LOOKING INTO THE MATTER

Proposal to Establish Tanning Factory in the Maple City. Receives Attention of Aldermen.

Represents the Hill, of Cleveland, Places his Company's Proposal Before the Civic Committee.

The Industrial committee, consisting of Mayor Sulman and aldermen Cowan, Fleming and Pritchard, with Messrs. G. P. Schofield and Robert Gray, met at 4.15 yesterday afternoon to hear the proposition of H. S. Hill, the representative of the Cleveland Tanning Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, to which allusion was made in yesterday's Planet.

Mr. Hill said the company would be willing to put $50,000 into the local concern and they would employ forty men all the year round, all of whom are men laborers.

All they asked was that the city put up the building at a cost of $15,000, which included the land. Their pay roll will be something over $15,000 and, as their plans materialize, they will employ probably 100 men. They pay the tanner $1,500 a year, the tanner $20 a week and the foreman of the front shop $12 per week.

The main building is to be of brick and 168 feet long by 96 feet wide, two stories high. The Japan shop, separate from the main building, is to be 86 feet by 32 feet by 32 feet. The company will furnish everything but the building. The machinery they will put in will cost $6,000. They will make tipping, furniture, and carriage leather at first, and probably, afterwards, shoe leather.

The proposition practically means the borrowing of $15,000 from the city, which they will pay back by the end of ten years. Mr. Hill said that the city took a risk of $15,000, while the company took a risk of $30,000. The proposition is a good one as there are only a couple of these factories in Canada and this is a good place for one. The matter was laid over to the next meeting.

FRENCH INFUSING LIFE INTO WAR OPERATIONS

Reinforcements Pouring Into Cape Colony—Boers Make Desperate, but Unsuccessful Attempt to Recapture Convoy—Kruger Urging Intervention.

London, June 20.—A despatch to the Morning Post from Brussels says Mr. Kruger has had several interviews with influential members of the Hague tribunal, with a view to inducing them to intervene between Great Britain and the Transvaal. The Financial News says Dr. Leyds, the European agent of the Transvaal, will come to London specially to represent Mr. Kruger at the pro-Boer meeting on Wednesday, at which Messrs. Sauer and Merriman, the peace emissaries from Cape Colony, will speak.

GEN. FRENCH IN COMMAND.
Cape Town, June 19.—Gen. French, who has been appointed to direct the operations in the Cape Colony, is infusing new life into the operations of the colonial forces. Reinforcements have recently been poured into the colony, and large, concerted movements are about to be executed.

CAPTURED THE CONVOY.
Sloden's Mounted Infantry, forming the advance guard of General Elliott's column, recently captured a Boer convoy. The burghers who were accompanying the convoy were speedily reformed from the main body, and made a determined attempt to recapture the convoy. Gen. Elliott immediately sent forward a portion of Delisle's Mounted Infantry, and the Boers were then driven off, after desperate fighting, in which the losses on both sides were considerable.

MAIL TRAIN WRECKED.
Cape Town, June 19.—An accident occurred to the Cape mail train at Bloemfontein yesterday, in which several of the passengers were injured.

PRO-BOER MEETING.
London, June 19.—Thousands of people began collecting outside of Queen's Hall two hours before the advertised time of the pro-Boer meeting held there to-night. When the doors were finally opened, the pressure of the surging mob was so great that many people fainted. In spite of the vigilance of the promoters of the meeting, many jingoes gained an entrance to the hall. Mr. Henry Labouchere presided.

During the meeting fully 10,000 jingoes who gathered outside Queen's Hall in Regent street, blocked traffic and necessitated relays of policemen to keep a semblance of order in the crowd. Several men mounted the parapet of the Langham Hotel, proposed resolutions against the pro-Boer agitation, which they declared to have been carried when the meeting in Queen's Hall terminated.

The usual speeches were made, and the usual resolutions were carried amid much commotion and excitement. The resolutions included an amendment in favor of the complete independence of the Boer republics, proposed by Baron Battersea, for the approval of the Labouchere party. The meeting ended with the singing of the Marseillaise.

THE PEACE OF EUROPE ASSURED FOR LONG YEARS

Memorable Speech by the Emperor William at the Close of the Lower Elbe Regatta—His Majesty's Reply to the Burgomaster's Toast.

Cuxhaven, June 19.—At the conclusion of the regatta held yesterday on the Lower Elbe, a dinner was given on board the Hamburg-American yacht Victoria-Luise, at which Emperor William made a speech. His Majesty, in reply to the Burgomaster's toast, said: "I express to all of you, comrades on the water, my delight that it has been granted me once more to participate with you in the races of the North German Regatta Club. His Majesty, in his brief speech, has just given us a picture of the progress made by our fatherland in the domain of aquatic sport. My whole task in future will be to assure you that the seeds now sown shall spring up in peace and security. Knowing the fact that we, as yet, have not a navy such as we should have, we have won for ourselves a place in the sunshine, and it will now be my task to take care this place remains in our undisputed possession, so that the sun's rays may shed fruitful influence over our trade and intercourse abroad and industry and agriculture at home, and also on the yachting on our waters, for our future lies on the water. The more Germans go on the water, whether in yacht races or on voyages across the ocean, or in the services of the German naval flag, the better it is for us, for once the German has learned to keep an eye on the far horizon the pettiness surrounding him in his daily life disappears. If a man wants to get broad and higher views, a Hanseatic tour is surely the most suitable place for him. We have drawn our conclusions from what Emperor William the Great and the great man whose monument we have just unveiled left us as their creation. Those conclusions consist in this, that we start at the point at which the old Hansa had to leave off, because it lacked the vivifying and protecting power of the Empire. May it, therefore, now be the task of my house, in profound peace, to promote and protect trade and commerce for long years to come. I behold in the events of which China has been the scene, and by which the present return of the troops marks the close, a guarantee that European peace is assured for long years to come for the services performed by the individual contingents have called forth an appreciation based on mutual esteem and comradeship, which can only contribute to the maintenance of peace. I trust that profiting by this peace, our Hansa will flourish and that our new Hansa will mark out a path for winning and retaining new trade outlets. As the supreme head of the Empire, I can only rejoice over every Hanseatic man who goes forth with far-seeing gaze, seeking new points where we can knock in nails on which to hang our armor." Emperor William concluded with a eulogy of the Director-General of the Hamburg-American Line (Herr Albert Ballin), who had "gone out as a bold adventurer to make peaceful conquests, whose fruits our grandchildren will reap."

PRETTY QUARREL HE EXPLAINS

Hamilton Liberal Candidates Sued by Liberal Organ for a Large Printing Bill.

Hamilton, Ont., June 19.—The outcome of the recent Dominion elections is a writ of summons issued by the Times Printing Co., against Senator A. T. Wood, and J. V. Teetzel, K. C., the two Liberal candidates for an account of $764.15 for printing in connection with the election of Nov. 7th, 1900. This is one of several similar suits threatened against some defendants.

Mr. Teetzel says when he consented to become a candidate it was with the distinct understanding that he was not to put up a dollar for election expenses, to which Mr. Wood concurred, saying he would foot the bill. The Senator now refuses to settle for the bills incurred in the election campaign, which amount to something under $3,500. Mr. Teetzel says that Mr. Wood contributed less than $700 toward the funds, while other members of the party contributed $2,000. To bring matters to a climax, Mr. Teetzel has told the creditors their only course in order to secure their money was to sue and have the courts settle the dispute.

Waterworks Supt. Jones Accounts for the Presence of the Diminutive Reptile in City Water.

"I see by last evening's Planet that Mr. Yake has been finding worms in his waterworks water," said Superintendent Jones, of the Waterworks Department, this morning. "I explained how this occurs in a letter to the papers a year ago, but I am perfectly willing to do so again.

"In all yard hydrants there is what is called a drip hole for draining the body of the hydrant so as to prevent freezing. This drip hole remains open to the surrounding earth when the hydrant is open, and it therefore follows that all worms and other things of a like nature have free access to the hydrant through the drip hole.

"When the tap is opened, the drip hole is closed and the worms are imprisoned in the pipe, the running water washes them out and the worms are discharged through the upper end of the hydrant.

"In all cases persons taking water from the yard hydrant should draw off a pail of water before using any of it for drinking purposes. If about a pailful of water is run off I will guarantee that the water will be perfectly free from all worms."

ABRAM NOW IN DETROIT

Napoleon Freedom, a Lumber Teamster, Talked With him on his way to the Windsor Ferry.

Said he had been Having Some Fun With the Officers—Abram Supplied the Brains for the Party.

Judge Houton stated this morning that in his opinion the three jailbreakers had appeared publicly at Fletcher merely to get the authorities after them, and then had doubled back to Prairie Siding and were probably now in Dover. The three were no doubt kicking up their heels and laughing at how they had fooled the authorities in their recent run to Comber. In the opinion of the judge the enquiries they were making about Tiltbury were merely a blind. The secret of the success of the three in eluding the pursuit of justice had rested solely on their doing the very thing that everyone expected they wouldn't do. Another reason for their being still at large was that they had never followed the same track any distance but were doubling back and taking different routes with a persistency well calculated to puzzle the best men. Their action much resembled that of the rabbit when the dogs are in pursuit. Only there was method in the manner in which the runaways were acting and their retreat was being laid out with much skill. Abram is credited for furnishing the brains for the clever manner in which the fugitives are making their way across the country.

Looking at the manner in which the escape of these men from justice has so far been carried out, everyone can well marvel at it.

At the very outset the three are all together where almost every person had expected that they would separate and each one shift for himself. They are evidently keeping together for the purpose of awing any county constable who attempts to take them single-handed.

Another feature of the campaign of escape, which is being so skillfully carried out, is the forethought which induced the three to secure a fourth man to travel with them. The value of his presence with the gang is indisputable. He is unknown and he can beg food for the others at the farm houses. The authorities should secure a good description of the fourth man and scatter it broadcast throughout the county.

The movements of the men since leaving the jail are pretty well known. After making a bluff at going away by Chatham Township, they crept back under the cover of darkness and lay quietly hid in Wilson's bush while the whole Western Province was being scoured for them. While lying in the bush they were well able to prepare their plan of action. They were forced from their place of concealment a little before they expected, owing to the row between husband and wife. Fearing what did happen, the three accompanied by a friend, left their shelter and made their way by the Sixth concession to an old deserted barn about three miles this side of Fletcher. They lay concealed here all day. Towards evening they started on their onward march, but intending to shortly change their direction they took no pains to conceal themselves but walked along openly. The posse got on their trail but the men with the astuteness of the fox doubled back and the posse passed them. The three were last seen heading towards the river, and when last heard from were making towards the Raleigh plains.

HELP IT ALONG.

Some time ago The Planet urgently suggested the desirability of holding a Chatham old boys reunion in this, the first year of the new century.

Citizens are now taking up the suggestion and it does them credit and, if carried out successfully, will result in the most pleasurable and profitable celebration ever noted in the civic annals.

The Maple City's sons are scattered far and near. They are all proving worthy citizens of their adopted homes, but they have lost none of the old love and loyalty to the old town of childhood. Bring them home again and bring them together. They will be the better of it. And so will we.

THE COUREURS DE BOIS.

There is no more interesting figure to be met with in the frontier districts of Canada than the descendants of the old Coureurs de Bois and voyageurs. The early history of Canada is replete with the adventures by flood and field of these picturesque and lawless men. The Government of the early French regime was so irksome to a large number of the young men, many of them members of the old noble families of France, forsook the settlements and disappeared in the forest. So fascinating was the wild life of license and adventure that they remained with their Indian friends, married the dusky maidens with whom they became associated, and to-day we have their descendants with us, scattered here and there over the whole north country, sometimes gathered into villages, where, if situated on the lakes, they fish, hunt, and trap during the season, and on their reservations raise some grain, hay, and potatoes. Some of the more industrious members of the village communities will go to the shanties in the winter, drive logs in the spring, and work in the sawmills during the summer, while their wives and children have a harvest during July and August picking berries. There are others of more nomadic habits, who dislike even the confinement to villages, and may be found in odd corners, singly, or at most two or three families together, where there is a spot of good land near lake or river, giving them easy communication with their canoes. Here they may be found growing a few potatoes, but for the most part fishing, hunting, acting as guides, or doing any odd jobs where the restraint is of short duration.

If the ideal of human life be to "get on," to accumulate a fortune of greater or less dimensions, then they are a distinct failure. But if the question be asked whether they or the ordinary laborer in a city get most content or enjoyment out of life the question is not so easily answered. The "half-breeds" gathered into villages are now enjoying educational advantages, and the younger members can nearly all read and write. But it can hardly be ascertained that even the nomadic half-breed is without education. He may not be able to read or write, but he has a thorough knowledge of woodcraft. He knows the habit and manner of life of all the wild creatures, can imitate their calls, and trap even the most cunning of them. As a rule he can speak three languages fairly well, and let anyone even well up in the superficialities of modern education speaking only one language, measure himself with this child of the forest, let him camp out with him for a time, notice his splendid eyesight and quick hearing, his reading of signs quite unintelligible to his companion, the facility with which he speaks Indian, French and English, and he will pause before venturing to assume much superiority.

On the other hand this child of the forest has neither the morning nor the evening paper. He does not read the news from all over the world. The dime novel is not for him. But neither has he city taxes to pay. House rent and fuel do not trouble him. Neither is he concerned about gas or water rates—they are free. His anxieties are not to be compared with those of the city worker who has to obey the bell or steam whistle, labor often in a murky atmosphere, where dust enters his lungs with every breath he draws; with whom it is a continual struggle to raise his family and keep out of debt. The half-breed does not work continuously. The grind of daily toil is not for him. He has no nervous trouble and no dyspepsia. He may be called lazy, for during the year he manages to get a good deal of leisure time, but he sees no necessity for working for more than what he needs, and is not afflicted with the modern disease of "money making."

We could hardly urge this man, with the freedom of the woods and river, to give up his life, which he enjoys, and take a job in one of our city factories, telling him that more real happiness and contentment would be his by this change of life. It is for hedonists to consider if the question were open what choice they would make.

A NEW THEORY OF SHAKESPEARE.

Professor Goldwin Smith is apparently developing a new theory of the Shakespearian historical plays. He objects to our taking a moral from Henry V. without proceeding to read the entire series of Henry plays and finding out "the end of jingoism, the conquest of iniquity ignominiously lost, the aims of the English people perverted, their character inoculated with violence and rapine, a reign of faction and political murder." All these things, according to Professor Goldwin Smith, are to be found in Henry VI., as the natural result of Henry V., and by presumption all these things will be found in the British Empire of 1910 as a consequence of the Boer War of 1900. That is as it may be, but Professor Goldwin Smith's view requires the treatment of the historical plays as a kind of trilogy, no part of it complete in itself, and there is nothing in Shakespeare to warrant such an assumption. Who can read Henry V. and feel that the greatest and most English of English writers is there portraying what Mr. Goldwin Smith calls the "feelings of the English people intoxicated with a momentary success of an unrighteous and insane enterprise"? Who, for that matter, can read Henry V. and Henry VI., and derive the same impression unless he has entered upon the personal with a fixed determination to find a parable for his own political views upon the events of the dawning 20th century?

SEND IT BACK.

Once again we notice the American press putting up its periodical wall about the appearance of Canadian silver in the United States. The New York Tribune wants to know whether there is any way of relief except the annexation of Canada and the abolition of Canadian mintage. There are of course several other ways of relief, but it would spoil the Tribune's wall to have stopped to consider them. The Tribune man objects to Canadian quarters because he cannot pass them on street cars, and because his bartender will not let him have drinks on the strength of them. If the Canadian quarter is not to be generally accepted in the United States, the best thing to do is not to accept it at all, and as a newspaper man he should certainly know better than to let himself get "stuck" with what he seems to think a bogus coinage. Another and much simpler way out of the matter is for the United States to recognize that our coinage is as good as and rather better than theirs, that a good deal of it must inevitably get into circulation in the land of plugged nickels, and that it might just as well be taken for what it is worth. It represents the fractional part of a gold standard currency, and nobody has ever ventured to suggest that it should represent anything else. It has never been in danger of being worth 60c on the dollar, as American silver has all too frequently, and on the whole it is an eminently desirable coinage. The American coinage now passes practically current in this country, and very little inconvenience is experienced in consequence. It is a strange thing that a nation which is so profoundly anxious to do our business and entertain us at its shows and tin pan exhibitions should object to taking our money.

Crown Attorney Douglas, and a number of other persons, in the court at Chatham on Thursday evening. The professional fighting powers of the world have spent the least upon war during the nineteenth century. It is not France, or Germany, or Russia that has run up the largest "butcher's bill," but the peaceful United States and the aggressive Britain, which have spent millions of dollars more than any other country. Perhaps the armed nations appreciate the fact that if peace is costly, war is even more expensive.

OUVRY.

Work on the Simpson bridge has been suspended by order of the commissioner, owing to the bursting in of five of the huge pipes, the pressure of earth on it proved too great. It is a faulty piece of engineering and will be a great expense to the ratepayers, as nothing less than an iron bridge now will have to be put up. Even though the tiling did stand the grade is too steep to stand of itself and in a short time would wash away. The council should get to work and build a temporary bridge as the old one is only held up by the spikes in the plank and a few flimsy timbers that is apt to give away at any time.
Dr. Elliott and wife, of Leamington, were the guests of M. Simpson. Rev. J. C. Reid, of Merion, his worthy pastor, leaves for Comber, near Galt, of labor. We are sorry to hear of his sudden change. He is certainly a fine speaker and worthy of a large city pulpit.

NORTH BUXTON.

Miss E. Patterson, teacher in the Public school here, has decided not to hold a school picnic this season, as she has formerly done. Instead she will have an ice cream social on the 28th, being the last day of school before vacation. The social is to be held on the school grounds, when there will be a fine spread and an excellent program rendered, mostly by foreign talent. Miss Patterson's contacts and friends have always aroused much interest and attracted exceedingly large crowds, who have never been stinted in their praise of her efforts. After this social she expects to go to California and would like to see all of her friends at this social. The committee are working hard to make this a memorial concert. Come one and all and be delighted with a fine program.
Mrs. M. Freeman has returned from Jackson, Mich., where she has been to visit a sick brother that she has not seen for the space of twenty years. Business compelled her to return, but she left him at death's door.
Mrs. A. Johnson, of South Buxton, who has been in the Hospital, first in Detroit then in Ann Arbor, undergoing operations, has recovered sufficiently to return home. She has again joined the family circle.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

All correspondents of The Planet, when forwarding their budgets of news items to this journal, will please always attach their signatures thereto, not for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. With a large staff of correspondents, such as The Planet possesses, it is easy for outsiders to send in "fake" items, for which the blame is often unfairly attached to the correspondent. The only effectual way to prevent this is for correspondents to sign their names to their "copy," and unless this is done The Planet must find it necessary to reject many of the items. Correspondents will confer a favor by henceforth adopting this rule. — Ed. Planet.

CROTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snary spent Sunday afternoon at D. M. Healey's. There is a great demand for cattle just now.
Jarvis Paul raised a barn last week for W. Chapple, our blacksmith.
Mrs. Bilton Snary, Sr., is still poorly.
In general the crops are fair in this vicinity.
Wm. Smith, of Dawn, is working some of his father's land here.
Bert Thompson was at Dawn Mills Sunday.
John Cragg was married last week.
D. Corbet, of Florence, passed through here Sunday with a young minister to hold services at Grove Mills schoolhouse.
C. Mackintosh has started at his contract of township work.
Henry and Nellie Paul visited in Dover last Sunday.
Harvey McDonald is putting up some new fence.
A large number of farmers in this vicinity are plowing up their wheat.
A party was given at T. H. Cragg's recently.
Our merchant reports business as being fair.
Miss Bigham visited at Dresden on Sunday last.

BEAR LINE.

The crops are looking very fair in this section, but some of the farmers are saying that they believe that most of their wheat is turning to chaff.
Sid Hind is improving his farm by building a piece of Excelsior fence.
We are glad to see Joe McCarthy among us again after being in the hospital for several weeks.

IT MAKES WOMEN HAPPY.

"I had been a sufferer for many years from nervousness with all its symptoms and complications," writes Mrs. O. N. Fisher, of 1861 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. "I was constantly going to see a physician or purchasing medicine. My husband at last induced me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After taking one bottle and following your advice I was so encouraged that I took five more bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' I continued taking it and felt that I was improving faster than at first. I am not now cross and irritable, and I have a good color in my face; have also gained ten pounds in weight and one thousand pounds of comfort, for I am a new woman once more, and your advice and your 'Favorite Prescription' is the cause of it."

iting at Mrs. Brown's, of the 11th Con., for a few days.
The Ladies Aid did the quilting of their famous quilt at Mrs. Elam Hinds.
Geo. C. Bishop is advocating a brass band.
Mrs. H. Bishop and daughter are spending a few weeks at Mr. Chaplin's of this place.

Our picnic here was a great success. The weather was all that could be desired, although very warm and with the exception of a little wrangling which was indulged in by some of our local sports and some that were not our local sports, which sport was the only thing to leave a dark spot in the history of our picnic. Your writer here wishes to announce to the public that this is the first trouble of that nature that we have ever suffered in this part, and our boys have paid the penalty dear enough. Hoping that those people that have talked so freely about the affair will see their folly of throwing any reflection on this section for two or three doings, and also Geo. C. Bishop hears it reported around that he sold strong drink at his stand, which he positively denies, and defies the party to come and tell him that he done such a thing. One man had his face to come and order cream soda and pull from his pocket a bottle of whiskey and poured some in the glass.
The firm of Tschirhard & Eberle very kindly furnished one of their beautiful organs for the day, and I am sure made many friends in this section. Chatham that donated prizes were Geo. Meynell, Coltart & Wilson, Tilt, Westman Bros., Central Drug Store and many others that your writer is not acquainted with.
The program, which was one of the best ever furnished in this section, consisting of the following speakers and singers: Mayor Sulman, Ald. Cowan, P. F. Quinn, Mr. Tompkins, Rev. P. M. Weldon and Mr. Weldon. Mr. Weldon certainly held the reputation of being an excellent entertainer and gave some of his songs, which was enjoyed by all, and I am sure that our people will give Frank a hearty welcome when ever he comes among us. Miss May Armstrong also sang two selections, which were well received, and Miss E. Adams gave some very appropriate recitations and in other ways helped with the day's sport. One thing that your writer was unable to give the donor any credit for on that day was in the way of a cheque for $25 from T. L. Pardo, M. P. P., to help in the erection of our new church, he being unable to be present on account of business.
Mr. Clarke, our pastor, occupied the chair in a very clear and upright way. We feel very much

DARRELL.

A number of our young people attended the picnic at Mitchell's Bay on Friday, 31st, and spent a very enjoyable day. Our football team played against the Mitchell's Bay team and won by a score of 8 to 1.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Sales, of Merion, paid a short visit to Mrs. Jinks on Friday, returning Saturday, June 1st. The singing class under Professor Forsythe's tuition promises to be a success.

Miss Ruby Johnston, of Chatham, is visiting her friend, Miss V. French. Mr. Isaac Flater is now occupying the house lately vacated by Mr. S. Holmes, the latter having removed to the farm owned by Mr. T. Grant, of Chatham, of the 4th Con.
Lester Gregory and B. Agar wheeled out to Dover Centre to visit Dr. Agar on Sunday.

The football team tried a game with Canada's Own, of Kent Bridge, last Saturday evening, with a score of 1 to 0, in favor of Darrell Red Caps.

A horse belonging to Mr. Gregory had the misfortune to dislocate its shoulder last Saturday.

There was no service in the church Sunday, 9th inst., owing to Mr. Walker being at the conference.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. Agar is recovering from the effects of her accident.

The picnic in Dover on the 18th inst., was well patronized by our Darrell friends.

BIG TRAVELING ZOO.

Unrivalled Collection of Wild Animals With Ringling Bros.' Circus.

Ringling Brothers' menagerie, which will be seen with this famous big show when it exhibits Chatham next Wednesday, June 20th, is the largest and most complete zoological collection in the world. The display is complete in every detail. It contains more specimens of rare wild beasts than all the other circuses and zoological gardens in America combined, including the only giraffe known to exist. The magnitude of the collection is sufficiently indicated when the statement is made that it embraces thirty elephants, ranging from the tiniest of baby elephants to a herd of the largest pachyderms in the world, together with scores of other led animals and a hundred and one cages of rare and costly wild beasts. The method of displaying these animals is admirable. The great menagerie pavilion is arranged like a vast zoological garden. In the centre spaces are displayed the elephants, the great herd of camels, the curious Philippine water buffaloes, the dwarf sacred cat, the sixty Shetland ponies and other led animals. The wild animal dens, which are handsomely carved and gorgeously decorated, line the walls, with a broad esplanade between them. A successful effort has been made to exhibit the animals in such a way as to illustrate their life in a natural state. The aquaria in which the hippopotami, seals and other water-dwelling animals are exhibited, is supplied with constantly flowing water. The aviary comprises nearly a score of handsome, gold-illuminated cages, filled with the gold-plumed birds of every land.

The children's menagerie, with its tiny cages of animals, has the largest and most varied collection of monkeys, apes, chimpanzees and other simians ever placed on exhibition for the pleasure and profit of the little folks. Among the hundreds of other curious animals there are many rarely seen in captivity. There is a ferocious bi-horned rhinoceros, a fine specimen of the gnu, or horned horse; monster white Polar bears; a den of black tigers; several specimens of the Royal Bengal tiger, scores of lions, zebras, kangaroos, and many other wild animals, and a magnificent display of mammoth desert ostriches. An hour spent in Ringling Bros' menagerie is a fitting introduction to the performance in the vast hippodrome pavilion. The circus, like the menagerie, is bigger and better than ever this year, and scores of new scenic features have been secured for the present season; thirty riders, sixty acrobats, an equal number of serialists, forty clowns and a great company of other high-class specialists contribute to a magnificent three-ring circus performance, which is thrillingly concluded with an all-new Roman hippodrome, presented upon an unequalled scale of grandeur and completeness.

THE SINGER.

God shaped my lips for making song,
Fashioned my heart to harbor pain,
And sent life's message, clear and strong,
To beat upon my brain;

Gave me my birth of that strange race
Wherefrom his ancient prophets sprung,
And in my accents hid a trace
As of an elder tongue;

Taught me to touch the chord aright
That stirs the fountain head of tears,
And set the seal upon my sight,
Wherefrom he brands his seers.

A braver lot shall scarce befall,
Or yet more cruel, nor more fair;
All joy to taste, to suffer all;
Pangs whereunto man is heir;

To have no lot apart from this,
No happiness, no love, no wrong;
But soul and body shaped for his Stringed instrument of song!

—Elizabeth C. Cardozo.

Part with it as with money, sparing;
No moment, but in purchase of its worth."

There Comes a Time.....

In almost everyone's life when the question of eyesight has to be considered. There are several unmistakable symptoms of eye weakness. Nearly everybody heeds these warnings sooner or later—few, very few, heed them soon enough.

The proper time is on the first appearance of the first symptom—the first aching, burning sensation, when reading by lamplight first becomes unpleasant—when frequent rests are necessary—and the letters blur and run together.

The longer this condition lasts the more difficult it will be to cure. So call as soon as you can. Examination always free.

MANY PRETTY JUNE BRIDES

Cupid has Been Working Much Heart Havoc Lately in This Vicinity

Three Weddings Were Solemnized in the Maple City Yesterday—There are More to Follow.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons, St. George street, when their daughter, Miss Jessie, was married to W. J. Kenny, of this city.

The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Robert McCosh, was witnessed by over 45 couples. The house was very beautifully decorated with palms, flowers, and ferns. The lawn was also decorated. The bride looked charming as she entered the room on the arm of her father. She was dressed in white silk and carried white roses. Her maid, Miss Lena Ward, was also very becomingly robed in white, and carried red roses. George Park assisted the groom during the ceremony.

After the marriage the guests sat down to a very sumptuous repast. The happy young couple left on the 8.50 Wabash for Buffalo, where they will visit the Pan-American. They will make a tour through Europe before they return home. They will reside on Lansdowne avenue.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kenny are well known in the Maple City. Mr. Kenny being the proprietor of a prosperous book and stationery business. Their many friends in the city wish them every success through life.

JOHNS—OVERHOLT.

Miss Alice Beatrice Johns, of Harwich, and H. L. Overholt, of Wheatley, were united in the bonds of matrimony, at the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johns, Harwich, on Wednesday, June 19.

The bridesmaid was Miss Ethel Johns, and the groomsmen Mr. Wright, of Wheatley. The maid of honor was Norma Shillington. Rev. B. Blatchford performed the ceremony. The bride was becomingly attired in white, the bridesmaid in blue, and the maid of honor in pink. The ceremony was performed on the lawn, under an arch decorated with flowers.

Besides a large number of friends there was in attendance, Miss Addie Johns, Detroit, Mrs. Kennedy, Minneapolis, Mrs. Delahay, South Superior; Miss Johns, Wheatley, sisters of the bride; Miss Maud Flater, Bay City, niece of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. Barker, Thamesville.

The young couple took the 4.23 train for Detroit, where they take the boat for Cleveland and Buffalo. Their future home will be on Talbot street, Wheatley.

KIME—HORNE.

John Kime, clerk at H. Malcolmson's, and Margaret A. Horne, eldest daughter of Samuel Horne, Delaware avenue, were married by Rev. R. Sims, at 6.30 last evening, under an arch of orange blossoms.

The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of Battice and carried white roses. The bridesmaid Miss Emily Horne, sister of the bride, wore heliotrope, and carried red carnations. Will Kime, brother of the groom was best man.

After the ceremony some 60 guests partook of a sumptuous dinner.

The young couple were the recipients of many handsome presents. They will take up their residence on Selkirk street.

THE PROBLEM IS SOLVED

Commissioner Bastedo Believes
the St. Clair Fishermen Successfully Handle
Carp Commercially.

An Enjoyable Trip Down the River—
Mr. Bastedo got Here After all.

S. T. Bastedo, fishery commissioner for Ontario, inspected the carp fishing at Lake St. Clair yesterday and was much impressed with the manner in which the Lake St. Clair fishermen handle carp. There the carp are caught during May and June and placed in large ponds. They are left in these ponds all summer and when in December carp are in demand, they are taken and sold. Mr. Bastedo is convinced that the Lake St. Clair fishermen have solved the question of how to successfully handle carp commercially. Mr. Bastedo at first telegraphed that he would be unable to go to Lake St. Clair with the party as per arrangements, but later telegraphed that he would leave Toronto in the morning on the express that reaches Chatham at 12.42. Instructions were wired Mr. Bastedo to go to Jeanette's Creek and permission was secured for the express to stop there. Owing to the small size, Mr. Bastedo's electric vapor launch, the party was of necessity limited but a good time was enjoyed. The launch left here about eight o'clock with T. L. Pardo, M. P. P., Col. Leys, M. P. P., Geo. Stephens, M. P. P., W. W. Scarce, John A. Morton, Chas. Hadley, N. H. Stevens, Dr. Fleming, R. J. Gardiner, John E. Stephens, Fishery Overseer Sam Perrin, W. A. Thrasher, and A. T. Macdonald as passengers. At Jeanette's Creek they were met by Mr.

Owing to Mr. Bastedo not being able to get here sooner, the original program was changed and instead of on the lawn at St. Luke's club as at first intended.

After dinner, the party ran down the Lake in the launch to near Stoney Point and the carp fishing grounds and the ponds were inspected by Mr. Bastedo.

This was the first trip of Col. Leys and several of the party down the river by boat and they were in raptures over the beautiful scenery along the river.

The party returned last evening and at noon to-day Mr. Bastedo left for Walkerville, where he will be the guest of the Walker's on their yacht, the Pastime, for a few days. Pelee Island and other points of interest will be visited.

WILL GREET OUR OLD BOYS

The Prospect of the Chathamites Big Reunion Taken up by Energetic Citizens.

The Co-operation of Lodges and Merchants Being Secured—Public Meeting to be Called.

"I think that it is altogether probable," said Ab. Merrill to The Planet this morning, "that we will have an Old Boys' Reunion in Chatham this year."

Mr. Merrill, Ald. Pritchard, Major Reed, J. A. Thompson, F. F. Quinn and A. McDonald are the originators of the project. The matter was spoken of between the above named gentlemen on Tuesday evening, and since then they have been negotiating with the merchants along King street with a view of obtaining their views on the scheme.

"What the merchants of the city should do," said Mr. Merrill, "is to call a public meeting and appoint a secretary who could correspond with the different societies and lodges in the city and get their co-operation. Each of these organizations could then appoint a secretary to wait upon the City Council and persuade that body to push the matter through."

"There is no doubt," continued Mr. Merrill, "that the scheme will more than pay for itself. The idea is to get all the merchants of the city interested. There will be no loss to them financially, as their places of business will be open all the time. It is intended to have the celebration last for three days. Banquets and dinners will be given each night all over the city, and sports and games will be given during the day. Cheap rates will be given on all railroads coming into Chatham."

"We might as well have these celebrations every year as London and Brantford. Last year special trains ran through here on the G. T. R., C. P. R. and Wabash loaded with people en route to the Old Boys' Reunion at London. Last year at Brantford over 1,800 people sat down at one time at banquet given in the Armory. Why can't we have these celebrations. We ought to be able to live the place up and bring people home and have a pleasant time."

It is likely that a meeting of merchants will be called shortly.

FLOWERS AND THEIR MISSION.

The Flower Mission, held in the W. C. T. U. rooms on Thursday, June 13, was one of the most pleasant annual meetings of this kind. Two excellent readings by Mrs. Davey and Miss Redick, on Flowers and their Mission, in helping to reclaim the wayward and restore courage to the sick and despondent.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers, which found their way to the homes of the sick. Some fifteen bouquets were sent.

In Original Crocks

Is the way we send out our butter. It spoils both flavor and quality to handle butter two or three times, especially in hot weather. We give the crocks to those we know make good butter; we take no chances on this. The butter must be good or we do not take it.

If you give us your butter order, we will look after it carefully and promptly.

The commencement exercises of the Ursuline Academy will be held to-morrow (Friday) afternoon, commencing at 4.30. No invitations have been issued, but all will be welcome. Admission 25 cents. Tickets can be obtained at the Central Drug Store, at the Academy. A good program has been prepared. 1t.

Why Pounds Are "Sterling."
Business men are always talking about so many pounds sterling; yet probably not 1 per cent. of them are aware of the origin of the term. It dates back to the time of Richard Coeur de Lion when money coined in the eastern part of Germany came into special request in this country on account of its purity, and was called "Easterling money," because in those days all the inhabitants of those parts were called Easterlings. In the course of time some of these Germans were brought to London, and the pieces they minted soon became known as "sterling," from the word Easterling—London Express.

The Mark of Genius.
A stage-struck aspirant approached an actor-manager lately.
"Well," asked the gent of the fur-lined coat, "what 'er your qualifications?"
"Oh," replied the youth, meditatively, "I don't know, quite; but," he added quickly, "I can go a long time without food."

The manager saw that the youth had the root of the matter in him, and he was engaged.

Use of Lime on Acid Soils.
On acid soils, beets, spinach, lettuce, muskmelons and some other plants wholly fail or make a poor growth. The use of lime will correct the acidity and insure a good crop.

It takes falsehood to get at the bottom of truth.

Perry, M. Reeves, G. Dyer, Spare men L. Tiekner, N. Sparks, A. Tanney, F. Bounsaill.

Cream of Peanut Soup.
To make cream of peanut soup put half a pint of peanut butter into a quart of milk; add half a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, a tablespoonful of grated onion, a bay leaf, a saltspoonful of celery seed, or a little chopped celery tops. Cook this in a double boiler for ten minutes. Moisten one tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little cold milk, and let it boil hot, and stir until smooth and thick. Strain through a fine sieve and serve with squares of toasted whole wheat bread. Nuts are sufficiently oily without adding butter. Any nut or mixture of nuts may be used in the same manner.—Ladies' Home Journal.

SEEN IN WINDSOR.
This morning John Piggett telephoned from Windsor the information that Napoleon Freedom, a teamster in his lumber mills there, met Abram in Windsor last night.

Freedom knew Abram and accosted him. The escaped convict was very cordial and walked with him down the streets of Windsor.

Abram was in high spirits. He told the teamster of the escape of himself and his pals from the Chatham jail and said he had since been having lots of fun with the officers in pursuit.

Freedom knew Abram and accosted him. The escaped convict was very cordial and walked with him down the streets of Windsor.

Abram said that after the officers "got next" to their whereabouts he counselled separation and struck off by himself. He was going right over to Detroit, he said, by the car ferry.

Freedom did not know there was any reward offered for the recapture and left Abram at the car docks.

When he told Mr. Piggett of his meeting, however, that gentleman immediately notified Provincial Detective Mahoney.

But by this time the man had crossed the river and disappeared in Detroit.

PLANET'S GUEST

Remarkable Insect Pays an Unexpected Visit to The Great Family Journal.

"There's no good talking those circus people are really enterprising," said Wm. Hartwick, of The Planet Book Bindery department, as he invaded the editorial sanctum this afternoon, carrying a mysterious looking package in his hands.

"How's that?"
"Why, sending their freaks on ahead. Now this peculiar looking gentleman floated in through the open window just now and settled himself on the ruling machine. He seemed inclined to be cordial so I undertook to entertain him."

And Mr. Hartwick exhibited what appeared to be rather a phenomenal specimen of the insect species.

The whole staff carefully examined it and as carefully kept away from it. It was fashioned on the wasp principle with black and yellow body and two finely fashioned fangs stood forth from the front of its head.

From the tip of the front claws to the end of the body it measured exactly 7 3/4 inches.

"What is it?" finally queried one of the staff.

Mr. Hartwick looked agrieved. "I thought I explained," he said, "that it was the advance agent for the circus."

But the staff were not satisfied and this evening Mr. Hartwick will take his find to R. C. Burt for identification.

 TENCY or Loss of Sexual Power, and do you contemplate MARRIAGE? Do you feel safe in taking this step? You can't afford to take any risk. Like father, like son. We have a never fail-and positively bring back Lost Power.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits a rosy sediment will often be found, and sometimes particles of albumen, and color of a thin milk. These signs are changing to a dark, torpid appearance.
 There are men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. The doctor will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and healthy restora-

BLOOD POISON

If you ever contracted any blood disease you are never cured unless the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. At times you see alarming symptoms, but live in hopes no serious results will follow. Have you any of the following symptoms? Sore Throat, Ulcers on the Tongue or in the Mouth, Hair Falling Out, Aching Pains, Itchiness of the Skin, Sores or Blisters on the Body, Eyes Red and Smart, Dyspeptic Stomach, Sexual Weakness—indications of the second stage. Don't trust to luck. Don't ruin your system with the old foggy treatment, mercury and potash—which only suppresses the symptoms for a time, only to break out again, when happy in domestic life. Don't let quacks experiment on you.

AN HUMBLE HERO

BY THOMAS
 P. MONTFORT

Copyright 1901, by Thomas P. Montfort

"No. Say, I'm tired of all this fooling, and I'm just going to dismount and spend the night with you, anyhow."

"Why, shorely, Lord a-massy, man, you mought jest as well 'a' done that long ago 'stead of settin' thar chewin'
 the rag all this time."

"Why didn't you tell me long ago that I might stop?"

"I was aimin' to, but, as I said while ago, my mind got to rummin' on somethin else, an I forgot it. Wonder if them fellers are 'lowin' to fad silver in these parts?"

"No. Where shall I put my horse?"

"Jest leave him thar at the fence.
 I'll tote him to the stable directly.
 Reckon if them fellers hain't calculatin' to find gold nor silver 'bout yere they must be a-figgerin' on findin' somethin' else."

"Naturally."

"Guess mebbe it moughtn't be iron,
 now, mought it?"

In spite of the fact that he was tired, hungry and annoyed, Melvin burst in'o a roar of laughter. Turner's questioning was so persistent and ridiculous that it had become amusing. Presently Melvin said:

"Now, Mr. Turner, I am positively not going to answer another question until I have had supper, so you need not put yourself to the trouble of asking me another thing. Do you understand?"

"To be shore I do, an you'll find I ain't the man to go on askin' a feller questions when I see he don't want to be bothered with 'em. Nary time I ain't. But, by gavy, stranger, it puzzles me to figger out what kind of mineral them men are countin' on findin' yere—it does shore! Reckon they can't be spectin' to find copper nor lead, can they?"

Melvin rushed into the house, leaving Turner outside to put away the horse and ponder all alone the questions that, though they did not affect him in the least, interested him deeply.

And as Turner pondered an idea came to him, for he lacked a great deal of being as much of a fool as he seemed.
 He stopped on his way to the stable with the horse and, nodding his head knowingly, muttered to himself these words:

"Come down yere to smell roun' for mineral! Powerful likely story, that is, when thar ain't as much mineral as the hull blame section as a feller could put in a flea's ear. Come down yere for some rich fellers jest to loaf about an see what he can scent in the ground!
 That thar's all moughty reasonable,
 an of course I believe it—in a pig's eye! You are a slick un, young feller, but you ain't quite slick enough to slide down your Uncle Jonathan. Turner's throat, not quite. Your Uncle Jonathan may'n't be much to look at,
 but he lacks a hull passel of bein' a durned idiot asyllum, with no more sense than a gatepost, an his opinion is that you are a-lyin an that thar's a good deal back of you that you hain't wantin' knowed."

CHAPTER VI.

SIM SURPRISES HIS NEIGHBORS.

Sim Banks did not go home at once, but passed on down the street in the direction of Hicks' store. It had been his custom to go there every night to join the little group of men who always congregated around the store stove in the winter and on the platform in front of the door in the summer to loaf away their idle hours.

He had long been one of the leading spirits in these meetings, and heretofore he had come to them boldly, and in the talks that followed his voice had been heard taking an important part.

But tonight he approached with baking step and shamed face and sat down quietly on the edge of the platform on the very outskirts of the group. He hoped no one would notice his presence, and he was careful to do nothing to attract attention to it.

Pap Sampson was there and Jason Roberts and Jim Thorn and a number of others, and most prominent among them all and most in evidence in the conversation was Ebenezer Sparks.

Very naturally, the subject under discussion was the war and the battle that had that day been fought in their hearing. Ebenezer, with wonderful effrontery, seized the first opportunity to begin a rebash of the oft told stories of brave deeds performed by him in the Mexican war and to reannounce his consuming desire to again take up a soldier's life and join in the fight and experience the dangers and hardships of war as he had done in days gone by.

Sim listened to Ebenezer in astonishment. It was a mystery to him how a man could have the assurance to boast of his bravery when only a few hours

The Strain Between Mother and Daughter

"You and your mother should both be very patient and very tender and very frank with each other," writes Helen Watterson Moody in the Ladies' Home Journal. "When the strain between you comes try not to let it make inroads upon the goodness of love and trust, there really is between you, draw close together to talk over even your disagreements, speaking honestly and with willingness in each heart to get the other's point of view. Never be satisfied with a settlement in which either one of you has shut the other out of her full confidence. And do you, especially, remember this: that if the time ever comes when you turn from telling your mother all your thoughts, and heart, and hopes,

because you fear she would not understand, or would prevent you from carrying out your ideas—remember that there has already come 'the little rift within the lute.'"

CURE YOURSELF!

One Drawback.
"Give me one year of Augusts," a White Mountain hotel proprietor was once heard to say, "and I should be ready to retire."
Like this was the feeling of a boy mentioned in an exchange. He was selling bits of smoked glass during the late solar eclipse.
"How much a piece?" inquired a passer-by.
"Five cents," said the boy.
The man bought one, but thought the price a little high.
"You ought to make money at that rate," he said.
"Yes," answered the thrifty youngster, "it would be a pretty good business if the dull season wasn't so long."

Story of Two Users.
Sir George Lewis, who took such an interest in the passing of the money-lenders' bill, tells the following story: Two usurers met in an omnibus. Said one to the other: "I have had a very fine day's work." "How's that?" asked the second man. "A man came to me," replied the first one, "to borrow $500 for a year, and I lent it to him at 50 per cent. He gave me his bill for $500, and I deducted $250—the 50 per cent.—and gave him $250." "Oh," observed No. 2, "I don't call that good business. If he came to me I should have lent him for two years, and then he would have got nothing."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Applying a Test to Grandpa.
"Would you like me to give you a quarter, grandpa?" asked five-year-old Johnny. "Certainly," replied the old gentleman. "Very well," said the little diplomat, "then you should do unto others as you would that others should do unto you."

NOTABLE SALON PORTRAITS.

Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, Leo XIII. and Queen Alexandra.

Benjamin Constant's portrait of Queen Victoria provoked much comment, favorable and otherwise, last year at the Exposition, and this year he has sent to the Paris Salon two portraits which will likewise be much criticized and greatly admired. These are half length portraits of Leo XIII. and Queen Alexandra, of England. Mr. Constant has a rare talent for penetrating the personality of his sitters, and in these two portraits he has had ample opportunity to give it away, as both personages have so distinctive an individuality.

In regarding this portrait of Leo XIII. one is strongly impressed with the subtle intelligence and the tenacious but velvet grasp on things of this ivory-faced old man with his little crown of fine silken white hair. The blue veins start out on his lofty forehead, his almost translucent eyes beam with a power and penetration that indicate how alert and alive is the mind behind them, and his long, fine hands, though they indicate so feeble an organism, reveal at the same time great power of attention and comprehension.

The red velvet of the armchair, the curtain, his robe, only serve to bring out the white frailty of the body of the father of the church, and even the jeweled cross on his neck, and the ring on his vibrant finger, serve to accentuate the delicacy of his being. Mr. Constant understands marvelously how to identify a costume, with its wearer and permeate it with that one's individuality.

The portrait of Queen Alexandra likewise portrays a frail body, every member of which is penetrated with an extraordinary fineness of spirit and an individuality as distinctive as a fine perfume. There is a gracious mingling of femininity and intelligent vigilance in the portraiture that makes it as fascinating as pleasing. Every detail of the toilet is touched with a fastidious, loving hand, from the coiffure of dead-gold hair, piled high on the head and accentuating the length of the face, to the little white-gloved hands poised with such perfect precision and possession.

The color scheme here is widely chosen, the robe being white and the mantle embroidered in purple, a white and purple that identify themselves in some indefinite way with the long, pale face, and the sweet, vigilant, deep blue-grey eyes. A single jewel of a translucent green is suspended on the corsage, and by its brilliant sheen seems to stamp the whole toilet with richness.

Proverbs About the Czar.
The Emperor of Russia completed his 33rd year last week, and though he has now reigned six years his character remains as great an enigma as ever. In England scarcely any proverbs deal with the position or personality of the sovereign, but that is not so in Russia. There the most ignorant peasant, when discussing his Czar, will enthusiastically exclaim: "The Czar has a long arm, but it does not reach up to heaven." "Even the hand of the Czar has but five fingers." "The Czar's bull has only three horns." "The Czar is powerful, but he is not the All-powerful." "The Czar is God's cousin, but not his brother." "Even the Czar's vinegar does not sweeten," and most significant of all, "The Czar's kisses signify nothing, unless God says 'Amen.'"

On the other hand, innumerable Russian proverbs deal with the Emperor from quite another point of view. "The Czar's voice echoes everywhere there is no mountain." "A tear in the Czar's eye makes us all weep." "When the Czar squints, his Ministers are one-eyed, and his people are blind." "When the Czar takes a pinch of snuff the whole nation must sneeze," and "When the Czar has a cold, all Russia gets influenza."—Our Candid Friend.

Health and Comfort If You Use Malt Breakfast Food.

An enjoyable and healthy breakfast is always assured in the hot weather when you make Malt Breakfast Food your first dish. Malt Breakfast Food is made by a special patented process; it is a scientific combination of the best barley malt and the choicest wheat. It does not irritate the stomach and heat the blood like oatmeal and other grain foods. A trial of one package convinces all users. All Grocers.

A woman without temper is like a flower without perfume.

When a boy turns his bulging pocket inside out we marvel at the quantity and variety of articles he has stowed away. Odd lengths of string, marbles, a horse-chestnut, a top, brass nails, hickory-nuts, an apple, and many more articles are garnered by this "snapper up of unconsidered trifles." We think the collection must be hard on a boy's pocket. And it is. But do we ever think of the variety and miscellany of the substances we put into the pockets of our stomachs? There's the apple and the nuts, and things besides quite as indigestible as brass nails and with no more food value than so many marbles. And yet we wonder that the stomach breaks down under the strain of careless eating and irregular meals if it can perfectly and permanently restore to health and strength by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The action of this medicine on the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition is so marked, that relief from disease is at once experienced, and the headaches, liver "troubles," kidney disorders, skin eruptions and all symptoms of a diseased stomach are quickly cured. Whenever the use of a laxative medicine is indicated, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They act in harmony with the "Golden Medical Discovery" in its action by purging the bowels of foul accumulations.

How Catarrh Poisons the System

Few people realize the vast amount of ill health that arises from the absorption of catarrhal poisons into the system. Catarrh, nose-bleeds, loss of appetite, indigestion and many other discomforts are caused by catarrh. But to know this is only half. Catarrh is a most deadly disease, and affects more than 90 per cent. of the people to-day. It undermines health and if unchecked will surely and quickly lead to the grave. Consumption can be traced back in most instances to a habit of catarrh that was neglected. Don't court this white plague, insure yourself at once against it by inhaling Catarrhazone, a pleasant antiseptic medicinal that is inhaled into the lungs, nasal passages, throat and bronchial tubes where it kills disease germs and prevents their development. Catarrhazone heals inflamed surfaces, relieves congestion, clears the head and throat, aids expectoration and absolutely cures Catarrh and Bronchitis. Quick relief, cure guaranteed, pleasant to use. ## LETTERS OF INTRODUCTION.

Some Reasons Why They Should Be Given With Discretion.

"I disapprove of letters of introduction," said an elderly New Orleans business man, "and won't give one under any circumstances. They are bad form and border close on downright impertinence. What right have I, for example, to thrust a perfect stranger on my friend, John Smith, of Memphis or Chattanooga, without having at least asked Mr. Smith's permission or ascertained whether the introduction would be mutually agreeable? Then, again, such letters always mean either too little or too much. Most of us give them almost as freely as we give good advice, without the least idea of incurring any responsibility; yet a letter of introduction is, or ought to be, an absolute endorsement of the bearer, and the recipient would be justified in holding the writer strictly accountable for any abuse of his hospitality. I believe this view is unassailable, but I must confess I stopped writing letters of introduction myself on account of a little controversy that has nothing to do with the proprieties of the question. It happened in this way:

"A certain friend asked me to give a letter to a young Englishman, introducing him to a former business partner of mine, now living in Louisville. I didn't want to do it, but lacked moral courage to refuse; so I wrote two letters—one, the introduction requested, and the other a brief note to the Louisville man, explaining the circumstances and saying that I didn't really know whether the Englishman was a gentleman or a horse thief. Two days later I got a telegram from my partner, saying that he had received a letter of introduction by mail and was at a loss to know what to make of it. I had put the two enclosures in the wrong envelope and had given the Englishman the private note of repudiation."

"I suppose he read it, of course," remarked some one in the group of listeners.
"That's just what has been troubling me ever since," replied the old merchant. "I don't know whether he did or not. He presented it without turning a hair, and if he knew the contents he certainly made no sign. At least that is the report of my friend, who was so surprised when he ran his eye over the little note that he nearly fell out of his chair. All this happened four years ago, and I haven't written a letter of introduction since. I wouldn't meet the Englishman again for a hundred dollars, because if I did I wouldn't know whether to shake hands or get ready to fight."

Use of Turpentine.
Turpentine, either in resinous form or in spirits of turpentine, has a lot of household virtues well known to women on the frontier or in isolated houses, but not so familiar to city housewives. Few barefoot boys are ignorant that a cut toe heals quickly if some resinous turpentine is used as a salve. But in spirit of turpentine can be more easily secured and is more convenient for application. In most cases it will produce the same effect.

Let a child suffering from the croup or from any throat or lung difficulty inhale the vapor, and rub the little sufferer's chest till the skin is red, ending by wrapping about it a flannel moistened with the fiery spirits. Relief will be almost instantaneous. Afterward sweet oil will save the skin.

The spirit of turpentine for burns, the pain will disappear, and healthy granulation at once set in. It can be applied effectively on a linen rag. Spirits of turpentine will take away the pain of a blister very quickly. The skin will go down, and healing will begin as soon as the remedy is applied. But outside of the family medicine chest spirits of turpentine is a good dressing for patent leather; it will clean artists' clothes and workmen's garments from paint; it will drive away moths if a few drops are put into closets and chests; it will persuade mice to find other quarters far away, if a little is poured into the mouse-holes; a tablespoonful added to the water in which linens are boiled will make the goods wonderfully white; a few drops will prevent starch from sticking; mixed with beeswax it makes the best floor polish; and mixed with sweet oil it is unrivalled for fine furniture. The latter mixture should be two parts of sweet oil and one of turpentine.

Some physicians recommend spirits of turpentine in external applications for lumbago and rheumatism. It is also prescribed for neuralgia of the face. It is an article that should always be kept about the house.

The Land Producing Tree.

Every one has read of large islands being produced by the mineral deposits of innumerable coral animals, but few people know that there exists a tree which, like a coral, grows beneath the sea and adds to the surface of the earth.

Some twenty years ago a schooner, while sailing along the South American coast, was wrecked on a small island. The captain of the vessel chanced to have a number of seeds, which we now know were given him as a token of friendship by a Mexican. In the confusion of the wreck these seeds were lost on the sand, and finding their way into the soil, took root.

The tree which arose is such as is found only in the tropical countries of America. Like a monstrous vine it crawls along the ground, and spreads with marvelous rapidity. Its huge branches interlace and form a surface as solid as earth.
The immense vine first grows under water along the sand, and then, like the coral rising upon itself, at last comes above the sea. The sand stretches for miles the decay of home feeling, the loss of faith in fellow-men, the unconscious development of hereditary traits at the expense of carefully trained motives and acts are among the besetting evils. There comes a time in the life of a man who has been held in place by school, church and society when he feels that he is master, takes control and sails out. It behooves us to keep up our moral vigilance to the end of life.—President Faunce's Sermon in Boston.

BILE POISON IN THE SYSTEM

The Result of Deranged Liver—How the Other Organs are Affected—Dr. Chase's Treatment for the Liver.

No organ in the human body has a greater influence on the general health than the liver.
A torpid, sluggish liver leaves poisonous, morbid bile in the blood, which upsets the action of the whole system.
There is indigestion, fullness, fermentation, flatulency and oppression in the stomach.
The tongue is coated, the head aches and there is loss of sleep, depression of spirits, and spells of dizziness and weakness.
The bowels are constipated and loose by turns, and gripping pains are frequent.
The skin tells of the poisonous state of the blood, by pimples, blotches and liver spots.
Is sympathy with the liver the kidneys become clogged and inactive, the urine highly colored, and there are pains in the back and under the left shoulder blade.
The liver must have assistance.
The process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened.

Both these filtering systems are acted on directly and promptly by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.
It is through the liver and kidneys alone that the blood can be freed of all impurities and the morbid matter which collects there when the liver is deranged.
Many a suffering man, many a despondent woman, has been cured of the above distressing ailments by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the only remedy that has a combined action on both liver and kidneys.

The wisdom of Dr. Chase in preparing this wonderful remedy has been proven in scores of thousands of cases of complicated diseases of the liver and kidneys, which could be reached by no other remedy.
You do not require faith to be cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The first dose will help you, and a few boxes at most will positively cure the most severe case of liver complaint or kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or postpaid by Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.
Literature is considered more of a confession than a profession.

BOTH HANDS WENT SKYWARD

There was Little Bravado Left in this Knight of the Road When Groves met him.

One of the Amusing Incidents of the Long Night Chase After the Escaped Convicts.

"Throw up your hands!" "They're up, Mike! They're up!" These were the words which passed between Police Officer Groves and a suspicious looking character on the M. C. R. track near Tilbury in the twilight of yesterday morning. The police posse had reached Tilbury and were watching all freight trains passing through in search for the three prisoners—Epperson, Abram and Siddals.

A west-bound freight had gone through a few minutes previous and the conductor of the train informed the party that he had heard men's voices, about a half a mile up the track. He thought at the time that it was a very early hour for men to be walking on the track, but he was making out his official report at the time and did not think anything more about it.

After his train had gone out Officers Groves, Cape and Dodson were contemplating a trip up the track when an east-bound train passed through.

The officers then proceeded up the railroad, Groves walking on the track carrying a double-barreled shotgun, heavily loaded, and Cape and Dodson on a road which runs east of the track and parallel to it.

Officer Groves had not gone far up the track when he sighted two men walking towards him. One of them answered to the description of Abram. When the two men saw Groves and the shotgun coming towards them, made for the road.

Officer Groves was not to be so easily eluded, however, and soon gained on him and flashed the shotgun in his face. The unfortunate, who evidently mistook Groves for Mike Hosman, the M. C. R. detective, promptly did as he was told and put great energy into his voice when he answered, "They're up, Mike! They're up," although from his shaky condition it was quite evident that he would not be able to hold himself up very long.

Officer Groves gently informed the man that he was not the one wanted and the poor fellow looked visibly relieved.

In speaking about the incident afterward, he said:

"You know me and my pard were working our way from Essex to Ridgeway. We got through Tilbury alright, but the conductor noticed us and put us off when we got about a mile out of Tilbury. When I saw that shotgun I thought it was Hosman and I said to my pard, 'It's all off.' I tried to get away but the old boy was too quick for me."

Some one then humorously suggested that he join the hunting party.

The fellow took a couple of steps backward and replied:

"Oh, no, you don't! I've seen enough of that shotgun. I pity those other fellows, though."

The two men then made their way to Tilbury, both feeling fortunate that they had not been included in any jail-breaking escape.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a rumbling sound, or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Boys' Wash Suits

Here's where we claim your peculiar approval, busy mother of five or six. Approval is the word, because our careful work is fit in every way to take the place of yours. Every stitch as firm and sure as you'd take yourself; finish and style likely finer than yours would be, because you might make half a dozen suits in a season, whereas these skilled workers of ours make thousands, and have learned to do every detail in the prettiest as well as the swiftest way.

And these garments are safe. Here you take no sweatshop chances—risk no lurking fever germs.
