The operation at Vaux appeared to be a feint, for soon after it began the Germans attacked all along the Marne, where they were gallantly opposed by more of the American troops and the French.

Americans Counter-Attack.
Shortly after 11 o'clock, one of the American infantry regiments launched a counter-attack in the region of Conde. Word received here shows that the enemy also launched an attack east of Rheims, but on the sectors on that front on which French and Americans are fighting side by side the positions are reported intact.

The American machine gunners here came close to their positions and then opened a deadly fire into the advancing close formations of Germans.

Held at Rheims.

Reports received here shortly after 11 a.m. on the fighting to the east of Rheims said that the enemy up to about an hour previously had made no progress whatever there.

Of the Great Northwestern dispute.

[Spécial to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, July 15.—An impasse appears to have been reached in connection with the railway dispute, which threatens to end in a strike of the federated trades of all Canadian railraods. After long and tedious negotiations the railway war board, which has been negotiating with the men rests its case on the offer of the McAdoo award in the United States with all amendments which may later be made to that award.

As the federation is international, and as 90 per cent of its membership is in the United States, and therefore affected by the McAdoo award, the railway war board's offer is considered to be the very best which can be conceded.

However, negotiations have again been shifted to Ottawa, and a further conference between the board, the men and the cabinet is in progress today. There is a bare quorum of the latter.

That the Government should take control of the railways and thus "govern" the employees is something which has been suggested unofficially, but which officially is not believed to have been considered.

A DESPERATE STRUGGLE.

8:51 a.m.—At this hour it had not been determined how the battle in the vicinity of Vaux was progressing. The whole line in both directions from that town was dense with smoke and gas captured has yet been collected fumes. The roar of the cannonade was punctuated in the few intermissions with a terrific din of machine-gun and rifle fire, which seemed of the hottest character in Vaux itself. In this locality it was not known whether the Germans in this attack had begun another offensive, but the intensity of the fighting indicated to those near the scene that the operation was a renewal of the general attack that had been expected.

PLAYING FOR

London, July 15.—The feeling in London on the situation following the German attack in France is that the developments are quite satisfactory.

[By Associated Press.] Official reports relative to the grand offensive begun this morning against the Allied positions, show that it is the most ambitious stroke since March 21 when the Germans launched their assault against the British lines from the vicinity of Arras to La Fere. The front in the March 21 offensive was reported to have been about 55 miles in length. The one over which the Germans

The one over which the Germans are attacking today approximately 50 miles from Chateau Thierry, on the west, to Massiges in the Champagne, on the east.

The Germans followed their most recent tactics of beginning an offensive. There was a brief artillery preparation of greatest violence, and then came the advance of assault troops.

Using Naval Guns.

There seems, however, to have been a new feature in this attack. Great naval guns had been brought up behind the enemy lines, and towns and cities far behind the actual battle area were taken under bombardment. The violence of this cannonade is evidenced by the fact that the city of Meaux, 25 miles west of Chateau Thierry, was under fire of great projectiles during the night.

fire of great projectiles during the night.

The apparent purpose of the Germans attacking along the line from Chateau Thierry east along the Marne, over the rolling hills to Rheims and thence eastward to Massiges, was similar to that in the great attack along the Aisne late in May. They evidently hoped to find the Allies less well prepared in this sector than elsewhere. In spite of the repulse of the Germans before Rheims early in June. it may be that the Allied line eastward from Chateau Thierry had been more thinly held than that from Chateau Thierry north to the Aisne and thence through the Picardy sector to Ypres.

Playing for Surprise.

German assaulting troops thus

German assaulting troops thus might expect to encounter less vio-lent resistance in the sectors east of Chateau Thierry and the Germans possibly hoped for gains which even would compel an Allied retirement from the Verdun and St. Mihiel from the Verdun and St. Mihiel sectors.

The north bank of the Marne is held by the Germans for a distance of some 20 miles east of Chateau Thierry. A successful attack in the Rheims area might force the Allies back on the Marne still further east and give the Germans command of the communication system by which the French and American troops at Verdun and St. Mihiel are supplied with food and munitions. In this district is the city of Chalons, which is reputed to be an important supply centre. It is about portant supply centre. It is about 18 miles back of the line, where mighty armies are locked in a death struggle today.

Rheims Is Storm Centre.

Americans are engaged in the battle at Chateau Thierry and eastward along the Marne for some distance. Their positions extend northwest of Chateau Thierry to the village of Torey, on the Clignon River, and eastward along the Marne to Jaulgonne, where they have been engaged in local fighting recently. Gen. Liggett has about 220,000 men, the first army corps. in this sector. So far as known no American troops are in the neighamerican troops are in the neighborhood of Rheims, which seems to be the centre of the tremendous storm loosed by the enemy at dawn today. There have been Italian forces on the line to the southwest of Rheims, under attack in the present drive.

London, July 15 .- The Germans have crossed the Marne at several places in their offensive begun this morning, according to advices received here.

The main attack, it is added, seems to be in the Champagne. The advices to this effect came to the Central News.

Advices received here regarding the German offensive commenced this morning state that the attack began on a front of 30 miles between Chateau Thierry and Bligny, southwest of Rheims. The Germans also attacked east of Rheims, between Prunay and Maison-de-Champagne, on a front of 25 miles.

Paris, July 15 .- On the front between Chateau Thierry and the Main-de-Massiges the Germans attacked this morning, the war office announces. The French are meeting the shock of the enemy attack with energy, and the battle continues.

The struggle is proceeding on a front of about 80 kilometres (approximately 50 miles).

PARIS SEES SKIES ABLAZE AS NEW OFFENSIVE STARTS

Paris, July 15.—The inhabitants of Paris and the suburbs, says the Matin, heard violent artillery firing in the early hours today. The sky oward the east was constantly lit up as if by a great electrical storm.

Those who were on the boulevards after midnight listened to the cannonade, while small groups gathered on the high points of the city to watch the distant heavens. The noise of the firing was particularly loud in the southern part of the city.

The sector of the battleline nearest Paris is that west of Chateau Thierry, about 45 miles east northeast of the French capital. French and American troops are barring the German pathway there.

Conservation of Resources and Merchandise Is Emphasized in This July Linen Sale

Buying now in this great sale is one way of helping the Government and being very practical yourselves. Good old qualities are offered this week at prices that will not again prevail for many, many months, and perhaps years; in some cases we have been advised that prices will never again be as low. Appreciating our duty to our customers, we are not taking advantage of conditions, but are passing this merchandise along to you, just the way we would under ordinary conditions. July sale clearance only can make these prices for high-grade merchandise.

MEN OF PERMANENT FORCE NOW BELONG TO G. E. F., IS ORDER where he is spending a week's hold days.

This Means Slight Change in Pay.

Advice received at military headquarters here from Ottawa states that all officers and men in Canada who belong to the permanent active militia, or who are on the staff of any military district, shall be officers and men of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, and will receive pay as such, starting June 22. This order affects many on the headquarters staff here, who are members of the Canadian military staff clerks. This corps was a distinct unit, apart from the C. E. F., but is now taken into the latter by this recent order.

The C. M. S. C. regulations entitled members to purchase their own clothes, for which they received a clothing allowance, but the new order cancels this, and the men will be issued with regulation clothing similar to that worn by the expeditionary forces.

Members of the staff clerks will be entitled to receive separation allowance for their wives and dependents, as they are now classed on the same basis as the expeditionary force.

Presbyterians Join Hands With Baptists For Church Services

Real Union Shown by King and Adelaide Street Congregations.

The good feeling existing between various denominations in the city is strikingly evidenced by the fact that two congregations, one a Presbyterian, the other a Baptist, have by unanimous vote agreed to hold union services during the month of August.

King Street Presbyterian Church and Adelaide Street Baptist Church are situated in the same block, within a stone's throw of one another. But there is no stone-throwing. Instead, the greatest goodwill prevails. The morning service will be held in one church, the evening in the other, as it is against the principles of either church to close doors completely, even for a few weeks. Rev. J. H. Boyd, pastor of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, preaches the first Sunday, and Rev. W. R. McIntosh, the second, while visiting ministers have been secured for the last two as both resident pastors are then on holidays.

STREET RAILWAY WILL BE DISCUSSED BY CITY COUNCIL THIS EVENING

Company Likely To Be Ordered to Restore Old Schedule.

The city council will hold its second July meeting tonight. Two old matters that have been before the council off and on for some time, may be settled permanently. One is the rental of market stalls. This matter has been before the council every meeting since the last one in March, besides weathering the gale before No. 1 committee and the board of control. Tonight the council will face a recommendation to increase the rentals $3 and give a three years' lease. Undoubtedly the majority of the members of the council will avor the increase in rents, but the lease clause may have a tempestuous passage.

Street Railway Matters. The street railway will be in the lime-tht. There are two or three recom-endations to deal with. The first is that the company restore its sched-as ordered under the bylaw. This undoubtedly meet with approval. Ashplant's motion to charge $1 for pringbank cars leaving the corner undas and Richmond street would e caused, in the ordinary course vents, no small discussion. When vas before the committee a couple he aldermen were talked into a deep or, and the mayor and others were out of the room. However, the efr recommendation that the matter first submitted to the city solicitor, is the legal aspect of the case, which really a question of whether the city the power to collect such a fee, is utmost importance, the debate will utmost importance, the debate will ely stand over until Mr. Meredith is Sunday Cars to Springhank During the hot debate at the commit-ee meeting, a communication dealing with another street railway matter was werlooked. It was a letter from the with another street railway matter was overlooked. It was a letter from the Independent Labor party, calling for a vote upon the question of Sunday cars to Springbank. This matter may be disposed of tonight. There are not a few of the aldermen in favor of the proposal. Controller Merryfield has been urging the matter for some time.

As Engineer Brazier is holidaying no fireworks may be expected from that quarter tonight, although tilts and slams at Mr. Brazier have become a regular thing at council meetings whether the engineer has been present of not.

a north end resident on Sunday, July 7th.

The three men were arrested on Sunday night by P. C.'s M. Frayne and J. Mackey in the vicinity of the house from which the ale had been taken. The case of empty bottles was found in a lane close by, and a horse and buggy were also found in the lane. In the evidence it was established that these three men drove the horse and buggy and left it in the lane. Over a dozen witnesses were examined but Magistrate Graydon decided that the evidence was not sufficiently strong against the three accused and they were acquitted. Two boys of 11 years of age were called to give evidence for the crown.

Crown Attorney McKillop prosecuted, and E. T. Essery represented the Bugler brothers, while E. W. M. Flock defended Peter Baccrea.

Rochester. N. Y., July 14.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, unofficially representing the British Government and Lieut. Adrien De Pachmann, representing the French high commission, were the principal speakers at a large meeting which featured Rochester's celebration of Bastile Day yesterday. Mrs. Pankhurst appealed to the women of the world to pledge their very livest efforts to perpetuate the principles which they hold in common with France since they mean more to women than to men. "Let us even perish from the earth as a nation, so that liberty may live in the world," she said.

Lieut. De Pachmann scorned sympathy for France, saying that she is stronger in spirit now than ever. TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE. [Reported by Edward Cronyn & Co.] Asked. As Asked. Bid 63½ 93 16 do pfd. 80½ 79½ Tor Ry. 59

COUNCIL COMMITTEE MAY ADVISE SOME CHANGES, IS REPORT

Fire Department Probe Still

The probe into the fire department by the special council committee continues. This morning it held a long session. Many firemen, including Capt. Tom Cozer, were before it. It is likely that t will be well on in the week before the hearing is concluded and the committee has brought in a finding. Members of the committee are mum lief that there may be recommenda of changes in the conduct of the department. Just what these are, however t is a little early to try and surmise but the opinions seems to prevail that the chief will be permitted to delegate some of the details of his work to junior officers, thus lightening his labors.

Success in Albania.

In Albania the Allied troops continue to advance, and Vienna declares they are approaching the new Austrian "line of resistance," which probably means the Semeni River. On the west the Italians maintain their pressure against the enemy. French troops in the east rapidly are clearing up the Devoil and Tomorica Valleys. Two towns and an important hill are included in their latest captures. British trops show some signs of activity near Doiran, Macedonia, but there has been no fighting of moment.

Macedonia, but there has been no fighting of moment.

German news dispatches report that British troops in Northern Russia have occupied the White Sea port of Kem, west of Archangel and southeast of Kola. German and Finnish forces have been reported approaching Kem, which is also a railway junction, and the most likely place for the Germans and Finns to attempt to cut the railway running north to Kola and the Murman coast. Kem probably has been held by Russians friendly to the Allies.

Kazan, 430 miles east of Moscow, has been captured by the Czecho-Slovak troops after violent fighting with the Bolsheviki. The city is an important commercial point near the Volga River.

[By The Associated Press.]

...British troops on the front southwest of Ypres have carried out a successful local attack. The Germans were pushed back east of Dickebusch Lake, the scene of much heavy fighting during the repulse of German efforts to advance from Kemmel Hill, and lost 260 prisoners. Aerial activity is very marked, especially on the part of the Germans, who announce officially the bombing of large cities and railway centres in Northern France. This is the first report of this kind made by Berlin in several weeks, and may have been made to counteract the effect of Allied raids on Rhine cities. Abbeville and the regions of St. Pol. Doullens, Crepy-en-Valois and Villers-Cotterets have been attacked by enemy airmen. All these cities are behind the Allied lines and between Ypres and Rheims, hitherto the main fighting area.

Sixteen German machines have been accounted for by British air fighters. On railway lines, trains, camps and other targets behind the enemy lines, British bombers have dropped 23 tons of explosives.

Artillery pombardments and patrol engagements have increased in the zone of the Italian front. There are no signs of extensive Infantry lighting.

IS HINDENBURG DEAD? THE REPORT of the death of Field Marshal von Hindenburg may or may not be true. In the Allied countries since war commenced, almost every leader of note on the enemy side has been the subject of such a rumor. Commencing with von Kluck and continuing with regularity a cycle of reports has killed off each great German general, and most members of the same sort of rumors have been in circulation in Germany and Austria concerning Allied leaders, and it appears to be a marked characteristic of human nature to wish those leaders dead who are most troublesome. While Hindenburg has not been able to shatter either the Allied front or the Allied morale, in the popular mind he is the most dreaded of German leaders. His very countenance is a sign of savagery and such a face as one would expect to find on the chief of the general staff villains. Any report that appears to be well founded will have an effect upon the German people, and if the inevitable has occurred the result may be somewhat similar to the result of Kitchener's death to the British people. The loss of Kitchener was a serious blow to the Allies, and it could be most closely matched in its effect upon the nations arrayed against the Allies through the death of a man like Hindenburg. Next to the kaiser, he has been the most conspicuous figure in the German nation.

like Hindenburg. Next to the kaiser, he has been the most conspicuous figure in the German nation, while Hindenburg until a short time ago was the embodiment of whatever military merit the enemy possesses.

Principles of Jelly-Making.

To be satisfactory, jelly must be made from fruit juice containing pectin and acid. Pectin is a substance in the fruit which is soluble in hot water and which, when cooked with sugar and acid, gives, after cooling, the right consistency to jelly.

Fruits to be used should be sound, just ripe or slightly under-ripe, and gathered but a short time. Wash them, remove stems and cut large fruits into pieces. With juicy fruits add just enough water to prevent burning while cooking. In using fruits which are not juicy, cover them with water. Cook slowly until the fruits are soft. Strain through a bag made of flannel or two thicknesses of cheesecloth or similar material.

To determine if the juice contains pectin, boil one teaspoonful and cool. To this add one tablespoonful of grain alcohol and mix gently rotating the glass. Allow the mixture to cool. If a solid mass—which is pectin—collects, this indicates that in making jelly one part of juice. If the pectin collects in the first startaction is well drained, cover the pulp with water and let it simmer 30 minutes. Drain, and test juice for pectin. For the third extraction proceed in the same manner. The first extraction shows much pectin as fourth extraction is well drained, cover the pulp with water and let it simmer 30 minutes. JIMMY COON HAS NO CORNLESS DAYS.

Jimmy Coon was a Slacker during the War. For he didn't eat less meat, nor wheat, nor corn, to help win the War. But Jimmy almost lost his life during the War, by not keeping cornless days. It taught him an awful lesson. It was like this: Jimmy Coon had been hanging around the barn of Farmer Jones for several dark night. And one pitch dark night he managed to squeeze his precious little body through a small hole in the barn door. And Jimmy's wonderful nose told him that there was something good to eat in the big hay-rack on the barn floor, nor wheat, nor corn, to help win the War. Mrs. E. McKeoun has returned to

Michael's Church, Dresden, when Ellen Genevieve, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McInerney, became the bride of William Hector McDonald, son of Mrs. Jane McDonald, Town line, Dover. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a navy taffeta traveling suit, with a bouquet of sweet peas, and hat with shoes to match. She was attended by Miss Ella Myers. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Fred McDonald. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold pin set with pearls, and to the bridesmaid, a gold pin, to the groomsman a stickpin. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister. Mrs. P. A. McDuffee, who sang "Ave Maria." The mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Brady of Wallaceburg, and the cheir was assisted by Rev. Father Mahoney of Wallaceburg, who sang a solo, "A Message From the Sacred Heart." Af-

CALL FROM AFRICA

Mrs. E. McKeoun has returned to roronto after visiting relatives in this Young Lady Leaves Civilization for Wider Field of Service.

> "The Lord laid it upon my heart"—with such simplicity that belongs only to the young and innocent or to the truly pure at heart, Miss Ldyia Lee explained her desire for missionary service, in a talk in Gospel Hall last service, in a talk in Gosper Harrians Friday evening.
> From school teaching in Simcoe, Ont., to a log cabin in Portuguese West Africa is a far cry, but the inward voice speaks loudly and persistently, and for the person of Righ ideals, earnest conviction and unflinching courage, no distance is too great, no burden too onerous, if the goal can be reached.

paratory to embracing the Christian religion.

Interwoven with Miss Lee's interesting career is the brighter thread of romance. Shortly after her arrival in Cape Town she will be married to Mr. R. S. McLaren, who left two years ago with Mr. Thomas Louttit to render missionary service in the wilds of Africa. Miss Lee has the good wishes of many friends for success and happiness in the twofold career about to open to her. While in the city she was the guest of Mrs. Rowald Hill.

PRAYER IS THE CHRISTIAN'S VITAL BREATH.
Our Scripture lesson today is concerning praying to God, and it is a very vital study. Even it prayer cannot be scientifically analyzed any more than life can be, we know it to be just as real a force in our lives as life itself. Prayer, in all the ages, has proved to be the vital breath of every man of God. Prayer is as natural as breathing; our hearts go out to God, the great unseen power, of conscious even before we have learned to know that it is but a manifestation of God, our Heavenly Father. Men of force, men of faction, men of power, men who know of action, men of power, men and enjoy God of their own knowledge and enjoy the unspeakable comfort which comes Praying to God.—Luke 11:1-13; Ps. 145:18-19.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.
1. Verse 1.—What would you consider was the nature of the prayers of Jesus?
2. What reason, if any, is there to elieve that Jesus would ever use a liturgical form of prayer in his approach to God?
3. Verse 2.—Why would you say, on of, that Jesus meant what we call "the Lord's Prayer" to be used as a form of prayer, or to be suggestive live way of managing might be of worse and the part of the patient. MY WEINER. [An awful ode on the hight cost of _living.]

But I have no such foolish side,
And as long as the thing survives,
The waste of war and suicide,
I'll eat the beast at every feast,
Without much ceremony."

At these words the old man's fancy fondly turned to times of old, When he got a drink for nothing, when a weiner was not sold; When eggs were thrown at him if he ever rose to speak. These thoughts unhinged the old man's mind, and he bagan to shriek:

LONDON CRICKETERS FIND HAMILTONIANS EASY ON SATURDAY

Soldier Eleven Trims St. George's Ambitious City Team.

Hamilton cricketers succumbed to a attack by the local military elevel, representatives of this district, when they were outscored by 114 runs, mak-representatives of this district, when they were outscored by 114 runs, making but 57 notches for themselves on Saturday. The team from the Ambitious city was composed of members of St. George's Society. The game was played in the H.A.A.A. grounds, and the pitch was in first-class shape for perfect cricket.

Smyth of the soldiers knocked out 56 runs carrying his bat. This performance was the best of the afternoon, the next man in line being "Century" Evans with 38. Evans was bowled out by Stewart. Stabler was good, finding the ball for 30 counters. He looked after the bowling for a short period during the game and did good work in this line also.

The home team went in to bat first, After five of the locals had had their innings they overcame the score of their opponents and after that the fixture was easy for the soldiers.

Evans was the star with the ball, as well as the bat, securing seven wickets for two runs. Lloyd found the bales of the Hamilton men twice. The military eleven batted their opponents' offerings all over the field, finding the fast bowling to their liking. It took St. George's men 54 overs to dispose of seven soldiers.

A brilliant piece of fielding by Smythe was one of the features of the game. Playing deep field, Smythe sent Boyd to the bench by pulling down his long liner after a 20 yard run. Dempster also did some good work in the field, catching a mighty hit by Stabler that should have gone for a boundary.

After seven Londoners had batted, both teams agreed to pull stumps.

The Londoners will play Brantford next Saturday and threaten to duplicate their performance at Hamilton.

ternal bodily heat co-operate to enlarge the pores of the skin in order to meet the demand of liberating the increased flow of perspiration. When the pores are enlarged, particles of dirt in the air easily stick to the skin and make their way into the sweat and oil glands and clog them up.

Individuals who are employed in mills, mines and factories are more apt to suffer from these skin infections than other people. In these places dust and dirt fly about, and sometimes the faces and necks of employes are literally covered. In wiping away the perspiration from their brows and faces, the dirt upon the skin is brought more closely in contact with the sweat glands and very likely are pushed into the little tubules and clog their opening.

The first visible sign of a clogged gland is a blackhead, large or small, according to the size of the gland. The black dot indicates that the gland which secretes the oil upon the face has been stuffed up. The oil beneath the speck of dirt hardens and a worm-shaped particle of hardened oil develops in the gland. Individuals who are employed in mills, Blackheads, boils, pimples and carbuncles are apt to appear more frequently in summer time upon the faces and necks of those who suffer from them. By this means many boils and carbuncles can be avoided. These, like the tich, blackheads and pimples, come upon the skin largely because of dirt. Men in particular suffer from these nuisances, because of the additional friction of the collar at the neck.

Dirt easily gathers at the back of the neck of many men, principally because

Where the old is close enough to the new to feel its effects and to stand out in contrast—that nowhere else could one find so many varying customs and so many contrasts that amaze.

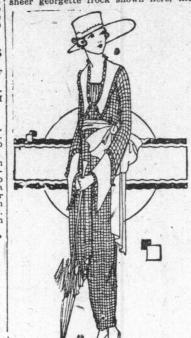

First, of course, is the contrast between poverty and wealth. In some sections of this far-flung land the poor are so very poor and the rich so very rich sions and subdivisions of a system whose ramifications even few of the best informed natives have a knowledge that is anywhere complete.

That men born in a certain caste may not enter the houses of those born in other castes, either without being "polituted" or without "polluting" those whose houses they enter, seems strange enough. How to Preserve Sweet Corn For When the season of fresh vegetables is past, it is probably a refreshing sight to have a few jars of corn canned on the cob, but certainly this method of canning corn should be discouraged at this time. We are short of jars and it is the manifest duty of every housewife to pack as much food as she can in the smallest possible space, so as to save containers as well as food. There are several methods of preserving corn—canning, dring the corn from the corn the same day it is picked. Remove the husks and silk. Plunge the corn into boiling water and allow it to remain from 5 to 10 minutes, thus blanching it. Then plunyfe it guickly into cold water. Cut the corn from the cob with a thin, sharp-bladed knife and pack it in jars tightly until the jars are full. Add one level teaspoonful of salt to each quart and enough hot water to fill the jars. Place the rubber and cap in position and put the clamp on half way. Sterilize the reason to test them and when cool, wrap them in paper and store. Canned Corn (2). 'God of Brute Force Must Be Broken and Burned in Own Furnace."

LONDON, July 13.-The govern ments of the British Dominions will have a voice in determining the terms of peace, according to Mr. Lloyd George. The prime minister made this statement in a speech at a dinner

George. The prime minister made this statement in a speech at a dinner given in honor of the Canadian editors who are visiting England, at which Lord Beaverbrook was the host.

"This is a war in which we engaged the empire," said the premier, "when we had no time to consult the Dominions as to policy, and it is perfectly true that the policy which we adopted to protect small nations in Europe was a policy which we embarked upon without any consultation with the Dominions. But you approved of it. Henceforth you have the right to be consulted as to the policy beforehand, and this is the change which has been effected as a result of the war.

Imperial Cabinet Reality.

"The contributions which you have made to enforce these treaties have given you the undeniable right to a voice in fashioning the policy which may commit vou and for that reason an imperial war cabinet is a reality.

"Another point in which you must have a voice, is the settlement of the conditions of peace. We have discussed war aims and the conditions under which we are prepared to make peace at the war cabinet. We arrived at an agreement on the subject last year with the representatives of the Dominions, and we shall reconsider the same problems in the light of events which have occurred since—and we shall reconsider the same problems in the light of events which have no doubt, in the course of the next few weeks.

"Canada and Australia and New "Canada and New Youngland they"

No Hugger-Mugger Peace. No Hugger-Mugger Peace.

"There must be on hugger-mugger peace. It must be a real peace. We are not waging war for the sake of cilling or of being killed, but for the sake of establishing a just and durable peace for the world. You cannot make peace unless it is both just and likely the endure.

nillions maimed, and you in Canada, whose casualties have amounted to whose casualties have amounted to scores of thousands, and Australia, who has also played her share in these things—we are not making these sacrifices in order to establish a fraud upon this earth, and anything less than a real peace will be defrauding not this generation, but the next generation; it will be defrauding humanity.

"Germany has wared three wars, and will be defrauding humanity.

"Germany has waged three wars, and each time she has added through those wars to her power, her strength, her guidance, to her influence and each successive war she has waged has inevitably encouraged her on to the next. If she had had one check you would not have had this war. If this war succeeds in adding one square yard to or have had this war. If this war ucceeds in adding one square yard to ter territory, of adding one cubit to ter stature, of adding a single lota to ter strength, it will simply raise their dea of militarism for which the world a being sacrificed at the present mo-

STATE OF SIEGE IN QUEBEC DISTRICT AFTER M.S.A. FIGHTS

100 Soldiers on Duty in Trouble Zone.

VAUDREUIL, Que., July 14.—The district around here is now practically in a state of siege with the arrival Sunday evening of a detachment of 100 soldiers of the Canadian Garrison Regiment, in charge of Capt. Garand and accompanied by Capt. Duchastel of the intelligence department, and Capt. Dodds of the transports department. They are camped just outside the village. In addition a party of 100 Dominion police, 50 civil and 50 military, arrived by train and took up their headquarters in the town. The eight or ten who have taken to the bush, and about whose action in defying the law the disturbance arose, are still at large, and are keeping very quiet. The whole neighborhood is, however, in a state of terror at the fear that further bloodshed may take place.

CONVULSIONS SEIZE SOLDIER AT PORT: RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

Nearly a dozen emergency cases were handled Saturday by the nurses of No. 4 Nursing Division, St. John Ambulance Brigade, at Port Stanley, according to reports received by the headquarters here.

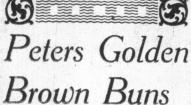

Of the three serious cases treated, one was that of a soldier who was brought to the emergency station at 'Port" in an unconscious state, and who took convulsion after convulsion while there. Three doctors were required before the soldier was finally put on a train on a stretcher, and, ir charge of one of the A.M.C. boys, sent to the London Military Hospital. The ambulance was secured by telephone and met the train on arrival here.

and met the train on arrival here.

Another serious case was that of a Detroit boy, who fell down the hill and was brought in unconscious. His head and shoulder were injured. He also was sent to London as soon as he was able to be moved.

During Saturday morning a woman who fell was brought in, and remained unconscious two hours. She was finally able to go home.

The nursing division has secured a bungalow for its headquarters about 100 yards west of the incline railway, and its members are doing good work at the lakeside, looking after those who suffer injuries through accidents, or who became ill.
