NEW YORK SPECULATORS.

re of the Evil Ffects of Stock Gambling and Dealing in Things They Know Little About—Cleaned Out Right and Left—Lesses in By-ry Town in

Our daily contemporaries the Mail and Globe stupidly and unwittingly lent themselves to the ring of Yankee bears who have for a week past persistently depressed St Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba stock. Yesterday they both published a canard to the effect that there was a split between the syndicates of the St Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba and of the Canada Pacific road. Now with only one or two individual exceptions these corporate ons aroused under the peculiar circumstopping to make inquiry they copy the old: whereas if the alleged split had occurred the news of it should have been a Canadian rather than a New York item. But the astonishing part of the matter is that as soon as the rumor appeared in a New York paper it was telegraphed here. A leading broker of this city at once telegraphed to Montreal to discover the truth of this rumor which had originated in New York, and was promptly answered that the lie was manufactured out of whole cloth. Everybody on the street (who knew anything) knew this. excepting the venerable antiquities of the grit and tory press. The paragraph ap- lege to enable the observer to take very acpearing here disquisted speculators and investors living outside of Toronto and restors living outside of Toronto and it is well known that thousands of shares of this favorite stock were held in the country towns of Ontario—in fact wherever there is a bank agency it has been sold. Meantime by way of a saub to these careless circulators of New York canards the shares of the St. And M. & M. yesterday advanced five per large cents and called for a glass of larger?" But that was before the monopoly. Not only have the weekly earnings of the road increased in a ratio unparalled on any American railway, but it is known that the greatest increase is to come: for owing to low prices farmers are holding their grain in Minnesota and Dakota which must eventually pass over the syndicate's road. It is stated by those who ought to know this stated by those who ought to know the sight of the aight of the sight o Not only have the weekly earnings of the per cent per annum now paid quarterly a division of profits by way of bonus early that I was an alderman, you might just say (to a World reporter) that I would not have the New York bears had depressed the St.

The st University College Residence—What is to be Done.

One of the most difficult things to administer is the residence in connection with University college. There is only accommodation for between forty and fifty students. It it under charge of the dean, Mr. F. A. Vines. Hitherto the boarding of the students was farmed out to a contractor; this did not give satisfaction; there were always complaints of the fodder and the service. This year it was decided to let the dean run the boarding house and to engage a steward to assist him. This latter functionary was imported from England for the express purpose. He was put on the munificent salary of fifteen dollars a month and board. He has, according to the dean, stolen or made away with $200 during his first month. So yesterday he was sumfirst month. NATIONAL NOIES Bills Said to Have Been Refused

It was rumored on the streets yesterday afternoon that Canadian bank bills were being refused in Chicago and Detroit. The World has pointed out that the time had nore than arrived for the withdrawal of all bank bills and the substitution of national otes instead. When Canadian bank bills are shaved in Canada (the maritime and British Columbia ones for instance, when presented in Toronto) is it to be wondered at that they are shaved or even refused in the States? We must have government notes that will be of full face value through out the dominion and not only in the denotes that will be of full face value through out the dominion and not only in the dominion but in the United States as well—just as their greenbacks are good from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Mexico to Hudson's bay. In Canada every two penny, half penny bank, has been allowed to issue bills to the direct loss of the people.

(To the Editor of The World ) SIR: "A Mother's" rejoinder is simply reiteration of her former dicta. Perhaps A Mother will admit that obedience to the Mother will admit that obsolutes to the law of right, truth, justice, is a good thing; but she will scarcely contend that obsolute authority over others not to bestow absolute authority over others upon any man. He had only been acquainted with prosecutor a little more than a month before Sept. 6. Up to that date both were Vanstone was not ready to go on with the all important ceremeny on account of his lack of funds, but it is alleged that several weeks previously he told McCraith and the present Mrs. McCraith that he owned a two-story brick house and a lot somewhere in Inversall, and that he had money in a arried, but were courting two sisters two-story brick house and a not somewhere in Ingersoll, and that he had money in a bank. It was also shrewdly hinted that these considerations partly induced the young lady to grant him her hand. Mc-Craith advanced the necessary cash at the request of prisoner, and a cording to hi evinence this morning the $15 was made up as follows: Board money $1, marriage license $2 wedding ring $5, minister's fielding in London East, $1 Total $15 Both couples were duly linked, but the Vanstones appear to have since led an unhappy life. Prisoner stated with regard to the gloves that the young lady ordered them before they were married, and so he could not be held accountable for that part of the bill. He also claimed that McCraith offered to advance the said moneys. Van-stone was undefended, but displayed considerable vim in cross-questioning the witnesses. The judge said that if he did make such statements he was wrong in so doing but there was no evidence before him to show that he did not own the property snow that he did not own the property spoken of. Besides this his statements were of he most indefinite character and were made a month before the day when the alleged fraud was perpetrated. He therefore found the prisoner not guilty and discharged him.

FIBILIONS FOR THE THEATRE.

In these days going to the theatre is so regard to their toilet. Still there trip to town, or a visit to a distant city nd these, especially if they have fashion ble friends likely to indulge in the luxury of "theatre parties," are sometimes embar ra sed as to the needs of such an occasion Nor does it help them much to say tha the dress for an afternoon reception is suit-ble for a theatre party and even for "box" party, for they will be perhaps quite as much at a loss to know what is suitable r gard to toilet when once they are understood, they require to be understood in order to avoid mortifying errors. Twentyive or thirty years ago customs in regard to the dresses of hidies in public places were somewhat different or less generally understood than they are to day. Then it were somewhat dimerator to day. Then it was not uncommon to see ladies take a seat at the theatre in the body part of the house in a light dress, bearing more or less the stamp of "evening" upon it, and without stamp of "evening" upon it, and without a bonnet. Nowadays a lady without a bonnet is never seen in the theatre, and her dress, handsome and even striking though it may be, is high at the throat, or only slightly open, and suggests the out-of door use to which it is put. The independent jacket, so fashionable for several years past, has been a boon to young women as part of a theatre toilet, for it enables them to wear outskirts of dresses once an adsome, but too much defaced for party or visiting purposes. A heatre skirt however should not be long; a worn black or lark silk or velvet, or even velveteen, made over short makes a serviceable theatre

A fittle quantiness and oddity is not objectionable in a theatre cress, such as slashed or puffed sleeve; a gold embroidered bodice, a betted waist, which furnishes so convenient a receptacle for a bouquet, and holds he fan securely by a suspended ribbon. Embroidered jackets and vests, too, are ffictive as part of a theatre toilet; and so also are dark beaded costumes, such as ruby, wine color and bottle green. It seems too bal that our theatres are not arranged in the amphi-theatrical w.y, so that the large hats could be worn without disturbing the vision of those who occupy back seats, for they are immensely occurresque, particularly in a spacious in-lesure, where a small bonnet, be it ever so orestre, where a small bounet, be it ever so pretty, is thrown away unless it makes a point of light or color.
