CHAPTER VII.

Lady Clare turned at the sound of his entrance, nodded toward him brightly, and said:

"I have been thinking over what you have said to me. And, though bitterly mortified and humiliated, I have to confess that I have little claim upon you, Edmund."

"You have every claim," he interrupted, penitently, "but it has all been a wretched mistake. We made a business contract with our hearts to find that—"

"Don't—don't!" she cried, covering her eyes with her hands. "You might have cared for me had I pretended to be a simpering fool, and I never knew what you were to me until too late. A few hours since I loved you, Edmund Locksley, with a passion that seemed to tear my heart to shreds. I have plucked it out! Such weakness is unworthy of Clare Monchiff!"

For an instant her whole face flamed with passion, and her rising bosom told of the storm that raged within.

"Clare! Clare!" said Locksley, brokenly. "You little dream how great a surprise this is to me. I have pictured our meeting a dozen times since I loved Dora. I thought that you would smile at me, and perhaps be glad that I had learned how to be happy. I thought that you would wish to be Dora's friend—her sister, and that you would grow to love each other—that you would help me with my father."

He paused, for her face had gradually turned toward the floor. She was hiding from him the bitterness that surged up from her maddened heart.

"And have I refused to do any of these things?" she demanded, presently.

"I could not ask you now," he said. "I can only beg of you to release me without making matters more unpleasant than they are already. My father and Sir George believe that all is settled between us; I know not Locksley went to his room that night, his mind in a whirl of unrest. He had sat in silence for an hour after Lady Clare had retired, and when he passed upstairs he noticed that the lights were still burning in the library, where his father and Viscount Melville were engaged.

He found it impossible to sleep, and wondered if all were well with Dora. He was not given to morbid fancies, but again and again did her face flit through his mind—a face of terror and dread.

With the advent of daylight his unhappy thoughts left him, and he called himself a fool.

He was the first down stairs, and the butler informed him that his father and Viscount Melville had not retired until three hours after midnight.

"I am glad," he thought, "that all mysteries are to be cleared up at last. And with this comes the secret of Lord Morden—of Dora's father! What glorious news I shall have to tell my darling!"

Wireless Piracy

BILL ALLOWING HOMES TO BE SEARCHED.

Twelve months' imprisonment or a fine of £100 should have a salutary effect upon wireless piracy. This is the punishment that may befall a person using a wireless telegraph station without a licence—under the new Wireless Telegraphy and Signalling Bill presented by Sir Wm. Mitchell-Thomson, M.P., Postmaster-General.

At present an offender is liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding £10. The new Bill proposes that the liability on summary conviction shall be imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months or a fine not exceeding £50, and in the case of a continuing offence a further fine not exceeding £5 for each day on which the offence is continued. If convicted on indictment, the term of imprisonment may be up to twelve months or a fine not exceeding £100. The present law, according to legal opinion, does not actually cover the case of crystal sets, because they are incapable of transmitting a message. In other words there is no power to compel the owner of such apparatus to possess a licence. This is recognised in the new Bill, one clause of which states:—

"For removing doubts as to the construction of the Wireless Telegraphy Act, 1904, it is hereby declared that any reference in that Act to transmission in relation to messages shall be deemed always to have included references to the reception of messages.

"Thousands of the 'pirates'—estimated at two million—affected by the Bill have evaded the licence because they have indoor aërials and there is nothing to attract attention to the presence of a wireless set in the house. The issue of search warrants is provided, however, to meet their case. In future, if a Justice of the Peace is satisfied by information on oath that there is reasonable ground for supposing that an unlicensed station is being worked

He may grant a Search Warrant to any police officer or any officer appointed for the purpose by the Postmaster-General, the Admiralty, the Army Council, or the Board of Trade. That officer will then be authorized to enter and inspect the place and to seize the apparatus. Penalties are laid down for:—

Sending messages of an offensive character, or a communication subversive of public order;

False signals of distress; and Divulging improperly the purport of any message sent or proposed to be sent by wireless telegraphy.

The penalties under this section are a fine not exceeding £10 on summary

Will you send for me at once to stay with your friends until the mystery is solved? Don't delay, or all will be lost.

DORA.

"Great Heaven!" he ejaculated. "This can have but one meaning. She has fled from the persecutions of Richard Marlowe! My friends! I have no friends at present. I dare not bring her here—not until I have obtained the consent of my father. I will speak to Lady Clare."

He sent this telegram, in reply to Dora, to the Marine Hotel, Deal:

I am coming by the earliest train, and shall be with you before noon.

WHITE SHIRTS.

I view my nephews thirty with something like despair; their hands are never dirty, no hair is in their hair. They're always neatly laundered, they're always spick and span; ah, chee, how far we've wandered from the ancestral plank! When we old boys were facing life's problems, long ago, we did not think of chasing down easy roads for dough. Then we were told successes by honest toil were made, by struggles, strains and stresses, and we must learn a trade. And one became a weaver who watched his warp and woof; and one would swing a cleaver beneath the butcher's roof. One took up fancy plumbing, we heard his weapons clank, and often saw him coming with boodles to the bank. And one was shoeing horses to fill his grimy purse, and one was planting corses and owned the village hearse. We all learned something useful, some trade on which to lean and gather a caboose full of banknotes long and green. And if we left the legions of laborers in time, to walk in white shirt regions where no one's decked with grime, it always was a blessing to know we had a trade; if fortune proved distressing, we'd wield a saw or spade. Alas, my nephews thirty in sickly jobs are found; at soda fountains squinty they conviction, and not exceeding 12 months' imprisonment on conviction and not exceeding 12 months' imprisonment on conviction on indictment. Apparatus for the use of their waves without the use of wires is also within the purview of the Act, and the Postmaster-General takes power to control all messages in case of emergency. Although the Bill bestows such sweeping powers upon the authorities, it is extremely improbable that its full force, if it becomes law, will be directed against the average listener-in. This reassuring statement was made by a high official at the G.P.O. There is no desire, it was explained, to inflict the maximum penalties, and the chief object of the legislation is to make deliberate pirates pay up. The Inquisitorial clause, the Postmaster-General stated, was almost purely a consolidation of the existing provisions. It merely re-enacts with minor amendments sub-section 4 of the 1904 Act. Procedure by repeal and re-enactment with amendments was adopted in order to avoid the inconvenience of legislation by reference to the existing Act. Powers of search conferred have existed for 20 years, and continue to exist whether the new Bill becomes law or not.

Work May Soon be Resumed in Nova Scotia Coal Mines

Martial Law Proclaimed in British S.W. Africa—Compromise Suggested in the Matter of French Vatican Representative—Scotland Wins Football Championship.

N. S. COAL MINES MAY SHORTLY RE-OPEN.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 5.

Despite the absence of official confirmation the belief persists tonight that the re-opening of the Nova Scotia coal mines, closed four weeks ago, when Besco refused to meet the demands of its 12,000 miners for restoration of credit at the Company's stores and the operation of three idle mines on a minimum basis of four days per week, is only a matter of days. Among the factors believed to be operating in the direction of immediate settlement, is the responsibilities assumed by the Government in caring for the destitute with closing appeals for public charity. It is generally admitted that $20,000 already voted by the Government will last little more than a week and although the Premier stated an additional amount would be forthcoming if needed, it is believed strong measures are being taken to shut off the need for relief at the earliest possible moment. Practically the only hindrance at present to an immediate re-opening of the collieries, in well-informed circles, is the announced refusal of the Company to pay the 1924 rates under any circumstances; but since the Corporation has previously agreed to pay these rates under an interim contact pending investigation, it is not believed this obstruction is insuperable.

MAY COMPROMISE ON VATICAN APPOINTMENT.

PARIS, April 4.

It was announced to-day at the Foreign Office that the entrance of Senator De Monzie into the cabinet as Finance Minister, does not mean that the French Ambassador will be retained at the Vatican. A high authority declared that M. De Monzie's views on that subject will be heard and considered on the same footing as those of other members of the Government, but that a compromise solution would more likely be adopted, something between the maintenance of an Ambassador and the appointment of a simple Commissioner for Alsace.

MEAGRE RETURNS FROM ULSTER ELECTIONS.

BELFAST, April 4.

Only meagre returns are available so far from the elections to the Ulster Parliament yesterday, but early results show Joseph Devlin had achieved a great personal victory in his West Belfast constituency. In East Belfast, James Gyle, Independent Unionist, who is an inn-keeper, is believed to top the pole. His campaign was in opposition to the Government's drink policy. Following the custom of allowing children whose names accidentally get on the election lists to vote, Robert Allison, aged 3, cast his ballot at Derry, and Ethel Bowman, aged 7, voted at Carrick Fergus. Four centenarians voted at North Tyrone.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED.

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, April 4.—It was reported here to-day that martial law had been proclaimed in the territory of the Bechoeth tribe, in the mandated territory of South West Africa, in which disorders among the natives have recently assumed a serious aspect.

MILLERAND BACK IN SENATE.

PARIS, April 5.

Former Premier Millerand to-day was elected senator for the Department of Seine to succeed Senator Magny. M. Millerand received 530 votes and M. Autrand, his chief opponent, 175.

CHAPMAN TO HANG.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 4.

Gerald Chapman, spectacular mail bandit, jail breaker, and criminal extraordinary, to-day was sentenced to hang in the Connecticut State Prison, on June 25th, in payment for the life of a New Britain patrol man, of whose murder, last October, a jury had convicted him less than an hour before. Frederick J. Groehl, Chapman's chief counsel, immediately filed notice with Judge Jennings that he will appeal.

the conviction. Charles Murphy, also of defence counsel, had previously made a motion that the jury's verdict be set aside, but it was denied. "Chapman, I'm sorry," Groehl said to the prisoner after the jury had been dismissed and Chapman had been returned to the courthouse basement to await further developments. The Attorney, with tears in his eyes, reached out for the condemned man's hand. Without a break of voice or wavering of his cold blue eyes, Chapman squeezed his lawyer's hand and replied, "Oh, that's all right."

BOLSHIES TO SWAMP WORLD WITH BOGUS MONEY.

TORONTO, April 5.

It would be impossible for the Bolsheviks to swamp the world with bogus money, said Sir John Aird, President of the Canadian Bankers' Association, in commenting on a London cable that such a plan had been organized. "Vulgar threats came out of Russia six months ago that a scheme of the sort would be attempted. That put all the banks on the qui vive and I cannot see the slightest danger of any such plot succeeding. With regard to the forgery imposed on the Imperial Bank of Canada. Sir John expressed the view that it had been nipped in the bud and investigators now had the situation well in hand.

TRANS-CANADIAN AIR FLIGHT CONTEMPLATED.

MONTREAL, April 5.

The first direct trans-Canadian air flight will be attempted in the early autumn when the Laurentide airplane, Viking, will leave Vancouver in the early morning and endeavour to reach Montreal about noon the following day, according to present tentative arrangements. With this spectacular flight the Viking will conclude the summer's gold prospecting expedition in which the ship will enable foreign capitalists to try their luck in the districts of Northern British Columbia which, without the air machine, could not be visited unless the prospector was prepared to remain there during the winter. The Air Board, in 1921, organized a trans-Canadian flight, but seven machines were used to cover the distance, and the feat took two weeks to accomplish.

WILL ASK GOVERNMENT TO ACT.

WINNIPEG, April 5.

Efforts will be made to enlist the support of the Manitoba Legislature on behalf of the residents of Cape Breton suffering as a result of the coal strike. John Queens, Labor leader, will ask the Legislature, Tuesday, to make representations to the Federal Government, urging immediate relief be granted to meet the needs of the starving people in the affected districts. The Legislature will be asked to urge the Federal Government to establish a Commission of Enquiry, which would place the blame where it

The Marble Market Makes Merry Over A Miss's Misfortune.

By CY HUNGERFORD

Adventist Church

The large attendance at the Adventist Church last evening was much interested in the discourse on the "Crash of Empires." The speaker showed from prophecy that we are unmistakably living near the close of this world's history, and that soon Christ will set up His kingdom which will never end. Mr. Manuel said in part: "It has been fully demonstrated that men are not capable of controlling the affairs of this world. Many commendable efforts have been made to bring about peace among the nations, but there will be no permanent peace until Christ the Prince of Peace returns. Then the Government shall be upon His shoulders, and of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David and upon His kingdom to order it. See Isa. 9: 6, 7. To this end was Christ born, Luke 1: 32, 33, died and rose again. Act 2: 28-31. This kingdom is given to Christ just before He returns to earth. See Dan. 7:14. Matt. 25:31.

"That the time is near for Christ to take His kingdom and return is clearly evident from the second chapter of Daniel as well as many other scriptures.

"In a dream by night the Lord gave to Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, a clear historical outline of the course of world empire to the end of time, and the coming of the eternal kingdom. Daniel said "There is a God in Heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known to King Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days." Again he said "God hath made known to the King what shall come to pass hereafter and the dream is certain and the interpretation sure." In making known the dream to the King Daniel said, "Thou, O King, sawest and beholdest a great image. The great image whose brightness was excellent stood before thee and the form thereof was terrible. The image's head was of fine gold, his breast and arms of silver, his belly and thighs of brass, his legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay." See verses 31-45. "The various parts of the image from the head to the feet represented successive empires beginning with Babylon and followed by Medo-Persia, Greece and Rome. The ten toes of the image as well as the ten horns of the fourth beast of Dan, Chap. 7, stand for the ten kingdoms into which Rome was divided in the fourth and fifth centuries. The nations of Europe to-day come from the division of the Roman Empire.

"And what next? In the days of these kings shall the God of Heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed, and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever." "We are living in a time when the kingdom of Europe, represented by the ten toes of the image, are in distress and perplexity fearing for their very existence. May God hasten the coming of His everlasting kingdom. Down in the feet of iron and of clay, weak and divided, soon to pass away, what will the next great, great glorious drama be? Christ and His coming and eternity."

"Orphans of the Storm"

AT THE STAR MOVIE TO-NIGHT.

With no law to stop you, what would you do to-night?
The city before you—women, cafes, banks, riches in homes and shops, take what you want. In a great city—the smartest city, and the wickedest. They danced, and such dancing! They drank, and such drinking! There was passion, but there was also faith! Bad women, and beautiful—but there were good women, even more beautiful.

Into it, from the country, came pretty Henrietta Girard. Her little love-heart brimming with sweetness for her blind orphan sister, for all the world. One man stole her, and kissed her and fell—amid wine and revelry and dancing. Another kissed her, handsome man of millions, and was driven from the city. The third man kissed her—Danton, a nation's hero, and they threatened his life!

Love! Laughter! Madness without limit! Would you have withstood it? See it—feel it—tremble with it—lose yourself in it—profit by it just as those people did in Paris as shown in that enchanting and seizing last act.

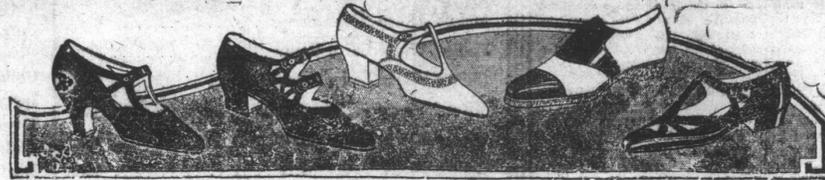

Special Legislation

All who are nervous of fire will be interested in the Bill, now before the Legislature, providing Means of Egress from Public Buildings. If applied to Public Houses, more henpecked husbands might be able to sneak off occasionally to the Club. Perhaps you may not be aware that this special legislation is enacted to cope with the enormous number of people who will attend the "Mixed Grill" on April 16th, 17th and 18th at the Majestic Theatre.

Notes From Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 31.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, noted English advocate of women's rights; Mrs. George Maynard Milner of New York, Honorary President of the General National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Gilbert Gosling of St. John's, N.F.S., President of the Newfoundland Women's Franchise Association, are prominent feminist leaders who are lending their assistance to the campaign of the Bermuda Women Suffrage Society in support of a bill for the enfranchisement of qualified women of Bermuda which has been presented to the Bermuda House of Assembly by Hon. S. S. Sparling.

Principal in a series of public meetings in connection with the drive was that held Monday evening, March 23, in Mechanics Hall, Hamilton, which was attended by large numbers of Canadian and American women from the winter colony who are in sympathy with the suffrage campaign. The speakers were Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Milner and Mr. Sparling and Hon. John P. Hand, M.C.P., Chairman of the Trade Development Board, was chairman of the meeting.

The Bermuda Women's Suffrage Act, under which it is proposed to give the vote to women on the same property qualifications as apply to men voters in Bermuda, would enable women to be elected to all municipal offices including that of Mayor, Alderman and Common Councillor, and also to be elected members of the Colonial Parliament. A consequential bill provides jury service for women.

Mrs. Pankhurst, who came down from Toronto last summer and has been spending the winter here, last night occupied the "Gleaner" office, the largest cottage occupied for a time by the late President Woodrow Wilson.

Sir Joseph Outerbridge, St. John's, Nfld., has been re-elected 1st Vice-President of the Bermuda Branch of the English-Speaking Union. The Rev. Dr. Francis Paton, former president of Princeton University, has been re-elected to the office of President of the Branch.

Lady Outerbridge entertained with a luncheon at "Chelston," the Outerbridge place in Paget for Lady Ferguson, wife of Vice-Admiral Sir Jas. A. Ferguson; Lady Ferguson's sister, Mrs. Baird of London, Eng., and the Misses Ferguson, all of whom have recently returned from the West Indies.

New developments in connection with Bermuda's campaign for an international reputation as the leading winter golf center include assurances that the new and popular Belmont Manor course of nine holes will be greatly extended this summer, at an outlay of several thousand dollars with the aim of making it eventually an eighteen hole course and the announcement that two more nine-hole courses, one at The Poincianus and the other at the Gramere Hotel, are proposed for next season. Completion of these, together with the proposed nine hole course at the Elbow Beach Hotel on the South Shore, will afford Bermuda a total of nine golf courses, two of them eighteen holes in connection with the changes on the Belmont Manor course will also be extensive changes and improvements in the hotel which includes assurances that the new and popular Belmont Manor course, has charge of the work on the proposed new courses.

The Royal Mail cup, presented by the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co. Ltd., was won by St. Isadore, owned by H. Stuart Hollis of New York, on the Shally Bay track in connection with other races arranged by the Bermuda and Garrison Hunt Club.

Mrs. Nathaniel Curry of Montreal, wife of Senator Curry, and Mrs. Victor Curry, both of whom are spending the season at Cedar Lodge, Paget, were among the guests of Mrs. James Roosevelt of Hyde Park, New York who gave a large party at "Overlook," the Roosevelt place in Paget, the guests on this occasion also including Lady Asser, wife of the Governor General and Mrs. Robertson Honey, wife of the American Consul to Bermuda.

Lady Roddick of Montreal, who will spend early April here, is among those recently arrived at the Inverary Hotel.

Mr. H. P. Hayward, of St. John's, B., is among those recently arrived at the Hamilton Hotel. Also Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Forbes of Ottawa are among those arrived at that hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Westman of Montreal, recently joined the Canadian colony at the Hamilton.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nellis of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Arnold gave a small dinner party at the Bermudiana, Bermuda's new two million dollar hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. Murray McFarlane, and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. White of Toronto are among others from Canada recently arrived at the Bermudiana. Mrs. M. C. Henderson, who is spending the season at the Princess Royal, gave one of the dinner parties there, her guests including Mrs. Maude Ross of Toronto, who accompanied her and who recently won the leading golf championship of Bermuda; R. Heffel, A. Lightbourne and E. Oliver of the Bermuda winter colony.

Mrs. J. J. Follett, Miss M. Follett, Mrs. D. H. McLean and Mrs. E. L. McLean of Toronto, are members of a party arrived for the remainder of the season at Belmont Manor. Also Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Boyd of Montreal have arrived at that hotel.

Personal

Mr. Jas. G. Power, of Ayre & Sons, left by Sunday's express for his home, Elliston, T.B., to visit his father, who is seriously ill.

Mr. M. J. Power is leaving town this week, for Paradise, P.B., and will buy fish, oil and herring.

Mr. Peter Mason, who was badly injured by the explosion on Friday last, showed slight improvement at the Hospital yesterday.

COHEN'S MODERN EMPORIUM

335 Water Street : Corner Store : Bishop's Building

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

FIRST GO AROUND TO THE OTHER SIDE.

Did you ever hear the story of the knights who quarreled about the color of a shield? It is told that two knight approached a post where a shield was hung. They came toward it from different sides. One called it a golden shield and the other laughed at him and called him a poor judge of metal, saying that it was nothing but silver. They disputed and argued and finally fell to fighting over it, and in the course of the first their positions were reversed so that they stood on opposite sides of the shield from what they had been at first. And then each saw that the other had been right, for on one side the shield was gold and on the other side silver.

Why Do We Let Ourselves Be Fooled!

A simple little story, but one I like to recall when I am prone to make one-sided judgments. So often we form opinions and assert them when we have only seen one side of the shield. Half truths can be so misleading. And, knowing it so well, it is really strange that we allow ourselves to be fooled by them so often.

One day last summer I heard a woman talking about a neighbor who was a stranger to me in the summer colony.

"We went blackberrying to-day," she said, "and Mrs. B. decided to come along. You know how we all dress for blackberrying in knickerbockers and the stoutest shoes and stockings we own. That, if you please, she dolled herself out in silk stockings and French beaded slippers. Some women have to be on dress parade all the time."

A Verdict For Frivolity.

Now remembering the story of the two-sided shield I should have reserved judgment, but, foolishly, I let that story bias me a bit. In spite of myself I had a half-formed opinion of a frivolous type of woman in my mind in thinking of Mrs. B. But when I saw her she proved to be quite the opposite. And incidentally I heard the other side of the story. It came out quite accidentally one day when we were talking about berrying that she had worn the oldest shoes she owned the witnesses for the plaintiff, nodded his head with conviction, and judiciously announced: "Verdict for the plaintiff."

"But, your honor," protested the other lawyer, "you haven't heard defendant's witnesses yet."

"Oh, all right, go ahead," said His Honor, "but I'll tell you right now it sounded pretty good to me."

So defendant's witnesses told their stories with equal vim and partisan bias. When they finished: "Pity's sake!" declared the Court, "verdict for defendant!"

"Hello, Sammy Skunk!" shouted Little Jack Rabbit one morning as he hopped up the Winding Trail through the Shady Forest.

"Goodness me, you're dreadfully thin. Not much thicker than a pin."

"So would you be if you had eaten nothing all winter," answered Sammy Skunk. "When I went down into my nice warm burrow at the beginning of cold weather I was so fat I could hardly walk. But fat doesn't last forever, and although I slept most of the time it has all been used up to keep me alive. Now I must hunt for food."

"Where are you going?" asked the curious little rabbit, hopping along slowly as Sammy Skunk kept on his way, not seeming to care whether his little bunny friend went with him or not.

"What do you want to know for?" asked Sammy Skunk, suspiciously.

"I'm going up to call on the Big Brown Bear," laughed the bunny boy, seeing that Sammy Skunk was none too friendly.

rat or a chicken. But as the weather began to grow warmer and the insects to crawl out of hiding, and their eggs to hatch, he would quickly turn to them, and forget his weasel-like appetite.

On and on waddled Sammy Skunk, his head near the ground and his bushy tail held high over the forked band of white on the broad back of

"I'm glad you are not thinking of catching Henny Jenn or Cockey Doodle," answered the little rabbit, a smile spreading over his face, and away he hopped up to the Cozy Cove to see his big bear friend, while Sammy Skunk kept right on to the Big Farmyard.

"Yes, sir, Sammy Skunk was mighty hungry, and in the early spring he would eat a squirrel or a mouse, a his little black, fat body. His wide, strongly clawed feet were not made for fast walking. No, indeed, they were made to dig with, like those of his cousin, Billy Badger. It was too early in the year to find a nest full of eggs on the ground, so Sammy Skunk kept right on until, by and by, after a while, he came to the Farmyard. It was now quite dark, and seeing that he was in sight, he crept under the Big Red Barn to look about. And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

Lantic Table Sugar

Lantic Sugar is sold in packages containing 2 pounds, also in packages containing 5 pounds. Each package is guaranteed full weight of purest, sweetest, cleanest sugar.

In every town there are people who take care of their health by being careful of their food, to such people, Lantic Sugar in dust proof packages is recommended.

Lantic Sugar in dust proof packages comes direct from the Refinery to your table, unscuffed by contact with anything unclean.

Lantic Sugar in packages is safe from contamination by germ bearing dust, and from flies which are invariably disease carriers.

For use with Grape Fruit, Strawberries, etc., also for use with cereals, Lantic Sugar, because it is extra fine, is unquestionably best.

In addition to Lantic Sugar for ordinary table use, you will do well to try Lantic Icing Sugar; in 1 pound packages, it is positively the best icing obtainable.—mar30.m.it

Wembley Our Opportunity

Wembley and all its wonders will again be on view a month from to-day, and from all accounts the exhibition will be even more elaborate than it was last year, although that seems almost inconceivable. From a financial standpoint, it was not a success, but indirectly, the benefits derived from it were so great, that the promoters felt fully justified in suggesting that it should be reopened for another season, and Newfoundland was the first to consent, to this proposal.

The Newfoundland Pavilion in 1924 received its full share of visitors, and while our exhibit could not possibly be as extensive or elaborate as those of the larger dominions, it was a great credit to us, and received most favourable comment on all sides. This year even greater efforts are being made to attract the attention of the capitalist to the natural resources of the Island, and to enlighten tourists in all matters concerning sport, scenery, climate and our historical associations.

There is much to indicate that this country is entering upon a period of transition, during which the responsibility resting upon those who guide and control her affairs will be even greater than ever before. The changes will effect our political, commercial, and social life, and already there have been two noteworthy achievements in the former category. We refer to the Redistribution Bill and the measure extending the franchise to the women, to which His Excellency the Governor gave his assent on Friday. These acts, and particularly the latter, are certain sooner or later to bring influences to bear on questions dealing with the health of the community, living and working conditions, educational affairs and so on, and the sooner the better. It is evident too that our industries must be carefully investigated, in order to ascertain how they can be made more productive, and what steps can be taken to develop others.

Formerly we were somewhat at a disadvantage owing to the isolated position of the country, and were in consequence inclined to be insular in our views. Time has changed that considerably, but there are still prejudices which it is desirable to overcome. How more effectively can this be accomplished than by becoming better known to the outside world, and by getting to know the outside world better? Wembley offers an opportunity to attract to our shores the very people who would be, in every way most desirable visitors. Wembley affords us a chance to become acquainted with the peoples, customs, and productions of every corner of the Empire.

Every Newfoundland who can take a holiday this summer should make Wembley his Mecca, and we feel certain that very many would, were it not a question of cost, of which the passage money across the Atlantic is the most serious consideration.

Previous to the War the reasonable fares made such a holiday possible practically for anyone; to-day they are so high, that the trip is out of the question for all but a few. In view of the circumstances it is not unreasonable to suggest that a special reduced rate should be allowed on the trans-Atlantic boats. Such a concession would be highly appreciated by the public, and the Company would not stand to lose by it, owing to the large number of people ready to avail of such a chance.

We would particularly urge that an arrangement of this kind should be made to accommodate the teachers in the Island. It is their holiday season; many of them have their homes on the other side, and most of them have friends whom they would be glad to visit. All of them would benefit by the lessons that Wembley has to teach, and in turn that knowledge, richer and more educative by far than anything obtained from books would be passed on in turn to the younger generation.

Wembley will be the rallying ground of the sister dominions in a peace demonstration which presents even greater opportunities of becoming acquainted and working in a common cause than did that momentous assembly which came together a few years ago for purposes of war. Then Newfoundland was there with the flower of its manhood. Give Newfoundlanders again the chance to assemble with the nations of the Empire in an even more worthy cause.

Comparative Revenue Statement

The Revenue collected at the port of St. John's from July 1st, 1924, to March 4th, 1925, amounted to $4,680,424.85. During the same period in 1922-23 the amount was $4,018,316.57, and in 1923-24, $4,197,729.91. For the current period, the duties collected exceed those of 1922-23 and 1923-24 by $662,108.28 and $482,694.94 respectively.

Freight Rates on Agriculture Produce Reduced

The matter of freight rates on Agricultural produce was discussed at a meeting of the Railway Commission, and it was decided to grant a special rate of twenty-five cents per package from all points in the country to St. John's. At the meeting it was also decided that the daily cross country service would begin on June 15th. Only one steamer will be employed on the Port aux Basques-North Sydney route as heretofore, and crossings will be made three times a week—on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Cochrane Street Church Notes

There will be Divine Service every evening this week, excepting Saturday, commencing at 8 o'clock. At the Good Friday morning worship, the usual offering will be taken up for the "Aged Ministers' Fund." At the Morning Service yesterday, the Rev. J. G. Joyce delivered a timely sermon on the "Home," and in the evening the Pastor, Rev. C. H. Johnson, M.A., on the "Early Church and its Influence on the people of that Day." A very large attendance was registered at the Sunday School in the afternoon. It was an open session with a bright Missionary Programme. Mr. G. W. Soper was chairman. Mrs. E. Lindsay gave the address and Mr. W. Clarke presented the reward books. Miss Pike's solo and several recitations, together with very hearty singing, by the full school, made up a very enjoyable programme.

THE TRAINS—Thursday's West bound train arrived at Port aux Basques Saturday night at 9 o'clock. The express reached the city at 1:17 a.m. No. 2 express will leave Port aux Basques after arrival S.S. Kyle. The next express is not due before Wednesday.

Neptune Due at 6 p.m.

The Neptune has been reported at Cape Bonavista and is due in port at 6 this evening. She has 19,000 seals on board. Had she managed to secure 5,637 more, her total, since she made her first voyage in 1875, would have reached 1,000,000. It is understood that her seals will be unloaded immediately and that as soon as possible she will make another trip.

Holy Week Services

AT ST. THOMAS'S.
 During Holy Week services will be held at St. Thomas's each evening at 8, when the Rector will lead meditations on "Steps up to Heaven". On Monday the special subject will be "The Human Christ"; on Tuesday "The Searching Question"; on Wednesday "Spiritual Retreat in Holy Warfare"; and on Thursday "Communion with the Blessed Saviour". The addresses will be illustrated by lantern slides of pictures by famous artists portraying the events of Holy Week, similar to those which were shown two years ago. On Good Friday there will be Ante Communion at 8, the Three Hours Devotion from 12 to 2, led by the Rector, and during Morning Prayer at 10 and Evensong at 7:30 there will be special addresses by Rev. W. E. Godfrey, who will also conduct a Young Peoples Lantern Service at 4:30. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be a special celebration of Holy Communion at 6:45 a.m.

AT THE R. C. CATHEDRAL.
 The Holy Week services at the R. C. Cathedral were begun yesterday morning when there was solemn High Mass and blessing of the Palms. His Grace Archbishop Roche officiating, assisted by Monsignor McDermott and the Priests of the Cathedral. Last night Vespers were sung, Rev. R. J. Murphy officiating, with Revs. T. J. Flynn and M. J. Kennedy as Chanters. The sermon was preached by Rev. P. J. Kennedy, whose discourse on "Our Lady of Dolours" was a masterpiece.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, at 7:30 the Office of Tenebrae will be sung. On Thursday morning, the Blessing of the Holy Oils will take place at Solemn High Mass, which begins at 8:30. This will be followed by a procession to the Altar of Repose and there will be Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament all day.

On Good Friday Mass of the Pre-sanctified will begin at 10 o'clock, and at 3 o'clock there will be Stations of the Cross. On Holy Saturday Mass will begin at eight o'clock. All obligations for fast and abstinence will cease at noon on Holy Saturday.

With the Sealers

NEPTUNE DUE AT 6 P.M.
 S. S. Neptune, Capt. George Barbour, with 19,000 seals on board, the weight of 25,000, will be the first of the ships to return from the frozen pans. A message to Messrs. Job Bros. last night stated the ship was south of Seldom, bound home, and if the weather was favourable she would call at Pool's Island to land two sick men. Whether she called at the Bonavista Bay port is not known, but a further message was received by the firm this morning stating that the Neptune passed Cape Bonavista at 3:30 a.m., with all flags flying, and her arrival in port would be about 6 o'clock this evening. A heavy sea is running on the outside to-day and, owing to the ship being very deep, it is probable that she will steam slowly to port.

Sealing news on the northern front over the week end shows that good work was done on Saturday in picking up the old ones. It was fortunate that the ships managed to pick up the balance of their seals, because the heavy swell of yesterday staked out the floe, while a gale of N.W. wind with thick snow storm followed, which made conditions all the worse. In view of the present conditions it is not likely that the ships will remain out much longer, and news of their bearing up for home will probably be forthcoming in a few days. Judging by the messages received from the Viking, in the Gulf, it looks as though that ship is now forcing her way south, and news of her home-coming can also be expected. According to last report the Viking is jammed 40 miles N.W. of Cape Ray, wind blowing a gale from N.W. with snowstorms at intervals. The messages received over the week-end are as follows:—

JOB BROS. & CO.
 NEPTUNE—Position 20 miles N.E. of Funks; estimate number on board 19,000.
 "THETIS"—Saw nothing to-day; weather very thick; heavy swell; ice loose.

BAINE JOHNSTONE & CO.
 SEAL—Weather bad; dense fog; we have on board 1,500 old harps.
BOWRING BROS.
 EAGLE—Position 60 miles E. by E. of Horse Islands; total on board 14,000; ice bad; weather thick.
 TERRA NOVA—Thick weather retarding work; ice bad; expect to finish picking up pans soon; all well.
 VIKING—In loose ice 40 miles N.W. of Cape Ray; thick fog; all well.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAY.
 SAGONA—Nothing new to report; dense fog.
 PROSPERO—Dense fog; on board 4,400.

SUNDAY.
JOB BROS. & CO.
 NEPTUNE (6:30 p.m.)—South of Seldom on way home; if weather is clear will probably call at Pool's Island to land one or two sick men; others all well.
BAINE JOHNSTONE & CO.
 SEAL—Weather bad, dense fog and rain; wind veering N.W.; ice slack; heavy swell; position 20 miles east of Fogo.

BOWRING BROS.
 TERRA NOVA—All Friday's seals picked up; total 12,000.
 VIKING—Blowing a gale from N.W., snowing hard at intervals; too thick to see far.
GOVERNMENT RAILWAY.
 SAGONA—Storm from N. N. W.; nothing new to report.
 PROSPERO—35 miles N. of Funks; N.W. storm with snow.
POSTAL TELEGRAPHS.
 All ships report crews on board and well.
 VIKING (1 a.m.)—Position 40 miles N.W. Cape Ray; tight; ship jammed; blowing a gale from N.W.; snowing hard at intervals; all well.

West Coast Fishery Report

According to a report of Sub-Collector W. J. Bragg, the codfishery from Channel to Port aux Basques shows no improvement. Fishermen cannot find any fish on the usual fishing grounds. They have however done fairly well with halibut and 41,000 lbs. were landed for the week ending March 28th. There are 32 dorles and skiff and five boats engaged in the codfishery in the above section. The schooners Retawawa and Stanley Henshaw have arrived hauling for 4,500 and 2,000 lbs. halibut respectively.

Improved Identification System

The Marine and Fisheries Department has decided to abolish the uncertain paper stamp method of identification heretofore used on lobster and salmon tins and substitute a system of stamping the covers of the tins by means of dies. Each packer when he obtains a license will be given a number die with which he must stamp his containers. The system will not be in general use this season as the dies have to be specially made and they cannot be obtained in time for the opening of the packing season.

Contract for Building Hotel Entered into

It is understood that a contract has been entered into for the building of an hotel, on the lines indicated in the Telegram of Wednesday last, subject to the approval of the Legislature. The contractors, Messrs. Frank Aherne and Theodore Rousseau, who were here last week in consultation with the Government, left for Canada by yesterday's express to complete arrangements for beginning the work. As previously stated, the site of the hotel will be Fort William. The walls now standing on the site will be demolished and the ground cleared and extended so that it will be possible to have a bowling green and tennis court. In this connection a small piece of property on the S.E. corner, on which now stand several small houses, will have to be acquired. In the plans of the hotel a point is to be made of arranging the rooms so that they can be turned into suites for small families for the winter months. There will be rooms for balls and small dances and in addition it is proposed to cater to skaters and curlers and parties requiring lunches or dinners, so that the prospects of winter patronage will be as good as for summer. Wines and beers will be sold at meals in conformity with the new Liquor Act. There will be no bar. It is proposed to begin work June 1st and have the construction completed and ready for occupancy by May, 1926. All labor procurable here will be used in the building operations.

IN THE REALMS of SPORT

SCOTLAND WINS FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

GLASGOW, April 5.—Scotland added a second championship in football to her honors, Saturday afternoon when, before over 100,000 fans, her International eleven defeated England at Hampden Park here, 2 to 0.

THE PASSING OF A FAMOUS TROTTERING MARE.

The death of the former champion juvenile trotting mare, Native Belle (3), 2:06 1-2, occurred recently at the farm of her owner, W. Harry Orr, of Reading, Pa. Native Belle flashed into the public eye as a two year old in the summer of 1909, when she astonished the trotting world with her championship tendencies, which ripened into the reality when at Lexington, Ky., in October. She went to a record of 2:07 3-4, lowering the former 2:10 3-4 record, held by Arion, 2:07 4-4, for eighteen years. The following year, driven by Thomas W. Murphy, she reduced this record to 2:06 1-2. As a blood mare she has established more than a fair name going to the turf such speed as Neva Brooke, 2:15 1-4; Native Judge (3) 2:12 1-2; Justice Belle (4) 2:12 1-4; Alice Root (4) 2:12 1-4; Native Brooke 2:16 1-4 Belle Brooke (3) 2:17 and Alele Ortolan (2) 2:24. Native Belle was a daughter of the hurry sire Moko, and a half-sister to the well known (local) trotting stallion, Howard Mann, 2:17.

MURCHISON AND PADDOCK READY TO TOUR WORLD.

Charley Paddock and I have set out to sprint around the world, writes Loren Murchison in the New York Post.

All our plans have been completed and the first leg of our tour lies before us. San Francisco to the Hawaiian Islands will compose the first jump. Something about this trip, its purpose, the countries to be visited, the athletes to be encountered and the conditions which will be faced, I am going to attempt to describe to you.

The idea originated in Sweden last summer. A number of invitations had come to Charley Paddock and me to compete in different countries. The idea behind these invitations universally seemed to be that if we met we would have a wonderful opportunity to form a bond of closer understanding and that we would be able to help each other.

ers in the world. And for that dream finally has come the reality.

Interest in these various countries in track and field athletics varies a great deal. But we have found this, that all people have our instinctive love for running. Indeed, it is one of the oldest forms of athletic endeavor. All people understand it and all people indulge in it. A foot race is something they know about, and each section of every nation boasts its "fastest man."

From this interest which already exists, we hope to create a more definite interest in the Olympic Games. It is well that competition becomes stronger. For from this spirit of sport will undoubtedly spring a closer understanding between the peoples of the world. For it does seem possible that sport may accomplish what peace conferences and treaties have failed to do; namely, to establish such a bond of fellowship that war will have no place in the minds of nations.

The Amateur Athletic Union of the United States has sanctioned this trip. The amateur bodies of other countries have wholeheartedly entered into the spirit of "sprinting around the world." Such a tour was never carried out before. But we have high hopes of seeing it fulfilled this time.

Men have circled the world in ships; they have carried certain ideals to every people; and a few Americans have actually flown around the world. But this is the first time that men have attempted running around the world.

We would like to make it perfectly plain to those who perhaps do not follow track news closely that we are going at amateur athletes—that is; we do not receive money for running. It is recreation and pleasure, as some men have their golf and polo and as those devotees of their own pastimes want to spread its influence from section to section, in like manner we hope to interest others.

Next time I want to tell you something of the countries we expect to visit and those sprinters whom we will meet there.

MARKET LETTER.

(From Our Boston Correspondent.)
An analysis of all of the factors bearing on security prices—things that should make for a greater demand or a greater supply of stocks at a given time—is a very difficult undertaking. A person may be extremely well founded in knowledge as to business conditions and stock market precedent and yet fail in the attempt to estimate the relative importance of various developments as a stimulant to the purchase or sale of stocks. Those who have demonstrated a great ability in anticipating movements by analyzing the major influences are at times totally wrong in their prognostications.

In recognition of the above, attempts have been made to reduce the problem of determining the major swings of the stock market to a more mechanical basis. It has been found that certain events or series of events have, in the past, preceded a change in the trend of stock prices. Has the mystery of the stock market, then, been solved? By paying close attention to the activity of blast furnaces or to changes in mechanical production, or to the activity of forecasting bureaus which base their predictions on the appearance of certain phenomena, can a person buy stocks at approximately the bottom and sell at approximately the top of major movements? We are most firmly convinced that the answer is in the negative. We know of no forecasting bureau whose advice over a period of time have been correct except in a most indefinite way. We do not believe that any of the various discoveries which have been made in recent years, seemingly offering a solution to the problem of which way stock prices are going to move, will prove to be of more than nominal value. We do not believe that a certain series of events which has heretofore signalled that a change in the trend of stock prices is to occur will necessarily do so again. Precedent may be said to be the basis of all predictions as to the future. But precedent is of no value unless used with a thorough understanding of present conditions. We believe that people who desire to speculate must still depend upon analysis of a great many different factors in arriving at an intelligent conception of probable stock market tendencies. We believe that no one can be right all of the time and that successful speculation still consists of being right more often than wrong. We believe that it is still true that the person who makes commitments in the stock market with the intention of making a fortune will almost always lose money and that the person who commits himself with the intention of making profits will some time make a fortune.

Some things have occurred which in the past have preceded a change in the trend of the stock market and resulted in a great deal of hardship. But other things which usually precede a liquidation of stocks have not occurred. There are many factors which are extremely favorable. Since 1918 and 1920 many impediments to prosperity have disappeared. The United States has become the world's greatest creditor nation. As a result of enlargement of per capita output by mechanical power, superior transportation facilities and an enormous supply of raw materials this country is the lowest cost producing market in the world. European industry is on the road to recovery which will promote international trade. Our banking position is probably stronger than ever before when business has been so active. The political situation is sounder than for a great many years. The recovery of railroads and public utilities from the depression which followed the war is of great significance. The collateral value of the shares of such companies is a very important factor in the stock market. The real value of the most representative stocks has increased during the last few years in asset value and earning power. Security markets are supported by a volume of wealth and a wider distribution of ownership than ever before. These are reasons for a continued demand for stocks at high prices. Are there stronger factors which point to widespread liquidation? The stock market frequently smokes on movements which have little or no relation to fundamental conditions. Sometimes these movements are of quite large proportions, aided by the closing out of weak accounts. We would call attention to the fact that the current decline has been of large proportions. Many people, a few weeks ago, hoped for just such a development in order to acquire stocks at more favorable prices.

LECTURE ON LABRADOR—Yesterday forenoon, at Holy Cross School, the members of St. Patrick's Institute had the pleasure of hearing Sir Patrick McGrath on "The Labrador Boundary Question." At the conclusion the speaker was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his very interesting address.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

HERRIOT'S WARNING.
 FONTAINE BLU, France, April 6.—Premier Herriot spoke to-night at a luncheon at which two thousand covers were laid and declared he was ready to make every sacrifice for his country. He gave warning to his adversaries that a battle was on, and that the forces which were victorious at the elections on March 11 last would never capitulate before those then vanquished. He declared he had no intention to bow before any privileged class or before the demands of the most overbearing luxury known since the Directorate.

THE CHARM OF THE SMILING PRINCE.

BATHURST, Cambo West Africa, April 6.—The battle cruiser Repulse with the Prince of Wales on board left here for Sierra Leone at 8.30 o'clock Saturday night. The Prince finished the day at Bathurst yesterday with a garden party and a triumphal tour through the streets of the town. He went on foot for the last hundred yards on the way to the docks, passing through immense throngs of cheering natives.

COUNTERFEITERS PLEAD GUILTY.

MONTREAL, April 6.
 The five Beaudoin brothers who with two others were arrested early last Wednesday when the Royal Canadian Mounted Police swooped down on the forgers in a farm house at L'Assomption, Quebec, pleaded guilty Saturday morning to the charge of having counterfeited bank notes in their possession and of having and using instruments for the manufacture of fake bills. They will be sentenced to-morrow.

MIAMI STORM.

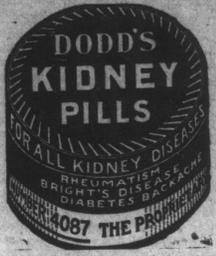

MIAMI, April 6.
 Bodies of three victims of the wind and hail storm near here this afternoon, and twenty-four injured are in hospitals. The storm formed near Hialeah six miles west of here and struck with greatest force at White Belt Dairy wrecking homes and buildings and doing damage estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000.

EXPLORATION OF THE UNKNOWN NORTH.

WASHINGTON, April 6.
 The vast unknown region of the Arctic will be explored this summer with naval aircraft by navy pilots, but not as a Government project. An attempt at observing the uncharted area of more than one million square miles lying between Alaska and the North Pole, where a continent may exist will be made in connection with the expedition headed by Donald B. MacMillan, the explorer, who will return for the ninth time to his favourite haunts of ice and snow on a ship leaving Wiscasset, Maine, about June 15th.

DOUKHOBORS DEFT B. C. LAWS.

NELSON, B.C., April 6.
 Twenty-five hundred Doukhobors in a mass meeting assembled at Brilliant yesterday afternoon declared to Inspector Dunwood of the Provincial police and School Inspector Sheffield to-day that they would not send their children to school. The refusal was definite and categorical. They would not obey the school laws of British Columbia, the Doukhobors said, because these laws were contrary to the Doukhobors' interpretation of the laws of God. They declared educated people were responsible for the death of Peter Veregin. The question was put to the mass, "Will you obey the school laws?" and from the crowd came a chorus in Russian, "No!" The loudest response being from women who frequently during the meeting showed even more clearly that they men a determination not to send their children to school.

ELECTIONS IN BELGIUM.

BRUSSELS, April 6.
 Premier Theunis handed to the King yesterday the resignation of the Cabinet. The King asked the Premier to continue in his present post unless a new cabinet is formed. The parliamentary elections were held yesterday throughout Belgium, but as the campaign has been dull and no great question is at issue, not much interest was manifested in the balloting. Returns up to midnight indicated that the serialists were making most of the gains. They appeared to have won ten seats while the Liberals lost six or seven seats. Catholics and Communists who put up candidates in fourteen towns seem to have no chance to elect a single one of them.

GOVT. CANDIDATES FARE BADLY.

BELFAST, April 6.
 The defeat of six and possibly seven Government candidates in Friday's balloting for seats in the Ulster Parliament is still the sole subject of discussion. In no division of Belfast did an official nominee top the list, and only two had reached a quota on the first count, whereas in 1921 their return was like a triumphant procession. The defeat is accentuated because the chief issue was the Boundary Question. It is attributed in many quarters to the unimpressive character of the candidates, bad electioneering, and charges made by Government candidates' opponents.

CHINESE MISSIONARIES IN DANGER.

PEKING, April 6.
 The headquarters of the China Inland Mission at Shanghai, has telegraphed to Peking stating that Honan Government troops are attacking Shenku, where the China Inland Missionary Tomkinson and his wife are stationed. A later message states that the assistant superintendent from reached Shenku and danger there had become intensified. The British delegation has made representations to the Chinese foreign office in the matter, and the foreign office has wired the military Governor of Honan urging him to take all possible steps for the protection of Mr. and Mrs. Tomkinson and other foreign lives and property in the district.

WEST AUSTRALIA REGISTERS HEAVY VOTE AGAINST PROHIBITION.

PERTH, Australia, April 6.
 West Australia has decided against prohibition in yesterday's polling on the question. 35,806 votes were cast for prohibition, while 64,377 votes were against it.

Proceedings at the Legislative Council

HON. CAPT. DAVE did not consider that the Bill would benefit the fishermen, although it had been stated that such was its purpose. The bounty provided by the Bill would be payable to the owner of the vessel to be repaired, and would only benefit one class of fishermen, those who had been experienced in the business of repairing vessels. There was no lack of vessels for in Bay Roberts, the past year or five years, vessels had been repaired on shore, not because they were unseaworthy, but because there were no men to go in them. About twenty years ago there were fifty vessels sailing from Bay Roberts and there were only five. There was probably the same difficulty with regard to men this year. He considered that if the shoreman could provide part of the bounty allotted to the owner, it would be an inducement to men to continue to prosecute the repairs. He thought, too, the Bill sectional to some extent, as in many instances, such as along the Southern coast and in Conception Bay, practically right around down to Baccara, there were no vessels to be repaired, so that the fishermen, in these instances, would not be benefited.

He considered $20 per ton a rather small amount to pay for the repairs of a vessel. The repairs of one vessel might cost only half the amount of another, and in his opinion, the provision was not entirely fair. He had repaired a 69 ton vessel at a cost of $500 and under this bounty he would receive $138. In recent years the price allowed for the building of new vessels was $15 per ton and all gear, etc., was included in the new. Within the last ten years the amount for building vessels was $40. In former years vessels were built in Prince Edward and brought here and sold for $15 per ton. The amount of $20 per ton for repairs, when new gear was required, seemed very liberal. The greater need, if we wished to help the fishermen, was to encourage them to participate in them. One way which this would be done was, he felt, to let the shoremen benefit as well as the owners. These men could be done without, and yet they would not in any way benefit of a vessel engaged in the cod fishery was $1500.00 a year if work could be obtained at the Humber or at Grand Falls he might make $500 or $600, so he could not be expected to remain in the fishery. These conditions might apply to the North side of Bonaville Bay, but they did apply to Conception Bay. In Carbonear there are six or seven vessels engaged in the industry. If in some way the shoremen could benefit by this bounty, as well as the owners, it would be a great encouragement to them and the fisheries would directly benefit.

HON. CAPT. DAVE thought that with regard to Schedule B there might be some disappointment to builders of vessels, if seasoned timber had not been used, for if the law were carried out they might not get the bounty expected. He made these few remarks because he felt there should be some encouragement for the actual fishermen, who, while there are other avenues of employment where they can earn five or six hundred dollars, are not likely to go to the fishery on the chance of getting $150.

HON. MR. MORINE said regarding the suggestion that this Bill would be sectional as this is the case with practically every Bill. All Bills operate that way. This Bill was not sectional, it applied to every vessel that went fishing. By the suggestion regarding it being sectional could be rejected; also that it is a class Bill in itself helping the owner and not the fishermen. How could the fishermen get to the Baccara or Labrador unless the owners provide vessels? While the cost of living has advanced for the fishermen, the costs to the owners for equipment have increased more so. It was helping the industry when you got vessels to carry men to the fishery, but he considered it would be a disaster if there were a great increase in the number of those fishing as a largely increased catch would affect the price. If there are other means of employment the fishery is helped, for if a fisherman can't go to the fishery he can get work at other industries. In the old days a fisherman lived out of the fishery alone, now he spends a few months at that and the balance of the year at other industries. If a man finds he is not making as much from the fishery as from some other avocation he will abandon it and take up other work. Even if a man doesn't get big money at the fishery he is "found" and likes the work. These things should be taken into consideration. Why should the fishery be looked upon as a sacro-sanct and people made carry it on. If the people get employment it is the same to the country. The bounties given to fishermen are paid by the fishermen themselves, by increased taxation. Again if you give the people a bounty of a dollar you must increase the taxes by a dollar and in the course of all this no difference if she was picked up as a derelict, or bought somewhere else. The question is not where the vessel comes from or what she was, but is she worth the bounty in the interests of the main industry of the country? Is she owned and registered and engaged in the fishery, and is she worth rebuilding. He agreed the bounty was large, but had been told if smaller it would do no good. It is to be given for substantial repairs and not temporary ones. He had suggested giving a percentage on the repairs but the objection to this was that the cost of repairs couldn't be exactly found. One man might use more material than the other and another might employ his relatives and then cause so much difficulty that he gave a stated sum was preferable. He was prepared to submit these suggestions for reconsideration before the Bill goes through.

HON. MR. TEMPLEMAN said that the contention that the shoreman would not benefit by the bounty was not correct. The builders couldn't build with one or two men, they would have to employ others. He had a letter from his brother who said that the outlook for vessels was not good. His former had 40 vessels and now owned 15, which ranged 6, 8 and 10 years, and he wished he had known the Bill was going to be introduced last Fall. A couple of his vessels were now being repaired at Catalina but he doubted if he would get the bounty. Speaking of the Labrador fishery he knew of fishermen last year who made as much as $600 to $650. The idea that shipping could be built for $400.00 a ton was erroneous. The wages when shipping could be constructed were 70 to 80 cents a day, now it was not less than $2.50 to $3.00 a day. He had paid as high as $260.00 a ton, but prices were somewhat lower in Nova Scotia at the present time. The idea that a schooner built in Nova Scotia and owned here did not qualify for the bounty did not strike him as equitable. Any time a bounty was given the Government received some return in the duty on the materials used. He did not consider it wise to get too large a voyage of cod these times, as it meant a low price and it was just as well to throw it away. Some of our fish which was landed in Italy last December, has been taken to Portugal, being unsealable in the former country. They are too many fishing at the present time. The people of Newfoundland could not all profitably engage at fishing, and the more industries that spring up the better for the fishermen. At the present time he wanted to see new vessels, but he would sooner not have repairs was perhaps to-day only worth $700, and who under the bounty would be able to save the latter amount. When the Bill was recommitted he hoped to see provision for a bounty of one-third of the total cost of repairs. The Committee rose and reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

Second reading of the Bill to amend the Terra Nova Sulphite Company Act, 1920.

HON. MR. MORINE in moving the second reading explained the previous Bill in the main, The Terra Nova Sulphite Company, established in 1920, undertook to build a mill at Alexander Bay, but the Company which was largely capitalized by Norwegian money got into difficulties owing to the depreciation in the value of the Norwegian money, and the property was sold to the A.N.D. Company. The manufacture of sulphite Pulp is not profitable at the present time, and the Grand Falls people had undertaken to extend their mills at Grand Falls to manufacture the wood cut there into paper. The wood will be cut along the Terra Nova and Gander Rivers, barked and loaded on cars for Grand Falls, the result being much more labor than if the purpose sulphite mill at Alexander Bay was in operation.

The Bill was read a second time and ordered to be committed on tomorrow.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Morine, Bill "Sbrey of Foreign-going and Labrador Vessels" was read a second time, the Hon. Leader of the Government explaining the Bill was intended to give authority to our local Inspectors and Surveyors to inspect the sealing vessels, which at present were not obliged to undergo government inspection.

The House adjourned at 5.45 until 4 p.m. on Monday next.

Our Own WHY OH WHY?

Not a Cross Word Puzzle, neither is it an April Fool Question.

What we want to know is—Why do some of the Housekeepers in St. John's buy high priced imported cake when they can get a very good Raisin or Ginger Cake, weighing ½ lb. each for the small sum-of 5c.

Practically all the grocery stores in St. John's are supplied daily by us with these cakes. We would suggest that you give them a trial and be convinced of their most excellent quality.

The Old Colony Club

The weekly programme of the Old Colony Club came to a close Saturday afternoon last with a musicale, which was so much enjoyed that no doubt this departure from the usual routine will become a feature of the programmes of the future.

Songs were given by Mrs. Brown, Miss Oliver, Miss G. R. Milley and Miss M. Johnson, while Mrs. Alex. Meva, Miss Whately, Miss Tobin and Miss M. K. McNeil contributed piano and violin solos.

These performers are so well known to the music loving public of St. John's, that it is unnecessary to say that they all received warm applause, and the generous response to enclose won the grateful appreciation of all present.

Tea was kindly provided by Lady Crosbie and Mrs. Milley, after which a spirited rendering of the "Banks of Newfoundland" on the piano, by Miss Morris, brought a delightful afternoon to a merry ending.

Infant Abandoned

St. John's has always possessed a high reputation for hospitality and citizens who pride themselves upon their generosity and courtesy will be amazed to learn that an infant has been abandoned in the heart of the city and even now may be perishing for lack of care. Before you send for the police, hear Miss Anderson sing "I Want to be Somebody's Baby," at the "Mixed Grill," and bring along a baby carriage if you care to wheel her home.

Nonia

This splendid organization which was created, and has been developed, through the active interest of Lady Allardyce, is not only continuing its good work but is increasing its activities. At the present time there are twenty knitting stations along the coast, and the women are producing most remarkable goods, for which there is a steadily growing demand. It is understood that a substantial order has been received from an American firm; and recently a committee has been formed in London for the purpose of developing a market in the Old Country. On Saturday Lady Allardyce received a cablegram from the High Commissioner, Mr. Victor Gordon, stating that the Committee had held its first meeting, which had proved very successful. The Wembley Exhibition is to be used again for displaying the goods, and there is no doubt that satisfactory results will follow. Lady Allardyce has now in hand an excellent collection of knitted articles to forward to the Exhibition, and on Saturday evening these were displayed for the benefit of the members of the Legislature, who attended the official dinner at Government House, and who were able to judge for themselves the remarkable work which the women of the country are enabled to do, thanks to the practical efforts of the Newfoundland Outport Nurses Industrial Association, and for which they receive remunerative returns. Nonia has been a blessing to them in many ways than one, and the good services of Lady Allardyce will never be forgotten.

NOTE:—The Nickel will be closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, to be thoroughly renovated, and will re-open on Saturday with a big Special Matinee.

Wesley Barry is Star of
"The Printer's Devil"

ORIGINAL STORY SPECIALLY
WRITTEN AROUND BELOVED SCREEN YOUNGSTER.

Wesley Barry, one of the most versatile young stars of the screen, is here again in film form to delight and amuse us with his unusual humor and youthful antics in "The Printer's Devil," a Warner Brothers' classic of the screen, and the Nickel Theatre announces that this feature will be shown to-night.

It is an original story written by Julien Josephson especially for Wesley Barry, and tells of the trials and tribulations experienced by the publisher, who is also the editor, proof reader, typesetter and what-not of a typical small-town newspaper.

Sidney Fletcher, robbed on the outskirts of Briggsville, is forced to stay in town for a day, and upon meeting Vivian Gates, the pretty daughter of the town banker, he decides to stay. To aid him in the suit for Vivian's hand, he buys the local newspaper, the Gazette, and writes a scathing editorial against the light and power company. As Banker Gates is president of the company, this puts Sidney back a bit in his quest, and it seems as if Alec Sperry, his rival, will win the girl.

One night the bank is robbed and the next morning circumstances fasten suspicion on Sidney and he is arrested and put into jail, while Sperry looks on, not at all sorry. But Brick, who has a strong liking for both Sidney and Vivian, has come out to prove Sidney innocent, and by a succession of many interesting and humorous scenes, brings the real culprits to justice and reunites his friends.

Supporting Wesley Barry in the cast are Harry Myers, Katherine McGuire, Louis King, George Pearce, Roy Cannon, Mary Halter and Harry Rottenberg.

Was It a Bird?

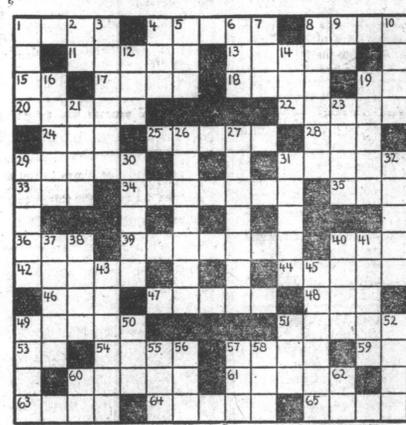

Every year some citizen or another sees or hears a robin and writes to the papers about "The First Sign of Spring." The only reliable sign of spring in this country is the running of the horse races on Quidi Vidi, which always marks the break-up of the ice. However, what we started out to say was that a lark was heard singing on Rennie's Mill Road yesterday, but on investigation it was found to be Miss Eleanor Meva practicing for "The Mixed Grill." She has a bird of a voice, and that is how the mistake came to be made. Majestic Theatre, April 16th, 17th, and 18th.—Tickets at Hutton's.

Will Command
New Furness Liner

After the arrival in Liverpool this trip of the Furness liner Digby, it is probable that Captain Chambers will relinquish command of the ship and take over the new steamer, Newfoundland, which is now nearing completion. Capt. Furneaux, who was formerly in charge of the Sachem, but now in the S.S. London Exchange, which is on her way from London to New York and Newport News, will take over command of the Digby, and Captain J. Westgarth, D.S.C., who is now in the Sachem, will retain that post. The Newfoundland leaves Liverpool on her first trip to this port, Halifax and Boston, about the first or second week in June, and already a large number of passengers are booked for the maiden voyage.

Linking Florida and Newfoundland
IN NEW MOVIE PICTURE.

A project is now on foot to link Newfoundland with Florida in a big motion picture, according to communications received recently by Ron A. Young, who represents Ernest Shipman, the noted Motion Picture Producer.

The foundation of this scheme is the opening of Sun City, Florida, the new home of the Motion Picture Industry and operations have already commenced on the first photoplay which is a Florida-Newfoundland romance written by a popular Canadian author. The first scenes which have Tampa, Fla., for its locale, are now being "shot." In the course of a month or so the Company will arrive in St. John's and have enacted a number of scenes which will show up Newfoundland's rugged beauty to the world and thus greatly help along the tourist movement which is now in mind.

The personnel of the firm interesting itself in a motion picture consists of David M. Hartford, picture producer and President of the Motion Picture Directors Association of America; Dr. Frank Vrooman of Harvard, author of "Theodore Roosevelt" and other classic of literature; Claude H. MacGowan of New York, former financier and auditor for Universal Film Co., has full charge of the technical end; David B. Kerr formerly connected with Goldwyn Pictures Corp., will officiate in the Production Department. Supervisor of arts, designs and decorative advertising will be Asa Cassidy, formerly President of The Miner Lithograph Co.

Ernest Shipman, who has produced pictures in many countries, and is remembered by his screen successes of James O. Curwood and Ralph Connor Productions, will act as President and manager of Sun City Studios. It is hoped that those interested in encouraging the tourist traffic will cooperate in this venture, which doubtless will be a great advertising medium for Newfoundland.

Senior Trade Commissioner on Nfld.

Remarks during Toast to Newfoundland proposed at the annual dinner of the Newfoundland Club of McGill University, by F. W. Field, H.M. Senior Trade Commissioner in Canada and Newfoundland, at the Edinburgh Cafe, Montreal, March 26, 1925.

I consider it an honour and a compliment to have been asked to propose this evening the toast to Newfoundland. There are still people who believe that Australia and New Zealand are connected by a bridge, that Niagara Falls are entirely in the United States and that Newfoundland is a part of Canada. Organizations such as the Newfoundland Club of McGill University and of the Newfoundland Society of Montreal do much, I feel sure, to remove such misconceptions and to assist in broadening the Empire's knowledge of the history of and the part played by the Dominion of Newfoundland in the life of the British Empire.

My somewhat lengthy official title includes the names of two Dominions, Canada and Newfoundland, and I am equally proud of the association with both. My knowledge of Canada is of a much more intimate character than my acquaintance with Newfoundland. I hesitate, therefore, as one who is still learning, to say much about the Dominion of Newfoundland this evening because you are, I take it, natives of Newfoundland or at least have equally close ties with that country.

I may perhaps first tell you, however, of a semi-secret. My Department in London, which as you know, is the British Government Department of Overseas Trade, have not only suggested the desirability of my paying an official visit to Newfoundland in the near future as their Senior Trade Commissioner in Canada and Newfoundland, but they have pressed the matter to the extent of asking me to name the earliest possible date on which I can set sail for your Dominion. So within possibly three months I hope to be in Newfoundland on a modest Empire trade expansion mission, a visit to which I am looking forward with the greatest pleasure.

There are several facts about Newfoundland and some phases of its development which to me are rather interesting. I like to know, for example, of its home life, its absence of extravagance and its belief in hard work. These are three of the important factors that made the United Kingdom a great nation. I believe in our current talk of the factors which will help the return of prosperity to the Empire and to other nations, we must not overlook home life, economy and hard work.

Newfoundland does not indulge in cigars to any extent but it smokes a pipe, and I like to think of Newfoundland as a staid and solid old pipe smoker, contented, home loving, economical and believing that bread comes only to the worker. The results of those conditions as a basis for development must be good. Capital has been and will be attracted to such a country and large pulp and paper mill enterprises are in hand.

As to the present conditions, the fishing industry in many branches is making money. One of the best seasons was experienced last year. The lumber trade has little cause to complain. The pulp and paper industry is active. When we consider the prevailing conditions in the countries which on the map we colour red, I am inclined to believe that Newfoundland to-day can claim to be one of the best business spots in the British Empire.

Fishing, the oldest industry of the island, still seems to regulate the life and business of the country. You will recall that on John Cabot's famous voyage when in 1497 he took possession of the country in the name of King Henry VII, the codfish of Newfoundland was then making history. Cabot reported, 423 years ago, that his sailors caught cod merely by lowering baskets into the water. His son, Sebastian, in the following year, described them as being so plentiful "that they sometimes stayed" his ships. The codfish at least seems to have settled the question of race suicide because they appear to be just as plentiful to-day. Last year nearly a million and a quarter quintals of cod were caught and much of it was exported by Newfoundland to Portugal, Spain, Italy, Greece, Brazil and the West Indies.

It was the nimble codfish, too, who really preserved Newfoundland as a separate Dominion. You will remember when in 1895, the Island had had a succession of bad sea harvests, with their attendant train of bank failures and business depression, a deputation went to Ottawa to ask for union with Canada. The argument as you know then revolved on the debt which Canada should take over. I am not concerned with the comment of historians and others as to this incident. I do, however, believe that whatever the codfish did or did not do in 1895, we have in Newfoundland and Canada two sister Dominions which are great bulwarks of the British Empire, satisfied with their partnership in the Empire, and resolved to continue their part in developing its unity and commerce.

When we examine the trade statistics of the past year, it is found that the United Kingdom and Newfoundland are buying and selling one from the other annually about $7,000,000 worth of goods. Canada is selling to Newfoundland over $11,000,000 worth and buys about $2,000,000. From foreign countries, Newfoundland buys over $9,000,000 worth of goods. I feel perfectly safe in asserting that business men in Newfoundland regret that they are forced to buy so much from foreign countries. It should be the task of Canadian, United Kingdom and other Empire manufacturers and exporters to assist in favourably changing these figures. They or their salesmen should visit Newfoundland to sell their goods. They should acquire first hand information of the market. Personal contact in trade is of great value in these days.

During such trips to Newfoundland, pleasure may be combined with business. Newfoundland offers excellent sport. It has wonderful scenery. As to climate, we complain of it wherever we live, but Newfoundland has a climate for which it need not apologize. I believe that one day, when the world is told of the tourist attractions of Newfoundland in the modern way of the advertising man, the world will, as it should do, include Newfoundland in its holiday programme.

May I conclude by expressing my belief that Newfoundland is on the eve of an important era of development and prosperity which will awaken in other nations a new interest and one of mutual benefit in the oldest overseas part of the Empire.

I ask you to fill your glasses and drink with me to the Dominion of Newfoundland, its historic past, its undoubted future and its permanent prosperity.

Just Folks.

By EDGAR GUEST.

THE PACKAGE OF SEEDS.

I paid a dime for a package of seeds and the clerk tossed them out with a flip. "We've got 'em assorted for every man's needs," he said with a smile on his lip. "Pansies and poppies and asters and peas!" Ten cents a package! And pick as you please!

Now seeds are just dimes to the man in the street. And the dimes are the things that he needs; And I've been to buy them in seasons before. But have thought of them merely as seeds; But it flashed through my mind as I took them to the store. "You have purchased a miracle here for a dime!"

"You've a dime's worth of power that no man can create, You've a dime's worth of life in your hand! You've a dime's worth of mystery, destiny, fate, Which the wisest cannot understand. In this bright little package, now isn't it odd? You've a dime's worth of something known only to God!"

These are seeds, but the plants and the blossoms are here. With their petals of various hues; In these little pellets, so dry and so queer, There is power which no chemist can fuse. Here is one of God's miracles soon to unfold; Thus for ten cents an ounce is divinity sold!

A Foreign Municipal Bond we recommended to our clients fifteen months ago, and which went begging at $40.00 is now valued at $14,750.00

Splendid opportunities exist to-day for the far-sighted investor in selected foreign government and municipal bonds, the merits of which have been exhaustively studied by ourselves.

Protecting Your Rheostats

EDITED BY JOHN M. CLAYTON.

A number of radio frequency amplifier sets have their filament circuits wired as shown in our diagram above. The ground connection is attached to the negative end of the "A" battery, after passing through the rheostat. The minus of the B battery is connected to the plus of the A battery. If through accident a ground is placed on the minus end of the B battery there will be a short circuit as indicated by the dotted lines in the diagram. This short will occur from the plus of the A through the accidental ground up to the ground post of the receiver, then through the rheostat and back to the minus of the A battery. This means that the rheostat is connected directly across the A battery terminals. The result is that the rheostat will be burned up.

To be safe it would be best to connect a large condenser (1 to 2 Mfd.) in series with the Ground binding post on the receiver and the ground. This condenser has such a high capacity that it offers no resistance to the radio currents flowing to the ground, but it does prevent the direct current from the battery flowing through the short circuit which would result if it were not in the circuit.

TO YOUNG MEN!

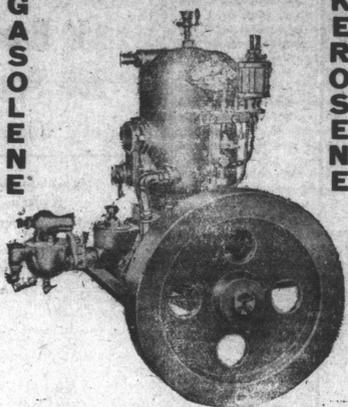

This is specially addressed to the young men who are following the trend of style especially as regards trousers. If you want the bell bottom trousers, with or without cuff, here is the place to get them; we are making and have made recently some splendid examples of this style. This also applies to the straight hanging English trousers hanging free from the hips to the cuff; with plenty of room at knees and bottom.

Papers Worth Filing are Worth SAFE-FILE

You cannot go to your files and say with certainty "This record is going to be valuable," or "That record is going to be worth a lot of money." Yet, you keep those papers—all of them.

And the days after the fire are the days when you will need them most.

The SAFE-FILE is not "just a file." It is a new product—distinctive and different from anything now made. As its name implies, it is both file and safe—a file in its convenience and economy—a safe in supplying much needed protection.

While new as a product, its principles of construction are those of the SAFE-CABINET, proven by fires and research of many years.

There is no record worth keeping which you cannot now protect, properly, efficiently, and economically.

The price of the SAFE-FILE is surprisingly low—very little more than you are now paying for ordinary files.

Get more SAFE-FILE information today. Write to THE SAFE CABINET COMPANY, Marietta, Ohio or phone

Why, of Course

If you want GOOD Clothes go to a GOOD Tailor. There is where you get good material, good fit and clothes that look as if they were made for YOU, and not for the other fellow.

The Ready-to-Wear! Yes, of course. They were made for the one who buys them, very seldom for the one who fits them.

But be careful and go to a good tailor. It's cheaper and better.

SPURRELL'S are good, reliable tailors, and you make no mistake in going there.
