JUDICIOUS USE OF STRAP IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS IS A GOOD THING, DECLARES OFFICIAL

Corporal Punishment Is Safer in Hands of Teachers Than Parents, As Latter Have Tendency To Punish Children During Fits of Anger, He States.

Local citizens, prominent in educational affairs, do not agree with authorities in certain cities in the United States, who have taken a definite stand in opposition to corporal punishment in public schools. While all agree that it should be reduced to a minimum, they feel that it is essential to discipline, for teacher to retain "the old black strap" in her desk.

"Corporal punishment should not be done away with," said an official whose work is in connection with local public schools to The Advertiser today. "It is more safe in the hands of the teachers than the parents, as the latter have a tendency to punish the child during fits of anger, while the teacher with a thorough training in administration and discipline, is taught to think carefully, and consider the justice of the thing before punishing a pupil in this manner."

Few Mistakes.

"At times teachers make mistakes in inflicting corporal punishment," declared another civic official, "but fortunately these cases are rare in London, teachers seldom being summoned to appear before the board of education to explain their action in inflicting corporal punishment, and usually when such a case does happen, it is found that the pupil is of a very nervous calibre, and the teacher is not really to blame, although care should be taken in deciding punishment for such a type of child. There are a greater number of parents than teachers who make such mistakes."

Retain the Strap.

"It would be better if the strap were retained in our public schools, and used judiciously," is the opinion of another official, vitally interested in public school work. "I think everyone agrees with me that teachers should not slap their pupils on the head or face with the open hand, but should apply the strap judiciously to the palms of the hands, where no permanent injury can result.

"However, discipline is of a high order in our public schools, because of the efficiency of our teaching staff, and I venture to say that the average punishment meted out with the strap by each teacher does not total once per month."

SIMS ANNOUNCES HE WILL STAND BY STATEMENTS ON IRISH ISSUE

U. S. Admiral Declares He Sees Nothing Un-American in Remarks.

ASSAILS SINN FEIN

Claims Members of Organization Virtually Making War On America.

Washington, June 9.—Investigation of the recent speech in London by Rear Admiral William S. Sims, touching on Sinn Fein sympathizers in the United States, was ordered by the Senate today without a record vote. The resolution was offered by eSnator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi.

London, June 9.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, U. S. N., is quoted by the Press Association today as saying this morning with regard to the speech he delivered on the Irish question here Tuesday: "I stand by all I said, every word of it. I shall not repudiate a single word I said, and I see nothing un-American in it, even if Senator McCormick does."

Admiral Sims, who this morning said he had not received the cablegram reported to have been sent him by Secretary of the Navy Denty inquiring if the admiral was correctly quoted in the press reports of his speech, has arranged to have the cablegram delivered to him as soon as it reaches London.

CONDEMNS SINN FEINERS.

London, June 9.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims said here this morning he had not received the cablegram reported to have been sent him by Secretary of the Navy Denby asking him to inform the United States Naval Department if he was correctly quoted in press reports of the speech he delivered on the Irish question at a luncheon here on Tuesday. He added that, pending the receipt of the secretary's cablegram he could make no statement. Admiral Sims' speech was given a prominent place on the front pages of London newspapers, but there has been a noticeable absence of editorial comment on his declarations.

Admiral Sims was a guest at a luncheon given by United States naval officers here today, and this afternoon was to attend a tea at the House of Commons. He will be present at a dinner given by the Queenstown Association here tonight.

Speaking at a luncheon given by the English-Speaking Union at London on Tuesday Admiral Sims dealt frankly with Sinn Fein propagandists in the United States. He was said to have declared, "They are like zebras—either black horses with white stripes or white horses with black stripes, but we know they are not horses—they are asses. Each of these asses, however, has a vote, and there are lots of them." He declared that the persons he assailed were United States citizens, "when they want money, but Sinn Feiners when on the platform," and added: "They are making war on America today," according to cabled versions of the admiral's remarks.

Polish Insurgents Flee When British Troops Enter City

Possession of Rosenburg in Upper Silesia Is Taken Without Firing of a Shot—Inhabitants Give Ovation to British Soldiers—Zone of Occupation To Be Extended.

Oppeln, Silesia, June 9.—Five thousand Polish insurgents have been driven out of the city of Rosenberg, northwest of this city, by British forces, and last night the Poles were reported to be retreating in a southeasterly direction. At that time many had passed the cit yof Lublinitz, about ten miles from Rosenberg. The Poles made a show of resisting, but the British did not fire a shot in taking possession of Rosenberg.

When the British soldiers entered the city, the Poles dropped a few poorly-aimed shells behind them, and there was a scattering patter of rifle shots from the Polish positions. The Poles then picked up their machine guns, which had been set up in the road and fled.

When the British marched farther into the city they found a Polish commander with 300 men. The commander was directed to leave the city within an hour, and to evacuate the district before Wednesday night. The Pole said this was impossible, and he was warned that every insurgent found in Rosenberg at the expiration of one hour would be held for examination. A search of the city later in the evening showed that all the insurgents had departed on time.

The people of Rosenberg gave the British an ovation, girls trying to kiss the soldiers, and old women weeping as the British marched through the streets. There was no attempt on the part of the British to disarm the Poles, a British colonel saying: "We are trying to avoid a civil war, and are attempting to re-establish allied authority without bloodshed.

Belief is expressed here that the British will promptly proceed southward and occupy Lublinitz. It is expected they will immediately take charge of cities in the industrial districts of Upper Silesia.

MARTIN GOVERNMENT IS CONTESTING EVERY RIDING EXCEPT ONE

Sixteen Supporters of Liberal Administration Returned by Acclamation.

CAMPAIGN WAS BRIEF

Three-Cornered Contests in Five Constituencies.

Regina, Sask., June 9.—Saskatchewan's citizens went to the polls today to elect the fifth Legislature to hold office in the province. The new Legislature will consist of 63 members, and 44 of them are being chosen today. Sixteen members, all supporters of the Martin Government, were returned by acclamation, and in three constituencies—Cumberland, Isle la Grosse and Tisdale—nominations and elections were deferred. The government is contesting every constituency except Thunder Creek, where the fight is between a Conservative and an Independent. The Independent movement has 44 candidates in the field. There are Conservative candidates, four Labor men and four running on the non-partisan league ticket.

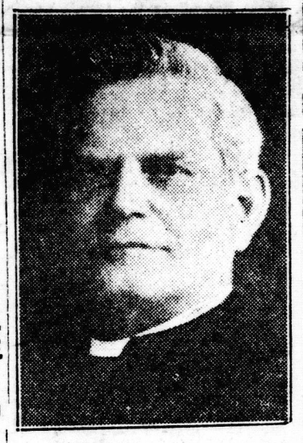

The cities of Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw elect each tow members, and in each city five candidates are in the field. Premier Martin is a candidate in the capital city.

Three-Cornered Fights.

In five constituencies there are three-cornered contests. Mrs. Sarah Ramsland, a member of the last Legislature, and the first woman to hold such an office in Saskatchewan, is opposed in Pelly by a Conservative and an Independent. There are no other women seeking office. J. E. McInnnis, a well-known Regina citizen, is an Independent candidate in Lumsden, and his election address announces that should the Independents carry the election, and should he have "a part in the readjustment," he might suggest the present premier of Saskatchewan for attorney-general.

Hon. J. A. Maharg, president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, Hon. S. J. Latta and Hon. Charles A. Dunning were among the sixteen members returned unopposed.

The campaign has been brief, but there has been a free discussion of public issues at numerous mass meetings.

REV. S. D. CHOWN, superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada. He says he has been in the middle of the church union movement for 19 years, and expresses hearty approval of the vote given that movement by the Presbyterian General Assembly now in session in Toronto.

COMMERCE BOARD'S FATE WILL SOON BE DECIDED BY THE PRIVY COUNCIL

Deputy Minister of Justice Will Argue Rights On Behalf of Federal Government—Investigations That Were Proceeding Last Autumn May Never Be Resumed—Powers of Board, If Revived, Will Be Definitely Outlined.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 9.—Whether the Parliament of Canada has the constitutional right to create a board of commerce with the regulative powers conferred upon the body whose personnel was extinguished last autumn, will be argued before the privy council in London next month. The case comes up on July 4. Edmund L. Newcombe, K.C., deputy minister of justice, is leaving shortly to argue the case for the Dominion Government, and the provinces of Ontario, Quebec and Alberta will also be parties to the argument. When the board started to issue and enforce certain restrictions of profits its authority was challenged, with especial reference to transactions occurring wholly within a province. Several investigations under way were arrested. One related to the canners and another to textiles. In view of the doubts created, the Dominion Government referred the question to the supreme court, which was equally divided on the question as to whether the creation of such a board, and particularly the powers it exercised come within the jurisdiction of the Federal Parliament. The provinces who are in the case will oppose the Federal Government's claim that the act is ultra vires. The privy council's judgment will determine the question as to whether the board of commerce will be revived and if so what powers it will be competent to exercise.

WHY TWO LARGE FARMER PICNICS ON SAME DAY?

East Middlesex Farmers Have Grievance With Poplar Hill.

SECOND OCCASION

Meant Smaller Crowds At Both Affairs.

East Middlesex Farmers, who held their picnic in Queen's Park Wednesday claim that they have a grievance with the committee which arranged the Lobo Union School picnic at Poplar Hill on the same date, thus splitting the crowd, and marring to a certain degree the success of both outings.

"While we had a good crowd," explained a member of the East Middlesex Farmers' committee to The Advertiser Wednesday evening, "and there is no doubt there was a bumper crowd at Poplar Hill, yet there are many people here, and others at the Lobo picnic, who would have liked to have taken in both outings, but were prevented from doing so by reason of both falling on the same date."

"There should be more co-operation among us farmers on matters of this kind. I remember a previous occasion when we arranged for a picnic, and the Lobo Union School picnic was scheduled for the same date. We asked them to change their day and they refused. However, it rained hard that day at Poplar Hill and spoiled things, while we only received a sprinkling, which did not interfere with the fun. We must get together if we are to work in harmony in future."

STANLEY STREET RESIDENTS DON'T OWN THE BLOCK

"Where Do They Get That Injunction Idea?" Queries Wilson.

UNDER A DELUSION

Ald. P. J. Watt Voices Opinion in the Matter.

"Where do they get that idea, that they can issue any injunction to prevent the city from proceeding with the Stanley street pavement?" queried Ald. Wm. Wilson today. "Does Ald. Wenige and that bunch labor under the impression that those residents over on Stanley street own the street entirely? They certainly do not own any more than their own plot, and if the city goes ahead with our proposal it will be affording the very same kind of a pavement to the people of Stanley street, as is to be seen elsewhere in the city."

"Ald. Wenige states again that the city engineer was ordered to go ahead and pave the street," continued Ald. Wilson. "No such thing happened at all. The city engineer was ordered to commence the Stanley street job and nothing was said about finishing it. We will see how far they go with this injunction proceeding."

"The street railway company has got to do its part," declared Ald. P. J. Watt to The Advertiser this morning, when asked about the Stanley street controversy. "They have got to make the road fit to travel on that's all. That is my idea, and I voted against the city doing the car tracks last Monday, because the mayor informed us that the street railway company had not been notified to pave their allowance ,and we should not drive a pick in their work until they refuse."

"I do not think the city should lay new rails, but if after the job is finised, the company refuses to do their work, my idea is to simply pave the space about the present tracks. If it is good enough for them it will be good enough for us. It is their funeral."

DR. CHOWN PLEASED WITH ACTION TAKEN BY PRESBYTERIANS

Head of Methodist Church Fully Expected Assembly's Approval.

Orillia, June 8.—Addressing the Toronto Methodist Conference today, Rev. Dr. H. D. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, said:

"As I arise to addres you this morning I am filled with profound and exalted gratitude to Almighty God that the Presbyterian Church, through its General Assembly, has been led to reaffirm its former decision to unite with the Congregational and Methodist churches to form the 'united church of Canada.'

"What I expected has happened. It was to me scarcely conceivable that the great Presbyterian Church could or would do otherwise.

"It was the urgent appeal of the representatives of the Presbyterian Church in the first instance, at our General Conference in Winipeg in 1902, that the Methodist Church resolved to take steps toward organic union of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist churches—negotiations for which began in December, 1904, in the old Knox Church, Toronto."

DISSENTERS NOT TO DO ANYTHING UNTIL UNION ACTION TAKEN

Dr. Gordon and Objectionists Hold Conference.

18 SUBJECTS TODAY

Marriage and Divorce Questions To Receive Careful Consideration.

Toronto, June 9.—Canadian Press.—In the hope of healing the breach in the assembly caused by the vote for church union, the moderator, Rev. Dr. Gordon, had a conference with the dissenters this morning, but nothing has been given out as yet as to what transpired. Following the meeting of the anti-unionists yesterday afternoon individual members said no move would be made by them until a definite step is taken to bring union with the other churches into force.

There are still eighteen subjects on the docket to receive the attention of the assembly, but by working under high pressure the business committee hopes to finish up tonight. A large number of delegates have already left for home.

An overture from North Bay Presbytery, asking the General Assembly to make a new declaration of faith concerning marriage and divorce, will probably come up today. The overture says that the Westminster confession of faith, chapter 24, dealing with marriage and divorce, is not in accordance with the convictions of many ministers and lay members of the church who have made a careful study of the New Testament teaching on this question. The question of divorce and remarriage is one that seriously concerns the national life of Canada, says the overture.

Prince Rupert, B. C., June 9.—An important silver strike is reported on the Gabriel group in the Skena Valley up the Copper River.

Spanked His Wife Every Time That She Neglected To Have Meals On Time

At least one man in the city believes in turning his wife over his knee and spanking her when she fails to have his supper prepared as soon as he arrives home from work. That man was in police court this morning to answer a charge of non-support preferred by his wife. Both of them just put their first score of years behind them a few months ago.

Wifie claims that hubby was not the best kind of a meal ticket, for although they had been married a year, he had only given her $35 in that time, although he had earned $130 to $140 a month. He said that he did not provide for his wife because she would not live with him, but that he had had a grocer send food to her parents' home for the baby.

He said that his wife had not been behaving herself. She said that the only thing she had ever done was to go to Detroit with her cousin and a former sweetheart, and pass herself off at the border as the cousin's wife to escape the $8 head tax. Then she had gone to her brother's home in order that she might keep a line on her husband who was in Detroit.

He wanted the case adjourned a week.

"How are your wife and child to be kept alive until next week?" asked Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, adding that the case could not be adjourned unless provision was made for the defendant's dependents. The accused said that he would collect $5 by tomorrow morning and give it to his wife. The adjournment was then ordered.

When it was alleged that he beat his wife, he told of his habit of spanking her when she failed to have his meal ready. He said that she would sooner be out enjoying herself than preparing his supper.

Oklahoma Gunman Kills Two Toledo Policemen; Fights to Death in Barricaded Room

Toledo, Ohio, June 9.—Thomas Kelley, 48 years of age, of Oklahoma, was killed by the police this morning, following a battle which had lasted two hours, and in which machine guns and hend-grenades had been used to dislodge him from his barricaded room in the attic of his boarding-house at 611 Walnut street.

Before he himself was killed, Kelley shot and killed Patrolmen Harry Dowell and Harold Mossburger, who had been called to the house to subdue him after he had refused to pay a board bill, and had flourished a revolver and threatened his landlady, Mrs. Nellie Key, and her son Allen.

Hundreds of shots were exchanged between the officers and Kelley. He was said to have had a trunkful of ammunition. Chief of Police Herbert ordered two machine guns and a high pressure hose to the scene of the battle, and attempts were made in the meantime to drive the gunman out of his retreat by burning sulphur candles on the lower floor.

At 10:40 a.m. the roof of the house was demolished by machine guns and hand-grenades. Two newspaper reporters caught in the lower part of the house were unable to get out because of the continuous fire kept up by the police, and the fugitive, and reported developments of the fight by telephone.

The scene of the battle was but a short distance from the main business section, and hundreds watched the battle from points of vantage

LONDON FIRM WINS CASE OVER EXCHANGE

American Chicle Company Loses Action Against Somerville Paper Box Co.

In the case of the American Chicle Company against the Somerville Paper Box Company of London, judgment was handed down at Toronto Wednesday by Justice Hodgins in favor of the defendant London firm. The case arose over a $50,000 mortgage which fell due June 1, 1920, and which was a liability assumed by the Somerville Paper Box Company, in purchasing a business from other parties. The mortgage was made payable in Canadian money or in gold if demanded. An order-in-council had been passed, however, preventing the sending of gold out of the country, and other war-time acts also affected the case. The London company offered to pay one-half the amount of the exchange or American premium the American Chicle Company demanded, but this offer was refused, and the plaintiffs sued for the full amount of the premium, which was $5,500. According to the judgment, the mortgage is payable in Canadian currency, and the plaintiff is ordered to pay the costs of the action.

KIWANIANS' PICNIC AT PORT STANLEY

Clubs of London, Ingersoll and St. Thomas Unite in Big Outing.

With blue Lake Erie as a background, 250 members of the Kiwanis Clubs of this city, St. Thomas and Ingersoll, with their wives and children, made merry, as only Kiwanians know how, when the first combined annual picnic of the three organizations was held in Port Stanley on Wednesday. The day was spent with baseball and good sports, accompanied by unstinted noise, singing marked by varying degrees of success, feasting, and in having a general good time that will long be remembered.

The London members of the party, accompanied by several Kiwanians from Ingersoll, left this city by the L. and P. S. R. at 1:30 o'clock, while a few motored down. Those who traveled by train were joined by the members from St. Thomas as the cars passed through that city.

While every sporting event of the day was thoroughly enjoyed, the baseball game between the London and St. Thomas clubs was perhaps the feature. The game, marked by keen competition throughout, was won by London by a score of 8—5. This score was whispered to the representative of The Advertiser after the members of the St. Thomas team were out of earshott, for even when the picnic broke up the St. Thomas fans were under the impression that they had emerged from the fray victorious. At any rate, they smoked all the cigars awarded to the winning team.

Baiting the Umpire.

The game was marked by much umpire-baiting. Four of these aggravating but useful officials were used and badly crippled during the fifive innings of play. The first to take his life in his hand was Kiwanian Bert Heaman. He lasted a part of one inning. Then Harold Skinner undertook the work, but he found to his sorrow that his path was by no means rosy; he retired in favor of K. Murray. Kiwanian Murray lasted one awful inning; then the task was taken up by F. Lemon, who managed to make himself heard until the end of the game.

Anyone looking at the London team could tell immediately that they were ball players—they were all dressed in uniforms. Perhaps they could not field the ball, but they sure could hit. In five innings they garnered twelve hits of various dimensions. The St. Thomas team hit the ball safely only six times, but they excelled in the field. The game was marred by one accident. H. Forbes tore his trousers when B. Hodgins slid into him. A doctor was called and it was found that twenty stitiches were required to close the opening.

Baseball Lineup.

The teams were as follows:

St. Thomas—C. Gibson, s.s.; H. Tanney, 1 b.; J. McKenzie, 2 b.; H. Forbes, l.f.; J. Steward, c.; C. Cox, c.f.; J. McIntyre, 3 b.; McMurty, r.f.; W. Whiteall, p.; B. Hayes, pinch hitter.

London—F. McLachlin, c..; B. Davidson, 3 b.; F. Brennan, l. f.; W. Hodgins, 2 b.; H. Easton, 1 b.; H. Lecky, s. s.; V. Ryan, c.; M. McCallum, r. f.; J. Nash, p. (one innings); L. H. Riley, p.; K. Murray, pinch hitter.

After the game of ball the sports were run off in the park. Following are the results of the races:

Boys, 5 years and under—K. Murray, N. Gammage, C. Cunningham.

Girls, 5 years and under—Laura Nash, Helen Curtis, Jean Cunningham.

Boys, under 12 years—Howard Pollock, Allan Foot, Jack Nash.

Girls, under 12 years—Helen Nash, Marion Kidner, Margaret Curtis.

Wheelbarrow race—Florence Kidner and H. Humphrey, Harry Morgan and Mrs. E. Marley; Mrs. R. Whiteall and R. Whiteall; Mrs. Bert Heaman and Harold Gardner.

Men's race—J. Esson, Jack Nash, C. Cox.

Married women'se race—Mrs. Nelles, Mrs. J. Nash, Mrs. Bert Heaman.

Fat men's race—Wilfred Hodgins, Harry Leckey, B. Murray.

Booby prize winners—E. Smith, C. Gibson.

The races were started by J. Hickey, J. Pollock and J. Tennant.

Tug-of-War.

A tug-of-war tested the superiority of the men from the two cities. Although no one counted them, there must have been at least forty men to a side. The first draw ended in a decided victory for London, despite the actions of the St. Thomas captain, who kept sticking pins in W. Hodgins, the stalwart anchor for the London team. In the second pull St. Thomas tied their end of the rope to a tree, and when London did the same thing, the pull ended in a draw, as neither team could pull over the trees. In the third pull the London team let the rope go suddenly when St. Thomas was pulling the hardest—nothing more need be said.

Balloons played a big part in the day's pleasure; everyone, old and young, were provided with toy balloons, which they blew to their hearts' desire. A big tissue balloon bearing the name "Kiwanis" was sent up with firecrackers attached. It was still going when it was last seen.

One of the pleasing features of the picnic was the large number of small children present. Besides bringing their own sons and daughters, many of the members brought several of the unprivileged boys who are being helped by the club. Needless to say, they had the time of their young lives.

At the conclusion of the sports a sumptuous luncheon was served on the hill.

1,600 BOYS AND GIRLS VISIT THAMES PARK PLAYGROUND IN WEEK

Wading Pool Proves Popular With London Youngsters.

That playgrounds in this city are rendering valuable service is evidenced by the report of the nine supervisors on duty in the four playgrounds now open, for the week ending June 4. Thames Park is the most popular resort so far this season, 1,600 children and 65 parents attending during the week, while 287 kiddies made use of the Lord Roberts school playground in the same period.

Riverview playground is second in popularity, with 459 children and 25 parents availing themselves of the pleasure provided. These figures are taken from reports submitted daily for the period between 4 p.m. and dusk.

"These reports show that the playgrounds are serving the community," said E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the Public Utilities Commission, "and it must be remembered that the schools have not closed yet. We have a wading pool at Thames Park now in full swing, and the children appreciate it, as is shown by their attendance. We can make its depth up to 2 feet 8 inches, which would permit those kiddies who could do so to swim, and others could learn the art there.

"We intend to place a shack in Thames Park, and perhaps provide bathing suits. At any rate, the children could change into bathing clothes in the shack. A sand pile nearby provides lots of fun for the youngsters. Every playground now in operation has a small first aid kit on the grounds, so that minor accidents can be attended to, and in future it will not be necessary for a child who falls and scrapes his shins to run home crying to his mother."

ALL WORRIED WOMEN NEED RICH BLOOD

If the Blood Is Not Kept Pure Health Will Break Down.

It is useless to tell a hard-working woman to take life easily and not to worry. To do so is to ask the almost impossible. But, at the same time, it is the duty of every woman to save her strength to meet any unusual demands. It is a duty she owes herself and family, for her future health may depend upon it.

To guard against a complete breakdown in health the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. No other medicine does this so well as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This medicine strengthens the nerves, restores the appetite and keeps every organ healthily toned up. Women cannot always rest when they should, but they can keep their strength by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Among those who have found benefit from this medicine is Mrs. Cora Conrad, Broad Cove, N. S., who says: "My system was very much run-down, and my blood poor and watery. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizziness; my appetite was poor, and I tired easily. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and have every reason to be glad that I did so. Soon I felt better, and under the continued use of the pills the headaches and dizziness were gone, and my blood seemed in a better condition than before. For this reason I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

"Ever since I can remember, my chest, face, and arms were filled with dry, red pimples. They were scattered all over me, and itched terribly at times, and I scratched them, causing them to fester and get sore. Sometimes they would dry away and form scales which burned badly.

"Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had used them two or three times when I felt better and I was healed with one box of Cuticura Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Miss Bertha Kass, Russell, Manitoba, February 19, 1919.

WOULD BUY ANIMALS OF ST. THOMAS ZOO

E. V. Buchanan Is Getting in Touch With Railroad City Officials.

E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities commission, is writing to city officials in St. Thomas today for information regarding the disposal of animals in the Flower City zoo, which is to be closed in the near future.

"We are in the market for animals," he informed The Advertiser today, "and can take them off the hands of the St. Thomas officials, provided that there is not too much expense involved. They will have the best of care in our zoo, which we are attempting to build up."

"I do not know what they will do in St. Thomas regarding those animals donated to the zoo by different people. I know that we could not give away or sell any of our collection without permission from the donors, but this could be obtained, if the only alternative was destroying the animals. Our zoo has proven a greater attraction than ever this year, and while we have written to larger cities for additions, they usually ask a very high fee for animals, or else want to trade, and all we have to trade is a buffalo."

"I understand that they have royal swans in St. Thomas, and we would like very much to obtain some. The goat mentioned in the newspapers as at the St. Thomas zoo could be accommodated in the inclosure for the deer at Springbank. I am writing today to get in touch with the St. Thomas authorities to learn if we can obtain some of their animals by an amicable arrangement."

WILL PROTEST COURT FINES GOING TO GOVT.

City Clerk S. Baker has received a communication from the city clerk in Hamilton, asking that London join in a protest against the collection of police court fines by the Provincial Government, and that delegates be sent along with those from Hamilton to protest to the Drury Government. The letter will be dealt with at the next meeting of No. 1 committee.

"Hamilton did not pay anything before 1914," said Mr. Baker, "while London has for many years, right up to 1920, I don't think it is fair. I do not see why the city of London should pay for its police department and the Government take away the fines. It is the only revenue that we have. They use the city police, yet they pay nothing for their services. Hamilton did not pay before 1914, St. Thomas never paid the fines, while London, I believe, has always paid them."

It is quite likely that the city council will appoint delegates to unite with those of the city of Hamilton in protesting to the Provincial Legislature against payment of the police court fines.

is on display in the window of Northern Goldsmiths Company, Newcastle, England. It is 17 inches in diameter, 53 inches in circumference, and weighs 115 pounds. His new store is 182 Dundas street, where you will eventually buy."

PROMINENT SOCIAL WORKER IS GETTING INFORMATION HERE

T. E. Sedgwick of London, England, Will Call On Premier.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

Has Suggestions To Make To Hon. James Calder.

After completing his tour of Western Canada, T. E. Sedgwick, prominent social worker of London, England, whose activities the past twelve years have taken him to every point of consequence in the British Empire, is in the city today, seeking information from J. Farrell, of the local office of the Ontario department of immigration. Mr. Sedgwick will go directly to Ottawa from here, where he will present to the acting premier and Hon. Mr. Calder, minister of immigration, suggestions relative to that department, based upon his exhaustive study of the economic relations between New Zealand, Canada and Australia, with the United Kingdom.

"The worst possible thing that can happen to any country, I have concluded," said Mr. Sedgwick, "is for that country to receive someone not needed. Whether that someone has the stipulated money in his possession or not makes no difference. But the next worst feature, I believe, is for any country to have a permanent vacancy that cannot be filled locally, and no attempt made to import somebody to fill the same. If a vacancy remains open the consumptive capacity of the person who would otherwise fill that position is thereby lost to the community. As an instance, if 400 persons are brought to occupy known jobs, work is indirectly provided for another 200 workers already in the country. With this policy in view it would soon tend to lessen the general debt of the railroads and the country at large.

Labor Census.

"A great foundation for immigration would be the adoption, as I noted in Australia, of a labor census scheme for obtaining authentic statistics of vacancies. If you desire to get the better class of people to immigrate, with a view toward having them 'take root,' and not drift from place to place, more consideration and interest should be shown them. I am absolutely in favor of the proposal to establish in Canada receiving and distributing centers in the districts to which they have been allotted for employment. These places have been in vogue in Australia for some time, with good results."

Mr. Sedgwick deplored the fact that not sufficient co-operation was apparent in the prairie provinces. He discovered, he states, an appreciable demand for farm help of every description, but insufficient effort seemed to have been made to aid newcomers in being located.

"Australia is very fortunate in having a port in every province, and the moment one province seems to show a lack of interest, the others show increased activity. Furthermore, no reduced fare is offered to Canada except in case of ex-soldiers and dependents, while Australia has been leading the way in this respect. The only way to justify keeping Canada white, as well as British, is by substantial increase in population.

"Canada has not at this moment three persons to the square mile, while the United States has the world's average of 33. Japan shows the enormous average of 300 and adds 3 a year. What is going to be the outcome? I do not want to predict war, as we in England are not seeking it, but when people say that we shall never fight the United States or Japan, they are speaking without due consideration. Canada should attempt to fill up the west."

Mr. Sedgwick pointed out the fact that with 1 per cent of the area of the Empire the United Kingdom has 75 per cent of its population, and the united quantity exports of the British colonies was insufficient to meet the quantity import required for the old land.

He explained that in the way of a reward the British Government gives ex-service men and their dependents free passage to any part of the Empire, providing, of course, the latter are approved by the dominion authorities.

MR. BUCHANAN EXPLAINS

Answers Complaint of Ontario Street Resident Regarding Water Mains.

Following a complaint received by The Advertiser from a citizen residing on Ontario street, alleging that after water mains were laid on that street, for the C. P. R., "the boulevard was left in a disgraceful condition," and asking "how it is that this same work was carried out in front of a certain member's residence, but no such mess was allowed to remain there." The Advertiser interviewed E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities commission for a statement.

Mr. Buchanan explains the case as follows: "Any work done in front of any residence was done by the owner or he paid someone else to do it. A lot of citizens have fixed the boulevard torn up for the mains themselves. It is was easier to save the sod on Queen's avenue, west of Adelaide street, because of the wide boulevard, but east of this street there is but a narrow strip of boulevard."

"It is not bad, and we will do anything that we can do to fix it up," he continued. "So many people went to work to fix up the boulevard themselves that it made the others look bad. I saw a man sowing grass seed on his boulevard two days after the pipe was laid. The trench must be given time to settle before we fix it up, but with the rains that we have had there is no reason why it should not be fixed up now. We are putting a gang of men on this work at once."

"If the member referred to in the complaint asking why the distinction is referring to Philip Pocock, on Queen's avenue, I may say that he instructed his own gardener to fix up the boulevard, and that is the reason it wa sdone."

The complaint received by The Advertiser declared the Ontario street boulevard to be "in a most disgraceful condition, nothing but sand and soil allowed to blow in the windows. This certainly should be brought to the attention of the manager of the public utilities commission."

END OF MOSLEM FAST.

Constantinople, June 9.—Ceremonies incident to the close of Ramazan, the Moslem month of fasting, were held at the Yildiz Kiosk yesterday. The sultan was present, and at the close of the services said: "It is the saddest Bairam of my life."

Bairam is the Turkish name of the festival succeeding Ramazan, which is known as the Moslem Easter. It extends over three days.

WIVES TO RECEIVE ALLOWANCE AFTER NEGLECT OF 5 YEARS

T. D. McCullough Receives Notice of Amendments Passed.

Although the law stipulates that a period of seven years must elapse before a wife, after being deserted by her husband, can claim the same rights as a widow, one of the most important recent changes in the act new regulates that this period be reduced to five years only. The social service council has been active in bringing about this amendment, and T. D. McCullough, secretary of the local branch of that service, received today a copy of the different amendments passed by the Government.

From now on the act provides that a woman, after proving beyond the shadow of a reasonable doubt, that she has not heard of her husband for five years, does not know where he is, and that to all intents and purposes he is dead to her, can then be eligible for aid under the provisions of the mothers' allowance act.

Relative to the adolescent school act which takes effect in Ontario in September, the Government has arranged that provision will be made for cases where familiee moving from this province to another province where a similar act is enforced, the school authorities of the latter will be acquainted of the change and a determined effort will result to prevent the children drifting away from school, by reason of any ignorance of conditions on the part of the school authorities of the community to which they move.

MRS. PALMER, AND NOT MRS. TANNER, MADE STATEMENT

School Trustee Not Present at Ealing School Meeting.

Mrs. W. A. Tanner is in accord with the mothers of the Ealing School, who are displaying indignation that one school should be singled out as having dirty children. And she wishes it to be made known that she was not present at the Tuesday night meeting of the Ealing Mothers' Club when the subject was brought up for discussion. Through an error her name was mistaken for that of Mrs. Palmer, the first president of the Ealing Club, who was present at the meeting and brought the matter before the mothers of that club.

Mrs. Tanner thinks that it is unfair to accuse any particular school of having dirty children. There might be a few dirty children in any school, but that was no reason why the whole school should be stigmatized.

EXECUTIVE MEETING.—An executive meeting of the G. W. V. A. will be held in the club rooms on Friday night at 8 o'clock, and on Tuesday a meeting for the election of officers for the year will be held.

GOING TO BOLIVIA.—Rev. Harold Eastman, missionary-elect to Bolivia, is the guest of his cousin, Rev. J. N. Norton, pastor of the Maitland Street Baptist Church. Rev. Mr. Easttman was ordained at Arkona a few days ago.

PLANNING CONCERTS.—The house committee of the G. W. V. A. intend to put on musical programs in the city parks, Springbank and Port Stanley, for the summer months. Beginning next Sunday night, they will give a band concert on the heights at Port Stanley. They are also considering putting on community dances in the city parks during week-nights.

BUILDING PERMITS.—Building permits issued Wednesday include one to J. H. Plasted, for a brick-veneer dwelling on Wortley road, to cost $5,000; one to Fred Young, for a similar residence on Langarth street, estimated at $3,900, and for an addition to a dwelling owned by J. Terrie on Tecumseh avenue, costing $1,200. The total amount in building permits issued for the first eight days in June is $48,090.

Says U.S. Would Welcome A Canadian Ambassador

New York, June 9.—Canadian Press.—The Tribune, in an editorial dealing with the possible discussion of the appointment of a Canadian ambassador to Washington during the coming Imperial conference, this morning says: "Such a step toward cementing the relations between the United States and the dominions would naturally be welcomed in this country. But despite the fact that the British Government, when the change was announced, said it did not denote any departure from the principle of the diplomatic unity of the British Empire, complications have arisen which have prevented sending the new functionary to his post. If Canada has a minister to Washington, why not Australia? And if Australia, why not other portions of the Empire?

"The Imperial conference will, of course, find one of its most difficult problems to be the adjustment of the foreign policies of the British dominions. Australia, New Zealand and Canada now have some interests closely allied to those of the United States. More important still, there is among these nations a kinship of ideals, traditions and sympathies strong enough to serve as a foundation for a close understanding between the English-speaking peoples, and co-operation would go far toward insuring world peace."

For some unaccountable reason short circuiting in liquor to and from the distilleries of Western Ontario, via the express companies has almost ceased. Only an occasional case of whiskey strays through this city now and then in contrast to the carloads which were daily shipped not long ago. This week for the first time since the advent of prohibition there was no week-end rush of liquor. Not a single case of whiskey passed through London from last Saturday until Monday.

New Rails For G. T. R.

Despite the retrenching policy of the G. T. R., local officials of that road are confident that many miles of new rail will be laid in the local division this summer. The company is planning to lay new 100-pound steel on the eastbound track between this city and Paris and a double track of the same weight rails between Lynden Junction and Copetown. Because there is an absolute necessity for this construction work it is expected that the official approval for the expenditure will be received in time for the work to be started this summer.

New Terminal at Port.

Work has almost been completed on the new terminal of the London and Port Stanley Railway at Port Stanley. A high wire inclosure encircling the two tracks is under construction at the beach to prevent the crowding of trains. When the terminal has been completed, no one will be allawed within it until the trains are ready, and then only enough people to fill the coaches will be allowed through the gates. This will prevent people rushing to board the trains before they have come to a standstill, a common practice which has always been a menace to the safety of the traveling public in the past.

A new station is to be erected on the beach this fall, and in the near future the officials of the road are planning to rebuild and enlarge the station in the village. It will be made practically the same size as the t. Thomas station and then covered with stucco.

Funeral Train.

While the darkness of early morning cast a pall over all things, one of the strangest funereal parties ever assembled passed westward through this city today. The bodies of 233 American soldiers who had given their lives on the fields of France were being carried in nine sombre-looking baggage cars to their former homes in Chicago and points west, where the relatives awaited them. The bodies were accompanied by a guard of honor of American infantry, riding in one Pullman car. The train passed through London at 2:30 o'clock.

FIRST ANNUAL PICNIC.

The first annual picnic of the employees of the Canadian Express Company will be held in Springbank July 1. It was announced today. The details will be arranged at a meeting to be held Thursday evening.

30 MINUTES CUT OFF.

As a result of a slight change in the C. P. . timetable now effective, 30 minutes has been cut from the regular time of No. 19, running betwen Chicago and Montreal, passing through this city formerly at 10:10 p.m. The train will now leave five minutes earlier.

Tour of Inspection.

Vice-President A. D. Mactier of the C. P. R., accompanied by H. C. Grout, general superintendent of the Ontario lines, is making a tour of inspection of the local division. The officials are in Windsor today. They will motor from Windsor and Chatham to this city early Friday morning visiting various points en route. The party will leave London for Guelph at 9 p.m.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS DISCUSS NUMEROUS IMPORTANT MATTERS

Complete Arrangements for Meeting of Ten Municipalities Saturday.

Many things of importance to the local Chamber of Commerce were discussed at a meeting of the directors at a luncheon at noon today.

The coming meeting of the export managers of the firms in Western Ontario was discussed. The directors are determined to do everything possible to make the meeting a huge success, and one of considerable moment in the commercial development of the western peninsula. The local officials have been assured that delegates will be present from Windsor, Sarnia, Chatham, Woodstock, Brantford, Goderich, Galt, Guelph, Stratford and Kitchener. No communication has been heard from St. Thomas up to the present time.

A letter just received from J. Crow of Toronto, one of the strongest advocates of the Canadian West Indies union, opened the question among the directors once more. It was discussed at some length.

Arrangements will be made for the reception of the British lawn bowlers, who are to visit London in August. The party of visitors will number between 40 and 50, including women.

The question of incorporating the Chamber of Commerce was brought to a head. A letter was received from the under-secretary of state, giving a ruling that the present organization should be considered a successor to the old board of trade, incorporated under a private board of trade act in 1866. The name only was changed.

Arrangements were also completed for a meeting in this city on Saturday next of representatives from ten municipalities of Western Ontario, called to discuss the proposed campaign for bringing British industries to this part of Ontario.

Mrs. Lewis Sanagan, aged 85 years, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. William Heald, 111 Inkerman street, was seriously injured Wednesday afternoon when she fell through a trapdoor in her home. The aged victim fractured one rib and received a severe shaking up.

She was reported to be in a fair condition by the attending puhysician this morning.

CARUSO ARRIVES IN NAPLES.

Naples, June 9.—Enrico Caruso, the noted opera singer, arrived here today on the steameship President Wilson, and was met by throngs of friends and admirers. The singer appeared in a jolly mood, and said he had come to Italy to have a perfect rest among his native people. He added his voyage across the Atlantic had greatly contributed toward recuperation of his strength, and that now he feels completely fit.

UNEMPLOYED PAY REDUCED IN BRITAIN

Five Shilling Cut For Men and Four Shillings For Women.

LONDON, June 8.—The Government is rapidly shedding its financial responsibilities in pursuance of the policy of retrenchment. Most surprising is the repeal of the agricultural bill, which was passed only last December, and came into operation on January 1. It guaranteed minimum prices to the farmer for his produce and was estimated to entail a subsidy amounting to from £20,000,000 to £30,000,000 yearly. These guaranteed prices will terminate with the next harvest.

In the House of Commons tonight, the Government introduced a bill reducing unemployment doles from twentp shillings to fifteen shillings weekly for men, and from sixteen to twelve shillings for women, and at the same time increasing the contributions from both employers and employees.

T. J. MacNamara, minister of labor, in introducing the bill, explained that owing to the enormous increase in unemployment through the coal strike, this insurance scheme had become insolvent, the Government paying £2,000,000 weekly and receiving only £350,000.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, June 9—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Stocks of every description were severely depressed at the opening of today's session. The further collapse of foreign exchange which forced London quotations under $3 70, was one of the distrubing factors. The proposed heavy export tax on Mexican oils was another unfavorable development. Within the first few minutes of the active trading, Mexican Petroleum registered a decline of 4 points, and Pan-American Petroleum lost 6 points. Other oils, as well as steels, equipments, motors and specialties, were materially lower. United States Steel fell almost 1 point to 77¼, a new low quotation for the year.

1:30 p.m.—Passing of the dividend on International Agriculture preferred was followed by a decline of 5¼ points. Mexican Petroleum extended its loss to 7¼ points, and a wide variety of steels, equipments, copers and miscellaneous shares added 1 to 2 points to their losses of the morning.

SUING LONDON ST. RAILWAY FOR $5,000

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Gibbons Institute Action.

WAGES FOR NURSING

Ernest J. Buller Is Suing Wilhelmina Smith for $1,360.

Two cases have been set down for the non-jury session of the Supreme Court of Ontario, which opens at the courthouse on June 20. Hon. Mr. Justice Masten is presiding.

ErnestJ. Buller, a local broker, is suing Wilhelmina Smith, executrix of the last will and testament of Jean Crawford Smith, deceased, for $1,360 wages for nursing.

The plaintiff claims that on February 4, 1919, he agreed, with the deceased, that he would nurse her and attend to her household duties, and that he was to be well paid for his work. He said that he did the work until May 19, 1920, a period of 8 weeks. Then, he says, the deceased went to live with the defendant and died at her home. He claims his wages at the rate og $20 a week.

The defendant denies that the plaintiff had any such arrangement with the deceased, and says that if he did he was paid in full for his services. She further states that the action is "frivolous and vexatious," and asks that it be dismissed.

E. T. Essery for the plaintiff: W. G. R. Bartram for the defendant.

Suit for $5,000.

Minnie Hilton Gibbons and B. G. Gibbons are suing the London Street Railway Company for $5,000 damages for injuries. They claim that on August 21, 1920, they were passengers on a Springbank car when it collided with another car a short distance east of the loop at Springbank. Mrs. Gibbons claims that she was thrown violently against the back of the seat and as a result suffered from nervous shock and internal injuries. She claims that she was permanently injured, and incapacitated so that she is unable to do her housework. Her husband claims to have been put to a great deal of expense on account of the accident. The plintiffs say that the accident was due to negligence on the part of the defendants' servants in not stopping before the collision occurred.

The defendants deny that there was any negligence.

E. T. Essery for the plaintiffs; Ivey, Elliott & Ivey for the defendants.

BIGGEST GATHERING OF IROQUOIS SINCE WARFARE OF 1812

Welfare Conference Being Held at Malone June 10 to 12.

CANADIAN DELEGATES

Names and Ancestry of Chiefs Recall Notable Events in Early History of America.

Malone, N. Y., June 7.—The largest gathering of Iroquois Indians held in New York State since the war of 1812 will assemble in Malone for the annual conference of the New York Indian Welfare Society, June 10-12, according to word received from Dr. Earl A. Bates of Syracuse, Indian agricultural extension agent at Cornell University, and one of the founders of the society.

Indians from all of the Six Nations will be in attendance. The Six Nations of Canada will send an official observer, and it is expected that delegations will come from the reservation at Oshweken, near Brantford, Ont., and from the Caughnawaga and the Abenaki reservations in Quebec.

Many of the leading white authorities on Indian matters are planning to attend the conference.

Some of the famous characters among the Indians who expect to attend the conference are.

Hon. Walter S. Kennedy, chief judge of the Peacemakers' Court of the Seneca Nation. The United States supreme court recently ruled that the decisions of his court are subject to revision by the United States supreme court.

Howard Gansworth, president of the New York State Indian Welfare Society, graduate of Princeton University, and president of the Princeton Club of New York State, president of a large manufacturing concern in Buffalo, and formerly head of the Carlisle Indian School.

Chief Nicodemus Billy, of the Tonawanda-Senecas, famous Carlisle captain, who won the game against Harvard by putting the ball under his jersey and running across the line. Next to Jim Thorpe, he is regarded as the greatest Indian athlete. He is a great-grandson of Little Billy, the Iroquois chief who was with George Washington at Valley Forge.

Inventor of Shenandite.

Chief Chapman Shenandoah of the Oneidas, inventor of shenandite, the smokeless powder used in the war. He was employed in the United States Arsenal during the world war, and was commander of a warship in the Spanish-American war, and is now chief toolmaker of the New Process Gear Company. He is regarded as a mechanical genius, and is a direct descendant of the great Shenandoah, who figured prominently in early American history.

Head Chief David Sky of the Canadian Six Nations at Ohsweken, near Brantford, Ont., whose tribe is descended from the Indians who took the side of the British in the Revolutionary War, and fought under Joseph Brant. Brant's sister, Molly Brant, married Sir William Johnson, the British military leader, who was famous for his influence among the Iroquois during the period preceding the revolution.

Chief David R. Hill of the Onondagaa, a direct descendant of Hiawatha.

Head Chief William Johnson of the Tuscaroras in Niagara County, who are now contending for control of Niagara Falls.

Chief Arthur Doxtader, clerk of the Cattaragus-Senecas, a famous Carlisle track star, and a descendant of Red Jacket.

Chief Alfred Jimmerson of the Allegany-Senecas, a descendant of Mary Jimmerson, the "White Indian," who was adopted by the Indians after the massacre of Geneseo.

Among the other chiefs who will attend are: Yankee Spring, Wyman Jimmerson, Tommy Teakettle, Alex Burning Log, Jesse Lyons (courier of the Confederacy), George Wheelbarrow, Lost Kettle, Tommy Button, Titus Paterson, Grant Mount Pleasant, Joseph Half-Town, Sylvester Crouse, William Rockwell, Elon Eel, Peter Doctor, William Hoag, Horton Elm and William Rolling Thunder.

President J. A. Flanagan of the Malone Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee of Malone men and women to co-operate in all plans for the conference.

WILNER'S CASE IS STILL IN PROGRESS

Uncle and Nephew Will Give Evidence This Afternoon.

Noon adjournment at the county court saw the case of Harry and Jacob Wilner, who are charged with having received stolen goods, still unready for the jury. The two accused have yet to be heard. They will probably take the stand this afternoon, and it is expected that the case will occupy the court's attention for the remainder of the day.

Abraham Rosenvelt, father-in-law of Jacob Wilner, said that on May 14, 1920, he gave Jacob a parcel to take to Toronto. This was the day previous to the day on which the offence was alleged to have been committed.

Samuel Pepperman said that on May 15, 1920, he met Jacob in Toronto, and they talked about the sale of a certain house there.

Thomas Nairn, a local coal man, said that last fall he delivered coal to Harry Wilner's place on William street, and that the gate was in good condition then, but one of the posts was removed in order that he might deliver the coal without difficulty.

Ernest Armstrong, who is serving two years in Kingston penitentiary for stealing the goods which the Wilners are charged with receiving, said that lately he was taken down William street by detectives and identified Wilner's house by the broken gate, which, he swore yesterday, was there in May, 1920.

Thomas McClure, a Toronto costume designer, said that he met Jacob Wilner in Toronto at 3 o'clock on May 15, 1920.

Jacob Wilner, Jun., stated that as Jacob, Sen., was away on May 15, 1920, he had to make a shipment to Winnipeg, without any assistance. That was the only time in the two years he was employed there that he did so.

Abe Sigel purchased a new auto on May 13, 1920. Armstrong had said that Sigel had loaned the car to himself and Harry Wilner. Sigel denied this. When he was confronted with Armstrong in court he said that he had never seen the man previous to the December trial.

Jacob Elsikowitch, a silk buyer from Toronto, valued the silk produced in court at $200. He said that would have been the price in May, 1920. He would not give any more than $100 for the lot now. The Strathroy merchants from whom the goods were alleged to have been stolen value the same lot at $488.

Ernest Armstrong said that about 12 o'clock the night of Saturday, May 15, 1920, Smith came to his house. They drove in a car to Miles' and Gills' store, and after breaking the rear door, stole the silk. Armstrong drove to London, he testified, and between 5 and 6 o'clock in the morning arrived at Harry Wilner's house on William street. He knocked at the door and Harry Wilner came and helped him carry the silks from the auto to the front room of the house. Then Jacob Wilner appeared. They said that they could not give any more than $200 for the stolen goods. Armstrong said that he told them and both he and Smith expected more. After a discussion in a foreign language, the witness stated, the two accused decided to pay $250. He said that he was told that the silk was a poor grade of Japanese.

Got Rid of Wrappers.

"We'd better get rid of those wrappers," he quoted Jacob Wilmer as saying regarding some paper wrappers that were around each roll of silk. They burned them, he continued.

He said that previous to the robbery he had met Jacob Wilner in Strathroy and that they had agreed that if they got the silks the two Wilner men were to pay a sum considerably more than $1,000 for it. Armstrong was reminded that in his evidence at the police court hearing he could not remember that there was an arrangement. He added that Wilner also came to see his wife regarding working for him, she having been in his employ on a previous occasion.

George T. Hare, secretary of the Western Ontario Commercial Travellers' Association, testified that Jacob Wilner had a card in the association and a certificate numbered 26,509.

Fred W. Pannel, Grand Trunk ticket agent at Strathroy, said that on May 15, 1920, he had sold a ticket to the holder of certificate 26,509. George Kinder, the other ticket agent at the Strathroy station, had a similar experience on May 13.

John J. Smith, who is back from Kingston for the trial, swore that on the Tuesday previous to the date of the robbery, "Jake" Wilner had remarked that it was hard to get high-priced silk, and wanted the witness and Armstrong to get it on Wednesday night. Smith said that he and his fellow-prisoner had told Wilner that they could not get it unless they stole it. They refused to commit the robbery on the following evening, as there was not enough money in it. Later they had committed it because they were offered about $1,700, or about $400 more than they were offered on the first occasion, he related. On Saturday, he declared, he had seen "Jake" on the Strathroy station platform. He told of helping Armstrong in the commission of the robbery. They had tied up the loose bundles of silk with silk stockings. For his part in the affair, Smith asserted that he received $125.

Said Harry Didn't Know.

Turnkey Hughes, who was a substitute at the jail last July, said that Armstrong was working in the kitchen there and wandered down to the cell occupied by the two Wilners. He said that Armstrong had pointed to Harry Wilner and had said: "That fellow should not be in jail. He did not know the stuff was stolen." Armstrong did not recollect any such conversation. Hughes said that he had seen Harry Wilner on a street car in January and told him of the occurrence.

Mrs. Elsie Herschman, 82 Elm street, Toronto, said that for about two years Harry Wilner had owed her $250, and that on May 15, 1920, he had come to Toronto and paid it to her. She said that Jacob was in Toronto about that time, too, and that Harry Wilner's wife and two children stayed at her home about a month.

Entitled to Fair Trial.

In charging the jury not to listen to anything regarding the case during the time that it was free, Judge Judd said that the defence was entitled to a fair deal, as also was the crown, which was protecting the public welfare, which needed much protection, especially at the present time. He requested the jurors to report anyone who spoke to them regarding the case or discussed the case within their hearing. He promised that there would be "something doing" if such a thing occurred.

The prisoners, who are being tried at present were allowed out on bail until 9:30 o'clock this morning. The two men from Kingston were lodged in jail.

The case of Ray Brammer and Fred Mason, charged with a liquor theft in Biddulph, may be brought before the court late this afternoon.

Mrs. Herschman said that her daughter Annie, who had given evidence at the December trial of the case, had married since then, and at present was ill.

Mary Greenstein, sister-in-law of Jacob Wilner, had also given evidence in December. She, too, was ill now. On consent of the crown the evidence of these witnesses was read.

Regarding the return of her $250, Mrs. Herschman was asked if she transacted any business with Harry Wilner on May 15, 1920. She stoutly denied that she had.

"It's not business, it's a pleasure to receive money," commented Judge Judd.

PROTESTS AGAINST ADDRESS OF SIMS

Washington, June 8.—Senator McCormick (Republican), Illinois, complained formally today to President Harding and Secretary Denby about the address delivered in London yesterday by Rear-Admiral Sims, in which he discussed the Irish question. The senator asked Secretary Denby to take disciplinary measures against the admiral. He did not see the president formally, but asked Secretary Christian to call the address to the attention of the executive.

KILLED IN MOTOR ACCIDENT.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—F. W. Galbraith, jun., national commander of the American Legion, was instantly killed, and two other unidentified men were seriously injured this morning, when an automobile in which they were riding was dashed over a 20-foot embankment here.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS GIVE BEST RETURN FOR THE MONEY EXPENDED

Declared Col. J. J. Craig, In Address to Convention at O. A. C. Wednesday.

GUELPH, June 8.—Two hundred and fifty delegates from six counties were at the O. A. C. today in attendance at the district convention of the ratepayers section of the Ontario Educational Association. The counties embraced in the district are: Wellington, Wentworth, Waterloo, Halton, Peel and Dufferin, and during the convention, which lasted all day, many subjects relating to public, continuation and high schools were discussed.

The chief address at the morning session, which was presided over by G. C. Whirter of Colbrek, was delivered by Col. J. J. Craig of Fergus, inspector of public schools for South Wellington, who made a strong plea for consolidated schools. Col. Craig dealt with the matter very thoroughly, and stated that consolidated schools had given much better results than rural schools. The attendance for pupils was more regular, and was 90 per cent in some schools the year round.

Many Advantages.

Other advantages recited by Col. Craig for consolidation were better grading, better kept schools and grounds, the opportunity for the pupils to study gardening, manual training, household science, and the introduction of healthy games, and the fact that mothers' meetings are held frequently. "Consolidated schools give us better educational returns for the money spent, and in my opinion is the solution of rural educational problems," said Col. Craig.

The afternoon session was presided over by Dr. J. M. Abbott of Erin. The chief speakers were J. N. MacKendrick of Galt; Dr. James Miller, assistant director of technical education for Ontario, and Dr. G. H. Campbell of Orangeville. The delegates were entertained this afternoon and evening the music and folk-dancing class from Guelph public schools, under the direction of Miss Murray.

The chief speakers at the closing session this evening were Principal R. Reynolds of the O. A. C., and Dr. J. Waugh, chief inspector for the province.

However, the true reason for the exclusion of Canadian cattle from Britain is not to be found in their extraordinary craving for green grass, nor their tendency to disturb the harmony of the peaceful Scottish glens by their primitive frolics, but in the fact that, as further stated by Col. Westropp, the admission of cattle from abroad would discourage native farmers who specialize in stock-raising. The embargo is a protective measure pure and simple, not protection against disease, real or imaginary, but against competition from outside the country.

THE MOON MALIGNED.

On the front page of a Toronto newspaper a headline blames the sun-spots for recent storms. In an inner page another heading holds the new moon responsible for a frost. There may be something in the former idea, but the latter belongs to the day of belief in witches and astrology.

If a poor innocent young moon bring a frost with her, we ought to have snowstorms by the time she is full, with skating on the river. Between this frosty-minded moon and the comet we seem in for a most remarkable June. It won't matter, however, how badly the moon behaves if the comet lives up to its advance notices. We shan't be caring whether the berries freeze, if a general conflagration and explosion are in order, anyway.

But, "seriously," the moon has no place in our weather. Her own mundane function seems to be to regulate the ocean tides, and this she does in regular, modest style. It is impossible to reconcile our moon as the sure and steady sovereign of the sea with her stupid misrepresentation by superstition as a fickle directress of the weather.

AN ECONOMIC LEAGUE OF PEACE WANTED.

Of the miners' strike in England we should like to say as we used to say about the war while it raged, "There must never be another." But as the world is just now in a despondent mood about the prevention of war, anyone would hesitate to propose a plan or even set up a plea for no more strikes of this colossal character. Great Britain, however, is in grave danger not merely from this or that strike, but from the conditions and spirit underlying these rebellions of labor.

Whatever may be the rights or wrongs of the miners' demands, it is manifest that great masses of people in Great Britain are fundamentally dissatisfied with the general conditions of life. Back of this or that particular demand made is a savage class hatred, such as we hardly realize in Canada, a rebellion against the general distribution of goods, a feeling that "things should be different since the war." In his last book on the war, "Now It Can Be Told," Sir Philip Gibbs reiterates again and again that the disbanded armies are full of anger at the high prices, the war profiteers, the dancing and prancing of those better off. "England, they thought, was rotten all through," says Gibbs. The war hate drilled into masses of men against the Germans he sees deepening the old economic antagonisms at home. During the war all talked of fighting for liberty. Well, then, let us have liberty and equality now that we have won the victory. And perhaps the working legions of industry do not always see any better than their directors the path of truest freedom.

What is necessary for Great Britain is not merely the settlement of the strike, but some sort of peace, or truce at least, among warring factions. In the Middle Ages the clergy tried to promote what they called the Peace of God, putting forward the commands of the Prince of Peace. Industrial peace can be brought about in our century only in the same way as international peace, by some kind of organized league. An economic League of Peace is a desideratum. Employer, manager, owner, worker and consumer will have to be all represented in some sort of standing conference whose guiding light shall be a determination to do fairly by all. Amidst class hatred no economic progress is possible, and moral ruin is a probability. But given a restoration of mutual confidence and goodwill, man will not mind working, "with more equality of labor and reward, duty and sacrifice," as Gibbs puts it, and their managers may have a genuine happiness in the co-operation of all.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

When enumerating duty's to be done, a census job is not a happy one.

"St. Thomas the Beautiful" ought to be a possible title if those 30,000 gladioli bulbs come up.

Britain says "No, thank you," to Germany's offer of help in Silesia. "The day" has not yet come.

Sandwich wants a magistrate, but frequently a magistrate wants a sandwich these busy days.

Rear Admiral Sims appears to have escaped the perils of the great war only to fall into hot water from time to time.

It has cost a Brantford man $7.13 for refusing to answer the questions of the census enumerator. Silence is not always golden.

Angora's arrogant attitude to Allies is apt to accelerate arrival of British battleships Benbow and Centaur at Constantinople from Dardanelles.

A correspondent wishes to know whether the protection of key industries in Britain is to make things more secure in the hardware trade.

It is stated that Kingston penitentiary has now more inmates than at any time since the Fenian raids. We infer from this that the "pen" has lost none of its popularity as a health resort.

"One would never think that this country was hard up at all by the manner in which the Government is spending," says F. F. Pardee. A short life, but a merry one, is apparently the Meighen motto.

BRITISH LEADERSHIP IN INDIA.

[The Englishman, Calcutta.]

Whatever has been done by Indians to open up the resources of the country is due entirely to a British education, and the man who says that the cutting off of the British connection would be immediately followed by a great increase in the prosperity of the country is ignoring the fact that if rich Indians will not now, when there is peace and order in the country, venture their money in speculative undertakings, they are still less likely to do so when a strong government has been replaced by a weak one, and when apparently the British type of education which has induced such enterprise as does exist, has been supplanted by another in which even English, the language of science and trade all over the world, has been banned. India, if she makes use of British ideals so far as material matters are concerned, may go very far in the world. Indeed, she may rise to the very top, for she has the money, and the men,

OTHERS' VIEWS

HITTING AT RANDOM.

[Vancouver Sun.]

The epilogue of the world war has been expressed in world unrest.

People feel that something is wrong and they strike out at anything that affords a fair target.

The farmer has been affected by changed conditions, various industries have suffered, unemployment has resulted and as a consequence there is a tendency to blame everything and everybody.

The Socialist element declares the whole social fabric is rotten, the farmer believes the city man is gouging him, while the city man says the farmer is making too much. And both say that the war was the cause of it all.

Indiscriminate fault finding will not relieve the situation very much.

But hard work and hustling will remedy everything.

The man who is satisfied with the work he is doing will be the first to find out that conditions are not so bad as his neighbor appears to think.

THE SACRAMENT OF THE RANK AND FILE.

[Westminster Gazette.]

This at least may be said of speech. It is the sacrament of the rank and file; it requires no apparatus. All that is needed is the inward conviction, and the listener. There must be the Word, burning in the bones of a man, and the upturned face of some human being, seeking for light and love. Speech is the layman's sacrament; it cannot be forbidden to any; there is no need to wait for any official recognition."

END OF THE MELTING POT.

[Brandon Sun.]

One of the things that the war abolished was the literary fad of speaking of the "melting pot." It was supposed that the western hemisphere were absorbing all the European races and automatically, in course of time, merging them into 100 per cent Americans. The United States press took frequent pleasure in pointing with pride to its effective melting pot. Orators dwelt lovingly on the fusion of all races into one freedom-loving republic. Finished Americans were turned out daily after being put into the melting pot, but the war and the present aftermath proves that the temperature of the pot did not fuse all those races. They go into the melting pot as a race and come out unchanged and with a hyphen attached. Some of those that have been tried in the furnace now seem so degenerate that the Russian Bolsheviki have issued an embargo upon immigration from the United States. That should be the last blow to the theorists of the melting pot. Patriotism must be taught, by lesson and by example and by the steady process of time—it is a voluntary movement.

JUST HARD WORK.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

The playwrights, thinkers, writers, scientists and artists who have risen above their fellows have done so by constant application and by unremitting toil. We see them in their hours of triumph and forget the rest. The successful ones appear to the public in their success. And the public marvels at the ease with which they go through their steps, little recking of the price paid for the glory.

THE SILVER FOX.

[Ottawa Journal.]

Prince Edward Island stood alone a few years ago in the development of the silver black fox industry; but her monopoly has ceased. The United States, quick to recognize the profits to be won, has taken to the breeding of these valuable little furred animals on a considerable scale. A recent survey by the department of agriculture at Washington discloses the fact that there are in that country 215 fox ranches, with a capital investment of $4,279,830. During the past year 805 permits were given for the importation of foxes from Canada, as compared with 335 in 1919.

The Dominion bureau of statistics places the number of silver black foxes in this country at 6,433, with a valuation of $3,013,115. The sale of 2,020 pelts for $482,264 represents an average price of slightly under $240 each, which would rather point to one of two things: Either that the quality is not generally being maintained, or that the rosy prospects of several years ago with regard to high values have not been realized. Even at those figures, it is conceivable that the industry may be quite profitable.

PITY THE POOR TEACHER.

[The Australasian.]

There is no more honorable profession in the world than the teaching of the young. Yet it is the most badly paid. In Australia the unskilled laborer can earn as much as a secondary school teacher, and considerably more than a head teacher of a state school. Democracies seem to entertain contempt for the teacher, and the true demagogue regards education as another name for snobbery.

WHAT HUMAN FOOD DID TO MONKEYS.

[Literary Digest.]

A Philadelphia doctor has made the experiment of feeding monkeys on the diet with which the majority of men and women feed themselves. The following is an account of his results as quoted in Good Health (Battle Creek, Mich.):

"It is a literal fact that the disposition of the lower animals, at least, can be controlled by their eating. In a series of laboratory diet tests on monkeys, the results were remarkable. For one week the monkeys were fed upon a protein diet heavy with meat and beans. At the end of the first three days the monkeys began to be dull. They swung about the cage very little; life seemed to weigh heavily upon them. In another two days they slumped down, held their heads in their paws, and took very little interest in anything that was happening.

"By the end of the week the cage was filled with a band of melancholy pessimists who took no exercise, were willing to look at nothing offered to them, and regarded the world with sad and dreary eyes. For a week they were fed only vegetables, cereals, and fruit. In three days they had brightened up; in five days they frisked about in their old happy fashion. At the end of the week they were a band of optimists.

"Referring now to humans, I find it true that the heavy protein diet which is habitual with so many persons does make for pessimism. Counteracting influences of the type that men, and not monkeys, are subject to may permit a man who feeds for pessimism to remain an optimist, but he is working under a handicap."

THE MODEST DANDELION.

[Vancouver Province.]

Many who are disposed to speak disparagingly of the modest but persistent dandelion are not aware that it ranks with the aristocrats of the floral world. In flowery language it is described as being indigenous to America and a member of the aster family: "In its perfection, the single bright yellow blossom topping a hollow, milky stalk radiates sunshine; becomes a beautiful flower and not a weed by the wall. And its name—dent de leon—which has become corrupted into dandelion, means the tooth of the lion."

Poetry and Jest

AN IMPRESSION.

[D. Bidwell in Canadian Bookman.]

I looked from my small upper window that morning
Into the greyness of the storm.
The snow was gone from the bare earth,
Yet knew I that Spring was very far off.
I saw the dark, graceful, defenceless trees
Terribly shaken by the might of the storm.
And I saw the last leaf in all that country
Whirled through the air, tossed madly and aimlessly
In the grip of the West Wind,
Yet in the storm, in the wind, in the tossing of the trees,
In the mad flight of the leaf I read
but one meaning:
"Surely the soul hath life eternal;
there is life unguessed at beyond the grave."

TAUGHT AMERICA GOLF.

[London Daily Chronicle.]

The great golf invasion from America serves to recall that there is still living the man who may be said to have introduced golf on the other side. In his "Fifty Years of Golf," Mr. Horace Hutchison has told us how, on a Sunday afternoon, he gave some simple demonstrations of the game at a country club near New York, and how little enthusiasm its first introduction raised in the minds of his hosts, whose utmost enthusiasm did not go beyond the concession that it might be a way of passing a lazy Sunday afternoon.

WHERE LOVE IS SWEET.

[Esther L. Williams.]

Oh, come with me when the roses
bloom,
When the air is filled with a soft perfume,
And the bees hum low their cheerful
tune,
For the world was made for love, in June,
When the skies hang low and the roses
bloom.

Oh, come with me when the autumn
calls,
With its face aglow as the harvest
falls—
As the nuts, rich brown,
Come shattering down
About our feet—
For love is sweet
When the autumn haze
Broods o'er the days,
And all the world is set to rhyme.
When the autumn calls,
Oh, it is true love's trysting time,
And the forest's rich brown harvest
falls.

Oh, come with me when the north winds
blow,
When the storm god howls and the drifting snow
Shuts out the world, while the fire's red glow
On the hearth sends out its cheerful beams,
As together we dream love's old,
sweet dreams,
For the world was made for love, you know,
When winter comes and the north winds
blow.

Oh, come with me when the wild flowers spring
To greet the sun,
And the robins sing
Their first sweet love songs in the trees,
And every breeze
Bears in its bosom soft and warm,
The age-old magic of its charm
That sets the world athrob with love;
And every cove,
And every forest nook and glen
Beckons unto the sons of men
And calls in love tones soft and clear
That love's own time, the spring is here.
Oh, love is sweet in the early spring,
When the wild flowers bloom and the robins sing.

SOLOMON'S FAME.

Little Girl—Please, teacher, he was related by marriage to more people than any other man that ever lived.

BEAUTIFUL MISS SUMMER.

[Baltimore Sun.]

Beautiful Miss Summer—a ballad for your eyes,
Underneath their bonnet of the soft blue skies!
A madrigal before you
And a sweet song to sing
Through the porches of the lilacs
When it's half-past spring!

Rings on your fingers and bells on your toes—
Beautiful Miss Summer, in the soft fur-belows!
Oh, make a little chanson
Of the morning and the dew.
My love that is the spirit
Of the wild heart of you!

Beautiful Miss Summer—with a rose upon her lips;
Lady of the rainbow that o'er the meadow trips!
Give me lutes of ivory,
Give me harps of jade.
To make a minstrels music,
For so beautiful a maid!

A BARGAIN HUNTER.

[Exchange.]

"Mrs. Blank is a great bargain hunter, isn't she?"

"Yes; she even picked out a husband whose reputation was slightly damaged."

PRAIRIE FLOWERS.

[A. H. Sutherland, in the Canadian Bookman.]

The land with all the rose is red;
The starry aster rears her head,
And daisies, dipped in morning dew,
Their dainty lashes lift anew.

Under the shadow of the wood,
Where odors of the orchid brood,
The clusters of the deep pea-vine
Blend with the drooping columbine.

The dainty blue-bells twist and tease,
And bow and bend to every breeze,
While hidden violets from the grass
Peep shyly at me as I pass.

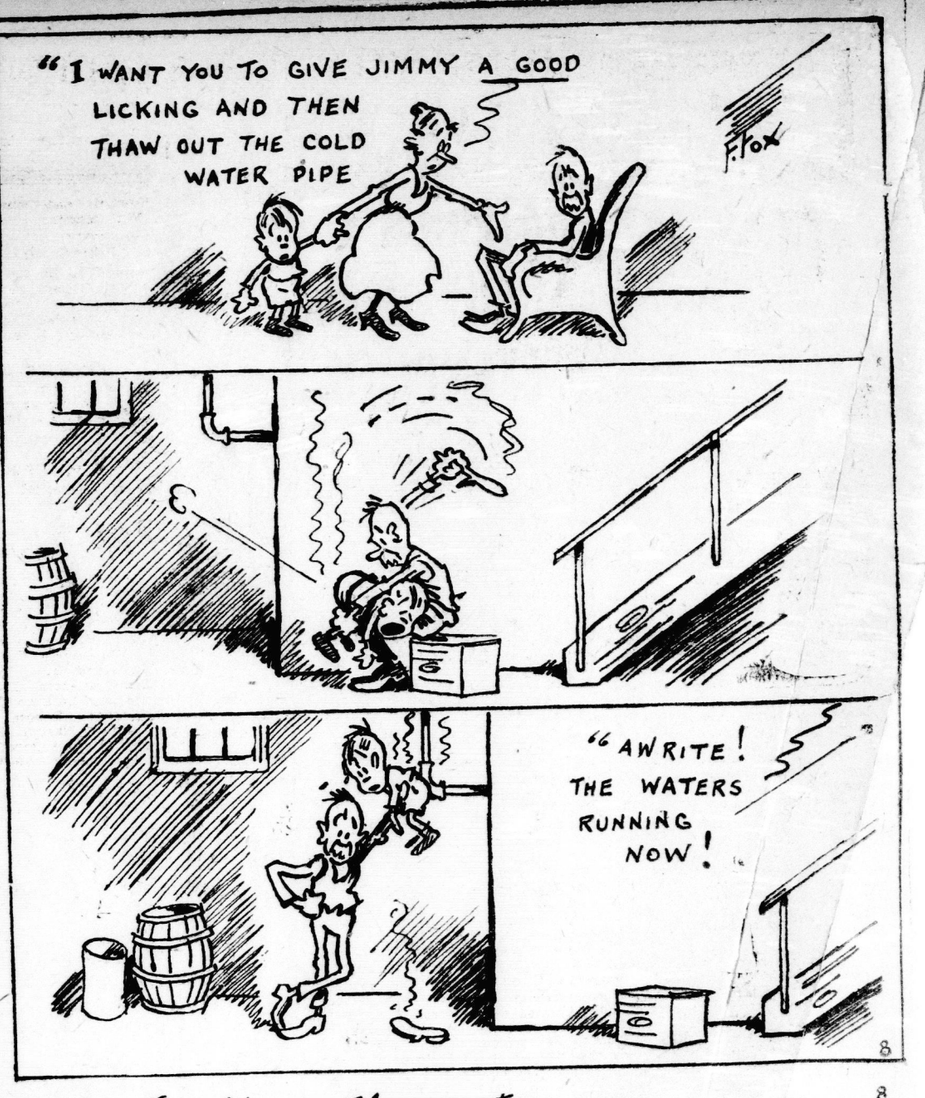

I had not found one folded bloom.
When, lo, a delicate perfume
Told where within the marshy dell
The tardy gentian wove her spell.

As some sweet fragrance in a dream
Comes faintly back at morning's beam,
So in my pulses seems to stir
The rapture of the lavender.

The sunflower bending to her God,
The glory of the golden-rod,
On autumn days, when suns are cold,
Have burnished all the land with gold.

As some great starry sea at eve
The twilight prairies I perceive.
Unfold my tent where beauty reigns
In God's great garden of the plains.

Two birds with one stone —

SPANISH DOUBLOONS

BY CAMILLA KENYON

I suppose that with a due regard for my dignity I should have risen and departed. I had been so definitely relegated to the position of outsider that to remain to witness the unveiling of the great mystery seemed indecently intrusive. Let it be granted, then, that I ought to have got up with stately grace and gone away. Only, I did nothing of the sort. In spite of my exclusion from all its material benefits, I had an amateur's appreciation of that map. I felt that I should gloat over it. Perhaps of all those present I alone, free from sordid hopes, would get the true romantic zest and essence of it—

Covertly I watched the faces around me. Mr. Tubbs' eyes had grown bright, he licked his lips. His nose, tip-tilted, and slightly bulbous, took on a more than usually roseate hue. Capt. Magnus, who was of a restless and jerky habit at the best of times, was like a leashed animal scenting blood. Beneath his open shirt you saw the quick rise and fall of his hairy chest. His lips, drawn back wolfishly, displayed yellow, fanglike teeth. Under the raw crude greed of the man you seemed to glimpse something indescribably vulpine and ferocious.

The face of Dugald Shaw was controlled, but there was a slight rigidity in its quiet. A pulse beat rapidly in his cheek. All worldly good, all hope of place, power, independence, hung for him on the contents of the small flat package, wrapped in oil-silk, which Miss Browne was at this moment withdrawing from her pocket.

Only Cuthbert Vane, seated next to me, maintained without effort his serenity. For him the whole affair belonged to the category known as sporting, where a gentleman played his stake and accepted with equanimity the issue.

As Miss Browne undid the oil-silk package everybody held his breath, except poor Aunt Jane, who most inopportunely swallowed a gnat and choked.

The dead sailor's legacy consisted of a single sheet of time-stained paper. Two-thirds of the sheet was covered by a roughly-drawn sketch in faded ink, giving the outline of the island shores as we had seen them from the Rufus Smith. Here was the cove, with the name it bears in the Admiralty charts—Lantern Bay—written in, and a dotted line indicating the channel. North of the bay the shore line was carried for only a little distance. On the south was shown the long tongue of land which protects the anchorage, and which ends in some detached rocks or islets. At a point on the seaward side of the tongue of land, about on a line with the head of the bay, the sketch ended in a swift backward stroke of the pen which gave something the effect of a cross.

To all appearance the map was merely to give Hopperdown his directions for entering the cove. There was absolutely no mark upon it to show where the treasure had been buried.

Now for the writing on the sheet below the map. It was in another hand than that which had written "Lantern Bay" across the face of the cove, and which, though labored, was precise and clear. This other was an uneven, wavering scrawl:

"He sed it is in a Cave with 2 mouths near by the grave of Bill Halliwell wich was cut down for he new to much. He sed you can bring a boat to the cove at half Tide but beware the turn for the pull is strong. He sed to find the grave again look for the stone at the hed marked B. H. and a Cross Bones. In the Chist is gold Dubloons, a vast lot, also a silver Cross wich he sed leve for the Grave for he sed Bill walks and that's unlucky."

That was all. A fairly clear direction for any friend who had attended the obsequies of Bill and knew where to look for the stone marked B. H. and a cross-bones, but to perfect strangers it was vague.

A blank look crept into the intent faces about the table.

"It—it don't happen to say in more deetail jest precisely where that cave might be looked for?" inquired Mr. Tubbs, hopefully.

"In more detail?" repeated Miss Browne, challengingly. "Pray, Mr. Tubbs, what further detail could be required?"

"A good deal more, I am afraid," remarked the Scotchman grimly.

Miss Browne whirled upon him. In her cold eye a spark had kindled. And suddenly I had a new vision of her. I saw her no longer as the deluder of Aunt Jane, but as herself the deluded. Her belief in the treasure was an obsession. The map was her talisman, her way of escape from an extension which had been drab and dull enough, I dare say.

"Mr. Shaw, we are given not one, but several infallible landmarks. The cave has two mouths, it can be approached by the sea, it is in the immediate neighborhood of the grave by William Halliwell, which is to be recognized by its headstone. As the area of our search is circumscribed by the narrow limits of this island, I fail to see what further marks of identification can be required."

"A grave ninety years old and hidden beneath a tropical jungle is not an easy thing to find, Miss Browne. As to caves, I doubt but they are numerous. The formation here makes it more than likely. And there'll be more than one with two mouths, I'm thinking."

"Mr. Shaw"—Miss Browne gave the effect of drawing herself up in line of battle—"I feel that I must give expression to the thought which comes to me at this moment. It is this—that if the members of this party are to be chilled by carping doubts, the wave of enthusiasm which has floated us thus far must inevitably recede, leaving us flotsam on a barren shore. What can one weak woman—pardon, my unfaltering Jane!—two women, achieve against the thought of failure firmly held by him to whom we looked to lead us boldly in our forward dash Mr. Shaw, this is no time for crawling earthworm tactics. It is with the bold and sweeping glance of the eagle that we must survey this island, until, the proper point discovered, we swoop with majestic flight upon our predestined goal'"

Miss Browne was somewhat exhausted by this effort, and paused for breath, whereupon Mr. Tubbs, anxious to retrieve his recent blunder, seized with dexterity this opportunity.

Formalism, Controversy and Indifference Great Drawbacks To Church

Declares Rev. T. S. Roy in Inspiring Address At Baptist Convention At Petrolea — Church Reports Show Good Progress.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PETROLEA, June 8.—The morning session of the annual convention of the Middlesex and Lambton County Baptist Churches, which is being held here, was today taken up with the hearing of reports from the various churches. The reports show that during the year 175 people were baptized as members of the church, or in other words it takes 22 Baptists to make one new member. The report also indicated that more Baptists have moved out of the two counties during the last three years than came in.

The churches showing the largest increase in membership were: Adelaide Street, London; Talbot Street, London; Forest; Egerton Street, London; Wortley Road, London, and Wyoming. Strong comment was made on the large amount of "dead wood" in the churches.

Rev. J. N. Norton presented the reports on Sunday school work, which is at the present time in a flourishing condition.

Personal Evangelism.

Rev. T. S. Roy, addressing the meeting on "Personal Evangelism," said there were three great drawbacks to the progress of the church. First might be placed "formalism," including over-organization; controversy was another great difficulty which creates a condition in which the church practically stands still in the highway to argue instead of getting on with her work. The third great evil was "indifference," said Mr. Roy, who declared that the man who does not go to church was more important than the regular attendants at church.

Rev. William Raithby of Petrolea spoke on "Young People's Work" at the afternoon session, and Rev. W. W. McMaster on "Baptist Home Missions." The minimum salary for a Baptist home missionary is at the present time $1,200, plus house rent and transportation, he stated.

Election of Officers.

The election of the church officers will take place tomorrow morning, when it is expected that the following men nominated by the nominating committee will be duly elected: Moderator, Rev. R. R. McKay, Sarnia; clerk, Rev. Thomas Dolittle, Forest, and the preacher of the annual sermon, Rev. T. S. Roy, London.

FRATERNAL SPIRIT AGAIN EXEMPLIFIED

Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody Heads the Anglican Deputation To the Presbyterian General Assembly.

UNION OF ALL CHURCHES

Rev. Dr. Gordon Replies To Greetings of Great Sister Church.

TORONTO, Ont., June 8.—By Canadian Press.—The fraternal spirit between the churches was again emphasized this afternoon when the Presbyterian General Assembly received an Anglican deputation headed by Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody, who brought greetings from the synod of the Diocese of Toronto. Mr. Justice Hodgins was also a member of the deputation. The visitors were received on the platform by the moderator, Right Rev. Dr. Gordon, while the assembly remained standing.

Addressing the assembly, Dr. Cody said the deputation had the honor of presenting to the Presbyterian body a resolution passed by the synod today conveying cordial greetings to the General Assembly with assurances of its Christian sympathy and good will. This was a new age with a new outlook, and new alignments of the church forces might be required to deal with the problems presenting themselves. The recent session of the Lambeth Conference in London marked another stage in the quiet development that has been going on in the Christian churches towards fellowship one with another.

On the Right Side.

Mr. Justice Hodgins referred to the vote in favor of church union and expressed the hope that the Anglican Church would not be overlooked in the great question of union. Many difficulties would no doubt be found in the way of union, but he felt confident that at the critical time the Church of England would be found on the right side. He had great pleasure in joining with Dr. Cody in conveying to the General Assembly the greetings of the Anglican Synod.

Replying to the deputation, Dr. Gordon said he believed the assembly desired him to say that they received with feelings of friendliness and respect the greetings from a great sister church. The deputation represented a great and ancient church with an honor roll of martyrs and statesmen.

"We believe and hold with them every essential doctrine of the Christian faith," said Dr. Gordon. They believed as did the Presbyterians that the Christian Church got its authority from Jesus Christ. When any great national or loyal effort was required, the Church of England was always found in the forefront. He did not desire to indulge in prophecy, but nevertheless believed that the friendly spirit and co-operation now existing between the English-speaking churches would eventually result in a union of all their forces for the work that God had given them to do.

Addressing Dr. Cody, the moderator said he had been delighted when Dr. Cody had decided to remain in Canada, when he ha received a call recently to another field. After another handshake the deputation departed.

WITNESS IDENTIFIES MAN WHO FIRED SHOT AND FAINTS

Inquest Into Death of Peter Wovoda At St. Catharines Opened.

ST. CATHARINES, June 8.—"That man shot me," declared Cosmo Saproznik, pointing at Nick Sherb in the prisoners' dock at the adjourned inquest here tonight on the death of Peter Wovoda, who was killed on the night of May 21 by auto bandits, who also shot and wounded Saproznik. Sherb muttered a few words in Russian to his accuser, then crumpled up in his seat and cried.

The witness, Saproznik, also identified a boy, Cozmick Venosky, as being in the party of hold-up men with a gun.

At the previous sitting of the coroners' jury Peter Holley was identified as the man with two guns who had fired shots at Wovoda. Two other men are in custody in connection with the murder, Sam Haruk and Sam Barton.

ONLY INTENSE WORK AND PRODUCTION CAN SAVE GERMANY

Chancellor Wirth Tells Members of Berlin Bourse In an Address.

BERLIN, June 8.—"It is not memories of battlefields or new wars that point out our future paths or destination; only intense work and production will help us win back liberty for the Fatherland."

Chancellor Wirth thus addressed a plenary session of the members of the Bourse today, in an appeal to that body to support the new Government's plan for carrying out the terms of the London ultimatum. The chancellor briefly outlined the new tax measures which the cabinet is drafting, and which will be presented for approval of Parliament next week. He assured his hearers that he was opposed to indulging in experiments.

APPROVE CHURCH UNION.

MONTREAL, June 8.—Organic union with the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches was approved practically unanimously by the Congregation Union of Canada in session here this afternoon. The resolution embodying this decision was forwarded to the Presbyterian Assembly at Toronto.

THOMAS

WHAT TO DO WITH THE ZOO ANIMALS?

Problem Is Still Facing St. Thomas Civic and Other Authorities.

ST. THOMAS, June 8. — As the animals which made up the collection at the zoo, were presented to the city by local individuals or organizations, those contributing to the funds which were expended in their purchase are demanding that they be returned to them and not the St. Thomas Humane Society. As pets around the house or railway shops the bears might cause some inconvenience. But considerable use, it is claimed, might be found for the goat, either as a gentle means of locomotion in the lodge room or applied to those of the consumers who ask irrelevant questions at the gas department. So far no private application has been made to the manager of the zoo for the return of the animals. Nor has the Humane Society intimated what will their finality be, if they are provided with dormitories and maintained at the inspector's residence, Hiawatha street. By the action of the parks committee last night, says an official, the animals are no longer wards of the council, and they must be taken care of or disposed of by their new proprietors. Their change of ownership does not necessarily demand that the animals are to be still one of the city's "white elephants," warns an east end aldermen.

THANKFUL HE WAS NOT A WOMAN

The late Lawson Tait of England, the great woman's doctor, said he never went to bed at night without thanking heaven he was not born a woman. No doctor ever knew better than he what women have to suffer at some times of their lives. It was an American woman, long since passed to her reward, who introduced a combination of roots and herbs called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that has proved wonderfully successful in mitigating suffering and relieving diseases of women. It has brought relief to thousands of women who suffered from female ills.

HALF HOLIDAY FOR FARMERS DISCUSSED

Delightful Program At Meeting of U. F. O.'s and F. W. C.'s

CRUMLIN, June 8.—Members of the Lambeth United Farmers and Farm Women's Clubs visited the branches at Crumlin on Monday night and put on an exceptionally good program of music, readings and short speeches on live topics. The visitors were warmly welcomed by Mrs. W. C. Smith, president Crumlin U. F. W. O., who called upon Mrs. Cornell, president of the Lambeth U. F. W. O., to occupy the chair. The greetings were replied to by Mr. Howlett, president of the Lambeth U. F. O.

Musical numbers included vocal selections by the Sharon male quartet, North Street male quartet, Messrs. Frank, Thomas, Newton and Howlett; harmonica selections, M. Wintermute, all being obliged to respond with encores. A selection by an "old-fashioned quartet," who appeared in costume, was a decided hit. Mesdames Kitley, Baker and M. Howlett acted as accompanists. Charming readings given by Mrs. Allen were also accorded warm applause.

The pros and cons of the community laundry and other community helps of a domestic nature were briefly discussed by Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Poole. Messrs. Kernohan and Tilden placed before those present the benefits and otherwise of the weekly half-holiday for farmers. The program closed with the singing of the National Anthem, after which the ladies of the Crumlin branch served refreshments.

FLOOD—LONG.

St. Joseph's Church, Stratford, was the scene of an interesting wedding yesterday, when Mary Louise, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Long, was united in marriage to Mr. T. J. Flood of Winnipeg, Rev. Father Aluredeaux of Ford officiating.

COOPER—PORTER.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Church, Garretton, on Wednesday, June 1, at 6 p.m., by Rev. Mr. Dowdell of Merrickville, in the absence of the rector, Rev. R. P. D. Hurford, when Beulah May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter, was united in marriage to Herman R. W. Cooper.

The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with flowers and ferns. The bride, who wore a gown of ivory satin and a dainty hat of white lace with corsage bouquet, entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Wagner's wedding march, played by the organist, Miss Jennette Saunders of Prospect, cousin of the bride. She was attended by her sister, Miss Erma Porter, who wore a dainty frock of pink mull, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and ferns.

The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Alfred D. Hutton.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pretty wrist watch, to the bridesmaid a gold pendant, and to the groomsman gold cuff links.

After the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a dainty supper was served to the immediate friends of the bride and groom. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left for their future home at Garretton.

HIGGINBOTHAM—McKEOUGH.

"Erie Manor," the beautiful country home of Dr. and Mrs. George T. McKeough, Chatham, was profusely decorated with masses of spring blossoms on Saturday, when their daughter Bessie Honora became the bride of Mr. Hubert Higginbotham of Cobourg, son of Mr. Higginbotham of Calgary. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Capt. D. H. Marshall of First Presbyterian Church in the presence of about 150 guests.

The bride, who looked charming in her wedding gown of white georgette over pale pink, trimmed with iridescent beads, wore a veil of tulle with wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of Bridal roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Gay Shannon, who wore pink georgette and carried pink roses. Three little girls, Peggy Templeton, Kitty Elliott and Catherine Campbell, in dainty frocks of white organdy trimmed with pink rosebuds, with pink sashes, made pretty flower girls, each carrying baskets filled with lovely flowers from the McKeough gardens. The ribbon-bearers were Miss Isabel Saunders of Toronto, who wore a gown of yellow Canton crepe, and Mrs. Grant McKeough, who was gowned in pale green georgette and net with sequins.

Mr. Albertini of Cobourg was the best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. McKeough. After the ceremony supper was served, the large table being centered with the bride's cake, which was adorned with an ornament used on her mother's wedding cake. Flowers of every hue and shade made the rooms very attractive. The guests enjoyed dancing until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Higginbotham left for Detroit by motor, after which they will visit in New York and other points. The bride traveled in a smart frock of blue beaded Canton crepe, with grey hat, grey shoes and stockings and navy blue wrap. On their return they will reside in Cobourg.

'SUMMERHOLM,' 'Y' COTTAGE AT PORT, OPENS NEXT WEEK

Board Contemplates Several Improvements If Finances Permit.

It is fully expected that "Summerholm," the inviting Y. W. C. A. outing cottage at Orchard Beach, Port Stanley, will be opened next week if the plans of the board materialize. This is the 29th season for the cottage, which was built in 1892, one of its founders, Miss Harriet Priddis being still an active worker. Another founder was Miss L. Kirkpatrick. The president of the work at the present time is Mrs. W. N. Manning, with her board of directors including Miss C. McNaughton, secretary; Miss May Green, treasurer; Miss Priddis, Miss Moore, Miss Gahan, Miss Fleming, Miss McDowell, the president of the Y. W. C. A. house committee, who is a member ex-officio, Mrs. B. H. Clement, Mrs. A. McPherson, Mrs. H. C. Screaton, Mrs. A. Harvey, jun., and Miss Hannah.

The object of opening the cottage next week is to allow members of the "Y" industrial clubs to enjoy week-end parties there during June. The hostesses of the season will include Miss Fleming and Miss Weir at the opening, when a number of city teachers are expected, Miss Gahan, Miss McDowell, Miss Moore and Mrs. Davidson, formerly of the Y. W. C. A., King street. Registration for Summerholm is being taken at "Lenmore," King street.

The Summerholm general fund amounts to $300, which will be used largely in the extension of the sleeping porch around the house, next year, if building conditions are more favorable. One of the necessities for this year will be a refrigerator, which the board fears it will have to purchase, since no one has made a gift of one. New stretchers, sheets, pillow cases, cups and saucers, etc., are among the urgent needs. Two years ago the downstairs was covered with linoleum, and the board is contemplating covering the upstairs this year if finances permit.

FOR LOVE OF BETTY

[BY MAY CHRISTIE.]

CVI.—APRIL'S CONFESSION.

Trevor looked at April.

"Your affection for that—that fellow—is the only saving grace about you, April—rotter though he is!" Ignoring her start of indignation, he went on:

"If you'll tell me the whole truth about everything, I may give you another chance—let you and Davon off—on certain conditions.

April felt that the proverbial straw had come her way, and clutched at it. Jack would drag the truth from her, anyhow, with his compelling eyes.

"There isn't very much to tell," she breathlessly began. "It's true I never cared for you—but then you didn't care for me! No, don't interrupt—I'm not entirely a fool—you got engaged to me only out of pity—I played on your feelings—

"If you really had failed in business, I should have married Charlie. I always did somehow intend to marry Charlie—only at times the thought of all your money got the better of me—it gripped me—some girls are like that—I'm one of them!"

April paused, and drew a long breath. She would go through with things this time. Trevor wanted the truth, and he would get it—however unpalatable it might be to both of them.

"It wasn't any love for you that made me want to get you back," she went on hurriedly. "It was only money that I wanted. The anonymous letters sent to Betty Gordon—I got my maid to write them—Betty Gordon was a credulous little fool!"

Trevor held up a warning hand.

"Calling names won't help you, April," he said sharply. "Bear that in mind, please."

As though she had not heard, the girl continued:

"She—Betty Gordon—came to the Astorbilt, and saw a little tableau that I'd carefully rehearsed—she only saw the back of his head and shoulders—he was making love to me. Of course, she thought it was you, and rushed off, broken-hearted. Then that night I went to see her—did she tell you of the visit? She promised me she wouldn't."

Trevor shook his head.

"She doesn't refer to any visit in her letter," he answered dully. He was astounded at April's manoeuvres—amazed at their success.

The girl went on:

"She promised me to give you up—I told her that we both cared—I intercepted your letter to her, sent from Maine—and—yes, it was I who sent you the typewritten letter in her name, inclosing the snapshot taken at the picnic!"

Trevor held on to the back of a chair as though for support. His world seemed to be toppling about his ears. In the midst of all his astonishment and anger there was a wild thrill of happiness. Betty had not been untrue to him.

But the snapshot? His face clouded as he thought of it. Betty photographed in Charlie Davon's arms! April couldn't explain that fact away.

It appeared, however, that April could!

But that astute young woman didn't want to proceed too far on the path of painful revelations without some definite assurance as to her own safety.

"If I tell you everything, you'll let Charlie and me off, won't you?" she queried flutteringly. She was really terrified as to the ultimate end of this interview.

Trevor nodded contemptuously. "Go on," he said.

"Betty Gordon hates Charlie," said April. "It was I who urged him to follow her at the picnic, begged him to flirt with her—because I hoped to snapshot them together. No, Charlie didn't know my exact intentions. She was trying to get away from him, when he caught her in his arms—she was furious, but I got my snapshot of them, and sent it on to you, as though it had come from her!"

"Your talents are really remarkable," said Trevor cuttingly.

"It's a pity they aren't turned in a better and more paying direction!"

"That's just what I've been thinking," answered April, taking a long, deep breath. She felt mightily relieved now that the painful and humiliating confessions were at an end. "And, concerning that, there's something I must tell you. Last night, when the theatricals were done, I had an excellent offer from a New York manager, who saw both me and Charlie act—he'll take us both on—right away!"

"Indeed?" said Trevor dryly. "I'm sure—after the interesting schemes you have just unfolded to me—your success in life would be assured anywhere! Such astuteness must be rewarded!"

"What do you mean?" cried April, suddenly frightened. Was Trevor going to ruin all her hopes, and Davon's? Was he going back on his promise? "Oh, I've told you everything now—you mustn't give me away!"

Trevor did not answer. April went on hurriedly:

"I forgot to tell you that the first letter you wrote Betty Gordon—from your club in New York was delayed in reaching her. Charlie opened it in error—he only posted it to her a week or two ago!"

"And the second one you yourself intercepted?" asked Trevor sharply.

April nodded. "I burned it," she added slowly.

She took a step towards Trevor.

"I know you'll never forgive me, Jack," she said, and there was real emotion in her voice, "but I'm truly sorry for—for everything. I hope you'll be awfully happy with your Betty Gordon—you deserve to be. I've been simply detestable to you both—but I'm turning over a new leaf. I'm accepting this stage offer. I'm giving up hanging on to rich friends. I'm not going to be a parasite any longer. And—I'm marrying Charlie Davon!"

Trevor turned and looked at her. Privately he thought that marrying Charlie Davon would be sufficient punishment in itself. But, knowing that April loved the man, he refrained from comment on that head.

"I suppose you know that both of you can be arrested?" he said slowly. "Davon, on several different scores, including the pawning of Betty Gordon's ring—yourself for obtaining my will on false pretences, destroying it, and also stealing twenty-five hundred dollars! But I won't take any action—you can take that message to your future husband!"

April's face burned at the cold contempt in Trevor's tones.

"And you'll be happier when you're straighter," he added, more kindly. "I'm going now to find Betty Gordon!"

Puppy Stories (by Vincent G. Perry)

IN THE LAND OF NEVER-WORK.

Part Two.

Pete was lying there bemoaning the fate, when suddenly he heard a yawn quite clearly. Who had yawned: The little dog's ears were up at attention in an instant.

"Woe is me," said a tired little voice that seemed to come from right between his paws. "How quiet everything seems to be about here. I have certainly come to a good world to have a rest."

Pete spied the speaker now. It was a saucy little mouse that had made its way into the barn. Somehow it wasn't the least bit afraid of Pete, and the dog didn't bother hurting it.

"What makes you say you have come here for a rest?" asked Pete. "This is a world of work." How well Pete knew that!

"The world of work!" cried the mouse "Indeed I am lucky. Then I shall have a rest—a rest from doing nothing!" And so delighted was the little mouse it danced about gleefully.

"Where are you from?" asked Pete in dismay, for he couldn't quite make out the actions of the little mouse.

"I'm from the land of Never-Work," replied the saucy young mouse.

"The Land of Never-Work" and this time it was Pete's turn to cry out in delight. "Please show he how to get there. That's the very place I have been in search of. I am tired of this world of work—I want fo go some place where there is no work—where there is nothing but play and fun all the time."

"Goodness me, and to think that I have run away from just such a land," the mouse answered thoughtfully—"well, what is, must be; so if you want me to show you the entrance to Never-Work land, just come with me.

"But"—and here the mouse hesitated—"you must promise not to ask me to accompany you on your way there, for I have vowed never to return. I'm heartily tired of such a land."

Pete promised faithfully that he would take the journey alone. The little mouse led the way to the entrance of Never-Work land.

LEMON JELLY.

Take half of a two-ounce box of gelatine and soak it 20 minutes in a cupful of cold water. Dissolve it in two cupfuls and a half of boiling water, strain, and add it hot to a cupful of sugar and two-thirds of a cupful of lemon juice. Turn into a mold which has been dipped into clean cold water, and not dried. Let stand on ice or in cold water at least three hours.

Lemon jelly is a convenient foundation in which odds and ends of fresh and canned fruit may be used to make very attractive cold desserts, especially if cream, plain or whipped, can be served with it. A cupful of pineapple cut into small dice, sliced bananas, cherries, strawberries, peaches, fresh or canned grapefruit or orange pulp, may be used in lemon jelly. To keep the fruit from settling at the bottom of the jelly mold it is wise to put a part of this dissolved gelatine and fruit into the mold at a time letting it chill in successive layers, keeping the gelatine liquid in a pan of hot water the while.

Lemon jelly may be made into lemon snow, made different in appearance, and much more nutritious. Just as the jelly begins to thicken, the whites of three eggs, beaten stiff and dry, should be beaten into it. The three egg yolks may then be used to make a soft custard sauce, and should be flavored with a little vanilla. Fruits may also be put into lemon snow, and are less likely to sink to the bottom, because the egg helps to hold them in the gelatine.

One large mold, to be turned out, or individual molds, also to be turned out, may be used, or the gelatine dessert may be arranged in individual glasses on small standards, to be served in the glasses. Whipped cream heaped on such glasses, with a single bright-colored fruit or a dash of currant jelly in the centre of the white cream, is very dainty.

Beauty Unsurpassed

The wonderfully refined, pearly-white complexion rendered, brings back the appearance of youth. Results are instant. Highly antiseptic. Exerts a soft and soothing action. Over 75 years in use.

SIX V. A. D.'S RECEIVE WAR SERVICE MEDALS AT SPECIAL MEETING

Dr. Seaborn Makes Presentation at No. 28 Nursing Division Rooms.

One of the most interesting ceremonies ever held in connection with No. 28 Nursing Division was that held last night at the new division rooms at the corner of Dundas and Talbot streets, when six of the division members were presented with war service medals of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. The presentations were made by Col. Edwin Seaborn to Mrs. C. K. Edwards, Mrs. Thomas Lamb, Miss Jean Thompson of Strathroy, Miss Jean McCrimmon, Miss Ora White and Miss Ada Flood, all of whom served overseas during the late war. Two labels were also presented to Mrs. Henshaw and to Miss Hazelwood. Brief, but interesting addresses were made by Dr. Seaborn and Col. W. M. Gartshore, who was also present.

This meeting served as the official opening of the new division rooms, and very fine demonstrations of first aid and home nursing were given by the St. Thomas Division and by members of the Lord Kitchener Division, London. Mrs. J. B. McKillop, local commissioner, and Miss Ella Davis, superintendent of the division, were present at the meeting.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Noon time, and June time, down around the river!
Clean out o' sight o' home and skulkin' kivver
Of the sycamores, jack-oaks, and swamp-ash and ellum—
Idles all so jumbled up, you can hardly tell 'em!—
Tired you know, but lovin' it, and smilin' jest to think 'at Any sweeter tiredness you'd fairly want to drink it."
—James Whitcomb Riley.

A Request.

Dear Miss Grey,—I noticed in the paper a few days ago where Cinnamon Vine sent in some bulbs of the vine, so I was wondering if I would be able to get a few. Please find inclosed 10 cents in stamps for some. I will sign myself EVELYN.

Ans.—I am sorry, Evelyn, but all the bulbs have been sent out.

Mrs. Robin.—Kindly send in your name and address, and I shall return postage. I may also be of some assistance to you.

Sends Thanks.

Dear Miss Grey,—Since I wrote to you telling you about losing my baby, and my husband being out of work, we have moved into the country, and for three weeks we were not able to get The Advertiser unless we were in the city, so I missed reading the Boxites' letters. Lambton Girl has been so kind to me. She sent some rompers and a little middy suit and hat for the baby boy and such a nice interesting letter. She must be a very busy person with so much farm work to do, besides having her two children to look after. The rents are lower in the country, and I sincerely hope we are turning the corner and better days are coming, as last time I wrote we were "up against it" indeed.

Lambton Girl says she saw in the paper another lady had something for the baby. Please do not think me greedy, but will you send me the address, please, as I would be more than grateful for anything at all, and I hope in the future that I may be able to help someone, as that kind mother has helped me in my dreadful trouble. Thanking you and all the Boxites for your kindness and sympathy.

ANOTHER SUSSEX GIRL.

Ans.—I do not remember the name of the Boxite whom Lambton Girl referred to, but possibly she will see this letter and write to you.

Dear Cynthia,—I wonder if any of the Boxites could supply me with a few recitations for a boy of twenty. It is so very hard to obtain a variety, and he hates giving the same ones over and over. If any are sent in I shall copy and return them as soon as possible, and will exchange for them. My address is with Miss Grey. Hoping that someone will help me. I am,

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—Can anyone send some recitations for this reader?

150 Chickens and 250 Eggs.

Dear Miss Grey,—I read your "corner" with interest, and get helpful hints. I saw a letter from Hoosier, and it interests me, as I am from Hoosierland also. I will send an addressed and stamped envelope, and hope to hear from Hoosier, as she may come from near my old home. I send mite for the children's fund, and may I have the stocking-foot pattern?

ANOTHER HOOSIER.

P. S.—I have 150 chickens, and 250 more eggs in incubator to hatch soon.

Ans.—Maybe Hoosier will see your letter and write to you. Am mailing pattern as requested. Thanks for hospital mite.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am writing again to thank you for the S. F. P. and crochet patterns. The S. F. P. is certainly useful, and I have cut out half a dozen and will inclose them with crochet patterns. I also read a great deal, and Ralph Connor, Gene Stratton Porter and L. M. Montgomery are some of my favorite authors. I like the new story, "Spanish Doubloons" very much, and think it a long way ahead of "For Love of Betty" in way of literature. I wonder when "For Love of Betty" will finish, but I suppose it will take about three more months to wind up. Well, I must go now. Inclosed find dime for S. C. H. Yours, LOIS MAC.

Ans.—Thank you, Lois Mac, for inclosures.

Miss Hutton Turns In 85 Card, With Miss Emsley Next With An 86 Total

Semi-Finals of Cup Play Reached Today—Mrs. McKenzie Forces Issue To 18th Hole With Miss Nesbitt—Mrs. Gibson in Fine Form.

TODAY'S CUP PLAY.

1:00 p.m.—Miss Hutton vs. Miss Emsley.
1:05 p.m.—Miss Nesbitt vs. Mrs. Hope Gibson.

The golfers went round yesterday again true to and in their best form in the Ontario Cup, and this afternoon the semi-finalists bring the competition to probably the highest peak of interest.

Miss Nesbitt and Mrs. McKenzie staged the closest contest in the premier event, the former winning two up when the Woodstock player overran the green at the 18th hole. Miss Nesbitt was 2 down at the ninth.

For Londoners in the gallery, which was much larger yesterday again, the match between Miss Helen Baker and Mrs. Hope Gibson of the Hamilton club held absorbing interest. It was probably generally conceded that the London girl would succumb in this contest, but there is always the unexpected to be looked for. It failed to materialize just in that way, however, for Miss Baker was down five at the seventh. From then on it was an uphill battle, but the Londoner did not falter. Mrs. Gibson came in in 40, and Miss Baker came in on just two more strokes. Mrs. Gibson had seven fours and two sixes, and displayed splendid form from her first drive.

Miss Hutton again furnished the low score of the day with a total of 85. Miss Emsley was next with an 86 card.

The consolations had their share of the gallery, too, and produced some excellent golf. Miss M. Gagen and Miss F. Cassidy went to 21 holes to decide their issue in the second round of the second consolation before the former won one up.

Mrs. Osler Wade, Miss Morris and Miss Capreol in the third consolation gained their verdicts at the 18th.

It was suggested yesterday that the four players knocked out of the cup play should play a four-ball match this afternoon, and this will probably be done. These will get away after the regular program if the match is finally decided upon. It will add a further interest to the play.

The results yesterday were:

SECOND ROUND CUP.

Miss Hutton beat Mrs. Leeming, eight up and seven to go.

Miss Emsley beat Miss Wright, four up and three.

MICHIGAN HORSES SWEEP DETROIT CARD CLEAN

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—Michigan horses swept the platter clean at Dexter Park this afternoon, marching off with all of the firsts and giving the nags from over the river, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and elsewhere, a good trimming. While there was not anything sensational about the racing, it was of good quality, and attendance showed that at least the Gratiot avenue oval has caught the popular fancy.

BIG CROWD AT BENEFIT GAME IN WOODSTOCK

WOODSTOCK, June 8.—A benefit ball game was played here tonight for "Fat" Cook, who had his leg broken in the very first game of the season. There was a great turnout of fans, who witnessed a very good game of ball between two all-star teams picked from the city league. The team representing the vice-president won from the president's team by a score of 9 to 4.

Mr. George Cummings To Remain At Links

A message from Mr. E. M. M. Kirkpatrick, president of the Toronto Golf Club, was received yesterday congratulating the London Hunt and County Club on the splendid success they had attained in their conduct of the Ontario championships. The message was partly in answer to one sent, asking that the services of Mr. George Cummings might be retained further. Mr. Kirkpatrick stated that Mr. Cummings might stay as long as he was needed.

The services of the well-known professional, one of the finest players on the continent, have been invaluable in this tournament in every way and the members of the local club are deeply appreciative of that fact.

The St. Marys nine of the Holy Name Baseball League won from the St. Peters team on Tuesday evening in a league fixture by a score of 6 to 1. A. McIntyre, pitching for the winners, had the St. Peters aggregation under his control. The score: St. Marys 6, St. Peters 1.

Batteries—A. McIntyre and D. McAther; F. Minler and R. Moisse. Umpire—Rockwood.

The fast nine from St. Peter's Church, Lucan, will play St. Michaels this evening on the Sunshine grounds.

Empress avenue public school girls again proved that they were ballplayers as well as students when they defeated Lord Roberts girls on Tuesday evening by the score of 34 to 11. The losers allege that the Empress avenue pitcher, Miss Ella Hawthorne, flirted with the umpire and he "gave" the game to her. Miss Edna Bathurst caught a spectacular game for the winners. It was not the fault of the pitcher and catcher of the Lord Roberts aggregation that their team lost. Bad fielding is claimed responsible. Miss Bessie Howie and Helen Langford were the battery for the losers.

G.T.R. Juniors To Play Toronto Here Saturday Afternoon

Game Billed For Springbank at Two o'Clock.

Grand Trunk Juniors are taking on a Toronto junior team at Springbank Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in what promises to be a fast contest. The Junior City League have been going great guns, and have a tidy following of late. The Junior Wasps are real contenders in this circuit, and will probably hand the Toronto youngsters a beating.

The Trunks are getting the benefit of the best of coaching, and although they got off to a poor start, in their City League games, are right in form now.

It shows that junior soccer is here to stay, when a junior team can undertake a venture like this.

A feature of the Junior City League thus far is that the schedule has been followed to the dot, and every game has started on the minute billed. It is something that the senior teams might follow with advantage.

ROUND THE KITTY

Father Forster's ring carried off the premier honors at the first Wednesday tourney of the London Rowing Club by a score of four games won, plus 39. A decided feature of this tourney is the serving of a supper to the bowlers between games.

JOCKEY WILLIE BORGAN INJURED AT MONTREAL

Montreal, June 8.—Falling from his mount, Phil T., in the steeplechase at Blue Bonnets racecourse today, Jockey Willie Borgan failed to clear his feet from the stirrups and was dragged some distance, kicked in the groin and his head struck against the ground so violently that he lost consciousness. He was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital, where he was found to have suffered severe internal injuries and a hernia.

Tonight he was reported to be doing well, though his condition is serious.

Borgan had a bad fall in Maryland last year, and was several weeks in the hospital.

Bisons Trim Rochester After Getting Delayed in Sixth

BUFFALO, June 8.—Buffalo trimmed Rochester today by a score of 12 to 5. The Bisons were off to a good start, but the visitors batted hard in the sixth inning and evened up the score with McMillan's triple, followed by Hauk's homer and the singles of Fothergill and Mattox. Score:

WOLVES BOOT SEVEN CHANCES AND LOSE 8—5 TO HURONS

O. Kelly Pounds Out His 7th Homer of Season—Maloney Good in Field.

SARNIA, June 8.—Woeful work in the field cost Bay City today's game at the Sarnia Athletic Park, the Pierce men walking away with the contest by an 8 to 5 tally. The Hurons took the lead from the start and were never headed. O. Kelly punched out his seventh circuit clout of the season in the first, scoring Boyle, who had doubled ahead of him. Keiffer pitched fine ball, but weakened in the sixth, Winters relieving him and Horne pinch hitting successfully. Maloney, besides hammering out a double and a triple, featured with a circus catch of a long fly in the third. The largest crowd that has attended a ball game since the opening games was in attendance at the Sarnia Park.

FLINT, June 8.—Flint Vehics got back into their winning habit today, after a layoff of one day in eight starts and defeated Saginaw, 5 to 4. It was a pitching duel between Dodge and Williams, but Dodge held sway through stout support at critical stages. The Aces had the bases loaded in the fourth and ninth, but were unable to count. Newell's triple scored two Flint runs in the second, the batter counting on an infield out. Home runs over the left field wall by Emmer and Oakes completed the scoring in the third. Hunter's fielding was an outstanding feature.

'Roll 'Dem Bones' Has No Appeal For Ruth Spending 6 Hours in a Cell With Colored Boy As Result of Speeding

NEW YORK, June 8.—It takes more than a jail sentence to keep "Babe" Ruth from playing ball at the Polo Grounds.

Babe served six hours—a technical day—in the traffic court "pen" today, made a wild dash out to the field, and played three innings of a winning game against Cleveland.

After paying his $100 fine for hitting the high spots on Riverside drive about a week ago, he began serving one day "in confinement," because this was his second offence. If the meter of a newspaperman's taxi, which followed him to the park could be depended upon, Babe violated the selfsame speed law before he had been out ten minutes. He covered the distance to the Polo Grounds in about nineteen minutes.

As 4 o'clock, the time for his release, approached, the same torpedo roadster that twice led to his arrest, awaited him outside the court. He sped away from a cheering crowd of fans and newspaper photographers, with a policeman on the running-board to clear the way, and Magistrate McGeehan seated beside him to see that he wouldn't be pinched again.

He had part of his uniform under his clothing, and changed in time to swing a bat in the sixth inning. The crowds in the stands did not recognize him at first. There was a pause, then the crowds rose to their feet and welcomed him uproariously.

He walked to first, stole second, and was not arrested, and made third on the second out. Baker, who then came to bat, grounded out, retiring the side.

Babe got one more chance in the eighth, but was put out after a weak blow to second. He did not have any other chance to shine, but the fans did not care when the Yankees rallied at the end of the ninth and put over two runs and won.

Chester Williams is the proudest colored boy in the city, due to Babe's arrest, for he has the distinction of being the only man who served a sentence in the same pen with the hitting champion. Chester said Ruth kept to himself during the day, held a gloomy face, "a mile long," and refused even to join in a dice game in a corner.

"I'll never get caught speeding again in this town;" Chester said Babe remarked sadly, "but when I get out of here I'm sure going to hustle out to that game. Keeping a man here this way all day just makes a speeder of him."

Local Lacrosse Team See Battle On For Group Title

The 27—1 Beating Handed St. Thomas by the Stone Town Looks Like Hard-Earned Dinner For the Local Stick Wielders.

After the beating handed St. Thomas yesterday by the St. Marys lacrosse team, the local club must realize that they've a battle on their hands for the district honors and that dinner offered them by President T. H. Yull.

However, 27—1 was about the opinion the locals had of the St. Thomas team, despite the fact that this same team handed them a beating a week ago. That's an optimistic way of looking at things, anyway, but optimism won't always win lacrosse games, and the locals will be out on Saturday to justify some of their optimism against Stratford.

St. Marys handed Stratford a 16—3 beating. If the locals do something along that line they'll be high in their own self-esteem, with a real reason for being so. One thing is to be taken into account when considering the St. Marys-Stratford game, and that is that the Stratford team was caught early in the season, with the wrong foot in the air, so to speak. They will be greatly strengthened by the time they meet the London scalpers on Saturday afternoon at Tecumseh Park, and a one-sided win probably won't be the order of the day.

There is every indication of the biggest crowd that has witnessed a lacrosse game in years turning out on Saturday afternoon. The ticket sale is proceeding more than satisfactorily, and the club officials are entirely pleased with the prospects.

A good crowd turned out to see the workout last night, which was fast and steady.

TRIBE NICK BEAVERS FOR BOTH ENDS OF DOUBLE-HEADER

Came From Behind in Both Games To Win.

SHOW OLD SPIRIT

Pinto in Hot Water After the Fifth in Second Game—Umps' Rough Ride.

KITCHENER, June 8.—The Tecumsehs took both ends of the first double-header of the season this afternoon by defeating the Beavers by a score of 4 to 2 in the first game, and 5 to 4 in the second. In both games the Tecumsehs came from behind and gained the lead. The loss of both games by the Beavers was due to the misjudged fly balls by the outfielders.

In the second game it looked like a sure thing for the Beavers after the fifth inning, when they bunched two singles and two triples in succession off Pinto, and to help the good work Pinto threw a wild pitch and Regan crossed the plate for the fourth run. London showed the old fighting spirit, however, and doubles in succession by Calbert and Kuhn netted a run in the sixth, and in the seventh Lefty Carman was sent in to bat for Wetzel and hit for two bases. Briger was recalled from the bleachers and batted for Miller, getting a life by being hit by the ball. Briger was forced out at second by Pinto's grounder and Stutz was out at first. With two out and two on bases Vandyke hit the ball for three bases, which Sharp misjudged and two runs crossed the plate. Schwab was called to the dugout and Matt Kirley substituted. Calbert singled, and the winning run was scored. The latter almost scored on Kuhn's single, but was caught off the plate on a close decision. In the ninth, after two had been retired Calbert walked and scored on Kuhn's double. The officiating umpires had a rough passage again, and the crowd did not hesitate to express their disapproval of some of the grandstand play of the chief of umpires, O'Hearne.

Sutton, Dark Horse, Repeats For Straffordville Club In Grand Handicap Shoot

Meadows, a Club Mate, Won Event Last Year—Kerr Loses Second Place in the Shoot-Off With Michigan Man—Sutton, Winner, Just a Youngster.

[By Staff Reporter.]

ST. THOMAS, June 8.—Shooting at 18 yards, Sam Sutton of Port Burwell, a member of the Straffordville Gun Club, and one of Canada's coming trapshooter champions, won the Grand International Handicap here today by breaking 98 out of a possible 100 birds. William Schufferts of Wyandotte, Mich., won second prize, with 94 birds to his credit. Fred Kerr of Crediton, and Schufferts were tied and in the shoot-off, Kerr broke 16 and Schufferts 18. Mark Arie, said to be the world's most expert scatter-gun shooter, led the professionals with 98 broken targets.

An unique feature regarding Sutton's win is that a Straffordville man, Meadows, won the event last year. Mr. Sutton is just a young man and has not shot much in Canada. He attended several of the big tournaments in England. A strong east wind prevailed throughout the day, and this handicapped the contestants to a great extent. Besides carrying off a Blue-Bird Washing Machine, valued at $225, Mr. Sutton won $50, donated by the Gun Club.

Two of the class trophies were won by Hamilton men. Class "A" by William Barnes, and class "B" by M. E. Goodall. The former broke 488 out of a possible of 500, and the latter 467 out of 500 targets. William Schufferts, who was second in the handicap, carried off class "C" trophy by breaking 470 out of 500 birds.

The handicap trophy winners were: F. Kerr, Crediton; S. Vance, Tillsonburg; W. Hollingshead, Dutton, and H. Kretchman, Detroit.

Bill Barnes of Hamilton broke 100 targets during the morning shoot. F. Huseman of Rochester, N. Y., led the professionals.

TURF NEWS AND GOSSIP

BY BERT E. COLLYER.

Sailing B. Since taking this Ross maverick over, trainer Henry McDaniel has worked marvels with him. Today he's faster than greased lightning and the farther he goes the better he seems to like it. The fourth at Montreal this afternoon seems to be made to order and with anything like decent racing luck, Sailing B. will look the judge in the mug and at a price. Too, Sagimore and Talisman seem to have the balance of the purse between them.

Ashland for mine in the day's opener. The boys at the track sort of fancy the chances of Lady Rochester best, but I'm stringing along with Walter Heath's speed marvel, Lottie Lorraine is the real sleeper. Waac will carry the proverbial ton of Canuck money in the second. He has been very cleverly prepared with this one race in view and all angles appear to have been taken care of. Do you get me Hector? Blarney Boy has been working like a house afire and a race back to those would make him dangerous. Myrtle Crown shouldn't have any trouble saving the "Peep" money.

The boys who nurse the split second watch shoot me War Togs as a special. They have made few mistakes, so better string along. The price may not be very generous, but it really does look like taking candy from a squeeler. Woodruff has worked exceedingly well. Great Scott will be knocking at the door. It's a close fit, however. Bawen Him, Tuckey B. and Duke John, a limb play on either would come pretty close to dragging down the mazuma. If Citizen receives anything like a decent ride they'll have to get a search warrant out to find the balance of the field in the sixth. Should be on the bill daily all the way. Brisk copped a fair sort of a heat the last time. Colored Lucy Kate is a shifty sort of a plater in clever hands.

One best bet of the day—Sailing B.

Best take a chance bet—War Togs.

Best parlay—Lottie Lorraine, Woodruff, Lucy B. to show.

On the strength of that recent good effort I am stringing along with Trickster in the last. Yep, and I know something, too. Barone and Jack Straw have what is left between them.

Montreal Selections.

First race—Ashland, Lady Rochester, Lottie Lorraine.

Second race—Waac, Blarney Boy, Myrtle Crown.

Third race—War Togs, Woodruff, Great Scott.

Fourth race—Sailing B., Sagamore, Talisman.

Fifth race—Sandy Beal, Lucky B. Duke John.

Sixth race—Citizen, Brisk, Lucy Kate.

Seventh race—Trickster, Barone, Jack Straw.

Latonia Selections.

First race—Youneed, Marvin May, Sewell Combs.

Second race—Romper, Black Rock, Service Flag.

Third race—Gammer Gurton, Foul Weather, Whirl.

Fourth race—Corydon, Pit, Capital City.

Fifth race—His Choice, H. E. Coleman, Rising Rock.

Sixth race—Tamper, Deep Sinker, Nig.

Seventh race—Pongee, Miss Fontaine Royal Dick.

Best bet—Pongee.

SEAFORTH—TUCKERSMITH

SEAFORTH, June 8.—Seaforth and Tuckersmith meet in a W. F. A. match at Recreation Park here Friday night, June 10. Seaforth, in order to make it a three cornered tie, is determined to beat Tuckersmith. Tuckersmith at present is one point ahead of Kingburn. This will be the fastest game in this district this season.

CAYUGA TOURNEY.

CAYUGA, June 7.—An interesting baseball tournament drew a good crowd to the Agricultural Park on Monday afternoon. Five teams were present. Cayuga won from Rainham Centre, 11—3; Dunnville won from Caledonia, 12—2; Cayuga was defeated by Dunnville, 6—1. Fisherville did not play, having been defeated by Dunnville last week. This left Dunnville first, with Cayuga second. The day closed with a dance in the town hall, which was largely attended and one of the most enjoyable of the season.

ST. MARYS LACROSSE TEAM WIN 27--1

St. Thomas Ten Offers Feeble Opposition To Stone Town Attack.

ST. MARYS, June 8.—The local lacrosse team made an exercise jaunt of their game with St. Thomas ten here today, winning by a score of 27 to 1. The accident of the one St. Thomas score has not been satisfactorily explained yet. It was simply a case of the visitors being outclassed from the whistle. They had no combination at all and their defence was helpless against the fast St. Marys home. A good crowd witnessed the game, the first of the local season.

SPLIT BILL WITH HAMS

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 8.—The best the roaring Tigers could get out of the Brants today was a split bill, they losing the first, 4 to 3, after apparently having it on ice and slugging their way through the Brantford pitching staff for an easy win by 11 to 2. It was home run, run, five being shot over the fence. In the first the Brants were dragging along behind, when with one on Perry poled one over the fence, putting them ahead, a position they hung on to. In the second game, Zinn had two of his old-time homers, while the two lone runs scored by the Brants were when Cully and Wanner each lifted it over the fence. But in the meantime Ketchum, Herman, Noonan and Wanner all tried to stop the Tigers' rush and failed, rather lamentably, for eleven were tallied in the seven long innings. The umpires and O'Rourke were at odds and the Hamilton manager was chased.

YANK GOLFERS DOWN TO THREE IN NUMBER

Hager, Hutchinson and French Are Two of the Survivors.

Glen Eagles, Scotland, June 8.—Only three United States professional golfers today survived the qualifying rounds of the Thousand Guineas tournament and are eligible for match play in the continuation of the event tomorrow. They are Walter Hagen, former open champion, Jock Hutchinson, and Emmet French. None of the others was able to attain the golfing prowess necessary to bring him among the sixteen men whose aggregate low scores of the two days' play over the King's course and the Queen's course made them eligible to compete for the prizes.

Edward Ray, holder of the United States open championship, was the low score man for the 54 holes, his card showing 212 strokes. He was hard pressed, however, by Hutchison and A. G. Havers, both of whom went around in 213. French and Hagen required 220 strokes.

ZONE TOWNSHIP LOSES ITS BOUNDARY APPEAL

Supreme Court Declares Survey of 1915 Conclusive Against Claim.

OTTAWA, June 8.—By Canadian Press.—The case of the Township of Zone versus McDowell, the first on the list of Ontario appeals, was argued in the supreme court of Canada today. The case arises from a dispute as to the location of the boundary between the appellant's land and the highway. The land in question was used as a highway for 60 years, but was fenced in 1915 by Mr. McDowell following a survey. This fence was torn down by the municipality, erected again by Mr. McDowell and again destroyed. Mr. McDowell brought action against the municipality for trespass and for interfering with fences. In addition he asked for a mandatory order to compel the municipality to re-erect the fences and for an order declaring the 1915 survey final and conclusive.

The trial judge and appellate division held that the 1915 survey was conclusive against the claim of the municipality.

FUNERAL OF MURDERED WOMAN TOOK PLACE IN SARNIA YESTERDAY

Mrs. Walter Lincort Shot By Her Husband In Detroit Restaurant.

SARNIA, June 8.—While her husband is occupying a cell at police headquarters in Detroit today the remains of Mrs. Walter Lincort, formerly Miss Vera Hutchinson of this city, were buried in Lakeview Cemetery this afternoon.

Arrested on an alleged murder charge Lincort is being held, pending the recovery of a waitress who was wounded, when she stepped into the line of fire. The murderer fired four bullets at his wife, who was killed instantly as she attempted to get out of a crowded restaurant.

The parents of the late Mrs. Lincort are former residents of this city, and today her mother and two brothers were in the city attending the funeral. Little comment was made on the crime by the relatives, who are now all residents in Detroit.

LIFE INSURANCE FUNDS CONTROL IN WALL STREET

Peter McArthur Tells the East Middlesex Farmers of Financial Power.

BIG ANNUAL U. F. O. PICNIC

Three Thousand Enjoy Extensive Sports Program in Queen's Park.

All roads led to Queen's Park Wednesday insofar as farmers of East Middlesex were concerned, members of U. F. O. clubs of that district with their families and friends numbering almost 3,000 staging their annual picnic here. Ideal weather conditions favored the outing, and a bumper program of sports starting with a baseball tournament at 10 a.m. and winding up with a speed event in which seven heats were necessary to decide the winners, added to the zest of the day's fun.

There were but two minor accidents which threatened to mar the gala occasion. Clarence Armstrong, catcher for the Ilderton baseball team, while playing against Bryanston in the early evening game, unfortunately split one finger and fractured another when he was struck in the hand by a foul tip. During the fourth heat of the 2:30 pacers, Earl W. collided with King Dale, unseating the driver of the latter horse, and throwing him to the track. He was not injured, and King Dale galloped around the course until captured, without mixing with the other drivers.

Peter McArthur Speaks.

Although Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, was expected to address the crowd present, he was unable to appear, and Peter McArthur of Appin spoke to those present in the grandstand. However, the noise which predominated compelled him to make his remarks very brief.

"I understand this is a dangerous hall to speak in, because the wind is sometimes strong," he began, amidst much laughter and applause, no doubt referring to the controversy over the newspaper reports of the speech made by Andrew Hicks, M. L. A., at Queen's Park. "I do not intend to talk politics, because I once heard of a monkey taking the audience away from two political speakers."

"I am not fortunate enough to be a united farmer. After all the farmers are not deeply interested in politics. I am going to talk to you about money. If that does not interest you I don't know what will. In recent studies that I have made I have but one thing in sight to beat big business."

"That subject is modern life insurance. I was connected with no company or politics, but visited New York, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal at my own expense to obtain data. You may not be aware of it, but funds gathered from the people in life insurance equal the revenues of the Government, and it is a most important question to see that the funds are administered for the benefit of the people."

Control Wall Street.

"I am not saying that they are not. The money goes back to the people. There is more hope in those funds at the present time than there is in any political movement I know. I am merely throwing it out for you to think about. In the United States these funds amounted to eight thousand millions, and they control Wall Street. You can talk life insurance to your agent if you care to, but I want you to carry away a thought of this thing."

During this genial poet's speech, a road race was staged on the track, and at the finish attention was diverted from the speaker, while the uproar of the crowd drowned the sound of his voice. "While I would not call that a monkey diverting the attention of my audience," said Mr. McArthur as he gave up his task, "I would say that the committee has made a monkey of me in running a race behind my back. Perhaps that is the usual U. F. O. procedure." J. W. Freeborn, M. L. A. for East Middlesex, spoke briefly, introducing Mr. McArthur to his constituents.

In the first game of the baseball tournament Ilderton was defeated for the first time this season, Thorndale handing out the sting, the final score being 10—7. In the first afternoon game Bryanston eliminated Granton, 5—1, and was in turn eliminated by Thorndale in the final game by a score of 9—2. Johnston pitched Thorndale to victory in the initial contest, while Pring served up the slants to Bryanston in the concluding game. Many fans cheered their respective favorites from the sidelines, and repartee was a feature of the games.

Bryanston Defeats Crumlin.

The speed events on the bill for purses of $300 each were keenly contested, and lovers of racing were accorded a treat during the afternoon. In addition, foot races, a baby show and tug-of-war were included on the program, the latter item proving the most interesting when the Goodwin Farmers' Club of Bryanston, captured the John A. Nash silver cup by two straight pulls against the Farmers' Co-operative Society team of Crumlin.

Many families lunched on the grounds, which presented a regular fair week appearance, with refreshment booths, "win-a-kewpie" concessions working overtime. Hot water from a traction engine was served free of charge to picnickers, at noon and in the evening. Autos were required to enter the park via the subway, over 200 being parked in the ring during the day.

A feature of the program was awarding of prizes to the largest families on the grounds, which were required to parade before the grandstand for inspection. Mr. and Mrs. William Bent of Thorndale, with seven children present, captured premier honors. Mrs. Bent's explanation that an eighth child was in Thorndale writing school examinations being unnecessary. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones, with six children on parade were awarded second prize. Apparently Thorndale is a thriving community with families winning both prizes in this event, and the baseball team heading the list in the baseball tournament.

Chief Forbes Handed His Resignation To Commissioners At Meeting.

SARNIA, June 8. — Following the reading of a communication from the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce and the city council requesting a reorganization of the local police force, Chief of Police Forbes appeared before the police board during its session today and resigned, while eight members, the entire force, were requested to hand in their resignations.

For the past month the Sarnia police department has been under fire, and of late the commission has been conducting a probe into complaints made against Chief Forbes by patrolmen on the force. This week the chamber of commerce demanded the commission to make changes, and the city council also dealt with the issue.

The resignation of the chief and the asking for the resignation of the other members of the force came like a bombshell today, and tonight it was stated that the provincial inspector, at present a member of the department force at Toronto, will be offered the chiefship here. The resignation of Chief Forbes goes into effect the latter part of the month.

Want More Trains.

The city council this afternoon indorsed the move to secure better train srevice on the Pere Marquette Railway out of this terminal, and on the suggestion of Mayor Crawford, decided to communicate with Grand Trunk officials regarding the restoration of the early morning train from the east.

The stand of the mayor in the investigation of the police force by the commission was approved. Another attempt to oust Fire Chief Batty was quashed, when Mayor Crawford ruled the motion out of order.

Norfolk County Council Refuses To Approve Of Government Suggestion

Reeve P. E. Langford, Simcoe, Leads Bitter Attack On the Government Interference At Norfolk County Council Sitting—Letter From Associated Boards of Trade Is Cause of Scathing Comment.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Simcoe, June 8.—Declaring that the Government is becoming altogether too paternal and neglecting legislation to interfere in matters of direct individual liberty, the Norfolk County Council, in session here today, threw out entirely the suggestion that the council should indorse the appointment of women assistants to the county agricultural representatives, it being understood that such appointees would be experts in household science, medical inspection, nursing and lecturing at Women's Institutes.

The suggestion was contained in a letter addressed to the council by the associated boards of trade and chambers of commerce.

Drain Home of Influence.

Reeve P. E. Langford of Simcoe, declared the church and the Y. M. C. A. had drained the home of all its influence, and now the Government wants the county councils to step in and still further interfere with the home life. He expressed the opinion that the movement had been started by the Government, although the request came from the boards of trade, and added that the system of agricultural representatives is only a fad and the appointees not "worth their salt."

Reeve Alex L. Hutchinson, Charlotteville—If we make appointments every time that the Government in Toronto calls upon us to do so there will soon be more appointees than there are people.

Used to Legislate.

Reeve J. L. Buck, Port Rowan, asserted that the Government has become altogether too paternal. There was a time when the Government used to legislate, but since labor got control of it and demands anything the Government appears to imagine that it has to do everything to help the people.

On the vote being taken the request was turned down by a unanimous vote, as was also the request that the council raise the assessment of the county, the councillors claiming that if half a mill was added to the assessment the Government would immediately raise the county's share of the cost of the road building.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY IS UNEASY REGARDING ANTI-UNION MOVE

Rev. Dr. Gordon To Meet Dissenters Today — Official Salaries Criticised—Budget Report Show $200,000 Increase—Larger Pensions For Ministers and Their Widows.

Toronto, June 9.—(By Canadian Press).—An anti-unionist party has already taken shape in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and there is some feeling of uneasiness among the pro-union forces over the possible lengths to which the dissenters will go.

Following the formal adoption today of the motion to embrace union "as expeditiously as possible," Dr. E. Scott of Montreal arose and, after reading a lengthy protest against the action of the assembly, asked those who agree with his view to meet in the College of Pharmacy Building at 2 o'clock. The meeting was held and 36 members signed the dissent which was laid before the assembly last evening. At the same time the reply of the special committee which was appointed to examine the charges in Dr. Scott's protest was read to the assembly by Principal McKay of Winnipeg, convener of the committee. The findings exonerated the assembly entirely of improper action in bringing church union to its present stage.

Will Meet Dissenters.

Just before closing this evening Dr. Gordon, the moderator, announced that he would like to meet all those signing the amendment opposing union tomorrow morning at 9.30 o'clock. It is understood the dissenters discussed plans yesterday to protect as far as possible the property interests of the Presbyterian Church, and to oppose the enactment of legislation ratifying the union with the Methodist and Congregational Churches. There is another protest which was presented early in the union debate by Dr. T. Wardlaw Taylor, against going on with union proposal, and this will be examined by the special committee tomorrow.

No Official Pledge.

The chief points of the findings of the committee on the Dr. Scott dissent were: That no official pledge made by the assembly had been disregarded; that every constitutional step had been taken and, the people, having been consulted on two different occasions, had given decisive votes for union; that the Montreal truce had been kept, and no mention of union made by any committee of the assembly since 1917; that the forward movement fund was entirely separate from the question of church union; that the assembly had taken every constitutional step in accordance with its practice, and there had been no usurpation by the assembly of the people's rights; that the action of the assembly did not mean the disbanding of the church, but the carrying of the church into a higher unity and larger service; that the consequences assumed in the dissent, if they should come to pass, would lie at the door of those who had dissented from the decision of the assembly, and finally, that the question of union had arisen in Canada because of the necessity of coping with conditions in the country that could be met in no other way.

Criticize Official Salaries.

The general assembly this evening listened to an overture from the Maitland Presbytery, which offered some criticism of the official salaries. The matter came up while Dr. Drummond, chairman of the general board, was asking approval of some increases. The overture said the rapidly increasing list of head office officials was being viewed with considerable concern, and that the salaries of the officials were out of all proportion to the salaries of the men who were doing the main work of the church. This was causing much discontent. The overture suggested that the salaries of heads of departments be fixed at $1,200 more than that of ministers in pastoral work, and that the salaries of the assistant heads be fixed to correspond.

Dr. Drummond, replying, said the salaries proposed to be paid officials had been recommended by a committee of laymen to whom the matter had been referred. He thought the Maitland protest was lacking in recognition of the facts, and by sending such a document the members of this Presbytery had done some harm. The fact was that there were now fewer officials by six than the church had six years ago. The cost of living in Toronto, where all the officials, with one exception, reside, was, he declared, much higher than in the towns surrounding.

Dr. J. C. Shearer wanted to know why one sub-secretary was paid $3,500 and another in the same department and doing the same kind of work was paid only $3,250. Dr. Pringle of Sydney, also said he could see no reason why the principal of Montreal College should get $4,250 and a house, and the principal of Halifax College, $3,500 and a house. On his motion the college salary list was referred back to the general board for an explanation.

Budget Increase $200,000.

Dr. Robert Laird, chairman of the treasury board, submitted his budget calling for an increase of $200,000 for 1922, and it was passed without amendment. The needs, he said, were much greater, but there was still a large percentage of the forward movement fund to come in, and the board decided to hold off until next year the campaign for more funds for the budget.

Some of the items to be met are a $100,000 deficit, interest on overdrafts about $15,000, and additional amount to meet salary increases to $1,800, about $125,000.

The recommendation of the board that a man be appointed as secretary of the department of literature and missionary education was adopted. Nominations will be sent in by the Presbyteries, and the board will make the appointment.

Dr. Drummond was reappointed chairman of the general board.

Enlarged Pensions.

After listening to a vigorous address by Rev. D. T. L. McKerroll, explaining the report of the special committee on enlarged pensions for aged ministers and annuities for widows, the assembly accepted the scheme proposed. It calls for a pension of $1,000 for ministers on their attaining the age of 70, after 40 years' service in the church, and $500 per annum for widows of ministers. The church will provide three-quarters of the money to meet pensions and annuities, and the ministers will pay rates on an actuarial basis to provide the other quarter.

The largest premiums any minister will have to pay under the scheme is $64.56. A portion of this fund is to be raised by levying an assessment on congregations equal to 5 per cent of the minister's stipend. Some of the lay delegates urged that a sliding scale be adopted in order to relieve the rural districts to some extent. George Blackmore of Gobles, Ont., said the members of his church were paying about $7 each towards the minister's stipend, while city members were getting off with less than half that sum.

"The farmers' widows have to look out for themselves; the church does not look after them. You ought to get some other scheme," declared James Irving of Stony Beach, Sask. Rev. S. T. Martin, chairman of the life service committee, said the cities had fallen down in providing recruits for the ministry. He recommended that a minister be sent from one of the colleges to visit presbyteries in search of recruits for the ministry. The assembly approved.

A telegram was read to the assembly yesterday from the Congregational Union, now in session in Montreal, expresing greetings and congratulating the asembly on its latest step toward church union.

RAINS ARE HELPING GRAINS IN PROVINCE

Fair Acreage of Potatoes Despite Prices, Say Agricultural Men.

The following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario department of agriculture this week:

Early sown spring grains, where not put in on heavy clay, are looking well. Fields sown later are not so promising, although recent rains are helping them along.

Fall wheat is coming nicely into head in a number of counties, and is looking more thrifty than it did during the dry period in May, as timely rains have been very helpful. Rye has headed out and is filling well.

Clover is rather patchy in places and somewhat short in stand, and is not likely to give an average yield. However, it is probable that there will be more in pasture this year than last.

Grey is of opinion that sweet clover is not up to the average in growth and general appearance. Waterloo says it will be ready to cut within a week.

Renfrew speaks of peas as looking exceedingly well.

Corn is now coming along nicely, with the good rains and somewhat warmer weather. Essex reports the cut-worm as doing so injury to the crop. This insect has also been damaging other crops in various parts of the province.

Sugar beets are doing well in Essex. Kent reports some re-seeding of beets on account of dry weather at the time of the first sowing.

A fair acreage of potatoes is being planted, considering the discouraging prices now prevailing. Some of the early sorts are looking promising.

Essex reports considerable tobacco being planted, notwithstanding the slow and unsatisfactory market for last year's local production.

Orchard fruits, with the exception of cherries, are promising fairly good yields. Strawberry growers are finding that many of the first blossoms were affected by the frost, although a fair yield is yet assured. Norfolk estimates yields as averaging 4,000 boxes per acre as compared with 7,000 last year.

Live stock are in fine condition, generally speaking, but prices are low, and marketing comparatively slow. Lanark says that fewer calves are being raised.

Milk is in generous flow, but prices are away down compared with the figures for several years. The price per cwt. is as low as $1.30 at an Elgin condensory. Peel quotes sales at $1.90 per 8-gallon can. Butterfat is bringing only 25 cents a pound in Huron and Dufferin, and 27 cents in Renfrew. Grey reports that creameries in that county are at present working up to full capacity.

The latest cheese sales in the boards ranged from 15⅝ cents a pound to 16⅜ cents a pound. One representative says that some makers find difficulty in disposing of their sulplus whey on account of the scarcity of hogs.

Bacon hogs are selling at from $8 to $8.50 a hundredweight, f.o.b. Small pigs, however, are in remarkably good demand.

Peel quotes wool as selling as low as 5 cents a pound.

Dufferin describes farmers as being dissatisfied with prices now offered for farm produce, and adds that as a result they are doing little in the way of buying agricultural implements, etc.

GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE DENOUNCED

Ernest Lapointe, M.P., Quebec, Tells C. M. A. Normal Conditions Would Come Sooner.

Replica of Napoleon's Coronation Chair Given To City of Quebec.

QUEBEC, June 8.—(Canadian Press.)—A denunciation of the principle of governmental interference in private business activity and the natural operations of trade, was made this afternoon by Ernest Lapointe, leader of the Quebec Liberal members in the House of Commons, before the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at a luncheon tendered him at the Chateau Frontenac by delegates attending the annual convention of that body now in session here. Mr. Lapointe argued that economic normality after war conditions could the sooner be brought about by the Government keeping to its proper duty of keeping the field clear for the operation of the ordinary law of supply and demand. Governments, said Mr. Lapointe, made poor traders, were indifferent industrialists, and were poor railway operators. Mr. Lapointe said that Canada, with its health, youth and vigor, would recover quicker than any other country. Pleading for unity between province and province, and race and race, Mr. Lapointe said Canada was a hard country to govern and unify, because it had been the will of Providence that it was to be developed by a people of different races and creeds. There was need for a display of good will, tolerance and charity.

While political parties existed there would be struggles, but they might be less unfair and less unjust. No more pernicious fallacy existed than the dream of building up a country monotonously uniform with the same customs, habits and enjoyments, or lack of enjoyments.

Presentation To Quebec.

The presentation of a replica of the coronation chair of Napoleon was made tonight by the Canadian Maufacturers' Association to the city of Quebec as a souvenir of its annual convention, now being held here, and also appropriately as a reminder of the centenary of the death of the emperor, which is now being celebrated. The presentation was made by J. R. Shaw, Woodstock, Ont., in whose factory the chair was made. Mr. Shaw stated that the chair was manufactured by Canadian workmen. The coronation chair was now in Versailles, he said. Mayor Samson accept the chair on behalf of the city.

Seven Past-Presidents.

The association also made presentations of silver vases to a number of past-presidents in commemoration of the organization's jubilee. Those to receive the vases were: Sir Edward Kemp, minister for overseas trade, now in London; J. F. Ellis, Toronto; P. W. Ellis, Toronto; Cyrus A. Birge, Hamilton; W. K. George, Toronto; Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Montreal; Col. Cockshutt, M.P., Brantford; Robert Hobson, Hamilton; Senator N. Currie, Robert Gourlay, Toronto; Senator Charles Gordon, Montreal; J. H. Sherrard, Montreal; Col. Thomas Cantley, New Glasgow; S. H. Parsons, Toronto; W. J. Bannan, Winnipeg, and T. H. Howard, Montreal.

Seven of the past-presidents were present to receive the gifts and spoke of earlier days of the association in a reminiscent vein. The chairman, this year's president, J. A. McKinnon, mentioned as one of the discoveries he had made that absolutely no record could be found of who was the first president of the association.

IDEAL WEATHER IN WEST; GRAIN CROPS GROWING RAPIDLY

WINNIPEG, June 8. — (By Canadian Press.)—There has been another week of almost ideal weather with rains general all over the West. Temperatures have been perhaps a little too low on the average to induce the most rapid growth, but the plant is rooting and stooling well, and this is as it should be at this stage of growth, according to the weekly weather and crop report of the Grain Trade News.

Insect damage in the shape of cut worms and grasshoppers is still spoken of in several reports. The cut-warm damage is confined largely to Alberta, with one small outbreak reported from Western Saskatchewan. As regards the grasshopper menace, all provinces speak of the pests, but the same reports say that all interested parties are on the job, combatting them. Should the weather turn warmer and a spell of dry weather come along these conditions would be in favor of the grasshoppers and against the present sturdy growth of the crop.

The spring seeding is almost over; there are a few acres of oats for green feed, and some flax will be sown, but it is expected that this will be all cleaned up this week.

Several reports from correspondents speak of summer fallowing proceeding apace, with conditions ideal for this class of work.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

STRAWBERRY CROP IN NEED OF RAIN

Retail at 27 and 29 Cents Per Box Thursday.

There was a good demand on the local market for oats and hay on Thursday but no hay appeared, and the supply of oats was small.

Strawberries were not as plentiful as on Tuesday, and not of as good quality, on account of the dry weather. Farmers say that next week will be the best week if they get rain. They were retailing at 27c and 29c, and wholesaling at 25c and 27c per box.

Live hogs formerly selling at $8, have advanced in price to $8.50 and $8.75.

Asparagus sold at 75c per dozen bunches, a decrease from 90c and $1.

The egg and butter market is still firm.

One crate of English cherries was on sale at 50c per quart.

SERIES OF GROSS EXAGGERATIONS AND MIS-STATEMENTS

Hon. F. C. Biggs So Designates Charges Made by G. C. Wilson, M.P.

DECLINES CHALLENGE

Minister of Public Works Says He Will Reply in Good Time.

TORONTO, June 8.—Hon. F. C. Biggs, Ontario minister of public works, has sent a formal declination to a challenge from Gordon C. Wilson, M.P., Wentworth, who invited the minister to debate the question of road improvements made in the vicinity of Mr. Biggs' home in Wentworth County, the debate to be public and an admission fee of 25 cents charged. Hon. Mr. Biggs, in his reply to Mr. Wilson, takes the ground that no good purpose would be served by such a debate, but says he will reply to the statements "when he may have occasion to do so."

"It was your own choice to make a series of gross exaggerations and mis-statements on the floor of the House of Commons," Mr. Biggs says in his reply. "I have already answered your statements in part, and shall reply to them further in any part of my constituency."

BRANTFORD MAN ILL IN BED AT TIME OF ALLEGED ARREST

Lawyer Declares Steve Farrel Is Innocent of Alleged Theft.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, June 8.—Referring to a story which appeared in the morning edition of The Advertiser on Tuesday under a Simcoe, Ont., date line, N. W. McEwen, lawyer, denies that his client, Steeve Farrel, Brantford, was arrested in St. Catharines recently, as stated in the story.

"My client," said Mr. McEwen, "was ill in bed at his home at the time he is alleged to have been arrested, along with a man named Maston, on a charge of stealing auto tires, and is still ill."

Answering a question, Mr. McEwen admitted that his client is on bail to appear before Judge Boles at Simcoe on June 14, on a similar alleged theft charge, "but," declared the lawyer, "I am satisfied he is innocent of the offence."

U. S. WINTER AND SPRING WHEAT CROP LARGER THAN 1920

Forecasts Say Yield Will Be 43,000,000 Bushels More Than Last Year.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The United States combined winter and spring wheat crop promises to be 43,000,000 bushels larger than last year's, based on forecasts of production announced today by the department of agriculture. There will be smaller crops of oats, barley and hay than were harvested last year, while the apple crop will not be half so large as that of 1920, and the peach crop will be much smaller than last year.

Winter wheat, which, a month ago promised a crop of 629,000,000 bushels, came through May in bad shape in several of the important producing states, and as a result the forecast of production showed a reduction of 51,000,000 bushels, bringing the total to the same quantity as produced last year. Kansas, premier wheat state, reported a decline in the condition of the crop from 84 per cent of a normal on May 1 to 60 per cent on June 1, which resulted in a reduction in that state's forecast by 33,000,000 bushels. In Nebraska the condition dropped from 92 to 75, and in Oklahoma from 84 to 70.

The spring wheat crop forecast indicates 43,000,000 bushels more than last year's crop. The condition of the crop is better than a year ago, while the acreage is somewhat smaller than last year. An acre yield of 13.9 bushels is forecast, compared with 10.8 bushels last year.

CANNOT CONSIDER UNIFICATION OF THE EMPIRE MARRIAGE LAWS

LONDON, June 8.—By Canadian Press.—Percy Hurd was informed in the House of Commons today that no arrangement could be made for the Imperial Conference to consider the unification and consolidation of the matrimonial laws of the empire.

Right Hon. Frederick G. Kellaway, postmaster-general, replied to Percy Hurd on the effect of the new postal rates on the Canadian reading market. He said that it was not proposed to increase rates for the Canadian magazine post and also said in reply to a complaint of defective postoffice information in regard to the sailing list that he was not satisfied with the condition of affairs, but needed more information. He asked Mr. Hurd for practical suggestions in regard to the matter.

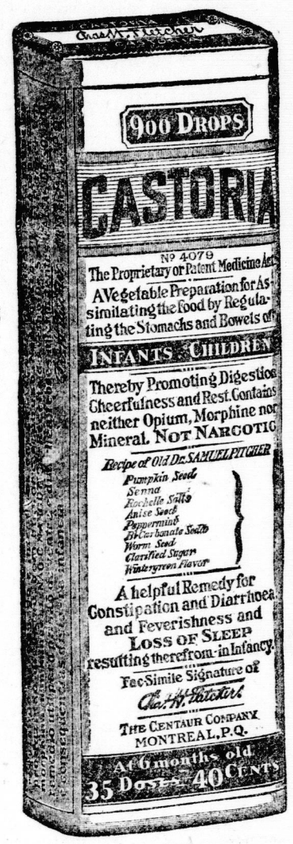

False Claims.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

False claims may kill, but false claims can never restore your child.

For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been aiding in the reduction of the deaths among infants as Mothers have become more and more acquainted with it. Always keep it in the house.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good — that it can't do any harm — and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MONTREAL WOMAN REFUSES TO GIVE CENSUS INFORMATION

Enumerator Beats Retreat Before Oratorial Bombardment.

Montreal, June 8.—"I won't tell you anything, because it's nobody's business. What I earn, how old I am or what breed I spring from, is none of your affair," said an indignant woman to one of the census enumerators this morning, as he plied her with questions. "You can't get anything out of me," she continued, "and I'll give you just two minutes to get out of the house with all your foolish truck." Seeing that his case was hopeless the enumerator beat an orderly retreat. The lady, however, will hear more of the matter.

Personal Health Service

(By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D., Noted Physician and Author.)

Making Night Hideous.

What has become of the old-fashioned baby that used to settle down about eleven G. N. to have the colic? And consume all kinds of castor oil, essence of pepsin, peppermint, catnip tea, chamomile, paregoric and soothing syrup? And holler loud enough to disturb folks four blocks away, and contract his liddle belly and draw up his wee small legs and—well, any old woman knows all about it. He just doesn't prevail any more, not to any appreciable extent, because even in our worst managed households nowadays there are faint glimmerings of intelligence discernible and even our most popular family doctors are rather less swayed by grandma's convictions than their predecessors were.

Now don't turn away mad. I am not going to tell you there is no such thing as colic in babies. I am willing to concede that some disease states really happen. All I intend to say is that colic in infants covers a multitude of diagnostic sins, and at least nine times out of ten when grandma and the neighbors are all swearing it is colic, and the doctor is swearing it isn't, it isn't. The old-time doctor is swearing a little less frankly than the doctor does today. That is all.

Wait! Wait! Let me introduce Dr. T. Wood Clarke of Utica, N. Y., who stood right up in meeting and told all the doctors of the Medical Society of the State of New York that "the most common group of symptoms produced by otitis media (ear inflammation) in the young infant are commonly called colic; namely, vomiting, crying, often with a sharp scream and drawing up of the legs, for the infant will do this when in pain from any cause; with the crying there is swallowing of air with the resulting belching and borbory gmi (sounds made by air in the bowels). In such cases colic has been diagnosed, usually the feeding has been reduced, cathartics have been given, and to the original pain of the earache have been added the pangs of hunger and the gripes of castor oil. . . . The routine examination of the ears in every ill child will not only give a great deal of immediate relief to the patient (if infection within the drum is found and given outlet), but will save the physician the chagrin of having the 'colic' clear up with a running ear."

Another frequent cause of symptoms mistakenly attributed to colic according to Dr. Clarke, is "old-fashioned spunk aggravated by bad training and bad habits. The baby that is picked up every time it cries (Oh, you Auntie!), that is waked up at night to be shown off to visitors (cruel parents!) that is rocked to sleep or jounced in the hopes of shaking a smile out of it (Ah, listen, Grandma!), soon gets the idea in its little head that if it wants anything in this world all it has to do is to yell loud enough, and it will get it. If its particular desire is not recognized and gratified, it will scream, hold its breath, draw up its legs and kick them out again at its fury. Hence the diagnosis of colic and the resultant peppermint, castor oil and enemata. After a couple of hours of such treatment the baby becomes thoroughly tired out and disgusted, and cries to be let alone and allowed to go to sleep. The madder he gets the louder he yells, and the more confirmed becomes the diagnosis of colic."

Oh, colic, what enormities are committed in thy name!

MARK LANDING PLACE OF FRENCH PRIESTS AT LONG POINT, 1669

Ontario Historical Society Plans Erection of a Monument On the Spot.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., June 8.—The 25th annual convention of the Ontario Historical Society opened at Niagara-On-The-Lake today, and will conclude at Niagara Falls, Ont., tomorrow night. Brigadier General A. E. Cruikshanks, president of the society, in his annual address, stated that interest in historical matters was increasing in this country and he thought the time not far distant when every city and county in the province of Ontario would have its local historical society. General Cruikshank suggested that the society undertake the publication of the official and semi-official correspondence of the lieutenant-governors and administrators of Ontario, with annotations.

Plans were submitted to the convention of a proposed monument at Long Point, Port Dover, on Lake Erie, to commemorate the visit there in the winter of 1669-1670 of Father Dollier and Father Galinee, French priests, who embarked at Long Point on their way from Montreal to Mackinaw.

H. F. Gardiner, a former superintendent of the institute for the blind at Brantford, and for a number of years previously editor of the Hamilton Times, paid a tribute to the late E. B. Biggar, author of "The Battle of Stoney Creek." A committee was appointed to prepare a resolution of appreciation of Mr. Biggar.

Early in the session a resolution of condolence to General Cruikshank, president of the Ontario Historical Society, on the death of his wife, was passed.

PREPARING FOR EARLY REVIVAL OF BUSINESS

GALT, June 8. — While business at present is not any too brisk, P. W. Gardiner & Son, local manufacturers, have such confidence in the future that they have started work on a big addition to their plant, 112 feet in length and 90 feet in width and two stories high, which will give them one of the largest plants of the kind in Canada. The addition will be of mill construction. The junior member of the firm is Ald. J. E. Gardiner.

BROWN STRESSES FARMERS' RIGHT TO HYDRO POWER

North Middlesex M. L. A. Discusses Problems of Farmer-Labor Government.

OLD PARTIES SLING MUD

Use Press To Discredit U. F. O., Says Lobo Union Picnic Speaker.

Memorial Park, Poplar Hill, was the rendezvous Wednesday afternoon and evening for a throng that numbered nearly 4,000 persons, who were attracted there, not only from the township of Lobo, but from the City of London, and from the adjoining townships of Westminster and Delaware. The occasion was the annual union school picnic and old boys' reunion of that township. With ideal weather prevailing, the outing eclipsed any previous gathering of a like nature in the vicinity of Poplar Hill, and due credit must be accorded the various officials and committeemen in recognition of the splendid program of entertainment proffered.

The most impressive event was undoubtedly the formal opening in the afternoon, the grand parade of school children, followed directly by the flag-raising exercises. Swinging along to the stirring strains of the Western Ontario pipe band, the pupils, representing every school of the district, including the Continuation School, Coldstream, paraded through the park to the flagpole. As they lifted their voices in the patriotic air of the Maple Leaf, the Union Jack was slowly elevated to its position.

Col. Robson is Judge.

It fell upon Col. Robson of Vanneck to judge as to the best appearing school in line, a task of no mean proportions. The final result was announced as follows: 1, No. 7 School Section, Bear Creek, Lobo, Miss Florence Caverhill, teacher; 2, No. 3 School Section, Miss Jean Grey, teacher; 3, No. 10 School Section, Poplar Hill, Miss Johnson, teacher; 4, No. 5 School Section, Dewars, Miss Dale, teacher. First prize for the best appearing float in the procession was won by No. 10 school.

During the afternoon Jas. C. Brown, M. L. A., of North Middlesex, spoke briefly. "You did not know naturally," he said, "what kind of a government the U. F. O. would make. But I believe today that throughout the province the people of the rural districts realize just what we have achieved. I am certainly proud at this moment to say that Premier Drury is one of the most popular public men of this province. You may like to know why the Government's expenditure has been so great. Our party came into power when the cost of living was the greatest in the history of the country. We came into power after the public institutions had been neglected during the war. This necessitated the expenditure of much money. We came in as green men in politics, and we have not got the power of the press behind us. What is happening? The other parties are digging up all the muck they can and through the medium of the press are trying to discredit us in every way.

The speaker touched for several minutes upon the hydro-electric problem, laying stress on the statement that the farmers had not been squarely dealt with.

Discussed Hydro Problem.

"We tried to legislate law in this respect and what happened?. Why! The Lethbridge bill was killed in the House. They are spending millions of dollars for hydro, and you of the rural districts are deriving no benefit thereof. Hydro belongs to us, as well as Toronto and other large cities."

John Lethbridge, M.L.A., for West Middlesex, and Dr. Hugh Stevenson, Labor M.L.A., London, spoke in the evening along similar lines.

Interest in Sports.

Particular interest was manifested in the splendid program of afternoon races. Every event was well contested. Following are the results:

50 yard three-legged-race for committee members—Ross McGugan and A. McIntyre, Neil Campbell and Frank Ladell.

100 yards, boys, 13 years and over—Howard James, Percy Tucky, Fred Waugh.

75 yards, girls, 13 and over—Iva Chapman, Vera Smith, Irene Barbour.

100 yards, boys, 11 to 13—Douglas Campbell, John Lamont, Floyd Hedges.

75 yards, girls, 11 to 13—Florence Campbell, Hilda Charkton, Mabel MacLaughlan.

75 yards, boys, 9 to 11—Howard Daniels, Ira Zavits, D. Ferguson.

50 yards, girls, 9 to 11—Lily Sproul, Mary Graham, Florence Campbell.

50 yards, boys, 7 to 9—Colin Zavits, Roy Earle, Stuart.

50 yards, girls, 7 to 9—Marion Charlton, Marion Campbell, Carrie Shipley.

25-yard wheelbarow race for boys—Hugh Carmichael and brother Court, Will Tunks and Al. Jefferies, John Scoyne and Casey Donkerwoort.

25-yard race for boys under 7—Donald Fletcher, Graham McQueen, Graham Campbell.

25-yard race, girls under 7—Margaret Matheson, Hazel Smith, Helen Edwards.

50-yard boot and shoe contest for boys, 10 and under—Donald Westbrook, Albert Jeffery, Court Carmichael.

25-yard boot and shoe race for boys under 10 — Alva Campbell, Duncan Campbell, Elmer Wilson.

50-yard boot and shoe race for girls, 10 and over—Iva Chapman, Agnes Ross, Mabel McLaughlin.

25-yard boot and shoe race for girls under 10—Won by Florence McLean.

50-yard obstacle race, boys, 10 and over—Albert Jeffery, Count Carmichael, Donald Graham.

50-yard dash, boys, under 10—Casey Dorkerwoort, Alvin McKeene, Charlton Sinker.

300-yard relay race (team from each school participating)—Howard James, Percy Tucky and Milton Campbell; Clyde Hedges, Bob Hyatt and Fred Waugh; Douglas Campbell, Campbell Caverhill and Duncan Ferguson.

225-yard relay race, for girls—Irene Barbour, Lena Jeffrey and Vera Smith; Ethel Nichol, Agnes Ross and Annie Scott; Hilda Charlton, Eva Shipley and Norine Shipley.

100-yard three-legged race, for boys, 10 and over—George Joyce and Orville Harris, Will Tunks and Al. Jeffrey, Milton and Kenneth Campbell.

50-yard sack race, boys, 10 and over—Court Carmichael, Campbell Vail.

25-yard sack race, boys, 10 and under—Duncan Campbell, Lorne Vale.

The 50-yard dash for boys under five years of age proved unusually speedy, with Archie Fletcher romping in front, closely pursued by Leslie Zavitz and Graham Campbell. The Carmichaels won the slow bicycle race, Court first and Hugh in second place.

50-yard race for girls of the Continuation School—Celia McLean, Gertrude Oihl.

100-yard race for boys of Continuation School—Chester Brown, Clifton McLean, George Caverhill.

The ladies' ball throwing contest brought to light some rather fair pitching material among the fair sex, but Leta Clare was in rare form yesterday and won out by a good margin. Annie Robinson and Lena Jeffery won second and third prizes respectively.

100-yard dash for men—Russell Zavitz, Clifton McLean, Chester Brown.

In the evening the ladies' driving contest was conducted with the following results: 1, Mrs. D. Campbell; 2, Miss M. Fletcher; 3, Miss E. Fuller; 4, Miss Margaret Graham.

Baby Show Winners.

What was probably the most interesting phase of the afternoon's events and which demanded the utmost care and tact on the part of the judges was the prize baby show. Even "Uncle Bill" Moore, who is said to be an adept at the game, admitted that such a cluster of fine healthy appearing young 'uns were entered that it proved a difficult task to choose the best. After deep consideration the following winners were announced: 1, Marion Henderson; 2, John Findleyson; 3, Ray D. Kennings; 4, Roscoe Walters, while special prizes were awarded to Gladys Burnett and Roy McLean. Rev. B. Merry and W. Grieve of Westminster and "Bill" Moore comprised the judging committee.

Substantial cash prizes were awarded for every event of the day. Jas. MacQueen was chairman of the excellent sports committee, with W. Sinclair, secretary.

That Lobo Township residents are interested in the popular summer pastime, baseball, was evidenced by the hundreds of "fans" who stationed themselves in the vicinity of the ball ground and remained throughout two as classy exhibitions as even the most fastidious curve expert would wish for. The scores of both games speak for themselves.

In the afternoon the Poplar Hill collection suffered defeat after a hard struggle with Smith Bros.' team of old Lobo boys from Detroit, score 4 to 2. A desperate rally in the ninth netted two runs for the home club, and it looked for a few minutes as if an old-time "garrison" finish would be staged.

The line-up—Poplar Hill: R. McQueen, s.s.; A. Fletcher, 3b; C. Swales, p.; B. Swales, r.f.; M. McArthur, 1b; Al. Chapman, 1b; J. Evans, c.; L. Lang, 2b; Hammond, m.; Wilson, m.; Stewart, r.f.; M. Fletcher, sp.; J. McGugan, p.

Detroit—N. Campbell, 1b; McCormick, 3b.; M. Smith, 2b.; Forurner, m.; V. Smith, s.s; A. Smith, 1b.; C. Smith, f. f.; Heintzman, m.; Harkman, p.; Lewis, sp.; Campbell, sp.

Score by innings:

Poplar Hill	000 000 002—2
Detroit	002 002 000—4

After the supper hour a Strathroy contingent clinched with the Appin nine, winning out in nine innings by 6 to 3. The contest was full of interesting play throughout. J. Campbell umpired the double-header with the greatest satisfaction to all participants and spectators.

An excellent entertainment of high class music was presented in the evening, with the following participating: The Brunswick Orchestra, Mrs. Fred Schofield, soprano of London, "Jock" Ballantyne, London, and the Western Ontario Pipe Band.

Dean Fox of Western University, London, presided.

CRITICISM ERRED ON SIDE OF LENIENCY, DECLARES ENGINEER

Grand Trunk Arbitration Hearing On Wednesday Occupied With Cross-Examination.

MONTREAL, June 8.—Cross-examined by Grand Trunk counsel on his strongly adverse criticism of Grand Trunk and Central Vermont bridges, Lieut.-Col. C. N. Monsarrat, inspecting engineer for the Government, stated that if his evidence erred in any way it was on the side of leniency. The whole morning session of the arbitration commission, sitting to inquire into the value of the Grand Trunk system prior to its acquisition by the Dominion Government, was today taken up with Lieut.-Col. Monsarrat's evidence and cross-examination upon it.

In the afternoon hearings were continued of several details of the Grand Trunk case, so as to supply further data demanded by the Government and were without special interest.
