NO DEAL POSSIBLE

Between British and Russian Commanders at Tientsin

AS BOTH ARE UNDER INSTRUCTIONS.

Negotiations Between Kitchener and Botha Are Off.

GUERRILLA WAR WILL FOLLOW

Hosher Released From Seattle Jail on Bond—Harrison's Estate Valued at $250,000.

Tientsin, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—Count Von Walderssee, commander of the German forces in China, has held long conference with Russian and English commanders respecting certain disputed territory.

The Russian commander declined to discuss the matter until the British withdrew from the ground claimed by Russia. The British general replied that he was acting under instructions and could not withdraw.

Walderssee made a similar statement adding that as each was acting under instructions it would be useless to continue negotiations.

Negotiations Broken Off.

London, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—Reports have been received to the effect that the peace negotiations between Botha and Kitchener have been broken off. It is estimated that from 10,000 to 12,000 Boers are still in the field. Secretary Chamberlain states that the responsibility for a continuance of guerrilla warfare rests entirely with Botha.

Hosher Released.

Seattle, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—Hosher has been released from prison on bail. His securities are W. H. Dickson and Mr. J. B. Thompson.

Harrison's Will.

Indianapolis, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—Gen. Harrison's will bequeaths his entire estate amounting to $250,000, to his family.

IMPORTANT MINING CASE

Being Heard Before Gold Commissioner Senkler.

For two days the case of Trabold vs. Bannerman et al., has been occupying the attention of Gold Commissioner Senkler before whom the case is being heard.

In April, 1900, Trabold applied for a hydraulic concession on 3 1/2 miles of Black Hills creek and 1 1/2 miles of a tributary of the same creek.

His application papers were prepared and sent to Ottawa but before any reply was received a government sale of crown lands occurred at which time this particular ground was offered for sale.

Mr. A. J. Bannerman purchased the whole of Black Hills creek and its tributaries paying the purchase price and also recording fees.

On February 4th a letter was received from Ottawa stating that Trabold had complied with the law and that upon survey would be given a grant therefor.

In the meantime the sale had occurred and grants had been issued to Bannerman and several transfers of the portions of the property had been made.

The plaintiffs allege that while the application for the hydraulic concession was under consideration that no placer grants could be issued for the ground.

The defendants hold that the concession had not been granted and that the placer miner had a perfect right to acquire title to the ground.

The case is one of importance and will be watched with interest.

Attorneys Wade and McDougall appear for plaintiff and Pattullo for defendants.

We are making a specialty of creek orders and guarantee satisfaction. Cribbs & Rogers, the druggists.

Barrett & Hull have received a fresh consignment of lemons, oranges and eggs. All unfrozen.

CONVICTS MUTINY

But Are Brought to Terms by Rifle Shots.

Leavenworth, Kans., March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—Eighty-four convicts working in the Lansing state coal mines mutinied yesterday and held 15 wardens as hostages. They demanded better food and threatened to kill the wardens if their demands were not complied with. Warden Tomlinson refused all day and night to comply with the demands of the convicts and assured them that nothing short of absolute surrender would be accepted.

After 48 hours Tomlinson, accompanied by an armed guard entered the shaft which the convicts had barricaded. A volley of rifle shots was fired which frightened the convicts sufficiently to induce them to surrender.

WILL NOT HANG JUNE 7

Sentence of George St. Cyr Commuted to Life Imprisonment

George St. Cyr, the man convicted of the murder of James Davis near Hootalingua last November and who, upon the verdict of a jury of his peers, was sentenced by Justice Dugas to be hanged on June 7th, will not hang, a commutation of the sentence having been received by Sheriff R. J. Bilbeck at a late hour yesterday afternoon. The message to the sheriff was by wire and is as follows:

Ottawa, March 20, via Bennett, March 25.—The Sheriff of Yukon Territory, Dawson: I am commanded to inform you that his excellency the governor general has thought fit to commute to life imprisonment in the guard room of the Northwest mounted police at Dawson, Y.T., the sentence of death passed upon one George St. Cyr, by Mr. Justice Dugas. Please wire receipt of this telegram, which I am confirming by today's mail.

JOSEPH POPE,
Under Secretary of State.

This forenoon St. Cyr was taken from the jail to the office of Capt. Starnes, officer in command of the police, and to him the contents of the message was read by Sheriff Bilbeck who read it slowly and distinctly during which time St. Cyr never moved as much as an eyelid. At the conclusion of the reading the sheriff said:

"You now pass from my care into that of the police where you will remain during your life."

The sheriff, having ceased speaking a realization that the cloud of death which since his sentence has hovered over St. Cyr was dispelled appeared to flash through his mind for, quickly looking up and into the face of the sheriff, there was a perceptible brightening of his eyes as he said quite audibly "Thank you!"

Capt. Starnes then instructed the guards to return St. Cyr to the jail and see that the order as to the transfer from one department to the other was carried out.

Since sentence was imposed nearly two months ago St. Cyr has failed very noticeably, being now much thinner than before and of a sallow, wan appearance, doubtless superinduced by brooding over his approaching death by the gallows.

The readers of the Nugget are all familiar with the circumstances of the murder for which St. Cyr is now a prisoner for life.

Mr. Charles Bechtel, son of John Bechtel of the Regina, surprised his father last night by arriving on the C. D. stage, the latter thinking him to be looking it down from Whitehorse on account of the stages being overcrowded. The young man is an expert assayer, having been for many years in an office in Salt Lake city, his former home. He lately returned from a two years' campaign in Manila.

MR. ROSS EN ROUTE

New Commissioner Will Soon Be in Dawson.

Moose Jaw, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—James Ross, the new commissioner for the Yukon territory, was given a farewell banquet here last night. Mr. Ross will sail on one of the Vancouver steamers enroute to Dawson next week.

Libel Suits.

London, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—Arthur Chamberlain, brother of Joseph Chamberlain, has begun action for libel against the Strand and the Morning Leader. In both cases the ground for complaint is based upon statements appearing in the papers in regard to certain war office contracts alleged to have been obtained by improper methods.

SALUTE CAPT. SCARTH

Received Commission in Baden-Powell's Police.

Inspector William H. Scarth, one of the pioneer police officers in the Yukon who a month ago telegraphed to Ottawa his willingness to go to South Africa in defence of his country, was last night made happy by the arrival of a captain's commission in Baden-Powell's police, and is today receiving the congratulations of his host of friends who, while averse to having him leave Dawson, recognize that active service is more suitable to his temperament than is the prosaic life of the police inspector in the Yukon.

The only blot on the bright page now open before the intrepid young officer is that no provision is made for his expenses in reaching Ottawa from Dawson, but even if this is not later provided for it will not deter Capt. Scarth from taking a hand in the ultimate finish of Botha and his guerrillas.

Owing to his knowledge of the O'Brien case the captain will not be able to get away until that trial has been held and the chances are that it will be the latter part of June or first of July before he can leave Dawson. His career on the field of action will be of special interest to his Yukon friends.

Consul McCook Returns.

United States Consul J. C. McCook was an arrival on the C. D. Co. stage last night looking the image of contentment and all else that accompanies good health and a happy disposition. During his nearly six months' absence he visited many of the cities of the east, spending considerable time in Washington, New York and Philadelphia. He has not yet decided where his office will be located, having given up his former quarters last fall.

Vale Slot Machines.

Olympia, March 12.—The senate by an overwhelming vote today passed the Rines bill, which prohibits the operation of any nickel-in-the-slot machines of any sort or description in the state. The bill had already passed the house, and all it lacks now to make it a law is the signature of the governor. The bill carries no emergency clause, and will not go into effect for 90 days. The vote was 27 yeas to 2 nays.

BETTER SHOW FOR ENGLISH INTERESTS

Russian and Japanese Warships Going to Corea.

REPORTED TIENTSIN TROUBLE

Dawson Water Front Transaction Investigated at Ottawa—Archbishop Lewis Dying.

London, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—John J. Healy is here, it is stated, in the interest of a new corporation to be organized in opposition to the North American Transportation & Trading Co. Mr. Healy says that it is too early to speak definitely as to his plans for the future. He is in London on the invitation of his principals with whom he is in daily conference. He says that in the very near future it is altogether likely that English interests will be on a better footing in the Yukon country than ever before.

Russian Warships Sail.

Tokio, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—All Russian warships in Japanese waters have sailed for Corea and the Japanese squadron is rapidly mobilizing to sail for the same locality.

News Unreliable.

London, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—A dispatch has been published in which it is alleged that hostilities have broke out between the British and Russians at Tientsin. The foreign office declares that there is absolutely no change in the situation.

Dawson Water Front.

Ottawa, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—Jas. Smith was examined before the public accounts committee by Sir Chas. Hibbert Tupper in connection with the lease of the Dawson water front. Smith was questioned respecting the sum of $500 alleged to have been paid out in legal expenses in connection with the water front transaction. He stated that no papers covering such a transaction had been received at the interior department.

Archbishop Dying.

New York, March 20, via Skagway, March 26.—The Most Reverend Travers Lewis, archbishop of Ontario and metropolitan of Canada is very sick and his recovery is extremely doubtful. His resignation has already been given. It is quite probable that he will be succeeded by Bishop Bond.

ENTIRELY DIFFERENT.

Canned meats and evaporated vegetables have taken a back seat in Dawson during the winter. Two years ago fresh vegetables in Dawson and meat which had never seen the inside of a can was a luxury which came within the reach of very few people.

During the winter just closing the circumstances have been quite different. Fresh meat and potatoes also, have been in the market in sufficient quantities to meet all demands and have been sold at prices reasonable enough compared with other commodities.

Thus one by one the terrors which have been attached to life in this northern country have vanished into thin air. In the minds of the majority of people "outside," as we have come to generalize the rest of the world, the Klondike is still a cold, desolate region where few of the necessities and none of the luxuries of life are to be obtained. They look upon a year or two spent in Dawson as so much time spent in ignorance of the events transpiring in the world, and so much time passed without any of the comforts and conveniences which have become a part of ordinary civilized life.

As a matter of fact the average individual in this territory lives as well if not better than, is the case in the large centers of population anywhere in the world.

If there are still skeptics who hold the opinions which they formed from reading the articles which filled the "outside" press in 1897-98, a visit to Dawson at any season of the year would cause them to undergo a radical change of mind. The Dawson of today and the Dawson of three years ago are vastly different.

The Chinese situation is becoming more interesting. With so many different claimants looking for a slice of the pie it will certainly be a remarkable thing if something in the nature of a quarrel does not occur before everyone is satisfied.

Just another little touch of winter to remind us that summer has not entirely arrived.

Railways to the Yukon.
Notwithstanding the success which attended the efforts of the Conservative members from the coast their brethren in the east to kill the scheme of the Dominion government to build an all-Canadian line into the Yukon country, the project has not been abandoned. According to the annual statement of the minister of railways and canals, reports on four different routes into the gold fields by way of the Stikine river have been laid before the department by surveying parties, and doubtless action will be taken on at least one of them at no distant day. Nothing is said as to the most feasible of the routes projected, but the physical feature of the country it will be necessary to traverse and the nature of the wealth contained therein are described. Probably the government of this province and that of the Dominion are acting in concert in the building of a road from a British Columbia port. It is gratifying to know that neither in the distance to be covered nor in the value of the country to be opened up does the Edmonton route, in which Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Senator Macdonald and their friends in the senate had so much faith, compare with those commencing on this side of the mountains.—Victoria Times.

Bloody Prizefight.

Louisville, March 4.—Tommy Ryan of Syracuse tonight was given the decision over Tommy West of Brooklyn, after 17 rounds of a 20-round contest. West's seconds threw up the sponge. The fight took place at the Auditorium under the auspices of the Southern Athletic Club and was the bloodiest and most desperate ever seen in Louisville.

They entered the ring at catch weights and each weighed in the neighborhood of 157 pounds. After the tenth round West was assisted by Terry McGovern. In the first round honors were about even, though both were right in for business. Both landed often and hard, West getting in several hard jolts on Ryan's nose.

At the first knock down Ryan took almost the full count. The third and fourth rounds were West's and the fifth Ryan's. In the sixth West landed often and hard, West getting in blood. Ryan was the aggressor in this round, but West blocked and landed at will, and but for the gong might have finished his man.

In the seventh Ryan's lip was split and West's nose broken, his right eye closed, his forehead laid open in two places and his cheek split. Blood poured from his wounds as time after time Ryan landed on the injured places. He played continuously for the broken nose, and for the next half dozen rounds made a veritable chopping block of West.

The punishment West took was wonderful, blood pouring from nearly a dozen of his wounds. West's corner looked like a slaughter house and the fight announcer actually had to wipe the blood from the floor with a mop. So bloody, indeed, was the fight that several persons near the ring were nauseated and had to leave the hall. Still, during round 16 round, West came up only for more poundings on the nose, eyes and cheek.

In the seventeenth round, when it was seen that West was fighting a hopeless fight, Terry McGovern threw up the sponge for him, and the referee gave the decision to Ryan.

Anti-Catholic Lecture.

London, March 4.—An infuriated mob at Shanklin, Isle of Wight, yesterday stormed the platform from which the ex-monk, Victor Ruthven, was delivering an anti-Catholic lecture. Ruthven drew a revolver and kept his assailants at bay for a time, but finally turned and fled. During his flight a bullet was discharged which traversed the neck and issued from the cheek of one of his pursuers. Ruthven was arrested.

Ruthven explains that he was alone in the midst of the crowd and did not fire until he was forced to do so in self defense. The mob bombarded him with chairs and all kinds of missiles, and there were yells of "Lynch him." He begged to be allowed to escape, but some one tried to grab his revolver and another person struck him. Then he fired. It is hoped that the victim of the shooting will recover.

A Long Sentence.

Peoria, Ill., March 5.—Samuel Moser is sentenced to 21 years in the state penitentiary as punishment for the murder of his wife. The jury returned its verdict in the Tazewell county court in Peoria at 9 o'clock this morning, having deliberated ten hours. Moser shot and killed his wife and three little sons on Sunday evening, May 13, of last year. Moser's defense was insanity. The conviction is on the indictment for the murder of his wife. The three indictments for the murder of the children still stand against him. Attorney T. N. Green has entered a motion for a new trial.

Guess When the Ice Goes Out.

It will not be many more weeks before the icy fetters which bind the waters of the Yukon will be torn away and the welcome shriek of steamboats will reverberate from the surrounding hills. While we are anxiously awaiting that happy day let us have a little harmless amusement. Make a guess when the river will open. Everybody is welcome to compete.

To the one coming the closest to the exact time when the ice goes out we will give a Stein, Bloch & Co. Tailor-Made Suit of Clothes, a New Hat, a Pair of Shoes, a White Shirt, Two Collars and One Pair of Cuffs and a Necktie. All of these to be chosen by the winner from the highest-priced goods in our store.

All you have to do is to drop your guess in our Guess Box at our store or send it in to us. We will make a guess: We guess that the river will open on May 6th at 8:05 a. m.

Champion Homing Pigeon.

The champion homing pigeon of the world, "Denver," is now in training for another long flight.

On one trip he has flown half way across the continent from Grafton W. Va., to Denver, Colo., a distance of 1324 miles.

This record-breaking flight was clear across the Ohio Mississippi and Missouri valleys and the great plains of Colorado.

Such a feat of bird endurance and sagacity is regarded by bird fanciers as astonishing.

There have been thousand-mile flights by homing pigeons before, but most of these trips have been made along the Atlantic coast from Florida to Massachusetts.

The route covered by "Denver" was made even more difficult by the haze and mist that always hangs over the vast prairie valleys of the middle west.

The champion pigeon which accomplished this feat is as pretty a specimen of his tribe as could be imagined. He is dressed in a brilliant red checkered suit of feathers which he inherited from his father, "St. Thomas, Jr." He is bigger than his father, too, and compactly built.

The champion's home is at Grafton, W. Va. His master and breeder is R. E. Blaney, the bird fancier. Mr. Blaney has trained his favorite bird most carefully in the past two years.

"Denver" flew the distances 100, 200 and 300 miles twice each in 1898. Beginning in the spring of 1899 he flew these distances over again twice, and then made trips of 400, 500, 650 and 1324.85 miles, the latter making him the champion long distance flyer of the world.

Although it was very late in the season for flying, as pigeon trainers say, and the birds were moulting, Mr. Blaney decided, against the advice of his fancier friends, to make an effort to break the world's record. On the 23rd of July he shipped "Denver" and another bird (which had made the distance of 810 miles from Kansas City, Mo., to Grafton, W. Va.) to Denver, Colo.

Both birds were liberated on the morning of July 30th. An expert fancier, who was present at the liberation, wrote Mr. Blaney that his valuable birds were in such a deplorable condition that it would be impossible for them to ever reach home, although they made the effort and started off in the right direction.

One of the birds has never been heard of to this day, but on the 29th of August, just 30 days after his liberation, the plucky "Denver," hale and hearty, although with the loss of many feathers, and much weather beaten and bleached, perched himself in his owner's loft, the champion of the world.

He carried upon his legs, in an aluminum holder, the following message: "Sunday, July 10, 9:30 a. m., Denver.—Clear and sunny; light west wind. Witness, James Burchell."—S. F. Examiner.

Her Seven Stages.

It is held by a writer on woman that the seven stages of woman's life may be reckoned as composed of multiples of seven. The first seven years are infancy, the second seven childhood, the third seven girlhood, and the fourth seven bring fully developed womanhood. The fifth seven—that is, from the age of 28 to 35—may be looked upon as the infancy of age, for during that period one learns to exercise the faculties and perceptions that have developed in the preceding years. Until the age of 42 the lessons go on and character is being matured and fixed. After that few changes are made in the real person. Slight varieties and variations of opinion are likely to occur, but nothing deep or vital to transform the life.—Ex.

Another Big Trust.

New York, March 5.—It has been reported recently that J. Pierpont Morgan was planning to obtain control of all the Pennsylvania anthracite coal fields. The rumored combination, it was said, would include the Philadelphia & Reading Company, the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, the Erie and the Jersey City companies; the Coxe Brothers Coal Company and the Pennsylvania Coal Company.

Indirectly associated with the project were, it is said, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, the New York, Ontario & Western Railway, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railway Company.

At the office of J. P. Morgan this story was denied. Local agents of a number of the companies named scouted the idea of such a combination being effected at this time. Later it was reported that Morgan interests would dictate the terms upon which a settlement of the differences between the operators and the anthracite miners would be effected at the convention to be held at Hazleton on March 12. This report could not be confirmed.

Killed in a Duel.

Paris, March 5.—John MacWilliam Durant, of New York, who has been living for the past two years in Paris with his mother, at the Hotel La Ponde Tremoille, has been killed in a duel with a Russian count. According to the best information obtainable, Mr. Durant had written letters to the wife of the Russian count. The latter's nephew came to Paris to settle the matter when he met Mr. Durant in a restaurant, where a vicious fight resulted in which Mr. Durant lost his front teeth.

He struck the Russian with a heavy glass water bottle and the latter died, but the doctor's certificate gave congestion of the brain as the cause of death. This occurred during January. Later the count took the matter up, sending his seconds to Mr. Durant. The latter went to Ostend with his mother, who afterward departed for and is still at Glasgow. A duel was arranged and probably was fought yesterday morning with pistols.

Durant was killed and the count was seriously wounded. Durant registered as Charles Neville Carter. His mother has been notified. Durant was well known in the American colony here. He was a frequent attendant at official receptions given by the American officials. His engagement to a young French lady was recently announced. They were to have been married in March. The names of the Russians in the case have not yet been ascertained.

TALE OF TWO BROTHERS.

William Took Pa's Advice and Cholley Didn't.

Cholley Now Blesses His Pa for His Good Advice Which Makes William Handy.

Once there were two Brothers who started away to College at the same time. Just before they boarded the Train, Pa led them aside and handed them some splendid Advice. He told them that they were now ready to mold their Futures. He said he wanted them to stay in of Evenings and Bone hard, and he hoped they would mind the Faculty and keep away from the Cigarette Fiends who play the Banjo and talk about Actresses. He wanted them to stand high in their Classes and devote their Spare Moments to Reading rather than to the Whimsies and Mimical Fooleries of a University Town.

William listened solemnly and promised to Behave. Cholley fidgeted in his Chair and said it was nearly Train Time.

So they rode away on the Varished Cars. William reading about the Goths and Vandals and Cholley playing Seven-Up with a Shoe Drummer from Lowell, who gave him several Yarns that he afterward told as his own.

At the University William remembered what Pa had said, so he cooped himself up in his Room and became a Dig and soon enough was greatly despised as a Pet of the Professors. Cholley wore a striped Jersey and joined the Track Team and worked into the Glee Club. He went to his room when all the other Places had closed up. Every time a Show struck Town he was in the Front Row to gey the Performers and pick up some new gags, so as to maintain his reputation as an Original Comic. He went calling on all the Town Girls who would stand for his Fresh Ways, and he was known to be the best dancer in the Ki-Ki Chapter of the Gamma Opsiian Greek Letter Fraternity. The reports sent home indicated that William was corraling the Honors in Scholarship and Cholley was getting through each Exam by the Skin of his Teeth, but he had been elected a Yell Captain and could do his 100 Yards in Ten Seconds Flat. Pa would write to Cholley now and then and tell him to Brace Up and give him a Hunch that life was full of Sober Responsibilities, and therefore he had better store his Mind with Useful Knowledge and Chop on all the Privols and Poppories, whereupon Cholley would write back that he needed Fifty by Return Mail to pay for Chemicals Used in the Laboratory.

By the time that both were Seniors, William had grown a fuzzy Climber in front of each Ear and was troubled with Weak Eyes. He always had a volume of Kant under his arm and seemed to be in a Brown Study as he walked across the Campus. Cholley kept himself Neat and Nobby and seemed always cheerful, even though he had two or three Conditions to his Discredit and had only an Outside Chance of taking his Degree. He was Manager of the Football Team, having been elected because of his Qualities as a Mixer, and he had earned the affectionate Nickname of "Rocks."

He was a great hand to get acquainted with any Girl who dared to show herself near the Halls of Learning and by constant Practice he had developed into a Star Chinner, so that he could show to almost any one of them and make her believe that of all the Flowers that ever bloomed she was the one and only $3,000 Carnation.

William kept away from Hops and Promenades because he remembered what Pa had said about the Distracting Influence of Prpperies and the Twittle-Tattle of Artificial Society. The only Girl he knew was a Professor's sister, aged 51, with whom he was wont to discuss the Theory of Unconscious Generation. Then he would drink a cup of Young Hyson Tea and go home at 8:45 p. m. Cholley at about that time would be starting out in his Primrose and Dockstader Suit to write his name on Dance Cards and get acquainted with the Real Folks.

Commencement day William received the Cyrus J. Blinker Prize of a Book for getting the Highest General Average of any one in the Class. Cholley just managed to Squeeze through. The Faculty gave him a Degree for fear that if it didn't he might come back and stay another year.

After they had graduated, Pa gave them another talk. He said he was proud of William, but Cholley had been a Trial to him. Still he hoped it was not too late to set the Boy on the Right Track. He was going to put both of them into a Law Office and he wanted them to read Law for all they were worth and not be lured away from their work by the Glittering Temptations of Life in a Big City. William said he was prepared to read Law until he was Black in the Face. Cholley said he wouldn't mind pacing a few beats with Blackstone and Cooley now and then, if he found that he could spare the Time. The Father groaned inwardly and did not see much hope for Cholley.

When the two Sons became Fixtures in the Office of an established Law Firm, William kept his Nose between the Leaves of a Supreme Court Report and Cholley was out in the other Room warming up to the Influential Clients and making Dates for Luncheons and Golf Foursomes.

Within three months after they started at the Office, William had read all the Books in the Place and Cholley was out spending three weeks at the Summer Home of the President of a Construction company, who was stuck on Cholley's Dialect Stories and liked to have him around because he was such a good Dresser and made it lively for the Women.

Out at this Country Place it happened that Cholley met a Girl who didn't know how much she was worth, so Cholley thought it would be an Act of Kindness to help her find out. When he sat down with her in the Cool of the Evening and gave her the Burning Gaze and the low entrancing Love Purr that he had practiced for Four Years at the University, she stopped him before he was half finished, and told him he need not work Overtime, because he was the boy for Nellie. She said she had had him Picked Out from the Moment that she noticed how well his Coat set in the Back.

In one of the large Office Buildings of the City there is a Suite finished in Dark Wood. At a massive roll-top Desk sits Cholley, the handsome Lawyer, who is acquainted with all the Club Fellows, Society Bucks and Golf Demons. When a Client comes in with a Knotty Question, Cholley calls in a Blonde Stenographer to jot down all the Points in the Case. Then he and the Client roast a few Mutual Acquaintances and the Client departs. Cholley rings a Bell and Brother William comes out of a Side Room with his Coat bunched in the back and his Trousers Bagged at the knees. His Cravat is tied on one Side, only and he needs a Shave, but he is full of the Law. Cholley turns all the papers over to him and tells him to wrestle with the Authorities for a few Days and Nights. Then William Slips back into his Hole and Humps himself over the Call bound Volumes while Cholley puts on his Slate-colored Gloves and Top Coat and goes out to where Simpson is holding a carriage door open for him. He and Nellie take the air in the $200 Victoria that he bought with her Money and later in the day they Dine with the Stockson-Bonds and finish at the Theater.

Cholley often reflects that it was a great piece of Foresight on Pa's part to counsel Studious Habits and Rigid Mental Discipline, for if William had not been a Grind at College probably he would not have proved such a Help around the Office, and although William gets the Loser's End of the Fees and is never called on to make a Witty Speech at a Banquet given by the Bar Association, he has the Satisfaction of knowing that he is the Silent Partner of the best dressed Attorney in Town and one who is welcome wherever he goes.

Moral—There are at least Two Kinds of Education.—George Ade in S. P. Examiner.

Royal Debts. London, March 5.—The question of royal debts and royal incomes is just now affording the people of our kingdom much food for discussion and gossip. The former are likely to cause parliament some trouble before they are cancelled. The latter must soon be fixed to the satisfaction of King Edward VII.

People have all kinds of ideas as to what the debts of the king amount to. Some people say they are as high as $3,000,000 ($15,000,000), which would be almost equal to those of George III, parliament having paid for him $3,398,000 ($16,900,000).

George II handed in a list of debts of $1,000,000 ($5,000,000), which parliament wiped out, but in 64 years Queen Victoria had weaned the country from the habit of paying royal debts and out of a very diminished civil list, amounting to $385,000 ($1,925,000), saved in 50 years about $825,000 ($4,125,000), which will certainly be used by the radicals as a convincing argument that the allowance was sufficient.

The queen's civil list will expire in six months' time and it is understood that the king is disposed to ask for an annual allowance of £800,000 ($4,000,000), on the understanding that he would give up the crown estates, and on the other hand, he would, unless otherwise advised, ask to have his debts paid off.

In both cases it is understood that violent opposition will be offered by the extremists of the house of commons and they might even lead to disturbances through the country.

Then will come the test of the king's personal popularity, which up to now has been simply immense.

It is stated upon trustworthy authority that the gross value of her majesty's private estate will not exceed three million dollars. It is said that the amount of Queen Victoria's private benefactions of which the public knew nothing would aggregate a sum greater in value than the fortune she left.

Speculation is rife as to the date of King Edward's coronation, some people maintaining that it will occur as early as September. But probably the year of court mourning will be strictly observed, the coronation not occurring until February or later in 1902.

The curious fact of the king's birthday coinciding with Lord Mayor's day, November 9, may cause an alteration in the date of one or the other of these celebrations in the immediate future.

The county council of London has virtually adopted a proposal to spend £1,500,000 ($7,500,000) on a scheme for a better housing of the poor of London, a matter in which King Edward is greatly interested.

Rooney in Victoria. At a late entertainment given by the Savoy theater in Victoria for the benefit of the widows and orphans bereaved by the Cumberland mine disaster, the Colonist has this to say of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rooney—Rooney & Forrester—formerly of Dawson:

"Rooney & Forrester made mirth supreme while they occupied the stage in their 'Two Little Alabama Coons.' Rooney's wonderful dancing, Miss Forrester's wildly absurd make-up, and their droll dialogue were all perfect in their way and were greatly enjoyed."

The Colonist concludes its article with the following compliment to the Savoy at Victoria which, by the way, is managed by O'Brien & Jackson, proprietors of the Savoy in Dawson:

"When it is remembered that all the artists contributed their services free, their successful efforts in the cause of charity will be appreciated. Their contributions are more precious than the mere donation of money, for they represent personal sacrifices and in several instances physical exertion that would give pause to the ordinary man or woman. Every one of them had to repeat his or her act at the Savoy theater last night, so that each of them contributed a day's work—a noble donation which does honor to their generosity and genuine Christian charity."

GREAT FUN AT SHOW HOUSES

Excellent Entertainment Afforded This Week

"Pawn Ticket 210" at Standard, "Viola the Wait" at Savoy, and Everything at Orpheum.

"Pawn Ticket 210," Mattie Vickers' four act comedy drama, is the drawing feature on the Standard theater program for this week, the cast embracing all the old Standard favorites including Vivian, Julia Walcott, Daisy D'Avara, Layre, Mullen, O'Brian, Thorne, Lewis and Morris appearing in the cast, each in a role peculiarly adapted to her or his respective talent. The following is a brief synopsis of the play:

Act 1—Interior of Uncle Harris' Pawn Shop in New York City.

Act 2—Library of John Stambold. Ten days later.

Act 3—Uncle Harris' Pawnshop. The murder.

Act 4—Stambold's library. The accusation. Pawn Ticket 210 redeemed.

Between the acts the audience is regaled with vocal solos by Dawson's nightingale, Miss Beatrice Lorne.

The Standard orchestra has lately been increased until it is now equal to any ever heard in Dawson and its repertoire for this week is well worth the admission charged to the entire show.

The Standard, as usual opened to a crowded house last night when the new program was loudly applauded from start to finish. "Pawn Ticket 210" will be greatly enjoyed by the family night patrons of the Standard and seats for Thursday night should be secured in advance.

The Savoy was packed when the curtain was rung up last night, the carefully prepared program opening with the realistic drama, "Viola the Wait," in which the well known stars May Ashley, Carrie Winchell, Cecil Marion, Bob Lawrence, Dick Maurettus, James Townsend, Billy Evans, Lewis Teabe, Jim Post and Geo. Higgs appear. A brief synopsis of the play is as follows:

Act 1—Joe and Lize quarreling. Jack, Viola and Ivory leave the steamer. Julia shows her courage. Viola abducted. Interior of Red Light saloon. Fire scene.

Act 2—Ned Langley's experience. Interior of Ned Langley's home. Reason of father and daughter. Jack Marlin's marriage to Viola. Ivory happy at last. Levee scene. Magnificent steamer Viola illuminated. "Good Bye, My Lover, Good Bye."

Following the drama comes the vaudeville performance in which the entire cast of Savoy specialists to the number of a dozen or more are introduced, each with bran new features.

Prof. Parkes has many new wondrous views, including an excellent reproduction of the Dawson fire department in action.

The long and interesting program concludes with Jim Post's inimitable farce "Hello!" in which many ludicrous features are introduced, a fitting ending to an evening's series of pleasures.

All arrangements for the Case-Rafael glove contest Friday night are completed.

The appearance on the streets yesterday of Eddie Dolan's "Jay Circus" would have packed the Orpheum theater last night, even if it had not been known that one of the best and most interesting evening's entertainment ever witnessed in Dawson would be presented there. Dolan's circus, as represented on parade, embraces all the living curiosities and zoological wonders from the wild man of Borneo down the Yukon—ice worms, a magnificent specimen of which was on exhibition in an open cage yesterday.

The Orpheum's program for this week opens with a quaint, curious and comic production of the prolific brain of J. H. Hearde, entitled "Around the World in Eighty Days," a comedy in which the author is ably supported by Misses Edith Montrose, Jennie Guichard, May Stanley, Garnet, Kate Rockwell, Blanche Cawetta and by Ed Dolan, Bryant, Onslow and Moran. In this production the versatile Hearde appears as a representative of nearly all known nationalities, his lightning changes being the wonder and admiration of his delighted audiences. As the white Kafir in Zululand, his impersonation is little short of wonderful. Mons. D'Aulnais, the silver-toned vocalist, has a new repertoire for this week as has also others of the vaudeville department of the program.

John Fynn's two-scene burlesque,

"The Two Dromios," which embraces the entire Orpheum cast, is a highly attractive feature, being rich in all that is amusing and ludicrous.

The popular buck and wing artists, May Stanley and Kate Rockwell, come in for their share of admiration and applause, their work being exceptionally fine.

Eddie Dolan's version of the "Jay Circus" concludes the program and is all that its appearance on the streets bespeaks for it.

The Orpheum orchestra is, if possible, ahead of its usual high standard this week, its renditions being of themselves a rare treat to all lovers of high-class music.

The family matinee will be given as usual at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon and should be witnessed by all the ladies and children in Dawson. Don't forget it.

ASSESSMENTS REDUCED

By Board of Revision at Last Night's Session.

The Yukon council met as a court of revision last night to hear appeals on tax assessments.

The members present were: Gov. Ogilvie, Justice Dugas, Messrs. Senkler, Prudhomme and Wilson. Territorial Secretary Dr. J. N. E. Brown, Assessor Ward Smith and Mr. F. X. Gosselin were also present. Mr. Dugas occupied the chair and Mr. Smith acted as secretary.

A number of appellants were present who had their cases heard and their taxes adjusted satisfactorily. There were others present who were not so fortunate. There was a manifest disposition on the part of the council to do everybody justice and it was only in cases where the appeal had not been filed at the proper time that it was disallowed. The legal profession was well represented, who were appearing for clients who were not there to represent themselves.

The business was all conducted in a low tone of voice so that the least publicity might be given to the business affairs of the appellants.

Mr. H. TeRoller appeared for the S. Y. T. Co., and after a few moments of whispered conversation the amount upon which his assessment was made was cut from $400,000 to $270,000. Mr. J. J. Delaney for the N. A. T. & T. Co., was next called and his appeal from $1,000,000 to $600,000 was granted as was also the A. E. Co., to the same amount. Attorney Wade appeared for the Yukon Iron Works and succeeded, in getting a slight reduction on their income tax. Attorney Gwillim got a reduction from $6000 to $5000 on the lot on which the Norquay drug store on First avenue is located.

The Melbourne hotel had a representative present, but their appeal not having been filed at the proper time could not be heard.

A. F. Richards, a merchant had been assessed $20,000 on his turnover which he considered too high but not having filed the proper appeal the court was unable to do anything for him.

All the appeals having been heard and everyone seeming very well satisfied with the results of the sitting of the court the chairman announced that the assessment roll would stand as amended. The court then adjourned sine die.

IN POLICE COURT

Queer Combination of Cases Up This Morning

It was a queer combination of cases up for hearing by Magistrate Scarth in the police court this morning.

Constable Borrowes, poundmaster, had taken a dog into custody Sunday night and claimed that in interposing objections to his performance of his official duties Jack Levy and J. H. Falconer had used threatening language to him, Falconer being owner and Levy custodian of the canine in question. An hour was spent in the trial of Levy, but the charge was not substantiated and the case was dismissed. The information against Falconer was withdrawn.

On a charge preferred by John McCloud, Gilbert Sherwood was up for the alleged theft of six spruce boards. After hearing the evidence of the prosecution Sherwood declined to put in his defense, expressing a desire to be tried by jury. He was accordingly held over to the territorial court, and is now in jail awaiting trial.

On complaint of M. McDougall of the Victoria Market, Jacob Rosenfeld was last night arrested on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses to the amount of $128. The case was remanded until this afternoon owing to the absence of witnesses. Rosenfeld was locked up in the meantime.

FORMALITY OF CHALLENGE

Not Equaled in Days of Code Duello.

If the challenge as printed below is any criterion as to the kind of play to be expected we can look for one of the warmest games of hockey of the season at the police rink tomorrow afternoon. The N. W. M. P. club is the challenger and the Canadian Bank of Commerce team is the acceptor and both teams are looking for blood. See?

Dawson, Y. T., March 25, 1901. To All or Any of the Staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce:

Whereas, It has been brought to the notice of the members of the now extinct Police Hockey Team that all or any of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff have made the assertion that the said Police Hockey Team could not lick a postage stamp, and

Whereas, The said Police Hockey Team are of opinion that they can lick as many postage stamps as come their way; it has been

Resolved, That the old Police Hockey Team do hereby tender their challenge to all or any of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff to a game of hockey, to be played on the police rink at 4:15 p. m. on the evening of March 27th, A. D. 1901, and it is further

Resolved, That such game, should all or any of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff have sand enough to accept the challenge, shall be played to the death of one or more of the aforesaid opponents.

Signed, sealed and delivered at the office of the police hockey club.

A. L. BELL, Capt.

In the supreme sport of the Yukon Territory:

Between the N. W. M. P. (so-called) Hockey Team, plain stiffs, and the Canadian Bank of Commerce Hockey Team, defenders (of the goal).

The Canadian Bank of Commerce, by jingo, of the Yukon territory, pure cream, Great Mohawks and umpires of the Sitashes, to the N. W. M. P. Hockey Team, cla-howya.

We command you that all things set aside and ceasing every excuse, you be and appear before the referee, to be duly appointed, on the police rink at the hour of 4:15, in the afternoon of Wednesday, March 27th, 1901, being the time and place appointed for your edification in respect to your infancy at the game of hockey, then and there to testify to the marvels of the game according to your limited knowledge and also to bring with you and produce at the time and place aforesaid, all your tillicums and acquaintances and your sister (and other fellows) and your cousins and your aunts.

And this you shall by no means omit under the penalty of being considered wanting in that sand which has strayed into your challenge.

Even before the Hon. Mr. Justice Stevenson, Great Patron of the game, at Dawson this 25th day of March, 1901.

P. G. C. STEDVENSON.

By His Own Hands.

The coroner's jury which was impanelled by Magistrate Wroughton last Saturday to hold the inquest over the body of Jack McPherson, who was found dead in his cabin Saturday morning, returned the following verdict last evening:

"Jack McPherson came to his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by himself while in a state of despondency."

The jurymen were: Alex McFarlane, foreman, R. L. Cowan, E. E. Tiffin, J. F. McMurray, J. A. Mackay and E. E. Devereux.

A. B. Meeting Tonight.

The Arctic Brotherhood will hold one of the biggest meetings of the year tonight when seven of the best known business men of Dawson will have their power of endurance tested, to find whether or not they are capable of enduring the hardships incident to a life in the far north. A full attendance of the members is desired. The operatic travesty which is being prepared by the Brotherhood will be one of the best and most unique performances ever given by Dawson and a great deal of pains and interest is being taken in its preparation.

COMING AND GOING.

The incoming mail passed Selkirk this morning at 6 o'clock and is due to arrive in Dawson Thursday night.

Mr. C. B. Zabriski and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, who arrived by the stage last evening are stopping at the Regina hotel.

Jackson & O'Brien, of the Savoy, have taken the club rooms at the Exchange and are now operating that place as well as the theater.

Richard Lowe of the Forks, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Byrne, of 35 Bonanza and Mr. W. White are registered at the McDonald hotel this morning.

A notice is posted this morning by the C. D. Co. that only four more stages will be sent from here to Whitehorse, the last one leaving Saturday, April 6.

The C. D. stage arrived last night with six sacks of mail and the following passengers: C. M. Farar, Jas. C. McCook, Mrs. West, C. B. Zabriski, C. W. Bechtel, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Geo. P. Wells.

The Board of Trade has moved to its new apartments, rooms A and B in the A. C. block. The partition between the two rooms has been removed making one large room, the walls have been newly papered, the woodwork and chairs revarnished and there is a brand new linoleum on the floor. Altogether the room is very comfortable and presents a very cheerful appearance. Secretary F. W. Clayton is very proud of his new quarters.
