RESIDENTS OF TWO SECTIONS PROTEST BILLS

William and Dundas Street Ratepayers Claim Sewer Costs Are Exorbitant.

INTEREST CHARGE ADDED

Pipe Line Pavement Question Also Heard by Board of Works.

Two old sewer problems, William street and Dundas street east, and the Pipe Line pavement cost, again heard the regular meeting of the board of works on Tuesday night. The William street residents were filing a protest against being charged for the sewer and the Dundas street residents objected to the high cost of the sewer.

In each case large deputations were on hand to present their arguments in support of their case, and the committee decided to refer the matter to the mayor, Chairman Ashton, and Engineer Brazier shall try to work out solutions.

James Todd was the speaker for the William street residents, and his facts as presented were almost a repetition of what has gone before. At one time Mr. Todd and Chairman Ashton seemed about to clash. The former was getting nettled. "We will not and don't intend to pay," he said, "and I'll tell you more." There he was interrupted by the chairman with a warning that there was no intention to threaten anyone. It was the intention to do the William street residents any more wrong than anyone else.

George Geoghegan, Archibald McCallum and Robert Garner were also speakers on the matter.

Ratepayer Scores Point. Mr. McCallum scored a point when he asked how storm sewers were paid for. He was told out of the general rate. He then contended that the city has taken the sewer which the William street residents had paid for and used it as a storm sewer and put down a new sanitary sewer which after five years they were also being asked to pay for.

All the speakers were firm in their contention that they had been promised that when the new sewer was laid they would not have to pay for it.

Engineer Brazier reviewed the complete history of the sewer from its inception. The estimated cost was $7,234. The contractor's price, $5,640. The contractor did not complete the task, and the city had to finish up by day labor. The cost was $7,960. The work was completed in 1917. The bills have not been sent out until this year, and in the meantime interest has been compounding, bringing the charge against the ratepayers to date to $11,408.14. The estimated cost of side drains was $40. The residents say they have been billed for $62. They contended that this latter charge is not valid.

Ald. Drake suggested that the ratepayers should be credited with the cost of the first sewer, seven cents a foot. Inasmuch as this sewer is now used as a storm sewer, Mr. Brazier said that the old sewer did not meet the full requirements of a storm sewer.

U. A. Buchner Appeals. U. A. Buchner, barrister, appeared backed by a large number of ratepayers of Dundas street east. They contended that the price charged for the sewer in their area, 71 cents a foot, amounted almost to a confiscation of their property. They pointed out that a sewer on Hale street, which runs into their sewer, was only costing 15 cents, and served the people as well as the high-priced sewer.

Both these sewer problems were sent to the special committee. City Clerk Baker informed the committee that the court of revision, acting under its powers, that allow a reduction in the case of land not suitable for building purposes, had reduced the frontage assessment of property owners on the Pipe Line pavement by 87 feet. This amounted to $664 yearly for ten years. The city would have to meet this out of the general tax rate. City Clerk Baker said that to avoid being late he had entered an appeal against the court's finding to the judge.

Fears Precedent. Mayor Wilson pointed out that the three cases just heard were all instances where the necessity of notifying people of the cost of a work was emphasized. All these works were undertaken on a two-thirds vote of the council. The mayor also warned the committee that in making a settlement in the Pipe Line road, as well as the other cases, they should be aware of setting up a precedent.

This matter was also referred to the special committee. The city is facing two bills for paying this year. Clerk John Stuart of the county said that the county will spend $9,000 this year on suburban roads. Under the suburban area legislation the city must put up an equal amount.

Another bill to meet will be the city's portion of the cost of the Lambeth highway. This account will be about $55,000, and must be paid in a lump sum. The Crumlin road will also cost the city about $15,000, but it is unlikely that this bill will be submitted this year.

CLAIMS DISMISSAL OF COLLECTOR JUSTIFIED

That the garbage collector who was dismissed by the garbage superintendent was let go on the grounds of incompetency and generally unsatisfactory service, in the report of Engineer Brazier, called the attention of the mayor and aldermen by Ald. May. The incident happened at the Ridout street breakwater and it was contended that the superintendent had acted hastily.

Ald. Drake said that he looked over the spot where the man had driven his team and where the wagon was dumped over and he expressed his opinion that the whole outfit did not go down to the bankment.

TAKES CHARGE OF LONDON DIVISION

Fred M. Rutter, Toronto, Succeeds to C. P. R. Appointment in City.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company announces the appointment of Fred M. Rutter to the superintendency of its London division, with headquarters at London, effective Wednesday. Mr. Rutter succeeds R. McKillop, who has been transferred to Toronto where he will have jurisdiction over the company's Bruce division.

Mr. Rutter is an Ontario boy having been born and educated in Toronto and is a graduate of the University of Toronto, class 1902. He entered the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway shortly after graduating and was engaged in the company's engineering and construction departments in various parts of Eastern Canada from 1902 until 1915. Since the latter year he has had charge of the operation of lines which radiate from Toronto to Owen Sound, Teeswater, Elora, the Muskoka district and other points. The experience thus gained makes him well fitted to take over the duties of the London division which is conceded to be one of the heaviest railway traffic sections in Canada. Mr. Rutter's new territory includes Canadian Pacific Railway lines operating through Galt, Woodstock, London, Chatham, Windsor, Guelph and other important industrial centers in Western Ontario.

INDIAN THEOSOPHIST ENDS LECTURE SERIES

The last of a series of lectures on "Education for Citizenship" was delivered Tuesday evening by Professor Ernest Wood at the Theosophical Hall.

The professor explained that theosophists believe that the whole of life is education, that is drawing out the powers of consciousness. The key-note of education was struck many years ago, he said. The king of Prussia, when crushed at Yena, announced to the people that by education alone could the nation be raised to a power again.

Education for citizenship, he said, has been forced on the country by the growth of democracy.

ASKS REPORT ON ALL "EXTRAS" AT NEW SCHOOL

Trustee Silverwood's Demand for Information Supported by Others.

PLAN OPENING FEB. 20

Architect Carrothers States All Work Done According to Specifications.

While it is now proposed to open the new collegiate institute and the new Victoria public school on Monday, February 20, there still appears to exist just a suspicion in the minds of some of the school trustees that all may not be right at the latter building.

At Tuesday's meeting of No. 2 committee, Trustee Bice, chairman, pointed out that as they had inspected the school, something should be done toward taking it over officially from the contractors.

Trustee Mrs. John I. A. Hunt protested. "We had no specifications or plans with us," she asserted. "We merely walked through the building."

The school is absolutely ready," reported Architect Carrothers. "The work has been satisfactorily carried on according to plans and specifications."

Advices Caution. Trustee Silverwood desired to know when the opening would take place. Inspector Fraser stated February 20. Trustee Smith and Campbell spoke for a written report to be placed on file.

Trustee Rev. A. A. Rice remarked that the school "looked A1 to him," but Trustee A. E. Silverwood warned the committee to move with great caution. "How about the wood in the floor," he asked. "It looks to me just like the floor in the collegiate institute."

Trustee Bice warned that a report must be ready before Monday. Trustee Mrs. Hunt held that certain grill work, undertaken as an "extra," had never been approved by the board. The task involved the expenditure of $1,370.

Trustee Bice then pointed out that the trustees had better exercise extreme care in accepting the building.

Demand Report of Extras. Trustee A. E. Silverwood demanded a detailed statement of "extras." "There might be others that we don't know anything about," interjected Trustee Harry Hayman.

Trustee Mrs. Hunt wanted to know if they would accept the boiler which it had been alleged was cracked after being in use only a short time. Chairman Smith reported that the defective portion of the boiler was being replaced. Trustee Clark remarked: "Put in a thousand and they'll all crack."

Trustee Bice inquired from Trustee Silverwood if the collegiate institute boiler had cracked. The latter had not examined it, he said, but Architect Carrothers assured Trustee Bice:

"Not yet," he replied.

WANT TENDERS ON COLLECTING CITY GARBAGE

Members of Special Committee Decide Upon Request to Council.

SEEK CHEAPER METHODS

Engineer Brazier Strongly Warns Against Return to Contract System.

The city council is to be asked to call for tenders for the collection of the garbage of the city. This is to learn if the city can get the work done at less cost than by the present civic system.

Such was the decision arrived at on Tuesday night by the special meeting appointed to deal with the matter.

Before the committee finally adopted the motion to call for tenders, Engineer Brazier warned the committee that if it returned to the contract system it was making a step in the wrong direction, and one not in the best interests of the city. Unless wages were cut he could not see how the work could be made any cheaper.

Chairman Douglass wanted to know how many complaints about the present system were made last month.

The engineer replied very few, and gave the same answer to a similar question in regard to December.

Ald. Bean wanted to know if all complaints were investigated. The engineer said they were, and that it was found he free from complaint was not justified. Most of them were exaggerations, and had to do with collections.

None in Six Months. Ald. Drake said that if there were any complaints from the east end of the city he always got them, and he had not had any in six months, except one from a South London resident.

Ald. Douglass went on to say that he had received two that day. Engineer Brazier held that the city would never have a garbage department that was free from complaint. The complaints here were reduced to a minimum, and he desired to make the assertion that there was not a more efficient garbage department in the province, and suggested that an investigation would show that there is none more efficient.

Ald. Douglass suggested that ashes and garbage be collected together, and the ashes, as well as the garbage, burned.

Would Be Impossible. The engineer said that this would be impossible unless the ashes were screened. Thrown into the incinerator in the state they were collected they would not burn, though he estimated that there would be 20 per cent coal and clinkers. The garbage, however, 75 per cent of which was moist, burned without the aid of coal.

The engineer reminded the committee that it could only let a contract for the collection of garbage for one year.

Ald. Ashton said that it would be hard to get a man to take such a contract, as he would have to take over the outfit of the city.

Dr. Douglass thought that this would bring efficient service, as he would want to please in order to get another contract. The council would be glad to have the contract renewed if he had saved the city $25,000 or $30,000.

Ald. Ashton said he was glad to note that Ald. Douglass said "if."

Claims Saving Made. The engineer in referring to the city having taken over the garbage collection contract from ex-Ald. Boss in 1914, said that the city saved considerable money by doing so. He gave the costs. Mr. Boss's contract was for $49,673 for 1914. The city operated the system in 1915 at a cost of $35,976; 1916, $35,295; 1917, $44,658; 1918, the cost was above the contract price, and now runs over $70,000.

Ald. Drake said that the city system could be made much cheaper with a curb collection, but that the aldermen had decided that it would be just as well to do away with the collection altogether as to try such a system.

The matter will go on to the council, and Ald. Douglass suggested that if the council rejects the proposal to call for tenders, he will ask for suggestions leading to improving the system. In this regard it seems likely that he will propose to reduce the cost of administering the department.

During the meeting of No. 2 committee which followed, Engineer Brazier made a recommendation regarding the charge to Victoria Hospital for heating that will add $18,000 to the cost.

terially to the income of the garbage department, and thus reduce its net book cost to the city.

Hospital Pays $3,000. The engineer stated that last year the hospital, which is heated from the incinerator plant by the burning of the garbage, was charged $3,000. This was on a basis of 10 tons of garbage being equal to one ton of coal. There were 13,126 tons of garbage used to provide heat for the hospital, the equivalent of 1,322 tons of coal, or a cost of $2,386. The difference between the charge now made by the city for ten tons of garbage and the present price of coal was $3.03, and he suggested that the new schedule of charges to the hospital be made. On the suggestion of Ald. Douglass this was laid over until the council decides what shall be done with the garbage system.

ASKS STANDARD REGULATIONS IN LONDON DAIRIES

Federal Department of Inspection Requests Passage of Bylaw.

DEMANDS MINIMUM WAGE

The federal department in charge of veterinary inspection is not prepared to order the inspection of dairy herds of London and district as yet.

A letter to the board of health in reply to a resolution passed by the council asking for an inspection, asks the city will put through a bylaw setting forth standard regulations for dairies. This is necessary before the inspection will be authorized, and the board of health, to expedite matters, will send word of its acceptance of this regulation immediately.

The matter was before a meeting of the board on Tuesday afternoon, and many matters relating to the milk supply of the city were talked over.

The federal department asks that the city license all dairies. This is already done, but the city is asked to set forth different regulations for the issuance of the new licenses. These have to do with the housing of dairy herds, the airing of stables and lighting.

The regulations point out that at the end of two years the supply of milk would be either certified or pasteurized, as owners of herds not tested for tuberculosis will only be allowed to sell their milk to pasteurization plants, and will not be allowed to sell it in its raw state.

Urges Sterilization.

In connection with the bottling of milk, Dr. C. S. Downham said that he has been fighting hard for years to get some improvements from some of the milk dealers, and in several cases related to the bottling of milk. It was hard to get proper sterilization of bottles in the country. He expressed the desire to see all the bottling of milk done in the city.

Dr. Downham suggested that if the place of bottling in the country was not suitable the dairy should be cut off until the improvement is made.

Mr. Mitchell said that if the milk was not properly bottled it would be worse than the using of the old tin cans, as when one can was involved as against a lot of bottles, it was reasonable to conclude that the can would be kept the cleanest.

Mr. Mitchell pointed to the fact that in the last report on the health of the city there was but one case of measles. This was a disease, he declared, that was traceable to the milk supply, and was a justification for the clean-up of the city that has been made in recent years by the health board. He suggested that the good work be kept up, at the same time pointing out that the testing of cattle for tuberculosis was the greatest step forward that the city has undertaken in health matters in years past, and hoped that the institution of the inspection would not be delayed any longer than was absolutely necessary.

Will Visit Plant.

The city council referred to the board a resolution that steps be taken to have the fertilizer plant removed from its present location in the southeast part of the city. The board, after some discussion, decided that before taking any action they would visit the plant.

Dr. Tamlin stated that his sympathy was with the people living near the plant, but he wondered what would become of the dead horses if the plant went out of business.

Mr. Mitchell, answering Chairman Seabrook's statement that he understood the business was a profitable one, said that it could be purchased for one-quarter what it cost. Today it was being run as a losing proposition. He said that it would cost about $15,000 to move the plant. Many of the troubles and ailments of the people residing near the plant have been laid at the odor coming from it, and Mr. Mitchell said that he was assured by the owners that they would do all they could to abate this nuisance. He pointed out that the plant was when it was about to be abandoned and closed by the previous owners.

Want Minimum Wage.

William Tite, a delegate from the trades and labor council, got the board to agree to an indorsement of the minimum wage law, and to send their approval to Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M.L.A., at Toronto. The grounds on which Mr. Tite based the case for the labor body was that the minimum wage was necessary to keep the workers sufficiently nourished, and thus prevent disease.

Mr. Tite drew the attention of the board to the fact that the Hamilton board of health had, on the recommendation of its health officer, asked the council to indorse the minimum wage law as he traced much of the sickness in the city to the inability of the worker to supply his family with the necessities of life.

Mr. Tite contended that the labor men were in touch with conditions in London, and believed that a similar condition existed here. He suggested that the local health officer make a report on conditions, which would lead to an indorsement of the minimum wage law by the council on the recommendation of the board.

Cites Wage Cuts.

Mr. Tite gave the council numerous cases where wages have been materially cut in the city, and also where men were working only part time. The resultant effect was that the worker was unable to provide his family with the necessities of life. The speaker was well versed on his subject, and made quite an impression.

Chairman Seabrook told him that the government which put the fair wage law for women into force, and he was for leaving the matter in the hands of London's member of the Legislature.

Mr. Tite came back that the argument for the minimum wage law for women, that the girls of today are the mothers of tomorrow, applied with equal force to a minimum wage for men. If the girls of today are to be the mothers of tomorrow, then the men are entitled to a wage that will keep them well nourished as mothers just the same as they are kept well nourished when they are girls, and to do so the man must have a wage that will allow him to supply these necessities.

Asks Quota Sought.

Chairman Seabrook asked the speaker if his proposal was that the board should ask the council to send a request to the Legislature asking that plants in the city be made pay higher wages.

Mr. Tite said that he was battling for the under-dog—the unskilled worker. He spoke of the men employed by the city who were paid 30 cents an hour shovelling snow.

Mr. Mitchell said that in that case it was better to have a half loaf than no loaf at all.

Mr. Tite said that he had been told that before, and has asked his informant if he had ever had to live on a half loaf.

Mr. Mitchell said that the Dental Association was taking up the matter of having dental parlors inspected, and this proved satisfactory to Mr. Tite.

LAUDS IDEALS OF INSURANCE UNDERWRITERS

T. H. Purdom, K. C., Tells Congress of Salesmen, Profession Furthers Brotherhood.

BANQUET ENDS SESSIONS

W. E. Bilheimer Demonstrates Best Methods of Selling to Different Prospects.

Better salesmanship, a bright outlook for the future, and praise of the wonderful progress of the insurance business during the last few years, was the dominant note of the speeches heard by the 350 life underwriters of Western Ontario, at the closing event of their one-day congress, a banquet in the Tecumseh House, Tuesday night.

Though they were unable to attend in person, Hume Cronyn, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Canada, and T. H. Purdom, K.C., president of the Northern Life Assurance Company of Canada, sent communications containing their respective messages to the underwriters.

In addition, J. G. Stephenson, president of the Dominion Association of Life Underwriters, and W. E. Bilheimer addressed the meeting.

Regrets Absence.

In his message to the underwriters, Mr. Cronyn said: "I find this a difficult task, lacking the inspiration which personal acquaintance might bring. Perhaps, however, you would be kind enough to express my disappointment at my inability to be present, not merely at your banquet, but at the meetings which will precede that function. Nothing could interest me more than to listen to the various addresses and discussions which you will hear."

"Next, may I be permitted to express my high appreciation of those who are engaged in life insurance. The world generally approves, although it seldom adequately rewards, those high-minded individuals who labor for the betterment of mankind. Our teachers, pastors, poets and physicians occur to my mind as taking high rank in this regard. Included the agency staffs of our life this noble army may well be in companies, for these forces are primarily engaged in making safe and secure the homes of our country—those homes on which more than any other one factor depend the future of Canada."

"And may I finally express the fervent wish—despite the sage words 'Success is naught'—that your strivings in this chosen field may yield both satisfaction and compensation."

The message of T. H. Purdom was, in part, as follows:

"Life insurance, to a greater extent than any other business, fills the definition of brotherhood, as Edwin Markham puts it:

"The crest and crowning of all good life's final star is brotherhood."

"It was generally believed that the war would produce in the world closer ties of brotherhood and, while there is a great deal of unrest in the world, we cannot expect the world to settle down quickly after so great a world catastrophe. There are many of the returned soldiers of every land returned heroes. The average boy of Canada came home, modestly saying nothing, and returning to his position in life as if nothing had happened. They surely advanced the cause of the brotherhood of man and held sacred the flags for which they fought. We little thought how great they were. They proved:

"There is a destiny that makes us brothers.
None goes his way alone;
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back into our own."

"I care not what his temples or his creeds,
One thing holds firm and fast:
That into his faithful heap of days
And deeds
The solution of a man is cast."

"Life insurance was one of the steady influences during the war, and the fact that the companies met their obligations during those years of strain proved their safety and value."

"While life insurance suffered by extra deaths during the war and by the flu, it has not been all loss. The world, as never before, values life insurance and growth and strength has followed."

"The figures of the continent are staggering. They are so great and supported by so large an army of able men in the field, that it is quite clear no scheme of government insurance could compete for more than a small fraction of the total. No government could secure an army of trained, able, educated men to compete with those covering the field for the life companies of today."

"I asked a very able man one day the question, 'What is the secret of an orator's success?' We had sat together listening to a very fine address. He replied, 'There are three qualifications. The first is magnetism, the second is magnetism, and the third is magnetism.' I answered, 'He has all three.' Magnetism is essential to the orator and would be a great asset to the life agent. There is another quality very necessary to success—vision."

An Example.

"Take the Mutual Life of New York. It issued its first policy in February, 1843. It had desk room in the back of a law office in Wall street. It had two officers; one had a salary of $800 a year, the other no salary at all. The capital and business were both very small. It began with its first premium $102. It fought its way through prejudice, ignorance and bigotry. Its founder had vision, and became one of the very greatest companies in the world. Similar success is open to any company that will strive for it. And if success is open to any company, so is success open to any man connected with a life company who will strive for success."

"All we need in Canada is vision. We have not yet population as large as we would like, but that will come. We do not need to look only at life insurance—look around us in any city in Canada or the United States and there are thousands of examples of very small beginnings developing into very great concerns. In our own city the McClary works is claimed to be the largest of its kind in the British Empire. It does not stand alone even here. There are many other large concerns that, like it, simply grew."

"But life insurance belongs to that class of business that does not end with the life of the organizer. Those who organize and build up a life company build not only for today, but for all time. Their work projects itself into the future. The good enlarges and progresses. The Mutual Life of New York is only one of thousands on this continent."

"We have in Canada two splendid examples of uninterrupted growth and prosperity. The Canada Life and the Sun Life. The Hon. George A. Cox was a conspicuous success and he made the Canada Life like himself. His son, Herbert C. Cox, on several occasions has upheld the honor of Canada at the meeting of the Association of Life Assurance Presidents, at the Hotel Astor in New York. Notably at the last meeting in December, when he acted as chairman, and Canon Cody of Toronto delivered the address of the gathering."

"On another occasion recently T. B. MacAuley of the Sun Life gave a splendid reminiscent address. Canada has reason to be proud of these companies, and others are coming on."

Canada's Time.

"This is our time of growth. The 20th century will see great advances that will prove that Canada's best is in the long run the world's best. It will not be many years until there are not two great companies in Canada, but ten times that number."

"I am sorry I will not hear Mr. Belheimer. There is no better entertainment in the world than to hear a good speech. The gathering at New York proved that by its appreciation of Canon Cody in December last."

"No one can overestimate the good life companies will do in this, the twentieth century. The nineteenth was great indeed, but the twentieth will surpass it as the nineteenth did the centuries before it. We need all our vision and optimism to realize it. With a trebled population what will life insurance be? The youngest here may to some extent realize the good deeds accomplished by life insurance. We are told:

"The memory of good deeds will every day.
A lamp to light us on the darkened way.
A music to the ear on clamoring street,
A cooling well amid the noonday heat.
A scent of green boughs blown through narrow walls,
A feel of rest, when quiet evening falls."

Outlines Success Steps.
In speaking on "The Ideal of the Underwriter," Mr. Stephenson said that he was attempting to outline "the necessary steps that the ordinary producer has got to go through to get anywhere near to the genius."

No man, he said, could be a good underwriter with a poor body. The body was the thing which "carried one's personality into another personality, and was the medium through which shone the unseen things, the ultra thing, the transcendent and intangible thing that betrayed the mind. Therefore he cautioned the underwriters that those who would go to the limits of their profession could not afford to be otherwise than always in the best condition physically and morally, even to the extent of fasting and smoking."

The five senses which a man possessed should be kept undulled, for though a man often was apparently just as sensitive in many ways as others, yet let his five senses become in any way blunted and he became in a sense dead.

"The ideal underwriter, to my mind," said Mr. Stephenson, "is the underwriter with the great brain backed by a great mind." The speaker drew, a distinction between the brain and the mind, pointing out that the brain was the physical part of the combination composing the intellect, the mind and the spiritual.

He urged the underwriters to look to the appeal to the heart in their ways of selling.

In making a sale, said Mr. Stephenson, "If you drive home the idea through the mind to the heart, you will raise the temperature of a man's consciousness and in the same way that heat or cold registers, it will register on his will."

The man who made the best judgments was the better man as an underwriter. "A man is only useful and social in the direct ratio that he can make correct judgments from day to day."

Commends Profession.
W. E. Bilheimer paid tribute to the noble and honorable profession of insurance, ranking it alongside the teaching, medical and other professions in its value to the community.

Mr. Bilheimer spoke of the heritage of fatherhood and motherhood and paid tribute to it and saying that a great many of the men of today were but carrying out in their success in life the day dreams of their fathers. Mother love followed a man into his life and the wonderful understanding of the mothers of men to whom, said Mr. Bilheimer, he always loved to pay tribute.

At the conclusion of the addresses J. W. Egan of the Northern Life Company, secretary of the congress, declared that he believed "more benefit had been derived from the Western Ontario congress than from the Dominion congress, since the latter had been a tribute to the salesman to derive a great benefit."

J. J. Callaghan, president of the congress, who presided, also expressed himself as being pleased with the success of the congress. A meritorious musical program was presented at the banquet. Mr. Lugden of the Great West Company, Toronto, gave several readings, largely chosen from the Canadian poets, all of which were very well received.

The Brunswick Trio also gave several selections, which were greeted with ovations.

Afternoon Session.

During the afternoon session in Hyman Hall, London, speakers addressed the underwriters on topics of particular importance to those in the insurance business. They were A. Gordon Ramsay of Toronto, W. E. Bilheimer, sales manager of the Franklin Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., and E. J. Maciver, assistant secretary of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, New Jersey.

Mr. Ramsay chose to speak on "Insurance Earning Ability Rather Than Life," and delineated this subject by dealing with important problems that confront the insurance salesman.

W. E. Bilheimer, who opened himself to matters of salesmanship and by illustrations made to stand out the pointers which he was of the opinion it would be well for the salesman to grasp.

Taking at random three "prospects," Mr. Bilheimer proceeded to demonstrate the best method to "sell" the prospect. Mr. Maciver termed his address, "Holding What We've Got." The man who actually is in the field, the salesman, does more to conserve business than does the man in the office.

George Sisler, who was very successful as a manager in the winter league venture on the coast, says for the present he has no desire to lead a major league club. "When I begin slipping as a player, maybe I will take a chance as a manager," says Sisler.

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a cough which is dry, harsh and hacking, accompanied with rapid wheezing, and a feeling of tightness through the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning after rising from bed. This phlegm is at first of a light color, but as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blood.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

You will find a remedy that will stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and help nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Mr. John H. Root, 40 Maple avenue, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis and had a very bad cough. I had it so long I was beginning to get afraid of other developments. I tried all kinds of cough remedies without relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and it convinced me to believe that I had at last gotten the right medicine. I used several bottles and am practically well. I have recommended it to others since, and good results followed."

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it; price, 35c and 50c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv.

REPORT BIG YEAR FOR SUN LIFE CO.

Carefully selected and blended coffee-beans expertly roasted and ground produce delicious

Although it has been established for 51 years, and has, during that time, registered a phenomenal rate of advancement, the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada has succeeded in passing all its previous records. The figures for 1921, which the company has this week submitted to the public prove it to have transacted an enormous amount of business, and this in spite of the very trying circumstances under which all Canadian industry and finance was laboring during the year.

One of the most interesting features presented through the medium of the Sun Life's annual report is the exceedingly low rate of mortality which was experienced among policyholders. It would appear that our people are healthier than they have ever been. This is certainly not due to a more discriminative selection of lives for assurance, as the great life companies have, if anything, been opening, rather than closing, the door to protection.

That the actual death rate should have been so much below that anticipated by the actuaries is a healthy and encouraging sign, both from the point of view of the company and of the public at large.

The volume of assurance now in force with the Sun Life has reached the imposing figure of over $36,000,000. The sum of $11,967,069 was paid either to policyholders or their beneficiaries during the year, which brings the amount paid out to the company's friends since its incorporation in 1865 up to $114,155,003.

"After that," said the man, "It's not the mule's fault"

Blame for injury depends on how much chance the victim had to make himself safe.

"The first time a mule kicks me," said a wise man, "it's the mule's fault. If it happens again, it's my fault."

A good many people are staying within kicking distance of tea or coffee, who have had a chance to know better.

They have learned that tea or coffee at night keeps them awake. They know it whips up the nerves. They know what medical opinion has so often said about the effect of the drug element in tea and coffee upon the nervous system—and how indigestion, headaches, high blood pressure and various ills so often follow the use of tea or coffee.

Knowing this, they fail to keep out of the way. Where does the blame belong, then, when the final break-down comes?

There's safety in Postum, and charm, too. Postum has a full, rich flavor, and it is free from any harmful element whatsoever—a wholesome meal-time drink for children and older folks alike.

Whether or not you've had your warning from tea or coffee, why not step over on the safe side? Why not do what so many others have done—try Postum for ten days, learn how delightful and satisfying it is—and learn how much improvement there can be for you?

You can get Postum wherever good food and drink are sold or served, and it only takes a word from you to your grocer or restaurant waiter, to make this move to the safe side, at once.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 30 minutes.

AWAIT CUT IN CIVIL SERVICE SALARY LISTS

Ottawa Observers Declare Fielding Is Insistent On Reduction.

MAY ALSO CUT MEMBERS

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—It is plain that rigid economy is the Liberal government's chief watchword, and it is quite certain that if the endeavor to live up to it they will offend some of their own stalwarts. But by the way of comparison they can rely upon the support of large elements in the country who did not vote for them at the recent election.

Yet economy is always easier to talk about on platforms than to enforce, and the furor which has been raised in Britain about the Geddes report shows the sort of resistance that all would-be conservers of public money may expect to encounter.

However, the attempt is being made elsewhere to practice stern economies and it must be pursued here. The question now arises whether the King government would not do well to strengthen their position by imitating the example of the Massey administration in New Zealand by cutting down the present indemnity paid to federal legislators.

In New Zealand a bill has just passed both houses of parliament which reduces the salaries of all the higher officials by 7 to 10 per cent, and takes off a portion of the cost of living bonus granted in 1920. The abolition of the whole bonus was contemplated, but the government has agreed to postpone further installments of bonus reduction till July of this year and January, 1922.

Such reductions are extraordinarily difficult and require special political courage in New Zealand, where it is calculated that one-sixth of the population depend for their livelihood upon state employment. But so generally is the need for economy recognized that the reductions, while deplored, are being generally accepted as inevitable.

The central civil service, the teachers and the railway engineers have given their consent, and only the amalgamated society of railway servants threaten trouble. But the government took the very prudent course of disarming criticism by curtailing by 10 per cent the parliamentary indemnities and cabinet salaries now paid.

Infected by their example, Lord Jellicoe, the governor-general, whose remuneration had been untouched, requested that he be allowed to share in the common sacrifice. Now this very shrewd place of tactics on the part of Massey has enabled his government to effect in peaceful fashion economies which otherwise would have provoked bitter resistance.

Mr. Fielding Insistent. It is understood that Hon. W. S. Fielding is insistent upon the necessity for a substantial reduction in the salaries now drawn by the civil service, and it is likely to take the form of the gradual withdrawal of the balance of the bonus which survived last year's cut of 25 per cent.

Inevitably there will be a vociferous protest from the civil service at the idea of any further reduction in salaries, which most of them consider pitifully meagre, and the government will be inundated with a flood of protests from the various civil service associations. But if they were to announce their intention of moving for a 10 per cent or 20 per cent reduction of the parliamentary indemnity at the coming session, they would find any outcry raised comparatively easy to deal with.

The case for such a reduction has a good basis on its own merits. There were many people who thought the increase of $1,500 granted in 1919 unduly excessive. Mr. King and Mr. Crerar both voted for an amendment opposing it, and it is an open secret that Sir Robert Borden regretted it, and was only forced to sponsor it by a determined revolt and threatened strike on the part of his backbenchers. One night when Mr. Burnham suddenly plunged the house into a discussion of the subject the ex-premier deprecated any increase, and then a few days later introduced a bill to grant it.

Objections Held Good. Mr. King spoke quite strongly against it, chiefly on the ground that the house then existing had no right to vote itself an increase of salary. The main objections to an annual indemnity of $4,000 still hold good. Considering the fact that the sessions rarely occupy more than five months it may be an excessive reward for the services rendered.

There is evidence that it has in many constituencies provoked a scramble for nominations and when this takes place the most efficient party is rarely chosen. A plausible manipulator has more chances of success. The matter is debatable, but there is room for argument that an increase in indemnities might well have the effect of lowering the average quality of parliamentary representation.

But if any reduction is contemplated

OUR BOARDING HOUSE.

BUSTER STARTS A REDUCING CAMPAIGN

plated Mr. Fielding can fairly take his stand upon the need for parliament to set an example in economy, and public opinion would rally to his support, for the increases of 1919 were not popular in the country.

FINDS BOY DID NOT GET TIRES

St. Thomas Magistrate Frees Eric Middleton of Receiving Charge.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 14.—Eric Middleton, a youth of this city, was dismissed when he was arraigned in police court Tuesday charged with receiving stolen tires from Leland Stover, also of this city, who is being held on a charge of robbing Lindsay's garage on the night of Jan. 10.

Middleton was accused of receiving the tires at his home, knowing that they were stolen. The tires were alleged to have been stolen from his basement by Egerton Tindin, who was committed for trial Tuesday morning. He will be tried by jury at the next sitting of the county court.

The hearing of Stover, who is charged with stealing $700 worth of tires from the garage, was adjourned once again, this time until Monday next. A second charge of stealing a tire from E. Cutler's garage has also been preferred against Stover.

Ball for Tindin and Stover was fixed at $4,000 each.

The rate of surcharge on international passenger business will be based on 4 per cent exchange.

MANAGER OF NATIONAL BANK RESIGNS HIS POST

LIVER TROUBLE BAD BILIOUS ATTACKS

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach full and sick, and bilious spells occur on account of the liver holding back the bile which is so essential to promote the movements of the bowels, and the bile gets into the blood, instead of passing out through the usual channel.

The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the nasty bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old-fashioned purgatives.

Mr. John S. Caron, Donovan, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with my liver and had severe bilious attacks. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, so I took two pills and I have had no more attacks."

Detroit Waif To Choose Her Mother From 105 Applicants

Special to London Advertiser.

DETROIT, Feb. 14.—Margaret Belandarian, 12-year-old Armenian girl whom the Highland Park community center is fostering, has one more day to select a mother from among the 105 Detroit women who have offered to adopt her.

Mrs. A. P. Rankin, supervisor of the center, declared Tuesday the selection would be made from four of five women, who, she is assured, want the little girl for a daughter, rather than as a domestic.

"Many lovely women have volunteered to take the child and give her a good home," Mrs. Rankin says. "The selection now rests among three Detroit women and a Mount Clemens woman. We have found that a large percentage of the volunteers would like to make a sort of a servant of the girl. One woman wanted her to manage a delicatessen store. Another needed a girl to take care of her five children, and thought Margaret would qualify."

Margaret had luncheon with one of her prospective mothers Tuesday. She has been getting acquainted with each of the applicants, and a selection will not be made without her approval.

The child was discovered in an Armenian orphanage by welfare workers six months ago. She was brought to Detroit and given to her father, who is unable to take care of her. Her mother was lost at sea when Margaret was a small baby.

Expect To Start Work Shortly On New Port Stanley Pavilion

Before the ice is out of Lake Erie work will commence at Port Stanley upon the new amusement pavilion, was the information given out Tuesday. Two alternative schemes have been outlined and once a decision has been made, tenders will immediately be called for and work commenced directly arrangements are completed. June 1 has been set as the probable date for the conclusion of the new structure.

The new pavilion will extend over the lake for a distance of 400 feet at a point south of the roller coaster. Two types of building are under contemplation at this moment, one being oblong in shape and the other being octagonal. In any event provision will be made on the upper deck for a dance hall and a moving picture theatre. On the lower deck will be riding devices and the usual games and amusements to be witnessed along a board walk. Circling the pavilion on the outside will be a commodious promenade.

Prices have already been quoted for the octagon shaped structure but were deemed a trifle high at the time. It is now believed, however, that the figure can be appreciably reduced.

Builders explain that the sooner all detail is ready and actual work started the better it will be as they will be able, they say, by working on the ice, to eliminate the placing in position with considerable effort, the usual posts and scaffolding, etc.

SCULLY BLAMES HIS RELATIVES

Alleged Slayer Will Be Examined As To Sanity.

SARNIA, Feb. 14.—Sitting in his cell in the Port Huron jail awaiting his appearance in police court before Canadian and American immigration authorities, Anthony Scully, alleged murderer of his aged father, and who almost killed his sister, states that his relative is the cause of all his misfortunes, and that with the law failing to take its course, he took the law into his own hands.

Tonight in his padded cell the Canadian is a raving maniac. Hospital authorities announce that his sister is in a critical condition. The sister is suffering from 50 razor slashes and 21 blows from a hammer. Arrangements were complete in Sarnia tonight for the removal of the body of the aged Cornelius Scully to Stratford. The remains will leave on Wednesday. Interment will be made in the family plot in the Stratford cemetery.

Anthony Scully will likely appear in court in the near future, but the American authorities are waiting until he is examined and for the completion of plans as to whether he will be removed to a Canadian or American insane asylum.

ASSESSMENT VALUES IN OTTAWA INCREASE

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The total assessment on which taxes for civic revenue will be levied during the present year is $135,673,359, an increase of $6,131,737 over the total taxable assessment which was the basis of taxation last year.

The increase is made up in income, improvement and business assessments, a decrease in assessment on land being shown. The population of the city is estimated at 112,599, as compared with 110,735 at the time the previous assessment was made.

The Life Underwriters.

LIFE INSURANCE salesmen are in convention in London this week, comparing notes, studying the most approved methods, finding what form of insurance is the most useful and beneficial to the people with whom they do business.

London, the financial center of Western Ontario, is the logical place for such a meeting to be held.

During the past few years the attitude of the public has changed toward life insurance. It has been educated to realize that insurance is a definite quantity, and that it can not be sold at bargain prices for any length of time. Actuarial skill has placed a very definite element into dealing with such an uncertain thing as human life. Many a man in Canada, especially in Ontario, has suffered the loss of many hundreds of dollars because certain fraternal companies had to pass through the stage of selling insurance to their members at less than cost, and in the end make a levy to square matters which many of the older members were not prepared to stand.

The companies represented at the gathering in London have, fortunately, a definite proposition to sell, and one that has government sanction. They charge a definite amount, and agree to deliver a definite amount. They sell as a straight business proposition; they can protect a man's investments; create an estate that could not be gathered together in any other way; provide for the operation of a man's earnings powers after he has passed away; give an incentive to a young man to provide against poverty in old age.

There is no other medium doing this work so thoroughly and with so little risk to those who are putting up the money.

During the last few years life insurance companies in Canada passed through several crises that would have shaken less stable concerns to their roots, if indeed they could have survived at all. In the first and worst "flu" epidemic of 1918 they paid claims of $14,000,000 or more; during the war they met claims without a whimper, between these two, the "flu" and the war, being called upon to pay out at least $50,000,000. No other agency could have met this drain and survived the ordeal, and it is well to note that they passed through this period with no special levy on policyholders. It was a trying season, no doubt, but in the end formed probably the greatest and most lasting advertisement that the insurance companies could have secured.

London is pleased to have the life underwriters as her guests. They are doing a legitimate, commendable class of work.

Movie Madness.

OUR PERSONALITY is built up largely by what we SEE. Our eyesight is our greatest educator. So true is this that it has been calculated that not more than 6 per cent of those born blind actually attain sufficient character and mentality to become self-supporting.

The "movies" are today a constant series of visual suggestions. And we are all creatures of suggestion. We are built up very largely by what we hear, feel and see.

Those who have seen movies in the making at Richmond, England, at Hollywood, California, and at Long Island, New York, know that the directors wholly dominate the entire cast, men and women alike. And it is a psychological fact that it is easy for a strong-willed director to carry this domination beyond the studio, for good or for evil.

Every actor or actress is better or worse for the role he depicts. None can live two roles, forever, even on the stage and off, and escape having them commingle, any more than Dr. Jekyll could escape from Mr. Hyde.

Usually and unfortunately recent events show plainly that the evil often overwhelms the good. There are two distinct kinds of pictures. Those that represent life as it is—extol courage, honor, sincerity and the higher qualities of the human nature. Those are beyond question beneficial, and a source of great good to the community and to those who make them.

The other product of the silver screen, appealing to mawkish sentimentality, and extolling the pettier emotions such as jealousy, vanity, the worship of brute force and the frequent misinterpretation of the true values of life, are a source of great mischief to young and old alike, and lead to an entirely warped conception of society as a whole.

This sort of picture, produced solely for financial gain, sacrifices fundamental truths in order to appeal to false sentimentality.

For instance a handsome criminal as often shrouded in a cloak of romance. He is captioned a "gentleman Raffles" whose finer instincts remain unstained, although he transgresses every law—and those who uphold the law are either held up to ridicule or placed in an odious light.

What is this in the minds of the young but a subtle justification of crime?

The natural effect of such a picture upon untrained minds is to surround vice and crime with a halo of heroic glamor.

The undoubted result can be no more or no less than that many are led by these suggestions and false conceptions to a life of instinctive defiance of the law, or into the commission of actual crime.

The recent murder of WILLIAM DESMOND TAYLOR, with its sordid horror and morbid revelations, would doubtless serve as an excellent "super-release" for certain producers. A leprous scenario writer probably would go so far as to connect some theatrical justification for the slaying, and strive to weave a halo of romance about its perpetrator, even probably to the extent of marrying him to the heroine.

That's the psychology of movie madness, so let us guard against it in Western Ontario!

Canada Must Dig.

COMBINES can build all the fences they wish around their premises. They can tie up all the agencies, and buy out all their competitors.

All goes well and it looks as though they might clean up on the market and make a fortune out of the consumer who has to buy from them or do without.

—But, There is one concern they overlooked. Not very wealthy, but quite safe. It has paid a great deal of attention to its research department, and holds a secret chemical formula that could be scribbled on the back of a postcard.

And on account of that formula the firm cannot be ousted. When the pressure gets hard all it has to do is reach in the pigeon-holes for something newer and better. That company, in spite of competition, can keep on raising the quality of its products a few points in advance of its rivals.

So in steel-making! So in the manufacture of electrical apparatus! So in textiles! So in chemistry! So in agriculture! So in every important branch of human industry!

So, unless we master all that is to be known regarding the nature and possibilities of our vast supplies of varied raw materials, Canadians must ultimately find themselves at the mercy of foreigners who know how to prepare our riches for purposes of commerce.

What does it all mean? In Canada we must know how to deal with our vast stores of raw material. At present in taking out some we are destroying others, or our methods are so unsuited to the case that we have given up in disgust. We are waiting to see what some other country does in the way of perfecting a new system, and then we wonder how it is that outsiders obtain such a hold on some of our resources.

Research and study is the one safe way for Canada. Otherwise we are going to be running neck and neck for the position at the rear of the race.

Our idea of a sensible girl is one who is in possession of a good supply set of galoshes when the Russian boot fed hits the town, but keeps right on slopping in the galoshes instead of changing over and slopping in the Russ boots. A young man in quest of a thrifty wife should pursue such a maiden.

Our idea of a thrifty man is he who still has the tinge and dust of ashes in his whiskers at this late date. It indicates nothing to start the season strong, but it indicates much to find a man who when winter is ready to fop over in the lap of spring, is still agitating the ash-sifter and rescuing the clinkers.

TO THE EDITOR

HELP RUSSIA.

Editor Advertiser:
Sir,—Would you be so kind as to publish the following letter entire or in part in your columns?

Citizens of London.—The local branch of the Canadian Friends of Soviet Russia, whose headquarters are in the City of Toronto, herein appeal to you and your organization, whether it be church, lodge, club, or union, for material and financial aid on behalf of the suffering and dying millions in the famine-stricken area of the Russian Volga district, which covers 5,000 miles, with a population of 25,000,000 human souls more than three times the population of Canada. Their acute distress is due to a failure of nature to provide the necessary rain, together with the excessive heat of last summer, which baked the fields until even the blades of grass withered and died. But their misfortune is due not solely to drought, effects of seven long years of war and blockade, coupled with the worst of all wars—civil war.

Sir Philip Gibbs, speaking in Massey Hall, Toronto, recently, gave a harrowing picture of the horrors of the Russian famine, as he himself has witnessed. He declared that the villagers awaited death with patience, nay with eagerness, to relieve them of the terrible pangs of a slow starvation. To them death is the Belated One, whose succor is tardy, hoped for and implored. According to other eyewitnesses who have investigated these pitiable conditions, mothers (maddened by the spectacle of their children's frightful sufferings and incessant wailing for bread) in a wild impulse slay them, to still the unendurable sound of their cries and moans. Reports are daily reaching the national offices of the relief committee, saying that the living in their desperation are now eating the dead!

Moreover, Sir Philip Gibbs stated to the officers of the Canadian Friends of Soviet Russia while in Russia, are making every effort possible to hasten the delivery of foodstuffs to the famine area and that they are withholding nothing from the sufferers. The testimony of men like Gibbs (and there are many who corroborate his assertions) cannot be gainsaid. As organizations are making every effort to help, we are therefore confronted with a solemn duty—that of doing the utmost that lies within our power to help alleviate the calamity which has befallen the Russian people.

Ours is not a political, but a humanitarian organization, whose sole object is to procure aid for the famine sufferers, and we invite all organizations to send delegates to share in this great undertaking. The Russian revolution is too immediate to enable anyone to gauge its ultimate causes and effects. Our historians, when it has become more remote, it would be folly on the one hand and narrowness on the other to refuse help to a suffering and unhappy people, who are dying on the wayside from lack of sustenance, like lemmings in autumnal days!

Dr. Nansen, appealing to the British people for relief, declared it is too late to save the people in Russia. Whatever is done they will die by millions. Livestock is dying everywhere, and if nothing is done there will presently be none remaining. Twenty Canadian dollars will keep a horse alive, but a Russian life can be saved for 15 shillings. That sum would keep a man alive until the new harvest.

President Harding declared that the urgent need of the Russian people should be sufficient motive for voting money for their aid, and $20,000,000 was so voted.

We are now appealing to the Ministerial Alliance, to all religious bodies, to all fraternal organizations, all clubs and unions, as well as to individuals, confident in that one trait in humanity—Brotherhood.

Send all donations in shape of checks or money orders to Canadian Friends of Soviet Russia, Fred W. Daly, treasurer, P. O. Box 384. Donations of clothing can be arranged for by letter, either to our secretary or treasurer.

Progress will be reported in the local press from time to time.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

(By Digby Phillips.)

NO. 125—LOW, STRONG VOICES.
In a way, it is true that the human ear is a more perfect, and completely standardized, so that everybody might hear sounds exactly alike, and be able to discern slight differences which otherwise could not be noted and assessed for comparison, according to a single standard, by scientific instruments.

If human ears were built this way it would be possible to read characters almost completely and inevitably by the sound of the voice alone. As it is, it is surprising how far the trained ear can go in this direction.

Take, for instance, the loud voice, the general indications of which were discussed in a former article. It is much like and yet quite different from what is called the "strong" voice. The one has a harsh, strident quality. The other has not. And yet the other may carry just as far, and be heard just as distinctly. Again, you can take the strong voice and subdivide it. There is, for instance, the low, strong voice, and the full, round, strong voice. This doesn't mean the difference between a bass and a baritone. Either may possess either a low or a full-toned voice. The low, strong voice indicates in many respects the same things as the loud, harsh voice. That is to say, it reveals a person of energy, both mentally and physically, primarily a "doer," usually strong, muscular, and athletic in short, a typical "field leader." But it also indicates a keener sense of differentiation than is possessed by the average "rough-and-ready" person, and a greater measure of self-discipline and control.

COMMON SENSE VOTES TO KEEP WELL

Calories--To Tell How Many You Need

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

THE modern housewife has little time to make a thorough study of calories in connection with food requirements, yet she must know how much food is required by members of her household. Ordinarily she can trust pretty much to appetite to govern her food.

lite-unperturbed appetites are very useful guides to rational eating.

The adult who always maintains a uniform normal weight has usually adjusted his food supply to his needs. If a child makes headstrong, steady gains in weight throughout the period of growth, we can usually depend upon it that the child is eating right.

But all adults do not maintain a uniform normal weight, nor do all children make headstrong, steady gains in weight. Some adults are too thin; some too fat. Some children have too large appetites, some are too pampered.

For such cases it is necessary to have accurate measurements by scientific methods of the real fuel needs of the body to check on appetite or as a guide when appetite fails.

It is now understood that a man lying quietly in bed throughout the 24 hours of the day burns at least 12 calories for every pound of body weight, which means for the average man a daily total of from 1,600 to 1,800 calories.

If conditions permit, it is better to see that this energy is taken from food, rather than that the body be permitted to burn itself up. A general starving policy for the sick is as obsolete as blood-letting.

The energy expenditures of men, women and children have been closely studied through the use of a device called the respiration calorimeter, a chamber in which a person may remain for some time.

It measures accurately the actual energy expenditure. Hundreds of observations show that men under the same conditions of weight, age and occupation use practically the same amount of energy.

A definite amount of work calls for a definite amount of energy in the form of food.

The only reason why we are not forced to stop working when food is withheld is that we are able to carry stores of fat and a little carbohydrates as reserve fuel, and also to draw on our body protein if necessary.

Thus men have fasted 30 and 40 days, but the body becomes more and more impoverished and when the reserve supply is exhausted there must come fuel in the form of food or all work stops and death comes.

Household and farm utensils of Eddy's Indurated Fibreware are much stronger than metal or wooden pails and tubs and very much lighter in weight. Their glazed surfaces, hard as flint, defy the roughest usage.

A blow or fall won't dent Eddy's Indurated Fibreware. Made in one piece without seams or hoops. Eddy Fibreware pails and tubs, can't leak, rust, fall apart or become odorous. They are easily kept clean and made in just the right sizes for every purpose.

And with all these advantages Eddy's Indurated Fibreware household and farm utensils cost no more and serve you about twice as long as their clumsy rivals made from metal and wood.

When you go to your dealer's, ask to see Eddy's Indurated Fibreware. Price it and compare it. Your own judgment will confirm all that we have said about it.

M'COIG THINKS PROGRESSIVES WILL DISBAND

Liberal Senator At Dutton
Predicts Era of Canadian Prosperity.

URGES SENATE REFORM

Special to London Advertiser.
DUTTON, Feb. 14.—So confident is he that Premier Mackenzie King and his cabinet will guide the country as a whole into ways of prosperity and contentment, Senator A. McCoig predicts that the third party in Canadian politics will automatically cease to exist before the next election is held. Senator McCoig made a statement to this effect at the annual convention of West Elgin Liberals at Dutton Tuesday.

The Progressive party, said Senator McCoig, is but a child of political dissatisfaction and unrest which sprung up during the years of mismanagement on the part of the late government.

He did not blame the farmers and labor for building up a third party. They were probably right to a certain extent. It was but a logical

Still Vendor Fined $400 When Caught On Way To Deliver Wares.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 14.—Four hundred dollars or six months in jail was the sentence handed out this morning by Magistrate Colonel Massie to John Dicoskie, Kitchener, on a charge of being in possession of a liquor still illegally. Dicoskie hired a taxicab in Kitchener and drove to Brantford to deliver the still to a local man, who, he said, had already paid him a $5 deposit. Revenue Inspector I. Newsome, however, was tipped off, and arrested him before the still could be delivered.

David Smith, arrested on the same charge, was dismissed, it being contended that he was only acting in the capacity of taxi driver.

way of expressing their dissatisfaction with the extravagant and inefficient way they were being governed. An investigation into the ways of the Meighen administration revealed the reasons for the discontent.

Recalls Prosperity.

From the years 1896 to 1911, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was at Canada's helm, there was unbroken prosperity throughout the country. Everywhere the people were contented and at peace. There were no thoughts of a third party during those years, the speaker said.

The same splendid conditions would exist in the very near future, Senator McCoig continued. The greatness and wisdom of Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been handed to his beloved successor, and to statesmen who had served under him and who now formed the cabinet of the new government.

Claims Country Robbed.

Senator McCoig pointed to many ways in which the Meighen government had robbed the treasury of the people. Among them were supposedly loans to Roumania and Greece, millions of which he claimed, found its way into the pockets of big corporations who supported the government, in payment for barbed wire and tinned goods.

"We want a government that will protect the poor against the corporation, one that will investigate what the farmer receives so little money for his products compared to the amounts paid by the consumer."

The ships of the merchant marine, he declared, should be equipped with a cold storage plant, and abattoirs must be built at various ports to make possible the sale of Canadian chilled meats on the Liverpool market.

The raising of the proper kind of hogs for the British market must be encouraged.

Make Railways Pay.

Steps taken, too, he said, to stop the National Railways on a paying basis.

He also advocated legislation for the standardization of farm implement parts, and reforms in the income tax system.

Senator McCoig strongly advocated senate reform, not because he believed that an upper body was unnecessary, but that every member of the government should be made to give service in return for the indemnity received.

William Tolmie, Liberal candidate in West Elgin for the recent elections, believed the Liberals of West Elgin were prepared to enter another fight. He paid tribute to Hugh McKillop, M.P., for the clean way in which the last battle was fought.

Believes U. F. O. Dead.

Mr. Tolmie believed the U. F. O. movement was dead. He believed that at the next provincial election a different story would be told than at the last.

He urged that the Liberals of West Elgin should put a candidate in the next provincial fight, which would be soon, he said.

It was the opinion of the newly-elected president, Duncan Leitch, that a provincial election would be held during the next summer, and the opinion seemed to be shared by the meeting generally.

Others who spoke were: Mungo McNabb, the grand old man of the Liberal party in West Elgin; J. B. Ferguson of West Lorne, and James A. McLean of Dunwich. Mr. McLean urged better organization for the next election. He felt that a paid organizer should be secured.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Duncan Leitch, West Lorne; vice-president, Archibald McCallum, Dutton; second vice-president, J. A. McLean, Dunwich, while William Patton of Dutton was re-elected secretary by acclamation.

Elect Chairmen.

The chairmen for the different districts are: St. Thomas East, James Cain; St. Thomas West, W. H. Stapleton; Southwold North, Colin Campbell; Southwold South, Alex. Campbell; Dunwich North, John A. McPherson; Dunwich South, Dougald Blue; Alborough East, William McKillop; Alborough West, Archibald Gillies; Rodney, H. W. Thomson; West Lorne, John Butler; Dutton, Duncan McCallum. Chairladies for each of the different divisions were selected by the respective chairmen.

The following delegates were selected to attend the Liberal convention at Toronto, March 1: A. W. Baines, and J. B. Davidson, St. Thomas; J. A. McLean, Rodney; and J. B. Ferguson, West Lorne. Alternates are: C. A. Walker and M. D. McCrimmon, St. Thomas; H. W. Thomson, Rodney, and Mr. McNabb, Southwold. The women of the riding will be represented by Mrs. Robert Spence of Alborough; Mrs. Wansless, West Lorne; Mrs. Nell McLachlin and Mrs. Robert Johnston, St. Thomas.

The meeting was well attended, more than 100 delegates, with a few women, being present.

WANT MUNICIPALITIES TO KEEP POLICE FINES

HAMILTON, Feb. 14.—Wentworth County Council today decided to join Hamilton in petitioning for a change in the municipal act through which fines and fees collected in police courts shall go to the municipalities instead of to the provincial government.

Is the Retailer To Blame?

During the war prices of practically all commodities advanced considerably. The reason was obvious to the buying public and there was little complaint.

Now, after more than three years of peace, prices in many lines are still high and the public asks "Who is to blame?"

The manufacturer says that it's the retailer who is at fault because of continued high prices, he has not maintained the normal volume of sales, and consequently has not been placing enough orders with Canadian manufacturers.

The truth is the retail merchants are, as formerly, only too glad to sell to keep their stocks moving, thus paying the way for further orders of Canadian-made goods. But the attitude of the manufacturer has changed. Many of them are endeavoring to secure orders (at prices obviously high) before commencing the production of the goods. Their plants are either idle or on short time, pending the receipt of such order. Briefly, they want the retailer to assume all the risk, while they take a "safety first" attitude.

Mr. James Gray, of Gray's, Limited, is prepared, along with other retailers, to do his best to help Canadian industries to tide over the present period of readjustment. But he recognizes that the public has a right to substantial price reductions.

Hence his endeavor to fix prices which will insure the public fullest value for their money and at the same time stimulate sales, as the one practical means of restoring that prosperity for all which is the normal condition of Canada.

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicines I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

CELEBRATE EIGHTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

A happy time was spent at the home of Mrs. Emily Horsman and Miss Emma Horsman, St. Marys, Saturday, Feb. 11, when Mrs. Horsman celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday. Many friends called during the day to offer their congratulations, and a dinner party was held, at which her nieces and nephews living in St. Marys were present. Greetings were received from the absent members of the family, messages coming from Toronto, Windsor, Man., and Benton Harbor, Mich.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

SENDS A GOOD RECIPE.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come to your corner for the first time, so please don't chase me out, for I am coming for help. I often read the letters in your page and find them very interesting. It is nice to see the different ideas. I am sure we were all very sorry for Tip. But she is doing fine now, so we hope to soon hear from her again. Now for some help. What presents would be suitable for a 36th wedding anniversary, and also for a 10th anniversary? Guess I had better run along or I will hear Miss Grey saying, "Here's the door." Before I go here is a recipe for a cake which is very good and will keep moist a long time: 1 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 2 eggs, 1 cup sour cream, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon soda, just a little nutmeg, 1/2 cup raisins, 2 1/2 cups flour.

P. S.—Please find mine for S. C. H. PETUNIA.

The tenth anniversary is tin, so any present in the line of tinware would be suitable. The nearest anniversary I know of to the 36th is the 35th, which is sapphire. I would give a substantial wedding present, such as you would give to a bride and groom. Thank you for sending us one of your pet recipes, also for remembering our fund. We will be pleased to hear from you again, Petunia.

WANTS BACHELOR BUTTONS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw by the Mail-Box a couple of weeks ago where a Wife wished my address to send me a romper pattern and some envelopes, about fifty please. The reason I neglected to write, the baby and I have both been sick, and I also was trying to take advantage of a nice day now and again for house-cleaning. Please if you have some bachelor button seeds in Mail-Box would you send me a package? What other seeds are in Mail-Box now?

MANITOBA MAPLE.

I have sent your address to Wife as requested. There are no bachelor buttons in the Mail-Box, but here is a partial list of the seeds at present: Poppy, cosmos, morning glory, hollyhock, nasturtium and aster.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

HOLD VALENTINE SOCIAL.

The regular weekly meeting of the Young People's Society of Knox Church took the form of a Valentine party, with Stuart Kennedy presiding. The meeting was opened with a piano duet by Misses McKone and McDuff, followed by a talk by Mr. Morris Westland on the origin of St. Valentine's Day. Miss Rowson delighted the guests with two solos. Miss Isabel McLeish, as program convener, introduced a number of interesting games which were entered into with real vim and enthusiasm. A poetry contest showed exceptional talent, the prize being won by group No. 8, under Allan Kay's leadership. Guessing contests and relay races formed the major part of the program, after which supper was served, with Miss McKone as convener. Community singing was an interesting feature of the evening, "John Brown's Body" and "Old MacDonald's Farm" were the prize-winners. Rev. Mr. Symington, who was present, expressed himself as being delighted with the evening, and was strongly in favor of more such meetings to encourage the social talent of the young people.

A request from Miss Wellwood for dolls dressed in Canadian fashion was presented, and the circle voted to accede to same. The department of Christian stewardship was represented by a recitation from Miss McAuley, and the "Watch Tower" by Miss L. McMechan. Mrs. Clifton Hunter gave a clever paper on the study book chapter, her subject being "India." The speaker of the evening was Mrs. J. M. Harrison, who gave an illuminating and instructive talk on "Vision and Service." At the close of the meeting the hostess served dainty refreshments to the large number present, and a social time was enjoyed.

A meeting of the Organists' Club, presided over by Mr. Clarence E. Gilmour, was held Monday evening at the residence of Mr. W. A. Bluthner.

Mr. Chas. E. Wheeler gave a short account of the first organ recital given for the pupils of the public schools in St. Andrew's Church. NEW ST. JAMES' W. M. A. MEETS.

The February meeting of New St. James' W. M. Auxiliary was held in the church schoolroom Monday at 3:30.

An invitation had been extended to the executive of the Presbyterian societies in the city, many of whom were present.

Mrs. R. J. Webster, the president, occupied the chair, and the Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. W. A. Tanner. Mrs. McCrae, Presbyterian president, gave a most stirring talk on missionary fields under their supervision. She spoke of the far-reaching effect of the work of more than 80,000 women, whose one desire is to bring all mankind to the foot of the cross.

Cross. Mrs. Schofield sang sweetly

"I Passed By Your Window." Miss Ruth Tanner gave a character sketch from Marion Keith's latest book "Little Miss Melody."

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. Mrs. McKone and Mrs. McNair poured tea from a daintily-arranged table, brightly centred with a basket of daffodils.

ASKIN STREET W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of Askin Street Church held their monthly meeting Monday afternoon, with Mrs. James Brown presiding. After the regular business Mrs. Vale gave the Bible reading, and Mrs. Wallace the missionary study book lesson. A stirring address on the work among the foreigners in the border cities was given by Mrs. Gordon Whitson, and solos by Miss Finn were greatly enjoyed. It was decided that a mother and daughter banquet would be given in the near future.

MOTHERS' UNIT MEETS.

The Mothers Unit of the Sacred Heart School met Monday evening in the Catholic clubrooms, with Mrs. J. P. Nolan presiding. It was decided that a card party would be given by the unit Feb. 21 in the club. Mrs. M. J. O'Meara was appointed convener.

TEACHERS ENTERTAIN MOTHERS.

The teachers of the Worley Road School entertained the Mothers' Club of that school at a delightful Valentine social Tuesday evening. Solos by Mr. McCullough were greatly enjoyed, also the presentation of several reels of moving pictures by the principal, Mr. W. B. Wyatt. The mothers also had the pleasure of enjoying the victrola recently presented to the school by the club. Mr. T. A. Willis gave a humorous speech, which was followed by Valentine games and contests. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses at tables gay with Valentine decorations and favors.

ALERTS ENTERTAIN CHILDREN.

The Alerts of Askin Street Methodist Sunday school entertained the children at the Children's Shelter on Monday evening. The table was made very attractive with Valentine decorations, and a dainty supper was served. The evening was spent in games, which were greatly enjoyed by all.

HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. D. E., was held Tuesday afternoon. Splendid reports of the year's work were given, and the officers were re-elected by acclamation. Plans for the coming year were discussed, but nothing definite was decided.

OPENS WEEK OF PRAYER.

The week of prayer of the W. C. T. U. was opened by the meeting held Tuesday evening. Following the business session, minute messages of the Word of God were given by Miss Lorry, Mrs. J. Rankin, Mrs. R. W. Berry, Mrs. G. W. and Mrs. V. K. Greer. "Why we need new members: First for the sake of the work, and secondly for the sake of the women," was the subject of the interesting address given by Mrs. C. A. Cannell. A delightful solo was given by Mrs. Hayward, and Mrs. John Jones led the discussion, "How shall we secure new members?"

INASMUCH GROUP MEETS.

The "Inasmuch" group of C. G. I. T., Glendale Church, held their monthly missionary meeting on Friday evening, Feb. 10, at the home of Mrs. Hodson. Mrs. Munroe gave an interesting talk on "Girl Life in Japan." After the meeting the girls spent a social half hour.

HELD ANNUAL TEA.

The annual tea and concert of the First Congregational Church, held Monday evening, was a decided success. The children of the Shelter were the guests, as in former years.

Rev. M. Kelly presided, assisted by Mr. A. Anderson. A splendid program of solos, recitations, dramas and dialogues was given by the scholars, which reflected great credit on the teachers. The numbers by the school quartet and orchestra were greatly enjoyed. A dainty supper was served during the evening.

Organdy Proving Popular

BY MARIAN HALE.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—With the time for summer frocks and hats close at hand, organdy is coming very much into its own. It is found, combined with satins and taffetas, in some of the most delectable things—hats, frocks, blouses and exquisitely dainty underthings.

Organdy for under garments is usually white, smartly edged with a vivid color. But for frocks and hats! There is no end to the tints, the tones, the shades!

Delicately beautiful peach bloom—cross between pink and yellow—seems, at this early period, to be one of the really best tints for summer things. Peach bloom organdy is used for the fashioning of this Peggy Hoyt hat. The tiger lilies which ornament it tone from delicate peach to vivid flame.

The talented young pianist, Master Hugo Bitteloet, and Miss Dorothy Tagg delighted the guests with Highland dances. The splendid arrangements were under the convenship of Mrs. B. J. Dunlevy, assisted by Mrs. R. Waugh, Mrs. R. Mercer, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. George Stark and Mrs. Tagg.

Mrs. J. D. Detwiler received for the first time since coming to London, at her lovely home in Queen's avenue, Tuesday afternoon. The rooms were brightened with a wealth of spring flowers. Columbia roses, and rose tulips held in small vases, decked the living-room, and in the tea-room yellow daffodils and pussy-willows were used. Mrs. Detwiler wore a gown of apricot satin, with silver trimmings, and slippers to match, and a corsage of Opheleia roses, and was assisted in receiving the numerous guests by her mother, Mrs. Campbell, of Boston, who was gowned in prune-colored georgette and satin.

Mrs. D. C. MacGregor also received with the hostess. Mrs. E. S. Detwiler, wearing a gown of black panne velvet and smart silver hat, ushered the guests to the tea-room, where tea was poured by Mrs. J. A. Irving, of Toronto, a house guest with Mrs. Detwiler. Mrs. Irving looked smart in a beige georgette frock and a small henna hat. The tea table was attractive with yellow daffodils arranged in a basket and tall golden candles held in crystal sticks. Miss Lois Black and Miss Margaret McIntosh were tea-room assistants. In the evening Mrs. Detwiler entertained the assistants to a supper party.

The Loch Lomond Chapter, I. O. D. E.

held a very successful military euchre in Ulster Hall, Tuesday afternoon. Twenty-four tables were in play, and the guests were received by the regent, Mrs. R. Tagg, assisted by Mrs. B. J. Dunlevy and Mrs. R. Waugh. The rooms were brightened with Valentine decorations, with the Scotch thistle in evidence. Spring blooms decked the tea table, where Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, Mrs. Hale and Mrs. E. B. Smith presided. Several charming piano solos were given by

STAGE SET FOR FREIGHT RATES QUIZ AT OTTAWA
Small Army of Experts Gather For Rail Commission Hearing Wednesday.

FACE THREE DEMANDS
Prairie Provinces Ask Equalization of Cost As Between East and West.

Special to London Advertiser.
OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—The stage is set for the hearing by the railway commission Wednesday of important applications with regard to freight rates. Numerous railway experts and lawyers have already arrived, and a further army is expected late tonight.

The applications are three in number, as follows:
1. The demand of the Prairie Provinces for an equalization of freight rates as between east and west, with lower rates on basic commodities.
2. The demand of British Columbia for the elimination of the "mountain scale" of rates, and for the application of the prairie scale, in order that British Columbia manufacturers and jobbers may be enabled to do business with the prairies.
3. The demand of the Maritime Provinces for the restoration of certain differential or "arbitrary" rates in existence several years ago.

Ships Scout Seas For British Sailor Cast Adrift In Storm

Special to London Advertiser.
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A score of ships, all kinds, from battered tramp steamers of the seven seas, to graceful, pleasure-freighted passenger liners, were leaving their ocean routes today on a mission of mercy.
They were continuing the search for John Birknor, aged 24, the British sailor who was cast adrift from the steamship Gaffney last Wednesday, 700 miles out in an unfrequented part of the Atlantic.
If Birknor's frail craft is still afloat today's dawn marks the beginning of his seventh day adrift.
The master of the Gaffney, Captain Walter Beckwith, advised every craft carrying wireless to seek the drifting sailor.
Captain Beckwith said Birknor was warmly clothed. His boat was well stocked with food.
Birknor was one of four sailors ordered to lash a lifeboat in a terrific storm, when a giant wave heeled the Gaffney over. The lifeboat was swept into the sea, and Birknor with it. He clambered into the boat, but the Gaffney was already too far away to throw a line.
For sixteen hours Captain Beckwith cruised about trying to get close enough to put a line aboard. Finally, as swirling snowstorms hid the small boat from view, Captain Beckwith was compelled to put into port.

Warn Government Aid Must Be Given Western Farmers

Special to London Advertiser.
WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 14.—To prevent the wholesale exodus of farmers from Western Canada to the United States and New Zealand, the three Western provinces of Canada will take concerted action through their governments against outside interference unless the federal government takes steps to re-establish the Canadian wheat board in time for the handling of next year's crop.
This assurance must be given to agriculturists by the Canadian government, declared President J. A. Maharg, in his annual address to 2,000 farmers attending the annual incomes for an elimination of discrimination is a long-standing one.

To some extent this discrimination was removed in 1914. On application, however, consideration of the matter was renewed, and the board has held meetings on the subject recently throughout the west.

H. Symington, K.C., represents the Prairie Provinces.
Isaac Pitlido, K.C., will be here for the Winnipeg Board of Trade, which is inclined to be satisfied with existing rate relations rather than sacrifice mixed crop privileges.
It is not anticipated that any particular opposition will be offered by any other part of Canada to the Maritime Provinces' demands, which will be presented by Hon. R. E. Finn.

The Winnipeg Board of Trade is said to be opposed to the demand of British Columbia, though the Prairie Province governments are not inclined to offer opposition.
The Canadian Manufacturers' Association in British Columbia is behind the British Columbia application, but in Winnipeg they take the same view of the board of trade and oppose the application.

Increases in freight rates have been made in the past four years. In 1917 an increase of 15 per cent was ordered to go into effect Feb. 1, 1918.

Didn't Take Effect.
As a result, however, of an appeal made by the western provinces, the increase did not go into effect until March 15. In August, 1918, a further increase of 25 per cent was granted, which increase in the west, however, absorbed the original 15.
In September, 1920, came the 35 per cent increase for the west, and the 40 per cent increase for the east.
A reduction of 5 per cent all over Canada was ordered, Jan. 1, 1921.
In December, 1921, a further increase of 10 per cent was ordered. Increases have thus been reduced to 20 per cent in the west, and 25 per cent in the east.

The railways take the attitude that while they are opposed to a horizontal decrease in rates, they are willing to consider a decrease in commodity rates where it can be shown that any industry is suffering.

DEMANDS RETURN OF SEIZED LIQUOR

Attorney Acts On Behalf of Youths Who Risked Lives.

SARNIA, Feb. 14.—Attorney W. S. Haney gave notice tonight that he is demanding the return of the liquor seized by Constable Walton from three Courtwright youths, who risked their lives to secure it from a boat that was floating down the St. Clair in the ice floes.

Tonight the American state police officials sent word to Sarnia that while the local youths were capturing the derelict boatload of liquor state police seized 50 cases of liquor at St. Clair, Michigan, across the river from Courtwright. This liquor, the American police stated over long-distance telephone, was from a Canadian brewery, and was being shipped to various addresses throughout the state of Michigan.

Believing that Canadian breweries are shipping large quantities of liquor to this border, the police are now conducting a probe of alleged liquor consignments that are reported to have reached Sarnia en route to United States.

INSISTS HAMILTON CIVIC TELEPHONE BILL BE OUT

HAMILTON, Feb. 14.—Mayor Conley told the board of control this morning that the bill for civic telephones was $9,000 a year, and that this would have to be cut in two.
George Hogarth advised the board that the price of road materials was falling, and advised the city, in making contracts, to insert a clause that it would get the benefit of any reduction in price.

AHRENS PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO SLAYING WIFE

Kitchener Man, Accused of Murder, Displays Nervousness in Court.

19 JURORS CHALLENGED

KITCHENER, Feb. 14.—Carl Ahrens was arraigned before Justice Latchford this morning charged with the murder of his wife, immediately after the presentation of a true bill by the grand jury.

Gordon Waldron, K.C., crown prosecutor, is assisted by Crown Attorney Bowley. Ahrens is defended by R. L. Brackin, K.C., and H. J. Sims, K.C.

A hush fell over the crowded courtroom as the prisoner, displaying some slight nervousness and showing in his features the effect of two months' incarceration in jail, was led to the dock. He pleaded "not guilty" in a firm voice, and in answer to the clerk's question: "Are you ready for your trial?" responded briskly, "Yes, sir."

A hitch occurred immediately after the arraignment. Mr. Brackin discovered that the indictment charged that the alleged murder was committed in the city of Kitchener, instead of the township of Waterloo. His lordship directed that the indictment should be properly drawn, and that the grand jury should again retire. This was done and a second true bill was returned, when accused was arraigned again.

The selection of the jury was then proceeded with.

Nineteen Jurors Challenged.

Nineteen jurors were challenged by the defence.
Deceased was found in 30 inches of water under the ice in the Grand River after punting with her husband.

In outlining the evidence to be submitted to the jury, Mr. Waldron detailed the events of the fateful night of Nov. 16, when prisoner took his wife to visit his summer camp at Chilochee, and took her in a punt on the Grand River, wherein she was drowned.

"The crown is dependent upon the prisoner's own statement as to what took place from the moment of taking possession of the punt until some time afterwards," he said. The crown would show from the evidence of the prisoner and from other evidence that for two years the prisoner had lived in the log house at the camp, that he knew the depth of the river, and that there were no mysterious places in its bed with which he was not familiar.

The crown counsel then charged that Ahrens held deceased in the water and committed murder.

After hearing evidence from two witnesses at a night session, Mr. Justice Latchford adjourned court at 10 o'clock until 9:15 Wednesday morning.

Sought Insurance.
The witnesses heard tonight were Charles Hagen, insurance agent, with whom Ahrens negotiated in connection with the issuance of $5,000 life insurance on his wife, and William Culligan, who assisted in an attempt to rescue the drowned woman.

Culligan told the story of the tragedy, stating that Ahrens came to his house and told him he was crossing the river with his wife, and she fell out of the boat. He asked for warm clothing. Culligan stated he was the second man that Ahrens had seen. Witness also related finding the body of Mrs. Ahrens in a crouched position under the ice.

The court adjourned before Crown Prosecutor Waldron concluded with the witness.
Janet McGee was one of the late afternoon witnesses. She told of seeing Ahrens and his wife walking along the road to Weber's farm, where the couple obtained the boat which they used in crossing the stream.

Superintendent Mitchell of the Canada Life Insurance Company at London was also an afternoon witness. He informed the court the policies sought by Ahrens on his wife were never issued, as his company does not handle that kind of insurance.

AID EX-SOLDIERS STILL OVERSEAS
OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—(By Canadian Press).—A check for the relief of unemployed Canadian ex-soldiers still in the British Isles has been forwarded through the Canadian high commissioner's office in London, it was stated at the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment this morning, and this will provide against want among the former members of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, some of whom were stated in recent cable dispatches to be almost destitute.

There are still some 20,000 former Canadian soldiers in Great Britain.

SUSPEND ACTION AGAINST GHANDI
LONDON, Feb. 14.—The British government's proceedings against M. K. Gandhi, leader of the non-cooperationists in India, have been suspended in view of his announced cessation of a campaign of civil disobedience.

Announcement to this effect was made in the House of Commons this afternoon by Edwin S. Montague, secretary for India.

MOTHER TRIES TO TAKE OWN LIFE
PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 14.—With her throat cut and the arteries of her left wrist and left ankle severed, Mrs. Martin Mickleson, mother of seven children, is in hospital today with slight chances of recovery.
The woman is said to have been suffering from despondency.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs
Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with cough and you want quick help try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes 16 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

COAL MINERS ASK WAGE INCREASES

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 14.—Continuation of present wages for soft coal miners, and an increase of 20 per cent for the anthracite workers, backed up with a threat of a general strike in all fields on April 1, was the wage policy recommended today to the special convention of the United Mine Workers of America by its senate committee, composed of the 27 district presidents.

U. S. WOULD BUY CANADIAN LAND
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Purchase by the United States of all Canadian territory south and east of the St. Lawrence River and the centre of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, with right to develop and utilize half of the water power from the river, is proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Ten Eyck, Democrat, New York. The measure suggests that payments due to the United States on the British debt be credited on the purchase price.

"The St. Lawrence River is a natural boundary line," the resolution stated, "and the interests of the government of Canada and the United States are mutual in its utilization."

Selling Eggs and Buying Bonds

If you were a farmer with eggs to sell and found on a certain day that there were more eggs offered than people would buy, you would accept almost any price for your eggs in order to get rid of them.

If on another day you were the only person offering eggs, people would pay you almost any price in their desire to secure them.

In one instance your eggs were just as good as in the other—yet the price would vary greatly because of the law of supply and demand.

All commodities, including money, are subject to the same law. Men purchase money by borrowing it. The price they pay is called "interest." When money is plentiful the price is low—interest rates decline. When it is scarce, interest rates are high.

A corporation often borrows money by issuing bonds. When you buy a bond, therefore, you in effect sell the use of your money to the company which issues the bonds.

Because of the war there has not for some years been enough money to supply all the demands for it. The price for it has, therefore, been high, and bonds which formerly would not pay more than 5 per cent now pay 7 per cent or even 8 per cent. Yet, as in the case of the farmer's eggs, they are just as good as they were before. It is entirely a matter of the supply of money.

You can profit by this condition by selling the use of your money—buying bonds—now. When the supply of money catches up with the demand for it, you won't be able to get such a good price for the money you "sell."

When bond dealers tell you, therefore, that present opportunities won't last forever, and may never return again, believe them—for they are speaking the truth.
