FIVE MILLION VICTIMS YEARLY

John Burns Makes Some Good Points in a Recent London Address.

Mr. John Burns, M.P., opened at the Whitechapel Art Gallery the Tuberculosis Exhibition organized by the National Association for the Prevention of Consumption.

In the past forty years, said Mr. Burns, tuberculosis has been reduced some fifty per cent in the past thirty years.

In London alone there are 9,176 deaths more by consumption alone than we had in 1848.

Progress in Recent Years There has been great progress in recent years.

These terrible death-rates at the working end of life illustrates the need there is for rapid advance to be made.

There was no single cause, he continued, for the ravages of consumption. One of the chief causes was inequality.

Mr. Burns condemned the fetid conditions of the tenement houses, the slum, the unhygienic conditions of the slum.

Chicago, Ill., June 23.—Florence Allen of Vancouver, B.C., yesterday reported that Herbert Debon, who was to have married her Monday, had left the hotel at which they were stopping, taking $500 of her money with him.

He advocated strenuously the abolition of the "comforter," or "soother," for babies.

Trade Commissioners Says They Must Change Methods to Do Business With Mexico.

Ottawa, June 24.—A. W. Donley, Canadian trade commissioner in Mexico, hands out a warm criticism of Canadian manufacturers.

These operations, which were carried out among tribes who for the most part had never previously seen a white man, proved entirely successful and were so managed that there was practically no serious fighting.

The Yala people in whose country the columns remained for a month, gave a good deal of trouble.

After some weeks of this kind of thing the Yala came in, but declined to give up their arms.

In places, the natives, hearing of the approach of a large force, dug pits and planted stakes to prevent their progress.

Colonel Trenchard's force started in two columns—one from the Niger and one from the Congo river.

The various columns report that they found far less human sacrifice and jujus rites in the hitherto unknown than among the tribes of the delta.

Parts of the country traversed were found to be extremely hilly, but the chief difficulties hindering the march of the British were due to the fact that there was a great dearth of guides and interpreters.

Heads traders were found all through the country. The most distant station was established quite close to the northern Nigeria border.

INDIAN LAND PORTION SIXTEEN DOLLARS PER ACRE

Upwards of Six Thousand Acres Sold by Public Auction Yesterday—List of Parcels Sold Together With the Prices and the Names of Purchasers.

That the lure of the land is stronger today than it ever has been in the west was shown at the Dominion theatre on Wednesday afternoon when sections of land comprising about 6,000 acres of the Stoney Plain reserve were sold at prices ranging as high as $22.50 per acre and averaging about $17 per acre all through. The placing of the reserve lands on the market is in accordance with the plan of the department of the interior not to hold land unimproved longer than necessary. The Indians have had a great deal more than they needed and relinquished about ten sections in May of 1908. This has since been subdivided and made ready to be put on the market in quarter sections. Stoney Plain reserve lies almost directly west of Edmonton. The land put up for sale lies along the west bank of the Saskatchewan about six miles out from the town. It is described as being good land, with excellent poplar and willow bluffs. Some parcels were of irregular size and some bordering on the river covered only about one-half section. The Indian habitations some portion of the land was broken and there was said to be some respectable looking farm buildings on some parcels. When Auctioneer Robt. Smith took the platform at 1 o'clock to begin the sale the large auditorium was well filled. To the right sat J. A. Markle, inspector of Indian agencies, under whose supervision the sale was conducted. In the galleries were a sprinkling of disinterested citizens but most prominent were a score of Edmonton real estate men and capitalists and young farmers along the Stoney Plain road. From the opening of the sale the auctioneer did not let things drag for a minute. Every parcel of land had over it a government bid and if the public did not come to that the parcel was temporarily reserved for the market. In the hands of the auctioneer was a paper giving a brief description of the quarter sections. This was frequently referred to, as well as the following were the parcels sold with

Canadian Fugitive Caught in New York

Will Face Trial for Working the Double Agreement-Sale Game in a Mining Deal.

New York, June 24.—Wm. S. Mitchell, promoter and former member of the Consolidated exchange living at 273 West Ninety-seventh street, was arrested this afternoon at the request of the British government on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences. He was committed to the Tombs without bail by U. S. Commissioner Alexander. The charge, based upon Mitchell's alleged appropriation to himself of $40,000 in connection with the purchase of a mining claim in the Nipissing district of Canada two years ago. Mitchell, it is charged, made a private arrangement by which the claim was to be sold to a syndicate for only $50,000, while the real price was only $30,000. Mitchell getting the balance, to obtain Mitchell's extradition to Canada the laws of the Dominion had to be changed at the last session of parliament and this was made possible only by the power of the influence which Mitchell is said to have deflected when he put through the mining bill. Among the enemies he thus made who are now his accusers, is Col. Sir Augustus Pitt Rivers, a son of the late Duke of Cambridge, and a cousin of the King of England. The colonel was a member of the syndicate which for two years have been trying to punish Mitchell for his alleged double dealing.

PROFESSIONAL GIRLS ARE TOLD SOME THINGS

English Lady Declares Craving for Dress and Notability Destroys Home-Making Instinct.

Toronto, June 24.—Denouncing in direct and bitter words the "professional women," and declaring that all the good she did in the world could not counterbalance the fact that she left no children at her death, Miss Edmond Barron, of England, called a sensation this morning in the meeting devoted to "professions and careers for women," the particular subject of Miss Barron's discussion being "Moral, educational and social effects of women's entrance into professions." "What comes by training and wealth if there are no children left behind?" asked the speaker. "Women sphere is the home. She need not necessarily remain in ignorance there, but the idea should be to leave men's work for them. A hair dresser or a tailor—any dress maker, I should be eligible at the club, don't you know?" doesn't mind in the least if his assistant is a woman. He would rather be compelled to contribute to their support. Miss Barron declared that the materialistic tendencies of the age. Children were almost driven by parents to publicly, driven to the stage of the extreme specialist, in the name of any love of art, but for love of money or applause. It used to be that girls were provided for by their fathers. Now they could go to earn their living in occupations on a par with the errand boys. "The better of a professional career for a woman," said Miss Barron, "very often lay in a craving for smart clothing whether paid for or not. The letter was written by a house-maker that a professional light," emphasized Miss Barron. "The professional woman of today is a woman who is making a profession of her profession." "As a result of love for professional life the population is being recruited from the ranks of the educated. Dr. Rosalie Morton, United States, fought Miss Barron's argument at every point. Her own mother had succeeded in establishing a peculiar and legitimate place for herself. In the treatment of nervous and other ailments she had secured no additional proof. Other speakers from the United States defended the professional woman in law and other professions.

Toronto, June 24.—At the afternoon session of the International Women's Council Miss E. M. Prof. Dale, of McGill university, declared the personality of the teacher to be the dominant factor of the educational problem. Dr. T. Robins, of Montreal, depicted an educated mother, such as a well-trained school teacher, as the ideal educator, within the family of the future citizenship of the nation. Lady Edgar presided. Mon. Sydney A. Fisher expressed the interest taken by the Dominion government in the process of the congress. He pointed out that the Ottawa authorities were co-operating with some vigor with provincial governments for the betterment of public health.

"We are here and 'turn up the soil' is right. But get the buff off first. We picked our claim and hauled our freight from Edmonton and will describe the country as well as I can 'give you some idea of what is here.

There are two kinds of soil, black and chocolate color. The black soil is low lying or flat land; the chocolate color is rolling and is much better soil. The black soil is more or less damp and cold and is not quite so productive as the other soil.
