A. F. OF L CONVENTION MEETS WITH SETBACK

Authoritative information in Toronto is to hand to the effect that a hitch has occurred in negotiations between Windsor Hotel, Montreal, and the American Federation of Labor relative to the convention which is scheduled for Montreal this year. It was stated last night that apparently the management of the Windsor Hotel had decided to place the hall at the disposal of a much smaller delegation than the A. F. of L., despite its previous promise to the larger body. It was pointed out that a dozen other large centres in Canada and the United States were opening their arms to the convention provided Montreal failed in its contract.

TO CARRY OUT SCHEME

Solve Soldiers' Problems.

He also referred to the delegation from the G. W. V. A. which waited upon him this afternoon. They had pointed out to him that all over Canada there is great dissatisfaction over the manner in which the legislation with respect to returned soldiers is being carried out. He had a letter from a friend in Montreal suggesting that a committee of Liberals in this house, including many who had served overseas, be appointed to take up the grievances of soldiers and bring them to the attention of the government. "I approve of that suggestion," said Mr. King amid applause. He publicly announced that this committee would be appointed.

CITY HALL NOTES

The first meeting of the new board of control was quite a pleasant affair and passed off without any friction, except that Controller Ramsden raised an objection to Controller Cameron being Maguire both taking at the same time and remarked he wanted the board to act as business men. The mayor informed the controller, "It's a hard job," but whether he referred to preventing two controllers talking at once or to the board being businesslike he did not explain.

Controller Maguire on the proposition of Controller Gibbons, was unanimously elected vice of the board.

Other appointments were also made. Controller Gibbons going on the commission on child labor, and Controller Cameron to the social service commission, and Controller Cameron to the firemen's benefit fund.

The board of control yesterday ordered the civic survey to present a report within 30 days of salary for 1920 that draft estimates from civic departments be presented by January 24, and that the various committees meet and deal with the estimates by Feb. 1.

City Solicitor Johnston was instructed by the board of control to oppose the bill of North York residents for the session from the city. The vote was four to one, Controller Cameron being the only dissenter. The other controllers supported the mayor in understanding that his assurance was correct that the situation would be solved within six weeks.

Controller Ramsden is after the civic solicitor and his opinion regarding the legality of the council spending $500 on the purchase of a house at Rosedale which it may be used as a club house. The mayor told the controller he was trying to make the solicitor "wobble." After a lot of discussion it was decided to take up the matter again at the estimates.

"I will not break an honorable agreement made with soldiers," said the directors' insurance came up before the board of control. "I move that a report be obtained." Controller Maguire: "Every boy who left for overseas was insured with his life was insured with no strings on it." "We'll get a report," said the mayor.

The board of control will hold a conference with Alderman General Raley on Friday with regard to the Children's Detention Home. The Children's Aid Society will not be able to carry on the detention home on Simcoe street after the end of next March, and they have a deficit of $8000 in consequence of conducting the home. The mayor is of opinion that if a new building is to be erected the province and not the city should pay for it.

The new board of health are unlikely to impose compulsory vaccination, so parents need have no fear of their children not being able to complete their school course. They will not be sent back from school any more.

Thirty-six new cases of smallpox were reported during the past 24 hours. The report is not so favorable as some of those received during the past few days. The following official table was issued yesterday by the M. O. H.:

Table with columns for New cases, Sent to hospital, Quarantined at home, Number of operations, Cause of exposure, Number discharged, Total since outbreak of epidemic, Total number in hospital, Under treatment at home, Total deaths, Total number of homes under quarantine, Total number of persons quarantined.

WOODBINE HEIGHTS FAVORS RADIALS

Attitude of Meeting to Supporters Angurs Unanimous Vote.

Woodbine Heights district can usually obtain an argument on any issue of a contentious nature, but the two meetings held last night at Gedhill mission house, 280 Woodbine, in support of the radial road, developed no such issues. It was announced that the vote will be practically unanimous, and a number of speakers, including Rev. Miller, spoke at both meetings on the advantage which will accrue to the district thru the building of the radial road.

Controller Maguire said Toronto had no objection about the success of the radial road, and an already organized committee to scout ten millions of dollars for the construction of the city had not yet started. He said the city had not paid a five-cent piece for the benefits conferred by Hydro.

W. F. Maclean pointed out that this road was not something for the distant future, but that a service would be provided in a few months. The service would be supplied at cost and the tendency would be to reduce rates rather than increase them.

Property Owners Urged.

He urged everyone who was a property owner to cast a vote on Saturday in favor of the bylaw.

Reeve Miller said that with a radial road passing thru the public school district there was no reason why the citizens there should not have a produce market and get provisions at the first cost. He looked forward to the time when every railway in Canada would be public owned, and that the Barker, Graham and McDonald line strongly endorsed the bylaw.

Mr. Keston, in the audience that he had looked carefully into the radial proposal and believed it was an excellent proposition and got support. Passengers would be carried for about a cent a mile and he was confident that the road would pay handsome profits after the first year.

The final meeting will be held tonight in the Presbyterian mission, Greenwood avenue, near Sampann avenue.

Home and School Club Ask Bigger Salaries for Teachers

That any and every means will be used to increase the present insufficient salaries of the public school teaching staffs was the decided opinion of the meeting of Palmerston Avenue Home and School Club, held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Keston, president, in the chair. The following resolution was endorsed and will be sent to the board of control: Resolved, that the salaries of Toronto public school teachers be increased to a living wage, i.e., 25 to 40 per cent. over and above present salaries, and that the minimum be $1,200 for day teachers, including whole day kindergarten teachers.

It was pointed out and deplored that the poor salaries paid in the past did not allow teachers to take a holiday or to live in comfort, and conditions have become increasingly difficult owing to the H. C. of L.

There is nothing like bending exercises, taking long walks, or chopping wood to keep the liver and bowels active, but most folks take their exercise in an easy chair. Such folks need Cascarets, else they suffer from sick headache, sour, acid stomach, indigestion, colds and are miserable. But don't stay bilious or constipated. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. They act without griping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil, or nasty, harsh Pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.

MONEY NEEDED FOR HOUSING SCHEME

Continuance of Ontario Pro- ject Will Remain With Legislature.

Like Government House, the liquor question and a few other items it appears that the matter of the continuance of the Ontario housing scheme will be left to the decision of the next session of the legislature. Some 1400 new houses have been erected under the scheme in various parts of the province, while a number of municipalities either have homes now in course of erection or are desirous of taking advantage of the facilities provided by the Ontario housing act. The Dominion government originally made a grant of $3,500,000 which was supplemented by the province to the extent of $2,000,000. To carry out the plans now in view no less a sum than another $3,000,000 is required. It is not expected that anything like this amount can be furnished by the Ontario government even in the event of approval being given to the scheme in general. It is suggested that a further request might be made to the Dominion government for assistance, but of course, this phase again depends upon the attitude adopted by the legislature.

Ontario Leads Provinces
Ontario has led all the other provinces in taking advantage of the financial assistance given by the Dominion authorities. Nothing at all practically has been done by the western provinces. It was only recently that Alberta sent to the Ontario government asking for details of the work accomplished here under the housing scheme. It is thought, therefore, that with this in mind the federal government might be inclined to still further encourage Ontario in erecting the homes so much desired by the people throughout the province.

Letters are being received almost daily at the offices in parliament buildings from municipalities either requiring more money or being desirous of taking advantage of the housing scheme and deputations to the provincial secretary, who is minister in charge of the department, are likely to come to Toronto in the near future to present the claims of the various districts affected.

GET IN HARD COAL, SAYS FUEL CONTROLLER

Notwithstanding repeated warnings issued by the fuel administration, the tentative settlement of the bituminous coal strike, appears to have lulled the hard coal consumer into a feeling of security against shortage; reports from cities and towns show that the consumer is not availing himself of the coal now coming into the province.

When navigation closed, a certain supply was released and is being forwarded into Ontario, but the imports are gradually decreasing, and the consensus of opinion is that before the end of the month, imports will fall far short of requirements. United States consumers now alive to the possibility of suspension of anthracite mining operations, are insistent in their demands for supplies; the steam sizes are in great demand and European difficulties cause a steady stream of orders for export coal.

The unusual severity of the weather in the north is diverting coal to meet requirements. To these causes of apprehension must be added car shortage, the most dangerous of all, and which has become acute. It must be borne in mind that for seven years the operators have had no opportunity to effect much-needed repairs, and a suspension of operations for this cause alone appears to be assured. The fuel administrator, therefore, warns the public to avert the consequences of inevitable shortage, by securing a full supply of hard coal at once.

SMALLPOX IN PROVINCE

There were 325 cases of smallpox reported throughout Ontario during the week ending January 10, an increase of 53 over the previous similar period. Of the 325, 146 were in Toronto.

HUSBAND GOES TO JAIL.

In the police court yesterday John Burrows was sentenced to three months at the jail farm and John O'Keefe fined $5 and costs for assault upon the wife of Burrows. Burrows denied that he had assaulted his wife, but admitted that he had been up before for robbery and aggravated assault upon his mother.

CHANGE IN COURTS

Magistrates Decide On Two Morning and Two Evening Criminal Courts.
Following a private meeting held by Magistrates Denison, Kingsford, Ellis and Cohen, yesterday afternoon, it was decided to hold two central morning courts and two evening courts in the future. Two central criminal courts will sit simultaneously at ten o'clock every morning at the city hall, with Colonel Denison presiding over one and Magistrate Peter Ellis over the other, until such time as Magistrate Kingsford has finished the business at the women's court.

The afternoon court will be continued as at present for a while, but eventually it will be abolished and give place to two evening courts, one in the east end and one in the west end of the city. Magistrate Cohen will preside at the east end evening court, which will likely be held at No. 1 (Court street) station, and Magistrate Peter Ellis will preside at the west end evening court, which will probably be held at No. 7 (Ossington avenue) police station. These courts will be held at 7.30 p.m.

Irresistible Furs

Have you ever longed to share your pleasure with others? If so, you know how I felt yesterday when I paid a visit to our fur section to see just what was being offered in our great reduction sales. What I saw was a revelation, and it was then I wished that every woman were with me to share my pleasure.

Such an array of rare, rich furs, such pliability, such artistic workmanship in the matching, such gorgeous glory of color in the linings—entered into the coats, capes, stoles, and other pieces. Above all, such reasonable prices. It seemed incredible that such luxurious garments were procurable at such a saving.

Imagine a dolman coat of Hudson Seal, with an unusually large collar of dark, downy beaver, that you just snugly into on a cold day, cuffs of beaver and a lining of glittering gold and green—French brocade, at the astonishing price of $400, though formerly the garment wore a price tag of $600!

A Hudson Seal Coat, with a large shawl collar of beautifully blended mink, showing four dark stripes around each side, has smart little French cuffs of the same mink. Lining of pussy willow silk. Lucky the woman who gets this $800 coat for its present price of $550. Other coats have trimmings of mole, Alaska sable, Australian opossum and squirrel.

Very striking was a seal cape with stripes of mole skin forming the trimming down the front ends, that crossed under a belt of seal. Glimpses of old blue and gold lining were revealed. This is moderately priced at $185, previous price $265.

Shawl stoles so suited to draping about the figure in the bunched way beloved this season, are to be had in moleskin, squirrel, mink, seal, and sable. Alaska sable of wonderful depth of fur has the stripes running all the one way, no back seam to break the ripples. Though formerly this was $235, it is now $175.

Silver fox of wonderful character, and a cross fox of uncommon depth of fur are two lovely stoles. Scarfs of black, taupe and cinnamon fox, as well as wolf, in the finer qualities are in the collection at various prices.

Every woman thinking of getting a fur should take advantage of this great sale.

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 15.

Germany at Peace!

Martial law in Germany indicates at least that a man has been discovered in Berlin who knows what he wants and how to get it. It is too soon yet to tell whether Gustave Noske is to be the Napoleon of the German revolution or whether he will be capable of playing the more benevolent part taken by Washington, Thiers, and other self-denying statesmen.

It is clear at least that the German authorities will not tolerate Bolshevism, which in Russia is considered worse than Tsarism, and in Germany would undoubtedly be regarded as a poor exchange for Kaiserism. The present government of the Kaiser, while it was so malevolent towards other nations, was not of policy regarding the domestic interests of its subjects. But they were very much subjects, and may take a generation or two to grow out of the habit.

We are now at peace with Germany, and it is to our interest that Kaiserism and everything pertaining to it be extinguished in that land, and new ideals cultivated, a new spirit incarnated, a new land organized where righteousness, which is justice, might dwell.

In a few years the authors of the crime of 1914 will have passed away. A generation will see their aiders and abettors following them into darkness. It will be well if they who follow be not reared in the atmosphere of suspicion and the fear of a real hatred as their fathers lived in the fear of a chimerical foe conjured up by the Kaiser. Nobody hated Germany prior to 1914. It will be necessary to exercise much restraint if that condition is to be restored.

The economic revival and restoration of Germany is necessary to the welfare of the rest of Europe, but Germany without a clean heart and a right spirit would be better in weakness and poverty. Yet we cannot expect Germany to be better than the rest of the world. This is what makes the attitude of the other nations towards the peace treaty and the league of nations so important. If we are unable to live for the ideals for which we fought we cannot expect any superiority of virtue from Germany.

Suspending the Socialists.
The lower house of the New York legislature has suspended five members upon the ground that they belonged to revolutionary societies which aimed to overthrow the constitution of the United States. The charge was made by the Speaker of the house, and was based upon information furnished by the attorney-general. The members are not expelled, but are being tried by the judiciary committee.

The leading newspapers and many public men, including Hon. Charles E. Hughes, have denounced the action as tyrannical. Bernard Shaw has riddled it with his shafts of sarcasm. It is significant, however, that the vote for suspension carried almost unanimously and a large majority of the members seem determined to carry on the vote to the bitter end.

Every legislative body has the exclusive right to judge of the qualifications and elections of its own members. The parliament of Upper Canada for years refused to seat Phillip Dorland because he was a Quaker, also Prince Edward Island returned him time after time to parliament. The British house for years refused to seat Charles Bradlaugh because he was an atheist and refused to take the oath. The American house of representatives refused to seat a member because he had four wives, although he may be conscientiously believed in the teaching of the Mormon church. The members of the New York legislature may dislike to associate with Socialists just as members of other legislative bodies have shown an aversion to atheists and men over-married.

The point is made, however, that these five members of the New York legislature are being persecuted for their views, and that Socialists will be compelled to resort to violence if they be disfranchised by having the members they elect to the legislature unseated. Generally speaking it is unwise to curtail the right of a constituency to return whom it pleases to parliament. Our Canadian house of commons denied the right of Provencher to be represented by Louis Hiel when under indictment for high treason. But as a rule British parliaments have found it safer to admit members thought by some to be undesirable, than to curtail the rights of the people to choose their own representatives in parliament.

Hydro power to meet its obligations. The subject is not one of those over which Mr. Henderson, the able salt chief, becomes jovial, especially as the salt and power contract must be observed for several years, even though the D. U. R. death here has been swallowed up in the Hydro victory.

It has been stated in this correspondence that the lighting plant and business of the railway goes into civil account at $190,000. One who should know says the railway's salt-power as against hydro juice itself will just about have paid for the lighting equipment when the salt company's contract has run out an unexampled commercial situation, of course, but on which shows that public ownership sometimes has a good side of a deal with private interests.

Limestone and Sodium Wed.
While we are on salt, a paragraph on the Amherstburg aspect of the radial development is germane. Amherstburg is eighteen miles from Windsor, and the railway now being transferred to the Hydro goes there. Amherstburg's production of the $2,000,000 liability for the purchase is $128,887, or about $30 per head of the population—equivalent to a Toronto liability of $15,000,000.

The drive was to salt a new vein for Amherstburg. The salt seam does not come nearer than four miles to the little town. But limestone rock abounds thereabout, and the newly developed possibilities for the marriage of sodium and limestone. The Brunner-Mond Company built a factory at Amherstburg, to manufacture chemicals for munitions purposes, using salt and limestone.

The armistice prevented fulfilment of contracts that depended on a state of war. It was thought that as the development of great chemical plants in the States had produced great quantities of the commodities the Amherstburg plant was designed for, that the factory would be left as one of the dead memorials of Armageddon that must bury their dead. The Brunner-Mond place became silent and deserted, but only for a while.

Manufacture is going on with, I am told, about eight hundred employees, and promise of indefinite expansion. Brine is piped four or five miles to the factory. Limestone is close at hand. Brunner-Mond's greatest asset is the chemical manufacturers in the world. Amherstburg, while it isn't immediately within the prospect of municipal unity with Windsor, Sandwich, Ojibway, Walkerville and Port City in the imposing city of Amherstburg, is a participant in the new industrial rise, and its businessmen are among those who buy of their habitation. "The best is yet to be."

Leamington is Wealthy.
But Amherstburg is not the only segregated town that is in the beneficial radial circuit of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. Taking over the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg railway is merely the inaugural of public radials in this happy peninsula. The Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore Rapid Railway connects Windsor with Leamington thirty-five miles away. It runs thru one of the richest farming territories in America. Leamington is one of the wealthiest agricultural towns in the world. This whole country is extremely rich, but it is the opposite of state and unprofitable.

From east of Chatham to the Detroit River, corn has always been a great crop; sections of the country reminding you of northern Indiana and Illinois. But sugar beets and tobacco are coming into their own—beets on the St. Clair side, the watered, and tobacco mainly on the Erie side. The profit from mouth-watering stories of the profits made in tobacco—up to four figures an acre. Beets do consistently well for their growers. Then there are fruit-growing possibilities that are only beginning to be thoroughly understood. These developments in agriculture mean great prospects for an increased population, because they predicate much more intensive cultivation and much more abundant labor than is utilized by farms in less salubrious counties. During the war regiments of Mexicans were imported to work among the beets of Kent. You hear diverting stories about their ways and means of living—for instance, how they could not be induced to buy clothes, preferring to consume cream by the bucketful, and how they wished they could stay in Canada all the time.

Farm Workers Share Profits.
Other classes of labor have reached the tobacco region—Belgians, for instance. One learns of difficulties that the hired cultivator's notions of profit-sharing with the farm owners—a phase of the dictation of the proletariat that is a social study more than a radial story. The main thing is, the that South Essex is a great tobacco county, and peculiarly suitable for radial development. The famous Pelee Island is an adjunct of Leamington radially considered—and you would be mightily interested in a tour of a place where the Hon. Dr. Reame used to tell us peanuts are a natural product and in exploring Hen Island, Big Chicken Island, Little Chicken Island, East Sister Island and Middle Sister Island, which are off Pelee, in Essex, but beyond the ken of voters' lists.

depopulation. That belongs to the federal field. Some things, however, the provincial government can do. The first effort will be to provide good roads. He complained that he was misrepresented; said he is opposed to good roads. That is because he could not be convinced by people who seem to think what is wanted is a cross province race track or speedway. Concentration of revenue from automobiles licenses to the construction of an inter-provincial highway will not find support.

disposed of satisfactorily. The World learned yesterday that another $100,000 can be accounted for, as these were handed to the Dominion Bank to be forwarded to Ottawa for conversion from bearer to registered bonds. This leaves $150,000 to be accounted for on the opening of the safe.

Mr. Minihinnick, the manager of the London (Ont.) Theatre lately owned by Mr. Small, and now transferred to the Trans-Canada Theatre Company, was at the King Edward last night. He told The World he could not understand Mr. Small's disappearance and knew no more about it now than when The World first announced it. "On the other hand," said Mr. Minihinnick, "if Mr. Small wanted to go away for a quiet rest, that was his business, and no one else's business." Mr. Minihinnick declares he feels that all is well with Mr. Small, and that nothing serious has happened to him. He says he has a distinct belief that the missing man will soon be heard from.

No. 85.
When Mary and Maggie arrived on the beach the fisherman had only six fish left, which he offered for 48 cents, so the girls pooled their money and took the mess.

Mary contributed 30 cents and Maggie 18 cents. They intended to divide their purchase in proportion to their relative investments when they spied Martha hurrying to the scene. Having cornered the market they were enabled to unload two of the fish upon the late arrival for the cost of the whole six.

After Martha had departed Mary and Maggie proceeded to divide the 48 cents as they thought right, and then each of them took two of the remaining fish and went their respective ways.

Now, if the girls made an equitable division of that 48 cents, who can tell just how much each of them should have received?

CHAPTER 88.
Meantime—
In a tiny office on the top floor of an old-fashioned office building, a young man compressed his lips into a straight, determined line, and kept his thoughts for eight hours a day pretty closely upon his work. It was not always easy to do.

Harry Morton was his own office manager, and his own office boy as well. And when he had any letters to send out, he wrote them himself on a second or third hand typewriter that had cost him two months' lunches. He picked out the keys one at a time, and was rather glad that a letter took most of an hour to turn out, because it kept him occupied that length of time.

One could not draw plans continuously for houses that nobody wanted to put up.
Today, following his usual habit, he laid aside his work promptly at 5, went down the elevator, and out into the street. He stopped for a moment to look wistfully at the line of waiting autos at the curb. Louise used to come here and wait for him at 5, and they would drive home together—"home," that is, to her father's house.

"This is nice," Harry said, as he climbed into her luxurious car and turned to look at her. "You're looking as charming as ever. I haven't seen you for two weeks."
"No, I've been down at the shore. I took a party down and I opened up that new addition you built."
"Like it?" Harry asked.

"Very much, and it was greatly admired. Everyone says you've improved my place wonderfully by your plans for the new wing. I should not be surprised if you found some new work (thru some of the people I had down)."
"You're awfully good," Harry answered gratefully. "But, you know, it's a shame the way I depend on you. Most of my work has come thru you."
"My boy, you've not grown rich on it. Don't be grateful until you do."

Just how much each of them should have received?

The Boot For a Man

There's not a man tramping the snowy streets these January days but delights in a stout, heavy, comfortable pair of boots. Boots that will not grow slimy at the first slight thaw; boots that reflect the substantiality of their make-up, the ease of the wearer, and yet a becoming style and finish. These wishes are embodied in the celebrated Victor Boot. It has a name for satisfaction. Discriminating men insist on it.
