Sale Extra-Ordinary Manufacturer's Samples At Manufacturer's Prices

THE W. S. PODAY Showers.

According to Webster's Dictionary "Extra-ordinary" means - UNCOMMON - REMARKABLE - WONDERFUL RARE. We don't believe we could find another word that describes as correctly the real significance of this sale. It is not unusual for us to give our customers the price benefits of goods we secure from manufacturers at less than usual values. Quite the reverse. But to sell a manufacturer's entire collection of samples, consisting of Walsts, Skirts and Shirtwaist

Suits, all correct autumn and winter styles, at MANUFACTURER'S PRICES-that's UNCOMMON And the values an truly REMARKABLE. Just think for a minute. Here, on Saturday, you have the chance to buy these garments at the same prices the manufacturer charges the big wholesalers and drygoods merchants. That's approaching pretty close to WONDERFUL. Isn't it? And there's no mistake in saying this EXTRA-ORDINARY Sale affords a RARE opportunity. Every woman who knows anything about real values will pronounce this sale the BARGAIN EVENT of He never knew whether it was the anxiety of affection or the workings of the basest self-interest that had prompted her close and searching questionings concerning the state of har grandfather's health, and he was a little ashamed of himself afterward that, being so overcome by the novelty and charm of the situation, he had been taken off his guard, and had answered her questions more fully and swell-nigh withered heart, and his well-nigh withered heart, and swered her questions more fully and more unreservedly than he had felt it quite right to do.

The Tratalgar Centenary.

The centenary of Trafalgar and the death of Nelson are being celebrated in the public schools of this city today with patriotic exercises. The main outlines of the battle, and the events immediately preceding it, as set forth in the latest, and perhaps the most authoritative biography of the sailor hero, may be briefly related.

Nelson's flagship, the Victory, got under way at Spithead on Sept. 15, and with its consorts reached the British fleet fifteen or twenty miles west of Cadiz, Spain, on Sept. 28. On Oct. 9 Nelson's plan of battle was

BAPTISTS LOOK FOR BIG REVIVAL

Interesting Discussion on the State of Religion-Financial Report Surpasses All.

The "State of Religion," perhaps the most important report of all, was read by Rev. C. J. Cameron, B.A., at the only way to get the Delhi people to Baptist convention this morning. In the discussion, the absolute necessity of revival work was emphasized, and many expressions of earnest trust that such an event would happen were elicited.

> the oldest delegates, as the greatest that has yet been held. In many other points besides finances, the report showed better increased results than had the previous year shown, and in some cases better than any year for a

The desirability of providing residences for pastors was discussed, and found favor in the minds of the majority of the delegates.

Rev. F. C. Elliot, of Waterford, delivered the last of the daily morning sermons, and his address was a fitting close to a series of very creditable efforts. The basis of his sermon was "Yes," answered Mr. Meekton. "When found in I. John v., 4, and summarized, his remarks deal; with the fundamental principles that underly the Gospel of Jesus Christ. In this age of inquiry, we should feel sure that the foundation upon which we build is permanent. The relation of Christianity and the Gospel of Jesus Christ to a questioning world was the main thought of the address. The preacher was an agent, not a principal, in the uplifting of mankind. Education was the training of the mind, not that of the soul. Organization, such as lodges, societies, etc., was not a panacea for human ills, although many thought that it was. Legislation was regarded as a mighty force in "For what occasion?"

"The new cook is coming tomorrow, organizations touched the hearts of tivity of the human mind was bespoke. The anarchist, the socialist, the Christian Scientist, theosophy, were all re-ferred to. What should be done with Mr. Happieman (with a brave attempt at pleasantry). Why so pensive?

The largest record of baptisms in the denomination's history had occurred during the past year, 2,283 being the total number, an increase of 655 over the previous year. One quarter of these were the result of home mission work. One baptism had occurred to every sixteen members, a noteworthy fact. This is the best record for the space of five years. The year of 1904-5 was the best financial year in the history of the convention. Eighteen ordinations had taken place during the year, the largest number for years. Fourteen of these were McMaster students. One hundred and nineteen changes among If there are no women angels, as 290 pastorates had occurred. Feli Off the Wharf.

Kingston, Oct. 20. — A young man named Rankin, while seeking to board the steamer India in last night's rain, fell off the wharf at the government drydock and was drowned. He screemed as he fell and callors tried to rescue him, but he was dead when brought from the water. He was aged 19, and belonged, it is thought, to Deseronte.

The Strongest Overcoat Quartette

"TOURIST." Out of a score of splendid overcoat styles we pick these four for mention today. They're not just good overcoats, they're the best coats that you've seen yet, coats really better than anything we can say about them. You'll see in these garments tailoring that's unique in its goodness; linings and trimmings of the "custom-made" grade, and you'll find a smart distinctive style and a perfectness of fit that's making the most critical of men enthusiastic here every day. But come in yourself and see them. You're as free as air to go out without buying, if you wish. The coats themselves will do all the coaxing that'll be done.

"Chamberlain" A clever coat style, named after a clever named after a clever man. It's cut 46 inches long, with a full hanging back. Splendid wide, handpadded shoulders and medium width collar that hugs the neck closely. Made with or without vent in center seam. Materials are imported cheviots, thibets, meltons and kerseys, in plain grays, black and browns, and in neat $10.00 to $18.00

The "Varsity" The most popular, probably, of all overcoat styles. It's cut 50 to 52 inches long with salard broad, athletic shoulders, and large, full back with deep center vent. Collar and lapels a bit wider than last year. We show it in scores of rich handsome tweed designs, in latest shades and colorings, including the newest olive and brown shades, as well as plain blacks and grays, in cheviots and $8.50 to $25.00

be had nowhere but here. Here's a coat that appeals strongly to the dressiest fellows. It's cut between the "Chamberlain" and "Varsity" in length, and has the same splendid shoulders and perfect-hanging back with the deep center vent. It comes in the quieter shades and colorings, such as black and white, bronze and plain blacks. Truly $10.00 to $18.00

Originally a traveling coat, but now worn for a dress coat. This coat comes in both single and double breasted styles, with collar of itself. It's in 50 to 52 inch lengths. Made with the broad shoulders that distinguish all our coats, and with full back with long vent and belt. It comes for the most part in more pronounced tweed patterns, in all the

The Smartest Fall and Winter Suits

There's nothing of the "$12 for $8 50" suggestion about these smart suits we're showing. They've been made better than we've ever had suits made before, and they're the fastest kind of sellers at these prices we ask. Scores and scores of patterns that are confined to ourselves, and many styles you'll not see elsewhere till next season. Judge suit values as you will—by style, by perfectness of fit, by goodness of making, by quality of cloth and trimmings, and you'll say these are easily the best in town.

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS.

The Philadelphia crowd are game. They are giving the Athletics a great reception (in spite of their trimming by the Giants), for which the newspapers are paying. The Athletics are a good team, all right. The newspapers are trying to figure out what would have happened had Matthewson been out of the Giants' line-up, as Waddell was out of the Athletics'. There it goes again. Games do not prove anything.

The worst has happened. Now the ladies are getting into the football argument that President Roosevelt started. Lady Charles Fitzpatrick has been interviewed by an eastern reporter and is quoted as saying:

"Oh, the brutality of your game! Why, if a player's leg was broken, or he was knocked unconscious in England, the game would be stopped and the spectators dismissed. But don't think for a moment that we English don't think that anything so dangerous is sport."

Lady Kirkpatrick makes a bad argument. You couldn't induce a boy to train for his college eleven if he didn't think that in some big game, before a big crowd, he would be led, battered, bruised and bleeding, to the side lines, while the entire attendance looked on, and the notebooks got busy with the old and ever popular: "Tears streaming from his eyes, fighting against being taken out, gamely protesting that he could go on though his strength was exhausted, he was led," etc.—Detroit Free Press.

Matching Al Kaufmann against Jack O'Brien looks a good deal like putting up the entire bank roll on a long shot. Probably Billy Delaney figures it that way, and intends to make or break with the Frisco lad, who has just equeezed into the professional ranks. While it's tough on Kaufmann to be pent against a foxy old campaigner like the suave Philadelphian in his second fight for the magic green slips, some consider Delaney is wise in arranging the match. If Kaufmann succeeds in knocking out, O'Brien and that's the only way he can win from him, why the veteran manager has a regular inpurance proposition, while if the Pacific boy is forced to take the sleep pelet, Delaney will save both time and money by the knowledge that his man is only another of the nearly good fighters.

The 2:04 pace at Lexington was a most sensational contest, resulting in the three fastest heats seen in a harness race this year, in fact the fastest time ever witnessed since the race in 1903, in which Prince Alert and Dan R. took part, and which was won by the first named horse in 2:0314, and 8:031/2, after Dan R, had won the first heat in 2:01%. The time of the Lex-Ington race, 2:02%, 2:03 and 2:04%, marks the winner Locanda, by Allerton, Ps one of the greatest pacers the turf has known; indeed, he has never been given the credit for being the high-class pacer this race shows him en-

When Norman B. won the third and fourth heats of the 2:06 trot at Lex-Ington in 2:06% and 2:07%, after Dr. Strong had won the first in 2:05%, and Snyder McGregor the second in 2:051/4, the game son of Phallas established new record for a four-heat trotting race. The record was formerly held by Dan T., by Crawford, he having won a race in which the time was 2:06%, 2:07¼, 2:08¾ and 2:07¼, in 1603.

Gratt, 2:051/2, by Grattan, is the fourth new 2:10 performer for his sire this year. There is sure to be another one in Black Grattan before the close of the season—a total of five, a greater number than any one sire ever before put into the select 2:10 list in one season.

In other words, President Roosevelt would like to cut out the rough-house without transforming football into a parlor game.

"Chief" Bender, who twirled the Philadelphia Athletics to victory in the second game of the world's series on Tuesday, a week ago, is the first Indian who ever took part in a world's series. In the old days, when world's perles were the proper caper between National League and American Association pennant winners, Indians of the aberigine brand had not been given a place in baseball. True, the old Mets, winners of the A. A. pennant on one br two occasions, harbored "Chief" Roseman, who was an Indian in his way, but so far as pedigree was concerned, had not a drcp of Indian blood in his veins Eender according to reports, is a typical representative of his racebeing just sufficiently below the white man's standard to be coddled into do-Ing anything that his manager might suggest—and to the proper exercise of this influence on the part of Manager Connie Mack, much of the Indian's success as a twirler is due. Like the negro on the stage, who, ( according to his own statement, "will work himself to death if you jolly him," the Indian can be "conned" into taking up any sort of burden. Bender's success on the dlamond will undoubtedly prove an incentive for other Indian ball players to Improve themselves, and in the future we may see more redmen on the diamond than the game has known in the past. Eender is a Carlisle Indian School graduate, is not stockily built, yet in his day gained considerable fame as a football player. Sporting Life.

Speculation is rife since Terry McGovern beat Murphy in a minute, as to whether he will retrieve his lost pugilistic laurels. Such things are rare, but it is possible that he may. He was a popular champion in his day, and a most spectacular fighter. Terrible Terry may be champion again.

Look out for our juniors. They are working hard, and will be in good Shape to tackle Sirnia on Saturday. The patronage ought to be good, as the "youngsters' are doing their best to keep the game alive in this city. They have the material to make a champion team if it is whipped into shape.

The Tigors have some new play: up their sleeves for the Argos on Saturday next, If they work many like that criss-cross, the Toronto bunch will be cross-eyed for months, if they try to figure them out. The Londons are not the only team to be outclassed. If the Tigers get a chance for the Dominion championship they will make the Rough Riders hurry. They can't beat the enterpers at the old scrimmage game, but with a game at each of the different style, the Tigers ought to win on points. They ought to play the Burnside game first, or by the time the Rough Riders get through with them at the old game, there will not be enough of them left to have a wellconducted funeral.

The auto racing gune is becoming so cufe that it is losing all interest. It is far too harmless of late.

The All-National and All-American star teams will not go on their barnstorming trip to the Pacific coast. The westerners did not warm up to the proposition very much, since such stars as Matthewson, Lajoie, Wagner and Keeler were not making the trip. The great players draw the money.

Auto drivers took the Chicago bylaw making the speed limit ten miles an hour as a joke, but when many licenses were revoked by the chief of police they began to sit up and take notice. It is not a bad idea to show auto scor hers that there is a piece of earth reserved for pedestrians.

Some few days ago, says the Denoit Free Press, attention was called in these columns to the fact that the Providence Club, whose winning of the Eastern League pennant was the most sensational baseball stunt of the year-involving a run of four een consecutive victories was almost entirely a veteran organization. Jack Dunn, Jerry Nops, Jack Cronin, Walter Brodle, Hermas McFarland and a number of other members of the club were instanced to denote the material of which Dunn made a pennant

It is going that way all over the country. The supply of good youngsters is inadequate, and the real stars of the minors are men who have gone back from the big league, or who have been knocking around in the slow classes so long that they are a little too old for picking. Official batting averages of the American Association, admittedly the fastest of the minor leagues this year, are out, and show that what is true of the Eastern League is true of this representative western organization.

Glancing through the list of big hitters we find Hemphill, of St. Paul, and Jones, of Minneapolis, leading the list. The latter comes to Detroft, and, while a young man, is not new to the big leagues, having been with McAleer at St. Louis, last year with Washington; Pickering, of many big league nines; Dexter, of whom the same may be said; Geler, once with Philadelphia, and Wyatt Lee, the old Washington pitcher, are among the .300

Then there are Dan Kerwin and other veterans in the minor ranks, with a very light sprinkling of youngsters. Incidentally, Eddie Siever hit .293 for 36 games, which doesn't help to make the .300 hitters look good, as sticking never was Sie-
