MISSING MONEY LOCATED IN TORONTO

Harry J. Matthews Arrested With Twenty-Five Hundred Dollars Stolen From New Westminster Bank in His Grip—Refused to Say How or Where He Got It.

Harry J. Matthews, aged about 44, who claims New York as his home town, and declares he is in town negotiating for a moving picture site, was arrested by Detectives Guthrie, Newton and Montgomery at a downtown hotel, early Saturday morning, with over $2500 of the $275,000 stolen in the celebrated New Westminster Bank robbery in the early part of 1911, in his possession.

The police believe that Matthews can throw a lot of light on the famous robbery, if he can only be made to talk; but first efforts in this line Saturday morning proved a decided failure. For three hours Inspector Kennedy and Sergeant Mackie tried to find out from Matthews where he got the stolen bills, but Matthews at all times maintained silence, smiling at times at some questions put by the officers.

The police were first notified of the passing of the stolen money by the clerk of the hotel, who had taken down the numbers and compared them with the list kept in all the large hotels. The three detectives arrived just as Matthews was dressing and placed him under arrest. The money was found in a small club bag, done up in packages of $500. There were five packages, each containing 100 five dollar bills and 13 loose five dollar bills, making a total of $2500. Every bill was identified as one of those stolen from the Bank of Montreal. Matthews was lodged in No. 1 station and will be charged in today's police court with receiving stolen money.

Matthews is the second man caught in Toronto passing some of the stolen money. Over a year ago a man named Davis was arrested at the Palmer House in company with a woman, who were found to have over $6000 of the bills in their possession. Davis was sent to New Westminster to stand trial for taking part in the robbery, was acquitted and brought back to Toronto and sentenced to six months in the penitentiary on a conviction for bringing stolen money into Canada.

NEW GAS FLOW AT OIL SPRINGS

Gusher of Quarter Million Feet Struck on Donley Farm and Capped.

Canadian Press Despatch. PETROLIA, Ont., June 7.—Another gas flow has struck at the new oil springs fields. On the Donley farm, a couple of miles from the town, a gusher of a quarter of a million feet was struck this morning and the new well was capped without difficulty. The Oil Springs Oil and Gas Company, of which W. J. Aikens, of Bradford, is the principal shareholder, are the owners of the huge gusher. It struck the other day, which has an estimated output of 25,000,000 feet, and which has not yet been capped, owing to the gigantic flow. The gas is of excellent quality, no odor of any kind being detected.

BROKE AWAY AT STATION DOOR AND FIRED TWICE AT OFFICER

Alvin Thompson, Suspected Shopbreaker, Rearrested After Shooting at Pursuers.

Alvin Thompson, a suspected shopbreaker, attempted to murder Acting Detective Koester of No. 2 division in front of the Agnes street station at 10.30 Saturday night, after having broken away from the officer just inside the station door.

A week ago the tailoring shop at 113 1-2 West Queen street was broken into and Detectives Koester and Strom, working on the case, arrested Thompson along with Stanley Perry on Queen street, on a charge of shopbreaking. The pair made no resistance, until Koester was about to open the station door. Koester had the door half open and his man up the first step, when Thompson jerked free and ran for Yonge street. Koester immediately pursued and the fleeing man stopped, drew a heavy calibre revolver and fired two shots at the detective, who jumped behind a telegraph post for shelter.

Wallo Koester pursued his man along Agnes to Yonge street. Strom ran down Terault to head off any attempt at doubling on his tracks. Thompson jumped a Yonge car, alighted and fired a Queen-street-bound and escaped.

Police and Suffragettes Clash at Gates of King's Palace

FARMER AND HIS WIFE KILLED BY CYCLONE NEAR WOODS LOCK HOUSE BORNE AWAY IN INSTANT

Thomas Bartley Met Death in Home in Which He Was Born Eighty-Four Years Ago—Roofs Were Torn Off and Fences and Trees Swept Away—Disturbance Came Without Warning.

WOODSTOCK, June 7.—In the house in which he was born, Thomas Bartley, 84 years of age, and his wife, 77 years of age, were killed about 6.30 o'clock tonight when the frame structure, without the slightest warning was picked up by a cyclone. Portions of it were scattered thru adjoining fields for several hundred yards. The disturbance appears to have originated near a bush between the 12th and 13th concession lines, north of Woodstock. The wind took a southerly course, crossing the field in which an asylum stands, taking trees and fences with it along the south side of the cross road.

A slaughter house belonging to J. Milson, Woodstock, between the 11th and 12th concessions, lost its roof but a litter of pigs in the barn were not affected.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT ARENA MARKED BY SIMPLE GRANDEUR TORONTO MOURNED WITH ARMY

NEW CRISIS IN MEXICAN SITUATION

WASHINGTON, June 7.—A new crisis in the Mexican situation developed late last night when two Mexican federal gunboats, closely trailed by two American war craft, the cruiser Tacoma and gunboat Sacramento, steamed from Puerto Mexico for Tampico to enforce a blockade of that port decreed by Gen. Huerta. No specific orders have been given, the American commanders merely being instructed to keep the Mexican boats under surveillance, but it is known that Rear Admiral Badger has been advised that the United States Government regards Tampico as an open port and desires that there be no interference with commerce there.

DAY OF MEMORIAL IN TORONTO FOR SALVATIONISTS WHO DIED

Three Large Meetings Attended by Thousands Who Heard Messages of Hope and Cheer From General Booth and Expressions of Sympathy From Prominent Laymen.

Sunday in Toronto was a day of memorial. Thousands of persons at three large meetings in the morning, afternoon and night, paid final tribute to friends and relatives who perished in the Empress of Ireland disaster. The morning and evening services in Massey Hall were held specially for members of the Salvation Army who were lost in the wreck. The afternoon service in the Arena, honored by the presence of city and provincial officials, was public, and despite the storm which broke over the city as it opened, was attended by more than 5000 persons.

Following the funeral Saturday of sixteen Salvationists who died in the disaster, yesterday's services were a fitting close for the universal expressions of sympathy and tokens of honor to the heroes of Canada's greatest marine tragedy. Simple, but impressive as the services were, there was potent through the day the pathos and impressiveness of the occasion which marked Saturday's memorial. Among the laymen to join in the tributes to the missing Salvation Army members were His Honor Sir John Githens, who occupied the chair at the public meeting; Mayor Hooker, Hon. Dr. Fyfe and Hon. J. L. Fox.

Stories of Bravery. Commissioner Thomas McKie, of London, England, representing General Booth, addressed each meeting. Mrs. Major Atwell, who, with her husband, was rescued, told of her last moments aboard the ill-fated vessel. Her description of the bravery with which the missing Salvationists met their death brought tears to the eyes of hundreds of the audience which filled the Arena. Major Atwell addressed the evening meeting in Massey Hall, also telling of his experiences, during the fifteen minutes that the Empress remained afloat after she was struck by the Storaas.

Many persons were prevented from attending the opening services in the Arena by the thunderstorm, which began as the hands played the strains of the first hymn. Nearly five thousand persons already were within the building, however, and others continued arriving until the service closed. The evening service in Massey Hall was the best attended of the day. An hour before the band began playing the addition to the program was a reading of the names of the missing.

IT CERTAINLY DID RAIN. At 2.45 yesterday afternoon the thunderstorm which had been brewing for several hours, broke over the city in a deluge of rain. The meteorological department that .35 inches of rain fell while the storm lasted.

NO STRINGS TO THE PROMISE BY HUERTA OF RESIGNATION

President of Mexico Does Not Intend to Hide Behind Any Technicalities, Says His Delegates to the Peace Conference at Niagara Falls.

Canadian Press Despatch. NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 7.—No strings are attached to Gen. Huerta's promise to resign the Mexican presidency as soon as his country is "politically pacified." His delegates to the mediation conference took occasion yesterday to say publicly that he does not intend to hide behind any technicalities.

It had been said that under the language of his pledge to retire when the country was politically pacified, Gen. Huerta might insist on holding office until all guerrilla bands were dispersed. On that account another statement was issued yesterday by the ranking member of the Huerta's delegation. It follows:

"Mr. Robassa of the Mexican delegation has been asked what is the interpretation given by the Mexican delegates to the word 'politically' in their statement declaring that Gen. Huerta shall be politically pacified, and if he thinks that an agreement between the two contending parties would not be considered as fulfilling Gen. Huerta's condition. "To the above questions Mr. Robassa answers that the expression used by the delegates does not mean that Gen. Huerta demands the material pacification of the country, nor the dispersal of the last of the groups of bandits which overrun many parts of it, making the revolution a pretext for their lawlessness, but that peace shall be assured by political means which will guarantee for the nation that maintenance of law and order which is indispensable to the exercise of constitutional functions. The object in view is peace. The condition is that that object shall have been achieved. If an agreement ensures that end the condition is as well fulfilled by it as by any other means."

Salvationists' Tribute to Victims of Empress of Ireland Shared in by Tens of Thousands of Citizens.

Thru streets lined many deep with citizens of every walk of life, who stood bareheaded as the four purple-decked funeral cars, with their mournful freight passed by, the remains of the 16 Salvationist victims of the Empress of Ireland disaster were borne from the Arena on Saturday afternoon and laid to rest in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Toronto has never seen such an impressive cortege; nor has a greater concourse gathered at a divine service in this city than that which was present to pay their last respects to those who "had been transferred to glory," as the comforting Salvationist expression has it. It was a Salvationist requiem, if you will, but it was a great city that joined in the mourning. And yet in the Arena, thru out the solemn service, the dominant note was not that of mourning, nor of hopeless grief. Rather was it a feeling of sad triumph befitting soldiers enlisted under that scarlet and blue flag, whose motto is "Onward and Upward."

Survivors have left it on record that amongst the ranks of the Salvationists who stood on that slanting deck there was neither confusion nor outcry; on the contrary, they had met death with their colors nailed to the mast. They had been so many times they had exhorted others to prepare. Eloquent on this occasion is best conveyed by the message of their general: "Whether we live, or whether we die, the army must go on." And so, in pursuance of this, the trappings of war were inseparable from ordinary interment ceremonies, were mostly conspicuous by their absence, while mourning badges, giving place to the customary sombre black, the cross and crown to crope bands.

An estimate of the crowds that lined the route would be hard to make. It is sufficient to say that Toronto was there. At least 6000 were at the service, but these 6000 formed but an infinitesimal fraction of the numbers who, thru lack of accommodation, were unable to attend. All morning, from 9 o'clock, had filed thousands—the great estimate was 25,000—into the public structure on Mutual street, to look their last on the silent forms lying in state.

Defied Analysis. It was a throng which defied analysis. Old men, young and middle-aged, the cleric and the bartender, the lawyer and the laborer, the clerk and the navy, the merchant prince and the man who had been put on the right path thru the efforts of the army, the woman of fashion and the seamstress, the school girl and the aged grandmother—all were there and thousands besides. Past the caskets, the flag-draped biers they filed, silently in awe, sorrowfully gazing at the waxen features, and turning away with bowed heads. Many a tear was shed, even as the service proceeded.

MAY BE MAN WHO SHOT NEGRO

About 2 o'clock on Sunday morning the night watchman at Davies packing house at West Toronto observed a man, dressed as a cowboy, and with a revolver in his belt, wandering around the premises. He ordered the man off, and was asked by him the way to West Toronto. The watchman notified the police station and an officer traced the man to Jane street, where it was found that he had gone to Mount Dennis. The police at that place were asked to arrest the man, who is believed to be the circus employe who shot a negro at Napanee.

TWO WARRANTS AGAINST DOUGLAS CHARGING PERJURY AND FRAUD

Former Toronto Social Service Worker Now Sought by Police of Newark and New York.

Special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, June 7.—Kenneth D. Douglas, who attracted notice in Newark by religious and social welfare work and by his marriage with a Wesleyan College graduate, also a social worker, is being sought in this city by the Newark police, who have two warrants for his arrest. One of the warrants alleges perjury, and the other the passing of a worthless cheque. The belief that Douglas is in seclusion somewhere in New York City was strengthened today, when it was learned that on Friday he had telephoned to his wife, who is stopping at the home of the Rev. George P. Dougherty. He made an appointment to meet her in Jersey City, but when Mrs. Douglas went there he failed to keep the appointment.

In this telephone message Douglas is reported to have told his wife not to lose faith in him, and that when they met he could explain satisfactorily his present difficulties.

The charge of perjury against Douglas is based on his statements when he applied for a marriage license six weeks ago. He asserted at that time he had not before been married, but investigation showed, it is alleged, that he had been married but had been divorced while living in the west.

The other warrant was issued on a charge made by a New York merchant, who alleged that Douglas gave a cheque drawn on a bank in which he had no funds. The police allege that another complaint has been made against Douglas by a New York bond dealer who lives in Newark.

DR. SHEARER TO SUCCEED DR. GRANT

Appointment is Expected to Be Made by Presbyterian Assembly Should Dr. Grant Decline to Act as Provisional Superintendent Under New Amalgamation Plan—Church Union Struggle Will Begin in Earnest

By a Staff Reporter. WOODSTOCK, June 7.—At their final meeting yesterday afternoon the home mission board and the board of social service and evangelism decided to recommend on Tuesday morning that they be amalgamated. The motion will also recommend that Dr. A. S. Grant and Dr. J. G. Shearer, the present heads of both departments, be appointed as provisional superintendents. If Dr. Grant does not withdraw his resignation it is understood that an endeavor will be made to have Dr. Shearer appointed as head of the committees. Outside of the city the work of the committees is widely different, but in the large cities they interlock considerably. The committee of social service and evangelism in its work in the country looks after weak churches. Prayers for Guidance. The morning service at Knox Church in St. Paul's Anglican Church, was addressed by Dr. J. A. Macdonald, Toronto, and Dr. J. G. Shearer, also of Toronto. Miss Christine Barte, superintendent of rescue work, and Miss Dr. Oliver, of Indore, delivered addresses at a women's rally in the First Baptist Church. Hall Spoiled Services. The moderator, Dr. W. T. Herridge, conducted a communion service in Knox Church at 4 p.m. The church was packed. He was assisted by Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie and Dr. Campbell. In the evening arrangements had been made for a large public rally, to be held in city hall square, but owing to the storm it was canceled. The evening service at Knox Church was considerably interrupted by the storm. The church has a flat roof over the main auditorium, and when the hail stones which in many cases were more than an inch thru, fell on it, the moderator had to cease his speaking on account of the noise. The lights went out once, and when they lit the gas power went off the pipe organ rendering it useless.

MEMORIAL SERVICE SOLEMN FUNCTION

Thousands Viewed Bodies of Salvationists Lying in State in Arena.

IMPRESSIVE CORTAGE

Streets Lined With Thousands Who Bared Heads as Caskets Passed.

At the caskets which held the remains of the child victims but there was nothing of hysteria. They had come to the arena to see the many were looking upon death for the first time. It was only in exceptional cases that those who looked on their work broke down.

And this long procession was but the preliminary to the greater and more impressive program. Shortly after 7 o'clock when the last link of the long human chain had passed the silent funeral service was held. The caskets were placed and everything was made ready for the service.

Preparations were on an elaborate scale. At the south end of the arena was one section of the massed bands. Immediately below them, on the main floor, was a huge purple cross, which later held a hundred white-gowned school children. Banked on each side were countless floral decorations. In the center of the arena were the purple draped caskets, resting on biers of state with the Canadian ensign, and surrounded with the scarlet and blue standards of the Salvation Army. A short space and then the improvised platform, where were seated S. A. officials and the most prominent Protestant clergymen by the city.

Looked Death in the Face. But it was not the caskets with their silent tenants; nor the great banks of floral decorations from sympathizers; nor the soul-searching strains of the Mass March, played in beautiful unison by the massed bands; nor the vast assemblage of mourners that most gripped the emotions or most fastened on the imagination, that which drew home with most insistent force the meaning of the solemn occasion was the arrival of the survivors and the silent march of the dead.

It was a dramatic commencement to the solemn memorial service with the silence of the survivors; and yet so simple as to set lips quivering and start tears from men as well as women.

From their lofty vantage point in the north section of the building, the massed bands of the Salvation Army organizations had begun to play "Nearer My God to Thee," and the music gave no clue as to the survivors' point of entrance, it was as the every one in that vast concourse had sensed its presence. Eyes were turned to the northward, the northeast of the auditorium. By this time the band was playing the solemn "Vivage" hymn in a familiar evening hymn, but as the head of the slender procession stepped into view, the instrumentalists seemed to hush their voices.

A Pathetic Sight. Two blue-coated soldiers led the parade. Soldier-like, they looked neither to the right nor left, but marched with head erect and brisk step to their allotted seats. Following them, polite-bonneted women, scarlet-coated, portmen, and men and women in ordinary citizens' clothes. These late were the mourners, many of the late relatives of those who had perished in the wreck. Many had to be supported. They walked as they they never saw the great assemblage, nor understood the purport of its occasion.

Last of all, a slender, little pathetic figure of the little hand survivor of the wreck, came eighth-year-old Gracie Hunsagan, sole survivor of her family. She was tenderly supported by a young woman, who whispered words of encouragement to the grief-stricken child. The eight survivors of the Territorial Band took their seats and the service began.

A fervent prayer was read by a Rees was followed by the singing of a Rees from "Nearer My God to Thee," and then came a stirring reading by Lieut. Col. Turner.

Speaks for General Booth. Next came Commissioner Thomas McKie of London, England, who announced that he stood before the assembly as representative of the International center at the loss sustained by the army in Canada, and referred fittingly to each of the victims.

Mrs. Commissioner Rees, he described as a good mother and the next to her husband. In Commissioner Rees, he said, "we have lost a brother, a man, a Christian and a leader. You may understand my feelings when I say that had all gone well, I should have had with him tomorrow at the conference in London, the battle for the salvation of souls."

The commissioner read a message from General Booth, and for salvation in every portion of the globe. All of them breathed sympathy and affection for those bereaved.

Audience Stood. The "Dead March in Saul" was then played by the massed bands, the entire audience standing after which the first message from the survivors, Mrs. Major Frank Morris, the minister Rees, and his account of the collision was listened to with keen interest. He spoke of the short time given to those on board the ship, and spoke with pride of the fact that his fellow soldiers were prepared for the worst.

There were no cries there were none among the Salvationists. They were ready to meet their God; ready to hear his "Well Done." When I saw Commissioner Rees for the second time, some conversation passed between us regarding the nature of the accident. I shall never forget the nodding his head, and replied quite calmly, "He was ready then to

"ABOLISH BARS" NOT WEST KENT ISSUE

There has been a strong protest by the Conservative Temperance men against the use of the church for political purposes and in no less than five instances during the past week meetings of protest were held and several members of the respective churches resigned.

WILL EXACT PLEDGE FROM ALL CANDIDATES

GALT, June 7.—Candidates in South Waterloo to receive the support of temperance electors, it was decided at a meeting of temperance forces here yesterday, must give a public pledge to vote in the provincial legislature for the abolition of all taverns and distilleries, respectively of which party introduces a resolution to this effect, and they must have a personal character and record that are in harmony with this policy; and in case neither political party selects a candidate who is willing to give this pledge, it was also decided a convention of temperance men is to be called to choose an independent temperance candidate. Thomas Patterson of Galt presided, and Rev. John Bailey of the Methodist church was the chief speaker.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

MADRID IS IN FLUTTER OVER KERMIE ROOSEVELT'S WEDDING

Approaching Visit of Colonel Adds to Excitement in Spanish Capital—Royal Favor to Be Extended to Bridal Party, It is Announced.

Special Cable to The World.

MADRID, June 6.—The approaching wedding of Kermie Roosevelt and Miss Belle Willard is exciting lively interest here, and the pending arrival of his distinguished father, perhaps even more. Although not a popular personality in Spain, he would have been great disappointment if, as rumored, his health has not permitted Colonel Roosevelt to make the long journey here.

Of course Spanish courtesy precludes the possibility of anything but the most polite manifestations of interest toward him and King Alfonso's action in inviting the bride and bridegroom-elect to luncheon shows that he at least wishes no remembrance of the past to interfere with the traditions of Spanish hospitality.

Respects to Royalty.

King Alfonso and Queen Victoria had decided to go to La Granja Palace, near Segovia, immediately following the expected happy event in the family of Prince Charles Bourbon. It was arranged that the king would have the bridal couple to luncheon after the ex-president had arrived, but as his coming has been delayed it may not be possible and it is understood that the colonel will pay his respects to the king and queen at the royal palace.

Kermie Roosevelt has been staying at the American Embassy. He is looking fairly well but extremely thin. Already he is being recognized in the public, and is constantly recognized in the street.

The civil marriage will be on Wednesday in a specially prepared room in the magistrat's residence.

Unpretentious Ceremony.

The religious ceremony on Thursday will be in the small British Embassy Chapel. As it has no choir, Ambassador Willard has engaged a famous harpist to play in a small pavilion, erected for the occasion, close to the chapel door, which will remain open.

The church wedding, the unpretentious, according to the wish of the Willards, will be very pretty, for the British Embassy garden will be at its best, and the little chapel set in the midst of it will be shaded in beautiful flowering trees. The altar is to be decorated with especial care, and a crimson carpet will cover the white matting. No great number of guests are expected, but more than 100, and the bride and groom will be back in the American Embassy twenty minutes after leaving it. Luncheon will be served in the large dining-room at the embassy by the Ritz Hotel.

Distinguished Guests.

Among those who will attend the ceremony and the luncheon are the British Ambassador and Lady Hardinge, the German Ambassador and Princess Rathor, with their daughters, the staff of the American Embassy and perhaps the Spanish foreign minister, Marquis Lema.

The bride's dress, made in Paris, is of ivory satin covered with tulle and orange blossoms and draped in rich old lace. She will wear a long tulle veil and a coronet. Her bouquet will come from Valencia, the flower garden of Spain.

The maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Willard, the bridesmaids, Miss and Mrs. the step-daughter of the German Ambassador, Miss Page, daughter of the United States Ambassador to the British Court, and Miss Christian, the ambassador will give his daughter away.

Many Presents.

Miss Willard has received great numbers of presents, among them a gift from the American colony here.

The number of guests at the wedding must necessarily be small, because of the smallness of the chapel and also because the embassy is not fitted up for big reception, although the house is large and commodious.

The bridal couple will leave for a short honeymoon in Andalusia, and then will go to Lisbon to embark for Brazil, where Kermie Roosevelt will engage in business as an official of the Anglo-Brazilian Iron Company in Sao Paulo.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs which are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, therefore, consists all in the acid which is secreted in the stomach, and which, if not neutralized, causes all the trouble. Acid is secreted in the stomach, and it is this acid which causes the food to ferment, and which produces the bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation are caused by the same process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by the acid elements—acid and food. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the only and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm cod water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bleached magenta, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bleached magenta, as I have found other forms utterly worthless in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

The Old-Fashioned Perfumes.

THE rose jar—I can just hear you saying that you meant to ask me for those directions for making this potpourri again this year, so I offer them now without waiting for the deluge of requests that come to me every rose season.

Save all the rose petals, and as you gather them, sprinkle with salt and put them into a deep bowl with a close-fitting cover. When your jar is full, turn out the mass, which will be black and moist. Separate this with a stick or a fork and mix in an equal amount of dried lavender flowers or spices and place in a covered rose jar. The spices may vary with your own taste. I have found that orris root, ground cloves and cinnamon, a little powdered mace and some good sachet powder incorporated with the leaves is delightful for years. It is also good to add a few drops of oil of geranium, or muguet. These are purchased at any druggist's. Of course oil of rose is the most exquisite thing to add to the rose petals, but this sells for five cents a single drop and is not always the true article at that price.

You must get the rose jar up from the bottom once in a while after it dries out, from time to time you can add fresh petals from fable bouquets. I once saw a great Japanese bowl in the home of a Washington lady, filled with dried rose petals. She said she began filling it with her bridal roses, and that for years she had put all her rose petals into it, not only from the garden, but from birthday and still bouquets.

If you are planning to make a rose jar, you had best look after your rose buds now. The little dentists of the garden like the tender petals as well as you do—and will make a sturdy fight for them.

Spraying the foliage of the rose bushes with a weak solution of tobacco water will discourage and drive away the aphid or green fly. As soon as the buds appear the roses seem to want attention in the shape of fertilizer. Put good, liquid manure, or bone dust around the roots, but do not disturb the spots at this time.

Watch for the rose beetle and the slug. Buy a fourth of a pound of arsenate of lead (a deadly poison) and mix it with two and a half gallons of water. Sprinkle this over the roses buds and plants in the early morning; it will kill these pests.

The Greeks had their Flora, the queen of the flower world, had a favorite nymph, whose beauty was only surpassed by the purity of her heart. She died, and Flora called in Venus, Apollo, the Graces, Bacchus and Demeter, to change this matchless beauty into a flower. The result was the rose. But it had no odor. They all had been so busy shaping its lovely form and graceful leaves they had neglected to provide it with perfume. One day Cupid was dancing on Olympus when he overturned a cup of nectar with his wing. The heavenly liquid fell on the rose and imparted its scent to it.

Very delightful is the celestial odor, so if you have any dried leaves left in your jars from other years, do not throw them out, but add fresh petals to them, or put them in the pads that line your dresser drawers.

PAEONIES

I have several inquiries before me from our amateurs regarding the culture of these herbaceous perennials; so I will try to answer them as far as possible, the subject will be dealt with generally.

Those who read the garden talks must have noticed that paeonies, as well as other perennials in this class, have been referred to constantly this season, as the need for watchfulness has presented itself to us.

Many professional gardeners claim that the roots should be planted in early autumn, but I have found that in summer are over, so that the newly placed roots will have a chance to become rooted during the winter; and this also makes them more likely to never fail to give bloom the following summer.

This is a point I dispute, although myself an amateur. Given an ordinary small paeony root, purchased from a nurseryman for, say one dollar, and planted in the spring or autumn, the chances are distinctly against bloom before from three to five years, because paeonies are very slow growers, as to root. They are very sulky on being moved, and require most diplomatic treatment to bring them into good temper again. In my own small garden are a number of clumps of various kinds, ranging in age from two to thirty years old. Several clumps are just five years old, one of which is now showing its first (and only) bud. Three of the oldest clumps are quite ancient, being all of thirty years old and have been severely alone for years; I mean, they have neither been divided as to roots nor disturbed as to material in working around them. These clumps in early spring, whenever it has been possible to steal a small bit of root from the outermost edge of the great root feeders—perhaps a bit has been cut off by the spade—I take care to plant this bit in a well-prepared spot, where plenty of mulching and other material has been used to afford to sell you a root, sufficiently aged to promise bloom in one year, or two.

AFRICAN FARMERS COMING TO AMERICA

CAPTOWNS, Union of South Africa, June 6.—A party of 38 farmers, led by the leader of the Johannesburg, N. S. W., member for Potchefstroom in the parliament of the Union of South Africa, left today for England on their way to America, where they are to make a tour of investigation of agricultural methods.

POLITICS SPOILS LONDON SEASON

Aquith Sympathizers Are Barred From Many Smart Social Functions.

LONDON, June 7.—The London season is generally voted a failure as far as big entertaining is concerned. There have been balls without end at hotels, and the west end has been crowded, but nothing particularly striking is being done.

The Anglo-American Peace Centenary ball in Albert Hall is arousing but little interest, as the novelty of such mammoth fancy dress affairs has worn off. Although leading society people give their patronage as best they can, and attend in numbers.

The virulent state of political feeling has also spoiled the season. Radical Unionists like the Londoners, who have always been more or less conspicuous part in important entertaining, will not invite to their own houses nor meet, however, socially prominent Unionists and their wives left a house at which the guests of honor were the Duke and Duchess of Teck, because two members of the government appeared.

Liberals Barred.

Lord Curzon's coming out ball for his daughter, Irene, did not include a single Liberal guest. At the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire's Derby ball, at which the king and queen were present, no Liberals were among the invited guests, except two cabinet ministers, whose official positions traditionally entitled them to attend. They declined to be there as a protest against the spirit actuating the host and hostess. Not in a hundred years has politics put such a deep social change and the feeling on both sides is intensifying.

POWDER EXPLOSION KILLED TWO BOYS

Explosive Carried in Pockets Became Ignited, Causing Terrible Injuries.

Special to The Toronto World.

BELLEVILLE, June 7.—Two boys, James Thompson, aged 15, and Joseph O'Connor, aged 12 years, who resided with their parents in Tyndinaga Township, were on Friday night the victims of an accident which caused their deaths.

The boys, while walking along the newly constructed C. P. R. track, discovered a bag which contained a quantity of black powder. They filled their pockets with the powder, and after walking a short distance made an effort to blow up a stump by placing a quantity of the powder beneath it. An explosion occurred and the powder in the boys' pockets became ignited.

O'Connor was frightfully injured and died almost immediately. Thompson, who was terribly burned and lacerated, lives until an early hour Saturday morning.

An inquest will be held.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST PARADE

Special to The Toronto World.

BERLIN, Ont., June 7.—Seldom, if ever, has a citizen of Berlin witnessed such a procession as when the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church marched in its first annual parade today. Visitors were present from Toronto, Stratford, Guilford, St. Agatha, New Hamburg, Waterloo, Preston, Hepler and Galt, which swelled the numbers in line to fifteen hundred.

The eBriun Musical Societies' Band headed the procession.

St. Mary's Church the members heard an address by Right Rev. Monsignor Mahony, vicar-general of the diocese of Hamilton. He said: "Let your actions square with your belief. Be men of clean speech and clean life. Never be tempted in public or private to do anything or to say anything in or show approval of cursing, swearing, blasphemy or any other profane or impious use of the holy name."

REV. ARTHUR MILLER SINGS FIRST MASS

At Newman's Hall chapel yesterday morning Rev. Arthur Miller sang his first mass. He was assisted by Rev. H. Canning of Our Lady of Lourdes, who acted as deacon, and Rev. Father Mac, sub-deacon. Rev. T. E. Burke, rector of Newman's Hall, was master of ceremonies, and Rev. G. Kernaghan, secretary to Archbishop McNeil, was also in the sanctuary.

The boys' choir of Our Lady of Lourdes Church sang the music of the mass. Rev. Father Burke preached on the dignity of the priesthood, abhorring the high place it held under the old and new law, its office finding its ultimate height in the sacrifice of the Christian dispensation.

Rev. Father Miller is the first from Toronto to enter the Paulist community, of which he is a member.

THE Kermess was over, the May festival was done and there wasn't going to be another thing to do till the Feast of the Roses in June—so the little 14-year-old girl ran away from home. She couldn't stand it another day. It was so dull. She had a good home with a devoted mother and a father who smiled at her slightest word.

How They Went Home. The little Chicago girl went as far as Indianapolis, and there a man stared at her in the street and she began to cry and some one took her to the police station, and they telegraphed her father and he came and took his little girl home—to be bored again.

In a Perpetual Festival. Why, it's like living in a perpetual festival. How sweet they look, the young women in their beautiful soft dresses, and the little girls, all in pink and fat blue and clear yellow, all clad in silk and crowned with flowers—why, they are like visions of delight!

And the odd thing is that unless you lean very far over you can't see yourself and you can't see what is BEHIND YOU. Ah! this is part of the wonder and fantasy of reflections. Sometimes the two kinds of reflections tell the same story. But you have to be very wise and very adroit to find this out. Turning your head VERY quickly might answer the same purpose.

The Crystal Ball. By VERNON MERRY. A WITCH once had three sons, but she did not trust them, fearing they would rob her of her power. So she turned the oldest into an eagle and the second into a whale. The youngest ran away from home.

The young man returned to the castle and found the Princess restored to her beauty. With joyful hearts they pledged their love.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

What "In-Thinking" Is; How It Affects Every One

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

"Ah, the evils of this day! Ah, the terrible times!" Have you heard these expressions recently? Do you know the anti-vice societies and the uplifters? Do they say these things? Most certainly they do, but these words were just translated from a "newspaper" between 5500 and 11,900 years old.

Answers to Health Questions. LODINE—How can I be rid of bad body odors? If you will apply borax acid water and from time to time use diluted vinegar and a mixture of a teaspoonful and a half of formalin to a pint of water, you will lose it.

Useful Hints for the Housewife By Ann Marie Lloyd. A FROWSY household reflects discredit on the housewife. The maid who admits the visitor is as subtle an indication of the thoroughness of the house as are the cleanliness, order and cheerfulness of the front hall.

Advice to Girls By ANNIE LAURIE. Dear Annie Laurie: I am a young man of 20 and once had a friend who was dearly in love with me. A few months ago I met her again and she was with me.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE. Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Farbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with interest.

MOTHER," said I one evening in her sitting room, "why do women fuss so much more over age than men do?" "Well," said mother, thoughtfully, "custom has built up some age conventions that are a little unfair. I imagine is the chief reason."

"The unfairness comes," said mother, "in a great many different ways. There are utterly different standards of youth for men and women, seek to ignore them as we will. A man of 38 is frequently called a young man. A woman of 38 is rarely called a young woman.

RECORDS AND REFORMS.

Mr. Rowell has a right to be proud of the fine demonstration he evoked in Massey Hall, and he has this reflection to give him confidence, that if the Ontario voters respond to his appeal as they did to the Ross plebiscite of fourteen years ago he will be returned to the legislature at the head of a working majority.

No gratitude can be expected by government. Dr. Johnson explained gratitude as "a lively sense of favors to come." Premiers should have that epigrammatic definition framed and hung up in their private offices.

THE ANTI-ANNEXATION MANIA.

Repetition of the same old inconsistent cry is the only kind of opposition to be heard against the annexation of the Todmorden district. On the one hand we are told that it is only to make speculative land owners wealthy that annexation is proposed.

A little consistency would improve the opposition arguments, but when did we ever get consistency from the opponents of annexation in the east end? The same people are simply crazy to have the Humber district annexed at once. It is a poor rule that won't work both ways.

LORD WOLSELEY MEMORIAL FUND.

Among the great soldiers of the Victorian age none served with more distinction in many parts of the British Empire than General Joseph Wolseley, later field marshal, Viscount Wolseley and commander-in-chief of the imperial forces from 1895 to the end of the century.

Canadians will therefore be interested in the intimation that the imperial government has granted permission for the erection of an equestrian statue to Lord Wolseley in Trafalgar Square, immediately opposite the entrance to the National Gallery.

to complete the $15,000 required in addition to the amount already received, and a Canadian committee has been organized to obtain subscriptions from Canada. Regiments, officers and other persons desiring to assist the fund are requested to send their subscriptions to the acting-treasurers, Messrs. Pellatt & Pellatt, Traders Bank building, Toronto, and it is to be hoped that this memorial scheme will be heartily supported by Canadians.

IMPERIAL OIL SUPPLY.

Altho in some quarters doubt is expressed regarding the wisdom of abandoning the use of coal fuel in the imperial navy, the British Government has evidently no doubt that oil has come to stay. A Blue Book recently issued contains the text of the agreement entered into between the treasury department and Anglo-Persian Oil Company consequent on the report made by a commission of experts under the presidency of Vice-Admiral Sir Edmund Slade.

Of interest in Canada are the terms on which the imperial government has become the dominant shareholder in the Anglo-Persian Oil Company. It will subscribe $11,000,000 to the capital of the company, while the total share capital held otherwise than by the government is lumped to $3,985,000.

The advantages claimed for oil fuel are shown in extracts from various speeches delivered by the first lord of the admiralty, and printed in the Blue Book. Mr. Churchill claimed for oil-driven warships a great excess of speed, an increase of at least 40 per cent. in radius of action and an increase of quite 25 per cent. in fighting strength.

NEWFOUNDLAND TO IMPORT CONSTRUCTION LUMBER FROM NOVA SCOTIA.

ST. JOHN, Nfld., June 6.—During the summer there will be considerable importation of lumber for the construction of the Furness Withly Company's pier here; this firm having acquired by purchase a valuable water frontage. The contract has been let to the Nova Scotia Construction Company of Sydney and Halifax, who are to begin operations at an early date.

BIG ISSUE BEFORE ASSEMBLY TODAY

Methodist and Congregational Churches Asked to Co-Operate With Presbyterians.

STEP TOWARD UNION

Next Year's Assembly Will, It is Hoped, Make Material Progress.

WOODSTOCK, June 6.—"Your committee recommend to the general assembly that the union committee be reappointed, vacancies which have occurred in its membership being filled; that the assembly respectfully invite Methodist and Congregational churches to meet in joint committee with union committee of this church, to consider the amended basis appended to this report, and prepare basis of union that may be submitted to the assembly in 1915.

"If approved by the assembly of 1915 such basis of union, together with a statement presenting views of both minority and majority within the church shall be sent down to presbyteries, and also to sessions and congregations, that the judgment of the whole church may be had, and such issue as may then seem wisest, be given to what has been subject of negotiations for so many years. And further, that the general assembly earnestly assure the other negotiating churches of their desire to reach that issue without any unnecessary delay."

Dr. W. J. Clarke of Montreal, convener of the church-union committee which has been deliberating for the past few days on this question, submitted the above recommendation at this morning's session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Dr. Clarke pointed out that a union church has been constituted in Quebec, where the three churches are now worshipping under a Presbyterian minister.

In some cases it is mentioned that church union has been consummated, and the work is progressing quite favorably. Nearly every report says that money would be saved and men would be set free for work in other fields.

INTERCOLONIAL COAL CO. TAKES OVER 'OLD ACADIA MINE.'

GLASGOW, Nova Scotia, June 6.—That area of the Acadia Coal Company of Stellarton, known as the "Old Acadia Mine," has been taken over by the Intercolonial Coal Company of Westville. For some time past the Intercolonial Coal Company has been working on a section of this seam on their own areas and have taken out coal in paying quantities and of good quality.

Dr. McKeekin has been a preacher in the Presbyterian Church in Ireland, United States and Canada, for past sixty years and is now in Ottawa and is over eighty years of age. The commissioners were motored to Knox Church, Embro, this afternoon, where they were received on the grounds of the church by the moderator and Mrs. Herrick.

the bottom of the whole matter. Dr. Grant absolutely refused to speak on the matter this morning, and said that only business which was completed on the floor of the assembly was for publication. He was visibly annoyed that information regarding his resignation had been made public.

BUTLER TO OPPOSE ROWELL IN OXFORD

Says He is a Better Temperance Man Than Opposition Leader.

WOODSTOCK, June 6.—Robert E. Butler received the nomination to oppose N. W. Rowell, leader of the opposition for the seat of North Oxford at a meeting in the city hall today. There were three hundred present, and the enthusiasm displayed speaks a hard fight for the opposition leader.

The candidate has contested this seat three times before, each time lowering the majority of the Liberal candidate till the last time he was defeated by only about 400 majority.

For some minutes Hon. W. J. Hanna, who visited the meeting, dwelt on the liquor question, and stated that the government has carried on such an advanced liquor license policy that the number of the bars in the province since they came in power in 1905 has been nearly diminished by half.

CROP REPORTS EXCELLENT INSIDERS SAY BANK FAILURE WILL CLEAR THE AIR BRITISH CONSOLS LOWER

STRONG CLOSE TO NEW YORK STOCKS

Report of Speedy Decision on Rate Question Again Circulated. RAILS ROSE SHARPLY Bank Statement Showed Larger Cash Gain Than Had Been Expected.

NEW YORK, June 6.—After several days of inactivity, the stock market suddenly became active and strong today. Shares of the eastern railroads led the advance. As it is these roads which are concerned in the freight rates case, the upturn was associated with Washington reports that a decision was forthcoming shortly. Wall Street houses received advices from Washington that chairman Harrison of the Interstate Commerce Commission was hurrying to complete the text of the decision, and that it might be made known within a week. Another report was that the decision might come out in a day or two. For months the street has been hearing similar rumors, but interest in the outcome of the case remains so keen that whenever Washington advices of the sort come into free circulation a response from the market may be counted on.

Another factor in the upturn was the news from Washington that the senate committee on interstate commerce might not report at this session two of the administration's three bills dealing with corporations, which passed the house yesterday. The prospect of such a sharp curtailment of the program for trust legislation at this session was regarded by traders as decidedly bullish, and in the last hour buying was more confident than at any time this week. At the close there were substantial gains in many instances.

Lower in London. American stocks in London were again inclined to zig and on the strength of the lower cable quotations room traders offered the international shares at concessions. All the leaders were depressed at the outset, although in most cases reactions were slight. London values once more quickly stiffened, however, absorbing moderate offerings from London without difficulty.

Despite the recent exportation of gold, the bank statement showed a gain in cash of $5,000,000, which was somewhat larger than had been expected. Bonds were irregular.

LONDON BANKING FIRM SUSPENDS Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell Co. Close Doors — Earl Grey Reported Loser.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The suspension of Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell & Co. has excited some surprise. So far as is known, they had no commitments or interests in this market. Their failure is partly attributed to the enormous shrinkage of South American securities, mainly Brazilians and Peruvians.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Beyond the information contained in Canadian Press despatches, the Grand Trunk of the London banking firm, it is stated that the firm was not an official financial representative of the company and would not be handling the securities like any other brokerage firm.

Depends on Crop F. Nash & Co. say "In Canada so much depends upon the outcome of the crop that it is impossible to take any decided stand, but naturally any improvement in the New York market would be reflected here."

The Importance of a Will If you die without a Will the law arbitrarily provides for a division of your estate. If your children are under age their shares are paid into Court and special application must be made to provide funds for their maintenance and education. The making of your Will is therefore a matter of paramount importance.

Whose Fault is It?

Whose fault is it that our imports are more than double our exports? Is it the fault of the buyers. Buy at home if you get tired looking at the trade balance against Canada. You're to blame, Mr. Consumer. Why don't you stop sending money abroad for foreign goods. In cases where you can get Canadian goods of the same or better quality at the same price?

SHARP BREAK IN CANNERS STOCK

Industrial Stocks in General Were Depressed at Montreal on Saturday. MONTREAL, June 6.—Apart from some weakness in the industrial section of the market, resulting apparently from the news of the passing of the Dominion Canners dividend, business on the short Saturday session of the stock exchange was quiet and featureless.

Cannery itself opened 4 1/2 lower at a new low record price of 28 on the dividend news, and rallied only one point. Scotia, whose industrial market suspension for some time, after opening at 126, weakened to 124, and on a series of erratic fluctuations finished at the low with more stock offered at the last sale quotation when the market closed. Tuckett's fell 1 to 29, a small fraction above the 21 level to which it fell on Friday.

Elsewhere the tone of the market was steady to firm. C. P. R., while inactive, finished a shade better at 194 bid against 193 1/2 the previous day and Power rose 1/2 to 182 1/2. Brazilian, however, continued to act disappointingly and weakened a small fraction below its low of the previous day, touching 77 1/2 and showing a rally of only 1/4 to its last sale. Final quotations, however, were firmer at 78 1/2, asking 78 bid, only 1-8 down on the day.

The first transactions in Twin City since the announcement of the Twin City stock issue were recorded with the price firm at 106 3/4 up. Crown Reserve continued a weaker stock, selling off to 115, compared with a low of 119 the previous day, and coming within 5 cents of the low level touched on the April slump. Hollinger was firm, selling at 117 1/2.

In banks and bonds business was very dull. Commerce weakness was a small fraction to 202. Total business 1514 shares, 2 rights, 2300 mining shares and 92000 bonds.

FIRM TONE IN GRAIN MARKET

New Crop of American Wheat is Expected to Be Late. CHICAGO, June 6.—Notwithstanding the fact that the government crop report would be due on Monday restricted business today in wheat, the market ruled higher throughout the session.

Provisions in despatches from Liverpool that the movement of new crops of American wheat would be later than usual put the bears here at a disadvantage. Rumors of export sales at Duluth and elsewhere tended also to harden prices and so, too, did an active demand from domestic millers, notably at Toledo, where 350,000 bushels of No. 2 red, the bulk of the entire stock, was reported as having been taken for grinding.

Corn Was Strong. Corn went sharply higher and developed much activity. Arrival of Argentine shipments in Europe out of condition had considerable to do with increase of buying here. Chicago shippers reported that demand exceeded the offerings. Receivers predicted that arrivals would be scarce after the next few days.

What the Grain Brokers Say. James E. Bennett & Co.—Conditions favor holders of wheat at present prices. Walter Hinch & Co.—The wheat market has an easy undertone and the probable record yield of the crop about to be harvested brings but increased offerings to the bulge.

Recent Issues. LONDON, June 6.—Recent issues at premium are Dominion, one and one-eighth; discounts are as follows: Ontario, British Columbia, one and one-quarter; Alberta, one and one-quarter; Vancouver Sewerage Co., one and one-half.

Scrapped Drop. LONDON, June 5.—The price of the scrip of the last Dominion of Canada loan dropped two points to-day on the announcement of the underwriting of a new Canadian loan of $25,000,000 four per cents at 98.

Gleaned From the Tape. Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co. have reduced working week from 54 hours to 48 hours. Bill introduced to nationalize railways of United Kingdom and establish ministry of post and railways. Purchase price 30 times average annual profits.

Records Broken. MONTREAL, June 5.—Two records were broken at the international pier of the Dominion Coal Company at Sydney, last week. The total shipments for the week amounted to 100,000 tons, which is 20,000 tons greater than any previous weekly shipment by the company.

FARMING, LIVE STOCK, HORTICULTURE AND EVERYTHING OF FARM INTEREST

SUCCESS IN POULTRY RAISING DEPENDS ON MERIT OF STOCK

Beginners Required to Employ Greatest Care in Purchasing Eggs for Hatching — The Appearances Should Be Disregarded in Laying Foundation of Henery.

The majority of beginners make their first mistake in the purchasing of eggs for hatching — that of buying birds from stock that is not of the highest merit. A large percentage of their foundation stock for future poultry operations from the list of poultry raisers that sell the cheapest. To the beginner who cannot afford to pay for the highest quality naturally resorted to, but there are many who in starting out can afford to pay for good stock. Some have the idea that as this year has been an experiment the cheap stock will do, but in this they fool themselves, as under the results from the purchase of stock that is not of the highest quality, the beginner who has not the experience of every beginner who has started with stock from the haphazard breeder that sooner or later they will find themselves paying the price for the real thing, and this good start might just as well be made in the beginning as later after one has lost perhaps several years and some money by attempting to have a flock of fowls that are not profitable.

Every good breeder either in the value of his stock and the price asked for hatching eggs day-old chicks or stock for the beginner. It has been an exception that one generally gets what he pays for, and it is out of the question for the beginner to expect high-grade eggs, chicks or stock at prices that are low. It is true that often during the late spring a reduction is made from the regular price, but the early orders have been filled on eggs and stock from the full lay of the breeder. In the case of chicks, fertility is never money, but incubators hatching their best. In the case of stock at times a sacrifice must be made to make the room for the growing chicks, which in the breeder's opinion will prove as good or better than the parent stock. Under these circumstances a breeder at times receive from good breeders a price that is very low, but only under those conditions that one's stock be considered. Then, if possible, one should know something of the breeder and the reputation the stock has made. Prices are based on the reputation of the breeder's skill in producing fowls that are heavy layers, or a combination

FIELD CROPS AND COST OF RAISING.

Some very interesting figures as to the cost of raising field crops are given in a bulletin issued by the division of field husbandry at Ottawa. The figures were taken from the results at the Nappan, N.S., experimental station for Ontario conditions, there are not very little difference in the cost of raising the same amount of roots or grain. With corn, the average cost averaged some thirty-three bushels per acre, the cost was $13.33 per acre, or 40 cents per bushel. Wheat cost $14.55 per acre to raise and the yield was 19 bushels. It is interesting to note here that the best authorities in the government as to the cost of raising wheat at between fifty and sixty cents per bushel. Potatoes cost $49.35 per acre to raise and yielded on the average 376 bushels, putting the cost at 13 cents. Turnips yielding 23 tons cost $1.38 per ton and mangels with nine tons to the acre cost $2.85 per ton. The yield of turnips was rather low in 1913, and the cost therefore was exceptionally high per ton.

THE NEW SPRAY.

ARSENITE OF ZINC.
At the Vineland Experimental Station there are tests being made with arsenite of zinc as a spray to replace arsenate of zinc. A few years ago Paris green was the common source of arsenic for the poisoning of insects. Later it was found that on account of the arsenic in Paris green there was a likelihood of burning the foliage and arsenate of lead was tried instead. This spray has proved very satisfactory and has been prepared both in

FEED THE HENS ON GREEN FOOD

Succulent Grains Produce Smooth, Glossy Feathers.

The value of green food for the flock has been shown over and over again to the satisfaction of every poultry man. The beautiful smooth, glossy appearance of the feathers, whose green food has been available shows that the constitution of the birds is improved when they have a sufficiency of succulent food. However, the raising of green food in the city where the hens have a very limited area at their disposal is a difficult problem. In order to get the best results from the least amount of labor green food which when taken at an early age will supply the desired tonic effect to the poultry. If the range is moderately large it may be divided into two parts and the flock allowed to run on one part at a time. When one half is being grazed up the hen should be allowed to run on it for a day or two and procure what worms and insects they can find. The best crops to be grown are oats, rye, buckwheat or rape. These will soon grow and will furnish a quantity of green succulent food. If a smaller area only is available lettuce will give good results. If the hens are fed an abundance of turnips they are liable to be a rather turnipy flavor to the eggs, but this will not be noticed if a moderate amount of the other plants accompanies them.

IMPORTANT SALE OF HOLSTEIN CATTLE

A large sale of Holsteins will be held at the farm of Messrs. W. D. and Clark Hamilton, Ingersoll, Ont., on the 11th of June. Some sixty head of pure bred Holsteins will be held up for auction. This sale should prove an excellent opportunity for Holstein breeders to enlarge their herds and with animals of the very best breeding.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

The wholesale fruit and vegetable section was, as usual, very busy, although only two cars of strawberries arrived in the city on Saturday morning, but more was expected in later in the day. This fruit was more plentiful and of better quality on Monday last than for the remainder of the week. The other fruits and vegetables remained nearly stationary in price, with the exception of cucumbers, which dropped, and potatoes, which advanced.
