"DOCTOR" IN TRAIN WRECK SOUGHT FOR THEFT

Total Population of London Is Now Placed At 63,339

ATTENDS DEAD SON THEN ROBS DOCTOR NURSE AND FATHER.

"Dr. Whitfield," Who Assisted Strathdee Family When Son Killed and Father Injured, Being Sought For Theft From London Doctor of Valuable Instruments—May Be Same "Doctor" Wanted by Peterboro Police.

DISAPPEARED SHORTLY AFTER ACCIDENT

"Dr. McDonald," who has trimmed Peterboro physicians and citizens quite handsomely, is believed to have operated in London early in August, a local physician states.

This doctor, who asks that his name be withheld for the time being, declares that he is positive the same man, under the name of Dr. Whitfield, stole surgical instruments from him valued at $175.

The mysterious and elusive Dr. Whitfield rendered first aid to Robert Strathdee when his motor car was struck by a C. N. R. engine near Dorchester on July 20, killing his son. He accompanied Mr. Strathdee to his home at Wyton, helped himself to some $150 in cash and a gold watch while a guest in the Strathdee home, and is also blamed for the disappearance of $25 from the purse of the nurse who attended Mr. Strathdee when he was brought to Victoria Hospital.

Run of Office.

The local physician was quite taken with the youthful doctor, and gave him the run of his office. He was asked to cash a $200 check for the stranger, but Civic Holiday intervened and saved the physician from losing any money.

"He was a mighty plausible young man," stated the doctor in conversation with The Advertiser. "I have an idea who he is, but, of course, I cannot prove anything yet. From what he told me, he was overseas with the C. A. M. C., but I don't think he was a doctor, although he had a wonderful knowledge of medicine."

"After reading the paper today, I am strongly of the opinion that Dr. McDonald and Dr. Whitfield are one and the same person. He was an awfully nice young chap, and I was more than surprised when I found that my instruments were gone. However, we may get him yet. I have turned the case over to High Constable Wharton, and I understand that he will get in touch with the Peterboro police."

Dr. Whitfield stated that he was a son of Dr. Whitfield, of the staff of the Toronto General Hospital. Inquiries at the hospital brought forth the information that there was no such doctor on the staff. The Ontario medical directory does not give the name of any Dr. Whitfield.

The mysterious young man is described by the London physician as being about 28 years of age, weight 120 pounds, 5'4" feet high, light brown hair, florid complexion, walks with a slight stoop, clean shaven, wears a dresser, and smokes cigarettes continuously.

GOVERNMENT WILL LEND EVERY AID

Murdock Assures Efforts Will Be Made To Carry Out Plan.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Every assistance which can be given by the Dominion government towards carrying out the unemployment conference's plan for the alleviation of unemployment in the coming winter will be rendered, the minister of labor, Hon. James Murdock, stated this morning. The conference adjourned at midnight and one of its recommendations was that emergency relief should be granted to the unemployed. The minister stated that he was found to be necessary. The expense of such relief should be borne, fifty per cent by the municipality and 25 per cent each by the federal and provincial governments, the resolution prescribes. Cabinet council is in recess and there will be no opportunity several days to get the approval of the whole cabinet of the principle of federal participation in unemployment relief.

HAMILTON ARCHITECT URGES HIGHER ETHICS

Stanley T. J. Freyer Gives an Important Address at Toronto Conference.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 5.—Toronto as a city contains some things architectural that are open to criticism, and many others that are deserving of praise, said Stanley T. J. Freyer of Hamilton, president of the Ontario Architectural Association, in an address of welcome to the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, which is in session here today. "While our architectural standards are provincial and of such benefit and interest as we can make them to the people and profession of this province," he continued, "we wish for your success in awakening the whole Canadian public from coast to coast to the value of good architecture, not only in its structural but in its artistic and decorative design."

May you also quicken the heart of the architectural profession to its larger responsibilities. At the luncheon this afternoon, Mr. Freyer stressed again the need for protection for the word architect and urged the highest code of ethics for the profession.

WARSHIPS AND PLANES IN ACTION

Fierce Fighting Is Reported in Three Sectors Along the Chinese Front.

SHANGHAI MENACED
Primitive Methods Being Used in Care of Wounded Soldiers.

Associated Press Despatch. Shanghai, Sept. 5.—Attacking Kianguo forces in the Lihuo sector about thirty miles northwest of Shanghai, continued their assault all night and late this afternoon appeared to be preparing for another night of continuous fighting.

Information was brought to this city by competent witnesses who visited the battle front during the afternoon. The firing was heard more intense as hour after hour passed, it was stated, both sides using artillery, mainly three-inch guns.

Associated Press Despatch. Shanghai, Sept. 5.—Fierce fighting in three sectors between the armies of rival Chinese military governors, contesting for possession of Shanghai continued unabated today, but added fury was given to the battles by the movement of aeroplanes into the war zone and the reported concentration of Chinese military forces along the Yangtze River. This city is hemmed in by opposing forces, and foreigners feel security in the presence of many foreign warships.

The major engagement appeared to center between Kia Tinghsien and Shanghai, about 30 miles northwest of Shanghai. The Chinese military government was still doubtful, both sides employing artillery, according to the Lung Wha military headquarters. The Chekiang military government.

Troops were proceeding from the Lungwha headquarters of General Lu Yungshang, Chekiang tuchun, to reinforce the government troops at Swangtu, 15 miles west of here, where fighting continues.

There is considerable jockeying for positions in this quarter, according to an observer who returned from Nanshang today. The Lungwha headquarters explained this with the expectation that the Chekiang troops were taking steps to check an expected enemy swing southward. The enemy movement would be along the grand canal, with the immediate objective as the Sunkang and Hangchow Railway. Any movement towards the southeast would make the battlefront extend into Chekiang province, the seat of Lu Yungshang's government.

Entrance of aeroplanes into the conflict was signalled today when three planes passed over the western Shanghai district last afternoon.

The planes were evidently cruising in the direction of the Tung Wha aviation ground. Naval craft from Peking were reported moving down the Yangtze and the Fukien fleet, supporting the invading forces from the north. The Chusan archipelago, southeast of Shanghai, several days ago, to intercept any aid from Chang Tso-Lin, Chinese warlord.

Chang, who is supporting the Chekiang governor, was expected to despatch aid to Hangchow by sea.

Foreign observers from the battlefront state that the most noticeable features of the campaign just opened are the primitive and utterly unsanitary arrangements provided to deal with the wounded and the rapacious looting of the campaign just opened, following the usual custom of putting the least trained and poorest troops into the front lines.

PRIZE-WINNERS AT "EX" WILL BE SHOWN IN REVIEW

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 5.—The grand review of the prize winning live stock at the Canadian National Exhibition will be held this afternoon on the completion of judging, and it is estimated, over 600 prize winners, valued in excess of $1,000,000, will take part in the parade. The display of horses this year is one of the finest ever seen at the exhibition, and indicates that the automobile has far from displaced the faithful steed.

The offering price of the bonds was 96 and interest. They will return a yield of 4.75 per cent.

SMALL'S SISTERS STILL HAVE HOPE

Ask Sisters at St. Joseph's Convent, Toronto, To Give Information.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 5.—The Misses Gertrude and Florence Small, who are unrelenting in the pursuit of every clue or possible lead to the disappearance of their brother, Ambrose Small, millionaire owner, in December 1919, have drawn the attention of the attorney-general of the province to information they obtained that shortly after Mr. Small disappeared a notice was posted in the chapel of St. Joseph's convent in this city requesting prayers "for the recovery of Ambrose J. Small, who is now dangerously ill."

The Misses Small suggest that such a request for prayers would have been made only by someone who had a knowledge of his whereabouts at the time. They have appealed to the convent authorities who decline to give them further information on the ground of confidentiality.

The sisters of the missing man also demand that the crown authorities make further inquiry regarding the identity of an unknown man at Hanover, Ont., at the time of the disappearance of Ambrose Small.

POPULATION INCREASES BY 1,472 IN PAST YEAR

Annual Report of Assessment Commissioner Is Prepared For Council.

LOW ESTIMATE
Assessed Values Increase Nearly 100 Per Cent in Ten Years.

London's population has increased by 1,472 in the past year, according to figures which will be supplied to the city council in the annual report of Assessment Commissioner Harry J. Bennett.

The population of the city is now 63,339, and the increase is greater, proportionately, than almost every large city in the Dominion. It has increased in population 6,981 in the past 10 years and 21,597 in the past 20 years.

Assessment, too, has gone up. Unrevised figures show that the total increase in assessment during the year amounts to over two million dollars, $2,057,960 to be exact. A great proportion of the increase has been in building assessment, though there have been no raises made on anything except major extensions.

Values Go Up.
Assessed values have gone up 250 per cent in the past 20 years and nearly 100 per cent since 1914. The following table indicates the increase in population and assessment:

	1904	1914	1924
Population	41,742	61,867	63,339
(Increase, 21,597)
Assessment	$20,141,161	$71,093,686	$73,151,646
(Increase, $50,952,525)

Population 1914 | 1924 || (Increase, 6,981) | | |
| Assessment | $38,971,220 | $71,093,686 |
| (Increase, $32,122,466) | | |

"We have made a conservative estimate on the population," Mr. Bennett told The Advertiser today. "As some of the work had to be done in the summer when many homes were closed, the names of the occupants and wife were sometimes the only ones that could be ascertained."

9,820 names.
"Part Two roll shows 9,820 names entered," went on Mr. Bennett. "That's an increase of 369. There are 1,557 male dogs, 1,555 female dogs. There's an increase in the first instance of 367 and of 63 in the case of female dogs. A decrease of 50 in the case of male dogs."

Associated Press Despatch. Brussels, Sept. 4.—France's army of occupation in the Ruhr at the present moment comprises 22,000 men, according to trustworthy authority. The army originally numbered 43,000.

One of the principal obstacles in the way of rapid evacuation of the Franco-Belgian occupied territory is the difficulty of moving quickly the families of non-commissioned officers and railway workers.

CONFIDENCE MEN WORK IN LONDON

Believed To Be Same Ones Wanted by Chatham Police.

ORDERS MEAT

Presents What Appears To Be $20 Bill To Be Changed.

Confidence men, believed by the police to be the same as those who swindled a Chatham druggist out of $20 Wednesday, have been at work in London.

Detectives were notified yesterday by A. Martin, butcher store on Dundas street, that an unknown man had ordered a small amount of meat sent to a local apartment house on Queen's avenue. When the delivery was made the man was standing in the hallway of the apartment to receive the meat, and offered what appeared to be a $20 bill. The delivery boy made change for the amount, not realizing the money was worthless. When he returned to the store the money was found, upon examination, to be a 20-peseta Mexican bill, practically valueless in this country.

Wednesday in Chatham a 20-peseta Mexican note was passed upon a drug store under practice of a letter to a telephone call to deliver a water bottle to a certain apartment house. The man, a Russian, was waiting at the entrance to receive the bottle and proffered the worthless money.

The Mexican bill, police say, bears a marked resemblance to a $20 Bank of Commerce note. At a casual inspection it would be difficult to distinguish the two.

Police made a thorough search of the Queen's avenue drug store house shortly after the delivery of meat had been made. They found no trace of the man, as he believed he has left the city. It is thought by his associates that he plans to work the trick in each city of the district.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, M. P., Sends Letter of Protest to Minister of Justice.

Canadian Press Despatch. Vancouver, Sept. 5.—Protesting against the horse racing situation in British Columbia, Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., has addressed a letter to Minister of Justice LaPointe in Ottawa asking for the minister's intervention.

Mr. Stevens asserts that the Miller Act, providing for only seven days' meetings each year of seven days each, by course, has been circumvented by the resurrectoring of obsolete racing charters to such extent that ten weeks continuous racing has been staged in the vicinity of Vancouver.

JOHN HALADIAN FREED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Port Colborne Woman Found To Have Died of Natural Causes.

Canadian Press Despatch. Port Colborne, Ont., Sept. 5.—Facing a charge that was tantamount to murder, in that he refused to supply the woman with whom he lived, Nastasia Kukliski, with the necessities of life and to obtain necessary medical aid while she was ill, with the result that she died, John Haladian, a Russian, was arraigned before Magistrate Massie at Port Colborne today and discharged. He is being indorsed by Crown Attorney George of Welland.

The crown pointed out that the circumstances surrounding the death of the woman had been thoroughly investigated and that it had been made out that she died from natural causes. The accused having given her medical attention, Doctors Thompson and Shultz testified that she died of heart failure.

H. W. McCoombe of Welland appeared for defendant.

ALLEGED SWINDLERS ARE ALLOWED BAIL

Four Are Charged With Securing $60,000 From Wealthy Italian.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Sept. 5.—Mr. Justice Wright at Osgoode Hall today made an order granting bail to James Bray and R. Mason providing that they satisfy the crown with sureties of $20,000 each.

Some time ago James Bray, G. Scott, R. Mason and H. Williamson were arrested at Windsor charged with conspiracy to defraud. It is alleged that these men obtained $60,000 from a wealthy Italian named De Pompei by a novel fake betting scheme.

The police magistrate at Windsor set the bail for each of them at $60,000 or $240,000 for the four. Yesterday at Osgoode Hall Mr. Justice Wright made an order granting bail to Scott and Williamson at $15,000 each. Today an order was made by his lordship granting to Gray and Mason at $20,000 each or $70,000 for the four.

Mr. J. R. Cartwright, counsel for the accused in the application, admitted that he believed the four prisoners were residents of the United States.

Difficulties.

MEN CONFIDENT

Canadian Press Despatch.
Pictou, N.S., Sept. 5.—The American world fliers, under command of Lieut. L. H. Smith, got away on their 520-mile hop to Boston at 10:35 a.m. after motor trouble had developed and been repaired on the Boston II, the machine sent up to permit Lieutenants Wade and Ogden to complete their world-encircling flight.

Wade was forced down three minutes after taking the air, but was successful in again regaining, and Ogden experienced trouble from the first. Just previous to getting their motor to turn over they were visited by Lieutenants Smith and Nelson. Nelson fell in the water to port, after warming up his engine. Wade made two attempts to rise without success. He finally made the air after a two-mile run straight down the harbor.

Faced with the necessity of installing a new propeller and trying out the motor for the first time, Wade and Ogden experienced trouble from the first. Just previous to getting their motor to turn over they were visited by Lieutenants Smith and Nelson. Nelson fell in the water to port, after warming up his engine. Wade made two attempts to rise without success. He finally made the air after a two-mile run straight down the harbor.

WALES' NEIGHBOR GUEST IN LONDON

Mrs. Hughena Elliott McCorquodale of High River
Visits Westminster.

Just outside of London, at Lilac Dale Farm, Westminster, is a guest from the West who bears the proud distinction of being next-door neighbor to the Prince of Wales. High River, Alberta, Mrs. Hughena Elliott McCorquodale, for so she is called by those who read her interesting writings in Canadian periodicals, is a cousin of Miss Isabel Armstrong and Mr. Murray T. Armstrong of this city, and is in Westminster the guest of her mother at her old home. Mrs. Armstrong, her small son, is with her, delighting in his visit to the East.

Although Mrs. McCorquodale lives 25 miles from the royal ranch, she is neighbor, and often saw Prince Edward in hunting togs, shooting over the neighboring ranches. The people of High River are quite used to the presence of royalty now. They know the prince in informal clothes, borrowing his neighbors' horses and playing hay with the men in the fields.

But with it all he never forgets to be royal, says this interesting visitor from the West.

Not only is the prince's ranch near by, but Lord Minto has a ranch just south of the McCorquodale acres, whither his mistress will return at the end of the month.

SESSIONS UNLIKELY DURING FAIR WEEK
Council Meetings Will Probably Be Postponed, Mayor Intimates.

It is unlikely that there will be any committee meetings of the city council during Fair week, it was intimated today. Several are scheduled as regular sessions next week, but it was suggested in some quarters this morning that these be deferred for a week and the next meeting of the council be held on September 22 instead of the 15th.

It was explained that aldermen could agree not to attend a regular session and in this way the meeting could be given a week's hoist.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Net operating surplus of Canadian National Lines during the first six months of the year, according to returns to the bureau of statistics, was $2,629,429, an improvement of $1,038,073 over the first half of last year. The surplus comes from lines in the United States, although net revenues under this head are much less than in 1923. Lines in Canada showed considerable improvement, but there was still a small deficit on operations.

Attractive Program For Winter Season.

An interesting program for the coming season was drawn up at an executive meeting of the Women's Canadian Club held yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. F. W. Hughes, Queen's avenue. Another interesting speaker will be Dr. Lawrence Southwick of the Emerson School of Oratory in Boston, who has been secured for early in the new year.

During the Baptist conference which is to be held in Talbot Street Baptist Church the last week in October, when delegates from the provinces of Quebec and Ontario will meet, the Canadian Club will arrange meetings at which several of the leading speakers are expected to speak. The date of the opening meeting has not been set, but it is expected it will be about the first of October.

C. N. R. TO OFFER BONDS FOR SALE

Twenty-Six Million Offered
Today On New York
Market.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Sept. 4.—For the second time this year the Dominion of Canada will enter the New York market tomorrow with an offering of $26,000,000 thirty-year 4-1/2 per cent bonds for the account of the securities for the transfer of a large amount of the issue will be made in Canada.

Sales of the bonds, which bear the guarantee of the Dominion of Canada, will be handled through a banking syndicate headed by Dillon, Read & Company. Earlier in the summer the same group sold $25,000,000 of securities for the Canadian National Railways. The offering price of 98 and interest for the bonds will return a yield of 4.5 per cent.

The recent heavy volume of Canadian financing in this market will probably be swelled later by the sale of Dominion government bonds, had the better developed, by a large amount of funds to Canada, and enabled the Canadian dollar to command a premium in exchange transactions.

William Pugsley, former Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, and chairman of the representations commission now sitting in Halifax, in an address before the Commercial Club here. Mr. Pugsley attacked the purchase of the Grand Trunk Railway, but in the afternoon taking over of lines which had their terminals in the United States at Portland, Me., and New London, Conn.

"The consequence is," he declared, "that you and I are contributing to the maintenance of these two lines in a foreign country, competing with our own ports and at an advantage of being nearer to the shipping centers of Canada."

CANADIAN, U.S. DOLLARS ARE BACK TO NORMAL

Checks and Currency in Both Countries Redeemable at Par.

The American and Canadian dollars are back to normal. For the first time since the war the exchange situation this week has assumed a stable trend which local financial men believe will remain permanent for an indefinite period.

Today American checks and currency are redeemable in Canadian money at par. Yesterday a fractional amount was charged on United States money, but today American bills are worth one-quarter of one per cent more than Canadian bills. Persons exchanging United States currency for Canadian money, however, really get 100 cents on the dollar, the extra quarter of one per cent being appropriated by the banks as commission.

Harold Clarke, manager of the Standard Bank here, believes American and Canadian exchange will remain regular and stable. Each day will see negligible variations in this way and that, but the currency of both countries are practically the same value.

LITTLE BOY IS BORN IN HUT AT BARRACKS

Building To Be Torn Down
When Mother Well Enough.

The whimsical stork hovered over London on Wednesday and left a wee baby among the ruins of the demolition buildings at Carling Heights. The erratic Mr. Stork has been known to play queer pranks in the past, but this is a new one.

Fred Bolchucci, one of the workmen engaged in tearing down the old barracks to the east of Wolseley Barracks. He obtained permission to occupy one of the frame buildings which are to be torn down in a few days. There, with Mrs. Bolchucci, a temporary home was set up.

Then the stork arrived on the scene to bring a little boy to a home he will not remember for as soon as he and his mother are able to move to better quarters the old building will go the way of the other war buildings.

Little Harry, as the child will be called, will be christened Sunday.

PRESENT DEFICIT SOON TO DISAPPEAR

General Manager of P. U. C. Says Golf Finances Improving.

EXPENSES HIGH

The deficit on the municipal golf course will be wiped out in a year's time and a surplus substituted, the general manager of the public utilities commission informed The Advertiser today. The present deficit in finances amounts to $3,500, which will be reduced to $3,000 by the end of the year.

"Our expenses have been around $7,000," Mr. Buchanan said. "We got off to a late start this year, but have been able to clear off half our expenses. If the course is no greater a success next year than it is during the current season, we will have established a $2,000 surplus in cash by the end of 1925."

"Even suppose golf were to die a natural death now, we have quite easily $3,000 in improvements for park purposes on the Thames Valley course. But that is scarcely a possibility to be considered."

A Speaking of City Auditor Ashland's letter to the public utilities commission regarding irregularities in expenditure on the golf course, Mr. Buchanan believed that any desired legislation could be cleared up in five minutes. The golf course was paying proposition and he was quite ready to wager that the city could lease the course for $1,000 a year if it so wished.

SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED FOR TWO FAIR DAYS

Trustees Decide To Give the Pupils a Chance To Study Exhibits.

Public and separate primary schools and all secondary schools will be closed on Thursday and Friday of next week in order to give students time off for Western Fair. Meetings of the board of education and of the separate school board last night decided on the Thursday and Friday holidays.

Public school trustees haven't taken eagerly to the free admission offer of the Western Fair board, for pupils attending on Monday. Children were not to attend when the fair was well on. Besides, trustees stated at yesterday's session, the school week was too much for Monday and Friday, as suggested by the fair board, were used as school holidays. "They can have Thursday off," one trustee said. "Then if it rains, they have Friday left."

Father Brisson, secretary of the separate school board, announced this afternoon that following a consultation of members of the board, it had decided to give pupils holidays on Thursday and Friday.

SEPARATE SCHOOL PUPILS INCREASE IN NUMBER

Increase in school attendance was reported last evening at the monthly meeting of the separate school board. In the primary schools an attendance of 1,114 was noted. This is an increase of 33 pupils over the total for the last of September, 1923. In the high schools 180 pupils have registered during the year, which is an increase over last year. The fourth year class at De La Salle has been opened and is reported to be operating in good order.

RAILING SAVES AUTOMOBILE AS DRIVER LOSES CONTROL

Midway, Sept. 4.—Joseph Berlich had a narrow escape from death while motoring down the Station Hill. Herriot Backs MacDonald In Agreeing That Germany Should Be Taken In League

French Premier Cheered as He Says Peace Is Country's Aim.

FAVORS ARBITRATION

Pleads For Better Protection For Small Nations of Europe.

Associated Press Despatch, Geneva, Sept. 5.—Premier Herriot of France, addressing the fifth assembly of the League of Nations today, began by saying that he brought the word of France to the assembly, and that was peace. He hoped that the United States would not refuse to continue its useful collaboration in disarmament, especially now that arbitration had come in as a feature.

The French premier mounted the tribune in front of the jammed auditorium amid the hum of interest, and began his address received a great ovation.

He urged the league commission to immediately study this question of arbitration, upon the successful operation of which, he believed, the tranquility of the world's peoples depended.

Must Not Be Trapped. But arbitration must not be a trap for nations of good faith, he added. The premier pleaded for some system of protection for small countries, should have the same treatment as great powers.

The French premier mounted the tribune in front of the jammed auditorium amid the hum of interest, and began his address received a great ovation.

In his plea for some plan for protecting the smaller countries, M. Herriot said justice and peace must go hand in hand, but that neither should exist without the other. He declared France had no illusion that security could be had by means of force alone. He agreed with Prime Minister MacDonald that any hurriedly prepared armament conference would be doomed to failure, and he insisted that when one was held it should be entrusted to the League of Nations.

Wants Small Nations Protected. Arbitration, security and disarmament were the three pillars of peace, the French premier said forth. M. Herriot agreed with his British colleague that the statutes of the permanent court of international justice should be amended.

Speaking of the necessity of protection for the small nations, Premier Herriot alluded to the violation of Belgium's neutrality at the outbreak of the Great War, saying there must be no repetition in Belgium's case in the future. To bring this about, arbitration alone was not sufficient, he declared, but it must be accompanied by security and disarmament.

"We must combine right with might," he said, "and what is right and what is just must be might."

MACDONALD CRITICIZED

Associated Press Despatch, Paris, Sept. 5.—Ramsay MacDonald's speech before the League of Nations assembly at Geneva yesterday brings down upon the British premier the wrath of the French nationalist press.

Pertinax in the Echo de Paris says: "By taking advantage of the feebleness of Premier Herriot, he succeeded in July and August in upsetting the clauses of the Versailles Treaty dealing with reparations, and

Mine Owners Refuse Parley

Associated Press Despatch, Johannesburg, South Africa, Sept. 5.—A special committee of discontented miners applied to the mine owners here for an interview at which the miners and employers could discuss a list of grievances that the men had drawn up, but the employers replied that there could be no discussion of any grievance until the miners' union was recognized in the matter.

POLICE ARE CALLED AS COUNCIL MEETS

Toronto City Fathers Come Near Blows During Hot Debate.

Canadian Press Despatch, Toronto, Sept. 4.—Following a heated discussion among members of the city council today, in which both words and feeling ran high, the session ended in chaos, with several of the aldermen almost coming to blows in the members' room. The scene was the climax of a very acrimonious debate on the report of the board of control regarding the agreement with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, the city of Toronto and the harbor commission on the closing of a portion of the lake shore road.

Before a vote could be taken on the report, Ald. Sam McBride, who had bitterly opposed the passing of the report, left the council chamber, thus breaking the quorum and forcing the council to adjourn. Met in the hall by Ald. Hunt, high words passed between them, Ald. Hunt accusing Ald. McBride of calling him a liar. Police and other members of the council ventured to intervene. Ald. Whetter restraining Ald. Hunt, who challenged his opponent to fight. "A man will call me a liar!" shouted Hunt.

"I did not call you a liar," retorted Ald. McBride. "If I did, I would call you that again."

Threatening to strike his opponent, Ald. McBride was immediately challenged to come to a less public place to settle the affair in the ancient and time-honored fashion. Fortunately wiser counsel and better influences prevailed, and the combatants were persuaded to depart without coming to blows, though taunts and jeers were freely hurled at each other.

PORT PHYSICIAN GROWS MONSTROUS TOMATO

What is both a novelty in fruit anatomy as well as a good-sized meal for a single person, has been grown by Dr. L. J. Mothersill, of Port Stanley, in the form of a monstrous tomato.

This splendid specimen, which is of a bright red color, sweet-tasting, and weighed one pound and an eighth, would put a small-sized turnip to shame if judged according to the size.

Dr. Mothersill, who is a renowned gardener of the village, expects more specimens of this "overgrown" variety.

Obituary

he is now working to obtain revision of the Electoral and political clauses. The British premier has revealed himself as the impetuous Germanophile we always suspected him of being.

Stéphane Lauzanne in the Poincaré remarks: "We expected Mr. MacDonald to throw floods of light on the British projects for security and disarmament, but he threw floods of darkness accompanied by a few thunderclaps which were badly aimed and hurt nobody but the speaker. More than anything else, he led his audience about a sky where the clouds collided with each other in crazy abandon."

The writer concludes by observing: "It must not be forgotten that MacDonald, under the appearance of idealogy, hides trickery." Most of the highly circulated newspapers, particularly those inclined to an independent tone, make little or no comment on the speech.

Frost Predictions Worry Fruit Growers of District

Today's probabilities handed out by the weatherman at Toronto have some bad news for district farmers. It is stated that there is grave danger of frost on Saturday night and farmers, especially fruit and vegetable growers, are well-advised to "cover up" their crops as well as possible.

Fruit growers of the district have been worrying for some weeks as to just what will happen to the grape crop which is the largest in the history of the county. Early grapes, such as Campbells and Moores' Early are always ripe in time for the Western Fair, but there will be none this year owing to unfavorable weather conditions.

Fruit growers state that it will be two weeks and possibly three weeks before grapes will be fit for market.

FAVORITISM IS DENIED BY GREER

States School Department Is Unaware of Injustices in Boundaries.

PARENTS COMPLAIN

Complaints that pupils outside of the Lord Roberts public school boundary were permitted to attend that school were noted by Inspector V. K. Greer today. Mr. Greer declared that no favoritism was being shown in assigning pupils to schools, and his department was aware of no injustices existing.

He explained the Lord Roberts School district as being almost a perfect square, with the school in the center. The east boundary is the middle of Adelaide, from Queen's avenue to Pall Mall. The north boundary is the center of Pall Mall, from Adelaide to Wellington. The west boundary is the center of Wellington from Pall Mall to Dufferin, then the center of Dufferin west to Clarence, continuing then from Dufferin to Queen's avenue in the middle of Clarence. The south boundary is the center of Queen's avenue from Clarence to Adelaide.

The chief complaint this year is from parents whose children have been assigned to Alexandra School or Talbot, and who wish their children sent to the pupils at Lord Roberts," Mr. Greer commented.

The inspector explained that parents wishing to know school boundaries could easily secure this information from his office. He was also ready to investigate any complaint where unfairness was supposed.

CITY POPULATION SHOWS INCREASE

Nearly Five Hundred Advance Reported by the Assessor.

Stratford, Sept. 4.—Stratford's population for the coming winter will be around the 19,000 mark from present indications. City Assessor T. M. Ruston has just completed his round of the city, and a preliminary report on the population places the total at 18,885, or an increase of 460 over last year.

In addition to that there will be close to 300 students for the Normal School, Collegiate Institute and Central Business College, coming into the city this month, which will bring the total population for the winter to more than 19,000.

Canada Best. "Business conditions are much better in Canada and the United States than they are in England and Scotland. In fact, the United States and Canada are struggling under a heavier burden of taxes, and those who are employed are taxed additionally, so that the government can give doles to those who are out of work," stated James Dickson, who has just returned from a trip to the Mother Country.

Mr. Dickson, accompanied by Robert J. Ballantyne, who is 19 for the first time, and who was the first bride to have been back to the land of his birth since he moved with his parents to Canada 23 years ago, as a year-old child. It was Mr. Ballantyne's first journey to the "Tight Little Isle."

Met King In Canada. The two Stratford travellers arrived in Liverpool the day before the dedication of the Liverpool Cathedral, and were in the city when the king and queen arrived for the ceremony. Both saw their royal highnesses, it being the first time that Mr. Dickson had seen them since he shook hands with King George at the Victoria Jubilee on his visit to Canada in 1901. Mr. Dickson was warden of Perth County that year, having been elected to that office the day before his grandmother, the late Queen Victoria, died.

Crops Are Promising. The crops in England and Scotland this year will be good, reports Mr. Dickson, who states Scotland has had an unusually successful year with the hay crop. Journeys through the country they found business conditions poor, but very little complaint was voiced regarding the Labour government, as all seemed well at the present time, and as seemed well at the present time, and as seemed well at the present time.

General Synod of Church of England in Canada Will Open Sept. 24.

TEN-DAY SESSION

The general synod of the Church of England will be held here, beginning on Wednesday, September 24, and continuing for about ten days. There will be in attendance at the synod 26 Canadian bishops, 125 clergy and 125 laymen. Most Rev. Archbishop P. Matheson, Winnipeg, archbishop of Rupert's Land, primate of all Canada, will preside.

The synod will be formally opened by a service in St. Paul's Cathedral at 11 a.m. Wednesday morning when Rt. Rev. Dr. Headlam, lord bishop of Gloucester, England, one of the world's foremost scholars and preachers, will be the special speaker.

On Sunday, September 28, every Anglican pulpit in London will be occupied morning, afternoon and evening by visiting clergymen.

On Sunday afternoon at 4:15 p.m. there will be a great mass meeting in Croydon Hall to which the public are cordially invited. The speakers on this occasion will be the bishop of Saskatchewan, well and favorably known as Archdeacon Lloyd, and also the bishop of Hunan, China, whose work stands out as one of the features of mission work in the whole of that great country.

Sessions of the synod will be held every day, morning, afternoon and evening, in Croydon Hall. Visitors will always be welcomed to the gallery, which is open to the public at all sessions.

In a letter to the clergy of the city to be read at all services next Sunday, Rev. David Williams, bishop of Huron, bespeaks for the synod fruitful and harmonious sessions, full of fresh knowledge and inspiration to all.

The questions to be discussed at the synod will touch every sphere of importance in Canadian life today, and it is expected that decisions will be made which will have a far-reaching effect on the Church of England and its members in Canada.

FRENCHMAN IS POSITIVE HIS RECORD IS CLEAR

"Non monsieur, I had been doing nothing when zee polez took me from zee back of zee theatre," answered Robert Baron, dark-eyed Frenchman, when he appeared before Magistrate Graydon on a charge of vagrancy in police court this morning.

Baron was arrested last night when he was found on a Dufferin street lawpaw tinkering with a bicycle. He could not give a reasonable account of himself, and so in police court he endeavored to explain to Magistrate Graydon how he came to be in London.

"I will tell you zee whole storee," he said. "I have been working for a fortnight, but have not been working for zis two weeks. I have never stole anything in my life. I swear, and I never stole zee bicycle."

Upon Chief of Police Robert Birrell's advice, Magistrate Graydon remanded the man for a week while his case will be investigated.

G.W.V.A. SECRETARY WARNS ABOUT MOVIE TRAVELLER

George Turner, secretary of the G. W. V. A., calls the attention of local citizens to the fact that the G. W. V. A. is the following note from a recent issue of The Veteran, which speaks for itself:

Lieut. Richard appears in a Dufferin Eastern Canadian towns a few months ago, in company with a moving picture entitled, "On Tour With the G. W. V. A." He gave the impression that he had the indorsement of the G. W. V. A., and in some instances, enlisted the support of school children, and offered a large flag. This man has no connection with the G. W. V. A., and branches are urged to consult Dominion headquarters before making arrangements with him."

FICTION HOLDS LEAD AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Summer Readers Take Out 27,460 "Story" Books—Total Is 37,219.

Fiction is the most popular reading matter at the public library. Out of 37,219 books taken out or referred to at the library during the summer months, fiction led the way with 27,460 volumes. The figures apply to adults, and show that over two-thirds of the people like to be entertained.

The children's tastes run to fiction also, but not to the same extent. Out of 8,754 books taken out by children, 4,655 were fiction, or a little more than half.

Philology is lowest on the list. In three months only 17 books on the subject of the science of language have been asked for. All the requests came from adults. Literature ranks high, however, coming right after fiction. This shows that the readers like fine works even if they are not in a mood for the study of them. Over 2,000 books on literature were taken out by adults and 1,500 by children.

Three children took out books on philosophy, and 70 wanted to know more about religion. Among the adults, 508 books on history and 614 on travel were read to 559 on religion.

Books on art are as popular as works on travel and history, 564 having been used during June, July and August. Natural science works to the number of 349 were used by adults and 277 by children.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES DEAL WITH PARENTS' PROTEST

Believes Parents Have No Reason To Complain of District Divisions.

SPECIAL CASES

Knollwood Park Deputation Petitions For Better School Accommodation.

When Trustee Rev. Quintin Warner was suddenly called out on parish business while the board of education was in session late yesterday afternoon, he unknowingly perpetrated a merry set to regarding the legality of the board carrying on with only seven members present. There were those who thought seven trustees, out of the 12 elected, were sufficient for a quorum. Opinion of the minister of education and the city solicitor was used of combat this idea. Finally, after trying to continue as a minority meeting, the educationists decided to prorogue until Monday afternoon.

Secretary W. A. Tanner pointed out that just last week the opinion of the department of education was sought regarding the legal number necessary to form a quorum in local board meetings. The board is formed usually of twelve elected members and two appointed by the separate school board. This year the separate schools failed to name any appointees. It was believed, therefore, that seven, being a majority of the twelve regular members, would be all that were necessary for a legal quorum. However, Mr. Tanner cited both the city solicitor and the minister that eight trustees were necessary before business could be transacted. It was an embarrassing position for the board to be in. Trustee Wright, Willmot, Lawrasen and Grant also being absent.

Meet Monday. Some business had already been transacted, but some of the remaining agenda was of such a nature that it was finally, after 40 minutes, found advisable to turn it over until Monday when a further meeting was decided on.

School boundaries and accommodation at Knollwood public school caused much attention of the board soon after it was called to order. In the case of school boundaries, letters were read from five parents, in which requests were made that their children be permitted to attend schools other than those assigned.

With no change in school boundaries this September, for the first time in many years, authorities have nevertheless had some trouble adjusting complaints of parents since school opened. Inspectors and trustees reported many cases for special attention to school attendance.

Trustee Rev. R. D. Mess moved that the matter be taken up by number one committee on the grounds that further cases might be reported by the end of the week and the matter could be more completely handled at the usual meeting of the committee on Monday.

Favors Action. "Let's handle this matter now," declared Trustee Warner, and drew premature applause from the parents who were present. "I appreciate the measure of confidence placed in me by the committee, but I sincerely hope that the board will not follow the example of the city council in so splendidly passing the buck."

People objected to sending their children to other schools than those to which they had been accustomed for one or more of three reasons. Trustee Warner pointed out. In some cases the building in which the child had been assigned was not cared for. But London schools were all fit, sufficiently well equipped and sufficiently clean for the children. Parents would change their minds by inspecting the new schools. Then objection was raised to the child making new associations, going into a district where there were different types of children. It was possible to keep clean and decent and still mix with any of London's school children.

"We don't want children to create snobbery in our schools," the trustee averred. "It's the finest thing in the world to have this association of different types of children."

Street Crossings. As regards to dangerous street crossings, Rev. Mr. Warner pointed out that the folk who were appealing against present assignments were probably no worse off than a great majority of children in other parts of the city. It was impossible to get away absolutely from dangerous crossings in any section.

Other trustees backed this seemingly complete defence of the inspectors. Mrs. J. A. Rose pointed out that school districts were not generally known in the city, and misunderstanding regarding boundaries might be responsible for some trouble.

Inspector V. K. Greer explained that that absolutely no discrimination had been shown in the placing of children in schools. But he was only too glad, he said, of cases where partiality might be felt, were pointed out.

It was finally decided that the inspectors be upheld, as well as the original school boundaries, and also that the inspectors, in conjunction with number one committee have power to deal with special cases.

Want New School. When Knollwood Park had been annexed by the city, improved school accommodation was promised, according to J. H. Taylor, spokesman from that section. "We have only an excuse for school," complained Mr. Taylor. "Our children have been transferred to other schools. They have to walk many blocks from home and have to eat cold lunches in the winter." There was no protection at railway crossings, and children had to wait 10 and 15 minutes while trains were made up and shunted past crossings. A. A. Williams, secretary of the Knollwood Improvement Association, also spoke. The delegation asked that the board consider their case in future plans.

BOARD UNDECIDED ON SOUTH LIBRARY

City Council Delegation Fails To Solve Problem of Re-opening Branch.

The citizens of London will have to do without a South Branch Library for some time to come, unless unlooked-for circumstances alter the situation.

Last night at the regular meeting of the public library board a delegation of the city council, consisting of Mayor Weniger, Ald. Anderson and Ald. Douglass, were present to thresh out the vexing problem. After an hour's heated discussion no solution was arrived at. Several suggestions were made as to the possibility of renting a building somewhere, but it was found that temporary quarters were not to be had.

The south branch of the library in Victoria School was closed on August 28 because the board of education needed the room. No quarters had been provided for the branch and no plan to open it was arranged at last night's meeting.

Patronage increases. Showing an increase in patronage of over 1,200 persons over a corresponding time last year, the report of the public library and branches was placed before the library board by Librarian Richard E. Crook.

The report was for June, July and August, and showed a total of 8,322 visitors, divided among the main library and branches as follows: Main library, 4,556; east branch, 956; south branch, 2,557; southeast, 6,132. The east branch shows the greatest gain, 9,561 using the library this summer over 7,738 last year, an increase of 1,823.

New applications granted were 720; renewals, 437.

The reference department was attended by 2,355, over 3,300 people used the books. The stackroom reference department, where the books on useful arts are found, was used by 240 persons.

COURTESY ON HIGHWAY IS NEED OF MOTORISTS

President St. Thomas Motor Club Gives Opinion On Traffic Control.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Sept. 4.—President L. O. Pearson of the St. Thomas branch of the Ontario Motor League in a brief discussion with The Advertiser this evening set forth his views of the traffic control problems of St. Thomas and district, when he stated that he had been in the city and met the courtesy of the highway.

He favors the erection of warning signs on the London and Port Stanley road, pointing out the dangers of "cutting in" and reckless driving, and notifying the motorists that the road was patrolled.

"Then secure a properly paid official with a proper conveyance to 'get' the downright careless speeder," he said. "There is no reason why the penalties of furious driving should not be advertised in the same way as the railway safety first campaign."

He proposes to enforce "one way" traffic on certain streets, especially Mountain and Talbot street to Curtis. This block is a popular parking ground for people who are attending the shows or meetings in the city hall. It is noticeably difficult for two cars to pass on this street when autos are parked on either side.

Personally he could not see any advantage in stopping motorists on the side streets before entering the intersection to Talbot street, but he felt that every driver should have his car under control at that point. "Motorists should wait off the intersection when they desire to enter the traffic on the other side of the main street, rather than drive into the center of the intersection to stop," he said.

"Cars should not be allowed to park on the side streets closer than 40 feet to the main street where the buildings are near the corner. The officers should make themselves familiar with traffic regulations and then give each motorist a warning rather than summon him into police court."

CHICAGO GRAIN RECEIPTS SHATTER PAST RECORDS

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Sept. 4.—Grain receipts at the Chicago market have shattered records of the last six years without any material slump in prices, according to reports compiled today by statisticians at the board of trade.

Final figures on receipts for Tuesday show that 5,382,000 bushels of grain came into the market, of which wheat led with an aggregate of 2,536,000 bushels, the largest volume since 1918, the figures showed. Oats totaled almost as much, and corn receipts were more than three-quarters of a million bushels. Other recent days have shown similar volumes, the statisticians reported.

SIX NORWEGIANS ESCAPE WHILE BEING DEPORTED

Rimouski, Sept. 4.—Six Norwegians who had been ordered deported by the Canadian immigration authorities, and were sent here to form part of the crew of the schooner Grosshau, escaped a few minutes after they arrived from Montreal yesterday, and none of them has as yet been recaptured. A seventh man, a Scot, who was among the deportees sent from Montreal, remained on board ship. The seven men arrived in Canada a short time ago, but the immigration authorities judged them to be undesirable, and they were ordered deported.

MRS. WHEELER REPRESENTS LONDON WOMEN AT WEMBLEY

Calls at Pavilion of International Council of Women at Exhibition.

PRAISE FOR PLUMS

Painting of Miss Eva Bradshaw Is Admired by Passing Throng.

Officially representing the women of London at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, Mrs. Charles E. Wheeler, who arrived home this week, is filled with enthusiasm over what the International Council of Women accomplished at their great conference at Wembley on the prevention of the causes of war. Although Mrs. Wheeler reached Wembley until after the conference had been concluded, her visits with representative women at the council pavilion on the exhibition grounds gave her some of the spirit of the conference. Mrs. Wheeler made her headquarters at Wembley while in the old land, having been delegated by the Local Council of Women to represent that body at Wembley. The conference over which Lady Aberdeen presided, and at which many important and authoritative addresses were given by men and women distinguished in politics and international affairs, was called with a view to protecting the present and future generations from the havoc and ruin of another war. The conference found that education would be a big factor in the prevention of war, not only education in schools and colleges, but the education of citizens as a whole.

One of her proudest moments at Wembley, Mrs. Wheeler experienced when she was walking through the art gallery, Canada's exhibit as a whole was not looked upon with as much favor by the passing throngs as she would have wished. People excused the lack of greatness because the country was still young. But there was one picture before which they would stand and gaze.

"There is true art there," they said. The picture was no other than "Plums" painted by Miss Eva Bradshaw of this city. But Mrs. Wheeler spent by no means all her time at Wembley. She visited many of the historic spots of the old land, and met many interesting people. One happy experience came when she was looking for Swinburne's grave. She found it and at the same time found an interesting friend. Sitting beside the grave and painting the beautiful roses growing close by was Catherine Campbell, the well-known Edinburgh artist and sister of the distinguished etcher, then a guest with Lady and Sir Martin Harvey. Mrs. Wheeler returned home on Wednesday of this week after spending almost three months abroad.

MRS. A. W. McVICAR, formerly Miss Hannah Gwynfel Walters of West Lorne, whose marriage to Mr. Archibald W. McVicar of this city took place yesterday afternoon.

PROPOSE COURSE IN MOTHERCRAFT

Child Welfare Board Urges Need of Such an Organization in City.

A lively discussion took place yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the women's board of the Child Welfare Association, when the question of establishing a lecture course in "Mothercraft and General Home Nursing" was brought up. It was the general opinion of the members present that there was a great need of an organization in the city that would cover this work, and it was suggested that steps be taken to organize such a course, which would be of benefit to young mothers and housewives.

The chief business taken up was the making of plans for the Welfare tent at the Western Fair. Although many blankets have been donated to the babies in their stay at the tent, many more are needed. Flannelette are also in great demand and the members of the board would greatly appreciate contributions of this kind. Hostesses were appointed for each day as follows: Monday, Mrs. John Hyatt; Mrs. Sillson, Mrs. A. A. Morrison and Mrs. Joseph Leech; Tuesday, Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. J. Hosie; Wednesday, representatives of St. George's Mothers' Club; Thursday, Mrs. F. Hardie and another member of the Riverview Club; Friday, Mrs. Johnston and another member of the Press Avenue Mothers' Club. The officers of the association will also be in attendance during the week. It was decided also that there would be no clinics held at the schools during Fair week, as the nurses will be in attendance at the tent. Assistance is being asked for to help at the weekly clinics, in weighing and measuring the babies. Mrs. David Williams presided over yesterday's meeting.

The Better Cook—Man or Woman?

In a general way the average woman can cook and the average man certainly cannot! When, however, we turn to palaces, clubs or hotels, we invariably find the chef is a man, a highly-trained specialist who has chosen a career in cuisine.

Warns Parents Against Needless
SacrificesA College Education Cannot Work Miracles.
It Cannot Give More Than the Student Puts Into His Work, So Before Sacrificing for Your Children, Make Sure That They Are Worth It.

A woman writes me a letter in which she says:

"Is a college education a necessity or a luxury for poor people of ordinary intelligence?"

"I am the mother of four children who just possess average ability. Even my partial eyes can see no sparkle of unusual talent in them. To send them to college after they have graduated from the high school will mean years of grueling sacrifice for their father and myself. Is it worth while? Is a college education a luxury or is it a necessity that I am in duty bound to give my children no matter what the cost to myself?"

I firmly believe that it is the duty of parents to see that their children have a good, sound, elementary education. After that, it all depends on the individual child and the circumstances of the parents. A boy or girl shows the fair of genius in any line, a father and mother are justified in making many sacrifices to develop it. But even here it is to be remembered that it is just as easy to smother a talent with too much kindness as it is to starve it with neglect. The old saying that you can't keep a good man down is true. If a man and woman have it in them to do things, they will do them against any odds. Indeed, the very lack of opportunities is a spur in their sides.

In proof of this read "Who's Who." Not one in ten of the men and women whose achievements are recorded in that register of notables had many advantages of early education or training. On the contrary, they fought their way up from the furrows of cornfields and from backwoods villages. And just because their struggle was so hard they developed every bit of strength and ability that was in them.

As for studious children, nothing will hold them from their own. You might as well try to restrain a starving man from partaking of the feast that is spread before him as to keep a bookish man from reading. The whole world of printed matter is his birthright, and he will get an education whether he ever sees a college gate or not.

Besides, no boy or girl who really wants a college education is deterred from getting one in these days. There is not a university in the country that has not some way arranged by which poor and ambitious students can work their way through it.

For these reasons, it seems to me that there is no more tragic and pitiful mistake than the sacrifices that so many parents make to send their children to college.

Because they themselves have never had a college education, they regard it with a superstitious awe and reverence, as if it were some new and unknown god. They naively believe that it can work miracles, and that if only the fringe of its sacred mantle touches their children they will be assured of every blessing for life. Therefore, father and mother humbly offer themselves up as a living sacrifice on its altar.

Everywhere you will find parents who are literally killing themselves to send their children off to college. They are denying themselves the actual food that they need. They are doing without the dentistry, or the little operation, or the vacation that would lengthen their days. Mother turns off the cook and does the housework, although it is too much for her strength and her age. She wears her clothes until they are threadbare. Father takes on more work and grows more and more hump-shouldered and shabby-looking day by day.

More than that, at middle age people should be laying up something for their rainy day or else they are dooming themselves to the terrible fate of a dependent old age. And so when they impoverish themselves by sending their children to college they have made the supreme sacrifice to their selfishness.

Sometimes the sacrifice is justified. Not often. Sometimes a girl or boy does make the best of the advantages offered her or him and does find in a college education the tools with which to carve out a career.

Generally, all that the youngsters come home with is a college yell and a lot of half-baked theories that unfit them for the life they are destined to lead.

This is no reflection on the colleges. They would gladly turn every youth and maiden attending them into savants, but it is sadly true that you can only give to the young what they wish to take.

WOMEN and THE HOME

You can lead them to the Pierian spring, but you cannot make them drink of its waters.

Nearly all boys and girls want to go to college because it is the thing to do. They are interested in college sports and college clothes, and want to be able to talk about their fraternities and sororities, and their college larks. But very few of them have any serious yearning for study.

Therefore, before poor parents make the heroic sacrifice of themselves involved in sending their children to college, it is a wise thing to make a careful appraisal of the said children and try to ascertain whether their boys and girls will get enough out of college to make it pay.

If John and Mary are intellectual, if they are hungry for culture, if they have some definite ideal to which they are straining, if they are ambitious, it is one thing. If John is just the ordinary, practical, common-sense sort of a boy, and Mary is a pretty girl whose only talent is for combing her hair and knowing how to wear her clothes, and the chief object of both of them is to have a good time, why, that's another story.

And don't forget that the boys and girls who are not students are wasting their time at college and acquiring idle habits that will be their bane through life.

After all, a college education is a good deal like an automobile. It is fine for those who need it, who want it and who can afford it and know how to use it. But it isn't worth sacrificing a whole family in order to bestow it on a pampered child.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Trafalgar Chapter, I. O. D. E., held at the home of Mrs. A. Walker, Chesapeake street, the members undertook to visit the Sick Children's Hospital during the month of September. Mrs. W. G. Bendle, the regent, was in the chair.

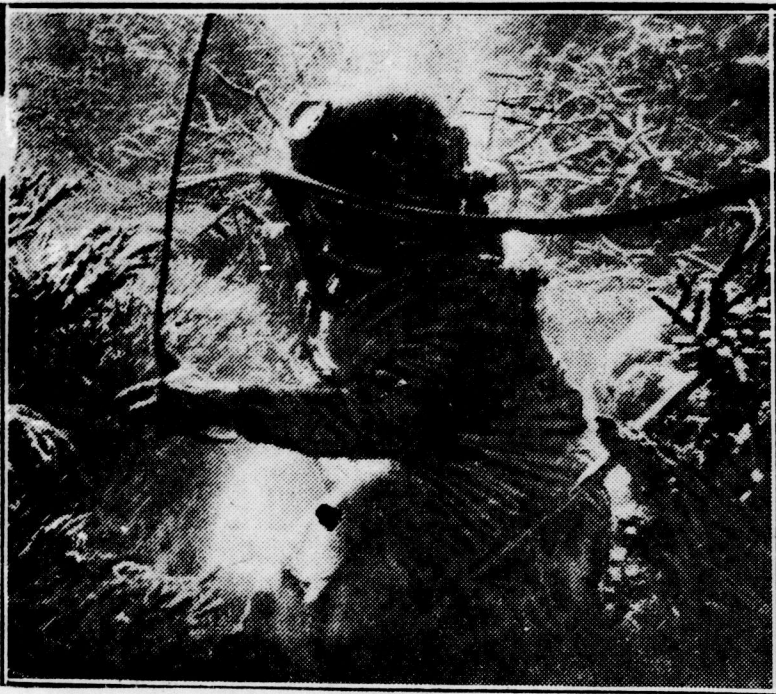

An interesting guest of the occasion was Mrs. Lena Emery of Jacksonville, Florida, regent of the Queen Mary Chapter of the British Daughters of the Empire, who gave a talk on the chapter work in the United States, largely concerned with assisting stranded British families in America. Mrs. Emery, who has always been keenly interested in the Trafalgar Chapter, and is a guest with Mrs. A. B. Kennedy of Hilderton, came to the city for the meeting.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1924.

Ramsay MacDonald Invites Germany.

Britain fought Germany from August, 1914, to November, 1918. During that time the whole force of British effort was directed against Germany and all the powers allied with her. There was no attitude of compromise, no let-up in the pursuit of victory. The nation realized it was facing a great crisis, and by the outcome the question would be answered as to Britain's future power or dismemberment.

Today, the premier of Britain is at the headquarters of the League of Nations in Geneva. He points to an empty chair in the conference room, the chair set apart for Germany, and, with full knowledge of what he says, invites Germany to take her place in the world court. There is no reference to the past, nothing to indicate that the victor is beckoning to the vanquished—simply a cordial, sincere invitation from Britain to Germany to enter a league that places arbitration and good-will above war.

The invitation extended to Germany is not the impulse of the moment; rather the culmination of months of ceaseless effort on the part of Ramsay MacDonald. It could not have been extended before the London conference, nor could it have been given had the London conference failed. It was Ramsay MacDonald more than any other individual who made the London conference possible; it was he who, while a sick man himself, went personally to France, who talked all night with Herriot, who faced the hostile element in the French chamber. It was MacDonald who brought the nations together to deal with Germany—MacDonald the negotiator, quiet, determined, the man of the hour, willing to spend all the vitality he could muster that nations might know each other, and in that knowledge find common ground on which to settle problems common to them all.

So it was fitting that it should be Premier Ramsay MacDonald who should rise, amidst the tumultuous applause of all the nations represented, and say of Germany:

"We cannot sit here endlessly with a vacant chair in our midst. The London conference created a new relationship between the rest of Europe and Germany. She should have her seat here."

The training and outlook of Premier MacDonald have fitted him to do a peculiar work for Britain, and what he is doing for Britain he is doing for the world.

It must be a difficult matter for United States, with all these events taking place, to furnish an answer that will explain her continued absence from Geneva. Right now she is preparing to stage a display of militarism under the guise of "Defence Day." In that she is doing nothing new, simply a gesture of proud might that is the counterpart of the goose-step as Germany used to know it.

United States is content to allow other powers to work for peace and for an understanding between nations, and yet she does not move on past the attitude of indifferent approval and a meaningless assent to it all.

Premier MacDonald pointed to a vacant chair and asked that Germany should fill it. He might very well at the same time have pointed to another vacant chair that belongs to United States, nor is there a man in the republic who could give a satisfactory answer as to why it has been or should continue to be vacant.

Theories Will Not Provide Work.

The conference on unemployment at Ottawa is fast developing into a debating school, where theories are crowding in so fast that they are destroying the chances of the gathering arriving at conclusions that will be real factors in meeting the situation.

Representatives of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association advanced the idea that the tariff is the key to the whole situation, and if that were substantially increased the problem would be solved. If these representations were made in the way of sincere convictions, backed up by positive facts as proof, it might be possible to conceive that they had a proper place in the discussions at Ottawa.

But where do they fit in now? The gathering at Ottawa is for the purpose of dealing with an immediate situation. It is for the purpose of planning what work can be opened up for this fall and winter. It is not a debating society at all, but a place where practical men shall make practical contributions that can be put into effect at once.

The tariff for 1924 has been arranged; those who talk about a higher tariff being the one thing necessary know that there is no possibility of making changes there now; they knew it before they ever set out for Ottawa.

Moreover, the introduction of the tariff debate, a threadbare academic argument, into a conference where the chief aim is the providing of work right now, will have the effect of creating divisions in the conference along political lines, and a divided camp is something to be avoided above all else.

There is also too much time taken up with the fixing of responsibility for such unemployment as may exist in Canada. Municipalities and provinces seek to show that it is the federal government which should act, while Hon. James Murdock, speaking for the federal government, shoulders the responsibility on the provinces. This attitude is wrong in every sense of the word, and it is a waste of time to pursue such tactics, or to allow them to be pursued. They can have no part in making the conference a success.

There are representatives there from many industries and from many governments. It must be that these men are at Ottawa with the idea of seeing what they can put into the plan to open up necessary work in various parts of the Dominion. If that were not their idea in going to Ottawa to attend the conference, then it were better that they should not have gone at all.

The plan followed right here in London has done more to help the unemployed than all the discussion that could possibly take place on the subject. London's idea has been to carry on as much work as possible, with the result that the city engineer has a staff of 500 today, whereas the highest payroll last year was 375. If London City Council had taken the attitude that Ottawa or Toronto or some other agency should deal with the problem, there would have been nothing done to deal with the situation. There might have been a great deal of correspondence and a fine display of learned oratory, but all that would not have provided a day's work for anyone outside of a couple of stenographers.

The Ottawa conference must get down to something practical. It must deal with a given problem, and in so doing must meet responsibility fairly rather than dissipate its energies in a futile attempt to attach blame on some person else.

To use an old phrase, the business of "passing the buck" must cease. Let them all, provincial, municipal and federal governments, go seriously to work with the idea of each taking its fair share of the common load. There is no other possible way in which the conference can justify its existence or write the word accomplishment over its deliberations.

Be Careful of Mushrooms.

Comment on a case in Toronto where death followed eating what was supposed to be edible mushrooms has led to the use of the word "roadstool" to designate the poisonous variety, and "mushroom" the edible kind. Scientific men who have identified and catalogued over 400 various kinds of fungi make no such distinction. They say they are the same thing.

They even go so far as to call a mushroom fruit. It comes from a network of fine fibres underground, the stem and cap of the growth being likened to the stem and pulp of an apple, and the spores, which are secreted in the gills under the cap, are similar to the seeds of the apple—they are the medium of reproduction.

A letter appeared in a Hamilton paper a few days ago stating that the writer had a sure way of telling the edible mushroom from the poisonous variety. His claim was that if the skin could be peeled from the top of the cap, and if there were a ring on the stem below the cap, it was safe to eat. John Dearness, of London, a foremost authority on fungi, says that the same thing can be done with some of the most deadly specimens, so this Hamilton man's sure method has in it a great element of risk.

Some who gather mushrooms have rules of their own. They will tell you that if the growth has white gills, a ring on the stem and a volva (something like the white of an egg) at the base, it is not fit to eat. They seem to build up their own system of detection, and confine their gathering to a few specimens which they have learned to recognize and have found safe and tasty.

Those who know most about such matters state frankly that there are no rules they would care to lay down so that a person who has not studied fungi could go out and distinguish with certain safety between the edible and poisonous plant. There are many varieties growing in this district, one London party of three a short time ago securing as many as 71 distinct types in a day's hunt covering a number of miles.

Picking mushrooms is not a safe occupation for the uninitiated. Unless a person has been observant enough to know for sure what he is gathering, it is much better to leave the thing alone.

Note and Comment.

Now some one rises to remark that had Babe Ruth lived in ancient times he would have been king of the Hittites.

Two men jumped from a motor car in Windsor, robbed a 12-year-old paper boy of 13 cents, and escaped. Courageous, wasn't it?

Belgian troops are on the way out of the Ruhr. This is a retreat on the part of a former ally that will cause no misgivings.

October 23 is not very far away, and Premier Ferguson should shortly keep his promise to tell the electors exactly what they are going to vote on.

If the Western Fair in London can pull such weather as that handed out to the Toronto exhibition, there will be no chance of the turnstiles growing rusty on their hinges.

Now the story comes of Premier King and Hon. George P. Graham attending a barn dance up in Bruce a few days ago. They can wiggle their feet as well as their tongues.

The Renfrew Mercury is very doubtful about the worth of a "human fly" who wants to climb buildings in that part of the country. If the "human fly" wants to do something worth while just now he can climb up on the straw stack.

Goderich Signal: The London Free Press tries to make a point against the King government by pointing out that the revenue is declining. Not long since the F. P. was berating the government because the revenue had increased, and so much more money had been taken out of the pockets of the people. The London organ is hard to please.

"Geers Day" at West Virginia State Fair was, by a sad coincidence, the last day for "Pop" Geers, the best known horseman of United States. To mark 50 years as a keen and fair reinsman, the day was set aside as "Geers Day," he having announced his intention of retiring. When he made that announcement, "Pop" Geers spoke with greater truth than he imagined.

NEEDS.

What this world needs (all say the same)
Is peace among the nations,
And while I don't dispute that claim
I'd add these observations:
It needs a brand of castor oil
That children cannot get ill,
It needs more men to till the soil
And less to soil the till,

It needs a pipe that will not clog,
A bed that can't grow saggy,
It needs to breed a fearless dog
And pants that won't get baggy;
It needs young men who understand
More about hoes than brassies,
It needs more men to plow the land
With plows instead of mashies.

It needs more womenfolk who think
It's best to squelch their wishes
For moving pictures when the sink
Is piled up high with dishes.
It needs more banter, joy and jest,
And yet I'll bet two seeds
That what it needs most is a rest
From hearing what it needs.

Some people travel through Europe to satisfy their thirst for knowledge. Others to satisfy their thirst.

Mr. Crabb says the popular songs his daughter sings are not popular songs in his house.

THE PROFESSIONAL HUMORIST.

"What's the matter?" asked the Professional Humorist, with a gleam in his eye. "Tell me about it."

"It's this way," Mr. Snivel said sadly. "There's a young man in the family paying attention to my wife. He dresses in the very height of fashion, but at heart he's a mean, cruel chap."

"A wolf in sheep's clothing, as it were," interposed the Professional Humorist.

"At first I paid no attention to it," Mr. Snivel went on, ignoring the interruption, "but lately I have fallen for my stenographer and am thinking of a divorce. Yet I shun the publicity. It is very perplexing."

"I see," mused the Professional Humorist, writing furiously on his memorandum pad. "You can't decide whether the dame is worth the scandal."

"Oh, I can't talk here," said Mr. Snivel, miserably. "I've taken a suite at the Tecumseh. Come up there and we'll talk."

The P. H. went on writing. "Go on," he said, dreamily. "I'll meet you in the suite by-and-by."

"Look here," exclaimed the unhappy Snivel. "Are you a sympathetic friend of mine or are you working up a vaudeville act?"

"I am a friend," said the Professional Humorist. "In fact, I am a friend in need; a friend in need of wise cracks. Need—let me see. Needle and pin, needle and pin, when a man marries he starts making gin. That isn't very good, is it? But there ought to be a wise crack in it somewhere. How about k-n-e-a-d? That ought to go somehow or other. I've got it. Kneading dough! Ha-ha-ha! Do you get it, Snivel? A friend in need. A friend kneading dough. Why is a friend in need like a baker? Because he kneas—"

At this point Mr. Snivel drew a revolver and shot the Professional Humorist, went home and killed his wife, set fire to an orphan asylum in the vicinity, and, on his way downtown to the police station, pushed a blind man under a passing street car.

Upon explaining to the jury what had prompted these acts, he was acquitted and given a gold medal.

Chiefs of the Grand Indian Council of Ontario decide that women can have no vote in the election of a chief.—News Note.

These sons of brave red men they meet, and sit in council now and then, decidin' that the women folks be not the equal of their men.

What lumps of courage it must take when livin' here in '24, to quietly man the votin' booth and on the women close the door. While Indian women cook the meals, and pick the corn and weed the oats, the white man stands upon a stump a-pleadin' for the women's votes.

It must be great to be a chief where laws like that are made to stick, and have no fear of gettin' whacked with rollin' pin or half a brick. To say unto the women folks, here, scamper off onto your job, you hoe the weeds from off the patch and drive the turkeys on the sod, and send the kids along to school and 'tend to things while I'm away, because we men are masters here, we're goin' to choose a chief today.

And if the women came around with humble gait and tremblin' pace, why all they'd get would be a chance to squint in through the keyhole place.

Come gather 'round, you pale-faced men, let's learn from these here Indian men the secret of their brave decree that we regain our ground again.

We'd like to talk a spell with you, an ancient and a noble tribe, come tell us many things to-day, how do you keep your ancient pride?

And do you use your wives real rough and take 'em by the hair and say, "Here woman, get to work on this, and feed the horses corn and hay, and don't you dare talk back or whine, the man who's runnin' you is me, and if you don't do what I say I'll spank you soundly 'cross my knee."

Come Mr. Indian, tell us now, we'll sit around you in a ring, we whites is dyin' for to know just how it is you work the thing.—ARK.

THE DOG.

Some time ago I published an article which was almost entirely another's opinion and in direct quotation, but which has aroused antagonism against myself.

The article was published because the opinions were so unusual and bizarre, but I must have reckoned without the limitations of the public for they seem to have leaped to the conclusion that the opinions were my own and not those of another.

As a matter of fact it was on the subject of "Dogs," and those who deal with that subject are up against a solid wall of sentiment which they will be unable to move.

I am not so far removed from my fellowmen that I am indifferent to what concerns them, and I know that that which lies nearest their hearts is not made of logic but of sentiment. All the reason in the world falls when it comes to a mother and her child, a lad and his lass and a man and his dog.

Dogs interest us mostly because they are a natural and simple expression of love and loyalty. Masterlinck says that the dog is the only animal in the world that loves a man. All the arguments which we bring forward fall to the ground before one honest look of his eyes.

And then a dog is the only animal that wags his tail as an expression of pleasure. Others may wag it for other reasons, but the dog does so only because he is happy.

Furthermore, a dog likes you for yourself alone. It makes no difference whether you are the president of the United States or a hobo, his affection is just as genuine and unstained.

A love of this kind is not to be despised. To think that the most amazing for a little of the common currency of attention, is amazing kindness. And no money, nor fame, nor position, would draw to itself that attachment which is shown by a dog to the meaneast of men.

Speaking of the meaneast of men, it has been said that no man is so low but that he can find a woman to love him, and it is certainly true that no man is so low that he cannot find a dog to follow him.

I do not blame my correspondents for bridling up, although they might have exercised a little more discrimination. Any attack upon the dog, who is the best friend of man, notwithstanding that his companionship is associated with certain dangers, will be resented. What are dangers compared with the privilege of such unmatched affection?

Peter Rabbit Meets Mrs. Gartersnake's Fifty Small Children

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Having satisfied his curiosity about the members of the Snake family who lay eggs and those who do not, Peter Rabbit forgot all about the matter. There were other things about which he was curious, and so he thought no more about Snakes.

One day late in the summer he happened to be over near the place where he had often seen Little Mr. and Mrs. Garter Snake. He wasn't thinking about them at the time. He had something else on his mind. Probably he wouldn't have thought of them at all had not a faint rustling in the leaves back of him caused him to turn his head. Such a sight as he saw! It is no wonder that his eyes looked as if they were trying to pop out of his head and that for a full minute he couldn't find his tongue. Then he rubbed his eyes.

"Great jumping ghost of my grandfather!" he cried when he did find his tongue. Then he rubbed his eyes.

He rubbed them a second time. There lay Mrs. Garter Snake, and crawling over her and around her were so many tiny Snakes that it seemed to Peter that he must be seeing double. If the blades of grass right around there had turned into baby Snakes there could hardly have been more of them. Anyway, that is how it looked to Peter.

There was a twinkle in the small black eyes of little Mrs. Garter Snake as she saw Peter's astonishment. She didn't wink or blink. You know she has no eyelids, so she can't wink or blink. If she could have winked I am sure she would have said, "Meet my family, Peter Rabbit."

"Are you asking me to believe that all those babies are yours?" cried Peter.

"Whether or not you believe they are all mine doesn't make the least difference in the world," retorted little Mrs. Garter Snake. "They are fifty of them."

"Pheew!" exclaimed Peter, "that is some family."

"Pheew!" exclaimed Peter, "that is some family."

"Pheew!" exclaimed Peter, "that is some family."

is some family! Do you always have as big a family as this?"

"No," replied Mrs. Garter Snake. "I always have a big family, but this is an extra big family."

"How ever do you keep track of them all?" Peter asked.

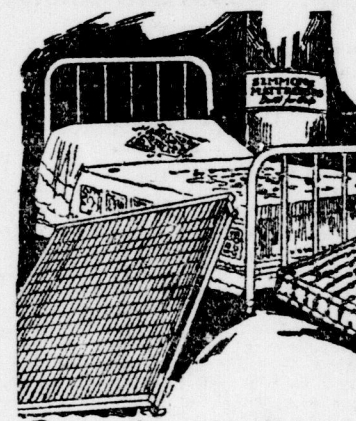

"I don't," replied little Mrs. Garter Snake. "I don't keep track of any of them. It would be asking too much of any mother to expect her to even try to keep track of fifty such lively youngsters as these. They'll take care of themselves. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if some of them have started off already to see the Great World."

While she was speaking Peter had seen two or three of the babies disappear in the grass. He watched for them to return, but they didn't. Mrs. Garter Snake didn't appear to be in the least worried. Presently she told Peter that she had an engagement and must be moving along. Peter watched her out of sight. Some of the babies went with her, but many didn't seem to even notice that she had gone. A week later when he met her, a single baby was with her. When he asked her about them she didn't even seem interested.

ONLY SIX HITS

Special to The Advertiser.
Hamilton, Sept. 4.—"Lefty" Achenbach has had a tough time all season trying to blow the Yankees out of the water. He has been the victim of the "lefty" batsmen, and the same thing held true today, although his offerings were treated with more than usual politeness by the Wetzels. "Lefty" hooked up in a hurling duel with Karl Adams for part of the game, but in three frames the former wandered from the straight and narrow path and in these innings the second, fourth and eighth, the locals made merry with his slants, getting their total runs in bunches. The final count was 9 to 1, but it was little indication of the play.

The Tecs fought hard to knock Adams for the well-known row of Mah Jong chips, but the lanky pitcher was on his best behavior and let the heavy men down with six scattered hits. Their one lone sliver was slipped across when the "Clippers" were looking in the ninth. In the other frames Adams was seldom in trouble, and when he promptly worked himself into a hole, he promptly unloaded his choicest shots to emerge scathless.

A bad throw started the scoring for the locals. In the second Nettie shot a hot drive toward third, and Sandquist's peg pulled the Tec manager off first. Schwab and Windle were easy outs, Nettie moving to third in the meantime. He tallied when Robertson uncorked a smash to center that was good for two sacks. Karl Adams then helped the cause by boosting one of Achenbach's slants over the center field wall. Nettie's homer in the fourth added another run, and the locals were helpless then until the eighth, when they tucked the game away nicely.

Two walks, two doubles, and two singles caused the damage. McGee and Schwab getting the free trips, and Gleich, Nettie, Windle and Adams accounting for the base knocks.

Baker's single to start the ninth, followed by an infield out and Nason's base smack, chased the Tecs' only counter across the plate.

LONDON CANNIES RIGHT AT TORONTO

Forest City Takes Major Honors at C. N. E. Dog Show.

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, Sept. 4.—Of all the cities represented at the big international dog show at the Canadian National Exhibition, London, Ontario, has carried away the biggest honors, and this in competition with practically every city on the American continent. In three of the most popular breeds, the best in show award went to London dogs. Prince of Wales, owned by C. S. Webber of London, created a stir that will long be remembered by every dog lover who attended the show, when he went from novice class right through to winner of the best bulldog, defeating one of the best fields ever assembled in a bulldog ring in Canada. The little London dog seemed to be a youngster, is declared by bulldog men from far and wide as the greatest bulldog in years. He is certainly all that fills the eye in head, bone, body and general conformation, a real bulldog, leaping with quality.

In Russian wolfhounds again the best of breed went to London, when E. M. Burke's Ch. Galant d'Orléans dog defeated a fast field. This is nothing new in the picture, who is yet to meet defeat in either the American or Canadian ring.

Lunan-Perry Entry Wins.
Boston territory is one of the largest in the show, were headed by that great campaigner, Ch. Globe League of Nations, owned by Messrs. Lunan and Perry of London. This is the second year that this good dog has won the high honor at the Canadian National, and his victory was a popular one, for never was the Globe champion put down in finer fettle. Despite the fact that the quality in male Bostonians surpassed any other show held here for years, the little London dog seemed to win with ease in the specials. Two champions from the United States had to fall to minor places in the class.

Whiskaway Victor.
Other winners from London included W. H. Stettin's good wheaten terrier Whiskaway, who won first in a good Canadian-bred class, and was second in the limit and in the star class. This dog needs a bit more time to take his place among the terriers. M. J. Burke's Boston terrier, female, was second in the limit and in the star class. C. Fitzgerald's pekingese female was second in the limit and in the star class. W. E. Cooper, with Piccadilly Victoria, was third in a large class of bulldogs.

All of the dogs mentioned in the list of winners have been entered for the London show in connection with the Western Fair, it is reported from the fair headquarters, so Londoners interested in dogs will have an opportunity to view these famous aristocrats next week.

George R. Buskard.
This youngster's display of tennis last week, when he won the junior championship of the city in straight sets, indicated the way in which the game is developing in London. The new champion got his training on private courts and at the London Tennis Club courts.

"POP" ABOUT TO QUIT, BUT FATE DECIDES

"Just One More Whirl, Boys," Said Beloved Horseman Before Last Race.

Associated Press Despatch.
Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 4.—Edward F. "Pop" Geers, 73-year-old veteran reinsman, drove his last race yesterday. He died "in harness." Today the body of the dean of light harness drivers, who was fatally injured yesterday when his mare, Miladi Guy, stumbled and fell while rounding a turn in a race at the West Virginia State Fair, was on its way to his well-loved home in Tennessee. There at Columbia burial will be made alongside the graves of his wife and son.

"Pop," as the aged driver was affectionately known to turf followers, had declared yesterday's race would be his last. He had said the same thing for the last several years—but this time he declared he meant it.

"I'm just giving the old game one more whirl, boys; and then it's back to Memphis to stay," he said to track officials prior to the race.

"I'm just giving the old game one appearance was just such as he might have wished. It was 'Geers' Day' at the fair, and 30,000 persons had turned out to see the doughty horseman in what he announced would be an attempt to lower the world's mile record for half-mile tracks behind his fast trotter, Peter Manning. But the exhibition was never run.

Just prior to the exhibition race, Geers entered the 2:14 trot with Miladi Guy. It was while rounding a turn that the horse stumbled, the sulky overturned and Geers was hurled to the ground. The noise of the cheering stands and the thud of the flying hoofs were the last he heard.

He died several hours later at a local hospital.

50,000 PAY TRIBUTE.

Associated Press Despatch.
Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 4.—At the scene of the last race a crowd of 50,000 people paid eloquent tribute to the memory of Edward F. (Pop) Geers, noted harness driver, and "grand old man of the trotting turf," who died yesterday at the West Virginia State Fair.

Just at the hour of 2 o'clock when Geers had been scheduled to drive the half-mile track record, the horse was led onto the track in front of the grandstand. It was draped in black, in memory of the man who had driven to victory many times.

A hush fell over the great throng as the horse was led slowly down the track, while a funeral dirge was being played.

Jack Dempsey To Marry Soon

Champion Announces Engagement to Screen Star.

Special to The Advertiser.
Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—Jack Dempsey, who rode the brakes to fame and fortune, has taken the count of ten in the first K. O. to be scored against him. "Battling Dan" Cupid is the name of the man who has won the heart of the champion. The engagement to marry Miss Estelle Taylor, star of the screen. The marriage will take place, Dempsey said, as soon as he goes through a romantic climax to do. The world's heavyweight champion today definitely announced his engagement to marry Miss Estelle Taylor, star of the screen. The marriage will take place, Dempsey said, as soon as he goes through a romantic climax to do. The engagement to the beautiful actress marks a romantic climax to a career which has been one of battles and triumphs. Without what some people call "family" money, without a college education, Jack Dempsey started as a tramp, stealing rides on the railroads from town to town, and wound up as the richest and best known pugilist in the world.

Dempsey made announcement of his engagement to Miss Taylor in Philadelphia today, after he had lunched with his fiancée, her grandmother and Jimmy Daugherty, fight promoter. He said: "Yes, it's true that Miss Taylor and I are to be married. No date has been set yet.

First, I'll have to get a couple of fights more out of my system and then I'll be ready to settle down to a domestic life. As Miss Taylor has some more picture work to do before we'll be free. And we've decided that we'll live in the east—probably."

Doubles Decided In Straight Sets

Mrs. Eric Rezniter and Olaf Rezniter became the mixed doubles champions yesterday by defeating Miss Olga Miller and Dr. J. B. Ross in two straight sets, 7-5 and 6-7.

The match was an upset in many ways, as it was expected that the defeated pair, both of whom were singles champions last year, would take the match.

Both men played steady tennis and it was to the more consistent work of Mrs. Rezniter that victory was due. This brought the city championships to a close, and a brand new set of champions except in the case of the ladies' doubles, where Miss Miller and Mrs. Rezniter successfully defended their last year's title.

The champions are: Ladies' singles—Miss Nina McFarlane; Mixed doubles—Mrs. E. Rezniter and Miss Miller.

Men's singles—Einar Rezniter; Men's doubles—Gubb and Harper; Junior singles—Gubb and Buskard.

RUGBY PLAYER HURT WHILE PRACTICING

Eddie Booth Breaks Leg—Is Montreal's First Hard Luck Man.

St. Peters Team Annexes C.A.A. Second Series Title

Defeats St. Martins 2-1 in Close Tilt at Sunshine Park.

PLAY-OFF SATURDAY
By defeating St. Martin's 2 to 1 in a tidy battle at Sunshine Park last night, the St. Peters team won the championship of the second series of the Holy Name League and the right to meet St. Marys, first series champions, for the league title.

Nopper, who hurried for the winners, stood out by holding the south-enders in the deciding run in the last inning on a drive that Ward juggled long enough to allow Pook to score from third.

Barney Clark worked for the loss, and St. Peters found him for seven hits.

The opening play-off game between St. Peters and St. Marys will get up way at Sunshine Saturday at 1 o'clock, and should provide some good baseball, as both outfits will have their strongest teams of the year on the field.

Nopper or Lewis will pitch for St. Peters, while Kelleher, Fournier or Fagan will be on the mound for St. Marys.

MONTREAL ELEVEN SHAPING WELL

Three Former M. A. A. Players To Aid Coach "Dud" Ross.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Sept. 4.—Dr. Dudley Ross, Joe O'Brien and Art Brophy are the three former M.A.A.A. rugby players who have consented to assist Coach Greenwood in his task of rounding the Montreal Big Four players in condition for the opening of the inter-provincial rugby season on Oct. 4, when the champion Hamilton Tigers will play here.

Last night "Dud" Ross was in uniform aiding in the work of developing the line players and it is unlikely that the former McGill captain will be seen in action for the first game or two at home, lending his experience to the squad for a start at least.

Last night's candidates in action indicate somewhat the possible strength that might be expected. They included: on the back division—Jeff Russell, Feargus, Bennett, Clary Booth, Art Evans, Patterson and Weir Wright; on the line, Capt. "Doc" Anderson, Dunc. Anderson, Smith and Moore; at outside, Froom and Ryan at middle and Starke, O'Brien, Hale and other hefty interlopers of last year for inside berths.

THE SEA HAWK

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

SYNOPSIS.
Sir Oliver Tressilian, renowned for his exploits on the Spanish Main, is betrothed to Rosamund Godolphin, but the marriage is opposed by Rosamund's brother, Peter. By repeated insults Peter finally provokes Oliver to threaten murder, and when Oliver's young half-brother, Lionel, kills Peter in an unwitnessed quarrel over a woman suspicion falls on Oliver. Even Rosamund believes him guilty and asks him to explain the trail of blood found leading from the body to his doorway. Feeling bound to protect Lionel, Oliver can do nothing but protest his innocence. But he goes to the justices and asks them to draw up a document attesting to the fact that he bears on his body no mark of recent wound; that therefore the trail of blood, obviously that of the murdered, injured in the encounter, was not his. This document he takes away to hold in readiness until needed.

A few weeks later Lionel learns from Jasper Leigh, a pirate sea captain, whose ship is lying in the harbor, that the queen has been peering Oliver to trial which they had previously refused to do—and he fears that should Oliver clear himself his own implications would follow. Oliver, meantime, goes to Rosamund to lay the proof of his innocence before her, but she refuses to see him. Lionel tells him of the petition to the queen.

The morning—a blustering day of late March—found him again at that ale-house at Penycumwick in the company of Jasper Leigh. A course had occurred to him, as the only course now possible. Last night his brother had muttered something of going to Killgrew with his proofs since Rosamund refused to receive him. Through Killgrew he would reach her, he had said, and he would yet see her on her knees craving his pardon for the wrong she had done him, for the cruelty she had shown him.

Lionel knew that Killgrew was absent from home just then, but he was expected to return by Easter, and to the justice of the law. Therefore he had little time in which to execute the project that had come into his mind. He cursed himself for best part of a night of it. He felt himself heartened to receive his loathsome business. Through his head hummed the words his brother had said when he first passed between them—“a desperate adventure ripe for anything. So the price be high enough you may buy him body and soul.”

Money enough to buy Jasper Leigh was ready to Lionel's hand, but it was Sir Oliver's money—the money that was placed at Lionel's disposal by his half-brother's open-handed bounty. And this money he had employed for a filthy, contemptible thing; he cursed the foul fiend that whispered such suggestions into his mind; he knew himself, despised himself and reviled himself until he came to swear to be strong and to go through with whatever might such baseness; the next moment that same resolve would set him shuddering again as he viewed the inevitable consequences of his deed.

Suddenly the captain set him a question, very softly, that fired the train and blew all his lingering self-resistance into shreds.

“You'll ha' borne my warning to Sir Oliver?” he asked, lowering his voice so as not to be overheard by the victor who was stirring beyond the thin wooden partition.
Master Lionel nodded, nervously fingering the jewel in his ear, his eyes shifting from their consideration of the seaman's coarse, weather-tanned and hairy countenance.
“I did,” he said. “But Sir Oliver is headstrong. He will not stir.”

BANANA MARMALADE.
Peel and cut into thin slices, ripe bananas—there should be three pounds of peeled bananas; place the bananas in an earthenware bowl, add the grated rind and strained juice of three lemons and three pounds of lump sugar; cover and let stand until the sugar is dissolved. Pour into a preserving kettle, bring slowly to a boil, stir for three or four times, then boil quickly until thick; pour into hot glasses and seal.

NOODLES AND HAM.
Cut four thin slices of raw ham into narrow strips, place in a frying pan and cook until crisp; add half a pound of noodles that have been boiled until tender in boiling salted water and fry until lightly browned. Sprinkle with finely chopped parsley and memento and serve.

VEAL CROQUETTES.
Run three cups of cooked veal through the fine knife of the meat chopper with one and a half cups of raw ham and place in a bowl; add the yolks of three hard-boiled eggs rubbed through a sieve, one tablespoonful of finely-chopped parsley, and seasoning of pepper; work to stiff paste with some of the veal gravy or melted butter; form into twelve croquettes, roll in flour, dip in beaten egg, roll in fine breadcrumbs and fry in deep, hot vegetable shortening; drain, set on a plate covered with cream sauce, sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve.

POTATO CAKES.
Form cold, mashed potatoes into round cakes half an inch thick, and in hot well-buttered frying pan and brown well on one side, turn and brown on the other side and serve on a hot plate.

FRUIT TAPIOCA.
Mix half a cupful of quick cooking tapioca with two and a half cups of water; place in a double boiler, add a one-inch piece of cinnamon and cook until clear, adding one teaspoonful of salt after it has cooked five minutes. Pour into a bowl, and two-thirds of a cupful of currant jelly, three tablespoonfuls of orange juice, four tablespoonfuls of seedless raisins, four tablespoonfuls of half a cupful of peeled and sliced ripe peaches, and enough sugar to

CUSTARD PIE.

Three-quarter cupful Borden's St. Charles milk, 1-1/4 cupfuls water, 3 eggs, 4-1/2 tablespoonfuls sugar, 1-4 teaspoonful salt, few drops nutmeg extract, grated nutmeg, pastry.
Line a deep pie plate with the pastry. Beat together the eggs, sugar, salt and nutmeg extract, then pour in the evaporated milk and water. Mix well, pour into the lined plate, grate over a little nutmeg. Bake in an oven quick at first to set the rim, decrease the heat afterwards, as egg and milk in combination need to be cooked at low temperature.

YOUNG OPTIMISTIC OVER DAWES PLAN

Agent-General of Reparations Payment Hopeful of Complete Success.

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, Sept. 4.—On his arrival in Berlin tonight to begin the work of executing the London reparations agreement and putting into effect the Dawes plan, Owen D. Young, temporary agent-general for reparations payments, expressed great satisfaction over the fact that S. Parker Gilbert, Jr., of New York, had been named permanent agent-general.

"We could find no better man to undertake this difficult and burdensome task," said Mr. Young.

Mr. Young declared that it was the spirit behind the Dawes plan, and not the plan itself, which was important for the world, as no plan could succeed if interested nations were not in a mood to make it work.

"Germany, I am happy to say," Mr. Young continued, "has taken its first step with a payment to the agent-general of 20,000,000 gold marks. This has been done with a promptness which sets a good example. I am sure the next step by the allies will be taken with equal promptness."

"Not the plan, but the spirit behind the plan, marks the first turning towards a better way from the long, sad road we have all been travelling," Mr. Young said. It was his purpose to have only a small organization of highly competent men to carry the Dawes plan into effect. He expressed a determination to do everything in his power to prevent a complicated or unwieldy organization.

Canadian Press Despatch.

IRISH NEED BRITISH RULE, SAYS PROF. R. M. SUGARE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Sept. 4.—Irish people even around Dublin would like to be back under British rule, according to Prof. R. M. Sugare, director of the school of commerce, McGill University, who has returned to Montreal after a stay in Ireland.

"If myself can't see any improvement under Free State rule," the professor said.

RYHME OF ROTUNDITY.

I don't eat much for breakfast.
Rising early kills my appetite.
So for breakfast I take very little—
Just a bite—
A grapefruit cut in two and fixed with mounds
Of sugar, in each cut partition,
And crimson cherries poised upon the halves
By my petition.
And then a dish or two of white
outmeal
Drowned in cream.
My milkman has the best of everything.
That's why I seem
To note the very small amount
I use of cream.
One dish of crispy flakes with sliced
bananas.
Will never make me fatter, and it nourishes.
And omelet—if you've ever tasted
Anna's—
That's one reason why my health flourishes.
A tiny slice of ham, pink, cured, I think.
Gives one's palate a delicious kink.
Oh, I forgot to mention beverages—
What one drinks
Is quite important, my physician thinks.
One tiny sip of cream, two cups of coffee,
And one large glass of foamy buttermilk.
So I describe
Plus two tall glasses of mineral water.
What I imbibe.
I don't eat much for breakfast.
Rising early kills my appetite.
So in the morning I take very little—
Just a bite.

Practice Makes Perfect.

Mary, aged seven, being refused permission to attend a funeral, explained to a caller thus:
"I really don't care. You see, I've never been to a funeral, and I'm not sure I'd know just how to act, and I'd rather practice on one of my own family first."

THE JINGLE-JANGLE COUNTER.

"We've sprung a leak," the captain cried.
"Then lettuce fly," the cook replied.

She loved little birds, that I knew,
Lucky for me, I'm a little cuckoo.

Flowers are pretty and sugar is sweet,
But a broken drum is hard to beat.

In Broad Daylight.

Stealthily I crept up behind her. She was reading a love letter—a letter from him! Entirely unconscious of my presence, her golden-hued bob gleaming in the sun's rays, she reverently turned to the next page. Still closer I crept, my hands working speedily. Suddenly, she turned half round behind her. Her large, violet eyes registered surprise—and fear. Before she could cry out my fingers were at her throat, squeezing, squeezing—
"Cut!" bawled the director. "That'll do for today."
The clicking of the two movie cameras stopped!

Pessimisms.

Start everything on a Friday, so that in case anything turns out badly it will not surprise you.

Of two evils, choose both.

If things ever look rosy, consult an oculist to see if you are not becoming color-blind.

Always get in the bathtub when you are alone in the house, for then someone is sure to ring the doorbell.

Thrilling.

For a half hour the men had fought it out, silently, but none the less grimly. Just when victory seemed within the grasp of one of his opponent would obtain the advantage. Both men were evenly matched, and the spectators were enjoying the contest immensely.

Suddenly one of the pair made a false move. Like a flash his opponent had him cornered. It was a tense moment; not a soul in the room stirred. Slowly, deliberately, the winning man reached out his right hand and—jammed his black knee over the cornered white one!

"I win!" he exulted.

And thus did the annual checkers championship of Hoxes Hollow change hands.

As every married man knows, "A word to the wives is sufficient."

With the Reducing Corset, Slimness May Be Actual and Not Just Apparent

The secret of the good figure lies in the Corset. And particularly so for the stout woman. While the Corset models the figure to slim, youthful lines, it may actually reduce! The Nemolastic Rubber Reducing Girdle creates for its wearer the straight figure which fashion demands.

Style A in the Nemolastic Reducing Girdle, as pictured, is built of a silk-covered rubber fabric, consisting of a layer of fine rubber, coated on both sides with a specially treated knitted silk, which readily absorbs the moisture.

No rubber touches the skin! Reduction of the figure is accomplished through the massage produced by constant contraction and expansion of the Nemolastic. Sold exclusively by Smallman & Ingram. Sizes 26 to 38. Price $12.50

Corset Department, Second Floor.
