Hampstead on Monday and was sold to Capt. Keast. It was shot by John Beatty, at Spoon Island.—Sun.

FURNITURE SALE.—The household furniture together with the farming machinery and crop of the late H. J. DuVernet was disposed of by public auction on Tuesday last. Mrs. DuVernet and family left on Saturday for Boston where they will reside with Mrs. DuVernet's parents.

The big American publishers have had their eyes opened lately. THE FAMILY HERALD AND WEEKLY STAR, of Montreal, has with a bound surpassed them all, and has now such a lead that the large American weeklies freely acknowledge its superiority and congratulate Canada on its marvellous newspaper success. This is most gratifying to all Canadians. They are evidently appreciating it, too, for reports from Montreal tell us that never before was there such a rush of subscriptions.

FATAL SHOOTING ACCIDENT.—Travis Steeves, aged 17, son of Hazen Steeves, of Mechanic Settlement, Kings Co., lost his life under sad circumstances on Saturday afternoon. Accompanied by a companion named David Alton he was in search of a deer which had been seen earlier in the day and while walking rapidly down a hill carrying a double-barrel gun over his shoulder the muzzle of which was grasped in his left hand, he fell, discharging the weapon loaded with buck-shot, the charge entering his left groin and severing the main artery. He was carried to the house of Mr. Fenwick Teakles, where he bled to death in a short time.

BUSINESS COLLEGE NEWS.—Mr. John B. Kinghorn, a recent graduate of Fredericton Business College, in both the book-keeping and shorthand departments left on Tuesday for Montreal where he has secured a lucrative position. Miss Winifred Purley another recent graduate in the shorthand department, secured a position in New York city, to which place she went immediately on graduating. Miss Hattie Chase, having obtained the shorthand diploma, returned to her home in Upper Gagetown, a few days ago. Miss Chase, in company with her sister, is likely to return for the book-keeping course at some future time.—Gleaner.

DIED AT BLISSVILLE.—Mrs. Wellington Y. Hoyt, of Blissville, Sunbury County, died at her home on Tuesday last, after a lingering illness of consumption. Mrs. Hoyt was in the 42nd year of her age and was the daughter of Mr. Robt. Moffatt. She leaves a sorrowing husband, one daughter, Mrs. Thomas Mersereau, and two sons to mourn their loss. The funeral took place on Thursday, the remains laid to rest in the Baptist cemetery. The Rev. O. N. Mott conducted the funeral service.

WEDDING BELLS.—Miss Blanche Scribner, daughter of Mr. James W. Scribner, was united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock, Thursday morning to Charles Cromwell of the Narrows. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Steels, at the residence of the bride's parents, 39 Albert street, in the presence of their immediate friends and relatives. The bride was attired in a blue travelling suit and was unattended. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was partaken of, and the happy couple left for their future home at the Narrows. Mr. and Mrs. Cromwell were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

A quiet wedding took place in St. James' church early Thursday morning, when Miss Maria Magarity, daughter of Mrs. Irvine Magarity, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Robert Phillips, of Cole's Islands, by the Rev. A. D. Dewdney. Only near relatives of the bride and groom were present. The bride wore a pretty travelling suit of blue with hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Lizzie Phillips, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid, and Andrew Magarity the groomsmen. The young couple left soon after the ceremony for their home at Cole's Island. They received many beautiful presents.—Sun.

BARBER SHOP.—Mr. Jas. Law has opened up a barber shop in the GAZETTE Building in the rooms lately occupied by Wm. Deuchars as a tailor shop.

Boats the Klondike.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvellous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis, and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Sold at any Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

PARTY.—On Wednesday evening last, about fifty of the young people of the place gathered at the residence of Mr. Michael Mahoney, Mill Road, for an evening's enjoyment. At 8 o'clock dancing was begun. Music was furnished by Messrs. George Owens, Harry Dingee, R. DeB. Scott and Clement Mahoney. Gagetown was well represented, also a number from Lower Jansesey were present. At 12 o'clock a sumptuous supper was served, each doing ample justice to the good things provided. Dancing was again indulged in until the " wee wee hours." Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney did all in their power to make the evening one long to be remembered. At about four o'clock, after thanking Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney for their kindness, the party broke up all expressing themselves as well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

REPORT OF THE YUKON EXPEDITION.

Mr. Bulyea Recounts the Difficulties which Confronted Him at Dawson.

(From the Regina "Leader.") (Concluded.)

Major Walsh reached Dawson on the 21st May, a Saturday. He met the Major who seemed quite affable, evidently not having thought that he (Mr. Bulyea) would have been so presumptuous as to proceed with his duties after being told by the Great I Am that he had no business there. Next day they met again, and the Major seemed in very bad humor. Major Walsh said that he was surprised that after what he had told Mr. Bulyea the latter should have interfered with the liquor business. Bulyea replied that he was acting strictly by authority of law and under express instructions from the lawful authority. The Major got hot, and as it was Sunday, on the open street, and a crowd commenced to gather, Bulyea, thinking it would be unfortunate that the people should be led to believe that there was any conflict between the authorities, moved away. Walsh informing him that he (Bulyea) had no jurisdiction, that he (Walsh) would see all the parties and tell them that anybody had a right to engage in the retail liquor business regardless of Bulyea, and that Bulyea had no machinery for enforcing regulations. On the next day Mr. Bulyea wrote Major Walsh for the purpose, if possible, of avoiding trouble which would only confuse the dealers and tend to lead the populace to disrespect Canadian law. Mr. Bulyea read the letter to the House. It was couched in courteous language, and suggested a friendly argument of the question at issue before Judge McGuire, rather than that any step should be hastily taken such as the Major had threatened on the previous day. Mr. Bulyea said he thought his suggestion was reasonable and judicious, and that a friendly arrangement would have been better from the point of view of Canadian law and order. Major Walsh never deigned to acknowledge the letter. Mr. Bulyea learned in a few days that the dealers had been notified that he had no authority. A deputation representing the liquor and gambling element waited on him to ask if he intended to continue his restrictions. The deputation, composed of Messrs. Jenkins, McPhee, Taggart, Lloyd, and Wilson (Mr. Bulyea gave the companies or saloons with which each was connected) informed him that Walsh had repudiated him and guaranteed those who had no permits immunity from any action which Bulyea might take. The position resulting was that those who had not taken permits opened up in business without them while those who had taken permits complained that they were unfairly dealt with. Nearly all of them were Americans. They considered Walsh the head of government and took his word for law.

Before the regulations had been enforced gambling tables were permitted in saloons. Constantine's reasons for taking no action was that he had instructions from the former Minister of Interior (Mr. Bulyea) not to attempt to deal with the gambling or liquor element, which instructions had been revoked by the present Minister. The Commission of course did not recognize or sanction gambling at all, and none was permitted in the "permitted" places under the regulations. To show the peculiar ideas prevailing there, Mr. Bulyea instanced some applications received for licenses for dance halls, gambling places and saloons in connection. These applicants were of course told that the Commission had no power to grant immunity from penalties for gambling or operation of dance halls. Major Walsh's powers apparently were not so limited; he assured those people that so long as he heard no complaints of crooked gambling, they could carry on business without interference. Walsh also assured them there would be no interference with the liquor business, making at first one stipulation, namely that there would be no Sunday sales. The natural result was that the Commission's instructions were ignored; the Major's were so much lighter. The dances were kept up—so he was informed; of course he did not witness them (laughter)—from 7 at night until 7 in the morning. Shortly, however, some dissatisfaction became evident. Complaints were made to the Major, and his regulations were changed from time to time. There was a place on the waterfront where front kept by two ladies who sold lemonade, and of course nothing else. (Laughter.) That was a fact, for at that particular time there was no whiskey in Dawson. The liquor supplied was a brand called "Hootch," and he believed he had a receipt for making it somewhere about him; he believed one of the effects of the stuff was very bad headache. (Laughter.) Well, these two ladies, drinking only in lemonade, kept open on Sunday, and some of the dealers complained against them. Major Walsh went to Capt. Stearns to enforce Sunday closing, and the town police threatened the ladies with prosecution. They of course did not like it, and they formed themselves into a delegation to visit the Major. Result: Former order cancelled; instructions issued that the ladies might sell on Sunday, but must sell no spirituous liquors. To soothe the other dealers, the privilege was granted them to sell cigars and tobacco on Sundays, but not over the counter they must be kept on a side-table. (Laughter.) Two weeks later the result of another deputation to the Major was that light drinks were allowed to be sold over the bars on Sunday. Hon. members would perfectly well know the meaning of that. Dawson, City was back again to the old system of no restriction.

The question naturally arose, Why did he not have the law and his regulations enforced? Again the peculiarities of the situation must be considered. It did not occur to the Attorney-General before the expedition went out that there might be need for other than Dominion magistrates at Dawson. If an independent man under Territorial Ordinances had been appointed, it might have been better. Every magistrate there was under the authority of Major Walsh, who warned them against instituting actions for Bulyea, and they were practically prevented from hearing any complaints of his or under Territorial authority. Before passing judgment on the magistrates the House might well consider their position which was in every way awkward. On the one hand they were faced with their duty as magistrates to administer law without fear or favor, and on the other hand they were confronted with the fact that they were subordinates of a man who had proved to be arbitrary. He (Mr. Bulyea) felt that their action if they undertook it would be visited upon them. One of them said to him: "For heaven's sake don't compel us to act; the sheriff's fate will surely be ours. The sheriff was Sheriff Richards who for the offence of displeasing Walsh had to get out of Dawson at six hours' notice. Mr. Bulyea said he would avoid getting the magistrates into trouble if he could do so. Under the Act action could be instituted either before a magistrate or judge, and the Commission intended as soon as they got in a position to ask Judge McGuire to undertake a case, as he was an independent man and not subordinate. An other difficulty was the scarcity of legal talent in the early part of the season. He felt that the position was important. While contented that all that was necessary was to get the evidence put forward in regular form, yet he could not tell what legal point might be raised; technical objections are often fatal to perfectly good cases, and he hesitated to undertake a case without legal assistance. Mr. Wade was the only lawyer there; he was O'Brien's prosecutor. He spoke to Wade, who said that while he would not be compelled to defend, he might have to intervene for the Dominion Government. Lawyers were reported to be on the way in. The first to arrive was Mr. Taylor of Vancouver. After waiting a time to find out about his ability, he (Bulyea) approached Taylor and explained the case. Taylor consented to take it, but asked time to see Wade. Next day Taylor declined the case, saying he did not care to antagonize Walsh. Burritt & McKay were the next arrivals. They took the case. Informations were drawn up against two parties who were selling without permit contrary to the N. W. T. Act. They applied to the Judge to hear the case, but he took the ground that the principle of justice contemplated the right of appeal, and he was the only one to whom appeal could be taken. By the judge was explained the awkward positions of the magistrates, but he held his ground, so Mr. McKay finally applied to Insp. Stearns. After delay and consultation Stearns agreed to hear the cases. They were set down for trial. Wade intervened, and postponements began—from day to day, and from week to week, on the ground that news of a Yukon Bill was daily expected. A peculiar circumstance was that on the first day that the cases came up, two other cases were tried under the same section of the N. W. T. Act. Some liquor had been taken in not covered by permit. The police charged two men with having liquor in possession without permission of the Lt.-Gov. N. W. T. Both these men were convicted and fined by the magistrate, while the other cases were postponed by request of the Crown prosecutor, "because there were grave doubts whether the law applied." This was an example of Dawson justice. Three entirely similar cases under the same section of the Act; two conviction and two fines, and the third case held over because there were doubts whether there was any such law on the Statute Book. On the 7th July the informations were entered to test the position. On the 16th August decision was reached. As regarded the delay he absolutely could not help himself. The decision given on 16th August upheld the Territorial position. The parties complained against were each fined $50.00 and costs. Notwithstanding Major Walsh's authority we secured the conviction of the parties who depended on the Major's assurance of immunity and the Territorial position was sustained. (Applause.)

Mr. Bulyea continued by saying that the importing question was still more serious, and might be followed by consequences more serious than some people expect. The first liquor arriving under N. W. T. Govt. wholesale permits was taken in by Mr. O'Brien. O'Brien had been at Ottawa and he led Bulyea to understand that the question between the Dominion and the North-West Governments had been settled, and that N. W. T. permits were still to be recognized. However, O'Brien's liquor was seized by Walsh, notwithstanding that his particular permit was signed by the N. W. T. Administrator and endorsed by the Interior Department. Walsh demanded $2 a gal. on the liquor. O'Brien asked Bulyea's advice; he was anxious to get the liquor out at once as it would command a better price just then than later. Bulyea advised him to pay Walsh's fee under protest. He did so and obtained the liquor. The same thing occurred with the next permit that arrived (Messies 500 gallons.) The third permit arriving belonged to Chambers of Brandon, who made his boast that he would not pay. He stood off the authorities for a few days, then instructions issued that, as this permit had been granted before Walsh's appointment, it should not be subject to the fee, but be allowed in without payment. Mr. Bulyea said he did not pretend to understand the method of reasoning which governed; he was simply stating facts for the information of the House and the public in general. Later the liquor of one McCauley which had passed Col. Steele, at Bennett, and Insp. Strickland, at Tagish, was seized by Walsh, at Dawson, the latter stating then that he had definite instructions to recognize no N. W. Govt. permits. He (Bulyea) explained to McCauley that he had different information, and offered on behalf of and at the expense of this Government to apply to the Judge for release of the liquor. McCauley, however, had not been regularly appointed as agent of the owners of the liquor. He preferred to return to Vancouver and notify the two Governments. He did so and was advised from the Ottawa that the liquor should be released. At the same time instructions issued from Ottawa to the Commissioner in Yukon to recognize all permits which he was satisfied bore the signature of the N. W. T. Administrator. There were several other cases of parties who went back to Vancouver and got release. But Walsh refused to be governed by these precedents, and appeared more determined than ever in his course. One young gentleman, Mr. Burpee, agent for certain owners, went to Walsh to find out what action was to be taken with his liquor. Walsh said it would be seized. On the same day another party whose liquor had been stopped up the river had received and submitted to Walsh a telegram from the Interior Department, and his liquor had been released. Burpee knew this and spoke of it. Walsh made the statement that the telegram referred to a permit issued at Ottawa. This admission showed that Walsh knew of the confirmation of the N. W. Govt. permits. The Commissioner's solicitors applied for mandamus to restrain Walsh from seizing Burpee's permit, claiming that it was legally imported. When the matter came before the Judge, Wade asked for delay on the same old ground that the Yukon Bill was expected, and that there was reason to believe that the bill contained a clause abrogating all Territorial permits. The Judge granted the delay until the liquor should have arrived at Dawson. Finally on August 13th the Judge gave adverse decision on account of a lawyer's technical error, at the same time plainly intimating that but for the fatal technicality the injunction should have issued. But the Judge's feelings were strong on the merits of the case that he intimated that he might reconsider the decision, as in other cases could be brought before him, he having arranged to leave on the 15th. A few hours later he (Bulyea) met Wade, who was virtually in command then, Walsh having left. He asked if the contention could not be settled, telling Wade that he had seen the disputed permit on a list which the police were instructed to honor. Mr. Bulyea learned later that the police up the river received the list of permits to be honored, three weeks before this date. Why the instructions did not reach Dawson was a mystery not yet explained. Wade agreed to settle on the production of an affidavit to the effect of the list. The affidavit was made, and Wade issued orders to the police accordingly. The same day the full list to be honored arrived. This was on the 13th August. On the 16th the convictions in the other cases were obtained. Mr. Bulyea was then ready to close up his business and leave. He had expected no such delays, and had sent word to the Government and to his family that he would be home by 10th July.

The situation then was that there were ten men who had paid in good faith for retailing permits, and they claimed protection in their business. Other men in good faith upon Walsh's assurance had at great expense set up in business. The expense would be understood when he explained that a very ordinary building in Dawson cost from $75,000 to $100,000. Lumber was $300 per M, nails $5 per lb., and carpenters' wages $25 a day. These men would have taken permits but for Walsh's interference. Then there were the low groggeries. The board had intended to limit the places of retail business to 18 or 20. The result of Walsh's interference was that 80 retail places were running. He felt impelled to protect the board's licenses. These men had been extremely patient. They seemed to realize his (Bulyea's) good faith. They made no particular complaint except of the unfair competition to which they were subjected. They naturally felt that if others did not have to pay, their money should be refunded. After the convictions were obtained, a number applied for permits. But the Yukon Act had become law and the Commission could not issue permits then. He discussed the position with Stearns, and the following arrangement was agreed to:— Applicants for permits to agree to respect the regulations, to each deposit $1,000 to the credit of Insp. Stearns and D. W. Davis (who is chairman of a public improvements committee), and agree to pay at the rate of $2,000 a year towards public improvements, the time to be computed from the date the permitted place opened to the date upon which the subject may be dealt with by the Yukon Council. The arrangement was particularly in the interest of those who had depended on Walsh's assurance, and had gone to expense in building. They were quite willing to conform to the law as soon as they were satisfied as to what was the law. The only difficulty at any time was that they did not know whom to obey. These men put up the money to the credit of Stearns and Davis, to the amount of $8,000 or $10,000, a third of which was available at once for improvements as several of the saloons had been open prior to date of the arrangement. A part of the stipulation, to which Capt. Stearns agreed, was that as soon as Supt. Steele arrived all the groggeries should be closed. Having got the business to that very satisfactory basis, his mission was finished. He left Dawson as soon as possible and came home as fast as possible to report to the hon. gentlemen of the Assembly. He trusted that his course was satisfactory to the House, and he hoped that he might never again be placed in so difficult a position. The regrettable part was that there had been no necessity for occasion for any difficulty. With a little more diplomacy and less egotism on the part of the Dominion Commissioner there would have been no difficulty. (Prolonged applause.)

Poetry.

AT THE CENTURY'S END.

How can I tell you how I love you, dear? There is no music, now the world is old. The songs have all been sung, the tales all told, And all the vows broken this many a year. Had we but met when all the world was new. When virgin blossoms decked untrodden fields, I had plucked all the buds that summer yields, And woven a garland worthy even of you. Or had I sung when rhymes were yet unwed, And crowned their marriage in the songs I made, I had laid them down before you unafraid. Meet offering to your grace and goodwill-head. But all the dreams are dreamed, and no new heat touches life's altars—all the scents are burnt. The truths all taught and all the lessons learnt. And no more stars lead kings to kiss Love's feet. For now in this gray world of youth bereft, Love has no throne, no sceptre and no crown; His groves are hushed, his altars are cold, And we who worship—we have nothing left. And yet—your life! The god has built him there An altar which has known no flower nor flame; And the smiles of many days; Love's name; There the immortal, virgin rose he fair!

So—since my lips have known but one desire, And all my flowers of life are vowed to you— For us, at least, the old world has no more; For me the altar, and for you the fire!

MY BIRTHDAY.

Another stone is added To the cairn of my years, And the pile is built together By my varied hopes and fears— Held together by the sobbings And the smiles of many days; By the contrast of my failures, By the honeyed words of praise. Years consumed and wasted On the world's most fleeting things, On the phantoms ever flying On the airy forms that linger Just before my eager eyes, But always further from me Than the distance from the skies. Never a glance at the beautiful In earth, and sky, and air; Never a thought that reaches up To the heavens so bright and fair; Never a noble feeling stirs As I walk o'er the flowery sod; Never a pulse of the beating heart Goes out to the living God.

But when the cairn of life is raised And never a stone to lay, And the builder rests from the work begun At the dawn of the natal day, I then will humbly ask, oh God! In sob, and tear, and moan, That Thou wilt bless my whole life through, And praise each single stone. —James Byrne, Charlottetown, in the Ottawa Free Press.

Correspondence.

Spicy News Items Gathered by Gazette Correspondents.

Johnson. Nov. 14.—When I began corresponding to the GAZETTE my only intention was to furnish news that might be of general interest to your readers, more especially in view of this section now residing elsewhere.

One or two correspondents tried to be funny at my expense; while I appreciated their humor, I did not feel inclined to let their attacks go unheeded. I have never assailed any other correspondent, and in all controversy have confined myself to replies made to attacks upon me. I would prefer to avoid all discussion, but shall not flee from it. As Admiral Duncan told the Taylor boy midshipman who enquired during action when the battle would cease, "The fight will end when the enemy's flag is struck."

Another (?) correspondent who signs himself Wilbur D. Hetherington, makes an attack upon me, using such gentlemanly (?) terms as "mind wandering," "foul abusive," "wicked trash," etc. He denies being XX. I appreciate the spirit of renovated respectability which prompted the denial, but fail to see the necessity of it. I certainly did not name Wilbur D. Hetherington, neither did I say that XX had moved to Hamilton Mountain, or even that he was a native of Washademoak. Is that denial a case of "guilty conscience?"

Did Wilbur D. Hetherington see a portrait of himself in my description of the alleged antagonists? If so I am too much of a gentleman to contradict him. Great authors have frequently been assailed by persons whom they never knew, for caricaturing their character, habits, and appearance. Is Wilbur D. Hetherington's mistake (?) to be taken as a sign of great literary ability on my part? He threatens to withdraw his "attention" from me. I did not solicit his "attention" in this case, and shall not consider the withdrawal of the same any unkindness. His "attention" is absolutely of no use to me, and if he has any more laying around loose in his pocket, I sincerely trust that he will bestow it on some one else.

Young's Cove Road.

Nov. 3.—The weather during the past week has been very wet and owing to the bad condition of the roads the traveling is small.

Mr. Esolie Reid was the guest of Miss Carrie Jeffrey, and also of Miss Gunter, of White's Cove. Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Ferris were the guests of Mrs. A. W. Wiggins on Sunday last.

Mr. C. B. Parker, of Cole's Island sent 17 men to the lumber woods; Mr. Abraham Wiggins is foreman of the work. Mr. Abraham R. Wiggins who has been ill for the last three years is bedfast now, and his recovery is doubted.

Mrs. Abram Wiggins has Mr. F. L. London engaged in cutting up her winter's wood. Miss Alice Wiggins passed through here on her way to Young's Cove Corner. Mrs. Thos. Hughes left on Monday to visit her daughter Mrs. Wm. Beattie.

Mrs. A. Wiggins was the guest of Miss E. Wiggins on Wednesday. Messrs. D. Calvin and Wm. Morrison were repairing the telephone wires and poles on Monday.

Miss Carrie Jeffrey was the guest of Miss Tamar Gunter on Tuesday evening. Mr. Thos. Hughes has purchased a new horse and it is a huster. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Babington are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son.

Miss Alice Ferris was the guest of Mrs. S. Dinmore on Nov. 1. Mr. P. Ferris passed through here on his way to Mill Cove.

Mr. C. Phillips is building a new residence. Messrs. Moses and Hazen Hughes have gone to the woods.

Mumps are prevalent at Young's Creek. Mrs. D. Dinmore spent Tuesday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Jeffrey, of Bagdad. Mr. Wm. Jeffrey and his daughter Miss Jennie, spent a few days at Waterborough last week.

Mrs. James Hughes made 25 pounds of butter from one cow during the month of October. Mrs. Hughes wishes to know if any one can beat this.

Starkeys. Nov. 15.—As I have noticed no items from Thornton or Cady's of late I thought a few notes on the doings of these places might be of interest to many of your readers and especially to those readers who formerly lived here.

On the 13th, Cady's was favored with a visit from Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways. The meeting was well advertised and a general desire on the part of the electors to hear the policy of the present government explained by our representative drew out a large crowd disregarding of political opinions. I might mention the fact that the palace car which the electors had heard so much about in former times was an object of no little curiosity and its contents caused ludicrous remarks as the visit from the minister happened when the minds of the people were stirred on the prohibition question. There were three speakers preceding Mr. Blair viz.: Messrs. Trueman, Milligan and McAlpine. The speech of the evening was delivered by Hon. A. G. Blair. After introducing himself to the people and paying a very high compliment to the place he took sometime in defining his position as regards the two great political parties of Canada. He denied ever being a Liberal-Conservative but owned that he had not been a life long Liberal, and he took the people in his confidence and told them that he formerly was a Smasher. He then proceeded to justify the government in their general policy, especially their B. R. policy such as the Drummond County Deal, the Crow's Nest pass, etc., telling his hearers that the government gave the C. P. R. company eleven thousand dollars per mile, a clear gift for some hundred and twenty seven miles. He also spoke about the contract with MacKenzie & Mann to build a road to the Yukon country, telling how it was defeated in the Senate. He dwelt on the necessity of opening up the mineral lands of the West, and the need of the Government to give large grants for that purpose.

The most remarkable feature of the speech was the absence of any reference to the R. R. that is surveyed from Chipman to Newcastle seemingly forgetting that we have mineral lands and require an outlet to the world's market as well as our western friends. Senator King made some remarks regarding the absence of Mr. Tarte and as the "wags" have it canonized Tarte. On the 18th ult. we were visited by Dr. Silas Alward, H. W. Woods and H. B. Hetherington in the interest of the local Opposition. The hall was packed and when the speakers entered the hall they were greeted by a burst of applause. Mr. Wood was the first speaker. He introduced himself to the audience as being a son of the late Hon. Frank Woods, our former representative. He then proceeded to deal with the income and expenditures of our province pointing out the inability of the present government and the pressing need of a change of administration. The next speaker was Mr. Hetherington. He had not spoken long before it was evident that he had his subject well in hand. In his review of Mr. Blair's political career he showed a master hand. Sometimes he had his audience in roars of laughter and again in a few moments he had them spell bound on the gravity of our political situation. After an hour's address bristling with logic, facts and humor he took his seat amid a roar of applause. His speech was considered by all parties one of the ablest political addresses ever delivered in the parish of Johnston. Dr. Alward followed. After paying a very high compliment to the last speaker he proceeded to arraign the government for their inability proving his contention by quoting from the Blue-Book and the speech was one of his carefully prepared production dealing with the accounts of the province in no uncertain way.

"The friends of the Government are anxiously awaiting the arrival of our M. P. Pa to defend their actions on the public platform. On the 2nd inst. the Johnston Baptist Singing circle held their public sale of fancy goods and a pie social. Notwith standing the heavy rain there was a good attendance and they realized a handsome sum.

On the 3rd inst. Court Washademoak I. O. F. had a turkey supper. Judge Emerson and Mr. Kinghorn delivered able addresses on the workings of the order and the superiority of the Foresters over the old straight line companies.

On the 5th inst. Doney Lodge L. O. L. held a turkey supper, and enjoyed a general good time. Patterson Bros., mill is still running but expects to finish next week.

Young's Cove. Nov. 11.—The first snow of the season made its appearance last night.

The Steamer May Queen will make her last trip up here on Saturday the 12th. She has had large freights from this wharf lately. The faces of the genial Captain and crew will be greatly missed. Word has been received that Rev. Mr. Gollmer, Rector of this parish is going to remain for the winter. The Rev. gentleman's many friends are very much pleased to hear it.

Mr. Michael Kelly who has been remodeling his dwelling house has about completed. It presents a fine appearance. The painting was done by Mr. Burnham Maston and reflects great credit on him.

Mr. John Snodgrass who has been visiting friends in St. John, returned home on Wednesday.

Miss Edie Wiggins received a telephone message last night stating that her father who went to St. John on Monday was lying very ill. She left by C. F. R. this morning for St. John to attend him.

Mr. E. C. Lockett has a number of men employed erecting a large coal shed. Mr. Lockett is doing a rushing business. Mr. John Murphey passed through here on Monday in search of fat cattle. He bought quite a large number for the St. John market. Mr. Murphey is a general favorite with the people of the Cove.

Mrs. James L. Corcoran of St. John is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kelly.

Mr. Marke Cole and Mr. Morrison of St. John were the guests of Miss Nellie Gale on Thursday. Miss Bessie Gale of St. John who has been visiting relatives and friends here, returned home.

Farming in the Maritime Provinces. Differs materially from farming in Ontario and the West. Conditions are different and our market not the same. A product profitable in those sections would not pay the tillage here, and a suggestion valuable to a westerner would prove disastrous if followed by our farmers. In subscribing for an agricultural publication it is well to bear this in mind. There's only one paper that treats of farming from a Maritime Province standpoint. It is the

BERLIN, N. H.
Nov. 15th, 1898.

TO EDITOR QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE.

Dear Sir: Nothing is more welcome in this country than the GAZETTE which arrives here every Saturday, and as there are so many boys from Queens Co. here all are anxious to see the paper arrive as we do not have to write for news as the GAZETTE gives us all we need or nearly so.

We have very fine weather at present although we have about four inches of snow which makes the forest look quite like winter, and many teams are already employed hawking logs to the stream, and hundreds of Canadians find employment in this country for the winter.

We would ask what has become of the Hibernia correspondent? Has he forgot how to write or like the rest of us denuded for the winter?

Thanking you for space in your valuable paper, I remain,

THE BOY IN THE WOODS.
Highfield.

Nov. 14.—Since my last communication some few items of general interest have occurred here.

Mr. W. J. Lawson and family have moved to St. John. He has sold his farm to his brother David M. Lawson. His stock and household furniture were sold at public auction by Mr. David M. Pearson, auctioneer. Mr. Lawson has a position in Mr. A. A. Mabee's wood-working factory, North End.

The repairing of the bridge at Lawson Brook has been let to Mr. Thomas Thompson. This is a move in the right direction as the bridge has been in a dangerous condition for some time. The thanks of the travelling public are due to Mr. L. P. Farris for so promptly ordering repairs, after the matter had been brought to his notice.

The ladies of St. John's church held a very successful Sewing Circle at Mr. T. H. Pearson's on the 9th inst.

Mr. D. J. Hamilton's new store will soon be opened for business. The painting on the outside is just finished. We notice a sign in the store window which reads: "Keep off the pants," we would like to know what it means.

Mr. Jas. Thompson had a piling frolic and dance both of which were well attended.

Mr. T. E. Pearson is travelling in the upper parts of the Province soliciting subscriptions for the "Co-operative Farmer."

Mr. D. M. Pearson has just returned from a business trip through Sanbury and York counties.

Mrs. Alexander who has been spending the summer with friends in St. John, has returned home feeling much better after her visit.

Mr. H. J. McMann has gone to Nova Scotia for the winter.

Mrs. D. M. Pearson and Mrs. B. W. Parker were the guests of Mrs. John Ward last week.

Miss Mary Ward, of Annapolis, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jas. Pearson.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at any Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.

North Forks.

Nov. 14.—The weather has been very warm here lately, and the snow which fell last Thursday has nearly all disappeared again.

Miss Addie Williams, of Salmon Creek, has left for Portland Me., where she intends to spend the winter months.

Miss Janis Dykeman has gone to Gilford, Me., to live with her sister Mrs. Richards.

Mrs. William Kadey went to spend the winter with her daughter in Portland, Me.

Mr. Arthur Wiggins who arrived home on Friday the 11th from New Hampshire with the remains of Harry Fowler, who was accidentally shot and killed, expects to return on Thursday, accompanied by a few more of our young men.

Jemseg.

Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. George Brunen spent Sunday at Mr. Arch. Purdy's.

Rev. W. J. Blakey, Mr. E. Dykeman, and Mr. Wm. Dykeman went to St. John, on Monday.

Mr. R. Wright gathered a large bunch of wild strawberry blossoms Wednesday in his pasture.

Our blacksmith, Mr. Chambers, has moved into his new shop.

Miss Susie Gamble, of St. John, is visiting at Rev. W. J. Blakey's.

Mr. Geo. Dykeman and sister are visiting at their uncle Mr. Henry Dykeman's.

Mr. Charlie Dykeman is having a furnace set up in his new house.

A young man from Jemseg drove to Fredericton Saturday. It is rumored that he had serious intentions. Some of the young ladies of Jemseg are very fond of the white faced horse.

Miss R. Currie has gone to St. John to spend the winter.

Miss Grace Garnett has returned home after a very pleasant visit.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by all Druggists.

White's Cove.

Nov. 21.—There is to be a change in Postmasters at Mill Cove in the near future. Mr. John W. Farris is to be the new Postmaster.

John Mullin of Robertson's Point is moving on the farm of Hon. L. P. Farris at the Den.

The "May Queen" made her last trip here on Thursday. She has done a fine business this summer.

Your correspondent from McDonald's Point writing about the wedding of Dr. F. D. White formerly of White's Cove and Miss Hendry, omitted naming the following presents to the bride: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. White oak, and Mrs. C. W. White carving cloth which should have been added to the list.

The mail carriers from the station are all that is required and despite the very bad travelling they make good time.

Capt. E. Young has laid up the "Sea King" for the season.

Wm. S. Farris of Indiantown Hotel made a flying visit to friends at the Cove last week, everybody was glad to see him looking so well.

He Had Tried It.

Said a gentleman to a friend who was suffering from a cold: "Get a bottle of Cook's Sure Cough Cure, and you will soon see the difference between it and some of the sweetened water, sold as cough mixtures. I know for I have tried it. You want something that will take hold and relieve the cold at once. Cook's Sure Cough Cure cures." 25 cts. Sold by all dealers.

Chipman.

Nov. 21.—A number of experienced miners from Danville in the state of Illinois were passengers on the Central train last Thursday bound for the Elkins Coal Mines, which have been in active operation since they fell into the hands of the present company several years ago.

These mines are not located on the Grand Lake; neither are they what used to be known as the Grand Lake Coal Mines with which they are frequently confounded by many intelligent people, otherwise well informed, but they are located in the parish of Chipman, only a little more than a mile back from the station and the banks of the Salmon River.

The recent arrivals number eleven all told among whom are three whole families and a foreman in the person of Mr. Samuel Brockhouse, who is a practical miner and under whose management the hitherto undeveloped resources in this section will receive greater attention the coming winter than in all the previous history of the company.

The present depth of coal found is from 18 to 24 inches, but the consensus of opinion of the best authorities affirms that below the present seam will be found a much larger seam, and with this object in view the company intend before long to have the government diamond borer at work at these mines.

The company have recently built five new houses upon their property so as to accommodate additional families expected on next spring.

One of the morning papers of St. John in a recent issue contained two columns about a foreigner who was found many years ago, one cold morning all alone on the shore near Digby, N. S. He had both his legs amputated and could speak no English or give any information about his previous life or where he came from, and as the Municipal authorities refused to give him any help the government of N. S., generously donated this person $100 per year until it has expended on him the sum little sum of $4000 up to the present time and is still spending as he is in no hurry to shuffle off this mortal coil.

For the information of our bluenose gossips across the bay we have traced this mysterious stranger without a name to nearly half a century ago when he was according to tradition found half frozen on Gaspereaux. As there were no doctors in those days nearer than Gagetown he was conveyed to the shertown for treatment, and the late Dr. Peters amputated his frozen limbs. After his recovery we are told the Captain of a schooner received a fee of fifty dollars to land him some place where he might find new friends against old age and they landed him accordingly on the coast of Digby.

Harry King has arrived home from a pleasant trip to the land of Evangeline and the happy hours he lingered in St. John made the ten days' vacation seem but as yesterday.

Chas. Nevins and Samuel Wilkins, of St. John, were here last week on a hunt for wild game and got a fisherman's luck.

Samuel Baird and crew have returned from Jemseg where they were engaged in building a bridge and will start to-day for Newcastle to reconstruct the Bailey bridge.

DO YOU BROOD?

Melancholia is a Grave Disease and Leads to Insanity.

A Broken Down Nervous System is the Cause of Trouble.

Paine's Celery Compound Nature's Nerve Bracer and Health Restorer.

Do you brood from day to day and make life a continued misery for yourself and family? If you are a victim of melancholia, understand at once you are suffering from a terribly grave disease—a trouble that induces suicide and homicide.

One of the most celebrated physicians of the day says that there are several forms of melancholia, simple melancholia, melancholia agitata, melancholia atonita, and melancholia with stupor. The first two are the most difficult of recognition, and are the forms that especially endanger the lives of victims and their friends.

Some of the first hand most important symptoms of melancholia is sleeplessness, depression of spirits, slow mental movements, terrifying hallucinations and aversion to food. The whole nervous system is soon in a most alarming condition, the mind becomes affected, and even insanity may show its hideous form.

Experience has proved that the ordinary medical treatment of melancholia falls in nine cases out of every ten, simply because the root of the disease is not reached.

Hundreds of cases of melancholia in all stages that have baffled the best medical men have been successfully cured by nature's nerve medicine—Paine's Celery Compound. This marvelous medical prescription does its work directly on the nerves. It tones, strengthens and braces up the entire nervous organization, and, as a consequence, the tissues and muscles are built up, and pure life-giving blood is freely supplied to every part of the body.

Reader, this should be an all-important subject to you if you are sleepless, despondent, languid, out-of-sorts, depressed in mind, and mental faculties impaired. Your path of duty is clear. Terrible dangers are ahead if you fail to banish the first symptoms. Your present and future happiness and health depends wholly upon your choice of medicine. The use of Paine's Celery Compound at this time means new life, health, vigor, activity, full mental powers and a length of happy years.

Hibernia.

The weather of late has been very wet and as a consequence the roads are very muddy.

The trustees of district No. 8, have secured the services of Mr. Bugle of St. John to repair the school house, and with the help of Samuel Davis of this place is pushing the job rapidly along to completion.

Bradford DeLong, of Carleton County, is visiting friends here.

A lively but somewhat tedious lawsuit took place at Peter Duffie's office today between Peleg Rathburn and Wesley McConchie. The parties were very ably represented by Messrs. Baxter and D. M. Nickerson. After spending an afternoon and evening a verdict was rendered for the Plaintiff for fifty cents and costs.

Mrs. Bogle and Miss Bogle of St. John and Mr. Francum of Long Beach, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Rathburn at their new home returned home the other day well pleased with their visit.

A pie social will be held at Hibernia Hall, Thursday evening, Thanksgiving. Proceeds to go toward the completion of the Hall. Come and eat. Come and eat.

COOK'S NEW BLOOD PILLS.

Newcastle Bridge.

Nov. 19.—Snow fell here this week but not enough for good sleighing, although a few sleighs were seen dashing around.

The Str. May Queen made her last trip to Newcastle on Saturday last.

The Chipman mail has been changed, coming now on Thursday and Saturday mornings where it formerly came on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Rev. Mr. Freeman, pastor of the Baptist church of this place, assisted by a few of his congregation, walked the cedar under the Parsonage in a very creditable manner.

Mr. Edward Beatty, of Fredericton, who has been visiting relatives and friends in this place, for the past few days, started for the capital on Tuesday last.

Two Papers for One Price.

We have made arrangements with the "Family Herald and Weekly Star" Publishers whereby we can supply that paper and the QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE, for one year, for $1.50. Subscribers will also receive the beautiful picture entitled the "Thin Red Line." Taking the picture into consideration, the subscribers for the "Family Herald and Weekly Star" and the QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE will receive two papers for the price of one. This is a golden opportunity. Address, JAS. A. STEWART, Gagetown, N. B.

"Pride and dignity are all right," remarked the philosopher, "but a little work now and then was never known to hurt anybody." And he continued rocking the cradle with his foot.

Dear Honey.

In the speedy trial before Judge Wedderburn at Hampton yesterday, of Dick Church, charged with stealing a bee hive at Havelock, the prisoner was convicted upon the evidence of his accomplice, Sherman McCafferty.

The evidence disclosed the fact that the three boys, Stockton, Church and McCafferty, jointly stole the hive and hid it. This happened on Sunday evening. On the following day McCafferty told Brascombe from whom the honey was stolen, and then remained quiet until the following Sunday evening, when the plunder was divided.

The learned judge in commenting upon the evidence referred in scathing terms to the depravity of the informer McCafferty.

The prisoner was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary with hard labor. Ora P. King, clerk of the county court, for the prosecution, and Geo. W. Fowler, M. P. P., for prisoner.
